

Dr. Nichols Murray Butler, President Columbia University and Newspapers:

"Newspapers, have played a part in the making of public opinion which is quite unequalled by any other agency or instrumentality.

"What every conductor of a newspaper has to bear in mind is that the repeated daily blows of its influence may easily prove stronger and more determining in the building of mind and character than those of home or school or church, or all of them combined. He has a heavy educational responsibility to bear."

TELL THE TRUTH

During the past two or three months there has been on the part of the taxpaying citizens and voters whose chief interest in public affairs is good government a considerable amount of talk about the return of former Governor Alexander J. Groesbeck to the chief executive's office of the state. These people hope that he can be induced to put up with a certain amount of the selfish brand of politics which has characterized the office that he filled with such outstanding credit to Michigan. This insistent demand however, for the return of the former governor to public life is detested by a certain group of grasping politicians and others whose motives are of the selfish brand. In a hopeless effort to bring some discredit upon him, some of these short-sighted politicians have resorted to the usual tactics of their kind. They say that the former Governor has never attended any recent Republican conventions and that he has declared that "they" could go to as far as he was concerned.

We do not pretend to be any spokesman for the former Governor and we wouldn't blame him if he had said that a lot of the riff raff that has set itself up as "party leaders" should go to the place where they belong, but we do desire to say something about those "Republican" conventions, that have been held in recent years and which it is claimed the former governor did not attend. Usually one goes to these conventions because he is elected as a delegate in a legitimate way and has a desire to serve the public good.

But what has been the history of most Republican conventions since the time of the late former Governor Groesbeck from politics? The first convention after the primary election in which the former Ionia mayor was nominated for Governor was held in the Cass Technical high school in Detroit. The writer had been a delegate to every Republican convention since 21 years of age up until that time. Opponents of former Governor Groesbeck "elected" the delegates to that convention.

The writer went down to Detroit to attend the convention as a spectator but do you suppose any "Groesbeck" man could get inside the building where the convention was held? They could not even get within a block of the building, and only those holding specially marked admission cards were permitted to pass beyond the police line. So you see why the former Governor and none of his real supporters attended that convention.

Since that time every one knows the crowd that has controlled the Wayne delegations to the Republican state conventions. The fact that former Governor Groesbeck has never been on one of these delegations or had anything to do with them is something he and his friends have real reason to be proud of.

The delegates sent to Republican conventions by the self-styled "bosses" of Wayne county and who have been voted like a lot of dummies are not the type of citizens who have the slightest interest in good government or of relieving the taxpayers from some of the burdens they are now carrying as a result of this very sort of thing.

The bosses didn't want Governor Groesbeck at any of the conventions. They never asked him to attend and if he had had any desire to go, they would have seen to it that he was not on the machine-picked delegation.

Governor Groesbeck is one executive Michigan has had who didn't let a lot of nit-wit, greedy grabbers run him. He has had the nerve to tell them to go to—something the others have not dared to do.

He is a Republican of the type that had much to do with the party when it was really serving America. If he becomes a candidate for Governor, he will be nominated and elected by the voters who believe in decent and honest government in politics and public affairs, and not by the political bosses and ward rulers.

Real Michigan Republicans are happy to know that he has kept his hands clean of the trash that has brought anything but credit to the Republican party of the state. The hope of clean, decent citizenship and Republicanism lies in the election of men of the type of Alex. J. Groesbeck who have the nerve to tell the political blood-suckers of the state to go to the place where the fires forever burn good and hot. It is Groesbeck against the ward-healing bosses, remember that always. It always has been and it always will be so. He is not of their kind, for which the people can be thankful.

LET THE BANKS DO IT

One of the big problems of the next legislature will be the solution of the loan "racket" in Michigan. Doubtless the matter would have been disposed of at the last session but the all-powerful lobby maintained in Lansing by the finance companies killed off legislation designed to remedy this situation. It will not be able to do so again as the people are aroused on the subject and many of the legislators who did the bidding of these lobbyists will not go back for another term. It is therefore evident that the matter will be up for consideration again.

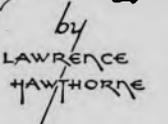

We would like to recommend to the forthcoming legislature that these loan outfits be kicked out of Michigan entirely and that legislation be passed which will permit the state and national banks to make short term loans at 10 or 12 percent. Of course every one knows that it costs more to handle small, short term loans than it does larger loans and it is because of this that no one would seriously object to the larger interest rate if the home town banks could handle this business. We do know that the home town banks would not follow the heartless and oft-times brutal practices of some of these money-satching outfits in the conduct of this business.

Because these small loans are usually sought by the unfortunate, by the person who has been hit by hard luck and are therefore unable to strike back at the wrong, some of these automobile and furniture snatching outfits seem to plot over the additional misery they can bring into the homes where misfortune has found its way.

CRACKING DOWN ON HENRY FORD

Not quite a year ago, General Johnson was going to crack down on Henry Ford. The General said if he didn't the American people would. It begins to look as though now that the American people have cracked down on Henry. Never since the beginning of his business have you had to dodge so many Fords on the highways as now. Since the "cracking down" episode Ford's business has grown by leaps and bounds—which all goes to show that Americans detest anything that smacks of dictatorship.

A Fighting Chance

There's a good, old baseball maxim That is true of life, as well; And it ought to be adopted By the folks who try to tell Whether fortune will be better In the days that lie ahead, Or be full of disappointments And unhappiness, instead.

It's a mighty helpful doctrine For a man to contemplate When he's facing loss or failure, Whether trivial or great; It will give him hope and courage; It will show him at a glance That you never are defeated While you have a fighting chance.

Any baseball star will tell you That he plays to get the breaks— Bearing down just so much harder In the face of bad mistakes; And he wins a lot of ball games, For he knows beyond a doubt That "a game is never ended Till the final man is out!"

KILL THE GERMS, TOO

Publicly sent out this week by the committee sponsoring the 80th birthday of the republican party to be held "under the oaks" at Jackson, pictures James G. Frey, secretary of the republican state central committee, at the end of a broom handle gingerly cleaning up the Jackson elephant for the occasion. What the G.O. P. elephant really needs is experienced scrubbers taking right hold at close range with plenty of soap and water. Just to be better than something worse is not sufficient. The old party elephant needs a real bath and massage before it is ever to be presentable in respectable circles.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

TELLING 'EM

We presume the daily papers call 'em hit towns because none of the children have to go to bed hungry.—Fred Veith in The Laingsburg Press.

A FEDERAL TAMMANY

In the near future every State in the nation will have a "supreme director" of another new federal board to be known as the NEC— which means National Emergency Council. This NEC is supposed to be created to co-ordinate and otherwise help all the other federal boards, to the end that the PWA, the WPA, the NRA, the AAA, and other alphabetical tri-angles function most efficiently. Each State director is to have a county director, and each county will have its assistants, etc., etc. We join with those inquiring as to the whole proceeding, a beautiful opportunity for the Democrats to create a great national political machine at the expense of the taxpayers.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

NO YOU WOULD NOT!

If this is a "whispering" campaign against Gov. Cmslock, we'd hate to hear 'em talk right out loud.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican News.

WHAT IS THE MOTIVE?

The indictment of Michigan bankers by the Federal grand jury leaves the public apathetic. The known integrity of the men whose names lead the list, gives the whole proceeding a doubtful air. There are still many people who believe that the government's pursuit of private citizens is a method of punishing Michigan for asserting that its banking system was made the victim, first, of government stupidity and, second, of New York rapacity. The government's resort to that is supposed smearing that goes along with an indictment—except that in these immediate cases the smearing process failed. Another motive for the pursuit is believed to be the spleen of a public official who could not sufficiently humiliate his enemies in local grand jury investigations. The motive is to get the Federal government to do his bidding in return for certain favors which he did.—William Klamer in The Dearborn Press.

A GLOOMY PREDICTION

We may stand aghast at Hitler's ruthless slaughter of those that threaten his dictatorship but a continuance of the kind of policy that is setting its tentacles on our own government may mean the same kind of treatment for our own kind of people in the near years to come.—Al. Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

SAVE GAS TAX

The press of the state has broken very solidly against the proposed gas and weight tax amendments. If the average citizen is to think of a two-cent gas tax doesn't mean a thing if the auto owner is to continue paying a weight tax of 35 cents on a hundred on the other hand if one votes to limit the gas tax to two cents then the same action must be taken to place a limit on the weight tax. The first choice by long odds is a low weight tax, even if the gas tax went to four cents. There's nine foreign cars to Michigan's one in the northern part of the state all through the summer season. To let them off with a two-cent gas tax while we pay the freight in weight tax is utterly absurd.—Harry Izor in The Durand Express.

ON THE WAY OUT

A firm's business has disappeared in exact proportion to the way they have curtailed their advertising.—James B. Haskins in The Howard City Record.

PLYMOUTH'S PAST

Every now and then something happens which carries our thoughts back to other years in Plymouth. Last week it happened to be the great political celebration that took place in Jackson. The event recalled to us the life and deeds of one of the upright and outstanding citizens who helped other pioneers build the foundation of the progressive community of Plymouth, Michigan. As one reads the lives of these sterling pioneers, of the sacrifices they made for their communities, it is little wonder that this city stands upon a firm foundation well built. Plymouth has reason to be proud of all the men and women who had a part in the early history. Good citizens, all.

PARK DEVELOPMENT

Each passing week one can note the slow and consistent development of the great park system being built by the county in this part of Wayne county. By the end of another year or two a good portion of the job will have been completed and when the work is finished, this part of Michigan will have the finest park system of any place in the country, unless it be in Westchester county, New York where for many years a similar project has been under way. We cannot help but offer to all of the officials our commendation for the great work they are doing. Maybe we do not fully realize just at present the benefits they will come to the people of Wayne county, but some day we will fully appreciate it all. This little city is indeed fortunate in being situated in such a way that it will reap so much benefit out of the development. Already we have profited in the way that no one else and the years to come these advantages will be much more manifest than they are at present. Again may we offer our commendation to the members of the Wayne county road commission who through their ability to look into the future and know the demands that the times will bring, for the great work they are doing.

WHY A COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER?

Contest Sponsored by Adrian Van Koevoering of Zeebad, Michigan

By MISS ELEANORE GALLAGHER The Cloghman, Mackinac Island, Mich. (Favorable Mention)

Why a community newspaper? One might just as foolishly ask why a community doctor, a lawyer, a policeman, or a teacher? Why a community store, or a church? Why anything at all, for that matter? Just as each of the above answers a definite and universally felt need in the community, so likewise does the newspaper. Just as the doctor safeguards the health of the community, the lawyer and the policeman the rights, just as the teacher serves in educating one's children, and the store in furnishing each with the essentials of life, just so does the newspaper serve as an enlightening and developing agent in society. Without a doctor in the community, the lives of its inhabitants would be jeopardized by the recurrent ravages of disease; without a lawyer, the citizens might fall prey to the parasites; without a policeman to safeguard life and liberty, one might be endangered by the felonious activities of the criminally inclined; without a teacher, the intellectual life of the community would remain at a standstill, and it would be a matter of time before it would be reduced to a state of anarchy. Without a newspaper, the community would be deprived of that vitalizing force which animates and gives it life, which molds and influences that colossus of power, probably more potent than any of the vast forces of modern life, namely public opinion.

The community newspaper serves as an outpost to civilization. Its presence marks the community's "coming of age." It proclaims to the world that it is the offspring of a commonwealth vital with industry and enterprise. It serves as an essential link between the various parts of that commonwealth, incorporating within it extraneous and foreign elements, neutralizing antipodal divergencies, and uniting all into a cosmic whole. It represents not only the voice of the rich man, but the poor man as well. It chronicles impartially the achievements of mankind, giving praise where praise is due. It is a mirror which reflects the steady march of human progress toward its goal, which gives animus to its struggle, and strength and encouragement during its stumbling progress. It portrays graphically the daily life of a community pregnant with those problems which are a natural concern of modern life, and just as man meets and overcomes those problems, so the newspaper records them. The newspaper should be the truest recorder of history because it has the advantage of propinquity in time and place. It should therefore be more authentic than a document with a perspective distorted by too great a disparity in time of occurrence and the time of recording. The newspaper chronicles events as they occur and serves them to a public eager to digest them while they are still fresh and heavy with interest. The kaleidoscopic nature of the newspaper is one of its greatest assets, enabling it to depict society in all its variegated forms and to educate its readers to a keener understanding of events. It is a definitely educational influence in the community.

Time was when a newspaper was not essential to the well-being and life of society. But that was in the days when each family represented a tiny community in itself, where the mother, the father and the children all worked together satisfying all their needs independent of others and practically oblivious to the life outside their own home. But those times have long since departed and a new, industrial civilization has taken its place in which specialization and interdependence are the key notes. Civilization gave birth to the newspaper, and a community without a newspaper would be just as incongruous as a body without a head. And likewise a body without a head would be just as useful and alive as a community without a paper. In our specialized fields of training we learn only those things necessary for the understanding of our own work, unless we had some means of becoming acquainted with other aspects of life, our lives would become unbalanced and narrow. The newspaper serves as the broadening force in our lives. It is an omnivorous machine which brings to each one all the different types of mental food to satisfy our natural cravings. It looks with far-seeing eyes to Washington and watches the President at his executive duties; it peeps into the homes of our favorite movie stars and while-papers of their work; it crawls on the battle-scarred fields of warring nations and recounts the horrible tales of death; it invades the frozen camp of Little America and gets a scoop from Admiral Byrd for the anxious ones at home. Its interest is all pervasive; its scope all encompassing.

The newspaper is a sentient thing, alive in every fiber, throbbing with the life blood of humanity. It is the heart, the head, and the backbone of a community. It is so essential to the life of the commonwealth that it is impossible to conceive of a settlement without. Take away the newspaper and you deprive yourself of one of the greatest guiding forces of modern life. A community without a newspaper is indicative of mental stagnation, industrial decay and social retrogression. The loss of the newspaper tells the death knell of the community.

The children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Eploe also Miss Emma Boylan of Norval Ayers of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Will Barker, and Gladys Barker of Canton were guests at the home Saturday, Sunday and Monday. A very quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Barker July 3 when their daughter Alma Louise was united in marriage to William Winthrop Millman of Jackson. The bride was attended by her sister and the groom by his brother. After the wedding trip the young couple will be at home in Jackson. A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Brooks at Warren, Mich., at high noon on Wednesday, June 30th when their only daughter, Miss Frances Mae, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Elmer Huston of Plymouth in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends. The color scheme was green and white and the house was tastefully decorated. The bride was beautifully gowned in white Messelaine satin, trimmed in Irish lace, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and lilies of the valley. At the close of the ceremony and after receiving the congratulations and best wishes of their friends, Miss Frances Wade Crate of North Branch, cousin of the bride, and Ruth Huston, niece of the groom, as flower girls, scattered white carnations along the pathway of the bride. The guests were escorted to the K. of P. hall where a delicious luncheon was partaken of.—Utica Sentinel.

Twigs Falling Off Your Trees? Then Burn-up Fallen Ones

Persons who are proud of the shade trees about their homes and who have become concerned about the numbers of twigs ends which are falling from the trees are assured by the entomology department at Michigan State College that the damage can be stopped if these twig ends are collected and burned.

The cause of the trouble is the oak twig pruner, an insect which prefers to work on oak trees but which will damage most any deciduous species of tree if the oak is not available. The severed twigs on the lawn or twigs that are partially severed on the tree and hang there marked by dead leaves are the only signs of the insect's presence.

The troublemaker is a slender grayish beetle which appears early in the spring. The insect lays eggs, one at a place near the end of twigs which are not more than an inch in diameter. The larvae hatch and burrow into the twig where it feeds until full grown. It then selects a place a few inches from the twig's end and completely severs the woody tissue while leaving the bark intact.

The larvae retreats from the cut portion and waits for the first storm to bring the branch to the ground. Here, the insect winters under the snow until the trash is collected and burned. This simple control measure is all that is needed as one year's injuries do not seriously affect the infested tree.

Men In CCC Camps Growing Uneasy

Grumbling from the CCC camps of the north has been hinted for some time, but Plymouth last week heard its first story of camp dissension direct from one who has been in CCC service since it started.

Delbert Cummins, only Plymouth "bonus marcher" during the Hoover administration and who was sent to the CCC camp where most of the bonus marchers from this state were assigned, returned home last week for a few days visit. He has been in the hospital at Port Wayne for some time but is now improved and able to be about.

Cummins declares that the troubles in camp life these days has developed from the injection of politics into nearly everything that is done.

When the camps first started there was no hint of politics about them in any way. There had been some who knew something about conservation work and road building and things that we do. But recently a lot of politicians who had a drag some have been sent in to run things. The trouble with these political bosses now in charge of the camps is that they don't know anything about the work we are supposed to do. There are lots of men in camp who would make far better bosses," stated Mr. Cummins. "The worst part of it is that these new bosses don't care anything about the work except their jobs."

"The men are getting tired of it all. They want to get home and get regular jobs again, work like we used to do. There are lots of things about these camps that the public knows nothing about, and it is better that they do not," he added. Cummins says a lot of hard service during the World War and when the soldiers went to Washington in an effort to have former President Hoover sign the bonus bill, he was one of the active workers who tried to keep the forces together.

New Biographies At Plymouth Library Are Popular With Readers

These biographies are recent ones which have proved very popular among readers. They may all be borrowed from the Plymouth Branch library.

"Arches of the Years," by H. G. Sutherland. A moving story of the life of a famous doctor filled with many interesting and thrilling and various adventures.

"Marie Antoinette," by Stefan Zweig. The most readable biography of the famous queen.

"Crowded Hours," by Alice Roosevelt Longworth. Lively reminiscences of one who has lived an eventful life.

"Edwardian Era," by Andre Maurois. Both informing and enjoyable reading.

"Testament of Youth," by Vera Brittain. Of vital interest to the war generation. This moving human document appeals also to some young people.

"Twenty Years A-Growing," by Maurice O'Sullivan. An excellent piece of writing. Some boys and girls will respond to the simplicity, beauty, and humor of this life lived on a small island off the Irish coast in close contact with nature and neighbors.

"Authors Today and Yesterday," by S. J. Kunitz. A companion volume to "Living Authors" containing authors both local and foreign with their pictures and comment about their lives.

Public Drinking Is Fast Passing Out

Drinking in public places is on the wane and the people of Michigan are going in for home consumption, is the contention of the State Liquor Control Commission.

The conclusion was made by Frank A. Picard, Chairman of the Commission, after a statistical analysis of the license situation in the state.

The statistics show that there were 3,846 specially designated merchants selling 3.2 beer and wine for home consumption last year. The number selling for home consumption as of July 1, 1934, was 8,563.

Other statistical trends cited show 6,688 restaurants with licenses under the old 3.2 act and 4,697 operating today, with whiskey sales added; 372 clubs under the old act and 272 today, and 569 beer gardens operating under the old act and 348 operating now.

With Our Churches

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Sacrament" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 8.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (1 Cor. 10:16): "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?"

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 33): "Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing truly to drink his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ-principle? Then why ascribe this inspiration to a dead rite, instead of showing by casting out error and making the body 'holy, acceptable unto God,' that Truth has come to the understanding?"

SALEM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, Minister

Sunday school next Sunday 9:30 a. m.

Ward Clark Supt., invites all to come next Sunday.

Preaching service 10:30 a. m. The pastor will bring the message. Special music by the choir.

Prayer meeting, Wednesday evening in the church. All are urged to come to this soul inspiring and strengthening service.

Sometime this month our ladies will give an "Ice Cream Social," the time will be announced later.

In these days of bewilderment and testing let every one look to God, who is the Hope and the comfort of His people. "He will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Him." Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord and whose hope the Lord is. Jeremiah 17:7.

Do not forget the Ladies' Auxiliary Society meeting and potluck supper held in Riverside Park this Thursday afternoon and evening, July 12th.

CATHOLIC CHURCH

Sundays—Mass at 8:00 and 10:00. Confessions, Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass.

Week-days—Mass at 7:30. This hour makes it convenient for the children to attend on their way to school. All should begin the day with God.

Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men and the Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society.

Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 9:30 by the Dominican Sisters. All children who have not completed their 8th grade are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

Mr. E. C. Pryor of Lansing, Mich., will be with us on Sunday evening to speak on the "Great Pyramid in Prophecy." Gods prophetic truths as recorded in the passageways of this Great Pyramid were convincing enough to cause Prof. David Davidson, an avowed atheist of England to get down on his knees, while exploring the passageway, and ask God to forgive him. This week they will be with us for a twenty minute sacred concert given by Mr. Pryor's two sons.

Concentration of power in the hands of a few means the destruction of the rights and liberties of the people.

Car Drivers Cut Speed On Streets

As the result of the warning published in last week's issue of The Plymouth Mail the fast driving in Plymouth has been reduced considerably declared Chief Vaughn Smith yesterday.

"We have only had to make one arrest so far this week. We would rather not make any at all. Of course we will take to court any who persist in violating the speed laws," stated the chief.

"But drivers seem to realize that it is just as much for their benefit as it is for the safety of others that we are going to cut down the speed of automobiles in Plymouth. We intend to keep the campaign up during the remainder of the summer."

The NEW Firestone CENTURY PROGRESS TIRE

Ten Million People HELPED TO BUILD THE TIRE SENSATION of '34!

Beyond Comparison in Quality, Construction, Appearance and Price With Any First Quality Tire Made

THE way to create a TIRE SENSATION is to give the people what they want, and Firestone has done this with the new Firestone Century Progress Tire.

As millions of people visited the Firestone Factory at the World's Fair last year, we asked this question—"What do you value most in a tire?" They answered—"Give us Blowout Protection, Non-Skid Safety, and Long Wear, at a moderate price." This was a big order, but Firestone has a habit of giving car owners what they want when they want it.

We knew there was only one way to build Quality and Value into a tire at a moderate price, and that was by volume production. We built the greatest tire ever made to sell at these low prices. Car owners are profiting because we found out what they wanted and found the way to give it to them.

The new Firestone Century Progress Tire IS EQUAL OR SUPERIOR to any first quality tire built, regardless of name, brand, by whom manufactured, or at what price offered for sale.

Pension Act To Aid Rail Workers

Monthly Payments Will Be Based Upon Length Of Employment

Railroad workers of Plymouth who have spent their lives in the services of the Pere Marquette are going to benefit under the pension bill that has recently been made a law.

In broad outline, the pension act stipulates that each rail worker attaining the age of 65, or completing 30 years' service, shall receive an annuity to begin not more than 60 days after application. It is a contributory annuity—that is, the worker contributes 2 per cent of his active service pay, while the railroad employer contributes twice as much.

It is from these contributions—made over the period of 30 years or longer of employment—that the worker is paid back when he retires. Careful statistical figuring has gone into the annuity tables worked out, but only actual experience will finally determine whether the rates are too high or too low.

As the law reads, the annuity will be based on the service period of the employee, and it is to be the sum of the amounts determined by multiplying the number of years of service, not exceeding 30, by varying percentages of monthly compensation: 2 per cent of the first $50, 1 1/2 per cent of the next $100 and 1 per cent of the compensation in excess of $150.

Suppose, for example, Jacob Jones, railroad worker has been a faithful employee of the Pinktown & Hatleyville Railway for

30 years. His "average monthly pay" was $170. Then	$1
$50 times .02 equals	$1.00
$100 times .015 equals	$1.50
$50 times .01 equals	.50
Sum	$2.70
And $2.70 multiplied by 30 equals $81 monthly retirement pay.

If Mr. Jones retires after 30 years' service when less than 65 years old, he will get one fifteenth less retirement pay for year by which he is younger than 65. For instance, if Mr. Jones retired at age 64, he would get fourteenth-fifteenths of $81, or $76.60 per month.

However, if Mr. Jones was retired by the carrier for physical disability his retirement pay would not be reduced even though he was less than 65 years old.

On Thursday evening Miss Irene Krauter was honored with a "kitchen" shower by Mrs. Allan Campbell and Mrs. George Matveia at the home of Mrs. Catherine Cantor, Center Road.

William Pettingill Lands Big Black Bass

How would you like to be fishing for just an ordinary blue gill out in Gun lake, catching a few and just over the limit and suddenly something down deep in the water grabbed your hook and line and started for the other side of the lake with it? Then after you had battled with the fish for some little time, landed it successfully on the boat and found it to be a small mouth bass that would only take just a few more ounces to weigh a smacking good four pounds? Well that was the experience early this week of William Pettingill who was fishing for a couple of days over on Gun lake in Barry county. When this big small mouth bass was hooked with just an ordinary cane pole. For a time he feared that he was going to leave the fish in the lake but instead it landed in the boat and weighed in at one of the largest small mouth bass hooked in that lake so far this season.

The Blackwood school district suffered a severe loss Tuesday night when its school was destroyed by fire. The blaze was discovered by Harvey VanBuren, who lives nearby, at about 7:30. At the time the entire hallway was burning and it was impossible to gain entrance to the building there in an effort to save some of the equipment. Attempts to enter through the windows were frustrated too because of dense smoke on the interior. The township fire department responded to the alarm, found the fire had taken such a start that not much more could be done than prevent it from spreading to the woods. The school was built some time around 1880, but has been improved and altered and was very well kept up. It was one of the most completely equipped schools in this section of the state. Among its contents, were a piano, a very fine library, water fountain, office desk, new maps, and playground equipment. It will take years before it can be equipped as thoroughly again, if it is rebuilt. Some insurance was carried on the building. The blaze is believed to have had an incendiary origin, as the door to the place, which had been locked, was found open by those who were the first to reach the fire.—South Lyon Herald.

Missing since April, a bell from the German cruiser Emden which was one of Australia's most prized World War relics, was found buried near Melbourne. The sinking of the Emden represented Australia's first sea fight.

Plymouth Rock Mineral Water

Prof. Clark made of the water when Dr. Saunders was selling it for medicinal purposes. The Plymouth Rock Mineral water being absolutely PURE and free from all disagreeable taste or smell, and being very soft and pleasant to drink ranks as the finest table water in the world, aside from its wonderful medicinal properties for Stomach, Kidney and Bladder Troubles. After excessive imbibations of spirituous liquors, no water ever yet discovered equals the Plymouth Rock Mineral Water in restoring the Stomach and Nerve to their normal condition.

Analysis of Water from Plymouth Rock Mineral Springs

Total Solids	33.673
Chloride of Sodium	14.284
Sulphate of Sodium	.872
Bi-Carbonate of Sodium	5.276
Bi-Carbonate of Potassium	1.730
Bi-Carbonate of Calcium	5.471
Carbonate of Magnesium	2.968
Alumina and Ferric Carbonate	1.738
Silica	.586
Organic and Volatile	1.294

Carbonate of Lithium, present not estimated.

Carbonic Acid Gas, not estimated.

This is a sparkling water due to the presence of a considerable amount of free Carbonic Acid Gas, and is an "Alkaline Water." The free Carbonic Acid Gas which it contains greatly enhances its therapeutic value. Fever, Catarrhs, rheumatic value. Fever, Catarrhs, find these waters very agreeable, as this gas acts as a sedative to the lining membrane of the stomach; it also relieves nausea and tends to check vomiting.

"Wherever a water surcharged with the gas indicated, these springs are of special value, particularly those containing a moderate amount of the Alkalies." An examination of the above analysis will show this water contains the desirable amount of the alkalies. Springs containing Sodium Carbonate, or Bi-Carbonate with free Carbonic Gas, are, unfortunately, less numerous than we would wish, in view of the great importance in so many chronic diseases. The conditions in which these waters produce their best effect are the following: Chronic Gastric Catarrh, especially with hyperacidity and catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membrane of the biliary passages. These waters are also very valuable in acute Kidney Troubles and Diabetes. In acute inflammation of the Bladder and Urethritis, springs of this class do good by diluting the urine and diminishing its acidity. Good results are also obtained in cases of Gout, Gravel and Chronic Rheumatism.

Storm Topples Over Big Trees

Following one of the worst wind storms this locality has experienced in many years, which was accompanied by a most beneficial rain, Plymouth has enjoyed the first pleasant weather of the summer. The storm which broke late Friday afternoon, crashed over more trees and carried off more limbs than any storm in years. Trees that have withstood terrific storms of the past, toppled over as though they were a row of bowling pins.

Tops of dozens of trees were broken off in Kellogg park and the little park lawn in front of the school house. Some young maples were broken off close to the ground.

A big popular tree fell over the rear of the house occupied by William Garrett at 634 South Main street. Mrs. Garrett had started for the doorway of her home just as the tree crashed. It missed her only by inches. An apple tree that for years has provided the children fruit each fall in the rear of the home of William Conner, crashed against his house. Fortunately little damage was done but the tree will have to be removed.

An automobile standing on Starkweather was slightly damaged. But the damage was confined chiefly to the trees in and about Plymouth. Electric power was off for a time. In Northville some homes did not have lights until early the following morning, but in Plymouth places without lights were those only where falling limbs broke off connecting wires.

The damage done by the wind was of course however to a very great extent by the benefit that will be derived from the rain. It was the first good soaking rain this part of the state had experienced this summer and its benefits cannot be estimated. Since the storm there has been no intense heat prevailing.

Alton Richwine Is Visitor In Plymouth

Alton J. Richwine, well known public accountant of Plymouth who is now living in Monroe, was in Plymouth Monday on business. He declares that Monroe county seems strong for Judge Arthur Lacy for governor and for the re-nomination and re-election of Congressman Leahr. Mr. Richwine states that business in that part of the state is fairly good at present, but there is some anticipation of a decrease before fall. He states that there is not much talk among the Republicans relative to the various candidates in that party.

Over $15,000,000 Paid Into Primary Fund

State income from specific taxes to be applied on primary school interest funds was $15,551,304.85 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934. It was reported today by State Treasurer, Theodore I. Fry. Of the amount collected, $3,018,782.75 was paid for all interest due to the state schools, leaving a balance of $10,532,522 to carry over into the next fiscal year.

State Ready To Start Payment Of Old Age Pensions To A Few

Payment of Michigan old age pensions under the act passed by the 1933 legislature will start this week with 150 applications approved. It was announced today by Ed Williams, chief of the state old age pension bureau. The 150 names of the approved applicants will be given to the state auditor general's department the first of this week and vouchers will be mailed as of July 1.

The first list of approved applications came from Kalamazoo, Kent, Oakland, Oscoda and Saginaw counties. Another list of 200 applicants will be approved during the week, the director stated, and then the approvals will be regular each week until the allocation of the collected pension money is made.

At present the bureau has made a rule not to pay more than $10 a month maximum until larger head tax collections justify an increase. The money for each county of the state will be distributed back in old age pensions to the exact amount paid in by each county.

There is now in the old age pension fund $350,000 from head tax collections and the entire amount will be used for paying pensions, the bureau head stated.

Every advance step toward truth is made in the face of tremendous opposition and the loss of many friends.

Wayne Against Liquor By Glass

Because of the fact that there has been some talk of an effort being made in Plymouth to have the charter changed so that liquor can be sold by the glass here, the vote on this question in the neighboring village of Wayne is of more than ordinary interest. The Wayne Dispatch has the following account of the defeat of the question at the recent election held in Wayne:

By a vote of 112 to 91, Wayne rejected the proposed whiskey by the glass sale Friday in a special election, termed by village officials to have been one of the tightest votes in history.

Petitions presented to the Village Commission several weeks ago contained over 200 signatures which was about the total number of votes cast. No active campaign was done in behalf of the liquor sale, but several ministers urged its defeat in sermons Sunday June 24.

Opinions on the proposal against the sale in Wayne were heard just after newspapers ran an expose on drunken driving increase in Detroit and the few convictions that were obtained.

Local Painters Do Work On The City Hall

By the end of another week city officials hope that all of the work on the re-modeled city hall will have been completed. Most of the painting work has been finished and there is not a large amount of this work left. All of the painting has been done by Plymouth painters. City Manager, Perry Cookinham states that only portions of the carpenter work and plastering that could not be done by local workers was done by Detroit workers.

Lockjaw Causes The Death Of A Farmer

Lockjaw caused the death, at midnight, Tuesday of Frank Zeilman, 51, at his home near Hamburg. Some time ago Mr. Zeilman bruised one of his thumbs and a short time later before that member was completely healed he bruised it again. After that it began causing him quite a bit of pain and he resorted to medical treatment. However, he was not relieved and the dread tetanus caused his sudden death as above stated. The Zeilman family resided in South Lyon a few months about three years ago. He is survived by his widow, a daughter and two sons, three sisters. Mrs. Charles DeWolfe and Miss Bessie Zeilman of Hamburg, Mrs. Martha Green of near Hamburg, and one brother, William Zeilman of South Lyon. Mr. and Mrs. DeWolfe are unaware of her father's death, as they left Monday morning on a trip and their whereabouts at this time is unknown. They expected to be away two weeks and when last heard from were in West Virginia. Funeral services will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with burial in Hamburg cemetery. — South Lyon Herald.

THE MEETING PLACE

Few of us stop to realize that seldom if ever do all the individuals and groups which make up the life of a community gather together in the same room, but they do meet every week in the printed columns of the community newspaper. Here the farmer of Pleasant Valley talks to the farmer of Pine Ridge. Here the county agent finds an audience of all the farmers of the community. Here the farm wife reads the message from the department store. Here the taxpayer finds the financial statement and proposed budget of his local governing body. Here the student announces its services for the coming week. Thus does the newspaper spin the web of substantial community life.—Wisconsin Press.

License Plates Half Price Soon

According to information received from Lansing by Berg Moore, Manager of the Plymouth Branch office of the Secretary of State, 1934 license plates will be placed on sale at one-half of their regular rate Wednesday July 25.

Motorists who purchased sticker permits, however, still have until August 1st to pay the remainder of the tax and obtain their plates. Mr. Moore states that nearly 2000 stickers have been issued by the local office. The usual recommendation is in order to buy your plates early to avoid the last day line-up.

Motorists who paid the first half and who are waiting to buy their 1934 plates must present their sticker certificate of registration cards as well as their certificate of titles when making application. They will be given a regular 1934 certificate of registration card when receiving their plates.

Start Building New Fair Exhibit Hall

The building committee of the Northville Wayne County Fair Association yesterday announced that construction on the new main building will begin immediately and that it will be done entirely by Northville labor and with Northville purchased material.

George Hicks and Alex Johnson have been named as head carpenters by the committee, and fair officials state that "they have been most gracious in cooperating with us."

It is anticipated that with the way the builders are "going right after it," the new building will be completed within a month. It will be constructed along modernistic lines, patterned somewhat after types of architecture exhibited at the World's Fair. It will be nearly the same size as the old building which was destroyed by fire in the spring.

The building committee consists of Ray Richardson, Floyd Northrop, W. E. Forney, and President Nelson C. Schrader.—Northville Record.

Four different woods are used in the construction of warships. They are pine, fir, elm and teak.

Rotarians Hear Of Convention

Members of the Rotary club last Friday had the opportunity of hearing several excellent reports by official delegates to the International Convention that was held the week previous in Detroit. The reports were made by the official delegates, Cass Hough and George Smith. Ed Gayde, who was one assigned to assist the reception committee in Detroit also told of the work that Rotarians did in welcoming visitors to Detroit. Because of the numerous meetings held and the fact that Plymouth Rotarians found it impossible to attend all of the sessions, the two reports contained considerable data about the convention that club members did not know. Local Rotarians are showing more interest now in club affairs than ever before. The Detroit session having given them a new insight into the real meaning and worth of the organization.

PROPHETIC LECTURE AT THE NAZARENE CHURCH, JULY 15

Sunday evening, at the Nazarene Church, E. C. Pryor of Lansing, Michigan, will speak on the Great Pyramid of Egypt, and its place in the fulfillment of prophecy. In the passages of the Great Pyramid have been discovered a message of truth for the latter days. Professor David Davidson, a British Geologist an avowed infidel, and one of the brightest minds of England was converted while exploring its passages. Kneeling there in the passageway he prayed that God would forgive his unbelief. Mr. Pryor's two sons will give a twenty minute sacred musical. We urge you to come and hear about this wonderful truth.

TODAY'S LIVE NEWS FOR FAT FOLKS

3 Great Letters Read Them All

From all over the country—north—south—east—west come letters of praise for the world's safe and healthful enemy of fat—don't miss these 3 letters.

"I am using Kruschen Salts on and on my Doctor. Have used three bottles and lost 15 lbs., and gladly recommend it to all my friends." Mrs. G. W. Bryant, Foxboro, Mass., 1934.

"I am using your Kruschen Salts for constipation and reduction of my Doctor. Have used three bottles and lost about 20 lbs. I can recommend it to be great." Miss A. J. Harber, Pineville, Ky., 1934.

"I have taken 3 bottles of Kruschen. I weighed 256, I reduced 56 lbs., and felt better each day, have got my 4th bottle." Ed Jordan, Levean, Ariz., 1934.

If you are proud of your double chin and bulging abdomen don't take Kruschen Salts. Ed Jordan made up his mind to take off 50 or more pounds of fat—and he did—Ed was sick and tired of lugging it around with him—persistence won for Ed as it will for any fat man.

A half teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—get Kruschen at any drugstore.

Business Ruined By The Price Cutters

The National Recovery Administration addressed the annual convention of the Retail Credit Association in Memphis, Tenn. last Wednesday. He said: "We in NRA know, and plenty of you know that without the fair competition proclaimed and established by industrial codes, thousands upon thousands more business houses would be on the junk heap today, and inevitably more thousands which are surviving and beginning to prosper, would land there despite the wisest credit management or sound merchandising policies of the men who manage them."

When the merchants of this country put a halt on price cutting, and locked up the "loss leader" when it can do no harm; when industrialists combined, with the blessing of law and government, to prohibit the unscrupulously destructive discounts and rebates through which the businessmen who pinned hope to volume could hurl himself to destruction by the mere accident of doing more and more business, losing more and more money; when they did these and similar things they made possible a return to unfrenzied merchandising that immeasurably lightens the load of responsibility on the shoulders of you credit men."

Stalker and Todd Made Board Members

At the annual school district election of Northville held Monday night, Attorney George Stalker and Dr. Harold Todd were elected members of the school board. The term of John Kalbfleisch had expired and he had advised the district that he did not care to continue on for another term. Dr. Paul Alexander, another member of the board whose term would have expired at this time, died a few weeks ago after a brief illness. The report of Secretary Sherill Ambler showed the Northville school district finances to be in the best shape they have been for many years. There is no prospect of any changes in the faculty this year.

The first submarine war vessel of the American Navy made its first dive March 17, 1898, remaining under water one hour and forty minutes.

SIXTY GALLONS OF ELECTRIC HOT WATER

will do all these household tasks for 10c A DAY

To keep electric lamp bulbs at their brightest, dust them frequently and wash in lukewarm, soapy water every few months. Wash only the glass bulb and be sure that it is completely dry before screwing it back into the fixture.

Plenty of hot water is essential in the kitchen, the bath, and the laundry. And now you can enjoy electric hot water service at a new low rate. This is a flat annual rate for year round service. Under this arrangement you have a measured supply of hot water ample for your family's needs, at a definite cost per day. Sixty gallons cost 10c a day and eighty gallons 12c a day. Should you desire to use the heater only during the summer months, you may also obtain a seasonal rate, somewhat higher—about 13c a day for sixty gallons, and 16c a day for eighty gallons.

You may rent or buy an electric water heater, whichever you choose. Rental rates for heaters are low, and if you prefer to buy the heater, convenient monthly terms may be arranged. The low rate for this service is made possible through the use of a specially designed heater which stores the hot water during the night hours. Let us install an electric water heater in your home today. Any Detroit Edison office will be glad to serve you.

You can make housework easier and much pleasanter if you will let electric hot water service help you. Many women do not realize in how many ways hot water can add to the efficiency of home-making:

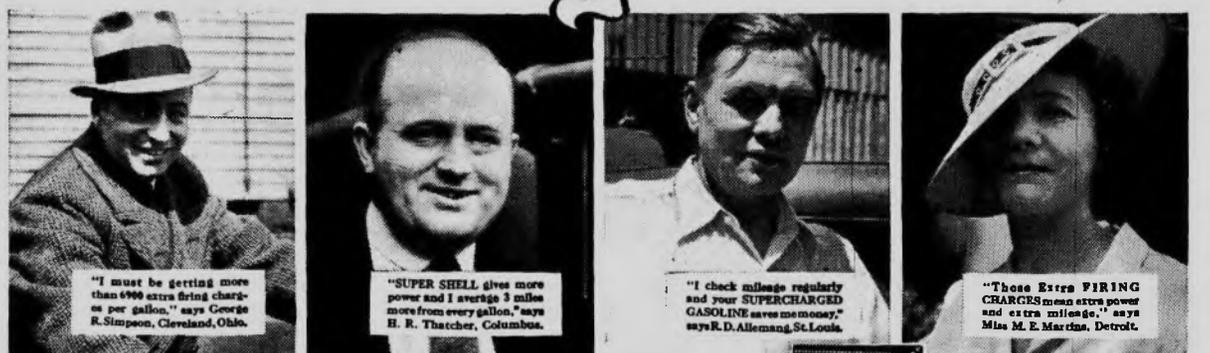

Drying dishes is one of the tiresome kitchen tasks that can be eliminated when there is piping hot water on tap. The Cleanliness Institute in a bacteriological study of dish-washing has found that rinsing dishes with very hot water actually leaves them cleaner than wiping with an ordinary dish towel.

Certain fresh stains can be effectively removed from table linen by stretching it in embroidery hoops and holding it under the hot running faucet. The stains of coffee, tea and various fruits yield to hot water.

Starting with boiling water shortens the time of cooking vegetables, decreases the loss of food value and helps to retain their color.

In washing windows, mirrors, or glassware, add a little starch to warm water. Starch helps to remove the dirt, and gives the glass a bright polish.

WE CHANGED TO SUPER SHELL AND GOT MORE MILEAGE!

"I must be getting more than 6900 extra firing charges per gallon," says George R. Simpson, Cleveland, Ohio.

"SUPER SHELL gives more power and I average 3 miles more from every gallon," says H. R. Thatcher, Columbus.

"I check mileage regularly and your SUPERCHARGED GASOLINE saves me money," says R. D. Allemang, St. Louis.

"These Extra FIRING CHARGES mean extra power and extra mileage," says Miss M. E. Martin, Detroit.

THOUSANDS have changed to this new supercharged gasoline and report gains of 1 to 3 miles more per gallon

MOTORISTS everywhere are changing to the new supercharged Super Shell and talking about their EXTRA MILEAGE.

Owners of all types of cars report that Super Shell gives them from 1 to 3 miles more per gallon.

We know that Super Shell would be a great success, because Shell's new supercharging process packs up to 6900 extra firing charges into every gallon. These extra firing charges give you greater power, quicker pick-up, and—as you motorists tell us—from 1 to 3 miles more per gallon.

Get these extra firing charges in your car—at no extra cost. Keep an accurate check of your mileage, and you'll know why supercharged Super Shell is taking the country by storm.

Soft Ball Teams Ask For Diamond

Bert Giles, president of the Plymouth Soft Ball League, and a number of other local fans, have petitioned the Wayne county road commission for permission to build a soft ball diamond in the Plymouth-Riverside park. The crowds are so great that it is almost impossible to use the ground back of the school house any more and it is for that reason that a larger space is being sought. There is an excellent place for such a diamond just this side of the football field in Plymouth-Riverside park. Or the commission did not want it in that place, there is a large vacant piece of ground just west of the tennis courts that could easily be used. It is believed that the county will grant the request.

ST. PETER'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

The Lutheran Ladies' Mission society will meet at the home of Mrs. Anna Melow, Farmer Street, Wednesday, July 18th, at 8:00 p. m. Mrs. Anna Melow and Mrs. Fred Widmeier are hostesses. Joseph Lettieri is spending a part of his vacation visiting Richard Simmons.

CHERRY HILL

The human milk fed to the famous Dionne babies every few hours has the protection of a modern refrigerator which was rushed as a gift to the little farmhouse in the Canadian north woods shortly after the five tiny baby girls were born, according to a report received by Lew L. Price, manager of Consumers Power Company.

"With so much interest on the part of mothers everywhere in the progress being made to save the lives of the Dionne quintuplets local patrons will doubtless be glad to know how an Electrolux refrigerator aided the doctors and nurses in keeping the tiny girl babies alive through scientific care of the milk supply," the report informed Mr. Price.

"As soon as it was realized that the Dionne home was practically without refrigeration facilities of any sort, the Electrolux company immediately rushed a refrigerator to the scene from its factory at Evansville, Indiana. A kerosene-operated Electrolux was chosen as the only type practical in the small farmhouse where the babies were born. The Dionne home is in a small village far from gas mains and without electricity. The refrigerator was presented by Electrolux as its contribution toward bringing the quintuplets to maturity, both from a scientific and humanitarian standpoint.

"The refrigerator was an important adjunct to the incubators that had been hurriedly sent to the Dionne home as soon as the news spread that the quintuplets had only a slight chance to survive. How important scientific devices were in making a fight for the babies' lives is seen from the fact that in only rare instances have quintuplets remained alive more than a few hours after birth.

"One of the company's engineers, Julian Eveque, accompanied the refrigerator to the Dionne home to see that it was properly installed and put in working order. A barrel of kerosene was also presented to the family, which was enough fuel to run the refrigerator four months.

"Mr. Eveque brought back word that the nurses in charge in the Dionne home were enthusiastic over the refrigerator on its arrival and that the father of the quintuplets was delighted with the gift. The mother was confined to her bed during Mr. Eveque's visit. The nurse said that they had experienced difficulty in keeping the infants' milk supply preserved due to the lack of modern refrigeration. The quintuplets were being fed every few hours with human milk sent from Toronto. Prior to the arrival of the Electrolux the milk was preserved with pieces of ice covered with sawdust.

"The Electrolux in the Dionne farmhouse is in all essential particulars the counterpart of the gas refrigerators used in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, the difference being in the fuel used for its operation.

"In the Dionne farm kitchen, the Electrolux was set up diametrically opposite to an old-fashioned wood stove used for heating in winter. The refrigerator will be serviceable not only during the babyhood period of the quintuplets, but a source of satisfaction to their mother for many years to come."

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Squires of N. Harvey street entertained the following guests the Fourth of July, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hunter, and daughter, Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dewar, Mrs. Laura Fullerton and son Donald and Mrs. Fullerton's house guests Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Harding and daughter Norma Jean - of Marshalltown, Iowa.

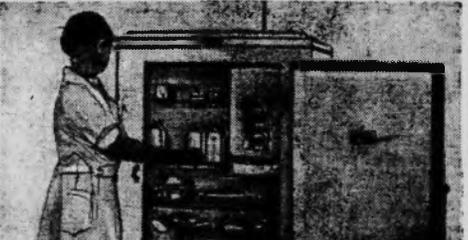

Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McIntyre and children of Detroit were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wilson, on Sunday Dr. and Mrs. Robert Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Secord, Edgar Secord and Miss Mary Whitcup of Detroit were their guests.

Mrs. Vestie McDonald spent part of her vacation visiting friends in Chicago.

WEST PLYMOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. James Lower with their little daughter, Barbara have gone to housekeeping by themselves on the Nov. Road.

Donald Brown who has been visiting at his aunts, Mrs. Wm. Spangler for several weeks returned to his home in Delta, Ohio with his parents recently.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Root attended the shower at Cherry Hill given to honor the latter's cousin, Mrs. Earl West, formerly Miss Chloé Losey.

Do we appreciate enough the faithful work of those who maintain our modern conveniences? After dark Saturday night a telephone lineman was climbing a pole and restoring service in this vicinity. It was 10 o'clock p. m. when electric linemen arrived after having worked all day and all night to restore the service. They all deserve a hearty thank you, even though it was in the line of duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Putman with Bobbie and Joyce of Ann Arbor were dinner guests at the H. C. Root home the Fourth.

Mrs. Frank Harvey, Miss Geraldine Tripp and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Warner of Adrian visited at the J. F. Root home the Fourth after a day spent with relatives from Pontiac in Riverside Park.

Mrs. George Richwine, Mrs. Alton Richwine with her two children; Mrs. Perry Richwine with her three children and Mrs. Walter Ross with three children picnicked at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Wilson in Ann Arbor, Monday of this week.

A very great sorrow has entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Rigley on Golden Road, Sunday night. Mr. Rigley's uncle, George Rigley with his wife crashed into a pole near Elmwood in Detroit and both were killed instantly.

A team of horses which escaped from a pasture Sunday evening were very disconcerting to traffic, taking possession of the road as they did, resenting perhaps the intrusion on what had once so unqualifiedly belonged to their ancestors.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Asman of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Annie Ames and little Barbara Oehring of Detroit, Mrs. Sarah Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Miller Ross with little Betty picnicked the Fourth at the Cass Benton Park.

Miller Ross is rebuilding one of his green houses. Carl Lewis of Plymouth is doing the carpenter work.

For the Young Lady

This pretty spring gown is notable for the charmingly young square neck line bordered simply with a doubled frill of the print to match that on the sleeves.

BITUARIES

MRS. MARIA D. HULBURD Mrs. Maria D. Hulburd, age 81 years, passed away early Wednesday morning, July 11th, 1934. She was the grandmother of Mrs. Charles Horr, Jr. who resides at 1347 W. Ann Arbor street in this city. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, and later taken to the William Daniels Funeral Home at Lakewood, Ohio where funeral service will be held Saturday, July 14th, at 2 p. m. Interment will be made in Woodlawn cemetery, Berea, Ohio.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH

Last Sunday our pastor spoke about the voice of God and the various ways in which God speaks to men. On July 15 the subject will be "Hearing the voice of God," a personal message for you. Our service for praise and worship starts at 10:30 o'clock. "God Cares for Elijah." 1 Kings 17:1-7 and 19:1-8 will be the Bible school lesson at 11:45. Memory verse: "Your heavenly Father knoweth ye have need of all these things." Matthew 6:32. Vacation Bible school meets at the church from 9:00 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. on week days except Saturday.

Permanent peace among men can be secured only through equality of rights and essential justice.

He who changes his opinions too readily is a flop, and he who never changes his opinions is a fool.

Man must not strike back at the hand that feeds him, unless it is the hand of a tyrant that has reduced him to vassalage.

That Admiral Byrd carried ice-boxes to the South Pole regions to keep his provisions from freezing too solid.

The United States Flag is the third oldest of the National Standards, older than the Union Jack of Britain or the Tri-Color of France.

All profits from ship's stores and ship's canteens of naval vessels are expended for recreation and entertainment of the ship's crew.

During the World War the United States laid down 171 destroyers but by the time the Armistice had been declared only 38 of that number had been completed. Only 27 of those completed reached the war zone before the Armistice ended the War.

That the Naval Advisory Committee for Aeronautics reports to the Navy Department that flying aircraft are in little or no danger of damage or destruction by lightning. According to the committee findings that sudden and violent wind currents from thunderstorms offer a much greater hazard to all types of flying machines.

Big News!

STRENG'S TAVERN TO STAY OPEN!

HOW TO COME We have made arrangements with the county so that you can drive to our place through the park. Take the Whitbeck road, the Ridge road or any of the roads that lead into the park from Plymouth. When you get to the back of our place turn and drive into the "flat" just back of it. There has been a roadway opened here. Some easy stairs have been built up the bank and you will find it almost as easy as it was before the Plymouth Road was closed. Come and enjoy that fine hospitality you have enjoyed so much in the past. Remember you get to our place by turning on the "exit" road that led from the park before the Plymouth road was closed.

SET MY FEET IN THY WAY

By ANNE CAMPBELL

SET my feet in thy way, dear God! It will be easy then To tread the paths the saints have trod

Far from the haunts of men, There are two roads that I may take. One climbs the stately heights, And one, pursued for the vain world's sake, Is lost in bitter nights!

Set my feet in thy way, oh Lord, And let me see the sweep Of white-clad angels moving toward Thy presence, still and deep. There is a loveliness scarce seen Except by inner eyes, That lifts our souls beyond the mean, And makes us fine and wise.

Set my feet in thy way, dear God, And may my spirit find In reaching upward with the cloud, The growth for me designed. There is a fuller life for me Above the common day. Help me to reach it finally! Set my feet in thy way!

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

A PERMANENT WAVE IN ONE'S TEMPERAMENT

"I KNOW it would be better if I were calm and collected and more stable and poised, and it would certainly be easier living with me," said a really lovable young person I know, "but I'm just not built that way. I am what I am—there's nothing I can do about it but let people hate me!"

If the same girl weighed 180 pounds and had a 40-inch waistline, would she say, "I'd like to be slim, but I'm just not built that way?" I doubt it. I think she would bustle right out and get that eighteen day diet, or the nine-day diet, or whatever it is called, that takes the fat off the hips and reduces the waistline and changes a "44" into a "16." I think she would bravely forego starches and turn her back on sweets, though she had to clench her fists to eat lettuce, when she craved ice cream and summum all her will power to down lemon julee in place of "double malted!"

If the same girl had a face that just went with curls and ringlets, but was gifted with tresses as straight as a poker, would she blithely say, "I'd look so much better if my hair had a wave, but what can I do when it just wasn't made that way?"

I doubt it. I think this girl would blie herself to the beauty shop for a permanent wave, even though it meant going without lunches or working overtime to be able to afford it. I think she would cheerfully give the time and any fortitude that might be required for the operation and no less cheerfully continue to take the time and make the effort necessary to keep those curls looking their best.

No more vertiginous this is required to discipline her figure would discipline her temperament, and the time and effort that turns straight hair into lovely curls would make the necessary improvement in a disposition that lacks "calm and poise." Would our young friend say that this is less important? Oh, no! she just never looked at it that way that's all."
