Attends Rotary Meetings Half Around World

Charles Bennett Tells Local Club Of Similar Groups In The Orient

Brings Back To Plymouth a Fragment Of Chinese Wall — Each Given Book-Ends

From Plymouth to the Orient and back to Rotary "wheel" was in substance the subject of the talk given last Friday noon to local Rotarians by former President Charles H. Bennett of the organization. Almost from the day he left Plymouth in company with Mrs. Bennett early in the fall to attend the Red Cross conference in Japan, Mr. Bennett made a point of attending some Rotary meetings somewhere as frequently as possible.

As a result he has attendance credits strewn from the Rocky Mountains and Pacific Coast to Japan, China and back to the land of Upton Sinclair. Plymouth Rotarians probably never heard a more interesting talk. And never before did any of them ever have an opportunity to see in their hands a fragment of the Great China Wall that is older than history. Among the many highly prized possessions brought back by Mr. Bennett was a portion of one of the dark craggy blocks of stone used in the construction of the wall.

"It is as perfect and as hard now as the day it was made," he said. Engineers and chemists have tried to find out where they were made but it all remains a secret of history. This fragment of the Chinese wall will become a possession of the Plymouth Rotary club.

Even before he left Plymouth Mr. Bennett planned for a perfect Rotary attendance record during the months he knew that he would be traveling in the Orient. He secured the benefit of one session by going to Ann Arbor.

When the Northern Pacific train rolled into Astoria, Oregon, the first stop Mr. and Mrs. Bennett made after leaving Plymouth he immediately looked up William Peck, an old Plymouth friend, and asked him to help locate a Rotary club meeting somewhere. He found one.

"Well our next stop was in Seattle—and do they boast their towns out there! No matter what you have, they have something better. There I located Dr. Miller, another old Plymouth friend and we found a Rotary club meeting at Everett, Washington. Everett is a city of about the size of Plymouth and how those Rotarians boosted their town and state. It was all they talked about. But it sounded good to me. They are constantly talking up something, said Mr. Bennett. "They say everything is right out there and they say it so emphatically I guess it must be so.

"Our next stop was in Japan, but we had before the Red Cross conference was to begin so we went on to China, four days and four nights from Tokyo one can immediately see a vast difference in those countries. Every one in Japan seemed happy and contented. You seldom saw a Chinaman smile, although they were always exceedingly courteous to you. I attended a meeting of the Rotary club in Peking, I was surprised when I discovered that all the Chinese Rotarians at the meeting spoke English, except two. A Rotary meeting in China is a very dignified affair.

"Then back to Japan we traveled with attendance at Rotary meetings at Tokyo and numerous other places. Such courtesy is difficult to find in any other place in the world. I was late at one meeting at Naron, the old capital of Japan, due to a conflict in the time as shown in my book. As I entered the dining room, some two dozen or more Rotarians seated at the banquet table all arose and bowed three times. They remained standing until I had been provided a place at the speaker's table. At all the meetings in Japan and China I attended, they insisted that I make a speech. Well you know about the speeches I make.

"I never saw better behaved or better natured children than in Japan. They have no Sundays in Japan and the only time the work stores are not open or they do not work is on some national holiday.

"On his return to America, Mr. Bennett landed in San Francisco where he found at the Chamber of Commerce meeting of the Rotary club, but that night across the bay, the Oakland club would meet at noon.

"I attended—and the meeting was just like California," said Mr. Bennett. Each Rotarian present at last Friday's meeting was presented by Mr. Bennett with a set of stone book-ends carved by hand by the Chinese. It is needless to say that the gift was highly prized by the members. Mr. Bennett had on exhibition numerous other interesting objects that the local travelers brought home with them.

Starts To Walk Down Town, Dies

John Hallauer, Age 69, Drops Dead On Harvey St.

John Hallauer, aged 69 years, dropped dead on Harvey street last Thursday just as he had started to walk down town on an errand. He had not been in the best of health for some time, but his condition was not regarded as at all serious. He was carried back into the home at 347 North Harvey street but by the time physicians arrived, he was beyond all aid.

He is survived by his daughter Mrs. Martha Beitter of Plymouth, a sister, Mrs. Lydia Schlick of California, a brother, G. Hallauer in Kansas City and a brother, E. Hallauer of Switzerland.

Mr. Hallauer was active in Christian work and in May, 1934 had been appointed an elder of Berea Chapel. He had been a resident of Plymouth for the past seven years and during that time had won many friends by his general cheerful disposition and friendliness to everyone.

Funeral services were conducted by Schrader Bros. from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Martha Beitter, 247 North Harvey street. Rev. James A. Davis of Berea Chapel officiating.

Floyd Kehrl Is Made President Of First National

Annual Meeting Held On Tuesday—Taylor Is Now Cashier

Floyd A. Kehrl, associated with the First National bank for a number of years as cashier, was Tuesday elected president of the bank at the annual meeting of the directors following the stockholders meeting. He will immediately assume his new responsibilities.

The place has been vacant since the resignation of John A. Hubert early in the fall. Mr. Kehrl has been carrying on the duties of the bank executive since that time.

Leads State In Number Of Loans

Russell A. Roe was elected vice president and Jack E. Taylor was made cashier. Mr. Taylor has been assistant cashier of the bank.

The new board of directors of the bank are Russell A. Roe, Floyd A. Kehrl, Frank Bambo, J. O. Olsvater, Arthur L. Blunk and George H. Robinson.

Attorney Perry Richwine, who is one of the officers of the Plymouth Savings and Loan Association, has just been elected to the Federal Housing Administration for Michigan that the local savings association is leading all similar associations in Michigan in the number of loans made up to December 19 of last year.

The local Association was one of the first Building and Loan Associations in Michigan to receive a contract from the Federal Housing Administrator, in Washington, to make loans under the federal housing act. In this connection it is also interesting to report that the Association has just declared a dividend of three per cent on all investments in the association as of record on December 31st. The board of directors is looking forward to continued improvement and better business during the coming year.

Last Rites Are Held For Civic Leader, Builder

Death Closes Career Of Wm. J. Burrows After A Brief Illness

For Over Half A Century He Had Taken A Most Active Part In Affairs Of The Community

William J. Burrows, 82 years of age and for over half a century one of Plymouth's best known citizens, died Tuesday morning at the home of his wife, as usual as it may seem his last illness was the first time he had ever been confined to his home, having enjoyed perfect health during his entire life.

It was but two weeks ago when he complained of not being well, but after remaining in bed a number of days, he seemed to feel considerably better and the day before his death he told his son that he was much improved and that he thought he might be out the next day. It was shortly before 7 o'clock in the morning when it was discovered that his condition had taken a sudden turn for the worse and before medical assistance could be called he slept into his final rest.

Born in Coburg, Canada, on December 14, 1853, he came to Plymouth with his parents in 1875. He lived here for 57 years, just a few days ago when in reminiscing for a while he told his son Frank J. Burrows some of the details of his first "long, hazardous" trip from Detroit to Plymouth in December, 1871. It was just a few days ago when in reminiscing for a while he told his son Frank J. Dog Census Has Been Finished; Better Pay Now

Nearly 300 Dogs That Are Without Licenses The Police Find

The dog census which has been taken by the Police Department has been completed and reported to the city commission. The result of the check indicates that there are a total of 419 dogs owned by residents of the city. Fifteen of these dogs are under six months of age, therefore do not require a license until such time as they become six months of age. This leaves a total of 404 dogs which are subject to license under the dog ordinance.

Up until Monday night the city clerk had issued 126 dog licenses. This leaves a total of 278 dogs which are still unlicensed in the city of Plymouth. The dog ordinance has been finally adopted and is now in effect. At the time the police department canvass was being made the dog ordinance had not been completed, therefore the residents were not notified that it would be immediately necessary to obtain the dog license. Now, however, the dog ordinance is in effect and owners of the 278 unlicensed dogs should immediately make application at the city clerk's office for the dog license.

There is no provision in the ordinance whereby the police department can pick-up or destroy an unlicensed dog, but the action is taken against the owner of the dog. The city does not want to proceed under the penalty provision of the ordinance in requiring owners to make application for licenses.

It is the opinion of city officials that this procedure will not be necessary because now that the dog ordinance is finally adopted and in effect, the owners of unlicensed dogs will respond promptly to this appeal to obtain their license immediately.

Within the next two to four weeks a survey will again be made to determine the number of dogs yet unlicensed and a report will be made to the city commission at which time the decision will be made as to the policy to follow in the matter of the dogs then remaining unlicensed.

It is hoped that the city will have the full cooperation of dog owners in the enforcement of this ordinance in amending the ordinance the city commission heard all complaints relative to objectionable provisions of the ordinance, and so far as could be determined from the suggestions and suggestions of citizens, the ordinance is in proper form so there are still no major objections to it.

Guild In Appeal For More Clothing

Join The Guild! Help The Guild! Say a good word for the Guild! It is worthwhile. It takes just the things that you can spare and passes them on to people who really need them.

The Guild Room at the Starkweather school is open every Tuesday from 1 to 4:30 and a phone call or card to Mrs. Beyer, Mrs. Burrows, or Mrs. Chapman will receive prompt attention. Warm clothing and bedding—clean and in fair condition, is badly needed.

The Central P.T.A. will hold its next regular meeting, Thursday evening, January 17, at 7:30 o'clock. The Dramatic club of the Plymouth high school will present three plays under the direction of Miss Whitford Ford.

Women Invited To Hear An Address On Social Legislation

A very interesting meeting of the League of Women Voters will be held Monday, Jan. 14 at 2 p.m. in the room in the City Hall.

The speaker for this meeting will be Fred R. Johnson of Detroit, who will talk on "Social Legislation in the present Legislature" which will cover "The Children's Code," Mother's Pension, etc.

Mr. Johnson is Director of the Children's Aid Society of Michigan and until May, 1934, was State Emergency Relief Administrator and at present is a member of the Wayne County Emergency Relief Commission.

He is chairman of a state committee of Social Workers who have been drafting the proposed legislation for the past four months.

With this background Mr. Johnson is one of the best informed persons in Michigan on this form of social work and the members of the League extend a public invitation to all who are interested in this worthwhile legislation.

Arrangements For President's Ball Outlined

Committees Start Work; Plan To Make It Big Success

Arrangements for the President's Ball to be held in Plymouth on Wednesday, January 30 were practically completed at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the Mayflower hotel with the election of Mrs. Cass S. Hough as permanent chairman, Berg D. Moore, as vice chairman and Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple as secretary-treasurer.

The following were appointed members of the executive committee to act in cooperation with the officers: Mrs. Ray Johns, Arno B. Thompson, Melvin Guthrie, Mrs. Marion Haskell, Mrs. S. V. Viro, Mrs. John Blakenstaff, Miss Robert Beyer, Miss Mary McKinnon, Mrs. George Wilcox, Edwin Schrader and Sterling Eaton.

Edward Scully was named chairman of the ticket committee, the other members of his committee to be announced later. Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Moore will have charge of hall arrangements. Miss Mary McKinnon was selected as chief executive of the committee on decorations and Don Patterson's orchestra has been secured for the occasion.

Members of the various committees will be announced at a later meeting. The various committee chairmen wished it stated clearly that every one is invited to attend the ball, whether they dance or not. They hope to make the event the largest, and one of the happiest social affairs of the winter in Plymouth.

Manager Harry Lush states that if patrons of the Pennington-Atcheynsen will send their names and addresses to the theatre or leave them at the box office he will be glad to see to it that they are mailed a program two weeks in this way they will be able to have at their convenience a list of the current shows coming to Plymouth.

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith has just received a supply of chauffeur license blanks at the city hall as has been unable to issue any for sometime as the state had not provided him with the forms, but those now wishing a chauffeur's license can secure them at the city hall.

Judge Rutherford will talk on a coast to coast hook-up Sunday afternoon, January 13, at 12:30 o'clock. Time in on Station WJR and hear him.

The Finance Union of Canton Center, Local No. 41, will have a meeting at West's Hall, January 14th at 8 o'clock p.m. The Cherry Hill Nursing class meets Wednesday, Jan. 16th at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Walter Wilkie. The Cherry Hill quilting club composed of Cherry Hill and Canton Center women under the auspices of Michigan State College will meet Tuesday, Jan. 17th at 1 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Wilkie.

HOW TO MAKE PLYMOUTH GROW

"If everybody in Plymouth would boost our city with all the advantages it has like the fellows do in the towns out in the west where I was last fall, why, we would have a city here of 25,000 people in less than three years. We have everything they have to offer, and in many cases much more. They know the value of boosting out in that country, I'm telling you."—Charles H. Bennett.

Lutherans Hold Annual Session; Petz President

Other Officers Elected—Condemn Outside Money Plans

The annual meeting of the Lutheran Church was held Wednesday evening under the guidance of Chairman Wm. Petz. The chairman gave a most impressive report concerning the past year, as also pertaining to the duties and responsibilities of the officers toward their church. This was followed by brief reports of the pastor, the recording secretary, the treasurer and financial secretary.

The treasurer's report showed the congregation to be in better standing than last year, receipts totaling $3362.76 and disbursements $3362.71 with accounts payable outstanding of only $99 in the aggregate, and not one cent of debt against the congregation. The efficient manner in which the officers of the congregation, and the great majority of the members co-operated during the past five years under the blessed protection and provision of our Lord is the apparent reason for this condition.

Six new members and their families were received into the congregation, bringing the total (Continued on page four)

Firemen To Have A New Life Net

At the meeting of the City Commission held Monday night the City Manager was authorized to purchase a nine foot folding life net for the Fire Department. This new piece of equipment was an essential part of any fire fighting apparatus even in smaller cities. If a fire should break out in one of the two or three story buildings and persons would be trapped above it might be very difficult to rescue them without the use of a life net.

As soon as the net is received by the City, it is planned to have a course of instruction for the Fire Department and for any other persons who might be interested in volunteering their services. The handling of a life net requires a slight amount of training in order that the best results may be obtained.

It has always been the policy of the City Commission to maintain a high standard of fire protection in the City, and has always purchased insofar as possible the latest and most modern equipment for the Department.

New Oldsmobile On Display Here

Plymouth automobile fans now have the opportunity of seeing the new beautiful Oldsmobile that has created much talk in automobile circles. Kenneth Rathburn, local Oldsmobile dealer has one of the new models on display in his show rooms in this city. The car on display here is one of the first to be shown in the state and it has already created wide comment on the part of those who have seen it. The new Olds straight eight has been reduced in price and is now definitely in the low price field.

Plymouth High To Debate For The First Place

Going To River Rouge Monday Evening For Deciding Contest

Plymouth high school's debating team will go to River Rouge Monday evening, January 14 where at 7:45 o'clock they will debate for the championship of the River Rouge high school and Plymouth high school have each defeated all the other schools in the league on both sides of the question, "Federal Equalization of School Opportunity." River Rouge and Plymouth high school have each defeated the other on the affirmative side of the question and have lost to the others on the negative side of the question.

Plymouth's group of debaters this year consists of Thomas Brock, Jeanette Brown, Harry Fisher, Catherine Schultz, Russell Kirk, Jewell Starkweather, Dorothy Hearn and Jack Sessions. Of this group, Katherine Schultz and Markman and Jack Sessions have been selected as the representative team from Plymouth high school to meet River Rouge.

The judge for the debate will be Pro. Weiss, Debate Coach at Albion College. There no doubt will be a large group of parents of the debate squad and friends of the debaters and school who will journey to River Rouge on Monday night hoping for victory.

Road Engineers Meet Here—Talk New Type Work

William Harvie Leads In Discussion Of Better Road Building

Wm. H. Harvie, Assistant District Engineer in charge of highway construction, called a meeting January 3 in Plymouth of all the road engineers and project engineers in this district for a discussion of department policies and correct interpretation of the new 1934 specifications for highway construction.

The district office located in Plymouth is in charge of construction and maintenance of Washtenaw, Monroe, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, Ingham, Jackson, Hillsdale, and Lenawee. This district is one of the most important in the state due to the higher type of construction required in the metropolitan area.

Mr. Harvie was in charge of the meeting and lead the discussion as to proper procedure in handling contracts in this district. The afternoon was used exclusively to discuss the new specifications.

The new 1934 specifications which were issued by the Department about September, 1934 have the formal approval of the Bureau of Public Roads. The aim of the state highway department in setting up the new specifications has been to embody the latest and best practices in highway building and engineering. They were developed after a considerable amount of research and experimentation by the federal government, state highway department, contractors, and producers.

The old specifications have not been revised since 1926 and were considered obsolete in the past it has been necessary to issue supplemental specifications for each contract.

A noon luncheon was served in the private dining room of the Hotel Mayflower with Edward Scully acting as toastmaster.

Landscape Artist Will Give Lecture

O. I. Gregg, landscape specialist from Michigan State College, will give his third lecture of the year's landscape series at the Dearborn Library, January 16th at Two o'clock.

These illustrated lectures are primarily for the members of the group taking landscape work this winter, but they are open to the public and anyone interested in home grounds is invited.

A GOOD PROGRAM

There are many commendable features in the general program that Attorney General Harry Toy has outlined for the elimination of crime in this state. One of his strongest points is the suggestion that everyone in Michigan be required to be finger-printed. Surely no one except the implicated or those who have a reason to believe that the crooked could or would object to a plan which would almost immediately drive from the state those that feared to have a record of their identification. There is nothing a crook hates more than he does finger-print records. For the law abiding citizens, such a record might prove an untold value in case of mistaken identity or for scores of other reasons. In fact the fingerprinting of all the people of the country would not be a bad idea. It could do no hurt to the law abiding citizen and it without question would "smoke out" a lot of bad actors.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT

When a young woman without the urge of necessity steps out and wins for herself a place in business or the professions, one cannot help but admire the spirit and the force of character that was necessary for the accomplishment. Attorney General Harry S. Toy has just rewarded a young woman of this kind with an important appointment on his staff. Lansing dispatches say that Miss Esther Louise Tuttle, a daughter of Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle, who has been a practicing attorney in Detroit for a number of years, will become an assistant attorney general. It is a good appointment, especially so when it rewards a young lady who has stepped out and won for herself a place in the affairs of a busy old world.

HONEST

There is one thing about the appointment of Joseph Armstrong of Detroit as the new parole commissioner that will please most folks. He is honest. This one fact out to stop rumors of purchased paroles or pardons. Not only is he honest, but he is heartless and he is just—the right type of an individual for the job to which he has been selected by Governor Francis Fitzgerald.

Rambing Around With Michigan Editors

BACKGROUND ALL WRONG!

A handsome portrait of Ex-Gov. Comstock now hangs in the austere corridors of the state capitol. The background of the picture shows the state flag and map— conspicuously absent are a huddled legion of paroled and race-horses, a ghostly-looking campaign expense account, a pile of dog-eared ballots, a bank with drawn shades— things that a realist like Diego Rivera might have included. Emerson Gildhart in The Utica Sentinel.

BANKS ARE SOME GOOD

A man who has been intimately connected with the bank situation in Milford through all its hectic history made the remark recently that eventually some one would come along with a new bank offer of enough money to make it a challenge to the community. We have been listening for something of the kind and here is the first we have heard. A prominent Milford resident, whose name we are not permitted to divulge at this time, tells us that he knows positively of a man who has the money and states that he will put $17,500 into a new bank here provided the people of the community will match it with an equal amount for the same purpose. Supposing such an offer was made would the community meet it?

The financial history of this community is proof that Milford is entitled to a bank of its own and that it would give adequate support to such an institution.

The loss of banking facilities here, has not only been an inconvenience to the community but a direct monetary loss to every business and professional man therein. We appreciate now as never before that a bank is an important spoke in the wheels that keeps business turning— Grant Rowe. The Milford Times

THICK GRAVY DAYS OVER

One key man that is apparently due for the skids very quickly if not sooner is William Lewis, secretary of the Liquor Commission. Since Picard left, Lewis has been the distating head of the Commission and being a dummy does not suit Judge McDonald.

The inside clinch on all liquor bonds is another monopoly that is threatened by the New Deal. Relatives of prominent officials have been able to clean up big dough and any applicant for a license that did not follow orders in placing his bond had little chance of getting a permit. It is claimed that one type of bond required of all licensed places costs retailers a quarter of a million dollars annually and is not even required under the law—Milton Carmichael in The Detroit Courier.

THE KING IS DEAD

As the old year slowly comes to a close there is increasing evidence that the long reign of King Depression is nearing its end. Even if complete abdication is not forced the "man of misery" in the long black coat of unemployment and new hires himself at the head of a limited monarchy during the coming twelve months. This will be good news to millions of American citizens who have been walking in the valley of hopelessness and despair for more than five years.

The automotive industry announces the building of 3,400,000 cars in 1935, and simultaneously with that the business news of the contemplated erection within six months of a 12 million dollar steel plant at Detroit to supply demands of motor manufacturers and allied industries. The big news is that it is double that of a year ago in spite of continuing high costs of building material and skilled labor. The impetus given this basic industry from Washington in building and furnishing new homes alone will prove a big supporting factor in advancing good times.

Retail buying has shown a remarkable increase over that of 1933 and we can see no real dark spots on the future. Much of the distrust existing between the administration and the business and industry is rapidly being cleared away. The big boys on both sides of the national highway who have been riding blindly through the chaotic night of economical displacement are now claiming to see in the dawn of a new day the necessity of a well-planned, well thought out course to pursue if old evils are to be discredited and modern plans of rejuvenation and readjustment are to be put into effect. On the

BLOODSUCKERS GONE

One pathetic incident happened New Year's eve in Lansing when Gov. Comstock was seen eating a sandwich and drinking his coffee in a restaurant, absolutely alone and forsaken by his former political friends. The same old story—when one is sitting on top of the world his friends (?) are many, but when he is down the only consideration given is a kick or a knock—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

CONSIDER THE COW

If your advertisement were in this space as many would read it as are reading this. But your advertisement isn't here and people don't know or care a rap whether you are selling real estate, gasoline, peanuts or popcorn.

Did you ever sit down in the pasture with a pail between your knees and wait for a cow to back up and be milked? Of course not. You have better sense.

Well, business is kinder like a cow. You've got to go out after it and round it up. The fellow with the milk pail betwixt his knees MAY get some milk, but the odds are all in the favor of the fellow who drives up to the cow and feeds her.

A merchant may make a living by cussin' "the government" and waiting for something to happen, but the merchant who makes MONEY is the fellow who goes after business through the columns of his local newspaper—Thomas Conlin in The Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

THERE'S A REASON

Is the federal competition in the power business because the power companies would not contribute to political funds? The Literary Digest says that one company received a request for a liberal donation and it was intimated that if the donation was received there would be no competition—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledger Independent.

THE GREAT DEMOCRATIC FIASCO

The state's greatest comedy of errors is over. The fifty-seventh legislature, controlled by Democrats who were unshoohed in their actions as a kindergarten, put a final, comic touch to its tenure New Year's eve. It voted, without having conducted a recount, to oust a Republican elected as secretary of state, and put in a Democrat.

There was not quorum of the senate present. There was not a quorum of the house. There was not a combined majority of the two houses. Yet, slash bang, the poorly constructed Democratic steam roller wended its way. It was a flivver venturing into paths that should be trod only by go-liaths.

It is the finish of a burlesque that started when the supreme court ruled a special session of the legislature would be necessary to settle election disputes. It continued through the phases. Governor Comstock called a special session. Republican members foolishly attended, and having arrived, even more foolishly proceeded to make the session a

Less Corn Needed To Feed Livestock

The normal likelihood of overproduction of corn after a year of drought and decreased feed supplies, will be increased next year because large reductions in livestock numbers have reduced requirements for corn in the U. S., according to the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

Corn requirements for 1935 will be materially below the level of those in the past several years as a result of an adjustment of more than 30 percent in hog numbers and a reduction of from 10 to 15 percent in cattle numbers since a year ago.

These changes in livestock demand would account for the equivalent of at least 15 million acres of corn, or from 350 to 400 million bushels. Past experience has shown that farmers, planning individually, are unable to make accurate allowance for reductions in requirements. What a control program, another burdensome surplus of corn would be expected next year.

The 1935 corn-hog program, endorsed by a majority of the producers who voted in the October referendum, offers farmers an opportunity for cooperative planning to hold their production in line with effective demand and for sharing the resulting benefits through the provision of a limited corn acreage reduction of 10 to 30 percent below the base acreage with benefit payment of 35 cents per bushel.

It is recognized that a moderate surplus of corn over requirements will be desirable in 1935 in order to rebuild reserves now being used on account of the drought shortage. The 1935 program is designed to provide the surplus in the form of a surplus plus, but because of the adjustments in livestock numbers, the necessary crop can be produced on an acreage smaller than the 1932-33 average acreage, which is the base acreage for both the 1934 and 1935 programs.

stage upon which to strut their self-professed parliamentary smartness. Finally the ludicrous climax. The Republicans in the closing session, stayed away. The Democrats, uncontrolled and knowing not the first thing about parliamentary procedure, voted Orville Atwood out, Guy M. Wilson in.

A hectic period followed when Atwood and his forces, possibly upset by the sudden turn of events surrounded themselves with state police and made drama out of a skit.

Such is life, in public circles. The whole thing was a sorry spectacle. Those involved may have any part of the fruits they want. No one else would take even a morsel. Edward Nowack in The Michigan State Digest.

The ice men are certainly having a harvest of the commodity this winter. The ice is a foot or more thick and of good quality.

The rooming house owned by A. F. Burbank at Ypsilanti was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. Eight students were rooming there, among them being Arthur Blunk of Plymouth. The latter sprained his ankle in jumping from a window of the burning building, having a narrow escape.

The street cars had a time making progress Wednesday morning on account of the ice on the rails. The weather on Tuesday evening was decidedly cold. At eleven it began to sleet and about three Wednesday morning it rained quite steady. The water froze almost as it fell and the walking on the sidewalks for pedestrians next morning was anything but sure. The weather hasn't thawed any since and people are taking the road.

The Council on last Monday evening resolved that no more porch lights be allowed unless by consent of the Committee on electric lights. It was originally intended that porch lights should be an aid in lighting streets where street lights failed to be of practical use or where it was inexpedient to place on arc light, but the privilege granted by the Council has been abused and many porch lights are in use that are of no value except to the owner of the house.

Ice And Fog Slow Motor Traffic

Not for years has this part of the state experienced such a long spell of hazardous motor traveling as has existed since the Christmas holidays. A change in weather conditions during the middle of the present week brought some relief on main highways but graveled roads remained as dangerous as at any time this winter.

A heavy coating of ice worn smooth by motor traffic and cleared of all sand and gravel by the rain that prevailed on early Tuesday made it exceedingly difficult to go places off the heavily traveled thoroughfares.

Not only did the ice interfere, but a fog that prevailed most of Sunday and all day Monday slowed traffic down to almost a standstill. Truck drivers have been busy pulling smaller cars from the sides of highways where they had slipped. Garage men continued to reap a good harvest in repairing fenders and other minor damages to machines.

Helping the President

My Dear President Roosevelt please give my regards to 5 cents open your 24th birthday mail box on Tuesday. Thank you very much. Little Theresa McGinty Little Theresa McGinty, aged 6, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who sent a bright new nickel special delivery to President Roosevelt, following his announcement that he would lend his 1935 birthday anniversary to a nation-wide party, proceeds of which will go toward aiding infantile paralysis victims all over the nation.

Col. Henry L. Devery, chairman of the 1935 Birthday Balls for the President has announced that funds raised this year at parties in more than 5,000 communities throughout the nation, will be divided following a suggestion made by the President.

Seventy per cent will be used for the rehabilitation of handicapped children within the community raising the funds or within the nearest geographical unit of which the community is a part. The other 30 per cent will be turned over to President Roosevelt to be used by the National Committee for Infantile Paralysis.

There was a fair attendance at church and Sunday school last Sunday in spite of the icy roads and the fact that nearly every family in the community has been attacked by the "grippe." However, there was no service in the evening for those reasons. Plans are being perfected for holding a contest in the Sunday school to build up the interest and attendance.

A Good Bargain for Grocer Jones!

SOME of the 15 out-of-town checks deposited by Grocer Jones yesterday, will travel a week before the money they represent will be back in our hands. These 15 checks may in that time entail a total of 180 clerical operations, with stationery, postage, etc., costing this and other banks 60 cents or more, handling expense alone.

Grocer Jones appreciates this fact, and he, therefore, maintains a balance in his account large enough to reimburse the bank for the cost of this service. It is a "good bargain" for Mr. Jones and for the bank—neither has lost, while both have gained through worthwhile banking service.

The Week at Lansing

(By Frank D. Brown, Special Correspondent).

Amid repercussions of the Wilson-Atwood fight for possession of the secretary of state's office and threats of criminal action against certain officials for their conduct of the Detroit recount, Michigan today has a new governor and a new legislature. On these two highly important branches of the state government is focused the attention of a vast army of taxpayers and interested citizens bent upon delivering from some of the ills that beset the state and a prompt, effective dispatch of the business as usual by their elective officials.

The capital was the scene of a gala event last week Tuesday when Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald and other members of the official family were ushered into office. The inaugural ceremonies were among the most brilliant of recent years and resulted in the influx into Lansing of a galaxy of political stellar lights unequalled since Gov. Green's regime.

Following on the heels of the inauguration by a single day came the convening of the 58th legislature and the governor's message to the lawmakers on Thursday. With the house of representatives divided almost equally between members of the two parties, observers see an interesting session in prospect during which most anything can happen. Partisan considerations are bound to a wide influence on much of the legislation to be enacted. On no small number of bills it is expected that votes will be cast one way or the other for no reason at all except that the lawmaker happens to be either a republican or a democrat.

This condition will be found existent for the most part in the house where 49 democrats and 47 republicans answer roll calls. At the present four seats are vacant and cannot be filled until the last of February when special elections will be held to replace those members who lost their lives in the Kerns hotel disaster. The senate has a safe republican majority and in that quarter party maneuvering will be less in evidence.

The first class of these strong partisan interests occurred shortly after the house had been called to order Wednesday afternoon and the republican block came within four votes of naming Representative George C. Watson of Capac as speaker. After hours of jockeying and many parliamentary entanglements, the democratic majority, holding steadfastly to party lines, overruled a 25-year-old precedent and succeeded in electing Representative George A. Schroeder of Detroit to the important post of presiding officer.

For many years it has been the procedure of the house to select its officers by a majority vote of the member-elect, making it necessary for a candidate to secure at least 51 votes. By abrogating this rule and declaring a majority of those present and voting sufficient to elect the demonstrators were able to stave off a deadlock and gain control of the legislative machinery on that wing of the capitol. In event this rule had not been overridden there existed the possibility that organization could not be effected until after the special elections more than a month away.

Discord in the Democrat ranks resulted in the election of Carl F. Delano, third term republican member from Kalamazoo county, as speaker pro tempore. Myles F. Gray's wide popularity among members of both factions brought him re-election to clerkship which carries with it the comfortable salary of $5,000 annually. Mr. Gray had served the preceding session despite the fact that he is listed as a republican.

Lawrence O'Neill, a democrat member of the last legislature, was chosen sergeant-at-arms and Leland Galt of Grand Rapids, postmaster.

While the house struggled with the organization, the senate on the opposite side of the building idled away the hours in recess, preferring to know what happened in the lower chamber before proceeding with its own organization. Senate republicans in caucus were able to reach a speedy agreement on their slate of officers and Thursday morning elected Fred I. Chase, Lansing, secretary; Senator Adolph H. Heidkamp (R) of Lake Linden, president pro-tem; and Senator Gordon F. VanEenemaam (R) of Muskegon, administration floor leader.

Senator Van Eenaam has long been a close friend and adviser of the new governor, while the selection of Chase as secretary brings back to the senate's service, after two years of retirement, a man who formerly was assistant parliamentarian of the national house of representatives.

Before either house is able to settle down to the serious work of the session it will be necessary to dispose of several election contests. Included among these contests may be the question of permitting a seat to at least one member of the legislature who figured prominently in the recent recount fiasco and is charged with having allowed certain illegal practices to prevail in the handling of ballots.

In the upper chamber former Senator J. Neal Lamoreaux of Comstock Park (D), is challenging the seating of Harold Sauson (R) of Kent City and Charles C. Carlisle (R) of Saginaw is questioning the election of Dale Doyle (D), also of Saginaw.

In the house, notice of three contests has been filed. Former Rep. Fred E. Watkins of Pontiac (D), has declared exceptions to the election of Joseph A. Long (R), of Millford; former Rep. Wm. Birk (R), of Baraga is challenging James K. Jamison (D) of Ontonagon; and Charles Hallman (R), is contesting the seat of Philip J. Rahoi (D). Both men are from Iron Mountain.

Before a house virtually jammed with state officers, members of the supreme court and spectators, and to the hearty cheers of party followers, Gov. Fitzgerald and the outgoing executive, William A. Comstock appeared Thursday afternoon: the latter to present his ex-aural address and the governor to deliver his message to the joint convention of the two houses.

In his "swan song," as the retiring governor referred to it, he pointed out that a "net betterment" had been made in the state's fiscal condition of $11,258,283 during his two-year term. As a major part of this progress, Gov. Comstock declared that the general fund deficit had been reduced from nine million dollars in round figures to slightly more than five millions.

Although he had previously displayed reluctance at offering suggestions to his successor regarding the future course of the state government, Gov. Comstock did during his final appearance as a state official what he believes to be the paramount issues facing the new administration. Among the changes he recommended was the revision of the tax laws to embrace personal property, an approach to a long-time solution to the welfare relief problem, permanent school legislation, a careful study of the emergency bank mortgage moratorium and tax delinquent laws, and a re-statement of his well known attitude toward the state constitution wherein he reasserts his demand for revision to meet present day circumstances.

Gov. Fitzgerald's message to the legislature, consisting of nearly 10,000 words and requiring more than one hour to read, was the most comprehensive within the memory of this correspondent and probably one of the most lengthy on record. Embracing every important phase of state affairs, the governor by his message has set for himself an ambitious program that in its entirety cannot hope to be fulfilled by this administration nor by succeeding administrations of the next decade.

Some of the changes in state government recommended by Gov. Fitzgerald in the interest of economy are too far-reaching and too radical in their departure from the old order of things to be accepted over night, so to speak, by a public and a legislature made up of conflicting and divergent ideas. While many of his proposals, though altered in method of execution, will undoubtedly be enacted into law, it is safe to wager a prediction that much of his program will have to await such time as public opinion can keep pace or such time as the public will create an absolute emergency demanding in no uncertain tones that like corrective measures be adopted.

The salient points and recommendations of the governor's initial message are as follows:

Reduction in cost of government through curtailment of governmental activities without developing new sources of revenue.

Enactment of a single budget bill.

Abolition of the state administrative board and continuation of an emergency board.

Exemption of foodstuffs from the state sales tax.

Creation of county and city delinquent tax adjusters to review the state holding power of bonds.

Reduction in tax on non-commercial motor vehicles.

Creation of a three-man commission consolidating duties of state tax commission, state board of tax administration, and gasoline and weight tax bureaus.

Equalization of school revenues to make cost of education of a child the same in all parts of the state.

Abolition of many small school districts.

Consolidation of the state public school at Coldwater with state psychopathic hospital at Ann Arbor.

Creation of a three-man pardon and parole commission with staggered terms of six years to handle all prison problems.

Consolidation of various state commissions and boards handling securities and utility matters.

Consolidation of state welfare department and state emergency relief commission.

Creation of a seven-man state highway commission with staggered seven-year terms.

Unemployment insurance legislation.

Repeal of the head tax law for old-age pensions.

Prohibit the sale of liquor to persons under 21 years of age.

Reduction in number of state liquor stores, and reduction in number of beer gardens.

Initiation of constitutional amendment to reduce number of elective state officers to governor.

COMING TO THE PENNIMAN-ALLEN

"BEYOND THE LAW"

Should the law condemn a man to death on the basis only of circumstantial evidence? Can a girl's faith in her convict-father's innocence save him from hanging?

Those are the dramatic situations around which is woven the story of "Beyond the Law," Col. Tim McCoy thriller showing Friday and Saturday, January 11 and 12 at the Penniman Allen Theatre.

It was McCoy's testimony which had convicted John Glenn. And it was his daughter, Helen, played by Shirley Grey, who convinced McCoy his evidence had been wrong. Stirred by his interest in this blonde beauty, McCoy sets to work to battle intrigue, to run down tenuous clues, and to dare the death threats of the railroad robbers in trying to save from the gallows the father of the girl whom he found he loved.

No man could be found in a more difficult situation than the one played by this popular hero in "Beyond the Law." Audiences will be spellbound by this heart-gripping situation in watching McCoy move at high speed through unsuspected conspiracies to save John Glenn before the day of his scheduled hanging arrives. Direction is by D. Ross Lerman.

"MODERN HERO"

Richard Barthelme spent two weeks taking special riding lessons for his latest Warner Bros. picture, "A Modern Hero," which comes to the Penniman-Allen Theatre on Friday and Saturday, January 11 and 12.

He is a circus rider in the early sequences of the picture and among other stunts he has to do, is ride Roman style — that is, lieutenant governor and auditor general.

Clarification of the state constitution giving the state board of canvassers authority to conduct recounts.

Reduction of number of members of legislature to 16 senators and 50 representatives.

Prohibition of marketing of prison-made goods in competition with free labor.

Creation of an advisory board to seek unification of the bar.

Repeal of the malt tax law.

Repeal of the law creating the stream control commission.

Consolidation of state laboratories with the University of Michigan laboratories.

Consolidation of state library and historical society with activities of the university.

Repeal of the act creating the legislative council.

"LET'S TRY AGAIN"

In addition to having skilled direction by Worthington Miner, "Let's Try Again" starring Diana Wynyard and Clive Brook, reflects a wealth of keen understanding, for Miner also wrote the scenario.

Although it is this director's first work for the screen, he brings to it all the skill of one of the foremost directors of the New York stage, "Five Star Final" and "Reunion in Vienna" are among his recent Broadway productions.

Miner is a master of stagecraft and he has adapted this to the technic of pictures. His ability to bring out the genius of players is well known.

"Let's Try Again" is a daring handling of a rift between husband and wife, and, it is said, offers a workable solution. It will come to the Penniman Allen Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, January 16 and 17.

"KID MILLIONS"

"Kid Millions," Eddie Cantor's fifth annual screen musical comedy for Samuel Goldwyn, which comes to the Penniman-Allen Theatre on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, Jan. 13, 14, and 15 is the season's most ambitious venture in the way of song-and-girl entertainment.

For the sixty girls who win places in the battalion of decorative femininity, world fame as a Goldwyn girl is just around the corner.

Each girl required her own wardrobe mistress, her own hair-dresser, her own makeup man. The dancing instruction staff had twelve men. Eighty electricians were required to light one set of the production and hundreds of workers were required for the months of preparatory work on sets and costumes.

"HEAT LIGHTNING"

The Warner Bros. movie company, marooned on the Mojave Desert, where they spent two weeks making scenes for "Heat Lightning," which comes to the Penniman-Allen Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, January 16 and 17 kept in touch with the studios by an airplane which made two trips to and from the camp daily.

The location in the desert was more than 100 miles from the studio and too far for the players to make the trip each day. So they settled down on a dude ranch nearby while the plans brought in perishable foods, newspapers and other necessities.

drive a team of horses about the ring at break-neck speed, with a foot on the back of each mount.

C. W. Babst, recent arrival from Germany where he was one of the "head men" for UFA directed the picture.

About the only place now to find "home cooking" is at the restaurant.

Better vanity in your child than the world a hero.

Selfish marriages are not made in heaven, and there are few other sorts.

Many a little cottage has given the world a hero.

Wives listen best to their husbands when they talk in their sleep.

RESOLVED

"I will try an electric range in my own kitchen on this TRIAL PLAN!"

There is only one way to discover the superiority of electric cooking and that is actually to TRY an electric range for yourself. There is no better time to start using a range than NOW—at the beginning of the year. Why put off any longer enjoying electric cooking, when you can install a range in your own kitchen on this Trial Plan and use it for six months without obligation? Cook all your favorite recipes on it... test it in every way... satisfy yourself concerning any questions you may have about it... then decide whether or not you want to keep it.

Here are the details of the Trial Plan: We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During this trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Epidemic Of Flu Prevails Here

No union hours or the NRA or any of the new fangled things that have come about in recent years for Plymouth doctors these days!

Early and late, late and early, you can see one of these messengers of good health and cheer hurrying from home to home in Plymouth endeavoring to check one of the most widespread flu epidemics this city has ever suffered.

Asked to estimate the number of flu cases in Plymouth at the present time, one of the busiest of local doctors declared it would be impossible to say, but that it was far greater than any of the local physicians wished it was.

While most of the cases have been of a mild nature, some have taken a severe turn. Coupled with the flu epidemic, there is also raging here numerous cases of mumps among school children. There are no serious cases however.

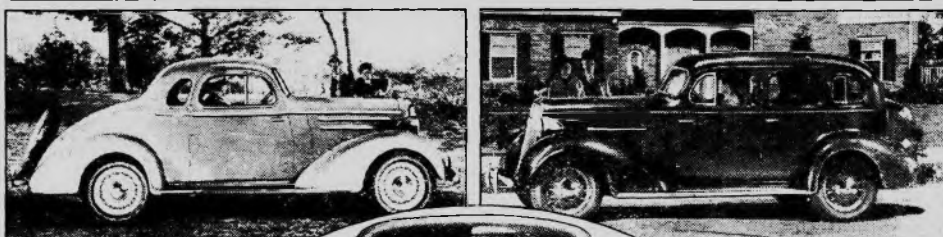

With so much illness, school attendance has not been up to standard since the vacation period ended, although it has not suffered as much as one might believe in view of so much sickness.

Plymouth doctors urge everyone to take all necessary precautions in protecting themselves, especially if they are just recovering from illness.

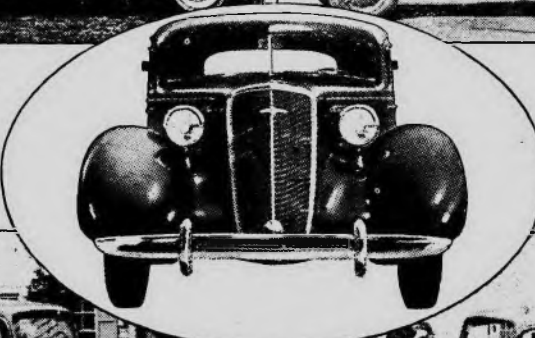

Mr. and Mrs. George Burgett of Fort Huron spent last week with their children. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burgett, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burgett and Mr. and Mrs. William Michael.

Miss Hanna Strasen has recovered sufficiently from her recent illness to resume her duties as organist of the Presbyterian church and also teacher of music to several pupils.

Chevrolet Announces Two New Lines for 1935

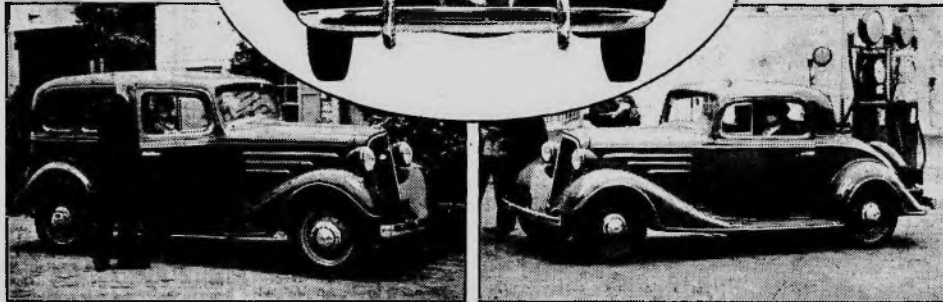

The Coupe model typifies the beauty and style of Chevrolet's New Master De Luxe series for 1935. Improved performance and exceptional economy also characterize these cars.

Right: Front view of New Master De Luxe Coupe, showing roominess and graceful lines. Below: The Sedan model in the New Standard series, which, powered by the time-proven Master engine, combines brilliant performance with its smartness and style.

Fleet, graceful lines also mark the New Master De Luxe Sport Sedan. Ample luggage space is provided by the built-in trunk, and a luggage compartment behind the rear seat cushion.

Another attractive model in the New Standard series is the Coupe pictured here. Numerous body and chassis refinements, in conjunction with the Master engine, unite to make these cars outstanding values in the lowest-priced field.

Typical of Chevrolet's two new lines of cars are the models illustrated here. The Master De Luxe series reveals strong emphasis on beauty and style. Mechanically, the Master De Luxe series and the New Standard series have much in common, including the Master engine, in which numerous refinements have been made to enhance performance, durability and economy. As these pictures reveal, the New Master De Luxe departs distinctly from previous Chevrolet in the striking advance which has been made in body design and trim.

Many Famous In "Broadway Bill"

Probably the most distinguished group of "Extras" ever to appear before a motion picture camera are seen in the club-house scenes of the Frank Capra, Columbia film, "Broadway Bill," coming to the Penniman-Allen theatre for three nights, Jan. 21 and 22.

The picture is Frank Capra's first directorial effort since "It Happened One Night." "Broadway Bill" was written by Robert Riskin from a story by Mark Hellinger. Riskin also wrote "Lady Watt Miller, one hundred and fifty of the most important names in California's blue book appeared in the picture and donated the money to the San Francisco Children's Hospital and Community Chest.

The cast of "Broadway Bill" includes, besides Miss Lov and Mr. Baxter, Walter Connolly, Helen Vinson, Lynne Overman, Clarence Muse, Raymond Walburn, Douglas Dumbrille, Charles Levison, Ward Bond, Frankie Darro, and others.

Realizing the unfair advantage and moral suasion which the churches thus exert over the business men and citizens of a community in soliciting funds through advertising or other schemes of profit from them for the support of the church, and finally Exploring the fact that this departure of the churches from the God-given way of supporting His Kingdom by voluntary contributions and sacrifices on the part of the members, has already resulted in the exploitation of the business men of this and other communities in the fraudulent solicitation and collection of funds.

BE IT BY US, the members of St. Peter's Ev. Lutheran Congregation of Plymouth, Mich., duly assembled in regular meeting this night, the 9th of January, 1935, HEREBY RESOLVED: That we begin to counteract this commercialization of our church in every way possible. That we desist from soliciting funds through advertising or other profit-making schemes. That we declare all such soliciting, purportedly in the name of our church, as unauthorized by us and to be ignored and reported, and, finally,

That a copy of these resolutions be sent by our secretary to the Secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, and that a copy of the same be spread on the pages of the Plymouth Mail. In the name and at the behest of St. Peter's Ev. Lutheran Congregation, William B. Petz, Pres. Walter Schultz, Sec.

Members Of Woman's Club Are Guests Of Club At Northville

The members of the Woman's club of Plymouth were delightfully entertained on Friday, Jan. 4, by the Northville Woman's club at Northville.

The meeting was held in the spacious and lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Yerkes on East Eight Mile Road and a large delegation, together with a number from the Arche club of Wayne, enjoyed the afternoon.

Mrs. J. N. McLaughlin, president of the Northville club welcomed the guests and there was a short program of vocal and instrumental music and a number of impersonalities before the serving of a dainty tea.

The tea table was beautifully laid and Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. Bruno Freydl poured.

A short business meeting was held at the Mayflower hotel, presiding the trip to Northville, at which Mrs. Evered Jolliffe was re-instated to active membership in the club and the names of several prospective members were presented.

The next meeting, Travel Day, will be held on January 18th, when Hackley Butler, giving "Snap Shots from Five Continents," will be the speaker. The rest of the program will be announced later.

Greek Slays A Greek In Wayne

Wounded Man's Wife Falls Dead From Shock

As the culmination to many months of altercation, Peter Pappas was shot in the restaurant at 35010 Michigan Avenue in the Village of Wayne about 11 o'clock Thursday morning by his brother, Harry. He died Sunday in Eloise hospital from his wounds.

The two brothers were joint owners of the Wayne Restaurant, and have harbored hard feelings toward each other for some time.

It was said that the quarrel started Thursday morning when Peter accused Harry of taking money from the safe. When Harry's wife, Anna, interceded for her husband, Peter swore at her and struck her. In protection of his wife, Harry picked up the gun, an old .38 calibre special from near the cash register and fired five shots, hitting Peter in the left side of the abdomen and the left arm.

Immediately after the shooting Harry was seen leaving the restaurant by the front door with the gun in his hand. He entered his car and drove to the police station where he gave himself up to Lawrence C. Knox, chief of police here, and was later taken to Detroit where he was charged with attempted murder.

People in the building hearing shots and screaming, called police and Dr. J. E. Caraway to the scene. About that time Anna,

Harry's wife, ran into Gerbstadt's Bakery screaming "Come quick! Harry has shot Pete and mama's on the floor."

When the doctor arrived at the scene, Peter had climbed to the table in the kitchen and bleeding badly. Mrs. Elizabeth Pappas, Peter's wife, was found lying near the front door unconscious, where she had fallen in a faint during the commotion. She was immediately removed to her home where she died two hours later.

Too much contentment is as bad as too little.

Sunday Fire Call Breaks Record

The fire alarm which sounded Sunday afternoon about 2:00 p.m. is the first one the Plymouth fire department has had since October 23, 1934. This is an all time record for recent years as far as can be determined by any members of the fire department. There were absolutely no calls during the months of November and December. This is an unusual record considering the cold weather which was experienced during the early part of the winter. Usually the greatest number of fires occur during the time of heavy firing during cold weather.

The fire Sunday afternoon was in the house at the corner of North Main and Union street. The fire started in the trimmings of a Christmas tree in the basement and was soon extinguished after the arrival of the firemen. The house is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hoover.

Another fire occurred Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. The call was received from the Plymouth Felt Products Company, but the fire was extinguished before the firemen arrived. The fire department was called out because of the nature of the material handled by the Felt Products Company and it was felt that no chances should be taken on failure to immediately extinguish the fire without the assistance of the fire department.

Lady Maccabees To Install New Officers Next Wednesday Eve

Nearly an entire new staff of officers in the Lady Maccabees will pledge themselves to the charges of their offices as given to them by Ass't Great Com. Dora J. Nicholson of Detroit at the Lodge Hall next Wednesday evening, January 16th at 8 p.m.

Following the installation service the entertainment committee will present a program which promises to be very humorous.

Each member has been given the privilege to invite two guests to this special meeting. Mrs. Clyde Smith, Press Cor., LOYAL.

The many friends of John Proctor will be glad to learn that he is slowly recovering from his serious illness and last week left the Deaconess hospital, Detroit, and is now at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. R. Sayre, 8715 Colfax avenue, where he will be glad to see his friends or hear from them. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Glen Davis and daughter Barbara and Mr. and Mrs. George Loomis and Chas. Rathburn, Jr., called on him, and on Wednesday his sister, Mrs. Don Kehrl and Mrs. Bert Kehrl spent the day with him.

Jack Miller Is New Commander

Ex-Service Men To Install Officers Monday Eve, January 14

Monday evening, January 14th, the first regular meeting of the Ex-Service Men's club for the year of 1935 will be held at the Jewell and Blach hall in Plymouth.

Following 6:30 p.m. dinner to be served jointly to the club members and the members of the Club Ladies' Auxiliary and guests, the club meeting will take place at 8 p.m. A group of candidates for membership will greet the new officers of the club elected in December.

Retiring Commander Harry Mumby will introduce the new Commander Jack Miller. Vice Commander Chris Larsen, Secretary Arno B. Thompson, Treasurer Howard Eckles and Officer of the Day Harry Brown to the assembly.

The club finished 1934 in a very satisfactory condition financially and materially improved their position as a leading factor in the civic and social life of the community. The intention of the new officers is to carry on the work of the club along the same lines as in previous years, to take the same active and positive position in the welfare of the community and to assure to its members and friends, the same clean orderly social functions expected of an organization made up of citizens and neighbors.

The retiring officers of the club wish to express their appreciation for the assistance and co-operation accorded themselves and the club by their many friends in the community who assisted at various functions, contributed to the Poppy sales, Cheerbringers Paper Sales and other charitable events and bespeak from their friends for the incoming officers and the club the same neighborliness and friendship in 1935.

No Fooling With Fakes Over In Dearborn

When Clerk Myron A. Stevens and Chief Carl A. Brooks stated last week that they would prosecute violators of the registration law, they meant exactly that.

Saturday Christ Nitsakes, 39, of 66 West Columbia Avenue, Detroit, as his address when he registered with hopes of getting employment in Dearborn. But he didn't get far after registering and was promptly haled before Judge Leo R. Schafer on Saturday and fined $50 for violation of the election law. Friends paid the fine.

"I hope this will serve to warn others who come to Dearborn and register as a legal voter with hopes of getting employment here," said Chief Carl A. Brooks, "Director of Welfare Wm. Dumire has all he can do to take care of the local unemployed without being bothered by floaters," he said. Clerk Stevens has directed his employees to question all those registering here closely and to report any suspicious actions at once. This office is giving the police department fullest co-operation in the endeavor to prevent illegal registrations." Clerk Stevens said.

Reports show that several hundred have registered here in the past few weeks and of this number nearly 50 per cent have given addresses that are vacant lots or have never lived in the home they have indicated as their place of abode.

Director Dumire stated that the late city directory is about as accurate a list of bona fide residents as can be obtained and that he would be governed by this in recommending men for employment.—Dearborn Press.

first charter as provided under the state laws, he helped draft its provisions.

Having been a member of the old fire brigade, he knew how serious was the water situation in Plymouth and as a village official he had much to do with the building of the present water system that Plymouth enjoys, a water system not excelled by any other in Michigan.

In later years when Plymouth wanted to take advantage of some of the rights that come with being a city, Mr. Burrows was honored by being made a member of the charter commission which helped frame the basic law for the present city government.

Always a staunch Democrat even back in the days following the Civil war, it was but natural that upon the election of Grover Cleveland to the presidency in 1885 that Mr. Burrows should have been selected for the post-mastership of Plymouth.

Following the conclusion of his term as postmaster of Plymouth, Mr. Burrows went to work for the Daisy Manufacturing company, but he was not content to develop into one of Plymouth's important industries. By diligent work and strict attention to business he soon became one of the plant superintendents and until he was elected to the end of his term he remained one of its chief plant executives. Upon his retirement he was specially honored by the company, but his retirement did not mean the end of his services, as he was frequently called back to aid in the supervision of rush work.

Not only did Mr. Burrows take an active interest in city governmental affairs, but he was active in fraternal organizations as well. He was a charter as well as a life member of the Eastern Star lodge. He was a Mason and he thoroughly enjoyed his Kiwanis club membership. He was one of the delegates to the national Kiwanis convention held in Seattle a number of years ago. Rarely did he ever miss a meeting of the club.

He was married in Plymouth, October 27, to Elizabeth M. Park, who died a number of years ago. A son Frank J. Burrows, of Plymouth, and a sister Mrs. Alma Pinckney of Mt. Pleasant survive.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Schrader Bros. Funeral home, the Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Burial took place in the family lot in Riverside.

Myles Gray Wins Old Post Again

Plymouth friends of Myles F. Gray, one time publisher of The Plymouth Mail, will be interested in knowing that he has been re-elected clerk of the house of representatives in Lansing in spite of the fact that there were two or three outstanding Democratic contestants for the job. Mr. Gray not only had all of the votes of the Republicans, but he gathered in several Democratic votes, making his majority a safe one. Mr. Gray has been clerk of the house for many years and in Lansing he is regarded as one of the best parliamentarians in Michigan. His son who had charge of the organization of the Fitzgerald campaign is now looking after much of the patronage for the new governor.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Walter Nichol, Pastor.
10 a. m. Worship, 11:30 a.m. Sunday school, 6:30 p.m. Young People.

The Young People are planning an interesting meeting for Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m. A social hour with some refreshments will add to the enjoyment of those who attend.

The Presbyterian church in the U.S.A. carries on a great hospital work in many parts of the world. Much of the supplies necessary in this work is provided by the women of the church. A quota of these supplies has been sent to the Woman's Auxiliary of the Plymouth church. The Ready Service Class is directing the work on the quota. They meet in the church dining room on Tuesday of next week, Jan. 15th, when it is hoped to complete the quota. All women of the congregation who care to help in this fine work are asked to attend. Work will begin at 11 a.m. Bring something for a potluck lunch and come at that hour if possible. Those who cannot come before lunch are asked to come for the afternoon.

Miss Bertha Warner has been acting as a committee to purchase supplies for the making of bandages and dressings. All is now in readiness and the quota is larger than last year, so all possible help will be appreciated. "Secularism," will be the subject of the sermon Sunday morning.

Cottage prayer meeting in the home of the pastor Friday. Old fashioned Bible reading before going to prayer, come and pray with us. We wish to announce that a special issue of the Berea Beacon will be distributed to the homes in Plymouth showing the progress of the last few years of the chapel. It will be known as the Plymouth Number.

Do you want to be happy? Listen to these words, My experience has been that the more I have ever known, the people who seemed to get the most out of life, have been the most religious people. The happiest people in the world are those who have given up all of the lives, everything they have to the Lord Jesus Christ, and who are letting Him direct their lives. Psalm 144:15 says, Happy is that people whose God is the Lord.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

Cor. Main and Dodge Sts.
Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of twenty years.
Wednesday evening testimony service, 7:30.

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 13.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt. 26: 20, 28): "Now when the even was come he sat down with the twelve. And as they were eating Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and broke it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 32, 33): "Jesus praying he withdrew from their material senses to refresh his heart with brighter, with spiritual views. His followers, sorrowful and silent, anticipating the hour of their Master's betrayal, looked up at the heavenly man, which of old had fed in the wilderness the persecuted followers of Truth. Their bread indeed came down from heaven."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Loya Sutherland, Minister
The pastor will bring an expository message at ten o'clock on the eleventh chapter of Matthew, "A Man in the Soul of Our Lord." In this chapter are recorded some of the events in Christ's life, and of real interest is the influence of such events upon the soul of Jesus. We are permitted to see His soul assailed by certain events and they are events that assailed all deep and tender souls. Should our Lord's faith fail, as some of the great Prophets had failed, and could only announce the ruin of an unheeding age? But just here, just at the crises, when the world seems to be having its way, Jesus pauses. Something happens in the depths of His soul which makes Him more than a prophet. He reveals Himself as the coming Son of God, the Saviour of the world, and in this spirit He stretches Himself upon a cross. You will get help for your need from this message.

11:15 Bible School.
8:00 Meeting of the Pioneers.
7:00 Much to our profit and delight we are to have again a group of College young people from the State Normal at Ypsilanti. These young people came with us last year and return to us again to bring the best of music and a gospel message.

Next week at the Mid-Week service we shall begin a short series of studies on Our Bible, "How We Got It." These talks will be given as well in part at the Pioneer meetings. Reasons why we believe the Bible to be the Word of God. These studies are being given on request of many of our people who really wish to know about God's Book Wednesday evening at seven-thirty.

THE SALVATION ARMY

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

"Only Young Once!" is the title of the message our pastor, Richard W. Neale, will deliver this Sunday evening at 7:30. Startling facts will be revealed. The price of "civilized sins" will be shown. Facing the facts in the light of the Bible will offer a solution to modern youth's problems. Don't miss this real life story packed with thrills and pathos. Bring your Bible and your friends to this service. There will be music you'll remember.

At 10 a.m. Sunday the sermon topic is, "Sins of 10,000 Eyes. How are the windows of your soul clean or soiled? When it comes to the question of salvation are you looking in, or out, or up? It pays to look to Christ!"

Last Wednesday's prayer and praise service marked our second anniversary as a church. We substituted intercession for celebration in a good old fashioned period of Christian prayer and fellowship. A new feature on Wednesday evenings is the Christian Worker's Council. Come and visit it next week. You will feel our welcome!

Sunday school meets at 11:15. The Women's Prayer circle meets at the church on Thursdays at 2:30.

The young people meet on Friday evenings for Bible study under the leadership of Mrs. Ella Kalnz.

We aim to be a church with an open door of faith and fellowship. If you are a stranger, or lonely, let this be your "Sabbath home." A growing Bible church, where Christ is preached. To magnify His Person, and work is the ultimate goal of every message.

Plymouth Loses To Ypsilanti

An exceedingly fast game between two of the fastest basketball teams in the Twin Valley Association last Friday was climaxed in the last quarter by desperate attempts on the part of the Rocks to overcome a small lead which Ypsi had held all during the game. However the small four point lead proved to be a safe margin and Ypsi carried off the evening honors by winning both games. High point honors went to Trimble.

Kinsey opened the scoring by sinking a field goal. Two fouls on Kinsey followed by two free shots by Duffy plus another by Fosdick netted Ypsi three points. Egloff sank one of his two free shots. Time out. Plymouth Trimble's shot fell one side but Wagenschutz pushed it back for a field goal. Duffy and Fosdick each sunk field goals. Plymouth took time out. Duffy sunk another field goal and a free shot. Trimble made a field goal. J. Williams for Kinsey.

Wales sunk a free shot. J. Williams and Chubb each made field goals. H. Williams made a wonderful shot from the middle of the floor and followed it with another. Fosdick sunk a foul shot and Chubb a field goal. Trimble made a free shot and Wales, Chubb and Duffy each made field goals.

Trimble and Wales made field goals. Kinsey was substituted for J. Williams but after his fourth foul he was substituted for J. Williams. Elliott and H. Williams each made fouls. Fosdick was taken from the game because of fouls and replaced by Jones.

Jones made two points and Elliott the Wagenschutz made a field goal and Goodsmann made two gift shots to end the game. Ypsilanti 28, Plymouth 23.

WAYNE WINS IN FREE-VACATION GAME

In a free vacation basketball chaser Plymouth was defeated by their rival, Wayne by the score of 27-17. Opening the game the Wayne substitutes were put in as starters after which the regular took over the game and continued to the remainder. Plymouth's high point man was Elliott.

A summary of scoring and box scores follow:
Cavanaugh, Williams and Gates each sunk their foul shots after which Elliott quickly shot two field goals. Priescorn for Cavanaugh, Holmes for Kidwell, Butler for Temple, Lucas for Heubler and Harrison for Patterson. A complete new team for Wayne.

Wagenschutz breaking away sunk a field goal off the back-board. Harrison and Holmes also made field goals. Kinsey for Gates, Butler and Harrison each made two points. Kinsey successfully shot his foul shot. Holmes, shooting from the foul line, made a field goal.

Harrison made a field goal after which Wagenschutz completed two attempts which netted his team four points. Gates replaced Trimble. Holmes made two points from the floor, and Butler made a free shot and a field goal. Trimble for Gates.

After Holmes made two points by sinking a field goal, Williams was replaced by Gordon. Butler sunk a gift shot. Holmes made a field goal and Elliott again sunk two in succession. Soth for Wagenschutz. Holmes made two points on field goals and Butler four.

Horton started the scoring by sinking a field goal but Egloff quickly tied the score. Moe sunk a foul shot as did Bird. Egge made two points.

Double Quartet Busy During Week

The high school girls' double quartet has been asked to sing at several places the past week. Last Wednesday, January 2, they entertained the women of the Methodist church by singing "Song is Sweet," by Sans-Souci, and "Carmena," by Wilson. On January 9, the girls selected "Little Chinese Mandarin," by Phillips to sing at the meeting of the Mission Club at the Presbyterian church. Next Monday evening the quartet is planning to sing two numbers at the Hough School P.T.A.

The instrumental quartet, consisting of James Livingston, clarinet; Roland Rhead and Robert Van Meter, violin; and Norma Jean Roe, piano, is to play at the Masonic Temple next Tuesday evening, the fifteenth.

Nosing Around

Vacation is over and everyone seems rather tired and worn out but at the same time happy. There is no doubt that Santa Claus visited everyone because if you will just look around you will notice all of the nice (two sizes too large) sweaters taking the owner with them. Also has anyone noticed how small some of the boys necks look? No, don't be alarmed they aren't losing weight, it's just those Christmas shirts.

Even though we have started a new year there are still some people with old ideas. Among these is our famous (star) Gates, who says he still sticks with his Ford even though he's been struck with it for some time and has to crank it. Well it just goes to show it takes all kinds of people to make the world go around or something.

If anyone noticed how mean Lib Hegge looks lately. It seems she has been practicing dirty looks in the mirror but don't tell anyone I told you. Bill Highfield is not only a great manager but he is also a great mathematician, yes even greater than Einstein. He has invented a new formula. It goes something like this. In order to get so many boxes in a certain space the space must be 175 square feet long. Do you get it? I didn't think you would.

Senior G. R.'s Entertain Alumnae

The Senior Girl Reserves entertained the Girl Reserves of the class of '34 at a party in the high school auditorium, Thursday evening, January 3. It was possible to have a larger number of the alumnae present than at any other time during the school year as many were home from college for the Christmas holidays. About thirty girls attended the party. The girls played games and danced in the gym, and a lunch consisting of sandwiches, cake, and punch was served in the luncheon room. The party was concluded by the singing of favorite Girl Reserve songs. Everyone agreed that the party was a splendid success due to the social chairman, Ruth Schmidt, and her committee consisting of Miriam Brown and Jean Jelliffe.

Tripping Among The Daffodils

Well, my dear readers, it has been quite a long time since we have conversed together. The truth of the story is that I have been busy thawing out my hands and ears. I suppose every one is busy trying to keep those New Year's resolutions and may I add that it is a complicated task. Oh I forgot to mention Bove's nose. His nose is so high since he received the leading part in the Senior play that one would think he was looking for aeroplanes. Bill Swadling was seen passing notes again in halls; this really must come to an end. I suppose it will come to the same end as all other good romances.

Notice: Richard Miller wrote a song. It is something about his suppressed desire and he thought of it in chemistry class. I wonder what his suppressed desire is. John Nash's test excuse for staying after school is that he must go home to mow the lawn. Gee I just can't over it.

Art Class Does Life Sketching

The senior high art class is studying the proportions of the figure by having a living model pose for them. They are not sketching in the details of the face and figure, but are first putting their drawing into black form.

Boys Hear President's Congressional Address

A joint meeting of Hi-Y, Torch Club, and Junior Hi-Y heard by radio the recent Congressional Address of President Roosevelt. A radio was installed in Mr. Evans room and for the five minutes the boys heard the President give advice to the Senators and Representatives of our nation.

Christmas plays were given by members of the club and imitations of "Scrooge" were given by members of the Junior Drama Club. These were very good and showed practice on the part of the younger members.

Plays will be given for the Eastern Star and the Central P. T. A. in the coming week.

Rocks Play River Rouge

A basketball game between Plymouth and River Rouge will be played on January 11 the first game starting at 7:00 o'clock and the second at 8:00 o'clock. River Rouge has lost two games and Plymouth has lost three. They are the two lowest teams in the League.

Nowadays

The permanent issue before the 74th Congress will be that of economy. Opponents of the New Deal believe that we can never recover prosperity while our federal government is so far in debt. The national debt for the 17th congressional district alone amounts to over $61,000,000. Lewis Douglas, former director of budget, recently resigned from that office because he believed greater economy to be a necessity.

On the other hand President Roosevelt's recent message to Congress showed no indication of economy. The President asked for one billion dollars to be used for relief purposes. His action has been defended by leading economists including Stuart Chase, who recently pointed out that our per capita debt is far below that of Great Britain, where rapid strides have been made toward recovery. He believes that if we raise purchasing power to a high enough level through the expenditure of federal money, the federal budget will balance itself at the proper time. Senator LaFollette, the Wisconsin Progressive, also holds this view.

School Oratory Contest Planned

Meeting for the first time this semester, students intending to participate in oratory, under the direction of Miss Waldorf, discussed the general principles of the type of public speaking on Thursday, January 3.

The formation of an oration and an accompanying bibliography were explained by Miss Waldorff.

Same Officers Elected By G. R.'s

The Senior Girl Reserves held an election of officers at their meeting of Friday, January 4. All first semester officers were re-elected by the group. They are as follows:
President, Joan Cassidy
Vice President, Yvonne Hearn
Secretary, Gwendolyn Dunlop
Treasurer, Abbie Melow
Inter-club councilor, Miriam Brown.
