While Attorney General Talks Of "Clean Politics" His Office Payroll Reveals Facts Not So Clean

Governor's "Legal Adviser" On Starr's Payroll As Well As On Payroll Of The State's Executive Office

(By E. E. EATON)

A few nights ago citizens of Pontiac arranged a banquet to honor Murray D. Van Wagoner, one of their fellow-townsmen, who has in the estimation of many people, done a pretty good job as state highway commissioner. Both Republicans and Democrats took part in the event, as it was their desire to indicate to the public as forcibly as possible that when either a Republican or Democrat steps out and does a public task well, the people of Pontiac are big enough and broad enough to recognize that accomplishment and give credit where credit is due.

For the banquet, in honor of a Democrat, A. Floyd Blakeslee, former Republican county chairman of Oakland county, was selected as toastmaster.

Among the several state officials on the program was Raymond W. Starr, attorney general of Michigan.

The hundreds of guests present were dumfounded and amazed when Starr, in his brief speech, assailed the toastmaster, who stands well in his home community and is generally regarded as a pretty good sort of a citizen of Oakland county. The attorney general even went so far as to make an indirect comparison of Mr. Blakeslee with Starr's own fellow-townsmen, Frank D. McKay, implying, of course, "boss" politics.

Then he declared, according to newspaper reports, that the present state administration is "clean, decent and honest", and said that preceding administrations had been "rotten".

Let us see how "clean, decent and honest" is Attorney General Starr's own office in Lansing, to say nothing about the rest of the mess over there.

The attorney general of Michigan by law has complete control over all appointments in his department. He not only selects his assistants, as far as the present obnoxious "pap" system of his party will permit, but he fixes the amount of salaries they are to take from the pockets of the taxpayers. Therefore, the responsibility for all appointments, all salaries and all expense accounts originating in the attorney general's office are directly upon the shoulders of the attorney general, who at present is Raymond W. Starr of Grand Rapids.

Edward G. Kemp is, according to the payroll of the executive office, "legal adviser" to the governor, drawing a salary of $3,000 per year from the appropriation made by the state legislature for the governor's office.

He has a desk in the governor's office and spends all of his time in the big room where the administrative board holds its sessions, which is a part of the governor's place of business.

Here comes the "clean, decent, HONEST" part of Starr's administration that will surprise the taxpayers of the state by the brazenness of what is being done with their tax dollars!

"Edward Kemp" is also on the payroll of Attorney General Raymond Starr's office as an "assistant attorney general" for $5,000 more of the taxpayers' money per year!

You say you hadn't heard about this thing before? Of course not!

It is one of those legal, but putrid, pieces of public business that the "big shot" politicians now running the affairs of Michigan like to keep the public from knowing about.

He has no office in the attorney general's department. He has no desk in, or anywhere near, the attorney general's office, and if a person goes to the attorney general's office to see "Assistant Attorney General Edward Kemp" they are referred to the governor's office, where he HAS AN OFFICE.

Permit me to ask, "Does that typify the 'CLEAN, DECENT and HONEST' government you rant so much about, Mr. Starr?" In my estimation, it is not clean, it is not decent and it is not honest, even though the accountants of two different payrolls from the state appropriation

Make Plans To Form Camera Club

In anticipation of forming a camera club, N. D. Hannaford of Northville announces that all those interested in such an organization are invited to come to a meeting at the Northville school Monday evening, when Walter E. Hastings of the state conservation department will show films of both movie and still pictures. Those who are interested in Plymouth should see Jack Taylor at the First National bank.

Committee Makes Final Report To President Dodge

Final accounting of the Christmas street lighting committee made to President Stewart Dodge of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, shows a slight balance left in the fund with which to start next year's Christmas lighting program. The lights, wiring and attachments, property of the Chamber of Commerce, are now stored and the organization hopes to be able to add considerable more to the fund next year, with the possible adoption of a new system of street decoration.

The total income from all sources was $417 and the total expenditure was $357.71.

Following made contributions to the fund: Blunk Brothers, Plymouth Lumber and Coal, Plymouth Motor Sales, William Simpson, Lorenz and Ash, R. A. & C. A. Fisher, C. L. Finlan and Son, A. and P. company, Claverdale Farms Dairy, A. R. West and company, A. Goldstein, McConnell Brothers, Calvin Simon, Wolf's Cash Market, Glenn Smith, The Plymouth Mail, Willoughby Brothers, Oakland Dairy, Woodworth company, Earl Flunell, J. W. Burial Expenses For Unfortunates

Burial expenses up to $100, plus $30 for cemetery expenses can now be secured for people who are now being assisted by welfare and who have no funds or other property, declares Jack Howell, of the old age assistance bureau of Wayne county.

Mr. Howell states that this fact is not generally known and in some cases there has been actual distress as a result of lack of information on this subject.

Barn Owls Back At Spicer Farm—With Nest Full of Eggs

Spring has already arrived in Plymouth and vicinity!

At least that is what the family of barn owls that have made one of the barns on Sam Spicer's farm their summer resort over a long period of years, seem to think.

The owls have not only arrived back in Michigan for their usual summer stay, but in the nest high up on the rafter where many generations of this family of owls have been started on their way, there are already six eggs in the nest, according to Mr. Spicer.

School Teachers Of County Hold Banquet

Over 300 Attend Affair Held At Belleville

The teachers of the school systems of Redford Union, Northville, Plymouth, Wayne, Romulus, Flat Rock, and Belleville joined in 17 division conferences at Belleville last Monday.

At 8:00 p.m., more than 300 sat down to a finely prepared and nicely served banquet, through the courtesy of the cafeteria department of the Belleville Consolidated school.

Guests of the occasion were the Metropolitan Schoolmen's Chorus from Detroit, a group of 37 especially talented men teaching in Detroit and the metropolitan area. This is the same group that is to sing at Atlantic City for the National Education association on a nation-wide network, Monday, February 28. Other guests were the board of education of Belleville Consolidated school, the Wayne county board of education; President John M. Munson, Dean Milton Hoyer, and Dr. Turner, director of teacher training, of the Michigan Normal college.

The program was well prepared and directed by Superintendent Cleveland Roe of Belleville public schools.

After the introduction of special guests by County Superintendent of Schools Fred C. Fischer, and two groups of especially fine selections by the Metropolitan Chorus, a short and interesting talk was given by Superintendent Frank Cody of Detroit public schools on "Then and Now in Education". Mr. Cody stressed some of the changes in education and

Detroit Club To Present Drama

The Drama Club of the Brightmoor Methodist church in Detroit will present a play, entitled "Smoke", at the Plymouth Methodist church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

This play attempts to interpret present-day industrial problems from the Christian point of view.

The pastor of the Brightmoor church is Rev. B. J. Holcomb, who will be remembered as a teacher in the Plymouth high school. Mrs. Holcomb, who directs the players, is the former Miss Leah Eckles of Plymouth.

Much time has been spent in preparation for presenting this drama, and the public is urged to attend this performance. There will be no admission charge.

DOLLAR DAYS! Today and Tomorrow Friday, Saturday

Plymouth's first 1938 Dollar day sales start this Friday morning and will continue until the stores close Saturday evening.

For today's and tomorrow's big sales, the merchants have slashed prices on hundreds and hundreds of items that will appeal to shoppers.

Everything needed for the home, for the kitchen, groceries, clothing, shoes, furniture, fuel, drugs, will be found offered at special prices in this issue of The Plymouth Mail.

Plymouth Sportsmen Plan Banquet At Part Of Local Observance Of Wildlife Restoration Week

Lisle Alexander Named As General Chairman—Fixed Banquet Date For March 23 At Mayflower Hotel

Plymouth is going to take an outstanding part in the national observance of "wildlife restoration week" which has been fixed by Presidential proclamation for the week of March 20 to 26.

To make arrangements and prepare for the wildlife banquet to be held at the Mayflower hotel on Wednesday evening, March 23, the following executive committee has been appointed: Lisle Alexander, chairman; William Rambo, Sterling Eaton, Dr. Paul Butz, Glenn Jewell and Mark Chaffee.

The primary purpose of the week is to arouse nation-wide interest among both young and old in the acute wildlife problems not only confronting Michigan, but the nation.

Jay N. Darling, former chief of the federal Biological Survey, is president of the General Wildlife Federation, which is sponsoring this important event. Sportsmen as well as outdoor lovers are intensely interested in the program.

Banquet details, with the announcement of the speakers for the event, will be made next week.

Father Lefevre Addresses Kiwanis Club

Loyalty To Country Essential To Liberty

Using patriotism as an appropriate subject for the observance of Washington's birthday, Father Lefevre addressed the Kiwanis club Tuesday evening in the Mayflower hotel. The full membership of the club was present.

Entitling his talk "The Birth of a Nation", Father Lefevre spoke of the meaning of loyalty and patriotism as we feel it for our own country and the principles for which it stands. He stressed the points in our constitution which are peculiar to our country and made a plea for the people of America to uphold those ideals as were set forth by the early founders of this government.

Elect Delegates To Conferences

The February meeting of Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter D.A.R. was held on Monday afternoon, February 21, at the home of Mrs. Glenn Jewell on Northville road with a good number in attendance.

During the regular business meeting, delegates and alternates were elected for both the state and national conventions of the D.A.R.

For the state conference, which will be held in Lansing on March 30, 31, and April 1, Mrs. Sidney Strong, local regent, and Mrs. Merle Bennett, local vice-regent, were elected delegates with Mrs. Henry Baker, Mrs. Charles Horr, Mrs. Glenn Jewell and Miss Mabel Spicer as alternates.

For national conference, held at Washington, D. C. in April, Mrs. Dwight Randall will attend as delegate and Mrs. Charles Horr and Mrs. George Wilcox were named as alternates.

The program for Monday's meeting consisted of a very splendid review of the noted English author, J. B. Priestly's late book, "Midnight on the Desert", given in her usual able way, by Mrs. C. M. Chase of Northville and a most interesting informal talk on Abraham Lincoln by Miss Marian Paddock of Plymouth. Miss Paddock prefaced her remarks with Longfellow's "Ode to Lincoln".

Mrs. Chase stated that she chose to review Priestly's book in order to give a foreigner's ideas of us. "Midnight on the Desert" was written in 1917 and covers a trip made to the United States by the author in 1916, most of which time was spent in Arizona.

May Make Tonquish Covering WPA Job

At a hearing before the Wayne county board of auditors in Detroit Wednesday, Mrs. Ruth Ruston Whipple represented the city of Plymouth pertaining to an effort to have the covering of Tonquish creek made a WPA job, rather than having the project paid for by the city.

William Rambo To Be In Charge Of Golf Club

Many Improvements Planned At Plymouth Course

Officials of the Plymouth Country club announced this week that future activities of the club would be under the personal direction of William Rambo, assuming the responsibilities of care for the golf course and the club, Mr. Rambo immediately charted an expansion program that will make the club one of the best in Michigan.

The first move to be made by the new management will be to improve the greens and fairways so that they will compare favorably with any in the country. A regular dining service will be instituted in the club house and additional locker and dressing rooms with modern shower baths are already under construction.

Plans are under way to add tennis courts, shuffle boards, a skeet field and many other outside activities. The possibility of creating a bathing beach in the big lake near the course is being studied. A new slogan has been adopted for the club, "The Sports Center of Southern Michigan", and every effort will be made to make this a reality.

A league has been organized among Plymouth golfers to play Monday and Tuesday nights and 20 teams are already entered. William Fishlock will be retained as professional and several exhibition matches have already been booked for the summer.

At the last board of directors meeting of the club R. M. Deane was elected president of the organization and Perry W. Richwine, secretary and treasurer. A new and reduced price range will go into effect when the club opens.

Teams already entered for the following: Stroth's, Outcasts, Coolman's, Bakery, Penniman-Allen, Banner Beer, Wild & company, Daisy, Hillside, Realtors, Detroit Edison, Ditzler Paints, Plymouth Plating, Schrader's, Plymouth Tube, and Michigan Bell.

No License, No Auto Driving

Monday midnight is the zero hour for 1937 automobile license plates, and unless automobile drivers have their new 1938 licenses by that time, they must have their machines off the streets and highways, or face arrest.

Chief of Police Vaughan Smith, who has issued warnings at various times for weeks past, declares that under the new state law there can be no extension and his instructions are to make immediate arrests for all violations.

Police officers of other cities as well as the state police have issued the same warnings, so if you have not secured your new automobile license by midnight Monday night, it would be well to leave your car in the garage, unless you desire to pay a fine.

Break Ground For First Of New Rural Schools

Plymouth Residents Take Part In Ceremonies

Wednesday afternoon was an important day for the school children of rural Wayne county, much more important than they realize at this time, for the day marked the beginning of the building program for the erection of at least nine new rural school houses so that the hundreds and hundreds of boys and girls of the rural districts can have badly needed educational opportunities.

Ground was broken for a new four room school in the Gordineer district, on Inkster road, in the northwest corner of Taylor township, this being the first of nine new school houses to be built with funds provided by the Wayne county board of supervisors and the federal government.

It is expected that the Stark district, just east of Plymouth where the need is as great as in the Gordineer district, will be the next, to be followed soon by the Wilcox district.

George A. Smith, of this city and president of the Wayne county board of education, opened the ground breaking ceremonies with a brief talk to the parents of the school children who had assembled for the affair. Present also were many prominent in county official life.

Mr. Smith told briefly of the importance of the event and introduced County School Commissioner Fred Fischer, who conducted the remainder of the ground breaking program.

D. D. Napier of the C. W. Treadwell company of Detroit, presented to J. J. Zimmerman, director of the school district, a deed for nearly two acres of ground for the new building.

When it is realized that the present school building was erected more than a hundred years ago, with a small addition being placed on it four years ago, one can readily understand the importance of the new structure.

Mr. Zimmerman, who has spent his entire life in the district, spent most of his school days in the old school house that will soon be replaced by a modern new structure.

Plymouth Golfers Start Teams

Plymouth golfers have been getting their clubs out of mothballs and dusting them off lately anticipating the coming season. Fourteen teams are all set for the Plymouth Golf league, states Manager Casey Partridge of the Plymouth Hills Golf club, with only two openings left.

The teams participating in the league last year and entering the league this year are: Sanitary Bakery, Bill's Market, Banner Beer, Hillside, Penniman-Allen theatre, the Barbers, Daisy Manufacturing company, Ditzler Paint, and Coolman's Olds. The new teams entering the league this year are Huston Hardware, Newburg Fords, Earl Mastick, Plymouth Plating Works, and Metropolitan Life Insurance.

Manager Partridge has many new improvements planned for the club, such as remodeling the club house, nine new tees, cleaning the brush out of the roughs, trimming trees, and better greens and traps.

THANKS!

Dear Mr. Eaton: The Misses Circle of The King's Daughters sends many thanks to you for the splendid contribution they received as a result of your Lincoln day banquet dinner. It helps our treasury at a time when the needs of so many are serious. Yours in His Name, Marie Forney, Secretary

Father and Son Banquet Club's Largest

Ex-Service Men Present New Local Juvenile Talent

Chalk up another one for the Ex-Service Men's club of Plymouth!

Its annual father and son banquet held Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium was by far the largest as well as the most successful it has ever held. Not only that, but the veterans produced and presented to Plymouth residents outstanding local juvenile talent that delighted the fathers and sons. Few knew that there was living here such accomplished youngsters.

First came the bright, talented singing and dancing daughters, Thelma and Margaret and three little sons, Harvey, Carl and Robert, of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stevens of South Main street. These five youngsters, under the direction of their mother, presented a series of songs and dancing acts that delighted the banqueters.

Just as good as an entertaining was the "One Family Minstrel Show" presented by Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Wooster and their two youthful sons of Rosedale Gardens. The boys carried their blackface minstrel parts along with their father like old time stage veterans. Mrs. Wooster accompanied the boys and their father for the musical numbers.

Completing the musical part of the program were two excellent accordion numbers by Joe Schultz. (Continued on Page Five)

"Home Laundry" On Display Today

The Bendix "home laundry", a new automatic electric machine designed to make the usual drudgery of wash day a time of comparative leisure will arrive here on February 25. Plymouth Buick Sales company representative in this territory of Bendix Home Appliances, Inc. of South Bend, Indiana, manufacturers of the machine, announced.

The "home laundry", the result of four years of research and experimentation in the Bendix engineering laboratories, will soak, wash, rinse and damp-dry clothes ready for the line merely by setting of two electric dials and the adding of soap, according to Mr. Shear. The clothes are handled only twice—once when they are placed in the machine dry and again when they are removed for placing on the line. The operator sets the time required for the washing, and the "home laundry" automatically stops without any further attention on the part of the operator. During the process the clothes are thoroughly soaked, gently agitated and rinsed after which they are spun line-dry within the machine by centrifugal force.

Mr. Shear announces that the Bendix "home laundry" will be on display at 640 Starkweather avenue, Plymouth starting today, February 25.

Police Hunt Two Bandits Who Shot Grocer

Daring Robbery In City Nets Thugs Little Cash

While state and Plymouth police officers are hunting down every clue which might lead to the arrest of two youthful bandits who, Sunday night, shot and dangerously wounded Arthur J. Todd, South Main street grocer, Mr. Todd is slowly recovering from a bullet wound that pierced his body just under his right shoulder.

He is in Plymouth hospital and yesterday Dr. Paul Butz reported that he was well on the road to recovery. The bullet entered his chest, cut through the upper part of one lung then left the body, tearing a hole through the back of his coat. The bullet, fired from a .32 automatic pistol, was found by Officer Lee Sackett in a seed box near the front door of the store.

A few minutes after 10:00 o'clock Sunday evening, just as Mr. Todd was preparing to close for the night, two young men entered the store and asked to purchase a loaf of bread and a package of coffee. As he started to wait on them, the taller one of the two walked around the counter towards the cash register.

Mr. Todd told Captain Thumme that he immediately suspected that they were hold-up men, and almost at the same moment one of them declared that "this is a stick-up".

By this time Todd had his hand on the front door knob. The bandit at the cash till called to his companion to "get him". The young fellow, standing not over three feet from Todd, fired just as the groceryman opened the door. Although partly stunned by the bullet, he ran into the darkness at the side of the store and stood there until he heard the youthful thugs drive away in their car.

Weak from the loss of blood, he went back into the store and called Mrs. Todd at her home and told her that he had been shot. She immediately summoned the police and a physician.

He was rushed to the hospital where immediate surgical aid was given him.

The sheriff and state police were immediately notified by Chief Vaughan Smith and officers have been working on the case since.

There was little money in the store, the thugs securing only a small number of nickels and dimes. Mr. Todd had never carried any amount of cash on hand, because of his rather distant location from downtown.

Officers believe that the same two thugs went to the Olds store on East Ann Arbor with the idea of robbing that place as well Sunday night, as two men answering the same description were in the store during the evening, but went out after a number of customers had come to the store.

The Hillside Barbecue was also broken into and robbed of a small amount of cash last week.

Find Coal Thieves Are Gas Thieves

When Pere Marquette detectives arrested a couple of fellows for stealing coal the first of the week, they also arrested two of those who have been stealing gasoline from cars in this city, officers believe.

When they searched the automobile of the two they found a complete equipment for siphoning gas from automobiles, hose, cans and all. It was just Sunday night when several attendants at the Presbyterian church, returning home from services, saw the gas tanks of their cars thieves having siphoned several gallons.

Home Loans Help Home Builders

The 33 insured savings and loan associations in Michigan have made a fast start for 1938 in home mortgage financing, and in providing thrift facilities for their communities, Nugent Fallon, general manager of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance corporation, said recently.

Mr. Fallon reported that the total of direct-reduction mortgage loans for construction, purchase, reconditioning and refinancing of Michigan homes, made by these associations, was $15,784,530 at the beginning of February, an increase of $2,195,497 over the total on November 1. All of the associations reported a very active month in January.

Savings invested in these insured institutions had risen to $22,201,330 in the early part of February, an increase of $9,830,730 over the figure three months ago. Such savings are protected up to $5,000 on each account by the insurance corporation.

Assets of the associations amounted to $43,467,820 on February 1, being an increase of $11,731,427 in three months.

Insured associations in Michigan are located in Adrian, Battle Creek, Birmingham, Charlotte, Coldwater, Dearborn, Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Ludington, Midland, Mount Clemens, Muskegon, Niles, Owosso, Pontiac, Port Huron, Plymouth, Royal Oak, Sault Ste. Marie, Wyandotte, Wayne, Benton Harbor, Holland, Jackson and Monroe.

BUSTER BEAR MAKES A REQUEST

BUSTER BEAR shook with laughter as he watched Reddy Fox disappear just like a little red streak. It had been great fun to see Reddy such a scare. "I guess he won't come fooling around here again in a hurry," chuckled Buster.

"You Might Let Me Know If You Discover Any Danger for Me in the Green Forest," Said Buster Thoughtfully.

"You might let me know if you discover any danger for me in the Green Forest," said Buster thoughtfully. Jumper looked at him as if he didn't know whether to think Buster was joking or not. Somehow Buster looked as if he meant it. "I'll be very glad to," replied Jumper, "only I don't know what danger there can be for you. You are so big and strong and have such great teeth and claws that I—why, I don't see what there is for you to be afraid of, Buster!"

Buster looked as if he didn't know just what to say. No one ever likes to admit being afraid of anything. "Does—does a man ever visit the Green Forest?" asked Buster in a hesitating way. "Farmer Brown's boy does sometimes, but nobody is much afraid of him any more," replied Jumper promptly. "He was very nice to chatter the Red Squirrel and to Mrs. Grouse and to Peter Rabbit this last winter, and everybody knows it. Besides, you are as big as he is and a whole lot stronger. Of course, you wouldn't be afraid of him, Buster!"

Three Comedy Pictures Billed At Theatre

Three good pictures are billed for the screen at the Penniman-Allen theatre for the coming week, and should attract capacity crowds.

The first, "A Damsel in Distress", a comedy featuring Fred Astaire, George Burns, and Grace Allen, will be shown at the theatre Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, February 27, 28, and March 1.

"This Way Please", with Buddy Rogers, Betty Grable, Mary Livingston, and Ned Sparks, is another comedy full of radio stars. This will be shown Wednesday and Thursday, March 2 and 3.

Jane Withers comes Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5, in a lively story of "45 Fathers".

Hamilton Hits Ticket "Racket"

State Representative John Hamilton, outstanding Democratic member of the legislature, took a direct crack at Draper Allen, who terms himself a member of "Governor Murphy's cabinet" and who is director of the state sales tax department, in charges he laid before Civic Service Director William R. Brownrigg Tuesday.

Hamilton charged that employees of the state are being subjected to petty "chiseling", ticket solicitation and requests for political funds that amount to several dollars a person each month. It was just last week when all state employes in this part of Michigan were urged to buy tickets for a "Draper Allen club" affair held last Friday night over in the southern end of Oakland county.

Not so long ago the director of the sales tax department staged a similar affair over in Milford, several others having been held in this part of the state, with state employes always being hounded to buy tickets for these "Allen" parties.

Allen has freely used the time of the state employes working for him to make arrangements for these events and push the sale of tickets that Democratic Representative John Hamilton says is not permissible under the new state civil service law.

It is also stated that other "high" up state officials have been guilty of the same practice, which has led to the strong protest made by Representative Hamilton.

Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Thams will be hosts, Monday evening, to their "500" club.

Teddy Is Wealthy

Here is "Teddy," unpedigreed but properly the nation's wealthiest dog, for he has $10,000. The money was left him by Mrs. Hattie A. Fletcher of San Diego, Calif., to insure that the remainder of his life be as comfortable as when she was alive. August J. Geck also was remembered in Mrs. Fletcher's will, for Geck is Teddy's dietitian and valet, and selects Teddy's strolins and short ribs.

-And March Marches On!

Though it's just another month in the year, March probably has more traditions and superstitions behind it than any of the remaining 11 months.

Since Julius Caesar's time the "idea of March" have been famous in song and story, few people realizing that every month had an "idea" in the old Roman calendar. The fact that Caesar was murdered on the "idea of March" made that particular day more significant.

To the Romans, March was the first month of the year, a calendar custom that persisted throughout Europe for centuries. England did not adopt the present calendar until 1752, previously dating its legal year from March 25.

Literally, March is the month of Mars, based on Grecian legend. Certainly its warlike tendencies are borne out by the furious winds usually accompanying the month. If March comes in like a lion, it will go out like a lamb, or vice versa. If people are "mad as a March hare" there's usually a mental ailment concerned. March beer is traditionally the best, since climatic conditions are supposed to be best for brewing in that month.

Tax Sale To Clear All Property

Upon the request of numerous interested parties, E. R. Eaton, state representative from this district, has secured a ruling from the attorney general's office pertaining to the forthcoming sale of property under delinquent taxes.

The attorney general has ruled, as was intended by the state legislature, that the forthcoming sale will clear up the title to all property sold at the forthcoming delinquent tax sale.

The ruling also states that there will be no taxes collected during 1938 and 1939 on lands disposed of under the delinquent tax sale.

Property ownership due to back taxes, especially on sub-divided property, has for the past five or six years been in a most deplorable condition and land owners, as well as township, village and city officials will be delighted when the sale is over so that there can be a new start made on rightful ownership and assessment.

Mr. and Mrs. Wasmund, of Arden avenue, Rosedale Gardens, celebrated their 26th wedding anniversary on February 20 by entertaining Rev. and Mrs. Graupner, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Hanes, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Hanes, Hilda Ellwell, Earl Templeton, Edgar Grimm, Mr. and Mrs. William Smigle, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smigle, cousins, who have just returned from Japan. The Wasmunds have two children, Kathleen Elizabeth and Iris Marie.

On Tuesday evening several friends of Mrs. Frank Terry gave her a surprise in honor of her birthday. Games were played and a most enjoyable evening ensued. The guests presented Mrs. Terry with a beautiful bouquet in honor of the occasion. A delicious luncheon was served with a birthday cake, decorated in red and white as a centerpiece.

Marie Owens, who has spent the past month with Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Terry, returned to her home in Pontiac Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Henderson leave Friday for Cranford, New Jersey to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Henderson.

Charles W. Horr, attorney for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and former Plymouth resident, is seriously ill in Detroit with bronchial pneumonia.

Small Son Burned, Father Jailed

Roy "Jim" Fisher, Irwin street, is serving 80 days in the Detroit House of Correction while his little three-year-old son is recovering in the University of Michigan hospital from terrible burns on his face, received when a pot of coffee was knocked from the table in their home.

Police who arrested Fisher, a WPA worker, on an intoxication charge, say that the little boy is in a serious condition, but doctors believe that he will recover from the burns, although his entire face was seared by the hot coffee. Fisher pleaded guilty to the charge placed against him by the police.

Break Ground For New School

(Continued From Page One) Nelson Bowers of Romulus, were among the guests present, as well as County Auditors Jack Cowan, E. H. Williams and State Representative E. R. Eaton who helped get through the legislature the bill which enabled the county board of supervisors to advance $60,000 to the various county school districts. The other $90,000 to be used for these new buildings is coming from federal funds.

Max Barton, alert and progressive director of WPA projects in Wayne county, as well as many others prominent in state circles, took part in the proceedings.

Former Plymouth Girl Wed In Grand Rapids

Friends of Miss Thelma Lunsford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lunsford of Grand Rapids, formerly of Plymouth, will be interested in reading that she was married to Robert Jay Ellwanger, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ellwanger, Sr., also of Grand Rapids. The date of the wedding was February 19, and took place in Saginaw where the young couple will reside. Mr. Ellwanger is employed in the Medical Arts Pharmacy there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellwanger were both students in Junior college, Grand Rapids. Many lovely showers have been given for the bride by her friends in that city.

Locals

Mrs. Roy Leeman and her mother, Mrs. Gifford visited the two Mrs. Roots at Maple Lane farm on Wednesday afternoon and made up a foursome at the game of bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton A. Whipple of Kalamazoo are the guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Livingston, 1064 Williams street. Mrs. Livingston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whipple. Mr. Whipple was seriously injured last fall in an automobile accident and he is now sufficiently recovered to be able to be about.

To Observe Day Of World Prayer

The women of the local churches are cooperating with the Interdenominational World Day of Prayer in a program which is built around the church as a center of a world Christian community, and which will be held in the Methodist church Friday, March 4, at 2:00 o'clock.

The program has been prepared by Miss Henderson of Sumner, Christ church, New Zealand, and will consist of prayers, special music, and short talks on topics of great interest to women the world over. This is a solemn privilege to blend the thoughts of this group with women of all countries in a united hour of prayer.

E. M. Bailey of Pontiac, Illinois visited his sister, Mrs. Ward Henderson over last week-end.

Woman's Club To Visit Wayne

The Woman's Club of Plymouth is invited to be the guest of the Arche Club of Wayne, this afternoon, February 25, the meeting to begin at 2:00 o'clock. Anyone wishing transportation may call Mrs. Henry E. Baker, phone 647.

Cleve R. Bradshaw, of Lansing, director of the National Youth Administration, gave a talk, Friday afternoon, before the Woman's Club of Plymouth. Mr. Bradshaw said the administration deals with youth from 16 to 25 years of age, trying to prepare them for positions and placing them if possible. He said 40 years ago, 80 percent of our fathers and grandfathers earned their living on the farm or pursuits in connection with farming while now 80 percent earn it in the cities, a complete change from rural independence to urban wage dependence.

He also said that the World War ability to produce caught up with the ability to distribute, producing more than can be distributed. Then relief programs were planned to take care of part of the young people, the first of these being the CCC, boys who planted an enormous amount of acreage of trees throughout the state. In 1935 the National Youth Administration was formed and it was found that there were 135,000 in Michigan from 16 to 25 years of age, 5,000 of which were on relief. Through the college aid of the administration approximately 4,000 young people have been able to continue college by working part time. These were deserving young people "who were in this way removed from the already crowded market. Those out of college who wanted jobs couldn't get them without experience."

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held in the Commission Chamber of the City Hall, Monday evening, March 7, 1938 at 7:30 P.M. for the purpose of determining whether or not to construct a storm sewer in Hartsoogh Ave. between S. Main St. and S. Harvey St.

All property owners whose property abuts the above proposed improvement will be given ample opportunity to participate in such hearing.

C. H. ELLIOTT,
City Clerk.

Rev. Sutherland Seriously Ill

Plymouth's many friends of Rev. Loya Sutherland, pastor of the First Baptist church, will regret to learn that there is not much change in his condition and attending physicians at the University hospital in Ann Arbor state that it will be some time before he will be able to return to his pastorate in this city.

William Conner has so sufficiently recovered that he will be able to return home from Harper hospital Sunday.

"Clean Politics" Not So Clean

from two different appropriations may be "within the law". Think of the absurdity of a state official who will carry on the payroll of his office in times like these a salary of a "special attorney general" at $5,000 per year, when that same official collects another salary of $3,000 per year from another state department, talking about "clean, decent and honest" government!

His obnoxious talk before the citizens of Pontiac is nothing more than an insult to the decent people of all Michigan!

Thousands and thousands of quarts of good, rich milk and other food could be purchased for the hungry people of Oakland county or elsewhere in Michigan with one of these extra pay checks flowing into the pockets of the governor's "legal adviser".

Apparently, Mr. Starr, you and your ilk are so self-satisfied with the easy jobs and the steady pay checks floating into your pockets that you know nothing and care less about the distress of hundreds of thousands of our citizens who have no jobs, who are hungry, who are cold, who haven't the slightest idea where their next meal is coming from.

No wonder the welfare funds in the state are running short. No wonder the old people of Michigan are being deprived of the pensions they so badly need!

You talk about HONEST GOVERNMENT! What a farce! In the name of decency, why do you not cut that extra pay check off your list, why don't you fire half of the needless lawyers in your office and turn the rest of the appropriation back into the general fund of the state so that in the emergency confronting Michigan the money might be available for something useful and beneficial, so that it can be used to buy food and clothing for our destitute?

The present state administration is nothing more than OPPRESSORS of the poor and unfortunate people of this state. I defy you or anyone else to prove that it is not!

As long as you have raised the question of "honesty" in state government, let me ask you frankly, Mr. Starr, if some poor devil not holding a public job had received as a "gift" a case or more of whiskey taken illegally from the state warehouse at Christmas time, would you not hold that he was guilty of receiving stolen property?

As attorney general, let me ask you another question publicly, is it not a violation of law for any state employe to give away property belonging to the taxpayers of Michigan?

If so, then why haven't you instituted criminal proceedings in the "raid" that was made on the state liquor supply just before Christmas?

Newspaper reports said that you personally had received a "case" or more of this liquor at the time the capitol building was turned into a sort of a "barrel house" just before Christmas time.

What about it? I would like to ask you, as long as you are discussing "honest" government, does the return of property after the discovery is made of its illegal removal, in any way lessen the seriousness of the alleged offense?

If some non-office holder backed two or three trucks up at the door of the liquor warehouse, removed hundreds and hundreds of dollars worth of valuable booze and then distributed it among his friends, wouldn't you as attorney general see to it that proper police officials arrested the whole gang?

Have you requested that warrants be issued or other criminal proceedings of any kind be instituted since newspaper reporters discovered the Christmas "raid" made on the state liquor warehouse so that state officials could have all the booze they wanted for the holidays?

You talk about HONEST government!

What a sham!

Recently I revealed how the executive secretary to Governor Murphy is also the beneficiary of two different pay checks. The secretary's pay check of $5,000 per year is the "top" ever paid to a governor's secretary. But not satisfied with the $5,000 per year, he had to have a salary out of the funds the state legislature appropriated to advertise Michigan's summer attractions.

This additional pay check came out of the "hidden payroll" fund there was so much gossip about during the last session of the state legislature.

But what about Edward Kemp? What about his services for the two pay checks he is taking from the pockets of the taxpayers?

Well, Edward Kemp is a former law partner of Governor Murphy. When Murphy went to the Philippines he took Kemp and Hill along with him—both now beneficiaries of double pay checks from the state—and each associated directly with the governor's office.

How Edward Kemp got his name on two state payrolls is not just known.

The governor had a right to appoint him as his "legal adviser" if he wanted to do so, although the governor is supposed to be some sort of a lawyer.

But, if Attorney General Raymond Starr has any belief in the "clean, decent, HONEST government" he talks so much about, why didn't he tell Frank Murphy, "NO, I WILL NOT APPOINT ANY MAN ON MY STAFF SO HE CAN DRAW TWO PUBLIC PAY CHECKS."

He did nothing of the kind, so we find here another beneficiary of two public pay checks.

In the name of decent and clean government, the attorney general should immediately terminate this obnoxious, "within the law" scheme whereby one person draws two different pay checks from different state departments.

If this new breed of big salary, double-salary public pay check takers thinks it essential to pay such high salaries in times like these, why under the sun do they not do it in a legitimate way—go before the legislature and say, "We want $8,000 per year for one lawyer to tell another lawyer what the law says," rather than go about it in such an under-cover way as has apparently been adopted by the two pay check system?

How many more of them there might be, no one knows. I wrote for copies of the state payrolls of all departments, commissions, boards and institutions some time ago so that a check might be made. So far, the copies have not been received. It is only by hunting for other information that one discovers such things as are hereby revealed.

No wonder Attorney General Starr asked the legislature for the biggest appropriation ever made to his department in the history of the state! It is quite apparent that it will all be spent for political job holders, while thousands of our good people exist in destitution.

In view of these disturbing facts, Mr. Starr, will you please tell the public what difference there is between yourself, Murphy, Kemp, Hill and all the rest of the caboodle of your kind? Maybe your predecessors did some things that might be open to question. But never before in the history of Michigan, has anything quite so brazen ever been tried as the two-pay-check scheme you seem to have adopted. Never before until last Christmas was Michigan's capitol ever turned in to a regular old-fashioned "barrel house", with cases of booze flowing freely everywhere.

And might it not be suggested that before talking about honest government you clean up your own backyard and then wash your hands before embarrassing another banquet audience of decent citizens?

a high school student, who is a remarkably proficient musician. Miss McCullough was his excellent accompanist.

The invocation was delivered by Captain Edwin Alder of the Plymouth Salvation Army.

Youthful Douglas Miller did splendidly in delivering the "Toast to Fathers". He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller of 382 North Main street.

Captain Charles Thumme, of the Plymouth police department, popular with all the boys of Plymouth, made a pleasing response in behalf of the fathers to the sons.

Two brief addresses were delivered by Supt. George A. Smith of the Plymouth public schools and Sidney D. Strong, district commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America.

Both of these speakers placed considerable stress on the beneficial influence of schools and scout work upon the boys of today.

While the banquet was for the fathers and sons of Boy Scout Troop No. 2 of Plymouth, which is sponsored by the Ex-Service Men's club, nearly every other boy scout troop in Plymouth was represented and many other fathers and sons were also present.

The menu, served by members of the Auxiliary of the club, was not only excellent, but served quickly and efficiently.

Rev. Lynn B. Stout of Calvary Baptist church delivered the benediction.

Father Lefevre Addresses Kiwanis

Christianity, the speaker traced in an interesting way the development of history, and with it the ideals that finally were inculcated into this country's government at the start. He pointed out how the history of our own United States has shown the degree of loyalty and love of liberty we have cherished through the years. The Civil War, together with the numerous vital problems that have been solved to preserve the unity of these United States, show the struggle that Americans have had to achieve a land of liberty and "pursuit of happiness," Father Lefevre said.

In conclusion Father Lefevre, gave a forceful challenge to protect this nation against attempts to change from the original ideals that have been foremost in making the United States the country that it is. He said, "We must fight our battles not with bullets, but with ballots. . . . Of what avail are the hardships of a war to save a country, if in times of peace the country is sold by selfish, sordid politicians? Purity in politics must be the battle cry. . . . Besides intelligence and integrity there must be the spirit of religion prevailing the hearts of those who are devoted to the interest of America. . . . Love of God and love of country must always go hand in hand."

This meeting was the sixth meeting this year that recorded a 100 percent attendance.

Forty-five Cub Scouts, under the supervision of E. J. Allison and Cub Scout Master Ernest Henry, attended the Shrine Circus in Detroit last week, according to a report made to the club.

Clifford Tait was received into the membership of the club last week, when appropriate ceremonies were observed.

On March 15, the first meeting of the inter-club series will be held here with Dexter as guests of the local club.

also, some things which ought to change in education.

The address of the evening was given by Dr. Yoder, superintendent of Michigan state hospital, on the subject, "Mental Hygiene for Teachers". His wide experience in the field of mental diseases made him especially well-fitted, by presentation of concrete evidence, to discuss in a pleasing and penetrating way the need for a teacher to keep physically fit and engaged in vocations and hobbies to supplement their endeavors in the field of teaching if they are to remain happy and their usefulness to continue over a considerable period of years. Dr. Yoder was one of the finest speakers that teachers in Western-Wayne county have heard in a considerable time.

Civic Orchestra Here March 4

On the evening of March 4, at 8:00 p.m., in the high school auditorium, the Woman's Club of Plymouth will present the members of the Ann Arbor Civic Orchestra in a program of music which all music lovers should hear. This will be Anniversary Music night with the past presidents of the club and the teachers of the Plymouth schools as guests.

A similar program to that given in Ann Arbor at the Third Annual Civic Music Night, recently, will be heard at this time. This group was organized in 1931 with just a dozen members and now has a membership of 40. The director, William Champion, has been with them since 1932. The active list has been held to 40, representing a balanced instrumentation as well as about the maximum that can be accommodated in most auditoriums. The orchestra functions without subsidy and without cash remuneration to players or director. The recreation and training afforded and the satisfaction of promoting an interesting and valuable civic music project is the recompense enjoyed by the members. Grace Johnson Konold, soprano, will be the soloist. Tickets, which will be free, are in the hands of the members of the Woman's Club who are to give them to their friends and others who wish to hear a fine musical program.

Mrs. Maurice Woodworth is the program chairman and Mrs. O. F. Beyer, coffee chairman with the following assisting committee: Mrs. John W. Bickenstaff, Mrs. Claude J. Dykhouse, Mrs. Harold Stevens, Mrs. John L. Olsaver, Mrs. Sterling Eaton, and Mrs. John T. Chapman.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

BUMBLE BEE WON'T HELP

SO SAID Peter Rabbit to himself as he sadly took his way back to the dear Old Briar Patch. Peter was tired, for he had had a long hunt to find Bumble. His nose was sore, for Bumble had thrust a sharp little lance into it to teach Peter not to poke his wobbly, inquisitive little nose into places where it had no business to be. But Peter wouldn't have minded these things if he had found out what he wanted to know. But he didn't find out a thing, and so he was anything but his usual happy self as he plodded wearily along. He was hot, tired, disappointed, and cross, and when you feel like that all at the same time you feel pretty much out of sorts, you know.

And it was all because Peter wanted to find out where the storehouse of Bumble's cousin, Mistress Busy Bee, was, so that he could tell Buster Bear, who is very fond of honey, and so make Buster his friend. He knew that it was in a hollow tree, probably high up, somewhere in the Green Forest, but however was he, who couldn't climb trees and couldn't fly, going to find out? Then Jimmy Skunk had suggested that if he wanted to find out, which he didn't, he would ask some one who knew to tell him. Right away Peter had thought of Bumble Bee. Of course Bumble Bee would know, being own cousin to Busy Bee. So Peter had run all over the Green Meadows trying to find Bumble Bee, only to get stung on the nose and find that Bumble couldn't if he would and wouldn't if he could tell where Busy Bee's storehouse was.

Now Peter and Bumble are old friends and neighbors, and it surprised Peter to have Bumble refuse his request. But when Bumble, who is very short-tempered and much given to rumbling and grumbling, not only refused, but took Peter to task and gave him a regular scolding for trying to find that storehouse, Peter hadn't been able to find a word to say.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself, Peter Rabbit. Yes, sir, you ought to be ashamed of yourself to ask an old friend like me to make trouble for one of his own relatives," Bumble had said. "It would be bad enough for you to try to make trouble yourself, and I wouldn't have believed it of you before this. But to try to get me to tell you where my cousin's storehouse is so that that great robber, Buster Bear, can steal all she has worked so hard to make and save is—why, it's—it's just awful! Buz-z-z, buz-z-z, I never heard of such a thing! How would you like to have your cousin, Jumper the Hare, go tell Reddy Fox of a hiding place where he would be sure to catch you? You'd think it's perfectly dreadful, wouldn't you? Well, what you have asked me to do is just as bad. Yes, sir, it's every bit as bad." You see, Bumble had guessed right away why Peter wanted to find that storehouse.

Now Peter had not once thought of it in that way. It was a new idea to him. He thought it all over after he got back to the dear Old Briar Patch as he nursed his sore nose. Little by little he began to see that Bumble was right. "Why," said he to himself, "I didn't think of it in that way. Of course, I wouldn't hurt Bumble to do anything to hurt one of his own relatives. Of course not. I didn't once think that finding that storehouse and telling Buster was going to hurt any one. But, of course, if he stole the honey, why—why—well, I wouldn't like it if it were my honey. It certainly would like to make Buster Bear my friend, but I don't want to make trouble, not real trouble, for anybody else."

number of sheep on farms; but the number of stock sheep, composed mostly of breeding ewes is three percent under 1937. Feeder sheep on farms on January 1 exceed those of a year ago by 10 percent.

Horses and mules of all ages are being held on Michigan farms in about the same numbers as those of a year ago. Chickens on Michigan farms over three months of age on January 1 totaled 11,712,000, compared with 13,160,000 a year ago, 12,297,000 in 1936, and 11,712,000 in 1935. Thus the number on hand this January is only equal to the small number on hand three years ago.

The situation for the United States is somewhat at variance with Michigan. Decreases in the numbers of horses, mules and cattle, and increases in the number of hogs and sheep are noted; however, the change from a year ago in numbers for the entire United States is relatively small for all species. When the number of all species of livestock are converted to an animal unit basis, which allows for differences in size and feed requirements of the several species, the change is very small, amounting to a reduction of 0.5 percent.

Chickens on farms in the United States on January 1, 1938 are estimated at 387,251,000 compared with 420,257,000 last year, a decline of 7.9 percent. Present numbers are 3.4 percent fewer than in 1936, about 0.7 percent less than on January 1, 1935, and probably the lowest since 1922.

The farm value of all species of Michigan livestock on January 1, 1938 is estimated at $142,610,000 compared with $144,124,000 a year ago. This small decrease in valuation is mostly due to the prevailing lower prices for horses and mules. There is a small drop in the valuation of hogs due to the decrease in number on hand. Although the number of chickens on Michigan farms is considerably under the number a year ago, the valuation is somewhat higher. It is estimated that Michigan chickens on farms on January 1 were worth $10,424,000 compared with $9,870,000 a year ago.

For the United States, the value of all species of livestock is placed at $4,789,542,000 compared with $4,819,811,000 a year ago. The estimated value of all chickens on farms in the United States is placed at $292,650,000 compared with $275,811,000 on January 1, 1937. The decrease in numbers is more than balanced by the increase in the value per head.

Hog "Population" Decreases

More cattle, less hogs and sheep, and the same number of horses and mules, on Michigan farms on January 1, 1938, compared with numbers on farms on January 1, 1937, are shown by the annual inventory estimates of livestock on farms, according to Verne H. Church, senior agricultural statistician of the Michigan co-operative crop reporting service. The increase in Michigan cattle numbers amounts to two percent. Cows and heifers two years old and over kept for milk have been increased one percent during the past year and young heifers under two years have been increased about 1.5 percent. Beef cattle kept for breeding shows a gain of four percent and beef steers 10 percent.

Hog numbers are down five percent from the inventory of a year ago. Sows and gilts for breeding are being kept in about the same number as last spring, but there is considerable decrease in the number of spring and fall pigs held for market.

There is little decrease in the Plymouth School Apprentice Training Classes Growing

Reports Show 21 Now Taking Up Trade Work

Since its inauguration last spring, the apprenticeship training school program offered by the Plymouth high school has grown steadily and is now being given to 21 boys who are being trained in various fields of skilled workmanship.

It is the aim of this course to give to each individual an opportunity to study the trade in which he is interested, giving him practical experience in the trade whenever such a position can be secured for him, so that upon completing the course, he is able to take his place among other skilled workers in business and industry.

Carvel Bentley, instructor and supervisor of this plan, stated that at present 16 of the 21 boys enrolled, hold part-time positions, with merchants in this locality, and further explained that the cooperation between business and the school in this matter had been very commendable and much appreciated. Only five of the boys have received temporary lay-offs as the result of poor business conditions.

When the boys are not at work, they spend their time in careful study of their particular trades, making analyses and gathering supplementary material in order that they may gain a thorough book knowledge of their subject. In addition, each student must take a course in social and economic problems, which explains labor and capital relationships, money, unions, etc.; in English; and in work experience, in which the employer grades and comments upon their progress and abilities displayed.

At the present time 16 different kinds of labor are being studied: Meat cutting, auto mechanics, dairy produce, dry cleaning, laundry management, printing, cabinet making, florists, department store managing, variety store managing, electrical work, grocery store management, and baking.

Each student who is interested in the apprenticeship program must state his preference for a trade, but before he is allowed to enter into the study of that business, the instructor makes sure that he is qualified mentally and physically for it. Mr. Bentley further stated that each apprentice is investigated for his seriousness of purpose, and every effort is made to find the correct placement of the individual.

The minimum wage offered to each apprentice, is 20 cents an hour, but many of them receive more. Although it is not the purpose of the program to be concerned with the financial returns of the apprentice, it is interesting to note that $2,889.68 have been earned by these boys since last spring, the greater share of it having been earned since the beginning of school last September. In the same length of time 13,383 hours of actual work experience have been put in by the boys. They are allowed to keep all of their earnings and in some cases these earnings have been the only income the family had, Mr. Bentley said. For the convenience of the boys, the school has provided an apprentice bank in which small savings may be deposited.

At the completion of the apprenticeship training period, the student will receive a certificate from the state board certifying that he is a full-fledged skilled worker, or journeyman, in the particular occupation for which he was trained. Previous to this, each apprentice must enter into agreement with the employer and school. Mr. Bentley pointed out, and his training program must be approved by both parties. Upon official registration, each apprentice is given a record book which contains his picture, and space for records to be kept throughout his training period, so that upon completion of the course, he will have this record to show for all his accomplishments and it may serve as a definite help to him in seeking employment.

The length of an apprenticeship varies with the occupation for which the training is given. In all cases a minimum period of 4,000 clock hours of combined school and work experiences is necessary for graduation, Mr. Bentley said, and 144 hours of this must be spent in school each year.

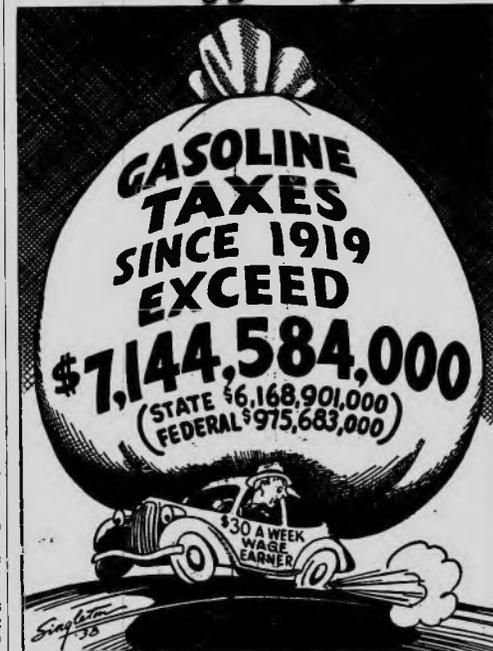

It has been estimated that 75 percent of the students graduating from the Plymouth high school do not go on to schools of higher learning after graduation, but expected to find their places in industry and business. Experience during the depression, the instructor explained, taught the young people just out of school that they were not fitted to fulfill the needs of the industry. The reason for this it was found was that there is an over-supply of unskilled labor, but a real demand for skilled workers. Hence, it is the aim of this apprentice system to correct that condition.

The "tiny" specks which can be seen on the surface of the sun, and which are known as sun spots, actually measure as much as 60,000 miles across.

When we eat a five-year-old oyster, we are eating "one in a million," since it is estimated that out of each million oyster eggs, only one oyster survives to the fifth year.

Staggering!

NEWS ITEM: Nineteenth anniversary of gasoline tax, February 25, 1938, reveals motorist taxpayers, largely $30-a-week wage-earners, have paid grand total of $7,144,584,000, of which $6,168,901,000 represents state gasoline taxes and $975,683,000 is in payment of duplicating federal levy, imposed "temporarily" in 1932. First gasoline tax was levied by Oregon in 1919 at rate of 1 cent a gallon.

Barn Builders Fast Disappearing

Another phase of what some persons term "the good old days" is disappearing in Michigan to the despair of farmers in the state who want to repair old buildings or construct new ones. For there are practically no old time carpenters who know how to lay out timbers and put together rafters and spikes.

That is one of the problems leading the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State college to announce three one week short courses starting Monday, March 5, on the campus at East Lansing. One is in farm buildings, another in irrigation and drainage and a third in rural electrification.

Construction and use of laminated round-roof barns is to be a modern portion of the farm builders' and carpenters' course directed by C. H. Jefferson of the staff. Men attending will lay out, build and erect some of the new type rafters. Home construction will be a part of the study.

Fundamentals of irrigation and drainage will be offered in another course by O. E. Robey, member of the staff who returned recently after touring England and Europe for additional information. Actual field work in laying out grades and tile lines are to be included.

High line service offers problems in rural electrification that are to be pondered in another short course conducted by D. G. Ebinger, specialist in the department. Proper wiring and proper equipment will be discussed. Laboratory work will include work in wiring, handling and studying motors, grinders and other equipment. Sufficient additional time will permit those enrolling to study out some of their own farm electrification problems.

Many Present For Townsend Meeting

There was a very fine attendance at the meeting of the Townsend club, Monday evening. Following the regular business meeting, Alda Madison Wade, of Detroit, talked on the Townsend plan and read some interesting poems written by himself. Songs were also sung, the words being written by him.

On Wednesday night, some of the members attended the monthly social at Redford. On Sunday Rev. George Gullen will speak on the Townsend plan at 3:15 p.m., the regular broadcast; also tune in WSPD, Toledo every Sunday at 4:45 p.m., 1940 kilocycles.

New Home Laundry to Be Seen Here

Engineering laboratories worked for four years perfecting for the American household this new home laundry which bears the name of Vincent Bendix, aeronautical leader and noted automotive manufacturer. The Bendix laundry washes, rinses and damp-dries clothes with no handling necessary beyond placing the dirty clothes in the washing cylinder and removing them damp-dry, ready for the line. The machine is compact and has no exposed parts, and its speed and efficiency are designed to turn the usual drudgery of wash day into a time of relative leisure. First models of this new appliance are being shipped here for local demonstrations in the near future.

HELP, IF YOU CAN.

Some good came to several residents of this city two or three weeks ago when The Mail urged local residents to make a diligent effort to find odd jobs for people to do. A number of our citizens were benefited. But during the past three or four days there have been so many, many appeals to The Mail office for help that we feel again it is necessary to make a request for jobs for our unemployed. Just a day's work will help a whole lot. Maybe your basement needs cleaning out. Maybe you have just a bit of repair work. Maybe there is some heavy cleaning you need to have done. If so, just run an advertisement in The Plymouth Mail. It will not cost you a cent. Advertisements for those seeking work or those offering work are for the present being run free of charge. Help, if you can.

A PERFECT DAY

When you come to the end of a perfect day
And you sit alone with your thought;
While the chimes ring out with a carol gay
For the joy that the day has brought.
Do you think what the end of a perfect day
Can mean to a tired heart,
When the sun goes down with a flaming ray
And the dear friends have to part?

Well, this is the end of a perfect day,
Near the end of a journey, too;
But it leaves a thought that is big and strong
With a wish that is kind and true.
For mem'ry has painted this perfect day
With colors that never fade,
And we find at the end of a perfect day
The soul of a friend we've made.

FOOD INSTEAD OF CASH.

During the session of the legislature last winter the writer made an effort to incorporate in the welfare appropriation bill a provision whereby money appropriated for welfare purposes should be used only for the purchase of food, fuel, clothing, medical supplies and the payment of shelter for those unable to provide shelter for themselves. In other words, actual necessities and not cash should be provided those who find public support necessary.

The amendment was assailed by some politicians who declared that welfare payments should be made in cash and not in food and other necessities.

The writer contended then, as now, that if those administering the welfare funds of the state would use these welfare funds for the purchase of Michigan's surplus potatoes, beans and other farm products, paying farmers a fair retail price for their supplies, that it would help the farmers and it would to a very large extent end graft in welfare assistance.

Welfare "clients" would find it more difficult to take a couple of bushels of potatoes down to some automobile agency and offer them as payment on a new car. They would find beer

College Daze

By James Lewis Hays

Skinamaree! Skinamaree!

Ho for the college daze!

Dad was a freshman once, you know,

When peg pants were the craze.

Bulldog pipe, bulldog shoes.

Side whiskers, broad cravat,

Dad was a sheik all slick and sleek.

Topped off with a bowler hat!

So, Son, when Dad gets good and mad

At your college clothes and ways

That was posed in the good old days—

gardens a bit slow about taking Michigan beans in exchange for a bottle of beer. They might find it a bit difficult to exchange a sack of flour for gasoline.

Plenty of proof that the writer's position was absolutely correct on this question is being revealed daily in Detroit by the investigation the mayor is making into welfare graft in that city.

But, of course, it is needless to talk about this thing with the affairs of state in control of the type of people who were elected last year.

There seems to be something about the hard earned dollars that come out of the pockets of the taxpayers that has an attraction for the new breed of public office holders stronger than molasses has for flies.

This fact, to some extent, can be understood when it is realized that few of the present outfit in charge of state affairs ever paid any taxes of any kind, except the few cents they are compelled to relinquish through the sales tax now and then.

There is also another fact about providing food that "welfare" administrators do not like. It means a bit more work for them. It's easy to dish out checks but not so easy to distribute food and clothing.

Well, maybe things will get so bad before the end of another year that the Lansing seat-warmers will be compelled to use a little common sense, that is, if there is any one up there that possesses any.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

DO THEY WANT TO RUIN OUR FARMERS?

The jumbled economic scheme of things in this county of ours is taking on new complication that may embroil the farmer.

Buyers of the humble spud are out to entice him into "big business," right at a time when political bigwigs are training their heaviest oratorical artillery on "big business" and attempting to make it appear that "bigness" itself is the unpardonable sin.

No less big moguls of the Detroit produce realm than Kirk P. Mitchell and H. A. Jeffords say that what Michigan needs is more "big potato growers". The 90 per cent of Michigan's farmers who grow three acres or less are falling down on the job and giving our spuds a second rate reputation, they charge.

"Big growers" with 25 acres or more, they say, will make a business of growing spuds, will take better care of the crop, and will purchase the necessary equipment to produce larger yields of uniform quality at less cost to consumers.

But that is what the manufacturers of automobiles, radios and other products in quite as general use as the potato have been doing, and see what is happening to them. Over the air comes the heeded breath of demagogues seeking to wither and destroy them. They have suddenly become public enemies, instead of geniuses who have placed the necessities and luxuries of life within reach of the masses.

Now they would have our farmers engage in similar nefarious practices of producing more and better potatoes for less money. But how would it sound to have Harold Ickes, for instance, leap to a nationwide network and hold our farmers up to public scorn as exploiters of the workers who plant and spray and dig—maybe as members of the sixty families who are waxing rich at the expense of 120 million people whose existence depends upon plain boiled, baked or fried potatoes?

The possibilities are alarming, and the scheme itself unthinkable. What if our ambitious farmers could, by going "big", feed the populace upon more and better murphies for less money? They will quickly run amuck of current thinking. They must not be stood up along with Ford, Girdler and Rand and made targets for barrages from political loose-tongues.

Efficiency is no longer a virtue and bigness is dishonorable. If our farmers, the backbone of the country, go "big" America is lost.—Don Cochrane, Hartford Day Springs.

MORE TROUBLE

Michigan's lowly spud is being kicked around these days. Ungraded potatoes must be fed to livestock and now comes the edict that number two grades cannot be shipped outside the state. Maine sure ought to be found in the Roosevelt column next election.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

COME TO MICHIGAN TO GET RELIEF.

Michigan relief clients may have ample reasons for complaint about undersized orders but they are big enough to tempt Wisconsin clients to move over on the Michigan side in border counties. Relief officials of both states met in Eagle River over the week-end to work out a reciprocal plan for the prevention of this migration which showed a favorable Michigan balance. Wisconsin's relief appropriations were somewhere around $2,000,000 while Michigan's population is greater but the per capita appropriation surpassed widely the Wisconsin sum.—Iron River Reporter.

The Lights of Home

... cheery, comforting and kind to your eyes

IF YOU FOLLOW THESE 8 SIMPLE RULES:

- 1 Be sure of decorative fitness of your lamps and fixtures. There is STYLE in lighting just as in dress. Choose your table and floor lamps to harmonize with your furniture.
- 2 Eliminate harsh contrasts (brilliant light and dark shadows). Do not have bright pools of light in a dark room. Supplement local lighting with general room-wide light.
- 3 Have enough light for each seeing task. There are definite recommendations as to the amount of light needed for reading fine print, sewing, mending, working in the kitchen, etc.
- 4 Avoid bare lamp bulbs . . . they cause glare. Raw lighting is poor lighting—even if there is plenty of it. Shaded lamps are always preferable.
- 5 Use the right size lamp in the right fixture. Too large or too small a lamp may cause eye discomfort and fatigue.
- 6 In your floor or table lamps, choose the type of lamp with a reflector bowl; and—wherever possible—shades with a white lining to provide more light. The bowl helps to diffuse the light and assures a soft, pleasant quality of illumination.
- 7 Wipe lamp bulbs frequently with a dry cloth—also the reflector bowl of your floor and table lamps.
- 8 If in doubt about any phase of your home lighting, call in a Detroit Edison Home Lighting Advisor. There is no charge for this service.

Milford Drills For New Water

At a special meeting of the Milford village council recently, a motion was unanimously adopted favoring the immediate drilling of an eight-inch permanent well at the power house. A tentative contract was given Richard Kiney, of South Lyon, calling for the drilling of a well, 114 feet deep, with a 20-foot red brass screen, eight-inch steel pipe to be used for casing. The price is to be $6.50 per foot for drilling, $21.75 per foot for the screen, set in the well, and $29.75 for fittings, slightly over $1200. There is a rebate of $124.50 allowed for work done on test wells which will apply on the cost of the permanent well construction, says The Milford Times.

The council also favored installation of a new turbine pump. Capacity sought is 500 gallons of water per minute, and it is thought that this volume can be easily obtained. There is a likelihood that a second eight-inch well will be put down later, as an auxiliary and to avoid possibility of any water shortage from a breakdown or in time of emergency.

Work on the new well is to start as soon as materials can be ordered and secured.

Completion of the second test well, and first at the power house, site of the present waterworks system has revealed an uncommonly fine vein of water-bearing strata, say department of health officials, and Mr. Kiney. The test hole was put down to approximately 115 feet, and the water-bearing vein of which they speak, runs from 93 feet to 115 feet. The material in this level is coarse gravel with a small percentage of fine sand. O. E. McQuire, of the department of health, here Tuesday, after seeing samples said that an ideal condition for obtaining water existed, and one that is found about once in a hundred times. More than an abundant supply of water could be obtained from this source, he opined.

Plymouth Banks Advised About New Easy Terms For Home Building

Congress Provides Better Terms For Home Loans

Both Plymouth banks have received from the Federal Housing administration complete details of the recently amended home building law designed to assist families of moderate means to obtain adequate and decent housing conditions. Either the Plymouth United or the First National is able to provide interested residents with such information as they may need.

In the language of the Senate Banking and Currency committee, it is intended "to utilize the best available means for achieving a sustained long term residential construction program with a minimum expenditure of federal funds and a maximum reliance upon private business enterprise."

It deals solely with projects and mortgages that are considered economically sound. It is designed to be largely self-sustaining through the operation of a federal mortgage insurance system which has been carefully established and successfully operated since 1934.

The Housing administration is authorized to insure a total of $2,000,000,000 outstanding at any one time and with the approval of the president this amount may be increased to $3,000,000,000.

"This program," said Administrator Stewart McDonald, "should prove a stimulus to the construction industry but too much should not be expected of it at once. The machinery is here for the government to do its part. The success of the program in the long run, however, depends upon the wholehearted, voluntary cooperation of private capital and private industry, by which I mean the lending institutions, the material and equipment manufacturers and distributors, the builders and developers, and labor."

The total maximum annual carrying charge for an FHA insured mortgage on which a commitment is issued hereafter will be five and one-half percent. This will include five percent interest and one-half of one percent mortgage insurance premium. In the case of newly constructed homes securing mortgages not exceeding $5400 and meeting certain other conditions the premium rate will be one-fourth of one percent, making the total annual carrying charge to the borrower five and one-fourth percent.

The annual service charge of one-half of one percent which the lending institutions have been permitted to charge under FHA regulations will be discontinued on all mortgages for which a commitment to insure is issued hereafter.

The insurance premium in the future will be based upon the outstanding balance instead of the original face value of the mortgage as provided in the old law.

Elimination of the annual service charge and the reduced cost of the mortgage insurance will represent a maximum saving of approximately one percent per annum to home builders and buyers on newly constructed houses carrying mortgages of $5400 or less. On all other insurable mortgages the savings will be approximately three-fourths of one percent per annum.

On newly constructed houses appraised at $6,000 or less, the minimum permissible down payment or equity requirement will be reduced from 20 percent to 10 percent. Thus, on a $6,000 newly constructed house, the minimum down payment would be $600 and the maximum insurable mortgage would be $5400, representing 90 percent of the appraised value.

On newly constructed houses appraised at $10,000 or less, the insurable limit will be 90 percent of the appraised value above $6,000. For example, on a newly constructed $16,000 house the minimum down payment would be $1400 and the insurable mortgage limit would be $8600. On all other homes housing from one to four families, the insurable mortgage limit will remain at 80 percent of the appraisal value, but not in excess of $16,000 under any circumstances.

Under the amended law, the multi-family and group housing program is divided into two main parts, one designed to promote construction of large scale projects covered by mortgages up to $5,000,000 and the other to encourage building of smaller developments covered by mortgages ranging from $16,000 to $200,000.

An important feature of the new program is the provision for insuring mortgages not only on multi-family structures, but also upon developments consisting of single family houses. Under this provision it will be possible for developers to obtain blanket mortgage financing, including funds advanced for construction, on groups of single family houses and then sell them on conventional payment plans or rent them as they see fit.

The regulations will permit partial releases from the blanket mortgage as separate properties are sold.

The Federal Housing administration will insure mortgages up to 80 percent of the appraised value of projects provided that, in the case of large scale developments constructed under Section 207, the amount of the mortgage may not exceed $1350 per room, and in the case of the smaller developments built under Section 210, the mortgage may not exceed $1150 per room.

The maximum interest rate which lending institutions will be permitted to charge will be four and one-half percent on mortgages insured under Section 207 and five percent on mortgages insured under Section 210.

The mortgage insurance premium will be charged at the rate of one-half of one percent annually on the outstanding principal of the mortgage.

The multi-family and group housing operations will be carried on separately from the small homes program designed primarily for individual ownership. A separate insuring fund of $1,000,000 has been set aside out of appraisal fees collected by the Federal Housing Administration during the past three years.

Notices have been sent to 7,000 lending institutions throughout the United States authorizing them to begin making modernization and repair loans under Title I of the amended act.

Persons, partnerships and corporations are eligible to borrow money under the modernization and repair credit plan. The borrower must have an assured income, demonstrate his ability to repay the loan, and own the property to be improved or have a lease on it running at least six months longer than the term of the loan.

Amounts up to $10,000 may be borrowed to repair or improve existing structures and amounts up to $2500 may be borrowed for the erection of new structures.

Repayment of the loans may be spread over a period not to exceed five years for modernization and repair work and not to exceed 10 years for the erection of new structures for residential use.

Banks and other lending institutions will be insured against losses up to 10 percent of the total loans they make under the new Title I program.

If the loan is made for the purpose of building a new home, security will be required in the form of a mortgage or deed of trust covering the property improved. In addition, there will be certain general construction requirements which will assist in protecting the investment of the home owner.

The provision for these new homes costing not in excess of $2500 under Title I should not be confused with the plan of home ownership sponsored under Title II of the act. The facilities afforded under Title I are intended primarily for those citizens who live on farms, or in rural areas or in the marginal zone surrounding the larger cities where the standards established by the mutual mortgage insurance system are not applicable.

Gross business transacted by the Federal Housing administration under the old law has passed the two billion dollar mark.

Approximately $860,000,000 of this amount was transacted during 1937.

The gross total includes: Mortgages selected for appraisal, $1,399,000,000; large-scale housing projects approved, $41,694,000; Modernization and repair notes insured, $560,603,000.

Notwithstanding the decline in construction activity during the last half of 1937, gains were recorded in the volume of business for the entire year over 1936.

For example, mortgages selected for appraisal during 1937 amounted to $590,100,000 compared to $538,900,000 for 1936, a gain of 9.5 percent. Mortgages accepted for insurance in 1937 totaled $448,167,000 compared to $438,449,000 during the previous year, a gain of 2.2 percent.

The largest gain was made in premium paying mortgages. In 1936 premium paying mortgages amounting to $308,945,000 were recorded, while in 1937 they amounted to $425,110,000, a gain of 37.6 percent. The total of premium paying mortgages on January 28 was $857,996,317, not including those on large-scale residential projects.

During the past year mortgages on newly constructed homes represented approximately 56 percent of the total value of mortgages accepted for insurance.

Through appraisal fees, premium payments, and reinvestment of funds, the Federal Housing administration now has an income averaging $600,000 a month. Part of this is being used under the terms of the National Housing act to defray expenses of insurance fund to meet possible losses. This fund now amounts to approximately $22,000,000 and losses chargeable against it are slightly in excess of $10,000. The loss ratio on mortgages insured is approximately one one-thousandth of one percent.

RESPONSIBLE TO THE PUBLIC

"TELEPHONE SERVICE, so interwoven with every phase of modern life, is a public necessity. It is needed day and night. It vitally concerns the general welfare.

Michigan's telephone workers realize they carry a responsibility not imposed on the average industry. How fully they accept that responsibility is shown by the "spirit of service" that has long been a tradition among them . . . a tradition that grew out of the faithful discharge of routine duty, and a ready sacrifice of personal convenience and comfort when emergencies and danger endangered the service.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

by Thornton W. Burgess

BUSTER BEAR PLAYS A TRICK
Buster Bear and Jumper the Hare had had their heads together. This doesn't mean that they really touched heads. Oh, my no! No, indeed! Jumper is too wise to get so close to Buster Bear as that. It means that they had made plans together. If Reddy Fox had known about those plans Reddy would certainly have kept away from that part of the Green Forest. But he didn't know about them, and so he didn't keep away from that part of the Green Forest.

Softly, Ever So Softly, Reddy Fox Tiptoeed Forward

so it was there that Reddy was spending most of his time now, for he was bound that he would catch Jumper to pay him for making him the laughing stock of all the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows. At first Reddy had been afraid, very much afraid, that he might meet Buster Bear there.

So Reddy, because he is very smart and sly, spent a great deal of time looking for the places where Jumper made his bed and for the places where he ate. Then he would hide near one of these and wait patiently for Jumper to come. But somehow Jumper always went to a place where Reddy was not hiding. The truth is, Jumper knew perfectly what Reddy was doing, and so he never went twice to the same place. That is, he never went twice very near together. If he took a nap under a big hemlock branch and then went out to get a bite to eat, he would finish his nap under another tree instead of going back to the first one. So, though Reddy often found places Jumper had just left and hid beside them patiently for

Louis Untermeyer To Be Next Speaker On Town Hall Series

Louis Untermeyer, poet, critic, editor, and one of today's most popular platform personalities, will be the Detroit town hall speaker in the Fisher theatre on Wednesday morning, March 2, at 11 o'clock.

In his lecture, "Mother Goose Up-to-Date", a broadly humorous reappraisal of our childhood favorites, Louis Untermeyer shows how the nursery rhymes might be made "modern" for this generation if the jingles were re-written by the living poets. Reading his burlesques and parodies gives him the opportunity to comment on his fellow poets.

Untermeyer's collections and original volumes are in every public library. His anthologies have been adopted as school text books. His critical biography of Heinrich Heine, in two volumes, was published recently.

Before his 50th year Louis Untermeyer had written and compiled more than 30 volumes of prose and verse, one of which, "The Donkey of God", won the Ent prize for the best book on Italy written by a non-Italian, and another, "The Book of Living

Former Plymouth Resident Steps Forward With Records Showing His Company Tops List Of Those Employing Men Over 40 Years

A recent article in The Plymouth Mail showing the high average age of employees of the Daisy Manufacturing company as compared to the Ford Motor company and other concerns throughout the nation, has brought forth an interesting letter from L. A. Bassett, a resident of Plymouth in the years long ago, who is active president of the Hendrick Manufacturing company of Carbonate, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Bassett was especially interested in the comparison which showed the high average of the Daisy company, but he points out that the company of which he has been chief executive for so many years has a percentage of 55 of employees with the company who are over 40 years of age.

While the Ford company boasts the largest percentage of employees over 40 among the giant industries of the country, the Daisy's average was considerably higher than that of the Ford company, but now Mr. Bassett's company tops them all. He says while the Daisy has 84 people on its payroll over 40, his company has 98.

WHAT IS MEANT BY THE TERMS "EXTRAVERT" AND "INTROVERT"?

AN INTROVERT is a person who lives chiefly within himself. He is quiet, withdrawing from social life, prefers to work alone, is imaginative, sensitive, careful about details, and likely to worry over small matters. He day-dreams and lives much in his inner imaginative life which he does not express to other people. An extravert is just the opposite: he lives externally, likes to be with other people, is a good mixer, careless about details but excellent as a promoter and organizer, is a leader, is often "happy-go-lucky," and does not tend to worry. His feelings are not easily hurt, and he prefers activity to seclusiveness. Most people are a mixture of these traits, and are called ambverts.

Standings Of Basket Ball Teams

Watch next week's issue of this paper for important changes in the basketball schedule.

Monday evening the Daisy girls added another victory to their credit by defeating Coolman's, 27-7.

At 8:00 p.m., another exciting game was played between Plymouth Plating and Chevrolet teams, the result being another victory for Plymouth Plating, the score being 29-22.

The Plymouth Plating team has gone in the schedule, so far, without a defeat.

Tuesday evening Wild's and Blunk's teams played an overtime game, ending with a victory for Blunk's, the score being 32-29. At 8:00 o'clock Wilkie defeated the Daisy boys 46-7.

Wednesday games were played on Thursday of this week.

Standings of each team follows:

Boys' teams	W	L	Pct.
Plym. Plating	12	0	1.000
Chevrolet	10	2	.833
Wilkie	7	5	.583
Schrader	5	6	.455
Blunk	5	7	.417
Wild's	4	8	.333
Perfection	3	8	.273
Daisy	1	11	.083
Girls' teams	W	L	Pct.
Daisy	11	1	.917
Hi-Speed	7	4	.636
Red & White	3	8	.273
Coolman	2	10	.167

If the Blunk team wins the next two games and Schrader loses one, Schrader and Blunk will be tied for fourth place and an extra game will be played to decide who will be in the play-off games. Look at your schedule and at the present standings and make your guess as to whether there will be a tie.

Following is next week's schedule: Monday, February 28: Daisy girls vs. Hi-Speed, 7:00 p.m.; Perfection vs. Blunk, 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, March 1: Coolman girls vs. Red & White, 7:00 p.m.; Wild's vs. Plymouth Plating, 8:00 p.m. Wednesday, March 2: Schrader vs. Daisy, 7:00 p.m.; Wilkie vs. Chevrolet, 8:00 p.m.

There is a possibility of three teams being tied for third position. If Wilkie loses to Plymouth Plating and also to Chevrolet it will give them a standing of .500. If Schrader loses one game out of their three games to be played with Perfection, Daisy, or Blunk, then Schrader will have a standing of .500. If Blunk wins both of its remaining games, with Perfection, and Schrader then Blunk will have a standing of .500.

Rocks Still Tied For Second Place

With River Rouge clinching the championship honors of the T.V.A. Plymouth is playing her hardest for the second place position now held by both Plymouth and Dearborn.

Having this in mind the Rocks took to the court Friday last and beat the Wayne quintet 27-31. Dearborn also won, so the two teams are still tied. Friday's game was a very good one with Plymouth the best team all the way. Coach Jacobi continued his plan of starting the reserves that worked so well against Dearborn. As expected the reserves fell behind somewhat and at the end of the first quarter Wayne was leading 8-5.

In the second quarter the regulars were sent in and resorted mainly to defense which was exceptionally strong. Although Plymouth gained one point from Wayne it was evident that the Rocks were holding back. The score at the half showed Plymouth still trailing 12-14.

At the opening of the half the Rocks launched a vigorous attack. With good passes and accurate shots the Rock Cagers took the lead and maintained it throughout the game. In this quarter Plymouth made 12 points while Wayne collected seven.

In the last quarter the Rocks took the defensive again and held Wayne to six points and themselves made 7.

Horton of Wayne, who played the whole game, was high man with 12 while such men as Moe and Egloff made only eight and Ross seven. The reason for this may be seen by the fact that these men played only three quarters.

Tonight the last game of the current season is at Ypsilanti and the following week the state tournament begins.

RESERVES DUPLICATE FIRST TEAM PERFORMANCE

The Plymouth Reserves lengthened their long string of victories last Friday by defeating Wayne's Reserves, in a fast game played at Wayne, by the score of 30-25. High score man for Plymouth was Bill Norman with nine points. Plymouth made two foul shots out of a possible 10 while Wayne sunk three out of a possible 10. Plymouth had the edge over Wayne by one point at the end of the half at a 13-12 score.

With but one game yet to play which is at Ypsilanti, the Reserves should feel they have had a highly successful year under the able coaching of Mr. Ingram.

STARKWEATHER BEGINS MILK SERVICE

To ease that empty feeling in the middle of the morning and to aid those who are undernourished, a milk service has been started through the efforts of Mr. Smith, Mrs. Strasen, and Miss Sparling. Each morning a slip is sent to the various teachers by Miss Lyon, who has taken charge of the handling of the milk, and each teacher orders as many bottles of chocolate and plain milk for the next day as she has money for. The milk, either chocolate or plain of which the former is most popular, is served during the morning recess, except for the advanced group of kindergartners who are served in the middle of the afternoon, with two graham crackers and a straw. Some children pay for their own, but in instances where the milk is needed and they cannot buy it, it is given to them. The Lincoln banquet was given to raise funds for this program.

AUTO MECHANICS AN INTERESTING CLASS

The auto mechanics class under the supervision of Mr. Campbell is for the purpose of teaching the how, why, and wherefore, of a car. Also to teach pupils how to make a car run and save cash and trouble of calling a service station in an emergency. It is possible to go into the business of repairing cars with further practice and study.

The class used the same book that is used at the Henry Ford Trade school. Each day the students study the page and answer the questions on the back of the sheet. Earlier in the year students wrote biographies of Henry Ford when they could not obtain the books from the trade school. Mr. Campbell has an engine in the shop used for illustrating the work.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

An epidemic of measles has struck the school full force, one class having only three members present.

Miss Benz's 4A geography class is studying about New York City; as a project they are carving a harbor scene, including ships, lighthouses, and skyscrapers, from soap. In celebration of Lincoln's birthday a play entitled "A Little Lad of Long Ago" was given. The role of Lincoln as a boy was played by Owen Krueger whose costume consisted of a coat, breeches, vest, and a coonskin cap; Jack Delor portrayed the father of Lincoln and Wanda Lou Hunt the mother. A puppet show illustrated the way in which "James Henry", a colored boy, earned 50 cents to pay his fee into the circus as being planned.

The losing spelling team in Miss Farrand's room proclaimed the victory of the opposing team by treating them to a party. A surprise party was planned and the pupils gave Miss Farrand a luncheon set. Cecil Glass, Louise Piker, Marjorie Stitt, Marian White, and Norma Jean Bauman were neither absent nor tardy during the first semester.

The pupils in Miss Sparling's room held, on February 4, a group meeting in which they elected officers for the new semester. William Schoof was chosen president; Rosemary Herter, vice president; Norma Jean Bauman, secretary; Geraldine Darmer, treasurer; and Helen Santner, news reporter; the two captains of the service squad are Melvin Hunt for the 6A and Betty Lou Arnold for the 5A; lieutenants working under these captains are Norma Jean and William Bauman. William Schoof was elected patrol captain with Cameron Lodge and Monte Hines as lieutenants. Other boys who are serving in the patrol are Jack Verplue, Bill Fulton, Calvin Sioff, Lloyd Johanson, Earl Smith, Grant Wislie, and Willard Olson.

The children attending the lecture given last week by J. A. Franke concerning the care of dogs learned several interesting things about their pets. He was accompanied by two German Shepherd dogs.

The 31 pupils in Miss Thompson's first grade are making scrap books for their library, the A-1 art class is coloring a large picture illustrating one of the stories they have just completed reading for the library corner. Other current activities include the painting of flower pots for the book case and the sewing of dust-cloths and hot pads.

There are 36 people enrolled in Miss Beck's room. The geography class is studying about that interesting country of Egypt and is planning to make an Egyptian unit. Marilyn Vershure's spelling team is in the lead.

Mrs. Adler's 3B and 3A classes are studying the wild animals in Michigan, illustrating each animal with large drawings. Special valentines consisting of animals of various types were made out of red paper hearts. Vito Sambroni brought a rabbit, "Twinkle Nose", to school. The children took care of it for several days and, after carefully observing its habits, wrote a story concerning it.

The 2A's in Miss Parmelee's room made a trip around the community and have now begun work on an illustrated community map. At present they are keeping a store in the room.

Last Friday afternoon Miss Stader's pupils visited the post office and the library. While at the post office the children purchased stamps and mailed some valentines they had made to their classmates who were ill. Mr. Learned explained what happened to letters after they were dropped into the chute. In connection with this visit two large posters on "How a Letter Travels" were made. These 1A and 2B pupils have a library corner in their room where they keep books to read during their leisure minutes.

GIRL RESERVE-HI-Y SPONSOR BANNING COBSAGES

At a joint meeting of the Senior Girl Reserves and HI-Y it was decided that these two clubs would sponsor a movement of high school girls not wearing corsages to the formal dances. The main reasons for this are that some of the larger schools and colleges do not allow it and also that it is an unnecessary expense to the boy.

BOOST THAT CLUB!—EDITORIAL

The re-arrangement of the school program has necessitated the meetings of clubs outside the school hours. But this is no reason why the clubs should not be as well attended as formerly. This lack of interest on the part of members shows a deficiency of school loyalty, club spirit, and willingness to cooperate. Remember "the chain is as strong as its weakest link" and you, club members, are the links! Is it fair to those who desire to push the club's activities forward or to the teachers who give up a much needed relaxation period to be present, for some individuals to care more about enjoying themselves than cooperating to benefit the group or organization as a whole? Everyone can see that it is unnecessary to sit and watch a basketball game, while upstairs a small handful of people are trying to plan some worthwhile activity. Then, when some worthwhile feat has been achieved by the few loyal members, you proudly say, "Yes, I belong to that club!" Oh, yes, it is very nice to reap the credit for someone else's labor.

Please make up your minds as to whether or not the club is worth sacrificing a portion of your non-hour once a week. If it is not, go to the sponsor and explain that you care more for free hours than for your club. Maybe some more ambitious person will fill the place you vacated and really boost the club. But, after considering the question from all angles, do you not derive a more permanent benefit from attending the meeting and contributing something to it than you do by talking to the best boy or girl friend in the hall?

TEACHERS HEAR OF LITERARY TOUR OF EUROPE

An account of her unique trip to England was the subject of Miss Ballou's talk at a recent meeting of the teachers of Plymouth schools. Miss Ballou told her audience that her was a "literary" tour. She visited such places as the "Wordsworth" country, Dorsetshire—commonly called Wessex—of Thomas Hardy fame, and the settings of the George Elliott novels. At each place Miss Ballou read the writer's words to aid her in recreating the feeling and emotions that the author experienced at the time of the writing. At Dorsetshire she sought to find a clue to the pessimism of Thomas Hardy, but, because of the radically changed conditions of the country, she was unable to account for it. Miss Ballou is a member of the faculty at Michigan State Normal college.

After the meeting, refreshments bearing out the valentine motif were served by the teachers at Central school.

NATIONAL HEROES—THEME IN GIRL RESERVES

The program of the Girl Reserves last Thursday carried out the theme of being able to recognize our national heroes of today and yesterday. Jane Taylor, program chairman, handed small slips of paper to the girls as they came in and when roll call was read each girl read the quotation or saying on her slip; each quotation either was about Lincoln or Washington or had been said by one of them.

For the rest of the program Jane showed pictures of national and international figures of the present and the past and asked the girls to write each one's name down as they were shown. Among the pictures were Henry Ford, Franklin D. Roosevelt, John D. Rockefeller, King George VI, Abraham Lincoln, and John L. Lewis. Jane had even included Charles McCarthy in the national heroes. She said that he was her national hero. After the scores were counted, Astrid Hegre who had only missed two of the 21 was winner.

EDISON

(By Virginia Rock, 10B)
 A genius, an inventor, but still a man
 A man with intelligence, thoughts, and a plan
 To make his life a success,
 But one cannot do that unless
 One uses his formula—
 Perseverance!

Despair, poverty, and fear are past.
 Fame, fortune, success at last!
 And you ask "Why?"
 It's simply try!
 And use his formula—
 Perseverance!

HOME ECONOMICS COVERS WIDE FIELD

There are three years of Home Economics offered to those who are interested in this type of work.

The first year, Home Economics I is studying clothing and the care of personal rooms and clothes. Home Economics II is also studying foods and dealing mainly with luncheons. Home Economics III is studying foods and child study. In connection with the latter the group held a party for children of pre-school age. They entertained the children in the Kindergarten room and supervised their play. They also served the children a light lunch.

Home Economics III is studying wardrobes for spring. They are figuring repairs and the care of new clothes.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHIES

Isabelle Louise Lueke. Birth: New Albany, Indiana, January 24, 1920. Residence: 1108 Beech street. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Lueke. Description: Isabelle is that active senior with brown eyes, light brown hair, and a medium complexion. Her favorite food is peppermint, favorite color green, and she likes several radio dance orchestras, including Wayne King, Guy Lombardo, and the Sophisto-Cats. Schools attended: Farmington, Rosedale, Newburg, and Plymouth. Favorite study: Bookkeeping and shorthand. Favorite amusements: Dancing and ice skating. Favorite author: "I haven't any; I don't read unless I have to!" Activities: Junior chorus, one semester; Home Ec. club, one semester; junior drama, three semesters; senior drama, three years; role in senior play, and stunt night, three years. Most interesting experience: Two summers spent at Portage lake—one with Girl Scouts and one with parents. Something done fairly well: Isabelle's mother says that she can "out-talk a Philadelphia lawyer." Plans after leaving school: Position in the commercial field.

SENIORS LEAD IN INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL

The seniors are leading in the inter-class basketball games held after school at 3:30. A schedule was made out about two months ago and has been in effect ever since. The freshmen have won but one game and have therefore the lowest percentage. Usually basketball practice is held immediately after the contests.

The world's oldest known tree is growing in Santa Maria del Tula, Mexico. It is a bald cypress, with an estimated age of 5,000 years.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

The first graders in Miss Campbell's class who can print their names now are Margaret White, Sally Keig, Alden Koschnick, Ruth Hockenbury, Harold Taylor, Keith Ebersole, Joan Lightfoot, Arlene Wesseling, and Gerald Micol. The children are being awarded stars for counting 15—they soon hope to be able to count and write numbers to 20. Two daffodils are blooming nicely and the tulip bulbs are about to bloom. This week the children hope to paint the inside of their playhouse. The helpers are Sally Keig to care for the books, Keith Ebersole to feed the fish, Patsy Green to water the plants, and Gerald Micol to pass the basket.

Mrs. Disbrow's first graders are making a mural of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. The pupils have memorized the first stanza of "America". The Canaries reading class has begun the first reader.

The second graders in Miss Weatherhead's room have started new readers and have seat work pads to supplement their readers called "Friends About Us". Shirley Lightfoot is absent from school because of very serious illness. The pupils are enjoying their new library books given to them by the Parent-Teachers' Association.

Miss Inge's second graders have transformed the public museum into a doll-house.

The third graders in Miss Jewell's room are making Lincoln booklets. The students have chosen new spelling teams—the respective captains are Mary Agnes Evans and Sally Gustafson. The three A's have a new book entitled "Gooderville", which is, incidentally, another name for peanuttville. Harvey Rotarius has moved away from school.

The fourth graders in Miss Robinson's room are beginning their bird study with birds that stay here all winter. They will gradually work into the migratory birds as the season for them begins. The pupils have made color wheels in art. The class is still enroute on their airplane trip across the United States. The boys have begun practicing inoor baseball. The class has two new members—both are baby goldfish—as yet they are nameless.

The tulip bulbs are growing well. The fourth graders in Miss Widmeyer's room have chosen their new spelling teams—the captains are Barbara Shoemaker and Bob Chute. The former's team has won both weeks. Since February is noted for its famous men—the classes are making George Washington posters and Lincoln booklets. In geography the students are studying Egypt.

The fifth grade boys in Mr. Berridge's room have organized their volleyball teams—some of the other rooms have also joined in the tournament. The captains are John McClain, Arnold Phillips, Ralph Bachelder, and Harold Schultz. The pupils are painting portraits of George Washington. Gerald Frisbee's spelling team has won for the first two weeks. The pupils are now making health posters in hygiene.

Miss Carr's fifth graders have chosen new spelling teams. The captains are Lols Mills and Audrey Neale. For the first two weeks Lols' team has been victorious. The five A's have their new supplementary readers with which they are very pleased, especially the colored illustrations. The five B's have completed their trip around the United States and are now making maps of the trip. The five A's have completed their study of the South Atlantic states.

The sixth graders in Miss Hornbeck's room have chosen their spelling teams for the second semester. The six B captains are Harold Schultz and Arnold Phillips, the six A captains are Sanford Burr and Louis Smith. The six A's are beginning their history study and are enjoying Greek and Norse myths. In honor of Lincoln's birthday the students memorized the poem "O Captain! My Captain" by Walt Whitman.

DEBATE TEAM BOYS TO HOWELL VETERANS

Plymouth's negative debate team was defeated by a three to nothing decision in the first round of the state elimination debates at Howell on Tuesday, February 15. The judges were Dr. Scott, Dr. Skinner, and Dr. Courtwright of the speech department of Wayne University. Although it was the first time the Plymouth team had been defeated, it was not a surprise. The Howell team was composed of three boys who had been together since the seventh grade and they were all excellent debaters.

Mr. Lature stated that he felt the Plymouth team had done its best and would have a better chance next year.

INCREASE IN STUDENT STAFF

Usually the staff of the Pilgrim Prints group remains almost unchanged from the fall semester to the mid-winter one, but this year proved different. Possibly the revision of the school schedule had something to do with this shift. Another angle of this change is the fact that all additions to the staff were boys. George Hlyton and Orlyn Lewis were the two reporters added.

The remaining members are Mary Kathryn Moon, James Marshall, Jeanette Schwartz, Doris Buzzard, Douglas Miller, Richard Dunlop, Ellis Brandt, and Betty Flaherty. Paul Harsha and Bob Dalley were added before the first semester closed.

CLASS NOTES

In the girls' physical training classes 65 persons are playing volleyball ball at one time.

Miss Allen's 11A English classes are very large, the two morning divisions having 38 members. Some juniors, as only three years of this subject are required in Plymouth high, have postponed this course until next year.

The English 12A class, in connection with the text "Adventures in English Literature", are reading chapters of "England of Song and Story", which portrays interesting details of English life. The fourth and sixth hour public speaking classes are studying business interviews. To gain the necessary information they asked store proprietors, plumbers, carpenters, and men in various other trades questions concerning the things which applicants for positions are judged upon. The classes worked in groups of twos, presenting the proper method of carrying out personal interviews.

Miss Waldorf's 11A English class in making a complete study of the development of the short story, tracing its growth through Washington Irving, Edgar Allan Poe, Hawthorne, Aldrich, and Wilbur, Daniel Steele, the latter being the un-surpassed short story author who is still living. Next week they will begin the study of the novel and the essay.

The 10A literature class is studying short stories by American and English authors. Of the many types of stories, the mystery seems to have the greatest appeal. Students in Miss Kilham's first and second year French classes found that, besides being a fascinating game in French, Lexicon also aids them in increasing their vocabularies. Both groups also read "Le petit Journal", a French newspaper designed especially for students of French. Her 8B English group held a poetry reading contest this week in which students competed with each other in reading ballad poetry.

Mr. Wallace and his science classes express their appreciation for the use of a lift pump lent to them by the Huston Hardware company. The first group section "B" have just completed the unit on "Air" and are now starting on the unit entitled "Water" while the "A" group has finished the unit on "Buildings" and are beginning one about "Agriculture".

SPEECH CLUB FORMED

After completing the study of parliamentary law the fourth hour public speaking class formed a club, "The Speech Club", for the purpose of carrying on a regular business meeting and discussing current events and other matters. They meet each Friday; officers are elected once a month. Those now are Betty Ann Mastick, president; Betty Smith, secretary, treasurer; and Edward Landau, sergeant-at-arms. A different program committee is appointed by the chair every two weeks; at present Edward Landau holds this position. The programs are based on class work. Last Friday Leo Schmitz and Edward Landau presented a business interview in the wrong way while Betty Ann Mastick and Bob Kenyon did one correctly.

GOINGS ON AROUND P. H. S.

Barbara Olsaver entertained Jacquelyn Schoof, Jack Selle, Belva Barnes, Scott Cole, Betty Mastick, Laurel Owens, Vivian Grosvenor, Kenneth Wilbur, Kye Moon, Bob Bray, and Larry Parmenter at a dinner before the J-Hop.

Ruth Kirkpatrick, Jane Springer, Joe Scarpulla, Jim Birchall, Bill Thomas, and Richard Strong saw Benny Goodman Saturday afternoon.

Margery Merriam entertained several members of the freshman class at a dinner party Friday night before the J-Hop. Her guests were Mary Jane Olsaver, Jack Crisp, Orlyn Lewis, Ruth Parmelee, Pat Mason, Lynton Ball, and Alan Bennett. The party went to the Mayflower after the dance.

Shirley Mason, Paul Thams, Ruth Roediger, and Franklin Coward saw "Gold is Where You Find It" at the Michigan Saturday afternoon.

Ruth Roediger spent the weekend with Shirley Mason. Barbara Olsaver, Larry Parmenter, Mary Jane Olsaver, and Bob Bray attended the University of Michigan and Minnesota basketball game Saturday night at Ann Arbor.

Barbara Robertson entertained Jim McClain, Dorothy Ebersole, Douglas Miller, Jane Taylor, Howard Ebersole, Betty Jane Brown, and Douglas Eckles after the J-Hop.

Franklin Coward spent last week-end with Paul Thams. Betty Korb, Bud Holmes, Dorothy Roe, George Kenyon, Mary Jane Parmelee, and Clark Felton went to Rousseau's after the J-Hop.

Shirley Sorensen, Jack Ross and Don Mielbeck saw Benny Goodman at the Fox Sunday afternoon.

Shirley Mason, Paul Thams, Ruth Roediger, Franklin Coward, Jean Hamill, Bob Brown, Evelyn Bower, Bill Chapman, Lois Schaufele, Bud Jordan, Katherine Kalesky, and Lawrence Smith went to the Sugar Bowl in Ann Arbor after the J-Hop.

We are all sorry to hear that James Stevens' week-end visit to Plymouth for the J-Hop was unexpectedly extended because of a sudden attack of appendicitis. He is in St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor.

Dorothy Roe entertained Norma Coffin, Arlene Soth, Betty Korb, and Shirley Sorensen, Thursday night. The guests played ping-pong and refreshments were served.

Jean Anderson, Keith Jolliffe, Ernestine Meade, Bob Lawson, Maxine Willard, Bob Lorenz, Lila Selle, and Bob Kenyon went to Rousseau's after the J-Hop.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Dykhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard went to the Mayflower hotel after the J-Hop. Maynard Doudt of the class of '22" visited school Monday morning.

The Misses Allen and Cary attended a Bad Axe reunion in Detroit Friday night and the Detroit English club luncheon Saturday noon.

This semester the airplane club is having a better showing. The members are starting out with stick models, and will work up to more complicated ones. They receive instruction from Robert Brown every night after school; they can also buy supplies from him. On Saturday from 11 o'clock to 12 o'clock they can use the gymnasium to fly their models. Members of the F.F.A. entertained members of the same club from Belleville on February 10. They played basketball after which refreshments were served. The club meets during the noon hour on Tuesdays.

BOYS GYM CLASSES HAVE PECULIAR NAMES FOR BASKETBALL TEAMS

The boys' physical training class under the direction of Mr. Jacobi have various names. The teams choose what kind of name they prefer and then become distinguished by that name. The second hour class has names of colleges such as Princeton, Dartmouth, etc. The third hour has teams with names of vegetables as spinach and carrots. The fourth hour names of automobiles like Plymouth and Ford, and the fifth hour names like California, Army and Navy. Each team has from five to eight men. Boys are allowed to referee the games to get a chance to learn to understand the rules.

FIRST OPERETTA IN TEN YEARS TO BE GIVEN BY MUSIC DEPARTMENT

"Riding Down the Sky" is the first operetta in 10 years to be given by Plymouth high school's music department. It is a Mexican operetta with a Spanish background and is to be held some time in April or May. A mixed personnel of boys and girls is being selected from the pupils of the high school.

Plans are being made for the T.V.A. Music Festival to be held April 14. The 35 pupils chosen for this will sing with the pupils of five other schools. More news will be published about these two musical events at a later date.

BONERS OF THE WEEK

These boners were taken from a test on "Julius Caesar". The original quotation: "Cowards die many times before their death. The valiant never taste of death but once"; was twisted to this: The villain never tastes of death but the villain dies nine times. Cowards die.

Odd Fellows Plan Big Meeting

Michigan Odd Fellowship is to be honored with two official visits from Hon. Thomas G. Andrews, Grand Sire of the world of Odd Fellowship. Mr. Andrews is a prominent attorney of Oklahoma, having served his state as attorney general and as a justice of the supreme court. The first meeting will be held at Grand Rapids on Tuesday, March 22, in the Civic auditorium, and will include members of all branches of the order in the west half of the lower peninsula. The day's program will include a conference of officers in the afternoon, conducted by the grand sire; a banquet at 6:30; a public inspirational meeting at 8:00; a degree ceremonial at 9:30, when the third degree will be conferred on a large class of candidates. A program of music, mirth and good fellowship will be conducted by the Rebekahs at the same time as the degree work by the men folks.

The second meeting will be held at Detroit on Wednesday, March 23, in the Masonic Temple, to include members of all branches of the order in the east half of the lower peninsula. The program for the day will include a conference of officers in the afternoon, conducted by the grand sire; a banquet at 6:30; a public inspirational meeting at 8:00, and a degree ceremonial at 9:30, when the third degree will be conferred on a large class of candidates. While the degree work is in progress Detroit Rebekahs will entertain the ladies and their friends with music, drills and numerous features.

Every effort is being put forth to make both meetings well worth while and an attendance of several thousand at each meeting is anticipated. A friendly rivalry is on for the largest class for the degree work.

KNOW THYSELF

By DR. GEORGE D. GREER

WHAT IS A "MAN'S WOMAN" AND HOW DOES SHE DIFFER FROM OTHER WOMEN?

IN AN article in "The Modern Psychologist," Merton S. Yewdale, New York editor, describes a "man's woman" as one who lives her life for her man. She is feminine in physical form, but prefers to talk about the things men are interested in. She may have children, but is not the "mother type." She is deeply idealistic. If married, she is self-sufficient, and indifferent to other women, particularly to women's clubs. She is not as deeply attached to her home as to her husband, and will go with him to the ends of the earth. She must have absolute fidelity from her man, and wants to be appreciated. She does not crave publicity, but glories in the achievements of her man. She is likely to be artistic, rather than practical. Back of most great men stands such a woman—a man's woman.

A Communication

Lodi, California
February 18, 1938

Dear Editor of Plymouth Mail: Just a few lines to tell you how much we enjoy the weekly visits of The Plymouth Mail and to congratulate you on the stand you took, during the past weeks regarding the destroying of part of Michigan's potato crop, while many people were going hungry. Had more of our newspapers the courage to print the truth the people of our country might become more aware of how very absurd these so-called crop control experiments are. After next November, so far as Michigan is concerned, I am of the opinion there will be some new faces up at Lansing. In the meantime, keep up the good work.

Mrs. Partridge and myself have had a very enjoyable winter here in the San Joaquin valley. This is the grape center of California. For many miles the countryside is just one great vineyard. You will find enclosed a survey, compiled by the chamber of commerce, showing the quantity of grapes delivered and the amount of wine produced in the Lodi district. Of the $18.50 per ton quoted as the current price, $10.00 per ton is paid when the grapes are delivered and the remainder is not paid until the wine is sold, and the amount depends on the price of wine when sold. Owing to the recession the sale of wine since December 1 has been way below the estimate, and the price is about eight cents per gallon below this survey; consequently, the growers will receive considerably less than the $18.50 per ton. We have found California a delightful place in which to live and most of the people very friendly, but I do not see any more opportunities for a young man here, than back in Michigan. There has been a great deal of rain and some foggy days but the mercury has not been lower than 36 degrees and when the sun shines it gets up to 70 degrees by noon.

Our son, Russell and family, are well and doing fine. The recession is not noticeable here in the valley but over at Oakland and San Francisco it is very evident. In closing let me remind you to check up on my old friend, Charlie Rathburn occasionally. Mrs. Partridge joins me, with best regards to all our Plymouth friends.

Sincerely yours,
MEL. G. PARTRIDGE

Lenten Services Begin At Methodist Church

Beginning the evening of Ash Wednesday, March 2, there will be a Lenten series of mid-week supper gatherings at the Methodist church, with the Rev. S. S. Closson giving a series of talks on Methodism in keeping with the general observance throughout Lent of the 200th anniversary of the conversion of John Wesley. There will be seven meetings, each beginning with a supper, followed by a devotional period, prior to the talk of the evening. These services are meant to be informal and all members and friends of the church are urged to take part in them.
