Everything In Readiness For Great Community Hallow'een Party To Be Given For Children Saturday Eve

Many Prizes To Be Awarded

Every Boy And Girl Invited To Be Present At Affair

Everything is ready for the big community Hallow'een party for all of Plymouth's kiddies Saturday night. Local merchants and civic organizations have joined hands to make the affair a huge success and indications are that it will be an evening of real fun for everyone who participates.

There are 17 grand prizes displayed in the window of the Plymouth United Savings bank that will be given away to the kiddies in the parade. Judges for the awarding of the prizes will be Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mrs. John Blom, Mrs. John Beckenstaf, Glenn Jewell, and Andrew Dunn. The prizes and their donors are:

For the group from nine to twelve—Boy, soft ball and glove, given by Bill's Market; girl, scarf and gloves, given by Bob Joffile.

By vehicle is meant any kind of bicycle, dog, wagon, pony, etc. The boy dressed in a girl's costume will be judged as a girl; the girl in a boy's costume will be judged as a boy. The judges will view the parade from at least three points so the children are urged to keep in line until the parade disbands for facility in judging.

The program will start with the formation of a big parade in which every boy and girl is invited to take part. Children are urged to be at the corner of Starkweather and Liberty streets at 7:00 o'clock sharp, Saturday evening, so there will be no delay in starting the parade. The line of march will be down Main street around Kellogg park, then down Union street to the Daisy parking lot. Moving pictures will be shown at the lot through the courtesy of Harry Lush of the Penniman-Alton theatre and The Kentucky Hill Billies will present several acts of entertainment.

The evening will end with the serving of refreshments to all children who attend.
The executive committee consists of C. L. Bowdler, chairman; G. W. Baker, Mrs. Sidney Strong, Henry Hondorp, Mrs. Vaughan Smith and Sidney Strong. The finance committee is made up of Arno Thompson, Harry Hunter and Harry Mumby.

Mrs. Donald Sutherland was hostess at a tea Friday afternoon entertaining several guests. The tea table was lovely with its covering of lace centered with an artistic arrangement of pink and white beehives, roses, and snapdragons, with places marked for Mrs. George A. Smith, Mrs. George S. Burr, Mrs. Roy R. Parsons, Mrs. Russell A. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Warren B. Lombard, Mrs. Wynne W. Hughes, Mrs. Carl F. Jimmy, Mrs. Ted Foster, Mrs. E. W. Thomas, Mrs. Harold Hamill and Mrs. Florence Welber.

PROCLAMATION By The Mayor

To The Boys And Girls of Plymouth.

It becomes a pleasure for your mayor to advise you that the civic committees working hard to provide you with a real, worthwhile Hallow'een party on Saturday evening of this week, have completed all plans for the occasion. We are doing this to provide you with all the happiness and joy you ordinarily expect to have at Hallow'een time. But we want you to have that good time without doing some of the little thoughtless things children sometimes do at Hallow'een time which cause annoyance to older people. Each and every one of you is invited to take part. If some of your little friends do not happen to know all about it, will you tell them? They will be welcome, more than welcome. The business men and civic leaders of Plymouth are doing this for you. In just years you have been good children and Plymouth has gone through Hallow'een periods with few if any windows soaped or damaged of any kind done. Of course you know we appreciate it. Read all the details about Saturday night's party in this issue of The Plymouth Mail, and come prepared to have a good time.

Respectfully,
HENRY HONDORP,
Mayor.

Discuss Grade Separation Plans For City

Problem Only Informally Talked Tuesday Eve

Plymouth's twelve year discussion of grade separation somewhere within the city under the Pere Marquette tracks for the purpose of eliminating traffic dangers and delays between the north and south sides of the city, will probably continue to be discussed for another 12 years from the attitude expressed at a meeting called Tuesday night by Mayor Henry Hondorp to hear the results of a survey made by the Wayne county road engineers. While sentiment expressed at the meeting was only by those who were directly interested in the project because of property interests, still it was evident that no one favored a grade separation at Blanche street and the costs of a separation on Main street was regarded as prohibitive because of property damages.

There was some discussion of the separation being recommended for Ann Arbor Trail, but the engineers in their report stated that if a separation was built at this point, it would be necessary to provide for the Mill street intersection but a short distance east of the Pere Marquette tracks.

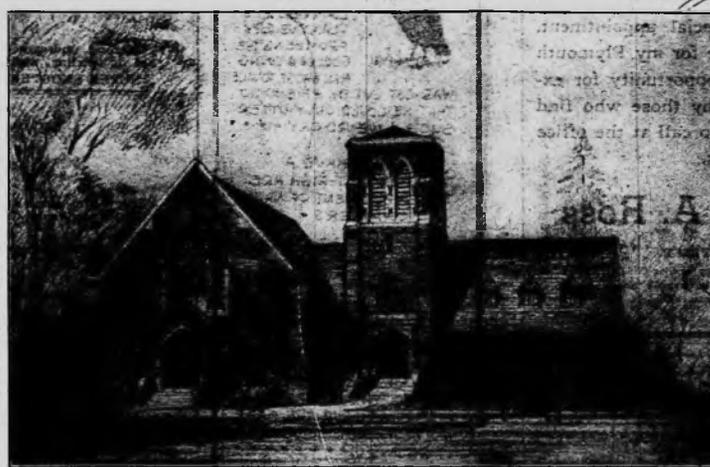

Because the city officials do not have immediately available information as to what portion of the expense would be born by the county, state and railroad, if a separation was built anywhere within the city Mayor Henry Hondorp stated that he would try and secure this data to be presented at some future meeting.

There was some discussion of the Farmer street location, but because of the fact that the entire burden of a separation at this point would have to be born by the taxpayers of the city, no one advocated this street as the possible site of a separation.

City Manager Clarence Elliott has returned from New Orleans where he attended the annual convention of the National City Managers' association. Mr. Elliott states that the convention was one of the most interesting conventions he has ever attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Burgett will spend Friday and Saturday with the former's sister in Deckerville.

First Service in New Presbyterian Church To Take Place Sunday Morning, Dec. 21

Dedication Program To Continue Over Several Weeks

Beginning Sunday morning, November 21, members of the Presbyterian church of Plymouth will inaugurate dedication services for the new church that will continue over a period of several weeks.

On Sunday morning, November 21, states Rev. Walter Nichol, all of the members and friends of the church will meet at the Masonic Temple at 10:00 o'clock, where there will be conducted a brief service in the structure that has housed the congregation since their edifice was destroyed by fire nearly two years ago.

Following this brief service in the Temple, the entire church congregation, including children of the Sunday school, will march in a body to the new church.

When they reach the new structure, the doors of the church will be swung open to admit the congregation. No one will be able to gain entrance to the church previous to this part of the program that has been outlined for the dedication services.

The formal opening services in the new church that morning will be brief, to be followed by the dedication sermon on Sunday, November 28.

On Sunday December 5 will take place the dedication of the windows and at the vesper services at 4:30 o'clock on the same date, the organ that has been given to the congregation will be formally dedicated.

On December 12 will take place the Communion services and the final dedication program for what is generally believed to be Michigan's most beautiful church in a community of this size.

Woman's Club To Meet Next Friday

The next meeting of the Woman's club of Plymouth, will be held in the Hotel Mayflower, at 2:15 p.m., sharp, Friday, November 5. Mrs. Clara W. Wolbert, superintendent of Williams House, Inc., of Detroit, will be the guest speaker, topic: "Out of the Dark."

This will be guest day, each member having the privilege of inviting one guest. Tea will be served. Mrs. Ray Johns is the program chairman and Mrs. Paul Nutting tea chairman. Music will be furnished by high school students during the tea.

High Debaters Win The First

Plymouth's new high school debating team won its first clash in the 1937-38 series of debates when it defeated Dearborn high school Wednesday afternoon. The debate took place in the Plymouth high school auditorium, with Prof. Harold B. Allen of the University of Michigan acting as judge. Members of the Plymouth debating team are Doris Bussard, Marilyn Holton and Marvin Hawk. James Lature, who has successfully coached the previous Plymouth debating winners, is hopeful that he may be as successful this year as in the past, although he has an entirely new debating team.

Duncan Moore Tells Rotarians Of Rapid Progress Made By Radio

WJR Commentator Guest of Club At Last Meeting

Duncan Moore, prominent radio news commentator of station WJR in Detroit, proved a most interesting talker when he addressed members of the Plymouth Rotary club at their regular meeting last Friday, noon in the Mayflower hotel, brought to Plymouth by Chairman Blake Gillies of the program committee. Mr. Moore told the Rotarians many interesting things about the radio business, its operations and its improvements.

He was emphatic in his declaration that the usefulness and benefits of radio will remain great just so long as it is kept free from propaganda.

He cited Italy and Germany as places where radio is given over almost entirely to propaganda purposes. As one of the most interesting developments in radio progress, Mr. Moore told of the "mike on the prow" which takes the radio to the scene of any important news event and enables radio reports to be made direct to the millions of listeners.

This has been possible, due to the fact that our engineers have been able to develop moveable short wave transmitters," he said.

WJR listeners in this part of Michigan have been greatly interested in the Saturday night "Radio Soap Box" feature which opens the way to free discussions over the air by any one having some idea they believe worth giving to the public.

"I believe this is one of the most important steps that has been taken in recent radio progress," stated Mr. Moore. "Out of it we hope to develop something worth while for the public, something that will contribute a new idea towards improving economic conditions. This feature goes on at 10:45 every Saturday night and each person who desires to speak over the radio is allotted three minutes," he said.

He pointed out the fact that the fear on the part of some big city newspapers a few years back that the radio might invade their field of usefulness had been proven erroneous.

"Instead, the radio has proven a benefit to newspapers," he added.

Mr. Moore was one of the most interesting speakers the Plymouth Rotary club has had in some time. He has had much to do in building up the popularity of WJR in this part of the country. His unique, humane and intensely interesting way of broadcasting has provided that "different" feature on the radio so popular with listeners.

Training School Wage Raise To Help Plymouth

Nearly $75,000 Added To Income Of School Workers

Something like $75,000 in additional wage and salary payments will come into this vicinity as the result of the approval given by the Wayne county board of auditors to recommendations made by Dr. Robert Haskell, superintendent of the Wayne County Training school for increases totalling to this amount. Dr. Haskell states that the wage increase will be 10 percent for employes and workers receiving less than $1800 per year and it will be about 3 percent for those who receive over $1800 per year.

He has previously recommended these increases, but the auditors have held up approval until this year, when the board of supervisors decided on an increased tax levy in Wayne county to pay for this and other raises granted by the auditors.

Building Started Barely Six Weeks Ago Completed And Plant Is Operating

Six weeks ago the old Sturges building on Mill street was just another empty building, but today it is the home of one of Plymouth's busiest industries, The Precision Products company. There are at present 64 men at work on the parts the company produces and another 20 will be added as soon as machinery is ready for them to use.

No actual manufacturing is done at Plymouth, raw castings being shipped here from the plants of the Precision Casting company at Syracuse, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio. In Plymouth the buffing, plating, polishing and painting and lacquering are done to make the parts ready for delivery to automobile manufacturers.

The plant, designed by William Maher, president of the company, who has been in the business since 1923, is one of the most modern in the country and it houses a plating plant with high production capacity. This part of the plant is incidentally the largest of its kind in this section of the United States owned by an independent company.

The company has a capacity of producing about two and one-half million pieces in a year and at the present time is producing one and a half million.

The products that the company finishes from raw casting include automobile name plates, radiator emblems, radio control plates, trunk emblems and radiator ornaments. The plant is so designed that castings enter and leave from the same shipping entrance the parts making a complete circle of the building as they are finished. There are 10,000 square feet devoted entirely to production of these articles.

The basement of the building contains a storage vault, a maintenance work room, lavatories and showers for the men. Daily, the products of this company can be seen on the streets of Plymouth, adding color and style to the new automotive models that are being introduced. A display of some of the items produced here in Plymouth is in the window of The Plymouth Mail and it is interesting to see the products and the processes of Plymouth's newest industry.

Mr. Maher, according to leaders in the automobile parts industry, was instrumental in the development of automobile grill castings, which has in the recent few years become an industry allied to the automobile manufacturing which totals for the companies making the parts four or five million dollars per year.

He is also sales engineer for the Precision Castings company, a concern that makes all kinds of castings for washing machines, radios, automobiles, and other similar products. This company has plants located in Syracuse, New York; Fayetteville, New York and Cleveland, Ohio. He has been a resident of Detroit for many years and is one of the well known business leaders of that city.

Associated with Mr. Maher in the Plymouth offices are John Morrison and George Aronan. Mr. Morrison, who is secretary of the company, is a resident of Detroit and has been associated with the company since 1933. Mr. Aronan, of the Syracuse plant of the Precision Casting company, now has charge of the technical production for the Plymouth organization. He is a graduate chemist of the University of Michigan and has had 15 years experience in plate finishing.

NOT THE POLITICIANS.

There has been a lot of talk during recent months about who is responsible for the enactment of old age pension legislation. It seems that there are a lot of Democrats who want to take credit for it and some Republicans too. It is true, of course, that it was a Michigan Republican legislature which first enacted the old age pension plan and they gave to Michigan the credit and distinction of being the first state in the union to try and do something worthwhile for the people who have reached old age without sufficient funds to provide for their needs. But this legislation was advocated originally and sponsored solely by the Eagles fraternal organization. To the members of this lodge, and its officers can go entire credit for this important advanced step in social legislation. If some political office holder or some candidate for office comes along and tells you that HE did it, just remember that to the fraternal order of Eagles belongs all the credit. The Mail does not have to know whether there is a member of this lodge in Plymouth but if there should be one or more here, take off your hat to them because to them should go all the honors some politicians are now trying to steal.

BAD "BREAKS".

Some newspaper writer over in Lansing a while back made some mention of "bad breaks" that had come to Leon Case, secretary of state, which have resulted in unfavorable publicity for him. Possibly, but there is this about it, Mr. Case seems to be about the only public official who is putting forth any effort to cut the costs of his department. When the present administration took over the reigns of government all kinds of demands were made upon Secretary Case by his Democratic associates to take care of the terrific patronage demand that could not be immediately met in other departments. He did so under protest. Now that he is trying to relieve himself from some of the unnecessary patronage forced upon him, there are those who stand ready to criticize and condemn him. Secretary Case is entitled to credit for at least trying to do the thing that the taxpayers of Michigan are now most interested in, and that is cutting unnecessary state expenses. From all one can find out, he is about the only state official who is trying to do it.

MERELY A SUGGESTION.

Maybe it is too late, as some of the work has already been done, but we wonder if an additional improved appearance could not be brought about if the curb line on the north side of the new Presbyterian church could not be swung out further away from the structure? Even though some 20 or 25 feet should be taken off from the present street, the thoroughfare would be a much wider one than are most streets—and it would add greatly not only to the general appearance of that immediate locality, but would make more attractive the church grounds which are soon to be landscaped. The building of the parkway drive that will serve as Church street from Main to the Presbyterian church, the removal of the Presbyterian manse to its new location, the grading of the old manse site and the new Presbyterian church is resulting in the creation of one of the most attractive community centers in Michigan. Our suggestion is made merely for the purpose of possibly adding to the splendid work that has already been done. The Mail believes that the city commission would please a lot of people if it would give this matter additional consideration.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

IF LONDON KEEPS ON, YES.

"London Plays Roosevelt," reads press dispatch in daily papers. Well, in the last campaign, this same Landon—of sunflower fame—Hoover, who maintained "prosperity is just around the corner," Vandenberg, with his reproduced phonographic records, and Al Smith who hasn't yet stopped walking, flayed him, and still he carried 46 out of 48 of the larger states of the union. Must be they are trying to make his election unanimous in 1940.—Charles Seed in The Rochester Clarion.

ABOUT FATHER COUGHLIN.

The Rev. Father Charles Coughlin has himself to blame for being censured by Archbishop Mooney. Had he measured his words and used a degree of caution when assailing the nation's chief executive, his millions of friends would still spend the Sunday afternoon hour listening to his melodious voice in the golden hour. I have always admired Father Coughlin for his loyalty to his church authorities which makes it harder for many of us to understand why he could be so rude to Roosevelt and so completely submissive to the church dignitaries. But I am one of the ten million who want to hear him again discuss the issues of the day—so eloquently, so forcefully, so intelligently.—John Pope in The Grandville Star.

HITTING THE NAIL SQUARELY ON THE HEAD.

If you blindly determined to make two plus two equal five, and another tried to make it equal three, both of you would fight unceasingly, and never be right. It seems to us that capital and labor, in trying to find the correct answer, are both working with wrong principles; capital tries to preserve itself, of course; labor wants more of what it produces, and rightly so. The real trouble lies in the fact that both encourage and tolerate a system of taxation that penalizes each; too much of the wages due labor go to those in our world who do nothing, of themselves, to get the unearned increment that they enjoy. For further information we suggest that you read Henry George's "Progress and Poverty." The local public library has copies available.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

WHAT A DEMOCRATIC EDITOR SAYS.

If we are correctly informed the Wagner law, or some ruling under it, provides for re-hiring all striking employees after the strike is settled. It is reported that in order to avoid taking back the striking employees at the Horner factory at Eaton Rapids after they had kept the plant shut down for months, and finally were taken into court, and compelled to disband by habeas corpus, the factory has opened up under new management. If the law requires the reinstatement of such unworthy employees it is all wrong. The costs should go with the judgment as in civil court cases. If the employees are right in their demands they should be reinstated; if not they should expect to have to look for work elsewhere.—H. J. Richardson in The Augusta Beacon.

GOVERNOR'S MUSKOGON ADDRESS NOT POPULAR.

Governor Murphy's address at Muskogon before the Young Democrats of Michigan will meet with something less than universal approval from the members of his party. It was not the kind of a speech party leaders like to hear. The Governor ignored the existence of a Republican party. He mentioned no Republican politician, either by name or inference. He issued no clarion calls for united Democratic front against the common enemy. He made no pleas for harmony or for loyalty to party. In fact, he left unsaid most of the things that a political orator would be expected to say, and said some things that must have saddened the wheel horses of Democracy. When he spoke of those "obsessed by the notion that patronage and other forms of political domination are the keys to party strength," the ears of members of Democratic legislatures must have been blazing.—H. L. Trexler in The Wakefield News.

The Wisdom of Nature

The one great lesson men should learn from Nature is that cooperation brings success! We know that rain and sunshine work together To fill the world with health and happiness. Consistently the elements contribute Their service for the benefit of man— Each force, though great or small may be its duty, Does well its part in God's unflinching plan.

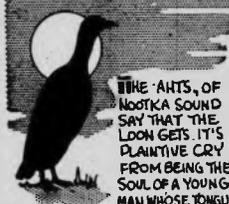

The songs of birds, the colorings of flowers, The blush of morning and the kiss of night— These all combine to form the charm of Springtime, And so caress our spirits with delight. Without the aid of Winter's rest, all Nature Would soon become exhausted and decay; Just so does darkness give new strength and vigor And fit creation for another day.

Let us, then, borrow wisdom from the seasons, And knowledge that shall guide us as we go Along the busy path of life's endeavor. Let us remember that we all may know Success when each is faithful in his service, And mindful of the needs of other men; For what we give in true cooperation Will surely come to bless our lives again.

Price Attends Pontiac Banquet

Low L. Price, Plymouth district manager of the Consumers Power company and E. R. Eaton, representing the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, due to the absence of President Stewart Dodge from the city, were guests Monday night at a banquet given by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Pontiac to the various executives and department managers of the Consumers Power company in the Pontiac district.

Something like 150 attended the affair, which was one of a series of similar meetings being conducted under the direction of the Pontiac Junior business organization so that its members might become better acquainted with the business concerns of that city and those who direct them.

The program was turned over to B. G. Campbell, general manager of the Consumers company, by the president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who introduced each one of the department heads of the company. They in turn took of their duties and of the vast amount of detailed work that enters into the provision of steady gas and electric service in this part of the state. Following the banquet, all of the guests were shown through the sales and office building of the Consumers company.

Ayers Leave For Pacific Coast

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ayers, who have spent each winter in California for more than a decade, left Wednesday for the Pacific coast. They are driving through by automobile as has been their practice during all the years they have been going to Santa Monica.

"There was a time when we didn't have very good roads," said Mr. Ayers. "In fact, lots of times we simply went along on trail roads. Now there are hard surfaced roads direct from Plymouth to the Pacific ocean and one has not the slightest difficulty in making the trip. You can go just as fast as you want to," he said.

The fruit crop on the Ayers place this year has been one of the best they have ever had. In fact, so loaded was one of the trees that The Detroit News thought it of sufficient importance to publish a picture of it in its photograph section.

Well Known Attorneys To Open Offices On East Side of Detroit

After nearly 11 years of residence in Plymouth, Judge and Mrs. Ford Brooks, comprising the law firm of Brooks & Colquitt, will this week close their law offices in this city and move to 8487 Kenney avenue in Detroit, where they will make their future home.

At this new location, in addition to conducting their law practice, they will take upon themselves the added responsibility of caring for large real estate investments in that part of Detroit.

It was nearly 11 years ago when Ford Brooks, and Miss Lucille Colquitt, two youthful graduates from the Detroit Law school, who had just been admitted to practice in Michigan, came to Plymouth to open a law office.

They immediately made many friends in this community and it was not many years before they had developed a good sized law practice. Then a few years ago just after they had been admitted to practice before the United States supreme court in Washington, these two former law students, who had gone through school together and had formed a law partnership, decided to form another kind of partnership, they were married, but retained the old name of the law firm of Brooks & Colquitt. It is their intention to continue its use.

Judge Brooks has served Plymouth as its municipal judge and he has been active in numerous community affairs. Plymouth residents greatly regret their decision to move from this city, and both Judge and Mrs. Brooks have expressed a similar regret, but because of additional business responsibilities the move is regarded as essential to them.

ALL SEVEN TYPES ARE ENGINEERING MUST STORIES OF THE YEAR!

Featuring the DYNAFLASH ENGINE and TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING — in the Most Modern Chassis in the World

You won't drive a hundred yards in a new Buick without realizing that something marvelously new and different is happening here.

It's something that happens in no other car, in no other engine.

Speeding through the intake manifold, the fuel charge hurricanes into the cylinder at something like 250 miles an hour.

Leaping to meet it is the piston, with a unique device called a Turbulator built into its face.

Then occurs something more than high compression—literally cyclompression—as swirling gasoline vapor is compacted about the spark plug.

The spark sets off a fit-size hurricane—and gasoline gives up more performance than it ever gave up in a commercial engine before!

This livelier, smarter power might seem enough for engineers to lavish on a car in a single year.

But matching DYNAFLASH power in importance is Buick TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING and its arrolite ride.

Take a Buick over a railroad crossing—around a curve—over bumps.

There's no thud and chatter, no tail-swing or roll; you cover rough going with the silk-smoothness of a panther on the prowl.

All because old-type leaf springs are gone! In their place, each wheel has a soft, shock-smothering cushion of stout coiled steel.

Skid risks are blessedly reduced. Rear tires last longer. The whole car handles more easily! That's TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING at work!

If it's power you're after, you'll want Buick's DYNAFLASH engine. If it's comfort, you'll choose the TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING ride.

With either you get the other—plus half a score of features your Buick dealer is waiting to describe. See him now—for the engineering "must" story of the year!

Coming To The P & A Theatre

As daring she is beautiful and graceful, Sonja Henie, who is starred with Tyrone Power in the musical marvel, "Thin Ice", which opens October 31 at the Penman-Allen theatre caused a sudden furor of excitement during a fall in photographing location shots for the picture, when she made a record descent from Alta Vista, one of the steepest and most difficult runs in the world.

Cautioned by Otto Lang, noted skiing instructor, not to make the descent because of adverse conditions, Miss Henie slipped away from his notice and skied down the treacherous slope at a speed of approximately 70 miles an hour.

Lang, who has won numerous championships, admitted that Miss Henie's prowess on skis had been unknown to him, and hastened to add that she was the most graceful person he had ever seen.

Arthur Treacher, Raymond Walburn and Joan Davis are featured in the strong supporting cast of "Thin Ice" and also included are Sig Ruman, Alan Hale, Leah Ray, Melville Cooper, Maurice Cass, and George Givot.

Because he himself knew that the picture provided a tailor-made role for his talents, in addition to presenting the most laughable, lovable and popular character in American fiction, Will Rogers broke an important personal rule during the filming of "David Harum" the adaptation of Edward Noyes Westcott's novel coming to the Penman-Allen theatre.

Contrary to his established custom, the famous humorist, every morning viewed the studio projection room to view rushes of the previous day's shooting, so anxious was he to see that the part was done well.

Evelyn Venable and Kent Taylor support the cowboy jester in the romantic leads in the film directed by James Cruze, which has one of the most vivid and exciting climaxes ever screened.

When there's that gleam in her eye, watch out for sweetie pie, warn the neighbors. When "Angel" takes a day off, it means an off-day for the rest of the town and a laugh-spre and gut-fun picnic for everyone else seeing "Ginger" Jane Williams in her latest hit, "Angel's Holiday", at the Penman-Allen theatre Saturday.

Filmland's most mischievous miss loses no chance of indulging in her usual madcap mishaps in a new role as amateur sleuth and newspaper reporter. Her best friends and severest critics in the new film venture are Robert Kent, Joan Davis and Sally Blane, featured in the cast supporting the young star.

A long nose for news and clues precipitates Jane into the faked disappearance, for publicity purposes of a movie queen, played by Sally Blane, and she proceeds to gum up the works. Both Jane and her movie star are considerably surprised, however, when a gang of real bandits steps in and conducts a genuine kidnaping, holding Sally for ransom and Jane and Robert as hostages.

Plan Armistice Day Dance

The Ex-Service Men's club will this year observe Armistice Day by presenting to their members and friends in Plymouth a real old fashioned Harvest Festival dance. It is expected that the music will feature, in addition to the regular square dances and polkas, musical items recalling the stirring days of '17 and '18.

As is the custom of the club, carried on through the years, the jollity and hilarity of the Armistice celebration will be interrupted at 11:00 p.m. and the club ritual committee will exemplify the ritual of silence in remembrance of their fallen comrades.

The public is invited and urged to attend the club's observance of the signing of the Armistice and to participate in the 11:00 o'clock remembrance ritual.

Full details regarding orchestra and hall will be announced in next week's paper.

Sermons Will Be Illustrated

Daniel J. Finestone will preach every evening next week, except Saturday, at the Calvary Baptist church. Mr. Finestone has a preparation for Christian work that few men ever equal. He was born in Russia and served in the Canadian army. He worked successfully among the Jews in New York's east side and was formerly a teacher in the Detroit Bible Institute. This wide experience and scholarly training he brings to the evangelistic field. His subjects next week on "The Authority of The Bible"; "Fulfilled Prophecy"; and "Present Times in the Light of the Scriptures" are of interest to everyone. All messages are illustrated with colored slides. There will be special music. No collections are ever taken at Calvary. Everybody is welcome.

Villanova Meets U. of D. Saturday

The rare spectacle of two unbeaten teams in a head-on collision will be offered in the Titan stadium Saturday when the University of Detroit, unbeaten, untied and scored upon but once and that once by a fuke, risks their perfect record against Villanova in the annual homecoming game. With Boston college safely out of the way, the Main Liners and Duquesne share honors as the toughest teams remaining on the Detroit schedule. And because Villanova suffered less than Duquesne by graduation this year, it is possible that "Clipper" Smith's team is a trifle tougher than "Little Clipper" Smith's. In any event, it is better than anything Detroit has been called upon to tackle so far this season, because it has a trickier and more versatile offense.

The Wildcats are fully as heavy a team as the last two that Detroit has met. In fact, this is another game in which the Titans will not have nearly an even bet in the weights. They have speed and aggressiveness, as well as weight. Furthermore, they are rich in experience, as only four 1936 varsity men were lost by graduation. There are 13 seniors among the players who are seeing service regularly this season as against six on the Titan squad.

One thing that makes the Wildcats hard to beat is that they employ all sorts of "rattle dangle" tactics on offense. Their fundamental formation is the Notre Dame shift, as naturally it would be since Clipper Smith is a former Irish star. But Clipper has made a lot of modifications in the famous old system. He even uses a double wing back

Wrecking Crew At Last Has a Job

Plymouth's Pere Marquette wrecking crew was called into action last Saturday for the first time in a number of years when a loaded 100 freight car train was derailed just west of Fowlerville. No one was injured, but 18 cars of the train were thrown from the track and piled along the right of way.

The wreck was caused when a hot box on a flat car near the center of the long train burned out a bearing on one car, dropping it to the rails. The train, headed west, was moving along at a rapid rate when the derailment occurred near a small bridge across the Red Cedar river.

The 18 cars were all in the center of the train. Some were thrown into the river, the others scattered along the right of way east and west of the small bridge. The car on which the hot box occurred was loaded with pig iron. All the others carried automobiles except one, which was a tank car.

Several telephone poles were broken off, a large pumping station was badly damaged, and about 200 yards of a steel track and ties were torn up, according to D. J. Swope, Detroit, district superintendent of the Pere Marquette railroad, who went to Fowlerville to direct the removal of the wreckage. The bridge over the Cedar river was damaged but not enough to halt traffic over

Weakened Rocks Defeated By Ecorse, 13-0

The Plymouth Rocks, crippled with Gilles, Egloff, and Prough on the injured list, took their worst beating of the current season last Friday, October 22, at the banks of the crimson and white at Ecorse. The weather was befittingly dark and gloomy, and rain threatened throughout the whole second half. The field was a little soft from the rains of the preceding week.

Ecorse kicked out of bounds on Plymouth's 38-yard line in trying a trick kick-off. Plymouth could gain hardly any yardage through the line and subsequently lost the ball on her own 47, having gained five yards through an Ecorse offside. Ecorse picked up three yards through the line and two more through an offside play, and then punted to Plymouth's 35-yard line. Evans fumbled the ball at this time, but as a Plymouth player recovered, no harm was done. Leach got off a beauty of a punt, pushing Ecorse back to its 38-yard marker. Ecorse made three yards around end but was penalized ten yards for pushing. Then Todd, star Ecorse fullback, made five yards through the line. Archer spilled him for a loss on the next play, however, and Ecorse punted. Plymouth took the ball on her own 30, could make no ground and so Leach again booted a pretty one, pushing the crimson and white back to its own 12 strip. Cooper downed the Ecorse runner for a three-yard loss on the first down but Ecorse gained eight yards with a line plunge on the next play.

Todd fumbled on the next play, but recovered and made enough ground for a first down. Moe was hurt slightly on the next play, but he remained in the game. Ecorse kicked to the Plymouth 38-yard stripe. A pass to Moe failed. Ecorse gained no ground in a line plunge, another pass failed, and so Plymouth punted to the Ecorse eight-yard line. Ecorse picked up two through the center of the line and then booted the ball to the Plymouth 41. Plymouth gained a first down through a pass and line plunge, and the ball rested on the Plymouth 41-yard line as the quarter ended.

Bob Evans was hurt on the first play of the second quarter and Plymouth lost seven yards. A line smash, an incomplete pass, and an end run netted no yardage and the ball went to Ecorse. Todd tried end runs but was halted and the ball again changed hands. Leach punted to his own 42, Ecorse booted it back down the field. Two passes clicked, DeLaurier to Joffile and Leach to Ross, but losses in line smashes lost this advantage. Ecorse received a 5-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness and kicked out of bounds. Moe caught a pass, but this ground was lost as Ecorse intercepted a second pass on their own two-yard line. Ecorse punted to Plymouth's 40-yard line and the half ended.

Plymouth ran the kick-off of the second half back to her own 39, but could gain no ground. DeLaurier was taken out of the game at this time, knocked out on his feet, "punch-drunk" it is called. He had done the best work in the Plymouth backfield until he was taken out. Ecorse was given a 15-yard penalty for clipping at this time, but it was offset by a Plymouth offside. Ecorse then began a march up the field which ended in a touchdown. A pass gained a first down, and two line smashes gained another. Then Todd circled right and made the first score of the game. A pass into the end zone made the point after touchdown.

Leach booted the ball clear back to the five-yard line, but Todd ran it back to the 22. Ecorse again began a march up the field. Two line plunges made a first down. The Plymouth line tightened and Ecorse punted to the Plymouth 46. Passes failed and so Leach punted. Ecorse made five on an off-lackle play and made a first down through the line. Then she gained eight on two line plays and brought the ball down to Plymouth's ten yard stripe. Two passes failed but a line plunge made the touchdown by inches. The kick for point was blocked. Plymouth now began a mighty attempt to score. Moe snagged a pass for a first down and another pass made another first. An Ecorse offside also helped. Ecorse finally intercepted the ball on her own 35.

Ecorse made a first on line smashes and backs. Plymouth was penalized for interference with the pass receiver. Ecorse soon lost the ball on downs, however, and Plymouth began a last futile attempt. Passes and line plays failed, and so Plymouth kicked. The game ended with the ball in mid-field and the score 13-0.

Main features of the game were Leach's kicking, DeLaurier's ball-carrying and general good play-

EDITORIAL—NEEDED TRAFFIC LAWS!

Crossing Grand River avenue on Saturday afternoon is easier and less dangerous than trying to get from one classroom to another in Plymouth high. At least most of the drivers obey the majority of the traffic regulations and show some courtesy—which is more than most of the students in this school do.

When the bell rings, indicating that class is over, the halls become a regular traffic jam with the rushing, noisy students.

Did you ever stop to think of how dangerous it is to hurry around the corners? Several have had the experience of being almost knocked over by some one who turned the corner at a run; this is especially true at noon and at 3:30. If Mr. "In A Hurry" is carrying a pencil, and he usually is, one is extremely lucky to have escaped some minor injury with the sharp school-day essential which is very useful in a classroom but dangerous when carried in a moving hand. Would it not be possible to injure someone seriously—especially if he were struck in the eye?

Between classes the stairs are in a very congested condition. It seems as if Johnny coming from study hall and Mary bound from the library decide to use the side next to the wall. Naturally they meet and when 15 or 20 others have decided to do the same thing, a jumble ensues. Last year a law was made by Student Council that those going up should use the stairs on the right and those going down, the left. This simple rule improved matters very much. Why has it not been put in force again this year?

What we need is a simple set of "traffic laws". I am not so radical as to say that signals for right and left turns should be given, but if everyone would walk at a moderate pace, keep to the right, carry all pencils and pens in either purse or pocket, and not shout at a friend who is several feet away, our halls would be safer, quieter places in which to travel.

If anyone has any suggestions which might help us solve this problem, will you please submit it to your student's council representative so that some action may be taken?

HI-Y HEARS ABOUT CAMP CUSTER

Gordon Moe reported for the HI-Y club the experience he and three other boys from Plymouth high school—Wesley Bakewell, Jacques DeLaurier, and Ray Martin—had at the citizen's military training camp at Camp Custer during July of last summer. He described the many things that were a part of the camp program, extensive drill work, rifle practice, and instruction on the use of the gas masks. After the talk Gordon led group discussion and answered questions concerning the camp.

MAGICIAN ENTERTAINS SENIOR ASSEMBLY

The ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades were entertained at a forty-five minute assembly during the third hour, Friday, by Mr. Saxton, a magician, who delighted his audience by card tricks and clever manipulations of handkerchiefs, tea, napkins, and eggs. He called Jacques DeLaurier and Gordon Moe up to assist him on the stage. Mr. Saxton pulled a clothline from DeLaurier's sweater, and he snatched Moe's shirt from his back. Two freshmen were also called to the stage to assist him in performing a trick in which he cut a ribbon in two and then re-joined the severed parts.

RUTH WILSON SPEAKS TO SENIOR RESERVES

Miss Ruth Wilson talked to the Senior Girl Reserves Thursday on matters of make-up and cosmetics. First of all, she passed around booklets and magazines in which could be found charts and hints about make-up. She said that some girls certainly did wear too much lipstick, and then she demonstrated just how it should be applied, stressing the points that it must be put on evenly and that it should match one's rouge and nail polish. She added that eye shadow is not necessary for school—it is better for evening wear. Although wearing of rouge is not popular this year, if girls wish the best results it is advisable to use creme rouge, for it can be blended in more easily. She then drew illustrations showing how it can be applied to make a long face look broader or a round face look longer.

She said that the face must always be cleansed before applying cosmetics; it should be washed with soap and water, then a rapid-cleansing cream, and an astringent. After that the foundation and then the powder; however, care should be taken that powder is applied to the nose when there is not much on the puff, for too much powder will work into the pores and cause them to look large.

After a few more hints on the care of the face Miss Wilson talked about nail polish. After all the very best color for school is always natural or none at all, because excessive use of nail polish is likely to leave nails dry. Another point Miss Wilson stressed was that it is very dangerous to have long nails; a finger nail scratch can turn into something very serious.

Miss Wilson then concluded her talk by asking if there were any questions. As to whether rouge or powder should be put on first, she said that powder is always applied over rouge. The meeting was then opened to a general discussion.

It means light that is evenly distributed throughout the room, bringing out the beauty of rugs, draperies and furnishings. Conditioned Light can transform a room, lending warmth and color and richness to everyday surroundings.

Light Conditioning is flexible. You can start with one room if you like, and gradually include the entire house. EDITORIAL—THE LIBRARY IS A PRIVILEGE

The library is not just another study hall; it is a place where a special environment is created to aid those who wish to read and study. In order to induce this environment all conversation and other unnecessary noise should be eliminated. The library should be a place so silent that one should be able to hear a pin drop; even a whisper to one's neighbor may disturb not only the one spoken to but also the occupants of the entire room.

Other privileges a student may enjoy include the use of books and magazines. These should be returned on time with the leaves intact and uncarred and the binding undamaged. This is not only a duty but a responsibility of the borrower of books.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church—Walter Nichol, pastor. Services at Masonic Temple, 10 a.m. worship, 11:30 a.m.; Sunday school, 6:30 p.m. Young People. A matter of real interest to this church will come before the congregation at a meeting called by the session of the church to be held immediately after the morning service next Sunday. The proposal is to interchange the meetings of the Sunday school and the worship service of the church. If the new arrangement were adopted, the Sunday school would meet before the church. This is the practice in a very great number of churches. There are excellent reasons for the change. The session and the teachers and officers of the Sunday school have had this proposition under consideration for a considerable time. The congregation is now being asked to express their opinion. Come to the meeting Sunday morning and help decide. The new church building will be open for service Sunday, November 21. On that day the church and Sunday school will assemble together at 10 a.m. at the Masonic Temple and after a brief devotion will go in a body to the new church the doors of which will swing open to receive them on their arrival there. No one who calls himself a Presbyterian should fail to take part in this event. The dedicatory services in connection with the entry into the new house of worship will be held beginning Sunday, November 28. A program extending over several weeks is being set up which will give all opportunity to see the building and which will bring into use its varied equipment. The dedication of the church building will take place at the service Sunday, November 28. At that service all parents will have the privilege of presenting children for baptism. The services will climax in a communion service on Sunday, December 19 when the membership of the church with those who shall then unite with this organization and other professing Christians will dedicate themselves anew to their Master and Lord. Classes for instruction and preparation for church membership will be held Mondays for the next six weeks. A class for boys, girls and young people who are at school will meet from 3:30 to 4:00 p.m. and another class for all who cannot attend the afternoon meeting will be held from 7:30 to 8:00 p.m. These classes will meet at the manse. Attendance at all of these sessions is very important. A group of women from this church will attend the meeting of Detroit Presbyterian at Immanuel Presbyterian church, Detroit on Monday at 10:00 o'clock. All wishing reservations for lunch should notify Mrs. Nichol not later than Friday, October 29. The Presbytery of Detroit will meet at the same place and hour. The minister's family appreciate the many improvements which have been made at the manse under the direction of the board of trustees and the Women's Auxiliary of the church and by the city of Plymouth. Believing that the people are interested they have decided to hold open house on Thursday, November 4 from 2:00 to 10:00 p.m., and they invite all church folk and any other friends to call. A special offering for the centennial fund of the board of foreign missions will be received next Sunday at the regular services.

They are new every morning; great is thy faithfulness." To Install New Traffic Light

Within the next two weeks there will be in operation at the corner of Canton Center road and U.S. 12 one of the latest traffic actuated stop signals that can be secured, according to Louis A. Andriacchi, electrical engineer of the state highway department.

The signal will be operated by the magnetic influence of the automobile instead of the usual pressure magnet that is placed in the paving and operates when the car passes over it.

These signals have been tried out on Woodward avenue, between the Detroit city limits and Birmingham, and have been found to be far more satisfactory than any other type of traffic signals.

Probably as much traffic if not more passes the intersection of Woodward avenue and Eight Mile road than at any other point in the country. A recent traffic count showed 193,000 cars passing this intersection within a 24-hour period, a total that is so great it is difficult to believe, say highway officials, but a traffic light similar to the one to be installed here has taken care of this immense traffic.

It is the purpose of the highway department to install these magnetic signals from the Telegraph road to the Indiana state line on U.S. 12. The magnetic control is located in such a way that from one to any given number of cars can pass at the intersection within a maximum number of seconds. All lights are so arranged that one long string of cars passing in one direction will not prevent the movement of machines on the intersecting road.

New Ford Cars Are Larger

An advance showing of 1938 Ford V-8 cars and trucks opened at the Ford Metropolitan show-rooms in New York City yesterday, stated Paul Wiedman, local dealer, today.

Two distinct Ford V-8 cars, differing in appearance, appointments and price, were presented. One was the de luxe Ford V-8, the other the standard Ford V-8, states Mr. Wiedman.

The standard car is designed for owners to whom economy in first cost and operating cost is paramount. The de luxe car provides added luxury and style for those who desire them.

Both cars have the same V-8 chassis. The eight de luxe types are available only with the 85 horsepower V-8 engine, the three standard types with either the 85 horsepower or the 60 horsepower engine.

The de luxe car is a stylish sister of the standard. It is entirely new in appearance. The radiator grille is of new design. Appearance of the hood is longer and more sweeping. Fenders are massive. Interior appointments are in keeping with the styling of the exterior. Substantially more room in the closed sedans, greater passenger comfort and much larger luggage space are provided.

The standard V-8 cars reveal new styling, with a different radiator grille design, long hood and flowing contours. The spacious interiors are roomy and attractively upholstered and appointed.

In addition to the two passenger cars, Ford is to present an expanded line of V-8 trucks and commercial cars. Both are newly styled to lend added "eye appeal" in commercial transportation.

A new group of "one-tonner" trucks also is offered, in addition to the 112-inch commercial cars and the 134-inch and 157-inch wheelbase trucks.

The new "one-tonner" is designed specifically to bridge the gap between the commercial cars and the truck gaps. Available with either 85 horsepower or 60 horsepower engine, it is expected to make the economies of the latter engine more widely available in commercial transportation.

Other advances for 1938 are the new 134-inch wheelbase truck, replacing the 131 1/2-inch wheelbase in the big truck line, a new frame width for the 134-inch and 157-inch wheelbase units, improved brakes and easier steering and stronger construction throughout.

Plays Fast Game For State

Plymouth football fans who saw the outstanding game between Michigan State college and Marquette at East Lansing Saturday returned home, loud in their praises of the good playing of Junior Schrader of Northville, left guard of the victorious State team.

He played all of the first quarter and was taken out for a time due to a slight injury, but was placed back in the game for the final quarter when State swept Marquette off its feet to the outstanding victory of 21 to 7.

Schrader played a spectacular game, not only breaking up several Marquette plays, but doing some outstanding tackling as well.

He is a son of Mrs. Jerry Schrader of Northville, his father being the late Nelson Schrader. He graduates from State next year.

League Seeks World Peace

Officials of the Plymouth League of Women Voters have requested publication of the following statement made by Miss Marguerite M. Wells, president of the National League of Women Voters, pertaining to the desires of the organization for world peace:

Reaffirming the consistent stand of her organization against "the ostrich policy of isolation" Miss Marguerite M. Wells, president of the National League of Women Voters, today commended the action of Secretary of State Hull in accepting the League of Nations' invitation for the United States to sit as a non-voting member of the league's advisory committee investigating the far eastern crisis.

Miss Wells' statement follows: "The League of Women Voters has assured Secretary Hull of the approval of its members of acceptance of the opportunity for consultation with other nations in an effort to avoid war and effectuate a return to peace between China and Japan."

"Since the League of Women Voters' inception, it has worked consistently for international co-operation for the prevention of war. It has maintained that war anywhere concerns the United States, and that the pursuance of the ostrich policy of isolation would prove disastrous to the cause of peace."

"The crux of the present crisis has been nowhere better stated than in two sentences of Secretary Hull's own statement of July 16, 1937, regarding the position of this country when disturbed situations arise in other parts of the world: 'There can be no serious hostilities anywhere in the world which will not in one way or another affect the interests or rights or obligations of this country,' and we advocate adjustment of problems in international relations by processes of peaceful negotiation and agreement."

"The League of Women Voters welcomes this opportunity for a further international effort against war."

Gullen Fears New Depression
Townsend Club Hears Good Talk

So much favorable comment has been heard about the address recently given by Rev. George Gullen of Detroit before members of the Plymouth Townsend club recently, a request has been made that it be published in full for the benefit of those who could not be present to hear it.

It follows:
"I am not at all a proud American tonight, I am a very earnest one. I make no boast, say it very humbly, if I could do a simple humble thing to turn America toward a better plan, I would gladly lay down my life, but for America, the clouds have returned after the rain."
"First of all I am convinced that the clouds of unenlightened selfishness are gathering once more over America. I have not anything in my heart against individuals. I have declared before Almighty God that I will fight unenlightened selfishness. When I speak unkindly it is not against men, but principles. When I speak against corporations without naming them, I am not speaking against corporation entities, but principles. If great corporations could be intelligent toward their unincorporated interests, I would not say anything. Not just because it is a corporation, but I cannot say a kind word when I see five or six that are so unintelligent that they would destroy themselves in their own efforts. I faced one in my office and told him just what I thought. It is not easy to take your friends to task, to say that they are doing things that will destroy. Unenlightened selfishness is the darkest cloud that covers America today."
"Secondly, I think there has appeared now the biggest returning cloud of a greater depression. I do not want to be a prophet who brings a sad word. I truly believe it, even though it is heavy to bear, but I would rather say it than put it mildly and not be a truth. We have not winged ourselves one inch in the laying of fundamental principles, out of the last depression. We have a great president who has tried with might and mind, and tried sincerely to save this country in a dark hour. He has had the minds of the great men from our institutions, but they will not taken the first step that will insure our posterity. I believe President Roosevelt is a sad man because he has not been able to bring us out of it. There are more men going in to bankruptcy every day. I know of a man who was begging for $15 just to tide him over for a few more days. They know that cloud is there, and it is just exactly as is said in Ecclesiastes, "the cloud returning after the rain". We have already been soaked. The pity of it all is that we do not need another depression. The Townsend plan is the simplest and most direct solution of any of the problems, the only thing we need to solve forever the threat of depression, and a more equitable distribution of income. Nobody denies the need of more equitable distribution of income—even the great professors. We can make all the things anyone needs, thereby clothe every child and see that every child is well schooled—make everybody safe in their own home. We can make enough but the pity of it all is that we can't buy it. We have never been willing to be enlightened to help the other fellow. The Townsend plan recognizes that fact—just as simply as that. The Townsend plan recognizes that if machinery is to be run at top speed, there must be money to buy the products. To do that we would have to have normal distribution.

"Out of the millions of dollars of transactions, take out a little two percent. When you get that two percent give it to the people over 60 years of age, which might mean up to $200 per month—spend it in the month it is received—not select five or six corporations, but one-seventh of our population who are best fitted by their experience to spend the dollar to help lift all people up where nobody needs to be hungry, and nobody needs to go to the poor-house. I am just like the boy who stood gazing into the sky, and a passerby remarked that he was glad to see a boy admiring the sunset—"sunset" the boy said, "that's my school on fire". I would laugh with glee at the bonfire that destroys our last poor-house in America. Some folks have laughed at the Townsend plan, but they are now laughing on the other side, because selfishness is frightened now. They do not know where to turn. They are wondering if the Townsend plan might not be the answer after all. They thought we were just a bunch of folks who liked to sing hymns. They are the fellows who didn't sing, and wouldn't be happy in such an atmosphere. Now, they are asking us to talk about it."

"I talked to some business men of Monroe, and I asked who certain folks were at the table, and was told they were "millionaires". They were serious about seeing if the Townsend plan could not save the situation in Monroe. In Tecumseh, there was a woman very much interested in the plan, but most people laughed at her until I had talked to the exchange club there, she said that now the folks over the street to speak to he are just catching up."

"Clouds of unenlightened selfishness, clouds of return depression, if they would let us lift them. And we have the cloud of war. I do not think that President Roosevelt has in mind any desire for historical glory—he does not want to let the affairs of America be in such shape as to keep children uneducated, but the same sources that
