Free Lessons In Golf Are Planned

With the 1936 golf season getting under way the Plymouth Country club is planning a program of free group golf lessons in conjunction with the Michigan Golf association, of which it is a member.

These free lessons are sponsored by the association with the Professional Golf association and a Detroit newspaper to stimulate an interest in golf and give all classes of players from beginners up an opportunity to learn the fundamentals of the game from a recognized P.G.A. official.

The course will be given over a six-weeks period, beginning the first week in May, by Bill Fishlock, who has been signed by the Plymouth Country club this year as professional instructor.

At the end of the course a free membership in the club will be awarded to the player who shows the greatest improvement in form. It will not be necessary for contestants to play for low score, as form is all that is considered in making the award. All residents of Plymouth, Northville and the surrounding districts are eligible to take part.

Despite cool weather, a large crowd played over the course last Sunday, L. D. Hunt, greenskeeper, states that the course is now in excellent shape and should be in mid-season condition within the next week or two.

Club officials are planning a full program this year, with interest centered on the inter-club team matches of the Michigan Golf association. The schedule has not yet been announced, but it is known matches will start May 3 and will be played off in seven consecutive weeks. The Plymouth club is hopeful of having a championship team this year as two or three additions have been made and at present there are five players who are capable of shattering par on any course.

Four players were with the team last year. They are Les Ash, John Lock, Harry Fitzpatrick and Norm Copland. The fifth is John Powers, formerly of Battle Creek but now a resident of Plymouth. Last year he represented Battle Creek in the state tournament and reached the semi-finals before being eliminated.

Contestants for the sixth place on the team are Jimmie Williams and Harold Burley, of Plymouth. Leo Fitzpatrick and Don Charlesworth. The winner is being decided by match play between the four. In the first match Sunday Fitzpatrick was eight up on Harold Burley at the end of 18 holes, with 18 holes more to play. His score was 73.

A women's organization is being formed in connection with the Michigan Golf association. During the season each course will entertain women from other courses, with no green fees charged, and a different course will be played each week. The opening date, probably a Wednesday, will be announced in the near future.

Mrs. Roy Hood attended her bridge club in Detroit Thursday evening.

Small Fire Tuesday At Perfection Laundry

Fire broke out Tuesday in a drying tumbler of the Perfection Laundry dry cleaning plant. Although the entire load was damaged beyond salvaging, Kenneth Corey, manager, reports that the loss was entirely covered by insurance.

Each garment damaged in the fire will be replaced by a new one. Mr. Corey states the blaze in the tumbler was quickly put out by means of fire extinguishers and the machinery was found not to be damaged.

Mrs. Burr Is President Of Woman's Club

Officers Re-Elected At "Annual Day" Meeting

Following a luncheon Friday noon at the Mayflower hotel, members of the Plymouth Woman's club gathered in the Crystal room for their "Annual Day" program. All last year's officers, headed by Mrs. George S. Burr as president, were re-elected.

The slate was composed of Mrs. Burr, second vice-president; Mrs. Paul Witting, recording secretary; Mrs. Harold Stevens, correspondence secretary; and Mrs. F. R. Hoheisel, treasurer. The executive board is made up of these officers and Mrs. Ray Johns, Mrs. Claude J. Dykhouse and Miss Marion Sawyer.

A report was given of the successful benefit bridge for the Michigan Crippled Children's Fund. The date of the "Flower Mart," with Mrs. Cass S. Hough as chairman, was postponed to Saturday, May 16.

Mrs. Charles Horr was chairman of the program for the day, which was opened with two tracts, "Come Ye Maidens" and "At Rest," sung by Mrs. Maurice Woodward, Mrs. James Sessions and Mrs. Norma Cassidy. Mrs. Harold Stevens then read a paper on "Pioneer Women of Michigan," in which she pointed out that though only four women in the United States, Mrs. James Sessions and Mrs. Norma Cassidy, women of the state mentioned in the paper were Madame Joseph LaFroimboise, of Ada; Julia Anne King, of Milan; and Helen M. Barrett, of Richland.

Local Boy Wins Essay Contest

Russell Kirk, a senior in Plymouth high school, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Kirk, was awarded a first prize of $50 for his literary contribution to the annual National Scholastic contests. Each year Scholastic magazine offers prizes for the best student contributions in the field of essays, poetry, short stories, journalism, painting, sculpturing and several other fields of literature and art and craftsmanship.

Russell Kirk's prize winning entry was a familiar essay, "Memories," which told the history of America through souvenirs. His essay was given first prize in competition with those from 3,000 other schools. It will be published this spring in "Saplings," a book which annually collects the best in contemporary student literature.

Shortly before spring vacation Russell received a telegram from Scholastic requesting a picture for publication in an early issue of the magazine, but it was not until the Monday after vacation that he learned that the prize which he had received was a check for $50.

Two other entries from Plymouth received honorable mention in the same contest. Jack Sessions was given honorable mention for an analysis of the American Youth Congress and Don Thrall received honorable mention in the field of essays. While neither of these entries are to receive prizes, Don's work has been placed in an exhibition at the Carnegie Galleries in Pittsburgh and will soon begin a tour of other leading galleries.

Bring Back Bushel Of Smelt From Alpena

When Matt Powell and his friends go hunting or fishing they really go to get what they go after. The other day Mr. Powell, accompanied by Walter Dann, William Rengert and Fielder Schaeffer drove to Alpena during the smelt run at that place. They brought back over a bushel of these little fish, distributing them among their friends. Non-day guests at the "family table" at the Mayflower ate smelt one day that had been contributed by Mr. Powell. Smelt have been running up streams on the east side of Michigan only a year or

Bennett Tells Rotary About European Trip

Gives Highlights Of Rotary Meetings He Attended

An interesting account of some of the high spots of his recent European trip, particularly his attendance at meetings of several foreign Rotary clubs, was given by Charles H. Bennett for the Plymouth Rotary club Friday noon at the Mayflower hotel.

He opened his talk by saying that he had several new experiences during the trip, not the least of which was sailing on the "Bremen" at five minutes after midnight. He went on to describe the Bremen, a ship of 52,000 tons which is about 1,100 feet long (from the Mayflower hotel to the Robinson building, measured in Plymouth distance, he explained), and 15 stories high. The ship has four propellers and makes a speed of approximately 30 miles per hour, carries supplies each trip for 30,000 meals and employs 1,000 people he said. It made the crossing to Southampton in five and a half days.

"Next day in London I attended Rotary," he continued. "London, the largest city in the world, with a population of nearly nine million, has a Rotary membership of 240. However, London is made up of 74 districts, each with its own Rotary club so that the total membership is 3,300, or 337 Rotarians to every million inhabitants."

"The speaker for the day was Sir Somebody, Lord Mayor of London, a very important personage in his own city, who was accompanied by two sheriffs. He told

Clean-Up Drive Plans Progress

Plans are going forward for the "Clean-Up, Paint-Up and Fix-Up Week" which will be held from May 4 to May 9 inclusive under the joint auspices of the city and the Chamber of Commerce. Those in charge hope to secure the co-operation of every resident in making this one of the most effective clean-up programs ever undertaken here.

As announced last week, the city will send trucks around during the week to pick up junk and rubbish which householders have accumulated during the winter. City Manager C. H. Elliott has outlined the following schedule for the trucks:

On Tuesday, May 5, collections will be made in the first precinct, which is bounded on the south by the Ann Arbor road, on the east by South Mill street and the Fer Marquette railroad tracks, and on the west by Main street. The second precinct, bounded by the city limits on the east and north and the railroad tracks on the west, will be serviced Wednesday, Precinct three, between the city limits on the west, Penningman and Church streets on the south and the railroad tracks on the east and north, will be taken care of on Thursday, and precinct four, bounded by the city limits on the west and south, Main street on the east, and Penningman and Church streets on the north, on Friday.

It is hoped that by Sunday all rubbish will be disposed of, and that yards and houses will be in ship-shape condition. Everyone is urged to make use of the free disposal services offered by the city, to help in this spring campaign to make Plymouth more attractive.

Bank Still Has Unclaimed Money

About $20,000 belonging to depositors in the Plymouth United Savings bank before its reorganization is still unclaimed of the $500,000 released for payment as of March 1, 1935.

This money represents mortgage certificates of 50 per cent of the amount originally deposited. The certificates were to be paid over a five-year period, but the bank arranged for payment in full March 1, 1935.

The funds unclaimed for drawing no interest and the bank is trying to place them in the hands of owners for withdrawal or opening of a new account in the reorganized bank. Depositors holding unredeemed mortgage certificates are asked to call at the bank at once.

The fourth quarterly conference of the Methodist church will be held at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, when a potluck supper will be served preceding the business meeting. All members of the church are urged to take part.

Two, in fact they were observed in some streams on the east side of the state last year for the first time.

Farmers Offered Soy Bean Seed by Ford Co.

Soy bean seed for planting during 1936 season will be advanced to farmers by the Ford Motor company, the company has informed the Plymouth Mail.

The crop raised from the seed is to be sold to the company after the quantity of seed advanced has been deducted without cost to the farmer. The balance of the crop is to be sold before March 1, 1937, at the sale price to be the market price at the time of delivery to the Ford mill.

Farmers interested may obtain contract and seed at the Ford mill at Tecumseh from May 1 to July 1. They are requested to furnish their own sacks for the seed.

Henry Hondorp Named Mayor by City Commission

Appointments For Next Year Are Made And Given Approval

Henry Hondorp was elected mayor of Plymouth at the meeting of the city commission Monday night. Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple was unanimously elected mayor pro-tem.

Mr. Hondorp was named to the commission at the last regular city election. He was a member of the village council several years ago before Plymouth became a city. Appointments for the ensuing year, made by Mr. Hondorp and approved by the commission, are as follows: William B. Pez, city assessor; Frank Toncray and Walter J. Smith, members of the board of review; Arlo Emery, city attorney; George H. Robinson, J. W. Henderson, Frank Lesmond and William J. Smith, members of the Wayne county board of supervisors; Carl Heide, member of the cemetery board for three years; Mrs. Nellie V. Cash and Mrs. Ruth M. Hamburger, members of the board of registration; and Commissioners Blunk and Whipple, recreation committee members.

The matter of the Garfield avenue bridge over Tonguish creek was discussed and a decision was made to put in a special monthly reinforced concrete sewer section 50 feet long with a span of approximately seven feet. The cost is expected to be approximately $1,043.70. Members of the commission felt the need was more advisable than to repair, repaint and refloor the old bridge at an approximate cost of $682.86.

A report on the recent constructed water main on Ann Arbor street was given. The estimated cost of the project was $8,000. Actual cost of materials was $2,661.98, and of labor $2,966.16, making a total of $5,628.14. Subtracting credits on materials of $208.47, the net cost of the main was $5,420.07.

The city manager was instructed to prepare estimates on the cost of a storm sewer in the alley at the rear of the Penningman avenue and Main street business block. This sewer would take care of water from the roofs of buildings which is now going through the sanitary sewer and sewage disposal plant.

Rotary to Hold Inter-City Meet

Rotarians and their wives of Wayne, Northville, Center, Line and Detroit will be the guests of the Plymouth Rotary club at an inter-city dinner meeting this evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Mayflower hotel.

Guests of honor will include members of the Plymouth high school debating team who are to meet Kalamazoo Central in the state finals May 1 in Ann Arbor and their coach, James E. Latture, with Mrs. Latture. Members of the team are Jewel Starkweather, Tom Genick and Mrs. Sessions. Music for the evening will be furnished by a quartet from the Rosedale Gardens club.

Championship Is Goal of Plymouth High Debate Team

Meets Kalamazoo High School in Finals On May 1st

Having won their semi-final contest, Plymouth high school's debaters will attempt to win the championship of Michigan in the annual state final match to be held at 7:45 o'clock Friday, May 1, in Hill auditorium, Ann Arbor. The opposing team will represent Kalamazoo Central high.

Following a very successful season in which the debate squad has not suffered a single defeat, Plymouth will receive recognition as having the best or one of the two best squads in Michigan high school forensics. The present team consists of Jack Sessions, Jewel Starkweather, and Tom Brock, and will uphold the negative against Kalamazoo's affirmative. The coach is James E. Latture.

Recent successes of the team have familiarized Plymouth townspeople with the question to be discussed, which is: "Resolved: That the several nations of the world should make government monopolies of the manufacture and sale of all combat instruments of war." The local team will oppose the adoption of this proposition.

If Plymouth wins the state championship, the school will be presented with the winner's cup by the Detroit Free Press; if it loses, it will receive a similar cup as runner-up. The debaters have already been awarded a smaller trophy for participating in the semi-final round of debate and a plaque for taking part in the state eliminations. Members of the teams from Plymouth and Kalamazoo will be given watches as well.

No admission price is charged for attendance at Hill auditorium and it is believed that a considerable number will attend from Plymouth, as increasing local interest has been manifested in the team's victories.

Jack Sessions, Jewel Starkweather, and Tom Brock have triumphed over Lincoln high of Van Dyke, St. Philip Neri, Lincoln high of Ferndale, Redford, and Flint Northern in the eliminations; they upheld the negative in only one of these contests. The squad as a whole won 10 debates in the Twin Valley association, gaining the championship of that organization. The team also won a trophy.

Kalamazoo Central defeated Gladstone, the upper peninsula town, in the last debate round. Ten years ago Kalamazoo won the championship, while Plymouth won it 16 years ago, defeating Kalamazoo Normal high.

Escapes Death As Car Plunges In Newburg Lake

Because his car did not happen to turn over when it plunged from the highway at the east end of Newburg lake into the lake shortly after 2 o'clock Wednesday evening, Ward Lesker, a resident of Northville and one of the court clerks in Detroit, was saved from death by possible drowning.

Apparently not noticing the turn in the highway at the southeast corner of the lake, he drove his car through the guard fence. As it lunged forward into the lake, it landed on the bottom, right side up.

Forcing open the window of his car, he climbed out and swam to shore. The car, a new Dodge, was remained above water. He made his way to the Newburg Ford factory where it was discovered that he had experienced nothing more than a good wetting in the accident. The car was removed from the lake Wednesday noon. He was alone at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Raymond Grimm represents the Lyonia district and Mrs. Glenn Renwick the Plymouth-Northville district on this board. Both are members of the hospitality committee for the achievement day.

Whole City Asked to Take Part In Parade to Ann Arbor Friday, May 1st, For State Debate Finals

Local Debate Team Won Championship In 1920 State Tournament

Many alumni of Plymouth high school have been reminded by the success of the debate team this year in the Plymouth squad which won the state championship in 1920. The three members of this championship team were Lillian Lundy, Hannah Strasen, and Lyman Judson. Their coach was Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, now prominent in civic affairs and the first woman to be elected to the city commission. Lillian Lundy now resides in Northville, and Hannah Strasen still lives in Plymouth. Lyman Judson has received a degree of doctor of philosophy and is now a professor in the speech department at the University of Illinois.

One of the most interesting features of the championship debate is that when Plymouth won the state championship in 1920, the opponent was from Kalamazoo, the same city which will furnish the opposition in the coming debate at Hill auditorium in Ann Arbor. The present team hopes to be able to defeat Kalamazoo Central by the same 3-0 vote that defeated Kalamazoo Normal in 1920, while the wish of every Kalamazoo person is that Kalamazoo Central will get its 16-year-old revenge for the defeat of its sister school.

The question debated by Plymouth and Kalamazoo in 1920 was universal military training. This year's question concerns government monopoly of the munitions industry.

In 1920 there was but one award, a cup given to the winner of the final debate. This year both Plymouth and Kalamazoo will receive large cups, identical except for the inscription, and both Plymouth and Gladstone will receive smaller cups for taking part in the semi-finals. An added feature is that all of the debaters from Plymouth and Kalamazoo will receive gold watches from the Detroit Free Press.

Another clash between Plymouth and Kalamazoo occurred in 1921 when Kalamazoo defeated Plymouth in the semi-finals by a 2-1 decision. The local team was composed of Charles Chappel, Etta Wisely, and Lyman Judson.

Flower Market to Be Held on May 16

Preliminary plans for the third annual Flower Market to be held Saturday, May 16, under the auspices of the Plymouth Woman's club, are being made by the chairman, Mrs. Cass Hough and her committee.

The market will, as usual, be held in Kellogg park. It is not a commercial venture, but a project sponsored by the club to foster a love of gardens and gardening, as well as to provide an opportunity for the exchange of ideas between garden enthusiasts.

Members of Mrs. Hough's committee are Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Mrs. F. R. Hoheisel, Mrs. Ray Johns, Mrs. Leo Crane, Mrs. Harmon Smith, Mrs. Mark Chaffee and Mrs. Charles H. Bennett.

Detailed arrangements for the market will be announced in the near future. Mrs. Hough reports.

Special Interest Shown in Picture

Special interest is being shown in "The Lone Pine," a feature picture in natural color which opened a four-day run Wednesday at the Penningman Allen theater.

A log cabin "front," with pine boughs to give an out-door, "back-woods" atmosphere, has been erected in front of the theater, while the employees have been on duty for a week dressed in realistic "hill billy" costumes.

"The Lone Pine" is based on a novel of that name by John Fox, Jr. Sylvia Sidney takes the role of June, the young mountain girl who is the heroine, with Fred Truitt as the particularly interesting one since it is based on world fellowship.

It is planned as follows: Introduction of toastmistress, Elizabeth Whipple; toastmistress; Grandduch Dunlop; Russian folk dance, Girl Reserves; "To Mothers Everywhere"; Jewel Starkweather; Dutch folk dance, Girl Reserves; "To Daughters Everywhere"; Mrs. F. Ray Norton; Highland Fling; Girl Reserves; "A Message from Korea"; Mrs. Line; international dance, Girl Reserves.

Department Called To Extinguish Roof Fire

Big Celebration Planned For Debaters

Chamber of Commerce Will Sponsor Event With Aid of School and Co-operation of Townspeople

In celebration of Plymouth high school's participation in the finals of the state high school debate tournament the evening of May 1 at Hill auditorium in Ann Arbor the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a parade to go from here to Ann Arbor in support of the debating team. The opposing school will be Kalamazoo Central. All Plymouth residents are urged to take part in this demonstration, whether or not they have children attending school. The parade will form between 5:30 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon on Church street in front of the school where students will decorate cars with bunting of blue and white, the school colors, finished by the Chamber of Commerce. It will leave promptly at 6 o'clock.

The procession will be led by Supt. George A. Smith and school officials, followed by city officials, and will give Leonard a special parking lot for Plymouth rooters has been reserved on block east and half a block north of Hill auditorium. Here the crowd will be joined by others from Plymouth who left earlier in the day to attend the baseball game in Ann Arbor, additional bunting will be distributed, and there will be another parade in Ann Arbor, starting at 6:30 o'clock. The high school band will lead the line of march.

All those wishing to attend the debate, who have no means of transportation, are asked to call the school for a free ride. Mrs. Murphy, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, at 497, who those who have extra room in their cars are asked to do the same.

The debaters and their coach will be further honored at a banquet to be held Thursday evening, May 7, at the high school also under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. Details of the program will be announced in the near future.

Earl Mastick Is Auto Club Head

Earl Mastick was elected chairman of the Plymouth branch of the Automobile Club of Michigan at a luncheon meeting Thursday at the Mayflower hotel, succeeding Ernest Roe. Norris Elm will continue as secretary of the organization.

Eighteen members of the advisory board attended the session which was opened by C. H. Bennett in the absence of Mr. Roe. Mr. Mastick, of the Detroit office spoke on the work of the organization, after which a discussion of conditions in Plymouth was held, and the board approved the proposal to purchase a motorcycle for the use of the city in regulating traffic and parking.

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith led a round table discussion on local problems, but no definite action was taken. It is expected that several projects will be worked out in the near future, as soon as Mr. Mastick has named his committee for the year.

The next meeting of the board will be held Monday, April 27.

Townsend Club Holds Meeting

An interesting meeting of the Plymouth Townsend club was held Monday evening at the Grange hall with George Millage, of Ypsilanti, as the principal speaker. George Cullen, of Detroit, also was at the meeting and made some appropriate remarks, as well as answered questions from the floor.

The next meeting of the club will be Monday, May 4.

There is to be a mass meeting this coming Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the high school, opening at 2 o'clock with a concert by the Ypsilanti high school band. The program will feature as speakers Charles C. Lockwood, of Detroit, and Mr. Moody, both workers in the Townsend movement.

JUST SUPPOSE!

The other day Harry Minthorn who lives over at 438 North Holbrook avenue came into The Plymouth Mail office and freely expressed his views about some of the unfavorable conditions prevailing in the country today. Mr. Minthorn as most Plymouth residents know, has in past years been active in Democratic circles. Being a laborer who toils for a living at most any kind of a job he can pick up, he was especially bitter at the failure of his own party to provide for him the work and the "good times" that were promised in the "New Deal" was voted into power.

Mr. Minthorn in stating his disapproval, exercised the right of any free American citizen, and he went on his way, glad that he possessed a legal authority to express his political views.

But JUST SUPPOSE—

That the Communists should become powerful enough to win an election in this country.

If The Plymouth Mail continued publication under the new regime, its editor would necessarily have to be a spy for the Communist government.

After Harry Minthorn walked out of the newspaper office, the secret police would be called and advised that Harry Minthorn was talking against the political party in power. Sometime during the night the secret police would invade his home, arrest him and before dawn he would be tried, found guilty and executed against the stone wall in the basement of the city hall that partly surrounds the cell block of Plymouth's jail. There might be a possibility if the trial board wasn't just as blood-thirsty at the time of hearing the editor's complaint as usual, that Minthorn might be sent into exile to starve to death.

You laugh and say it cannot happen? Do you realize that it is in just this way that the Communists retain their power in Russia and that it is in just this way that if successful in America their opposition would be wiped out?

It could happen!

And it may happen unless decisive steps are taken by our government to clean out quickly and forever these rats that are creeping into our country through every hole they can find.

Tell us, if you can what is being done to put out of existence this dangerous movement that is far more threatening than our high officials are ready to admit?

OSBORN SAYS "AMEN."

A letter came to the office of The Plymouth Mail the other day from Hon. Chase Osborn, one of the few governors Michigan ever had who put forth a determined effort to do something for the taxpayers of the state. The former Governor, who is still at his winter home in Georgia, stated that he had read with interest the recent editorial in The Mail protesting against the idea of making the Mackinaw Straits bridge, if it is built, a toll bridge. "I agree with you in toto," he writes. He further adds that the bridge is a necessity and should be built.

Knowing much about the fight that Governor Osborn made in behalf of the taxpayers of the state when he was Governor, back in 1911 and 1912 it is not at all surprising to find that he is opposed to a scheme that calls for an indirect tax upon the patrons of the Mackinaw bridge if it should be constructed.

What a shame that a man like the former Governor, possessed of a hatred of all forms of tax waste and squandering of public moneys, could not be at the helm of the national ship today. You can bet your last cent that if Governor Osborn who operated the entire state government of Michigan and kept its institutions functioning properly on less than $12,000,000 per year, was President today, we wouldn't be faced with the calamity that we are. But looking for men of his beliefs and ideals in public life today, is like looking for a needle in the haystack. They are hard to find.

BE CAREFUL OF THE FACTS

Editor Frank Bryce of the Grand Ledger Independent, one of the outstanding editors of Michigan, but a hard-boiled, straight-laced "party" man, says in his last issue in commenting about Wilber Brucker's defeat after one brief term as Governor; "He lost out in his second term in the big Democratic landslide, yet many felt him to be a much stronger and better man than any on the ticket."

The vote, Mr. Bryce, shows nothing of the sort. Brucker ran way behind his own ticket. Your own fellow-townsmen, Mr. Fitzgerald, who was then a candidate for re-election as secretary of state, had 66,000 more votes than did Brucker. In fact EVERY candidate on the Republican ticket in the election in which Brucker was defeated, had thousands of more votes than did Brucker. Even though there had been no "Democratic landslide" that you talk about, Brucker would without question have been defeated. He polled only 696,935 votes. Comstock had a total of 887,672, which was considerably more than President Roosevelt had in Michigan. Governor Comstock, an untried public official ran way ahead of his own ticket and Brucker, with the advantage of being in control of the state administration, ran way behind his ticket. That, Editor Bryce, is sufficient evidence to show you and the other "party men" of Michigan that the people of this state do not want Brucker in office. He was overwhelmingly repudiated after one trial in an important public place. He has not the slightest claim for another chance that he asks.

ANOTHER EDITOR WRONG

It just seems that our biggest job this week in preparing the editorial column consists in setting some of the editors of the state right on several important political facts. Editor George Averill of the Birmingham Eccentric who thinks, and correctly so, that Mr. Brucker proved about as poor an excuse as a governor as Michigan ever had, further states that "he (Brucker) won on a very narrow margin over Alex Groesbeck in the primary election."

No, Mr. Averill, Brucker did NOT WIN that primary election. Alex Groesbeck won the election, and if you will recall the facts of the case, the state election board through its farcical recount, took the nomination away from Groesbeck and gave it to Brucker. You recall, Editor Averill, that the back-stage politicians of Michigan knew with Groesbeck back on the job, their days were numbered. Not so with Brucker, so they gave Brucker the nomination. Now a lot of these same old political hangers-on think they can again control a high public office by nominating Brucker for senator. They will find out before the campaign is over that the VOTERS are all through with the breed of unfit politicians represented by Brucker.

Oh those wicked French women! The following little article appeared in The Mail 25 years ago: "American women are usually content to carry a mouchoir (red note—handkerchief) and a fan in their theater bags but the women of France often add, as necessary to their well being, a powder puff and a small bonnetiere filled with some favorite confection. As soon as the Frenchwoman is comfortably seated in a theater she takes out the powder puff, seven perfums in the center of a miniature handkerchief, and dusts it lightly over her face. She argues that the employment of a little puff even in public is infinitely preferable to being seen with a face from which the desired peachlike luster has disappeared."

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

SIR WILBER RIDES AGAIN

That strange, clanking sound that salutes the spring breeze is not, as you might suspect, a boiler factory on the move. It is the glad promising sound incident to the stately progress of the Knight in Shining Armor, Wilber M. Brucker, paroled in full array and riding to battle once again, with his visor down (Wilber can talk through his visor as well as through his hat, or better), his cuirass polished, his greaves gleaming and his lance bearing the heartening device, "A has Jim Couzens!"

It's colossal, in a small way. Of course, if you get up real close you can see that the armor has been subjected to intensive repairing. The region just north of the pistol pocket, so dented in by the kicks of ungrateful voters in the massacre of 1932, has been bumped back into place with loving care by an expert fender-repairer—good armorers are scarce nowadays—and then sponged until you can see your face in it. If that's your idea of fun, Wilber has a new lance; the old one was shattered beyond repair when it got caught in a voting machine in the Year of the Big Wind. And who is Wilber going to assail with this lance? You'll die laughing; Wilber is going to unsettle Jim Couzens with it.

Well, it's going to be more darn fun. Hitch up early and drive in to the county seat the day of the primary. The court house square will be full of reporters, city slickers who ride on the steam trains and eat bouillon meat every day of their lives, all there to hear the golden, if somewhat adonoidal, voice of Wilber giving Jim hail Columbia. If it's a bright sunny day, Wilber's armor will glitter like the mouth of Hades as he waves his arms and his tongue in fervent speech.

There's only one thing that mars our joy in the prospect. Will Jim find out that Wilber is running against him? He will never learn it, we venture to predict, from reading the voting returns.—George Welsh in The Grand Rapids Chronicle.

POLITICAL CHEATS FAVOR BRUCKER

Mr. Brucker wants to defeat Senator James Couzens who he terms a new dealer, in sympathy with the Democratic administration and not a loyal Republican. That becomes another matter entirely. Michigan voters have on previous occasions registered their approval of Mr. Couzens, and the very fact that he told some of those reckless Republicans of earlier administrations where to head in at added to his popularity. He gave proof that he had the courage of his convictions, and resourcefulness to fight the cheats, at a time when the Nation was in sore need of some leadership to combat the general apathetic sentiment which encouraged bad practices in government.

Our political situation has badly muddled up, so much so that the liberal voter has found it impossible to maintain constant allegiance to either of the old political parties. He has had to pick his candidates according to their fitness, regardless of party. Senator Couzens has had the support of these liberal voters from both parties. Nothing seems to have taken place to justify the belief that he has lost much, if any of his following. With another Republican candidate in the field, Mr. Brucker has picked a tough spot for himself.—Joseph Sturgeon in The Delta County Reporter.

COUZENS AND BRUCKER

Former-Governor Wilber Brucker plans to oppose Senator James Couzens in the Republican primary, we read. Our guess is that the senior senator of Michigan is in no danger despite the fact that he is personally very unpopular with members of his own party.

If the issue of Constitutionality, as Governor Fitzgerald says lacks popular appeal, the issue of party regularity is doubly lacking in this respect. Senator Couzens occupies a commanding position that is difficult to assail. His party irregularity is a source of strength rather than weakness because it throws a halo of rugged independence about him and has won deep rooted confidence and support on a strictly non-partisan basis.

He has doubtless lost votes from Republican regulars but to more than offset this he has swept into his fold, the votes of independent democrats and liberals in addition to a considerable portion of the normal Republican vote. Attacks against Couzens based on party regularity alone will be just a mild summer breeze rustling through the branches of lone pine.

In our opinion the most vulnerable spot of the Couzens record is his conduct during the banking crisis here in Michigan. We still believe that except for his blunt attacks against the Detroit banks and sensational charges which he failed to back with substantial proofs in a series of grand jury investigations, scores of banks in this state would not have been forced to close their doors and countless thousands of dollars would have been saved to investors. But even here the senator stands on well guarded ground because the rank and file of voters believe that he acted with entire sincerity and they feel that his claims are true even though he could not prove them in court.

Also, because of the acute sense of class consciousness and class-distrust, that has been aroused by the Roosevelt administration, anyone who attempts to defend the bankers—as Brucker would have to do in attacking Couzens—immediately aligns himself with big business and Wall Street, both of which are very unpopular causes at the moment.

Brucker has assigned himself to what appears to be a hopeless task.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

PEOPLE WHO THINK NOT FOR BRUCKER

Brucker will not get the over-enthusiastic support of the GOP intelligentsia—that element that desires only clean politics—in his race against the venerable and able Senator Jim Couzens. It would be a sad commentary on the state should its citizens choose the "boy" ex-governor, whose chief qualifications lie in his experience as a somewhat silver-tongued orator, over the state's senatorial idol.—J. John Pope in The Grandville Star.

Style Silhouettes

Have you succumbed to the fascination of clicking needles and the fun of watching balls of yarn in some particularly attractive shade change into a scarf, sweater or suit under your very eyes? Is your day ruined when you find you have dropped a stitch or in some perfectly understandable manner, picked up one which throws your pattern completely out of line?

It is all a part of becoming addicted to knitting. Now in our grandmothers' day, knitting was work because it was absolutely necessary. Grandfather had to have socks and the children needed mittens, so knitting wasn't a pleasant pastime—"pick-up" work. Besides, what fun could there be in working over harsh yarns of dead black, browns or grey?

But now it is an entirely different proposition. For to begin with the materials are so lovely that it is difficult to choose between the various shades and textures. In red there are colors from a pale shell pink through coral, rose and crimson to the darker wines. Blues range from "baby blue" through powder, aquamarine and royal blue to navy. Likewise there are all variations of yellow and orange, orchid and purple, not to mention greens.

Then there are the mixtures which look so well in sports things. Of course there are an number of combinations of colors, but for sundies and textures, there is a light gray with flecks of all sorts of different shades in it which is very attractive. Or you might choose a white yarn with bits of black. With a white blouse and either white or black accessories, a suit of this mixture would be stunning.

As to the kind of material to use, here again there is a wide choice which must depend somewhat on the garment you are going to make. For sweaters and sports suits the softer wools are the nicest, while dresses and street suits seem to call for boucles (a nubby rayon material), silk and wool mixtures, or the slightly crinkly and dull-finished "angel crepes." Knitting directions look so very formidable that many women hesitate to try them, when in reality there are many simple yet attractive patterns for the beginner to follow. On the other hand some overly-ambitious amateurs undertake something which is too difficult and become discouraged before they have fairly started.

Fortunately for most of us nearly all the large stores now have knitting departments with competent instructors skilled in computing stitches and inches and now so that the finished garment will really fit, and practiced in the art of showing others how to cast on, purl and perform all the other intricate details which overwhelm the beginner.

A word of advice to this beginner: Don't start anything too difficult or one for which the material alone is expensive. Practice a bit first on some simple sweater pattern, for instance, with no fancy pattern stitches. Then when you have become accustomed and confident, you can spread yourself on a dress or a suit. For summer there are "jiffy knit" dresses in pastel shades which can be made easily and quickly on large needles. The result is lacy and very effective.

Perhaps you want a twin sweater outfit for golf, or a white sweater coat which can be worn for any number of summer affairs. The pattern books are full of suggestions. And you'd be surprised at the lovely evening frocks the experienced knitter can turn out.

In case you are planning to have a two-piece knit dress next fall, it is a good idea to get started on it now. Most of us are too busy with one thing and another to keep steadily at knitting day after day, so it takes quite some time to complete a dress, particularly if it has those added details—a patterned yoke, unusual sleeve, novel closing or draped neckline, for example—which make it more becoming and different, but which take more time to complete.

In any case, though, if you haven't tried knitting and really would like to have something to do in your spare moments—while you are dumpy at bridge, waiting for the meal to finish roasting for dinner, whiling away hours on a train, or just listening to the radio in the evening—by all means get some needles and a bit of yarn and have a go at it.

LAST INNING SPURT WINS FOR ROCKS

Showing a great deal of improvement since their opening game, the Rocks putting on a two-run rally in the last inning were able to nose out the Rouge Panthers 6-5. This game marked the first time this season that the team was able to play in weather suitable for baseball.

This year was the first time the two schools have met on the diamond, and the way the first two innings were played reminded one that the same hard competition and the determination to win put on by the two schools in basketball, football, track, and other sports, would also exist in their baseball games; for up to the third inning the game was scoreless. In the third inning the Rocks put on the pressure and collected four runs to put them out in front. Urban started the fireworks by banging a single over the third base line. After Zielasko got on by Mondon's error and Roginski walked, Gates singled scoring Urban and Zielasko. Blackmore's single scored Gates and Roginski.

When Rouge came to bat in the seventh it looked very much as if Plymouth had the game in their hands, but the tide turned and Rouge was able to go ahead. An error started the Rouge rally which was good for four runs. The Rocks still had hope in themselves as they came to bat. Roginski scored after he walked and Gates reached first on the fielder's choice. The score was now tied and Gates managed to get to third. With one down, Blackmore on first and Schiff's batting, Gates made a break for home, as he did this it made Karnish hurry his throw to the plate and by doing so he threw wild causing Gates to score and making the Rocks' second league victory.

The summary for the game is as follows, for Plymouth: six runs, six hits, and one error; for Rouge: five runs, eight hits, and five errors. The battery for Plymouth was Schiffle and Blessing; for Rouge, Karnish and Chetain.

MILFORD SWAMPED BY ROCKS 59-31

The Rock track team again proved successful in their first venture away from the home town when they defeated Milford Tuesday, April 21, by the one-sided score of 59 to 31. The Plymouth team did not, however, do as well as it has, as they have been up against harder teams than Milford. This meet was not a League meet and doesn't boost the rating. The next meet will be at Ypsilanti, and if the results are the same it will be to the good. Wagenschutz ran the 100 yard dash and his time was better than the usual as he made it in 10.8. Williams failed to get going in pole vaulting and dropped out somewhere around 8 feet 6 inches although he has gone up to 10 feet 3 inches at home. The relay team was again defeated and so far they never have come in first. The weather was quite nippy and the runways and track were not in prime condition so they were the objects of blame when our team slipped a little.

ROCKS' GOLFERS WIN OPENEE WITH BUOGE

The golf team with several veterans back from last year opened the season by downing the River Rouge golfers by 50 strokes. The match was played on the Plymouth Country club course. The Plymouth team consisted of Michaels, Miller, Ross, and Coffin; the Rouge team of Hartzough, Crawford, Burns, and Green.

Still Live in Caves

Visitors to the Touraine region of France to see the palatial cha-teaus which dot the district find people living in caves. At various places along the Loire, notably near the ruins of the Chateau-Mars-la-Pile, at Chinoon and Langeais are the homes of these Twentieth century troglodytes, whose chambers are cut out of limestone rock. Many of the caves apparently are occupied by people in comfortable circumstances, for the rooms are ornamented and embellished. There are several miles of such homes, where people burrow into hills, like moles and pride themselves on their real denice.

McGoofey's First Reader and Eclectic Primer

Who is this? This is Chidsey. Who is Chidsey? Chidsey is just an average American family man. What is Chidsey doing? Chidsey is packing the silver preparatory to quitting the summer cottage and going back to the city. Why does Chidsey look so fierce? If you were in Chidsey's shoes you would look fierce, too. He is all hot and bothered. What makes Chidsey hot and bothered? Trying to get the family and its belongings back to town in one load with a minimum amount of cramping. Isn't the car nearly packed? Yes, the car is nearly packed. Everything is in except a barrel of dishes and the bird dog. Then why is Chidsey still peevish? Because he knows he will have to unpack and reload the car again to make room for the dog and the barrel. How many times has he done this? Six or seven. Why doesn't Chidsey pack the things in the right place? Because Mother keeps digging up another crate of kitchen utensils or something. Will Chidsey get the car packed ultimately? Ultimately is right.

Northville News

Work was started this week on the community water reservoir, a project which is expected to be completed by September 1. Since it is a government project, relief workers were given first opportunity for work, registrations being taken Monday at the village hall. The men will work eight hours each day for not more than 130 hours a month. Final plans were discussed at a recent meeting by Dr. H. H. Burkart, village president, Village Attorney F. J. Cochran, Engineer Herald F. Hamill and Engineer H. B. Culbertson. E. E. Williams, of Ypsilanti is the contractor.

Last rites were held Monday, April 13, for Mrs. Ardella Brooks, 90, who died April 11 as the result of a stroke which she suffered November 27. She was the oldest woman resident of Northville, known to everyone as "Aunt Dell." She was born in Salem township, Washtenaw county, November 16, 1845, the daughter of Samuel and Jane Starkweather, and married Lyman L. Brooks in 1822. After five years in Waterford township, Oakland county, she came to Northville to live. Surviving are four nieces, two nephews, three grandnieces and two grand nephews. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. H. G. Whitfield, and burial was in Rural Hill cemetery.

Tuberculin tests were given 123 students of Northville high school Tuesday morning of last week by Dr. D. S. Brachman, assisted by Miss Margaret Eicht.

gistered nurse. The tests were sponsored by the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium corporation. One of the projects paid for out of the sale of Christmas seals. In all cases where positive reactions were found, indicating the presence of at least the childhood or inactive type of tuberculosis, x-ray examinations are to be made.

The Northville Exchange club observed its thirteenth anniversary at its meeting Wednesday of last week. Five of the original members, C. A. Dolph, Carl Ely, E. L. Smith, L. C. Stewart and E. E. Brown were present, and Mr. Dolph, secretary and a past president, gave a brief history of the organization. Brief talks were made by Mr. Brown, Mr. Ely, Mr. Stewart, John Kahlfleisch and R. E. Crowe.

Under the auspices of the Library association and the Woman's club, a bronze tablet in memory of Dr. Mary Lapham was unveiled Friday evening in the Northville branch of the Wayne county library. The program was opened with "On Wings of Song," sung by Mrs. M. J. Koldyke, after which Mrs. F. S. Harmon gave a history of the library. Ernest Racz played a violin solo, following which Mrs. C. L. Dubur spoke of early club days and Mrs. Koldyke sang "Sing Me To Sleep." The dedication address was given by Mrs. H. H. Lapham, the unveiling by Mrs. E. A. Chapman, and the closing number, "Spring Song," was played as a violin solo by Mr. Racz.

Leaves of absence were granted four Northville teachers at a recent meet of the board of education. They are Mrs. Jack E. Taylor, commercial teacher; Mrs. Erwin A. Chapman, English; Mrs. Hawley C. Cobb, history; and Mrs. K. H. Babbitt, fourth grade. Supt. R. H. Amerman issued an announcement to the effect that in pursuance of a policy adopted by the board three years ago, single women will be hired to replace them. Sherrill Ambler, secretary of the board, stated that the leaves of absence were in no way to be construed as dismissals.

The Rev. H. J. Lord, pastor of the Methodist church, since last June, was invited to retain his pastorate at the fourth quarterly conference held April 9 at the church. The conference was presided over by Dr. William Harrison, of Ann Arbor, district superintendent. An informal reception for Dr. and Mrs. Harrison followed the meeting, with Mrs. R. E. Atchison, Mrs. C. J. Smith and Charles Schoultz presiding at the table.

Yvonne Rinck, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rinck, will take part in the state contest sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs April 18 in Lansing. She won first place in the Class C division in both county and district contests. Her teacher is Mrs. Martha Merkle Lyon, of Ann Arbor.

Three new members of the board of trustees of the Presbyterian church, Mrs. H. S. Willis, Edmund Yerkes and William Duguid, were elected at the annual church meeting held recently. Donald P. Yerkes was re-elected elder.

Northville Rotarians entertained their wives at a dinner party Tuesday evening of last week at the Presbyterian church house. Later the group went to Redford for a theater party.

LAZY BONES

Have you ever called someone lazy bones? Twitted them for not doing some trivial task? I know I have, and now I'm pretty upset about it, for scientists have recently come to the conclusion that laziness is practically non-existing. What we have been calling laziness is really fatigue and a very serious matter. It's serious at nearly any age, but particularly serious in the growing child.

This fatigue, not laziness remember, may be due to a number of things. Lack of sufficient sleep, lack of relaxation, or inadequate food. The growing child especially during the period of rapid growth between 10 and 15 years, needs an enormous amount of nourishing food, for he is not only expending in study and play, but also in growing. And he must have food in sufficient quantity and of the proper kind to supply this energy, plus the energy he is burning up in growing.

A diet that will prevent growth fatigue and apparent laziness must include a variety of proteins to build up tissues, fats to supply a reserve of energy, carbohydrates for quick energy, and an abundance of the "protective foods" to keep up resistance and the general tone of the body. The protective foods, you know, are fresh fruits and vegetables, eggs and milk. A well-planned diet for the growing child should be built around these foods.

It's really very simple. For instance, breakfast should consist of a fresh fruit, orange juice preferably for it helps to build strong teeth, a cooked cereal of some kind for quick energy, toast and butter, crisp bacon or an egg in some form to build muscles, and milk to drink. For luncheon serve a hot soup of some kind to provide the hot food a child needs at noon, chowders crammed to the brim with vegetables are nourishing and help with the daily milk quota, too. Raw vegetable sandwiches bring in some of the protective foods—chopped celery and nut, grated carrots and cottage cheese are both delicious as well as nourishing. Or serve a salad of vegetables or fruit, a simple dessert of fresh fruit or a custard—baked rhubarb would be a grand dish right now. And, of course, fresh milk quink.

Some valedictorian of the Northville high school senior class with Rita Heatley as salutatorian and Elkington had 9831 honor points and Miss Heatley 8922. The ranking members of the class listed alphabetically are Frances Alexander, Evelyn Ambler, Ida Altman, Alice Banks, Edith Barley, Dorothy Frank, Fred Hicks, Edwin Hill, Thyra Lester, Frances McLoughlin, Leslie Pierpont and Kathleen Rinck.

For dinner, serve a meat dish of some kind to build strong muscles, two vegetables besides potatoes in some form. (If your family objects to drinking milk, cream one of the vegetables at dinner). Bread and butter and a simple dessert such as bread pudding, junket or lemon fluff with fresh milk to drink completes the meal. That's simple isn't it?

When you are sure that your diets are well-balanced and furnish an adequate amount of nourishing foods, half the battle against laziness is won. But you must be sure that the growing child has a more than adequate amount of sleep.

A well-known physician states that one case of apparent laziness was brought to her attention was nothing more or less than an extreme case of growth fatigue. His diet was adequate, but he just didn't have an ounce of pep. She put him to bed, where he spent 10 days steadily sleeping, waking only for nourishment. At the end of the 10 days he was simply "raring to go" and all trace of laziness passed. Fatigue, gone. Do be sure that it isn't a case of fatigue before you call anyone lazy bones, please.

Below are some recipes that will help a lot to banish laziness, beg pardon, fatigue:

Bread and Butter on Spaghetti
 1 1/2 cups spaghetti
 2 tablespoons butter
 4 tablespoons flour
 8 eggs
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup milk
 1 cup American cheese (cubed)
 Buttered crumbs.

Cook spaghetti in 4 quarts boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Melt butter, add flour and salt and blend, stirring constantly. Add cheese and blend. Mix into spaghetti and pour into shallow greased baking dish. Break eggs onto spaghetti and sprinkle with buttered crumbs and salt. Bake in a slow oven (300°) about 30 minutes or until eggs are cooked.

Corn and Tomato Chowder
 3 cups hot milk
 1/2 lb. salt pork cut in small pieces or 4 tablespoons butter
 1 onion
 1/2 can tomatoes
 3 potatoes sliced
 2 cups boiling water
 1 tablespoon green peppers
 2 tablespoons flour
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1/2 can corn
 1 tablespoon butter
 6 soda crackers.

Cook pork or butter with chopped onion and green pepper slowly for 10 minutes. Add water, tomatoes, potatoes, salt and pepper. Cook until potatoes are tender. Add corn and milk. Melt 1 tablespoon butter, add flour and thickened chowder with this. Add crackers (which have been moistened with cold water). Cover and let stand 5 minutes.

Sandwiches
 Wholewheat bread
 Peanut butter and raisins

Cottage cheese, chives
 Carrots and raisins
 Greenpepper.

Caramel Bread Pudding
 1/2 cup sugar
 3 cups milk
 2 eggs
 3/4 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons melted butter
 3/4 teaspoon vanilla or
 1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg

Caramelize sugar by stirring in skillet over moderate heat until melted and light brown. Scald milk in double boiler; add caramel gradually, stirring constantly until dissolved. Pour over crumbs and let stand 15 minutes. Beat eggs slightly, add salt and stir in crumb mixture and melted butter. Add flavoring and pour into buttered baking dish. Set in pan or hot water and bake in moderate oven, 350° F. for 1 hour, or until set. Serve plain or with cream or foamy sauce.

Graphic Outlines of History By Schrader Bros.

Ruins of Tower at Jamestown. From 1676 until 1907, this ruin of the tower at the back of the church was all that remained of the Jamestown settlement after Bacon's army burnt the town. At the time of the Tercentenary celebration in 1907, however, the church was restored in the original form.

The quiet dignity and charm of the properly appointed service is exemplified by our ceremony.

Germany's Patriotic Poems
Some one went to the trouble of estimating the number of patriotic poems published in Germany during the first year of the World war, and arrived at the number one and a half million.

Bennett Tells of European Trip

of his daily duties as Lord Mayor. It seems he holds court five days in each week, the seven sheriffs of London acting as court officers. The cases handed by him are of all sorts and sizes, and he has the discretion to dismiss a case or cite it to the regular courts or tribunals where it goes through a procedure much as in the United States, only much quicker, and in my opinion with less racketeering and more justice.

Mr. Bennett went on to tell of his visit that afternoon to the British Industries fair in the West End, where he saw the new King Edward VIII. It is here that all articles manufactured in Great Britain are placed on exhibition for the people to view. Following two weeks spent at the fair and seeing London, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett went to Holland, crossing the English channel from Harwich to the Hook of Holland, and going through Rotterdam and The Hague to Amsterdam.

"I arrived in Amsterdam one day late for their weekly meeting of Rotary, so I consulted my little book and found that the little city of Utrecht, some 28 miles away, had a club," he went on. "I decided to attend, but it is too bad I didn't decide a little sooner, for then found I had just 50 minutes in which to reach my destination. I told the hotel porter, who could speak English, to tell my big Dutch chauffeur, who could hardly speak his own language, to let me know when he was ready to let alone English, that it was my great desire to drive to Utrecht at once and that I must arrive there in time for a Rotary luncheon at 12:30 o'clock.

"I jumped into an old Mercedes and we got going; that is, we got going a few minutes after crossing 51 canals and as many bridges. Now I had always had the idea that canals of Holland cut across the country like our roads in Wayne county, but they don't. On reaching the outskirts of the city we hit the road to Utrecht—a road just wide enough for two automobiles to pass and with deep canals on each side. It was slippery also, as there was a fine mist-like rain falling, and I'd say offhand we passed at least 50,000 men, women, children and old maids riding bicycles. For crooks

Irish countryside for 55 miles to the small city of Maryboro, where I stopped off to take a look at the jail. I found it a real prison, a very very old one.

"At about 1 o'clock that day, Monday, I attended the Rotary luncheon at an uptown hotel, and met about 100 of as fine fellows and enthusiastic Rotarians as you will find anywhere on earth. The whole bunch seemed full of Irish blarney, and there was lots of fun and fooling. Before the meeting was over I was asked why I came over to Ireland, and when I told them that I had just two reasons, to attend a Rotary meeting and visit a jail, they gave me the "horse laugh." The president said he had heard of all kinds of reasons why a man might go such distances to avoid seeing a jail, but this was the first time in history he had ever heard of a man crossing a couple of countries and a small ocean to see one.

"After much passing of the raspberry on all sides, I was asked to explain the situation in detail. This is what I told them: Many long years ago a couple of long-legged Irishmen made up their minds they wanted to get on the police force, so they packed their gunny sacks and started for America. One of these Irishmen was a great-great-grandfather of mine and Irish blood has run in the family ever since. It ran pretty strongly in my Uncle Henry Bennett, who loved anything and everything Irish, and about the time I was 10 or 11 he came to me, as he had on previous occasions, and handed me a long Irish ballad or poem, offering me a five dollar gold-piece if I would commit it to memory and recite it for him.

"In earning the five I became quite fond of the hero, Shamus O'Brien, and my later years often wondered if there was such a person. So being in London, and only nine hours from Ireland, I made up my mind to find out if Shamus O'Brien ever lived and if there was a Maryboro jail. Some of the older members of the club assured me they had knowledge of Shamus O'Brien. The president arose and announced that he was inclined to believe all of my story except my statement that I had committed to memory about eight pages of poetry such as remembered Shamus O'Brien to be.

"I answered that if he would give me, I would try and convince him fully of my truthfulness. I said I would make him a sporting proposition. I agreed to get on my feet and recite the poem from beginning to end, with the provision that if I fell down I would nav for the luncheons of all Rotarians in the room, but that if I did recite it correctly he was to pay the checks. I need hardly tell you that all those present heartily favored my proposal. The president, being a good sport, said for me to go to it. The answer is that everyone present, including myself, got a free meal, except the president, who paid."

Five Conductors At May Festival

Five conductors will preside over the musical groups and soloists which will participate in the forty-third annual May Festival in Hill auditorium, Ann Arbor, May 13, 14, 16 and 18.

Leopold Stokowski will conduct two concerts—Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon. On the first occasion he will lead his band of players in a purely orchestral program, the first half consisting of five Bach numbers, and the second half of three selections from Wagner. On Saturday afternoon he will present his orchestra in Tchaikowsky's Symphony No. 5, after which he will direct a noted violinist, the distinguished virtuoso Zimelist, in the Sibelius Concerto in D Minor, and will close the program with Stravinsky's "Bird of Fire."

Earl V. Moore will present the University Choral Union and the Philadelphia orchestra in two programs—Thursday night, offering Elgar's dramatic cantata, "Caractacus," with Jeannette Vreeland, Paul Althouse, Keith Falkner, and Julius Huehn as soloists. On Saturday night he will preside over the performance of Verdi's immortal "Requiem" with Jeannette Vreeland, Rose Hampton, Giovanni Martinelli, and Keith Falkner, as soloists. On Friday afternoon he will also present the Young People's Festival chorus in Piche's "Children at Bethlehem."

Preceding the Piche number, and in order that the proper setting may be arranged, Juva Higbee, trainer of the Young People's Festival chorus, will lead the chorus without accompaniment in several Christmas carols.

Two associate conductors of the Philadelphia orchestra, Saul Caston and Charles O'Connell, will also participate in the May Festival programs. Mr. Caston will preside over Harold Bauer's presentation of Beethoven's "Emperor" Concerto at the Friday afternoon concert. He is an American who began his orchestral career as second trumpeter, soon advancing to the first desk. His first big opportunity as a conductor came when, without notice, he was called upon to conduct the Philadelphia orchestra at Robin Hood Dale on an occasion when Albert Coates, guest conductor, suddenly became indisposed. His record since that time has been fiery and spectacular.

Charles O'Connell is an American of Irish ancestry. At first he was a student of the piano and organ, and distinguished himself in theory. He began his conducting career in continental Europe, where he made a profound impression. His versatility is indicated by his authorship of a noted work on symphonic appreciation and understanding entitled "Picture Book of the Symphonies." He will conduct the Friday evening concert at which Lily Pons will be the scintillating soloist in three spots on the program.

Prize Boston Terrier Pups Are Bred Near Here

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dean Have Kennels at Pine Tree Farms

Pine Tree farm, better known to old residents as the "Old Jack Bennett farm," on Stark road which is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dean, formerly of Detroit and New York city, are the scene of a gathering Easter Sunday of several of the most famous among breeders and exhibitors of Boston terriers, here for the dog show held at Convention hall in Detroit.

Among them were Mrs. Alice Benjamin, millionaire breeder, exhibitor and judge, of Cincinnati; Mrs. J. J. Smith, Jr., of Atlantic City; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elly of Terre Haute, Ind.; Mrs. Mattie Heydorn, of Detroit; and Evan Ramsey, of New York city. These are the present or former owners of the most famous Boston terriers ever bred. Mr. Ramsey is the most noted handler living, his services commanding such a high price that only wealthy people can afford to employ him. He is credited with making more champions than any other two people on record.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean are the oldest breeders and exhibitors of Boston in Michigan. Mrs. Dean is the present or former champion in this state, Dean's Lady Lucia, some 22 years ago. She has shown dogs in nearly every state in the union, and Canada, and at one time the Ambassador show in Los Angeles, Calif. The Deans also lived in New York city for five years, where they owned the most exclusive dog shop there at 325 Fifth avenue. Among their clients were Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, Thurston B. Magician, Lillian Gish, and many other famous people.

After returning from New York they bought the Bennett place, an old land mark in this vicinity, and are modernizing it in every way. They have offered the use of the grounds to the Associated Dog clubs of Detroit, and probably these organizations will utilize the place to hold puppy matches during the summer months.

The Deans have owned at different times some of the best Boston ever bred, among them the incomparable champion, "I'm the Guy," the highest priced Boston ever brought into the middle west. His son, international champion, "Cyanide Siam" was personally handled by Mrs. Dean at all the shows he won both here and in Canada and was placed Best Boston in 27 different shows. An unequalled record. The Deans have won over 75 cups and trophies and nearly a thousand ribbons. Visitors are welcome at Pine Tree farm, which is rapidly getting to be the show place for Boston in Michigan.

Whitbeck Road Bridge Is Ready For Traffic

Whitbeck road south of Plymouth road, which was closed last fall on account of the condition of the bridge over the Rouge river, has been re-opened by the Wayne county board of road commissioners following the construction of a new bridge. This bridge was built at the request of James R. Kincaid and others in the neighborhood of Whitbeck road, who sent a petition to the road board. Funds had been provided in the current budget to cover the cost. The road offers still another entrance to the park.

ROCK'S NINE SPLIT IN VACATION GAMES

The Rocks' nine, playing in cold and rainy weather, managed to break even in their vacation games. The weather was not at all suitable for baseball and reminded one of good football weather.

In their first encounter, which was with Cooley high school from Detroit, the two teams engaged in a double header. Cooley winning the first game 10 and 3. Abernethy, a tall rangy, right-hander, pitched a fine game for the visitors, allowing only three hits. In the afternoon the tide changed and the Rocks' roster out Cooley 10 and 9. Trinka did the hurling for the Rocks. As Cooley came to bat for the last time, the Rocks were leading by a three-run margin, but two misjudged flies on the part of the outfielders netted Cooley four runs and put them ahead by a lone tally. May started the last half of the sixth by hitting a drive over the short stop's head. Zielsko walked, and Hudson, batting for Blackmore, smashed a double along the right field foul line, scoring both May and Zielsko and once again putting the Rocks out in front. The Rocks scored another run to make the final score 11 and 9.

The Rocks first league game was with Wayne high. This year is the first time that the two schools have played against each other and to celebrate the occasion the Rocks trounced the Wayne Zebras 16 and 3. Schille made his first appearance on the mound for this year and yielded only four hits, all of them being singles. Gordon clouted out four hits to lead in hitting. The Rocks bagged four runs in the first inning, six in the second, one in the third, two in the fourth, and two in the sixth. The batteries for the game were for Plymouth, Schille, Blessing, and McNulty; for Wayne, Horton, Boorman, and Saterfield. The final score was Plymouth 16, Wayne 3.

Playing in chilly weather, more suitable for football, the Rocks met their second defeat when Fordson high routed them 7-0. Four costly errors paved the way for the Rocks defeat. Loverkovich, right hander, limited the Rocks to three hits and managed to collect a hit for himself. The batteries for Plymouth were Trombley and McNulty; for Fordson, Loverkovich and Henry and Dick-

PIONEERS DEFEATED BY ROCK TRACKERS

Under unfavorable weather conditions the home-town track team defeated the visiting Pioneers from Dearborn in the second meet of the season Friday, April 17, by a very few points. The meet was nip and tuck all the way but Plymouth again was the victor in chalking up the most first places. The weather permitted little loitering without the not-too-thick sweat suits on. Wagenschutz proved to be quite a "bacon earner" when he repeated last week's performance in chalking up four first places. In the broad jump event, Plymouth secured all three places which brought nine points to the Rocks. Mile—Evans, D.; Archer, P.; Ridley, D. 5:24. 100 yd. dash—Meyers, D.; Fishburne, P.; Scallen, D. 11:7. 220 yd. dash—Beyers, D.; Bordine, P.; Plummer, D. 27:5. 120 yard low hurdles—Wagenschutz, P.; Egge, P.; Ksnyen, D. 15:00. 440 yard run—York, D.; Bird, D.; Willis, P. 60:4. 880 yd. run—Klenschmidt, P.; Eggleston, D.; Donaldson, D. 2:25. Pole Vault—Williams, P.; Donaldson, D.; Johnson, D. 9 ft. 6 in. High jump—Wagenschutz, P.; Bird, D.; Ormand, D.; and Egge, P. Tie for second, 5 ft. 10 in. Broad Jump—Wagenschutz, P.; Williams, P.; Egge, P. 21 ft. 1 1/2 in. Shot Put—Kinsey, P.; McEvay, D.; Rosalis, D. 46 ft. 8 in. Relay—Dearborn.

The above tabulation shows the way in which the events were won most of the straight running events being captured by Dearborn. The total number of points was Plymouth 53 1/3, Dearborn, 49 2/3. Plymouth won this successful meet by the small margin of three and two-thirds points, but this was enough to win. If the next meet proves as good, the Rock team will be on the right road. Flash Fischer captured only second in the 100 yard run but we still have a lot of meet and another newcomer, Gerald Bordine, also should receive recognition as he almost copied a first in the 220.

Oil Aggregate Roads Success

Satisfaction with the way initial oil aggregate roads have withstood the rigors of one of Michigan's worst winters has been expressed by the state highway department.

Construction engineers reported to the commissioner this week that the new dust-proof surfaces have come through the severe winter with a minimum amount of break-up, and compare favorably with the condition of gravel roads in the same areas.

The state highway department has built about 50 miles of oil aggregate surfaces. Up to this year this work has largely been in an experimental stage. Some of the mileage already has been on clay roads with little drainage, while some has been constructed as new surfaces on roads well graded and drained.

Plans are to surface approximately 500 miles of gravel roads with the dust-proof oil aggregate this year in co-operation with the Works Progress administration. Preliminary construction activity has already been started on the first 12 projects on this program involving 83 miles of farm-to-market roads.

Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagener said that four miles of oil aggregate surfacing can be built with the same money as one mile of concrete pavement under the WPA program. The cost of maintaining the oil aggregate is slightly more than that for concrete pavements. On the completion of an oil aggregate project, the state highway department leaves so many tons of patching material to a mile at the side of the road, the same as with gravel construction. Experiments have shown that this material remains in a workable condition for five years or more.

Two of the major oil aggregate projects already constructed are 8.6 miles on M-66 Antrim county and 2.89 miles on M-87 from Holly east in Oakland county.

BOOK SHELF

"IF I HAVE FOUR APPLES," by Josephine Lawrence.

By no stretch of the imagination could this book of Josephine Lawrence's, "If I Have Four Apples," be called great. Some one has said that really great literature transcends reality to achieve idealism—that otherwise it has no value but entertainment except insofar as it paints a true picture of some era or type of character.

This, then, is the value of Miss Lawrence's novel—it is a skillful, accurate reproduction of a certain phase of American living—the "installation plan." Miss Lawrence, a newspaper woman for many years, although still young, has put into story form one of the many tragedies of the depression years—the inability of certain lower middle class people, the lowest strata of the so-called white collar workers, to cut down their expenditures as their incomes were reduced.

The Hogs are an ordinary family—so very ordinary as to be entirely uninteresting and thoroughly pitiable. They are the kind we all hope and pray we need not be, with their cheap home and furnishings, the necessity of hard work for all of them, their inability to better themselves in spite of the so-called democracy of the American educational system, their worries and petty discomforts. It is impossible for them to get out from underneath their load of debt, despite the assistance of a budget outline by the household editor of the newspaper—a budget is simply unintelligible to the Hogs.

The father of the family is buying the shoddy little home where they live—buying at an outrageous price agreed upon in more prosperous times. He has become imbued with the American ideal of owning his own home and it has become such an obsession that he will not give up. Even when the HOLC refuses him a loan, and his common sense tells him he will not be able to keep up the payments, he still holds on blindly.

His wife works in a department store all day for a few dollars a week, and at night she is so tired she can scarcely move. Yet she is insulted when the budget adviser tells her she might do without a radio and an electric refrigerator—that cheaper cuts of meat would be just as nourishing for her family. Her rather unintelligent husband cannot grasp the idea of doing without in order to remove a burden of debt.

Then there is a son with dreams of college, and a girl in his high school class who is the daughter of one of the town's leading men. That dream fades because there is no money saved up for college.

and the boy becomes a chauffeur instead of son-in-law to the rich man. The eldest daughter works in a tea room and rebels at the idea of marrying a milkman, but love takes no account of ambition and eventually she marries him. As for the younger daughter—gawky and homely though she is, she dreams of becoming a great dancer, but in the end she is content to be a beauty operator.

At the conclusion of the book the Hogs are just about where they were at the beginning, but with a little less money, a few more heartaches, and absolutely no hope for anything better.

The book is a rather drastic indictment not only of the time payment plan which we all know has been ruinous for many people who are, we must admit, only human and not very "bright," but also of an American ideal which has been revered since colonial times—the belief that all men are created free and equal in the literal sense of the word, and that all have the opportunity and right to better themselves.

Miss Lawrence does not hesitate to show what have this false presumption can wreak. Thinking people realize, of course, that the principal of equality is a dream which cannot be realized—there are differences in intelligence, to begin with, and, unfortunately, the possession of money gives some people an advantage over others. Then, too, over a period of years certain social class distinctions have arisen which cannot be ignored, even though the upper classes prize democracy while they practice aristocracy.

The sad part of the whole situation is, as the author points out, that the lower classes—and we must admit there are lower classes—do not realize it, with the result that instead of being fairly happy, contented and solvent in accepting their status, they must try to do the impossible and be miserable. Such is the tragedy, and it really is a tragedy, which forms Miss Lawrence's thesis.

4-H Achievement Day Is Held In Dearborn

Achievement day exercises for the Wayne county 4-H clubs were held Saturday, April 11, at the Dearborn high school, with exhibits of work in handicraft, clothing and hot lunch work.

Forty-eight communities of the county were represented in the work of about 800 boys and girls. The work is supervised by Miss Mildred Eckles, county club agent. The West Dearborn Kiwanis club sponsored a movie at the Calvin theater for members and their friends, and the Detroit branch of the National Park and Garden association sponsored a Roadside Market contest. The health section was in charge of Wayne county school nurses, assisted by Dr. Harry C. Metzger.

Sixteen delegates were chosen to represent the county at the annual state club week to be held July 6 to 10 at Michigan State college in East Lansing.

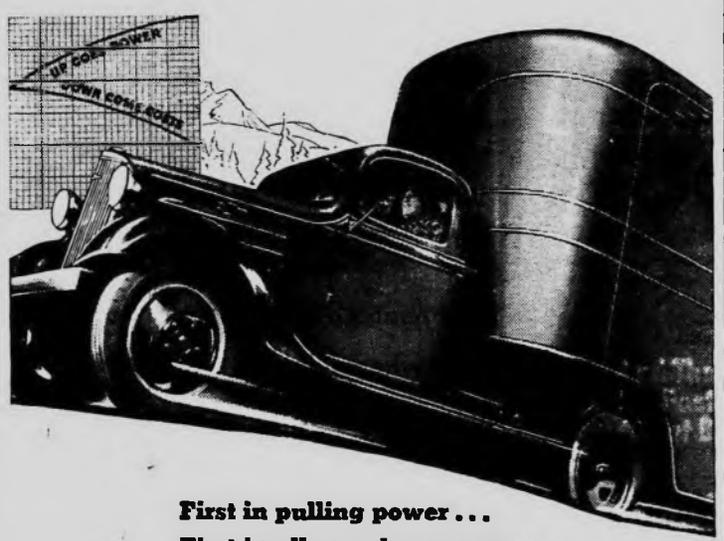

Canada Geese To the natives, the Canada geese are the only species recognized as "geese"; the lesser snow geese is to them a "wary," and means only a fine meat supply during the month they spend in the marshes of James bay.

The Miracle Becomes a Commonplace

This Michigan gentleman takes modern telephone service calmly. He does no marveling over the fact that he can so easily call up a friend to ask about a sledding party, or to find out tomorrow's assignment in arithmetic.

And yet his father knew a day when it was still considered a miracle that two people, miles apart, could talk to one another just as if they were standing face to face. He can remember when the telephone was a curiosity, when the service was slow, expensive and almost entirely restricted to local use.

What changed the miracle to a commonplace? Why did telephones in Michigan, during a single generation, increase from 340,000 to 630,000? The chief factor behind this change was value. A constantly growing usefulness made the telephone a good "buy." Each year additional thousands of people found it worth more than its cost. Every new telephone installed broadened the range—and value—of the others. The service grew steadily more prompt, more dependable. New uses were found for it. Subscribers learned that it brought them profitable convenience, comfort, protection. And the telephone, meanwhile, changed from a curiosity to an indispensable part of the social and business life of Michigan.

The sincere desire of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is that each year shall see greater telephone value rendered for every dollar of telephone cost.

What changed the miracle to a commonplace? Why did telephones in Michigan, during a single generation, increase from 340,000 to 630,000? The chief factor behind

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Loy Sutherland, Minister. Morning sermon subject "The Touch Stone of the Gospel." "Jesus said unto her, woman why weepst thou?" You are invited to hear this communion message at 10 o'clock 11:15—Bible school. 6:30—Meeting for young people. Just ask them about it. 7:30—Starling! Starling! Indeed—from a Baptist pulpit—we present at this hour the subject—"Is There a Hell?" We understand there are some folks who have decided there is no Hell. Well you better take time off Sunday evening and get out to hear this very plain message from the Book. The same Bible that teaches that God is a God of love, also teaches that He is a consuming fire. Great soul winners in all the history of the church taught it. Luther believed it, Jonathan Edwards believed it, men cried for mercy as Whitfield preached it, John Wesley, the founder of Methodism certainly preached it, as did Spurgeon and Moody. We invite you to hear what Christ had to say about it.

Next Wednesday evening at the mid-week service we take up a study on "Compelling Motives." Dare we be true witnesses of Christ today? This is intended to be of special help for our new Christians.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Richard W. Neale, pastor. Are you perplexed or unhappy? Would you enjoy the friendship of happy, singing folks? If so, come to Calvary! Read what a Dear-orn resident said of Calvary this week. She says, "I am a Christian

"I drive sixteen miles to Calvary church because I like the fellowship of God's people, and because the Gospel is preached there."

This Sunday our pastor preaches at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. D.V. Sunday school convenes after the morning service. There's a class with a hearty welcome for you.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH

Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. English Sunday services, 10:30 a.m.

The test as to the reality and conviction of your Christianity is not on Easter morning, when "all the world and his brother" go to church, but now in consistent observance of the Word of our Lord: "He that is of God heareth God's Word." Have you ever stopped to ask yourself, where the church would be, and hence, where the nation would be, were all church members as faithful and consistent in their church-going and church-giving, as you are? Why deceive yourself, for you do not deceive men and cannot deceive God, when you so superciliously and condescendingly say: "I believe the church is a good thing. The country could hardly exist without it. It is the foundation of morality, obedience, order and progress, which are indispensable to civilization and culture. And so forth."—The proof of the pudding is the eating thereof. He that is of God and of the conviction that the church is a necessity, HEARETH GOD'S WORD. We invite you to come and join in our service every Sunday morning, from 10:30 to 11:30.
