Chamber of Commerce Starts New Year With Over 125 Members Pledged To Support Organization

Booster Session Beneficial

Old Officers To Finish Up Present Year

With over 125 business men of Plymouth agreeing to take one or more memberships during the present year at $10 a membership, indications are that the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is off to a new year of activity under more favorable circumstances than for several years past.

At the business men's meeting held last week in the Mayflower hotel, it was the enthusiastic opinion of every person present that the Chamber of Commerce should be continued and its activities enlarged as much as its income will permit. It is believed that a part time secretary will be able to carry on the work for the present.

President Stewart Dodge, Vice President Glenn Jewell and Treasurer Carl Caplin were highly pleased with the response at the meeting.

President Dodge introduced George A. Smith, who declared that an organization such as the chamber of commerce was a necessary and essential part of the community.

"There are many civic duties that other organizations cannot perform that must necessarily fall to a chamber of commerce. A group such as this must be the leading spirit in the community in upbuilding our city," he said. "Of course you work hard to bring new industries to town so that our men can have work. But it is just as important that you see to it that certain kinds of business that are of no benefit to the city do not locate here. A chamber of commerce can do these things whereby others cannot," he said.

Andrew Dunn of the Dunn Steel Products company declared that Mr. Smith had clearly pointed out the problem. He, too, strongly recommended a larger and more energetic chamber of commerce.

Manager MacLachlan of the telephone company, Charles H. Bennett, Harold Anderson and many others expressed their ideas about a stronger and larger chamber of commerce.

The old officers, whose terms do not expire until May, suggested that they be relieved of their duties and new officers immediately elected, but this the 100 or more business men present would not consent to do.

President Dodge, Mr. Jewell, Mr. Caplin and the others were highly praised for the good work they had done under most adverse circumstances. They agreed to keep up their work and help build a stronger chamber of commerce for Plymouth. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic and beneficial held by the organization in many a month.

Help, If You Can! Many Need It

In this week's issue of The Plymouth Mail are numerous want ads from people who are seeking employment. Some of them have been out of employment for a long period, and it is their preference to help themselves rather than be helped by others. The one thing they are looking for is work! Can you provide any of them with employment for a few days or a few weeks? Maybe there is a repair job that they can do. Maybe there is some sort of a job about your home or buildings or your stores or your farms that can be done now—now in the greatest time of need. Everything indicates that present conditions are only temporary and that within another few weeks business will again be back to normal. If you can help during the present emergency by providing work for just a few days, it will be a God-send in many cases. Create a temporary job if it is humanly possible to do so. It will be an act you will never regret.

Wayne P. T. A. To Meet At Romulus

The Wayne County Council of Parent-Teachers association will hold its Founders day meeting in the high school auditorium at Romulus, on February 8. Business meeting will be called at 5:30 followed by potluck dinner at 6:30, with evening entertainment beginning at 8:00.

A pageant, "The Seven Candles of Learning" will be presented by the council followed by an address by N. J. Quickstad, fourth vice president of state parent-teacher association.

How To Create A Depression

President Roosevelt's Recipe
By an English Correspondent

The following article was written for "The Financial News" by a correspondent recently returned from a visit to New York and Washington and appeared in the December 7, 1937 issue of The London, England, News:

Perhaps the most surprising fact about the present depression in American trade is that it should have taken so many people by surprise. The depression was absolutely inevitable. Neither graphs, nor economic jargon, nor statistics are required to show how Mr. Roosevelt made the depression which should always bear his name. He created it by methods which were as direct as they were effective.

His power to create a state of uncertainty in which no business man or investor will incur risks is vested in the President of the United States. Mr. Roosevelt is the first President who thought fit to use that power. Every ounce of it was applied. He had other and lesser means of depressing industry. They were unwittingly, but unsparringly used.

Of Mr. Roosevelt it may be said that he means well, but acts erratically. In a flash of his country's history his leadership was splendid, his brave spirit was infectious. He is a man of principle without principles. But in public life he demonstrates the truth of Oliver Cromwell's saying that "No one goes so far as he who knows not whether he is going." The President's policies revolve with the swiftness on an airplane's propeller. One day an inflationist, the next a deflationist. A fixer of prices who denounces his own creations, a giver of what he calls "the more abundant life" who orders the destruction of food while millions of his fellow-countrymen are undernourished. A great preacher of free speech who threatened the political ruin of the Senators who for the sake of principle opposed his Supreme Court "reforms." A bitter critic of bureaucracy who has created so many bureaus that Washington cannot contain them. A stern advocate of economy who has spent more money than any (Continued on Page Two)

Auxiliary Will Entertain Clubs

On Wednesday afternoon, February 9, at 2:30 o'clock the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will hold open house to all women's organizations of the city in the church auditorium. Mrs. Kenneth D. Miller, a well known Detroit woman will speak. Musical selections will be given by Miss Hanna Strasen and the high school quartet. A social hour in the church parlors will follow the program. It is hoped that a great many women will be present.

Old Schoolmates Live Again Days Of The Past

Forget Troubles Of The Times To Enjoy Happy Evening

With business cares thrown to the winds, political and economic turmoil forgotten and dull care banished, twenty-four old school mates of Plymouth high school, made the halls of "mnehost" Claire Maben's Mayflower tavern ring with happy carefree song and laughter Friday night last as they lived again for five hours those days of yore.

Many had traveled considerable distance to participate in this old fashioned get re-acquainted, reminiscence party with their old chums. Several hadn't met for it won't do to tell how long but the intervening years dropped away at the portals of the tavern like chaff from ripened grain in the spontaneous good fellowship so characteristic of those yester years at Plymouth high.

And when all too soon came time for "Auf Wiedersein" all agreed that they had been more than repaid for their coming by the enjoyment of once more being and eating together and by the relaxation provided by the opportunity to laugh and joke, sing or sing in the natural unrestrained old fashioned way and that the get together was a success in every way.

Those attending from Plymouth were: Evered Jolliffe, Robert Jolliffe, George Howell, William Webber, Cal Moon, Austin Whipple, Cal Whipple, Dick Chilson, Ray Smith, James McNabb, Frank Burrows, and John McLaren. From Detroit: Frank Shaw, Perry Shaw, Arthur Whipple, Howard Brown, Frank Spicer, Ernest Gentz, Lester Brown, Arthur Briggs, Charles Hubbard, From Flint: Dick Pitcher, From Greenville, Raymond Brown, and from Lansing, Gilbert Brown.

A number were absent because of distance and previous engagements, but it is planned to repeat within the year with a larger group.

Freezing Well Creates Ice Spectacle

Mr. and Mrs. James Gates, living one and one-half miles south of Plymouth on Joy road, have an unusual ice formation in their yard that has attracted much attention. The formation, approximately six feet square and now resembling a turreted castle, is caused by a running well, the water freezing as it bubbles above the surface of the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates have lighted the ice from underneath with red and green lights so that it gives the appearance at night of crystal stalagmites, the forms changing with weather conditions. They have made a display of the well in this manner for quite a number of years, and say that people have come from considerable distances to see it, especially at night.

Townsend Club To Meet February 7

There will be a meeting of the Townsend club Monday evening, February 7, in the Grange hall. A potluck supper will precede it. Each one is asked to bring one dish for the table and sandwiches, dishes and silver. The supper will take place at 7:00 o'clock.

Music will be furnished at the meeting by the Schultz duo, in the person of Doris and Joseph Schultz, guitar and piano-accompaniment players. The speaker for the evening will be Alda Madison Wade, of Detroit, who has earned himself quite a reputation as a writer of poems for the Townsend Plan. Every one interested is welcome.

Stark School To Get New Buildings

Wilcox District Also Allotted Federal Funds

County school commissioner Fred Fischer has been advised that persistent efforts on the part of school officials as well as that of his own office had successfully resulted in securing federal funds for badly needed school buildings in nine of Wayne county's rural school districts, the Stark and Wilcox districts in Livonia townships being among the first to secure these grants.

The Stark district, due to rapid growth in that part of Wayne county, as well as the Wilcox district, have long needed additional school facilities. The present buildings have capacity for only about half the number of pupils attending.

Commissioner Fischer states that the $90,000 grant of the government, plus the $60,000 amount loaned the districts by the board of supervisors, makes immediately available $150,000 for use in nine districts of Wayne county. He says this will take care of about half the immediate school needs of the county.

Stark school district officials are highly pleased over this good news. They, with their many friends, have been working for months to remedy the serious situation that has existed in the district. Wilcox school officials have expressed a similar sentiment.

Church Circle To Present Play

Circle 4 of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will present the play, "Clumsy" in the church auditorium, Saturday and Friday evenings, February 10 and 11. This is a comedy about two fathers who met in France during the war and planned that their children should marry when they grew up. In later years the young people met at college for an exciting mix-up and became engaged.

Baptist Fellowship Supper A Success

Seventy-five men attended the Men's Fellowship supper at the First Baptist church Tuesday evening when an unusually interesting program was enjoyed.

Several selections of music were given by the choir of the Dexter Boulevard church, Detroit, a choir of 22 men's voices, and the address of the evening was given by the Rev. Warner Cole, of the Detroit church, who spoke on a subject of vital interest, "What's Right With the Church."

Northville Couple Wed Here Wednesday

Miss Ethel Hinds of Sault Ste. Marie and Roland B. Widmeyer of Northville were married in the Lutheran church in Plymouth Wednesday evening, January 19, by Rev. Edgar H. Hoenecke. Mr. Widmeyer is manager of the Kroger store in Northville and the young couple will make their home in that village in the Ware apartment on Hutton avenue.

Joins Fraternity At Ypsilanti

Kenneth C. Thumme, son of Capt. and Mrs. Charles Thumme, was among six pledges to be initiated into the Sigma Mu Sigma social fraternity at Ypsilanti State Normal college last week. Following the initiation ceremonies on Saturday evening, breakfast was served to the fraternity Sunday morning after which they attended church in a body. Kenneth is a sophomore.

Masons Celebrate Anniversary

Outstanding as one of the best and most interesting banquets held in some time by members of the Masonic lodge, the 86th anniversary dinner that took place last Friday evening attracted an attendance of more than 125. Fortunato, too, was Worshipful Master Edwin Schrader in being able to secure such an outstanding speaker as O. L. Smith proved to be.

His talk was an inspirational and his careful and forceful presentation of his subject won close attention.

The Ford Dixie Eight was present with its fine selection of old and new songs. These singers always make a hit whenever they appear on a program.

The musical numbers were followed by a comedy act known as "Jack and Lowell" who sang and joked in an amusing fashion.

The program was pleasingly concluded by Rev. Fred Cowin of Ann Arbor, a Scotchman who knows how to tell Scotch stories. The affair was one of the most pleasant occasions of the winter.

Supervisors Attend Detroit Meeting

George Robinson, William Petz, Henry Fisher, John Henderson and Clarence H. Elliott attended a meeting of county supervisors in Detroit Wednesday afternoon. An election was held to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Wayne County Road Commissioner Schreiner.

City Manager Elliott called on the county drain commissioner to determine exactly how much progress has been made on the Tenquish Creek project, and to see what the plans are for the future. He also planned to see the engineer-manager of the Wayne county road commission about a proposed pavement for one of the county streets in Plymouth.

Local Ball Players Attend Re-Union

Chief of Police Vaughan Smith, Ray Smith, C. V. Taylor and Earl G. Gray attended the old timers' baseball meeting at the American Legion hall in Detroit last Saturday evening. They recognized and talked with ball players that had not seen each other for 20 years or more.

Outstanding Speakers Will Be On Program

Expect Capacity Crowd Here Wednesday Evening

Final arrangements have been made for the Lincoln day charity dinner to be held at the Mayflower hotel, Wednesday evening, February 9, at 7:00 o'clock, with an estimated attendance of some 500 people. The speakers will be former Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, former United States District Attorney O. L. Smith, Melville B. McPherson, for years a member of the state tax commission and James F. Thomson, prominent farm leader, who is now chairman of the Republican state central committee. Chester O'Hara, outstanding progressive attorney of Detroit and the special assistant attorney general who prosecuted and convicted former high county officers in the notorious re-count frauds, will also make a brief talk.

The demand for tickets has been most satisfactory. The price is only 50 cents. No person will be asked to pay more than that for a ticket, but if one feels able to do so, an additional 25 cents or more that might be contributed, will be used to purchase clothing, food and other needs for school children in the vicinity of Plymouth. The surplus funds will be handled by a committee composed of the two presidents of the Plymouth school Parent-Teacher organizations, Mrs. John Arigan, Mrs. Paul Wiedman and Mrs. George Strasen, who is the school nurse.

In Northville, where the ticket sale is as favorable as in Plymouth, any surplus funds there will be turned over to the King's Daughters.

If persons who have tickets desire to make any contributions of any amount, no matter how small, they may do so by turning the money over to Lisle Alexander of the Plymouth United Savings bank, or Jack Taylor of the First National bank.

The committee in charge has been advised that many prominent public leaders not only of Detroit, but from about the state plan to attend.

The affair is going to be made just as informal as it is possible to make it. The committees urge every one to come, meet their friends and enjoy a most instructive as well as pleasant evening. There will be plenty of opportunity for meeting old and new friends.

Following are the committee selections:
Program committee: E. R. Eaton, Fred D. Schrader, Charles Rathburn, George A. Smith, and D. L. W. Snow.

Invitation committee for outside guests: Carl Shear, E. C. Hough, Sterling Eaton, Mrs. Maude Bennett, Roy Fisher, Oliver Goldsmith, Mrs. Florence Johns, Floyd Eckles, Mrs. Clara Todd, Floyd Kehr, and J. Rustling Cutler.

Banquet committee: Clair Maben, Mark Chaffee, Stuart Dodge, Elmer Smith, of Northville, Frank Ames, Belleville.

I.O.O.F. Lodges To Visit Plymouth

Tuesday, February 8, Grandale, Brightmoor, Wayne and Belleville lodges I.O.O.F. will visit Toussaint lodge. Enchere and pinocle will be played after which lunch will be served.

Check Passer Gets No Cash Here

Alertness on the part of Plymouth merchants prevented losses last Saturday when a number of worthless checks showed up in town. The stranger, a young fellow who tried to pass the checks, in some way had secured a number of checks on the Depositors Savings bank of Northville. He had made them out to "Harold Meyers" and used the name of "Joe Smith" for signatures on the checks. They ranged from $30 to $40. In several places where he called, he bought merchandise amounting to a few dollars then presented the check for payment. In every case payment was refused. The forgery was discovered when Abe Goldstein took the check up to the Plymouth United Savings bank, who learned that the check writer had no funds in the Northville bank. He disappeared without his purchases during the time Mr. Goldstein was at the bank. He had unsuccessfully tried to pass checks in a number of other stores.

Miss Rotnour Wins First Again

Miss Phyllis Rotnour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Rotnour, who had the distinction of skating with Sonia Heine during one of her appearances in Detroit, Wednesday night won the Detroit Times first prize for fancy skating in the Times contest at Belle Isle. She competed against not only many of the best skaters of Detroit, but the entire state. This is the third successive time she has won the Times Gold and Silver Skates derby carnival for fancy skating. In the doubles, Miss Rotnour and her partner won second honors.

Progress Made On Cemetery Project

City Engineer S. L. Besse states that work on the water distribution system in Riverside cemetery is progressing very well, and that there is a possibility that the project will be completed by the end of March.

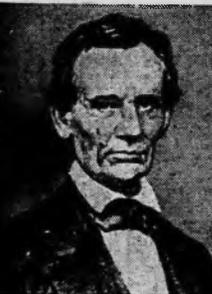

All local men have been employed in the construction of this system which provides for public drinking fountains, convenient hose attachments for watering the lawns, and rest rooms in the mausoleum for the convenience of visitors.

Some 2,680 feet of four- and six-inch water pipe has been laid, leaving 700 more feet of four-inch pipe yet to be installed. In addition, 3,200 feet of two-inch pipe must be laid before the completion of the system.

Did You Know That

You can dress up your windows with Mohas Shades, new or repairs, also Drapery Rods, Venetian Blinds, and Linoleum. Call Plymouth 530 for estimates. National Window Shade Co. William Blumk, who has been in St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor for several weeks, has returned home and is feeling much better.

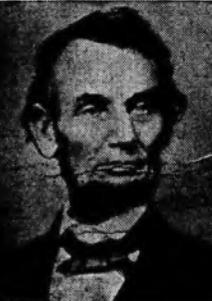

AS LINCOLN GREW OLD

The tragic march of time that etched deep furrows in Abraham Lincoln's brow is clearly illustrated in these pictures from the Yale University Press.

One February 23, 1863, two years after the war began, Brady again trained his lens on the features of Lincoln.

Now it is 1864 and in the South Lincoln bears the steady, undiminished roar of the guns and the gasps of the dying while at home discontent rises.

There is one of the most famous pictures ever made of Lincoln, taken during the last years of his life and showing a face scalded by time.

And here is Lincoln today, his image preserved in stately form for the thousands who visit this sacred spot in Lincoln Memorial, Washington, D. C.

President in the history of the United States. These are but a few of President Roosevelt's gyrations. They suffice to show that no one, least of all the President, knows what he will do next.

The New Civil Service
In matters of politics, particularly party politics, Roosevelt has a subtle and penetrating judgment. In affairs of state his inhibitions and feuds make judgment superfluous.

Mr. Roosevelt, having taken unto himself economic responsibilities which no constitutional President could hope to discharge, went in search of skilled and sympathetic "economic" assistants.

Capitalism Without Capital
The contradictory policies of Mr. Roosevelt and his professors would account for any depression. They challenged the truism that the capitalist system cannot function without a regular supply of capital.

The credit for this strange tax must be given to Professor Herman Oliphant, formerly head of the Institute of Law at John Hopkins University, who is now one of the principal officials of the United States Treasury.

While Dr. Oliphant was laboring to end the pernicious practice of developing business from an undistributed surplus of profits, other New Deal scholars had independently reached another important conclusion regarding capital.

While his coadjutors were shackling industry and finance, Mr. Roosevelt was not idle. He was leading the attack on his ancient foes, the public utility corporations and the railways.

Roosevelt's punitive mind is mirrored in the drastic extensions of the Capital Gains Tax. Through them he has certainly paid off old scores. The fact that he has also restricted investment and sterilized many types of desirable enterprises worries him not at all.

Not long ago the President declared that the recovery in business was no mere turn of the trade cycle. "We planned it so and don't let anyone tell you differently."

When Congress voted billions to Roosevelt to spend as he pleased, its members arranged their own abdication. The President, who is the shrewdest manager on earth, used his spending power to enforce obedience.

My Fountain Pen

ident and his posse of experimenting and irresponsible advisers. A blight of disillusionment is striking the Capitol. Legislators like not the description "poor but overpaid whites" which was given them by the brain trust.

Mr. Roosevelt really means to balance the budget, Congressmen will certainly reassert their powers. If their constituents are no longer to be subsidized by Washington, many little Hampdens will strut through the Capitol.

The best method of patching up a united front of Roosevelt and Congress would be for the gentlemen of Wall Street to make untimely whoopee over the mess created by Washington.

Republicans have now realized that there is little that is new or harmful in the New Deal. It was, to use a schoolboy's word, "cribbed" from the legislation of reasonable Reds like Bismark and Lloyd George.

The most hopeful recent development in America is the great movement to end a fantastic economic dictatorship by restoring Mr. Roosevelt to the Presidency.

Rosedale Gardens

The Myron Andersons were entertained at dinner Tuesday evening, by Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Fullerton, a movie at the Penniman being enjoyed later.

On Thursday the Arden avenue group of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church, had a luncheon for the school children in the church.

Mrs. Harry Eggleston entertained several friends at a luncheon, Thursday of last week, in her home on Melrose avenue.

Dr. Augustus Kirschner, of Detroit, spent Saturday night and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brand.

The members of the Community club will have a dancing party, Saturday evening, in the club house.

On Thursday evening, the Woman's Club will entertain at a Valentine bridge party to which all ladies of the subdivision are invited to attend and others who are interested.

The Arts and Letters club will meet Tuesday evening with Mrs. J. A. VanCoevering for its annual election of officers and book review.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morris were hosts at a buffet supper, Sunday evening, entertaining 30 guests in their home on Cranston avenue.

Mrs. H. H. Shierk entertained her bridge club members Tuesday at a luncheon bridge, in her home on Ingram avenue.

A skating party was held at Riverside park, Thursday evening of last week, sponsored by the C. K. Fullertons which included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Porter, Messrs. Malcolm McCoy, Harry Groce, Clarence Gunther and Bruce Myers (otherwise known as "Tim Doolittle on the air").

The William Trepagniers are enjoying a vacation in New Orleans.

There were 55 present, Monday evening of last week at the dinner given by the Men's club, in the club house. The dinner was followed with the showing of interesting moving pictures by the Dodge corporation.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

PUBLIC OFFICIALS COST $160 ANNUALLY PER FAMILY
If there are four in your family, two adults and two children, each of you pay out not less than $40 per year for the support of those who are on the public payrolls of the various state and federal offices, and subdivisions of them.

This $160 tax for each family of four is exclusive of all other costs of government. For the year 1936, according to a survey completed by the Civil Service Assembly, the American people paid to their public servants the staggering total of $5,145,873,000.00!

Every right-thinking adult ought to be concerned with this tremendous annual drain upon private income, so much of which is unnecessary, and would not be possible, except for "politics".

SPUDS
From Flint comes a story of genuine distress. While farmers are putting their surplus potatoes through dye kettles in order to get 15 cents a bushel out of the government for destroying them, welfare clients are given California prunes and oranges and rice for rations.

WRONG PLACE.
That Hamtramck school teacher who tried to beat sense into a 14-year-old boy's nether end with a ruler will live to learn that mind is not located in that part of a boy's anatomy.—E. J. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

In Plymouth and Vicinity—Interesting News of Days Gone By Taken From The Plymouth Mail Files

A number of the members of the Plymouth Grange met last Friday afternoon and formed a stock company which is to be known as the Farmers' Building association.

The play, "The Jolly Widow", given by local talent at the opera house last Thursday evening for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church, drew a crowded house and was a decided success in every particular.

Augustus Cholmondeley, took his part in a most clever manner. Robert Jolliffe, as George Fane, was exceptionally good. Mrs. Merryweather, the widow, was taken by Mrs. F. J. Tousey and is entitled to much credit for her performance.

New Books Ready For Circulation

The following new books are now ready for circulation at the Plymouth library:

"A Home in the Country", by Frederic Van de Water. His charming book is not profound but it is both sensitive and honest, and it phrases the need that takes thousands of summer residents to Vermont and has converted a surprising number of them to permanent residents. It is amusing, understanding, and very just.

"Rehearsal in Orredo", by Joseph Peyre. A story of the Austrian revolt in October, 1934. The story is told from the point of view of one of the rebel leaders, a minor, Morenu.

"The Nile", by Emil Ludwig. A strange, beautiful, richly readable, monumental, conceivably enduring book.

"The Turning Wheels", by Stuart Cloete. After the Boer trek this novel begins with a convoy of several hundred people already in their way across Africa. It is told in heroic vein; the land, the men and women, and their loves and hates are all violent and unnamed, and they are described gallantly, with extreme frankness.

"The Running of the Deer", by Ian Wickenden. This charming novel is a discovery and a delight. To read it is to discover sensitive young intelligence, laced with the freedom of laughter and of tenderness, working in a fine sure prose. To read is to delight in the book's inner joy and wonder before the shimmer and the tang of everyday life.

"The Ascent of Nanda Devi", by W. Tilman. A story of the successful climbing of Nanda Devi, a peak of the Himalayan chain and the highest mountain to be climbed to the top. The climb is completed with many hardships but few casualties. Each climber's experiences are recounted simply, with humor.

"All Cats Are Gray", by Charles Chivens. Local color fiction, in valley town in Tennessee, of locale, and hard-drinking, tight-talking lawyers with sentimental natures, as the chief characters.

In average oak tree evaporates in 28,000 gallons of water in summer season.

Three Candidates For City Commission

MAYOR HONDORP

MRS. RUTH WHIPPLE

HAROLD ANDERSON

Tuesday was the last day when petitions could be filed with the city clerk for the purpose of seeking nomination for city commissioner. Three names were received: Harold P. Anderson, a new candidate, Mrs. Ruth Euston Whipple, and Mayor Henry Hondorp, both of whom will have completed their terms on the commission this year.

Because of the small number of candidates, a primary election will not be necessary, and the regular time of voting will be April 4. On March 16, the office of the city clerk will be open until 8:00 o'clock in the evening to register voters. March 16 has been named as the last day when registrations will be received.

In case voters have changed their addresses since registering last, they are requested to report the change to the city clerk so that registrations may be transferred to the new addresses.

Mayor Hondorp and Mrs. Whipple are both seeking reelection. Mr. Anderson, who has been active in American Legion affairs as well as Rotary club work, was urged to become a candidate by his veteran and business associates.

Who Buys State's Products?

Lansing—"Do you editors and publishers ever stop to consider as you drive along the highways of our beautiful state, who buys all the fruit, the potatoes, the celery, the beans, the cherries and other crops you see growing these?" was the question put to members of the Michigan Press Association in convention here three days.

"What market absorbs the delicious fish from our waters, the delectable dairy products from our farms? It can't all be consumed locally—not nearly all of it, you know," quizzed W. F. Doyle, manager of the Michigan Chain Stores Bureau, in his address to the convention.

"One hundred sixty-six million dollars was the astounding bill paid by retail chain store companies during 1935 for these and other Michigan made products. This included only commodities shipped outside of Michigan for distribution to a foreign consuming public," he continued, "and it helped to meet payrolls of furniture factories, salt mines, toy plants and countless other branches of Michigan industry."

"You have asked me for the low-down on a much discussed question, as to how much of every chain store customer's dollar passing over Michigan chain store counters is taken out of Michigan," he went on.

"Let me tell you—73c is paid right back to the orchard grower or the fisherman or the farmer or the manufacturer; 13c goes to pay local chain store labor; 4c goes for local rent; 4½c is set aside for overhead; 1½c goes for local printing and advertising; 1c goes for local and state tax (in addition to the three per cent state sales tax) and the remaining three cents goes for profit, the same amount the state exacts for sales tax."

"Now I ask you, do chains or do they not contribute adequately to the communities which they serve in Michigan?"

That the future success of education in the state is largely dependent upon chain stores as an industry was Mr. Doyle's further claim. As an example he pointed to the state tax records which show that in September, 1937, chain food stores paid $15,000 more in state sales tax than others, yet chains comprise only thirty-three per cent of the total number of stores in that particular field.

"So don't forget that those who root against us," the Bureau manager admonished, "are tearing down one of the dominant structures that support your own schools and colleges because, you know, more than fifty per cent of the sales tax revenue goes for education."

He cited figures from Harvard College of Research to prove that a large amount of the increase in chain store business is due to newspaper advertising and said those figures proved that the average chain store advertised five times as much as other stores in the field.

"Don't forget also that thousands of your own newspaper readers are stockholders in our groups," he said, quoting security records to prove that one particular company with many stores in Michigan paid nearly 2,000 dividend checks to its part-owners within the past thirty days.

"We hit the consumer in his most vital spot, his pocketbook," concluded the chain store representative. "Chains arose only in answer to the public's demand for efficient management, sanitary conditions and simplified methods of distribution. Constant advertising placed those assets before the public."

"Never was there need for closer relationship between newspapers and retailers of all types than there is today," he said, adding that "the facts are available and good newspapermen are known to seek out the truth of facts no matter how deeply they might have to dig."

Lost—A Fire! Saturday

Out of the calm and quiet of Plymouth's Saturday afternoon, came a frantic cry of "Fire!" Citizens rushed from their homes, children screamed, and the fire department rushed with its customary speed from its hangar to Amelia street where nary a trace of destruction could be found. Remaining undaunted in the face of odds, Fire Chief Wagenschutz and his helpers pursued the rumor that eventually led them to Hamilton street, only to find that the illusive fire had long since been extinguished.

The whole trouble seemed to have originated when a lady ran from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Vanata on Hamilton street and cried to a man in a passing car to call the fire department to 267 Amelia street. Not being familiar with the city's streets, the young man rushed to the fire station and gave the alarm as he was told. It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Vanata had just recently moved to their present home from Amelia street, and in the confusion, the lady gave the old address.

An overheated furnace was the cause of the first alarm, but it fortunately caused no particular damage, charring only the rafters above it.

Crusaders Will Visit City

Plymouth will, Monday evening, be the host to members of the Crusaders, an organization composed of leading Salvation Army workers in this part of the state. There are 25 members, representing 12 different cities, and while here there will be conducted four different meetings. Two will take place in the afternoon at the Detroit House of Correction and the final meeting will take place in the Salvation Army hall in the evening.

The Crusaders will bring to Plymouth their 15-piece Salvation Army band. A street parade will precede the evening meeting, which will begin at 8:00 o'clock.

HEADS PERE MARQUETTE

GEORGE D. BROOKE

George Doswell Brooke, recently elected president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway company, now becomes president also of the Pere Marquette Railway company and the Nickel Plate road as a result of his election by the boards of directors of the two roads at their recent meetings in Cleveland. He succeeds

W. J. Harahan, who died December 14, last.

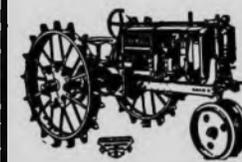

Mr. Brooke was also named a director of the two roads, which he has served in the capacity of executive vice president since December, 1936. His appointments climax an active 35-year career in railroading, marked by a sequence of promotions from rodman to various executive posts. Mr. Brooke joined the C. & O. in 1924, after a career on the Baltimore & Ohio railway that had centered attention on him as one of the most promising young men in the railroad industry. His first connection with the C. & O. was as assistant to R. N. Begien, operating vice president.

Under two presidents—the late W. J. Harahan, and the late J. J. Bernet—Brooke's rise was rapid. He was made a vice president by Mr. Bernet in 1930. In 1936, under Mr. Harahan, he was advanced to the highest ranking post next to the presidency—the office of executive vice president on the C. & O. the Pere Marquette and the Nickel Plate road.

Mr. Brooke was born at Sutherland, Virginia, and is a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute. He taught at Culver (Ind.) Military Academy before entering railway service. He is a civil engineer of standing in the profession. He is of a studious and quiet temperament with a likeable personality, and has many friends among railroad men and shippers.

Slight colds which confine the sufferer to the house for a day or so are often a blessing in disguise, since they afford a much needed rest in these days of hustle and bustle.

England's Tithes war of 1934, in which her farmers vigorously rebelled against paying their annual tithe, or a tenth part of their crops and live stock for the support of the church, will long be remembered through several "hate monuments." A notable one, says Collier's Weekly, which stands on a farm in Suffolk county, marks the spot where a tithe-gatherer seized a number of pigs and cows which were valued at $3,500.

Plymouth People In Golden West

Plymouth residents will be interested in knowing that Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Southworth, residents of this city a number of years ago, who now live in Venice, California, recently entertained a number of friends in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Kohler of Northville, who are spending the winter on the Pacific coast. Mrs. Kohler is a sister of Mrs. Charles Draper of this city. She was a resident of Plymouth years ago. The Kohlers are spending the winter at the home of their son, who also resides in Venice. Mrs. Southworth writes that at the Michigan picnic held two weeks ago in Sycamore Grove at Los Angeles, they met Rev. Beckwith, a former pastor of the Baptist church of Plymouth, who is now in California. Roses, poinsettias and geraniums are now in full blossom and "people are bathing in the ocean every day", she adds. Skunks are a favorite food among many Canadian Indian tribes. Paul Revere was a pioneer manufacturer of copper products, an excellent silversmith, and a noted cartoonist.

Mr. Malcolm W. Bingay Says Good Morning To The World In The Free Press Each Day, But Sunday He Went To Town For Fried Salt Pork and Mush

The following has been "lifted" with commas, periods, and all, direct from a recent "Good Morning" column written by Editor Malcolm W. Bingay in The Detroit Free Press:

THE FINEST FOOD

Let not these old guard Republicans—if there be any left—look down their divers and sundry noses at Elton Eaton's suggestion that the Republican party serve fried mush and salt pork for their Lincoln Day banquet.

Could there be any better repast? Did 'ol Abe Lincoln ever enjoy any better food? Was not he made a giant in physical strength by such hardy fare? Did we in our boyhood know anything closer to the Olympian ambrosia than fried corn meal mush and salt pork? We did not! And look at us now in our old age—strong and sturdy and, outside of a touch of liver complaint, a slight cough, a little hardening of the arteries and rheumatism that has been with us so long we have become friendly with each other—as good as we ever were.

There is no meal on earth so appetizing, so gorgeously good, so complete in taste and calories and vitamins as corn meal, fried, with syrup, and a crisp bit of salt pork. Yum, yum, Mother, we want some more!

Be it known that Andy Jackson, when he took over the White House, ordered torn from its moorings and thrown upon the ash can the bath tub that had been installed there by Dolly Madison. Old Hickory wanted no such sissy things as a bathtub in his home. Bathing in such a contraption was a wicked foreign innovation not fitted for any he- American.

The whole nation is rocking now with indignation over the New Deal insult to his memory. Well, a couple of rocks, anyway. Here is one from my old friend the sage of Janesville, Wis., Stephen Bolles, of the Janesville Gazette, which speaks the heart of the American people. Take it away, Steve:

Just think of a horny handed son of toll, an old Jacksonian Democrat, who has been able to buy a $100 a plate Jackson Day dinner, looking over a menu and putting into his system a helping of Croute au Chaud Farci. And then when he has finished this, topped off with a few ripe and queen olives, to start in on Baked Pompano Douglere which is embellished with Sauce Bonne Femme Gratinne. Instead of eating potatoes, he would have Pommes Parisienne.

Oh, how his breast must have heaved at the dinner as he contemplated his hundred bucks going into Breast of Capon, Farci Perigourdine, and tickling his tonsils with Brown Break Belt Paese Cheese Sandwich! There was no coffee at this dinner, just a demi-tasse, and as for pies and cakes, there was Mousse and Tortoni ice cream with Cointreau as well as Gateau Diplome. And there you are. Of course there was a little dab of wine here and there, Godelmae sherry, Cornet, and Barsac B. & G., 1928.

Mr. Farley reports that the receipts were such from the Jackson Day dinners around the U.S.A. that the democratic national committee will make a profit of $400,000 which will be the profits made out of its rack-steering convention book sold to contractors and others dealing with the government, will pay off the party deficit. The rank and file used to feeding on good old ham and eggs, boiled beef and horseradish sauce, pumpkin pie and Wisconsin cheese at about 60 cents a plate, will assure that they saved $99.40 by not attending Mr.

Farley's Jackson Day dinners. Old Hickory Jackson, who knew more about the language effective with a mule team than he did about Asparagus Tips Polonaise or Bar-le-due dressing, would have been obliged to inquire just as most of the guests at the Washington Jackson dinner did, what the darned thing meant on the menu. Most of the people of this nation like to eat in the English language, or if not the English language, at least the American food names and not be obliged to carry an interpreter along with them when they attend a dinner.

Oh, yes, we know it's quite spiffy to do it, but our idea of Andrew Jackson was that he had very little to do with menus printed in French. It is for Mr. Farley, the dilettante, to indulge in such wild extravagances, both in language and food.

Old Time Ball Players Meet

A big representation of old time baseballers attended the Detroit Oldtimers banquet at the American Legion hall, Detroit last Saturday night. All the suburban towns had representation under the country committee, Harry German of Carleton being chairman.

He rounded up oldtimers that were present from Redford, Farmington, Northville, Wayne, Dearborn and Carleton. To meet the occasion there was a board sign placed upon a table which German had reserved for the country boys that read "Country Rubes, Hayseeds and Alfalfa Chewers, please park here". The veteran pitchers made explanation in his talk to the gathering that he was responsible for the reserved table. He cited that in the old days of 30 to 50 years ago that the city slicker ball teams would come to the country with one ball but when they left they usually had a few extra; that the country fellows also had to tie their gloves to their belts in order to retain them. "Therefore," he said, "we prefer to be a little separate from the city slickers for the reason that we all carry watches."

Judge Chris Sten was master of ceremonies and Davy Jones, the toastmaster. Upon their platform sat distinguished veterans like Frank Sibelbeck, Heine Stelger, Bob Veach, and George McClure, the president, who was a pitcher back in the early '90's.

At the banquet also were several players well known in this vicinity and among them were Fred Hantz, "Nig" Clark, Jerry Harms, Dr. Fishert, "Buff" Kirk, Will Curtis, Frank Mercure, Snyder Brothers, Oscar Stange, "Wish" Eagan, Art Lamb, Harry Pierce, Bernie Boland, Eddie Cicotte, "Denk" Smith, "Germany" Schuitz, Guthard Brothers, Guy Miller, John Roenink, "Butch" Pankrantz, Seabold, McAllister, Brown, Gray and many other semi- and professional players.

The large gathering originated from a dozen "hot stove" reminiscencers to the four hundred strong that gathered Saturday night. It was such a success that it is anticipated that no less than seven or eight hundred will register next winter for the annual event of baseball old timers from the ages of 40 years upward.

Both Chaucer and Villon wrote ballads requesting financial assistance from their patrons.

In Germany, the name "Deutsche dogge" was adopted for the great Dane breed of dog late in the nineteenth century, and as such it is known in that country today.

Englishmen drink 3,000,000 millions of British Empire wine annually.

Heavy Tax Burden Reduces Living Standard Says Badger

Rotarians Told Of Difficulties Confronting Nation

Plymouth Rotarians heard something of the nation's problems the other day when Dr. Ralph E. Badger, president of the Investment Counsel, Inc., Detroit, told his views of changing conditions. In brief he said: "As I see it 1933 was and will be known as an epochal year because it ended a century and a half of consistent economic and political philosophy and entered an era of unknown policies. "These policies have been principally three in number to date. (1) Acts toward recovery through devaluation of the dollar, deficit financing, and broadening of the powers of the R.F.C. to make money easier to get. (2) Acts toward relief through the P.W.A. W. P.A. and all of the other letters of the alphabet too numerous to mention in detail. (3) Acts toward reform which is being much discussed and which was first tried through the N.R.A., a poorly planned and most costly attempt as well as most impractical.

"While in 1936 there was a better general feeling on the part of the people as a whole and business indices were up slightly it was due to unsound policies and practices. This is borne out by the fact that our national debt of sixteen billion dollars in 1930 had risen to thirty eight billion in 1936, indication of a huge increase in government expenses.

"Then, too, there is the subject of deficits. Before the war we had a deficit of one billion 400 million dollars as compared to a present deficit of 12 billion dollars with indications that it will go even higher.

"Recovery of this nature is forced, unorthodox and not at all natural therefore it cannot be healthy or permanent. It is impossible for me to see a retirement of our present debt from the present amount during our generation because one thing will lead to another and force continuation of spending. More is being added right now to government expenses than could possibly be taken in in tax levies if the spending continues at the present tempo.

"This increase in taxation generally results in a decrease in the standard of living. The government gets nothing for the same money spent as evidenced by the WPA and PWA projects whereas the same money spent by us as individuals—instead of paid into the government in taxes—would mean more units of output for labor. Greater taxation means less public good out of labor and less capital flowing into public good with a resulting lowering of the standards of living, stifling of industry and incentive.

"The present trouble is at the door of the administration who have brought on this recession or depression, which ever one wishes to call it and much of the cause is due to the capital gains tax which bears out what I have previously stated.

"A change to an orthodox way of government operation is impossible now because of the necessity of a balanced budget which would be dilatory and retard progress for a period of time too long to be looked upon with favor by this administration for obvious reasons. It is entirely within reason that the deficit will amount to a billion or even a billion and a half for 1938. The first step toward a balanced budget should be an immediate curtailment of government expenditures. "A moderate increase in business may be noticed within six or eight months but probably will be very moderate and not noticeable to any extent until longer than that.

"More reform seems to be the feeling of the administration with a definite idea toward fascism, this feeling dominates our president as evidenced by his attempt to dominate all three branches of government—administrative—by having more power given to him than any previous president; judicial—by attempting to control and dominate the supreme court our last bulwark in independence; legislative—by trying to make our legislature a "rubber stamp". Thus, our very foundation on which the United States was founded—that GOOD government having three distinct branches is being threatened.

"The supreme court fight in the summer of 1937 and the victory of democracy over the wishes of the president will go down in history as one of the most critical times in the history of the country.

"In attempting to forecast for 1938 I would say that we will not have again the crisis of 1929 as regards banks because they are much sounder today than in 1929 and the conditions are not comparable. Our banking structure is sound.

"I look for continuation of reform by the president but congress will be more interested in business and not ready to approve all of his suggestions.

"Railroad rates will be increased 10 percent to 15 percent. "Wages and hours bill will not be passed in a form unfavorable to business if passed at all.

"There will be no balance of the budget to long as F. D. Roosevelt is president.

"Last six months of 1938 will reflect a moderate recovery and 1939 will show a more rapid improvement but not equal to 1937. "Some building improvement in 1938 but not to any great extent.

"Dictatorship, fascism, communism are all comparable to a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy necessitating a complete nationalization of all industry against private business.

"National debt including municipalities 70 billion dollars as compared to one billion 400 million in 1913.

"I look for inflation sooner or later which means permanently higher prices for commodities, land prices and the like.

"We have two options: 1. Hands off and let business go its way unrestrained by government manipulation or interference which is by far the best way for the people and better for community good.

2. Government operation of everything as in some foreign countries who wish they did not have that system and probably proves that option No. 1 is much the better but is hard to get once the second option has been chosen.

New President Of The M.P.A.

CHESTER M. HOWELL

Chester M. Howell, publisher, Chesaning Argus, is the new president of the Michigan Press Association, 63-year-old state association of weekly and daily newspapers.

Mr. Howell was elected at the editors' annual meeting held last week at Michigan State college. He succeeds Claude D. Riley, Ontonagon Herald. Romaine McCall, Gratiot County Herald, Ithaca, was elected first vice president, and Floyd J. Miller, Daily Tribune at Royal Oak, second vice-president. L. E. Towe, Jonesville Independent, was re-elected treasurer.

The publishers voted to affiliate with the National Editorial association, extending membership in the national body to all sustaining members of the state association at no extra cost. Publishers also took steps to provide a clearing house service for national advertising and to undertake a retail advertising and merchandising service to assist merchants in getting more business on Main street in 1938.

A Communication

To the Editor:

I, as a citizen, a resident, a taxpayer and land owner in the town of Plymouth also agree with your statement in last week's Mail urging that the few jobs that can be had might be at least given to the loyal supporters of the town.

As it now stands there is far too much preference given to out-of-state help. I am sure that we, speaking of our town residents, could capably handle all local jobs, which would certainly help keep up the budget nicely. When our payments and taxes are due, who pays them? Under present conditions what will happen to many of our homes?

A TAXPAYER.

To The Editor:

I read a letter in this paper on Friday, January 28, 1938, written by W. E. Postiff wherein he states that some foreign country tried out what he calls a counterpart of the Townsend Plan and infers that it didn't work.

I do not know what country or plan he has in mind but I would appreciate it if he would point out in a more specific manner just what this counterpart or the "Townsend Plan" (as he calls it) is, and how it operates, then we can analyze it and see whether or not we could substitute this "counterpart plan" for the "Townsend Plan" and not notice any appreciable difference in the basic principles of these two "plans."

I presume of course that Mr. Postiff knows the basic principles of this "Plan" of which he speaks and I would like to know the details.

Sincerely,
C. E. Pankow.

Here Is Example Of The WPA

Here is a fair sample of the brainless type of administration being used by those directing the welfare-WPA relief program:

Not so far from this part of Michigan a young man who had been on welfare for some time, was certified for work on an outside WPA job. The day he was given the work slip, the mercury stood well below the freezing point—it was a windy, cold miserable day.

He had no hat, he had no gloves, he wore a thin summer shirt and a light summer coat without vest. His feet were clad with low shoes and his stockings were of light, cotton variety.

He remained for the afternoon, suffering as one clad in such garments would suffer while trying to work outdoors. He did not return to the job next morning. From there on, there are no additional details available, as to what became of him or how his case was handled. This much of the story is known and this much shows something of the type of judgment being used by those handling the welfare and work relief problem in this state.

The Art of Getting Along During Perplexing Times

Sooner or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that business life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take.

He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul—that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back.

He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses.

He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously.

He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight.

He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

He learns that even the janitor is human and that it doesn't do any harm to smile and say, "Good Morning," even if it is raining.

He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, that they have brains that are as good or better, and that hard work and not cleverness is the secret of success.

He learns that it doesn't matter so much who gets the credit so long as the business shows a profit.

He comes to realize that the business could run along perfectly well without him.

He learns to sympathize with the youngster coming into the business, because he remembers how bewildered he was when he first started out.

He learns not to worry when he loses an order because experience has shown that if he always gives his best his average will break pretty well.

He learns that no man ever got to first base alone and that it is only through cooperative effort that we move on to better things.

He learns that the folks are not any harder to get along with in one place than another and the "getting along" depends about 98 per cent on his own behavior.

Rocks Lose Close Contest; Home Team Lodges Protest

(By Douglas J. Miller)

The Plymouth high school quintet lost a disheartening game to the Panthers of River Rouge Friday last.

The contest was featured by a very abrupt ending, a protest by the home team, and the outstanding play of Forward Egloff.

At the end of the third quarter, River Rouge put in an entirely new team, but the Rocks thought it was merely time out and so did everyone else. The same signal was used for time out, substitutions and quarters, so that the team couldn't tell by that. The scoreboard didn't change the quarter and Plymouth was playing with the idea that they had one more quarter to gain the few points that were needed. When the signal sounded the end of the game, the spectators and the whole Plymouth team thought there was one more quarter, but the Rouge team began walking off the floor. It was then the team found out it was the end of the game. A general argument followed but finally every man was shown how it was and they went to the showers.

Egloff, who was high score man for the evening with 14 points, was the star of the entire game.

Throughout the first half Plymouth was completely outplayed by the Panthers. The only time the Rocks were in the lead was at the opening of the game. They scored two baskets in their first half minute. But Rouge came back to leave Plymouth far behind. The first quarter ended 5 to 17. The Rocks regained themselves somewhat in the next quarter but they were still on the losing end when the half ended 21-14.

Plymouth came back in the next quarter and began to draw near the fast Rouge team; at one time they were only three points behind. The fourth quarter and the third quarter were run into one. Plymouth was in possession of the ball most of the time and played as though they had one more quarter. Usually the team that is behind shoots long shots at every opportunity but Plymouth didn't know it was the last quarter. It may be noted that Plymouth has won more games in the last five minutes than any other team in the league. In this quarter Dick Gilles showed more fight and fire than most of the players. Losing this game means that Plymouth's chance for winning the league championship is practically gone. The final score was 33-38.

Plymouth line-up: Moe, F.; Gilles, F.; Egloff, F.; Sackett, C.; Ross, G.; Frough, G.; Krumm, G. River Rouge line-up: Nemeth, F.; Naldyan, F.; Standen, F.; Laya, F.; White, C.; Sacks, C.; Louria, G.; Torok, G.; Putell, G.; Mondon, G.; Karnish, G.

NORTHVILLE GAME TUESDAY

The last meeting of the two old rivals, Plymouth and Northville, will come Tuesday, February 8. In the last three games Plymouth has emerged victorious at each encounter, each game a close, fast, and exciting contest, the last of which played at Plymouth was especially so in the final few minutes as Northville drew close and vainly tried to overtake the Rocks.

Last year a large crowd left Plymouth and went to Northville to watch the Rocks win and this year with a larger number of students there should be a real crowd there. The track above the Northville gymnasium has been taken down and bleachers in the balcony have been substituted, so there will be plenty of room for all who would like to go.

When the team has a large and enthusiastic home crowd back of them it gives them more life and zest so all should turn out to help cheer the northern men of Orange and Black.

A CANDID CAMERA BUG IN HIGH SCHOOL

You had better watch out or the candid camera bug will snap you! Of course, most of the inhabitants of Plymouth high never heard of this vicious person who wields a deadly camera; most of them do not know that their pictures are displayed on the walls of this person's room. He once invited me in to show me his trophies. After viewing this chamber of horrors, I asked the candid photographer how he managed to commit such wholesale murder and get away with it.

"If you wish to know, follow me," he said. We drove to the rear of the high school campus; my friend got out and kept in the shadows till we got to a corner of the building; there he crouched down and waited, his trigger finger on the camera. Before long we heard footsteps of a victim coming around the corner, a teacher ignorant of the fate awaiting her. My companion stayed fire until she walked past the corner; then, when she was in a most undignified pose the camera clicked and my friend rushed away with a hideous laugh in the search of more victims. I could bear no more of this, so I did not follow him. A fortnight later, I visited him to find that his room was adorned with many more grisly trophies. Among them I counted teachers, students, a principal and a superintendent.

"Look at these," he demanded. "What ferocious gortillas!" I exclaimed. He smiled and told me that the pictures I was looking at were of the ten prettiest girls in school. I was about to rush out, when a "photograph" on the wall attracted my attention. It was mine; I passed out.

After these experiences I feel eligible to advise people how to escape such things. The rules are these: Don't pass posts, corners of buildings, or any such places which may hide candid camera bugs; don't go too near any suspicious person with a bulge in his pocket; don't eat with the shades up or the doors open; and above all, if you have already been killed on a film, don't ask to see your picture unless you carry a good sized bottle of smelling salts.

He was presented with Boy Scout book-ends by the guests. A tobogganing party was given Wednesday night for Franklin Coward at which he was presented with an autograph book filled with the autographs of members of the Junior class.

ROCK RESERVES OUTPLAYED BY ROUGE

The Plymouth reserves were completely outplayed by the Panther second stringers Friday last when they encountered each other at the Rouge high school. From the very start it was evident that the Panthers would emerge victorious. They looked like many varsity teams that Plymouth has played. Throughout the first half both teams doubled their scores each quarter. The first one ended 9-3 and the second 18-6. Plymouth fell farther behind in the third quarter but held their own in the last quarter. The final score was 29-15.

EXAMINATION BONERS

The prize boner in Miss Lovewell's ninth grade English classes was the belief held by one student that the fery cross in Scott's "Lady of the Lake" was made of blood and oil from a mountain goat. Miss Fiegel says that she received more boners this year than in any other year at Plymouth. As usual a great many people floundered on location questions. Some students located Washington, D. C. on the Pacific coast and in New York; while others located the Battle of Put-in-Bay in Lake Superior near Duluth. Concerning the speaker of the house there were a variety of answers ranging from Chief Justice Hughes of the Supreme Court to James Farley, postmaster general; one boy thought that the speaker did all the talking for the house. Chief Justice of the Supreme Court was the honor conferred on Justice Black by some students. The identity of the prime minister of Great Britain puzzled a great many; answers ranged from Leon Blum of France to the late Ramsey MacDonald. Others blundered when they answered that Russia was a fascist country and General Franco, insurgent general in Spain, was prime minister of France.

QUEER DOIN'S

At last we have found the answer to a most important question!! We have been wondering who "Tubby" Luttermoser's secret passion is, and now we know—it is Bruce McAllister!!—and speaking of questions, here are those we have received in our question box this week—"How did Jerry learn to write such swell notes?"—signed, H. H. "Well, practice makes perfect," is our answer. The second question, "Why doesn't 'Doc' Brooks pay any attention to the little lady who is always passing his door first hour?" We admit we're stumped—who wouldn't want to pay attention to B. K.? And our last question is "What happened to Marion and her 'Bud-ding romance'?" And our answer is "It seems that the flowers just do not bloom in January"—or so Marion says. All lumber-jacks please see Jane Taylor for any information concerning the cutting down of trees—She was heard to remark in physics class that "you use a chisel to help cut down trees." Teachers should also refer to Jane for any kind of confidential information. We hear that Eleanor Hobbins' last name now begins with the letter "B." We have it on good authority that Harold Groth is very fond of history—he likes it so well that he started taking it over again this year and was so interested in it that he didn't even notice he had taken it once before. There was much explaining done Monday morning last week to certain Plymouth lads—and it seems that a sleigh-ride the Saturday night before was the cause of it all. Who was the girl Marvin Sackett

DEAD AND DEADER

The annual girls' play day with Wayne was held at Wayne high school on Wednesday, February 2 at 3:30 o'clock. Instead of the customary basketball tournament, volleyball was the sport engaged in. In order to create interest in sports, to promote good feeling among the girls, and to aid girls in becoming better acquainted, a basketball tournament has been scheduled for the girls of Plymouth. In the early winter, all girls who were interested in participating in the basketball tournament signed their names to a paper on the bulletin board and were placed on teams. These teams were placed in two divisions—the American and National leagues, seven being in the former and six in the latter group. The games are played according to a schedule and at present the leading team in the American league is composed of a senior group under the leadership of Astrid Hegge; a junior team under the guidance of Rose Niedospol has captured the National league. At the end of the contest the leading members of each league will play for the school championship. Points toward school letters will be awarded the players. The champion of each league receives 50 points, the runners-up, 35, each individual, 10, and an additional 10 points will be awarded to the school champions.

THE modern young mother has her troubles, we know. But one of the worst, it seems to us, is how to retain her dignity while in the park with the little darling. Little darlings have a habit of diving head first into ash cans, leaping thoughtlessly over fences, or suddenly tucking to the open road. An alert mother, no matter how new her suit is, or how unstable her hat, has to be prepared to do the life saving act at almost any moment.

But to cut the actual physical pursuit of stray young ones down to the minimum, we would suggest that every mother carry a whistle tied on a ribbon around her neck. Two shorts and a long for Johnny. Two longs and a short for Betty. If you would train the children to respond automatically to the right whistle, it would be easier. Probably with a pocketful of lump sugar this could be done.

For very small youngsters at the crawling stage, a ribbon tied around his wrist and Mom's, with plenty of length, isn't a bad idea. A mother can read a book in comfort, then, knowing that when baby gets too far away a jerk at the wrist will call attention to that fact. Of course, sometimes you get tangled up in the shrubbery that way. And there are children who seem to be able to get into trouble, no matter how little the rope you give them. But if yours are like that, you probably gave up reading books long ago, anyhow.

Abe Lincoln's Ann Rutledge And Her Beautiful Namesake

Tragic Love Affair Was Almost Ruinous to Emancipator

Unselfish humanitarian though he was, Abraham Lincoln's career was almost wrecked when he was twenty-six by a tragic love affair with Ann Rutledge. The incident was recently recalled by the dedication of a new railroad train, the "Ann Rutledge," in which a prominent role was taken by the great grandniece and namesake of this pioneer belle.

Today's Ann Rutledge, beautiful as her famous ancestor, is a stage actress. She comes from a family dating back to South Carolina and the Revolutionary war, one of whom signed the Declaration of Independence.

Lincoln's Ann Rutledge was the daughter of a tavern keeper in New Salem, Ill., whose love the bashful and awkward young politician sought four years. So inferior did he feel that Lincoln at one time ceased pursuing her and left for Vandalia, the Illinois state capital.

During his absence Ann was betrothed to John McNeil, a successful New Salem storekeeper whose shady past was suspected by Lincoln, since the young lawyer had handled papers for McNeil showing that his real name was McNamar. McNeil left New Salem for New York, with the understanding that he would soon return and claim his bride. Infrequent letters brought excuses and John McNeil did not return.

Ann Rutledge sought a refuge and she found it in Lincoln, who returned to New Salem in the spring of 1835. At that time Lincoln was twenty-six and Ann twenty-two. Freed from her betrothal to McNeil, she planned to marry Lincoln and help him climb to prominence.

But at the end of a happy summer she was stricken with malaria. On her death bed in the log cabin on Sand Ridge farm, Lincoln and Ann spent a last hour together. Two days later she passed away.

Young Bears Are Doing Well

Out at the Schrader buffalo ranch way up in the headwaters of the Tonquish, eight healthy young black bears are now growing to maturity and enjoying life in the woods north of the field where the buffaloes roam.

Some few weeks ago, the keeper of the Detroit zoo, hearing of the Schrader ranch, offered to Mr. Schrader a number of small bears he had no use for at the zoo.

In the bank along the woods, several small dens were dug and in these the young bears are spending the winter. They are not hibernating all the time, as frequently they come out for something to eat—and there is always plenty around their dens for them.

The bears, like the buffaloes, have attracted much attention, although it is necessary to go back in the woods to see them. They make no effort to leave the locality where they seem to be enjoying the outdoor life.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.—Loye Sutherland, pastor. This Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock is our monthly communion service. Each member is asked to bring their copy of the church covenant and we shall give them our consideration for a few minutes. What has this covenant meant to you? What does it mean to you now? What do others think of you as a covenant-keeper and a covenant-keeper? The pastor had hoped to call personally at the door of each of his members, but physical conditions make this impossible. Will your excuse for not being at communion be such as you can offer consistently on that last and great day? 11:15, Bible school, 6:00, meeting of the young people. 7:00, this service will be in charge of a Gospel team from the Highland Park Baptist church. Many times have these splendid workers come to give us help, let us give them a good hearing. The monthly Missionary meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Gates. It is to be in the form of a birthday celebration, honoring the founders of our Missionary society. All the ladies of the church are invited. Remember the school of religious education at Northville Methodist church on Wednesday evening and our mid-week prayer service here on Thursday evening at 7:30.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN church.—Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. Sunday services, 10:30 a.m. Sunday school, 9:30 a.m. Ladies Aid, first Wednesday, 2:30 p.m. Mission society, third Wednesday, 2:00 p.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church.—Walter Nichol, pastor. 10:00 a.m. Sunday school. 11:00 a.m. church worship. 6:30 p.m., young people. The Boy Scouts of the Plymouth and Northville district will attend church in a body next Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m. They will be under the direction of Sidney Strong, scout commissioner for this district. Mr. Strong and several of the boys will share in the service. The south side of the church nave will be reserved for the scouts. Monday, February 7, at 10:00 a.m., the Presbytery of Detroit and the Presbyterian society will meet at Fort street Presbyterian church, Detroit. A group of women from this church plan to attend. On Wednesday, February 9, the Women's Auxiliary will meet at the church. There will be a short business meeting in the parlors at 1:45 p.m. At 2:30 p.m., the women will assemble in the nave of the church. They have invited the other women's organizations of Plymouth to be guests at this meeting. All women are invited. The program is to be one of real interest. Miss Hanna Strasen will play the organ, a worship service will be conducted and Mrs. Kenneth D. Miller of Detroit will speak. Mrs. Miller's wide experience and fine ability assures the women of an excellent day. After the program tea will be served in the church parlors. Mrs. Vaughan Smith and Mrs. Perry D. Campbell are in charge of the tea. A rummage sale will be held at the Grange hall all day Friday, February 11. Articles may be left at the hall Thursday afternoon or a telephone to officers of the auxiliary will bring someone to collect the articles. Circle No. 4 of the Women's Auxiliary will present a play entitled "Chums" in the assembly room at the church on Thursday and Friday evenings, February 10 and 11 at 8:00 p.m. The play is directed by Mrs. Helen Laible. There are 14 in the cast. The leadership training school will meet in the Northville Methodist church on Wednesday, February 9, at 7:30 p.m.

NEWBURG M. E. CHURCH.—Clifton G. Hoffman, pastor. 10:00 a.m. morning worship. Sermon topic: "Salvation—What is it?" 11:00. Sunday school. J. M. McCullough, superintendent. 7:00 p.m., Epworth league. 6:30 p.m., Friday, February 11, father and son banquet at the Ladies' Aid hall on Newburg road.

SALEM CONGREGATIONAL church. Lucia M. Stroh, minister. Divine worship, Sunday, 10:30 a.m. Sunday school session, 11:45 a.m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening in the parsonage. The pastor returned from Chicago last Friday and spoke to a nice congregation last Sunday. The Sunday school was also well represented. Mrs. Ralph Wilson was elected teacher of the Crusader young people's Bible class and Mrs. Edward Wendt was elected the teacher of the Bethany Bible class. We would like to see all our friends and the children out to church and Sunday school next Sunday. Mrs. Charles Payne will entertain the ladies auxiliary society Thursday, February 10 for dinner at 12 o'clock. All our friends in the community are cordially invited to dinner. The meeting follows in the afternoon.

Wednesday, 7:30, the fifth session of the school of religion in the Northville Methodist church. Thursday, 12:30, luncheon meeting of the Missionary society at the home of Mrs. Henry Doerr, 447 South Harvey. Cost of luncheon, 25 cents. This is social justice month with special emphasis on women and children in industry. Miss Elizabeth Sutherland will review the first part of the study book, "Mecca and Beyond". Thursday, 7:30, volley ball for men. Thursday, 8:00, choir rehearsal.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.—Rev. F. G. Lefevre, Sunday Mass at 8:00, 10:00 and 11:30. Confessions Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass. Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society. Children's Sunday—Every child of the parish should go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 10:00 by the Dominican Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

THE SALVATION ARMY. Captain E. Alder and Lieutenant K. Larsen in command announce their meetings for the coming week. Sunday, at 10:00 a.m. Sunday school; at 11:00 a.m. Holiness meeting; at 6:15 p.m. young people's meeting; at 7:15 p.m. open-air meeting, and at 7:45 p.m., a great Salvation meeting. On Monday at 8:00 p.m. we are privileged to have the Crusaders, who will put on a band concert and vocal numbers. On Tuesday, at 8:30 p.m., our band practice. On Wednesday our mid-week prayer service at 7:30 p.m. On Thursday, at 2:00 p.m. we have our ladies home league, at 4:30 young people's singing practice, and at the same time our Corps Cadet class. A thought for the week: A mind at peace and a soul undistressed are vital to the largest and longest attainment of all round strength. We come to the fulfillment of our largest capabilities when we are at-one-ment with the heart of the universe, with the power that made us.

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN church. Livonia Center. O. J. Peters, pastor. Services in this church on Sunday, February 6, in English. Sunday school at 1:45 p.m. The ladies aid meets on Wednesday, February 9 at the home of Mrs. Margaret Keel at 252 Blanche street, Plymouth.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST church. Our Sabbath school services begin at 2:00 p.m. every Saturday afternoon. They are held in the Jewell & Blach building on Ann Arbor Trail. The preaching service begins at 3:15 p.m. This Sabbath the afternoon meeting will be conducted by our Home Missionary secretary. Prayer meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m., in the Jewell & Blach building. Young People's Missionary Volunteer meetings are held every Friday evening at the home of A. J. Lock, corner of Russell and Gilbert streets. The Dorcas society had its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Heller on Main street. This society is organized for the purpose of relieving the poor in this community. It is non-denominational in its work of relief, giving help to individuals regardless of their church affiliations. Anyone having clothing, shoes, or bedding that they would care to contribute to this worthy cause may present these articles to any of the members of the society, and it will be immediately distributed to those in need. Our church welcomes visitors and presents a hearty invitation to all.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist.—Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:38. Pupils received up to the age of twenty years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Spirit" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 6. The Golden Text, from Ephesians 4:30, is "Grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption." Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 4:24): "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 93): "In Christian Science, Spirit, as a proper noun, is the name of the Supreme Being. It means quantity and quality, and applies exclusively to God. The modifying derivatives of the word spirit refer only to quality, not to God."

CHURCH OF GOD.—Elder Harris, pastor. Rev. Golms, former G-man, is preaching the gospel in all its fullness. Services will continue indefinitely. All are invited to attend. Sunday school at 10:00 a.m. Preaching at 11:00 a.m. Services nightly at 7:30 p.m.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Holbrook and Harding. L. E. Stout, pastor, 615 North Mill street. The second message on the general theme, "The Deeper Spiritual Life" will be given next Sunday at the 10:00 o'clock hour. The Bible school meets at 11:15 a.m. B.Y.P.U., 6:30 p.m. A special young people's service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Young people will have charge of the song service, and special music. A message will be given by the pastor to young people. It has been said that the old time gospel is not for the young people of today, therefore we must modernize our methods and message. In the writer's experience this cry is not really coming from the youth, but from adults who do not wish to conform to the gospel message. Christ can and does satisfy modern youth when brought face to face with him, apart from all sham and hypocrisy by modern adults. All young people are welcome to this service.

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH.—Rosedale Gardens. Masses: Sundays 8:00 and 11:00 a.m. Holy Days 7:30 and 9:00 a.m. Week day, 8:00 a.m. Confessions before each Mass. Catechism class after first Mass. Benediction after second Mass. Baptism by appointment.

NAZARENE CHURCH.—Robert A. North, pastor. Bible school, 10:00; morning worship, 11:15; young people, 6:30; evening service, 7:30; prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30. "Entrusted with the Gospel" will be the theme of the morning message at 11:15. Come and hear what Paul thought of the Glorious Gospel of the Son of God. Is it just merely a creed.

or partaking of the sacraments, or is it a Gospel of Power that sets men free from the power and pollution of sin? Where did Paul put the emphasis in his preaching? Did he preach a negative or a positive Gospel? What was the burning passion of Paul's life, to get a few followers or to see men turned from the power of Satan unto God? These and other questions will be answered. Come and hear the truth that sets men free. You will enjoy our hearty welcome. Come and we will do thee good. 280 North Main street.

Sportsmanlike Driving—Ability to Stop

Have you ever realized that the contact between each of the four tires on your car and the street represents a space about the size of the palm of your hand? If you have, you realize the importance of good tires and good brakes. Sportsmanlike Drivers remember this. (An A.A.A. Safety Feature Released by Automobile Club of Michigan)

8 simple rules
FOR GOOD

"HOME-MADE LIGHTING"

To make sure you have proper light in every room of your home, you can prescribe your own home lighting by following these eight simple rules:

- 1 Use the right size lamp in the right fixture. Too large or too small a lamp can definitely cause eye discomfort. When you exchange burned-out lamp bulbs, make sure you get the size lamps suited to your needs.
- 2 Have enough light for each lighting task. Your eyes need more light for such tasks as sewing, mending, reading fine print, etc., than they do for relatively simple occupations such as dining, conversation, etc. There are definite recommendations to guide you in the amount of light required.
- 3 Avoid bare lamp bulbs . . . they cause glare. Raw lighting is poor lighting—even if there is plenty of it. Shaded lamps are always preferable.
- 4 Eliminate harsh contrasts (brilliant light and dark shadows). You can do this by having general room-wide light to supplement local lighting. It is bad practice to have bright pools of light in a dark room. It makes the room appear spotty and is a cause of eye discomfort and fatigue.
- 5 In your floor or table lamps, choose the type of lamp with a reflector bowl. The bowl helps to diffuse the light, assuring a soft, pleasant quality of illumination. Some of the light goes to the ceiling and is reflected back. Whenever possible, use incandescent lamps with a white lining. They provide more light for the electricity used.
- 6 Wipe lamp bulbs frequently with a dry cloth—also the reflector bowl of your floor and table lamps. Dust and dirt sometimes reduces by one-third the amount of light you get from a lamp.
- 7 Always bear in mind the decorative fitness of your lamps and fixtures. There is STYLE in lighting just as in household decoration, and the selection of lamps is important. Curtains and draperies that are suited perfectly to an ensemble in one room may be quite wrong for another, and the same thing is true of your floor and table lamps.
- 8 If in doubt about any phase of your home lighting, call in a Detroit Edison Home Lighting Advisor. He will give you helpful advice on your lighting problems. There is no charge for this service.

Advertisement for JAMES AUSTIN OIL CO. featuring illustrations of a tiger and a monkey, and text: 'T stands for Tiger—a super-sized oil—So TOUGH that he'd eat you in two seconds flat! M stands for Monkey—a FAST-MOVING gent. When you see him coming, He's already went! Now mix them both up, and mix them up well. And there is the secret of New Golden Shell. Like two oils in one, it's Tough and it's Fast. It Cuts Starting Wear, and how it does last! Starting causes More Engine Wear than all the running... New Golden Shell Motor Oil is Fast-Flowing to reduce this wear... Tough so it stands the heat of steady driving.'

Advertisement for Sportsmanlike Driving—Watch the Driveway. Text: 'Do you back your car from the garage into the street without first watching for pedestrians and crossing vehicles? The Sportsmanlike Driver does not. He steps at the driveway and at the same time he moves his hand, but places greater dependence on being alert. (An AAA Safety Feature, released by Automobile Club of Michigan)'
