Suggests Reservoir For More Water Supply

City Officials In Discussion Of Problem

Belief Prevails That Time Has Come For Some Action To Be Taken On Long Delayed Improvement

Maybe a woman's insistence that something be done to improve and increase the water supply for the city of Plymouth will result in worthwhile progress during the next year or so towards a solution of this old problem.

At Monday night's meeting of the city commission Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple, a member of that group, suggested that the city give consideration to the possibility of increasing the storage capacity of water, so that there might be carried a much greater supply in reserve for such periods of shortage as the city experiences every summer.

"Some of the country's biggest cities carry their entire supply in reservoirs. I think we should look into the question of increasing the capacity of our reservoir so that we can be pumping water into it for a reserve supply. It is one of the possible ways we can have water when we need it," stated Mrs. Whipple.

However, her motion that the commission accept the bid of Herald Hamill to work out an improvement in the water main system of the city, and extension of mains and rebuilding some on the south side of the city, was laid on the table by the commission. It was stated that more time was needed to study the problem.

"People who live in that end of town are just as much entitled to water as any one else," she declared.

From all that can be learned there seems to be a general desire of every one in the city to keep the present excellent water supply, as Plymouth has by far one of the best in Michigan. The only difficulty seems to be that in times of greatest need there is not enough of its good water. That condition has prevailed for years, say those who have had reason to know of the city's water problem.

The present reservoir, which stands some eighty feet above the city on a hill just this side of Waterford, holds 1,800,000 gallons of water. The city is using about 700,000 gallons daily, so there is less than a three day supply of water in the reservoir when entirely filled.

Some have pointed out that if the reservoir could be enlarged to sufficient size to hold a supply large enough for three or four weeks, that Plymouth would never have reason to experience a water shortage such as it has every summer.

There are some about town who believe that Plymouth should solve its water problem by connecting onto the big main being built out this way from the city of Detroit, but there is not much favorable sentiment for this. Others urge that such a connection be made as recommended a year or so ago by a citizen's committee for protection only. It is stated that this may be done within the next few months.

Recovering From Serious Injuries

Plymouth friends of W. A. Garlick, owner of the Mayflower hotel barber shop, will be pleased to know that he is making a satisfactory recovery from his recent severe automobile accident at the corner of Michigan avenue and Canton road. It will be some two or three weeks before he will be able to return to work. Doctors found it necessary to take 52 stitches to close wounds that resulted from the accident, 47 of them being in one arm. His car was completely demolished when some one crashed into him. Mr. Garlick is now at his home in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Garmon Eberly and her sister, Mrs. Ella Austin, of Lansing were guests Sunday of his sister, Mrs. James Dunn, at her home on the North Territorial road. They were accompanied home in the evening by Lyman Eberly, who had spent the month of August with his daughter, Mrs. Dunn.

No Opposition

SENATOR JOHN W. REID

The state senator seeking the Republican nomination from this district is without an opponent in the primary election. This will be the first time Senator Reid, who comes from the eastern end of the district, but who has always had strong support in this section, has ever gone into the primary without half a dozen or more candidates from his own locality.

Harvesting Oats; Crop Small One

Farmers are busy at the present time in harvesting what at present looks like the shortest oat crop in many years. There have been some reports of fair yields in the vicinity of Plymouth, but so far most farmers report that the oat crop is much lighter than it has been for many years. The heads are not well filled out and the straw is much shorter than usual. Unfortunately the crop has been damaged by the severe drought that has prevailed for many weeks.

Record Broken In Sale of Plates

According to Leonard Murphy, manager of the Plymouth branch office of the department of state, the past few months has shown a decided increase in the business of the local office. A total of 4332 automobile license plates for passenger cars has been issued up to August 1st. There has also been issued 435 trailer plates and 514 sets of commercial truck licenses. This makes a total of 5651 sets of plates issued in Plymouth during the present year as compared to a total 4792 a year ago. Mr. Murphy explains that each year the business of the office seems to extend out into wider territory, more people coming to Plymouth to get their plates than formerly. There are other offices in this section, but the Plymouth office seems to be more convenient to a very large section of residents in this part of Wayne county and Washtenaw county.

Candidates Get Endorsement Of Northville Club

Out-County Support To Be Given Local Candidates

At a meeting of nearly 200 members of the Young Men's Republican club of Northville Tuesday evening, it was voted unanimously to endorse three candidates on the Republican ticket for the September primaries.

The endorsements went to Charles H. Rathburn, supervisor of Plymouth township, who is the only out-county candidate seeking the Republican nomination for drain commissioner.

Dr. Eugene C. Keyes of Dearborn, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for coroner.

Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, candidate for the Republican nomination for the state legislature from the Fifth legislative district comprising the western townships of Wayne county.

Not only did the club endorse the candidacy of Mr. Eaton but it pledged itself to give such other assistance as might be necessary. This is the first time in years, with one exception, that this part of Wayne county has sought places on the Republican ticket and the club members decided that the time had arrived for some decided action to be taken by out-county Republicans towards securing recognition.

Dr. Lynwood Snow presided at the meeting and introduced several candidates present from Detroit. The club gave its enthusiastic reception to an announcement by Supervisor Willard Elv of Northville that Councilman Fred Castator of Detroit was a candidate for county auditor and signified its intention of doing what it could in his behalf.

The Northville club will meet again in about two weeks.

Major Millis Is At Camp Custer

Major Edward L. Millis, of Northville, reported yesterday at Camp Custer for duty with the 12th Brigade (Regular Army). The 12th Brigade consists of the Second and Sixth Infantry regiments, which are permanently stationed at Fort Wayne, Detroit, and Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Missouri.

Major Millis is acting as plans and training officer, with Captain Alfred R. W. DeJonge of Detroit, in military intelligence with the same brigade.

Many Michigan army men, including a large number of Regular Army and Reserve officers, were assigned to summer duties last week by Col. Ralph M. Parker, commandant of the Michigan Reserve district.

Mrs. M. M. Willett, Mrs. W. A. Eckles, Mrs. E. F. Rotnour and daughter, Phyllis, Mrs. W. B. Downing and two children, Janice and Russell, Mrs. W. C. Schoof and three children, Jacquelyn, Jean and Billy, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Floyd Eckles at Base Lake, enjoying a co-operative dinner with her.

On a 29,000-mile tour of the United States and Canada, the train is used for conventions of Rexall druggists to be held in 109 cities. The train will be open to public inspection at the Michigan Central station in Detroit. (Note the change of train location as announced last week. To better accommodate the crowds the change was made necessary.)

Fair President

ELMER L. SMITH

He is the president of The Northville Wayne county fair association and during the past few days he has been in Plymouth several times in connection with the fair. Mr. Smith hopes to make the 1936 fair one of the best ever held in Northville. The dates are August 26, 27, 28 and 29. Thursday, August 27, is Plymouth day at the fair. The new president is a tireless worker and a most enthusiastic one.

Find Prisoners Old Offenders

Official confirmation has been received by Chief of Police Vaughn Smith from the Michigan Bureau of Criminal Identification of the prison records of the two prisoners caught here a week ago stealing bicycles. At that time Plymouth officers secured enough information to be convinced that Henry Blaski and George Grabowski had been arrested before. Their finger prints were taken and sent to Lansing. Blaski has been arrested in Detroit and Highland Park for numerous offenses and has served time in Marquette prison. He was picked up a year ago as a parole violator in Detroit. Grabowski has also been arrested several times, mostly in Hamtramck. Judge Dayton sentenced the two to the Detroit House of Correction, where they are now serving time for attempting to steal bicycles in this city.

Arthur Clinansmith And Miss Kennetha Hislop Are Married

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hislop on the Five Mile road was the scene of a pretty wedding at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday evening, August 1 when their daughter, Kennetha O. became the bride of Arthur Clinansmith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Clinansmith of Curtis road. Rev. C. M. Pennell, pastor of the Salem Federated church officiating. Ferns and gladioli made an effective background for the wedding party. The bride was very attractive in an empire gown of white satin and her short veil was held in place by a tiny white turban.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Wm. Spencer of South Lyon who wore a pink lace dress with a small turban and veil of the same delicate shade. Both wore shoulder corsages of rose buds and gypsophila.

Mrs. C. Roberts of Chatham Ontario sang "I Love You Truly" and was accompanied by Mr. Roberts, who also played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are cousins of Mr. Clinansmith. Friends of the bride assisted the bride's mother in serving a delicious lunch.

Father Lefevre Is Conference Speaker

Father Frank C. Lefevre, whose term as president of the Plymouth Rotary club has just ended, was a speaker Thursday morning at the district assembly of Rotary clubs of the 23rd district held at the Statler hotel in Detroit. He told the newly elected presidents and other club officers of the district about the work of the Plymouth club in boys' work, telling of the benefits he believes comes from having some high school student as a regular attendant of all club meetings. President Fred Sabom and other members of the Plymouth club also attended the sessions.

Brick Cleaners Up At Presbyterian Church Work for Free "Hand-Outs"

No ladies and gentlemen, the rough looking men you see in old clothing, cleaning bricks now and then, up at the First Presbyterian church, are not vagabonds working for a "free hand-out" from some kindly housekeeper's back door. Yes, they get the "hand-out" alright, but it doesn't come from the back door. It is served to them right in the park back of the old church building, with nice hot or cold tea or coffee—whatever the heart might desire.

The workers, gentle readers, are lawyers, doctors, business men and others who are well known to you, all helping to clean the old brick that will enter into the construction of the new church to which they belong.

Every afternoon and evening, from half a dozen to a dozen of the members of the church go over to the old structure, destroyed by fire last winter, and assist in cleaning bricks and removing portions of the ruins.

Yes, even some of the ladies of the church have donned old clothing and now and then assist in cleaning bricks. Then, too, the ladies of the church have been serving the men with a "free" supper right on the job, so that no time is taken off, going home to meals.

If some kind friend of yours shows you some badly blistered hands, you will know the cause—and don't call the fellows working around the church vagabonds anymore. They are all good citizens.

Ford Beautifies Creek Valley In Nearby Village

Creates Small Lake For His New Plant At Northville

Within another few days a big steam shovel from Matt Powell's excavating equipment will have practically completed the removal of earth for the small lake that is to form a part of the water power as well as provide additional attractiveness for the new Ford factory being built in Northville.

The building is completed and equipment is being installed and by the end of another two weeks the little lake that is being formed between the factory and the Perry Marquette tracks will be ready for the water supply that will assist in driving the big waterwheel soon to be set at the east end of the factory.

The concrete and stone wall pit for the big waterwheel have been entirely finished and about all that remains to be completed is the new lake and the installation of the machinery, which is now being placed in the factory.

To the west of the new Ford factory and across Griswold road in Northville, the Ford company has had a big force of men filling and landscaping the ground along the overflow creek. The earth from the fill has come from the old Yerkes pond. The Ford company has excavated the pond to a depth of ten or twelve feet. This pond also provides an additional water supply for the factory.

Improvements being made by the Ford company on the east side of Northville is resulting in the beautification of an area covering a very wide part of that locality.

Tennis Champs Play Saturday

Clarence Levandowski defeated Robert Hester this week to become Plymouth's champion tennis player. The match was the final playoff in the Plymouth Mail tournament held in Riverside park for all tennis players of this district who had entered for the opportunity to play in the state championship matches sponsored by the Detroit News.

Maureen Dunn's defeat of Christine Nichol gives her the undisputed championship of the women's division in the same tournament. The two winners and the runners up will compete Saturday afternoon, August 8th, at Waterworks Park in Detroit for the state titles. Coach Matheson of the high school who has conducted the matches in the Plymouth district believes that Plymouth has a good chance to finish first in both the women's and men's state finals. Results of the playoffs will appear in the next issue of the Mail.

Big Picnics Now Filling Parks

According to Glen Smith, who has charge of the concession stands in Plymouth, Riverside park all records are being broken this year by the number of picnics being held in the park. Sometimes, states Mr. Smith, there are as many as a dozen picnics being held by different organizations on the same day.

Churches from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Pontiac, as well as lodge and other organizations, come almost every day to hold picnics in the park.

He says that sometimes there are more than 500 in some of these groups.

Up until the last year or so, most of the picnic parties were from this locality or Detroit, but Mr. Smith states that it is surprising to know the number that now come from other cities and towns.

They Will Operate A New Store

BEN DINKGRAVE

For years one of the best known grocermen in this part of the state, and for nearly nine years, manager of the Wolf store in Plymouth, has started a new grocery and meat market to be located in Plymouth.

WILLIAM GAYDE

Mr. Gayde is one of Plymouth's pioneer meat cutters. He will have charge of the meat department in the Pennington store.

Charles H. Bennett Is Bank President

Plymouth United Fills Vacancy By Election

New President, One Of City's Best Known Leaders, Plans To Devote Good Portion Of Time To Bank

Charles H. Bennett, life long resident of Plymouth, president of the Daisy Manufacturing company and one of the city's most active workers in behalf of its every interests, was Tuesday night elected president of the Plymouth United Savings bank to fill the vacancy created some months ago by the resignation of Charles H. Fisher, who desired to retire from active banking affairs. The selection of Mr. Bennett to fill this important post probably is one of the most important business announcements in a long period, not only because of his outstanding industrial leadership but because of his intense interest in everything which is for the benefit of the city where he has spent his entire life.

Outside of his business activities, he has been one of the busiest workers in the city, in behalf of its church and civic organizations. He is at present actively engaged in the plans to rebuild the Presbyterian church that was destroyed by fire last winter, being chairman of the building committee.

He is past president of the Rotary club and has been the delegate of Plymouth Rotarians to several of the international conventions of the organization.

As one of the most active Red Cross workers in Michigan, he was named by the National Red Cross organization as a delegate to the international convention held a year ago in Japan.

Mr. Bennett plans to devote a good portion of his time to affairs of the Plymouth United Savings bank, which has since its reorganization made most favorable gains. There are no changes contemplated, except that the new president proposes to make the bank in which he has been interested since 1919 as a director, of much greater service to the city in which it has flourished over a long period, if such a thing is possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gates and Mrs. Everett Zimmerman attended the Wayne County rural carriers picnic Tuesday evening in Huron River Park. An interesting report of the state convention, recently held in Ludington, was given at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Miller and daughter, Ruth, of Rochester, Mrs. F. M. Wiley and daughter, Betty Sands, of Marengo, Illinois, Mrs. Eva Mae Wolf and Miss Norma Keating, of Garden Prairie, Illinois, visited the Willet, Downing and Eckles families Sunday.

Richard Kent Is Store Manager

Albert Owens, supervisor of the Wolf's Cash Markets, announced today the appointment of Richard Kent as manager of their store on Pennington avenue. The meat department will be under the direction of Lynn Taylor and Harry Brown. Mr. Owens expects to be in Plymouth for the next few weeks to install new and modern methods of displaying and merchandising food products.

Having been in the grocery business for the last 15 years, eight of which were with the Kroger company, three managing the Crowley Milner market and the last four with the Wolf company, Mr. Owens expects to offer Plymouth people something better in the way of grocery and meat stores. Typical Wolf bargains can be found in a full page advertisement elsewhere in this edition of the Plymouth Mail.

PAY AS YOU GO

A number of years ago the supervisors of Tuscola county decided that the county needed a new court house. Instead of bonding to get the money for the improvement they decided that it would be best to create a sinking fund, raise the money a little at a time each year from the taxpayers, and then when there was a sufficient amount to pay for the building of the court house in a sinking fund set aside for that purpose, they would let contracts for its erection. The plan was religiously followed and when there was sufficient money to pay for the proposed building, contracts were let and the structure was put up. Tuscola county now has one of the most beautiful court houses in Michigan, and the taxpayers do not owe a cent for it.

Why cannot the same rule apply to Plymouth's badly needed water improvements? We have known for years that our supply should be increased, and we have known for years that thousands of feet of water mains in the business section of the north side as well as downtown should be re-laid.

The city, since 1927 and up to and including 1934, collected from water users the sum of $216,465.63, according to the annual "report" of the city for the years 1934-35.

The "report" also shows that all of this money has been spent.

We have but one thought and one suggestion to make, why cannot we start right now and set aside a goodly portion of the money that comes from the purchase of city water for badly needed improvements? We know that there are bonded obligations to take care of, and we know that a very good portion of the water money goes to pay bond interest.

That is why we so strongly urge the city to create a sinking fund and put aside every penny it can from the water fund for water improvements that are so badly needed, and rid itself of future interest obligations.

We should not forget the fact that Plymouth is a fast growing city and that it is bound to grow much faster in the future than it has in the past—and today, right now, is the time to prepare for the future.

CIVIL SERVICE

For long over a dozen of years the editor of The Plymouth Mail has been a strong advocate of civil service for public positions. In our mind there has never been the slightest doubt but what the state and nation would be better governed if we could offer to the right type of men and women careers in public life that really meant careers. It is needless to rehash all of the sins of our present system of political plunder and inefficient public service. Our one hope now is that all of the newly converted advocates of civil service are as sincerely in favor of the plan as they profess to be.

THE FORTUNATE FOURTEENTH

Among the long list of names carried in Detroit newspapers the other day of candidates for all of the offices to be filled this fall, there was one name of more than special interest. The name of Frederick Alger, Jr., the son of the late Col. Fred M. Alger, is listed as a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress. What a fortunate thing for the residents of the Fourteenth congressional district. A clean-cut young man, with the right sort of ideas about government and with a family background that any one might well be proud of, is offering himself for public service. Republicans should not hesitate to nominate and elect him. The public should encourage to the fullest extent the entrance into politics of such young men as Frederick Alger. He is worthy, and if he should be successful in winning the nomination and election there is not the slightest doubt but what he will give to Michigan and the nation the same splendid services that his famous grandfather and father did. Success to him!

Work and its Reward

By O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Do your work!
No matter what the task may be,
Attack it with heroic zeal,
Be not content until you see
Accomplishment, until you feel
That satisfaction gained alone
Through sense of duty nobly done;
So is your honest value shown,
So is appreciation won.

Do your work!
Not just the labor specified,
But with a willing heart do more.
Let loyal service be your guide!
The joys of life are waiting for
That man who never fails to do
His very best, and he will find
Untold reward in purpose true
And self-respect and peace of mind.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

RELIEF MILKING MICHIGAN

For every $9 poured into the federal treasury by citizens of Michigan, only $1 was returned to the state for relief, a fiscal report for the year ending June 30 discloses.

During the year a total of $38,000,000 was spent for relief in Michigan. Of this sum Michigan state and local governments contributed $18,500,000. The federal government received from Michigan $180,000,000 in internal revenue taxes and returned but $20,000,000 for relief.

As far as Michigan is concerned, the report shows that if the federal government, which continually praises itself for the lavish manner in which it has handled the relief problem, paid the entire relief costs of Michigan, it would still be returning only a fraction of the money it took out of this state, and that Michigan, under a Republican administration, is among the nation's leaders in bearing its share of the relief burden.

Many states, particularly those in the South, pay less than 8 per cent of their relief costs. Michigan paid 45 per cent, a record equalled by only five other states—Adrian Van Koevring in The Zealand Record.

PROGRESS!

The world sure goes forward—we see now that workmen are being supplied with balloon tired wheelbarrows. Not a bad idea. The boss on the job now will have to do a little watching instead of depending on his ears.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

RESENTMENT

Dictation of the Democratic gubernatorial candidate by Roosevelt and Farley may prove to be a boomerang to the administration in Michigan. Michigan Democracy may revolt against remote control of state politics by nominating George W. Welsh instead of the Roosevelt-Farley choice, Frank Murphy. If Welsh does succeed in winning the nomination from Murphy, his background of legislative and executive experience in city and state administration ought to qualify him to ably represent the Democratic party—and if selected to make him a good executive for the state of Michigan. Time will tell whether the Michigan Democratic ticket will be selected in Washington—or in Michigan.—J. John Pope in The Grandville Star.

A CROP THAT ISN'T NEEDED

One bumper crop this year that we could do especially well without is the crop of weeds. These pests need very little encouragement to survive and the drought has held no terrors for them.

Weeds take an annual toll that is appalling. It is estimated that they cause a crop loss of three billion dollars every year in the United States, nearly twice the loss, as a matter of fact, of plant disease and insect pests. This fact makes the problem of weed control one of the major factors in production, and therefore a real social problem.

Attempts have been made to control weeds. They have produced some results, but the fact that a single patch of weeds can infest a whole section, even an entire township, makes the problem take on a widespread scale. Nothing short of state or national "mobilization" against the enemy will produce effective results.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

State Gets Cash By Advertising

Again the State of Michigan leads the way in businesslike conduct of state business. Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, by his deciding vote when the project was before the State Administrative Board, assured another state-wide advertising campaign to encourage collection of delinquent taxes.

The State of Michigan will spend $27,000 for the new campaign that will be conducted during the month of August. The drive will be handled by Milton M. Alexander, of Detroit, nationally known advertising man, who conceived and conducted last year's notably successful effort.

There is no more pressing problem before the various states than that of collecting delinquent taxes, carried over from depression years. In some states the authorities have thrown up their hands in despair at the problem. In other states various plans have been enacted only to be extended or changed time and time again. It remained for Michigan to make real progress in cleaning up this distressing problem. Reports are that seventy millions of dollars in delinquent real estate taxes were paid or revived in Michigan during last year's drive.

This year's drive will urge the taxpayers who are on the "ten-year plan" to make their second payments before September 1st in order to keep their tax records clear and avoid penalties. It will also persuade those not yet on the "ten-year plan" to come under it. Finally, it will point out that due to improved business conditions or distribution of the soldiers' bonus, many taxpayers are now in a position to pay up their remaining balances on the "ten-year plan" so as to save themselves 8% to 36% interest on future payments.

When Abraham Lincoln was once asked how he managed to get so much work done, he replied: "When I have something to do I go and do it." Michigan had a job to do—and what a job! To the credit of our state officials be it said that our state has "gone and done it."

An individualist is a man who limits himself to three cocktails and doesn't play bridge.

Estimates place the 1936 production of automotive vehicles in England at 450,000 units.

What are Marshtile and Marlite

These colorful wall finishes in sheet form provide permanent, sanitary and lasting beautiful surfaces, which can be easily and quickly installed over old or new walls. The sheets, which are of linoleum thickness, consist of specially processed, oil treated, water-proof material, to which a glazed surface is permanently integrated.

The tile-like glazed surface is finished by an exclusive process which completely seals the pores so that moisture and dirt cannot penetrate. Acids, alkalis and non-abrasive cleaning compounds are repelled, insuring a stain proof easy-to-clean surface which retains its beautiful appearance for many years.

MARSHVILLE. In these sheets the surface is scored into tile-like squares and the scoring line is in a contrasting color.

MARLITE. The same sheet material as Marshville except the entire surface is one solid color without score lines.

"Like a fabulous tale out of the Thousand-and-One-Nights reads the imposing list of household tasks that the touch of my wand magically lightens. I bring you a new service comparable to any of the wonders of Aladdin... the luxury of unlimited hot water for your home, heated automatically and without attention. Day and night, summer and winter, year in and year out, I stand waiting to serve you."

"When you want hot water, turn the faucet—and there is your hot water on tap. You need never give it a thought. Once you enlist my aid, your water heating problems are over. You need never again run up and down stairs, wait for water to get hot, endure the annoyance and delay of finding only lukewarm water in the pipes."

Good Pictures On Theater Program For Coming Week

"The Case Against Mrs. Ames" To Be One Of Features

Another varied program is in store for patrons of the Penniman-Allyn theater next week, with "Counterfeit," "The Case Against Mrs. Ames," "Drift Fence" and "Doughnuts and Society" scheduled.

The first, which will run Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, is another of the "G-Man" films which have proved so popular. In this one Chester Morris is the government man who poses as a gangster to secure evidence with which to break up a counterfeiting ring. Margot Grahame and Marion Marsh have the leading feminine roles.

Beautiful Madeleine Carroll and the always popular George Brent appear in "The Case Against Mrs. Ames," in which a woman, rich and glamorous, is accused of the murder of her husband. She becomes so tightly entangled in a net of circumstances that even when the jury acquits her, public opinion brands her as a murderess and unfit mother for her child.

Matt Logan, fiery young assistant prosecutor, is thrown in jail for contempt of court when he denounces the jury for its acquittal. Because Logan has sworn to convict her, Hope Ames arranged his release and offers him $25,000 to do his worst, believing that thus he may turn up evidence against the real murderer.

Supporting Miss Carroll and Brent are Arthur Treacher, Alan Baxter, Beulah Bondi and Alan Mowbray.

On Friday and Saturday there will be a double feature combining a western, Zane Grey's "Drift Fence," with hilarious comedy, the Dugans and the Flannagans in "Doughnuts and Society." "Drift Fence" has all the component parts of a real western thriller in true Zane Grey style—ruthless who shoot from ambush, dirty dealing villains, two "he-man" heroes and a beautiful girl, Larry "Buster" Crabbe, Tom Keene and Katherine De Mille are the principal players.

Style Silhouettes

When August arrives it really seems as if fall is just around the corner, even though many people are still vacationing at the beaches or in the country. As far as the shops are concerned, summer is over except for clearing out sales on summer wearing apparel. In the show windows and on the floor models the new fall styles are appearing.

And in the fall it is the college girl from whom the rest of feminine America takes its cue. There is something about the careless elegance and the all-around completeness of a college wardrobe which appeals to all women, be they young or old, and because the girl who is going away to school must have wearing apparel for all kinds of occasions, her outfit will include clothes similar to those all of us will be wearing.

Here is the wardrobe which one style expert has outlined for a typical student: A town suit in tweed, swagger style, with huge fur collar; a top coat for cold days before the fur coat season actually arrives; plenty of sweaters and skirts for general all-around wear; at least one "utility" dress for informal social occasions; several wool sports dresses and a silk afternoon frock or two; one or more evening outfits; and plenty of gloves, bags, shoes, scarfs and other accessories, as well as a hat suitable for every occasion.

Not only is this an ideal outfit for the campus and sorority house, but it is equally appropriate for any of us, and if we can't have all of it, we can, by careful buying and perhaps making one or two things at home, have at least some of it. Perhaps you might choose a three-piece swager suit in brown tweed, with a raccoon collar. The coat could also be worn with a two-piece dress of light weight wool in a warm rust shade. You might like to make it yourself as there are many smart patterns available. One has a shallow V bodice and a high, draped neckline, with rows of tiny buttons covered with the material running down the shoulders. The skirt has a series of inverted pleats in the front, with the stitching running from pleats to waistline.

Since tunics are so very good, you might easily have one as the simple lines are the best. A dark green satin tunic, with cowl neck-line and long fitted sleeves, would look lovely over a black satin skirt and would make an attractive outfit appropriate for numerous occasions, social and otherwise. If you want something a bit more dressy, a black net tunic, with high neck and short puffed sleeves, looks smart and sophisticated over black satin or, if you prefer, over dark red or green.

If you do a great deal of sewing for yourself, it would be well to check up on this business of line and proportion. While it is just as important to know good lines in buying ready-made clothes, it is easier to recognize which lines are right and which are wrong merely by trying on the dress, blouse or coat in question. In making a garment, however, one must know what lines will or will not be becoming before it has reached that stage where it can be tried on and the general effect noted.

The first rule is that the silhouette must not be indiscriminately broken, especially this year when the princess lines are so important. Proportion is all-important. Peplums, ruffles, capes, contrasting materials and colors—all must be used with care, in the right places on the right people.

Flounces, flares and ruffles used in skirts from the knee down add height, but in the middle of the silhouette they are usually all wrong. Capes hide bulging hips, flaring coats conceal large thighs, and draperies tend to minimize the bad features of

Making Successes Out of The Hundreds of Roadside Stands Around This City

Neatness and good salesmanship are far more important for success in selling farm produce at the roadside than is a set of elaborate buildings and equipment.

In the immediate vicinity of Plymouth there are probably more roadside stands where fruits and vegetables are sold than in any other place in Michigan. In fact The Plymouth Mail has called the Market Highway to Detroit the Market Highway of Michigan. The success of these roadside markets for farm produce depends upon the application of the same fundamental principles which prove successful in any other business enterprise, advises H. P. Gaston, roadside marketing expert in the horticulture department of Michigan State College.

Mr. Gaston, who is at the South Haven experiment station of the college, finds that the number of roadside markets is greater than ever before in Michigan.

"Many growers have been disappointed with results. Failure usually is traceable to some factor as poor salesmanship or lack of suitable site for the stand. Perhaps the advertising is not effective or the display lacks appeal. Rules to follow are comparatively simple but should be studied by the grower who plans to open a roadside market. "The market should be visible for some distance so that the motorist approaching will have time to slow down and stop. The outside of a curve or the top of a hill usually make excellent locations. Sales tables or an inexpensive shelter help to keep the overhead down. If neat and clean the low cost equipment can be just as appealing to the consumer buyer as an elaborate and costly building. "Signs should be large and legible but brief. They must tell the story at a glance while a motorist is traveling at high speed. Provide space for parking, for the customer will not and can not safely stop to buy unless there is sufficient room to get off the road. "An attractive display is essential. A roadside merchant will do well to study the methods employed by the successful retail grocer. Repeat customers bring most of the business to a successful roadside market. Courteous and efficient salesmanship is therefore necessary. Reasonable prices bring customers back to the stand."

Obituary

MRS. A. K. McRAE Elizabeth Hill Mac Rae was born November 21, 1872 at Shokan, New York, to Isaac and Rebecca Hill. At an early age she united with the Dutch Reformed church at the place of her birth. When nineteen years of age she was united in marriage to Lamont DuBois and to this union were born two children Alma M., now Mrs. Wm. Meldrum and Everett Lamont.

On August 19, 1903 she was married to Rev. A. K. Mac Rae, who legally adopted her two children and gave them his name. On August 4, 1905 Robert Hill was born and owing to illness he is now in Colorado.

Besides her three children she leaves two sisters, Mrs. Elmer Bedell of New Shokan-New York and Mrs. John Cure of Roanoke, Va. Her parents and an older sister, Mrs. Anna Johnson preceded her in death. There are also four grand children left to remember a loving grandmother and an exemplary Christian.

"In the passing of Mrs. Mc Rae, a practical life of godliness, of bright christian experience and of wonderfully brave endurance, has come at last to the end to which we slowly learned to know it must come," said Rev. Loya Sutherland.

"A loving wife who was a helper and a counselor as well, the staunch loyal friend, the diligent worker with her open hand, her frank cordiality, her clear insight, has passed from our sight, but never from our love and memory. The empty place in her home can never be filled except by Him who has made it empty. Every member of the churches they have served through the years must feel that a strong stay has gone. A wider circle for whom I presume to speak, mourns the loss of a dear friend; a far wider one, covering these wide fields, offer an affectionate and earnest sympathy to the hearts of her family.

"Her religion was not a garment worn, but rather an influence absorbed. It is quite enough to say she was a Christian mother, a Christian wife. She has left us, do not let us say that her life was incomplete, for who can say in the light of the blessed King that there can be such a thing as an unfinished life? Our true sympathy is extended to our brother pastor, Rev. Mac Rae, and because it is true it shall find fitting places in which to express itself in the years to come."

Funeral services were conducted from the home at Novi on Wednesday afternoon, July 29, Rev. Loya Sutherland officiating, assisted by Rev. Victor Wik of Walled Lake and Rev. Kendall North of Northville. Burial was at White Chapel cemetery.

ONE START
can cause more engine wear than driving 75 miles an hour

EVERY time you start your engine, 100 parts are instantly put into motion. For a few moments your engine runs "dry" of oil—unless the oil flows fast enough to reach every part quickly. This is one reason why starting causes approximately 3/4ths of your engine's wear.

Golden Shell Motor Oil checks starting wear because it flows faster! Yet it's tough enough to withstand high-speed heat. Drive in and let us tell you about it.

Chief Tells How To Drive Safely

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith declares that if the eleven safety rules just issued by the Michigan State Safety Council should be closely followed by motorists, there would be an immediate reduction in automobile accidents in and around Plymouth as well as the entire state. These rules for safe driving follow:

1. Set speed according to conditions of traffic highway surface and of the motor vehicle itself.
2. Keep to extreme right hand side of highways when going over hills.
3. Overtake and pass only when, without doubt, it is safe to do so.
4. Keep as far as is reasonable to the right of lane and center-line pavement markings. On three and four lane highways, use inner lanes for passing only.
5. Readily give way to the right at sound of horns of overtaking vehicles.
6. Slow down for intersections.
7. Slow down when approaching hill tops.
8. Slow down when approaching pedestrians.
9. Make right and left turns carefully and be sure your signals can be seen a hundred feet from the turn.
10. Observe traffic lights and stop signs.
11. Park only at a distance from the traveled portion of the highway.

Approximately 75 percent of the motor vehicle collisions on Michigan highways result from disregard of these rules, states Chief Smith.

Miss Joy McNabb Weds Richard Brewer—New Home To Be In Detroit

Joy McNabb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McNabb, of Newburg spoke her nuptial vows to Richard D. Brewer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Brewer, of Concord, Michigan, at eight o'clock Saturday evening, August 1. The Reverend Erwin King of Highland Park performed the ceremony in the Newburg Methodist church, her father giving her away, before an embankment of palms and baskets of gladiolus and achillea. About fifty relatives and friends were present.

Angeline Rousseau played Lohegrin's wedding march very beautifully, as the wedding party took their places, and accompanied Joan Brewer of Concord, a sister of the bridegroom, as she sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

The bride was lovely in a gown of turquoise blue silk organdie over blue taffeta which was made in polonaise style and trimmed with fine pleating around skirt, sleeves and neck. She wore a dainty garland of bouvardia in her hair and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. White accessories accompanied her gown.

Miss McNabb chose Lydia Joy as her bridesmaid, who was attired in pink embroidered organdie over pink taffeta, wearing with it a picture hat of pink and bouvardia. William Farrell of Concord was best man.

A reception followed in the home of the bride with guests numbering about thirty. Mr. and Mrs. Brewer enjoyed a brief wedding trip and will be at home at 9625 Prairie avenue, Detroit, after August 15. Mrs. Brewer wore a light blue silk ensemble for traveling.

The bride is very well known in Plymouth having graduated from Plymouth High school.

Organize Here To Get Vote Out

In an effort to create more interest in primary elections and assist in getting the vote out for what many regard as a more important election than the one in November, a meeting was held of several well known Plymouth residents last Thursday evening at the Mayflower hotel.

Judge Ford P. Brooks was elected chairman of the organization to be known as the Citizens Club of Plymouth.

Leonard Murphy was elected executive secretary of the organization.

A determined effort will be made to get out every voter of Plymouth at the primary election to be held this year on September 15 and to keep active the organization in all future elections.

The new officers explain that it is not the intention to organize now and let the work drop immediately after the September primary. But they believe that in all future elections much can be done in creating public interest in local elections as well as primaries and general elections.

Tax-payers:

Your 2nd Payment on 10-Year Plan is Due Sept. 1st

JUST a year ago your state and county officials were engaged in a great drive to encourage the property-owners of Michigan to clear their tax records.

It is estimated that over half a million tax-payers took advantage of the special concessions that were made for their benefit.

Back taxes for 1932 and prior years were put on a ten-year plan, and the first tenth-part was paid. Now the second part, again ten per cent, is due.

You must now make this second payment, with a 4% interest charge, in order to keep the advantage you won by coming under the ten-year plan.

Note:
If you have not yet put your back taxes for 1932 and prior years on the 10-Year Plan there is still time for you to do so.

If, for any reason, you failed to put your taxes for 1932 and prior years on the 10-year plan last year, you can still do so by making the first two payments, with interest at 4%—plus a small additional charge on the payment you missed last year.

2—He didn't retain very well.
3—As a boy he was so dumb his playmates nicknamed him "The Dummy."
4—He was very slow mastering simple games and always lost at parol.
5—On the high school baseball team he stole second with the bases full, and on the scrub football team lost a game by running the wrong way with the ball.
6—He just didn't seem able to grasp things.
7—As a young man he took up bridge and set a new world's record the first year for the number of consecutive times he was set after doubling.
8—He stuck to the game, however, although everybody tried to avoid him as a partner.
9—He never could remember what was bid and was always bidding the wrong suit himself.
10—When contract came in, he became especially enthusiastic and was eagerly sought as an opponent by even fifth-rate players.
11—When he won a rubber everybody knew it could only be a case of a ploney deck or a major accident.
12—His reputation as a terrible bridge player grew by leaps and bounds.
13—But he made a fortune, and you'll never guess how.
14—He wrote a book called "Contract Made a Pushover for the Beginner."
15—It sold a million copies and led to a job writing articles for newspapers all over the country on the fine points of contract bridge.
MORALE—A full fountain pen covers a multitude of sins.

OUR DOMESTIC ANIMALS
The horse he is a noble beast; He's man's best friend, no doubt, But hasn't been so useful since The buggy-ride went out.
He still is seen upon the streets Or grazing in a lot. But as a means of travel, well, He isn't very hot.
I love the horse, and who does not? He's faithful, strong and kind, But just the same I think he's left His future far behind.

GRAMMAR
Which is proper:
1—"I think the Giants were playing great baseball." or "I think the Giants was playing great baseball?"
2—"Why make either statement?"
3—"The market enjoyed a strong rally." or "The market experienced a strong rally?" And why not tell the truth and say that a few stocks went up an eighth?
4—"The radio announcer's voice were very pleasing." or "The radio announcer's voice was very pleasing." And do you believe either statement?
5—"The ambassador attended court wearing a one-piece bathing suit of pink and green." or "The ambassador attended court attired in the conventional velvet knee pants?"

NATURAL HISTORY
Consider the publicly wobbly fish Which is raised in a water pail; It's a type of fish that makes a swish— For it hasn't a fish's tail.
You may look at it most intently and You will see how it gets its fame— For both ends, you'll see, for a certainty, Are beyond all dispute the same.
There's a head on the end where the tail should be, And a head where the tail should not; So it looks both ways while it swims and plays, And it points to no given spot.
When it's quite composed, either way it goes, And it goes there quite calmly, too, But when crises come it acts very dumb— For it cannot think what to do.
It can swim to the left, it can swim to the right, And be facing the way it wishes, And either end can see where it's been— Which is not true of other fishes.

Oh, see the man!
The man is a racketeer.
What is a racketeer?
A racketeer is a man who enjoys special privileges in America and who gets more space in the newspapers than the honest business men get in their lifetimes.
How does the racketeer obtain special privileges?
It's all done by mirrors, machine guns, armored cars and political affiliations.
Are racketeers ever arrested?
Now and then.
Do they go to prison?
Rarely ever.
Why not?
It's too difficult. Some of them try very hard to get into the hoose-gow, but it is almost impossible.
If rounded up on serious charges, such as defying the Constitution, general lawlessness and murder, don't they go to prison?
Not so that you could notice it.
But isn't there any way a rack-
