Judge Healy Is Kiwanis Speaker

The Plymouth Kiwanis club had the pleasure of hearing Judge D. J. Healy of the Probate court for Wayne county, juvenile division, speak Tuesday evening. Judge Healy is one of the newest probate judges and has been doing outstanding work in the juvenile division.

He explained in detail the responsibility of the juvenile court, not only in taking care of child delinquency but also in protecting that type of environment and social condition which would ward off child delinquency. He stated that approximately 1,600 boys and girls under the age of 17 are now being taken care of in boarding homes supported by Wayne county. It was necessary for the county to take over the care of these children due to lack of proper home conditions, because of the board of health, sanitation or police requirements.

In addition to the care necessitated by these social problems Judge Healy stated that there are also approximately 2,700 mothers with nearly 8,000 children who are receiving mother pensions under direct supervision and supervision of the Probate court. The Wayne county juvenile department is becoming one of the best in the United States for handling needs of children under the age of 17, the judge declared. A new medical and surgical clinic has been installed by the county, making it possible for the juvenile department, not only to determine the causes of child delinquencies but also to take scientific methods in caring for cases of such delinquency.

Judge Healy illustrated, by a number of hypothetical cases, how it would have been possible to have cured a large number of mentally incompetent cases who are now state charges if the present methods had been adopted years ago. Due to the fact that in the Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States are interested in the underlying cause of the problem, Judge Healy in detail showed one of the greatest constructive jobs of the Probate court is handling criminal cases of boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 17.

He stated that in the state of Michigan the law permits the juvenile court to waive jurisdiction of cases involving children at this age and that when this is done and boys 15 to 17 are tried in the higher court, found guilty of major crimes and sentenced to state penitentiaries, they are

The Gettysburg Address

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a large sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Many Veterans Ask for Bonus Payments Here

Service Organizations To Continue in Charge of Applications

Approximately 200 veterans of the World war, or about half those estimated to be living in and near Plymouth, have filled out applications for the bonus through bureaus under the direction of the Myron H. Beals post of the American Legion and the Ex-Service Men's club, in Plymouth. These applications are for amounts aggregating nearly $100,000.

Headquarters were set up in the office of The Plymouth Mail Saturday afternoon, when more than 75 men jammed their way in to file their applications. They were taken care of by the secretary, Melvin Guthrie and Don Ryder of the Legion, and Commander Harry Hunter, Arno Thompson and Harry Mummy, of the Ex-Service Men's club. Mrs. Harold Anderson assisted with the clerical work and A. L. Brocklehurst took care of the necessary fingerprinting, paraphernalia for which was loaned by Chief of Police Vaughan Smith.

The work continued Monday and Wednesday at the Mail office, which will also be open to those applicants from 1 to 5 o'clock this afternoon. The American Legion signed up a large group Monday evening at the time of their regular meeting at the Legion hall, in Newburg, and will have blanks available next Tuesday evening when the mail will be open for a rifle shoot.

Those who wish may make out applications at the meeting of the Ex-Service Men's club to be held at 8 o'clock Monday evening at Jewell and Blain hall. Commander Hunter has announced that a veteran in the district can be taken care of during the evening, following the regular supper which will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Officials of the veterans' organizations here have estimated that some 400 men in the district are eligible to receive bonus money totalling $400,000. Payments will be made in bonds of $50 each dated June 15, 1936. These may be cashed at the local postoffice, or, if held, will draw three per cent annually for nine years, after the first year.

placed in with seasoned criminals and forever lost to the State of Michigan as decent citizens. In fact, they are placed on the other side of the ledger and become a permanent liability to the state. Judge Healy explained what valuable work the service clubs of the type of the local Kiwanis club could do in organizing and backing other organizations to assist boys and girls, thereby aiding to keep them off of the criminal records of the State of Michigan.

License Sales Here Increased Over Last Year

Time Limit For Purchase of Plates Extended to February 29

With the time in which owners of motor vehicles may purchase license plates extended to February 29 by Secretary of State Orville E. Atwood last Friday, the large crowd that was lined up in the Plymouth branch office at the chamber of commerce quickly disappeared, Leonard J. Murphy, manager, reported.

The extension was made because half a million cars in the state of Michigan had not been licensed by noon of January 31, Mr. Murphy stated. He pointed out one interesting fact, however, namely that in Plymouth the sale of plates to date is far in excess of the number a year ago. So far 2,253 passenger, 180 commercial and 79 trailer plates have been issued, as compared with 704 passenger, 54 commercial and 27 trailer licenses at the same time in 1935.

Very few stickers are being sold. Mr. Murphy said, pointing out that this evidently means an improvement in economic conditions. There has been a great demand for "VV" plates by ex-servicemen, 175 having been sold this year as against 27 a year ago. There is still a large supply on hand for sale and eligible to receive them, according to the manager.

The percentage of plates sold in the Plymouth office is much greater than in 1935 and Mr. Murphy predicts that if the same percentage continues the total sales for the 1936 fiscal year will be more than double those of last year.

Many other states have extended the time for the payment of automobile licenses, a report from the secretary of state's office reveals. The Ohio legislature recently moved the final date for granting a license, while Louisiana gave its car owners 65 additional days, to February 5, and Maine is allowing the use of old plates until March 1. The final day in Minnesota is April 1, and North Dakota led the parade by granting 90 days to May 16, as compared with Michigan's 60.

Michigan residents are warned by Mr. Atwood not to drive outside the state without their 1936 plates, however, as they might encounter difficulties with authorities in other states.

May Still Pay City Taxes Here

City taxes for July, 1935, may still be paid to Mrs. Nellie V. Cash, city treasurer, according to an announcement from that office this week.

Year's Outlook For The Chamber Commerce Good

Directors Hold Meeting To Discuss Some Of Problems

Plymouth's Chamber of Commerce organization during the past month has been especially active, having had a meeting with Secretary Leonard T. Murphy at the meeting of the directors of the organization held late last week.

During the past three weeks, the work resulting from the issuance of automobile license plates has received a greater portion of his time. He has been required to engage some assistance, he stated, to take care of the increased number of patrons of the office.

The public greatly appreciated the attention of Mr. Murphy in keeping the office open during evening hours. Many who found it difficult to come down to the office during the day, took advantage of the fact that the office was open evenings and much business has been transacted. Mr. Murphy's report showed a slight deficit in the Christmas street decorations as made during the last holiday period. Stewart Dodge and Glenn Jewell reported the same sentiment as expressed by Mr. Shear.

All of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce expressed satisfaction over the splendid work that Secretary Murphy has been doing. He took over the work of the office at a time when it was badly demoralized and has been able to continue its activities most successfully.

The membership has held up remarkably well and the prospects are that before the present year is over there will be a most satisfactory increase.

Northville Man Dies While On Vacation

Was Active in Business and Civic Affairs and Member of Schrader Brothers Firm

Residents of Plymouth and Northville were shocked to hear of the death early Wednesday morning of Elmer Lauderdale, Fla., of Nelson C. Schrader, 66, who with his brother, Fred, owned the Schrader Brothers funeral homes in Plymouth and Northville.

Mr. Schrader was born in Canton township, south of Plymouth on the old Schrader farm and had lived his entire life in this vicinity. In 1905 he and his brother bought out the Millsaps Brothers and Bassett and Sons undertaking establishment in Plymouth and started a funeral home and furniture business. Six months later they purchased the Porter establishment in Northville and Nelson Schrader went there to take charge of it.

In 1906 he married Miss Jerusha Simpson, of Northville, and three children were born to the couple—Reva, Betty and Nelson C., Jr.

During his residence in Northville Mr. Schrader built up one of the finest funeral undertaking establishments in the state. He was a leader in the business and civic affairs of the community having served as director and president of the Northville-Wayne County Fair association for the past 16 years as well as director of the bank for a number of years. At one time he was mayor of Northville.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church, active in all the Masonic orders, and had held all the offices of the Knights of Pythias.

Although he had been in failing health for a number of years, death came quite unexpectedly. His wife and two daughters, who had come to Florida with him three weeks ago, were with him when he died. His son, a student at Michigan State college, left East Lansing by airplane Tuesday but did not arrive in time to see his father.

Mr. Schrader was an ardent sportsman, keenly interested in fishing and hunting. He had led a vigorous outdoor life which kept him alive in spite of ill health.

The body has been shipped to Northville where funeral arrangements will be made and announced on Saturday. Mr. Schrader is survived by his wife, three children and several brothers and sisters, all of whom live in this vicinity.

Mission Worker Will Speak Here

Miss Martha Loud, deputation secretary of the Ramabai Mukti Mission, in India will give an illustrated lecture on the work at the mission at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the auditorium of the Calvary Baptist church, 455 South Main street.

For several years Miss Loud has appeared as a conference speaker. She will appear this evening in Indian costume, and will exhibit curios so that the listeners may see some of the color of life in India.

Richard W. Neale, pastor of the Calvary church, says of Miss Loud, "Those who know her best are impressed by her earnestness, enthusiasm and genial personality. Her life's passion is to rescue the bodies and souls of dark India's girlhood from the bondage of sin. No one who loves the message of the cross should miss hearing Martha Loud."

IS HE INSANE?

From a casual reading of Governor Harold Hoffman's letter to the state police of New Jersey in which he asks for a continued investigation into the Lindbergh case, one has a perfect right to wonder whether the governor of New Jersey is crazy or just a plain dumb-bell. The deplorable part of the mess created by Governor Hoffman as the result of his interference in the case is the fact that he has done more to make a joke out of our courts of justice and our method of punishing criminals than has been done by all the other governors of these United States combined.

YOUR FLAG

Fellow citizens, the Star Spangled Banner is your flag, YOUR banner. It is and always has been, since the day of its birth, the greatest flag in the world. Each time its fate was in doubt it came through its dark days and waved more proudly than ever. Conceived as the world's first true emblem of liberty, it is well for all genuine Americans to look reverently and fondly at it as often as they can. In these days when Communism and other un-American whisperings abound, let every citizen remember Old Glory and all it stands for. Do not despair. Transitory men and transitory thoughts cannot damage our national banner lastingly. The red in our flag typifies the blood shed by our forefathers to establish this country; the white stands for the purity of purpose in the creation of these United States; the blue is as a kiss from the skies overhead to bless the birth of our nationalism. Nothing can long halt the march of Old Glory. It will go on its way proudly and triumphantly when all un-American thoughts are long forgotten.

The day will come when our glorious flag will be flying proudly over a far greater and far better United States than any of us has ever known.

MILKING MACHINES

A prominent member of the state legislature was discussing Michigan's prison problems a few days ago. He said that the biggest trouble lies in the fact that there is not enough employment in the prisons for the inmates and that their idleness is the cause of the discontent that prevails.

He pointed out that it was due to the silly action of prison administrators in buying automatic machinery that curtailed much of the employment of these men. Instead of having the men milk the prison dairy herds, expensive milking machines have been installed, and all the inmates have to do is stand around and see that they work properly.

This is just one of the many foolish things that prevails in our prison system. Work, work of the hardest kind, is what the inmates should be put at. Instead they are called upon to operate milking machines and other automatic devices that seek to lessen labor. No wonder there is discontent and trouble in our prisons. If the system is not changed there is going to be plenty more of it.

ONE YEAR TO SERVE

If I had but one year to live,
One year to help, one year to give,
One year to love, one year to bless,
One year of better things to stress,
One year to sing, one year to smile,
To brighten earth a little while;
One year to sing my Maker's praise,
One year to fill with work my days;
One year to strive for a reward
When I should stand before my Lord—
I think that I would spend each day
In just the very self-same way
That I do now. For from afar
The call may come to cross the bar
At any time, and I must be Prepared to meet eternity.
So, if I have a year to live,
Or just one day in which to give
A pleasant smile, a helping hand,
A mind that tries to understand
A fellow-creature when in need
'Tis one with me—I take no heed.
But try to live each day He sends
To serve my gracious Master's ends.

Who a lesson learns from the man who falls
And a moral finds in his mournful walks.
Yes, he is the man who wins.

The man who wins is the man who stays
In the unthought paths and now the rocky ways;
And perhaps who lingers now and then,
To help some failure to rise again.
Ah! he is the man who wins!

And the man who wins is the man who hears
The curse of the envious in his ears,
But who goes his way with his head held high
And passes the wrecks of the failures by—
For he is the man who wins.

And the man who wins is the man who hears
The curse of the envious in his ears,
But who goes his way with his head held high
And passes the wrecks of the failures by—
For he is the man who wins.

And the man who wins is the man who hears
The curse of the envious in his ears,
But who goes his way with his head held high
And passes the wrecks of the failures by—
For he is the man who wins.

And the man who wins is the man who hears
The curse of the envious in his ears,
But who goes his way with his head held high
And passes the wrecks of the failures by—

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

ALREADY HAVE A MANAGER AND EDITOR—

Have just received a card reading: "Capable and reliable young man, 22, wants work as editor or manager of Michigan weekly." That's fine—the average young man today wants just that—he wants to leap to the editor or manager's chair with one jump from the kindergarten department. And if he can't have that he does not care for anything.

What the average newspaper wants today is a young man to start at the bottom, and when we say bottom we mean bottom, with a capital "B." And bottom means washing presses, cleaning machinery, melting metal, sweeping the floor, cleaning cases—getting all smeared up so that his own mother would not know him. But try and get one. Of course, if they can take the editor's chair, or the manager's desk—why, he'll consider it.

Tell the youngster today how the editor or manager started and he'll think you are crazy. The writer of this article started when fourteen years of age. Went to the office at seven in the morning, worked until the last school bell rang, attended school, reported at the office again at four and worked until six. Worked two hours Wednesday night and until the paper was mailed and in the office on Thursday, and did this two weeks for nothing. After two weeks he was paid the munificent sum of fifty cents a week for a year, when his salary was raised to one dollar a week, and a dollar and a half a week during summer vacation.

Happy to say, the Journal has a manager and editor. Also one good kid, although he makes considerable more than 50c a week. But the young fellows are scarier than feathers on a rabbit.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

SOME CAN'T THINK

One reason why a lot of folks cling to poverty like a turtle to a mud pond is simply because they haven't the sense to adjust their thinkers in the opposite direction.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader

MAN THE MACHINERY!

If every piece of saving machinery now available was made use of, every worker born since 1920 would be put out of work. A rather startling statement, but it is true according to the figures compiled by the experts. The reason unemployment is not as extensive is that not all places of business have installed the most modern equipment.

The world does progress. Science and invention have functioned to make man's burden easier upon this earth. But man has not learned to accommodate himself to the fast-changing picture. The result is unemployment and under-consumption, causing the production machinery to get out of gear.

Some additional advance strides are promised for the year 1936. But the greatest demand is for a formula that will allow the populace to adjust itself to the changes. Will that be found in the year just starting?—Joe Sturgeon in The Delta County Reporter.

FISH PONDS OR HOSPITALS

Gov. Fitzgerald was pected when the federal PWA turned down a grant for an addition to the Ypsilanti state hospital to provide needed rooms for about 800 mental patients. "The federal government has money to improve fish ponds and make traffic surveys, but refuses money for needed state hospitals." The state will go ahead and spend the $500,000 it has ready for this addition. At Gaylord another state project to provide beds for tuberculosis patients has been ignored by PWA. The state has $250,000 on hand for this job. Thirty-seven northern Michigan counties have not a single bed for the tubercular. Dean Mortimer Cooley, PWA head for Michigan, replied to the governor's trade by saying that both projects were still under consideration at Washington after getting approval in the state office.—S. L. Marshall, in St. Johns Republican-News.

QUALIFICATIONS OF A PIONEER

It's a real pioneer who can remember the electric road promoters.—Joe Haas in The Holly Herald.

PROPHETS OF DOOM

Luckily for humanity, it still maintains a saving sense of humor. Were this not so, the wallings of the pessimists would drive us all crazy. For surely there is no lack of prophets of doom to harry us with their doleful warnings that the world is going to rot.

Each long-faced brother solemnly assures us that unless his particular panacea for saving the race shall be speedily adopted there is no hope. Modernism, flapperism, automobiles, hooch, movies, dancing, bridge and cigarettes, singly or in combination, constitute the outstanding menace, according to the viewpoint of the particular alarmist who happens to have the floor.

Thus, after listening to these apostles of doom, with a more or less pronounced feeling of boredom, unregenerate humanity turns to the funny page and smiles at the varying fortunes of Jiggs and Andy Gump.

This does not mean that the average person is indifferent to the evil in the world. It means that sensible people recognize the inherent weakness and folly of humanity, and refuse to become unduly excited about it. They realize the utility of trying to carry the world's burden on their shoulders, though they seek to be helpful in practical ways. They courageously face the things that are, while sanely striving for the things that ought to be.—George O. St. Charles in The Dearborn Independent.

A PRAYER
Our Father in Heaven, as the Name of God, we rejoice in that Name which is above every name. The Name of wonder, uniting the sweetest virtues, the gentlest manners, the purest wisdom, and the truest love ever known to man. Blessed Lord God, we thank Thee. By Thy grace enable us to bear everything that will do us good, everything that will make us greater, and everything that will enlarge the landscape of our lives. O keep us from immolation of desire and from all wrong motives. We most earnestly pray Thee that we may be spared from the saddest experience of earth, namely, in which aspirations are prostrate in which splendid purposes have fallen like broken columns and hopes lie dead. Heavenly Father, be our light in the darkness, our friend in loneliness, our bread in hunger, and our guide in each critical emergency. In the name of Jesus Christ our Savior. Amen.

A Glimpse Into Their Yesterdays

To grow things to raise the biggest corn in Lenawee county to have the biggest pumpkin ever seen by man on display at the county fair—to be a real dirt farmer—that was the ambition of Burton E. Giles. But the nearest he ever came to realizing that ambition was to sell the products of the garden and the farm from a grocery store.

The general postmaster of Plymouth whose term of office expires during March, was born October 12, 1882 in Blissfield, Michigan. His grandmother was the third white girl born in Lenawee county and his grandfather was the third oldest settler of that strongly agricultural county. His grandmother doctored neighboring Indians when they became ill. Among the schoolmates of Mr. Giles at Blissfield was Paul Voelker, recent Democratic state superintendent of public instruction as well as Prof. John Brumm, head of the department of journalism of the University of Michigan.

During his school days Mr. Giles was so interested in farming that he visited every farm within 20 miles of Blissfield. He has spare time he worked on farms. As a young fellow he came to know almost as much about farming as some of the farmers did themselves.

But a career as farmer was not to be for him. When he finished school he was offered a job in the bank at Blissfield and, after a few years he was made secretary of the Blissfield Robe and Hatters company, makers of the famous Galloway robes and fur coats.

Over at Holloway in Lenawee county a few years later in company with a relative he purchased a general store and in the brief time they had it, the store prospered and grew.

A little later he started a private state bank at Jasper with T. M. Joslin, for years a well known Bull Moose leader in Michigan. In fact Mr. Joslin was one time the Bull Moose candidate for governor of the state.

Two years later Mr. Giles sold this bank and started another private bank at Blissfield, Michigan. Later on a similar successful venture was started at Warsaw. This bank was later sold and he took a position on the Chicago Daily News.

With an associate on this paper they bought the old Anson Times and incorporated it as all of the business of many previous years of success in Lenawee.

When "The Times" was laid away to its final rest, Mr. Giles secured a position with The Detroit News as road agent and later went over to The Detroit Times as office cashier.

Then a few years later he secured a position with a loan and savings company in Minneapolis and the desire of his family to return to Michigan resulted in his acceptance of a position as office manager of the Kim Air Rifle company of Plymouth—a position he held for five years.

When he left this position he became a store manager for the A & P and showed the clerks how to push the sales of fruits and vegetables he wanted to grow but never had the chance to do. It was in 1927 when he was appointed postmaster of Plymouth, a position he has filled with satisfaction to the community.

Always a lover of the outdoors, Mr. Giles finds much pleasure in hunting and fishing. He is one of the few who does not possess an automobile. His many friends regret that his term as postmaster is about to expire.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

THE FIVE YEAR-OLD LIKES "I"

AN INTERNATIONAL kinder garden survey showed that the word most frequently used by children of five years of age is "I".

That does not prove, of course, that a person who is fond of the word "I" necessarily has a mentality of five. But the connection is unavoidable.

And this is one characteristic that we cannot attribute particularly to women: Thanks be for that.

As we sit back and smile at the growing children who like above all else to say "I," we can smile with the pleasing realization that they are not predominantly of our own sex.

There are so many ways of saying "I" without actually using the word.

All the dogmatic opinions, all the arbitrary ones, all the "laying down the law" in this world is merely another expression of the spirit of "I."

The people who are always sure of themselves, sure that they are right, that they must be right, theirs is just another way of saying "I." And there is a very evident kinship with the five-year-old.

For it is only as the mind grows mature that it begins to question itself, its own motives, its own rightness. It is when we begin to really know something of all this influence that we realize how much we do not know. Then we are not very sure of ourselves, then when we indulge the "I" we do it with a sense of embarrassment.

Does it irritate you, all you with annoyance when one of the snooty people are so constant with their "I's"? Well, don't let it. Would you be angry with a five-year-old child who says "I" all the time?

On and Off The Record

Judge Giles sent a man to jail the other day for contempt of court and perjury. The man came to court praying for sympathy and asked for the court's aid. He was in debt and couldn't pay all his bills. He made little money and feared punishment. The Contingent division came to his aid and suggested a small amount to be paid weekly. The court would protect the man while he was doing his best.

The man missed two payments and Giles then discovered that the man was making twice the sum he admitted to the court. Giles sent him to jail immediately.

The Contingent division met setbacks and so it is now and Giles, as a line item for the credit and debtor. The contingent division space on the old building. They discovered that due to the one business outside, it was possible to build up or down the surplus of the fund and learning this, it was decided to ridicule laws made for his benefit.

Auditor Ray Schneider has explained the reasons back of the WPA project around the County Building, which has had us wondering lately. Schneider is a builder by trade and explains the problems of rejuvenation regarding a building such as the County Building.

The County Building was completed in 1902. At that time it was a fine governmental structure ample to care for the needs of Wayne county.

Today, officials realize more each day that something must be done to house an ever increasing population. There are new functions, new departments and new duties. What will these different departments be placed?

Plans for a new building have not setbacks and so it is now and Giles, as a line item for the credit and debtor. The contingent division space on the old building. They discovered that due to the one business outside, it was possible to build up or down the surplus of the fund and learning this, it was decided to

TRY THIS TRICK

TRICK The entertaining trick you require an empty book of paper matches. In mysterious fashion you set the match pack on end and release it.

presto! The match pack does a complete somersault along the table. You pick it up, set it down, and it repeats its acrobatic stunt. Other people try it, but somehow the trick fails to work for them.

To begin with, you must hold the match pack to make it convey at the front. People observe this fact and they think they know the secret. But they invariably neglect to notice the most important part of the trick.

Always stand the match pack up side down and let it roll backward. Other people, trying to duplicate your stunt, will naturally set the pack right side up. From that position, it will not do the double roll.

Blind people are not deprived of the pleasure of smoking. Many people believe that the blind do not smoke because their inability to see the smoke or glowing tobacco eliminates all pleasure from smoking. However, blind people do enjoy smoking. build out from the building to the sidewalk on all sides. When these additions are completed the building will have a 20 per cent increase in floor space. The entire tax sale held through the various county treasurers next May is endangered as to its legality," said Jacob P. Sumeracki, Wayne county treasurer.

"I have just received the first two volumes of our tax sales books for the May sale, and it appears to me that the manner in which the penalties have been applied against the various parcels of property is certain to be attacked in the courts by individual owners, thereby endangering the legality of the entire tax sale. I say this with no criticism whatever to the Auditor General's Dept. because they have followed a legal opinion by the State Attorney General's Department," Sumeracki said.

The point at issue is the adding of a $1.00 advertising fee to each year of delinquency against various parcels. While the general state tax law provides for a $1.00 advertising fee, all of which goes to the State, still the legislature in the 1933 and 1934 sessions passed moratorium acts eliminating all penalties. Under the Moore-Holbeck Act, which provides for the payment of all taxes for 1932 and prior years over a 10-year period, all penalties were seemingly cancelled against these taxes for those years if paid either in full or one-tenth parts before September 1, 1935. Yet, in the set-up of the sales books that I have received, we find that the Auditor General, acting under an opinion from the Attorney General, has made a charge of $1.00 advertising fee for each year of delinquency. There might have been a reasonable excuse for the addition of this additional advertising fee for each year if the state had been put to the expense of advertising for all those years, but as a matter of fact there has been no tax sale since 1929 and it seems unreasonable and confiscatory for the state to make a charge of $1.00 per year for each year of delinquency especially in view of the fact that any one who buys the 1933 or 1934 taxes must also purchase the one-tenth part of the 1932 and prior years' taxes. In the books that I have had on hand I find numerous instances where the total tax to go to sale is under $1.00 ranging over a period as high as five years, and there is a $5.00 advertising fee in addition to the tax. In other words, I can name a specific instance in which the total tax over five years amounts to $45, but the addition to the five-year $1.00 advertising penalty makes the total amount $545. In view of the fact that the tax-payers of Wayne county and the state have made great sacrifices to pay delinquent taxes during the past two years, it does not seem fair or equitable to me that this heavy additional advertising fee be added. I do not believe the state has been, or will be put to any expense that warrants such a penalty. Undoubtedly, some individual taxpayer will take court proceedings to prevent this sale because of the conditions cited. I feel that a test case should be started immediately challenging the right of the state to exact the penalties as provided in the books, and perhaps the whole matter could be clarified in sufficient time to prevent an annulment of the entire tax sale in May. During the past year in Wayne county, we have collected over $13,000,000 in delinquent taxes for 1934 and prior years. A considerable amount of this was one-tenth payments under the Moore-Holbeck Act, or ten year payment plan. Delinquent tax payments are holding up well into this year and give every indication that the people are anxious to pay them up.

There Is No Other Way

In supplying telephone service to Michigan, this Company's first concern is with the present. Above all else, the service must be good today. But to serve the present, we must be constantly preparing for the future.

To illustrate: In Detroit stands Michigan's largest long distance switchboard. It represents invested money, skilled labor and thorough engineering study. The need for this switchboard did not exist at the time plans were made for it. But a careful survey of the future had plainly indicated that such a need was coming. And when it came, this Company was perfectly equipped to handle the heavy traffic of long distance calls that flowed in and out of Michigan's great industrial areas.

The intricate mechanism behind your telephone cannot be assembled overnight, nor thrown together to meet a sudden need. It must be "built ahead." To do this intelligently—and economically—requires an intensive engineering survey of such factors as shifts in population, industrial developments and trends in real estate. The neglect of these preparations could be as wasteful as building a bridge accommodating a single lane of traffic, only to find later that additional lanes are imperative.

It is not a mere academic theory that this policy of building for the future is the only way to provide high-grade telephone service. Experience has repeatedly demonstrated that there is no other way.

Dear Mr. Wynn: I am taking an examination for a letter-carrier's position. One question seems to stick me. I know you will help me, so here's the question: "What has four legs and flies all around?" Truly yours, WILL I. PASS

Answer: Well it's a question which answers the government wants from you. Two canary birds have four legs and fly all around, but I think the answer you want is as follows: "A dead horse has four legs and flies all around!"

Dear Mr. Wynn: I have trouble in keeping my silverware clean. They say that whisky is the best polish of silver. How is it used? Sincerely, IMA HOUSEKEEPER

Answer: Just rub the whisky and then buff on the silver.

Dear Mr. Wynn: I have been reading the pro and con discussions on "What a Man Is Drunk." Please tell me what a person can be absolutely sure that a map is drunk? Truly yours, Y. B. SOBIECH

Answer: A man is absolutely "drunk" when he crosses home late puts the candle in both ears, blows himself out.

Dear Mr. Wynn: I just entered college this year. My father wants me to be a lawyer and I want to be a doctor. Can you tell me just what you think of these two professions, so I can choose? Yours, COL. EDGAR BOVE

Answer: A doctor is a man who puts medicine about which he knows little, into your stomach, about which he knows nothing, while a lawyer is a man who takes money from your enemy and keeps it for himself.

Dear Mr. Wynn: I notice articles in the newspapers, which refer to something or other happening in the great peace town, but they never mention the name of the town. I must confess my ignorance and ask you to please tell me the name of the great peace town? Sincerely, U. R. BRIGHT

Answer: The greatest peace town I know of is Reno.

Rotarians Hear Two Good Talks

It remained for Harold Anderson and A. Blake Gillies to provide the Plymouth Rotarians with two exceptionally interesting talks last Friday noon. The club members learned more about gasoline and oil in the brief time that they were listening to Mr. Anderson than they could have gained from text books in many a month.

From Mr. Gillies, deputy warden of the Detroit House of Correction, they heard of many problems prison officials try to meet and of the difficulty in trying to return men to society as good citizens because of the attitude of the public towards men who have served a term in prison.

If the public would be thoughtful and cooperative in matters of this kind, said Mr. Gillies, many men who are returned to prison for second and third terms would not be back behind prison walls. One cannot expect a prisoner to go out and make good unless he has a job whereby he can provide himself with a living, said Mr. Gillies. The doors to too many business concerns and factories are closed to men who have been in prison.

Mr. Gillies invited the Rotarians to some day visit the Detroit House of Correction.

Door and table prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. The cost of maintaining the lunchroom which is under the supervision of Mrs. Claude Zimmerman, home economics teacher, and Mrs. William Liebetreu, dietician, is $35 per month, or about $1 for each child. Dues of the P.T.A., 25 cents per person, and contributions placed in milk bottles in downtown business establishments, help to maintain the work.

Northville Man Buys Hotel Site

Purchase of the old Ambler hotel site on Main street in Northville by Philip Grennan was announced last week. The hotel, called the Park in later years, was burned to the ground December 9, 1929, after a colorful history of some 71 years. Mr. Grennan bought the land from E. A. Shaffer, owner for the past 40 years.

The building was built in 1858 by William Ambler and for 20 years it bore his name. Among the brilliant social affairs held there were the grand opening ball attended by 200 couples and, in 1907, the Ambler family reunion.

In 1888 Frank B. Park took over the property from Mr. Ambler, selling it four years later to a man named Ives. Other managers have been John Buckner and W. A. Ely.

The name "scrub oak" is commonly used in reference to various species of oak trees growing in the sand plains of Michigan. It is descriptive and does not denote a species of oak tree.

Business Club Holds Meeting

In keeping with the program of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the local club held a legislative dinner at Mayflower Hotel on Jan. 28. Miss Elizabeth Sutherland and Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple were the hostesses. Mrs. Whipple gave an interesting and comprehensive talk on the federal social security act, which was followed by an informal discussion on the same subject.

The benefit bridge parties which have been given by different members of the club this winter have been quite well attended and have helped to swell the club's scholarship loan fund. This, it is hoped, will be augmented further by the proceeds from the linen-filled cedar chest given away on February 25th.

A regular business meeting will be held on February 11 at Hanna Strasen's studio on Main street.

Enrollment in Winter Courses 248 at State

First year students in the winter short course number 50 of the total enrollment of 248. The present term will be concluded March 15 when graduation exercises will be held for those who have completed the second year of the 16 weeks course and the one year eight weeks courses.

The total planting for the nation was 501,789,763, an all-time high record.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

DANNY HAS THE SHAKES

Of all the shills of which you hear, There's no chill like the chill of fear.

DANNY MEADOW MOUSE sighed with thankfulness and relief as he reached the other side of the Laughing Brook by way of the old log which had fallen across it, thus making a bridge. To be sure he was a long, long way from his snug little home where Nanny Meadow Mouse was anxiously waiting for him, but at least he was on the right side of the Snail.

He first looked for a place where he could rest in safety. Just a few feet from the end of the log on which he crossed the Laughing Brook was another old log. At once Danny scampered over to it, for he long ago learned that old logs are quite likely to be hollow, and when they are they make the very best retreats in all the Great World for third little people who wish to keep out of sight.

Just as he hoped, this old log was hollow and the only entrance was through an old knot hole large enough for Danny to squeeze through. Making sure that no one else was there, Danny squeezed in and promptly forgot all his recent troubles and was happy, which fortunately is the way of the little people of the Green Meadows, and the Green Meadows. If it were not they would know very little happiness.

In two minutes Danny was fast asleep. How long he slept he didn't know, but suddenly he was wide awake. He heard nothing, but he had a feeling of uneasiness. He crept to the entrance and peeped out. The moonlight lay full on the old log across the Laughing Brook and even as he looked in still dark form leaped up on the farther end and began to run swiftly across with nose close to the old log.

It was Billy Mink, and Danny knew Billy's wonderful nose had found his scent somewhere on the other bank, and that it would lead Billy straight to the hollow log. And so it happened. It was scarcely a minute before Billy's nose was poked in at the knot hole and Billy took one long sniff. "Ah, ha," said Billy. "So this is where you are. Come out like a gentleman and be eaten."

Danny said nothing, but he began to shake as with the cold. It was the chill of fear. He was trapped.

A quick passing attack put on by the Ypsi forward line bedazzled the Rocks and Miller hooped a basket. Delvo put life into the Rocks when he hooked the strings with a long shot. Moe was pushed by Woodsie, but the attempt was no good. Starvas hooped a long shot to add to the Ypsi score. Trinka failed on a pair of charity tosses given to him by Fuller.

The Plymouth Reserves were not going so well in the first half and they found a 12-3 score to overcome. Morrison, Fuller, and Britton came back in the game and Ypsi was once again at full strength. Morrison, receiving the ball from Britton, made a nice pivot shot from the red line. Gillis chucked up a foul against himself when he hacked Morrison who failed to convert for the attempt. Delvo charged Britton, who took advantage of the gift toss and sank it. With only seconds remaining in the third quarter, Kennedy was substituted for McAndrew.

As the last quarter got underway, Britton hooped a one-handed shot from deep in the corner; Morrison was fortunate in sinking the charity toss handed to him by Gillis. Delvo and Trinka both sank baskets to increase the Plymouth score. Trinka's basket resulted from a splendid shot from the corner. Kennedy fouled Trinka, but both attempts were wasted. Anderson was substituted for Moe; Woodsie charged Gillis and he wished the strings with the shot. Anderson, who had not been in the game very long, made a hooper from the foul line. Norman was substituted for Delvo and immediately made a nice overhead shot. Bobbie Hitt, midjet of the team, went into the game for Trinka's spare. SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH

Rev. Cora Pennell, Pastor. We invite you to attend morning worship at 10:30 o'clock. The message on February 9 will be "Stewards of the Mysteries of God."

Bible school, 11:45. "Jesus Insists on Righteousness." Luke 6. Golden text: "Why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" Luke 6:46.

The hymn-sing orchestra and Sunday morning choir will go to the Calvary Baptist church in Plymouth Sunday evening. We hope that a large group will go along to support the good work done by these two organizations.

There will be no evening service in our own church. The annual fish supper is announced for Friday evening, Feb. 7. The supper, which will be served in the church basement starting at 8 o'clock will be followed by an interesting program of music. The Plymouth high school orchestra will be our guests and entertainers for the evening.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

Cor. Main and Dodge Sts. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of twenty years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 9. Among the Bible citations in this passage (John 4:24): "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 93): "In Christian Science, Spirit, as a proper noun, is the name of the Supreme Being. It means quantity and quality, and applies exclusively to God."

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH

O. J. Peters, Pastor. Services in German, Sunday, Feb. 9. Ladies Aid meets Wednesday, Feb. 12, at the home of Mrs. Elsie Selow, Newburg Road, north of Five Mile road.

NAZARENE CHURCH

Robert A. North, Pastor. Bible school, 10:00 a. m. worship, 11:15 a. m.; Young People, 6:30; evening service, 7:30 p. m.; prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30.

The Sunday morning message will be "The Holy Spirit's Work in Sanctification." The Holy Spirit came on the day of Pentecost and gave the disciples power for service. Acts 1:8. He also purified their hearts. Acts 15: 8, 9. They had been saved for Jesus. They told them that their names were written in heaven. Luke 10:20. They had been ordained to preach. Mk. 3:14. They had power to cast out devils. Luke 10:17 and were not of the world. Jno. 17:16.

So it is only sane and logical that the Pentecostal experience was a second definite work of grace. At this time the Disciples hearts were cleansed from all sin. 1 Jno. 1:9 and they received that "Holiness without which no man shall see the Lord." Heb. 12:14. The devil and some preachers hate holiness, but heaven is a holy place and nothing that defileth shall enter there. Rev. 21:27. The Bible is a Holy Book and His Word is Holy and God's word declares "Be ye Holy as I am Holy." 1 Pet. 1:16. Reader have you had your Pentecost? We invite you to come and visit the "Church with the full gospel Message."

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Christ Calms the Storm.—The subject of this illustration, from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures, engraved in 1625-1630, is taken from an incident related in the first three Gospels. According to Matthew the story reads, "And when He was entered into a ship, His disciples followed Him. And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch that the ship was covered with the waves; but He was asleep. And His disciples came to Him and awoke Him, saying, Lord, save us; we perish. And He saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. But the men marveled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!" After the voyage, which probably was on the sea of Galilee, Christ landed in the country of the Gergesenes, where He cast out devils from two men.

Texas Plans Brilliant Centennial Pageantry

The romantic history of Texas from the landing of the Spaniards 400 years ago until the present day will be portrayed in a Cavalcade of Texas at the Texas Centennial exposition which opens in Dallas next June.

Exposition authorities have appropriated $150,000 for this spectacle which will be one of the feature events of the $25,000,000 World's Fair. On an artificial river in the exposition grounds will float Spanish galleons, LaPitte's pirate ships and war boats of the Republic of Texas. A huge screen of spraying water tinted by vari-colored lights, will curtain the shifting acts.

From conquistadore to cowboy, from the quest for gold to the discovery of oil, the glamor of Lone Star state history will be recounted in detail. Charles E. Turner, former West Texas cow puncher and recently mayor of Dallas, is in charge of the spectacle with William M. Hamilton, playwright and composer as director. The script is written by Jan Isbell Fortune, Texas writer of note.

Bruce Miller Gets Scoop For Michigan Tech Paper

The Winter Carnival issue of the Michigan Tech. News, bears witness to the initiative of Bruce Miller, of Plymouth, sports editor of the paper. A special feature of the issue is a long signed news-story by Al Wold of the sports staff of the Minneapolis Journal, secured by Miller through correspondence with Wold.

Miller's work for Michigan Tech's tenth annual winter frolic is not confined to his obtaining this news story from a leading journalist. The Plymouth young man, as president of Chi Epsilon Club, had much to do with planning and erecting that chemical fraternity's impressive snow statue, and served on the committee for the election of the carnival queen.

But on the other hand, from the meaning in the poems it has also been regarded as a sign for a pause or silence.

Mother's Cook Book FRUIT SOUPS

COCKTAILS are more popular as a fruit luncheon for the dinner than soups, though in Europe the soups are enjoyed by prince and peasant, summer or winter; chilled with shaved ice. With fruit soups the nourishment depends upon the ingredients used, as with other soups. Fruits, raisins, figs, bananas, persimmons and papaws have more food value in themselves, though lacking in other things. With the addition of stock, milk and egg, the food value is increased. Dried or canned fruits are used as well as the fresh fruits.

Strawberry and Orange Soup. Sprinkle a pint of strawberries with sugar and let stand on ice for one hour. Make a syrup of one and one-half quarts of water and a pound of sugar, cook for ten minutes, add a quart of fresh berries with the juice of one lemon. Mash and strain, adding a cupful of orange juice with the berries, which have been leech. Serve cold.

Prune and Peach Soup. Take one-third of a pound of dried prunes and two-thirds of a pound of dried peaches, soak overnight. In the morning add a pint of cold water and cook to the boiling point, then add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, cook until the sugar is clear. Add a cupful of cherry cranberry or other tart juice and serve either hot or cold.

Apple and Rice Soup. Core and slice thin eight unpeeled apples. Cook them with one-half cupful of rice until both are soft, using two quarts of boiling water. Put through a sieve, add spices and one-half cupful of orange juice or grapefruit marmalade. Serve hot.

Fancy Caramels. Put two cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of corn syrup, one cupful of cream, two cupfuls of milk, one-half cupful of butter in a saucepan and cook and stir until the candy forms a soft ball when tested in cold water—245 degrees F. Add one package of dates sliced, and two tea spoonfuls of vanilla and turn at once into lightly greased pans. When cold remove from the pans and cut into squares with a hot knife. Wrap each in waxed paper. This recipe will make two and one-half pounds.

Farm Debt Group Named for County

F. J. Cochran, of Northville, recently attended a conference at Ann Arbor at which representatives from the regional office of the Resettlement Administration discussed conditions under which a farmer, burdened with excessive debt and unable to borrow money elsewhere, may obtain a loan from the Rural Rehabilitation division.

The manner in which Farm Debt Adjustment should benefit the creditor as well as the distressed farm debtor was emphasized. The Federal Land bank sent C. L. Rose to discuss its policies and position as an independent loaning agency.

Mr. Cochran, together with Charles Rathburn, of Plymouth, constitute the Farm Debt Adjustment committee for Wayne county. They give their time to aid worthy farmers whose debt load is excessive, with no cost to the farmer. Those wishing further information should see any of the above committee members or the county rural rehabilitation superintendent, Wilbur Steinacker, at Dearborn.
