

Rathburn Files For Drain Commissioner

Republicans Plan Real Campaign For Him

Leaders Believe Time Has Come To Reward Faithful Party Worker Of Many Years

An announcement by Charles H. Rathburn, supervisor of Plymouth township, that he has become a candidate for the Republican nomination for drain commissioner of Wayne county, has been met with expressions of approval from all parts of the county.

His host of friends in and about Plymouth have already taken steps to organize a committee to work in his behalf during the campaign, and they hope to give him one of the largest votes in the Republican primary ever cast in this part of Wayne county.

It has been years and years since western Wayne county has been represented on the official roster list at the court house and Republican leaders in Detroit, as well as those out in the county believe that the time has come to recognize a district which has stood steadfast for Republicanism at times when every vote was needed to hold and win important places for the Republican party. They see in Mr. Rathburn's candidacy an opportunity to reward such splendid services in past years.

Supervisor Rathburn, they know, has always been one of the hardest workers in behalf of his party and frequently he has carried a good share of the burden almost alone. In addition to years and years of strict party loyalty, he has the advantage of a wide acquaintance both in Detroit and the out-county. His parents were born in Livonia township, and he was born in the village of Wayne, where he has an especially large number of friends.

In addition to having served so many years as supervisor, he has been village clerk of Plymouth, and had been honored by being president of the school board of Plymouth. During recent years Democrats of Plymouth township have never offered a candidate in opposition to him, so satisfactory has been his service to the township.

His official services have been of the highest type, and his host of friends point out that if he should be nominated and elected drain commissioner, he will give the county the same excellent service that has resulted in the Democratic party refusing to oppose him as supervisor of Plymouth township in over a score of years.

Garlick Is Badly Hurt In Accident

W. A. Garlick, proprietor of the Mayflower hotel barber shop, was severely injured Wednesday morning on his way from his home in Belleville, when his car was struck broadside at the Michigan avenue crossing.

The accident occurred about 8:30 o'clock, and doctors were called to the scene, as Mr. Garlick was bleeding too profusely to be moved to the hospital. His arm and shoulder were so badly lacerated that 47 stitches were necessary. After treatment had been completed, he was taken back to his home in Belleville.

Mr. Garlick has had the barber shop here since April when he took it over following the death of Edward Parker.

Now Is Time To Register!

Residents of Plymouth who are eligible to vote but who are not registered here, have until September 15, the second Saturday previous to the primary election on September 15, in which to register at the city hall.

There will be no complete re-registration of all voters, so that those whose names are already registered have no further formalities to go through before voting. Eligible voters are United States citizens over 21 years of age, who have resided in the state six months and in the city 20 days previous to the day of election.

Registrations should be made at the city clerk's office in the city hall.

New Mayflower Sign Is Big One

There has been erected on the Mayflower hotel during the past few days, one of the most attractive and largest electric signs in Plymouth. The "Mayflower Hotel" sign can be read from four different streets, the location making it possible for the sign to be seen clearly by one traveling south on North Main street, east on Ann Arbor trail, west on the same street or north on South Main street.

Eight On Ticket For Legislature

Republican voters in the Fifth legislative district of Wayne county, of which Plymouth is a part, will have a field of eight to select a candidate from at the primary election to be held Tuesday, September 15.

Following the announcement of Representative Edward Fisher that he would become a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in the 16th district this fall instead of seeking re-election to Lansing, the northern end of the district which has consistently given its support to Dr. Fisher, decided to put a candidate in the field for the nomination.

Entry was made by Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, the only candidate in Northville, Redford, Plymouth, Livonia and Canton townships, the section representing the northern end of the district.

But before the time had elapsed Tuesday evening, for filing with the county clerk, seven other candidates, six from Dearborn and one from Wayne, had filed for the Republican nomination.

The list includes: Thomas P. Thompson, 624 Brady, Dearborn; Richard J. Lehman, 5488 Nickel, Dearborn; Harold M. Langworthy, 3490 Chestnut, Wayne; Ralph W. Goodall, 5001 Greenfield, Dearborn; George W. Eyster, 21910 Morley, Dearborn; William T. Kromberg, South Dearborn avenue, Dearborn; Thatcher L. Shaw, 1430 Monroe avenue, Dearborn; Elton R. Eaton, 271 South Main street, Plymouth.

One Democratic nominee filed, Eugene R. Randel, 2724 Correll street, Dearborn.

City Given Flag Of G. A. R. Post In Services Here

Rain Forces Ceremonies Indoors But Large Crowd Attends

Despite a heavy shower which drove both participants and spectators to shelter in the high school auditorium, the ceremonies last Thursday evening in which the flag of the Eddy post, Grand Army of the Republic, was presented to the City of Plymouth were well attended.

In an impressive service the Executive Men's club, in whose charge the historic old flag was placed by the last two members of the post, Will Stewart and Arthur Stevens, turned the emblem over to the city for display and preservation in a special case which was prepared for it. Assisting the service club in the ceremonies were Spanish-American war veterans, with rifle and drum corps, Veterans of Foreign Wars, with their drum and bugle corps, Boy and Girl Scout troops and the Plymouth Civic band.

The principal addresses were given by Judge Joseph A. Moynihan, of Detroit, and Prof. Harold M. Dorr, of the political science department of the University of Michigan. The presentation speech was made by Commander Harry Hunter, of the Executive Men's club, and the ac-

Ben Dinkgrave To Open Store On Penniman Ave.

Plymouth residents will be more than interested in an announcement that has just been made by Ben Dinkgrave, for over eight years manager of the Wolf grocery on Penniman avenue, and William Gayde, former manager of the store's meat department, that there will be opened under the ownership and management of Mr. Dinkgrave, a new grocery and meat market located in the old postoffice location just west of the Penniman-Allyn theatre.

The store will be known as "The Penniman Market." Workmen have been busy remodeling the decorating the store and placing new fixtures so that the store will be ready for business next week Friday, August 7.

Mr. Dinkgrave has spent practically his entire life in the grocery business. For nearly ten years he conducted an independent grocery in Detroit. After he had sold the business, he was manager of chain stores for C. F. Smith, and for the past eight years, he has been manager of the Wolf store in Plymouth. He has a host of friends in Plymouth, and he is especially well acquainted and highly respected among the grocerymen of the state.

Mr. Gayde is without doubt the oldest meat cutter in Plymouth. His many friends will be more than pleased to know that he will soon be back in business.

Mr. Dinkgrave plans to restore the old popular practice as far as possible, of exchanging farm produce such as eggs, butter, vegetables and fruits for groceries. The same practice will be followed in the meat department, as much poultry and meat as possible being purchased entirely in this locality. The store will be open August 7.

Y. M. P. Class Will Give Garden Party

The annual garden party sponsored by the Young Married People's class of the Newburg Methodist Episcopal church will be held on the church lawn this (Friday) evening. Supper will be served beginning at 5:30 p. m.

There will be a fish pond for the children, a baked goods and candy booth and a stand where hot dogs and soft drinks will be sold. A well known Plymouth man will be on hand to read fortunes and solve the problems of those who seek his services. The Plymouth band will be on hand to furnish music throughout the evening. Everyone is invited to attend.

The Grange will meet Thursday night for potluck supper in Riverside park.

Local Man Will Participate In War Maneuvers In Allegan County

Dr. C. J. Kershaw Will Command Machine Gun Troop

Dr. C. J. Kershaw, of Wayne road, will participate in the 2nd Army maneuvers in Allegan county from August 7 to 21, where he will be in command of the provisional Light Machine Gun troop, 3rd Squadron, 106th Cavalry.

The 2nd Army maneuvers will be the second large scale maneuvers to be held by the United States army during times of peace. In 1935 the 1st Army carried on a similar mock war in New Jersey. The Allegan concentration will be composed of all the regular and National Guard troops in Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois, with a large number of reserve officers.

The camp will open with a two-day mobilization and a three-day unit training period for organization and preparation. The war maneuvers will then take up the next nine days. During these days actual war-time conditions will be simulated and the troops must march and camp under war precautions, subsisting on field rations.

The problem will be the defense of a given area by the Blues, a force composed of the 32nd and 33rd divisions of the National Guard, with regular army troops in support. The attacking force, to be known as the Reds, will be a highly mobile force composed of the 1st Regular Cavalry (mechanized) 106th Cavalry (horse), and 2nd Infantry, in trucks and with mechanized artillery. Though the Blues will be several times as strong as the Reds in numbers,

Plymouth Day at Fair August 27th

Plymouth Day at the Northville-Wayne county fair has been fixed for Thursday, August 27, according to an announcement just made by President Elmer Smith of the fair association and Secretary Floyd B. Northrop. Already one of Plymouth's fastest baseball teams has been signed to play on that date and the Plymouth public school officials are arranging one of the finest exhibits ever placed at the fair.

President Smith, who fills the place at the head of the fair association made vacant some months ago by the death of Nelson Schrader who had directed the affairs of the association for nearly a dozen years, was in Plymouth Tuesday, in connection with fair arrangements. He stated that according to present plans the fair promised to exceed all others in interest, and that the entry list of fruits, vegetables, stock and poultry would tax the display capacity of the buildings and grounds. Again the association plans to dispose of three automobiles during the fair. The horse show will probably have more entries this year than ever before. As usual, Plymouth will make a half holiday out of Plymouth day, and plans are already being formulated for a big parade of automobiles from this city to the Northville fair grounds.

Trailing behind a specially built 350-ton streamlined locomotive are 12 Pullman cars, 1,080 feet long, including sleeping cars for a crew of 50, a power car for lighting and air conditioning, four exhibition cars, a buffet-diner, lounge car, two convention cars and a private car for United Drug company executives. A picture of the train will be found on an inside page. Plymouth residents wishing to inspect the train may obtain tickets free of charge at the Beyer Pharmacy, Plymouth's Rexall store.

Tourneys Held At Playgrounds

Attendance at the playgrounds last week was 1,466. Kenneth J. Matheson, recreation director, reported. The games included a dart baseball tournament, horse shoe tournament and checker tournament, while handcraft work proceeded with the making of bird cages.

For the dart baseball tournament seven teams played at each playground, the winners at Central being Aluia, Wilkie and Goldsworth, and at Starkweather, Gates, Nelson and VanLandingham. The Central team won the city championship, 5-4.

Winners of the horse shoe singles tournament were Joe Gates at Starkweather, and Dick Wilkie at Central, Wilkie winning the championship (50-6) (50-24).

In the boys' checker tournament, Richard Gilles proved the best of the Central players, and Dean Van Landingham outplayed all others at Starkweather. Van Landingham took three out of five games from Gilles to win the championship.

Children in the handcraft classes made bird cages by lacing together soda straws with raffia, and fashioned birds of peanuts painted in gay colors, with pins for eyes and crepe paper tails. These birds were perched on swings made from pipe cleaners. Other crafts were continued, the children completing many articles of leather as well as some silver bracelets. Napkin rings suitable for summer use, were made from raffia.

No Liquor Can Be Bought On Credit

Notification was received this week by Dave Gallin of the Plymouth Purify Market and all others in Plymouth authorized to sell beer, wines and liquors, of the new rules ordered in effect August 1 by the state liquor control commission.

The most important of these states that "the allowing or giving of credit by manufacturers of beer and/or wine to any wholesaler, retailer or customer, and from all wholesalers of alcoholic beverages to retailers and customers, is prohibited. All containers and from retailers of alcoholic beverages to customers shall be construed by the commission to be a credit arrangement and is prohibited." The rules further state that license holders selling liquor by the glass may not cash the pay checks of customers.

The other new regulations are as follows: (1) Advertising of the price of containers of alcoholic beverages is prohibited and in no case is the deposit required to be less than the cost to the manufacturer, brewer, wholesaler or retailer; (2) wholesale distributors of beer are limited to handling the products of not to exceed two Michigan breweries and not to exceed one out-state brewery; this last rule does not apply to beer and ale imported into the United States from foreign countries; and (3) breweries and wholesale distributors are required to keep books showing receipts and disbursements in detail from all sources, in accordance with standardized forms as specified by the liquor control commission.

Two Arrested For Thefts Given Sentences

Stolen Bicycles Are Recovered — Police Find Both Men Have Been Previously Arrested — One On Parole

Two men who stole bicycles from Plymouth residences Tuesday were apprehended shortly after the theft through the quick and efficient work of Capt. Charles J. Thumme of the Plymouth police department, who obtained confessions and discovered that one was on parole from Jackson prison and the other on probation. Both were sentenced to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction, Wednesday, by Judge Dayton of Municipal court.

The two men, Robert Garner, 3121 Hanley street, Detroit, and George M. Grabowski, 3158 Lehigh street, Detroit, will have another change to face when they have completed their sentences, for trying to break jail here Tuesday night. Their attempt was frustrated by Joseph Daoust, 10 years old, who saw Garner using the bar which holds up the heat radiators to pry out the bars on his cell window. Joseph immediately informed Captain Thumme, who discovered the men had taken out one steel screen, which was hidden under the blankets on Garner's cot. The maximum sentence for trying to break jail is double the term of the original sentence.

The bicycles were stolen about noon, one from the residence of Garnet W. Baker, 190 North Main street, which belonged to Baker's son, John, and the other from the Roy Clark home on Union street, which belonged to Lloyd Clark. Mrs. Clark reported the theft to the police department, and went along with Captain Thumme to identify the men.

Thumme came upon the men, riding the bicycles, near the Cavalcade Inn on the Northville road. As soon as they saw the officer they left the bicycles and ran in opposite directions, Garner going into the brush along the railroad track and Grabowski making for the edge of the lake. Thumme started after Garner, shooting in the air to scare him out of the underbrush where he could take him and handcuff him. With the aid of Ed Watson and several county and state highway men, who started up one side of the lake while he took the other, Thumme then rounded up Grabowski.

The two were taken back to Plymouth where confessions were obtained, but these confessions did not correspond. Garner claimed that early Tuesday morning he went to the Kevinator plant to look for a job, then got a ride with a man from Ontario who took him as far as the Wayne

A COMMENDABLE ENDEAVOR

The program prepared and carried through so successfully by members of the Plymouth Ex-Service Men's club in connection with the formal presentation to the city, of the old flag that served the Plymouth G. A. R. post so many years, was a most commendable and successful event, notwithstanding the fact that the only rain this locality has had in nearly a month came at just the time when the out-door tableaux was to take place. A hurried change to the high school auditorium did not in any way mar the impressiveness of the program. Again The Plymouth Mail wishes to commend the Ex-Service men for another of its long series of successful community endeavors.

COUNTER SERVICE

Plymouth people who have had occasion to transact business at the office of County Clerk Henry A. Montgomery have expressed themselves as highly pleased with the immediate counter service they are now receiving. The new county clerk was quick to remedy one of the many complaints that have been hurled at the office. One may now go to the county clerk's office and receive immediate and courteous service, something that has not been possible for a number of years. We are glad to express to County Clerk Montgomery our congratulations upon the efficient and courteous service he has instituted in his office.

A GOOD RECORD

It was with regret that many in this part of the Fifth legislative district learned that Dr. Edward Fisher of Dearborn, had decided not to continue his Lansing legislative career. During the time he was in Lansing, he made a very worthy record, one that he can be proud of, as well as his friends about the district. The northern end of the district, in appreciation of his consistent and excellent services, always gave him its undivided support. If he should be successful in his contest for a place in congress, his many friends in his old legislative district are confident that he will give to the adjoining congressional district the same excellent services he did in the state legislature.

ABOUT "HIDDEN GOLD"

Two rather interesting and informative letters have come to the editor of The Plymouth Mail relative to the recent editorial in this paper pertaining to the opening to sight-seers of the amazing scenic wonders around the Tahquamenon falls and river in the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. P. J. Hoffman, director of the conservation department, and Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, both show a very keen interest in what has been published by The Mail on this subject. Their letters, which Plymouth Mail readers will be interested in reading, follow:

I was interested to see your editorial entitled "Hidden Gold" wherein you refer to the Tahquamenon Falls and I am quite in accord with what you have to say on the subject generally.

You might be interested to know, if you do not now have the information, that we have obtained from the owners of this property an option including approximately 2,400 acres and both the upper and lower falls and the river between. We have been trying to acquire this through an exchange with the United States Forest Service.

By this I mean the State owns land in the National Forests. Instead of us selling this land directly to the Forest Service they have, in other instances, gone out and purchased land which we desired and traded that land for our holdings in their forests. We are hopeful of acquiring the Tahquamenon by this method. The option has been in Washington for some six months. We were informed that in the event Congress appropriated a reasonable amount of funds for the purchase of National Forest lands this exchange would go through. A few weeks ago we learned the appropriation for National Forest acquisition was $2,500,000 but the options in Washington at that time totaled between five and six million. Whether there will be any additional funds out of the emergency appropriations we do not know though we are hopeful; and likewise we are hopeful that that will mean the acquisition of the Tahquamenon Falls property.

We here in the office already have contacted the road commissions of Luce and Chippewa Counties and the State Highway Department. We were assured that as soon as the exchange is approved serious consideration would be given the construction of a road at a place where it would service the area but would not be damaging. To be sure, until we have some kind of a title to the property we are not in a position to dictate where the road should go.

By your editorial you have indicated a keen interest in this subject and from that I felt you would be interested in knowing something as to what has taken place here in the office regarding the property.

Kindest regards,
Very sincerely,

Editor Mail:
Thanks for sending me a proof sheet of your recent editorial, "Hidden Gold," relating to Tahquamenon Falls.

I find myself agreeing in principal with your ambitious program at the Falls, particularly the stand that the site should be made accessible to the tourists. Let me state and give the context of what I have made in this direction and the problems involved in achieving the full objective that you mention.

This project has been carefully considered by us for the last three years. As you probably know, three different routes taking off from as many points on M-28 have been urged. These are by way of Newberry, Hulbert, and Eckerman, and county roads have been built for some distance on each of the routes.

The state highway department has investigated each of these routes but both its choice and its work have been limited by Federal regulations covering our programs which have been financed with Federal funds. As you know, we have not launched an exclusive state construction program through my administration because state funds are not adequate for this purpose.

We have favored the Eckerman route because its extension to Whitefish Point would serve a triple purpose. It would serve a considerable traffic along Whitefish Bay, would be the start of a shoreline road to Grand Marais and would connect at Paradise just north of Emerson with a CCC road leading to the Lower Falls of the Tahquamenon.

There is a county road leading from Eckerman to Whitefish Point and a little over two years ago we took over and improved about eight miles of this road north of Eckerman and named it M-123. A project which is now being advertised for bids will improve a 2.5-mile section connecting this with M-28.

The financial aspects of the situation are as follows:

The construction that the department has undertaken since June, 1933, has been financed in whole or in part by Federal money, under definite Federal regulations. These regulations permitted the expenditure of a small proportion of the funds on forest roads. It was having M-123 declared a forest road that we were able to secure Federal funds for its construction. Bridges on this road were built as WPA projects and, as I said before, the trail from Paradise to the Lower Falls by the CCC.

I am sure that you will understand that with our own revenues available for new construction cut to about 15 per cent of what formerly was normally expended, we can do no better with our state funds than to match Federal Aid allocations. Of course we must abide by whatever regulations are drawn up in connection with the expenditure of these Federal funds. These regulations governing Federal Aid funds restricts their expenditures to Federal Routes such as US-16, US-41, US-2, etc.

We are well pleased with the work that has been done under the circumstances. We hope that further improvement of the Tahquamenon Falls road will be permitted in the future although no promise can be made as to the immediate completion of any project of that magnitude. That is ruled out by our responsibility to the state as a whole.

Before closing let me say that I cannot be included among the public officials mentioned in your editorial who talk about helping the Upper Peninsula and do nothing. My administration has recognized the needs of the Upper Peninsula for highway improvements and has done something about these needs. Even my critics will admit this. Briefly, we have launched $10,775,000 worth of highway improvements in that section of the state in three years on our independent programs. These do not include projects recommended by the department up there for construction on a cooperative program with the WPA. We have also expanded the state ferry service at the Straits and have five boats operating there at this time. I would call your attention to the fact that about half the above expenditures has been on shoreline routes, a very desirable appeal for tourists. In addition, most of our work in the Upper Peninsula has been concentrated on the three main tourist routes—US-41, US-2, and M-28. Two of our finest projects of these routes, by the way, have been the Copper Harbor to Eagle Harbor route and the road into the Porcupine Mountains. In short, we know what the Upper Peninsula needs and we are doing everything to satisfy these needs.

With personal regards to you, I am
Sincerely yours,
W. D. VAN WAGONER,
State Highway Commissioner.

ONE MINUTE BIOGRAPHIES of MICHIGAN GOVERNORS and their ACCOMPLISHMENTS

By Elton R. Eaton

JOHN J. BAGLEY

A country lad without means, later a cigar maker, then governor of Michigan, in brief tells the successful career of John T. Bagley, twice governor of Michigan, serving from 1873 to 1877. Born in New York state in 1832, his parents moved to Constantine, Michigan, when he was but eight years old. He attended the school at Constantine until 13 years old when it was necessary for him to quit and go to work on farms and in stores. A good portion of his time was spent behind the counter, the leisure moments being spent in study.

While still a young man his father moved to Owosso, where the son again secured work in a store. In 1847 he went to Detroit, securing a job in a cigar factory. Later he established a tobacco factory of his own and his business grew to immense size. He was interested in many Detroit institutions. Early in his career he became active in politics and in 1872 was elected governor on the Republican ticket.

He did much to better the educational facilities in the state. The management of the various state institutions was completely changed by him and the county agent system of caring for juveniles was started under his administration. Boys in the reform school were placed on the honor system, locks and bars being removed from the doors.

He completed the organization of the State Militia, and created the state board of health. The fish commission was also created under his administration.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

THE BIG JOB

Our big job in the resort country is to offer tourists better accommodations and more variety in outdoor sports. Also to have our own citizenry know more about their own sections.

A trip through the east part of the United States will quickly reveal our own weakness. We have only started to capitalize on our recreation values. Many of those who cater to the public including restaurant and hotel operators, resort people, those operating garages and gasoline stations, in fact, all who get inquiries should have accurate information about fishing and other sports so they wish to bring the visitors back after their first trip to Michigan.

Courtesy and going out of the way to make the proper contacts so that a tourist will not need to spend half of his vacation looking for good places to swim, fish, dance, go boating or enjoy his favorite pastime will mean a lot to the state and the business house that takes the trouble to give it.

There are plenty of places in Michigan where better facilities in the way of boats, guides where desired, paraphernalia, etc., would pay big dividends. Take one instance, the opportunity of fishing for lake trout. I tried to find someone to take me out at Mackinac island, where there should be good lake trout trolling within easy reach, and could not find anyone who could or would do it. In this locality there can be found bass and pike fishing, as well as brook trout streams, but no one takes the trouble to make it their job to see that boats, gear and bait are available.—Phil T. Rich in The Midland Republican.

NOTHING TO BOAST ABOUT

Don't let the Republican spellbinders fool you when they take too much credit for Michigan's surplus of several millions during the past fiscal year. Actually, because Michigan received more than it spent, it has this surplus; at the same time, please remember that Michigan today is spending more than at any time in its history. It is the taxpayers who pay and pay and pay!—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

A SAFE BET

Regardless of depressions, we'll bet on the man who works and uses his head.—Joe Haas in The Holly Herald.

OPPORTUNITY IS KNOCKING

Henry Ford says that he wishes he were young, as the youth of today has all kinds of opportunity. It looks as if Ford might be absolutely correct in his assertion and it also looks as if there might be a great many young people today who are thoroughly dead to the knocking of opportunity. No one thinks we have reached the limit in improvement.

It was only a few years ago that we were all using kerosene lamps. It was only a few years ago that those who indulged in bicycles, rode on high wheels. It was only a few years ago that we drove a horse and buggy. It was only a few years ago when the thought of flying was considered preposterous. It was only a few years ago that it took weeks to cross the ocean. It was only a few years ago that the weeks were reduced to days, and it was only a few months ago that it was reduced to hours. It was only a few years ago that the man at the head of the patent department in Washington resigned because he said that there was nothing more left to patent. Yet, the most advancements ever made have been since he resigned. We, as a people, have almost nationwide, within the past three years, accepted a fate devoid of initiative and dependent on someone else. In other words, the drole idea has taken place of the snap, get-out-and-hustle proposition. Now, let's re-con the spirit of military conquest, and again make ourselves dominant, master of our destinies, rather than supinely taking it as it comes!—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

Work of Salvation Army Camp Described

In the July 25 issue of the Salvation Army "War Cry" is an article on the Central Territorial Music camp held the week ending July 4, at Camp Lake, Wisconsin. Miss Evelyn McMullen, of Newburg, who is affiliated with the local Salvation Army corps, was one of the young people who attended. Among the outstanding musicians at the camp were Frank Simon, noted conductor and cornet soloist who heads the Armo band, his assistant, Ernest Glover, trombone soloist, his star pupil, Fannie Shirra, of Cincinnati, and the Detroit and Flint citadel bands.

Not one Swedish bunk failed in 1931, despite the depression. Two raised their dividends, and six reduced them.

It is said that four milk bottles are used for every person who takes a bottle of milk every day. While one is being delivered, the second awaits the next delivery, a third is being washed and a fourth is kept in reserve.

Like a Magic Aladdin . . .

ELECTRICITY brings you this NEW SERVICE!

"A touch of my wand, and fresh fruit stains vanish completely from table linen! This is not magic from the Arabian Nights, but an actual fact—accomplished in your own kitchen by the simple process of stretching the linen in embroidery hoops and holding it under very hot running water. To make sure that the water is HOT at all times, I stand behind every hot water faucet in your home . . . day and night, summer and winter, year in and year out. I free you from all worry and responsibility. Once you enlist my services, your water heating problems are over.

"I bring you the luxury of abundant hot water for your home, heated automatically and without attention. When you want hot water, turn the faucet—and there is your hot water on tap. You need never again run up and down stairs to light a manually operated heater. Ended forever is the annoyance of waiting for water to get hot, the inconvenience and delay caused by having only lukewarm water in the pipes. I help make your housework easier and pleasanter, and save you time and labor.

"My wages are measured in pennies a day . . . and I will serve you faithfully and well for years to come. Ask about me at any Detroit Edison office today!"

Since Satan never rests, but is constantly on the quiver to ensnare and trap the Christian into sin and unbelief, the Christian ought never to rest in his active profession of faith either. Part and parcel of that is faithful attendance upon divine worship, pursuant to the exhortation of the Lord, spoken to His sleep-weary disciples after He had come through the great temptation in the Gethsemane: "Watch and pray, lest ye enter into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."

Will Make Tests Of Refrigerators

A device for accurately testing temperatures in food storage chambers is being made available free to all users of refrigerators in Plymouth, according to an announcement by C. G. Shear, of the Plymouth Bulk Sales company, local Frigidaria dealers and specialists in food preservation.

"This little tester," said Mr. Shear, "is called a cold gauge. Fundamentally, its design is based upon the principle of an accurate thermometer, except that it is not burdened with scales of small figures representing degrees of temperature. Instead, it is equipped with just three basic zones of temperature drawn to fit the temperature conditions which affect food, either beneficially or adversely.

"Foods recognized as perishable usually will be rendered unfit for human consumption if they are permitted to remain for long in places that are too warm. Long experience and many laboratory experiments prove that the upper limit of warmth in a refrigerator is 50 degrees. Below this limit is the safety zone for food. Simple as it may sound, it is not necessarily an easy thing to maintain a refrigerator within this safety zone for hour after hour, especially during the hot months of the summer season.

"This new cold gauge, placed in the food compartment of your refrigerator will tell you instantly whether or not those temperatures are prevailing which will be safe for perishable foods. There are just three readings: Danger zone, freezing zone, and safety zone.

"Cold gauges and an interesting booklet on refrigeration are absolutely free, without obligation of any kind on the part of the recipients. The only condition attached is that they call at our store and ask for a set, and that they be adults and owners of some kind of food refrigerator, regardless of whether it be ice, electrically or gas operated. This is a free service that we are offering in the interest of better food preservation."

Miss Margaret Campau, of Berwick avenue, will become the bride of Gilbert D. McEachern, of Dearborn, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, August 8, at St. Michael's church, Father John Contway officiating.

Mrs. Tony Mepnyans and twin sons, Martin and Marvin, recently relatives in Bay City visited while Mr. Mepnyans was on a northern trip awarded by the Northwestern National Insurance company.

James Kinahan was elected to a three-year term on the board of the Rosedale Gardens school, and George Bentley and Stanley James were reelected for the same period of time. Other members of the board are Fred C. Weinert and Charles Schaffer.

Monsieur Thomas Noa, head of St. Joseph's seminary in Grand Rapids, was a guest of Father John F. Contway last week. Monsieur Noa was en route to Canada and the eastern states.

IN THE KITCHEN

Like so many other things in this world, food preparation is often a matter of habit. We prepare our meats, vegetables, salads, and desserts in a certain way because we have always done it so and the family seems perfectly satisfied.

Now of course the time-tried methods are old stand-bys which should not be discarded for every new idea in cooking which comes along, but neither should they prevent you from trying out a new recipe once in a while. How often have you read a recipe somewhere — a comparatively simple one, too — said something to yourself about how good it "sounded," then proceeded to turn the page and later prepare your meal in the same old way?

Well, don't do it. Variety is the spice of life, so they say, and one likes a little spice in the daily menu. For instance, you may say hash is hash in any language, but that is not so. Hash in a restaurant may be an unknown quantity, but at home it may be a very delicious part of your meal. And corned beef hash, plebian as it sounds, can be a dish fit to set before the king.

Corned Beef Hash
2 cups chopped cooked corned beef
3 cups onion
2 onions, sliced
2 tablespoons fat
1 cup corn, cooked and cut from cob
Salt and pepper
½ cup milk

Mix the ingredients and place in a baking dish. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) 20 minutes, or cook in a frying pan until the milk is absorbed, stirring constantly. Let brown on the bottom and fold like an omelet. If cooked in the latter way, more fat may be added to the hash as necessary.

Potato Croquettes
2 cups hot rice potatoes
2 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon salt
Pepper
¼ teaspoon celery salt
Cayenne

Few drops onion juice
1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley
1 egg yolk

(By the Fish Editor)

"Ain't" it a downright shame when a fellow wants to be a good sportsman, hunt big game, fish for big fish and do all the things that a regular man of the wild enjoys, to think that he is constantly pursued by a hoodoo of some sort?

Well, it's too bad, but that seems to be the fate of Floyd Kehrl, the man who most carefully counts out the pennies and dollars over at the First National bank so that there is sure to be a balance on the right side of the ledger each month.

Last fall President Kehrl of the stone front bank over on "Wall Street" decided he wanted to do some hunting. Out in the dense forests west of Plymouth he hid himself with shotgun and shells and a dashing hound at his heels.

Things went good for a time, the rabbits and groundhogs skittering to shelter under his approach.

Then the hunt went bad. The dog cited a white moving object over the hill.

The bank president's hunting trip was over. The white object proved to be one of the exceedingly ambitious breed of polecats. Before he ended his career, the polecat sprayed the dog and entire countryside.

With skunk in mouth, it came running back to its master and persisted in jumping with glee all over the hunting banker and because it had accomplished something, the dog thought it ought to have been given a nice pat on the head.

But it got a poke in the ribs instead of a pat on the head! To re-hunt an old story—Mr. Kehrl's hunting clothes remained buried for a month or so and he too was buried for several days. But even that didn't kill the fragrance that came back from that hunting trip, as business men along Pennington avenue can testify.

It's but a step from ancient history to modern.

Over the week-end President Kehrl, Dr. Brick Champe, Frank Coward and Walter Smith decided to do a little trout fishing up north. Kehrl insisted on driving his own Model T.

Up around West Branch the "innards" of the engine began to drop out along the paving. Finally when the last piston rattled along on the concrete and there wasn't another drop of oil or water in the engine, the old bus stopped dead.

It was then and there that Mr. Kehrl bought another Ford—a little thing like having all the insides of an automobile engine drop out wasn't going to end a fishing trip for him especially when he had such a well known group of real fishermen with him as filled to overflowing his automobile.

Out whizzed the new machine from the garage—its bright new paint dazzling in the sunlight. 13-13-1 read the license number!

A double thirteen, almost a triple, if the prisoners over at Jackson hadn't forgot to put the other three on the tail end of the license.

Thirteen! Thirteen! And one!

How, under the sun could any one catch a mess of trout who had ridden to the fast flowing streams of northern Michigan in an automobile with such a combination of unlucky numbers as graced that new automobile?

That's what such hang-up fly casters as Walt Smith, Brick Champe and Frank Coward are trying to figure out.

But that is not the end of the story. As the engine purred along towards the northlands, one of the new tires went flat. A big spike had found its way into the inner tube—and that ended the inner tube.

Walt Smith then figured it out that it had been 13 days since he had been fishing.

Dr. Brick Champe had 13 callers the day before he left.

Frank Coward counted his cigars and found that he had smoked 13 cigars between Plymouth and West Branch.

So if any one wants to know if 13 has anything to do with a fishing trip, just ask one of the four who now say that maybe there is something to the 13 hoodoo after all.

Mrs. Todd Gives W. C. T. U. Report

A meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held Thursday, July 23, at the home of Mrs. L. Clemens in Newburg. A potluck luncheon was served preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd, state treasurer, who attended the national convention in Tulsa, Oklahoma, gave a most interesting report, telling some of the new and original methods used for giving temperance instruction to children and young people. She said that there was a representation of young people from 35 states, all ardent workers for the temperance cause, at the convention. The national organization reported 24,163 new members enrolled during the past year.

"Amelia Earhart, speaker at the Sunday afternoon meeting, was a magnet for youth," Mrs. Todd said. "Not only were the young people attending the convention in her fascinated audience, but many other young men and women came long distances in large groups, even from beyond the Oklahoma borders. Amelia Earhart said, 'I have never used stimulants of any kind. I would be afraid to.' She said also, 'It has been noted that at higher altitudes the effect of alcohol in the blood are more pronounced.'

Barely had they entered the main corridor of the structure when the youngsters met their history teacher. It is needless to say that their instructor and the children enjoyed a brief time discussing the interesting places they had seen in Washington.

Schrader Nine Is Winner, 3 to 1, In Inkster Game

Local Team Wins With Thrilling Rally In Ninth

Schrader-Haggerty baseball nine took a thrilling 4-3 victory from the Inkster Merchants last Sunday at Plymouth Riverside park. Plymouth, after trailing 3 to 1, came back in the ninth inning to score three runs and win the game.

In that thrilling ninth inning, Atchinson, first up, rolled out third to first. Pankow followed him to the plate and singled to left; Millross then hit a hard double to left center. With both second and third occupied, "Dutch" German walked, filling the bases. Arnold Jaska walked to the plate and drove out a hard double, scoring the three necessary runs.

Harold Pankow, Schrader hurler, allowed eight hits and struck out 10. Hill pitched good ball for Inkster, holding Schraders to nine hits.

Leonard Millross starred at bat, getting three hits out of five. In the seventh inning Mermick, Inkster's centerfielder, came through with the most spectacular play of the game, when he made a running one-handed catch of Millross' long fly, which was tagged for a home run.

The game Sunday will bring this contest starts at 3:30 o'clock, at Riverside park.

Daisy and Frigidare Are Next In League Standings

With 10 wins and only one loss on their record, the Red and White nine continues to lead the Recreation Softball league with a percentage of .909. Daisy follows with nine won and two lost, and Frigidare is third with seven wins and two losses.

R. and W. brought the Wilson winning streak to an end last week, defeating them 7 to 6. Wilson's started off by scoring three runs on three hits and a base on balls, and they picked up another run in the fourth inning when Vaughn Smith hit a home run. When R. and W. came to bat, the boys turned on the power and scored six runs, two of them being home runs by Schryer and Straub. In the fifth inning Alsbro, of Wilson's, hit a home run with Sutherland on base, to tie the score at 6-all. In their last turn at the plate R. and W. scored a run after two were out when Ferguson hit a double and Schrader threw the ball before he fielded it.

New Territory Open To Hunters

Every county in Michigan north of a line drawn from Muskegon to Saginaw bay—except Leelanau county, will be open to legal deer hunting next fall.

Seeing no emergency which would warrant an official order to continue the closed season in Lake, Newaygo, Manistee, Mason, Missaukee, Clare and Wexford counties, which have been closed during the past five years by Legislative Act, the Commission decided to let legal deer shooting come into effect automatically this fall in those counties. Leelanau county, which has comparatively few deer, is to be closed by Commission action to deer hunting again this fall. The Commission is authorized to do this under the Discretionary Power Act passed by the Legislature. It was pointed out by Director P. J. Hoffmaster.

The "line" from Muskegon to Saginaw bay, north of which deer hunting will be legal and below which deer may not be legally shot next fall, is defined as follows:

"Beginning at a point on the shoreline of Lake Michigan directly west of the west end of M-46, thence east to M-46 and east along M-46 to its junction with M-37 west of Casnovia, thence east and south along M-37 to Kent City, thence east along Kent County highway No. 510 to its junction with US-131 at Cedar Springs, thence north along US-131 to its junction with M-46 north of Howard City, thence east along M-46 to its junction with M-47 west of Saginaw, thence northerly along M-47 to Saginaw bay, including all of the "Thumb." Under this arrangement it is obvious that all of the "Thumb" district of the lower peninsula, Director Hoffmaster says, will be closed to deer hunting.

"There has been some apprehension about open hunting seasons on deer, particularly in the western part of the lower peninsula, but we see no reason why any of the circumstances surrounding legal deer hunting should be peculiar to that area and not exist in other areas which have long been open to deer hunting," Hoffmaster stated. "If all of the deer territory is opened simultaneously it will tend to scatter the hunters, making a less-congested situation and therefore less danger in any particular area. It will contribute to a more general hunting kill." The hunting seasons on small game birds and animals for next fall are:

The commission decided to permit a longer hunting season in the lower peninsula—by one day—on ruffed grouse, prairie chickens, sharp-tailed grouse and pheasants, setting the open season from Oct. 15 to Oct. 28, inclusive. The season in the upper peninsula is the same as before and, being set by the Legislature, cannot be extended by the Commission. No changes were made in any of the bag limits on big game or small game.

Perfection Nine In Three-Way Tie For Fourth Place

Will Meet Highland Pk. League Leaders, In Game Sunday

When the Perfection Laundry defeated Ypsilanti, 12 to 4, Sunday, they went into a three-way tie for fourth place in the Michigan Inter-County league with Schrader-Haggerty and Cass Benton.

Thomas Levandowski's home run with two on in the fifth inning, broke a 2-2 tie to put the local boys out in front. Levandowski had a perfect day at bat, with three hits out of three trips to the plate.

Harold Pisarek allowed but four hits, to be the first of the local club pitchers to allow less than eight in any one game. Leading hitters for the day, in addition to Levandowski, were Williams with three out of five, and Clarence Levandowski with two out of six, one being a home run in the ninth inning.

Next Sunday, Perfection meets the league-leading Highland Park outfit on their diamond.

Bicycle Thieves Fail In Jail Break

County Training school, where he tried to see a friend. Then he said he walked to Plymouth where he met Grabowski riding a bicycle, and Grabowski let him take the bicycle while he went up the street after another.

After getting Grabowski's confession, however, Captain Thumme obtained a second one in which Garner admitted he had led the first time, and gave another version which tallied with that of his companion. According to this, the two went together to the Kelvinator plant to look for work, then obtained a ride for a way, and walked the remainder of the distance to Plymouth. Here Grabowski took the bicycle from the Baker home while Garner watched to see if anyone were coming, and later Garner stole the Clark bicycle, after which the two rode out the Northville road, where Captain Thumme arrested them.

Further investigation by Thumme revealed that Garner had been sentenced to Marquette prison by Judge Chenot in 1934, for robbery armed. The sentence was for from two to 10 years; he was later transferred to Jackson prison and released on parole in 1936. Grabowski had been placed on probation this year by Judge Marschner on a breaking and entering charge. Both men may get further prison sentences for breaking parole and probation, respectively.

City Given Flag Of G. A. R. Post

Prof. Dorr sketched the history of the G. A. R. in his talk, the text of which is printed here in full:

"It is well that we should from time to time refresh our memories in order that we may keep alive the history of our democratic institutions. For that reason, it is not inappropriate that we should on this occasion recall something of the history of the Grand Army of the Republic. It is not my intention, however, to dwell at length upon the events which led these comrades in arms to join themselves together in a great fraternal organization. History need not be read in terms of cold facts alone. I would prefer, in the few minutes at my disposal, to speak of the spiritual and moral influences of the Grand Army and to emphasize the lessons in service and loyalty to be learned from its activities. However, the spirit of the occasion demands that some attention be paid to its organization and history.

"Man is a social animal. He seeks companionship. Close relationships have everywhere been the basis for lasting friendships and the trials and sufferings of war serve only to cement those friendships more closely. Thus, it was only natural that the veterans should have, before the time of their final discharge from the service, sworn lasting allegiance to those friendships found in the hardships and sufferings of civil strife. Few regiments failed to make arrangements for future meetings to commemorate important events. The list of such regimental reunions is a long one, and almost equally long is the number of permanent societies which were organized at the close of the Civil War. However, it was evident to some, even before the close of that war, that time would demonstrate a demand for unity of purpose which regimental reunions and individual societies could never fill. Out of this idea was born the Grand Army of the Republic.

"The facts are a bit confusing; many claim the honor for honor it was— for having founded the original post. But, in spite of conflicting claims, two men, because of their unceasing efforts, are entitled to special consideration. Chaplain Rutledge and Major Stephenson were, during the war, tent-mates and bosom companions. In February, 1864, Rutledge suggested to his friend that the soldiers so closely allied in the fellowship of suffering, would, when mustered out of the service, naturally desire some form of association that would preserve the friendships and the memories of their common trials and dangers.

"Thereafter this subject was the topic of frequent and long conversation between these two, and they agreed that if spared they would jointly accept the responsibilities for the organization of such a society. In March, 1866, after extended correspondence, these two friends met in Springfield, Illinois to complete their plans. Stephenson had in the meantime confided in others who were now ready to actively assist in completing the organization. At this time the ritual had not been completed nor had a name for the organization been selected. The scene of their activities shifted to Decatur. The ritual was there printed and there also on April 6th, 1866, was established the first post of the Grand Army of the Republic.

"The constitution there adopted provided for an organization plan and a statement of principles and objectives. The plan for organization included:

1. Precinct Organizations—to be known as Posts
2. County Organizations—to be known as Districts
3. State Organizations—to be known as Departments
4. National Organizations—to be known as The Grand Army of the Republic.

"Other posts were established, conventions were called, and the organization was completed at Indianapolis in November, 1866, with the opening of the first National Encampment. The idea was an appealing one; the organization grew rapidly; within the short period of two years enlistments approached a quarter of a million were claimed. It seemed that Major Stephenson's dream of a reunited army pledged to mutual assistance and peacetime purposes was to be realized. But few dreams are realized. It is not the lot of man to escape misfortunes and disappointments. Major Stephenson, in his short life, suffered beyond his fair share. He died in 1871, but lived long enough to see his dream shattered—to see his organization all but pass from public view. In his own state in 1871 there was hardly an active post; in neighboring states they were entirely dead; and in the East, while the organization was kept together, posts were disbanded by the score. The total membership had dwindled in four years to less than 25,000.

"However, out of failures, discouragements and disappointments our greatest achievements often arise. Others had shared the vision with Major Stephenson; others who were equally determined and equally resourceful; others who had learned with him, during the years of the war, the lessons of loyalty, patience, and perseverance. These men were determined to carry on, and carry on they did until out of the ashes of their earlier disappointments arose the great organization we here honor today.

"Michigan men have played an important part in the history of the G. A. R. However, the records do not show that Michigan took great interest in the organization or was active during those first trying years. The state, I believe, was not represented at the First National Encampment, but was represented in the meetings during the years of 1868-69 and 70. No Michigan delegates attended the meeting of 1871, but the adjutant general reported that the Department was in excellent condition; however, no returns were made in 1872, and the Department was later reported disorganized and dropped from the roll of Departments.

"Reorganization got under way slowly. A post was established at Coldwater in 1875, and a second post at Quincy the following year, but real activities were delayed in the state until 1879, the year in which Michigan was again represented at the National Encampment. Thereafter new posts were chartered in rapid succession, until no less than 463 were established with a total enrollment of approximately 20,000 members.

Among the posts organized at an early date was the Eddy Post No. 231 chartered February 22nd and mustered in this city February 28, 1884, under the command of Abram Peiham. I would not dwell upon the events of its history. Its activities are a matter of public record, perpetually preserved as an inspiration for this and succeeding generations.

"But time does not deal kindly with mortals. Through the years the comrades have answered the last muster, until today the few carry on where formerly the thousands labored. The annual Michigan report for 1935 recorded 68 active posts with a total membership of 244.

"The Eddy post surrendered its charter in 1925, but it retained its flag—the flag we salute this evening—and, in 1931, the last two surviving members of the post entrusted this symbol of their faith to the keeping of the Ex-Service Men's Club. This evening that organization, in presenting the flag to the city, imposes upon this community a grave responsibility. We recall the words spoken at the last state encampment:

"Like the leaves, that slowly falling
Demonstrate their work is done,
So the G. A. R. is passing—
Passing, one by one."

"This, my friends, is a solemn occasion. It marks a milestone in the passing of an organization which has exerted a tremendous influence for good; an organization which has, at the same time, accepted an unusual share of responsibility in the life of the state and nation. Their work is now finished. They have fully discharged all responsibilities imposed upon them. Their duties have become your duties; and, today, in accepting the flag of this post, you assume their obligations and their responsibilities.

"In conclusion allow me to express the hope that you, in accepting the colors of this post, this symbol of loyalty, of service and of fidelity, may preserve and defend it and that for which it stands, in a manner which will entitle you to be remembered as worthy successors to the Grand Army of the Republic."

Arlo A. Emery presided as master of ceremonies. Many distinguished persons were present for the occasion, among them being James M. Adams, of Jackson, commander of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, and Mrs. Adams; Miss Leah M. Simpson, of Detroit, assistant secretary of the Fairbanks post No. 17, Woman's Relief corps; Joseph A. Merritt, of Detroit, vice-president of the municipal council of Unit-grew Spanish War Veterans, Detroit; Mrs. Mildred Peters, of Lansing, state secretary of the woman's auxiliary, Sons of Union Veterans; A. P. Lophire, of Detroit, lieutenant of the 85th division, ordinance division, Detroit; W. A. Stewart, son of a past commander of the Eddy post; Captain Schellhase, chaplain of the 85th division; F. H. Levingood, past commander of Austin Blair camp, Sons of Union Veterans; Mrs. Lena Sweet, of Jackson; Mrs. Ruby Anglin, of Fenton, department president of the Daughters of the Union Veterans; Mrs. Marie Stewart, of Fenton, department musician of the Daughters of

Will Construct Four Car Garage

Plans have been completed and work will probably start within the next few days on the new four car garage and apartment to be erected by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bennett, to take the place of the old wooden barn removed early in the spring from their place on Main street.

The garage will be of brick and concrete construction, two stories with basement under a portion of the structure. The heating plant and cooling system will be located in the basement. The building will be 23 by 53. The living room of the apartment which will be used for the next year or so by the Bennett family for a recreation room will have a large fireplace. The window arrangement has been planned so that there will be an excellent view of the Bennett gardens, regarded as among the most beautiful in this part of the state. Mr. Bennett plans later to have a greenhouse attached to the garage so that the family can have a winter supply of flowers.

W. C. Fields To Appear In New Film, "Poppy"

Picture of Carnival Life To Open Here On Sunday

Of all American comedians, W. C. Fields is perhaps the most lovable. He comes to the Penniman-Allyn screen Sunday in his latest picture, "Poppy," in which he has the role of Prof. Eustace McGargle, a roving, carnival-following patent medicine man.

He is also guardian of an 18-year-old girl, Poppy, whom he has brought up from childhood. The two set up their stand in a middle western town and while the professor is vying his "Purple Bark Sarsaparilla," he scents money. There is an enormous fortune awaiting an 18-year-old missing heiress, so he decides to palm off Poppy as the girl.

Poppy, played by Rochelle Hudson, meantime has fallen in love with the mayor's son, Billy Farnsworth, a role taken by Richard Cromwell. She knows nothing of the deception being practiced by the professor, and her happiness is complete when she is welcomed as the missing heiress. Of course, the trick is speedily exposed, but circumstances work themselves out for the young pair, who settle down while the professor wanders on in his search for new "yokels," their pockets bulging with filthy lucre.

A double feature is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, "Florida Special" and "Red River Valley." The first mingles the comedy of Jack Oakie with a jewel mystery and the action takes place on an excursion train on its way from New York to Florida. Oakie appears as a nosey, devil-may-care newspaper reporter who is shanghaied on the trip by his equally devil-may-care friend, Kent Taylor. The supporting cast includes Sally Eilers, Frances Drake and Sam (Schlieperman) Hearns.

The other picture on the program is a western, with the singing cowboy, Gene Autry, in the leading role. The plot has to do with a group of Arizona cattlemen trying to build dam and ditches to bring water to their parched lands, while Moore, the town banker, secretly hinders them. Autry, as a cowhand, volunteers to aid in guarding the project. Following a series of exciting situations, the two villains of the piece are exposed and, trying to escape on the construction train, hit a car of dynamite which blows them to pieces. The heart interest is furnished by Frances Grant as Mary Baxter.

By popular demand, Will Rogers in a screen adaptation of Mark Twain's "Connecticut Yankee" will appear Friday and Saturday. This picture, which many consider the greatest Rogers ever made, is a droll, fanciful story full of riotous comedy and adventure. The plot deals with a modern American, played by Rogers, who is taken back to King Arthur's court in a dream and becomes "Sir Boss" because of his twentieth century knowledge.

Myrna Loy appears as the wicked but beautiful siren, Morgan LePay. William Farnum is cast as King Arthur. Maureen O'Sullivan as Alisande and Frank Albertson as Clarence.

Next Sunday, August 2, is Communion Sunday, and Rev. P. Ray Norton of Plymouth, will have charge. The pastor desires all members of the church to be present.

Remember the lawn party to be held on the church lawn this (Friday) evening. Supper will be served at 5:30 and until all are served, in the parsonage. The ice cream, baked goods, fish pond, fortune teller's booth, hot dog stand, etc., will be on the lawn. Music will be furnished by the Plymouth band. A good time for everyone.

The Sunday school picnic which was to have been held Saturday afternoon, has been postponed until Monday afternoon and evening, the supper to be served at 5:30, followed by the races and games.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Ryder and daughter, Doris, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ryder and family at La Grange, Ill., a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Simmons and son, Richard, left Saturday morning for a week's vacation in the upper peninsula. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. Simmons of Plymouth, and a brother and family from Chicago. Rev. Hoffman made a hurried trip to Traverse City, leaving Sunday evening and returning Monday.

Style Silhouettes

Fall begins with black satin. While this shining, sophisticated material is usually quite popular in late summer and early fall, it is being "ballyhoed" even more than usual this year from the Paris and New York style centers, and who are we in the Middle West to argue? Many of our manufactured articles are absolute "tops," but for style notes the whole of feminine America turns eastward, with a few backward glances in the direction of Hollywood.

A few other all-powerful "hints" which have come to our ears from those in the know, where fashions are concerned, have to do with flared tunics, blouse bodices, princess lines, swaggar suits and gaily colored accessories. Black and more black will be shown as the season progresses.

The use of the tunic, with almost innumerable variations, is one of the most important style developments. In its most extreme form it gives us the umbrella silhouette, while the more conservative models reveal smart princess lines. The umbrella silhouette, to be more explicit, is achieved by a very full, flaring tunic over a sheath-like underskirt. The flare may be obtained by simply gathering in the material at the waistline, but by far the newest thing is pleating.

Some designers reverse the combination, showing tunics with only slight flares over pleated undershirts. Quite often too, much interest is centered at the shoulders where sleeves are puffed, gathered and tucked much in the manner of the "gay nineties." Since one cannot have a whole wardrobe of black satin, many will achieve variety by choosing black chiffon and dull finish silk crepes. Relief from the severity of black is possible by the use of crisp white frills, jabots, collars and cuffs, or brightly colored accessories.

For more practical wear—street, campus or classroom—the first fall frocks will be of sheer, lightweight material. While many of them will be shown in plain colors, stripes, plaids and checks will be particularly smart. Made on trim, tailored lines with a minimum of fussy details, they will be comfortable and practical for the cool days of early autumn.

Going a step in the other direction, we find that cocktail frocks and formals carry out the same frilly femininity that characterizes the afternoon models. Again pleats are much in evidence, as the long skirts flare away from high-waisted bodices, many of them with draped Renaissance necklines. Some of the formals have trailing skirts of pleated black sheer and white or pink shawlkin jackets. The lines show the influence of the new directoire lines.

For that "in between" season before fur coats are comfortable or appropriate, most women this year will wear suits. If you like the mannish styles which found such popularity this spring, you can obtain the same lines in a warm, dark fall suit. Most of the models, however, or so we are told, will be dashing swagger affairs with huge fur collars. Coats, like dresses, will have a decided flare.

And this brings us to the business of hats. Here there is more leeway in the matter of styles, and one can choose the models, most becoming to her type. Or it is possible to have different styles for different outfits.

The beret is still with us, but it is modified from the severe simplicity which it originally had, and the fullness of last year, suggested by the Italian Renaissance period. The newest thing is the bonnet beret, with its grosgrain ribbon trim, which is so appropriate with afternoon costumes. The bonnet influence also is shown in delightfully impish and juvenile styles which pull back on the head rather than forward, with an off-the-face brim.

The picturesque garden hats, affected by lovely ladies of the screen and bridesmaids at fashionable weddings, had scarcely suitable for average occasions, have been modified to a shallow-crowned style with a wide irregular brim. Bands are usually of flowers, velvet or satin, with occasionally a bright feather or two.

Plumage, by the way, raises high in crown interest this year. Tyrolean models of felt, with rolled brims and high crowns, are finished off with bright red, yellow

Northville News

Preliminary plans have been made for a celebration in connection with the opening of the newly widened and paved Main street. Although all the cement has been poured, and work practically completed, the street cannot be opened to traffic for some time as the pavement must "season" before any heavy vehicles are allowed on it, according to John Norton, Wayne county engineering adviser. The celebration is planned for some time after August 25.

By narrowing the sidewalks 22 inches, the street has been widened to make four traffic lanes, and the level lifted on North Center street to adjust with the raised level of the new Main street surface. The work has been done by the county road commission.

Announcement was made last week that Elliott Barr, of Shepherd, has been signed as coach for Northville high school to succeed Coach Ted Watts who has just completed a successful year with Northville teams. Mr. Barr has been on the faculty of the Thompsonville school. He was graduated from Central State Teachers college in Mt. Pleasant, where he majored in physics and took an active part in the school sports program. In addition to his coaching duties in Northville, he will also teach physics.

Work was temporarily delayed on the new grade school building last week because C. A. Baldwin, construction engineer for the H. B. Culbertson company, contractors, could not get FWA approval from the Detroit office for the employment of six laborers and four carpenters on the job.

The annual outing for Northville Boy Scouts will be held August 2, at East Tawas, Scout Executive Orlov G. Owen announced last week. From 12 to 15 boys are expected to make the trip in a truck to be supplied by a local automobile agency. They will be accompanied by Harold White and Harper Britten. Non-Scouts over 12 years old may make the trip upon payment of a small fee, Mr. Owen said.

The Northville postoffice did the best business of its history during the fiscal year which ended June 30, Fred E. VanAtta, postmaster, has announced. An increase of 14 1/2 per cent in stamp sales, the total for which was $18,001.35, was reported, as well as increases in money orders, postal savings and registered mail.

Funeral services were held Friday for George Burton Brink, 57, of Highland Park, who died Wednesday morning in Detroit while riding with his chauffeur. He was the brother of Mrs. W. A. Ely and Mrs. D. H. VanHove, of Northville.

A new nursery and maternity ward is being added to Sessions hospital which will be completed about the first of September, according to Miss Irene Pennell, superintendent. The addition will make possible four extra private rooms, and bring the total number of beds to 20.

A group of young people from Northville enjoyed a four-day outing at Lake Chemung, near Howell, recently. The group included Ida Altman, Frances McLoughlin, Dorothy Frank, Jean and green feathers, as are sports felts with dashing brims and interestingly blocked crowns.

The annual mid-summer picnic of the Women's club will be held this evening at Cass Benton park. Supper will be served at tables near the children's wading pool. Thumme Praises State Police Work

Efficiency and speed with which state police officers dispense justice impressed Captain Charles J. Thumme of the Plymouth police department, who spent the first half of last week working at the identification bureau in Lansing.

Mr. Thumme spoke particularly of two cases with which he came in personal contact. The first was in Belleville, where a woman was in custody, suspected of murdering a man whom she had found dead. The sheriff's department called in the state police and the head of the scientific laboratories gave the "paraffin test." This test, according to Captain Thumme, reveals the powder marks on a hand which has fired a gun. In the Belleville case, it was found that the dead man had fired a gun, while the suspect had not, thus proving suicide instead of murder, freeing an innocent person and saving the state the money which a court trial would have cost.

The second instance of which Captain Thumme spoke was the recovery of a gun used in a crime at Mt. Clemens in 1932. The gun which had changed hands four times in the meantime, was confiscated last week as being improperly registered.

Captain Thumme has built up a splendid reputation for himself as a fingerprint expert and has received much praise from both state and county authorities. He has at police headquarters here two fingerprint files, one for civilian records and one for criminal prints. Any person who wishes to do so may be fingerprinted as a matter of record and identification, and his prints placed in the civilian file.

Graphic Outlines of History By Schrader Bros.

Indianapolis in 1825
In 1825, Indianapolis was a small town, but in 1847, when the first railway entered the city, it began its steady growth. Its central geographical location, its railway connections, and nearness to the coal fields have combined to make it one of the principal industrial centers of the Middle West.

Our attendants exhibit personal concern in seeing that the ceremony shall represent a real, heart-felt tribute.
