

Kiwanis Club Hears of City Beautification

T. Glenn Phillips Gives Members Many Excellent Ideas

Plymouth Kiwanians had as their guest last Tuesday evening T. Glenn Phillips, nationally known landscape architect who presented to the group the importance and need of city planning and zoning. Because of recent discussion of this issue by the city commission, Kiwanians were interested in knowing the advantages and disadvantages of zoning.

Mr. Phillips pointed out how planning in other cities had helped save many dollars and did much to beautify the locality. He told of the ways that zoning benefited property holders and protected them from having unsightly buildings built next door to what is now valuable residence property. In this respect the speaker stated business property now encroaching on valuable residential property could not be removed from its present location under zoning but it could be checked so that in future years it would revert back to residential use.

Attention was called to the fact there is a growing need for playgrounds and as Plymouth grows more and more, the demand will increase. According to Mr. Phillips it has been necessary for other cities that adopted zoning, usually many years too late, to spend thousands of dollars needlessly to obtain land for this purpose.

The speaker outlined the huge amount of work necessary to bring about city planning in Plymouth and stated that sooner or later all towns would find it necessary to undertake it, but those that do it early in their development save thousands of dollars over those that wait. Members of the city commission are anxious to hear how Plymouthites feel on this problem and will appreciate any suggestions or criticisms.

Canadians Hear Father Lefevre

Plymouth Rotarian Talks At International Meeting Of Club

It was a message of peace, good will and friendship that Father Frank A. Lefevre, past president of the Plymouth Rotary club, delivered Monday evening at the eighth annual International meeting conducted by the Rotary club of Windsor, Ontario. The meeting, a largely attended one, was featured by the address of Father Lefevre as a representative of the clubs of the United States and by past International president of Rotary, Arch Klumph of Cleveland, Ohio.

"When your chairman extended to me the invitation to speak at this great meeting, he told me I could talk about anything I wanted to, as I would be among friends," said Father Lefevre.

"Well, I know what he said to be true. We are among friends. There must be freedom of self if a nation or nations are to advance. No nation can remain peaceful if it is not wholly free and friendly."

"Rotarians gather here or in any country and we speak always the language of friendship and good will. Rotary recognizes that all men are equal, that all men are children of God. Our religious beliefs, our political affiliations and our desires and advantages make no difference with our Rotary standing."

"Friendships are made with people, and people make up the nations of the world. It should be our constant endeavor to make friends, new friends every day. It is a real pleasure to come from the good old U. S. A. to the good old Dominion. May our friendship forever continue to increase."

Townsend Club To Meet November 23

The Townsend club, No. 1, of Plymouth had a very interesting meeting on November 2, in the Grange hall, when Dudley B. Goddard of Detroit gave a talk on the Townsend plan. Monday evening, November 23, the club will meet in the Grange hall when it is planned to have a well informed speaker present.

Wins In A Walk

JAMES J. GALLIMORE

James Gallimore will be the new president of the Plymouth Kiwanis club in the near future, having no opposition in the election for this position. Mr. Gallimore, superintendent of one of the Ford plants here, not only does a good job on his regular position, but he finds time to serve his community well through activities of the Kiwanis club; the Plymouth Rock Masonic lodge of which he is at present Worshipful Master, the school district and the Presbyterian church in which he is most active. He has also just completed the erection of a new home out on Ann Arbor road.

Will Give Flags To Schools

This Friday afternoon, members of the American Legion post of Plymouth will visit eight district schools in this locality and present the school children of each school with a new American flag.

To take charge of the details of this work, Commander Harold Anderson of the Legion has appointed William Keifer chairman of the special flag day committee to make these presentations. There will be at least four members of the Legion, and possibly Auxiliary members at each of the eight district schools this afternoon for the flag presentation.

The flags which have been made by women employed by the WPA are of exceptionally good quality. Today's program is not just local for Plymouth and vicinity, but Commander Anderson states that it is a state wide event taking place this year as one of the observances of Armistice week.

The plan was first suggested by Henry Sullivan, a district WPA engineer and also a member of the American Legion. When the idea was suggested to the officers of the Legion early in the fall of 1935 Everett DeRyke, newspaper editor, who for many years has been interested and active in the work of Americanism and patriotic movements was persuaded to take active charge of the program.

Hit By Bullet

When a bullet went over the top of a target in a shooting gallery on Main street in Northville, Wednesday evening, it crashed through a door into the office of the Northville Record, struck Publisher Richard Baldwin just under the right shoulder and fractured a rib. Before he could be rushed to Sessions hospital, he lost considerable blood from the wound. Attending physicians say he will recover. The bullet has not been removed. An employee from the Record plant was on the way to the shooting gallery to give a warning when the accident happened.

34 SHOPPING DAYS BEFORE CHRISTMAS

As one goes from store to store and counter to counter, it is nothing more than amazing to find what immense stocks of goods are carried by Plymouth merchants. Prepare now to do your Christmas shopping early. You will be much better satisfied with the results if you do your Christmas shopping IN PLYMOUTH.

Starkweather P. T. A. Will Meet Monday Eve At The School

The Starkweather P. T. A. will meet at the school Monday evening November 16, with open house at 7 p.m. and regular meeting at 7:30. A very interesting and educational program is planned. The Detroit Edison company will present a talking film showing important discoveries in relation of lighting to human vision. The Starkweather band will furnish music. All parents and friends are invited.

New Heating Plant For Tube Co.—More Men

Officials Believe that 50 Men Will be on Payroll by Jan. 1.

Construction has been started during the past few days on a $12,000 new heating unit for the Plymouth Tube company's plant on Farmer street.

Upon its completion the capacity of the plant will be greatly enlarged and Superintendent Garnet Baker states that by the first of the year he expects to increase the number of employees from about 35 to over 50.

"If business keeps on increasing at the rate it is at present, there is no question that by the first of the year we will find it necessary to add at least 15 more men to our force," he stated yesterday.

While no definite information has been given out as to the prospects of a new plant being put up by the Plymouth Tube company, the fact that an entirely new heating unit is being installed would indicate that the new building which has been considered during the past year, might be erected in 1937. When the new plant is put up the company plans to build it directly over the present one.

The business of the company has advanced steadily during the entire year and Mr. Baker believes that by the end of December an all time high for production of tubes of all kinds will have been reached.

Roll Call Night For The Masons

The Grand Master of the Masonic lodge has ordered that every lodge in Michigan hold a special meeting to be designated as "Roll Call Night", the purpose of this meeting is to renew old acquaintances and for a social evening in general. Friday, November 20, is the date set for the meeting. Rev. Peter E. Soudah, who has spent considerable time in Ethiopia, having attended lodges in that country and being thoroughly versed in the habits and customs of the people, will be the speaker before the Plymouth lodge.

The Grand Master has ordered that everyone attend if possible and answer to the roll call in person.

Silverware With Grocery Purchase

Well, well, Santa Claus is right here now! In the Wolf store ad appearing in this week's issue of The Plymouth Mail, is an announcement of how one can secure a 28 piece set of Crusade silverware for only $1.99 plus a $5 purchase of groceries. But, why tell all the good news in the news columns, when advertisers like to use a whole page advertisement to carry their important news to readers of The Plymouth Mail?

Over 400 Workers In Ford Plant At Northville

All Time High Record Established During The Present Week

Ford factory payrolls jumped to an all-time high in Northville this week when it became known that there are over 400 men now employed in the nearby plant making valves.

The factory is in operation 24 hours per day and six days a week, producing the greatest number of valves that have ever left the place.

While it is difficult to secure much definite information, it is known that every available man seemingly that can be secured in and around Northville has been given employment in the Ford factory.

In the Plymouth Ford plant, at Phoenix, Waterford, Newburg and Nankin Mills the same activity is manifested as at Northville.

The production record at nearby factories seems to indicate that the Ford company is determined to make its 1937 sales record the highest in its history.

Boy Scouts Court of Honor

The regular fall Court of Honor of the boy scouts of Plymouth district will be held at the Plymouth high school auditorium Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Scout troops of Plymouth, Wayne County Training school, Northville, Rosedale Gardens and Newburg will receive the many awards which they have earned during the long summer period.

As a special feature at the coming court of honor a group of blind students (who have won outstanding honors in Ingham county) attending the Michigan School for the Blind will be at the court of honor and give some demonstrations illustrating what a scout can do even if handicapped by blindness.

The high school band will play a concert from 7:00 to 7:30.

Those coming should be sure to be on hand early because the scout court will endeavor to start on time and close on time.

Two Dead, Four Are Injured In Auto Crash

Mrs. Charles LeFever, Son Dead—Others May Survive Injuries

Two lives crushed out, suffering so intense that death would prevail almost a welcome relief, sorrow and injuries that will forever leave their marks is but a part of the results of an automobile collision Saturday night shortly after 9 o'clock on the Middle Belt road, a half mile south of Plymouth road.

Mrs. Charles LeFever, aged 61, 299 Blunk avenue, was killed instantly in the crash. Her son, Raymond, aged 16, was so terribly injured that he died in Eloise hospital Tuesday morning at 12:30, without regaining consciousness.

Charles LeFever, the husband and father, lies in a critical condition in Eloise hospital from internal injuries. Besides numerous fractured ribs, his face and head was cut and bruised in the crash.

Mildred LeFever, a daughter, is suffering from numerous bruises, an ankle that is fractured in two places, and a long gash in her forehead. Miss Betty Jean Curtis, 14 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Curtis, who was in the rear seat of the LeFever car, has two fractures of the right leg above the knee and numerous bruises.

Harold Kobisch, 31 years old, a resident of Romulus and driver of the other car, has a fractured jaw, severe bruises and cuts but Thursday morning was reported to be out of danger.

Five of the dead and injured were in the LeFever car. Kobisch was driving alone.

The accident, a head-on collision, took place as the LeFever car was being driven by Mr. LeFever towards Plymouth from Toledo where the family had spent the day. Kobisch was driving from the north towards his home in Romulus.

Mrs. LeFever, in the front seat with her husband, was instantly killed, the impact of the south bound car hitting the LeFever car to the right of the driver. The crash threw most of the victims out of the machines, locked the cars tightly and only the timely assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Bakewell who live on Middle Belt near where the accident took place, heard the crash and ran to the assistance of the victims. All were tightly wedged in the machines. Mrs. Bakewell pulled Mrs. LeFever through the front window of the car, being unable to open the door. Believing they had all of the people out of the machines, they happened to hear a slight moan in one car and hurrying back, they found the little Curtis girl on the floor of the car jammed between the back seat and the front.

All of the injured were rushed to the Eloise hospital where first aid was given them. The body of Mrs. LeFever was taken by the coroner to Detroit, and brought to the Schrader funeral parlors in Plymouth on Monday. Just how the accident happened no one will probably ever know. Hospital attendants say that both drivers think they might have been blinded by the strong headlights.

Another report states that Mr. LeFever saw the car coming from the north turn to the left side of the highway and in an effort to avoid being struck, he also swung to the left, with the result that the cars crashed, with the greatest force of the collision coming directly ahead of that portion of the front seat where Mrs. LeFever was sitting.

Albert R. Davis, who runs the D & S garage at the corner of Plymouth and Middle Belt road and was one of the first called to the scene of the accident, was accompanied by the wreck by Donald Schaffer, who lives near the intersection. He happened to be at the garage at the time the call was received.

Some one ran into the garage and told Mr. Davis that two cars had collided and that they were on fire. Mr. Davis and Donald drove hurriedly to the scene of the accident about half a mile south on Middle Belt, and extinguished the flames that had started in both cars.

"When we reached there," said Mr. Davis, "the cars were locked together and stood directly across the highway. The injured people had been taken out and were lying about on the ground. While it was a head-on collision, the right side of each car showed that both cars were apparently on the wrong side of the highway. Just how they could get in such a position no one will probably ever know," said Mr. Davis. "It is possible that the driver of one car saw the other car on the wrong side of the road and tried to avoid it by turning to the left, but no one can possibly know, except the drivers," he added.

The machines were damaged beyond repair.

Friends state that Mr. LeFever, who has been one of the superintendents of the Daisy Manufacturing company for years, had a fear when they left home Saturday morning for Toledo that something might happen. In fact, they say, he once decided not to go, but the family had made plans for the visit and rather than disappoint them, he consented to make the trip.

Betty Curtis, a neighbor girl, was asked to accompany them on the visit to the Ohio city.

Reports from the hospital late Thursday indicated that Mr. LeFever and the others injured in the crash were improving. For a time Tuesday it was feared that Mr. LeFever might not survive, having been threatened with pneumonia, but hospital attendants Thursday said this danger they believed, was past.

The funeral of Mrs. LeFever and her son will be held this afternoon from the Schrader Brothers Funeral home. The LeFever family, long residents of Plymouth, have always been highly respected here and the accident cast a gloom over the entire city.

Dedicates Book To Ruth Huston Whipple, His Former Teacher

Mr. Ruth Huston-Whipple has just had the pleasant surprise of having a book dedicated to her by a former student. Dr. Lyman Spicer Judson has just published a 286-page volume entitled, "Public Speaking for Future Farmers", and has dedicated it to "R. H. W., my high school teacher of practical public speaking." This is the third book which Mr. Judson has published.

He was a member of Plymouth's state championship debating team in 1920, was an honor debater at Albion college, got his Master's and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Wisconsin, served as associate professor of speech at the University of Illinois, and is now professor of speech at Wisconsin University. He is the son of Mrs. H. S. Doerr of Plymouth.

Northville Game Today

The battle will rage again as Northville and Plymouth come together for their annual football game held at Northville on the fair grounds at 3:30 this Friday afternoon. Plymouth stands fifth in the League and the Orange and Black are up in their League. Plymouth and Northville have been rivals as far back as many can remember. In 1934 Plymouth won from Northville by a 13 to 0 score. In 1935 Plymouth again won to the tune of 45-0.

Alaskan Traveler Will Lecture Here

George Buchanan, who has gained considerable fame for himself because of famous trips with boys to Alaska, will come to Plymouth Thursday evening, December 3, to give a lecture at the Masonic temple under the auspices of Division No. 3 of the First Presbyterian church. He will show motion pictures of his many educational trips to Alaska and probably will have with him one of the many hundreds of boys who has profited so well by these summer adventures.

Christmas Decorations To Go Up Early

Edson O. Huston Will Act As Chairman Again This Year

So that Plymouth can be right in step with the procession, possibly a bit ahead of it, the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce this week announced that the city's Christmas tree decorations would be placed up on the streets just a day or so before or a day after Thanksgiving.

Edson O. Huston, who did such a splendid job as chairman of the Christmas decoration committee last year, has consented to act in the same capacity this year.

The committee hopes to extend its decorative system somewhat and include more territory than it did last year. This, it believes, can be done with only slightly additional costs to the merchants.

Secretary Leonard T. Murphy of the Chamber of Commerce has already contacted a number of business men about the proposed extensions and they are agreeable to it.

So the prospects are that there will be more lights and more street decorations than ever before.

The light bulbs on the wires across the streets this year will be arranged so that all of the red lights are near or along the sidewalks.

This will take all red globes away from the center of the streets so they will not be confused with the traffic lights. The Christmas decorations committee and some of the officers of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday noon to discuss details of the decorations.

Wood Back In Insurance Field

Establishes General Offices To Handle Property Protection

Announcement is made this week by William Wood that he has again opened a general insurance office in Plymouth with offices in the Schrader building on South Main street. During the past few years he has been devoting most of his time to life insurance business, and handling some general insurance in the Detroit area. He now plans to give all of his time to the general insurance business in Plymouth and vicinity, a business he entered here in 1924.

Mr. Wood's many friends wish for him the best of success in his enlarged insurance field. It is his purpose, however, to retain his life insurance connections. He is especially well versed in insurance problems and during all the years that he gave his time to general insurance practice in Plymouth he had the record of never having made one unsatisfactory adjustment.

He has completely refurbished his offices and enlarged his filing system.

Legion Party Thursday Eve

Members of the American Legion are anticipating a full house Thursday, the 18th of November, when they will hold their annual Thanksgiving new party. Leon Merriman of Newburg is chairman of the party committee consisting of John Moyer and George Hallam. Mr. Merriman stated Wednesday that he looked forward to one of the biggest affairs ever held by the Legion and everything was being done to give all who attended an unusually good time.

The committee wanted it impressed upon all those who were planning on attending that the fowl given away will be large and exceptionally good stock. This alone it is expected, will add many to the crowd already anticipating taking in the party.

FIFTY YEARS.

As one looks forward to the future, fifty years looks like a long, long time. It is a long time, it is a half of a century and the age of the world is marked by centuries. But, as one glances back over the years that have gone by, fifty years doesn't seem to be a very long time. In fact, it seems just a little while ago. Harry Robinson stood in front of his store on Penniman avenue the other day and commented to a friend that it was just fifty years ago when he started in business in the very same location where his store now stands. His place of business half a century ago was the livery stable that provided the good little community with its transportation. A beautiful theatre building now occupies the site of the old livery and in the new and modern structure, Mr. Robinson conducts his used furniture business, just as happy and just as contented as in the years of old, and just as hopeful of the future. During these years that go to make up the half century and the years in which Plymouth has emerged from a little country town into a progressive, modern city, Mr. Robinson has had his part in the building of one of the finest communities in all of Michigan. May the forthcoming years be as kindly to him as have been the years that go to make up the last half century.

IT PAYS.

There is one thing that always helps any one, no matter what they do or what the occasion might be. That one thing is fairness. If one can adhere as closely as possible to the rule of fair play, it surely cannot help but help.

IN STEP WITH THE TIMES.

As one reads the editorial columns of the weekly newspapers of Michigan, it is quite evident that most of the publishers of small town newspapers are keeping right in step with the progress of the times. Most of them, not all, it is true, but the majority have entirely discarded the old partisanship labels they wore and are conducting newspapers that are independent of politics. With this freedom from political domination they have a liberty that enables them to perform outstanding services to their communities and their government. This service should constantly and increasingly be extended, and that can only be done by the entire elimination of partisan politics from the conduct of a newspaper.

A GOOD THING.

The last election accomplished a lot of things, but one of the outstanding benefits coming from it is the fact that in Michigan it has forever eliminated from politics, a lot of misfit so-called political leaders.

NOT DIFFICULT TO UNDERSTAND.

Three or four times since the election the statement has been made by "stalwart" party men that they could not understand why the assaults made upon some of the New Deal proposals before Congress were not more effective with the people. If one would take the time to do a little thinking, the answer

Daddy Suffers, Too

"When babies come," my boy observed, "I guess the Daddy suffers too. Because whenever Mother's ill It makes you awful sad and blue!" A lad of only ten short years, And yet he senses what some day No doubt, will line his face with care And touch his golden locks with gray.

Of course, a Daddy suffers too! It hurts him deep when he must see The dearest woman in the world Approaching her Gethsemane. And know that each heroic step Brings more excruciating pain. While his attempts to ease her path Are all so impotent and vain.

For when, to him, the doctor seems So unconcerned, and when the nurse Seems so incompetent and slow And so inhuman and perverse. The agony a man endures Cannot be measured or explained. His anguish is intensified Because his rage must be restrained.

Yes, Daddy suffers; and perhaps Is frequently misunderstood— God knows how gladly he would share The pangs that come with motherhood. And so, while Mother should receive The reverence that is her due, Let's not forget, when babies come, Their helpless Daddy suffers too!

is not at all difficult. When senators and congressmen vote FOR legislation and then come home and denounce the very legislation they had voted in favor of just a few months ago, it is not at all difficult to find the cause of public resentment against this dual attitude. We like Senator Vandenberg personally, but this entire campaign was devoted almost entirely to a denunciation of the very things he had voted for in Congress. Consistency, even though one be wrong, is always the much better policy in politics as well as everything else.

A POLITICAL POST-MORTUM.

There is not much use for Republicans or anyone else to cry over spilled milk, but sometimes it is a bit helpful and comforting to look over the wreckage and figure out just how it all happened, and what was the slip that caused the milk to be on the floor instead of in the pitcher on the table.

Remember back last spring when some of the more progressive and far-seeing Republicans wanted the late Senator James Couzens given a clear field for the Republican nomination for the senatorship from this state? Remember almost the very day after this suggestion had been made that Wilber M. Brucker blared forth to the world that he, HE was going to lead the hordes of down-trodden voters to "freedom and glory"? That he and he alone, was going to be the saviour of the multitudes? That he was going to put out of office Michigan's senator who had dared do what he thought was for the good of the men, women and children of our state? Remember those brutal assaults by one of the "Old Guard" upon one of the more progressive leaders of the day?

Well, there isn't much more to it, except that voters did the rest and an aspiring candidate who failed to understand the trend of the times is wondering where all the "yes" men were on election day. Selfishness, in this case, caused the "milk" to be spilled. It is queer too, that no one is crying over it.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buers entertained at dinner Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. January of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Perkins Sunday evening.

Our next P. T. A. meeting will be held Friday, November 20. Don't forget the kitchen shower for that evening.

We are all grieved to learn of the death of "Aunt Elsie" Wittich and extend our sympathy to Mrs. Stroh and relatives.

The upper grade room of the Salem school is gayly decorated with many varied posters which are symbolic of November.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and granddaughter, Phyllis Perkins, Mrs. Heeney and daughters of Farmington were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Eural Clark of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kotke of Detroit were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Granger.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trapp of Redford were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Trapp.

The lower room of Salem school was entertained with a number of primary science experiments, Friday afternoon by Dr. Baskins of Ypsilanti.

Our P. T. A. is having its first dance of the season Friday, November 13. A good crowd is expected. There will be modern and old time dancing.

The Ladies Aid of the Federated church is serving a hot dinner in the church basement on Wednesday, November 18.

As this goes to press we are sorry to learn that there is no school in the lower room due to an accident this morning to Mrs. Sturgeon, the teacher, on her way to school.

"Book Week" At The Library

"Books to grow on—the Modern World for young readers," is the theme for celebrating Book Week in the schools and libraries all over the country this year, during November 15 to 21. A few outstanding volumes for young people and children are reviewed here; these books and many more may be found in the Plymouth library.

"Old Spain in Our Southwest," by Nina Otero. Romantic tales told for children of life in old Spanish families.

"Susan and Arabella, Pioneers," by Rhoda Morris. Story of pioneer days in Oregon.

"Boys' Life of Benjamin Franklin," by Helen Nicolay. Lively, entertainingly written biography for readers of high school age.

"Jane Hope," by Elizabeth J. Gray. An appealing story of a young girl's life.

"Young Walter Scott," by Elizabeth J. Gray. A good biography written for those of high school age.

"When The Stars Come Out," by Robert H. Baker. The effective illustrations are printed in blue.

"Blue Mittens," by Mary K. Reely. Stories of child life on a Wisconsin farm a generation ago.

"Farm on the Hill," by Madeline D. Horn. Simple, joyous story of two boys on a middle western farm, with charming illustrations by Grant Wood.

"Head Wind," by Hawthorne Daniel. An excellent and thrilling pirate story of the eighteenth century.

"Best Short Stories for Children," by Carol Brink. Selected by the author of Caddie Woodlawn.

"Penelope Elien," by Ethel Parrott. Three little girls and their adventures in the New England seaport town of Newburyport make up this authentic and humorous story for girls from eight to twelve.

In four games of a recent series against the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Brooklyn Dodgers stole six bases—twice the Dodgers pilfered the third pillow.

Germany, the United States, Great Britain, Soviet Russia, Japan, Italy and France are now the world's leading producers of coal tar dyes.

Moose Hunters Home—That's All

No Moose Meat, No Bears: Only a Long Alibi For The Boys

"By the fish editor: No moose!

No, there will be no moose dinners in Plymouth for anybody.

Matt Powell and Bert McKinney, fell down on their promises flatter than a pancake.

They are back from their four weeks' hunting trip way up near Hudson bay with a lot of moose stories and a lot of other kind of stories, but with nothing that looks like a moose.

And there's one funny thing about their return to Plymouth—they had been in town for almost a whole day before any of the fellows waiting around for a hunk of moose even knew they were back.

Matt says it is not true that he has been staying in his own backyard and Bert says he has been right in the front door of his store out at Rough and Ready since he landed back home, but it's mighty hard to find anybody who saw either one of them until Matt thought it best to come over to The Mail office and see the fish editor and do a little explaining.

"Now, don't say anything to the boys around town about it, but you know, Bert and myself really didn't go moose hunting. We wanted to see some country we had never visited before. Put it in the paper just like this," said Matt.

"Tell the boys that we had to fight off the moose, they were so thick, why, they were so friendly, we got to like them so well, we just couldn't shoot 'em. Bert wanted to bring two or three home to keep tied up in his backyard for pets, but we couldn't figure out how we could get them down the river. Why, those moose were so tame, they would follow us around just like an old cow.

"When we'd wake up in the morning, there would be a half a dozen standing around waiting for us to get up.

"We even gave them names. One we named Sid, another we called Stan, Clair, Stew, Paul and so on. One we called Heap Big Talk, and another was Able.

"Some of them were more friendly than the others. There were one or two that were sort of rancorous. Well, we gave them the names that would fit pretty well.

"Abe was the biggest one and Stew seemed to be the most gentle.

"Why, there isn't a moose hunter in America who would shoot moose like Sid, Abe, Stew and the rest of 'em.

"When we'd go to bed at night and let the campfire go out, they'd hang around outside pawing in the snow and dozin' around all night. We got so we could call them by name and they would come running to us.

"Shoot a moose like 'em? Not Bert nor me. You boys will be interested in knowing we had to take our canoes some 15 or 20 miles water in the rivers was so low.

In fact, we spent most of our time playing with the tame moose and the rest of our time carrying canoes up and down the rivers.

Don't say too much about it, as the boys are going to be awfully disappointed about that moose meat. I'm speaking for Bert too. But he might cut up a beef and tell the boys it's moose. Some of 'em couldn't tell the difference."

Obituary

MRS. FLORENCE L. LEFEVER

Mrs. Florence L. LeFever, who resided at 299 Blunk avenue, was instantly killed in an automobile accident, Saturday evening, November 7, on the Middle Belt road near West Chicago boulevard. She was the wife of Charles Fred LeFever, and mother of Mildred, Southern, the late Raymond LeFever and Pearl Furst of New York, and sister of Albert C. Harter of Columbus, Ohio, Hiram Harter of Kansas City, Mo. and Mrs. Charlotte A. Snyder of Worthington, Ohio. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral home, Plymouth, from which place funeral services will be held for both mother and son on Friday, November 13, at 2:00 p.m. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery, Rev. Loya Sutherland and Rev. Walter Nichol officiating.

RAYMOND LEFEVER

Raymond LeFever, age 16 years, son of Charles Fred LeFever and the late Florence LeFever, who resided at 299 Blunk avenue, passed away in Seymour hospital early Tuesday morning, November 10, following the automobile accident Saturday evening November 7. He is survived by his father, Charles Fred LeFever, two sisters, Pearl Furst of New York and Mildred LeFever, and one brother, Southern LeFever. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral home, Plymouth, from which place funeral services will be held for both mother and son on Friday, November 13, at 2:00 p.m. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery, Rev. Loya Sutherland and Rev. Walter Nichol officiating.

ELIZABETH WITTICH

Miss Elizabeth Wittich was born August 2, 1882 in Baden Baden Germany. She was the youngest of five children born to Rev. Frederick J. and Pauline Wittich who were the founders of one of the first colleges for young women in Germany. When she was five years of age her family brought her to America, later returning to Europe where they remained until she had finished her education. They then returned to America where she faithfully served her invalid brother and her parents until God took them home. She then became a private nurse, William Rambo, Russell Powell and David Bolton, will spend the week-end hunting north of Standish.

Instructress until her retirement in 1912.

"Aunt Elsie" as she was affectionately known about Salem ever since as a young girl and ever since has lived a consistent Christian life. In 1912 she received the blessed Holy Spirit as her baptizer and the burden of lost souls has been her ministry ever since.

After Aunt Elsie made her home with Mrs. Lucia Stroh, pastor of the Salem Congregational church she faithfully served the Lord as Sunday school teacher and chairman of the Missionary department and Ladies' Auxiliary society. She was also correspondent for the weekly papers in this community. Because she was most self-sacrificed and generous she never spared herself and was one of God's intercessors for missionaries and lost souls. Throughout her illness when her body was racked with pain she never lost the vision.

A week before her death God granted her audience with one of His celestial beings, an angel from the throne of God who stood at her bedside and spoke these words: "Fear not, your deliverance is near and great joy!" She was then healed of all symptoms and pain of her illness and Thursday morning, November 5, 1936 at 11:00 o'clock God sweetly took her unto Himself. Truly her's was a noble life and through faith, hope and love she is now numbered with the "overcomers" to whom the promise is given that "they shall inherit all things."

Miss Wittich was preceded in death by one sister, Mrs. Johanna Stamer of Baltimore, Md., who died in 1919, three brothers namely, Ephraim who died in 1897, Rev. Benjamin Wittich of Detroit, who died October 22, 1918 and Rev. Philip Wittich, of Chicago, Illinois, who died April 22, 1935. A nephew, Rev. Karl Wittich laid down his life in 1913 as a missionary to Africa and another nephew Rev. Philip Wittich, Jr., the predecessor to Rev. Stroh died in Salem, Mich., September 13, 1922. She leaves to mourn her departure two nephews, Dr. F. B. Wittich of Minneapolis, Minn. and Frederick B. Wittich of Detroit, Mich., six nieces, Mrs. John Dorsch of Baltimore, Md., Mrs. L. J. Vici of Birmingham, Mich., Mrs. Emil Heitman of Toledo, Ohio, Miss Irma Wittich of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Gordon Swartz of Chicago, Ill. and Rev. Mrs. Lucia Stroh of Salem, Mich., besides a host of other relatives and friends.

Keenly do we feel the loss of our departed one, but our loss is heaven's gain. Funeral services were held Sunday, October 8, 1936 at 2:30 o'clock in the Salem Congregational church. Interment was made in Salem-Walker cemetery.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Richard W. Neale, pastor
 You are always welcome at Calvary. If you are lonely, tempted or discouraged, and looking for satisfying faith and fellowship, visit Calvary this week. There is no blessing outside of Christ.
 While the eye of faith is kept on Christ, the Light of the world, —all is light, joy and peace; "but if turned in on self, and occupied with what it finds there . . . all will be darkness, uncertainty, and unhappiness in the soul."
 The pastor preaches at both services Sunday, 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Bring your Bible and learn of Him. "The best sermon is that which exalts Christ alone." Sunday school meets at 11:30. Come and bring a friend. There is a Bible class for everyone.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 we meet for prayer, praise and fellowship. Come and hear the way God is answering prayer. Are you weary? We invite you to study with us and be refreshed.
 This Friday evening at 7:30 there will be a cottage prayer meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Mattison, 317 E. Pearl street. All those who believe in the power of prayer are welcome. "Prayer changes things; praise changes things."

Piano Recital Delights Club

"Music Day" at the Woman's club Friday proved to be a most interesting afternoon with Mrs. Dorothy Kemp Roosevelt, pianist from Birmingham, Michigan, featuring the program.
 She gave a program of classical selections in three groups. The first group was from the Italian composer, Vivaldi Stradal. The second group was from Chopin and the third group was modern numbers, being "Etude" by Szymanowski, "Dance" by Debussy, "Poissons d'or" (goldfish) by Debussy, "Prelude in B Flat" by Rachmaninoff.
 Mrs. Roosevelt not only has poise but excels in piano technique. Tea was served to the members and guests by Mrs. Maxwell Moon and Mrs. Albert Schrader, at a beautiful table which was decorated with yellow tapers and chrysanthemums. The chairman for the day was Mrs. M. J. O'Conner and her committee was Mrs. W. S. McAllister, Mrs. Maxwell Moon, Mrs. M. A. Woodworth, Miss Marian Beyer, Mrs. Donald Sutherland, Miss Mabel Spicer, and Mrs. William Bake.

 The Woman's club will be guests of the Northville Woman's club November 20 at the Presbyterian church in Northville at 2:30 p.m.
 The club members are asked to be at the Hotel Mayflower at 2 p.m. for a short business meeting before leaving for Northville.

New Hudson Tent-Hive To Visit Here

The Sir Knights and Ladies of New Hudson Tent-Hive will be guests of the Plymouth Hive at their next regular meeting on Wednesday, November 18, at the Jewell Blach hall at 7:30 o'clock.
 The visitors will take charge of the meeting exemplifying the work of the new ritual in which both Sir Knights and Ladies participate.
 The work is very impressive and Commander Elsa Campbell hopes that a large number of local members will attend and welcome the out-of-town guests.
 The Juniors will have their regular court meeting at 4 o'clock the same day.

Bennett Tells Of Parkway Development

Garden Club Hears Interesting Address On Landscaping

Every home owner along public thoroughfares and every one interested in beautifying property will have more than an ordinary interest in the address delivered before members of the Plymouth chapter of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association at its regular meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Blickestaff, 968 Penniman avenue, by J. Merie Bennett, superintendent of the parks and forestry division of the Wayne county road commission.

There was an exceptionally large attendance and it was evident that there was more than ordinary interest in his talk.

While his address was devoted chiefly to the splendid work that has been accomplished in roadside beautification by the county road commission, he did briefly discuss many questions of interest to all gardeners. In part he said:

"Roadside development may be briefly defined as the improvement of the roadsides for the best use and benefit of the public. It is distinctly different from boulevard or parkway development because it has to do with country roads which provide a means for all types of vehicles to proceed from one specific place or community to another. Boulevards and parkways are designed for pleasure travel and their embellishment is more or less unrestricted. Roads or highways, on the other hand, are necessary routes of travel and although they accommodate a vast amount of pleasure traffic their prime purpose is that of moving vehicles safely, swiftly and comfortably from place to place. The improvement of roadsides is, therefore, limited to a practical development with consideration given to use as well as appearance.

"The term, roadside development, originated with the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners in 1922 and the first organized work of this nature in the United States by a road authority was begun in Wayne county during the same year. Since that time the plan has been adopted by many states and counties and by the Federal government. Today roadside development is considered as a necessary part of every road construction program and its value has become permanently established.

"Roadside development involves six major phases which may be listed as: landscaping or planting, regulation of public utilities, comfort stations, signs, undesirable buildings and dump heaps and maintenance.

"Landscaping or planting is often referred to as highway beautification and although beautiful highways are desired the term is inadequate and somewhat misleading. The planting of the roadsides is more than this and the objective is not to create beauty alone but to provide a complete and practical service in as attractive a manner as possible.

"Trees are planted for shade which in turn add to the safety and comfort of motoring during the hot days of summer. Trees and shrubs along the roadsides serve to stabilize the soil moisture thereby preventing the rapid runoff of water in road ditches which frequently damages the road shoulders. This also aids in preventing damage to the subgrade and road surface caused by rapid and extreme temperature changes. Trees and shrubs are also a natural part of the rural landscape and their use along the roadsides is the most pleasing and attractive method of treating these areas.

"Perennials and annuals are desirable for their flowers and as ground covers but their use is the exception rather than the rule because of the high cost of maintenance and because their inclusion in a roadside planting is somewhat impractical. Grass, however, is a necessary and practical ground cover that cannot be overlooked. It not only completes the landscape from the standpoint of appearance but it positively prevents erosion and the never ending expense of filling washouts and cleaning drains.

"In order that trees along the highways may grow to maturity and produce the maximum in shade and appearance they must be protected as much as possible from public utility overhead lines and underground conduits. Public utilities render a necessary public service and the highways offer the best means of distributing these services. Therefore, the lines of such companies occupy the roadsides where trees exist and where trees are planted. By providing specific locations for public utilities and by enforcing strict regulations in regard to trimming it is possible in most cases to protect the trees and also provide for other services. This, however, is an important matter and requires constant attention.

"Roadside comfort stations are not only a convenience to motorists but they are necessary to protect the public health and to prevent the misuse of private property adjacent to the highways.

"Road signs are necessary to properly direct traffic, to call attention to sharp curves and dangerous crossings and to indicate places or things of interest. In the state of Michigan advertising signs are not permitted within the limits of the highway right-of-way. Those which are placed on adjacent private property can only be controlled by zoning laws or by influencing or educating the property owner in each case.

"Hot dog stands, undesirable filling stations and markets and refuse heaps can be controlled in the same manner as advertising signs. If they exist within the highway right-of-way they can be removed but if they are on private property the matter is beyond the jurisdiction of the road authorities.

"The most important phase of roadside development is that of maintenance. All trees and shrubs must be trimmed, sprayed, watered, fertilized and cultivated as found necessary. Dead trees must be removed and replaced and all planted material must be kept in a normal and thrifty condition. Grass must be mowed and weeds cut and all possible precautions taken to prevent ground fires. The work of public utility companies must be constantly supervised and the trees protected. Comfort stations must be kept spotlessly clean and in perfect repair at all times. Road signs must be frequently repainted and advertising signs continuously removed from the highway right-of-way. All encroachments such as undesirable buildings and refuse heaps must be eliminated and this requires constant watchfulness and attention.

"This brief outline of roadside development indicates to some degree the necessity and importance of the work. When kept within useful and practical limits its effects are far-reaching and its benefits unlimited. It renders a very worthwhile public service and it has become an inseparable part of every highway improvement program.

"Roadside development is important to every individual because everyone makes use of the highways and it should therefore have the constant support of every citizen.

"Garden clubs can play an important part in this respect. For many years these organizations have enthusiastically supported various forms of roadside improvement and their influence has found its way to nearly every highway organization in the country. They have been responsible for the landscaping of many miles of highways and they have cooperated with road authorities in making this work possible.

One of the greatest means of assistance would be to enlist the support of luncheon clubs, chambers of commerce and influential individuals crystallizing practical ideas and suggestions from as many such sources as possible and presenting them through a responsible committee representing the garden clubs of the county or state to the proper road authorities or governing body. Caution should be exercised in financing specific projects since perpetual maintenance must be provided or the initial expenditure is wasted.

This was followed by a short talk on the planting and care of evergreens and the proper combinations to use in planting the home grounds. Early spring was given as the best time for planting and the important points to observe in fall care mentioned as thorough watering before freezing weather and heavy mulching with well rotted cow manure after the ground freezes. A discussion concluded the program in which many questions were answered and fully explained.

Women Voters Meet Today

The November meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters will take place today (Friday), November 13, at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. R. Freyman, 371 Ann street. The topic of the day will be Michigan's Proposed Civil Service bill which will be presented by Mrs. Clarence Elliott, Miss Verne Rowley, and Mrs. Bruce Woodbury. Women who are interested in becoming members are invited to attend.

The proposed civil service bill has been endorsed by a majority of the 1937 legislature. Our own representative, Elton Eaton, has given it his endorsement with the exception of two or three sections of the bill.

Members of the league will also hear a report of the state League of Women Voters' board meeting which was held at Lansing, Tuesday, November 10, and which was attended by the president, Mrs. Ray Johns, and by Mrs. P. A. Lacy, Mrs. James Sessions, Mrs. Bruce Woodbury and Mrs. Sam Spicer.

New Ford Factory At Northville Has Been Completed

Both Old and New Plants Are Now In Operation

Construction of the new Ford factory at Northville has been completed and operations started within the new structure. While all of the equipment that the factory will eventually have has not been placed, a considerable portion of it is now in use.

Not only is there a fairly large force of men at work in the new plant, but the old valve factory that Mr. Ford had expected to take down upon the completion of the new plant is running full force.

The small dam just to the east of the new plant has also been completed and as soon as the ground can be cleared, the pond will be filled and the water power plant to be operated by a big waterwheel that has been installed will provide a portion of the power for the new valve factory.

The landscaping that Ford workers have been carrying on about the factory and to the west of the Griswold road in Northville has transformed a weed patch into an attractively designed landscaped creek valley.

Golden Wedding Celebrated

Five Similar Events Take Place In Same Family In Short Time

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Loudon was celebrated Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Clarence Heller, on Brush street, by their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren and a few friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Loudon were married on October 31, 1886 at Tiro, Ohio, where they made their home until six years ago when they moved to Plymouth.

This is the fifth golden wedding in Mr. Loudon's family, two brothers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Loudon and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Loudon, and two sisters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hilborn and Mr. and Mrs. William Morrow, having previously celebrated theirs.

Four children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Loudon, namely, Mrs. Charles Hatcher and Homer Loudon of Liberty Center, Ohio, Harry Loudon of Napoleon, Ohio, and Mrs. Clarence Heller of Plymouth. They have 16 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Nearly all of these relatives were present also Rev. and Mrs. Robert North, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Heller of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. John Bliss of McClure, Ohio.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bennett entertained a large group of relatives Sunday evening at a birthday supper, the occasion being Mr. Bennett's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Hearl called on their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bennett last Tuesday before leaving for a two weeks motor trip to Florida.

Mrs. C. Draper accompanied Mrs. E. Kohler of Northville to Ann Arbor Wednesday evening to attend the installation of officers of the Eastern Star at which time the former's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Merrell Draper, of that city was installed as marshal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McConnell and her father, Fred Wehler, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown of Howell left Sunday for Florida, where they will visit Mrs. Arthur Weckerle, a daughter of Mr. Wehler for a short time. Mr. Wehler will remain for the winter.

HAVE YOU EVER TAKEN PHOTOGRAPHS LIKE THESE?

If you have taken interesting pictures in any part of Eastern Michigan, now is the time to send them to the East Michigan Tourist Association, which is sponsoring a contest for pictures which "Most appealingly portray East Michigan attractions to travelers and vacationists." Fifty dollars in prizes are being awarded.

Picture Contest to Promote Tourist Trade Fifty Dollars In Prizes To Be Given Away

In the belief that there are hundreds of excellent photographs in private homes, the East Michigan Tourist Association is conducting a contest for the purpose of securing these pictures and putting them to good work in advertising the state as an ideal place for travelers and vacationists.

Photographs play an important part in the various advertising and publicity programs of the Tourist Association and while the Association has hundreds of pictures, perhaps there are better ones which should be used; hence, the contest.

- First prize $25.00
- Second prize 10.00
- Third Prize 5.00
- Fourth Prize 5.00
- Fifth prize 5.00

Prizes will be awarded on the merit of the photograph as "Most appealingly portraying East Michigan's attractions to travelers and vacationists."

The simple rules are:

1. Send all photographs to the East Michigan Tourist Association, Bay City, Michigan.
2. Photographs must have been taken at some spot in the eastern section of the lower peninsula of Michigan.
3. On the back of each print must be marked:
 - (a) The name of the place where taken.
 - (b) The name and address of the person contributing.
4. Anyone is eligible.
5. All entrants automatically give the E. M. T. A. full rights to keep all prints and to use them or reproductions from them in any way it may see fit.

The contest is open now and will close on December 20th. This paper will show two or three of the best pictures received during the previous week until the contest closes.

Will Tell How To Grow Tomato Plants Over 25 Feet High

Arthur C. Pillsbury, explorer and scientist, will tell his audience how to grow flowers and vegetables without soil and reveal an inexpensive chemical formula for doing it when he speaks on "New Miracles of Nature," with motion pictures in natural color, at the Detroit Institute of Arts at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, November 15.

From small tanks of water treated with less than a dollar's worth of chemicals Mr. Pillsbury has grown tomato plants 25 feet high, and shown how to increase an acre's potato yield from 104 bushels to from 2,000 to 3,000 bushels. With a new film he will demonstrate every phase of growing flowers and vegetables from seed to harvest, including the inexpensive formula and how to mix it.

Mr. Pillsbury's films will deal with the beginnings of life, the mating of flowers, the motion picture story of pollen and spirogyra the life cycle of flowers and vegetables from germination to fruition. By means of polarized light photography he will reveal the astonishing activities that go on within a drop of water.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

TO OVERCOME FEAR, JUST GET TO KNOW YOUR PEOPLE AND YOUR PLACES

AN AVIATION MAN stationed at an airport which receives and dispatches 108 scheduled planes a day, carrying an average of 400 passengers, was telling something of his observations of the people who use the planes. And one of the most interesting things he said was this:

"Passengers may sometimes enter a plane with a nervous smile, but they land looking bored."

How illuminating is that observation on many phases of daily living. It describes the reactions of people to the first steam boat, the first railroad train, the first automobile. Indeed within the memory of many of us are the suspicions and terrors of some people with regard to the first "horseless buggies." And now, the difficulty is to remind them that once out of control, the racing motor is not as harmless as a newly-hatched canary.

Familiarity always dispels fears. And as with machines, so with people. Those we look upon with awe or suspicion or distrust or fear, on close acquaintance usually turn out to be just plain folks like every body else.

And so it is with strange places. The prospective bride who contemplates with uneasiness and fear transplanting herself to a distant city, among strange people, usually needs only to become acquainted to feel perfectly at home there.

They say the cure for fear of air-planes is to ride on one. And we know that the cure for fear of people is to know them, for dislike of places to try them.

COAL

We are proud of the Quality Coal we sell. There is no better coal handled by any yard in Michigan. It is this, together, we hope with courteous treatment that has doubled our coal business in the past two years. To our friends and customers we say Thank You. Ask for Coal by Name. It insures you quality.

VELVET POCAHONTAS

Under this name we put our Stanaford and Bradshaw Coals. Both truly great Coals. You will be pleased with the burning qualities, low ash, and extreme heat units.

GLEN ROGERS POCAHONTAS

A coal of exceptional quality and value. Mined under the most expensive mining operations, because this coal is not taken from the side of a mountain, but hoisted 670 feet to the surface of the ground. Because of Glen Rogers Depth the valuable gases in the coal have not been released. It is the highest priced pocahontas coal shipped today.

Gives Lecture On Christian Science Here

Prominent Speaker Comes From England For Addresses

John Rucker Eddison, C. S., of London, England, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, delivered an interesting lecture to a large audience in the auditorium of the Plymouth high school Thursday evening.

In part, he said: Christian Scientists turn naturally to the Bible to learn about God, for no body of people holds the Bible in greater reverence. It was in the Bible that Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, discerned the truths she afterwards set out in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and her followers find that the Bible grows more and more important to them in their daily lives as they study its pages in the light thrown upon them by Christian Science.

As a result of her deep and persistent study of the Scriptures and of her spiritual inspiration Mrs. Eddy was able to answer the question "What is God?" in the Christian Science textbook as follows: "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love" (Science and Health, p. 465). This, then, is the God whom Christian Science enables us to know and understand, and to find "forever near," because, being infinite, He is ever present.

The way in which Christian Science enables us to know God is by helping us to understand more intelligently the life and work of Christ Jesus.

Christian Science explains that there is a distinction between "Jesus" and "Christ"; the term "Christ" is not merely a synonym for "Jesus." The human Jesus was the best and greatest man that ever lived. His example remains forever as the standard for Christian living. He is the Way-shower, in whose footsteps Christian Scientists endeavor humbly to follow. It is impossible to exaggerate the debt which the world owes to the Founder of Christian Science. He went about doing good—he healed the sick, fed the hungry, raised the dead.

What was it that enabled him to do all this? Christian Science teaches that it was the Christ, Truth, which Jesus understood in fullest measure. Jesus, as Mrs. Eddy has pointed out, is a human name which the Master shared with others of his race; Christ,

Odd Occupations

Miss Maud Slye

on the other hand, is a divine title which refers to the spirituality expressed throughout his life and teaching. In Science and Health (p. 583) may be found this definition of Christ: "The divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error."

Our Master said: "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh [that is, matter] profiteth nothing." When he healed a woman who is described as having been bowed together for eighteen years, he said that Satan, the devil, had bound her—and elsewhere he said of the devil, or evil, that "he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him." That which has no truth in it cannot be real Christian Science therefore teaches that evil and all its manifestations are untrue, unreal; and the destruction by Christ Jesus of sin, disease, death—all manifestations of evil—confirms that conclusion.

We read in the first chapter of Genesis that "God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him." It follows, then, that as we discover the true nature of God we discover also the true nature of man. To express the absolute unity of God and man. His image, Christian Science uses the term "reflection." It teaches us that man reflects, and therefore expresses, the intelligence, resourcefulness, and poise of Mind, the freedom of Spirit, the gentleness and kindness of Love, the strength and unwavering vigor of Life. Just as he abandons old false beliefs about God, so the Christian Scientist abandons wrong concepts of man, and strives to identify himself and others always with the spiritual reflection of his Maker.

The thought of man as expressing the perfection of God, which at first may seem new and strange, speedily grows natural. As the true idea of God and man becomes established in consciousness, healing takes place. This change in thought need not be complete before it can help us. As soon as it begins to come about it brings better health in the widest sense of that word. Every day it is being proved that men and women who have been suffering from illness or unhappiness, from the ravages of selfishness, from a sense of inability to cope with the tasks before them, are finding in Christian Science health of body, health of mind, health in their business, health in their relations with their fellow men. Mrs. Eddy beautifully expresses this in her poem, "Christ and Christmas" (p. 53):

"Forever present, bounteous, free,
Christ comes in gloom;
And aye, with grace towards you and me,
For health makes room."

In fact, the understanding of the truth about God and man brings the kingdom of heaven on earth.

Some species of birds, due to yellowish-red filters in the retina of the eye, possess excellent vision. Such birds can see the coast of Africa while flying over Italy.

The British Museum in London is said to have the world's largest collection of coins and medals. There are more than 500,000 pieces in the collection, the oldest having been made about 700 B. C.

Women's Prison Festival Over

Superintendent Declares Recent Event Most Successful Ever Held

Katherine H. Campbell, assistant superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, tells briefly in the following article of the success of the recent fall festival held out at the woman's prison:

Another annual fall festival, the most successful and finest yet promoted at the Women's Division, was held recently. The factory building was literally packed with the exhibits of the various cottages and departments. The decorative schemes were unusually pleasing, and most important to the active participants, was that the evening found us nearly sold out and with some orders for more.

The money received for the articles sold is divided into two different channels. Each article made of material furnished by the inmate is sold to increase her own account. That made from material furnished by the various cottage clubs adds to the funds of the respective clubs to be used for special purpose. All are made in the leisure time of the inmates and the entire festival did not cost the taxpayers one cent, though it contributed generously to the funds mentioned.

The Ford Motor company's eight-piece orchestra furnished music throughout the afternoon. This was made possible through the efforts of R. B. Grant, who is in charge of the welfare department of that company.

From the standpoint of human values, there is no question that the greatest value derived from this enterprise was not only the money received, but the therapeutic efforts of the busy happy, exciting industry which kept inmate imagination and fingers busy for weeks in advance of the event. Visitors registered astonishment at the pleasing results of activity. It is sincerely hoped by the Women's Division that the board of commissioners will see fit to permit this to become an annual affair.

North Carolina, twelfth state to join the union, now is twelfth in population ranking.

Markham Will Attack Fails In Los Angeles

Beneficiaries Not To Be Changed Under Ruling of Court

Older Plymouth residents will be interested in knowing that the petition to have the Markham will declared null and void has been denied by the courts in California and that the will as drafted by the former Plymouth manufacturer just previous to his death, in California, has been permitted to stand in the courts.

The following account is taken from the Hollywood Citizen-News: In complete vindication of the management of the estate of the late William F. Markham by his widow, Mrs. Blanche C. Markham, as executrix, and Harlan G. Palmer, Citizen-News publisher, as attorney, Superior Judge J. T. B. Warne today denied the petition originally sought their removal as officials of the estate and the nullification of the will.

The sole issue on which the petition had gone to hearing was whether there had been any unnecessary delay in closing the estate.

Judge Warne, in his decision, said:

"The petition is denied on the ground that the allegations contained in the petition, which were not previously stricken, are not true.

"This should not preclude the petitioner from renewing this action within a reasonable time if the estate is not closed."

Attorneys for both sides waived arguments after both Palmer and Mrs. Markham had testified as the only witnesses at the hearing.

Judge Warne then gave his immediate decision in the case.

Prior to the hearing, Judge Warne had thrown out of the petition, on the ground they were not supported by any specific facts, numerous charges which had been included in the twice-amended petition. The hearing then was limited to the sole issue of whether proper effort had been made to close the estate and distribute it.

William H. Neblett, attorney for Mrs. O'Brien, following Judge Warne's decision, said he intended to carry the case further but did not explain what legal steps he would take.

The questioning of Palmer at the hearing had brought out that at the time of Markham's death six years ago, his estate, appraised at $1,815,000, had consisted almost entirely of real estate and that there was little cash on hand. During the depression years there was no market for these valuable properties but at present $40,000 is expected from a judgment, which sum would permit the payment of administration fees and expenses and then permit closing of the estate.

Mrs. Markham testified briefly today, declaring her confidence in Palmer and revealing a detailed knowledge of the handling of the large estate.

"I certainly am satisfied with Judge Palmer's management of the estate," she said in answer to one of Neblett's questions. "I have the utmost confidence in Judge Palmer."

A letter injected by Neblett into the questioning, reacted to Palmer's favor in court.

Neblett asked Mrs. Markham regarding a letter which Palmer had written to Mrs. O'Brien, in which he explained there was not much cash available in the estate, which was tied up almost entirely in real estate, and Palmer offered to pay the $250 a month annuity left the daughter by Markham, out of Palmer's own attorney fees.

There were defense objections that the letter was not an issue in the case and Judge Warne himself examined the letter.

"I can't for the life of me see anything in this letter that bears on the point at issue," said Judge Warne. "It appears to me to be favorable to Palmer in offering to make payments to Mrs. O'Brien from his own fees. I wouldn't have done it."

Neblett attempted to bring in to the case letters purportedly written by Mrs. Markham in 1921 to some unnamed person, but Judge Warne ruled them out as being immaterial.

New Settlers Came In 1837

Early Days Of Plymouth Corners Recalled By Old Article

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth installment of the story of pioneer life in Plymouth told by one of the first settlers, A. B. Markham, at the annual meeting of the State Pioneer society on February 6, 1877.)

Many settlers came this year. Many log cabins had to be built. We were called to go as much as three miles to build a log house. This was to be larger than a cabin and taller. We went to the ground but no arrangements had been made. I think there were only six of us beside the man. He was not a pioneer and I guess he never was. We got the logs up that day about four logs high and night coming on started for our cabins. The next day we all reported for work with a will and we found we had to build that house. The man did not work. grumbled, acted cross and made a fool of himself. We finished about 4 o'clock and as the man was not there to accept the job and to thank us for the two days hard work and as the jug was empty and had been all day we thought we would give the building a name. One of us went to the top of the house and the others hoisted the empty jug to him. He then said:

Here stands the walls of a spacious house.
Built not for a man but for a mouse.
The house walls stand here without a steeple.
Built by proud and independent people.
It's name is Rosecran's Delight
Built in two days and finished before night.
The old jug flew, the pioneers shouted. The very trees seemed to clap their hands for joy and bow their heads in perfect submission to the pioneer's wit.

I was loaded down with offices: I was fence viewer, road master, collector, constable. I was after run-aways all the time. I found every one I went after, never lost him. When I found them I would bring them to justice. Led by the tinkling of a bell I would dash through swamps and rivers over old bell cow, seize her by the logs and brush till I found the whisk about and if it was dark bid her start and she would take a bee line for her place of duty. After milking I would take a bowl of Johnny cake and milk for my supper and go to bed and sleep like a king.

I think it was in the early part of 1826-27 that a meeting was held at the house of John Tibbitts for the purpose of organizing a military company. Ira Hough was chosen chairman-captain. Stephen Root, Abram Laraway and others chosen under officers. I made out the papers sent them to General Schwartz and he sent them their commission at once and they entered on their duties. All these things occurred within two years of the time the first tree was felled in the town.

The first minister who ever preached was Elder Hiccox when they lived on the River Rouge near the memorable widow Creamer's Tavern. The meeting was held in the house of William Tibbitts on section 28, town one south of the John Allen farm. I think it was May 1826. The next preacher was Elder Swift, the father of Dr. John Swift of Northville.

TOPNOTCHERS by KET

in his hat and if too much, tied it up in a handkerchief.
The first justice of the peace was Henry B. Holbrook. He was appointed by the Governor and legislative council.

The first frame building erected was at Northville. The first brick building was erected by Henry Ward on section 32, known as Shutt's farm.

The first blacksmiths who located here were John Miller of Northville or near where Northville now is, but it was all woods then.

Mr. Fralick of Plymouth or near where Plymouth Corners now are but it was all woods then. Mr. Miller began to work first.

The first child born was Oscar Phillips. The second was George A. Starkweather.

The first white woman who ever shot a deer in the town was the wife of Justus Gilkey on section two, town one, range eight east. The first bear shot by a white man was G. P. Benton.

John Tibbitts owned the first pony ever brought here and the first horse was owned by Samuel Sterling. The first horse team was owned by myself and the second by Mr. Fralick.

The first girl married in town was the daughter of Erastus Starkweather. The second was the daughter of Mr. Tibbitts. These items may appear to be trifles but they are pioneer history.

In 1827 many new settlers came, but not so many as in 1826. The roads were very bad. Wagons would stick up to the hubs and get bogged. I started a light team to carry passengers and freight to and from Detroit. The roads can be better imagined and described. The crops for 1827 were large and good wheat yielding as high as 40 to 45 bushels and sometimes 50 bushels. Corn and other crops were equally good. There was not much cash market for crops. Wheat was 63 to 75 cents per bushel and corn, 50 cents. This was the price in Plymouth, but in Pontiac or Detroit it was 10 to 12 cents higher.

Plymouth Duplicates Tournament Wins Of Years Ago

Plymouth won another tournament championship from 36 teams November 7, at Pontiac Senior high school. This feat duplicated Plymouth's achievement in a tournament at Milford last year. Then the Rocks won eight debates and lost none, this time they had four victories and no losses. Nearly 200 persons represented 12 schools and 36 teams met in an assembly room at 8:45 o'clock. There they received notices of changes in schedules and other information from Mr. Behl, Pontiac's coach of debate. After a few words of welcome, the first round of contests was held. In this round Plymouth's affirmative Jewel Starkweather, Florence Norton, and Tom Brock—defeated Jewel Starkweather, Dorothy Hearn, and Edith Mettetal from Rochester. With two victories tucked away, Plymouth faced two of the strongest and largest schools in the tournament. The affirmative met Ferndale and the negative Flint Northern. Both Rock teams won. These last debates continued the rivalry of last year. In their march to Hill Auditorium last year, Plymouth eliminated both Flint Northern and Ferndale. At the luncheon in the school cafeteria, the results of the morning competition were announced. Plymouth was named champion with the only perfect record of any school. Now that the tournament victory of last year has been repeated, the debaters hope that the rest of the schedule will be just as successful as the previous one.

In the afternoon, Mr. Latture took the squad to Ann Arbor to listen to another college debate on the electric utility question. The University of Michigan upheld the affirmative and Wayne University the negative. Mr. Latture was one of three high school coaches who judged the debates and gave a unanimous decision to Michigan. The other judges were Miss Cyrella Mortord of Redford and Clarence Peters of Kalamazoo Central. The debate was held in the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre in the Woman's League building.

CLASS NOTES

Miss Lundin's 7B fourth hour clothing class has made aprons, towels, hot pan holders, headbands, and now they are working on napkins.

Miss Lickly's 7B fifth hour arithmetic class is studying the essential of checking accounts, the purpose of bank checking accounts, and the details connected with it. Next week they will study the details concerned with a savings account.

Miss Hauf's 7B sixth hour geography class is giving current events about the most important things they can find in a newspaper.

Miss Tyler's 7B seventh hour English class is working with sentences in their drill pads. They are learning the differences between the subject and the verb.

The 7A food class is making plans for serving a complete breakfast. They are planning menus, evaluating the food presented, checking variety, estimating costs and planning the preparation and types of breakfasts suitable for school children.

The Junior high art classes are making puppets and puppet theaters. They have an old man, a witch, a girl, a clown, and many other interesting puppets in their collection.

In the senior high art classes, some are working in chalk, making drawings of fruits and vegetables, and the class in life sketching is starting portraits in charcoal.

DEBATERS CHOSEN TO MEET FLINT

The first League debate of the year will be between the Rocks and a school we have never met in League competition before. Flint Central high school. Since Plymouth no longer is competing in the Twin Valley Activities association, it is once again a member of the state debate league, with notice of debates coming from Ann Arbor two weeks before each of the four contests. Plymouth is a cross between small and large schools and consequently can be matched with either. Therefore, Dr. William P. Halstead of the University of Michigan Extension Division assigned Plymouth's affirmative against Flint Central's negative at Plymouth. The debate promises to be interesting not only because it is the first meeting of the two teams but also because it probably will be a close contest. Both teams have had outstanding records. Flint having reached the state semi-finals and Plymouth the finals in recent years. Obviously, the Rocks are at a disadvantage, debating a school five or six times as large. However, the team will put up the best fight it can on the question, "Resolved, that all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated." Professors Scott and Cortwright of Wayne University and Professor Allen of the University of Michigan will judge the debate. Jewel Starkweather, Florence Norton, and Tom Brock will speak for Plymouth in that order. All are veteran debaters having won medals in previous years. A large audience is hoped for.

ROUGE DEFEATED BY ROCKS AGAIN

Although the abandoning of the Twin Valley Activities Association debate schedule prevents Plymouth and River Rouge from meeting in a League contest, the two teams arranged a debate at Wayne, November 9. These schools were bitter rivals for championship of the League during its five years of existence. Plymouth has won the crown three times and River Rouge two. Last year the teams met three times with the Rocks victorious each time. Consequently the schools did not wish to abandon such a long rivalry and by mutual agreement debated in Wayne last Monday. River Rouge upheld the affirmative and Plymouth the negative on the question, "Resolved, that all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated." Throughout the debate the basis for argument was whether there was a need for a change from the present system. The three judges obtained by Wayne high school gave a unanimous decision to Plymouth's team of Jeannette Brown, Dorothy Hearn, and Edith Mettetal. This is the same team that was triumphant over Flint Northern high school on November 7. These debaters also have the distinction of being the first members of Plymouth's squad to win their medals. All of them have won the necessary points from both practice and judged debates. Dorothy Hearn receives a gold medal for three years debating. Jeannette Brown receives a silver one for two years service, and Edith Mettetal gets a silver medal for her debating. Edith deserves two or three gold medals for her excellent work as third speaker against Rouge. Her work was by far, the deciding factor against the opponents.

MOTHERS AND FRIENDS ATTEND GIRL RESERVE RECOGNITION SERVICE

Barbara Nutting, Hazel Curtis, Marilyn Forsgren, and Marion Shoebright became members of the Senior Girl Reserves at a recognition service held Monday, November 9, in the high school auditorium. Mothers and friends were present and afterward a Mother-Daughter Fellowship candle service was presented. Tea was served at the close of the evening.

This poem was written by Wilma Cripe. She says she was inspired by "The Dying Ranger," a cowboy ballad studied in her 10B English class.

A DYING BUDDY

The golden sun was setting,
And all felt sad and blue.
Each man's cheeks were wetting,
For pal who was always true.

They knew they were going to miss him:
Miss his jokes, and joys, and laughs.
They knew they were going to miss him
When they roped each steer and calf.

They loved this lonely cowboy
Whom they hadn't missed before;
Who had helped in each fall roundup
And to settle up each score.

He rallied up a little
For them to do one thing.
They said they all would do it
As their eyes with tears did sting.

"I have a mother waiting,
For me to come back home
I know that she is praying
And waiting all alone.

"I have written her a letter,
Which I do so want to send,
And I know I won't be better
For I know this is the end."

"You can tell her how it happened,
How I helped you all to fight.
I know all she will say is,
"He helped to make it right."

"She is growing old and feeble,
And her hair is turning gray.
I know that she will miss me,
Boys.

"When I am gone away
I want you all to help her
And keep her till the end.
I know that she will need it,
For on you she'll depend.

And all his pals they promised
As their buddy's voice was still,
For never more did they hear it
With its singing on the hill.

INTERMEDIATE GIRLS TAKE G. R. OATH

Twenty girls in the presence of their mothers became Intermediate Girl Reserves at an effective candle ceremony held Monday, November 2. Ardath Rowland, president of the group, presided at this service explaining the standards a Girl Reserve must maintain and her duties as a member. After each girl had lighted her candle at a central one representing the "spirit of the Girl Reserves," the code, slogan, purpose, and pledge were repeated in unison. Those recognized were Margery Merriam, Agnes and Evelyn Schomberger, Helen Jones, Giorlette Galloway, Helen Lisul, Jane Lehman, Pat Evans, Pearl Denton, Betty Kaiser, Eleanor Blessing, Jeannette Welch, Nancy Dumbam, Betty Schepplie, Ruth Keefe, Carmel Stitt, Betty O'Leary, Doris Bridger, Francis Weed, and Mildred Wiegand.

Following this ceremony old members served refreshments to the mothers and new members.

G. R. BAKE SALE TO BE HELD SATURDAY

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA ENTERTAINED AND OFFICERS ELECTED

The Future Farmers of America club, their teacher Mr. Lynch, and John Potts, Wesley Baker, Elton Bakewell, Donald Schmidt, Dewey Mack, Bill Hobbs, Bob Hull, Art Willis, Herbert Campbell, Louis Jennings, and Leon Sabourin were entertained at a party at Leon's home on October 28.

The boys enjoyed card games and refreshments. After lunch "Ike" Hull and Bob Hull attempted to entertain by playing the harmonica while Elton Bakewell accompanied them on the violin. They asked "Bashful" Don Schmidt to play the violin, but he said that he could not play without his music. Everyone enjoyed himself and is looking forward to the November party, since it was decided that once a month the group would meet at the homes of the boys.

The chapter is planning to have a parent and son banquet sometime during the winter. There was some discussion about having a basketball team to compete against other chapters.

The chapter elected the following officers for this year:
President—John Pott
Vice-President—Wesley Bakewell
Treasurer—Donald Schmidt
Secretary—Elton Bakewell
Reporter—Leon Sabourin
Advisor—Mr. Lynch

The new members are:
Francis Corlure
William Hobbins
Robert Hull
Dewey Mack
George Tomes
Herbert Campbell

The kindergarten has been coloring pictures of Puritans and turkeys. They have started to paint on their easel, and have learned two Thanksgiving songs.

Miss Landon's pupils have learned a song entitled "The Candy Shop."

The second grade pupils in Miss DeWaele's room have completed number booklets. The children received the P. T. A. banner for their room this month by securing the highest attendance at the meeting. They have made health charts, keeping records for the week. By eating Ballston for ten days the children will receive a cereal bowl from the Ralston Company. They are learning how to weave in art class.

Bobby Stevens has entered Miss Franz's room from Union Lake. In art the children are making cut-paper posters for their grocery store.

Miss Maunula and Mrs. Bird's pupils are constructing a colonial scene containing a log cabin made of Lincoln logs and Indian wigwams. The children are learning to weave on a loom.

The children in Miss Sly's room are making a study of Indians with an Indian village as a project.

The 4A pupils in Miss Hornbeck's room have worked out four posters that pictures the Alps and Swiss homes. Two new girls have joined the 5B class. They are Margaret Wilson and Madeline Densmore who have been placed on the losing spelling team to see if they can help it win. In 5B geography the pupils are studying about the mountain states and are finding the deserts and the cacti very interesting studies.

Miss Carr's 5B pupils have finished their study of the Pacific states. The 5A students are studying about China and are making posters on it.

In 5A geography Mr. Berridge's pupils are making a study of Australia. The 6B arithmetic pupils have begun the study of the multiplication of denominate numbers. In soccer Keith Sprott's British and Walter Patrick's Greeks are tied for first place. The winning team is looking forward to playing Starkweather's winners.

Dachshund is a name adopted from the German meaning "hotted dog." The dachshund is an ancient breed of dog.

STUDENTS CONDUCT SALES CAMPAIGN

The entire student body of Plymouth high school is taking part in an eight-day magazine sales contest, the proceeds of which will go to the student council. This campaign is being undertaken through special arrangement with the Crowell Publishing Company, and the committee in charge is Jewel Starkweather, Patricia Cassidy, and Kenneth Kleinschmidt. Magazines which can be ordered are the Woman's Home Companion, the American Magazine, Collier's, the National Weekly, and the Country Home. Each home room, led by its secretary, has been assigned a definite amount of money to earn. As the winning group will be rewarded at the end of the contest, competition is keen. Individual prizes, ranging from pencils and jackknives to wrist watches, will also be given to each person who obtains two or more subscriptions. As a result of this project the student council hopes to pay back debts and to increase its treasury as much as possible.

SOCIAL NEWS

Weiltha Selle entertained Saturday night, Mary Holdsworth, Astri and Elizabeth Heggi, Pat McKinnon and Patricia Cassidy. Astri Hegge spent Friday night with Mary Holdsworth and Saturday they went to Detroit with Weiltha Selle.

Edith Garlic of Ypsilanti was the week-end guest of Ireta McLeod.

Doris Buzzard entertained Lois Schaufle, Barbara Olsaver, Jacquelyn Schoof, Betty Mastick, Kye Moon, Belva Barnes, Jack Ross, James McCLain, Jack DeLaurier, Keith Joliffe, Douglas Miller, Dick Gillis, Hal Horton, and Ray Martin Saturday evening.

Erma Bridge attended a dance at the Statler Hotel Tuesday evening.

Miss Killham attended the Michigan State-Temple University football game Saturday.

Misses Smith, Hauf, Loyewell, and Gray saw "The Great Waltz" at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening.

Betty Housley spent Saturday with Edith Jenson of Wayne.

Patricia Burton attended a play at Cooley High School Friday evening and Sunday she journeyed to Canada with Don Johnston.

Hazel Fankow spent Saturday night with Wilma Cripe.

Evelyn Elliot and Virginia Barkley went to the show in Redford to see "Sing, Baby, Sing" and "The Texas Rangers."

Miss Allen, together with her mother and sister of Royal Oak, spent the week-end in Alma and Ithaca, calling on relatives and attending the homecoming Alma-Albion football game.

SCHOOL DAZE

It was whispered to me confidentially at the All Girl's Party that little Bobbee West has a bad case of the Daze and that the attacks usually occur during Junior Play Practice. He just CAN'T resist kissing Jane Taylor and Althea Shoemaker. We saw Polly Ann Wright in a hiking outfit and we were surprised she should wear sport clothes more often. The Seniors have had their pictures taken and something tells me that a lot of funny mugs are going to be plastered on some wall in the school. Our heart goes out to Mr. Ball who has to develop them.

Douglas Miller called me "Dazey" the other day. I'm sure he meant "Daisy" because Daisy means innocence, and there ARE a lot of things that I'm innocent of. We wonder if James Marshall is going to print the same thing each week. Who cares whether D. Schmidt has grown inches or that M. Luttermoser isn't snooty, etc. We found that out the first week! All the girls like Hank Worden but his shy and bashful manner puzzles them. Come on Hank, forget about M. L. and turn on the charm. Hal Horton and Bob Hudson are D. D. R's. (Ask them what it means) Patricia Cassidy has a cute turned up nose—and she's not snooty either. I like Kye Moon's blue shoes.

Did you know that Mr. Evans has gone back to his childhood daze—wups—I mean days? He was seen blowing bubbles in physics class the other day. Gosh—he wouldn't even let the class have a try at it. He'll be sorry. So long children until next week. Don't forget to show your true colors and be at the Northville-Plymouth football game. (Maybe Oran will astonish us with another touchdown)—Maybe

STARKWEATHER NEWS

The dental honor roll in Miss Stader's room shows that twenty-one of the second graders have perfect teeth. These small students made some very attractive free hand drawings for safety booklets. They made some unusual pictures by cutting animals out of black felt and pasting them on a background of milkweed seeds and red construction paper.

Miss Rathburn's 4B students are making booklets on the trip she took across the United States via the Lincoln Highway. Nancy Maddox of Northville has joined forces with this class.

The 4A pupils, under the direction of Miss Bock, have completed their Mediterranean Cruise. They are making booklets, pictures and maps to illustrate this interesting jaunt into foreign lands. Marion Maddox of Northville has entered this group of world traveling 4A's. Rosemary Herter's spelling team is leading in the contest. Tommy Houghton and Norma Jean Bowman are tied for honors in the 5B class. This group has finished the study of the Pacific States and is beginning the mountain group. In art class everyone is working on posters for Book Week. The music class is planning an amateur program. For English, the 5B's did some creative writing of poetry. These two poems were the best in the class.

Now the leaves are falling,
Yellow, green, and brown,
You hear the winds howling,
Come down little leaves,
Come down.

THE RAIN

By Billy Schoof
The clouds bump together
And the rain comes down,
But it has no leaves to fall
on,
So it goes right to the ground!

Miss Farnall's 5B art class is making poster on teeth. Dorothy Fisher won two spelldowns and her team is ahead in the Arithmetic contest. The 5A's are reading history stories instead of studying hygiene. The girl's German Bat Ball team number two has only lost two games since their tournament started.

Miss Spurling's room is being painted and her students had to move to another room for classes. They held an amateur hour for music class. First place was given to Clair McBarry for playing the harmonica; second place to William Upton and Bernard Jarosky for a cornet duet. The boys soccer team number two won the tournament.

DON PATTERSON PLAYS FOR DANCE

The sophomore dance will be given this Friday evening. The committees in charge of it are: chaperons, Doris Buzzard, chairman; Betty Mastick, and Betty Smith; orchestra, Rose Niesospal, chairman; Jean Hamill, and Ruth Hobbins; publicity, Belva Barnes, chairman; Phyllis Murphy, Ernest Engleson, and Barbara Olsaver; tickets, Betty Korb, chairman; Shirley Sorenson, Mary Louis Wright, Bill McAllister, Raymond Martin and Keith Joliffe; refreshments, Lois Schaufle, chairman; Elaine Eifert, Norma Coffin, Dorothy Hammond, and Bernice Lawson; floor, Robert Kenyon, chairman; Robert Lorenz, Paul Thams, George Bennett, and Bruce Towle; clean-up, Franklin Coward, chairman; Harold Hills, Rockwell Smith, Earl Lyke, and James Stevens. The dance will be after the Northville football game. If Plymouth wins come and celebrate, and if it loses come and drown your sorrows in the excellent music of Don Patterson's orchestra.

WE ASK THEM: THEY TELL US

Question: What is there about Plymouth High School that, in your opinion, could be improved most?
Answer: Marilyn Holton, Junior, "Congregating in groups in the morning and between classes."
Answer: Marian Gorton, Senior, "I think that we could remove some of the love-sick couples."
Answer: Alfred Cutler, Junior, "Remove study halls and have students come to school for classes only."
Answer: Evelyn Bower, sophomore, "Better traffic rules in the halls."
Answer: Ellen Mulry, senior, "Using the library as a rendezvous for lovers."
Answer: Harry Dahmer, freshman, "Get a swimming pool."

MACKENZIE AND TRENTON DEBATE IN PRACTICE

Two more opposing debate squads invaded Plymouth last week for practice contests, the first being Mackenzie high of Detroit which upheld the negative against the Rocks on November 3. Coach Lynch's team met Edith Mettetal, Florence Norton, and Tom Brock in the dramatics room until driven from there into the lair of the agriculturists (formerly Study-3). After the Mackenzie stag till another team—Dorothy Hearn, Jeanette Brown, and Jewel Starkweather—weathered the vocal blasts of Trenton high in the Aggie room on November 4. Both of these teams are rivals of our debaters because four years ago our erstwhile championship team was put out of the running by Trenton and three years ago a comparatively "green" Plymouth team lost to Mackenzie.

ARTIST FINISHING MURAL

Students in library are finishing it rather difficult to study these days. The cause of this "evil" is the young WPA artist, Robert Medley who is completing the unfinished McCandish mural of last year. This is being done under the auspices of the WPA. The mural depicts two children reading from their story books at the bottom, and the famous characters of fiction whom they are reading in the background. At the present rate of completion the mural should be finished by next week.

WERNETT PUTS ROOM 13 AHEAD

A Major Bowes amateur contest was put on in Miss Cary's group last week. James Zuckerman took the part of Major Bowes. There were different imitations of busy street scenes, farm animals, movie actresses, singing, poem reciting, story telling, and various individual stunts. All of the home room groups, are making money to get the school out of debt by selling magazines. Miss Cary's group is ahead, for William Wernett has sold the most subscriptions of any one in school.

Postage Stamps

Present, Past And Future As Told By Plymouth Collector

By J. D. Merritt
Many local collectors, I believe, would enjoy reading a stamp column that contained not only news of interest to the philatelic world but also tidings concerning Plymouth collectors and their activities. This column will endeavor to treat upon both of the above. In the very near future your correspondent also intends to conduct a series of interviews with local collectors of repute and to form a stamp club with this column as its official organ. Collectors in Plymouth and vicinity are requested to send their names and addresses on a post card to the writer, and thus, the business of starting an organization whose basic principle is the promotion of the systematic gathering of stamps is begun.

Had a chat about stamps with Russell Kirk, who is now attending Michigan State college. Recently, his weakness (or is it his strength?) in philately is the accumulation of Ethiopia. He has a nice collection mounted in a Scott's specialized album for independent countries of Africa. Now that the Italians are in complete control of Ethiopia, most of its issues are obsolete and Mr. Kirk's holdings will undoubtedly rise in value. He also is considering building up a collection of Siberia. This is the only bit of non-European owned land now left in Africa. Its freedom is rather a farce, however, as a huge American rubber company really "holds the whip hand"—and the pocketbook—over this black republic.

And now here's some real news from correspondents in Melbourne, Australia and Durban, South Africa. Quoting: "The vexing and pertinent question as to whether the British Empire is to have special stamps to commemorate the forthcoming coronation of His Majesty, King Edward the Eighth, has been settled as regards three of our great self-governing Dominions—Australia, India, and the Union of South Africa." Australia will have an issue of coronation stamps next year in addition to the forthcoming regular issues. The design selected is a full face portrait of His Majesty which was chosen by the king himself from a number submitted to him. The Government of the Union of South Africa has decided, says the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, to issue a coronation commemorative set subject to the king's approval. These will be in all the usual denominations and will bear His Majesty's portrait. They will be printed in the same colors as the present stamps and will be on sale three months. News of the Indian coronation set as told by a correspondent in Simla will be printed next week.

Dunbar Bostwick, the poloist, is so enthusiastic about Hollywood Robin, his trotting horse, that he carries the animal's picture wherever he goes.

For Winter "Stop-and-Go" YOU NEED WINTER-GRADE GOLDEN SHELL

New Fast-Flowing Oil Checks Damaging Starting Wear

WHEN you change to winter-grade oil, remember this warning of automotive engineers:

"APPROXIMATELY 3/4 OF ENGINE WEAR OCCURS IN STARTING!"

So, this winter, be sure you flush and refill with the oil that's made for "stop-and-go" driving. Protect your engine against starting wear.

The new Golden Shell Motor Oil is fast-flowing—it starts with the starter even at coldest temperatures. Yet Golden Shell is also tough—holds its body under engine heat and resists breaking down into sludge and carbon.

You will find the proper grade of winter Golden Shell Motor Oil for your car on sale at over 30,000 neighborhood Shell stations from coast to coast.

WHEREVER YOU SEE THIS SIGN—it will take only 15 minutes to have your crankcase flushed and refilled with the proper winter grade of Golden Shell. Engineers call the process behind this new oil the greatest advance in 25 years of refining.
