

Circuit Judges Renominated In Monday Primary

Polish Vote in Detroit Controls Over Half of Democratic Nominations for Circuit Bench

Jack Cowan Easy Victor In County Auditor Race Hamtramck School Teacher To Oppose Fred Fisher.

The primary election in Wayne county is over. Plymouth polled its usual two to one Republican vote, but a vote of only a small fraction of what it should have been.

The Polish vote of Detroit controlled half of the nominations for circuit judge on the Democratic ticket. Over 11,000 saps in Detroit voted for some unknown lawyer by the name of Frank Fitzgerald.

Michael Lutomski of Hamtramck was nominated by the Democrats for county commissioner to oppose Fred Fisher, who was awarded the Republican nomination without a contest.

Following are the list of Democratic and Republican nominees in Wayne county.

Funds Needed If Celebration Is To Be A Success

Chairman Tells of His Idea As To Way Money Can Be Raised

The state of Michigan is now one hundred years old. Whether thing or anybody is one hundred years old it is customary to make something of the event.

Michigan's first and hardest one hundred years are over. Michigan is due to celebrate Michigan is going to celebrate. And while Michigan does celebrate, the remainder of this nation will find time to sit up and take proverbial notice.

Under proclamation of the Governor, the Centennial of Michigan will be observed, with appropriate celebrations, throughout 1935 and 1936.

Each community or region is to determine its own type of celebration and to have full charge of its own events. The Michigan Historical Commission, and the Michigan State Historical Society, however, have been jointly designated to have general charge and direction of the state-wide celebration.

The state office must be kept informed as to what the individual community is doing. Plymouth and each suitable community in the state have been individually requested to participate in the state-wide celebration.

Business Men To Be Legion Guests

Under the direction of David Galin, Wm. Feiffer and Berg Moore the American Legion is sponsoring a great indoor sport festival on Tuesday, the 12th of March, to which all the business men of Plymouth are invited.

Elaborate plans are being made by the committee to make the event one of the outstanding of its kind ever fostered by any organization. The Legion hall at Newburg will be converted in a regular sport arena and several surprises await the visitors at Newburg that night.

Maxwell Moon has been designated chairman of a ping-pong tournament and entries are coming in fast which indicates there will be many contests to decide the champion of Plymouth.

Another feature of the evening entertainment will be an indoor exhibition by Bobby Hitt in the game of horse shoes. Bobby, well known Plymouth youth, holds the national junior championship and his contribution to the affair will draw many spectators. Am men are invited and the committee states that the activities will be well under way at 8 p. m.

State Solon To Address Women

Dr. Edward Fisher of Dearborn, Republican representative from this district will be present Monday afternoon, March 11th to address the League of Women Voters on the progress of the present session in Lansing.

Dr. Fisher appeared before this group last fall during his campaign and they are always glad to have him come.

Mrs. Maud Bennett will give a brief report of the Republican Convention held in Detroit Friday, March 1. Mrs. Bennett attended as a delegate.

Mrs. Finlan had been with Dorothy for the past two months. The daughter had contracted the health. Winters had been spent in the winter. Pneumonia developed and she was seriously ill for a number of weeks, but recent letters similar to the one that Mr. Finlan was reading when the news of her death was received had led the parents to hope that possibly their daughter was on the way to good health.

For nearly six years the courageous girl had been fighting ill health. Winters had been spent in New Mexico, Arizona, California, and more recently in North Carolina.

The unveiling of the pictures will be made a special part of the regular Sunday morning services of the church.

Hit By Auto, Dies From Injuries

John W. Gifford, 36 years of age who resided at 180 Hamilton street, died in Receiving hospital in Redford from injuries received last Saturday when he stepped from a street curbing at the corner of Plymouth and Greenfield roads in front of an automobile driven by Howard Smith, another Plymouth resident.

Mr. Smith gave him every assistance possible and aided in taking him to the hospital, but so severe were his injuries that he died shortly after being admitted.

The young man is survived by his wife Lucille, two daughters, Elaine and Joanne, his mother, Mrs. Wendell of Plymouth and a sister, Mrs. Cecil Bohm of Holly, Michigan.

Funeral services were held from the Wilkie funeral home Wednesday, Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Burial took place in Riverside cemetery.

Better Not Leave State With Stickers

If you are driving your car on a sticker, better not drive it outside the state of Michigan is a warning that Berg Moore, local manager of the secretary of state's office has received from Lansing.

While all states have been advised of Michigan's sticker system, it states requiring only rear plates, police officers are attracted only to the rear of passing cars. The sight of a 1934 plate there has already resulted in some Michigan drivers being stopped and the stickers on their front windshields may be inspected.

In any state, delay, loss of time and inconvenience may result from the use of a 1934 plate. Alwood has previously warned drivers against taking their cars out of the state, with neither new plates or stickers, during the current extension until midnight March 14, for old plates.

Will Conduct Church Crusade at The First Baptist Church Here

Announcement Has Been Made by Rev. Loy Sutherland, pastor of the First Baptist church that he has secured Rev. Robert Lietz to lead a special church crusade at the Baptist church beginning March 10 and ending March 17.

Rev. Lietz resides in Flint but has spent over twenty years in services of evangelistic character for the churches in this part of the country. He has helped to erect two new churches and remodel one. He is a graduate of Shurtleff college, Alton, Illinois; The Moody Bible Institute, and the Colgate Rochester Divinity school of Rochester, New York.

For six years he has been pastor of the Third Avenue Baptist church of Flint.

St. Patrick's Day Out At Rosedale

Sunday is going to be a big day out at St. Michael's church at Rosedale Gardens. Father Conway has arranged for the annual St. Patrick's day banquet and entertainment and among the guests of the evening will be C. C. Bradner, Detroit News broadcaster of news. Dinner will be served from 4:30 to 8 o'clock Father Conway wishes to especially understand that everyone is invited, whether a member of the church or not. He is expecting to see all of his Plymouth friends sometime Sunday afternoon or evening.

Township Name The Candidates

Nominations of township officers will take place in Plymouth, Canton and some of the other townships Saturday afternoon. Northville township has already held its caucuses and nominated officers.

Supervisor Willard Ely was re-named by the Republicans. Elmer Smith will again run for township clerk on the Republican ticket and Mrs. Molly Lawrence was given the nomination for township treasurer. Harold Parmenter was made a candidate for highway commissioner.

The Democrats of Northville township nominated Adolph Baldwin for supervisor, Ruth Gillis for township clerk and Leland Smith for township treasurer.

Starts Special Sermon Series

The Calvary Baptist Church, 455 South Main street, announced its special "Scripture Survey Service" to be held this Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor, Richard W. Neale, will speak on "Recent World Events in The Light of Bible Prophecies."

In commenting on the unsettled world horizon Mr. Neale asks "Why is it that so much of the present day down grade currents sweep through the professing church? Most churches used to be anchored to the Bible, but where are they anchoring now? Reports on my desk startle me when I read of recognized Protestant leaders actually fostering Communism in the United States. The Chicago Daily News tells of a prominent church in that city which has substituted dancing exhibitions for the Gospel in their evening services."

Mr. Mencken of The American Mercury pretends to believe nothing, but he rebukes modern preachers for their silence on the marvelous fulfillment of prophetic utterances in "these dangerous days." He concludes: "All I desire to point out is that the New Testament offers precise and elaborate specifications of the events preceding the inevitable end of the world, and that a fair reading of them must lead that these events are now upon us?"

"When these things begin to come to pass, then look up!" "We are not pessimistic or controversial in our views. There are some encouraging reports in our survey, but the situation as a whole is most alarming to anyone who hopes and strives for the peace and preservation of our happy homes, our active churches, and our well being as a nation. Our open Bible points to only one way of deliverance, and that is through Christ."

As Lincoln said of slavery, so let us say of gilded sin or maudlin unquity. If I ever got a chance to hit that thing, I'll hit it hard!"

Calvary church invites all readers of The Mail to this special service.

Extend Time Of Tax Payments

The city of Plymouth has authorized the collecting of all 1934 taxes, including the city tax, until March 15. This extension has been given because of the recent bank pay-off and because it is felt that local citizens would desire to meet their tax obligations before the taxes are sent to the county treasurer's office as delinquent.

It is not possible to collect taxes after March 15th as the rolls are then being prepared for return to the county treasurer's office, which work requires about ten days time, during which payments cannot be made. If for any reason any taxpayer is not able to pay his taxes by the 15th, but can pay them by the 20th, for instance, arrangements can be made with the city treasurer to omit the property from the return roll until that date. Such arrangements will have to be made before March 15th.

Everybody can be somebody.

House Shortage In Plymouth Is Becoming Serious—Not One Built Here Since March, 1932

Many Seek A Place To Live Here Each Week

Local Housing Committee To Send Out Booklets Telling How To Secure Funds And What To Build.

Faced with the greatest shortage since the beginning of the community, the interesting fact was disclosed this week that in just three years ago this month when the last building permit for the construction of a residence was issued in Plymouth, information secured from the city clerk's office shows that on March 18, 1932, a building permit was issued to Frank Hekenson for the erection of a new home at 450 Ann street, costing $4,900. Not since that time has there been an application made for a permit to build a house in Plymouth. One business block has been erected within the past year.

But with the demand for housing exceeding the supply and with local real estate dealers unable to fill even a small portion of the demand for houses in real Plymouth faces a real problem.

It is for this reason that more than ordinary interest is being shown by those in a position to know something of the conditions in this community in the home building and repairing plan of the government.

Local real estate dealers say that there are many old houses in Plymouth that could be renovated to rental condition by the expenditure of a few hundred dollars. There is also a very great demand for newer and more modern houses in the city.

The housing shortage condition has prevailed for many months. Miss Alice Safford who conducts a rental business in connection with her real estate sales department, said: "Continued on Page Nine"

W. C. T. U. Will Meet Again on March 28th

The February meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held on the afternoon of the 28th at the home of Miss Peiham with a fairly good attendance.

Some short selections were read and Mrs. Stinger gave a beautiful tribute to our beloved Frances Willard.

The next meeting will occur at the home of Mrs. E. C. Cooper, March 28th and will be a tea meeting.

From the Michigan Union: "They call it a 'new deal,' said Billy Sunday, Evangelist, in a talk at the First M. E. Church in Los Angeles, 'but I call it a dirty rotten deal.' They have turned our American girlhood into bar mads. Repeal of prohibition was the greatest calamity in this nation's history, far worse than the world war."

"But in ten years we'll see prohibition back to stay," declared the Rev. Sunday.

Boy Scouts Hosts At Banquet March 20th

Fathers and sons will gather Wednesday, March 20th, in the high school auditorium to attend the annual father and son banquet sponsored by Boy Scout troop P-2.

Elaborate plans are being laid for the banquet and a speaker of state wide prominence will head the fine program which the troop will make public next week. All fathers and sons are asked by the troop and Ex-Service club to make plans now to attend the banquet which promises to be the largest of its kind ever held in this section. Boys who have no fathers or people who know of fathers that have no fathers are asked to register the names of the boys with any member of the Ex-Service Club. Full details of the event will appear in the next issue of the Plymouth Mail.

Did You Know That

Rutherford's Music department will be in the new store on Pennington Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tallman of Detroit were calling on old friends Friday and were dinner guests that evening of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Gordon on Maple avenue.

Rotarians Hear Discussion On Better Business Practices

Members Present Will Prepare Papers On Timely Subject

Members of the Rotary club last Friday noon heard four members discuss the question of whether "Compulsory or Voluntary Observance of Fair Business Practices is Better For Business."

The nature of the subject led the discussion directly into the problems brought about by the codes and other business regulations that were born with the New Dealers.

There were four discussions. Carl Shear and Fred Sabom presenting prepared papers. Glenn Jewell and Floyd Wilson gave interesting and brief extemporaneous talks on the subject.

The well prepared discussion by Carl Shear favoring the ideals that the codes and other regulations seek to bring about, follows:

Human nature is inclined to be greedy and selfish, this being the case I feel that compulsory observance of business practices will go a long way toward correcting some of the evils that have come into business. Almost at the beginning of Rotary, our founder, Paul Harris realized that Rotary could take an important part in helping to eliminate some of the practices that were eating the very foundations from under business.

It was in 1911 that he appointed the first Business Methods Committee. These committees are still functioning in Rotary although they are now known as the Vocational Service Committee. It was from the first meeting of the Business Methods Committee that our motto, "He profits Most Who Serves Best," came and if you older Rotarians will think back you will remember that the committees built their programs on buyer and seller relations, employee and employer relations, their main object being an attempt to remove some of the unfair practices between buyer and seller and to build up a feeling of partnership between employee and employer, that they have done a lot of good I don't deny but I still feel we have a long way to go.

All business has tried to remedy unfair trade practices voluntarily for the last quarter century, it doesn't make any difference what business you are in whether you are a retailer, wholesaler or manufacturer, they all have their trade associations and have all adopted a Code of Ethics. Yes, even the doctors, lawyers, dentists and all professions have a code of ethics, but do they live up to them, some try but are soon forced to forget their code because of cut-throat competitors and chiselers, who are not forced to observe their code.

Now, what does this do to business, well let us take John Jones, he is the contracting business, John has joined his trade association and has vowed he will live up to his Code of Ethics. Jim Smith comes into John's place of business and wants him to figure on a job, John figures his material and labor cost as close as possible, adds a reasonable profit and takes the bid to Jim, who informs John that he is a couple hundred dollars high. John checks his figures to see if by chance he may have made a mistake, finds he hasn't and sticks to his guns and loses the business rather than cut the price and do the job at a loss. John loses several jobs in this cut-throat competitor but finally his dander gets up and he starts to cut the price with the result that his competitor cuts still more, John again cuts and they keep this cutting game up until there are no more profits to cut, then in order to keep the game going they start cutting wages. What does all this do. It takes profits out of business, taking the profits out of business reduces wages, reducing wages, reduces buying power and reducing buying power effects our whole economic system.

We have plenty of proof that business must be forced to live up to certain standards or the rank and file of people suffer, take your railroads it wasn't so long ago that we heard and read plenty about rebates to certain shippers and who got these rebates it was always the big fellow, you never heard of the small business getting a rebate, this practice became so prevalent that the inter-state commerce commission finally put a stop to it by attaching a severe penalty on any offender. Our own state of Michigan passed a law, stopping any insurance agent from rebating any portion of his commission, take your fire rates, the Michigan Inspection Bureau sets the rate on all properties and if any agent insures your building for less than the published rate he is subject to a fine and will lose his license to do business in this state. These regulations are compulsory and certainly our government would not have made them so if the businesses effected would have observed them voluntarily.

I just received a bulletin from The Better Business Bureau of Detroit which effects my own business. It reads as follows:

- Standards for Used Car Advertising:
 1. New car advertising shall not appear in the used car columns.
 2. Year and model of every car shall be accurately stated.
 3. Mileage statements shall not be advertised.
 4. Free driving trials shall not be advertised.
 5. Time sales advertising, in which monthly payments are quoted. Must state the exact amount per month and number of payments. Where any financing plan other than the standard automobile financing plan is used, the facts must be clearly stated.
 6. Objectionable claims and phrases such as the following, shall not be used: Perfect, new, like new, never driven, reconditioned, guaranteed, warehouse sale, pay balance due, below list price, bet deal in city, we must sell regardless of price, pay about $— per month, wholesale prices.
 7. Demonstrators may be advertised only by an authorized dealer in the make of car offered and then only when the cars have been used as such.
 8. Repossessed or replevined shall not be used only to describe cars taken over by the advertiser from the registered car owner.
 9. Baiting practices shall be eliminated. Advertisers shall be expected to have the advertised cars available for sale, and if it is alleged that such cars have just been sold, satisfactory proof shall be furnished.

10. Misleading headings and layouts shall be avoided.

11. All dealers and salesmen advertising from a residence, shall make clear that they are not private parties.

In addition to this bulletin I also got a letter from the Better Business Bureau advising me that the newspapers were going to cooperate with them and if a dealer violated these standards they would ask the papers to discontinue running that particular dealer's advertisements. Just look up last Sunday's classified advertisements on used cars and see how many you can find that haven't some of the above objectionable clauses in them and I think you will agree that it is time we had compulsory observance.

Suppose our law makers passed our traffic ordinances and did not provide any way of enforcing them, how long do you think it would be before red lights didn't mean a thing and speedometers could be left off cars altogether.

You know I like to compare business to a game and when you analyze it that is just about what it is, one man or group of men are pitting their abilities against another man or group, and there are certain rules and regulations that must be observed or the game is ruined.

Could you imagine a baseball game without any umpire, the catcher of the opposing team calling balls and strikes, the batter deciding whether his hit is fair or foul and the baseman deciding whether the runner is safe or out, or a football game without any referee or line judge, you think there would be plenty of off side play, plenty of holiday and clipping. I do, I have noticed by the papers lately that they are having plenty of fights in the hockey games at the Olympics, this alone is proof that no group of men can play the game fair because if they did there would be no cause for a fight.

Sometime ago I spoke to you on the subject. The progress that has been made in Business Ethics since 1930, at that time I quoted Cicero the Roman orator who was born in 106 B. C. he said:

"When buyer and seller meet, sin begins" and although this statement was made two thousand years ago, I still agree with him and feel that we must have compulsory observance of correct business practices if we are to take sin out of business.

Fred Sabom's excellent discussion which pointed out many of the tribulations of the small business of today, follows:

The title of this ditty or theme song is—"You can't drive a horse to drink, but you can coax a mule." The horse represents the small business man and what does that mean? Just this, out of 2 and a half million business concerns 5000 have capital over 1 million and 10,000 have half a million or over, therefore that leaves over 2 and a quarter million small business concerns that have a capital of $100 and over.

The Master Driver—General Johnson, backed by laws, rules, and what-not, yes even prison for infringements, could not make the small business man swallow or force down the NRA. We will quote General Johnson's own words, "I think the NRA has been put to sleep, the codes are allowed to languish, that the Blue Eagle, with which it cannot live is dying, that the principle on which the whole plan proceeded are being ignored."

Why? Because this went against the grain, in other words it cost money without return. Touch a man's pocketbook and you are stepping on dynamite. Just to illustrate, during the past year a small business concern increased its payroll over $4,000 with only a small increase of labor but with no increase of profit, while as a contrast to this stepping up to General Johnson's favorite Code No. 1, the Textile Industry showed an increase of 76 per cent on hourly wages, it had complete government supervision. The little fellow could shift for himself. Code No. 1 had the advantage of price raising which amounted to over 100 per cent, any on account of the complaints of the consumer this was the straw that broke the NRA. But the little fellow could not raise his selling price, because he did not have the support he should have had from the government.

This example only shows one branch of the entire industry and probably you will find that by investigation it was the same throughout the entire industry under the rule of the NRA. But this applies specially throughout the building industry. This particular branch has been grossly neglected, and it is estimated that it employs 50 per cent of the entire unemployed which was about 13 million at the peak and with all the favoritism that has been done towards the big fellow, they only put back to work 2,785,000 or 44 cents per year for every child, woman and man in the U.S.A. This doesn't sound like much, but as a child produces nothing and mighty few women are working and with 10 million on the dole, it makes a large bill for the middle man or the small business man to shoulder, besides all other increased taxes. We are just wondering if Uncle Sam didn't take hold of the wrong end of the mule.

Now, back to our little fellow again, the Code says you must organize before the government will recognize you or even get on speaking terms, so, to organize, this same small concern spoken of before, spent 8 months trying to get his branch of the industry organized, even sending representatives to Washington several times. Time and money was spent without stint, but with all this he did not receive any cooperation from the government as was promised in his contract with him, so the whole matter was dropped.

Not only the neglect of the government, but there was also the interference by large manufacturing concerns interested in this particular branch of this industry, who did not want this branch of the industry organized, as it then could not dictate its own policies. This interference, by large interest, would not have happened if the government had lived up to their promise and no doubt this was one of the causes of the failure of the NRA. "Well, says you, what's this all got to do with the NRA?—Just this, Uncle Sam was too busy playing around with the big fellows, he didn't have time to bother with the small fry, and it's the small fry that is carrying on the greater part of the nation's burdens. As referred to before, some 2 and a quarter millions. Take out of this small business and what have you left? The big fellows wouldn't have much to sell, would he? Still Uncle Sam kept his iron hand, or if you will, military rule, on all the small fellows he wanted enforced, but lent no helping hand to help the small business so he could meet the ever increasing expense in labor and material. Not only that, but the small business has had to sell at a lower price while trying to meet the ever increasing expenses. It's a poor rule that won't work both ways. You can't always demand and get nothing in return, sooner or later the burden will be too much to bear and here is the cause for a mass uprising. Yes—I agree with you, you should love your neighbor, but one doesn't like to give this love up by force. It must be voluntary. President Roosevelt says, "If you cannot make money in your business get out of it." Easier said than done. After some 40 years in business and sustaining losses due to no fault of yours, just what should such a man do? Probably all men over 60 should be shot and plowed under. It's certain that no one wants to lose money, but if certain conditions were enforced on you and one faithfully performs those conditions, then it seems that the government must do its share to carry the burden. But when the government cannot run its own business without a loss, deriving its money from taxation, how can you expect a small business to pay when it has to make its earnings by competition? And on top of that meet unfair competition which is not properly policed. A job of the government.

A great movement has been started with good intentions, but the best results could only be obtained by cooperation and not by force. And now, comes the Great General Johnson of the NRA and he says he sees the enemy approaching. Did he think he was going into a battle without enemies? So, on the house top he goes with a loud voice hollers, "Here comes the enemy!" and then he looks down on his army and he says to them, "Here comes the enemy!" but, what does he find? His army, that wonderful army of his, that was going to sweep everything that was before them. Was it ready for action? No! A thousand times No! This great army had stacked their guns and were in groups rallying here and there, discussing the best way to attack the enemy, but not one having a satisfactory plan of attack. So there they stand. Arguing between themselves. The General still hollering that the enemy is approaching still closer, but no one pays any attention and so even the General turns and runs in disgust. That's just where they are now, still arguing and what is more they now have no leader. The ex-General gives out a "post mortem" how much better his job could have been done if he was going to do it over again. No men, you can't force any horse to drink nor can you force the American people to take something they don't like.

After Me—What

I am the public treasury. I must be kept under constant guard against looters and despoilers. As never before I have been converted into a ponderous feed trough.

A veritable deluge is being poured into me, only to be seized upon and snatched up by a growing army of jostling, grasping, contending humanity. The more I give, the louder they cry for MORE.

The FAT as well as the LEAN have deserted their own boards to come to feed their fill out of my generous hold.

There seems to be no end to their capacity. There hunger is never appeased.

They give no thought that there might come a day when the food stream that feeds them may dwindle to a mere trickle.

Experience has taught me that that day will, and must, come.

Already I see signs of shrinkage in the flow.

Will they then be satisfied with less and less?

Will they be willing to return to their accustomed haunts and provide once more for their own means of support?

Or will they storm the fount, only to find it dry?

Who, then, will be able to stay the furies?

What, then will become of me?

If I am destroyed, what is there to replace me?

It is I speaking—the public treasury.

The Homes of a Michigan Citizen

LET us examine him on several points that distinguish a good citizen from a bad one:

Does he pay his taxes? ... During the past ten years he has paid a total of $32,332,175.31 taxes into State and Federal funds. Last year he paid $2,670,873 to Michigan.

Is his home an eyesore? ... He has 356 homes distributed over the great State of Michigan. Many of these he built himself and owns—substantial buildings in good taste, each an asset to the neighborhood and standing on grounds that he always keeps neat. Where less space is required, he rents a home. Large or small, it is always adequate to the needs of the community it serves.

What sort of customer is he? ... Each year he buys huge quantities of Michigan products—copper and furniture, poles, automobiles, iron, stone, labor. How does he treat his employees? ... With fairness and consideration. There are seventy-three hundred of them, both men and women, and they all say that he is a good man to work for. He pays them $12,000,000 in wages annually; this month he is paying them one million dollars, most of which will be spent and circulated throughout Michigan.

What does this Michigan citizen supply to his community? ... Telephone service. And in supplying that service, it is his aim that the improvements of the past shall continue; that the service shall be rendered with efficiency, economy and courtesy; that always there shall be available for his fellow-citizens of Michigan a telephone service that is as fine as any in the world.

Celebrates Her 83rd Birthday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vealey was the scene of a very pleasant family party on Saturday evening, March 2, the occasion being the eighty-third birthday of the former's mother and also the nineteenth wedding anniversary of the host and hostess.

Sixteen guests were present from Wayne, Belleville, Walled Lake and Plymouth. The evening was spent in playing cards and visiting and at midnight a supper was served with two very beautiful cakes as the center of attraction.

A special feature of the dinner hour was the recitation, by the hostess, of a poem written for the occasion by Miss Nettie Pelham and dedicated to Mrs. Sarah Vealey whose birthday it was.

It follows:
No matter how strange it may appear,
We each have a birthday every year.
A birthday for you and a birthday for me,
And a birthday for one who is eighty-three.

Oh plenty of birthdays and I'll be bound
There's always enough to go around.
So there's no use to worry, no use to fret,
For never does Father Time forget.

Some have many—others have less,
And some have birthdays they never confess.
They want to be giddy and young and gay,
Just as they were in their youth's bright day.

But every year there's a birthday now,
And there isn't a thing that one can do,
No matter how badly it makes us feel,
It isn't a bit of use to squeal.

Now gray hair and wrinkles are not a crime,
They are simply the work of Father Time.
That old rascal is working all the while,
And sometimes he is apt to spoil our style.

There are some birthdays that are nice, I'll say,
And some body has one here today.
Some body has one—Yes Sir-ee!
And she's proud to tell you she is eighty-three.

Now eighty-three is a long, long time,
It sounds quick enough when read in rhyme.
But eighty-three is long indeed,
Though the year's glide past with a careless speed.

And she who is eighty-three today,
Has travelled bravely along life's way,
She played her part well on the stage of life,
As daughter, sister and faithful wife.

And loving mother of children three,
Her life was as full as it well could be,
In the line of duty she took her place,
And met life's cares with a smiling face.

Now three generations are gathered here,
To pay homage due to this mother dear,
Three children, three grandchildren too,
And two great grandchildren, quite a few.

With neices and nephews—a goodly crew,
All have gathered a tribute to pay,
And wish her many returns of the day,
To wish her happiness and good cheer.

And the best of health through the coming year.

Miss Emma DuBord Organizing Classes For Next Year's Work

The Wayne County Home Economics Groups have been carrying a very fine program in clothing this year. They are learning all about the "well dressed woman." Every woman wants attractive clothes and likes the satisfaction of expressing her individuality by her dress. To make intelligent choice, the women have to learn about their own possibilities. Thus far in the project each woman has made a critical study of her own build, personal coloring and personality. Color schemes have been planned for each individual and suitable designs have been selected. All this has been put into a permanent record including a clothing account which is used as a basis for careful planning in future buying.

The Leaders of the various groups meet again next Tuesday, March 12 at 10:00 at the Dearborn Library for the 4th discussion in the project. This meeting studies the art "Good Grooming." Miss Lois Holderbaum, Clothing Specialist from Michigan State College, will present the discussion.

Miss Emma DuBord, County Home Demonstration Agent, is now organizing new groups for next year's program which will start in October. Those who are interested can secure information from her office in Dearborn at 303 Calvin Theatre Bldg.

Over 150 Present At Bartlett School P.T.A. Meeting Monday Night

One of the largest meetings held in some time was that of the Bartlett school Parent-Teachers Association Monday evening. There were over 150 present. Township Treasurer Colburn Dennis presiding at the meeting. The program was one of the most interesting of the winter. It was presented by the Truesdell school.

New officers were also elected and installed. William Backus is the new president. William Tagg, vice president; Mrs. Allen Campbell, secretary and Mrs. Fred Barts is the new treasurer.

Water Supply Of City Increased

The CERA water project approved last fall for the city of Plymouth has been under way during the winter months. This project includes the extension of the infiltration galleries at the source of the public water supply on Beck road.

The water supply of Plymouth is obtained from a large collecting well, which is fed by pipes with open joints extending out into the water bearing strata. The amount of water available in the collecting well depends upon the length of the pipe extending into this strata. During the past summer and fall, the amount of water available appeared to be falling off, therefore it was decided to extend the galleries further out into the gravel.

Up to the present time 288 feet of 12 inch pipe has been laid in trenches, ranging in depth from eight to fourteen feet. The bottom of the trench has about three feet of water in it, which all has to be pumped out before the pipe can be laid. This type of construction is very expensive and the work could not have been undertaken had it not been possible to obtain the CERA project. An average of twenty men per day have been employed on this work. Since starting the project the amount of water at the Spring has been increased, and, in two instances, roots have been removed from the old line, which has also allowed a greater flow of water into the collecting wells.

An optimist is a lady who sends her six-year-old son to the grocery on roller skates to bring back a lemon meringue pie.

If you would seem rich, fuss about unjust taxes. Nobody will believe that you can see injustice that doesn't hurt you.

What doth it profit smart guys to dry-clean the Country if they must pay taxes to feed the broke?

Over 100 Attend Birthday Party

Woman's Club Annual Observance Was Delightful Affair

The Annual Birthday Party of the Woman's Club of Plymouth held at Hotel Mayflower last Friday, March 1st, was as happy an occasion as had been anticipated.

The weather was perfect and over one hundred of the members and their guests gathered in the crystal dining room and partook of the delicious luncheon served by the hotel at 1:30. The women were seated at twelve round tables and one long one, the latter reserved for the officers and directors of the club and the guest entertainers. All the tables were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and the officer's table held a marvelous tiered birthday cake, iced and decorated in white and green—the club colors—and crowned with tiny lighted candles.

Following the luncheon, the second vice president, Mrs. Geo. A. Smith, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ray Johns, and first vice-president, Mrs. Claude Dykhouse, welcomed the members and the guests and presented the acting chairman for the program, Mrs. Tom Fennell, who in a few well chosen words, introduced the guest artists.

The program was opened with two lovely piano solos, "To a Wild Rose" and "Country Garden," played by Miss Winnifred Ford. Miss Ford then presented four members of her Senior Drama Club of the Plymouth high school, Jean Brocklehurst, Elizabeth Whipple, Eva Scarpulla and Jack Selle, in the one-act play "First Dress Suit."

This proved to be one of the snappiest and most humorous plays enjoyed by the club for some time and each member of the cast did full justice to themselves and their director by giving a perfect and most enjoyable performance.

Mrs. Fennell then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. John L. Pickering of Ferndale, whose most interesting talk on "Youth Incorporate," rounded out the splendid program for the day. "Youth Incorporate" is an organization promoted as an adventure in the technique of co-operation between youth and maturity and the chapter in which Mrs. Pickering is so vitally interested and to which she is devoting so much of her time and energy as a member at large chosen from each community, is located at 434 West Nine Mile Road in "Castle on the Nine."

In a most informal and pleasing talk, Mrs. Pickering told how the group of young people who enjoy the pleasures and benefits of this branch of the organization, helped in the remodeling of the old dwelling on Nine Mile Road into the present beautiful and comfortable club house now occupied by them and of the many helpful and pleasing activities now carried on by and for this group which meets regularly each Tuesday evening. They have inter-club activities with seven other chapters as follows: athletic league, outstanding lectures, dances and parties, monthly Sunday conferences, and employment service. They have classes in political science forum, music and dramatics, psychology and philosophy arts and crafts, current history and social hygiene.

The recreations include community sings, billiards and ping-pong, chess and checkers, hikes and outdoor cookery, and interesting hikes.

The club house is open to visitors and Mrs. Pickering urged any interested in the project to visit them and learn at first hand of the wonderful junior social service work being carried on for the youth of the community.

Guests are welcomed at luncheon on Friday of each week at a very nominal price. A business meeting for members of the club followed the program, at which the program for next year was discussed and Mrs. Roy Parrott was voted in as an active member of the club. The next meeting will be an evening meeting, at which the special guests will be the teachers of the Plymouth public schools and the members of the Business and Professional Woman's club.

This will be a musical treat at which a group of young Detroit musicians will present their own vocal and musical compositions under the directorship of Miss Harriet Petry of Detroit. Further notice of this meeting will be given next week.

Arlo Emerys Lease Former Hubert Home

A two year lease on the former John Hubert residence on West Ann Arbor street has been taken by Attorney and Mrs. Arlo Emery former residents of Plymouth who have been residing in Detroit during the past two years. They plan to move back to Plymouth within the next two or three weeks. Mr. Emery, who is city attorney of Plymouth, is a prominent member of the Detroit bar. He plans to drive back and forth to the city each day. The Huberts recently moved to Detroit where Mr. Hubert has a responsible position in connection with the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

Famed Michigan Picture Tonight

"Car 99" At The Penniman-Allen Theatre For Two Days.

Tonight and tomorrow nights Friday and Saturday, Plymouth motion picture fans will have the opportunity of seeing a motion picture based upon the operation of the Michigan State police, and a picture that has won high praise in New York, Los Angeles and other large centers where it has been shown.

The name of the picture is "Car 99" and the story was written by Karl Detzer, well known writer whose stories frequently appear in the Saturday Evening Post and who owns a beautiful home north of Traverse City.

The New York Times, one of the most conservative of the great newspapers in extending praise to motion picture productions, was not at all stingy in its comments about the picture that Manager Harry Lush has booked for tonight and tomorrow night at the Penniman-Allen.

The Times said recently:

One of the best melodramas to come from Hollywood in many a moon, "Car 99" at the Rialto, would make even an anemic feel that he is suffering from high blood pressure. A fast-moving adaptation of Karl Detzer's Saturday Evening Post story about the radio cars of the Michigan State Police, it is played to the hilt by such excellent veterans as Sir Guy Standing, Frank Craven and William Frawley and by a group of promising newcomers, including Fred MacMurray, Marina Schubert, Dean Jagger and Ann Sheridan.

Although the story centres upon Ross Martin, a rookie on the force, the film essentially is the record of a hunt. And if there is anything more dramatic to mankind, then the nation's editors sadly misjudged their readers when they played up the search for Dillinger and for the kidnappers of the Lindbergh baby.

A band of bank robbers, led by a smooth and unscruffed mastermind (Sir Guy Standing, and a grand performance, too) transfer their base of operations to a small town in Michigan. Twice they succeed in slipping through the police car cordon, each time by the narrowest of margins. When the time comes for Professor Anthony to pull his biggest job, he realizes his only chance is to paralyze the police radio communications system.

But even a master mind slips up at times, and what the wily old Professor Anthony forgot was that the Massachusetts police had operated on the same wavelength as Michigan's. The gauging of the law get their orders by a phone-radio relay and the rookie trooper is in at the kill.

The chase scenes alone are enough to keep an average audience in a state of breathless excitement, but the picture possesses, also, a fund of comedy and sufficient heart interest to placate the feminine filmgoers.

Mr. Craven's characterization of the tobacco-chewing sheriff of Crow River, Sir Guy Standing's Professor Anthony, Mr. Frawley's Sergeant Barrel and Fred MacMurray's playing of the rookie role contribute immeasurably to the story. And, in this general eulogy, a word of praise must be extended to Marina Schubert, daughter of Mme. Nina Koschitz, Russian soprano, and to Charles Barton for his swift direction.

Bad air kills more than war. Youth needs more than a fire extinguisher.

F. B. Ainger Holstein Herd In High Average.

During the past year 225 herds of registered Holstein-Friesians were tested in the Holstein Herd Test and the 4871 cows and heifers of all ages included in these herds averaged 1099 lbs. milk and 380 lbs. fat. Comparing this production with the average for all U. S. dairy cows which is 4500 lbs. milk and 170 lbs. fat per cow yearly, according to government figures, we find that these purebred Holstein herds produced considerably more than double the national average per cow.

The herd of registered Holsteins owned by F. B. Ainger at Northville has maintained a daily average yield of 8.50 lbs. of fat per cow during the first 140 days of the annual production test. Fourteen cows in the herd have topped the 100 lb. fat mark for the 140 days top honors going to the cow named Roodie Ross Bonnie Mercedes with a credit of 190.7 lbs. fat and 4632.0 lbs. milk. High honors for milk production are held by the cow named Maple Crest with a credit of 5629.5 lbs. milk and 187.3 lbs. fat. The cow named Niole Creator Aggie has completed a lactation record of 10069 lbs. milk and 341.9 lbs. fat. This record was made in Class C.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Frederick were hosts to their "500" club Thursday evening at co-operative dinner and evening of cards. The other members of this club are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. and Mrs. Emerson Howells, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Woods, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Matryn. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shipley played as substitute couple for the evening.

Nears 100, Gets Fishing License

Thomas B. Davis is now 97 years of age, but even though he nears the century mark, he is not too old to fish. The other day he walked into a sporting goods store and asked Charles Beagle for a fishing license for 1935.

"I'm giving this spring and summer fishing to you," said Mr. Davis as he turned over to the state the 90 cents extracted from every one who now dangles a fishing line in a lake or stream.

Mr. Davis, who is the grandfather of William Pettit, probably spends more time with pole and line than any other fisherman in Plymouth. He fishes Rouge river, Phoenix lake and several of the other nearby places that are within easy walking distance of Plymouth.

Some of his friends say that now and then he hooks onto a real fish hereabouts. During the pleasant days of the summer and fall, there is rarely a day that he does not tie off to the bank of some lake to try his luck—and somewhere in Phoenix lake he has a favorite fishing hole.

Dondero Tells Of Bonus Bills

Two Dozen Measures Have Been Introduced Proving Payment

No less than two dozen bills have been introduced in the present session of the 74th Congress, providing for the immediate payment of the face value of veterans' adjusted service certificates or the discontinuance of interest charges on certificate loans, according to Congressman George A. Dondero.

Congressman Patman of Texas is the author of H. R. 1, which provides for the immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates through issuance of non-interest bearing treasury notes. This measure has the active support of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and was first passed by the House of Representatives of the 73rd Congress.

Under H. R. 3287, introduced by Congressman Fish of New York, the face value of the certificates would be paid in installments and interest charges on loans discontinued. H. R. 3893, authored by Congressman Bulwinkle of North Carolina, would accomplish this payment in two annual installments.

Under still another bill the veterans would receive payment in interest-bearing bonds. The Vinson bill, H. R. 3896, which makes specific provision as to the method of payment, has the support of American Legion officials.

Under H. R. 6027, introduced by Congressman Andrew of Massachusetts and H. R. 2019, sponsored by Congressman Griffin of New York, the World War veteran would receive in addition to the face value of his certificate interest computed from November 11, 1918.

Congressman Lunden of Minnesota, under H. R. 2823, would provide for immediate payment, discontinuance of interest charges, and limited expansion of the national currency. Congressman Sears of Florida, the author of H. R. 2860, would likewise provide for payment in treasury notes.

Other bills providing for immediate payment include those introduced by Congressman Celler of New York, Martin of Colorado, Deen of Georgia, Lea of California, and Kee of West Virginia.

Bills providing for the discontinuance of the interest charges on certificate loans have been introduced by Congressman Sutherland of New Jersey, Dockweiler of California, Knutson of Minnesota, Ludlow of Indiana, Burns of Ohio, Gossett of South Carolina, and Cartwright of Oklahoma.

Many state legislatures have memorialized the Congress, urging the immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates, among them being the legislatures of Arizona, California, Colorado, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Washington and Wisconsin.

Some Don'ts When Driving An Auto

Chief Smith Asks Public To Aid In Traffic Campaign

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith, anxious to see to it that Plymouth passes through the year without an automobile accident, asks for the cooperation of the motor car driver in what he hopes to do. He has secured from the traffic bureau in Detroit a list of "Don'ts" that if followed will keep motor drivers from getting into trouble not only in Plymouth but in Detroit as well.

There are a number of Plymouth residents who run afoul of the traffic laws in Detroit, simply because they did not happen to know the rules. The chief states the same has been true in Plymouth, that the recent traffic drive has convinced him many people are not at all familiar with some of the traffic rules.

Some of the don'ts the chief asks readers of The Mail to observe follow:

- Don't.
- Drive if drinking intoxicants.
- Drive away from an accident.
- Drive without a license.
- Drive against traffic.
- Drive against auto signal.
- Back more than 60 feet or around corner.
- Use improper chains on tires.
- Cut in and out of traffic.
- Cross in front of moving street car.
- Drive over fire hose.
- Drive with defective brakes.
- Make excessive noise.
- Drive with four in drivers seat.
- Interfere with traffic signs.
- Drive to left of street car.
- Drive with a party in your lap.
- Drive left of express stops.
- Leave motor running unattended.
- Place stickers on windshields.
- Drive with one arm around your passenger or their arm around you.
- Overtake vehicles at intersections.
- Drive against a red signal in changing your course, on a street divided by a parkway.
- Make improper turns.
- Make turns where prohibited.
- Permit others to ride outside of car.
- Drive on sidewalks.
- Tow more than one car.
- Drive through funeral processions.
- Drive with license, mutilated license plates.
- Drive with license plate missing.
- Coast on down grades.
- Block traffic.
- Drive through occupied safety zone.
- Follow a street car through a safety zone.
- Drive faster than 20 miles per hour in residence district.
- Drive faster than 15 miles per hour in business district.
- Drive faster than 10 miles per hour passing a street car at protected safety zones, in alleys or when turning.
- Remember a complaint may be lodged for exceeding these speeds, but if you drive over 30 miles per hour the officer has no option he must make a complaint.

Hooray! The Mail Team Wins Game

The two big upsets of the week in the Plymouth Basketball League was when the Mail took Faculty to town with the score of 31 to 18 Monday evening and Schraders won from Daisy in an overtime game 22 to 20 Tuesday evening. Other scores are Wilson won from Merchants 31 to 17 and Hi-Speed defeated Smitty's 21 to 12.

There will be no games on Wednesday March 13th and March 26th.

Ball Studio and Plymouth Mail still have a chance of pushing the Faculty out of 4th place.

Says Drainage Is Main Project

A survey undertaken among the rank of citizens not connected with the business section, but who make up the bulk of the population supporting the business community, is at variance in some important particulars, with the conclusions regarding the projects contemplated by the city commissioners," states Arno Thompson.

Practically all those talked to agreed that the Toniquish Creek should be the main project, sympathize with those advocating such action, but believe that this project is but a part of a general sewer system needed by the particular section which Toniquish Creek serves and by those sections adjacent thereto and on the city rolls as taxable property, but which, at certain seasons of the year, resemble riparian areas.

Improvement of the cemetery water system and widening Main street placed by some as major projects and ahead of a comprehensive sewer building program is as shortsighted as the men who proverbially put the cart before the horse.

The need for widening Main street will never materialize for the business men, unless some effort is made by those far sighted enough to realize that business is derived from the citizens owning and locating in sections of the city made desirable and habitable. That class of citizens attracted to and civic minded enough to desire a well balanced community are the main stay of business. The short sighted business man may think sectional business supports the populace, but such reasoning on the face of it ignores the first precepts of economic practice.

The need for improvement of the cemetery water system is conceded, but certainly not before a much more pressing necessity as a sewage disposal and storm water drainage project that, second to the water supply to the citizens, is a matter of life and health and not merely a matter of beautification of an area.

The man in the street, the small home owner, the residents of city subdivision property improperly drained and having inadequate water pressure surely have equal claim to consideration in work employing projects from their representatives as have the business men who rely on this same class of citizens to support their business.

Widening, paving, shade trees and community building schemes surely cannot be advocated ahead of a program which concerns the health and security of all citizens.

Propose Summer Sports Program

It became known Tuesday night at the meeting of the Kiwanis club that this club, the Rotarians and members of the Chamber of Commerce are co-operating for the establishment of a playground program for the children of Plymouth during July and August.

Coach Kenneth Matheson of the Plymouth high school who was a guest at the meeting of the club, outlined a most interesting series of events for the summer, providing the program is carried out.

He stated that the size and extent of the program depended largely upon the number of instructors and equipment available for use.

"I feel that in Plymouth a program could be sponsored during July and August five days a week, from 1:30 in the afternoon until 4 o'clock at night with one person in charge. The person in charge in the mornings would be occupied getting things ready for the day and keeping records and work of a similar nature," he said.

Programs for children, for boys, for girls and for adults could be easily worked out. There could also be various divisions which would permit of contests and special events, such as kite days, scooter tournaments, rope skipping, pet and doll show and parade and numerous other similar events he said.

President Felton of Rotary and Kiwanis officers believe they will be able to work out such an excellent program as Coach Matheson has outlined, with his help and cooperation.

Spring Is On The Way, Robins Are Here Now

There is no question but what spring is right around the corner.

Even though it snows and blows, even though the streets and highways are covered with ice, spring is surely close at hand.

Arthur Eckles, Floyd Eckles and Floyd Shafer who now and then find just a minute or two during the day to look out of the window, saw a robin the other day, perched way up high in a tree.

Of course they were not the first to have seen robins this year. Max Moon holds that distinction in Plymouth. Then Mrs. Wright of South Main street says she saw a robin the other day.

The members of the Stitch and Chatter Club with their husbands greatly enjoyed a six-thirty o'clock co-operative dinner Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hamilton on Hamilton street.

Do You Know

That the custom of strewing flowers on the graves of soldiers originated among Southern women during the Civil war. This beautiful custom gradually spread over the country and in 1868-69 Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., appointed the 30th of May as Decoration Day.

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Murder of Abel and Curse of Cain.—Cain was a tiller of the land, but Abel was a keeper of sheep. Both brought offerings to the Lord. Cain the fruit of the ground and Abel the firstlings of his flock, their sacrifices being shown in the right background of this picture. According to Gen. 4: 4-5, the Lord approved of Abel's offering, but disapproved of Cain's offering. Jealousy sprang up in Cain's heart toward his brother Abel, and he rose up against Abel and killed him, the scene recorded in Gen. 4: 8, being graphically portrayed in the left foreground of this picture. God cursed Cain and the Bible's first murderer became a wanderer upon the face of the earth. One of a series of Bible pictures by Merian, Seventeenth century engraver.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Loya Sutherland, Minister
Beginning next Sunday morning at ten o'clock this church begins eight days of special Crusade. Our leader will be Rev. Robert Lietz of Flint. Rev. Lietz will preach Sunday morning and Sunday night will show the life of Moses in motion pictures, concluding these on Monday night. Beginning Tuesday night we are to see the Passion Play as given in Oberammergau. You will have the opportunity of seeing two of the greatest motion pictures in the world here in our own town.
One Episode of the Life of Christ will be shown each night, followed by a gospel message. Remember every night for eight nights, beginning next Sunday.
Children's services will be held each Sunday morning at 9:30 by the side of the church. Services are being held four mornings of the week in several neighborhoods, go to the meeting that is nearest you. We believe that a revival can be prayed down from God, a successful revival cannot just be worked up. We mean to work as though everything depended upon us and to pray as though everything depended upon God. You will want to enjoy these wonderful pictures and hear Rev. Lietz during these eight days.
Watch for a hand bill and further announcement otherwise in the paper.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
Cor. Main and Dodge Sts.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
Richard W. Neale, Pastor
You are cordially invited to meet with us. Come to Calvary! If you are interested in attending a friendly, Bible church you will want to hear this Sunday's pulpit messages.
This Sunday evening our pastor speaks on the challenging topic, "Recent World Events." In "The Light of Bible Prophecies." Starting news from every horizon will demonstrate the accuracy of God's Word. What about Europe's War? Hear what Marshal Foch predicted for 1935! How about the "New Deal" and the Scriptures? Hear the facts for yourself. Is the Gospel era soon to close? If so, what about you, your home, and America's future? If so, what about you, your home. Hear Pastor Richard Neale in this frank, heart to heart message at 7:30 Sunday night. Meet with a happy singing crowd.
At 10 a.m. Sunday we meet for worship and bible study. The sermon topic is "Solving A Different Problem God's Way."
At 11:15 our Sunday school convenes. There's a class for you, why not visit it this week.
Our Young People's Fellowship meet this Friday evening at 7:30. Miss Harriet Mattinson is the speaker.
You will enjoy our prayer and

Smelt Season is Now Open, But Runs Will Not Start For Weeks
Here is news Plymouth "smelt dippers" have been waiting for—the smelt season is open but the smelt are not running. While the conservation department has opened the season, it is not expected that any smelt will begin to run before the last of the present month.
Smelt may be taken with hand nets between the dates of March 1 to May 31. The Director of Conservation is empowered to designate the streams or portions of streams where smelt may be taken.
Hand nets not more than five feet in circumference with or without handles may be used in the waters designated open to dipping for smelt.
A list of the designated open waters is now in the hands of conservation officers. Several additional streams have been added to the list this year in view of the continued spread of the smelt in waters tributary to the Great Lakes.
No sweet without some sweat. Praise service on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. A church is as strong as its prayer meeting.

KROGER-STORES

We are all BLIND in the dark!

EYES need light. You can't see anything without light. And there is a proper amount of light for every seeing task. Of course, you could read by the light of an open fireplace. But it strains vision and does much more damage than our eyes tell us. The few simple rules which follow form a good guide to adequate home lighting. In the table or floor lamp next to your easy chair, you should have correct size lamp bulbs—"WATTS." If it is a three-socket lamp, there should be 40 watts in each socket; if a two-socket lamp, 60 watts in each socket; if a one-socket lamp, 100 watts. All lamps in your house should have SHADES to prevent GLARE. Whenever possible, use shades with light-colored linings to get the most light. (Wide shades, open at the top, are best.) Finally, have at least one-tenth as much light in the rest of the room as you have on your book, newspaper, sewing, etc.

Plymouth Gets Nearly $2,000.00 Of Auto-Gas Tax

County Road Commission Distributes Money To Cities - Villages

The final total of the automobile weight and gas taxes collected by the State has recently been determined, together with each county's share thereof. Upon this determination of Wayne county's share in these taxes, and upon the receipt of this allotment, the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners has been enabled to determine the share of each city and village of Wayne County and all amounts are accordingly being made to those municipalities at this time.

For the year 1934, the sum of $818,613.20 remained for distribution among the cities and villages of Wayne County after providing for highway debt service and after segregating the portion belonging to the County at large according to the formula set up in the statutes covering these funds. The proportionate share of each city and village is as follows:

City/Village	Population	Am't.
Allen Park	944	417.86
Belleville	758	335.39
Dearborn	50,358	22,281.42
Detroit	1,568,662	694,070.04
Escore	12,716	5,626.33
Flat Rock	1,231	544.71
Garden City	2,481	920.78
Grosse Pointe	5,173	2,288.84
Grosse Pt. Farms	3,533	1,563.22
Grosse Pt. Shores	621	274.73
Hamtramck	56,268	24,896.32
Highland Pk.	52,258	23,023.90
Lincoln Pk.	12,336	5,458.18
Lochmoor	961	425.19
Melvindale	4,053	1,793.25
Northville	2,566	1,135.33
Plymouth	4,424	1,935.90
River Rouge	1,414	7,680.83
Riverview	743	328.76
Rockwood	953	421.68
Trenton	4,022	1,779.58
Wayne	28,368	12,551.71
Wyandotte	1,850,141	818,613.20

The legislative acts covering the distribution of these funds require that the portion of them which is turned over to any city or village shall be used for certain definite purposes and in a certain definite order of priority as follows:

- The payment of the municipality's share of State trunk line and Federal Aid road maintenance costs.
- Payment of obligations of the municipality on highway projects undertaken by it jointly with the State Highway Commissioner on trunk line streets.
- Payment of principal and interest on bonds issued by the municipality for the construction or improvement of streets, highways, bridges, or grade separations.
- If desired and so determined by the legislative body of any city or village, it may pay or refund to taxpayers, without interest, all or any portion of the special assessment or assessments for the cost of opening, widening or improving any State trunk line highway within said city or village, if said special assessments were levied prior to the enactment of the laws governing the distribution of these funds.
- General street or highway improvement, repair, or maintenance.

The statutes governing the distribution of these automobile tax funds imposes as a penalty for the failure of any municipality to devote funds to the purposes and in the priority set forth, the forfeiture by such municipality of its share of these taxes for the next year.

OBITUARIES

ADOLPH G. KEHRL

Adolph G. Kehrl was born in Brandenburg, Germany, February 2, 1867 and after some years of illness departed this life for his eternal home on February 28th, 1935 at the age of 68 years and 26 days.

He came to this country with his parents at the age of 7 and with his family was doing something employed on the D. M. Ferry farm. Later residence was made on the Fishery Road, four miles west of Northville in Salem township.

He was married on November 18, 1891 to Bertha Wollgast, taking her as a bride in his farm home. With the exception of some years Mrs. Kehrl's residence was maintained in the same vicinity for approximately 27 years of time. To the union referred to, three children were born, all of whom, with the widow, survive him. They are in order, Mrs. Lydia Drews, who with her family reside in Plymouth, the Rev. Arnold, pastor of the Beulah Baptist Church, Detroit and youngest son, Floyd, president of the First National Bank of Plymouth and who has made his home with the parents on Starkweather avenue.

Other members of the immediate family circle are five grandchildren, Carl and Don Drews, Marie, John and Robert Kehrl. Of Mr. Kehrl's family there remain two brothers, August of Pontiac and Rudolph of Salem, with members of their families, some of the younger of whom are somewhat scattered but most of them present. There are many more distant relatives on both sides of the house making up rather a large group. To these there must be added a great host of friends and lifetime acquaintances, all of whom remain steadfast and faithful.

He has been throughout his life identified with various local churches of the Evangelical Lutheran faith, in which he naturally was nurtured. He has ever been active for much of the time being a leader and official. For the past 16 years the family home has been in Plymouth and he has held membership with the St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church.

However his Christian expression and attendance was not particularly limited to his home church he with other members of his family, most of whom are related to other bodies, attended meetings in various Christian churches where the Gospel of the Lord Jesus was preached and he enjoyed his activity in attendance at worship and evangelistic services and derived great spiritual benefits and blessings. Of later years he was a faithful student of the Bible and sacred literature, growing in grace and in the knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Of him it can most sincerely be said "He was a good man and of great worth of his time to the work of the Lord whom he served."

He was ever reserved, quiet, unassuming and unpretentious, never given to any extra fuss or show. He loved his home and family devotedly and friends and loved ones knew they could always find him there. Hundreds will testify that he was a genuine friend and neighbor, ever willing to aid and assist in any and all times of need wherever found. Many will rise up to call him blessed.

Until the Resurrection day his body was laid to rest in the family crypt in the mausoleum in Riverside Cemetery here in Plymouth.

Funeral services were conducted by his son, Rev. Arnold H. Kehrl, Beulah Baptist Church, Detroit, Rev. Loy Sutherland, First Baptist Church of Plymouth and Rev. Mrs. Lucia M. Stroh, First Congregational Church of Salem.

I may not know why death should come
To take the dear one from my home
But tho mine eyes with tears are dim
The Lord knows why—I'll trust in Him

LOUIS SCHAAL

Louis Schaal was born in Lithuania, Germany, Feb. 13, 1853, and passed from this earthly life on the evening of Feb. 7th, 1935. He came to this country in the year of 1882, having lived in Detroit, Wayne and Grass Lake. During these first years here in America he worked for the Michigan Central Railroad. He was married and son by a former marriage both passed away, and on Jan. 23rd 1900 he was married to Mrs. Rose Gates-Merkson. They settled at once here at Plymouth where he was employed by the Daisy Mfg. Co., retiring in the year 1929.

Mr. Schaal was baptized and united with the First Baptist church on Feb. 8, 1904 and during this long period of years has been active in all the work of his church. He has served as deacon for many years, and as such will be remembered by a long line of members and friends whom he has served in this capacity. The going of our brother Schaal removes the third deacon from our church within six months time. No words can tell just what his going means to the church. His earnest prayers, his words of wisdom, his smile for all who met him, his gifts brought so freely according to his ability will be cherished by all who knew him. To fact his life was lived for his Christ and His church. No shepherd can tell his dependence upon such a life, we could never feel that his intercession has ceased, and our cheer shall be in the fact that we believe in the perfection of that day in which he now lives he will the more be praying for us.

Only last Sunday, Feb. 24th he placed his birthday gift on the altar of the church. His radiance of face seemed even the more heavenly as he listened to his last regular church service on this side of eternity. On Wednesday evening he was in his accustomed place at the mid-week prayer service, but the path from God's house was not to lead again to other earth paths, but rather became the door through which he entered instantly into the church triumphant. The last words upon his lips were the story of this prayer service and in the very midst of it telling God took those lips to tell His praise in the Land toward which brother Schaal travelled so long. His earthly presence we shall see no more, and we are led to ask who, who of your younger years shall step into the ranks to fill the place from which he was taken? Some one shall answer the prayers of this godly man.

There remain to mourn his loss, his wife, Mrs. Rose Schaal, three children, Mr. Frank Merkson, Mrs. Charles Fromm, Mrs. Detroit and Mrs. Ernest Robinson of Plymouth. Four grandchildren also are left, with two half-brothers, Mr. Fred Tackman and August Tackman of Ypsilanti, besides the nephews, and his host of friends.

Funeral services were conducted on Saturday afternoon at the Schrader parlors, Rev. Loy Sutherland officiating. Burial in Riverside cemetery.

JOSEPH JACKSON, SR.
Joseph Jackson, Sr., passed away at his home on the Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth township, Michigan, on Thursday evening, February 28, at the age of 93 years. He was the husband of the late Elizabeth Jackson, and father of Mrs. George Wright of Salem, Michigan, Mrs. Robert Douglas of Livonia township, Joseph of Plymouth, Thomas and Mrs. Beatrice Becker, both of Detroit, and Mrs. Alice Harwood of Washtenaw county and of the late John C. Jackson, deceased. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral home and later taken to his home from which place funeral services were held Monday, March 4th, at 2 p.m. Interment in Riverside cemetery. Rev. Clark Artridge of Detroit officiating.

BILLY A. MOE
Billy A. Moe, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Moe, 872 Arthur street, passed away at University hospital, Ann Arbor, Michigan early Wednesday morning, March 6th. The body was taken to the Schrader Brothers Funeral home, from which place funeral services will be held Friday, March 8th at 2 p.m. Interment at Northville, Michigan.

House Shortage In Plymouth

The demand far exceeds the supply.

"Unless something is done to have more houses built in and around Plymouth we certainly are not going to be able to take care of the desirable people who want to come here to live," stated Miss Safford.

The Plymouth committee cooperating with the Michigan Building Commission will within the next few days send to every one through the local postoffice a number of government booklets telling how funds can be secured for building and what funds can be used for.

Right along in this connection, Raymond Foley, state administrator for the housing commission hopes to accomplish much during this month in creating interest throughout the state in just the problem that Plymouth faces.

He has sent to the Plymouth Mail an article which tells about what is being done in Gladstone, in the Upper Peninsula, in the campaign.

"We propose the Gladstone plan for rehabilitation of the Nation, believing that the launching of this month in creating interest throughout the state in just the problem that Plymouth faces.

Let Gladstone take the lead," concludes a full page ad in the Gladstone paper to which is affixed the names of the 55 sponsoring the movement, ranging from cashiers of both banks to the manager of the local theater and including the superintendent of schools, physicians and attorneys.

A specific agreement in the Gladstone document is as follows: "As an assurance of cooperation and as an incentive to others, the members of this committee have agreed among themselves forthwith to undertake the certain movements to their properties and to urge all their friends, associates and employees to do likewise and avail themselves of the loan privileges of the National Housing Act."

The proposal is the immediate initiation of a $50,000 construction program in the Gladstone area.

The day the pledge was published it was a degree below zero in Gladstone and snow was 10 feet deep, while in Detroit and through the southern tier of Michigan counties the air was springlike.

The committee of 55 also expressed the hope that "the community as a whole will rise to the challenge that is offered and that a campaign of Liberty Loan proportions will be instituted to make the Federal Housing Administration's loan plan popular not only with those who need it in order to repair the ravages of deterioration and obsolescence but with those financially able to do the needed new and remodeling work without it."

Gladstone's hope of setting a nation-wide example is anything but a fleeting one. Raymond M. Foley, state director of the Federal Housing Administration said. He studied the plan carefully and then immediately advised national headquarters in Washington.

"The Gladstone pledge indicates what the bustling smaller community can do," he said. "I venture to say that if other communities took the same action and backed it up relief rolls would practically disappear in Michigan within the next few months and that Michigan would enjoy a prosperity such as it has not known in years."

Mr. Foley added that, in view of the fact that 55 persons had made a definite pledge for property enhancement and statistics show five pay cash for every one who avails of the benefits of the National Housing Act, Gladstone's objective of $50,000 is too small.

County Agent Seeking Corn-Hog Contracts With Farmers For 1935

Hog contracts to be signed by Michigan farmers this year differ in several essential features from the contracts which were in use last year, according to the administrator for this State.

Last year, the corn contract asked that the farmer reduce his acreage 20 per cent below the base acreage grown by him. This year the reduction required is only 10 per cent. The benefit payments made to holders of corn contracts will be 35 cents per bushel on the estimated yield of the land taken out of production instead of the 30 cents per bushel which was paid in 1934.

Signers of Michigan hog contracts are asked to reduce the number of hogs grown for market 10 per cent instead of 25 per cent, as was asked last year. The number of litters does not have to be reduced this season if the 10 per cent reduction can be obtained in other ways. Payments for hog reductions are fifteen dollars per head instead of last year's five dollars.

Land owners who quit farming last year and collected benefit payments now will find themselves out of luck because they cannot obtain contracts. The benefits of the agricultural adjustment act are for bona fide farmers only.

Payments on hog contracts will be made in two installments this year. Previously, the hog benefit payments were made in three installments. No change has been made in the number of corn payments.

Limitations concerning crops planted upon land taken from corn production have been made less stringent. Any crop except corn can be planted on this land. There are no contract restrictions this year on the number of kinds of livestock other than hogs which the contract holder may own.

Applications for 1935 contracts may be had at the office of the County Agricultural Agent, Ralph Carr, 303 Calvin Building, Dearborn, Michigan. Anyone interested in the program is urged to get in touch with the agent's office.

Smith Favors Finger Printing—Chief of Police Vaughn Smith is enthusiastic over the plan that has met general approval in many eastern localities to have everyone in a community fingerprinted. He believes that it will work out to the advantage of those who have their fingerprints made as well as the general public. Fingerprints can place every youngster under the guardianship of the United States Department of Justice, says Robert E. Moore, superintendent of the Wayne County Jail Identification Bureau and a state vice-president of the International Association for Identification, who does most of the finger printing for Chief Smith. Co-operation of school and welfare authorities is all that is needed to accomplish this end. Moore said Saturday, in offering to the public a plan whereby every Detroit parent might take advantage of the service recently initiated by the Government for filing the fingerprints of all interested citizens. Although just one year old, the non-criminal files of the Department of Justice have already demonstrated their worth. They are invaluable in connection with the return of lost and runaway children, the solution of amnesia cases, cases involving the transfer of money, and the identification of bodies. Thus far the bulk of those who have had fingerprints of their children sent to the file are wealthy parents who take the step chiefly as a precaution in the event of kidnapping. Moore's plan, however, would make it convenient for any parent to take advantage of the facilities offered by the Government, he believes. "If the school and welfare authorities will agree to aid, all that is necessary is the training of a group of welfare wage-workers to take fingerprints," he said. "The schools would then invite all children whose parents approved to have their fingerprints taken at school, the work to be done by the welfare-paid group. The fingerprints would be sent to Washington for the Government's file. "The fingerprints, of course, would be purely a voluntary matter. I regard it as likely, however, that the great majority of parents would want to take advantage of the plan, once its benefits were explained to them." Such a plan, if adopted generally throughout the country, would within a few years form a practical start on the Government's move to build up a file of all citizens' fingerprints. Moore points out: "More and more citizens are realizing and there is no stigma attached to fingerprinting," he said. "Fingerprints may be the nemesis of the criminal, but they are a safeguard and a protection for the honest man and his family. In support of this contention, Moore pointed to the results of an experiment conducted recently in a New York town. When facilities were offered to the 2,260 inhabitants for having their fingerprints taken for the Department of Justice file and the purposes of the file were publicized, more than 1,000 men, women and children took advantage of the offer. "One man's meat may be another man's hash. Wild oats are much worse when eye is mixed in. Mother love welcomes the child she didn't want.

Approximately 12,600 square miles of Michigan have been aerially photographed, says the Geology Division, Department of Conservation. About 75 percent of the photos taken have been assembled into mosaics, photographs of which are made on request, and sold to the public. When the news story refers to Capitol and Labor, it means 10 rich guys and a fellow who represents one-fortieth of the workers.
