

Make Plans For Plymouth Day At The Northville-Wayne County Fair On Thursday, August 22nd, 1935

Cars In Parade From Plymouth To Get Parking

Special Plymouth Ball Game and Plymouth Merchant's Race To Be Some of Special Features.

Plymouth day at the Northville-Wayne county fair, Thursday, August 22, is going to be the biggest and best in years, according to officials of the fair association who were in Plymouth this week making arrangements for the event.

The old-time Plymouth automobile parade is going to be revived and all cars that take part in the parade and leave at the scheduled hour of fifteen minutes past 12 o'clock, arriving at the Northville fair grounds in the parade, will be provided with a free parking space within the center of the race track on Plymouth day.

President Nelson Schrader and Secretary Floyd Northrop made it clear however that machines that are to be provided with free parking space within the fair grounds, must leave Plymouth in the Plymouth parade and arrive at the fair grounds with machines from Plymouth and vicinity.

Any one whether they live in Plymouth or in the county around here are welcome to enter into the Plymouth parade.

Cars will line up on Main street the same as in years gone by, the parade to form between the city hall and the downtown section. Each car will be provided with a sticker and admission tickets will be offered for sale before the parade starts so that it will not be necessary to stop at the gate to buy admission tickets.

Elmer Smith, who has for years had charge of the attractions and amusements at the park, is arranging a ball game for that day between two Plymouth teams. Details for this contest will be announced later.

Plymouth merchants through Harry Robinson, veteran race starter, are also offering a Plymouth merchant's purse for one of the races that day. Mr. Robinson has not yet announced what the race will be, but he has stated that it will be the feature event of the races this year.

It will be necessary for the automobiles to leave Plymouth at 12:15 because of the fact that the races start at 1 o'clock and the travel from the cars here to Northville and passed through the gates and over the track into the center field where they will be parked, it will take a good 45 minutes.

It is urged that all who plan to take part in the Plymouth parade of cars to the fair be in line by 12 o'clock if possible so the start can be made promptly at 12:15.

Additional information will be published in the next issue of The Mail of the plan.

Two Mad Dogs Are Killed By Police

On Friday of last week a dog owned by Neal Gearnis of S. Mill street was destroyed by the police department and its head taken to Ann Arbor for examination. The test indicated that this dog was mad and it was immediately necessary to have four children of the Gearnis family taken to the Pasteur Institute where they are being given the treatment against rabies. The children receiving treatment are Mary, 15; James, 12; Madeline, 8; and William, 3. This family will have to make at least eighteen trips to Ann Arbor in order to receive the full treatment required.

On Wednesday morning a second mad dog was reported to the police department by the owner and it was necessary for the dog to be destroyed. Several warnings have been issued both by the State of Michigan and the sheriff's department relative to the prevalence of rabies in this area. Most dog owners in the city are taking every precaution to keep their dogs at home and away from other dogs. There are a few dogs running at large which are picked up by the police department and held in pound for the owner, and if they are not called for and the pound fee paid the dogs are disposed of by the police department.

The dog quarantine established by the state is in effect until September 24th, and no dogs will be allowed to run at large during the period ending on that date.

Stone School Plans Its Annual Reunion

The fifteenth annual reunion of the Stone school students will be held on the old school grounds, five miles east of South Lyon on Friday, August 16. All of the former students, and their families, are urged to come and enjoy the day. There will be a potluck dinner at noon. Lillian R. Ransom, chairman of the reunion committee, requests that old pupils who see this notice to advise others who might not see a notice of the reunion.

Ask Government Sanction To Lay Cornerstone Of New Postoffice

Chamber of Commerce To Sponsor Ceremonies In September

Officials of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held Tuesday noon at the Mayflower hotel directed Secretary Leonard T. Murphy of the organization to ask the postoffice department officials in Washington for permission to conduct fitting ceremonies laying cornerstone to the new postoffice building. It will be about that time when the structure will be ready for this formality.

If the postoffice department sanctions the suggestion, it is the intention of the Chamber of Commerce to ask all of the organizations of the city to take part in the event. Both luncheon clubs, all the patriotic organizations and other groups will be requested to be present and take part in the affair.

Chamber of Commerce plans to see to it that it is strictly a non-partisan affair, that the corner-stone laying will be in keeping with the importance of the occasion and that the ceremonies be one of the outstanding events of the entire year.

As soon as Secretary Murphy has word from Washington approving the proposed cornerstone laying ceremonies, steps will be taken to outline the program for the event.

Cass Hough Buys New Waco Plane

Cass Hough of The Daisy Manufacturing company, is the owner of a new Waco, four passenger cabin plane. He has purchased it to use in connection with the business of the company with which he is associated. The plane is powered with a 210 horsepower engine, cruises at 133 miles per hour and has a top speed of 150 miles per hour.

Readers of The Plymouth Mail will recall that numerous times in the past there have been news reports of successful air tours made by the younger Mr. Hough in the interests of the Daisy business. In fact he has found it to his advantage to use air travel to a very great extent, the saving in time frequently meaning much in the promotion of the business.

Meat Prices Here Always Lowest

Beef prices in Detroit have been reduced 20 percent under the prices that prevailed before the meat strike started in that city. Plymouth has had and still has meat prices much below meat prices in Detroit even since the reduction was made in that city.

That tells why there has been no meat strike in Plymouth. All that is necessary for the housewives to do is compare the meat prices in the Detroit papers and note the advantages that Plymouth has had during the past few months. Meat prices are higher and they will be high until after the county government's slaughter of millions of dollars worth of hogs and cattle a year ago in an effort to raise meat prices.

Happy Days For Plymouth

Speedy progress is being made on the 40x80, three story addition to the hadi-crown plant of the Daisy Manufacturing company. Plymouth's oldest and year after year reliable industry. Contractors hope to have it entirely finished late in September.

Forms for the foundation to the new postoffice building will be completed by the end of the present week and pouring of concrete delayed by the rain is expected to start immediately. Many Plymouth working men have been given jobs on the project by the Martens Construction company, successful bidders for the job.

Within another few days all of the equipment will have been installed and made ready for operation in the new plant of the Ford Motor company at Newburg. Except for grading, some outside concrete work and machinery installation this plant is practically finished. This job has been done entirely by Plymouth labor.

A great, towering derrick has been completed at the new location of the Felician Sisters institute at the corner of the Five Mile and Newburg road, where structures over 800 feet long and wings 300 feet deep, four stories high, are to be erected during the coming year. The derrick will carry concrete from the big mixers to the foundations that seem to cover more than an acre of ground. Plymouth men have also been given jobs on this vast project.

Excavation for the new Ford plant in the neighboring village of Northville has about been completed. This plant upon completion will more than double the present payroll of the Ford Motor company in Northville as Mr. Ford intends to produce all of the valves used in Ford cars in his new Northville factory. Only a portion of them are manufactured there at present. Many Plymouth men work in the Ford valve plant.

Construction starts on a new factory building at the plant of the Plymouth Felt Products company, adding more than 22,000 square feet of floor space. When finished, it will provide employment for almost 100 additional workers.

Surely happy days for Plymouth are here again.

Race Program Northville Fair Will Be Its Best

Harry Robinson Helps To Make Up Card Of Big Purse

Harry Robinson, race starter for the Northville-Wayne County Fair Association, who has been assigned the race committee to prepare the race program for the fair to be held August 21 to 24, has completed what promises to be one of the best racing cards ever offered at the Northville fair. The purses are also among the largest the fair has ever offered.

The big race of the meet will be the 218 trot for the Plymouth Merchants and Manufacturers' purse of $370. This race is to start the program on Plymouth day at the fair.

The complete race program follows:

Thursday, August 22—First Race, 218 Trot, Plymouth Merchants and Manufacturers' Purse, $370.00.

Second Race—216 Pace, Ira Wright & Sons Creamery Co., Purse, $350.00.

Third Race—3 year old or under and 227 Trotters, Auditor Williams Purse, $325.00.

Friday, August 23—First Race, 3 year old pacers or under and $370.00, Northville Merchants Purse, $370.00.

Second Race, 222 Pace, The Stroh Brewery Company, Purse, $350.00.

Third Race, 222 Trot, P. H. Grennan, Shaw Bros., H. H. Hamilton, Purse, $325.00.

Saturday, August 24—First Race, Free for all pace or trot, Kull & Bullen Beef Co., Purse, $350.00.

Second Race, 214 Trot, Red Wing Cafe, 5666 Grand River Avenue, Detroit, Purse, $350.00.

Local Fishermen Have Good Luck In Canada

Russell Powell and Walter Anderson have returned from a ten day fishing trip up in Canada where they enjoyed some of the real sport that country offers. While they were in Canada they spent most of their time on Basswood and were successful in landing a number of Canada's famed lake trout. No catches were made of exceptionally big fish, although Russell did land one 17 pounder.

Basswood is a deep lake and is fished with copper lines some three or four hundred feet long. It is also one of Canada's most beautiful lakes, located some 60 or 70 miles directly east of the Canadian Soo.

Both of these local fishermen are so enthusiastic about the fishing in that part of the country that they plan to return there on their next trip.

Bouquet of Dahlias Most Beautiful One

The beautiful bouquet of dahlias that have been on display in the windows of The Plymouth Mail office during the present week were from the gardens of Dr. A. H. Patterson. Just a few doors north of The Mail office, probably never before has there ever been bigger or more attractive flowers than can be found this year in Dr. Patterson's gardens. One blossom in the bouquet is a new variety of the dahlia family, called in some six or seven inches across. It is interesting to know that in this medium sized bouquet of dahlias there were ten different colored flowers.

Saturday Last Day to Pay Taxes Without Penalty

After August 10 Interest Of 2 Per Cent Will Be Added

Next Saturday, August 10th, is the deadline on the payment of 1935 City taxes without the addition of the 2 per cent penalty. After that date a penalty of 2 per cent will be added and an additional 1 per cent will be added on the tenth of each month thereafter.

The city treasurer reported to the commission last Monday night on the tax collection situation for the current year. The city commission is pleased to report that on Monday of this week a total of 39.6 per cent of the 1935 taxes have been paid. On the same date last year only 28.9 per cent had been paid. This is an increase of 10.7 per cent. The most gratifying part of this report was the fact that the percentage has been increasing steadily since tax collections started on July 1st.

It is estimated that a greater percentage will be received by the city treasurer on the 1935 tax roll than for any of the last five years. Throughout the depression years the City of Plymouth has maintained an excellent collection record, which has been surpassed by a very few municipalities in this state, and only one or two in the county. In 1934 a total of 73.4 per cent of the city taxes were paid and from all indications at least 80 to 85 per cent will be paid this year.

From reports being sent in from other cities throughout the country, tax collections are generally increasing, and some cities are collecting as high as 85 to 90 per cent of the annual levy. This condition exists mostly where the legislative bodies of the City have used every possible precaution to keep the taxes down to the lowest point commensurate with the necessary services which has to be rendered. In some cities where budgets have been much higher than Plymouth, the tax collections have been considerably less, which has resulted in a high tax delinquency and a necessity for increasing the annual budget in order to meet operating expenses. In several municipalities in the Detroit metropolitan area, tax rates ranging from $14.00 to $20.00 are in effect.

Whereas in Plymouth the rate has been cut down to $12.00 with a considerable reduction in assessed valuation.

In the advertising columns of this paper will be found advertisements calling to the attention of the taxpayers the advantages in promptly paying the current and delinquent taxes. The State of Michigan has appropriated a considerable sum of money to carry on an advertising campaign throughout the month of August in order that delinquent taxpayers which have been provided by the State Legislature in catching up on delinquent taxes. In some cases interest and penalties amount to more than 45 per cent of the original tax. Under the new laws, these penalties have been removed until certain future dates. The 1932 and prior years taxes can be paid on or before August 31st, without the addition of any penalty. The 1933 and 1934 taxes can be paid on or before November 1st without any penalty, but a 4 per cent collection fee is added and interest on the delinquent special assessment is also added.

It is suggested that persons in doubt as to which delinquent taxes to pay should consult the city treasurer, who has all the available information on hand at the city hall and will be able to offer constructive advice on the matter. In case the first installment of the moratorium taxes is not paid by August 31st, the delinquent property will be put up for sale at the May tax sale of 1934. Everyone should make an effort to pay at least the first installment of the moratorium taxes before August 31st. This will allow the month of September and October for the payment of the 1933 and 1934 delinquent taxes.

Plymouth Felt Products Company Starts New Building---Will Triple Output---To Be Finished in October

New Plant Will be Two Story Structure Covering Ground Space of 80x140 Feet and Providing More Than 22,000 More Square Feet of Floor Space For Machinery

Will Add 75 to 100 More Men To Payroll Demand For Felt Products Has Grown So Rapidly That Present Plant Has Been Running With Two and Three Shifts Most Of The Time During The Past Year.

The erection of an 80x140, two story brick and concrete additional factory building to the plant of the Plymouth Felt Products company was announced this week by Elmer Zuckerman, local manager of the Allen Industries.

When completed it will mean steady jobs for nearly 100 more Plymouth men.

Work on the immense new factory was started Thursday and the officials of the company hope to have it completed and ready for operation by the first of October.

The structure will be entirely of brick and concrete and both the first and second floors being of concrete. The walls of the building will be of brick.

The new plant will be located directly north of the present factory. There will be no basement. It will add approximately more than 22,000 square feet of floor space.

When the plant is in operation it will enable the company to triple its production of felts and padding for automobiles.

The Plymouth Felt Products company has had the reputation of producing some of the best automobile felts and padding on the market and since the plant has been taken over by the Allen Industries, the business of the concern has jumped by leaps and bounds.

Except for the present week while there is a brief shut-down, the plant has been operating on two and three shifts, two shifts being employed at the present time. The 85 men are on the regular payroll.

When the new plant goes into operation in October it will add between 75 to 100 new employes, making an average payroll of between 150 and 200 men most of the time.

Manuel Zuckerman states that the plant will be built as near fire-proof as a building can be put up. The elimination of wooden floors, with practically only concrete, brick and steel beams, will be a great help in fire dangers.

It is not stated as to what company has been awarded the contract for construction but Zuckerman stated that Plymouth labor would be used as far as possible on the building, although this is a matter entirely under the control of the building contractor.

Ball Jr. Now With Trust Company

Plymouth friends of Charles O. Ball, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Ball, former residents of Plymouth, will be interested in the following article taken from the Coloma Courier, where the Ball family is being featured for many years before coming to Plymouth.

"In accepting a position with the Detroit Trust Company, of Detroit, last week, Charles O. Ball, Jr., represents the fourth generation of the Ball family to select banking as a profession.

His great grandfather, Sawyer Ball, and his grandfather, William H. Ball, established the private banking firm of Ball & Son in Coloma in 1896, which was long considered one of the most substantial banking institutions in the community.

The bank of Ball & Son was reorganized in 1909 by William H. Ball and was chartered as the State Bank of Coloma, with William H. Ball as president and cashier until his death in 1922. Charles O. Ball has been president and cashier of the State Bank of Coloma, a state bank examiner, and has held other important banking positions in the state. He is now a bank representative for the F.H.A. Charles Jr. is now 21 years old. He specialized in business administration and received his B.S. degree in June from Olivet College. Another tradition in the Ball family is that both the parents of Charles Jr., studied at Olivet College. His many friends in Coloma wish Charles Jr. success in his chosen work and believe that he will carry on the ideals and aims of his worthy forebears.

The family still resides in Lansing where Mr. Ball was associated with the attorney general's office for two years as one of the special bank examiners for the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spicer acted as host and hostess. After the usual bountiful dinner was served the afternoon was spent in visiting and reminiscing and all enjoyed the day in this beautiful park.

Mrs. Clifford Reddeman attended the funeral of an uncle at the Fowlerville Wednesday.

City Protests Jailing Train Riders For Fees

Fee Grabbing By Bellville Officers Hit By Commission

Stating that the practice of the wholesale arrest of train riders in this vicinity by officers coming from other parts of the county appeared to be unreasonable in a report to the city commission by the city manager last Monday night, the manager was authorized to take up the matter with the proper officials in an effort to determine just why this practice was being carried on.

According to the reports, officers are coming into Plymouth from considerable distance in order to take up the matter with the proper officials in an effort to determine just why this practice was being carried on.

When the men stated they came in on the train they did not arrest them, but had they stated they came in on the train they would probably have been arrested. The men stated they were picked up by these officers.

Urge That Weeds Be Cut Down Now

Plymouth policemen who nightly travel the alleys and vacant lots back of the stores are highly pleased over the fact that some of the business men have been thoughtful and have cut the high weeds. They urge that all of the down town property owners follow the good example of Matt Powell and Anson Stearn who have cut down the weeds in back of the Huston block and around the former 'Auto Body' repair shop now occupied by the Powell garage. Mr. Hays for almost ten years has seen to it that the weeds in back of the place where he is employed have been cut each year.

The officers find it difficult in some places to travel nightly through the high weeds in patches in order to get to the back doors of stores. If owners of the property do not cut the weeds, it is urged that occupants of buildings do so.

Because of the heavy rains the weeds are especially thick and large this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Packard were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin and children at Moran in the Upper Peninsula over the week-end.

WE WONDER

Every once in a while we run across the name of some well known Eaton county resident who is on the state payroll. Not until the last issue of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune came to our desk was it known that Hayes Wells was now in the state employ. Eaton county being close to Lansing has found it quite profitable to keep as many of its residents on the receiving end of a state pay check as possible. During the last quarter of a century that county has probably had more of its population employed by the state than any other county twice its size. Eaton county is supposed to be a farming section. We wonder what would happen to the county if all of its state employes went back to farming instead of gleaming the where-withall from the state's strong box?

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

Apparently Governor Fitzgerald is rapidly finding the weak spots in his administration. His recent declaration showing his dissatisfaction with the liquor control commission and his veiled insinuation that Mr. McDonald had better change his ways or he would "act instead of talking" has had a most beneficial effect in these parts. Then too the Governor's decision to turn the enforcement of the liquor laws over to the state police has pleased the public. If the Governor can within the next two or three months clean up the liquor mess existing in the state, removing McDonald and putting someone in charge of the commission who is known to be free of any McKay administration, he will have done more to assure his re-election next year than through all of his other acts combined. It is generally admitted that Governor Fitzgerald's future depends almost entirely upon his ability to rid himself of the McKay stigma, especially Mr. McKay's reputed domination of the liquor control business. Mr. McKay is a likeable sort of a fellow but he is to the Fitzgerald administration what Leebow was to the Comstock administration, only more so.

"IT'S TOY"

"It's Toy," yowls Edward Barnard everytime Barnard is revealed in some shady political deal or his name is linked with some police affair in Detroit. Of course everyone knows that Mr. Barnard has reference to Attorney General Harry S. Toy who as prosecuting attorney of Wayne county did more to clean out the racketeers and gangsters than any other official in recent years. Barnard's recent outburst against Toy came when his name was linked with the alleged attempt to cause witnesses in the Detroit election scandal to change their testimony. When the finger of suspicion is pointed to a guilty conscience, there is generally a recoil against the accusation. Everytime Mr. Barnard cringes back and declares "it's Toy" he is creating the very same impression one gets when he sees a guilty person covering his face from the gaze of his accusers. It begins to look as though the name Toy haunts Mr. Barnard and his associates.

SUBSERVIENT OR EXILE

If the long-haired, narrow brained cranks of America who seem to be under the impression that Russia is doing much for its people would take the time or be fair enough to gain a little real information about actual conditions, they would quickly change their minds, providing they have the mental ability to do so. Russian sympathizers in America who take advantage of the liberty and freedom that exists in this nation to spread the doctrines of the government of terrorists who continue their rule because of the fear of firing squads and exile should take the time to read an article published in the July 26 issue of The Christian Science Monitor about Russia. The Monitor's article written by "an unquestioned authority" who requested that his name for many reasons be suppressed, told something about the "back stage" scenery that prevails in Russia. A brief portion of the article follows:

"Mr. Stalin and his group have not altered in the slightest degree their hostile attitude toward religion or 'rotten liberalism,' the latter a phrase which they use frequently. They are steadily closing churches and arresting clergymen, and at the present rate may well succeed in their goal of destroying all organized religion in a few years. The ruling faction's censorship of the press, of the entire printed word in Russia, is as severe as ever.

Free speech is equally despised as a "bourgeois fallacy." I know personally of three professors arrested this summer and exiled to the arctic because they ventured some mild criticisms in private conversations. The political police are as active as ever, and one never knows where its agents may be.

"Whether Russia's system can ever be carried on without repression of free speech and a free press or with even a modicum of freedom for the individual remains to be seen. It is unquestionably true at present, however, that Mr. Stalin and his associates consider repression essential to their continuance in power, and all outward announcements of moderation are misleading.

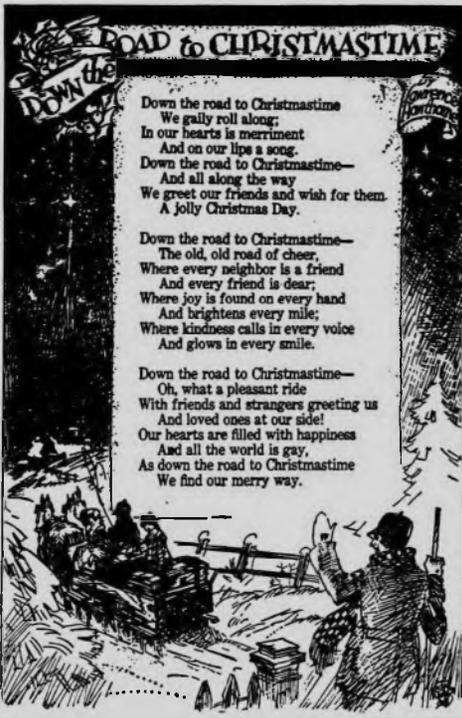

"The mass of the people, who probably prefer security to liberty, seem to accept this situation placidly. For those who act and think as the small ruling group desires, the rewards are becoming greater. For those whose minds compel them to question some of the major policies of the rulers, life becomes increasingly difficult.

"But the latter are an increasing minority, martyrs are rare in Russia, as elsewhere, and the ruling faction, through its control of the printed and spoken word, has reduced the influence of recalcitrants to almost nothing."

DISAPPOINTMENT AHEAD
 They claim to be "tightening up" on the welfare racket. Well, we're all patiently waiting to be shown.—Joe Haas in The Holly Herald.

ONLY BRICE-BATS FOR ALL
 Our newspaper friend who wrote naughty things about us because we ventured to accuse Paul Voelker of being a poor sportsman in trying to retain the job of state superintendent of public instruction, never corrected us when we complained about the liquor control commission, a republican organization, doing a punk job, or when neighbor Read, a republican was an insurgent.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

ADVISES PATIENCE
 The matter of federal aid in its numerous forms for which the government is spending huge sums of money is being criticized and commended largely from a political viewpoint. In every community the administration is criticized for the vast expenditures of money yet every community asks for and eagerly accepts government money for local improvements. None is rejected because it is an extravagant and reckless expenditure of money. Can it be there are those in the counties in which 80 per cent of the population were on relief with public funds exhausted, objected to the government spending in order to keep their citizens from starving to death. The administration is having a pretty tough time of it. Let's not criticize too severely as long as we need its help and are willing to accept it.—H. J. Richardson in The Augusta Beacon.

DAMNED DEMAGOGUES
 Those who seek to win the popular approval through the mere argument that "we share in this nation," are cheap demagogues; what America needs is a movement that will seek to enlist every honest man and woman in a crusade to share the decent responsibilities of life: to keep sincere and serious toward individual and community responsibilities; to be a good neighbor, a respected mother or father, husband or wife, to seek to improve one's self mentally and spiritually, to be tolerant and kind, to be courageous, yet tender. Money is merely a symbol of wealth; taking it away from those who honestly earn it, and splitting it equally with those who are unwilling to sweat and toil and think—doing this is just plain silly. And the cheap politicians who try to capture votes on a "share the wealth" plan alone are recorded in high heaven and low earth for what they are.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

YOU CAN'T EAT THE CONSTITUTION
 Several men were discussing some of the recent rulings of the Supreme Court and other federal courts. The NRA and certain phases of the AAA have been declared unconstitutional. "What's the constitution anyway?" one asked, and then added, "you can't eat it and you can't wear it."
 He was right. One can't eat the constitution. Neither can one eat the Bible. One cannot eat nor wear a marriage license, but that does not justify breaking all marriage vows. One cannot eat nor wear the deed to his home, but it remains a very valuable evidence of ownership and the right to occupy and enjoy that home.
 Every president and every congressman takes an oath upon assuming office that he will support and defend the Constitution of the United States. If he does not intend to do that thing; if he takes the oath with mental reservations or deliberate intent to violate it, then there is a word that fits such a person.
 What is the constitution? Do people realize? Why do they flippantly say "you can't eat it?" Either ignorance or lack of appreciation, or both, of the fundamental structure of our government must be the answer.
 Jefferson, who was a great patriot first and a patron saint of the Democratic party secondly, wrote into the constitution the very things which have spelled freedom and opportunity for the American people. Interpreting the constitution in the early days of American history was relatively simple for the good reason that the affairs of the people were relatively simple.
 Today, because too great a percentage of us tried to live on an unsteady basis—because the economic upset which inevitably came as it must come, and should come—there are those who would change our form of government. These are theorists and the converts of fantastical theory. Their strength lies in the number of people in this country who are so shallow and half-brained that they say "you can't eat the constitution, therefore it is worthless."
 There are indications that a great percentage of our representatives are endeavoring to see how many ways they can void the letter and the spirit of the constitution, instead of trying to follow it and to uphold it as they took an oath to do.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican News.

Understanding World Affairs

Private Charity, Corporations and the President
 By Walter Lippmann

Between one-fifth and one-quarter of the money which supports private organized charity is contributed by corporations. It amounts to about 20 million dollars a year. Of this sum manufacturing companies give almost as much as the retail and wholesale trade. The railroads contribute about a tenth. Railroads contribute almost nothing, public utilities less than one-sixteenth. These are of course, national averages. In many cities the proportion of contributions to charity is much larger. Thus it is evident that for the country as a whole the contributions to charity by corporations are important and that for many cities a stoppage of corporate contributions would work immediate and tremendous hardship.

The legal right of corporations to make these contributions has never been perfectly clear. The directors of a company have never had the legal right to use the money of their stockholders for the community. They have merely been able to contribute to local charities on the theory that these charities give direct benefits to the company's business and its employees. In other words, they were able to contribute on the ground that contributions were necessary expenses of the business and so deductible under the income tax. Corporations have never had the right, which individuals have, of claiming deductions for charity as such.

The right of corporations to contribute has rested on Treasury rulings and court decisions, not on a statute approved by Congress. During the depression, when private charity has had such a hard time, the Treasury has been reluctant to interpret what constituted the "necessary expenses" of the corporation.

Last December the Supreme Court handed down a decision holding that a corporation in San Francisco which had contributed to the community chest could not deduct the amount from its Federal taxes because it had not been shown that the money would benefit directly the corporation of its employees. Since it is now the general practice to pool the money raised for charity in community chests, this decision ruled out corporations as general contributors. They may still presumably contribute to a hospital used by their employees but they cannot make a general contribution to the organized philanthropies of their community.

This strict interpretation of the law was a very serious blow to the community chests all over the country. On July 12 after the President's message to Congress tax bill this session, the representatives of the chests had a bill introduced which would by statute legalize corporate contributions and make them deductible up to 5 per cent of the corporation's income. This is known as the George-McCormack bill. On July 24, in a press interview, the President not only went on record against this bill, but permitted himself to denounce corporate contributions as an attempt to give aid by good will by misuse of the stockholders' money.

The community chests, already in a bad way, because of the Supreme Court's decision and the subsequent tightening up of the Treasury, now go on to find themselves even worse off. For in effect the President of the United States had declared that corporate contributions were immoral.

Thus the community chests are confronted with what may be an almost total loss of more than fifth of their income.

There are two questions at issue. One is whether the President was justified in using his influence to discourage corporations to discontinue their normal contributions to charity. The other question is whether Congress ought to liberalize the law and in substance approve the practice which the President has condemned.

It is hard to see how the President's unqualified denunciation of corporate contributions is anything but a misuse of the prestige of his office. As an individual he is, of course, entitled to believe that corporations should not contribute. As President of the United States he has a duty to say whether he thinks contributions should be deductible from Federal taxes. But he has no right, it seems to me, to denounce contributions as immoral. If corporate directors wish to contribute, they are responsible to their stockholders and not to the President of the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt says that the stockholders' money should not be spent for them by directors in order to obtain good will. What business is that of Mr. Roosevelt's? Where did he obtain the authority to say how stockholders' directors shall spend the money of corporations? Who appointed him the guardian of the stockholders and the arbiter of corporate expenditures? It is absurd. If Mr. Roosevelt can decide on his own what the stockholders' money shall go to charity, he can decide how much shall be spent on advertising, on cause we may cause more people to realize what is going on, it seems to me worth while to discuss the matter with Mr. Lippmann.

If we are to get anywhere, the first need is to agree about premises. By choosing his own premises anybody can argue to any conclusion he likes. Two debaters who start from different premises can achieve little but confusion.

There is a thing which for convenience we may speak of as a premise. It is the declaration of policy of Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace and Professor Tutwiler and the other New Dealers. Let me be careful to say this is not necessarily Mr. Lippmann's premise. But Mr. Lippmann, when he asks in effect what other way is there, runs risk of identifying himself with the New Deal policy. So I generously warn Mr. Lippmann he had better decide whether he is going to stand on this New Deal declaration.

The New Deal declaration is formal, authoritative. It is set out as the preamble of the A.A.A. statute. On this declaration of principle the whole A.A.A. mechanism rests. On this the New Deal has built up its system of limiting crops and assigning quotas telling farmers what they may raise and how much. The New Deal declaration is this—for the sake of clarity I omit and slightly paraphrase some of the statutory verbiage: "To re-establish prices to farmers at a level that will give agricultural commodities a purchasing power equivalent to their purchasing power in the pre-war period, 1909-1914.

Now, my objections to that are mainly two. First, it is not a principle at all. The notion that it should be a function of government to fix the price of any commodity, never-changing income seems to me fantastic. About this I hope Mr. Lippmann will agree, and I think he will.

My second objection is: Why this particular period? Why not 1885? Or instead of the pre-war period, the pre-Civil War period? Or the post-Civil War period? To pick out a particular five years and say that forever the farmer shall have exactly the same income from his crops that he had in the arbitrarily chosen period is difficult to defend. Since the New Deal announces that as a principle and purpose of government, why not similarly fix prices for every other worker, determined by the same arbitrary method? That is a most pertinent question. For right now the New Deal is discovering that in order to maintain fixed incomes for farmers it must move into other areas and control incomes there. Exactly that the New Deal is about to attempt. Exactly that is ahead of us unless the New Deal is arrested.

Of that principle of government and society I suspect Mr. Lippmann will think as slightly as I do. Perhaps as a next step to enlightenment, Mr. Lippmann will state whatever his premise is.

To make a start, I suggest this premise, which seems to me tenable as a principle of society: "The farmer should have the right to decide what crops he shall raise and how much."

Does Mr. Lippmann deny that premise? If he does, he should then face frankly the next question: If the farmer shall not be allowed to decide what crops and how much he is to raise on his own land, then who is to make the decision? Is the government to make it?

In this argument Mr. Lippmann will have a slight advantage of emotional appeal to the audience. For he is in effect defending A.A.A., and A.A.A. for the moment is popular with most farmers. I realize that to the farmer I am appealing for a long range ideal of freedom, as against the immediate advantage of a government check in his pocket. To offset the emotional advantage Mr. Lippmann will have, I introduce an appeal in the nature of sentiment which it might

A gentleman was before the council Tuesday evening with proposition to place name signs at all street corners and to number all houses, the work to be done for $100. The members think the proposition very reasonable and may accept it. They would look very diffident no doubt.

During a terrific electric storm Monday evening, the barn on the farm of Norman Miller, four miles west of town, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, together with the contents. Mr. Miller and his hired man were in the barn at the time and say the fire seemed to break out all over immediately after the crash. Both men were somewhat stunned, but went to work to get out the cattle and horses, which they succeeded in doing. However, some 300 bushels of wheat, as many of oats, 60 tons of hay and many farm tools and machinery were destroyed, involving a total loss of about $3000 on which there was an insurance of $700. The fire was a hot one and as the barns were situated near the house it was feared that would burn too, and preparations were made to move out the furniture.

otherwise be improper to make. I own the farm I was born on, it is a real farm and merely a farm, some 150 acres with an assessed valuation of $16,000. It is a plain farm in a characteristic, old, farm neighborhood, in Chester County, Pa. Mr. Lippmann can look down on it, a few miles to the north, as he goes by airplane between New York and Washington. I go there for solace, when realization of what the New Deal will do to America becomes too somber to endure. For myself, there is no economic advantage, no amount of benefit checks from government, that would reconcile me to letting the government take from me the right to decide the crops I may raise on my own farm.

Phone Progress Barely Started

Theories held by engineers of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission that Michigan is likely to experience little further growth, and that there can be slight further development in the realm of telephone equipment and operating methods, are denied as ridiculous, in a brief filed with the commission Tuesday by the Michigan Bell Telephone company. ***

The commission's engineers had advanced those theories while testifying in hearings in the 17 year old rate controversy, just concluded, in an effort to show that a lower rate of depreciation reserve for replacing worn telephone plant should be charged in the future and that telephone rates should be reduced accordingly. The brief contends that Michigan will continue to grow, both in industry and agriculture, as well as in population. The engineers had added the opinion that the saturation point had been reached in demand for telephone service, which also was denied in the brief. ***

The commission engineers' stand that the possibilities in telephone development have been practically exhausted is offset, the brief holds, by testimony given before the commission by Dr. Frank B. Jewett, president of the Bell Telephone Laboratories and one of the world's leading scientists. Dr. Jewett told the commission of many developments and refinements that even now are being tested, but which have not yet been given the public and which represent definite advancements in telephony. These developments, Dr. Jewett added, naturally lead to many more. ***

The commission engineers also attempted to compare the company's rate of return with the depression years' return made by 41 industrial firms, but the brief holds that such comparison is unfair when made for poor business years only. Those firms, it has been testified, averaged a return of 8.247 per cent in 1934. Their average return for 1928, however, was 12 per cent. Professor Riggs of the University of Michigan, called upon to testify for the commission, had said that the Telephone Company should be permitted to make a return of 6 per cent under present conditions. The brief shows that the company's return on the fair value of its properties in 1934 was only 2.7 per cent, which increased slightly to 3.22 per cent the first quarter of 1935. The fact that the Telephone Company is not permitted, during good years, to earn a return comparable to that earned in other lines, is held in the brief to be good reason why its return should

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

THE BANDITS WASTE THEIR TIME

A YOUNG "bandit" describing a criminal career which will put him behind bars probably for the best part of his life, announced that his whole "career," which included a number of robberies and hold-ups, had netted him only $50. The stigma of crime, a medium of harm to his fellow men, his life ruined—for $50!

The comment is obvious that a similar amount of interest, enthusiasm and effort expended on constructive work would have brought this deluded young man at least a good living, peace, security, respect. And it might have brought him a good deal more. It might have brought him success, leadership, distinction.

It is the age-old story of trying to get something for nothing. And it is not only in the pursuit of crime that we find constant evidence that this does not pay, that it leads always to tragic failure. There are ways besides crime in which people try to get something for nothing. There are petty little ways of attempting to get something for nothing. These are exemplified perhaps more by women than by men, for men are more business-like and it is unbusiness-like to try to get something for nothing.

It is always a waste of time and energy, it never pays—this trying to get something for nothing. And in addition there is the unpleasant feeling of dissatisfaction which every normal person must feel with the consciousness of "trying to get away with something."

Not to be reduced during poor years further than the reduction suffered through loss of customers. The Wagner appraisal, made for the commission in 1931 and brought up to 1934, which was not introduced into the case until the recent hearings, substantiated the company's conclusions as to the cost of reconstruction of the physical items of the telephone plant, the brief points out. Here Is Your Opportunity

Pay Your Taxes Now

CITY OF PLYMOUTH

Save your home - Save interest - Save worry - Pay Your Taxes Now!

THIS month the eyes of America are on Michigan, and its drive for taxes. Involved in its success are the security and happiness of many homes, and the financial integrity of various units of government. Aided by a considerate legislature, the State of Michigan now asks its delinquent tax-payers to meet their important obligation without further delay.

For those who are prepared to pay in full, taxes for 1932 and prior years may be taken care of without any interest or penalties. This means a saving of 27% to 45%—and even more.

For those who aren't able to pay taxes for 1932 and prior years in full, there has been provided a 10-year plan, with the same substantial savings, but with a small added carrying charge.

Those who owe 1933 and 1934 taxes, may also save all interest and penalty, by paying a 4% collection fee. (For these taxes there is no deferred payment plan.)

Regardless of how you plan to take care of the obligation the important thing is that you do so without further delay. The immediate cash saving is an important item for anyone, but no less important is the saving of worry, doubt, and bother.

Acting under the Law, the Auditor-General must soon offer most of the delinquent taxes at public sale. This difficult task will be considerably lightened if the individual property-owners take the situation promptly to heart and proceed to pay their taxes.

See your County Treasurer at once. Show him your tax bills; or at any rate, give him the legal description of your property.

Then he will tell you the exact amount of your back taxes, and accept your payments. If you are not familiar with the details of the tax laws he will give you a descriptive folder that describes in simple terms just what you must do to save your home. See your County Treasurer at once.

BY ORDER OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD.

Church and Sunday School

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Loyla Sutherland, Minister
At ten o'clock the pastor of this church brings the last of his sermons to the combined services of the three churches. The subject will be "To Proud to Pray."
In the evening at seven thirty he will speak in our own church building. This will be the last service before leaving for his vacation. Rev. and Mrs. Sutherland will visit among old friends in Oceana County, where on the eighteenth Mr. Sutherland will speak at a Home-Coming at a country church which he served for a time, after having to give up his active singing work. From there they will cross Lake Michigan and go into Minnesota where they will visit a brother of Mrs. Sutherland, who is Supt. of Schools at Wadena. They will return to Plymouth sometime the first week of September.
During this time there will be no evening services in the Baptist church, nor any mid-week services. Our Bible school will continue in session each Sunday and we urge the attendance of all our pupils for this hour. You will not forget that the morning union services continue after next Sunday at the Presbyterian church, with Rev. Ray Norton preaching.

the world on Sunday, August 11. Among the Bible citations is this passage (Eph. 4: 4, 6): "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one and the same Lord Jesus Christ, and Father of all, who is above all, and in you all."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health," with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 241): "We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the cornerstone of all spiritual building is purity. The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration."

SALEM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Lucia M. Stroh, Minister
Services next Sunday, 10:30 a.m. Sunday school, 11:45 a.m. The pastor will be back in her pulpit next Sunday. Mrs. L. J. Vici, sister of Mrs. Stroh, preached a wonderful sermon last Sunday in the absence of the pastor, who has been ill and gone away for a few days past.
Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, Miss E. Wittich will be in charge.
Thursday this week the Ladies' Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. R. W. Kehrl in Cass Benton Park at the Willows, foot of Six Mile Road. Potluck supper will be served at 6 p.m. Meeting will be held in the afternoon.
An invitation is being extended this coming Sunday, August 11 the pastor and congregation will join the pastor and her congregation of the Federated church in an open air service at 10:30 a.m. on the Huron River-Dexter Drive. Each family bring a basket lunch and enjoy Christian fellowship in God's beautiful outdoors.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
Richard W. Neale, Pastor
Are you looking for a friendly Bible church? If so, we invite you to join others who come to Calvary.
One of our young men, LeRoy Tillotson, will preach at one of the services this Sunday. The pastor will conduct the other service, continuing the Bible studies in the writings of Luke, "The Beloved Physician." These services are at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.
Our mid-week prayer service is on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. The Bible school on Sundays welcomes you and your children at 11:15 o'clock.
Mr. Tillotson, our guest preacher, is now studying in the pastor's course at the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Another of our young men, Arvid Burden, is enrolled in the Correspondence School of the Institute. As a church we rejoice that God has led these two young men into preparation for His service. We pray that several more of the young people of the church will follow the Lord Jesus Christ into training of this character in the near future.
We meet at 455 South Main street. You will feel our welcome.

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Daniel in the Lions' Den.—Under Darius, Daniel retained his high position, being made chief of the three presidents which Darius set over the kingdom. To his fellow dignitaries induced King Darius to issue a decree forbidding any one to ask anything of God or man for thirty days except of the king. When Daniel, nevertheless, continued to pray three times a day, the king against his will felt obliged to carry out the decree. "Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Then he king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting. Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel: Is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions? Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live forever. My God hath sent His Angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me. Thus was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den; and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God."—Daniel 6: 16-23. This illustration is from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures, engraved in 1625.

METHODIST NOTES
10:00 a.m. Morning worship.
11:30 a.m. Sunday school.
The morning union service will be held in the Methodist church this year. Dr. Sutherland, the Baptist minister will preach and the Baptist choir will officiate. Sunday, August 18, the union service will be in the Presbyterian church with the Methodist Minister and choir officiating. There was a very fine attendance last Sunday, and we expect an even larger attendance next Sunday.
The Sunday School Board will hold its annual election of officers at the close of the general church supper in the park this week Thursday night (August 8). Plans will immediately start for the fall Rally Week and the program of the new Conference year. Everyone is invited to come.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH
If the weather permits on August 11, we plan to have our worship service in the park on the Huron River-Dexter drive at 10:30 o'clock. There will be a picnic dinner after the service, so bring a basket lunch and dishes for your family. Coffee and ice cream will be served and a collection taken to cover cost of same. A truck and cars will leave the church at 9 o'clock. Come and meet the people of both Salem churches.
The schedule for Young People's Week follows:
Aug. 11—Open-air service. Huron River-Dexter Drive.
Aug. 12—Roller skating party at Island Lake Rink.
Aug. 13—Wiener roast. Cedar Bend Drive.
Aug. 14—Young Peoples Prayer meeting.
Aug. 15—Excursion to Bob-Lo.
Aug. 16—Banquet.
Aug. 17—Splash party. Silver Lake College.
August 18—Young People's Worship service. Edwin Hamilton, speaker.
Vacation school will be in session mornings. All friends of the Salem young people are invited to any or all of these events. Ask members of the F.O.M. class for details.
Vacation school is in session. We invite your children to enjoy its privileges. Visitors are welcome.

Visit Historic Places in East Newburg
Rev. and Mrs. Davies, after spending a pleasant two week's vacation, camping at Manistee, returned home Thursday evening. The Sunday school picnic, which was to have been held last Saturday, but was postponed on account of rain, will be held next Saturday afternoon, August 10th. Meet at church at 9 o'clock.
Mrs. Edgar Stevens, Mrs. Harry Gilbert, Harold Stevens and Marshall Purdy motored to Brown City last week Thursday and spent the day with Rev. and Mrs. Purdy.
Mrs. Ed Norris and children are camping at Romeo for two weeks and attending the Methodist camp meetings. Mr. Norris will spend the week-ends with the family.
Six boys from the Newburg troop of Boy Scouts are camping at Island Lake this week.
The Y. M. F. class held their bi-weekly picnic at the park Monday evening, with a business meeting following. This class will hold an ice cream social on the church lawn, Thursday evening, August 15th. Hot dogs and pop will be sold also and the fortunate teller will be on hand to give you a glimpse into the future.
Mrs. Harry Kempster had the misfortune to fall down the stairs and injure herself quite badly, but at present is gaining nicely. Her sister from Detroit is helping to care for her.

Grain Threatened By Damp Weather
Excessive rains and high humidity during the present harvest season are apt to cause heavy losses to Michigan grain raisers unless great care is taken in handling the grain before threshing, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State College.
The losses will be in two classes. Reduced prices due to excessive moisture content in threshed grain or losses of grain from sprouting in shocks in the field. A bushel of wheat testing 58 pounds must contain not over 14 per cent moisture to grade as No. 2. Discounts from prevailing prices of as much as seven cents a bushel have been made on wheat containing 17 per cent moisture.
Grain which contains too much moisture to bring top prices if threshed now can be stacked or placed in the barn and allowed to cure before it is threshed. Sweating in the stack or mow will bring the moisture content of the grain down to permissible limits, and the grain can be threshed during dry weather later.
The only treatment possible for grain already threshed is to use plenty of bin space so that the grain is not piled deeply, and to ventilate it by shoveling from one bin to another. One mill has already reported the offering of grain for sale which contained so much moisture that it could not be handled in the mill.

Wheat Crop Big, Prices Good, Too
John McLaren of the Plymouth Elevator Corporation who has already started buying much of the 1935 wheat crop produced in this locality, states that farmers are getting a fair grade, and that the 20 to 40 bushels to the acre. In fact the 20 bushel averages are few and far between.
"It has been years since farmers have had such a yield of wheat. Most of it is of fairly good quality. There has been some

Mrs. George Richwine of Golden Road spent Tuesday until Thursday of this week the guest of her son Perry Richwine and wife at their cottage at Upper Straits Lake.
Mr. B. D. Geer and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Addie Geer of Ypsilanti were callers in the J. F. Root home Sunday afternoon. They had attended the Murrey Reunion at the Riverside Park.
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Root and son and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Truesdell were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lewis at Silver Lake.
Mrs. Sarah Ross was Mrs. Horton Morrow's guest last Friday at Ann Arbor.
Mrs. W. J. Asman of Ann Arbor spent Saturday night and Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Miller Ross.
Very encouraging news is reported in regard to the condition of Mrs. Orville Dunson and her young son.
The parents of Mrs. Harold Young, Mr. and Mrs. Dunson, have moved into their home on the Ann Arbor road.
shrinkage, but not much. Of course the great amount of moisture is making some difference and if these hard rains keep up, it is going to make a whole lot of difference as farmers will find it pretty hard to dry out the grain," he said.
Wheat growers are being paid from 75 cents to 77 cents per bushel for their good wheat. This price is almost double what was paid last year. 40 cents being the average of a year ago.
Plymouth has always been one of the good grain buying centers, notwithstanding the fact that much of the land about here is utilized for intensive truck gardening. No oats or rye have been offered at the Plymouth market, although there has been a big crop harvested about here.

Proceedings Of The City Commission
Plymouth, Michigan.
A regular meeting of the City Commission held in the City Hall, July 15, 1935, at 7:00 o'clock p.m.
Present: Mayor Blunk, Commissioners Robinson, Goldsmith, Whipple and Wilson.
Absent: None.
The minutes of the regular meeting of July 1st were approved as read.
The City Manager reported on the cost of improving Evergreen Avenue from Penlman Avenue to Farmer street.
It was moved by Comm. Goldsmith and seconded by Comm. Whipple that the block between Blanche and Farmer on Evergreen Street be improved by grading and surfacing with gravel. Carried.
The City Manager submitted a report on the widening of the pavement on S. Main street from the Plymouth Mail Building to Fraick Avenue, in which it was stated that the funds necessary for this work were not available in the 1935 budget. It was recommended that this work be included in a future PWA Project.
It was moved by Comm. Goldsmith and seconded by Comm. Robinson that the commendation of the City Manager and plan submitted for the widening of Main Street from the Plymouth Mail Building to Fraick Avenue be approved. Carried.
It was moved by Comm. Whipple and seconded by Comm. Robinson that the City Manager be authorized to submit WPA Projects covering:
(1) Preparation of Assessor's Plats and other records.
(2) The construction of underground work on Plymouth Road.
(3) Enlarging water mains in the downtown area.
Carried.
The City Manager recommended the transfer of $1500.00 from the Contingent Fund to the Sewer Construction Account to cover the cost of the underground work on Plymouth Road.
It was moved by Comm. Robinson and seconded by Comm. Goldsmith that the above recommendation be approved.
Ayes: Mayor Blunk, Commissioners Goldsmith, Robinson, Whipple and Wilson.
Naves: None.

A special meeting of the City Commission held in the City Hall July 31, 1935, at 7:00 o'clock p.m.

On and Off The Record

The Board of Supervisors of Wayne county will consist of 83 members, 66 less than the present board of 149. The reorganized body will meet for the first time in April 1936.

This move made possible by the state legislature after a request by the Board itself, will tend to simplify the administrative government of the county.

Detroit, with 89 per cent of the county's population and 83 per cent of the total assessed valuation, will have its majority membership increased from 52 per cent to 57 per cent. The 18 townships will continue with one member each, this number being fixed by state law.

Dearborn, Hamtramck, and Highland Park will have three members each, instead of eight. Wyandotte will have two instead of six, and River Rouge's five members will be reduced to three.

Max Lemaux, busiest man in the county building, was seen boarding the steamer Tashmoor the other night with a rather extravagant bouquet in his lapel. Query discovered that a devoted Hamtramck florist never forgot Max on weddings, funerals or moonlights.

When can an Auditor fire an employee? This question has been an important one in the past few weeks. Ray Schneider dismissed a stenographer who threatened to sue for her job back and only after Sweetman Smith, assistant prosecutor, ruled that Schneider was within his constitutional rights was the girl reconciled.

The question has again popped up, and this time a ruling from the prosecutor's office may not suffice. From a reliable source it is heard that Bill Erschick, recently dismissed investigator, will take his case to court, suing under the Veteran's Preference Act. He maintains the Board of Auditors violated the law when they dismissed several war veterans. Erschick was a Schneider employee, fired for the good of the service by the majority coalition of Cowan and Williams.

The Veteran's Preference Act dates back to the Spanish American War.

Bill Davey, who with Bud Struthers, is responsible for many of the economy moves of the Board of Auditors, is back on the job. Davey had his back strained in an auto crash a few months back, his riding partner, Supervisor Hale Knight, escaping unscathed. Although Davey has to use an ironing board at his back while working, his brain is working at its old speed and his characteristic touch will be seen again in the reports and surveys of the Auditors.

The filing of chattel mortgages has become an important part of the daily work of the Register of Deeds' Office in Wayne County, according to Harold E. Stoll, Register. In July of 1931, there were only 355 of these papers filed, but this has steadily increased until at the present time the monthly filing amounts to 7,459. This is due largely to the change in the chattel mortgage laws: the 1934 State Legislature transferring all chattel mortgages to the Register of Deeds' office formerly were filed with the Township clerks. The 1935 session of the legislature completed this procedure by adding the city clerk's chattels to this office.

The receipts derived from chattel mortgages has steadily increased from $90,000 in July five years ago, to $1,864,75 for the same month this year. This will be further increased commencing September 21st when the new law goes into effect, at which time all chattels now on file at the office of the eleven city clerks in Wayne county, including Detroit, will be removed to the files of Mr. Stoll's office. A new department is being set up to handle this increase, and it is expected that with the index system now in use in this office, it will be much easier to locate chattel mortgages in the one office, where formerly a search of all the city clerks' offices was necessary. It will not be possible to re-index all the chattel mortgages now on file in the various clerks' offices, but the indexes now in use will be continued for the life of the mortgages. However, all chattel mortgages now received are being indexed under the new system.

The WPA got off to a slow start but development in the past few days has been rapid, and it won't be long before work on several projects is well under way. The County road commission, sponsor of three of the projects now in the making, has started a campaign to build up Middle Rouge Park, putting in bridges, paths, walks, etc. The total cost will be $31,496.50, employing 443 people for four months. A new roof on the County Airport, a sadly needed improvement, will cost $5,617.00 and furnish employment for 23 for a period of two months.

Clifford Darling, who was frightfully bruised in an automobile accident two weeks ago has been released from the Plymouth hospital and is now back at work again, although still suffering from a fractured rib. Darling while driving a bread wagon on Ford road near Canton Center fell asleep at the wheel and turned over in a ditch. The accident happened about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and in spite of the fact that there was considerable traffic on the highway, it was some little time before any one would pick the injured man up and bring him to the hospital. Meanwhile he saw his entire load of bread, cakes and pies being stolen from the side of the highway where it had tipped on to the ground.

Mr. Nolan is sure getting his coat of tan out there. He said he did not mind it a bit. He loves to farm, so that in his old age, he will have something to remember De-Ho-Co. Mr. Maloney feels different, he says, he wants to lead a home life and prefers to stay inside with the cripples. At present, I don't know how many cherries or beans or peas, that the boys picked but I do know, they have been on the farm about two weeks and they expect to be out there at least one week more. Of course, we have not stopped production entirely and we are still building some 48,062 chairs and 101,102 and 84 tables but on a very slow basis, about getting lumber out for ladders, we had plenty of that this last week, wherever you looked, saw nothing but basswood to be delivered to number 1 dormitory, to our good friend Painter, they are able to keep him busy on Sundays making ladders for Mr. Colvin, well I guess I have told

The De-Ho-Co News Briefs and Gossip

That Ice Machine Shorty leaves his glasses with an officer every time he leaves De-Ho-Co. They're not broken or lost this way. I wonder where his hideout in Detroit is?

The way the Old Bull follows the Machine Shorty around. He must think Shorty is his calf.

The mystery of thirteen Dormitory—Who stole Smitty's socks. Famous Words of Famous Men Of De-Ho-Co: Doc Cole (Phil Dispenser Superbo) "Another crack like that out of you and you'll go to the hole." What happened to the "Corpus Delicti" Cornbeef?

MACHINE SHOP NEWS

Well, well, well, De-Ho-Co Editor has left us via the parole route. Who is succeeding him but O'Brien the Commissary Kid. As the new editor of our paper he asks everyone who has anything at all interesting for the paper to make it bigger and better than ever before.

I'll try my share, being as I am clerk of Machine Shop. We still have Gus with us. He is the longest inmate in the shop. Next comes myself being here just nine months and expect to also be here for a long time. The month next month if the man is good to me. I will also have with us the one and only ice machine Shorty. The man with stranger tales than Ripley. If these tales were worth a nickel a dozen, Shorty would be a millionaire. Did he tell you the story of the five black dogs? It sure was a bow wow. Shorty always comes right back a few days after leaving us to get the ice machine running in order again. He knows we would let it down if he didn't come right back. The way he gets a good pair of shoes is always a mystery to me. Well so long for this time. Till I get my pie check—Odios—Veto.

Many of our old friends are returning to the Department, some of the boys have been away for six months or more depending upon their respective abilities to outrun the well known man John Law. We are very glad to see Felix O'Connor and Air Brakes Kelly back in our midst. Air Brakes must have been carrying a rabbit's foot with him as his last few days have been only ten days. Good luck Air Brakes and more power to you.

Let us not forget our friend Charles J. Schidell late of the Plumbing Department. Charlie after having a terrific fire for days to make the grade between the Commissary and the Plumbing Department, with a bucket of muckets finally won out and received his just reward from your stenog. Showing commendable intelligence, Charlie left our midst accompanied by the wails and crying of his staunch admirer, "Shanks." His sojourn from us was of a very short duration and he is now back, but is gracing the city with his charming presence, much to the chagrin of our friend "Heinie."

Not much play around Cottage "D" these busy days. With reopening of the canning factory, quite a few are kept on the steady go. But we still find time for our lovely garden, and have we one, we are certainly telling De-Ho-Co that we have. Such delicious greens, fit for any Queen, just come over and dine sometime.

Mrs. King is now at her home severely ill. We are sincerely hoping for an immediate recovery. Our "Kelly" has departed from our midst, for a few days. It was time he decided the carrying of the previously mentioned should be done at Ann Arbor. We sure hope all is successfully and satisfactory taken care of in a short time. For Kelly is nearly due to go home. Also Evelyn B. is making plans to take off in a few weeks. We wish you both the best, of luck.

We have a lot of fun at Miss Burke's frequent lawn parties. Suppose you wonder what we do. Well, if you care to come to our next party we will see that you are occupied. We have all the implements, namely, lawn mower, rakes, hoes, scissors, and lots of weeds which continually grow in spite of our efforts.

Mr. Nolan is sure getting his coat of tan out there. He said he did not mind it a bit. He loves to farm, so that in his old age, he will have something to remember De-Ho-Co. Mr. Maloney feels different, he says, he wants to lead a home life and prefers to stay inside with the cripples. At present, I don't know how many cherries or beans or peas, that the boys picked but I do know, they have been on the farm about two weeks and they expect to be out there at least one week more. Of course, we have not stopped production entirely and we are still building some 48,062 chairs and 101,102 and 84 tables but on a very slow basis, about getting lumber out for ladders, we had plenty of that this last week, wherever you looked, saw nothing but basswood to be delivered to number 1 dormitory, to our good friend Painter, they are able to keep him busy on Sundays making ladders for Mr. Colvin, well I guess I have told you enough for this month and let me see what I can think up for next month. As an after thought, let us not forget the two Harrys (Behmyer and Greenfield) who make the Chair Shop a more pleasant place to work.

Well, here is all the dope for the month from the Chair Department. We are very busy now a days and its not only making chairs and tables, but lots of farm work too, picking cherries, beans and peas. We don't care, we help out just where we are needed, that is the slogan of the Chair Department, but some of the boys enjoy doing this kind of work. Of course we are not getting much work out at the moment these days, although there's plenty of work to be done, with orders coming in right along.

Raise Game Birds As New Farm Crop

Eaton county will have the distinction of being the first good agricultural county in the United States to be surveyed for natural adaptation for the production of game birds, mammals and fish. These are crops for which demand always exceeds the supply, according to the forestry department at Michigan State College.

The survey in Eaton county will be on lands not now used for the production of field crops. The extent of such unused land, the numbers of game birds or animals now living there, and the amounts and kinds of food plants suitable for game will be determined. A survey of the lakes and streams to find whether or not they are satisfactory fishing spots will also be made.

The work will not stop when these surveys are completed, but steps will be taken to find out how to improve the hunting and fishing and how to make these improved recreational values more profitable to the owner of the lands. Ways of securing more income from the ownership of farm woodlots will also be suggested.

The returns from woodlots may be increased by better uses of the present timber or by plantings of trees which will be more in demand. Cooperative marketing of some kinds of timber to wood-working industries may bring in more money than individual attempts to sell small amounts of lumber.

The survey will be made by picked CCC men who will be supervised by the State Conservation Department and the forestry department at Michigan State.

Milford Opens New State Bank

Over thirty thousand dollars in deposits the first day was the record set by the new Oakland County State Bank, Milford, which opened for business on Saturday morning. Bank officials state they are more than pleased with the initial showing and take this as an indication that the bank will meet with general support.

The bank opening was marked by a salute of 21 bombs, ringing of the church bells and sounding of the fire siren promptly at nine o'clock, as the doors were thrown open for business. The distinction of making the first deposit in the new bank by opening a savings account, Dr. Huffman opened the first commercial account. During the day over thirty new accounts were opened and the bank was open through Thursday. Considering the opening was on the month-end and many businesses not in a position to make deposits, the $30,000 was considered very good.

The bank held open house all day and until nine o'clock on Saturday evening. A large number of floral baskets with notes of congratulation were received from business places in Milford and other banks. During the day many took occasion to stop in and get acquainted. Every lady was the recipient of a rose, given out by ladies of the community who served as a reception committee.

The service charge system adopted by nearly all present-day banks will be in operation here. The charge is a small one and based on the number of transactions as against the average monthly balance. The service charge is applied only to commercial accounts and roughly speaking the customer is allowed one transaction for every $10 carried on his account on a monthly average. Thus a customer having an average balance over the month of $100 would be allowed ten transactions without charge. Over that number a charge would be made. Thus the customer pays charge according to the business handled in relation to the size of his account. This small amount when spread among all commercial depositors is a large factor in meeting overhead expenses incurred in banking operations, according to the bank officials. The three hundred safety deposit boxes are finding a good rental, according to O. C. Thomas with the likelihood that as time progresses the majority of them will be filled. — Milford Times.

Will Attend Letter Carriers' Convention

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Walker plan to leave in a few days for the annual convention of the National Letter Carriers Association to be held in Boston from August 19 to the 23rd. They will be accompanied on the trip to the east by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Landon of Cass City. Both Mr. Walker and Mrs. Landon have long been active in affairs of the association. Mr. and Mrs. Landon were in Plymouth to see Mr. and Mrs. Walker last Saturday and Sunday and to make plans for the trip to the east.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

DANNY FINDS A REFUGE
AS DANNY MEADOW MOUSE anxiously looked this way and that way for a place to hide from Buster Bear, a sharp, squeaky voice almost in his very ear made him jump. "What are you doing over here, Cousin Danny? Aren't you lost?" said the sharp, squeaky voice.

Danny turned quickly to find a little round hole in the ground between the roots of the tree, and just inside was the trim little head of his cousin, Whitefoot the Woodmouse.

"Now," said Whitefoot, "You Have Nothing to Worry About From Buster Bear."

"Oh!" cried Danny, "Buster Bear is trying to catch me, and I don't know what to do."

"Come in here," replied Whitefoot promptly.

Danny didn't need a second invitation. He darted in just as Buster Bear reached the tree on the other side. Buster promptly tried again the hole by which he had so nearly caught Danny. He reached a great paw around the trunk of the tree and brought it down swiftly. But he was too late. There was no one under that big paw. Buster watched and listened, but he saw nothing and heard nothing. Then he walked around the tree to investigate. There was no sign of Danny Meadow Mouse. But between the roots of the tree was a little round hole.

"Huh!" grunted Buster Bear, and began to dig furiously.

Now Buster Bear's claws are long and stout and when he sets out to dig he makes things fly. But Whitefoot the Woodmouse knew all about those great claws, and when he made that little round hole he made it right under the big roots of that tree. It didn't take Buster long to find out that it was quite useless to try to dig out Danny Meadow Mouse. You see, those big roots were in the way. So after a minute or two of useless digging Buster gave up. It was foolish to waste time there when he might be hunting for and finding sweet little beechnuts. So, grumbling deep in his throat, Buster walked off and once more began to rake over the leaves in search of beechnuts.

Meanwhile Danny Meadow Mouse had followed his cousin, Whitefoot the Woodmouse, along a little tunnel among the roots that led him some distance away from where he had entered. It was a very nice little tunnel. Danny said as much as he scampered along after Whitefoot. Whitefoot was pleased but he didn't say anything. He just scampered along and Danny followed. After a while they came out in the heart of a big, hollow stump.

"Now," said Whitefoot, "you have nothing to worry about from Buster Bear. Tell me what happened and what are you doing so far away from home."

Good Samaritan Aids Helpless Birds

THEY were just three baby sparrows in need of protection when Frances A. Urban, fourteen-year-old high school girl, saw them flopping about helplessly in her back yard in Hollywood, Calif., and decided to befriend them. At her home, the girl placed them in a cage near a window. A day later she heard a flutter and saw a grown sparrow, then two, beating wildly against the screen. Suspecting the visitors were the birds' parents, she placed the cage in the yard and opened the door. One of the birds flew in with worms and fed them, daily.

Three Games For Saturday, Sunday

On Saturday, August 10th, at 2:30 p.m. Plymouth will meet the Ford V8's at Cass Benton Park. The game is being played as part of the program of the Producer's-Consumers' picnic. Approximately 5,000 are expected to witness this feature contest of the season. The Roseville Firemen will oppose Plymouth in a double-header at Cass Benton on Sunday, August 11th. The first game starting at 1:30 p.m. This will conclude the three game series between the two teams. Plymouth won the first game, 9 to 8. The Plymouth Schrader-Haggerty's took the first game of the three game series with Pinckney in an exciting contest last Sunday at Plymouth-Riverside Park, by the score of 9 to 6.

OUTDOOR MEALS

AS PICNIC days are here again, we turn to our lists of good things which we have enjoyed and plan a picnic lunch. Those who find some food hard to digest will enjoy them and have no discomfort when eaten out of doors after a brisk hike, or even a stroll through the woods.

When packing a lunch, remember to put in some of the foods that add zest, such as green onions, fresh radishes, cucumbers and a few pickles, sweet and sour. Pickled beets, onions, chow, are all relatives which are enjoyed with the other food.

The sandwiches may be cut and made just before serving, with lettuce, a slice of cucumber and onion, as filling. Baked bean sandwiches are always enjoyed for a hearty meal. Serve them with sliced sour pickle.

Most picnic lunches are made up of starchy and sugar foods. Some of these are needed but the alkaline foods will be needed or headaches and indigestion will result.

Fruits, green vegetables, celery, tomatoes, are all good to combine with the sandwiches, rolls and cakes. Meats are acid forming foods and should be used sparingly.

With the crisp lettuce carried in a towel, well wrapped, add sliced oranges or tomatoes or apples and serve with a french dressing all prepared and carried in a tight jar or bottle.

With all the disadvantages, snakes, mosquitoes, poison ivy, the more we go on picnics, the more we learn what to avoid and the more pleasure we get from them.

Where there is a stream of clear water or a spring, all the green things may be kept cool and fresh as if taken from a refrigerator at home. Much can be said of the sunshine, the glorious out of doors, trees, grass and flowers, sun baths, swimming, games, and just loafing when you picnic. They all outweigh the discomforts, which upset stomachs and disturb the regular routine.

Fan Pleats

Fan pleats from neck to hem and from shoulder to elbow appear in this casual afternoon dress of off-white crepe. The fringed sash is polka dotted black satin. From Maggie Houff.

MINUTE MAKE-UPS

Ears are a great aid to a smart coiffure. If they are small and shell-pink, expose them in their entirety, brushing your hair back from your face. If they are less than perfect, show at least half, with the hair allowing the lobes to show. But remember, consider ears seriously in arranging your evening coiffure.

Question Box

By ED WYNN
The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a coed, at a well known college, and am crazy about a boy my own age who goes to the same college. He gave me a lovely cigarette holder for my birthday and his birthday is next Saturday. I saw a whisky flask, in a shop window, which was made to look like the seven of spades. Don't you think that is a cute present to buy him?
Sincerely,
LILLY KUPPS.

Answer: The present is all right, but he's liable to leave it on a table in some fraternity house, and some other student might come along with the eight of spades and take it.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
My wife and I had an argument last night about the army. My wife says, in order for a man to be buried with "military honors" he must be a captain, while I say he must be a general. Which of us is right?
Yours truly,
LEW TENANT.

Answer: You are both wrong. In order for a man in the army to be buried with full military honors he must be dead.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
Every month, a club I belong to, holds a meeting at which all the members have to tell a story on a subject which is told us a week before the meeting. The subject for our next meeting is: "The Stingiest Man I Know." Will you tell me the stingiest man you ever met?
Yours truly,
O. COMM TELMEE.

Answer: The stingiest man I ever heard of, was a man who fell overboard and as he was swimming ashore a policeman hollered to him that it was $50 fine for swimming in that river and when the man heard that he just threw up his hands and sunk.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I bought a new suit, the other day, and the first time I put it on, the coat split up the back. How do you account for that?
Yours truly,
I. PICTIGT.

Answer: The buttons were sewed on too tight.

Homespun Editorials

Nearing 80 years of age, J. E. McMullen, editor and publisher of the Lunden Times, conducts an editorial column that is as timely and as interesting as in any newspaper in Michigan. He conducts the column under the heading "Homespun Editorial Notes, Wise and Otherwise."

J. E. McMULLEN

So interesting is his last week's comment, The Mail is using all that he had to say in his column, as follows:

Poverty is the best policy, for you have no worry, no taxes, no nothin' to do but live on the welfare.

There is no such thing as getting something for nothing, and the fool who thinks there is will pay good and plenty.

If folks had the right kind of religion they wouldn't worry about the heat and scold the kids for wanting to go swimming.

Canada has started a 'fish week' to begin Sept. 30. That'll be rather hard on the beef eaters to catch and live on brain food for a whole week.

Gov. Fitzgerald has a big job on his hands in trying to mop up the slop of Michigan's liquor business. He ought to get valuable pointers from Brewer McKay.

Now the dailies are saying Berlin don't like the foreign talk about how it is hounding the Jews, but don't think that is going to deter the butchers from continuing the slaughter.

Isn't it strange that W. H. McKeighan, Flint's ex-mayor, should have his name hooked up with the Detroit gang of woody ballot stealers. We thought "Bill" was stalling for the governorship race next year, but leave it to "Bill" he'll come through with a clean slate as he always has.

Ontario has cut all able single men from its relief lists, and is thereby forcing them into the harvest fields, and that's what they need more than help.

Women folks are daubing on their war paint and going after the AAA and all other alphabet busters by demanding that meat prices be cut to the bone, and they'll get what they're after even if they have to become vegetarians.

That poor boob of a boy who thought he could scare a rich widow in handing over $2,000 rather than be killed is now sucking his thumb and crying "what a fool I was." Just the cause of wrong thinking.

A well posted man stated the other day that it was a foregone conclusion that Franklin D. Roosevelt would be nominated and elected in 1936, and for no other reason than the job holders

THIS WEEK'S BEST FISHING STORY

Jack Taylor, whose chief occupation it is to count the dollars and watch the financial operations of Plymouth's "Mail" street (that section of Penniman avenue lying between Main street and the new postoffice) recently returned from a fishing trip up to Loon lake.

Loon lake? Yes, that's the name of the lake. It wasn't named after any one who is looney even though some of the fish in it are known to be looney, says Jack.

Jack enjoys catching goggle-eyes. Goggle-eyes thrive the best in Loon lake of any place in all Michigan says this banker-fisherman.

"What's a goggle-eye?" asked the somewhat surprised fishing editor when Banker Jack was talking of his fishing experience upon the Loon.

"Why don't you know what a goggle-eye is? I thought every one knew what a goggle-eyed fish looked like," said Jack in his well known tone used only when discussing financial matters.

"Well a goggle-eye is of the ambloplites rupestris family of fish. It is not a big fish. In fact I do not care to catch it. I know of big fish I have been reading about in The Mail that some of these fellows say they catch. They're too coarse and fishy."

"But back to the ambloplites rupestris—the fish that lives in Loon lake. It lives in deep water and if you think you can catch one on any kind of bait except a live minnow, you have got to try again."

A goggle-eye is a short fish, sometimes they grow to be 12 or 14 inches long.

"It is also a sort of flat fish, somewhat of the appearance of the every day bluegill that Matt Powell catches now and then. But the goggle-eye gets much bigger than the bluegill. It is also more savage when it bites."

"I remember one time I was fishing for goggle-eyes up on Loon and I hooked one that must have been sore about something. Say that goggle-eye fought worse than some of these politicians do down in Detroit."

"I pulled my line way down to the bottom of the lake and I thought sure it was a goner. Suddenly there was a slack in my line and my thought was that the fish surely had gotten away."

"But I pulled again and the fish was still there. I kept reeling in. It seemed that I was pulling line wanted to go one way and the rest of it another way. What do you suppose? When I got that fish up near the top of the water where I could see it, there was another goggle-eye biting at my line trying to cut it in two, but of course Jack knows what to do when in a pinch like that and you can bet I gave her a good stiff jerk and landed that goggle-eye in the boat before the other one had cut the line off. But it was lucky for me, as that goggle-eye had almost finished that line," said Jack.

"But what is a goggle-eye, Jack, what do we common folks call it? queried the fish editor again."

"Well I'm surprised that you don't know. A goggle-eye is an ambloplites rupestris or in the language you might understand, just an ordinary rock bass."

Government Seeking Additional Reduction In Next Wheat Crop

Michigan wheat growers will be offered crop control contracts covering the crops for 1936 and three succeeding years, according to Chester C. Davis, administrator of the AAA. The contracts will be ready for signatures soon and will be handled through the county control committees chosen by the farmers themselves.

Mr. Davis says that recent court decisions on some phases of the AAA will not affect the government making benefit payments to farmers who fulfill the new wheat contracts. He states, "Even if an adverse decision by the Supreme Court should materialize at some future time, the contract in its present form is admirably devised to protect both the farmers and the government."

"The government would have both a moral and a legal obligation to compensate farmers fully for performance up to the date of such a decision. The government, in fairness and honesty, would pay, and legally would be bound to pay in full for their compliance up to that time, but not beyond that time."

The contract will call for a reduction in wheat planting of 15 per cent from the grower's base acreage, which is already established. The contract signer can not plant more than 85 per cent of his base acreage nor less than 54 per cent of the base. Plantings for years following 1936 may be varied up or down within a 25 per cent maximum, as demanded by conditions.

Harvey J. Segnitz, Jr. Weds Lucille Moss

Simplicity marked the wedding Saturday evening, August 3rd, of Lucille Moss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moss of Walled Lake, and Harvey J. Segnitz, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Segnitz of Plymouth, which took place at the Moss home at eight o'clock with Reverend Evans, pastor of the Methodist church of Walled Lake, performing the ceremony.

Miss Moss was attractively attired in a navy blue crepe jacket dress with pink trim and wore a corsage of roses and sweet peas as did her bridesmaid, Miss Lucetta Moss, a twin sister. Both wore accessories of white. Sheldon Baker of this city acted as best man.

Baskets of beautiful gladiolus, provided by two aunts of the bride, Mrs. Roy Riley and Mrs. Clarence Riley, and other lovely garden flowers were used profusely in decorating the home.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Henry Lepley and son Clarence of Chicago, Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Segnitz, daughter, Ramona, and sons, Leo Roy and Arthur Ramon of Plymouth, Donald Riley and Mr. and Mrs. Moss of Walled Lake also about thirty young people from Plymouth being present.

The young couple will reside at Walled Lake for the present. They have the best wishes of a host of friends here and at Walled Lake who hope they will have a long, happy wedded life.

Pheasant Kill Is Near Million

More than three quarters of a million cock ringneck pheasants are killed legally in Michigan during the annual brief fall hunter period.

This is the conclusion reached by the Game Division of the Conservation Department, based on accurate figures received from 69,845 pheasant hunters. These hunters, reporting when applying for their next year's hunting license indicated a kill of 1,380,334 birds, organ average of 2.6 birds each. With 313,000 licensed small game hunters in the field, it is reasonable to assume, the Division believes, that the total kill is well over 1,000,000 mark.

The enormous annual kill of birds, in the opinion of the Division, is adequate proof of the importance of practical management practices. The number of pheasants shot in a typical hunting year is far in excess of the approximately 20,000 eggs distributed by the state game yard and the seven thousand young birds released from the farm each year.

Good pheasant hunting is largely dependent on the natural reproduction of wild birds and this may be substantially aided by improving cover and food conditions in the present areas of the state," H. D. Ruhl, chief of the Game Division, said in commenting on the figures. "While artificial propagation was essential at a time when the birds were getting a start in this state—especially in introducing them in areas where they did not exist, the state's efforts at replacement now seem minimized by the large annual kill."

The figures used by the Game Division in computing its statistics were based on reports submitted by hunters from all parts of Michigan's pheasant territory and include reports that listed birds killed as well as reports which indicated that the hunter did not get a shot.

While it is obviously impossible it was said, to estimate the number of hen pheasants taken illegally or the number of cock birds taken out of season or over the 1934 limit of four, such figures be obtained, the results probably would prove staggering. This year the season limit has been raised to six cocks but no one knows how that may affect the total kill because the average over several years shows that 60 per cent of the birds are taken the first three days of the hunting season.

Thirty upper peninsula residents who hunted pheasants south of the Straits of Mackinac reported taking 80 birds. The 69,815 southern Michigan hunters reporting took 177,945 birds. Wayne county small game hunters reported by far the largest kill of any county group. The 12,076 Wayne county reporting, took 30,592 cock birds. It is believed that a large percentage of the pheasant kill by Wayne county sportsmen was made in nearby and adjoining counties.

Hunters from Ingham county reported the next highest kill, Ingham county hunters, 4,744 in number, killed 13,670 legal pheasants.

will give an address upon national affairs as they pertain to the farming business. E. E. Kennedy, secretary of the National Farmers Union will also be present at the picnic and may give a short talk.

Everyone is welcome to attend the picnic, the sponsors declaring that there will be several thousand present.

Big Farm Group To Hold Picnic

The Producers and Consumers organization will hold an all-day picnic Saturday at Cass Benton park. The announcement sent out states that people from all parts of the state are expected to be present.

The basket dinner will take place at 12 o'clock, followed immediately by a ball game between the Schrader-Haggerty and Ford V-8 teams.

Whoopie! Mail Team Wins Game

Plymouth Mail upset the league leading Wilson Hardware team 7-3 in the game last Friday evening. Eglott scattered 7 hits over the nine innings and had the Wilson sluggers hitting easy fly balls. Deitle of Wilson and McLellan of the Mail hit home runs. K. of P. made more errors than hits in a seven inning ball game and handed R. & W. an easy win 10-3. Eleven errors were charged to the fraternity boys. Rattenbury pitched 1 hit shut out ball up to the 7th inning. The game was called on account of darkness.

Another upset was recorded for the week when Schraders beat the fast going Daisy crew 9-8. Rigola pitching for Daisy issued 10 free passes and was touched for ten hits. The Daisy batters had a big night at the expense of W. Curtiss, getting 19 hits but they could not make them into runs.

Frigidaire and Hi-Speed, both out of the running for play-off positions provided the best game of the week. Les Herter the jumping third sacker of the ice box team hit a home run in the ninth for his team to win 3-2. Each team made seven hits and two errors.

Wilson Hardware scored two runs in the ninth on two hits and an error to win over the Red and White stores 10-3. Todd of R. & W. and Dethloff of Wilson hit home runs Johnson, the big catcher of Wilson, advanced into first place in the league batting by getting 3 hits out of 5 times to bat.

Garden City Wins Game, Drops One

The Garden City Baseball club took a real beating at the hands of the Knights of Dearborn last week's champion of the Dearborn Recreation League. Scoring 9 runs in the sixth inning, the Knights easily coasted through to a 14 to 3 victory. Manager Henschel was badly in need of a pitcher to pitch Saturday's game when Lowell Hill, Garden City's star hurler turned up with an injured foot. Steve Tatro, Garden City's star hurler turned up with an injured foot. Steve Tatro, Garden City's knuckle ball artist, kept the Knights in check for the first five innings, allowing but four scattered hits, but was knocked out of the box in the 6th when 3 singles and several walks combined with a home run and a triple netted 9 runs. Lefty Mueller and Chub Johnson followed him to the mound. Mueller had an off-day and Johnson kept them from scoring in the 8th and 9th innings.

On Sunday afternoon Garden City eked out a 5 to 2 decision over the fastest of the Grand Trunk team of Detroit. Lefty Westfall hurled the game for the locals and allowed but five scattered hits. Garden City's attack was led by Joseph Higgins and Charley Wolfram.

Garden City will play the Proctor Creamery club of the Dearborn Recreation League Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and on Sunday afternoon, the locals will meet St. Joseph's Lodge of Detroit.

Even Break For Fast Park Team

With George Weber's two hit pitching in the second game at Cass Benton Park, Plymouth was able to gain an even break in its double-header with Hazel Park. The score of the first game was 9 to 7. And the second game 7 to 3.

W. Bassett came out of his batting slump to lead the local boys with a perfect day getting three out of three. He also scored three of the seven runs. In the second game four of the boys were tied in leading the team in hitting each getting two out of four. By Highland Park defeating Wyandotte last Sunday at Wyandotte they cut Plymouth Park's lead in the Southern Michigan League to one full game. The defeat put Wyandotte in third place two games behind the local boys. From the local Plymouth Park team the following players were

Redford Golfers Trim Local Team

The Plymouth Country Club MGA golf team lost its third successive match yesterday by the score of 10½ to 1½ as the powerful Redford team continued its victory march in the race for the Detroit metropolitan team championship.

Although every Plymouth player scored in the seventies, the well seasoned Redford players were just a shade too good for them. Each match was very close and the Plymouth men put up an exceedingly good fight but three of the Redford men scored shutout victories and the fourth gained a half.

John Lock, playing his first match for Plymouth, scored all of Plymouth's points in tying Cecil Priest 1½ to 1½. Lock shot a 78 against Priest's 79. Dick Gray carried Ray Morrison right up to the eighteenth hole only to lose 3 points. Gray shot a 77 while Morrison had a 75. The veteran, Les Sweet playing against Jimmie Johnson who was low scorer for the day with a 73, lost all three points. Ash had a 78. Norm Copland and Preston Meisel had a sea-saw battle throughout the entire match. Each one being ahead of the other by more than one or two holes at any time, but Meisel, taking advantage of the breaks playing beautiful golf, finally emerged victor and won all three points. Meisel's score was 74 against Copland's 76.

As the teams stand now, Redford is sure of a tie for first place in the white league. Plymouth can make things more secure for Redford by defeating the strong Warren Valley team in their match August 26th.

Seven matches were played in the Club championship tournament at Plymouth Country Club Sunday, leaving 9 to be played by Sunday, August 11th.

The only match played in the championship flight was between Dan McGrew and Larry Anderson. McGrew won the match 2 up and one to go. Most of the other matches in the flight were postponed until next Sunday due to the team players being absent in their match with Redford.

In the first flight, Dutch Jewel defeated his opponent, Foster Piazza, 3 up and 2 to go while Les Sweet was winning over Herb Cushing by the same margin. Roy Fisher easily won his match with Ernest Burroughs 5 up and 4 to go. Burroughs was expected to give Roy quite a battle but Fisher is well known among his fellow golfers as a match player.

All of the first round matches in the third flight completed Sunday with the exception of the one between Elmer Zukerman and Mickey Knapp which will be played next Sunday. Dr. F. E. Hoyer and his opponent, P. Wein who is unable to make connections Sunday and due to the fact that Dr. Hoyer is going on his vacation and would be unable to continue in the tournament even if he had won, he requested that the match be defaulted to P. Wein who is therefore advanced to the second round. In the other third round matches, Earl Mastick swamped his opponent Austin Whipple, 8 up and 7 to go while Troy Roddenbury of Detroit was gaining a 4 up and 3 victory over Irwin T. Pierce.

ONE SUMMER NIGHT

By ANNE CAMPBELL

SITTING beside you on the cool gray stone,
I saw through your dear eyes the summer night.
The trees were shadowy, their dark leaves blown
By perfumed breezes . . . In the misty light
Of the far moon, I caught the pure white gleam
Of your loved profile . . . With your quiet gaze
Turned on the stars, lost in a happy dream,
You wandered far from earth's perplexing ways.
I saw the world beyond you . . . reaching space,
The silhouette of trees against the sky . . .
And knew that nothing counted but your face.
You were my world . . . The moon that rode so high,
The stars, as lost as I in mists of blue,
Were nothing. There was only love and you.

When she has nothing in particular to do, Ann Sheridan wears a washable cotton dress—like this white cotton broadcloth with a crossbar pattern in brown and red. A kerchief tie of brown linen matches a belt of the same material, supplying the necessary contrast.

Question Box
By ED WYNN
The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I have a puzzle for you to solve for me. I like to bet on horse races but always break about even. Here's how it is: (one day I win but the next day I lose. What can I do? Yours truly,
WILL I. EVERWYN.
Answer: That is very simple, just play every other day.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
My father says it costs from $3 to $5 to have a tooth pulled by gas. Don't you think it could be done cheaper if the dentists used kerosene?
Yours truly,
A. KEETOOTH.
Answer: If you're not having the tooth pulled, why worry?

Dear Mr. Wynn:
We are a New York family, and my son, who has just graduated from high school, is preparing for college. I asked him what course he intends to study, and he says he thinks there is a great field for civil engineers. Do you agree with him? Yours truly,
I. M. A. BRAKEMAN.
Answer: What New York really needs is cecil taxicab drivers.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
Can you help me? For the past two weeks I have been despondent and have the most peculiar feeling. Sometimes I sit in a chair for hours and suddenly something within me seems to rise, then go down again, and a little later it rises again. What do you think is the matter with me?
Sincerely,
WIGHT MESOON.
Answer: From your description, I should say you swallowed an elevator.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a man forty-nine years of age. I have traveled all over the world and have just returned to settle down in America. I have a big problem to solve first. I have spent nearly all my money, but still have enough, if properly invested, to keep me for the rest of my life. I think I have a bright idea. I intend opening a school for "stuttering." What do you think of my idea?
Truly yours,
IGO BACKEN FORTH.
Answer: Your idea is all right, but who wants to go to school to learn to stutter?
