

Chamber Of Commerce Proposes Turning Main Street Over To Wayne County Road Commission

Would Speed Elimination Of Traffic Hazard

A suggestion that the city of Plymouth turn Main street, from the Mayflower hotel north to Mill street, over to the Wayne County Road commission was discussed Monday noon at the regular weekly round table meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

The discussion of ways and means to crystallize sentiment for this move will be continued at the luncheon next Monday, Stewart M. Dodge, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said.

Proponents of the plan pointed out that the county road commission now maintains Ann Arbor Trail, Starkweather street and South Main street from the hotel south. The county is better equipped and can maintain these streets more efficiently.

Speakers maintained that the portion of South Main street now maintained by the city must be widened in the near future and that the county would be able to do this much cheaper than could the city. Sentiment for the plan of turning over the street to the county has been increasing for several months because of the traffic hazards involved at present.

It was pointed out that on Main street from Dodge street to Mill street is only 30 feet wide and this has made it necessary to establish a fire route in this area and thus eliminate parking in front of homes. One proponent pointed out that unless the street is widened in the near future a bad accident might occur during a fire run.

The county could widen this portion of Main street by eight or ten feet without even moving a tree or building or having to condemn any lots. For the county to widen the street it would be a comparatively inexpensive operation. There is plenty of space between the curb and sidewalks without moving or harming a tree to make the street a 40-foot thoroughfare and eliminating the present traffic hazards.

After further discussion next Monday it is expected that a committee will be named by the Chamber of Commerce to seek co-operation of the city commission to make application for the county road commission to take over operation of the street. The county already has under consideration the widening and improvement of the railroad crossing on North Main street.

President Dodge named a committee Monday to meet with Pere Marquette railroad officials to seek a remedy for traffic delays caused by long freight trains which block main highway crossings in the Plymouth area. The committee members include Harold Coolman, Sterling Eaton and Otto Beyer. The action came after motorists' complaints of traffic delays was discussed at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon a week ago.

Sturgis Relates Chocolate History

Rotarians were enlightened on the manufacture of Solco at their last meeting when Carl Sturgis, sales manager of the Choice Foods, Inc., gave a very interesting talk on the history of chocolate health drinks. Mr. Sturgis talked of the early romance of the chocolate industry and told of the struggle to put the products on the market.

He gave concrete examples of experiments held in public schools where undernourished children were given Solco three times during the school hours. The results were more than interesting. He stated the speaker and the experiments did much to prove the necessity of balanced diet especially among children.

Mr. Sturgis told of the manufacture of Solco in the Plymouth plant and gave Rotarians an insight into the advanced methods used by the local concern. He cited two or three instances where the Plymouth product had advantages over others on the market because of new processes used here in its manufacture. Solco is, today, one of the most popular of chocolate drinks manufactured and the product enjoys a national reputation and the demand for it is increasing every day, stated the speaker.

Veteran Mechanic Opens Repair Shop

Wally Sinn, veteran Plymouth mechanic, announced this week that he has opened an automobile repair department in Jack Miller's service station building on the corner of Starkweather and Pearl streets.

Sinn, formerly employed at Allison Chevrolet Service, is soliciting repair work on all makes of cars but will continue to specialize in Chevrolet service work.

City Is Ordered To Remedy Sewage System

Officials Attend Lancing Meeting After Ultimatum

The State Stream Control commission has issued orders to Plymouth and Northville to take steps within 60 days to correct their sewage disposal plants to eliminate pollution of the Middle Rouge river.

Mayor Henry H. Hondorp, City Clerk Clarence H. Elliott and City Engineer Stanford L. Besse, represented Plymouth at a meeting in Lansing last Friday, and representatives of the Wayne county board of auditors, the stream control commission, and the state department of health, and Northville attended.

The Plymouth city officials are faced with deciding whether to improve the present sewage disposal plant, constructed 15 years ago at a cost of $18,000, or to discontinue use of this plant and connect to the huge out-county sewage disposal system now being built to provide sewage facilities for northwestern Wayne county. No decision will be made until the state experts make an answer to some of the questions asked by Plymouth officials. It was believed, however, that the city

Scouts To Operate Fingerprint Booth

Troop No. 1 of Plymouth Boy Scouts will operate a fingerprinting booth at the Second Scout Exposition to be held at Convention hall in Detroit on April 21 and 22.

Eight members of the troop, who have been attending a class conducted by Police Captain Charles J. Thumme, will be in charge of the booth. The Scouts will explain the methods of fingerprinting, its history, and how to classify prints. The boys will take prints of visitors at the booth, classify them and have the prints filed.

The Scouts have shown a lot of interest in fingerprinting here and Captain Thumme, a member of the Michigan Identification association and the International association for identification, is to be congratulated for his interest in this work.

Tells Of D. A. R. Activities

On Monday afternoon, March 18, the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, D.A.R., enjoyed a real treat in having with them, Miss Harriet Simons, of Marshall, state chairman of approved schools for the D.A.R. Following the regular business meeting, the members of the Girl Scout troop sponsored by the local chapter and their counsellor, Mrs. Harvey Springer, joined them and listened to a most interesting account of the visits made by Miss Simons to the various southern mountain schools supported by the D.A.R. chapters of the various states. The school at Crossnore, North Carolina was given special emphasis, since it

Tom Brock Competes In National Debate

Thomas Brock, who in his freshman year at Albion college has won state-wide attention as a debater, left this week for Madison, Wisconsin, where he will represent his college in the annual Delta Sigma Rho debate tournament to be held at the University of Wisconsin Friday and Saturday.

Tom, who learned the art of debating at Plymouth high school under the coaching of James Lature, a few weeks ago tied for third place in the state intercollegiate oratory contest and has been an important factor in the Albion college varsity debate team this year. He will be one of the featured speakers at the public alumni debate to be held in Plymouth Tuesday night.

Plymouth Alumni To Debate Here Tuesday Night

College Stars Will Also Be Banquet Guests

Nine former Plymouth high school debaters who now are attending college will be entertained at a banquet Tuesday night by the 1938 forensics team and Coach James Lature.

The banquet will precede a free public debate to be held at the new grade school auditorium at Central high school building at 8:00 p.m. Thomas Brock and Florence Norton, freshmen who won places on the Albion college men's and women's varsity debate teams, will support the affirmative of the question: "Should the National Labor Relations Board have Power to Enforce Compulsory Arbitration of Labor Disputes".

Jewell Starkweather, a freshman, who was named Kalamazoo college's extempore speaker, and Russell Kirk, a sophomore at Michigan State college, who is a member of the varsity debate squad, will support the negative. Professor Harold B. Allen, of the University of Michigan, will act as judge of the debate. Coach Lature will preside.

Other high school debaters who will be guests of honor at the banquet and the debate are Edith Mettetal, a freshman at Michigan State college, who will sing several solos at the debate; Jack Sessions and Harry Fisher, students at the University of Michigan; Kathrine Schultz, a junior at the University of Michigan and the first co-ed ever to win a place on the varsity debate team while a freshman. Dorothy Fern, a freshman member of the Michigan State Normal college debate team.

Dr. Kenneth G. Hance and Professor Robinson, public speaking instructors at Albion college, will also be guests at the reunion debate and banquet.

Mr. Lature arranged the debate and banquet to give Plymouth residents an opportunity to hear the former high school debaters, with added experience in college, argue an important question.

Marilyn Holton, Doris Buzzard and Marvin Hauk, this year's high school debate team, will act as hosts with Mr. Lature. The banquet will be held at the Methodist church at 6:00 p.m.

Wolf's Install Self-Service

Wolf's Cash Market installed the self-serve system this week. It is the first store in Plymouth to change over to this modern merchandising plan.

Richard Kent, manager of Wolf's, in announcing the new system said that it is designed to give customers speedier, more efficient, and better service. The change was made over the week-end with new counters placed in the center of the floor and groceries arranged attractively in such a manner as to give easier access to all goods. The meat department is still located at the rear of the store with cashier desks at the center counter.

Kent said that the store would continue to offer high grade groceries and a full line of fresh vegetables and meats at attractive prices.

John Patterson returned early this week from a winter's stay in Florida.

$70,000 Expansion Planned Here By Phone Company

Rosedale Gardens Area To Have Dial System And 15c Detroit Rate

To provide a telephone exchange and central office, with complete dial telephone service, for the Rosedale Gardens area along Plymouth road and within Livonia and Nankin townships, the Michigan Bell Telephone company is expending nearly $70,000, according to announcement by J. R. MacLachlan of Plymouth, manager for the company in this area.

The proposed central office, to be housed in a new building on Plymouth road at the intersection of Merriman road, will be placed in service early during the summer, it is anticipated. The erection of the building will begin at once and the equipment has been engineered and is being manufactured especially. The establishment of the exchange, and the schedule of rates for both local and long distance service have been authorized by the Michigan Public Utilities commission.

The new exchange will serve a territory of approximately 22 square miles at present partially served, largely on a rural line basis, from the Plymouth, Farmington and Detroit exchanges. The company will rebuild the outside plant entirely for the purpose of concentrating all of the telephone lines in the area through the new central office, making provision, and in addition will make considerable changes and improvements at Plymouth and Detroit Redford central office in connection therewith.

New outside plant to be constructed will include approximately 62,000 feet of telephone cable and the necessary pole lines, with feeder cable routes along Farmington, Middle Belt and Plymouth roads. A 4,000-foot cable extension to be made inside the Plymouth exchange area for the improvement of Plymouth service also will provide seven trunk lines to the new exchange. It is anticipated that the exchange will serve about 225 telephones initially, although the central office will have an immediate capacity of 300 lines which can be increased as demand for additional service necessitates. Trunks will connect the exchange with the Redford central office of the Detroit exchange as well as with the one at Plymouth.

The new exchange will include the Coventry Gardens community at Farmington and Five Mile roads, and the residential developments on both sides of Five Mile east of Farmington road, as well as the Rosedale Gardens district.

Program Enjoyed By Woman's Club

At the meeting of The Woman's club of Plymouth, Friday afternoon, the guests of the club and members enjoyed the selections by Mary Jane Clark and her harp ensemble from Ann Arbor. The young ladies showed marked talent.

Mrs. Austin Whipple, program chairman, then introduced Dr. O. A. Brines of Detroit, member of the Wayne County Medical society, who gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "Causes and Curability of Cancer", and showed slides pertaining to the subject.

Dr. Brines said, "Cancer is not a germ disease and therefore is not contagious. Chronic irritation is the most important cause of cancer. It is not a blood poisoning, it is not a dietary disease and there is nothing disgraceful nor worthy of concealment about it. It is a local disease and may be spread by the blood and produce daughter tumors elsewhere. While it is a local it is curable. Signs or symptoms which might mean early cancer must not be neglected. Pain does not come until a late stage so if a lump appears in the face, arm, limb or any other part of the body, have an examination immediately and if it is cancer a cure may be made. Don't wait. The chief failure to cure cancer is that proper treatment is instituted too late."

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Reck will be hosts to their "600" club, Monday evening, in their home on Penniman avenue.

Deadline Near On Registration For City Election

Poll Books Close Saturday Night For April 4 Vote

Interest in the April 4 city election increased this week as the deadline for registration of voters approached.

Registration closes at 8:00 p.m. Saturday night. City Clerk Clarence H. Elliott wanted that all persons who have changed their addresses since they last voted must appear at the city hall to correct the registration records if they desire to vote on April 4.

Harold Anderson, Henry H. Hondorp and Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple continued their campaigns for support in the race for the two city commission posts now held by Mayor Hondorp and Mrs. Whipple. The terms for the offices in contest are for two years each.

The election of the two commissioners and a proposed amendment to the city charter are the only matters to be placed before the voters on the non-partisan ballot. The amendment would permit the members of the city commission to receive payment for up to 52 meetings a year instead of being limited to 20 meetings. For the last four or five years the commissioners have had to attend from 40 to 50 meetings each year although only having received payment for 30, or a total of $90 a year.

Voting places for the April 4 election will be at the city hall, the Starkweather school, Central high school, and 818 Penniman avenue. The polls will be open from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Alice Bentley Takes Part In Annual Festival

Miss Alice Bentley, 22 years old, of Walled Lake, is Michigan's queen at the Festival of States at St. Petersburg, Florida.

Miss Bentley, a graduate of Walled Lake high school, is spending her fourth winter in the Florida city with her mother, Mrs. Jean Bentley.

As the queen representing Michigan, Miss Bentley and her two attendants were guests of honor at the Wolverine state's dance at the Gulfport casino last Friday night.

Miss Bentley is well known in Plymouth and Northville.

Arranged as St. Petersburg's tribute and expression of cordial hospitality to its season visitors, the annual Festival of States, which formally opens next Tuesday, will bid winter adieu and welcome Spring in gala and spectacular fashion.

Thousands of additional visitors from all points in Florida and from nearby states as well will join the throngs of tourist guests from all sections of the country, who are in St. Petersburg, for their winter and spring vacations.

This year's festival will be particularly colorful in that it will also mark the golden anniversary celebration of the founding of St. Petersburg, the fiftieth anniversary theme to be carried out in the annual Festival of States pageant which will be a prominent feature of the schedule of events.

Kiwanians Hear Facts About Dairy Industry

State Official Is Speaker At Weekly Session

Clarence Boland, of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, told members of the Kiwanis club Tuesday night that the average daily consumption of milk in Wayne county is seven-tenths of a pint per person.

Mr. Boland, the speaker at the weekly meeting, was introduced by Miller Ross.

Mr. Boland sketched the important features of the dairy industry as it affects the city of Detroit and surrounding territory. He pointed out that it takes 130,000 cows to produce sufficient milk for the daily consumption in the county. Of this volume 58 percent of the milk is delivered in bottles to the homes while 42 percent goes to stores, restaurants, hospitals and other institutions.

The milk is collected daily by receiving stations in 62 Michigan localities and is transported from these stations to processing plants in Detroit by tank trucks. At the plant the milk is pasteurized and bottled.

The dairy industry produces one-third of the total farm income in Michigan. Mr. Boland said Wayne county farmers produced 500,000 gallons of milk in 1937 while Oakland county farms furnished 1,500,000 gallons for that year.

In presenting statistics on milk consumption Mr. Boland used charts to show how part of the volume is diverted for the manufacture of cottage cheese, canned milk and other dairy by-products.

Burroughs Plant Opened Monday

The wheels of Plymouth's newest industry were set into motion this week when nearly 100 men and women employees began work at the modern Burroughs Adding Machine company factory here.

Operations were started in the printing department following installation of presses and the transfer of stationery supplies, advertising material and other equipment. Officials of the company said that the moving of other departments would be accomplished gradually over several months.

Many of the employees transferred to the Plymouth unit have already moved their families here while others were busy looking for living quarters.

Address By Jack Van Coevering At Banquet Led To Action

Enthusiastic observance of Wildlife Restoration week by sportsmen of western Wayne county climaxed by a banquet in this city Wednesday night attended by nearly 150, has resulted in a decision to perfect a permanent Western Wayne County Conservation club.

The same committee, which so successfully worked out the details and carried through to a final conclusion the banquet plans, was delegated the responsibility of perfecting the organization of the new club. Lisle Alexander is chairman of the committee, the other members being Dr. Paul Butz, William Rambo, Mark Chaffee, Glenn Jewell and Sterling Eaton.

Jack Van Coevering, editor of The Detroit Free Press outdoor page, was the only speaker at the banquet. It was his suggestion which led to the formation of the permanent organization. The committee was especially fortunate in having him headline the program because he has been one of the active leaders in the movement to create public interest in this important public problem. He was recently elected national president of the National Wildlife Federation at its convention in Baltimore.

Mr. Van Coevering briefly told of the efforts being made to save from annihilation much of the wild life of the country.

"Michigan stands out as one of the leaders in this work, but there is much, indeed, that we can do here," he said.

"There are probably men in this room who can recall days when carrier pigeons were a common sight, when grayling could be caught in Michigan streams. But there is not a carrier pigeon or a grayling left today in the world. Until this movement was started it appeared very much as though ducks were on the same road to extinction, but fortunately this effort has been started in time to save these birds from the fate of the carrier pigeon."

He pointed out the necessity of saving marsh tracts, stopping needless draining of land, the burning of undergrowth, and winter feeding of birds and animals. He said a permanent conservation organization here could do much to bring about improved conservation conditions.

Lisle Alexander, who has served as general chairman of the committee, presided and at the conclusion of Mr. Van Coevering's talk, asked for suggestions as to whether those present desired to form a permanent conservation club.

Several immediately moved for this action, and to J. C. Weed, one of the editors of the Automotive Daily News of Detroit and a resident of Plymouth, went the distinction of making the first dollar payment to become a charter member of the proposed club.

Within ten minutes 54 charter members had been signed up. It was voted to hold the charter open for several days in order to give those who were unable to be present an opportunity to be on the original membership roll.

It was also decided to make the organization one for all of western Wayne county so as to include Northville, Rosedale Gardens, Wayne and other nearby places in the organization with Plymouth.

A number of motion pictures of hunting and fishing scenes were displayed, among them being some of the pictures taken by Dr. Butz on his last fishing trip to Canada. Chairman Alexander will announce the date of the next meeting later.

Following is a list of the charter members, who have already joined the club:

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

Michigan finances, as every one knows are probably in worse condition now than ever before in the history of the state.

It takes only the little things to show why such a condition exists.

The following article, written by Guy Jenkins, Lansing correspondent for the Booth newspapers published out-state, gives the details of just one of the hundreds of similar reasons why your tax dollars are not going to do all that you intended your tax dollars to do:

Averaging about one day a week in Lansing since the special session of the legislature adjourned August 11, Miss Genevieve H. Meyer of Centerville has been continued on the state payroll at $6 a day, auditor general's records disclosed today.

Since January 1, 1937, Miss Meyer also has been serving St. Joseph county as register of deeds, having been elected in November, 1936.

Miss Meyer came to the state service about a year ago when she was engaged by Speaker George A. Schroeder, Detroit Democrat, as his stenographer to succeed Mrs. Esther H. Brewer, resigned.

When the legislature was in session Miss Meyer was paid $8 a day seven days a week.

"Why have you kept Miss Meyer on the payroll?" Thomas Thatcher, clerk of the house, was asked.

"On orders of the speaker."

"When did you drop her salary from $8 to $6 a day?"

"When the special session adjourned."

"When does Miss Meyer come to Lansing to work?"

"Oh, she is here about two or three days every two weeks." Then Thatcher added:

"Of course if there is some mail here for the speaker and she does not come to Lansing we send it to her."

The regular session of the 1937 legislature adjourned at noon July 20 and two hours later reconvened in special session which finally adjourned August 11.

Salaries of legislative employes are fixed by statute. Section 44 of the compiled laws of 1929 does not provide $8 daily compensation for the speaker's stenographer.

The $8 a day salaries are provided for the journal clerk, bill clerk, engrossing and enrolling clerk, the financial clerk, the law clerk and clerk of the ways and means committee. The sergeant-at-arms is to be paid $7 a day. The reading clerk, assistant bill clerk, assistant engrossing and enrolling clerk and the assistant journal clerk also are paid $7 under the law.

Then the statute provides: "Of the other clerks and stenographers employed by the house of representatives or by a superior officer or any standing or special committee with the consent of the house of representatives, $6 each."

The salaries for the postmaster, mailing clerks, messengers, pages, etc., are scaled down from $5 to $4 a day.

The law gives the speaker and clerk of the house the

The Lucky Farmer

By James Lewis Hays

"Oh, the lucky, lucky farmer
When the weather's fair and warmer
All he has to do is whistle
In the bright and dewy morn.
All he has to do is wander
Through the nifty fields out yonder
Whistling as he whittles
Yellow cornflakes from the corn!"

So I said to Bill, my neighbor,
And we hired ourselves to labor
In the oat fields and the meadows
And the fields of fragrant hay.
We would join the jolly frolic
Of the merry life bucolic—
Well, listen, men and brothers,
This is all we have to say:

Stay in town, dear friends and sisters
We'll be with you when our blisters
And our bunions and our sunburn
And our aches and sprains get well.
When the weather's fair and warmer,
Just leave farming to the farmer.
Let him whistle in the thistles
We like farming—not so well!

authority to continue in service at their regular compensation such of the employes as are required to complete the work of the session, for such time as in the judgment of the speaker or clerk their services are necessary.

Near the close of the session, the house by resolution retained George B. McNally as sergeant-at-arms. It was felt his presence was needed in the chamber to see there was no tampering with the expensive electric voting machine which had been installed at a cost exceeding $30,000.

PRAYER IN APRIL

God grant that I may never be
A scoffer at Eternity—
As long as every April brings
The sweet rebirth of growing things;
As long as grass is green anew,
As long as April's skies are blue,
I shall believe that God looks down
Upon his wide earth, cold and brown,
To bless its unborn mystery
Of leaf, and bud, and flower to be;
To smile on it from tender skies—
How could I think otherwise?
Had I been dust for many a year,
I still would know when Spring was near,
For the good earth that pillowed me
Would whisper immortality,
And I, in part, would rise and sing
Amid the grasses murmuring,
When looking on the mother sod,
Can I doubt that this be God?
Or when a primrose smiles at me,
Can I distrust Eternity?

ON OUR WAY!!!

Many persons have been led to believe that the Federal government trimmed expenditures during the past year. Such is decidedly not the case. Expenditures have risen steadily (exclusive of the Veterans' bonus in 1936) for the past nine years. Of late, government revenues leaped to record levels, managed to narrow the deficit margin and thus create a financial illusion that is dangerously misleading; for normally, smaller deficits would indicate actual economy.

Take for instance the regular operating expenditures of the Federal government, which include legislative, judicial and civil establishments. They rose from $637,000,000 in 1933 to $814,000,000 in 1937. Likewise consider for a moment Public Works, which includes such items as public highways, reclamation, flood control, public buildings, etc. This rose with out halt from $458,000,000 in 1933 to over $1,000,000,000 in 1937. And there is a popular belief that relief spending was recently rigidly curtailed. Yet official financial statements show that from 1933 to 1937, expenditures for unemployment relief which include direct relief, work relief, and the Civilian Conservation Corps, also rose without halt from $359,000,000 to $2,466,000,000.

If you do not believe these figures, take a look at the total estimated Federal debt for the end of fiscal 1939—$38,528,000,000. Compare this to the total debt in 1931—$16,801,000,000. It takes no mathematical genius to see where the country is headed. And at the rate we are going it won't take long to get there!

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

NOWHERE TO GO

That Michigan sorely needs a change of State administration we believe few people except job holders and politicians will deny. But that Michigan will get a change at the end of this year is by no means certain, although we believe it could be made certain by the action of a very few people. That is placing a grave responsibility upon those few people, hence we will explain what we mean. In order to change the State administration it is necessary that Michigan Republicans, aided by those Democrats who are dissatisfied with the unprecedented figures which state expenditures have reached shall present a united front; but a united front is almost impossible where there are so many candidates for the nomination for Governor, and the contest for that nomination offers a fruitful field for the development of a bitter strife that will carry over into the November election. The few people then, who can prevent this bitterness are the candidates for Governor, and we suggest that they and their close friends get together, determine which one of the candidates is the most logical one to nominate and then all get behind him and boost for his election. We know that our suggestion does not constitute practical politics, but we also know that a divided party has much less chance of success than a united party. The people who vote and pay taxes are much less concerned about the success of individual candidates than they are about a business administration of our State's government.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

A 1937 FABLE

In the year 1937 the taxpayers of one of the counties or cities of the United States complained about taxes, which, they said, were high.

Whereupon a man on the public payroll cut his salary, another declared his job unnecessary and found other work, and their examples moved other servants of the people to do likewise.

The idea spread throughout the nation, with great saving to the so-called common people.

Nor was this all. Another office-holder, accustomed to spending the public funds to the profit of his friends, and it had been said himself, decided that each dollar of the municipality's money should and henceforth would be used as much as one out of his own purse.

This idea likewise, spread throughout the nation, with great saving to the so-called common people.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

A HODGE PODGE

The impossibility of offering intelligent comment on the New Farm Bill is regrettable. It was passed through both house and senate without being understood or explained. The bill, itself, was twenty-five thousand words long and about seventy-five thousand more words were used to "explain" it. Consequently very few read the measure through and those who did were lost in the baffling network of explanations. Very few persons have attempted to chance a guess as to what the bill means. It is reliably reported, however, that it will cause the formation of a new army of 100,000 federal employees with organizations to be set up in each county. Furthermore, it is thought that it gives Secretary of Agriculture Wallace near-dictatorial powers in controlling agricultural production. However, until the bill has been reduced to comprehensible language, no one, especially the legislators themselves, will understand exactly what has happened.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

Farmers To Get Cropping Limits

Through state and county offices of the Michigan Soil Conservation committee new means are being provided to enable Michigan farmers to participate more fully in the 1938 federal soil and crop control program.

Sponsors of the organization work within the state have set April 2 as the goal for this new plan. On or before that date every farmer who desires the information and who farms in a county in the lower peninsula is to have information which will enable him to help conform planting with participation.

Information each farmer is to receive in Wayne county will tell him how many acres of soil depleting crops he can plant on his farm and still comply fully with the program. In Monroe, Lenawee, Branch, Hillsdale and St. Joseph counties farmers also will learn the maximum acreage of corn they may plant and still remain within the crop control goal.

Later more information is to follow. Within each county the committees have decided to fill out and send information to each participating farmer. He will learn what is the approximate total payment he can earn. He also will learn the maximum number of soil building units which can be earned. Committees also plan to announce shortly after the middle of April the allotment of potato acreage which each commercial potato grower has received.

More than 110,000 farmers have become interested in the federal soil program in Michigan. In 1938 there were 108,000, says Maurice A. Doan, chairman of the state committee. Last year there were 115,000. Indications are that there will be from five to ten thousand more farmers participating this year.

It was not Cornwallis who surrendered at Yorktown. General O'Hara of the British army handed over his leader's sword to General Benjamin Lincoln, appointed by Washington to receive the submission.

Michigan Scholar Explodes Error

That the whole of Homer's "Iliad" was once written so fine on parchment that it could be enclosed in a nut was believed by ancient writers. This extraordinary statement quoted from Cicero by Pliny, which has puzzled many modern writers, is the subject of a clever analysis by Dr. Henry A. Sanders, University of Michigan professor of Latin, in the current Michigan alumnus quarterly review.

"If one wished to write the 15,693 verses of the Iliad on the thinnest paper and with all modern instruments including our powerful magnifying glasses, so as to enclose it in a nut shell," Dr. Sanders points out, "he would have to use a cocoon and not any of the nuts known to ancient Italy." Pliny's error, he continues, lies in the facts that he accepted Cicero's statement without investigating it and that, in his opinion, the remarkable thing is the extreme smallness of the book, and not the mere fact that it was bound into a book, itself a remarkable feat in those early days of literature. The whole misunderstanding, Dr. Sanders explains, hinges on the use of the Latin word nux, which means both the tree and the nut, as we would say "of walnut" or "of chestnut". Pliny, he points out, takes the phrase "bound in nut" to mean the actual nut, whereas Cicero meant the board covers of the volume, used to keep the parchment leaves from curling. Thus, he says, the remarkable thing to Cicero was not the size of the volume at all, but the fact that this was one of the first literary works to be bound in book form.

When Does Life Begin?

Pitkin says, "at forty". It takes twenty years to become an adult and twenty more to get experience, so maybe, he's right—but life really begins when you first begin to see. That is the beginning of information, and where are you if you lack it? Every moment of your life depends on WHAT you see and HOW WELL you see it. And—had you thought that it isn't so much what you see as what you COMPREHEND that counts?

print took all your attention, and left scarcely any for comprehension.

Let's say that life does begin at forty. In five more years the focussing mechanism of your eyes loses a lot of its "tonus" and you are not going to get out of the rest of your life all you struggled to make it worth. Then your professional optometrist steps in and puts you back on an efficient seeing basis. If it weren't for optometry, the majority of the human race would be on the scrap heap by the time they were fifty. But don't wait until failing eyesight forces you to have a complete visual analysis. If you need help at twenty, is it not foolish to wait until forty-five to get it?

Take a printed page—have you ever had the experience of reading the whole thing and comprehending only hazily what you have read? Know why? The effort and energy you used in actually SEEING the

The members of the Tuesday afternoon contract bridge club met Tuesday with Mrs. Charles G. Draper for luncheon and bridge. Seeing it was the last gathering of the club that Mrs. Ray Johns would be with them and that her birthday was on Monday little extra touches were added to make it more of a party. The tables were in spring attire with colorful coverings, nut cups and flowers in yellow and pink with a dainty corsage at Mrs. Johns' place. A delicious cake with lighted tapers in the same colors was another added feature. The club regrets Mrs. Johns' departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kenyon were hosts to the following, Wednesday, at dinner and bridge: Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Claude J. Dykhouse, Dr. and Mrs. Carl January, and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Burr.

On Monday evening Circle 1 of the Methodist Ladies' Aid, of which Mrs. Miller Ross is leader, met in the church for a co-operative supper followed by a program of interest to all. There were 60 present to listen to the talk given by Dr. Wiggins Waughn, instructor of political science in Michigan State Normal, in Ypsilanti, on his boyhood days in the South. It was a clever talk full of humor. Dr. Waughn said he still holds the negro in highest regard, that they always lend a hand to a white man whenever in distress. Leslie Lee of Northville with 13 members of his high school chorus gave a very fine program of music, singing several religious selections, some Russian, German and southland songs. A young baritone of the group sang "Water Boy" and also gave two readings.

Velda Rorabacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rorabacher, celebrated her 12th birthday Friday, entertaining several of her friends at supper and the evening. The table was centered with a beautiful cake with green icing and lighted tapers in pink. Many lovely gifts were presented to the young lady in honor of the occasion. Those present were Lila Mumby, Barbara Martin, Louise Newman, Dorothy Carley, Irene Niedospal, Paul Nutting, Robert Thams, Betty Baker, Kenneth Anderson, Donald Kelnor, Joe Brisbois.

Invitations have been received for the wedding of Margaret Victoria Sabom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. I. Sabom, of Birmingham, to Theodore Stanley Coile, of Durham, North Carolina, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Coile of Kenton, Ohio, on April 2. Both are graduates of the University of Michigan and Mr. Coile also received his master's degree at Yale. He is a member of the faculty of Duke university at Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Beck of this city, will attend the wedding and reception.

Boy Scouts Busy On Last Hike

Saturday, March 19, was the scene of another hike for the ever active Scout troop P-3. This hike was somewhat different as the newly organized troop Elm I was also present. Elm I, a new troop, showed its interest in scouting by being represented by six boys, Jack Nielson, Robert and Edward Lostetter, Basil Schroeder, Ralph Nielson and Clifton Daniels. Troop P-3 was represented by S.M. Ferris Mathias, A.S.M. Don Moore, Dean Van-Landingham, John Moore, Charles Bulson, Charles Nelson, Charles Minthorn, Robert Johns, Harold Young, Mike and Raymond Svejaca, Marvin Kleinschmidt, and Arthur Fulton.

The hike started at 10:00 a.m. and the cabin was reached at 11:30 a.m. On this trip the "Covered Wagon Patrol" lived partly up to its name as the boys packed their duffel on a wagon and pulled it to the cabin. Upon arrival it was impossible to tell the color of the wagon because of an inch layer of mud.

Reaching the cabin, preparation of several tests was completed and during the hike 17 tests were passed. We claim this as a record! The tests passed, included, line building, cooking and tracking. First aid was practiced with artificial respiration being stressed. At supper all were present and accounted for.

After the disappearance of the meal the members who were attending the cabin for the first time were introduced to "His Majesty, the High and Mighty King of Siam."

Immediately following the introduction to the king, a snipe hunt was held. As most snipe hunts start with many suggestions as to the snipe, his capture and his ability to be eaten were given. One said the snipe resembles a rabbit, another a crow and several ranges of size. The flavor of the snipe ranged from broiled chicken to swiss steak. Four boys, new to the game, were invited to hold the sack or more commonly called "bag". After getting the boys set the "drive" began. Suddenly, all was still. The light from the boys never wavered an inch. After waiting 30 minutes, it began to rain. And the boys wanted to get back to camp, but, where was it?

After several minutes of debate they started off in the wrong direction. As it was raining the J.A.S.M., who had crept up on the boys, stepped in the open, less than 20 feet from the boys, and asked, "What's the matter, boys, can't you find your way back?" The boys were so startled they almost dropped their flashlight. After returning to the cabin the four boys declared that there were no snipe, but with an equal assurance the other boys assured them that there were, and that the four boys had slipped up on the job.

Meanwhile, a game of monopoly had begun and ended at 11:30 p.m. Several of the boys started another game, and believe it or not, these boys played all night.

Breakfast consisted of pancakes, bacon and eggs. One boy declared that the pancakes must have been mixed with glue and leather as they were quite rubbery.

At 10:00 a.m., a shout was sent up, "We have cornered an animal. Several suggestions were afforded as to its identity, but it turned out to be a homeless little "possum".

Next, a ball game between Pete Moore's "High Fingers" and Bob Johns' "Stumble Bums" was played. The High Fingers won 11-7. At 3:30 p.m., all were ready to come home and no time was lost in the preparation.

A few of the mysteries were: Who were the four boys, who stayed up all night playing monopoly? Where did the Elm boys put all they ate? If Noel Hoyer isn't careful he will have to surrender his eating title to one of the Elm boys. So, come on Noel, don't let us down.

The "Covered Wagon Patrol" should be named "Uncovered Wagon" because they forgot their canvas top and oxen.

Hint to Ray Svejaca's friends—Invite Ray over some night for a pancake supper. Ray says he will not come unless you put peanuts in the cakes.

At to Elm I, P-3 thinks they will be a fine bunch of Scouts. The next P-3 hike will be April 15 and 16.

State Compares Fur Values

Trapping isn't what it used to be, yet a quantity of pelts which were worth $10,000 one hundred years ago would be worth approximately $45,000 today.

Records of an old trapper's estate probated at St. Ignace July 19, 1819, show a vast difference in fur prices between then and now. The estate was that of Little Wiley, veteran trapper and large scale fur dealer, who at his death had on hand 128 packs of skins and fur, which were inventoried at $9,766.31. The accumulation included deer and bear skins, fisher pelts and even buffalo robes, but even after excluding these and confining the comparison to the kind of fur which is still trapped today, Little Wiley would have been a wealthy man if he could have commanded in his day the prices which trappers of this day command.

For his 9,537 muskrat pelts, listed as "musquashes" and inventoried at $1,807, Little Wiley would have received about $7,600 on the current market. His 754 beavers, inventoried at $3.20 each for a total of $2,412 would be listed today at from $22 to $24 each. If they were large, or a total of $16,500. Nineteen foxes would have been valued at about $118 instead of $15.20; 309 martins would have been worth $5,562 at about $18 each instead of $14.50 at 50 cents each; 1,061 raccoons would have been listed at about $4.90 each for a total of $5,200 instead of $443.91 at 41 cents each; 527 otters, listed by the court at $2.80 each for a total of $1,475.60 would now bring about $17.50 each or a total of $8,959.

Of course, what the inventory doesn't show is the difference in living prices between then and now, or the difference in the population of several of these fur bearing species today as compared with 100 years ago.

McGARY, BECKER WIN DETROIT NEWS DICTIONARIES

Annabelle Becker and Sam McGary each triumphed over about 50 of their classmates to win the coveted dictionaries given to Detroit winners of the annual Detroit News spelling bees. The contest took place under the supervision of Miss Tyler in the high school last Friday, March 18.

Annabelle Becker, spelling champion of the eighth grade, won easily when her classmates failed to live up to expectations. It was only 20 minutes after the first word had been pronounced that Rosalind Postiff garbled the word "secede" and left Annabelle the victor.

Two Scotchmen figured most prominently in the seventh grade contest, which lasted between 35 and 40 minutes. Sam McGary, winner, had as his runner-up Jim McAllister, who misspelled "labial". Each of the conquerors will receive a copy of the latest edition of the Merriam-Webster dictionaries with his or her name in gold on the cover.

The more ambitious of the students are now studying for the school bee, in which the last ten standing in each of the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grade contests will compete. This will take place on Friday, April 8, and the winner will receive a bronze medal engraved with his name and a chance to compete in the district bee two weeks later.

Daisy And Plating Teams Winners

Monday night the two girls' teams, Daisy and Hi-Speed, began the play-off at 7:00 p.m. It was a hard fought game, resulting in the defeat of the Hi-Speed team, 28-25.

At 8:00 o'clock another game was started between Plymouth Plating and Chevrolet, resulting in Plymouth Plating defeating Chevrolet with a score of 37-27. The result of this game eliminated Chevrolet. On Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock the same girls' teams played the final game for the girls. Daisy fought for every point gained but finally gained another victory over Hi-Speed, score 25-21. This victory gives the Daisy girls the championship for this season.

At 8:00 o'clock the Wilkie and Plymouth Plating teams played. Every point made by either team was well earned. The score at the end of the fourth quarter stood a tie, 33 all. The score being tied, a three-minute overtime period was played. Wilkie tried hard to make a score but failed, while Plymouth Plating secured seven points making the final score 42-33. This is the first defeat for the Wilkie team, making a game on Wednesday night necessary. On Wednesday night at 7:00 o'clock was an exhibition game. One team, captained by Shoemaker and one team captained by Cline resulted in a score of 32-20 in favor of Cline's team.

At 8:00 o'clock the Wilkie and Plymouth Plating teams again took the floor for the final game of the play-off to decide the championship of the boys' teams for this season. Both teams worked hard and at the end of the first quarter, the score stood, Plymouth Plating 11, Wilkie, 10. At the end of the half the score read: Plymouth Plating 16, Wilkie, 16; at the end of the third quarter, Plymouth Plating, 24, Wilkie 20; at the end of the game, Plymouth Plating, 39, Wilkie, 31. Mayor Hondorp presented the cup to the winner, making Plymouth Plating the champion team of this season.

City Ordered To Remedy Sewage

At the Lansing meeting Henry Adams, chairman of the Stream Pollution commission, outlined the purpose of the group conference and explained the organization and set-up of the out-county sewage disposal system. By this set-up it is proposed to install a sanitary sewer, following the course of the middle branch of the Rouge river, from a point near Garden City, northwesterly to Northville. This sewer is designed to accommodate portions of Garden City, the park system, Plymouth, Northville, Maybury sanatorium the Training school and the House of Correction.

This sewage system and plant would be owned and operated by Wayne county. These out-county cities and institutions would connect their sewage systems direct to the proposed sanitary sewer. For this perpetual service it was proposed to charge the cities a fee estimated at $1.50 per family per year. This action would mean the abandonment of the existing disposal tanks and plants.

Mr. Adams stated further that the Plymouth and Northville disposal systems have no positive bacterial control at present. One big objection at the Plymouth plant is the prevalent odor. The statement was made that these individual disposal plants would be required to present 100 percent treatment in all respects. In the event the plants could not be put in shape to pass inspection the one alternative would be the disposal of raw sewage into the proposed sanitary sewer. Mr. Adams presented plans showing the entire Wayne county proposed disposal system.

Mr. Shepherd, assistant engineer for the bureau of engineering, state department of health, presented the viewpoint of the department of health on the matter.

The disposal plant at Northville was reviewed. It is composed of an Imhoff tank and sand filters. This type has its drawbacks inasmuch as there is no provision for bacterial control. Mr. Shepherd stated that in our Michigan winters, due to frost penetration, no sand filter will function properly, and eventually becomes obsolete.

The Plymouth municipal disposal system was then outlined by Mr. Shepherd. It consists of a screen room, Imhoff tank, sprinkling filter, sludge beds and drain and an effluent conduit to the river. His statement was that to bring the Plymouth plant up to present standards, it would be necessary to install a glass housing over the Imhoff tank and filter to collect gas, add a settling tank and arrange for chlorination of the influent or effluent or possibly both. He added that an increase of 1000 to 1500 families in Plymouth would mean a duplication of the plant. Without this duplication, the improvements to the existing plant would necessitate more supervision and possibly the employment of a technical supervisor, inasmuch as chemical and physical control of the influent, effluent and odor will be imperative.

City Clerk Elliott asked him who was at fault as far as the Plymouth plant was concerned as to odor, inasmuch as the disposal plant was built in 1925, long before the present parkway was developed. Mr. Adams stated that the odor control was entirely the responsibility of Plymouth. The matter of service charges was brought up. Col. Rich, of the state health department, stated that the proposed $1.50 service charge was low and that a charge of $2.50 or more would not be excessive.

Mr. Gross, of Wayne county, then outlined the financial set-up of the system. The system is to produce revenue through rental fees. Inasmuch as the county program is under the auspices of the Wayne county board of supervisors, the supervisors have tentatively established these rental fee rates at $0.26 per 1000 gallons of water used. There is to be no bond issue for the improvement. $1,100,000.00 has been set up by the federal government and $900,000.00 by the federal government. There will be no service charge for connection to the system. The village of Wayne has arranged to collect the rentals for the county, on a percentage basis, along with the water bill collections.

Mr. Adams was asked what the result might be if the cities refused to improve their plants or connect to the new system. Mr. Adams cited cases at Jackson, Michigan, and at Aurora, Illinois in which injunctions were served on the cities to stop further stream pollution by sewage or effluent disposal. Mr. Adams reviewed stream pollution in Michigan stating that the amount of pollution and sewage disposal varied greatly in different sections of the state. In northern Michigan, due to the sparse population, very little stream pollution was experienced. Mr. Adams repeated that the sewer now being built in Wayne county was designed to accommodate Northville, Plymouth and the various city of Detroit and county institutions nearby. These institutions would be billed for service on the same basis as the municipalities.

Todd, Jesse Tyler, Jack Van Coevering, Leo W. Wallace, J. C. Weed, Robert O. Wesley, Floyd Wilson, Eddie Wood, Elmer Zuckerman, B. E. Giles, Bud Giles, Samuel W. Spicer, Jesse Tritten, Fred Hearn.

A brief discussion was heard on the park development in the last five years, in which was mentioned the cleaning of the Rouge and the possible development of bathing beaches, in case the water was free of pollution. As the parkway is extended beyond its present limits, the sewer would be extended. It was estimated that it would require another $800,000 to complete the parkway system.

Mr. Roth reviewed the gradual development of Eloise, Wayne, the Training school, the Ford Motor company (with five existing disposal plants) and all the local cities and villages along the route of the Rouge and its tributaries. It was their decision that centralized sewage disposal plants was the solution with the network of interceptor sewers. Eloise and Wayne are to be connected to the new disposal plant at Dearborn.

Mr. Roth then read some of his financial data from the PWA proposal covering the sewer installation. The money was set up to be allocated as follows: Wyandotte $870,000, Trenton $159,700, Wayne $110,300, Parkway development $603,000, Lola park—not given, and the balance on 15 small isolated areas, in which the county would give uniform maintenance. Three of the 15 smaller areas mentioned were Grosse Isle, Rockwell and Flatrock.

Mr. Roth then explained the financial reimbursement system. The fees are to be paid on the amount of metered water in any given municipality or area. As stated before this fee is tentatively set up at $0.26 per 1000 gallons of metered water. Mr. Roth based his computations on the amount of water used in these various communities during 1935. Wyandotte used 537,000,000 gallons and the out county district 2,270,000,000 gallons. This out-county consumption at $0.26 per 1000 gallons would yield approximately $600,000 per year.

Plymouth, in 1935, with 1465 water connections, used 85,000,000 gallons of water. This water consumption at $0.26 per 1000 gallons would mean that Plymouth would pay an annual sewer rental of $2,210.00. Northville has 778 connections. Wayne, in 1935, used 84,000,000 gallons. This would make their payment $2,200.00 per year. The Maybury Sanatorium consumed 93,200,000 gallons of water in 1935. This payment would be $2431.00 annually.

There would have to be adjustments made on meter readings taken in commercial establishments employing the use of air conditioning. Any metered water, not needing treatment, could be exempt in the figuring of the sewer rental statement. In the event a property was using a private water supply, such as wells, etc., a flat rate schedule would have to be devised. Mr. Roth stated the authority for this program was contained in the Procurement of the board of supervisors of October 12, 1937.

In Trenton, the citizens voted about 2600-185 in favor of giving the county authority to construct, operate and maintain a sewage disposal plant within the municipality.

Following was a general discussion of finances, condition of plants, policies, bond issues, economics, ruling and authority of the department of health and the stream pollution control commission, and various other topics.

Obituary

The holding company is an American invention. Its history dates back to the early days of railroad building. The first holding company, historical records indicate, was the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company which was authorized by the state of Maryland in 1833 to subscribe for stock in the Western Branch road. Acquisition of the stock made the Baltimore and Ohio the first "parent" corporation in the United States. It later obtained legislative authority to purchase stocks in other railroads.

is this school which the local chapter helps most. This school can work over and make use of almost any materials sent them on account of the special training in handcraft work being given there.

Miss Simons had a beautiful display of the handwork from several of the schools. These articles are sold to aid the work in these schools.

The Girl Scouts showed great interest in the account of the work being done by the less fortunate girls and boys in these sometimes almost inaccessible mountain schools and at the close of Miss Simons' talk gave a short review of the Scout oaths.

Another interest of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter is the CCC camps at Wayne and Pontiac. During the past year the following articles have been collected by them and sent to the two camps: 1450 magazines, 152 books, one 9x12 rug, two center tables, two rocking chairs, two table lamps, a box of games and puzzles, and 20 D.A.R. manuals. Also a Christmas box containing 10 pounds of candy, four gift books, 28 decks of cards, and 37 jars of jam and jelly. They are now preparing to provide curtains for the new reading room at the Pontiac camp.

Mrs. Sidney Strong, local regent, Mrs. M. J. Bennett, and Mrs. Charles Horr are to attend the three-day state D.A.R. conference to be held at Lansing, March 30, 31 and April 1 and several other members will go for a shorter time.

Miss Margaret Bentley, selected by the students and teachers of the Plymouth high school as the Good Citizenship Pilgrim candidate from our schools, will also attend the conference as guest of the D.A.R.

School Given Books For Library

Mr. Wilson presented the Starkweather library with two outstanding sets of reference books: "History of Nations", 28 volumes, and "Harvard Classics", 51 volumes.

These two splendid sets help to raise the Starkweather library high above the ordinary school library, and the usefulness of the books will be equally valuable to both pupils and teachers.

It is not uncommon for Plymouth schools to receive gifts of books for their libraries, but it is clearly uncommon to receive 77 volumes making up two such outstanding selections.

More than 50 kinds of fruits and vegetables are of commercial importance to the United States.

INTERESTING LIFE STORY OF A HIGH SCHOOL EMPLOYEE

Of the 800 people in Plymouth high school, few are aware of the interesting life story that their janitress—Mrs. Armbruster—has to tell. Modern history students in quest of first hand human interest material of pre-war and post-war central Europe will do well to talk with this interesting lady whom they have seen dusting about in the high school building.

Mrs. Armbruster spent her girlhood in an Austro-Hungarian village about 110 miles from the Hungarian capital city Budapest, which city she often visited. In pre-war years her brothers were forced at 18 years of age to spend three years in military training in the Austro-Hungarian army.

With the coming of the war, men of all ages—if they were at all able—were brought into service; her father, who was in his fifties, joined his sons in the forces of the Central Powers. During the greater part of the war the section of Austria-Hungary in which she lived was not greatly destroyed; although the upper parts of some houses a few miles distant were shattered by powerful enemy cannon.

Under the peace treaty after the war her section of the country became a part of the newly created Yugoslavia. Here she was about the same distance from the new country's capital, Beograd (Belgrade).

During the war and shortly after the war the country was occupied by troops of Germany, Italy, and several of the Balkan states; of all the armies she preferred the Italian, which she claims, were the least ruthless and most mild.

Once when the family had fled to avoid the oncoming armies, they found upon their return to their house that the yard was full of dead soldiers whom they had to bury where they fell. Twice this same thing happened to them.

Two and a half years after the peace, she embarked for the United States, where several of her relatives were living. Her chief reason for coming was a curiosity to see America, about which she had heard much in school and letters from relatives in America who were enthusiastic citizens. During her visit she decided to become a citizen.

She was mainly impressed by the great democratic spirit in the United States and the equal educational opportunities for all regardless of financial or social position. This, she thinks, is a notable achievement for a nation. For in her native land small towns of Plymouth's size did not have high schools, and the high schools in the cities were open mainly to the rich. In her school days, Mrs. Armbruster traveled 30 miles each day by rail to attend school; her brother traveled 70 to attend the nearest high school. They could travel free because their father worked for the railroad.

Mrs. Armbruster speaks high German and English; she also understands many of the Slavic tongues. It takes the reminiscences of a person to Mrs. Armbruster's experience and knowledge of the conditions in foreign lands to make us who are native born to appreciate our country.

CENTRAL GRADE

Mr. Smith came to Mrs. Lage's kindergarten last week to distribute bunny pins. This makes all the kindergartners official members of the bunny health club. The children have been cutting out windmills and kites this week.

In Miss Campbell's first grade, two boys who have not been absent nor tardy are Keith Ebersole and Gerald Micol. The pupils have drawn pictures of the "Three Bears" and are planning to dramatize the story. Most of the children are getting milk every day at their usual playtime. Some of the children have started reading their primers while others are reading "More Dick and Jane Stories".

Mrs. Diabrow's first graders are making furniture for their playhouse. They have made two chairs and a table out of orange crates and painted them blue. The girls in the class are making cushions for the chairs. The pupils are enjoying a new nature study book entitled "Sunshine and Rain".

These people are members of the spelling team in Mrs. Holliday's room: John McClain, Irene Woodcock, Margaret Wilson, Thelma Steven, Joe Brishols, Robert Scheppe, Louise Newman, Robert Thama, Dorothy Carley, Florence Edmunds, and George Bathum will act as a substitute.

10A STUDENTS TAKE CHARGE OF STORE

Miss Cary's 10A bookkeeping class received word last week from R. W. Collins, proprietor of the Imaginary Collins Hardware company, that as his business seemed good in spite of the recession, he would remain in the south another month. In the same message he expressed regret at the large number of resignations in the office force. Some are leaving because the strenuous work of the past month has given them "that tired feeling" and they feel the need of a rest. A few have succumbed to the clutches of holy matrimony, and others are accepting more remunerative positions. Too few are remaining at home to cheer the declining years of aged parents, and only two are going to have a fly at professional baseball. One envied individual is fortunate enough to be able to sojourn several years in the South Sea Islands.

People have already been appointed to fill these numerous vacancies. Mary Hood and Robert Lawson have assumed the responsibility of the general management. The sales division is now in charge of Gladys Salow and Ruth Priest is conducting the purchasing section. The banking affairs of the company are in the hands of Bill Marsh, treasurer; who is ably assisted by Veneta Hank, Betty Curtis and George Blyton have pledged themselves to more and better business this coming month, spring fever or no spring fever.

Your reporter spent several hours in the store recently, and judging by the immense crowds and frequent clinking of the cash registers, the Collins Hardware company has really licked the recession for good.

CLASS NOTES

The 8B Home Economics class visited the cotton department of Blunk's store Tuesday afternoon to look at suitable cotton materials for undergarments and sports wear. Mr. Blyton came back to school Wednesday afternoon and continued the study of cottons as to weaves, finishes, thread count, dyeing, new shadow printing and qualities of yarn.

The second year shorthand class is being started into 80-word dictation. With most all of them quickening their pace it is hoped they can handle up to 100 or more at the end of the semester.

The first year shorthand class is also making good progress in dictation. The work is new to a lot of them, but they take an interest in it. Most of the material used is simple yet it has the advantage of encouraging the student and also gives him a thrill in being able to take dictation at a high speed.

Don Waterman, Bob West, and a few more P.H.S. students ought to install knee action, or at least they could be a bit lighter on their feet.

The high lights of spring fashions are shorter skirts, freedom of dress and simplicity of silhouette, and free-swinging skirts. Home Economics I pupils are making their cotton dresses with these points in mind. Other high lights of spring fashions are ensembles that boast boleros and capes, suits that have hip top collar-less jackets with one button, colors of beige, pink and blue, and interesting accessories.

Home Economics II girls are making silk dresses and suits with these points in mind.

Miss Waldorf's 10-A English class has completed the study of essays; the most interesting adventure type essay studied was "The Elephant" by Carl Aley, in the nature type "The Mallard" by John James Audubon, in the formal group "My Financial Career" by Stephen Leacock and the "Great American Game" (baseball) by William Lyon Ferris. Those who are interested are working on declamation; after the second class elimination Eugene Bakewell, Dorothy McCullough, Marjorie Smith, and Ronald Cook are those remaining in the contest.

The sixth hour public speaking class has completed the unit of salesmanship. The best speech was given by Marian Shoebridge who asked the class to pretend that she was a demonstrator in Blunk's store and she demonstrated the use of the Sunbeam mixer.

One hundred and thirty girls have signed up for the inter-mural volleyball contest. God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power be longest unto God. Also unto thee, O Lord, beloved mercy; for thou renderest to every man according to his work.—Psalms 62: 11, 12.

ROCKS LOSE IN STATE QUARTER-FINALS

History repeats itself. Thursday last history repeated and Plymouth again went to the quarter finals in the state tournament. Marshall, the same that eliminated them last year, again were the victors. It was a good game and not until the last quarter did it look as if Marshall would win. One startling thing about the game was that the Rocks made seven field goals while Marshall made only six. But Marshall made twelve points on free throws for an average of 85%. Plymouth made 3 out of 5 chances for an average of 85%. Had the Rocks only made as many fouls as Marshall Plymouth probably would have been the victors. "Cotton" Moe made only two points but he did a fine job of guarding. His man made only one point; it was a free throw. Egloff, who was high score for Plymouth, was two points up on his man and he also played a very good game until the end, because he had three fouls on him.

In the first quarter Plymouth's speed surprised the Marshall quintet and it looked as if the Rocks might win. Plymouth was ahead 5-2. In the second quarter Marshall came back but was only two points ahead at the half. Near the end of the third quarter Hill made a field goal and free throw which put Plymouth three points ahead but Marshall came back fast again and was leading 13-15. Plymouth's passes went bad in the fourth quarter. Double dribbles, fouls, and poor passes put together with Marshall handling the ball expertly gave Plymouth her defeat and it was a sad Plymouth team that went to the showers. The final score was 17-24. Marshall: Kahler, rf; Hayes, lf; Wilson, c; Purrel, rg; Bushre, lg.

Plymouth: Moe, rf; Egloff, lf; Sackett, c; Ross, rg; Prough, lg.

RONALD COOK IS SCHOOL DECLAMER

Several elimination contests in the field of oratorical declamations were held in the classes of Miss Killham, teacher of tenth grade English, and Miss Waldorf, also teacher of tenth grade English. The representatives chosen from each class competed on Friday, March 18. The people from Miss Killham's class were Dorothy Bohl whose selection was "Toussaint L' Overture", Margaret Erdelyi whose selection was "Acres of Diamonds", and Virginia Rock whose selection was "Labels". The representatives from Miss Waldorf's class were Ronald Cook who gave the selection "Ropes", Eugene Bakewell whose selection was "The Task of Youth", Dorothy McCullough who gave "Liberty Under the Constitution", and Marjorie Smith whose selection was "The Strenuous Life". The judges were Messrs. Wallace and Lynch and Mrs. Harr. These judges selected two persons to compete against the freshman representatives in the final contest. These two were Dorothy McCullough and Ronald Cook.

The contest between the classes was held Monday, March 21. The contestants from the freshman class were James Zuckerman who gave "Weighted Scales" and Ardit Rowland whose selection was "The Road to Peace". The contestants of the sophomore class were Dorothy McCullough giving "Liberty Under the Constitution" and Ronald Cook who gave "Ropes". The judges were Mr. Dykhouse, Mr. Evans, Mr. Balden, Mrs. Crumble, and Miss Wells. These judges selected one person to represent the school in the field of declamation in the Twin Valley league contest to be held at Ecorse on the afternoon and evening of March 31. The person chosen was Ronald Cook.

Far from being a modern invention, "drinking straws" were used by the ancient Babylonians. The seal of the tomb of King Hammurabi depicts the drinking of liquids from a pitcher through a tube.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

There are many children ill these spring days in the Starkweather school. The large puddles enroute to the class rooms are delightful temptations to the children and the result is sometimes rather unfortunate. In the kindergarten, pupils seem to be especially lacking. Ann Curtis, Gerald Bakewell, Hazel Darnell and Sylvia Olsen have lingering cases of whooping cough. Ronald Peley is in the Ann Arbor hospital with a mastoid operation. Jane Pierce is home with tonsillitis. Marian Wefsenmoe has pneumonia. Measles which have been so numerous have claimed Lois Ebersole and Bobby Seaman.

The first children in Miss Thompson's room have finished coloring a big picture to hang in the library corner. They have cut out pictures of good things to eat for breakfast, dinner, and supper and made two big posters. Some of the one B's have started in their new books. The children have brought pussy willows to school and they are learning a verse about them also.

The safety lessons of the second graders in Miss Stader's room are finished. The pupils are going to dramatize the safety rules they have learned. All of the children who have been absent with measles have returned to school. The children are learning to count by five's and ten's and will soon learn to tell time. The children enjoyed trying to fly their kites last Friday.

The third graders in Miss Benz's room have been working on the scenery for the first scene of their puppet show "Jeeves Henry". The scene is going to be in the cotton patch. George Maddox brought some real cotton to class which had been grown at his home in Alabama. The pupils took the seeds out of the cotton and planted them. They hope to get a nice cotton plant. The children have finished reading the story "Calico" about a black and white horse. Shirley Young won the spell-down.

Miss Slatcher's fourth graders have made paper mache animals which are very life-like. The class has developed an agricultural twist and decided to raise some flowers. The pupils are making the flower boxes themselves. They intend to grow five kinds of flowers.

In the spelling contest in Miss Bock's room there is a tie—each team having won for three weeks. Marilyn Vershure is one captain, Lynn Wilson is the other. In geography the four A's are studying the Mediterranean countries of Spain, Italy, and Greece.

Some of the fifth graders in Miss Farrand's room are going to carve the front of Mount Vernon out of ivory soap. The children in the five A have finished their study of the East North Central states. William Hamoun's spelling team is leading this week.

Mary Jane Olsaver was runner-up; Vivian Steiner and Paul Harsha tied at third place, all being representatives of the four freshman English classes.

Phyllis will go to River Rouge high school next Thursday, March 24 to compete with winners of the contest in other schools of the Twin Valley league.

T.V.A.A. SPEECH CONTEST TO BE HELD AT ECORSE

This year the Twin Valley Athletic association speech contest is to be held at Ecorse during the afternoon and evening of March 31. There will be three fields of speech—declamation, oratory, and extemporaneous speech. There will be individual awards for first places in the separate contests and a trophy for the school with the best record in all three contests.

The school representatives are Ronald Cook who will give the declamation "Ropes" and James Leo Schmitz who has written an oration entitled "Fatalism". This deals with failure in a democracy and the consequences resulting from this. The representative of the school in extemporaneous speech is Marilyn Holton.

A large crowd from Plymouth would give the speakers more confidence. The date—March 31, at Ecorse high school.

The Golden Text, from Psalm 125: 1, is: "They that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalm 145: 3, 10): "Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable. All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord; and thy saints shall bless thee." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 331): "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Holbrook and Harding streets. L. B. Stout, pastor. Liberal theology has taken the fire out of hell, the glory out of heaven, and the blood of Christ out of salvation. It has scientifically explained (?) the feeding of the five thousand, the raising of Christ from the dead; and boldly declare that man never fell—just a "fall up". Yet, crime cost to America is 16 billion dollars a year; 500,000 Americans are in prison; 400,000 are regularly engaged in criminal activity; one murder in the United States every 45 minutes. John Edgar Hoover reports three major crimes every minute, etc., etc. May God send to America a John the Baptist, John Bunyan, John Knox, John Wesley, or some other John with a vital christian experience and the fear of heaven in his heart to turn America back to Himself and a living faith in the Bible. The subject for the 10:00 o'clock hour Sunday will be: "The Ox and the Ass", Deut. 22: 10. Bible school, 11:15 a.m. B.Y.P.U., 6:30 p.m. Preaching, 7:30 p.m. "When God Comes as the Rain". "If my people which are called by my name shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." 2 Chron. 7: 14. The greatest hindrance to a revival today is the backslidden church member. A revival can only come to the church. A sinner is dead in trespasses and sins and has nothing to be revived. Too many have been lulled to sleep by preaching that has failed to declare that "the wages of sin is death"; but like the old serpent in the beginning have lied and said "Thou shalt not surely die". Sunday evening the pastor's subject will be "The Backslider's Return". Come and enjoy this service with us and we will do thee good. 280 North Main street.

Sportsmanlike Driving—Signal When Passing

Some motorists move on the highways as if they expected others to mind-readers. It is particularly noticeable when two cars try to pass the third at the same time. Usually it results from failure to give signals. It is not Sportsmanlike Driving. (An A.A.A. Safety Feature Released by Automobile Club of Michigan)

Proper Body Balance Is Held Important

"Constant use of the right leg, as in long continued driving a car, or, more commonly, the one-legged scooter of childhood, results in unequal development of muscles and detrimentally affects posture," says Dr. E. A. Rice, member of the research division of the National Chiropractic association.

"Man's natural tendency to right-handedness has continued for so many generations, that children are frequently born with the muscles of the right side overdeveloped," Dr. Rice continued. "Research shows this to be one of the reasons for infantile paralysis in children, distortion in the lumbar and sacral regions developing the paralysis in different parts of the body according to the degree and range of distortion, with its effect upon the superstructure."

"Experiments concerning comparative strength of the right and left sides of the bodies of large numbers of people developed that the right side is invariably stronger than the left. Since the muscles in their function of producing motion must always influence the position of bones, the posture, or position or relationship of the entire body must be changed to equalize the muscular tension.

"This is one reason why most people have faulty posture. In at least 85 percent of adults, one leg is longer than the other, and the same is true for the length of their arms. The need for preserving proper body balance is one of the vital considerations in maintaining good health."

Popularity of Tulips

Tulips are used in the annual festival in Turkey. The tulip mania in Holland was similar to the stock market craze of later times. Tulips became popular overnight and to this day they are grown in practically every country. Persian mythology has it that if a swain gave a tulip to his betrothed it would signify his love. The deeper and more vivid the color the greater and more intense was his affection for her.

THE GOOD EARTH...

a Heritage

ONCE upon a time, not so many years ago, it cost $3,000 to build a mile of farm line to carry electricity. In many places the farmer was required to pay a large part of this line cost before he could have it extended. This meant that electric service was a luxury available to relatively few farm families. Now, all that is changed.

In the area served by The Detroit Edison Company, farm electrification has been a large reality for ten years. This has been accomplished by continued efforts to reduce the cost of bringing service to farmers. Costs have been reduced in two ways: (1) Cost of building farm lines has been lowered by engineering developments. (2) The Michigan Plan for financing farm line extensions on a sound economic basis has brought rural electric lines to the farmer at little cost to him.

A new type of line was developed by Detroit Edison engineers, and new ways of erecting the line. Lines were placed in fields some distance back from the road, to eliminate the expense of tree trimming and the danger of interruption to service by trees falling against the line during storms. To allow longer spans, we made use of aluminum wire with a steel core, which is stronger for its weight, and makes a farm line possible at lower cost. The result: Instead of $3,000 per mile, farm lines are now built for less than 50 percent of the former cost.

The plan known as the Michigan Plan, and the one which this Company offers, makes it easy for a group of farmers to finance an electric line. A base price of $500 per mile of new line is charged, from which is deducted a credit of $100 for each customer taking service on that mile. Where there are five customers per mile of line, the total of their credits equals the base price of $500, and the line is built without cost to the farmers. When there are less than five customers per mile of line, the Company assumes anyhow the lion's share of the capital expenditure of building the farm line, and the customer only contributes a small part towards paying for poles and wire, insulators and transformers, labor and supervision.

Experience has proved this plan to be an equitable one. The results it has produced speak for themselves. It continues to stimulate economically sound electrification of rural areas. For the bounty of the earth, there is no substitute. The land is our heritage. Michigan is fortunate in its acres of rich farm lands. And in Southeastern Michigan, farm electrification has been a reality for ten years.

In Plymouth and Vicinity—Interesting News of Days Gone By Taken From The Plymouth Mail Files

Surrounded by their children, their grandchildren and great grandchildren and other relatives to the number of 36, Mr. and Mrs. William Gates, Sr., old and respected residents of this village celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at their home in north village, Sunday.

The Woman's Literary club met at the home of Mrs. J. J. Travis last Friday afternoon, the occasion being Anniversary Day. Each lady was privileged to invite one guest. After a solo by Miss Marguerite Hough, Mrs. Marguerite Phillips of Charlotte, was introduced and gave an interesting lecture on "Pictures in Art," taking for her subject many of the old masterpieces and works of the old masters, illustrating her talk by reproductions of the same.

Last Sunday night between 9:00 and 10:00 o'clock the canning factory and a part of the green house belonging to G. A. Raviler, who lives about a mile and a half east of town on Plymouth road, burned to the ground. The neighbors turned out and a bucket brigade was formed, but they were only able to save the auto truck from an adjoining shed, the contents of the building being totally destroyed, a loss of about $2,500 with no insurance. There was a very small insurance on the buildings. Mr. Raviler will not rebuild the canning factory.

The annual meeting of the Plymouth Athletic association will be held in the rooms of The Plymouth United Savings bank on Monday evening, March 24 at 7:30 p.m. Remember the time and place.

Mrs. Emory Hicks died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, Wednesday evening.

The muddy condition of Pennington avenue for the past week has revived the talk of paving that thoroughfare from Main street to Harvey street. We understand that some of the heaviest taxpayers on that avenue are heartily in favor of the improvement. It certainly is an improvement that is badly needed.

Miss Myers has been absent from the office of the Markham Air Rifle company for the past week on account of illness.

While examining a gun in the Daisy factory one day last week, George Hunter was shot in the hand by the accidental discharge of the gun. The shot entered his hand between the first and second fingers, and worked down into the palm. Mr. Hunter had to go to Detroit and have the X-ray put upon his hand before the shot could be located, however, it was removed and the wound is healing rapidly.

Mrs. O. F. Beyer and daughter, Mrs. E. C. Hough entertained a few friends at dinner Monday evening in honor of Mr. Hough's birthday.

Miss Dorothy Brown of Oakley, Kansas, is the guest of Mrs. I. N. Dickerson and other relatives.

Rainbow Fish Kin to Parrotfish
Technically known as wrasses, rainbow fish are kin to parrotfish, and have earned still another nickname, "lip-fish," because of their thick, rolled lips. Living among reefs, they feed off shell-fish, crushing back their mouths. Probably the most beautiful inhabitant of the deep, the rainbow fish makes a nest of seaweed, strengthening it with bits of coral and rock. Painstakingly, the fish weaves its nest, using enough seaweed to fill a peck basket.

How to Place Cousins
Here is the way to reckon cousins: Children of brothers and sisters are first cousins to one another. The children of first cousins are second cousins to one another; children of second cousins are third cousins to one another, and so on. The child of one's first cousin is a first cousin once removed; the grandchild of one's first cousin is a second cousin twice removed, and so on. Vice versa, the cousin of one's father or mother is a first cousin once removed, etc.

Our Early Lighthouses
The United States lighthouse service is one of the oldest of the federal agencies. It was provided for in the first session of Congress in 1789. When the federal government was first organized 12 lighthouses were turned over to it by various colonies. Of these early lighthouses six were in the confines of the Massachusetts colony and one each in Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware and South Carolina.

Early Use of Metal Furniture

Metal furniture is not a new idea. Egypt and Rome used iron, silver, gold, and bronze furniture, although what little remains is so sumptuous as to indicate that it was a luxury of kings. In 1770, however, a master varnisher of France whose name was Clement invented tole. He was accustomed to working in opaque varnish or enamel and he found sheet metal to be a perfect base. During the life of Louis XV Clement made cabinets, chairs, lamps and desks of tole. At first a curiosity the expensive metal furniture became a fashion, almost a mark of snobbery. The lamps had a dignity of their own which has survived to this day. Clement's other furniture was not as livable as wood furniture.

Shamrock is grown abundantly in the United States. It is not an exclusive Irish product.

CONCRETE HIGHWAYS PAY FOR THEMSELVES

Three reasons why concrete is the most economical pavement:

1. Long life and low upkeep—funds which would otherwise be spent for repairs may be used to complete your highway system.
2. Scientific investigation has proved that it costs motorists less to drive on concrete than on inferior surfaces.
3. Concrete builds business, promotes travel. A town on concrete is moved closer to all markets.

And in addition to these money-reasons concrete pavements give motorists relaxation... comfort... and swift travel with SAFETY!
