

APPRECIATION

It is difficult to express in words the sincere appreciation that we feel for the flood of congratulations and expressions of good will and encouragement that have come to The Plymouth Mail in the past few days from the business men of Plymouth and the readers of this paper. When it was announced in last week's issue that The Mail planned to be in operation Monday morning in its new plant, little did any one expect that by Monday night the completed business office of the paper would be filled with an array of beautiful flowers that would do justice to the best flower show ever staged. No formal opening had been planned and the announcement of the removal of the business from the old location to the new was made strictly as a matter of news. Not only did the friends of The Mail show the office with the finest that the many greenhouses in this locality produce, but every one—that is correct—every one who called at the office and those who happened to meet on the street, stopped to express commendation for a step that has resulted in the erection in Plymouth of a modern newspaper and printing plant. It is needless for the publisher of The Mail to confess that while the step has long been considered, there have been times when the wisdom of erecting such a building with all of its obligations has been in doubt. But no longer have we occasion to feel that way. No matter what the future may bring—and we have the greatest of faith in the years to come—we feel that the present week has brought almost a sufficient reward for all that has been done.

Plymouth is one of Michigan's best little cities. In fact we know of no place in the country that can excel it in its many advantages. It is felt by The Plymouth Mail that our investment is right and proper and in keeping with the better times to come.

Again may we express to the hundreds of readers of The Plymouth Mail and the patrons of the paper our sincerest appreciation for all the kindly expressions that have been made during the past few days. Plymouth may rest assured that efforts to produce a paper that will be a credit and honor to the City will never be lessened.

HORSESHOES

As far back as the memory of man goeth the finding of old horseshoes has been regarded as an omen of good fortune. If there is anything to this age-old belief, then The Plymouth Mail knows the cause of its good luck during recent weeks. Not only were enough old horseshoes found during the excavation for the foundations of the new Mail building to justify all the good luck of the past six or seven weeks, but for much more good luck in the future.

It was on September 15 when Federal Judge Moinet signed the decree which turned over to The Plymouth Mail all the rights to the north 35 feet of the old D. U. R. property. Following slight delays between that date and October 1, workmen began digging for the foundation on the first day of October.

First there was found a horseshoe that looked as though it might have been worn by a fairly large sized horse. Then they dug up one that apparently had been made by some blacksmith for a pony. They kept on digging up horseshoes and when the collection was completed, five old rusty horseshoes had been added to the collection.

Delving back a bit into early Plymouth history, it was found that some half century ago the new Mail building is located on the site of the pioneer homestead of the Hough family. Workmen uncovered portions of the old stone wall for the house and at the rear of the new building they uncovered a part of the wall of the old Hough barn.

Asked about the kind of horses the Hough family had in the days gone by, Edward C. Hough, a small boy, said that the smallest one was one for a pony he used to have when as a lad he ramped over the ground where The Plymouth Mail building now stands. Yes, his family used horses in the old days to navigate about over the muddy highways of Plymouth and vicinity.

It is an interesting fact that the south wall of the new Mail structure runs for a considerable distance almost parallel with the south wall of the old Hough homestead.

But back to the horseshoes—and the good luck. From the day that the new building was started, there prevailed the finest of weather. Only two hours during the entire construction period was lost due to rain.

Then came the tremendous task of moving a big newspaper and job printing plant. Not a mishap of any kind occurred and not a thing was lost or misplaced.

All but a small amount of finishing has been completed and there has not been a mishap of any kind. Everything worked out just as planned and the moving of the plant started exactly six weeks from the day the first shovel full of earth was removed for the foundation.

So it can readily be seen why The Plymouth Mail has reason to believe in all the omens of good fortune—even including horseshoes.

Stars Install
New Officers

A large attendance was on hand at the Masonic Temple to witness the annual installation Tuesday evening of new Eastern Star officers.

The work was exemplified by Past Matrons and Past Patron Oscar Kuhn. Alvena Crumby acted as installing marshal. Alta Woodworth as organist and Carrie Hillmer as chaplain. Mildred Litzemburger, Luvella Buzzard, Clara Alexandra, Clella Moles, Ada Murray, Maud Schrader and Oscar Kuhn as installing officers. Little Doris Faber was flower girl and assisted Mrs. Schrader with the star points. The work was very pretty and well done, each being a credit to themselves and honor to their chapter.

Mrs. Sterling Eaton, accompanied by Miss Reva Schrader of Northville, sang two lovely solos which were greatly appreciated and enjoyed by all.

Travel Talk For
D. A. R. Members

The D.A.R. met Monday, Nov. 19 in Northville with Mrs. Chas. DuBuar, The Regent, Mrs. Carl H. Bryan, president, Mrs. Donald P. Yerkes, the chaplain, read from the fourth chapter of Isaiah, followed by prayer and salute to the flag. A contribution to the Red Cross was voted, and collection was taken up for the support of the nursing work at Ellis Island.

After the close of the business meeting the chapter was delightfully entertained by a travel talk by Mrs. Thad J. Knapp. What she saw and learned of the manners and customs of the people in Northern Europe was given very interestingly. Famous historic spots, visits to the great art galleries, and magnificent scenery all came in for attention from the speaker. In Denmark she learned that the children all shake hands with their parents and thank them for the food after each meal. In the Norwegian countries wash day comes but four times a year, and the poorest bride has at least 60 sheets. She said that which other countries had blown up in gun powder in these countries had spent on education and the results were gratifying. The left hand driving practiced in many of these countries demanded that one driven to it, be especially alert in traffic.

Louis Straub Gets
$100 Cash Reward

Louis Straub is the richer by $100 as the result of his alertness in getting the automobile number of a hit and run driver. Some time ago, an automobile driver crashed into Theodore Lee, a Plymouth youth, badly injuring him. Mr. Straub saw the accident, gave chase to the driver who was speeding away, got his number and turned it over to the police. The reward came from the Detroit News. The News has been waging a relentless war against hit and run drivers and for cooperation on the part of the public, it pays $100 to the person providing the information which leads to the arrest of a hit and run driver.

Rev. Sutherland To Preach Thanksgiving

Rev. Loya Sutherland, pastor of the First Baptist church, has been delegated the honor of delivering the Thanksgiving day sermon at the union services to be held next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. These special services each Thanksgiving day in Plymouth have attracted large numbers to the church.

Editor's Note—The past few days have been busy ones in the lives of The Plymouth Mail workers. As a result there haven't been hours enough in the day and night to do all the things necessary around a newspaper office. So we are using this week for our regular editorial column a selection of some of the best editorials of the country as selected by The National Editorial Association. While there is much work yet to be done around the Mail office before we can call the job complete, there is no longer any necessity of so much rushing and hurrying as there has been in the past six or seven weeks and we will be able to settle down to a more orderly conduct of affairs in the next few days. We thoroughly appreciate the way everyone has cooperated with us.

RURAL FACTORIES

Among the coming developments in this country may be rural chambers of commerce, each billing new factories for their individual communities. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics has made a survey and reports that many small factories are doing well in small towns and rural communities and are contributing much to the income of the localities in which they are situated. Some of these manufacturing enterprises even thrive in the open country adjacent to no incorporated places. The sites for such enterprises have been chosen with a view to the surrounding farms furnishing raw materials. Five different sources of income are available to farmers living in the vicinity of such factories: Sale of materials; full or part time employment; performing some factory processes on contract in their own homes; selling foodstuffs in markets; and sharing in the profits of the factory through investment in its stock. There is no reason to doubt, the survey shows, that some day rural factories and factories in small towns will be common. Every new outbreak in the form of a strike or labor trouble is being met with a new order of resistance. Coraopolis will live to see the prophecy fulfilled and they will be living in a better and a more contented community when it does come to pass. —Record, Coraopolis, Pa.

DO YOU NEED A CHURCH?

Church attendance has been on the decline. Statistics reveal that only 30 per cent of the membership attends church services. That is not a heartening disclosure in a period when morals and spiritual values are needed by a people grasping for social, economic and moral relief. Church attendance fluctuates with economic conditions. When prosperity is on the wing, individuals feel less the need of relying on things spiritual. They go to in their self reliance. When depression hits the nation and men are burdened with responsibilities and hardships, they turn to spiritual values for encouragement and sustenance. Such is the record of church attendance. The world has undergone great changes. History is in the making. Political, economic, and social forces are in the throes of revision. We topped from the heights to the depths and our civilization is foundering. Its permanency depends upon man's support of moral and spiritual values. Character, integrity and the Golden Rule are still more valuable than gold, armies and private gain. This is not a sermon. It is a fact. The permanency of civilization depends upon man's acceptance of moral and character values. President Roosevelt recognized this truth when he invited the nation to go to church Loyalty Sunday, October 7, Merle Thorpe, editor of Nation's Business, says there is good reason for turning to the church today for "disorder in the outer world has brought disorder to the spirit of man." Our economic recovery is tied in with moral recovery. They will go hand in hand. When men recognize the rights of others, when they respect integrity, when they live moral lives, when they live the Golden Rule, the world will lose its troubles. The church is in the business of building character; man is at the task of building prosperity. Man needs the church, the church needs man.

POSTAL SAVINGS VS. BANK DEPOSITS

There are still many people who believe in the fallacy that depositing their surplus cash in postal savings is safer than in a local bank. That may have been true at one time, but now, with nearly all banks operating under the Federal Deposit Insurance plan, postal savings as well as any other form of government banking or investment are just as safe but not a bit safer than local bank deposits up to the amount specified in his annual address to the Minnesota Bankers' association, D. J. Fohquette of this city, president of the association, pointed to the advantages of local bank deposits in the following: "The depositing public is unquestionably confused in regard to our stand. As a result, they are not making proper use of our banks and are still making a large part of their deposits with the postal savings system." "Few of the millions who regularly deposit their funds with the postal savings system are aware that by doing so they are aiding and abetting a system which is sapping the life blood from their own communities. Many of these people would not

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

WHAT OF THE CHURCH?

homecoming at which the early history of that church will be reviewed and reviewed. Times have changed in a hundred years. Economically, socially, politically, the people have changed. Habits of life have changed as well. The church has suffered in recent years because of these changes. The rural and small town church has suffered perhaps more severely than has the great city congregations. While we are turning back to the pages of our early history and rejoicing in the sentiments and remembrances of that day when the church was a militant force which touched in a very real manner the lives of almost every family, is that not a good time to consider the church of the future? Who will celebrate the 200th anniversary of our churches? What will be said then of this generation which the heritages of the present generation of fathers and mothers are laying in store for their children? Will the church still point their spirits toward the heavens or will crumbling bricks and stones and dead mortar tell the story of a dead present and a forgotten past?

Unless there is a revival of things spiritual within the next decade, the church will face a test not experienced on this continent. Unless some character building agency of like influence is devised, man will suffer in consequence.

Man must live in moral cleanliness in integrity and with regard for the rights of others. This is the Golden Rule. This is the creed of the church. Some institution must provide inspired leadership along these lines else man declines into mere brute beast. Thousands of years of history prove this over and over again. Is the church as we know it to continue to provide this inspiration or will another instrument be devised or will man fall again to rise again?

WELFARE PROBLEM

Government officials are showing concern over this welfare problem. A year ago all were assured that federal aid would come to their rescue. Now the plea is for local communities to assume their share of the burden. That patronize such a syste mif they knew that when they deposit with the postal savings system their funds become unavailable as a basis of credit in that community. I do not believe that the government is deliberately attempting to compete with our banks. I do not believe that they are seriously urging anyone to deposit with the postal savings system rather than in a bank. I believe the fault lies more with us as bankers. What are we doing to inform people that banks today offer a degree of safety comparable to the postal savings system with an interest rate slightly greater and the added advantage that money deposited in the bank is available for credit to local business as business justifies the extension of such credit. —Sentinel, St. Cloud, Minn.

SHARE AND PROGRESS ALIKE

Arthur E. Morgan, who is chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority and—in his spare time, so to speak—president of Antioch College, tells his students at the opening of the fall term that America must begin to build character "on the plane of social responsibility. Now it is the peculiar privilege of college presidents to mouth charming phrases before a wide-eyed convocation of newly arrived freshmen. But Mr. Morgan's suggestion hits a new note, and it might be worth a second look. "Each individual," he says, "must determine to follow for himself the disciplined good life regardless of the pressure of the mass."

Does this mean a reversion to the loose talk about an "aristocracy of brains" that we heard so much about a few years ago? Not necessarily; for Dr. Morgan goes on to add: "There must grow a willingness to share the common lot and progress only as the common lot can progress. To a large extent, that means a change of personal aims and desires." And it is precisely in this direction that the present trend in American life must swing if the high hopes of the last 18 months are not to be dashed. It does no harm to recall that it was some such notion as this which helped to give birth to the republic, to build that great American dream which has always dazzled our eyes just beyond the horizon. Men came to believe, in these fresh new days, that human life could be lived on a basis different from anything previously tried, that the rights of the humblest man could be made as sacred as the rights of the mightiest, and that progress should mean nothing at all unless it means a better life and a truer freedom for the fellow at the bottom of the heap. It was, and is, a noble dream. Like all dreams, it has been stained and frayed in its passage down through the years. But it remains our finest dream; and if the confusion of this era is to mean anything at all, it must mean a revival of that dream and a new effort to attain it.

And, as Dr. Morgan suggests, before we can attain it we must find a new mental attitude. We must somehow get this "willingness to share the common lot and progress only as the common lot progresses." Only in that way can we make of the New Deal anything more than an empty set of slogans. —Sentinel, Benndji, Minn.

MORE HOPEFUL TRENDS

The forces of recuperation are steadily gathering momentum. From all parts of the country come reports of more favorable business trends and better than all else the substitution of a spirit of optimism for the gloom that has been too dominant in the national thinking. Hard upon the heels of the announced purpose of the American Bankers Association to cooperate with the Government in the recovery program came a declaration of like purpose from the Investment Bankers Association of America. The task set by the latter group is indicated by President Crane's comment that the most vital problem of recovery is to reopen the capital market in order to revive heavy industries, and that this is more a function of investment bankers than of commercial bankers. Retail trade has remained good in recent months, a fact which has contributed a persistent, cheerful feature to the business picture. Observers now predict for this year the best Christmas trade since the depression began. Everywhere one detects the substitution of optimism for pessimism; the replacement of a spirit of antagonism by a spirit of cooperation.

Merryle Stanley Rukesyer, well-known economist, struck the prevailing note of hope the other day when he declared that the prophet of doom, who kept repeating that we were on the verge of collapse has been belied by the course of events. He added that the new attitude is toward business men and bankers as instrumentalities for economic improvement through whom the President can work.

It was in this new spirit that representatives of code authorities for 23 durable goods industries assembled in Washington, adopted a resolution affirming faith in the NRA, and set themselves resolutely to the task of improving the working of their codes in the light of experience.

Finally there is the appeal in behalf of members of the National Industrial Recovery Board for cooperation from American business in reorganizing NRA. The NRA which will be called upon to function after the present recovery act expires next June. Arthur D. Whiteside, a member of the Board, has stated that if business men will formulate their ideas and send them to Washington in the form of constructive suggestions, their ideas will be used in shaping a new NRA. There is no reason on earth, said he, why the NRA should mean that business men lose individualism and become regimented.

These all may be only straws in the wind, but taken in the aggregate they indicate unmistakably that more favorable winds are blowing.

After the Storm

There's a flood o' blessed sunshine
Follows every pourin' rain,
An' we know they both 're needed
If we're goin' to harvest grain!
Underneath the winter's snowdrift,
Flowers wait t' cheer the spring;
It's when daylight drives out darkness
That the birds begin t' sing.

So it is with life, I reckon;
All the trouble that we know
An' the handicaps we're facin'
Comes our way t' help us grow.
When you've had a share o' heartache,
Or when luck's been bad, I guess
It's a mighty safe prediction
Of a spell o' happiness!

is much the same plea as was being made before the CWA last year. It isn't that the government is now less concerned with the care of those in need. It is an acknowledgment that the progress under the other system has been unsatisfactory. In other words there has been an increase in employment in the regular lines of industry and at the same time there has been a mounting total of applicants for the welfare. Citizens have simply come to the conclusion that the quickest way to get something to do is to register seeking such aid. We cannot and do not blame the citizens at all. We continue to regard as wrong the methods pursued.—Joseph Sturgeon in the Delta County Reporter.

WHY WORRY?

We are not disturbed by this furor about violating the constitution when young girls can puzzle high powered beer at any road house until 4:30 p. m. The same constitutional question yelp was raised when this government made the Louisiana purchase. These things pass away like the old local agitation over the question of removing the post office from Main street.—Murl DePoe, Charlotte Republican-News.

THE PETITION EVIL

There is one way that some of those useless and objectionable proposed amendments to the state constitution may be kept off the ballots, and that is by all persons refusing to sign petitions for something they do not understand and possibly would oppose if they did understand them. This not only applies to petitions to change our constitution, but to the numerous other petitions that we are asked to sign. How many people there are who will sign most any kind of a petition presented to them, not because they want the thing petitioned for, but simply to their signature. That is all wrong, and only helps to render valueless the privilege and right to petition, because those to whom the petitions are presented know full well that they do not represent the earnest desire of but a small percentage of the ones whose names are on them. Before signing any petition one should read it carefully, and if he does not understand it or is not in favor of it he should decline to sign it. It is wasted effort to sign petitions for something which, if placed before the electors, we would vote against. —R. J. Richardson in The Augusta Beacon.

ANY OLD CLUB

One can start a club for almost any purpose these days if the objective has a squirt of sensational about it that promises some notoriety. The latest clubbing is instituted to put the so-called Townsend plan of insuring every person over 60 years of age a pension of $200 per month provided the person quits work and can't carry on without public aid. The co-sponsor of the plan tells the newspapers that petitions with signatures aggregating 14,000,000 have been secured asking that the plan be enacted into law. A club to promote the legislation has been formed in Detroit. It is called the "Michigan Townsend Old Age Revolving Plan Inc." We have not heard the last of these radical schemes to circumvent human nature and probably will not until the depression is over with and people are back in their right minds. ## WHICH ~ a Postal Money Order or YOUR PERSONAL CHECK?

Are postal money orders better than checks? Let's see. . . . To buy a money order, you must go to the post office. You must fill out an application blank for each order. A $1.00 money order costs 6 cents, and if it is for $65.00 the fee is 20 cents. Then, too, the largest money order you can buy is for $100. Money order receipts are small, confusing, easily mislaid—in which case it may take time and trouble to prove payment of a disputed bill.

Contrast this with the advantages of paying your bills "by check" . . . make them out anywhere . . . they become the best receipt . . . they give you "business standing" . . . and when you keep a reasonable balance in your account in keeping with the checks you draw, they don't cost you anything.

Orpheus Club Here December 8

The Orpheus club of Detroit, which appears in Plymouth Saturday evening, December 8th under the sponsorship of the Women's Club, in the high school auditorium, have had an interesting history and background. A brief sketch of the development of the club follows.

The Orpheus club of Detroit is unique among singing organizations in this country. Organized in 1900, with a dozen members, it has grown steadily until today it has a singing membership of forty-five men and a reputation second to no other male chorus.

Its members, young business and professional men, most of whom are well-known concert or church soloists, are chosen with discriminating care, as much regard being given to their personal characteristics as to their vocal ability, the result being a harmony of effort and congeniality of association which any fraternity might envy.

These men cheerfully give every Monday evening throughout the greater part of the year to rehearsals of the exceptional programs for which the club and its conductor, Charles Frederic Morse, have become so well known, not only accepting no compensation for their efforts, but paying annual dues for the privilege of membership. All programs are given entirely from memory and most numbers are done a capella, the real test of the ability of a chorus.

As a rule but two concerts are given in Detroit each year, these being given only for Associate Members and their friends, who pay the capacity of Orchestra Hall.

The club is supported by its Associate Members, who in return for an annual membership fee receive tickets to each of the two concerts. A most desirable feature is the permanency of seat assignments, and the natural grouping of friends that results from that plan creates an unusual atmosphere of neighborliness at the concerts.

NEWBURG SCHOOL

The pupils of the Newburg school gave a program Friday afternoon, celebrating Book Week.

The primary room dramatized "The Sleeping Beauty." Donald Gray told the story of "Princess Lily" and Junior Rorabacher recited "The Moon" by Stevenson and showed pictures to illustrate it.

The upper grades honored Robert Louis Stevenson since his birthday anniversary occurred on November 13.

The fourth grade made a poem book of some of his poems and gave a dramatization "The Poetry Hour."

The seventh grade gave a brief biography of his life and acted out a scene from "Treasure Island."

The sixth grade showed pictures which illustrated "Travel," by Stevenson, while Irene MacIntyre read the poems.

The fifth grade showed pictures which they made to show the scene from a book which they had read this fall.

The eighth grade gave interesting book reports of books which they had read this month.

The books included: Little Women, New Chronicles of Rebecca, College on Horseback, Rolling

Wheels, The Magnificent Adventure, The Life of Kit Carson, The Life of Abraham Lincoln and Border Watch.

The following guests were present: Mrs. Kidson, Mrs. Carl Rorabacher, Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Chilson, Mrs. Rhode, and Mrs. Todosecuk.

Marvin Terry Made Member of The Choir At Albion College

Marvin Terry, Plymouth, a student in Albion College, is one of the 46 percents recently selected as a member of the college choir. Under the direction of Prof. H. A. Van Deusen the choir is preparing for the presentation in December of Handel's oratorio "The Messiah." The personnel as selected by Prof. H. A. Van Deusen, director, is as follows:

Sopranos: Ruth Bacon, Albion; Dorothy Ecker, Lansing; Madeline Hill, Saginaw; Clover Hollister, Chicago, Ill.; Marguerite Holtz, Jackson; Maxine Law, Wyandotte; Lyla McMillan, Charlevoix; Tana Magnotta, Albion; Betty Reed, Albion; Margaret Rowland, Albion; Jane Wildt, Albion; June Wright, Wayne.

Altos: Elizabeth Allison, Detroit; Minnie Camburn, Stockbridge; Lyleen Cramton, Ada; Marion Eastman, Midland; Winifred Eley, Boyne City; Emily Evans, Holland; Erica Feuell, Bad Axe; Ruth Gage, Cadillac; Mary Carolyn King, Elm Grove, W. Va.; Helen Layton, Flint; Mary Jane McGill, Big Rapids; Antoinette Magnotta, Albion; Margaret Purdy, Howell; Lenore Savillanti, Pottersville; Elsie Smart, Frankfort; Katherine Whaley, Albion; Katherine Whetstone, Homer.

Tenors: Maurice Gerow, Jackson; Kenneth Hollidge, Albion; Marvin Terry, Plymouth; Elmer West, Mass.; Paul Wightman, New Lothrop.

Basses: Collin Alexander, Albion; Richard Christl, Berrien Springs; Richard Edwards, St. Joseph; James Lampman, Chicago, Ill.; Albert McMillan, Charlevoix; James Marine, St. Joseph; James Nash, Pontiac; Leslie Newcomer, Monroe; Bert Rhodes, Concord; Walter Stanefski, Chicago, Ill.; Paul Steffe, Albion; Kenneth Wolf, Cement City.

Plymouth Girls In New College Choir

Misses Christine and Elizabeth Nichol, daughters of Rev. and Mrs. Walter Nichol, 178 South Main St., Plymouth, Mich., are members of the college choir at The College of Wooster.

This choir is one of the largest in northern Ohio. Exactly 102 students, possessing voices with excellent blending qualities, were selected from nearly 150 who tried out.

The choir is under the leadership of Prof. N. O. Rowe, director of the Conservatory of Music. Special music is furnished by this choir for most of the college's Sunday services in Memorial chapel. A number of vesper programs are given during the school year.

For choir members, to belong to the college choir means valuable training in choral singing costing only the time required for practices and appearances.

Population On Farms To Jump

Definite indications that the population on farms will be greater in the next 10 years than it has been in the past decade were pointed out by speakers at the conference of agricultural agents at Michigan State College.

Two main causes for the reversal of the migration to the cities were cited. Many people who moved from farm to towns where they found employment are now back in their home neighborhoods and there is little chance that the older of these people will be employed in shops, again. Company policies of giving preference to young people will prevent them finding work in cities.

Men and women who would have gone to towns in the years immediately after 1920 have stayed on farms because they could not find work elsewhere. Most of them will have established homes or will have become older than employment agents desire before business agents have a tendency to increase the amount of food stuffs grown and to decrease the prices received for them. Much of this increased amount of food will be consumed if city laborers get regular pay envelopes.

Until employment conditions improve farmers will have to plan to conduct their business upon a basis of getting a great deal of their living from their farm and of cutting their cash expenditures to the least possible amount.

Considerable time has been spent in awaiting the return of conditions such as existed in some past period. It now seems to be better policy to arrange the farm business upon the basis of the present and what can be expected in the future.

Government plans for assisting farmers to obtain parity prices for their produce are to be continued but these plans were announced as temporary when they were begun. Michigan farmers will get benefit payments upon wheat, corn, hogs, and sugar beets if they signed contracts but it would seem to be a sane policy to look ahead and see what might be done to carry the farm business if the benefits are ever discontinued.

Fundamental good farm practices are more essential in bad times than in good times. Proper tillage of the soil, use of the best varieties of tested seeds, application of fertilizers on cash crops, keeping a good supply of excellent livestock, and keeping a set of account books will help any farmer in any kind of economic conditions. It is more profitable to produce 100 units on 10 acres than 100 units on 20 acres, whether it be corn, wheat, or potatoes.

The Aviation Unit of the U. S. S. Augusta stood first in aircraft gunnery in the heavy cruiser class for the past year.

Fitzgerald Prepares For Work As Governor.

Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald set a precedent when he announced immediately after election that he would resign from his present post and devote the rest of the year to the study of state affairs.

In the state's history one other secretary of state has resigned for entirely different reasons. One secretary of state has been removed from office. Mr. Fitzgerald intends to spend the remaining weeks of the year to the formulation of policies and plans to present to the legislature in January.

At Mr. Fitzgerald's request, Governor William A. Comstock has announced that Deputy Secretary of State Clarke W. Brown will be appointed secretary for the balance of the year.

Mr. Fitzgerald will assume the governorship under conditions different from those faced by any incoming chief executive. Four of the seven members of the state administrative board will be of a different political faith. The state senate, according to unofficial reports, will be composed of 21 republicans and 11 democrats while the house of representatives will contain at least 48 republicans and 51 democrats. The vote in Iron County was a tie in early returns.

In announcing his resignation, Mr. Fitzgerald declared that he expects the entire administrative board will work in a harmonious manner. "The people of Michigan," he said, "have elected their state officials because they believe they will receive good government from them. I know I speak for every member of the board in declaring that we will attempt to follow the mandate of the voters in this regard."

Deer Hunters! Save The Pelts

Buckskin moccasins and jackets, reminiscent of pioneer Michigan, are coming back into their own.

If sportsmen respond to the pleas of the Michigan State Emergency Relief Administration somewhere between 10,000 and 15,000 deer hides will be converted to buckskin clothes during the coming winter.

Pink slips asking for the skins of their bucks are now being circulated through Michigan's army of 85,000 prospective deer hunters, if they signed contracts but it would seem to be a sane policy to look ahead and see what might be done to carry the farm business if the benefits are ever discontinued.

The Department of Conservation, which is co-operating with the Relief Administration in urging hunters to turn their deer skins in to relief for the unemployed, believes that few hunters use the skin of the buck they have killed. Those hunters willing to co-operate are asked to take or send the skin to their county emergency relief administrator. He will send the skins to the Iron Mountain tannery.

Skins of confiscated deer and of does killed illegally will be turned over by the Department of Conservation to the relief organization.

Boy Scouts Hike To Camp Brady

(Omitted from last week) Over the last week-end, fifty-three boys and men from the Boy Scout Troops of the Wayne County Training School, Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens enjoyed what is called a "brady overnight." Leaving their homes early Saturday afternoon they went to Camp Brady, near Waterford, and stayed until Sunday afternoon. The boys were formed into six Scout Patrols, and most of the camp activities were in the nature of competition between the Patrols. The Red Patrol, under Jack Bichall, won the candy bars as the Champion Patrol. The high lights of the camp were the initiations into the Royal Order of Siam, the winged beans that flew around the Lodge after Taps and the log sawing contest which provided fun and also wood for the big fireplace. The boys also assisted camp supervisor William Poland to reset a cedar tree upset by a recent wind. Important, too, were the three big meals served by camp cook Mike Monahan who has learned from experience that the Plymouth District brings big appetites to camp.

About three-quarters of the boys were at Brady for the first time. Neither the overcast skies nor the low temperature could keep them from enjoying the trip to the utmost. The appreciation of the boys is especially great for Karl Hillmer's sponsoring of the trip for three scouts and for the Eckles company for the truck and driver who took the Plymouth boys to and from camp.

The six Patrols with their leaders were—Orange, Dick Innis, P-3; Red, Jack Birchall, P-1; Blue, Harold Oden, N-2; Green, Bill Holdsworth, P-1; Brown, Harry Waltz, N-2; Black, John Janowicz, N-2. The leaders in charge were Wm. Hodson, Jr., Commissioner; Bill Hodson, Senior Patrol Leader; Ferris Mathias, Richard Loomis and Sidney D. Strong.

Is your store only HALFWAY READY for the busiest season of the year?

Your stocks of merchandise are fresh and new... your styles are up-to-the-minute... your prices are geared to produce sales. But can prospective customers SEE what you have to offer? With adequate lighting, your other sales efforts can be made doubly effective.

People do not buy merchandise that lurks on gloomy shelves or in dark show cases. Murky windows and hard-to-see displays provide no attraction for the possible buyer who walks past your store. DRAMATIZE your wares with light and draw attention to your windows. Good lighting forces people to look—whether they will or no. Now is the time to bring your store lighting up to date... and cash in on the added customer-attraction value that good lighting brings.

Improving your lighting is not necessarily expensive. Often a few dollars will bring your lighting system up to date, and your increased sales will more than pay for the cost of alterations. Detroit Edison engineers will gladly check your lighting without charge or obligation, and submit recommendations. This is part of our service. Call any Detroit Edison office.

Council Proceedings

New Auto License Plates Now On Sale

Secretary of State Clarke W. Brown, placed the 1935 license plates on sale Saturday, Nov. 17 for both new and old automobiles.

While the law provides that plates be available for new cars on Dec. 1, the secretary is given discretion and the date was advanced in order to stimulate the sale of new cars. In past years department records show that automobiles sales declined during November because purchasers wished to delay until the next year's plates were available.

Old Show Place Being Removed

Some 28 years ago when visitors came to see friends and relatives in Plymouth, one of the places they were always taken was up on Penniman avenue by the new home that John Patterson had erected. Local residents wanted to show the visitors the beautiful home that Mr. Patterson had built, in its day one of the most elaborate in all Michigan.

For years and years it was one of the real show places of Plymouth.

By the end of another week all that will be left of the house that Plymouth visitors some quarter of a century ago used to drive by on Sunday afternoons and admire will be the hole in the ground that the house covered.

It is rather an unusual fact that the man who built the house is the one who is tearing it down. Mr. Patterson has had a wrecking crew busy for nearly three weeks—and the "wrecking crew" is taking the house apart without breaking a board or cracking a glass.

The material that is coming out of the house is going into a new home that Mr. Patterson is building out at Idle Wild golf course, which he owns.

The site of the beautiful old Patterson home is to be occupied by Plymouth's new postoffice building.

Plymouth High In Debate Assn.

Plymouth high school has become a member of the Michigan High School Forensic Association and will take part in a state-wide competition in public speaking and debating according to an announcement by Mr. J. H. Burney, instructor in speech at the University of Michigan and State Manager of the Association. Mr. James Latture of the high school faculty will be in charge of the local contestants.

The Michigan high school Forensic Association is directed by the University of Michigan in cooperation with an Advisory Council representing the Michigan Conference of City Superintendents, the Michigan High School Principals Association, and the Michigan Association of Teachers of Speech. State-wide interscholastic contests will be conducted in debating, oratory, declamation, and extempore speaking. The local school will be represented in debating, oratory, declamation, and extempore speaking.

The question for discussion in the debates of the State Association this year is the proposal that the federal government should adopt the policy of equipping educational opportunity throughout the nation by means of annual grants to the several states for public elementary and secondary education. This subject has been adopted by thirty-two state high school debating leagues and will be discussed by high school students throughout the country.

The debates in the Michigan High School Forensic Association are conducted in two series: a preliminary series in which all member schools debate at least a series which terminates in the four times, and an elimination State Championship Debate. The schools with the highest percentage of victories in the preliminary debates are entered in the elimination series and awarded the University of Michigan Wall Plaque Trophy through the cooperation of The Detroit Free Press. This trophy is in the shape of a shield, the design of which was taken from the well-known University of Michigan shield. Its base is of American walnut, 17 inches in height and 15 inches across the top, and the medallion, superimposed upon the shield, is 9 inches in diameter, three-eighths of an inch thick, and is cast of solid bronze with all lettering artistically embossed. The Detroit Free Press will also present a bronze lapel button or pin, a replica of the University of Michigan Wall Plaque Trophy, to each debater participating in an elimination debate.

The great majority of the schools will hold their first debate on November 23. Three other state-wide debates on December 14, January 11, and January 25 will complete the preliminary series. A number of sectional debating leagues have been organized again in various parts of the State for purposes of conducting the preliminary series. The winners of these sectional leagues, together with the other ranking schools in the preliminary series, will take part in the first debate of the elimination series on February 15.

British naval experts have developed a new offensive weapon. It consists of a motorboat without a crew and controlled by radio, resembling a giant torpedo. With a speed of 45 land miles, it is claimed to be capable of destroying the most powerful warship. The craft is designed to circle around ships dropping depth charges and returning safely. On account of its speed, warships begun in 1932 and Experiments began in 1932 and have had the most successful results it is claimed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeBar spent Sunday at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Drulia in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers entertained the latter's brother and wife, also their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, and children of Detroit, last Sunday in honor of the birthday of C. V. Chambers, Nov. 17th. Mr. and Mrs. William Blunk spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives at Flint. On Sunday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Irving Blunk and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk and family. Mrs. Albert Drews has returned home from the Ford hospital and is slowly recovering. Mrs. Mary Tibbitts will have as her week-end guest her sister, Mrs. Alfred Pitchett, of Bad Axe.

Lou Hollaway was forced over another mile stone Sunday, November 18th, being his 82nd birthday. Robert Hollaway and son James of Ann Arbor were callers Sunday at Lou Hollaway's in honor of his birthday. Mrs. Winfield Scott returned Tuesday evening from a two months stay in Worcester, Mass. Mrs. Sterling Eaton and Miss Margaret Henry attended the concert in Hill Auditorium Monday evening given by the Don Cossack choir. The Loyal Daughters class of the First Baptist Church held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Mildred LaFever on Blunk avenue Tuesday, November 20th. After the meeting the thirty five ladies present honored Mrs. Herbert Barry. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sriver of Grand Rapids were overnight visitors this week at the home of Mrs. Vesta McDonald and Mrs. Mabel Loomis. Mrs. Sriver is a sister of Mrs. Loomis. Miss Hazel Rayner and Walter Waldenwine of Jackson were dinner guests at the home of I. N. Dickersons Sunday. Miss Rayner who is in training at Mercy Hospital has passed the State Board examination, and will finish her course in December. Miss Esther Strasen of Detroit will spend Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Strasen. The Mission circle of the Lutheran church, held at the home of Mrs. William Last on South Harvey street Wednesday afternoon was quite well attended. A business meeting followed by contests and a dainty lunch made the afternoon most interesting. Mrs. Last was assisted by Mrs. Paul Groth, Mrs. Gus Fraunt and Mrs. Theodore Sieloff. Among those from Plymouth who went deer hunting during the past week or ten days was George Gorton, who with Norman Westfall of Livonia hunted in the vicinity of Rose City and in two hours after starting out George had his deer and a short time later Mr. Westfall had his. This surely proves that it isn't necessary to go as far north as the Upper Peninsula to get a deer unless that is your desire. Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd and Mrs. Dora B. Whitney arrived Saturday from Cleveland, Ohio, where they had been attending the National W.C.T.U. convention. Mrs. Whitney left on Sunday for Flint where she spent the day then on Monday went to her home at Benton Harbor. Mrs. Todd accompanied her as far as Flint.

WEST PLYMOUTH
Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Root were dinner guests Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Graves in Detroit. The Spangler family spent several days last week in the northern part of the state, bringing back a deer with them. Mrs. Frank Truesdell was taken suddenly ill Sunday morning. Her daughter, Mrs. Henry Root, stayed to care for her. Mr. and Mrs. David Llew and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kraft of Detroit were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moyer.

For your THANKSGIVING DINNER... Enjoy Delicious Electric Cooking

This TRIAL PLAN places an Electric Range in your kitchen without obligation!

You've never tasted roast turkey or chicken or duck until you've tasted this tempting Thanksgiving treat. Roast fowl prepared in an electric oven has a totally different flavor... an appetizing goodness and rich natural flavor that is unsurpassed. Mild electric heat penetrates evenly to all parts of the fowl, and the dressing is fluffy-textured and fragrant, thoroughly seasoning the meat. Little water is used for cooking, and the meat is roasted to perfection - crisp and uniformly brown outside, tender and full-flavored within. Because an electric oven is practically self-basting, like a pressure cooker, the meat cooks in its own natural juices.

Why not cook your Thanksgiving dinner electrically? We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During this trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today!

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH
Edgar Hoenecke, Pastor
Thanksgiving Day Services at Ten o'clock.

Read the solemn warning of Moses to the children of Israel, Deuteronomy 8: "And He humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger (The Great Depression) and fed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; that He might make thee know that man doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God doth man live."

Think it over! Have you nothing to be thankful for this year? The adult bible class will meet Wednesday evening, November 28th, 7:30 to 8:30. Come!

The Ladies' Aid Society of our church undertook to pay off the entire debt of the congregation last week. It was a note of 90 days' term with the local bank to the amount of $275. We wish to express our heartfelt gratitude to the ladies for their untiring zeal in accomplishing this end. Our congregation is thus again Debt Free, for which we owe our Father in Heaven our most hearty thanks. Let us keep it that way by meeting our accounts as they fall due.

The following is the program for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the Newburg M.E. Church.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 18.
Among the Bible citations was this passage (Eph. 1:3): "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ."
Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 63): "In science man is the offspring of Spirit. The beautiful, good, and pure constitute his ancestry... Spirit is his primitive and ultimate source of being; God is his Father, and Life is the law of his being."
The U. S. Marine Band is the oldest military band in the United States, organized in 1789. The U. S. Navy Band was organized in 1919 and the U. S. Army Band in 1922.
