

February 9 Fixed As Banquet Date

Plan For 600 At Mush Dinner

All Surplus Funds Paid For Tickets Goes To Charity

(By E. E. EATON)

Arrangements for the Wayne county Lincoln banquet to be held at the Mayflower hotel on Wednesday evening, February 9, are progressing under most favorable circumstances, with every effort being put forth to provide accommodations for the hundreds who have expressed a desire to attend.

The committee has tentatively placed a limit of 600 on the ticket sale, as it is believed this will be all that there will be room for in the hotel. This number can be cared for by utilizing the Crystal dining room and the two big lobbies of the dining room as was done at the time of the Fitzgerald banquet some two years ago.

It has also been decided that any surplus from the sale of tickets in Northville will go to the King's Daughters organization of that city. While tickets will sell for only 50 cents, if a person desires to pay more for it, the additional amount will go to charity. In Plymouth a committee composed of the two presidents of the Parent-Teachers' organizations and the school nurse will handle any surplus funds that might result from the sale of tickets in this city.

This money in Plymouth will be used for needy school children. There are many cases that the school nurse has knowledge of where a few extra dollars will bring badly needed relief. Clothing, shoes, rubbers and in some cases, food and medical care will be provided, if there are sufficient additional funds to do all of the things that the banquet committee hopes to accomplish.

It has been made clear, however, that there will be no "high

Woman's Club To Meet Today

The Woman's club of Plymouth will meet at 2:15, sharp, this (Friday) afternoon in the crystal room at the Hotel Mayflower, with Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, president in charge.

The guest speaker, George M. Chute, Jr. of this city, will give a talk on "Electrical Gadgets." His talk will not cover new electrical appliances but will tell of invisible or novel forms of lighting. Mr. Chute is very well informed on his subject and it is hoped that a goodly number will be present and enjoy this unusual talk.

Mrs. Edward Ayers is program chairman and has the following committee: Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, Mrs. Robert H. Reek, Mrs. Lora Sutherland and Miss Mable Spicer.

What's Right With America!

By Reverend M. S. Rice, pastor, Central M. E. church of Detroit

I am an American!
I am proud of it!
I love my country!
I believe in my country!
I thank God for my country!
I pray for my country!
I am going to be loyal to my country!
If my country goes down while I am alive (a destiny which some defamers declare will happen and which some fearful ones shudder before); if my country goes down while I live she will go down with my loyalty unchanged and with my love and affection just as firm as ever, for I am an American! I am convinced that it is high time for all of us to begin talking positively about our country. I am ready to talk for my country. The very reason many folks today seem to be howling against America is one of the reasons I believe in shouting loudly for America. Somewhere I saw the other day the account of a man who asked an Italian, who was working for him, why it was that he liked America better than Italy. The Italian said in peculiar emphasis, "It is like this—in America I can go out in the street and if I wish I can holler at the top of my voice that the President is a fool. Nobody cares what I say. The President he don't care; I am only a poor nut hollering. In Italy if I whisper in the ear of my best friend that Mussolini is a fool, in two hours the soldiers will be at my door." To those of us who have grown up away from the fear of nations whose backs are against the backs of other nations and whose need is of less watchfulness as to encroaching dangers of rivalry and hatred all that may be hard for us to appreciate. But the plain reply of the Italian is a genuine testimony to one of the very finest facts of our position.

It is quite true in America for Americans to begin to be bold about our values. We have had enough deflection now. I am, as the English folks say, "all fed up" on this negativism business. The overwhelming emphasis of our day is critical. The critic is abroad. We are

Hundreds Attend Assembly Of Boy Scouts

Series Of Interesting Events Planned For Anniversary

On Thursday night a week ago the Boy Scouts of the Plymouth district were entertained with a "different" program. This was in the gymnasium of the Wayne County Training school. About 400 Scouts, leaders and friends of Scouting enjoyed seeing the moving pictures of the 1937 Washington Jamboree. These were shown through the courtesy of Assistant Scout Executive Walter P. McKenna of the Detroit Area Council, who also contributed another fine bit to the program. Mr. McKenna is a wonderful leader of pep stunts, yells and songs and he took charge of this part of the entertainment. One of the songs was a new District "Alma Mater" song—"Scouts of Plymouth", which probably will be heard again at future events.

Masonic Lodge To Celebrate

Edwin Schrader, master of Plymouth Rock Masonic lodge, yesterday announced plans for the commemoration of the 66th anniversary of the founding of the lodge in Plymouth. The celebration is scheduled to take place at the Masonic temple on Friday evening, January 28 with all Masons in Plymouth and vicinity invited to attend. Tentative plans call for a most delightful evening, with a brief address by Harry Hubert, former warden of Jackson prison and the telling of a number of Scotch stories by Rev. Fred Cowin of Ann Arbor. The Ford Dixie eight will provide the musical numbers.

It was on January 15, 1852 when the Masonic lodge was formed in this city. Since that date the lodge has grown and prospered into one of the city's important institutions.

Shrine Club To Elect On Jan. 21

Members of the Suburban Shrine club have been advised that the annual election of officers will take place at the Mayflower hotel on the evening of January 21. President Ernest Allison has sent notices to the membership and it is expected there will be a large attendance. Harry Marburger of Northville is vice president. Mr. Allison states that if there are any members who desire additional information about the meeting, he will gladly provide it.

Former G-Man To Conduct Revival

The Rev. John Bunyon Goins, well-known evangelist, will begin a series of evangelistic services at the Church of God in Plymouth Saturday evening, January 23.

Rev. Goins, a former G-man, has had wide experience in revival work, having spoken to audiences in all of the neighboring states. He is a forceful speaker as well as an interesting one. The public is cordially invited to attend these services at all times.

Mrs. Harvey Springer will entertain her contract group, Thursday evening, January 27.

President's Ball In Livonia

Arrangements have been completed for the first President's ball to be held in Rosedale Gardens, the event having been scheduled to take place in St. Michael's church on Thursday evening, January 27. The event, sponsored by Livonia township, with Harry Wolfe as chairman of the committee, promises to be one of the largest attended affairs in Rosedale Gardens during the present winter. Schaffer's orchestra has been engaged to provide the music for the evening. The admission charge has been fixed at a very reasonable figure, with a general invitation being extended to everyone. Tickets can be secured from any Livonia township officer or at any store in Livonia township.

Did You Know That

You can have your old shades cleaned or purchase new Mobas Shades, also Venetian Blinds, Drapery Rods, and Linoleum at the National Window Shade Company? Phone 530 for Estimates.

Melvin Algire has re-opened his furniture upholstery business at 1736 Joy road. He was formerly located on Penniman avenue where he specialized in general upholstery.

Circle No. 4 of the Methodist Ladies' Aid is holding a fried cake sale on Friday, January 28. Orders will be taken by Mrs. Squires, Phone 353, Will deliver.

The five-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vito Simonetti who was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor for a double mastoid operation last week Monday, is reported as getting along as well as could be expected following such a serious operation.

Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reiman's 47th wedding anniversary was celebrated last Saturday evening with a party at their home. Approximately 50 guests spent the evening playing cards. The guests were the brothers and sister of Mrs. Reiman with their families; Mr. and Mrs. Reiman's children with their families; and other relatives and friends. At the close of the evening a lunch was served during which a gift was presented to the honored couple. At this time also a surprise gift was presented Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fullerton who celebrated their anniversary on the same day.

Legion Plans To Create A Boy Ruled State

Veterans Hit Upon New Way To Better Citizenship

Plymouth Rotarians last Friday heard of a new and outstanding field of endeavor that members of the American Legion have entered upon—an effort to create in the minds of the boys of America a greater interest in their own government.

The speaker was Carl Matheny of Detroit, representing the Wolverson Boy State, a complete governmental unit patterned in detail after the regular government of the United States and of the state of Michigan.

In June this year several hundreds of boys, possibly some from Plymouth, stated the speaker, would go to East Lansing where they will remain in camp for several days, the big camp to be operated by divisions just as is the township, county, city, state and federal government.

"It gives the young boys a wonderful insight into their government and it immediately creates in their mind an interest that can be secured in no other way," he said. The fact that many Rotarians remained after the meeting to discuss with the speaker the plan, indicated interest in the excellent project that the Legion is now sponsoring.

D. A. R. Celebrates Anniversary

Monday, January 17, was, indeed, a very happy occasion when 55 ladies, members of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, D. A. R., and their guests, gathered at the beautiful Presbyterian church of Plymouth to celebrate the eleventh birthday of the chapter.

At 12:30 the ladies of the church served a delicious luncheon in the church dining room. The speakers' table was centered with a beautifully decorated three tiered birthday cake, bearing eleven lighted candles, the gift of Mrs. Frederic B. Stevens of Detroit.

After the guest of honor, Mrs. Bessie Howe Geagley of Lansing, state regent, Daughters of the American Revolution, had cut the first slice, the cake was cut and served by Mrs. Sidney D. Strong, regent of the local chapter.

During the luncheon hour the members and their guests were delightfully entertained with three gracefully executed dances given by Betty Lou and Cynthia Baker, small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baker of this city, Miss Carol Campbell playing their accompaniment.

After the luncheon, the ladies went to the church parlor for the afternoon meeting. An open fire in the large fireplace added to the cheerfulness of this attractive room.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "Michigan, My Michigan," after which the regent, Mrs. Strong, introduced Mrs. Geagley as guest speaker.

In her charmingly gracious manner Mrs. Geagley responded with a talk which will long be remembered by her hearers. She told of the useful and constructive work being done by the many chapters of Michigan D.A.R. women in both the state and national activities and outlined very definite plans for the work of the coming year, inspiring all present to a desire for increased usefulness to the organization.

Mrs. Strong then called upon the other guests for short talks. The state officers' business of interesting the members in their projects was discussed in their project in many a year.

Sudden Death Of C. M. Mather Shocks City

Prominent Business Man Dies Monday Morning

Plymouth friends and acquaintances of Charles M. Mather were greatly shocked to learn of his death which occurred early last Monday morning. Apparently, in the best of health, the passing came as a blow to his family and his hundreds of friends.

Born near Battle Creek, Michigan he had spent the early days of his life in that section and came to Plymouth in 1908 where he entered into the lumber and coal business with Everett Jinks of Detroit. The two purchased the Plymouth branch of the Michigan Manufacturing and Lumber company of Holly and changed the firm name to the Plymouth Lumber and Coal company. During the last 30 years under Mr. Mather's personal direction the firm prospered and today stands as a testimonial to his years of hard work.

He was 63 years old and a member of the Methodist church, the Masonic lodge and until recently an active Rotarian. He was a direct descendant of a family of Mathers that came to America from England in 1630.

In announcing the opening of his new business in Plymouth through the advertising columns of The Plymouth Mail in 1938 he said, "Our motto is, a Square Deal for Everyone" and during the last 30 years he was known to have lived and dealt within his motto.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the Schrader Brothers funeral home. Besides his widow he leaves to mourn his loss his son, David, his daughter, Mrs. Irving Blunk of Plymouth, and a brother, Frank Mather of Jackson.

The Plymouth Lumber and Coal company will continue to operate with the faithful services of Elmer Redeman, who for many years has been with the firm and David Mather, who has been active with the firm since he graduated from the University of Michigan and expects to continue the motto his father made 30 years ago. Frank Mather of Jackson, who has spent his life in the lumber business will be a helpful guidance to this prospering concern.

Contest Offers Scholarship

The Plymouth United Savings bank announced yesterday that they were cooperating with the Michigan Bankers' association and high school authorities in sponsoring a state essay contest that will entitle the winner to a $500 scholarship to the University of Michigan.

"How a Bank Serves Its Community" is the subject of the essay and will be judged by Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction in Lansing; C. A. Fisher, director of extension service at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor; and C. S. Logsdon, assistant professor of economics at Michigan State college in East Lansing.

In the local contest an award of $5.00 will be given for the best essay submitted by any member of the senior class. The second prize is $3.00, and third, $2.00. Claude Dykhouse states that judges for the elimination contest will be selected by school authorities and will be announced in the near future.

The state winners will be guests of the Michigan Bankers' association at its annual convention in Grand Rapids in June of this year.

Auxiliary Plans Open House

The Woman's Auxiliary of First Presbyterian church will hold an open house at the church Wednesday afternoon, February 9.

A cordial invitation is extended to all women's organizations in Plymouth to come and enjoy the afternoon's program.

Edison Plans Big Expansion Merchants To Attend Dinner

Business Sure To Be Better

Local Leaders Expect This To Be Big Year

There is going to be a decided upswing in business within the immediate future in Plymouth. That is the continued belief of every business man contacted by The Plymouth Mail this week.

Coupled with this optimistic feeling comes the announcement that The Detroit Edison company will spend $18,000,000 for improvements in and around Detroit.

There are also indications that the plant of the Burroughs company will probably be in operation within the next 60 or 90 days as some equipment is already being placed.

Harry G. Snow, controller of The Edison company, speaking of their tremendous expansion program, yesterday stated:

"The program will be our largest capital-expansion activity since before the depression." Snow said, "and will amount to approximately six percent on our fixed capital."

The purchase of generating equipment will cost $7,900,000; construction of substations, $1,800,000; construction of overhead and underground transmission lines, 2,400,000, and transformers, meters, and line extensions, $3,100,000. Miscellaneous construction, including expansion of heating systems, new trucking equipment, sales offices and warehouses, is expected to cost $2,800,000, and $750,000 will be spent for completion of the new service building.

The $18,000,000 program compares with a planned expenditure of $13,500,000 and an actual expenditure of approximately $14,000,000 in 1937.

"The expansions we are undertaking do not represent deferred work," Snow said. "We did not stop construction during the depression years. We wanted to keep our skilled construction organization intact, and Detroit has been steadily requiring more light and power."

"We are expecting further gains this year. We figure general business in the Detroit area will be as good in 1938 as in 1937. Our power load is now 50 percent greater than in 1929."

Snow added that about 40 percent of the $18,000,000 appropriation would be paid out in wages.

Plymouth business leaders, in additional interviews with The Plymouth Mail, continue their optimistic expressions as to future conditions: All of them say that confidence is at the greatest level, and all of them indicate that that is now being restored by what business leaders are doing.

Fred D. Schrader declared that while everything seemed exceptionally tight right now, conditions are just bound to be better. "We can make them that way, if we all talk that way," he declared. "There is one thing sure, we have to pull together, and that is what we are going to do."

Paul Nutting—"We are under the impression business in 1938 will be better than it has been in a long period of years. Our own business has at the present

Warning!

Some four years ago local business men were successful in killing off the biggest plague they are forced to undergo, the solicitation of funds and prizes for supposedly church and charitable purposes. In view of the fact that every business man makes as much of a contribution as he can afford to his own church or his own lodge or charitable organization, they see no reason why they should be asked to support some outside organization. The Mail has been requested to publish this warning at present because of the fact that the recent decline in business has apparently resulted in an effort being made to revive this old nuisance. The Chamber of Commerce rule against this obnoxious solicitation still prevails. Business men are urged to require that any one seeking contributions or gifts of any kind first show endorsements from the Chamber of Commerce.

Over 100 To Talk Over Plans

From the advanced sale of tickets, there is every indication that there will be well over 100 at the business men's luncheon to be held Wednesday evening, January 26 when plans for the re-organization and enlargement of the Chamber of Commerce will be discussed.

President Stewart Dodge stated yesterday that he was highly pleased with the interest being taken by merchants up and down the business streets in connection with the effort to build a stronger organization than the city had ever before had.

There will be no formal speeches at the meeting and every one present is expected to take part in the discussions, he stated. It will be essential to add many new members during the coming year, but this, it is believed by those who have been working on the re-organization plan will not be a difficult matter. The committee selling tickets wishes to make clear that even if no one has called upon you to sell you a ticket, you have a special invitation to attend the luncheon and take part in the discussion.

Howard Eckles New Commander Of Ex-Service Men

Esther Jacobs Heads The Auxiliary Group

Monday evening, January 10, the joint installation of the officers of the Ex-Service Men's club of Plymouth and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the club was held in the club hall.

The following officers were installed and will preside at the 1938 meetings of the Ex-Service Men's club and the Ladies' Auxiliary:

Club commander, Howard Eckles; vice commander, Harry Brown; secretary, Arno B. Thompson; treasurer, Carl E. Blach; officer of the day, William Renner; chaplain, Charles Thumme. Auxiliary: President, Esther Jacobs; vice president, Florence Gottschalk; secretary, Alice Vanderveen; treasurer, Ruby Terry; color bearer, Hilda Eckles; chaplain, Vaneta Algire.

Following the installation ceremony, and through the courtesy of Charles Thumme and Mr. and Mrs. Steven, Margaret and Thelma Steven, sister tap dance team entertained the club and auxiliary with an excellent exhibition of dance routines, including the waltz, fox trot, the Swanee dance, and the military tap. The little Steven sisters received a big hand for their delightful and clever steps and were called back repeatedly for encore.

The Ex-Service Men's club, in the past year, under the leadership of Archie Collins, our commander until his death during the latter half of 1937 and then under the vice commander, Howard Eckles, remained in the fore front in community service, taking an active part or participating financially in Memorial day services, Poppy day observance, Red Cross membership campaign, community Halloween party and community Christmas distribution. Also through their sponsorship of Scout P-2 Boy Scouts of America have assisted Scout Master Gilbert Williams to place this troop among the leaders of the

Mrs. Murray To Address P. T. A.

Mrs. B. M. Murray, prominent Plymouth woman, will speak on the subject, "The Child and the Home," at the Starvation Parent-teachers' association meeting on Tuesday, January 25 at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Murray is well qualified as a speaker and instructor, being a graduate of Michigan State college and a former instructor in the Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit. She has been conducting a very interesting evening class in Plymouth high school dealing with child psychology and has just started another on mental hygiene. Mrs. Murray also teaches an extension class in Wayne university and is religious director at Cranbrook school.

Mrs. Eva McAllister, who is well known in Plymouth for her vocal work, will sing several selections.

This meeting should be of special interest to all parents and it is hoped many will realize the great privilege afforded them by such a meeting as this.

Methodists To Present Musical

Sunday night, January 23, there will be presented at the Methodist church a musical sketch entitled "Things Worth While." This will be put on by the Evangelical Singers of Detroit, a male quartet from the Fourteenth Avenue Methodist church, the parish from which Rev. Clason came last summer.

The cast of characters is as follows: John Henry Jones, bass; grocer, part taken by Milton Dinner; James R. Bacon, president of a bank, Fay Putnam (second tenor); David Arlington, retired farmer, Phil Strickland (first bass); Oliver Lee, clerk in Jones' store and director of the quartet, Earl H. Keim (second bass).

The scene is set in the modest, old-fashioned, bachelor home of Oliver Lee in the town of Bonville. It is Sunday evening. The quartet which was broken up some 20 years ago when Bacon left to seek his fortune in the city, is meeting to talk over old times and sing some of the old songs.

Mrs. Harry Dahmer entertained her "608" club, Wednesday at 1:30 o'clock luncheon.

An election of officers for the Plymouth Civic association will be held at the first meeting of the year next Monday evening, January 25. Reading Circle will be the member of the meeting.

Fails To Stop At Crossing; Detroitier Crushed Under Train

Owen E. McQuirk, aged 72, of 4053 Montgomery street, Detroit, was instantly killed here last Monday afternoon when his car was hit by a Detroit bound passenger train on the Mill street crossing. Witnesses stated that McQuirk apparently did not notice the signal lights and drove directly into the path of the train which carried his own car from Mill street down the yards of the Eckles Coal and Supply company.

One of the strange things of the accident is the fact that the door on the driver's side of the car was partly open, but the glass was not broken, which indicated that apparently the driver was not hurt when the train hit the car. Some have suggested that possibly he opened the door and tried to jump out of the car after the train had hit it and in doing so jumped directly under the engine. The body was about 300 feet from the crossing and the train went about 30 feet beyond where the body was crushed. Captain of Police Charles Thumme took statements from railroad officials and witnesses. He also called the Wayne county coroner's office where he made arrangements to release the train so that it might continue on its trip. Coroner claimed the body and removed it to the county morgue.

HOW TO FIX UP THE TAX LAWS.

Governor Frank Murphy has imported some high priced political tax story book writer from Wisconsin to Michigan to "sell" the taxpayers of the state on new ways to get more taxes out of the pockets of the already over-taxed residents of Michigan.

The editor of The Plymouth Mail can tell the Governor in a mighty few words just how he can fix up the tax laws of Michigan so that there will be some tax justice and LESS tax burden.

First—Plug up the holes in the tax laws so that ALL public officials have to pay taxes just like the taxpayers who support them. Of course such a provision as that would be had for the Governor who has accumulated a pretty fair sized fortune off tax-exempt public pay checks. But why shouldn't the people who make such an easy living off the public give some of their income to the support of the government that supports them? There should be a special state tax on public pay checks and a federal income tax for this privileged class as well.

Second—Take ALL taxes off food and clothing, we mean sales taxes, processing taxes and every other direct and indirect hidden tax.

Third—Exempt from taxation small homesteads actually occupied by the owner where valuations are down in the small brackets.

Fourth—Do all of these things, then STOP SQUANDERING TAX DOLLARS!

If such a program as this should become effective, fellows of the Murphy type would squeal to high heaven as it would be the FIRST time they had ever been compelled to contribute a cent to the support of their government.

On the other hand it would bring actual tax relief to a vast army of people who are in real distress and find it impossible to buy enough food to support those dependent upon them, to say nothing about paying taxes.

Public officials will immediately say such a tax-reduction program wouldn't leave enough money to operate the government and the schools.

That is NOT so. There would be plenty of money if it was HONESTLY and judiciously spent. The trouble of today is that we are doing DISHONEST things under the guise of honesty that cost us vast sums of money.

But one should not worry too much about such a tax program as this being adopted. It would benefit the little taxpayer too much.

The theory of present day government is to keep as large a class of people in abject poverty. Doing this means more jobs for politicians and it gives the screaming job holders a chance to rave to high heaven about the inequality of things. That helps to get votes.

No, do not look for any honest tax reduction reform being offered the state. The "tax reform" you will hear much about will be one providing MORE taxes.

USING GOOD SENSE.

We congratulate President Roosevelt upon his supreme court selection. He has twice side-stepped the appointment of Michigan's aspirant for the job. Apparently, the President has some doubts of his ability to get the senate to confirm "our" candidate, providing he ever had any intention of appointing him.

DOING THINGS IN A BIG WAY.

When the present Governor took office it was upon a pledge in his platform to operate the state government of Michigan economically. This was a platform pledge that contained a platform condemnation of the previous administration for having increased state governmental costs a little over $3,000,000 per year. The Detroit News Sunday published a tabulation of state expenses showing that Governor Murphy's "economy" administration had during the first year spent nearly $5,000,000 more for political hirelings than did the previous administration he condemned for spending $3,000,000 more than was spent the year before. But what does a campaign promise mean to greedy politicians these days, anyway?

WOULDN'T IT WORK WONDERS!

Wasn't it Captain John Smith of the old Jamestown colony down in Virginia who declared that if members of the colony didn't work, they wouldn't eat? What wonders a law of that kind would bring about these days!

What's Right With America!

surteited with critics—critics of society, critics of industry, critics of education, critics of religion, critics, critics, critics.

Where did they get all this to criticize which they spend so much time detracting? Who produced all this anyhow? The critic doesn't produce, he destroys. If someone didn't do something, the critic would be out of a job. We are altogether too much in the grip of the critic. It is an era of criticism. We have laid aside the crowd as the symbol of our day. The hammer is the instrument we are familiar with.

The emphasis of the hour is to tear down and it requires but little genius to tear things down. The man who couldn't build a cathedral can tear down a cathedral. And in the spirit of that estimate of value, we should be looking upon very much of the mad efforts of this hour to undo much that has been done, and done by hands of sacrifice.

Whenever a man dares lay destructive hands upon my country, I want to know his qualifications.

We are in need of a great revival of pro-Americanism! What is right with America! And there is plenty of rightness to deserve some very great enthusiasm. We are in danger today of a great rabble of folks whose only qualification to be endeavoring to lead groups in actions and resolve among us is that they are out with our form of government, and we must keep still, because it has long been said that free speech among us is sacred, no matter what the speaker says.

Because we may, as a land of liberty, be kindly toward expression of opinion does not mean that we welcome every detractor of our government to go ahead and say everything he wants to say. It might be true that such freedom of speech would transcend some even more sacred fact than itself. What the speaker is speaking about may be of more real value to all of us than that he should continue to talk so. Recently in speaking at one of our great colleges, the Chief Justice of the United States said—"The question facing organized society now is no longer a question of establishing democracy and its institutions, but it has now become the question of preserving them." That to me has been a provocative sentence for meditation. Our country has come along through those imperiled times, and past the pains of travail in our birth as a united nation and we are now to decide whether, and if so, how, a united people can express their great strength for national ends and not destroy individual freedom, our very lifeblood, the heart-beat, if you please, of democracy.

We are not facing the question of the adequate power of government. I must confess we have not infrequently been startled at its timidity, in our own state and in others of late; however, we are not faced with danger of lack of power of the government, though the abuse of, or our neglect to exercise it has pushed us very close to the rumbling edge of revolution of late. How to use the real power of government is, however, one of the crying questions. Out of the clash of all this turmoil that has arisen in the strife of ideals that have been posing for support among our people, many of our best thinkers have been asking most searchingly whether or no the characteristic democratic impulses which have long sustained and kept our nation strong have begun to wane in the appreciation of the masses, for whom democracy was born. Are we by the pressure of economic forces, and by the insidious teachings of alien philosophy, to let our democracy die? The argument of the Chief Justice to which I just made reference was that the security of democratic institutions is not to be found in the existing constitutional provisions or framework of our fabricated forms of government, but rather in the dominant sentiment which maintains them.

What is that dominant sentiment of which the great jurist speaks? It is the resultant of many interacting forces, among which is the outstanding influence of our intellectual leaders who have had the special advantage of our great educational institutions. Our colleges and universities sow the seed from which our national crop grows. There are certain great recognized buttresses of our democracy. Freedom of learning; Freedom of speech; Freedom of the press; Freedom of assembly; Freedom of conscience. These and others must not be displaced nor undermined. But our confidence will prove illusory if those who are foremost in all the enjoyment of all these privileges are not keenly conscious of their responsibility. The arch enemies of society are those who know better, but by indirection, mis-statement, under-statement, and slander seek thus to accomplish concealed purposes, or to gain profit of some sort by misleading the public. The remedy for all these liabilities so easily thus listed is to be found in the aroused allegiance and loyalty of those who believe in, and love, and cherish all America means.

It is high time for Americans everywhere to speak plainly of their appreciation of and affection for their country. We believe the great Englishman was right, who long ago estimated America as "God's last and greatest effort in behalf of humanity." It is time for us to say, in the face of all the loud hue and cry against our country, some of the things we believe as right about America.

This great Democracy, to begin with, is the best form of government this world knows. It is not, as many would try and make the public believe, a question of America choosing either Communism or Fascism. Someone recently said in answer to such a proposition—"To ask us to decide whether we are to be Communist or Fascist was like asking an innocent man whether he preferred to spend his life in Sing Sing or Dannemora." He wouldn't choose either one. Such a proposed dilemma is based on two fallacies: It assumes that liberal democracy is dead, which is not true at all; and it assumes that there is a real difference between fascism and communism. The fact is the two things differ only in verbal definition. They have a common trio of practices—Revolution—Dictatorship—Corporate State. The Fascists speak of the "masses" as the nation. The Communists prefer to use the word "proletariat."

It is not mine now to advertise either or both of them by discussion. I am very sure the whole communistic advance would have withered and died out of our problem had it not been for the vivid advertisement given it by the great denunciation it has had by many. Let it alone! It thrives on your flourishing denouncement. Great Dwight L. Moody, the Evangelist, said he never preached but one sermon on the Devil. He never in all his life berated anybody or anything as he did the Devil in that sermon. He called him every name he could think of and even hunted up other names and things he himself had never known before. He said he certainly gave him everything in the arsenal. When it was over a number of his listeners said that that old fellow he was after must be quite a fellow anyhow! That is exactly the sort of advertising communism has been getting of late. Folks who rant and tear their hair in eloquent denouncement pose as though they were very brave but all that has been accomplished has been to keep the subject before the public attention. Communism lives on controversy. We are not, in America, forced to choose between communism or fascism. We have Democracy.

What we need to do right now is to say more about what we have, and what we have done and can do! Government by the people, and not by one man! The solvency and the stability of government and of people is in almost exact ratio to the extent of democracy among them. That much can be done to increase the efficiency of democracy to meet modern needs, of course none will question. The point, however, that must never be lost sight of is that in trying "to make democracy work," a phrase our experimenting President has recently given us, we must not destroy democracy itself. We cannot have such doubtful advantages, as some would have us believe, are to be found in instant command of a one-man dictatorship and keep what we know as personal liberty. We have to strike a balance between what we demand of government and what we demand of life itself. How are we to make democracy work and keep democracy? We will know that democracy may destroy itself, or be destroyed. It is certain that the quality of government will never rise higher than the moral and intellectual stature of those who govern. Just as a despot may be benevolent or cruel, so also a people that governs may be educated, wise, public-spirited, or just the reverse, as Dr. Adams has brilliantly declared.

Let us not be quick to forget what this great country of ours is and has done and has given to us.

It seems to be rather easy for strangers to get an attention today as they seek to detract this government, and make suggestive changes. We have heard so much about what is wrong with America I am sure it is time for the great big majority of us to begin to make vigorous mention of some of the things that are right about our country. The vast majority of Americans are not radicals. But the radicals have been making all the noise. It is a very, very old story of the man who went to the market and contracted to furnish them with a carload of frogs' legs. He was mistaken by the amount of noise he heard. We have heard from radical agitators so very much of late that I feel it is the duty of the conservative mass of our people to say something. Someone has defined a conservative as a citizen with a stake in the community; one who in the economic sense is a little ahead of the game. We have been told and told and told, until a lot of folks have begun to believe, that there are many more losers than winners among us as a citizenry. They have told us that 80 percent of the wealth of the nation is held by two percent of the people. They have told us that almost all of us are downtrodden masses, and that just about all of us are under some big iron heel. We have been told a lot, and a very, very great amount of it is not true at all.

There are 65,000,000 individual life insurance policyholders in our country. That's interesting! There are 45,000,000 individual depositors in savings banks! There are 15,000,000 individual home owners! Such figures are not made much over; but do other country on earth begins to compare with such a record. When I hear what I have been hearing so much of late, I say—let's hear the other side of this. Someone was watching a negro ball game one day and the side at bat was running wildly around the bases. He asked one of the players what the score was. '25 to 0' was the reply. '25 to 0? They sure are beating you in bad shape.' 'Oh I don't know,' was the rather comfortable reply, 'you see, we ain't been to bat yet. Wait till we once does get in.'

We have had little of late but the score of our detractors. It is time for the real believers in America to take up the cause. Eighty percent of the wealth in the hands of two percent of our people! What a big hit that does seem like as it fairly rings off the bat. The trouble with it, however, is that it is a foul ball, and is not so at all. The real fact in the case is that 38 percent of our wealth is held by 13 percent of our people, which is utterly different. The idea that almost everybody is just one vigorous jump ahead of starvation and the jumping power growing weaker rapidly is not so at all. At the depth of the depression, whenever or wherever that was, there were 5,000,000 cases on relief. That may have represented 20,000,000 people; less than 1/8 our population. An enormous number truly; but at a time when the policy of our government was to swell the relief roll. Yet in spite of many who gladly increased the figures and in the worst times a whole world has ever seen, 5/6 of our people were self-sustaining and making their way. That fine company is entitled to a testimony.

The discontented group always carries a news value the papers can flaunt. We get so very much news about thieves, and murderers, and unfaithful folks. They seem to have monopolized the news columns. But let us not think this testifies they are out in front in the majority. They make the news, because they are not the usual. As long as honesty, and virtue, and integrity, and frugality, and affection, and loyalty, are not news, you can be sure they are the usual, the regular conduct. Let us not be confused by all this publicity of discontent and mistake it for the real thing.

Someone has recently noted that America is normally and heavily conservative except when scared. We, in ordinary, are for the Supreme Court, the Flag, the Constitution, and the Bible. We are against Socialism, inflation, legislative panaceas, political messiahs, and breast-beaters in general. It is doubtless good in the long run, for the general conservatism, that we are prodded and pestered and scared by the radicals every so often. The radicals have much vision and no balance. The conservatives have much balance and scant vision. And what we, who just go right on living here in America, must do is to find out the best way to make use of what we are and have, and continue to fit it to the largest number, and not be driven away from the values of our real America by some radicals who would wreck all realities in a blind rush for impossible Utopias. In spite of the world upheavals, which we find ourselves amid, I am sure we will be able to rediscover the essential lines of America's development and project them into the future.

There are doubtless some corrections that will be necessary in the abuses of what we now term capitalism, which is largely an imaginary affliction of organization. We will have to find out somehow how much liberty we can really preserve, and just how much organization we really do need. We must expel from among us every semblance of what our bitter critics call wage-slavery, a term they roll like a morsel under a tongue that speaks but needs not define. But we in America have no place for any such a fact, and do not intend to have. We propose to increase the powers and liberties of all. It is the natural result of this government of ours. We must go forward in short, forward to the "America of the future and not to the Europe of the past." Democracy carries the banner of freedom, and there is not, and there must not be, any conflict between progress and liberty.

In seeking now for a closing word for this positive declaration of patriotism, let me bring again to you a deathless exhortation given to our country from the lips of the greatest son we ever grew. "Let now every American! Every lover of liberty! Every well-wisher of posterity! vow, by all the blood which was shed by our forefathers, never, knowingly, to violate our laws, and never to tolerate such violation by others. As the patriots of 1776 died to support the Declaration of Independence, so to the support of, and to the defense of our constitution and our laws, let every American pledge life, property, honor. Let everyone of us remember always that, to violate the law, is to trample upon the sacrifice of our fathers and to tear asunder the charter of our children's liberties. Let reverence for the law of our land be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles at her knees. Let reverence for law be taught in our schools; be written in our books; be preached from our pulpits; proclaimed from our legislative halls and enforced by our Courts of Justice. Let such reverence for law become the political religion of our nation." Let both old and young, rich and poor, grave and gay, all tongues and all tribes and all conditions, let all our citizenry sacrifice unceasingly upon the altars and bring America indeed unto the attainment of the Pilgrims' pride.

America must not fail! America will not fail! Such an assurance comes to bolster us in this day of controversy and strife and threat. An assurance from multitudes of homes, homes at whose firesides stand our most sacred loyalties on guard. An assurance swelling up from the vast resources of a nation of contented people who are not to be over-topped by some new hatreds. An assurance that swells to a chorus caught up by the millions of genuine patriots among us. By brave mothers in their little homes who sing loyalty in their households. By strong men of labor who go about their rugged toil in field and shop and market, in the pride of their country. By children who in the halls of loyal schools have learned the language of loyalty. Upward and onward the swelling diapason of our great Land

Librarian On Detroit Program

Wayne county librarians attended a meeting in Detroit on January 18, when members of the staff gave brief five-minute talks on recent books.

Mrs. Ada Murray from Plymouth reviewed "Road to War" by Mills; Mrs. Beth Gardner from Melvindale chose "Life and Death of a Spanish Town", by Paul, and Mrs. Myrtle Patterson from Inkster talked about "Island of Bell", by Covarrubias. In the fiction list was "Famine", by O'Flaherty, reviewed by Mrs. Agnes Pauline from the Allen Park branch library. Mrs. Ada Roscoe from Ecorse talked about "Seven Who Fled", by Protosch, and Mrs. Doris Cadger from Trenton chose "Lost King" by Sabatini. "Education of Hyman Kaplan", by Ross was chosen by Mrs. Juanita Sutherland from Plymouth, and "Citadel", by Cronin was reviewed by Thelma Lents, from Wayne.

Miss Grace Gillespie, of the headquarters staff, reviewed Madame Curie's biography, and Miss Mary Hunter spoke on "Importance of Living" by Lin Yutang.

France, with 76, leads the great naval powers of the world in modern submarines. Italy has 61; Japan, 44; Great Britain, 33; Germany, 36; and the United States, 24.

of liberty arises. I am sure the noble hosts who have gone on before us—hosts who know well now the ways we are taking—are themselves also caught up in the strain. The sweeping harmony of our written song will most surely reverberate along the everlasting hills of tomorrow and fill Heaven with music of the religious destiny of this Land of ours. For the Land of our fathers is indeed a vital part of God's great program for all mankind.

"Oh beautiful for patriot dream,
That sees beyond the years,
Thine alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears—
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee!
And crown thy good with brotherhood,
From sea to shining sea!"

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

FORD GREATEST-MAN OF MODERN TIMES

As far as we are concerned, the National Labor Relations Board is fighting courageous independence, in its argument with Henry Ford. No matter what the "showdown" may bring, our hat is off to Henry Ford as one of the great men of modern times.—E. A. Stankrauff in The Holly Herald.

SMALL POTATOES

Once in about so often, this writer re-confesses, if that is a good word, to the fact that he was brought up on a farm where thrift walked hand in hand with hard work. To waste good food is shocking to the sensibilities of one reared under such severe circumstances.

This idea of destroying second grade potatoes at a time when hundreds of families in every section of Michigan are short on food or the money to buy food just does not ring right. This writer recalls many a family in the old neighborhood out in Vevay, where children were reared to successful life, but where second rate foodstuffs were resorted to. Right this moment there comes to mind a family, the parents are now gone to their reward, whose sons and daughters are still counted among our good citizens. One winter some crops had failed, hardships had come to this family, but beans were cheap. Beans were the chief diet of that family during that long winter. Modern social workers would be horrified to find a family of children such as that, living on beans, but this family survived and a few years later the parents had recovered their financial footing and acquired a farm, still in possession of the family.

No one who lived during those times will ever forget the sacrifices demanded. All will recall some family that weathered those lean years later to earn success and the satisfaction of self-reliance.

All this is brought to mind when we read that farmers of Michigan are to be paid for destroying or feeding to livestock nearly a million bushels of second grade potatoes. A million bushels of potatoes would make a lot of good, palatable, nourishing hot soup. A lot of good old-fashioned farm folks have subsisted on small potatoes while cash money was received for the more marketable.

If every family was provided for and still there was a surplus, all well and good that such surplus be disposed of. But while people stand in line at welfare offices; while children are improperly nourished; while taxpayers struggle to meet their bills; while men and women by the millions are unemployed—to waste and to destroy good food becomes well-nigh criminal.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

THE ANSWER IS NO!

Governor Murphy is advocating another new state tax—an income tax. We wonder if he ever paid one.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

HOW DOES IT HELP?

Destroying foodstuffs has always seemed like a poor policy to pursue in an effort to get a better distribution of this world's goods. Coloring the potatoes to be fed to the pigs may protect the market for the potatoes, but how will it help those who have not the money to buy potatoes with?—Joe Sturgeon in The Delta County Reporter.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH—Loyd Sutherland, pastor. We continue the thought of stewardship. Sermon subject, "Counting the Cost." Text: "For which of you intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it? Or what king, going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth, whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? Luke 14. Bible school at 11:15. Remember we are on an attendance test, don't miss next Sunday and spoil the record. Meeting of the young people at 6:00 o'clock. Group No. 2, with Ernestine Robinson as leader will have charge. We are all studying Missions. Instead of the usual evening service in our church, we are to become a part of a union service at Northville Baptist church. Our congregation there is without a minister and we gladly accept the invitation to join our sister church and that of the other churches in Northville in this service at 7:30. Rev. Sutherland will be the preacher. Remember our mid-week service of study and prayer on Wednesday evening at 7:30. Will all our former friends who have previously been patrons of our suppers in the past, please take note that the ladies of this church will serve another of these suppers on next Friday evening. Don't forget, we want to meet all our old friends and new ones as well. These suppers are not to be served each week as we used to do, go you will help us by coming and bringing your friends.

"Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all." 1 Chron. 29:11.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist—Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of twenty years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Truth" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 23. The Golden Text, from Psalm 68:15, is: "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth." Among the Bible citations in this passage (Psalm 25:5): "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 272): "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church.—Walter Nichol, pastor. 10:00 a.m., Sunday school. 11:00 a.m., church worship. 6:30 p.m., young people. A group of young people will attend the mid-winter young people's conference under the auspices of the Presbyterian young people's league to be held this Saturday afternoon and evening in Trumbull avenue Presbyterian church, Detroit. The leadership training school for Plymouth, Northville, and surrounding communities is going forward nicely with four courses offered each Wednesday evening. The school will meet Wednesday, January 26 in the local Presbyterian church from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. You are invited to attend any of these classes. Another of those very fine church dinners will be held Thursday, January 27 in the dining room of the church. The church people are urged to support the women in their worthy efforts. The community is invited to enjoy the hospitable fellowship of the evening and an excellent dinner. A group of women interested in the study of the book, "Rebuilding Rural America" will meet at the manse Tuesday, January 25, at 10:30 a.m. Bring a box lunch. Tea and coffee will be provided. One of the most important institutions in the civilization that is France is the French Academy. Its 40 members are supposed to be the "immortals" of France. Actually most of them are merely distinguished Frenchmen of immense respectability. The job of the French Academy is to edit a dictionary of the French language, a grammar, rhetoric, a book of rules for poetry.

Are You A Leader?

If you earnestly attempt to work out of trying situations, YOU ARE A LEADER. The recession has been a trying situation but has already been broken. Confidence is being restored. Men and women are facing re-employment instead of lay-offs.

The back-to-work program on the part of leading manufacturers is, of course, highly commendable, however, your responsibility and mine toward this great movement is to make it possible for increasing employment by continuing to use our own individual purchasing power.

Full recovery from the recession will not come through witchery or by carrying a rabbit's foot in our pockets. BE A LEADER.

You may have some important transportation problems to work out at the present time. If so, we will be glad to counsel with you at your convenience.

The people living on Pine Tree road and Richland road now are having their mail delivered to their homes and the route has changed some.

Stark School News

We found it necessary to add another teacher to our staff at Stark. The fifth teacher began work here after the Christmas vacation. She is Mrs. Russell from Wayne. This fifth teacher happens to be the same individual that finished the term year before last. At that recent time she performed the teaching duties alone, handling all the grades. Now after a short lapse of one year and a half she has only the sixth grade. This is a striking illustration of Stark's mushroom-like growth.

Our P.T.A. is sponsoring a modern and old time dance at the American Legion hall in Newburg, January 28. Schaffer's five-piece orchestra will furnish the music. Everybody is welcome.

22 TO 27 MILES PER GALLON!

22 to 27 miles per gallon of gasoline! That's what many owners are reporting for the 60-horsepower Ford V-8.

300,000 people have bought it. That gives a pretty good idea of its popularity. Besides its amazing economy, the thrifty "60" is dependable and can take the beating of continued hard farm use.

That's real economy. And you'll like everything else about this Ford V-8 "60." It's smart looking. Interiors are trim and there's plenty of room for both passengers and luggage. The 85-horsepower engine is available if you want its extra power.

For those folks who want a bigger, finer car with all the traditional Ford economy and dependability—there's the De Luxe Ford V-8. It is built on the same sturdy 112-inch wheel-base chassis but it is equipped with the 85-horsepower engine only.

The regular meeting of the parent-teacher association of the George H. Fisher school will meet at the school on Friday evening, January 21, at 8:00 o'clock.

Miss Georgetown Reed, Wayne county nurse, will speak on "Immunization."

Miss Barbara Horton and Dr. Robert Ballmer Wed

A quiet wedding ceremony united Barbara Kathleen Horton, daughter of Mrs. Allen Asa Horton and the late Mr. Horton, and Dr. Robert Sidney Ballmer, of Ann Arbor, son of Mrs. Emil A. Ballmer, of Ann Arbor, and the late Mr. Ballmer, at 4:00 p.m. Saturday, in the bride's home on Penniman road, the Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, presiding.

While the wedding party took its place before a window, at one end of the living room, over which hung swags of smilax with ranunculus, anemones and acacia in it, Mrs. Michael O'Connor presided the prelude to Act III of Lohengrin's and the wedding march.

The bride wore a two-piece traveling costume of aqua wool with brown accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of bronze orchids and roses. Mrs. Austin Stecker, of Detroit, was the bride's only attendant, wearing a two-piece afternoon dress of gray crepe with corsage of violets and raptures roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Dr. Luther Carpenter, of Ann Arbor. The ushers were Hugh and Hal Horton, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Horton wore a gown of black crepe and lace with a corsage of gardenias and yellow roses. Mrs. Ballmer wore a tailored dress of black faille with eggshell trimming and her corsage was of violets and talisman roses.

About the home were flower arrangements of lavender stock, purple anemones, yellow ranunculus, gerberas, acacia, white roses and freesia.

The guests for the wedding reception, which immediately followed, numbered 100, coming from Ohio, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Northville, Grosse Ile and Plymouth.

Dr. and Mrs. Ballmer left immediately on a short wedding trip after which they will be at home to their many friends at 210 North Ingalls street, in Ann Arbor.

The bride attended Damon Hall in Newton, Massachusetts, and graduated from Bradford academy, in Bradford, Massachusetts, in 1930. She studied voice in the New England Conservatory of Music, in Boston, also in the school of music in the University of Michigan. The bridegroom received his B. S. degree at Michigan State college in 1927, his M. D. at the University of Michigan in 1934, was a member of Nu Sigma Nu fraternity and is now a senior instructor in the University hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Ballmer has many friends in Plymouth who extend to her and Dr. Ballmer their sincere wishes for a long, happy, wedded life. Many social functions were given in their honor preceding their marriage showing the high esteem in which both are held.

George Fisher School P.T.A. Meets Jan. 21

The regular meeting of the parent-teacher association of the George H. Fisher school will meet at the school on Friday evening, January 21, at 8:00 o'clock.

Miss Georgetown Reed, Wayne county nurse, will speak on "Immunization."

Miss Barbara Horton and Dr. Robert Ballmer Wed

A quiet wedding ceremony united Barbara Kathleen Horton, daughter of Mrs. Allen Asa Horton and the late Mr. Horton, and Dr. Robert Sidney Ballmer, of Ann Arbor, son of Mrs. Emil A. Ballmer, of Ann Arbor, and the late Mr. Ballmer, at 4:00 p.m. Saturday, in the bride's home on Penniman road, the Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, presiding.

While the wedding party took its place before a window, at one end of the living room, over which hung swags of smilax with ranunculus, anemones and acacia in it, Mrs. Michael O'Connor presided the prelude to Act III of Lohengrin's and the wedding march.

The bride wore a two-piece traveling costume of aqua wool with brown accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of bronze orchids and roses. Mrs. Austin Stecker, of Detroit, was the bride's only attendant, wearing a two-piece afternoon dress of gray crepe with corsage of violets and raptures roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Dr. Luther Carpenter, of Ann Arbor. The ushers were Hugh and Hal Horton, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Horton wore a gown of black crepe and lace with a corsage of gardenias and yellow roses. Mrs. Ballmer wore a tailored dress of black faille with eggshell trimming and her corsage was of violets and talisman roses.

About the home were flower arrangements of lavender stock, purple anemones, yellow ranunculus, gerberas, acacia, white roses and freesia.

The guests for the wedding reception, which immediately followed, numbered 100, coming from Ohio, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Northville, Grosse Ile and Plymouth.

Dr. and Mrs. Ballmer left immediately on a short wedding trip after which they will be at home to their many friends at 210 North Ingalls street, in Ann Arbor.

The bride attended Damon Hall in Newton, Massachusetts, and graduated from Bradford academy, in Bradford, Massachusetts, in 1930. She studied voice in the New England Conservatory of Music, in Boston, also in the school of music in the University of Michigan. The bridegroom received his B. S. degree at Michigan State college in 1927, his M. D. at the University of Michigan in 1934, was a member of Nu Sigma Nu fraternity and is now a senior instructor in the University hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Ballmer has many friends in Plymouth who extend to her and Dr. Ballmer their sincere wishes for a long, happy, wedded life. Many social functions were given in their honor preceding their marriage showing the high esteem in which both are held.

Obituary

GARR C. CAMMON

Garr C. Cammon, a former resident of this city, passed away suddenly Thursday, January 19, at his home in Cadillac. Mr. Cammon was born in Northville, December 4, 1891 and attended the Northville school until his mother's death. He then made his home with his uncle, Frank Taylor of Waterford, finishing his schooling in that place. Taking up telegraphy he worked in that capacity until his enlistment for service in the World War, serving his country in France in the signal corps until his discharge. Shortly after that he returned to Plymouth, working as operator in the Plymouth depot, later moving to Cadillac. He leaves to mourn his loss his aged father, Lewis Cammon of this city, and sons, Howard and Marvin of Muskegon. The body was brought to the Schrader Funeral home, from which place funeral services were held Saturday, January 15, at 2:00 p.m. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery. Rev. Loya Sutherland officiating.

BEN J. HAVERSHAW

Ben J. Havershaw, who resided at 204 North Harvey street, passed away Sunday, January 16 at the age of 61 years. He is survived by his widow, Rose; and one son, Clare of Detroit and one grandson, Douglas; two brothers, Jesse Havershaw of Detroit and Charles Havershaw of South Lyon. The body was brought to the Schrader Funeral home, from which place funeral services were held Tuesday, January 18 at 2:00 p.m. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery. Rev. Walter Nichol officiating.

JAMES M. GOTTSCHALK

James M. Gottschalk, who resided at 7845 Litley road, Canton township, passed away early Monday morning, January 17 at the age of 63 years. He was the husband of the late Mary Gottschalk. He is survived by three brothers, Frank and Charles, both of Plymouth and Lewis Gottschalk of Florida; several nieces and nephews. The body was brought to the Schrader Funeral home, from which place funeral services were held Wednesday morning, January 19, at 10:00 a.m. Two beautiful hymns were sung by Mrs. J. T. Chapman, Rev. Stanford S. Closson officiated and interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

CHARLES M. MATHEE

Charles M. Mathee, who resided at 373 North Main street, passed away early Monday morning, January 17, at the age of 63 years. He is survived by his widow, Lottie M. Mathee, one daughter, Mrs. Edna Blunk, and one son, David W. Mathee, both of Plymouth; and one brother, Frank H. Mathee of Jackson. The body was brought to the Schrader Funeral home, from which place funeral services were held Wednesday, January 19 at 2:00 p.m. A beautiful hymn was rendered by Messrs. Austin and Calvin Whipple.

At a meeting of the city commission Monday evening, an ordinance establishing and regulating the city planning commission was adopted, giving legal status to the planning commission which was appointed several months ago. This will make no change in the plans already begun by the commission.

A petition was presented by several business men, requesting that city ordinance 94 be abolished as amended by Ordinance 96. The ordinance is question concerns transient merchants who are required to have special license to sell goods. Ordinance 96 passed its first and second reading and will be finally considered at the commission meeting February 7.

The city was authorized to install a street light on Mill street, between the Pere Marquette railroad and Golden road.

February 9 Fixed As Banquet Date

(Continued from Page One) pressure" efforts made to induce a person to pay more than 50 cents for a ticket. Any additional sum more than that amount will be purely a contribution, if one should decide to pay more than 50 cents. Each ticket will have a stub and the person selling the ticket will designate on the stub whether the extra money is to go to the King's Daughters of Northville or to the P.T.A. children's aid fund in Plymouth.

Women will be most welcome guests at the banquet. It has also been made clear that working men who believe in honest, fair and good government but who cannot afford to pay $25 for a plate to attend political banquets, will be most welcome guests. In fact, this affair has been arranged and will be conducted for just ordinary every day folks who have to work for a living. That's why there will be a good, low priced, substantial meal of Michigan produced food, and that is why that if any one desires to pay more than 50 cents for a ticket, the amount will go to the aid of the distressed rather than into some political jack-pot to be used to buy up votes at election time.

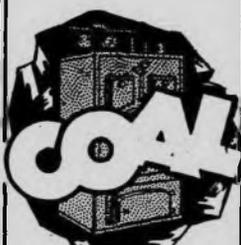

The banquet menu will be as originally announced, boiled Michigan potatoes, Michigan fried salt pork, milk gravy, Michigan johnny cake, Michigan corn mush and maple syrup and coffee. It is possible there may be a side-dish of Michigan white beans.

A loud speaker system will be set up on the entire main floor of the hotel so that all addresses can be plainly heard in any part of the building.

A large number of prominent public leaders of Michigan have signified their intention of attending, not only to hear the addresses but to be present at one of the most unique events of its kind held in Michigan or the country.

It is interesting to note that a large number of Michigan cities and communities have decided to hold banquets of a similar nature. Committee announcements will be published next week.

Wayne Defeated by Plymouth Rocks 33-28

(By Franklin Coward)

In a very rough game last Friday night on their home court the Plymouth basketball team won over Wayne to bring their string of victories to five while they have only lost two. With both teams playing very rough only eight fouls were called on Plymouth while 12 were called on the visitors. This was very good because the play was very fast. Ross of the home team led both teams in scoring with 10 points while Moe and Egloff were next high for Plymouth with nine and eight in that order. Kellams of Wayne was high point man for the visitors with nine. Moe came out of his slump and played a very brilliant game with no fouls being called on him during the entire game.

The whistle blew and the game got under way in a hurry with a Plymouth man going down the floor and scoring a field goal before the opponents hardly knew what was happening. Then the visitors did the same thing only not quite as quickly and with the Rocks on their heels all the way. Then a very good exhibition of basketball was turned in by both teams for the rest of the period. Plymouth was ahead when the quarter ended by a score 14-9. In this period the Plymouth team had gotten the break on the Wayne team which they did not relinquish at any time during the game.

Both teams came back and the play was both hard and rough although only six points were scored by each team. This indicated that the teams had a good defense for the other's type of offense. Both teams used a passing attack which was similar in that the men of both teams passed the ball around just outside the red line while the rest of the team was circling in under their man long enough for the man with the ball to pass in to them so that they could shoot for the goal. After a time both teams discarded this play to some extent and used just straight passes to work in under the basket for the shot because the other team knew exactly what defense to use to guard their basket and to get the ball in their possession again. The score at the end of the half was Plymouth 20, Wayne 15.

When the third quarter began both teams came back refreshed and played very good basketball all through the period. Hardly any scoring was done by either team so that when the whistle blew for the end of the quarter the score stood with Plymouth on the long end of it 23-19. Only good playing on the part of the Wayne team kept Plymouth from scoring more than they did while the same thing was true of the Rocks. The ball was kept during the period by both teams equally but both teams were playing so well that they snared the ball off of the backboard and went down the floor although they didn't score. This play seemed to look good to the spectators because they were on their feet most of the period as they were during most of the game.

When the play was resumed after the rest both teams played so roughly that the referee had to stop the game and caution the players that they were playing too rough and that unless they stopped they would be put out of the game. This did not seem to stop the play although for a space of a minute the play was slowed down some. Then on a play in which Ross of the home team was to receive the ball on a pass something happened which made the players conscious of the rough play. After Ross received the ball from another man several of the Wayne players tried to get the ball out of his hands and they all fell to the floor. When they got up Ross had a cut over his right eye which necessitated him leaving the game. Frough was sent in to take his place but in a few minutes he came back with a large bandage on the cut and went in again for Plymouth. When the game ended the score was 33-28 in favor of the Blue and White of the home team cagers.

The line-ups were:
Plymouth—Moe, rf; Egloff, lf; Sackett, c; Ross, rg; Krumm, lg; Wayne—Brown, rf; Austin, lf; Finn, c; Kellams, rg; Horton, lg.
The substitutes were: Hitt, McAllister, Frough, Houghton, and Gilles for the Rocks while Monroe and Proctor were used for the visitors.

LOCAL RESERVES DOWN WAYNE BY 28-24

The Plymouth second team added another victory to their string last Friday by defeating Wayne's second team 28 to 24.

The most outstanding plays were delivered by Robert Norman and Harold Leach at the most crucial part of the game. The score was 22-21 in Plymouth's favor in the fourth period when Norman and Leach each sunk a basket in quick succession. Plymouth did not come close to relinquishing her lead after this uncertain period.

Wayne's outstanding good feature was its excellent passing with Temple and Angel of Wayne as the lead men, as far as scoring is concerned. Temple making four baskets and two foul shots and Angel sinking four baskets.

On the Plymouth team Robert Norman and Harold Leach were the leading scorers, Norman making five field goals and two foul shots and Leach putting in five field goals.

Taking all points into consideration, Plymouth outshone her rival in most parts of the game.

A FACULTY LOVE STORY

The following story was given to a member of the staff by a member of the freshman class.

There was once a MILLER boy named ALLEN who loved a girl named BELL. One day his mother said to him, "Are you going to marry HEARN?"

He answered, "It is very LICKLY I will." He intended to ask her that night so he asked her to meet him by the WELLS. He then went off and picked some flowers to CARY to her. A fellow by the name of WELL beat him there. ALLEN saw him and thought to himself, "I'll KILL-HAM," but on a second thought he remembered they LYNCH people for killing others. So he asked Bell to give up Well. She refused saying, "I LOVE WELL." At that he socked Well and she loved him for being so strong. He thought it was a convenient time for him to propose so he said, "I love you and want you for my own. I have a FORD car and we can live IN-GRAM-a's DYKHOUSE or would you rather CAMP, BELL? The DYKHOUSE has a FOUNTAIN in back of it. Will you marry me?"

She answered, "All I can make is WALLDORF salad and FRY bread CRUMBIEs.

They were married and lived until she got GRAY and he got BALDEN his head.

INCREASED ENROLLMENT NECESSITATES NEW SYSTEM

When an increase of 107 students occurs in one school year, something must be done to eliminate the crowded conditions. Starting January 31, the beginning of second semester, a day of 45-minute periods with five minutes between classes, which makes three periods in the morning and afternoon, will be introduced. This will eliminate the present 30-minute third hour activities period, forcing all clubs to be held either during the noon hour or after school closes. Clubs for which credit is given, such as art, Pilgrim Prints, band and music activities, and safety, will be incorporated in class periods.

MARCH OF YOUTH SEEN BY SCOUTS

A broadcast of the March of Youth program was the object of a trip to Detroit by Troop I of the Plymouth Girl Scouts. Before the broadcast the scouts were taken on a tour through the Detroit News building where they saw how the paper is made up, from the filing rooms and the library to the type setting rooms and the huge presses. After the tour the scouts went to the broadcasting studios and saw the Cass high school broadcast. The program consisted of interviews of students who were interested in novel vocations. One girl was planning to be an aeronautical engineer, another was interested in the study of the brain while still another girl was interviewed about her family tree which she had followed back as far as English nobility in the year 1800. The Cass high school chorus sang several songs.

PLYMOUTH GETS DEBATING TROPHY

The Plymouth high school debating team received the trophy symbolic of T.V.A.A. championship last Monday, January 17. Plymouth was the only unbeaten school in the league, while her nearest competitor, Ypsilanti, had a percentage of only 50. These two schools have been recommended by the association for a berth in the state elimination tournament.

The trophy is the silver-plated figure of a victorious youth holding aloft a wreath of victory. It will be placed in the trophy case shortly. This is the sixth year in which Plymouth has not been beaten in league competition, except by River Rouge.

According to the report made by Charles Hill, chairman of the debate committee of the T. V. A. A., the final standings are as follows:

Plymouth	1,000
Ypsilanti	650
River Rouge	600
Wayne	350
Ecorse	200
Dearborn	200

GOINGS ON AROUND P.E.S.

Hazel Curtis spent Wednesday and Friday nights with Gladys Ritchie.

Betty Flaherty had dinner in Brighton Sunday.

What did the rest of the P.E.S. students do? Well, I think that I would be correct in saying that they spent either Saturday ice skating and Sunday skiing or sliding or else Saturday skiing or sliding and Sunday ice skating.

Friday night either the basketball game or the Masonic Temple dance was attended and Saturday night the dance at Jewel and Bislich hall.

CLASS NOTES

Miss Waldorf's public speaking class has divided itself into two parts, led by Edward Landou and Leo Schmitz, to participate in the final panel discussion on Tuesday. The question to be discussed is, "John L. Lewis and his labor policy." To the side having the more intelligent and liveliest discussion a prize will be awarded.

The English 10B and A classes are learning to organize and arrange thoughts according to a plan in the study of outlines.

WEEKLY BONER

A discussion of colleges and their fees in the advanced algebra class ended in laughter last Tuesday morning when one student innocently inquired, "Miss Wells, how much does intuition cost at the U. of M?"

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

The morning section of Mrs. Lage's kindergarten have had a free hand cutting and tearing lesson in making snow men out of white paper. They have been making snow pictures with chalk on black paper. The afternoon section has finished reading two stories, "Come to Dinner" and "Run, Run". They have also been working on their seat work pads in preparation to enter the first grade in February.

Both sections have learned the snow song, "O-Ho".

The enrollment is 64 in all, 39 in the B section and 25 in the A section.

Miss Campbell's first graders are busy putting the siding on their house. They can read and write the numbers from one to ten. The pupils have finished their bird study on the first two birds—the crow and the robin.

In art they are making a large mural of a farm to correlate with a story they read about life on the farm.

The first graders in Mrs. Disbrow's room have memorized the well known poem "The Land of Counterpane" by Stevenson. In the music they have been learning "The Skating Song". They had three pictures in picture study and made them into a booklet. The pictures were "Helping Hand", "Feeding Her Birds", and "The Boy With the Rabbit".

Miss Inge's second grade has started a civic unit on transportation. In connection with this the pupils have made pictures of boats, buses, bridges, and an automobile. The room welcomes a new student from the Starkweather school, Robert Cramb. The class has been reading Eskimo pictures during the past week and molding igloos in the sandbox.

The class has been taking some new standardized achievement tests to determine their I. Q. ratings. The class has gained two new students from South Dakota, Leola and Beth Laughlin.

The fourth graders in Miss Widmeyer's room have had several pictures in their picture study, to date "Blue Bay", "The Angelus", "Song of the Lark", and "The Windmill". The 4-B's geography is concerned with Eskimos and the pupils have constructed booklets on this topic. The 4-A's are now studying China. They have also made a free hand map of South America putting in the different countries and coloring it.

The fifth grade in Mr. Beridge's room has acquired two new students Jacqueline Donaldson and Mildred Barron, who are getting along fine.

The 5-A arithmetic class is tackling long division now while the 5-B's are doing subtraction problems. The 5-A geography class is traveling in Mexico and 5-B's are in the East South Central states.

The boys' checker tournament is progressing rapidly. Mr. Beridge is going to play the winner. The students are hoping to have screens put on the windows so that they can play volley-ball next semester.

Miss Carr's fifth graders have been taking achievement tests to determine their I. Q. ratings. The pupils have finished their picture study.

In sewing the girls have hemmed a towel and embroidered it.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

The kindergarten A's have completed 14 pages of the Elson chart. They have learned songs about snow men and the winter. For room work they have made snow men and sleds.

The first A's have finished their Elson book and seat work pad. They are having a series of safety lessons. Jack teaches his dog how to be safe was the first one.

Jean Clayton has the honor of never being absent or tardy this term. The whole group has finished their calendars which are snow scenes on blue art paper.

Pupils in Miss Parmelee's room have completed their merry-go-round made out of orange boxes. They have also finished their picture study.

In the four A Helen School's team won the spelling down and Madeline Gear's team won in the five B.

In art the pupils are making a large portrait of Chinese, Norwegians, Indians, Negro mammals, and cowboys. In five B for reading they have made booklets on "The Invention of the Reaper", "The Woolen Industry", and "How Candy Mints are Made".

Pupils in Miss Benz's room had a spell-down which was tied. They are beginning the study of "Peter and Nancy in Africa." In picture study they have completed the study of "The Windmill" in connection with which they have read "Hans Brinker".

The six B's are studying decimals in arithmetic. Norma Jean Bauman's team won the last arithmetic down. The five A's are studying multiplication. The six A's are reviewing Egypt in geography.

The six A's are planning a farewell assembly for the sixth graders who are going to high school. For art the pupils are making linoleum blocks which will be printed on paper. They have also finished their picture study.

The six A's are planning a farewell assembly for the sixth graders who are going to high school. For art the pupils are making linoleum blocks which will be printed on paper. They have also finished their picture study.

SENIOR GIRL RESERVES SHOWN PLAYLET ON ETIQUETTE

The Senior Girl Reserves saw a short playlet in their meeting Thursday in which the players emphasized the mistakes which might easily occur at a desert-bridge.

Jane Taylor, the program chairman, was in charge of it; the girls were nearly all dressed wrong or had too much make-up on. It was a short burlesque of a modern bridge party. After the play the rest of the Girl Reserves were asked to point out the mistakes and suggest remedies.

Georgia is the largest state east of the Mississippi river.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHIES

Name: Astrid Hegge. Born: November 14, 1918 in Göttingen, Germany. Parents: Dr. and Mrs. Hegge. Description: Astrid is a true Nordic type. She is five feet nine inches tall, and has blond hair and gray green eyes. Schools attended: Astrid attended a private school in Oslo, Norway for the first year of her schooling. Skipping the second year she entered the third in Ann Arbor; she came to Plymouth in the fourth and has remained here since. Favorite authors: Astrid enjoys reading Sigrid Undset, Charles Dickens and Henrik Ibsen. Favorite amusements: Dancing, reading, and knitting. ### THERE'S A GOLD MINE IN OUR SCHOOL!—EDITORIAL

"There's a Gold Mine in the Sky" is a very popular song. Did you ever realize that there is a "gold mine" right in P.H.S.? There is—on second floor and on the door, in gold letters, is the word "Library." Behind this door is a room filled with books—books worth their weight in gold because of the information and immense pleasure they give. Books of various interesting types are there. Why not investigate?

The United States public health service is an activity of the treasury department.

There's No Comfort Like Eye Comfort

There is no finer joy than the joy of a good book and the comfort of good vision. Unfortunately we take the straits of vision so much for granted that we give little thought to our eyes—until they need help. Eyes wear out, like other muscles, and for perfect vision should have perfect care. Protect your precious sight—have your eyes examined regularly.

Greater Comfort—Better Appearance
