

Plymouth Voters Will Monday Select Candidates For City Commissioners and Judge

Six Candidates Seeking Places On Final Ballot—All Three Present Members Offer Names To Voters Again

Monday is primary election day for Plymouth. The voters at that time must select three candidates for the city commission, one candidate for municipal justice, and one candidate for constable.

The terms of Arthur Blank, George Robinson and L. E. Wilson expire at this time. Each one has filed petitions for re-nomination at Monday's primary election.

In addition to the three present commissioners who are all candidates for re-nomination, three other candidates have filed petitions for places on the commission. They are Ford P. Brooks, Warren Worth and Albert Lustig.

For municipal justice, Perry W. Richwine has filed against John W. Dayton, who holds the office at the present time.

George Springer is unopposed for constable, a position he has held for many years.

There has been exceedingly little activity in the campaign so far and unless something happens in the next two days to create more interest than there is at present, Monday's vote will be almost as light as the one cast in last Monday's county primary.

Governor Gone Again — Now In Florida — Legislature Just Sits

Senate And House Democratic Leaders Should Not Be Blamed For Inactivity—Governor Has No Program

(By ELTON R. EATON)
LANSING — There is a whole lot of criticism being hurled at the Democratic state legislature. In fact, it comes not only from old John Public but even members of the Democratic party have found that any condemnation they offer of the legislature meets with approval. One of the outstanding older members of the Democratic party, Dr. Meyers, of Dowagiac, a member of the house for several years, the other day arose to make a brief address to the members. He, too, said it was time for the body to get down to work.

Speaker George Schroder, who should have been the Democratic candidate for governor instead of Frank Murphy, has organized the house in such a way that when it gets work to do, the work can be accomplished. Let it be said now that Speaker Schroder is one of the outstanding members of the Democratic party in Michigan and he is not one of the new-born torch bearers of Democracy for what he can get out of Democracy. He is an honest-to-goodness Democrat, who is a credit to his party.

Where is the trouble? Why hasn't the legislature done anything? Who is to blame, if the legislature is not?

Those are very easy questions to answer.

Notwithstanding all the ballyhoo one reads in the big papers and hears over the radio and elsewhere, Michigan Democracy is without a leader.

Its soft-spoken Governor has no legislative program. He delivered a message to the legislature at the beginning of the session. Some newspaper writers called it a "new deal" message.

They called it that because he devoted much of his discussion to old age pensions and unemployment insurance. These are supposed to be "new deal" problems.

Well, what about these "new deal" problems and why hasn't the legislature done anything about them?

That's an easy question to answer.

Former Governor William Comstock, Democrat, partly solved the old age pension and the following administration of Governor Frank Fitzgerald finished up the job. So when Governor Murphy entered office he found in full operation, an old age pension bureau with pensions going out to the old people of Michigan.

It is true that the system needs a lot of revamping, but up to date the Governor has done nothing about it and the only efforts that have been made to remedy the situation have come from individual members of the house who hope to make the plan more workable and to take out of the law some of its bad features.

What about unemployment insurance that is supposed to be a part of Governor Murphy's "new deal" for Michigan? True, the Governor did devote a large part of his message to a discussion of (Continued on Page Seven)

Little 5 and 10c Articles Make "Heap Big Smoke"

The above picture was one of several snapshots made by Glen Smith during the fire in the Schrader block last Thursday noon that destroyed the D & C five and ten cent store. Seldom have firemen battled so much smoke as rolled from the store during this blaze last week. So dense was the smoke cloud for a time that automobile traffic on Main street, over half a block away, was entirely stopped at various times during the blaze.

Becomes Ill At Convention

George A. Smith, superintendent of Plymouth's public schools, who has been confined to his home by illness for the past few days, is considerably improved and now able to be about. Some three weeks ago he had a slight touch of influenza. He had planned to attend the annual convention of the National Educational Association in New Orleans, Louisiana, thinking that a few days in the south where the weather would be much milder, would benefit him, he left by train for New Orleans. But his condition grew worse and he spent most of his time, while away, in his hotel room. When he returned to Plymouth last week-end he was forced to remain at home for medical treatment. His many friends will be glad to know of his improvement.

Complete Plans For The J-Hop

Preparations for this year's J-Hop are now in the final stages of completion. Red Drennan, popular young Lansing orchestra leader, and his nine-piece orchestra has been contracted to play the dance music. The decorations will, by the time this is in print, have been completed. The purpose of the decorations is to transform the gymnasium into an aquarium by means of eight-and-a-half foot panels depicting various types of sea life in a gay modernistic treatment. The color scheme employs contrasting shades of blue, bright oranges, yellow, and white for a bubble effect.

Dick Gillis, president of the class, with Marilyn Holton as his guest will lead the grand march. He will be followed by Jeannette Schwartz, general chairman of the Hop, with Milton Heike, James McClain, vice president, with Doris Schmidt; and Helen Norgrave, treasurer, with Harold Burley.

The Hop is scheduled to come off March 12, with dancing from 9:00 until 1:00 o'clock. Invitations were sent out last week. Anyone who is expecting an invitation and has not received one should telephone either No. 610 or 62.

Water Readings During The Fire

Because of the discussions which have taken place since the fire which destroyed the D & C store on Penniman avenue last Thursday, the facts pertaining to the actual water supply before and immediately after the fire will be interesting.

On February 25, the day before the fire, the city used 353,000 gallons of water. The total meter readings for the day of the fire, which was February 26, were 383,000 gallons, an increase of 30,000 gallons of water over the previous day. This would indicate that practically 30,000 gallons of water were used in fighting the fire, as at this time of the year, there is but a slight variation in the amount of water used from one day to the other.

Records show that on the day previous to the fire there was a million and a half gallons of water in the reservoir and 100,000 gallons in the downtown tank. City officials say that the pressure at the booster pumps during the fire was at 64 and at the gauge in Conner's store it did not at any time go under 40.

Robert Champe Leads Grand March at J-Hop Of Mich. State Normal

To Robert Champe of Plymouth, graduate of the local high school, went the honor of leading the grand march at the annual J-Hop of the Michigan State Normal, Ypsilanti, last Friday evening. The young man is president of the Junior class and one of the most popular students in the school. His partner was Gertrude Deal of Northville, co-chairman with Mr. Champe for the event. The Normal College News carried pictures of the two young grand march leaders as well as Miss Jean Jolliffe of Plymouth, who was a guest of the chairman at the event.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Terry spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Owen, in Pontiac.

W.C.T.U. Holds Meeting

The meeting and potluck luncheon held by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, February 25, at the home of Mrs. E. C. Vealey, was very enjoyable. The Washington decorations were used for this occasion and all looked bright and cheery.

Current events and short readings were given by the members. Mrs. Kehrl, who is making a quilt for a prospective sale by the W. C. T. U., was ill and unable to be present. Some work, however, was done by other members. The little mechanical man used for temperance instruction was shown at the home of Mrs. Todd.

The quotations were bright and to the point and the method novel and effective.

The next meeting will occur March 25, at the home of Mrs. I. N. Dickerson.

Legion Dances Resume Saturday

Alterations in the Legion hall have been finished and members of the Myron H. Beals Post of the American Legion announce today that they would resume their regular Saturday night dances on Saturday, March 6. To better accommodate dancers, an additional 500 square feet of floor space has been added to the dance hall.

Another improvement has been made in the installation of an air conditioning unit at the hall. The unit will be in full operation for the opening dance next Saturday night, according to Commander Harold Anderson. Strasen's music orchestra will furnish the music for the season.

Rev. Walter Nichol was called to Friesville, Ontario, Tuesday, by the sudden death of his brother.

Chas. Rathburn Again Named For Supervisor

Republican Ticket In Plymouth Township To Be Unopposed

Republicans of Plymouth township have for the eleventh time nominated Charles H. Rathburn for supervisor of Plymouth township. At the caucus held Monday he had the unanimous vote for the place he has filled so efficiently for the past ten years. As the result of his good work, in cooperation with the other township officials, Plymouth township has a financial condition second to none other in the county.

In view of the fact that the Democrats did not nominate a ticket in the township the Republican caucus selections will serve for the next year, unless of course there should be some unexpected upset at the April election. But there is no reason to anticipate anything of this kind in view of the splendid services of the township officials.

Norman Miller, who has also served well as township clerk, was given the re-nomination by the entire vote present.

Walter Postiff was nominated for the four year term as justice of the peace and Hal F. Wilson was nominated justice to fill vacancy.

Mrs. Clella Moles, who resides on the Northville road, was nominated for township treasurer; Isaac Innis, for highway commissioner and James Gates for member of the board of review. Russell Coon, Floyd Miller, Lee Eldred and Myron Mawhorter were nominated for constables.

All the Republican incumbents in Livonia township were re-nominated, there being slight opposition to only one office holder.

Jesse Ziegler was re-nominated for supervisor. Harry Wolfe for clerk, Arthur Trapp for treasurer, Dan McKinney for justice of the peace, Mabel Rhode for justice of the peace, Samuel McKinney for member of board of review and constables, Edward Howard, Ray Owens, John W. Whitehead and Charles Canfield.

The Democrats have no ticket in Livonia township.

In Northville township both parties have nominated tickets. The Republicans have re-named William Ely for supervisor. John Litzberger beat Sherill Ambler in the contest for township clerk.

Mollie Lawrence was re-named for treasurer, Ralph Foreman for the board of review, Delbridge Campbell for justice of the peace and Ward Masters, Ulie Tibbits and Roy Rew for constables.

The Democratic ticket in Northville is headed by Dr. E. B. Cavell for supervisor, Mrs. Zada Riley for treasurer, Harry Blake for justice of the peace and constables, Louis Sonnenberg, Charles Sessions, Jr., Fred Hicks and Joe Stanford.

Business Group Plans Banquet

The annual banquet of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Mayflower hotel next Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Secretary Leonard Murphy has secured as the speaker for the evening, Charles Boyd, secretary-manager of the Detroit Retail Merchants association, who will speak on some of the problems pertaining to merchants.

Everyone is invited to attend, even though not a member of the Chamber of Commerce. Harold Anderson is chairman of the ticket committee.

Speed Warning Is Issued

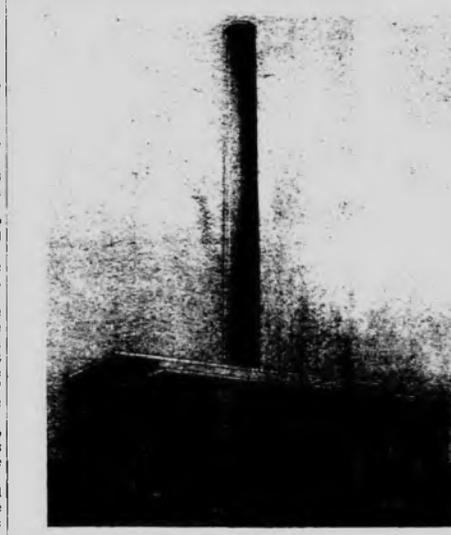

Acting Chief of Police Charles Thumme has issued a warning to a number of youthful speeders about the city that if more care is not used in the operation of their automobiles, arrests will be made.

The officer declares that an especially large number of complaints have been received pertaining to racing cars, careless driving and failure to stop at stop streets.

"We do not like to make arrests, but unless they stop it will be necessary," said Acting Chief Thumme. He asks for cooperation on the part of everyone in seeing to it that traffic regulations are obeyed.

Postoffice To Be First Class

New Burroughs Power Plant To Be of Immense Size

Through the courtesy of The Burroughs Adding Machine company, The Plymouth Mail is this week able to present to its readers the above picture of the new power plant that is being erected for the new factory units that are to be located near this city. The power plant will be almost five stories in height and will be 175 feet long and 100 feet wide. It will be one of the largest power units not only in Michigan, but the entire mid-west. Excavation has already started for the building.

Burroughs Mailing Will Be From This City

Millions of Pieces Of Mail Go To All Parts Of World Nearly Every Day

Plymouth's postoffice is going to be rated as a first class postoffice before the end of the present year, according to reliable information which has come to The Plymouth Mail from those associated with the Burroughs company.

Of such vast size is the Burroughs mailing that the company maintains its own mailing department and when the mail is taken to the postoffice it is ready for immediate shipment, being sacked and carded for direct placement in mail cars.

Millions and millions of mailing pieces leave the plant each day. They not only cover all of America, but practically every civilized country in the world is on the direct mailing list of the Burroughs company.

One of the biggest departments of the Burroughs is its printing department. This is one of the departments that will be moved to Plymouth. The Burroughs company does all of its own printing. It publishes all of its forms for its various products as well as producing a large magazine and another publication that goes to practically every bank in the world.

Up until the time the big automobile companies made Detroit their mailing center, the Burroughs company provided practically two percent of all the business of the Detroit postoffice, so one can gain from this the tremendous amount of printed matter that must come from its plant.

All of this will be transferred to the Plymouth postoffice and by early fall Plymouth will have a first class postoffice instead of a second class.

The power plant will not only be one of the most modern in the United States, but it is doubtful if there are many industrial plants in the country that will have a larger one than this under construction.

While its full capacity will not be attained for probably many years to come, the size of the plant gives some indication as to the future expansion program of the Burroughs company.

The plant will have generating furnaces and it will provide not only power and light but heat as well. The structure will be 175 feet long and 100 feet wide and nearly as high as the five story main building now under construction.

In the Burroughs Farms Bulletin, one of the publications it produces for some of its employees, there appeared a recent write-up of the building as well as many views of Plymouth and vicinity.

The publication, an exceedingly attractive one, states that the company expects to occupy its new plant early next fall.

It enumerates the departments that are to be moved to Plymouth as follows: The printing division, hoods and cushions, ribbons, stationery, stock room, direct mail, postoffice, roll paper, chair and stand assembly. The manufacturing and finishing of chairs and stands also will be performed in the new Plymouth plant.

Woman's Club Will Meet This Afternoon

The Women's club of Plymouth will meet at 2:30 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon, in the crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower. This will not be guest day for Plymouth but the club will have as guests, members of the clubs from Northville, Wayne and Redford. The guest speaker will be Dr. A. Lee Vincent, of the Merrill-Palmer school, of Detroit, and a very interesting afternoon is promised with tea being served. Mrs. George A. Smith is chairman with a very able assisting committee.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Teufel and daughters, Jo Ann and Doris, and Mr. and Mrs. George Schultz, of Toledo, Ohio, Mrs. W. A. Eckles and Mrs. William Downing and daughter, Janice, of Plymouth, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Willett, Sunday.

Daisy Workers Returned To Work Last Monday—Entire City Pleased

It was good news that the residents of Plymouth heard last Saturday afternoon when it became generally known about the city that the strikers at the plant of The Daisy Manufacturing company had voted to end the strike and return to work Monday morning, pending a settlement later of the requests they had made of the company.

The news was circulated about town at just about the time a number of business men were considering the advisability of calling a meeting in order to bring about an end to the strike. The enforced idleness at the plant had begun to be felt about the city and the big drop in retail trade that had been experienced was a cause for worry on the part of many.

Meanwhile, President Charles Bennett of the company is keeping things going at the plant, pending the return of William Conner from Florida, a member of the board. Edward C. Hough is back from the hospital in New York and Mr. Conner has sent word that he will be home before March 15.

New City Dump On Beck Road

Looking for the new city dump? Well, it's easy to find. Just go out Penniman avenue to the Beck road, then turn south on the Beck road. After you go about a quarter of a mile (that's about three city blocks) you will observe a sign which marks the spot where you can dump your refuse and not get in trouble with anyone.

It was necessary for the city to close the old city dump on the east side near the Pere Marquette tracks a few days ago, as the property belongs to the Burroughs Adding Machine company and the hollow is now being filled in with earth taken from the excavations being made for the new plant.

Field Dog Training For Year Ends Soon

The period during which hunters may legally train their hunting dogs on small game birds or animals in the open is swiftly drawing to a close. Beginning March 15, state law says, hunters are forbidden to train their dogs or permit them to run game birds or animals. This ban continues well past the nesting and breeding seasons of wildlife and into late summer.

Did You Know That

Buzzbean's Minstrels will be held in the Masonic temple, March 8, at 8 pm. for the benefit of the Bovee family who recently suffered a loss by fire. Several good acts of home talent and an orchestra that will bring down the house are promised for all those attending. Everyone is urged to attend and help make this fund a large one and the committee in charge guarantees a real evening's entertainment.

That the Woman's Farm and Garden club will have a 1:00 o'clock luncheon on Monday, March 8, at Mayflower hotel. E. C. Smith of Detroit will address the members.

Accident Causes Plenty Of Action

Sheriff Wilcox and a force of his deputies kept Plymouth's police station busy all day Sunday and Sunday night investigating what the sheriff thought for a time looked like a deep mystery.

It seems that a couple of South Lyon boys, George A. Simons and Stanley Michalak, early Sunday morning, crashed into a guard rail near the Ford factory dam on Wilcox road.

Joseph Tracy, of Plymouth, nightwatchman at the plant, was suspicious of the actions of the two young men and called the Plymouth police.

They in turn called the sheriff as the accident was outside the city limits.

A red hair in the broken windshield, one or two pieces of a woman's clothing in the back seat, and no woman to be found anywhere, caused some of the deputies to think that maybe a woman had fallen into the pond.

Late Sunday night, Miss Eileen Bullington, 19 years old of Detroit, came to the Plymouth police station and wanted to know what it was all about.

She had been with the boys, one had taken her home and when she left the car she had forgotten some of her apparel. It was after she had been taken home that the accident happened. She was red headed, so was one of the boys.

It was one of those "sort" of accidents that drew first page space, with pictures, cuts and diagrams in the Detroit papers.

Clarice, Elaine and Mary Jane Hamilton and Mary McKinon had attended a desert-bridge, Saturday afternoon, at the home of Dorothy Hubert, in Detroit, given in her honor by her mother, Mrs. J. B. Hubert. The announcement of Dorothy's engagement to Carl Forsythe, of Perndale, was made at this time. The wedding date has not been set. Mr. Forsythe is a brother of Mrs. Ruth Baughn, of Milan, and is known by several in Plymouth.

DUMB ANIMALS.

The following news article was clipped from a Detroit newspaper a few days ago:

"Morris Wolfe, 70, of 2922 Doris street, was sentenced to 15 days in jail, or pay a fine of $30 following testimony he permitted a horse to languish near death on the floor of a garage with neither bedding nor attention for 56 hours. The horse was shot by police Saturday night. Arthur C. Curtis, Michigan Humane Society investigator, told the court he found the horse in a building at the rear of 15539 La Salle boulevard after neighbors had complained."

So they are still sending folks to jail for starving horses and cattle? In fact, if you do not give a horse bedding in its stall, maybe one will go to jail.

Well, what about the very old people who are being told by 'humane' workers connected with the new sort of welfare and old age pension set-up we have in Michigan that if they do not sign their homes over to the state, they will be cut off from their food and fuel supplies? In fact, they were given a taste of the starvation edict a while back that they face if they do not give in to these Lordling welfare dictators.

Yes, it's a crime to starve a horse to death under the laws of Michigan, a crime not to provide it with sufficient food—but seemingly, we approve of the system whereby our very old people can be starved to death under certain conditions, and it is strictly legal.

Isn't it about time for Michigan to give some consideration to this problem and see to it that there is a little bit of humanity mingled with our new welfare "racket" system? Yes, we think the time is not only here, but is long past when our welfare plan should be made over into a welfare system that can be a credit to the state of Michigan instead of the disgrace it is.

OUR WATER SUPPLY.

It seems that every time we have an emergency that demands an extra amount of water, there are always charges that the supply is insufficient. Some city officials contend that we have enough water. Others say that we have not. Some allege that during the fire downtown last week that the water pressure was exceedingly low. In fact, there were some who said the streams of water were not sufficiently strong enough to break the glass in the windows of the store.

Of course all water pressure does not come from the mains. That's why you have fire engines, to give the streams greater force. One helps the other.

Last summer during the long hot months, there is no question but what Plymouth's water supply ran low. There were weeks we didn't have enough water in town. It has been so every summer.

We either have a sufficient water supply or we have not. The city commission last summer requested the manager to make an inquiry and find out. His report at that time indicated that Plymouth's water supply was sufficient for its needs.

The Plymouth Mail does not intend to recommend that Plymouth tap onto the Detroit water supply which is now at the city's limits for a regular water supply. But we are wondering if it might not be advisable to have a connection with one of the big Detroit water mains so that this city can have a standby water service when needed.

There might be times when an unlimited supply such as could be provided by one of the big Detroit mains might save the city from calamity.

The fire last Thursday noon, for a time, looked threatening, indeed. There was little that separated complete destruction of all the buildings along the south side of Penniman avenue if the flames had gotten beyond control.

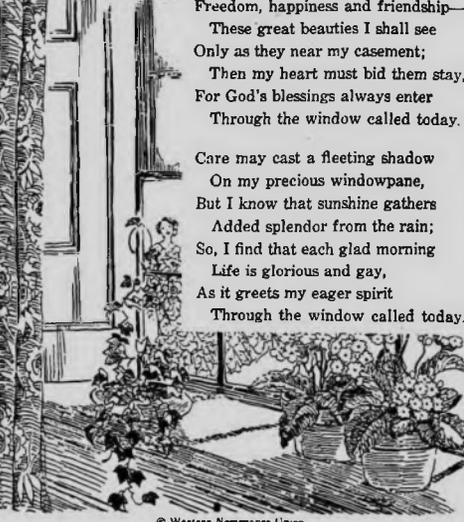

The time has certainly arrived for the actual facts about the water supply of Plymouth to be presented to the taxpayers of this city.

HATS OFF TO THESE YOUNSTERS.

As one watches, day after day, the Safety School Patrol assist in protecting the boys and girls as they cross the streets near the Starkweather avenue schools from the heavy traffic that prevails in that locality, expressions of admiration are frequently heard about their good work. These youthful traffic guardians assume their responsibilities with just as much care as do the regular police officers. To their credit it can be said that not a single boy or girl has ever been hurt in traffic near the Starkweather school. The community owes them a vote of thanks for their good work. It is all a part of the splendid training for the future citizens of our country—and a part of the activities regularly conducted by the teachers of the Starkweather school. It is splendid work and The Mail congratulates the boys and the teachers upon their accomplishments.

The Window Called Today

by Lawrence Hawthorne

Through the window of the present
All my life must come to me!
Freedom, happiness and friendship—
These great beauties I shall see
Only as they near my casement;
Then my heart must bid them stay,
For God's blessings always enter
Through the window called today.

Care may cast a fleeting shadow
On my precious windowpane,
But I know that sunshine gathers
Added splendor from the rain;
So, I find that each glad morning
Life is glorious and gay,
As it greets my eager spirit
Through the window called today.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

STEALING HOMES?

Elton R. Eaton, publisher of The Plymouth Mail, has been roused to a fighting temper by what he declares to be actual proof that welfare officials under some new-fangled set-ups, are virtually forcing aged welfare recipients who own their homes to a decision as to whether they will sign over their property to the state or starve. What's coming over this country? What devilish scheme is this, and who is it that expects to get all this real estate for a song?

Is this thing characteristic of a little clique of hard-boiled politicians in public pay in Wayne county, or is it a new rulina, applicable throughout the state? The Sentinel hasn't heard of it yet in Macomb county—but if any of our readers know of any such cases in or near Utica, we want to know the facts about them. Also, it occurs to us that The Mail publisher, who happens to be a member of the present legislature, is in position up there at Lansing to smoke out the woodchuck, and we think he's the man to do it.—Emerson Gildart in The Utica Sentinel.

CALLS IT OUTRAGE.

Representative Elton R. Eaton has introduced a bill which if enacted will exempt aged and indigents to obtain aid without placing a lien on their homestead. I have advocated this sort of bill for some time. Case in point: An old resident, a man who has served his community and has been an influential self-respecting citizen meets the man with the scythe—old age creeps upon him. Friends and relatives have gone before him. He is alone, too old to get work and he has through frugality become the owner of a modest, three-room house. He applies for aid, but the state says "Assign your home, get a mortgage before we can help you." A mortgage in his declining days is worse than eviction. If he lives long enough the state will confiscate the property and kick him out. Such heartless action cries out to the heavens. We're going to see how our Kent and Ottawa legislators vote on the Eaton bill.—J. John Pope in The Grandville Star.

Regularly looking forward to and reading Editor Elton R. Eaton's Plymouth Mail, and remembering his persistent and continual adherence to Groesbeckian doctrines and political religion, we cannot help but believe that because of his public expose of the Barnard attempt to control the state republican machine, the rank and file of the good old party was spurred to that action that crashed the heel of censure and scorn on that dangerous scourge that has threatened upon so many occasions in recent years. We note that many so called political big shots were out on a limb when the fellows with Major Eaton's kind of courage and reasoning shook the tree.

Editor Eaton has this week attacked the welfare set-up in his county with the same plain spoken determination that he has attacked the invisible influences strangling the life out of the republican party. He tells us the miserable brutal and heartless way welfare aid to the aged and needy is being administered. He tells about aged people who have always been able to provide for themselves and have saved enough in the long, lean and discouraging years to make them a home and furnish it, but now getting to the three score and ten mark they are compelled to ask for help or starve to death, and in appealing to the welfare are curly informed aid will not be forthcoming unless they deed over their homes and may be moved to a smaller home somewhere else that can be continued cheaper than they have been used to providing for themselves. You can't blame him for rearing up on his hind legs and exposing such a damnable condition. Real Americans are true home lovers, and what has been home for a long number of years, no matter where that home may be or how, it is the home nest around which is built most all that age has left, and then to drive those aged and unfortunates out of those homes is an act that cannot be condoned.

We are happy to say the condition Editor Eaton complains about around Plymouth does not prevail here, therefore it is a matter of welfare personnel and supervision. We hear only favorable comments here (in Cheboygan). Of course there will always be a class that will complain because they may believe they are not getting their arms as deep down in the bag as a neighbor, but taking every phase of this welfare problem under consideration it does not seem possible that it could be carried on any better than it is being conducted here.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

HE WAVES A FLAG.

In phrases dripping with sentiment and afire with crusader's zeal, Elton R. Eaton in last week's issue of The Plymouth Mail, takes the state old-age pension organization severely to task for requiring property owners to deed their possessions over to the state before they may become eligible for old-age assistance.

His front-page editorial is headed: "Sign or Starve to Death." In it he cites the case of an aged Plymouth couple whose welfare check was discontinued because they refused to deed their home over to the state . . .

If there is one thing the people of Michigan are agreed on, it is that the aged and infirm should be cared for without making them appear as charity charges, and anyone with a spark of humanity realizes that the present old-age pension set-up isn't the final answer to the problem. The provision making it mandatory for pension recipients to deed their property to the state is highly regrettable; it strikes at the very root of American traditions, which are linked so vitally to the home and all it stands for.

It must not be forgotten, however, that the state, and by the state we mean its people, has a stake in the matter. Mr. Eaton asks what the state will do with the property after the death of the pensioners? That is a real issue. Surely, it should not go through the normal process of law to relatives who would not contribute to the support of the aged persons to keep them off the pension list. Its disposition is another matter if the relatives were not able to help. If the property is taken over by the state after the death of the pensioners, it is only right to expect that the money realized from its sale will go into the old-age pension fund.

Perhaps when old-age pensions are considered a right rather than privilege, the problem will be settled. Pension checks at the present time are in few cases large enough to enable recipients to pay taxes as well as meet living expenses. Some day they will be, and that day may not be far distant.

Every community in the state has cases similar to the one cited by Mr. Eaton, who, incidentally, is a member of the state legislature and will know where to seek reform. Aged persons in Washtenaw county have protested the necessity of deeding their homes to the state for the mere pittance that has been allowed them. They are only human in that: rescue workers in the flood areas of the south found many elderly couples ready to die rather than leave the homes whose walls had witnessed the births, marriages and deaths of generations of their families.

The problem is not one that will be solved by hysteria, nor is it a new one. General old-age pensions are still somewhat new in Michigan, and only time will erase some of the bad features of their administration, but as Mr. Eaton suggests, the people have a right to expect "just a speck of decency in the treatment of our unfortunates."—Ann Arbor Washtenaw County Tribune.

Drones Killed Leader, Starved

It was an interesting comparison that Carl Shear, former president of the Plymouth Rotary club brought before the members of that organization last Friday noon, a comparison that emphasized one of the problems of the present day.

"To those of you who have ever raised bees it is common knowledge that in every hive there is a queen bee. The queen is the leader, the hard worker and she sees to it that all the other bees keep working and doing their share to fill the hive full of honey.

"Well, some of the bees, in one hive one time decided to get rid of the queen bee," he said. "They killed her and without a leader to plan the work and direct the activities of the other bees, they all became drones. None of them worked and in a little while all the drones starved to death.

"I am wondering if we are not getting pretty close to the edge where we are becoming drones," he continued. "We seem to have a desire to try and get along by doing as little as we can. We forget that we have to do our share, if we want to keep things going."

Father Frank A. Lefevre also gave a short talk on the benefits of Rotary.

Reports of the Police Department, Health Department, and Traffic Violation Bureau were read by the Clerk.

Society News

Many Plymouth people, who remember Harry Allen, a former resident of this city, will be glad to learn that his mother, Mrs. James Brown and his children, who reside with her at her home in Louisville, Kentucky, are safe and well, none of them having been ill during the flood, for which they are very thankful. They are in their home again, have gas to cook with but no electricity, as yet. Jimmy Allen, a son, writes that they have to use water with a hose to clean the dirt, etc., accumulated in the recent flood. Their furniture was taken to the second story and was safe but the water was half way up to the ceiling on the lower floor, he writes.

A very delightful surprise was perpetrated upon Mrs. Howard Shipley, February 23, by several of her friends, the occasion honoring her birthday. The main diversion for the guests was playing buncie while Mrs. Shipley found the opening of attractively wrapped gifts, received from those present, more pleasing. A midnight lunch was served, to which all did justice. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Hawk, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everitt, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Oral Rathbun and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kincaid and son, Eddie.

Mrs. Carlton Lewis entertained the members of the Priscilla sewing group at a luncheon, Tuesday, at her home on Hartsough avenue. The table was lovely with springtime flowers in pink and yellow as a centerpiece.

The Jollyate bridge club will be luncheon guests of Mrs. Harry Mummy, Thursday, March 11, at her home on West Ann Arbor trail.

In Plymouth and Vicinity—Interesting News of Days Gone By Taken From The Plymouth Mail Files

Mr. and Mrs. John Baze, Livonia Center, are rejoicing over the arrival of a son at their home February 22. Dr. Holcomb of Redford was in attendance and had a serious time to get there and home the next day on account of the roads.

One of the Newburg boys claims he saw a robin last week. The bird made a mistake in coming north so soon.

The Gleasons of Perrinsville went in a load last Saturday evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rattenbury in honor of their 26th wedding anniversary. A good crowd and fine time was reported.

The New Idea club met with Mrs. Wilkey Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riggs visited friends in Detroit the first of the week.

Miss Aute Millard of Detroit was an over Sunday guest of Mrs. W. T. Pettinill.

Mrs. Ben Chamberlain of Benton Harbor visited Mrs. J. B. Henderson and other friends here this week.

Adolph Keuhl of Salem has purchased the Ed VanFleet place in the fair grounds district. It will be occupied by Fred Drews.

John Wilcox (of Wilcox Bros.) and Elmer Whipple have both bought new Lion 40 automobiles to be delivered about the first of May.

Elmer Huston of Birmingham was in town yesterday.

Dr. W. B. Hinsdale of Ann Arbor was a guest of Dr. Peck Sunday.

At this writing, but one caucus has been called to nominate candidates for village officers—the Workmen's for next Tuesday evening. It is hoped another caucus may be called, that another ticket may be in the field and afford the voters at least a choice of two candidates for the various offices. There should be a large turnout at these caucuses and men be placed in nomination that reflect the true interests of the village. For this purpose men of known ability should not hesitate to allow their names to be used, even at a personal sacrifice. The village is in need of the services of just such gentlemen and the voters will act wisely if they place them in nomination and elect them.

The village council has made a contract with the F. M. railroad company to supply them with water at a flat rate of $25 per week, the contract to be abrogated at the will of the council any time when the supply of water runs short. The railroad company uses a lot of water and the rates made by the council is cheaper than they can afford to pump it themselves.

Auxiliary To Hear Travel Talk

Last year, as speaker at the Woman's club, Miss Aloysia McLoughlin, noted traveler and lecturer of Sturgis, Michigan, gave a most entertaining talk on Michigan's history. Those who were privileged to hear her will remember her wit and humor and will be interested in learning that she will return to Plymouth, Tuesday, March 23, to speak at the spring luncheon which is to be held at the Masonic temple under the direction of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church.

Her subject will include facts and descriptions of her pleasant summer in Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland. Interest in these lands is aroused by quoting her enthusiastic words: "Letters of introduction took me into old Norwegian homes, charming and quaint, and to members of the diplomatic service in Finland, which gave me an entree to all sorts of unusual places. Finland is amazing. I spent days on the Norwegian fjords, in odd little inns tucked away in the mountains; crossed Sweden by the famous century old Gota Canal past castles and monasteries, many of which are seven centuries old; attended the Royal Grand Opera in Sweden; had weeks of the very modern life in these countries, and ran into communism, finance and industry in these lands of the midnight sun".

Spring decorations in pastel shades and flowers, a delicious luncheon and selected music will result in making the afternoon a very pleasant one. The ticket sale will be limited, and reservations should be made early by calling Mrs. W. Kaiser, Mrs. G. A. Smith, Mrs. M. Partridge, or Mrs. P. Campbell.

Barbers Busy As Prices Go Up

Have you noticed the short hair-cuts about town during the last few days? Well, it just seems that nearly every young man and nearly every one of the older men have had hair-cuts. Maybe it is all due to the fact that the barbers of Plymouth wanted to be fair with everyone, and maybe it's because spring is just around the corner and there isn't any necessity of wearing the hair long in order to keep the heads and necks warm.

But most folks do not think the approach of spring had anything to do with the sudden demand for hair-cuts. It seems that the barbers about town have been feeling the pinch that has come along with advancing prices. Everything they bought had gone up and barber prices in Plymouth were right where they were when the last barbers' war ended. Each week and each month they found it more difficult to make ends meet. So, in last week's issue of The Mail they advised everyone that beginning March 1, prices of hair-cuts and shaves would go up.

That announcement seems to have started the rush and Plymouth barbers, during the last two days of February, did more hair cutting than in any two other days in years. Some customers would glance in the looking glass and say, "Tain't quite short enough. Give her the clippers again".

That's why you doubtless have noticed so many white streaks just above the collar lines of a good portion of the male population of Plymouth during the past few days.

Now Plymouth barbers are wondering if the occasion ever arises again, if it wouldn't be better to raise the prices first and then tell about it afterwards.

It is interesting to note, however, that even the new price schedule does not bring local barbering prices up to the average level charged elsewhere.

There is not the slightest vestige of a tooth in the mouth of any bird now living. Prehistoric birds had teeth, but their added weight was a burden to the flying birds of later ages.

Governor Gone Again

This question—but this had been entirely disposed of at the extra session of the state legislature called by Governor Fitzgerald during the early part of December. In fact, the bill drafted at that time and enacted into law, so far, appears to be in need of no changing whatsoever.

Well, there is one "new deal" problem left, and that is welfare. What has Governor Murphy proposed about a new welfare program for Michigan?

Nothing at all—except to recommend to the legislature the adoption of bills that have been recommended by a part of the commission appointed by Governor Fitzgerald to study the welfare problem within the state.

But even Governor Fitzgerald's "study" commission was not entirely in accord on this welfare program that Governor Murphy has recommended be adopted. There are several outstanding Democratic leaders in both the house and senate who think clearly and probably know much more about the welfare situation than any member of Governor Fitzgerald's "study" commission that has been adopted by Governor Murphy for enactment into law who are not for such an unworkable and job creating set-up as Fitzgerald's commission proposed.

So you see that Governor Murphy hasn't even a welfare program, except the one he has taken from Governor Fitzgerald.

Outside of these three issues, two of which were entirely disposed of before he assumed office, Governor Murphy's "new deal" legislative program is no program at all.

To those close to the scene of action it is hard to understand why there is all this palaver over Governor Murphy and the "work" he is doing.

Except as pointed out in a previous legislative letter, he has done absolutely nothing for the state of Michigan since becoming governor.

He had no legislative program in the first place. He has none now. In fact, it appears that his knowledge of state affairs doesn't amount to so very much. The Plymouth Mail pointed out immediately after the delivery of his message, that some of the big newspapers referred to so forcefully as a "new deal" message, that it was merely a collection of expressions prepared to please his listeners.

No, it is not a popular thing these days to be critical of the Governor. In fact, one is treading on rather dangerous grounds when he pricks the "build-up" that has been going on for months in behalf of Michigan's governor who has been exceedingly successful in jumping from one public pay-roll to another.

But nevertheless, a careful analysis of the facts reveals these truths:

He came back to Lansing a few days last week and announced the appointment of a number of his personal friends to various state jobs.

He appointed Col. Moore, who held a job down in Washington, an old employe of his court in Detroit, as warden of Jackson prison to take the place of Warden Harry Jackson.

This was strictly a personal appointment on the part of the governor. No one had ever found any fault with the way Harry Jackson had conducted the affairs of Jackson prison.

When Harry Jackson was given this job years ago, he was in charge of the traffic bureau of the Detroit police department. He was regarded as one of the best officers on the Detroit force, a good organizer, a strict and determined executive and a high type of citizen.

He proved to be one of the best wardens that ever served Michigan. There have been no scandals at Jackson. There have been no riots there and the prison has been operated most efficiently.

As far as anyone knows, there is no objection to the Governor's appointment. Neither was there any objection to Harry Jackson, who was warden.

This appointment, like all the others, so far, made by the Governor, simply goes to show that he is no different than any other Governor. He wants his friends to get the good state jobs, in respect of how efficient the one holding the job might be. But it is a right of the Governor to do this and he should not be criticized for his appointments.

What he should be criticized for is going before the people and telling them that he is against the spoils system in government, that he believes in civil service and all of those things and then turning right around and doing the very things that he so strongly condemns.

Now comes along the third month of the legislative session. January has gone. February is over, and we are on our way into March. Years ago efforts were frequently made to complete all legislative work by the last of March. And where is the roving Governor of Michigan?

He says he needs a rest and has, therefore, gone to Florida for a while. He packed his grip last Friday night, after filling a few more public jobs, and started for the land of bathing beauties, dog races and slot machines. He says his doctor told him he needed a rest, that President Roosevelt told him he needed a rest and, therefore, he is going to take a rest.

"There are no legislative matters demanding my immediate attention anyway," he is reported to have said as he started away.

Now that the governor is going to be down in Florida for a while, where the slot machines jingle night and day, maybe it will recall to him some of his campaign speeches about slot machines in Michigan. He said during his campaign that slot machines were one thing he was going to rid Michigan of. It's a funny thing. In the beer gardens around western Wayne county there were no slot machines until after Murphy's election as Governor. Along about the first of the year there started a regular flood of these machines about here and now western Wayne county has slot machines everywhere, except in the communities where local officers refuse to permit them to operate.

There are some pretty nasty stories being circulated about the "pay-off" on these machines. There is one thing sure, no Democratic state or county officer, since the advent of Governor Murphy into office, has protested against the operation of these slot machines or has taken a single step to stop their operations.

Representative John Hamilton, a well known Democrat of Detroit, who introduced into the house some corrective gambling legislation, has already been threatened by mobsters for his activities in connection with gambling regulations.

Governor Murphy, who made much of this issue during his campaign, has, so far, sidestepped the issue wide and handsome. Maybe he will be able to get away with it, but there are those in the legislature who intend to force the issue and then one is sure to hear some more soft-spoken words.

Civil service is before the house. The senate juggled the bill a bit. What will happen to it in the house, no one knows as there is known to be much hostility to it among some of the younger Democrats.

Possibly one should not pass final judgment upon the Murphy administration in what are the early days of it. Certainly there has been nothing accomplished and the Governor has spent barely half a dozen days in Lansing. Maybe, in time, he will do all the wonderful things his political supporters and friends say he will do. Maybe he will get down to business after a while. But to date, there has never been such inactivity and so little accomplished in any administration as in the present one. Even the Green and Brucker administrations, which were of about the same type as the present one, did more in the first two months than has been accomplished by Governor Murphy. But again it might be said that to be perfectly fair with the Governor, one should await judgment until after the session of the legislature is over. So the writer urges that no one make up their mind definitely until later as to what the administration really counts for. An effort has been made to simply point out the facts as they are up until the present time.

Goes To Ann Arbor, His Car Is Stolen

While in Ann Arbor Tuesday afternoon, the automobile belonging to Charles H. Bennett of this city was stolen. He immediately reported it to the police and Wednesday he was advised by the Ann Arbor officers that his car had been recovered in Detroit. The police said they had information as to who they believed had taken the car.

Rocks Come Back To Beat Wayne

After losing a heartbreaking game to Dearborn two weeks ago, the Rocks came back to win the last game of the season from Wayne last Friday, 36 to 24. This was the second time Plymouth had beaten Wayne this year and marked Plymouth's eighth league victory.

This year Plymouth won eight and lost two and ended up in second place, last year Plymouth captured second place, winning 6 and losing 4.

Plymouth took the lead from the beginning and, was never behind the whole game although it was tied two times.

In the first part of the opening quarter neither team made any breaks but in the last half Plymouth forged ahead and at the end Plymouth had a twelve point lead, which, by the way, they had when the game ended. At certain points in the quarter it looked pretty rough but the referee did a grand job and kept the game from getting too rough.

The second quarter wasn't quite as full of points as was the first. Plymouth added three points and Wayne added only two. The teams retired for a rest at the half and a talk from their coaches with Plymouth leading 19 to 6.

The Rocks at the beginning of the second half began to miss their shots and Wayne pulled up but didn't threaten Plymouth's lead. Wayne and Plymouth played very rough basketball during this quarter. Plymouth and Wayne couldn't seem to keep the ball inside the court and consequently the ball was played from outside many times. The referee called a jump down under Wayne's basket and Egge jumped very high and tipped it into the basket for the score. Egge and Temple each played very rough and Egge had to be taken out because of the four fouls he had committed during this period.

The last quarter began and Trinka played very fine basketball until he was put out of the game on fouls. He made one field goal and was instrumental in keeping Wayne from scoring several times during his playing. One of the Wayne boys, a very good basket maker, made two field goals each from back of the center lines. Plymouth and Wayne played exceedingly rough all during the game but more so in the final quarter because they both wanted to win so badly. Plymouth finally won by the score of 36 to 24 with Wayne playing a fine game of basketball all through the game even if it was very rough.

GIRL RESERVES LEARN NEW SONGS

The senior Girl Reserves devoted their meeting last Thursday to a song meeting, at which they learned two clever songs introduced at the officers' training conference two weeks ago in Detroit. This club is raising funds by selling Goff's salt water taffy at 25 cents a pound.

Miss Tyler's junior group enjoyed another meeting of playing guessing games, while Miss Hearn's intermediate girls are completing their project of planning their own honor system. All three groups will soon begin plans for the mother and daughter banquet, scheduled for May 4.

STAMPING ROUND

M. Luttermoser tells me that her voice has at last returned to its normal pitch (she had laryngitis awhile back) and that once more she'll be able to enter amateur night contests and softly croon. "There's an Old Spinning Wheel". No more will the mice get into her locker and gnaw at her lunch; for she'll again be able to croon them away with the blues. While Billy Hill, the composer of the "Spinning Wheel" is still on this poor old wandering mind of mine I thought I might add that my old enemy, A. Hege likes Mr. Hill's "Wagonwheels". And something tells me that by the time this reaches print my favorite will be "The Last Round-up" instead of the Moonlight Sonata. And before I drop the subject of music and aimlessly wander on to something else, I might add that Jane Taylor and M. Luttermoser have a nutty, but nice, arrangement of the Toreador song from Carmen. They do it to best advantage in Miss Hearn's room, when Taylor washes the boards as a punishment for drawing sur-realistic fantasies on them while Miss Hearn keeps her eagle eyes on the hall. By the by, Miss Hearn tells me that another one of her Latin brainstorms (if therefore doesn't come from that "brilliant" third year group) thinks that Demosthenes is a beautiful building in Greece.

This department would like very much for some studious, alert, intelligent, and diligent scholar—for a scholar he needs be—to write a treatise on the subject of slang as used by Plymouth high students. (And boy, how they use it!) Albeit his report would be mighty voluminous, our scholar would never be so acutely alert as to have caught this sublime little example from the lips of Paul Thams. It's really grand. Fantasmagoric. Try as he might, your correspondent could not trace it. It means "ducky", "peachy", and the like.

"Et nunc," Ye Olde Stamper picks up his pen which he began in that illustrious masterpiece of his two weeks ago and goes to town crying, "More poems. More poems. More poems."

Thus far one poem has been submitted, a sorry state of affairs. I repeat my offer. I'll print any poem by any Plymouth high student—providing it's good. But now you'd like to know about that ONE poem, I'm sure. It's by that future West Pointer Monsieur Jacques De Laurier. To be brief, it wasn't good. However, here's a clue: It is entitled "In Memoriam" and is dedicated to his solid geometry teacher. If I get enough requests for it, and if my editor doesn't blue pencil it, I'll print it next week.

HOUSLEY HEADS PLAY DAY PROGRAM

Preparations are being made for a Play Day with the Wayne high school girls on Wednesday, March 24, at Plymouth. A lunch will be served at 5:00 and an entertainment committee, headed by Dorothy Roe with Madolyn Weller, Ellen Mulry and Patricia Braidel as her helpers, will provide entertainment during lunch time. Other committees are: Food, with Leona Mault as chairman, and Arlene Soth, Norma Coffin, Elaine Eifert, Marilyn Holton, Marian Shoebridge and Jean Dunham assisting; cleanup, Jennie Bassett, chairman, Sheila Daoust, Isabelle Nairn, and Elizabeth Stevens; reception, Charlotte Joffile, chairman, Shirley Sorenson, Ellen Nystrom, Mary Hood, Virginia Cline, Helen Jane Springer, Helen Norgrove, and Alyce McNulty; officials and equipment, Rose Neidospal, chairman, Bernice Lawson, Margaret Heintz and Ruth Kirkpatrick. Although Plymouth has competed with Northville each year in a Play Day for several years the Rock girls have had no chance to pit themselves against Wayne until now.

DECLAMATIONS CONTEST WHITTLED TO SIX

On Washington's birthday class eliminations in the declamations contest began. On that date entrants from Miss Killham's classes met and gave the judges such a hard job that they could be narrowed down only to four. These four were Dorothy Roe, Sheila Daoust, Martha Ingall, and Shirley Sorenson. It was decided that they would meet again March 1 in order that the number could be cut down to three, the number allowed to participate in eliminations with a trio from Miss Waldorf's classes.

And so they met again, Martha Ingall was excluded, and so Dorothy Roe with Woodrow Wilson's "Speech at Gettysburg", Sheila Daoust with "The Union Soldier", and Shirley Sorenson with "A Call to Action" were left to meet Miss Waldorf's representatives. Meanwhile the others were preparing, Tuesday, February 23, saw competitors from Miss Waldorf's classes meet. Again the judges were "on the spot". They could exclude only six, leaving an equal number. So Wilbur Chapman, Bruce Towle, Doris Buzzard, Carol Campbell, Betty Korb, and Leo Schmidt met the following Friday and fought it out. Leo Schmidt with "Valley of Bones", Carol Campbell, with "Labels", and Bruce Towle with "Supposed Speech of John Adams" were the survivors.

The aforesaid six will meet on March 3. The three remaining after this elimination will meet in an assembly March 17 to decide the school champion.

GIRL SCOUTS ENTERTAIN MOTHERS

Many a Girl Scout heaved a sigh of relief late Thursday afternoon. The Girl Scout tea was over and to all appearances it was a success.

The room was decorated by Belva Barnes and it looked very attractive. The color scheme was red, white, and blue in keeping with Washington's birthday. The table was especially attractive, covered by a white tablecloth trimmed with red hats with blue and red candies sharing each end with plates of red, white, and blue cupcakes.

The Girl Scout birthday cake was in the center of the table with the lovely bouquet of flowers given to the Scouts by Miss Lovell.

A large picture of George Washington adorned the side wall. At the front of the room was a small table which held the candles for the investiture ceremony.

Carol Campbell played while the guests were arriving. Mrs. Coward, and Mrs. Nichol honored the Scouts by acting as tea pourers for them.

After the refreshments Miss Killham gave a very interesting talk on Scouting. The five new troop members were invested, and the tea was closed by the Scouts singing "taps" in their friendship circle.

DO YOU THINK THAT—

Lib Hegge looks like Ann Harding?

Bill and Virginia are REALLY in love?

The nickel assemblies are worth it????

Miss Hearn should be more lenient with her Latin classes? (ouch!)

Pollyanna Wright is quiet??? (Think again)

Louie Jennings will ever be a "Man About Town"? (Picture his chickens with bow ties on)

Bob West will ever settle down? (The answer starts with N)

Jim McClain will ever be able to hold his head up first hour in the morning?

Bud Archer's hair will ever turn color? or do you?

Veronica Martini will ever forget her hair ribbon in the morning?

Jean Dunham will EVER make a good cook???

Ellen should live in Wayne—to be closer to Don?

Orlan sleeps well at night? Some girls should act so silly around the halls?

And some boys so rude? Belva Barnes and Kye Moon ought to shut up before some one shuts me up???

Yours truly,

CLASS NOTES

Home Economics II has completed the Child Study unit, relative to which it gave a "party for pre-school little guests" in the kindergarten room in Central grade school. It also made a very worth while visit to the "Children's Aid Home".

The eighth grade foods classes prepared dishes for Washington's birthday, including original sandwiches, salads, and desserts. Pearl Denton and Marion Coward were responsible for the centerpieces.

Church News

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH—Loya Sutherland, minister. "If every member of my church were just like me, what kind of a church would my church be?" Were you in church last Sunday? Supposing every member of our churches had done just as some did do, how long would we have churches in Plymouth? It's time for a lot of folks to begin thinking about this very matter. Morning worship service is at 10:00 o'clock. Sermon subject, "Comfort for the Sad and Lonely." "Because I live, ye shall live also," said the Christ, Bible school at 11:15. At 6:00 o'clock our young people continue their discussion of the Christian and amusements. The pastor will conduct an open forum at the close of this discussion, 7:00. Evening evangelistic service—remember we are not closed on Sunday night—must be that all our churches shall be closed on the evening of the Lord's day? We continue our studies in the book of Ephesians next Wednesday evening. Be sure and bring your bible to church. The pastor was called away unexpectedly for over last Sunday to conduct the funeral of a high school boy of 17, who was converted in our work six years ago.

CHURCH OF GOD—788 Penniman avenue. Sunday, Bible school 10 a.m. Morning worship, 11 a.m. Young Peoples' meeting, 6:30 p.m. Evangelistic service, 7:45 p.m. Mid-week prayer meeting, Thursday, 7:45 p.m. A hearty welcome awaits you at the Church of God. Pastor, Rev. E. L. Harris, 38005 Ford road. (Not. Pentecostal).

NAZARENE CHURCH—Robert A. North, pastor. Bible school, 10:00. Morning worship, 11:15. Young people, 6:30. Evening service, 7:30. Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30. You will enjoy studying the Book of Genesis with us in our prayer meeting Wednesday night. Study the account of the flood in the sixth and seventh chapters. Also bring your prayer requests along with you. Remember James says "The fervent effectual prayer of a righteous man availeth much." (James 5: 16). Sunday morning the pastor's subject will be "Making Christ Preeminent". Come and worship with us and we will do thee good. 280 N. Main street.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST—Services Saturday afternoon at Jewell-Blach hall. Sabbath school 2 p.m. Bible school following. Prayer service, Tuesday evening, 8:00 p.m. at Jewell-Blach hall. Testimony study every Friday evening at various homes.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL church—P. Ray Norton, pastor. 10:00 a.m. morning worship, 11:30 a.m. Sunday school, 6:30 p.m. Epworth league, 7:30 p.m. evening worship. The Woman's Missionary society will meet at the home of Mrs. Bredin at 866 Ross street, Wednesday. The Sunday school board meets at church Monday night at 7:30. The evening service continues with another installment of the moving picture of Jesus' life, two reels this time.

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH—Rosedale Gardens. Masses: Sundays 8:00 and 11:00 a.m. Holy Days 7:30 and 9:00 a.m. Week day, 8:00 a.m. Confessions before each Mass. Catechism class after first Mass. Benediction after second Mass. Baptism by appointment.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—455 South Main street. Order of services: Preaching, Sunday, 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Wednesday, prayer and praise worship, 7:30 p.m.; Friday, Young Peoples' Fellowship, 7:30 p.m. You are cordially invited to make your church home with us. Christ is preached at Calvary; The Apostle Paul writes: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." (Acts 16: 31). Man seems to think when God speaks to him to become a "born-again" Christian; to give his life to God, that He wants to rob it; to separate it from the objects of its love; to make it a hard, austere, joyless life. There was never a greater mistake. God wants your life to fill, enrich, enliven and return to you as a sacred trust, to be lived for His kingdom and His glory. Give your life to God, and He will give it back to you to be henceforth such a life as you never knew before. To give it to God seems like casting it away, throwing it to a place of absolute loss. But, oh, you are mistaken; For when you cast it forth, it falls into the sea of God's love and God's will for your life. Give your life to God, and however humble, however insignificant it may seem to you, God will surely use it for His glory. (A. E. B.)

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL church—Harvey and Maple streets. Morning prayer and sermon, 10 a.m. Church school, 11:15 a.m. Children's Lenten services every Monday during Lent at 4 o'clock in the church house under the direction of Miss Greedus. Ladies Guild will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. James Henry, 705 Riverside on Thursday, March 11, at 2 o'clock.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church—Walter Nichol, pastor. Services at Masonic temple, 10 a.m., worship, 11:30 a.m. Sunday school, 6:30 p.m., young people, Twenty young people from Royal Oak Presbyterian church visited Plymouth Sunday evening last and shared in the meeting of the Plymouth Presbyterian group. A fine worship service was conducted by Phyllis Stewart in which Jewell Starkweather read an appropriate poem and Edith Mettel sang a solo. Mr. Dykhouse then addressed the assembly on "The Challenge of Today to Youth". The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held on Wednesday, March 10, at 2:30 p.m. at the Masonic temple. Reports of the year's work will be presented, officers for the next year elected and plans for the next year discussed. The church year ends March 31. Amid all the claims which present themselves, do not forget that the current budget of your church needs your support. One month is left in which to contribute to the 1936-37 budget.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL Lutheran church, Livonia Center. O. J. Peters, pastor. Services in English on Sunday, March 7, English Lenten services every Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Charles Daniels of Detroit will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Crosby and Knapp, and "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan. His accompanist is Mrs. Belford of the Nardin Park M. E. church choir. Bible school, 11:45 a.m. "Life Here and Hereafter Through Christ", John 14: 1-15. Memory verse: "I am the way, the truth and the life: No man cometh unto the Father but by me." John 14: 6. Hymn-sing at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday evening with Virginia Lewis as speaker. "Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 7. Among the Bible citations is the following (Gen. 1: 26): "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth." Correlative passages to be read from the "Christian Science" textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 516): "Man and woman as co-existent and eternal with God forever reflect, in glorified quality, the infinite Father-Mother God."

Farmers To Meet Here To Talk Of Irrigation

Meeting To Be Held At City Hall Next Week Friday

Irrigation likely will pay dividends on good cash crops even in years of comparatively normal rainfall in Michigan, a discovery that has led to setting the date of March 12 for a meeting to inform farmers of this county, says E. T. Besemer, agricultural agent for Wayne county.

George Amundson, agricultural engineer in the Extension division service at Michigan State college, will conduct the meeting which will be held at the city hall, Plymouth beginning at 2:00 p.m.

Truck crops, fruits, garden patches, potatoes and orchards in 1936 all bear witness in various parts of the state to the dollar value of supplying additional moisture for crops during critical growing periods when rainfall did not match requirements.

Growing crops, says Amundson, seem to need at least an inch of water each week during the summer months, and two inches may be even more productive. The inch of water for an acre of land means a total of about 30,000 gallons or a flow of 50 gallons a minute for 10 hours.

There are many shallow wells, creeks, lakes and rivers in the state offering a supply of water from which irrigation can be applied to fields. Even some of the deep wells in the state will supply sufficient water to quench crops on small acreages.

Michigan has many natural water resources, says Amundson. The state has capable crop growers and it has markets ready to absorb crops at a price. Although this is not an arid state, it seems likely that even in years of normal rainfall, in his opinion, there are certain crops that will yield sufficient extra quality and volume to repay the cost of equipment, fuel and labor for irrigation.

Play-Offs Will Soon Start

Basketball games scheduled for Monday and Tuesday nights in the Community Basketball league will wind up the original schedule. It has been a hard fought series from the first. Schrader's still have a chance of entering the play-off if they win both of their games. Should Wilson win the next contest, the team will retain fourth place.

The schedule for the play-off and the rules applying to them will be published in next week's issue of The Plymouth Mail. The dates will be March 15, 16, 22, 23, and 24, and if necessary, the 25th.

YOUNGEST U. S. JUDGE

A photograph of Alfred P. Murrach of Oklahoma City, who has been named federal district judge in Oklahoma by President Roosevelt. The designation of Murrach, who is only thirty-three, is seen as the first step toward rejuvenation of the federal judiciary. If the United States senate confirms the appointment, Murrach will be the youngest judge on the federal bench.

"Save The Soil" Meeting Here

Recently 1,000 farmers were asked the question, "Are the crop yields in your community averaging higher or lower over the past fifty years?" The answer in 80 per cent of the cases was that yields are lower.

This is alarming when one considers that today the yields should be higher because the present day farmer has better seed, better machinery, control of insects and diseases on crops and the use of commercial fertilizer. What will the productivity of Michigan soils be after another fifty years.

Farmers are awakening to the fact that on many farms advance in soil management has not kept pace with advance that has been made in the other branches of farm management and farming methods.

The Federal Agricultural Conservation program pays cash to the farmer for carrying out and maintaining practices which will build back fertility into the soil and conserve present fertility. A series of meetings will be held in Wayne county to discuss the best use of this payment and the better application of soil building practices considering the needs of farmers' own soil.

Among these soil building practices are:

1. Growing alfalfa, sweet clover and other soil building legumes.
2. Control of erosion by wind and water.
3. Use of limestone and marl.
4. Use of commercial fertilizer.
5. Use of cover crops.

These methods will be discussed from the standpoint of meeting the needs of the individual farm and also as methods of receiving maximum cash payments. Following is the schedule of these meetings:

March 15—2:00 p.m. Plymouth high school, agricultural room.
7:30 p.m. Wayne high school.

March 16—10:00 a.m. Belleville high school, agricultural room; 2:00 p.m. Peoples State bank (downstairs) New Boston; 7:30 p.m. Flat Rock high school.

Ford Home Almanac For 1937 Is Out Filled With Interesting Data

Brimful of useful facts and information and other material of human interest, the Ford Home Almanac for 1937 goes to the homes of the United States this week distributed free by dealers of the Ford Motor company.

Readers of the booklet will find that, in addition to the time of sunrise and set, adjusted to each latitude; moon phases, eclipses and the usual other information given in almanacs, the Ford Home Almanac is replete with interesting reading material dealing with ancient and modern prophecies, some of which shaped the destiny of different countries; sea mysteries that generations of research have not solved and other miscellany.

There are also short articles dealing with the views of Henry Ford on various subjects, as well as an article showing in detail what he has done with the $13,000,000,000 which the public has paid for Ford cars and trucks since the Ford Motor company began business in 1903. Most interesting are the facts that, of this vast sum, the Ford Motor company retained for itself but 6.4 cents out of every dollar, spending the remainder, totaling nearly $12,500,000,000 for wages, taxes and materials.

While such information about one of the modern world's greatest industries will be found interesting by students, teachers and economists, the housewife and mother will also find the little book handy because of the reliable information it brings for the first aid treatments in many different kinds of emergencies, hints for the kitchen and care of the garden and a well planned garden chart. The motorist planning a trip to any part of the United States will find in the almanac a chart giving accurate mileages between important cities.

There are approximately 20,000 private slaughter houses in England and Wales.

Plymouth BOY SCOUT NEWS

A most enjoyable event took place last Wednesday at the Wayne County Training school. The occasion was the anniversary party of N-2, N-3, and N-4, and the party was under the direction of Scout "Mother" Trail. A well staged entertainment which included a play entitled "Mac's Decision" and the oath in tableau was presented in the auditorium. After the program the party was continued in the club rooms where a seemingly unlimited amount of sandwiches, cookies, coffee and milk were to be had. Every one had a good time and Mrs. Trail is to be congratulated for such a successful affair.

The commissioner is sorry that more leaders are not taking advantage of the "University of Scouting" now in progress at Central high school in Detroit. Two Plymouth district men are in the "Troop Unit Camping" course.

For the latter part of March a Cub Pack exhibit is being planned. All parents and friends of Cub Pack 620 will be invited to see the handicraft and other evidences of Cub advancement. More definite announcement of this will come later.

Again we call the attention of our communities to the fact that the Scouts are a service organization. We wait chances to do "civic service".

And in this connection, let no Scout forget that part of his job—"to help other people at all times"—is to "Do a Good Turn Daily".

The Cubs were presented their Pack numerals and stripes at their regular meeting last Friday night. Each Den is working on a program of its own for a display of achievement to be presented at the next Pack meeting. In order that the Cubs may be home earlier after their meetings, the hour has been changed from 7:00 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Cub Harold Young acted as Den Chief for his Den at the last meeting.

Because there are now over 50 Cubs in Pack 620, it is necessary to close the doors of admission for a time. Cub Master E. L. Henry and his assistants have their hands more than full. They could use more help to great advantage.

Flock Of Sea Gulls At Newburg

Residents near Newburg lake, during the past few days, have been watching with more than ordinary interest a big flock of sea gulls that has been flying about the place. The lake is partly covered with ice and at times as many as 200 of the sea gulls have been walking and flying about.

Last summer there was witnessed on the Plymouth lake just north of town, a flock of small sea gulls. They remained about here for a number of days. But this is the first time a flock of the big variety of sea gulls, common to the northern end of the Great Lakes, has ever been seen about here.

Not Much Snow In State This Year

Although in some places precipitation has been heavy, northern Michigan generally hasn't as much snow as last year.

Snow gauges established at various parts of the northern counties by conservation authorities to obtain data that can be correlated with the movements of deer, revealed that on February 9 part of the upper peninsula were from six to 14 inches below the 1936 snow depths.

At Cusino during the middle of February 1936, the gauges showed three and one-half feet of snow on the level; at the same time this year they showed two feet, two-tenths inches of snow.

Deer park on Lake Superior north of Newburg had 32 feet of snow last year; this year's reading was 2.6 feet. On Drummond island there is much less snow this year than last and in the northern counties of the lower peninsula there is little or no snow compared with from one to two feet at some places in 1936.

Although Cavalcade, champion 3 year old of 1934, and High Quest, 2 year old winner of the Preakness the same year, raced together, High Quest was the first to be retired to the stud—in 1935. Cavalcade will make his stud debut this year.

Finder Returns Lost Money

Out at the corner of Ford and Canton Center roads, E. E. Van-Meter runs a gas station. Last Sunday was an unusually busy day for him. There was lots of traffic and lots of business.

After he had serviced a number of cars late in the afternoon, he happened to look at the ground near one of the pumps, and saw a roll of bills. At first he thought possibly he had accidentally dropped some of the money out of his own pocket.

But not recalling having any bills in a roll, he counted it and found that there were $244 in bills and an uncashed check. Someone who had called to buy gas had dropped the money.

At the first opportunity he tried to locate one of the persons whose name was on the check. Bright and early Monday morning he called at their home in Plymouth and much to the delight of the rightful owner, the full amount of the money lost Sunday was returned. The owner had no idea of how or when he had lost the money. So you see, there are a lot of honest folks left in this old world yet.

Slight Quake Is Felt Here

Wednesday forenoon's earthquake reported in this part of the country was plainly felt in Plymouth by a number of local residents. Some reported that dishes rattled, others that their doors sounded as though someone was trying to open them.

At the home of Mrs. Homer Burton, 264 North Harvey street, who is spending the winter in Florida, Mrs. Burton's mother and sister, Mrs. Ella Flagg and Miss Jennie Flagg, distinctly felt the shock. They are here from Saranac Lake, New York, spending the winter while Mrs. Burton is away.

A new furnace had been recently installed in the house and the disturbance caused the tight fitting door of the furnace to fly open.

As far as can be found out, there was no damage reported here or elsewhere in the state.

Old Program Recalls Play Given 58 Years Ago This Week

The other day while looking over some old papers, E. L. Kinyon, one of Plymouth's best known pioneer citizens, happened to find a program of a play in which he took part 58 years ago Thursday of this week up at Caro in the Thumb district. Besides Mr. Kinyon, there are only two other persons now living who took part in the play. One is Fred Alexander, well known organist and orchestra leader in Ypsilanti, and the other is Mrs. E. K. West.

What was the play? "East Lynne", of course. The program announced that "The Caro Opera House Dramatic company will play the Great Sensational Drama" at the Caro Opera House on Tuesday evening, March 4, 1879. Then it gave the names of the actors and actresses, with a brief synopsis of the five acts of the play.

Old timers about here recall that Mr. Kinyon was one of the outstanding among amateur actors. He took part in nearly all events of this character.

Pine Tree Farm Dog in Shows

The Boston Terrier, Pine Tree Flash Again, owned by W. H. Dean of Pine Tree Farm, Stark road, will be shown at the Detroit Dog show this week-end. This young dog, bred by Mr. Dean, is sired by the wonderful international Champion Flash Again, a dog valued at $2500. His son, Pine Tree Flash Again, is already a winner in two prominent shows, and will also be exhibited at the Cleveland show next week. Mrs. Dean will be the judge of Boston at the Cincinnati show on March 21 and 22. She is the only woman in Michigan to hold American Kennel club and Canadian Kennel club judge licenses and is considered a very high authority on this breed. She is the only woman ever brought back the third time to judge Toronto shows. Mr. Dean owned the first Boston terrier champion in Michigan and considers Pine Tree Flash Again to be one of the top notchers of the breed in the country.
