Rambling Around With Michigan Editors CRIMINALS There is much said these days in the public press about criminals and why we have criminals. The question is not a new one. It is as old as civilization, but in the olden days criminals didn't have the easy going of the modern criminal. Why we have criminals is a question that has never been fully answered—but we do know some of the reasons. During the past few days we have read considerable in the newspapers about the fee-grabbing of some officials. It seems that they have gone way outside of their legitimate bail-iwick in an effort to find "criminals" to bring before the bars of justice at so much per head and so much per mile. Of course their interest in "law enforcement" has been nothing more than just how much they could make out of it in fees. People become criminals usually as a desire to the LIQUOR AND MICHIGAN POLITICS If Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald needed anything more to stamp him absolutely as one-term governor of Michigan, his recent bat-tle with the Liquor Commission should be sufficient to prove that the State of Michigan meeds more than a professional politician for its chief executive.

its chief executive. John S. McDonald, as chairman of the commission, apparently backed by his old friend, Frank McKay, Republican political mani-pulator extraordinary, of Grand Rapids, has been able to defy the governor. Even if he is removed to save Mr. Fitzgerald's face, it will be hard to make the people of Michigan feel that the Liquor Commission under the Republican administration has not become just another patronage dispensing counter, of which the State has plenty.

just another patronage dispensing counter, of which the State has plenty. More serious than the Fitzgerald-McDonald political row, is the resignation of Mrs. Frederick M. Alger as a member of the com-mission. Mrs. Alger is a true friend of temperance. She fought for the return of legal liquor sales to end the evils of the blind pig. In her short time on the commission, she worked hard to keep liquor and political past. How little support she obtained from the state's politicians can be judged from her resignation. True, she was a good sport and did not flaunt her troubles in the newspapers, but the excuse that she must guit a job she has been indersteid in for years because of the illness of her sister leaves an indication of her hopelessness of the Michigan liquor situation. The governor, except for a few trips to his farm with newspaper photographers to have his pleture taken milking cows or pitching hay has made his living out of polities for many years. It is not unnatural that he should think any state institution should be operated with one eye firmly fixed on recruiting and supporting workers for the next cam Pign.

he will be punished. No one has much respect for a criminal of this kind. But what of the fellow who for the very same reason takes advantage of the law. and under the cover of its protection in the sister leaves an indication of her hopelessness of the Michigan liauo situation. The kovernor, except for a few trips to his farm with newspaper bolographers to have his picture taken milking cows or pitching hay, these days, snatches them from the railroad tracks upon which they are walking hoping that somewhere along the way there are galace where employment and security can be found, hurries them into court, sends them to prison because they are dollars in actual cash for "doing his duty?" The man who robs the home under the cover of darkness is a criminal under the law. But what of the man who takes dollars from the public for rendering a service that is not required by the public and that belongs to some one else. Taking fees for useless public service is not a crime under the law, but is an imposition upon the public. THAT LIQUOR CONFERENCE THAT LIQUOR CONFERENCE We do not question the motive of Governor Fitzgerald in calling a conference to discuss what should be done about pro-per regulation of the liquor and beer garden business in Mich-igan. Maybe out of the discussion on the part of some of Mich-igan's judges and officers something of benefit will come-but it would seem to most folks that the law is broad enough and clear enough for the Governor to go ahead and do what SHOULD be done without a lot of time being wasted at con-ferences and discussions. The liquor business in Michigan has become a deplorable mess in recent months. From the outside looking in it would appear that there is just one thing for the Governor to do-and that is to DECIDE to clean up the liquor mess and then DO IT.

The Liquon PROBLEM

WITHOUT IDEALS THE SOUL DIES"

WITHOUT IDEALS THE SOUL DIES" THAT sounds like the tille of a sermon and that is what it was. The sermon dealt with the impor-tance of ideals from a religious viewpoint that the minister said: "The soul dies when ideals vanish." And it occurred to me how true this was from the most practical viewpoint of everyday life. Ideals are regarded as matters al-mong the most solid, whatantial infuences in life. If you stop to this about it, wealth may be very transient. Success may be transient. From ensmity is transient. But the principles we set for ourselves, the ideals to which we adhere. If we ad-bere to them strongly enough are a rock of refuge in a sform. And the ideals are a possession for whose permanence we are dependent on no clumstance, but only upon ourselves. The older we grow the more we rest satisfaction in life, the side, substantial, dependable jows, hose which stay and grow with the rest satisfaction in life, the side, substantial, dependable jows and companionship. LICEMETIGUOUS ITTILLES A WOMAN'S HATE It was long and brown and lustrous—the hair of twenty-three year-old Jane McRae—and those who saw and admired it little re-alized that the destiny of a nation would be woven into its silken strands. But that was before Gen. John Burgoyne invaded New York in the summer of 1777. Jane McRae was visiting in the home of fat Widow McNeil near Fort Edward that summer. She had been warned of the danger from Burgoyne's Indian allies but she refused to go to a safer place. Her lover. David Jones a Tory, was coming back from Canada. She in-tended to wait for him. But she waited too long. A war party entered the cabin. dragged the two women out. Two Indian warriors began quarreling over pos-session of the girl. Suddenly one of them turned, shot her and as the florm the saddle his scalping kuife did the ghastly work. When the Indian exhibited his gory trophy in Burgoyne's camp the general was furious. But his rage was nothing compared to that of the New York Patriots. "Remember Jane McRael" became a rally-ing cry.

When the Indian exhibited his gory trophy in Burgorne's camp the general was furious. But his rage was nothing compared to that of the New York Patriots. "Remember Jane McRae!" became a rally-ing cry. Patriot propagandists spread the tale and that master propagan-tist of them all, canny Benjamin Franklin, made good use of it in stirring up sympathy throughout Europe for the cause of the Ameri-cans. So there is no doubt that the story of Jane McRae encouraged Patriot morale at a time when it was very low and had a part in bringing about the final victory for them. Mrs. George Allen, Mrs. Nelson

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Job's Patience.—The story of Job is told in prose at the beginning and end of the book which bears his name. A wealthy, God-fearing man, living in patriarchal style in the land of Uz, he suddenly is prostrated by a succession of calamities, and is stripped of possessions, of children and of health, a series of sufferings which he patiently endures. Three of his friends, Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar, visit him and a discussion, in poetry, takes place between them. Previously the narrative has declared that Job is righteous, and that sin is not the cause of his sufferings. In the last chapter Job realizes and confesses that in his discussion he had spoken heyond his knowledge. A prose conclusion describes the end of Job's life in peace and pros-perity.—Job 13: 16-17. This illustration is from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures, engraved in 1625.

NEW LIGHT on an OLD SUBJECT WE WELCOME the new light that's been thrown on the subject of banking and there's been a great deal of it in the past few years and months. Frankly, some of it appears rather uncalled for, but for the most part the criticism has been sound and construc-tive. We feel that scrutiny of Banks and Banking methods must result in improved methods, better public relations and future progress. We are sincere in our efforts to make this a better bank by adopting many of the newer, more modern, and construc-tive ideas.

Phone Company Helps Officers

Michigan law enforcement officers are being supplied with copies of the fourth edition of the Police Telephone Directory by the Michigan Bell Telephone company. The book contains the names, and residence and onlice telephone numbers of peace officers throughout the state and is designed primarily as a telephone reference list for their use in getting in touch with each other quickly, day or night, either at memby or distant points. It is being distributed free to those, state, county and municipal police officials listed in the book.

The first section of the oil tory lists the location, comma er in charge and felenhone un ber of all state police deta ments. The second contains alphabetical list of Michigan's counties, the names of the si fifs and their home and of telephone numbers. Next are 1 ed, alphabetically, the more portant Michigan cities and lages, with the names of the po chiefs and their residence : office telephone numbers.

In the center of the book is a cross reference table giving rates for station-to-station long distance telephone aslls between 36 points representative of every section of the state. There also are pages of reference to police use of the teletypewriter. a map of the Wayne county teletypewriter system. information with respect to long distance telephone conference service, and sheets for listing frequently used telephone

Many a man who embarks on the sea of matrimony wishes he had missed the boat.

Many a man has been carried under by the weight of his own dignity.

The race is not always to the swift. Some of us spend all our lives trying to catch up with our good intentions.

The Record There are very few of us who have not come in contact with Justices of the Peace. Either we have had the misfortune to overstep the law or one of our close friends have. It would be hard to find anyone in Michigan who did not have a story to tell about these justice courts.

On and Off

John C. Cowan. County Auditr. started a single-handed exose of the greedy justices and hreatened dire results if they with behave. It isn't that all ustices are bad. There are many ood ones. In fact there are proably more good ones than there re those who wish to take adantage of their office.

The primary evil rests with the court set-up, Lgadets of government research are unanimous in the belief that the fee sydees of in decourses it as unaccupuload of the system of the system tainly take advantage of the chance to make a lot of money. If a man is elected who really means to be honest but who is a little weak, he has the temptation right before him if extenuating charmenes turn up.

John Cowan is eminently right in wanting to purge the Justice courts. However, relorm shouldn't stop here but should be continued until the court system is entirely free from the fee system. We don't want the possibility of having this dreadful thing happening again.

Indians and Advertising

Imagine a white moving picture screen. On the lower left corner visualize a crouching Indian on an over-hanging cliff a 1,000 feet above the valley below. The feathers on his head are blowing in the wind. To his right there is a cracking fire sending up a weaving column of smoke. The Indian is gazing at something in the distance. On your white moving picture screen now note that distant scene toward which the Indian is gazing. It is on the upper right corneranother high mountain crag miles away. You can just perceive another curling column of smoke rising from it.

This picture, which you have thrown on the screen of your mind recalls the limited primitive method of communication available to the Indian. Today we have the telephone and the radio.

Years ago, people were dependent upon neighborly word of mouth transmission of information pertaining to what was new at the stores and shops of the day.

Of course, "mouth-to-ear" publicity is still very effective.

But, you don't have to wait for it.

You can pick up YOUR HOME PAPER turn to its advertisements and learn at first hand what fresh vegetables are available what new breakfast food is on the market, what is the latest fashion in clothes, furniture, etc.
