

High State Veterans' Official Damns Un-American And Disloyal Propoganda In An Address Here

A Large Number Of War Vets Hear Warning

Berates Politicians Who Would Change Or Amend Constitution That Has Been Protector Of World's Greatest Nation.

Before one of the largest meetings held during the present winter by the Ex-Service Men's club of Plymouth and the Auxiliary of the organization, R. J. Vandenberg, state commander of Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars, Monday night branded as un-American and a real danger to the attack now being made upon American ideals and the constitution of the United States.

He was introduced to the audience that nearly filled the Jewell-Blaich hall by the newly elected commander of the Plymouth Ex-Service Men's club, Harry Hunter.

The soldier who was one of the first sent overseas and one of the last to be returned to his native soil and who has been honored by being elected to the highest office within the gift of his comrades in Michigan, at a time in hitting squarely in the face the disloyal teaching of Socialism, Communism and other similar schemes advocated by opponents of America's free governmental ideas.

His assailed congress for its enactment of such un-American Legislation during the past few years and declared that the time had come from American people to awake to the dangers that confront their lives and liberty.

In part he said: "For many years the American people have failed to understand and appreciate their American Heritage.

"We have been negligent in our duty—and ignored responsibilities toward American Ideals.

"We have for the past fifty years, allowed the Principals of Representative form of Government, such as specified in our Constitution, to be replaced by dangerous Socialist or direct action form, with no solution or hope of recovery assured. Homes are being wrecked, divorces are on the increase. Many church doors are closed—other pauperized schools devoting much time to the study of recovery of money that is placed in immediate circulation among the business men of this city, declared Commander R. J. Vandenberg of Foreign Wars in his talk to members of the Ex-Service Men's club Monday evening.

"Before coming out here, I made a check as to the number of veterans in Plymouth and this locality and also as to the amounts they will get if our present bill is not killed by President Roosevelt as he has nearly a $100,000 that will be spent in Plymouth in the payment of bills, and in the purchase of merchandise and homes," he said.

High standards of individual and Institutional Character made America Great. We must depend upon these characters in the future. We must have a revival of devotion to duty and American patriotism. We must understand the spirit which inspired the Founders of our Republic to become the hardest workers in the world, as they cleared the land, cleared the forests, tilled the soil, built homes, churches, schools and factories. They laid the foundation for the first and only successful government in history. By their skill, they invented and built machines, harnessed steam and electricity, and we became the greatest industrial nation in the world, making possible luxuries of life—never known before for the comfort of humanity. Are we today assuming as wholesome and normal attitude toward industry and life as was characteristic of those who have taught us by example, and left us such wonderful heritage?

We have evidence that in recent years the disposition to substitute shrewdness, cleverness, reckless speculation gambling, "blue sky" stock jobbing schemes, patent medicine, cure-all legislation, in place of clean American, straight constructive achievement, and accomplishments, through the processes of honest endeavor.

Achievement—by honest toil—is the key to happiness, contentment and success. Too many of us concentrate too much on the thought of "How much can we get" and too little on the question "How well can we serve." The realization that ultimately, in the great plan of the Divine Providence, the Law of Compensation will work as surely as the Law of Gravitation.

Van Den Berg, Michigan, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Local Vets To Get $100,000.00

Between $80,000 and $100,000 is the amount that will be paid to veterans of Plymouth and vicinity—money that will be placed in immediate circulation among the business men of this city, declared Commander R. Fix Tax Penalty Date For Jan. 20

January 20 is the final date fixed by the city commission for the payment of 1935 taxes. The brief extension granted sometime ago will expire on that date and all taxpayers who have not paid are urged to do so before that date. After January 20, the city commission has decided that the four per cent penalty will be added to all taxes. This penalty can be avoided by the immediate payment of taxes.

Unemployed Can Register Jan. 16

Thursday, January 16 is the date that has been fixed for another registration of all unemployed people in Plymouth who have not already registered with the National Re-employment Service. Registration will take place at the city hall.

A representative of the Government's re-employment service will be at the city hall from 9 o'clock in the morning until 3 in the afternoon to take registrations.

Candidates Must File By February 1

If you have any idea that you want to be a candidate for the city commission, or if your friends want to nominate someone for one of the places to be vacant this spring, you have only until Saturday, February 1 to file your petitions with the city clerk.

The terms of Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple and Oliver Goldsmith expire. Mrs. Whipple's many friends are urging her to become a candidate to succeed herself. Mr. Goldsmith has run again but some of his friends have requested that he change his mind. No other candidates have so far been mentioned.

Fire Destroys School Building At Northville

Board Carries Almost Enough Insurance To Replace Loss

The third disastrous fire in this locality within a week early Monday morning leveled to the ground the two story brick grade school building at Northville, causing a loss reported to be in excess of $50,000.

The flames apparently started in a wooden cupola on the east end of the building. Sparks from the smokstack are believed to have been blown into this frame part of the structure. There was a high wind blowing at the time.

William Horsfall, school janitor, discovered the fire but meanwhile some one else had seen the flames breaking through the roof and called the fire department. Within an exceedingly short time the entire building was in ruins. For the second time within a week the Plymouth fire department was called to assist the Northville department. The two departments fought together the three fires that have caused such a great loss in the two communities.

Fortunately for the Northville school district, the board has carried $41,000 insurance on the destroyed building, according to Dr. E. B. Cavell, president of the board. The district has recently let contracts for a six room addition to the high school building. The school board president stated that when the grade building is rebuilt, it will probably be made a part of the high school structure, which was built in 1915 to replace the one that had also burned to the ground. The 400 grade school children are attending classes in the American Legion hall and churches in Northville, which have been opened to the school.

Woodworth Sale, And Candy Offer

Another important mid-winter sale is announced in this week's issue of The Plymouth Mail—and with the announcement there is a coupon in the ad that will bring two pounds of candy with the coupon, and only 12 cents. The advertisement is of the Woodworth store. It carries bargain prices on hundreds and hundreds of items. But one must have the entire ad to find out all the vast number of bargains offered.

Blunk Bros. big sale has so far been remarkably successful. The sale, which continues the rest of the month, has enabled the shoppers of this entire locality to secure many remarkable good buys, and there are many more of them to be had.

Old Church Bible Not Burned

Strange things sometimes happen at fires.

The old Presbyterian church Bible that served many pastors for the church over a long period of years, did not burn.

When the flames died away, there was revealed in the church study the old pulpit and on it rested the Bible, damaged only by water.

Its pages were as good as ever and it was the only thing in the entire church that was not ruined or damaged by the flames.

Did You Know That

The next meeting of the Plymouth Townsend club will be held Monday evening, January 20, at 8 o'clock in the Jewell and Blaich hall. President Charles Olds announced that everyone will be welcome to attend.

Judge Jefferies Makes Plea For Old Age Pension

Large Crowd Hear Strong Address In Behalf Of Old People

Officers elected by Plymouth's newly organized Townsend Club: Charles Olds, president; Albert Gates, vice president; Henry Fisher, treasurer; Mrs. Herbert Finton, Sec.

Judge Edward Jefferies of Detroit advocated the Townsend plan at a mass meeting held Monday evening at 8 o'clock, which filled the seating capacity of the First Baptist Church of Plymouth. He explained how this plan aimed to retire from gainful employment every man and woman at the age of 60 years on a pension of $200 to be paid and spent each month. He estimated that there were 10,000,000 persons over 60 and that about 8,000,000 would avail themselves of the pension, necessitating eighteen or nineteen billion dollars a year for this purpose.

"One year ago there were no Townsend Clubs organized east of the Rockies," Judge Jefferies said. "Since the convention held in Chicago last July more than 700 clubs have been organized. Over 60 per cent of the people believe in a pension ranging from $30 to $200 per month but the masses don't understand it is a financial as well as an old age plan."

He stated we are living under a competitive system and there must be a profit system for industry and demand for products. Lack of demand means lack of supply, and money is needed for the exchange of goods. The surplus goes to the banks. Roosevelt's production was cut on hogs, cotton and potatoes.

"Roosevelt destroys the surplus and Townsend wants to eat it," said Judge Jefferies.

People jumped from Mr. Hoover's trying plan into Mr. Roosevelt's. Hoover's Refinance Corporation was formed. Congress appropriated $500,000,000 to save the railroads, the insurance companies and the banks. Roosevelt's billions into CWA, PWA, etc. Congress passed NRA to prevent cut-throat competition and invited business to fix prices and labor to organize. Only big business could fix prices under the NRA. Labor organized company unions and others organized. Collective bargaining was rampant. Fallacious wages were on the dole with heads of families receiving $4 or $5 per month.

"Big boys sent prices up, but Roosevelt did not send consuming power of labor up. When supplies withdrew there was no effect on prices; big corporations got the benefit of the war," the speaker related, and there are eleven million on the dole.

It was stated that the senate appropriated twenty billion dollars to prosecute crooks. It takes fifteen billion to pay the interest on the debt of the country, not accounting for rents, profits, etc. Leave ninety per cent of the forgotten man is the man who has fallen in the economic race and he falls at the age of 40 today. He is outlived from industry at 60.

The speaker said objections were made to taxing people for raising the funds for the plan, but told how the plan was to deal in wheat. Twenty-seven billion bushels of wheat were bought and sold on the stock exchange. Two per cent on the turnover for the Townsend plan would go a long way. Prison Employees Are First To Aid

Employees of the Detroit House of Correction have the honor and distinction of being the first to contribute to the proposed building fund for Plymouth's new Presbyterian Church.

At the meeting of the Rotary club last Friday noon, Blake Gillies, assistant superintendent of the prison, presented a check of $50 to Rev. Walter Nichol to be used in the erection of the new church.

Mr. Gillies explained that the prison employees regretted greatly the fire loss that had come to this city, but that they wanted in some little way to have a part in the rebuilding of a greater and more modern church. Their check of $50, said Mr. Gillies, was the one way in which they thought they could best express their sentiment in the matter.

Postal Gain Is Made During '35

According to a report just made by Postmaster Bert Giles, the postal receipts for the city of Plymouth took a big jump during the last three months of 1935. The increase for the three months period was $106,550.

The same report shows a gain for the entire year, although the total sale, dropped off $650 under the year 1934. The cancelling machine record, however, showed a five per cent increase over the year previous.

The report indicates a healthy gain for the year states Postmaster Giles.

Hope to Make the President's Ball Largest Of All

Ticket Committee Out To Make Record Sale This Year

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Cass S. Hough, general chairman of the Birthday Ball for the President, to be held at the Wayne County Training School auditorium on Thursday evening, that tickets are now on sale for the event. Mrs. Hough and the others who are working with her to make the 1936 ball the largest ever held here, say they believe their objective will be accomplished because of the unusual interest that is being displayed in the event.

Arno Thompson, general chairman of the ticket committee, has placed tickets with every member of the committee and at three convenient places in this city where they can be secured, the Mayflower hotel, Wiloughby's shoe store and the Dodge drug store. The national committee hopes to raise a million dollars through the balls this year to be used in the fight against infantile paralysis.

Lutherans Hold Annual Meeting

At an annual meeting, attended by about one half of the eligible voting membership of the congregation, St. Peter's Lutheran Church Tuesday evening, January 14th, heard reports on past progress and made plans for the future.

The meeting was formally opened by the pastor and assembly with prayer and a hymn and the reading of the impressive, prophetic words of Paul to Timothy in the 4th chapter of the second epistle, containing the apostle's warning concerning the state of the Church in our present age.

The pastor thereupon read the annual report on the spiritual growth of the congregation and statistical resume of the ministerial acts performed in 1935. Comparing the outward, numerical strength of the congregation in the past year with that of the years previous, it became apparent that the Holy Supper during the year numbered approximately 450, a gain of 150 over 1934. Inasmuch as communion attendance may be considered a safe criterion of congregational life spiritually, this increase is one to be noted with gratitude indeed. And only inasmuch as all these figures (Continued on page seven)

Mr. Thatcher while at the show is picking out the latest offerings of the furniture factories of the United States for the Plymouth store. In a letter to Mr. Blunk he tells of the amazingly beautiful lines of home furnishings displayed and at most reasonable prices.

"Never has there been anything like it," he writes. During the past year the furniture business of Blunk Bros. store has more than tripled. This is due to the fact that a determined effort has been made to get the best that the market offers and to sell it at prices far below the offerings of Detroit or Ann Arbor stores.

Ticket Committee Out To Make Record Sale This Year

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Cass S. Hough, general chairman of the Birthday Ball for the President, to be held at the Wayne County Training School auditorium on Thursday evening, that tickets are now on sale for the event. Mrs. Hough and the others who are working with her to make the 1936 ball the largest ever held here, say they believe their objective will be accomplished because of the unusual interest that is being displayed in the event.

The national committee hopes to raise a million dollars through the balls this year to be used in the fight against infantile paralysis.

Reports prepared by Keith Morgan, treasurer of the National Committee for the Birthday Ball, showed that $1,071,000 was raised for the fund on January 30, 1935, at the national-wide Birthday Ball celebration. This was $88,000 more than the sum raised in 1934, when the first ball was held, and the 1936 National Committee, under the chairmanship of Colonel Henry L. Doherty, believes that an even greater total will be raised this January 30.

As officers of this month's celebration, which will honor President Roosevelt's fifty-fourth anniversary, will outline the two previous ones, Colonel Doherty declared that already 5,000 communities had forwarded to his committee whole-hearted pledges of participation in the 1936 Birthday Ball.

In his report to the President, Mr. Morgan gave additional details of the mounting of the funds raised for the 1935 affair by 5,600 communities.

His service as national treasurer was without compensation. Mr. Morgan reported. So were the services of Colonel Carl Byoir, general chairman of the National Committee of the Birthday Ball for the President, and of Emilie Watson, director of State organizations, without compensation. The clerical staff, Morgan said, had been paid at prevailing rates.

The seventy per cent share of the $1,071,000 returned to the committees is being expended in their communities in various ways. Colonel Byoir reported. Generally he said, the larger cities simply divided their funds among orthopedic hospitals, operations on crippled or otherwise afflicted by infantile paralysis.

To the President's Birthday Ball Commission for Infantile Paralysis Research $241,000 had been turned over.

Out of this sum the commission allocated $110,000 in grants to ten institutions to assist research projects and to defray administration costs.

Funds remaining to the commission will go to other projects or to extend the work of present projects, according to recommendations from an advisory medical committee.

This committee consists of Dr. George W. McCoy, United States Public Health Service, chairman; Dr. Max M. Peet, University of Michigan; and Dr. Doris M. B. (Continued on page four)

Flames Within Two Brief Hours Wipe Out Historic Building — Church Board To Move Carefully In Starting Building Plans.

From out of the ruins of the historic and beautiful Presbyterian church where Plymouth residents for nearly a century have gone to worship each Sunday, destroyed by fire in less than an hour last Thursday evening, there will arise during the next summer a new and modern church.

But according to Rev. Walter Nichol, the church members are going to assume the tremendously big task a step at a time and not until every detail has been worked out will the new church be started. He stated yesterday that it will doubtless be two weeks before a building committee can be selected.

The church organization has $20,500 insurance on the building. The structure has been termed a total loss by local insurance men, but until the final settlement has been made, it will not be known just how much of the policies will be paid.

Rev. Nichol states that the church is without financial obligations at the present time. This places the congregation in a much more advantageous position than many others have been when faced with similar emergencies.

Seldom has a fire made such rapid progress in such a short time as this one. It was started at 8 o'clock in the evening when discovered by Rev. Walter Nichol who immediately summoned the fire department. For the first fifteen or twenty minutes it looked as though the fire department had the flames under control.

But the fire had found its way up back of the big pipe organ and had gotten between the old roof and the new one. A number of years ago when a new roof was placed on the church, the old roof was not removed. The walls at the peak were built up about two feet, so as to give the roof a pitch over the old one. When the fire reached this space it seemingly spread almost immediately to all parts of the upper part of the church.

There was an explosion, gases and smoke which had collected between the old and new roof, blew a hole through the structure.

Almost immediately the entire building was in flames and in spite of the work of the Plymouth fire department aided by the departments from both Northville and the House of Correction, the fire spread with such great rapidity that nothing could check it.

Seemingly in less than an hour the entire building was a mass of ruins and by eight o'clock, only the heavily constructed outer brick walls were left standing.

A more thorough investigation has shown that the flames without doubt started in the boiler room. It is possible that the door was blown open in some way and fire which fell on the floor, started the disastrous blaze.

The church auditorium as well as the new church house and all its furnishings were completely destroyed.

Put Ashes on Ice Covering Walks

Because of the icy conditions of sidewalks in numerous parts of the city, and the danger of injury, especially to elderly people, City Manager Charles Blount urges that the property owners cover the ice with sand or ashes. If this little precaution is taken, it will prevent what might be a serious fall and injury to some person.

Up to the present time there have been no cases of serious injury reported, but in other winter seasons several Plymouth people have been badly injured as the result of falling on the ice.

If the condition of the ice is such that it cannot be removed for the present, use a few ashes in covering, and in other ways appreciate your thoughtfulness.

THE KIND OF A GOVERNOR MICHIGAN NEEDS

It is common knowledge that for the past decade Michigan's state government has floundered about like a ship at sea without rudder and without power to move. The taxpayers once voted for a wind-bag who promised everything and did nothing, except break his promises. They voted for a Democratic governor who was as liberal with promises as had been his two predecessors and who did as little as they did. Again the voters switched back to the Republican party. And still there seems unlimited dissatisfaction everywhere, and stories from Lansing are just as accusing and as damning as they were during the previous administration.

We have about come to the conclusion that the time has come for Michigan to turn back its government into the hands of some one who is fearless, who is tied to no political clique, who has no "invisible" boss, who knows about government, and who has that inquisitorial instinct that is sufficiently strong enough to direct investigations into rumors of rottenness and corruption that will send some of the political crooks to jail, some one who will not be AFRAID to do his duty just as he sees it.

Maybe this year is the time to elect O. L. Smith, former special deputy attorney general and United States district attorney, governor of Michigan. Maybe the time is not until two years later—but the sooner some one of the type of Mr. Smith is back in the governor's chair, just that much quicker will the taxpayers of Michigan once again feel that they have some one who is serving them rather than special political groups whose only interest in government is what they can get out of it.

Mr. Smith has every qualification that a good governor should have. He knows the necessity of economy in the conduct of state's business. He has proven himself to be a successful executive and administrator. During the time he was with the attorney general's department, he made the first general drive against the "Red" movement in Michigan—and he drove the "Reds" from this commonwealth. He has more than once demonstrated that he is tied to no clique, no political gang and that if governor of Michigan, HE WOULD BE THE GOVERNOR.

If the Republican "leaders" of the state are really sincere in their desire to give Michigan the kind of a government the taxpayers are entitled to have, there are many, many men of the type of O. L. Smith they can turn to to lead Michigan out of the mess it has been in for nearly ten years.

INTERESTING INFORMATION

To the over-burdened taxpayers of Plymouth and vicinity who find the tax burden growing by such leaps and bounds that they are wondering how much longer they will be able to bear the burden, it might be interesting to know just how a small fraction of this tax money is being spent.

The four billion, eight hundred and eighty million dollars that is being spent on President Roosevelt's program of made work covers a multitude and wide variety of projects. They range from teaching tap dancing, art classes, theatrical productions to the digging of a canal across Florida, the construction of duck ponds in North Dakota and some other states. The following paragraphs cover briefly a very few of the many thousands of similar projects this vast amount of public money is paying for:

An allotment of $14,762 to build a lily pond at Placerville, Calif.

A community poultry house at Lisbon, N. J., to cost $1,265.

For community gardens in Texas, $2,226,500.

For Duluth, Minn., federal government funds of $117,429 were allotted to build an athletic field, including a tennis court, ball field, field house and grand stands.

A $330,000 project for building 15,000 sanitary toilets in rural districts in twenty-one Colorado counties.

An allotment of $1,349 to paint the fire-hydrants of Wilmington, Del.

An allotment of $4,265 to improve a race track at Dayton, Ohio.

At Harrisburg, Pa., $2,712 to count the trees on city streets.

Some $290,000 was set aside in New York to make maps of Geographic Distribution of Ancient Greek Dialects, an Isothermic Map of Mediterranean Region, a Profile of the Excavations at Kish, Early Bronze Age Inter-courses, a Genealogy of the Julian-Claudian Line, and the Roman Coinage of the Alexandrian Mint.

Project 276, which employed 350 men at a cost of $318,000, was a real estate survey of New York city. Project 33, which simultaneously employed 1,200 men at a cost of nearly $2,000,000, was also a real estate survey of New York City.

Relief by recreation is costing more than $3,000,000,000 per year. One phase of this activity was eurythmic dancing.

An allotment of $530,784 for decoration of Federal building by unemployed artists.

An allotment of $3,450,000 to employ 3,500 men and women to take a house to house canvass to obtain records of the prevalence of chronic diseases and illnesses of long duration.

An allotment of $1,826,941 to make a check of retail liquor stores.

An allotment of $1,577,894 for an income tax investigation.

The President approved $1,804,948 to prepare an alphabetical list by geographical units and families of all individuals returned at the 1900 census.

For a survey of retail trade, $293,000.

For a census of business enterprise in 1935, $7,784,000.

A farm housing survey in 300 counties to include information as to physical condition of dwellings, water supply, lighting, etc., and to employ 4,992 men is costing $1,080,570.

Eight hundred dollars was set aside to employ three men to make a study of Russian rainfall.

To find out what prices farmers pay for commodities they buy, $620,472.

To correlate information on exports and imports during the past 25 years, $4,200.

To survey real property, the extent of its use, vacancy and overcrowding, $2,167,804.

To remove hindrances to the free passage of salmon up stream to spawning beds, $35,000.

To enable Indians to repair their own houses, $1,283,000.

CONstriction OF THE DOME

The editor of The Galesburg Argus in a recent issue of his paper wrote something to this effect—"*will try to cop the election from Franklin Roosevelt who is too conservative and did not spend freely." If the young man means to say that Roosevelt is a conservative or that he is anything but a wasteful spendthrift of hard earned money extracted from the pockets of the taxpayers by every device known to tax schemers, he is either suffering from "constriction of the dome" or his brain cells have become so politically infected that they no longer function properly. We are fearful, however, that the paragraph was written by this excellent young man during a moment of political hysteria that seems to be afflicting so many of his party members.

GOOD JUDGEMENT

Inquiry following the destruction of the school grade building at Northville by fire early Monday morning led to the discovery that the school board of that district had insurance on the structure amounting to more than $75,000. This sum will practically erect a new building without additional cost to the taxpayers of the district.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

TO THE AVERAGE MAN

This is addressed to men of average means who have been subjected to the widespread fallacy that the rich pay, or should pay, practically all of the taxes, and that the poor and moderately well-to-do receive, or should receive, the benefits of government for nothing.

Here are two facts for you to think over: Eighty per cent of all taxes in this nation are "hidden"—that is they represent part of the cost of articles and services, and must be paid by the consumer.

The total net taxable income—not taxes paid—of all American corporations in 1933, was $2,500,000,000. The total net taxable income of persons with net incomes in excess of $5,000 was $4,000,000,000. This makes a total of $6,500,000,000. The total cost of government, federal, state and local, was $15,500,000,000 in 1933. Result: If the government had confiscated the entire taxable income of all corporations and all individuals with a net income of $5,000 or more, there would have remained a tax bill of $8,000,000,000 to be paid by persons and businesses outside of these classifications. The fact that the tax bill was not paid in that year, much of it being added to the public debt, makes no difference—a day of reckoning must come eventually whether we or our children face it.

The small salaried man, the small investor, the laborer, the little business owner—these are the people who pay the major part of the cost of government. The price of a loaf of bread, for instance, includes the cost of 53 separate taxes, from the time the seed of grain is planted to when the finished, wrapped loaf reaches you. So it goes with clothing, light, tobacco—every luxury and necessity you use. Indirect taxation is one of the largest items in the cost of living and doing business.

You—the average man—would thus be the greatest beneficiary from a tax reduction program that really got results.—Floyd M. McGriff in The Redford Record.

AN OLD HEN, NOT A COW, KICKED OVER A LANTERN

Believe it or not, it was an old hen—not a cow—that kicked over a lantern and caused a fire which burned to the ground the barn of Henry Sims in Mt. Hely township, Midland county. The loss was $2,000 "partly covered by insurance" according to the Midland Republican.

It is not likely that the farmers of this or any other county need much to be urged to install electricity. The very liberal plan offered by the Consumers Power Company and approved by the Public Utilities Commission has already brought an avalanche of applications for rural power lines.

The point is: If the old hen had kicked a wire charged with electricity, she could have caused no damage. The item of safety from fire on the farm is but one of many advantages which come with the use of electricity. We imagine many of the accidents on farms can be traced to groping around in the darkness or semi-darkness when the old kerosene lantern is the sole source of light.

We hope that a large percentage of Clinton county farmers can take advantage of the new terms for rural electrification. Not only is it a boon to the man, but it serves wonderfully in lightening the burden of farmer's wives—and if there is any class of women in the world who have everyday duties need lightening, it is the farmer's wife.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican News.

A TRAGIC SMILE

We smiled when we first read about our government buying steel in Germany for a relief project on the Atlantic coast because the German bid was lower than American bids; but the more we thought about it, the less we smiled, for weren't those relief projects for the purpose of putting American laborers to work? And wouldn't it have required considerable labor to manufacture the steel for that structural work? And does the administration expect American labor to work for wages that will permit of competition with the lower wages of German steel mills? Truly there is little to smile about in this whole matter of buying German steel for American relief projects.—William Berkeley in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

LOOKING BACKWARD SOME 80 YEARS

I don't know what you think about it, but this world is not the same kind it was born in, for everything in every department of life has changed so much that I'm unable to keep up with the procession, for 70 odd years ago the country didn't get all het up over a prize fight, and neither did the old Detroit Free Press put the mugs of the contestants on its front page like it was guilty of a few days ago.—J. "TINTYPE" BANKING Is Out of Date

Transportation, standards of living, business methods and civilization itself have all changed during recent years. So too has banking changed. The practices of ten, fifteen and twenty years ago are no longer considered as a part of good banking and do not fit present day requirements. That these methods were used too long was proved to all of us in 1933.

Present day living and business conditions necessitate the use of present day methods and practices to serve the best interests of the depositor whom we pledge ourselves to serve and protect. Let's be modern and recognize that none of us can run our businesses as we did in the past. Let's admit that the results of following old "Tintype" ideas are OUT OF DATE. Let's accept the new methods and ideas as being a part of the times, made necessary to meet present conditions and better for all of us.

History of The Presbyterian Church Of Plymouth, Michigan

On Saturday, Feb. 23rd, 1833, there was organized the 2nd Presbyterian church of Plymouth, Michigan Territory. This new church was so named because in organizing this had already been effectual at Northville, Plymouth township. The official body by whom this church was called into being was composed of Rev. M. Weed, of Ypsilanti, and Rev. Eric Prince, of Farmington. The former acting as moderator and the latter as clerk. The ten people present held letters of dismission given at places of former residence, and it was their desire to begin life in their new homes with a place for the public worship of God.

The day following, on Sunday, Feb. 24, more names were added. From thence forward no record is made of the progress of the infant church until January 11, 1834, when the session met at the school house, and received upon letters of dismission Levi Van Inwagen, his wife and two daughters, Miss Sally and Jane, and three others. A representative of that family, Miss Rosama, still lives among us with the honor of holding the longest continued membership of all. The membership roll now contained 18 names with 5 children baptized. No regular place of meetings had as yet been chosen, but the members speak of the school house near Ira Bronson's.

The first pastor to serve this church was installed on Sept. 2, 1835; his name was Alexander M. McMunkin, and he received for his services the munificent sum of two hundred dollars per year, to be paid in half yearly installments. Such a sum which appears so trifling to us in these latter days must have loomed largely in the minds of those early pioneers.

whose financial resources were limited. It may be well in passing to note an appropriation of five dollars to the Home Mission cause by this young church, showing thus early her regard for the needs of others. Although twicemention of the Sacrament of the Lords' Supper is made, it remained quiet for the session meeting of Oct. 23rd, 1835, to resolve the observance of this ordinance ever, quarterly thereafter.

The pastor above mentioned could not have served more than one year. The records show that the session meeting of Nov. 26, 1835, was presided over by Rev. Eric Prince, and no mention is made of the pastor subsequent to that date. All, therefore, that we have to guide us with reference to pulpit supply is the mere change of name in the moderatorship of the session. On Aug. 24, 1839, appears the name of Rev. Enoch Bouton, but no further mention is made of him except that on Sabbath, May 24, 1840, he administered the sacrament of the Lords' Supper.

At this juncture the name of Rev. J. A. Clayton appears, as moderator of the session, but no record appears regarding any arrangement for pastoral service. We are left with an inference, however, and corroborating it (here appears on page 39, of the records, the first report of the condition of affairs in the history of the church.

The relations between Rev. Clayton and the church were severed Aug. 20, 1843, as his name no longer appears as moderator of the session, but is substituted by that of Rev. E. S. Shepherd, April 5, 1846. His service of the church ended June 13, 1849. Some time during Mr. Shepherd's pastorate the present church edifice was erected probably about the year 1846. About the year 1849 the pulpit was supplied by Rev. Wm. C. Knippen, of Ypsilanti, his connection with the church having been of short duration as the session met but once with his name mentioned as moderator. For a year or two succeeding, Rev. J. C. Clayton conducted the preaching service here at the time having retired from active effort, and resided on a farm 1 1/2 miles distant.

Rev. J. A. Clayton, in 1854, was succeeded by Rev. S. Cochrane, who served the church until 1858. But in 1860 light is again thrown upon the affairs of Plymouth and by recorded meetings of the session. Although no official record is made of the fact, yet there are a few of us living who remember the connection of Rev. J. W. McGregor with the church during the years '60, '61 and '62. I am quite certain that neither Rev. McGregor nor his immediate predecessors were ever installed as pastors, but were employed from year to year. The successor of Rev. McGregor was Rev. B. F. Murden, who served the church until 1868. The years following Rev. Murden's pastorate the church was supplied by Revs. D. McLaren and Malby Gelston, respectively. During the Rev. Gelston's stay, with us a son of his was about to enter his senior year at Union Seminary, N. Y.

The following year, Oct. 21, 1873, the young seminary student, M. J. Gelston, was ordained and installed as pastor of this church. For two years he served most acceptably and much regret was felt when he accepted a call to the pastorate of Pontiac.

Following the short pastorate of Rev. Gelston the church employed Rev. R. H. Wilkinson, and it was during his incumbency that the church building was extensively repaired and decorated.

Following Mr. Wilkinson came Rev. Joe A. Baldwin, a young Congregational minister residing in Detroit.

About the year 1879 the church secured the services of Rev. E. G. Bryant, during his work here that the session was changed from a permanent to a rotary eldership.

March 20, 1879, a meeting of the newly elected session met in the pastor's study and among other business transacted elected Asa Joy as clerk.

In the winter of 1880 Rev. Bryant's connection with the church was severed and it was not until the following July that another pastor, in the person of Rev. P. C. Thyboldt, was called and installed.

He served less than one year, and was succeeded by Rev. J. M. Gelston, of Ann Arbor, an uncle of our erstwhile young pastor of the same name. Upon refusal of Rev. Gelston to reside among us, the session invited Rev. W. W. Wetmore to act as our pastor, which he accordingly did. After the service of about four years Mr. Wetmore discontinued his labors here and a call was extended to Rev. George H. Wallace, of Manchester. The call was accepted, and from thence ensued the longest pastorate in the history of the church.

Rev. Wallace's connection with the church was dissolved by a special session of Presbytery in the year '95.

The church very soon thereafter decided to invite Rev. Robert Bramfit, late of Clayton, Plymouth's Beautiful Presbyterian Church Destroyed by Fire Thursday Evening, January 9th.

Mich. to assume the labors of pastor.

It was during his service here that the C. E. society was organized and for several years the young people were greatly interested in their special department of church work.

At the close of one year Rev. Bramfit's connection with the church was severed and for some months there was no regular preaching service. The session urgently desired that some kind of service should prevail, and Elder T. S. Clark consented to conduct such service.

After several months' vacancy Rev. J. H. Herbenor, pastor at Northville, consented to come to Plymouth and hold 3 o'clock afternoon service. This arrangement continued for about three years, when the church, feeling the need of a settled pastor, called Rev. T. B. Leith of Brighton, Mich., to be our pastor.

The call was accepted and Rev. Leith entered upon his labors Dec. 8, 1900.

It was during the latter part of Rev. Leith's pastorate that the church building was remodeled and redecorated.

Rev. Leith's pastoral relation with the church was dissolved in February, 1906.

From this time until June was a period of correspondence and sermon lasting until choice was made of Hugh N. Ronald, a young Princeton graduate, who began his labors as pastor in June, 1906.

For four years he remained with us, much beloved by all the people, and it was due to his influence that many business reforms were inaugurated, and the church entered upon a record-breaking season of prosperity.

The congregation met on Aug. 8, 1910, and unanimously voted to call Rev. E. F. Farber, who was installed and entered upon his labors Oct. 3rd, 1910.

Rev. Farber ended his pastoral services in 1917. Then came Rev. Karl P. Miller who remained until 1918. He was followed by Rev. L. M. Eicknell and Rev. S. C. Hathaway. It was in 1926 when Rev. Walter Nichol assumed the pastorate of the church and to him has fallen the most responsible and biggest task of any pastor the church has had since the erection of its first building—the task of building an entirely new temple of worship.

ulation on futures. Money ken on betting amounts to $200,000. He said to take 2 per cent that and 2 per cent on the amusement funds. Three to three and one-half million shares daily $25 per share brings an $80,000,000 to $85,000,000 turn over on the New York Stock Exchange. Why not 2 per cent of this amount?

What material contribution to the country comes from this otherwise? In 1929 the total value of the country was estimated at $50,000,000,000. In 1933 and 1934 it was $300,000,000, 2 per cent on the difference would carry the Townsend plan a long ways.

Judge Jefferies said, "The turnover on bank failures ran to 200,000,000.000 in a year or two of the published figures showed, take 2 per cent of the amount or the pension $1 in currency equals ninety cents in credit. But he money is in vaults, reserves and banks until there is not much credit left. With the Townsend plan in effect all sales taxes would be eliminated, 25 per cent of the turnovers are purely speculative and that is why the 'big-boys' oppose the scheme, the speaker stated.

The Townsend Club was organized with the election, by nomination and acclamation, of the following permanent officers: Charles Olds, president; Albert Gates, vice president; Henry Fisher, treasurer; Mrs. Herbert Finton, secretary.

MENU SAVERS
When you've racked your brains until they just won't rack any more and chewed the point of your pencil right down to the lead trying to decide on a menu for Thursday's dinner or Tuesday's luncheon it's time to decide on a one-dish meal. They're so satisfyingly easy to prepare and so very nourishing. Regular menu savers. It's a grand plan to make it a point to serve a one-dish meal at least once a week, on the day you know you're going to be rushed right up to the minute the family gather around the table and demand food with a capital F.

One-dish meals are really one of the bright spots in any home-manager's life, for they can be prepared well in advance, stored in the refrigerator, and then popped into the oven and forgotten about while you set the table and toss together a crisp salad and put the coffee on. Try one of these meals the next time your bridge club meets. You'll be able to enjoy yourself right up to the last totalling of the scores and won't have that harassed "I really ought to be home starting dinner" look that puts wrinkles in the smoothest forehead.

These meals are really very versatile and can have almost anything as a base on which to build vegetables, meat or fish. The main thing to remember is that they should be served piping hot and accompanied by a salad and a simple fruit dessert. You'll think them a grand way to use up leftovers.

1/8 teaspoon pepper
3/8 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup drained cooked vegetables.
Scald the milk and pour over

Bad Check Artist Operates Here

Clyde J. Brooks, the smooth check passer that state police have been looking for during the past two or three months, operated just a few days ago in Plymouth, and the Willoughby shoe store was one of his victims.

He entered the store just the day previous to the warning that was published in The Mail about his activities in the state, purchased a pair of rubbers and offered a check for $10.50 in payment.

The check was made out to the Michigan State Auditor's Department, Lansing, Michigan, on the Michigan State bank, which does not exist. Charles J. Brooks, signed it as secretary of the auditor and it was made out to William H. Bowen, in payment of an alleged expense account.

The check had every earmark of being a good one and Mr. Willoughby, Sr., as the cashier, who is both exceedingly careful in accepting checks, thought it was a good one. A few days after it had been accepted, it was returned as without value.

Combine meat, mustard, minced onions, salt and pepper. Form into flat round cakes. Peel bananas and cut washed tomatoes and bananas in halves. Brush meat, bananas and tomatoes with melted butter. Sprinkle tomatoes with salt and pepper and a little flour. Arrange meat cakes, bananas and tomatoes on broiler rack and broil for 10-12 minutes. Turn bananas over. Serves 6.

Pork Pie Supreme
1 1/2 lbs. shoulder pork
3 small onions
4 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 cups hot water
1 1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt

Add seasonings and cook 3 minutes longer. Peel apples and slice very thin. Sprinkle with sugar. Fill baking dish with alternate layers of apples and meat mixture and cover.

Serves 6 to 8.

Mrs. Rutherford Is Winner of Two Contests

When Mrs. Ann Rutherford of 580 Edison street, starts out to do something, it is generally accomplished. Sometime ago Mrs. Rutherford was appointed local representative of a well known manufacturing concern. In the first two weeks of her services, she won a contest in which a beautiful leather handbag was the prize. Right after this contest had been won, she entered into another one with other representatives of the company, and she won this fairly good sized cash prize. Mrs. Rutherford feels highly elated over the success she is having in her new work.

The argument that turns a fellow's head sometimes travels through his pocket.

THE PILGRIM PRINTS

SENIOR WHO'S WHO
Ruth Charlotte Davis, brown-haired senior who entered Plymouth high this semester, was born in Detroit on September 19, 1918. Previous to this, she attended Parker School, McFarland School, and Southwestern high in Detroit. She is taking a general course. Skating is her hobby, she states. It is her intention to become a housewife after leaving school.

Marguerite Mae Daugherty was born in Plymouth, but she has not spent all of her life in this desolate spot. She first moved to Farmington and then to Northville and then she decided that Plymouth wasn't so bad after all and she came back to enter school as a freshman. She has taken part in several activities of the school including Leaders Club, Glee Club and the orchestra in which she has played the violin. When not engaged in these activities she spends time on the commercial course which she is taking. In addition to the clubs to which she belongs, she has a number of hobbies, including stamp collecting, finger weaving, and fancy work. In answer to the query about fancy work, she said fancy embroidery. Being a good Irishman, her favorite color is green. Beauty culture interests her and when she graduates she plans to enter some sort of school with a long name which teaches one how to be a beautician. Her best and most inseparable friend is Margaret Horvath.

Helen Anna Dely, the petite brown-haired, hazel-eyed girl, seen walking around school talking to everyone, was born April 19, 1918 in the "Big City," Detroit. When she was four she moved with her family to South Lyon, although she has moved once or twice, she hasn't left Plymouth. She began school in Plymouth and intends to graduate this year, making her one of those attending Plymouth schools all her life. She has belonged to the Glee Club four years and has taken part in the Musicales three years. Her hobbies consist of sports and reading; she also makes it a point to be friends with everyone. I have mentioned her likes; her main dislike is tomato soup. She is very short and wouldn't have much competition in trying to take the prize for the smallest girl in the senior class. Helen is taking a general course and hopes to be a typist some day. She would make a good typist too.

Charlotte Viola Dennis entered the game of life September 2, 1918 with Birmingham, Mich., as the starting place. She started school at Canton Center and attended Bartlett School before joining the class of '36 as a freshman. During her school career here Charlotte has held membership in the Junior Chorus, Travel Club and the Girls' Glee Club. Her favorite pastime is dancing. Her favorite color red, and as Ripley has only said "Believe or not" her favorite subject is history. While her plans for after June are quite indefinite she hopes to attend a school of beauty culture granting of course, that Johnny hasn't other plans for her.

Jane Palmer Dodge, the good-looking, black-haired lassie, who wears glasses, and who is commonly seen walking the halls with Marion Krumpal, arrived in this World January 9, 1918, in Romeo, Michigan. She began her first year of school in Pontiac, but the following year her parents moved to Plymouth where she entered the first grade. She has been a Plymouth student ever since. Jane has taken a business course, but she does not know whether she will enter a business school next year, although she wants to be someone's stenographer. She has been a member of the Travel Club, and has been fortunate to visit New York and Chicago; we hope she is as fortunate to visit many more places in the future.

Wyrath B. Dunn, better known as BooBoo, was born right here in our home town, April 24, 1918. Since Wyrath is a product of Plymouth, he has received all of his schooling in the Plymouth public schools. He has taken a general course and hopes his vocation to be in the cultured field of music. For the past four years he has played the saxophone in the school band and besides, has played in several musicals. Wyrath delights in tearing Fords apart and then putting them back together (he may be another Henry Ford). He has a love for many hobbies, but considers swimming, skating, fishing, dancing, collecting relics and the girls as the most important. He is everything but girl-shy and he is an important figure in the lives of many girls about school. He enjoys traveling and has been fortunate enough to make an enjoyable trip to Florida. As to what color he prefers he states that grey fits his taste the best, and that he enjoys that well known vegetable, beans, as his most favorite dish. He hasn't bad taste at all.

SENIORS ENJOY SLEIGH-RIDE PARTY
About thirty members of the Senior class enjoyed a sleigh-ride party last Thursday night. The party was to have started at seven-thirty, but because of the fire, it did not begin until eight o'clock. Aside from the feeling of cold water trickling down one's back, and trying to dodge snowballs, the evening went off splendidly. The climax came in the midst of the snowball fight when Miss Fiegl was hit in the eye with an enemy snowball. The ride took the participants around Wilcox Dam, through Riverside Park, and home by way of West Ann Arbor street. The sleighs stopped near the Sweet Shop and many refreshed themselves with sundaes, sodas and hot chocolate.

W.C.T.U. To Meet On January 23rd

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet Thursday, Jan. 23rd at 2:30 p.m. with Miss Nettie Pelham, 395 Ann Arbor street. Any one interested in the temperance work will be made welcome at this meeting. The program for the day will be in charge of Mrs. Jessie Vealey and Miss Pelham.

From the Michigan Union: "We are standing on the threshold of a new year. The future lies dark before us. Its uncertainties confront us on every hand. Jobs may be lost unexpectedly. The savings of a life may be swept away overnight. Health may fail suddenly. Death itself may overtake us at a time when we least expect it. But we must not allow fear of the unknown to enslave our spirit. Let us remember that the future has its certainties as well as its uncertainties. There is, in fact, one great certainty which entirely cancels life's many uncertainties. That blessed certainty which we may take with us into the new year, is simply this: "God changes not." He always was, is now and ever shall be a God of love—our Heavenly Father. With Him we may make our dwelling place and rest secure in the new year as in the old."

Women Told Of Labor Insurance

The League of Women Voters had their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Arlo Emy, Friday with Mrs. Harold V. Scott as the speaker. Her subject was "Unemployment Insurance."

Mrs. Scott has made such a thorough study of this subject that she was able to give a very clear picture of just what "Unemployment Insurance" covered in a brief period.

She told of the three plans that are being studied in Michigan which are: The Wisconsin plan, which is a pioneer state to adopt this plan which went into effect July 1934, The American or Lundeen plan, and the Ohio plan which Michigan has copied including features from the highest average in the country.

Many have the erroneous idea it sets up a tax plan rather than an unemployment plan. The plan does set up an unemployment trust fund that covers employers that have eight men or less in their employ.

Beginning January 1st, 1936, one percent of the payroll must be sent by the employers to the U. S. Treasury department in Washington for a trust fund.

Since Michigan employers are paying into the Federal government, the unemployed can not receive any benefit until Michigan adopts the unemployment insurance plan.

Mrs. James Scott who was a Detroit guest announced a League luncheon at the Statler hotel, Jan. 29 at 12:15 o'clock.

Two are dead as the result of an automobile accident shortly before 2 o'clock last Saturday morning near the corner of Cherry Hill and Beck roads. An automobile driven by 21 year old Donald Wilkins of Cherry Hill crashed into a bridge abutment, instantly killing Fred Reed of Woodbury, Tenn., an occupant of the car, and fatally injuring Wilkins. Young Wilkins was rushed to a hospital in Ypsilanti, where he died Tuesday, never regaining consciousness. Little is known as to just how the accident happened, as no one saw it and there were no other occupants of the car. Reed has been living this winter with a brother-in-law at Inkster.

The Tampa Tribune says Mr. Mastick returned from his trip out on the bay with eleven as nice ocean trout as were ever brought out of the bay. "Coy Ray was his guide and the fish averaged two pounds each and were landed on sand bream," reports The Tribune.

deny to neglect the Home and to criticize the schools for not doing what is properly the function of the home or the church—to criticize the church for not performing what is properly the function of the Home or the School—and some times we call upon the Government to perform the functions of all four.

Our forefathers knew the value of education for the future generations of America and insisted the public school or patriotic school.

The romance of the sacrifices of Fathers and Mothers to provide their children with opportunities for education is one of the finest chapters in American history.

Mothers have taken washings to help defray the expenses of their children in college.

People of wealth endowed libraries to broaden the field of opportunity for knowledge.

Public officials have spent millions of dollars in building public schools and state universities.

Due to these facts we have made great progress in agriculture, mechanics, invention, surgery, engineering and science.

But does the American history of our schools make for the maintenance and improvement of American ideals. Does our present day opportunities for education develop great mothers, fathers, preachers and teachers and authors and statesmen to uphold the fundamentals of American Ideals. That is the question.

Does history as taught in our public schools, teach to the average student that the people of this country made a pitiful failure of government, until the year 1787, when the Constitution was written, and during the period of history from the writing of the Constitution until we occupied the leading place among the nations of the World, there was little discussion of direct government, but much of representative government, little discussion of socialism, class consciousness, labor unionism, communism and so-called democracy, but to the contrary much talk and devotion to the principles of individual property rights, freedom of industry, with reward for individual initiative and accomplishment, respect for the Stars and Stripes, and a devoted interest toward the Republic of the United States.

Our Constitution advocates a representative form of government—not one of autocracy or democracy.

Do our students understand that our Constitution guarantees to each state a representative form of Government, and those great virtue of the Constitution that is so little understood and appreciated, by those who advocate Constitutional departure and amendments.

Real liberty is never found in despotism or the extremes of democracy. If we incline too much to democracy we shall soon find ourselves in a state of monarchy.

As long as we adhered to the guidance of the provisions of the Constitution, we made great progress in this country, but during the last fifty years we have drifted away and have taken up popular fallacies, such as the initiative, referendum, recall, boards, commission bureaus, excess legislation class legislation etc.

Today, in the year 1936, we are reaping the results of these unwisely departed from the Constitution, in over increasing expenses and more and more confusion in governmental procedure.

It is the duty of all parents to be watchful of their children and see that they receive the necessary preliminary training in the schools, and that one day of each week, the child should be in some religious school getting the benefit of God's teachings.

It is food for thought to consider what a feeling of bleak despair would come over our people, if it were known that on Sunday, all the Churches would be closed, that there would be no preaching of the Gospel in our pulpits and no teachers leading our children into the light of truth in our Sunday schools. This prospect is not healthy, but we cannot leave the support of our churches, or the enrichment of our spiritual life "to George." He will not do it or would not attend to it, if he could, it is a personal matter, God Almighty and Jesus Christ as individuals. They have fixed individual responsibility and individual reward very definitely and accurately.

In perpetuating America, and Americanism, we must hold fast to that very essential American Ideal, a militant, aggressive and ever expanding Spiritual Church.

The greatest heritage that has fallen to any people in history is our Federal Constitution. Its making was the greatest human achievement since Creation and it marked the greatest event in the history of the world, save only the Birth of Christ.

In this day of perplexing problems and chaotic conditions, there is nothing that one can do with so great a satisfaction, to gain a clear concept of cause and remedy, as to go back and read the history of this country for a few years before the Constitution was written and a few years after it was written.

If you will do that you will find that the splendid people of those early days, with their religious fervor, their marked intelligence and noble aspirations were in a good deal the same condition as Russia was a few years ago.

Before the Constitution was written, the mob drove out Congress from Philadelphia to New Jersey. Shay's Rebellion assaulted the Courthouses in the State of Massachusetts, money was worth a dollar and we had no credit anywhere. Grave concern was on every side and many people wanted to abandon any further effort and turn back to the monarchies of Europe.

In this blackness of chaos, darkness and despair, fifty-five men met in Philadelphia and wrote the Constitution and almost immediately, for the first time in the history of the world, governmentally began to come out of darkness and order began to come out of chaos.

History teaches us that within twenty years, thoughtful men and women everywhere in the world, were asking the question "What was it that those men did, that for the first time in the history of the world, they made America a land of liberty and opportunity for man-kind?"

The Constitution held the reverence and respect of the world for the first hundred years, and it is the only governmental document that has stood the test of time, even to today.

Before the adoption of the Constitution, history teaches that for centuries, the policies of government swung back and forth from monarch to the mob, and our Constitution provides a middle ground of operation, between the two extremes of autocracy on the one hand and democracy on the other, the Golden Mean between hereditary and direct government. It is this splendid quality and

Purse Snatcher Quickly Caught

Plymouth's police force, aided by Special Officer Gillies of the P.M. Tuesday evening quickly cleared up the first purse-snatching case ever reported in this city.

While Mrs. Nettie Dibble was walking on Harvey street towards her home, three boys grabbed her purse and ran. She immediately called the police department and within an hour a 15 year old runaway boy from Flint was found hiding in the P.M. round house.

Two other companions had apparently gotten out of town by thumbing a ride. Tuesday forenoon Officer Thumme secured a confession from the lad, recovered the money where he had hidden it near the P. M. tracks, also a flashlight stolen from Dr. Butz's automobile and had returned the pocketbook and other contents to Mrs. Dibble. The pocketbook was found in an alley between Harvey and Ann streets by Dan Murray who had turned it over to the police.

It is probable that the boys, whose names are known to the Plymouth police will turn the youngsters over to juvenile authorities of Grosse Pointe, where they are now on probation from the court.

Still Live in Caves
Visitors to the Touraine region of France to see the palatial chateaus which dot the district find people living in caves. At various places along the Loire, notably near the ruins of the Chateau-Mars-la-Pile, at Chilon and Langeais, are the homes of these Twentieth century troglodytes, whose chambers are cut out of limestone rock. Many of the caves apparently are occupied by people in comfortable circumstances, for the rooms are ornamented and embellished. There are several miles of such homes, where people burrow into hills, like moles and pride themselves on their residence.

Derivation of Word "Puny"
The word "puny" is a phonetic spelling of the old French "pulsne," which entered the English language in legal phraseology. "Pulsne" meant junior, lower in rank. "Puny" has acquired the meaning of small in strength or size, weak, feeble.

estate law at The American Institute of Banking, which he passed in high honors. For two years he took up public speaking and advanced public speaking in radio from Professor Demore of the University of Michigan, this being a night extension course.

Upon graduating from The Detroit Business Institute he was employed at the Union Guardian Trust Company as a bookkeeper in the Auditing Department, and later was promoted as the cashier of the Union Company of Detroit.

In March, 1931, he was transferred to the Bankruptcy Division of the Union Guardian Trust Company, where he acted as a field man in carrying out liquidation of assets at the firm mentioned above. Later he was transferred to the Real Estate Department as an appraiser under the capable tutelage of Mr. McRae.

On July, 1934 he was employed by Hannan Real Estate Exchange as a collector in the Property Management Department, and within three months was put in charge of the Collection and Eviction Departments. In May of 1935 he took charge of the Rental Department.

One of his many hobbies is managing a baseball team during the summer season, and if we recall correctly last summer he led his Plymouth Park team into a tie for first place in the Michigan Southern League. The season of 1935 he completed ten years of managing a baseball club.

His many friends wish him success in his new undertakings, for he is well qualified by training, experience and temperament to take charge of this responsible position. He will, we are positive, prove to be an efficient and popular Township Clerk.

Northville Fair Assn. Re-elects Board, Officers

Ended 1935 With Slight Profit On Its Last Fair

At the annual meeting of the Northville-Wayne County Fair Association held last Friday evening, Harry Robinson of Plymouth was re-elected to the board of directors for another two year term and Nelson C. Schrier, a former Plymouth resident, was re-elected president for his fifth year.

Other directors re-elected for the two year term were Carmi Benton, Elton R. Eaton, A. C. Balden, Harry B. Clark, W. E. Fomey, A. E. Fuller, E. M. Starkweather and L. C. Stewart.

Mr. Stewart, well known Northville druggist, was elected to the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Marvin Sloan a few months ago.

Holdover members of the board are T. G. Richardson, Elmer L. Smith, Floyd A. Northrop, Ralph Foreman, Ray Richardson, H. H. Hamilton, M. R. Seelye and Glenn Richardson.

Mr. Smith was re-elected as vice president; Fred W. Lyke as treasurer and Floyd A. Northrop as secretary.

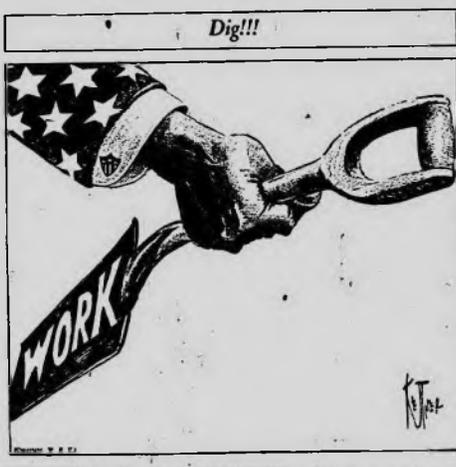

Annual reports showed that there was an exceptionally big increase in the fair attendance during 1935 and that the number of exhibits was the largest in the last ten years.

The financial report showed that the 1935 fair ended without a deficit. The receipts were considerably over $16,000 and for the first time in several years the association is able to enter upon plans for the 1936 fair with some cash in the bank upon which to work.

A considerable amount was spent last year in building up better exhibits and better attractions. The same policy will be continued for the 1936 fair.

The horse show will be considerably enlarged but there has been some question as to whether the trotting races should be replaced with running races. There has seemingly been a lack of interest in trotting races in recent years and the secretary was instructed to make inquiry during the next two or three months and find out whether it might be more advisable to put on running races instead of trotting races. Decision will be reached at a later date pertaining to this possible change.

Truck Skids on Ice, Hits Hotel

Unable to stop his heavy truck on the ice for the street stop light at the corner of Main and Ann Arbor Trail, Lewis Swartz of Detroit, crashed into the corner of the Mayflower hotel last Friday morning and knocked in a part of the door and window frame on the north entrance into the hotel grill.

Benjamin Sproll, who had just left the hotel after breakfast was forced to jump in order to prevent being hit by the truck as it skidded over the sidewalk and into the hotel. Fortunately the damage was not great.

The amount of serious mental diseases among divorcees is found to be three or four times as great as among married persons, reports the Human Betterment Foundation of California. The Foundation interprets this to mean that a man or woman who is about to have a mental breakdown is more likely to have a mental breakdown if he or she is a divorcee than if he or she is a married person. The mental disease part of the population which does not get into the courts on insanity complaints and therefore is often not recognized, seems to have a higher marriage rate as well as a higher divorce rate than the average. Public education is much needed to prevent marriage among persons who are subject to the most severe types of mental disease.

Since the invention by a Norwegian of the bomb-harpoon the whaling industry has steadily increased in Norway and declined in America, says Elmo P. Hohman of Northwestern University in the current issue of the Journal of Political Economy. Chicago, in 1886, the year the bomb-harpoon was invented, the Norwegians captured only thirty whales, but in 1934 they captured 315. In this height, the people of that country harpooned twenty-six thousand of the big mammals, which yielded more than two million and a quarter barrels of oil.
