Owners Of Property On Main St. Ask City Commission To Make Decision On Location Of South Side's Frontage

Charge That Present Boundary Comes Close To Porches

Owners of property on the south side of Main street from the railroad tracks to Mill street, represented by counsel from Bond and Wilson, Pontiac, brought to the attention of the city commission Monday night a request that the status of property frontage on Main street be clarified.

The property owners said that a recent survey indicated that the front property line is very close to the porches of some of the homes and not about a foot inside the sidewalk where they believed the line should be.

Attorney for the residents in the locality will compile all possible material on the matter and present the facts to the city manager and the city treasurer within the next two weeks so that a report may be available at the next regular meeting of the city commission.

"The matter will be gone into very thoroughly," Clarence H. Elliott, city manager, said. "If we can settle the problem out of court we will do so. However, it may be that a decision will be required by a judge who has jurisdiction in the matter if the settlement proves to be legally difficult."

Main street, Elliott said, should be 56 feet wide. A centerline was established some time ago. On the north side of the street there was a distance of 33 feet from the centerline to the private property abutment, he explained, and if the same distance was assumed on the other side of the street, this would make the public property run almost to the porches of the homes.

This amounts to a difference of 14 feet in what the property owners believe is their land and the land that is supposedly owned by the city if the centerline is used as a gauge, as Mr. Elliott says.

There is no difference of opinion on the part of either the city officials or the property owners, Mr. Elliott said. Both parties are striving to clear up the matter, and if a court suit becomes necessary, it will be a matter of definition and not of complaint, he said.

Warning Issued On Garbage

Dr. Luther Peck, city health officer, issued a warning this week that all Plymouth residents are required to keep their garbage in tightly closed metal containers.

A few persons in town have been depositing garbage in open containers, he said, which is creating a city health problem. Such practices, he added, are strictly in violation of city health regulations.

The problem is not a personal one, he pointed out, but affects the welfare of neighbors and constitutes a danger to the city health.

Other city officials warned that unless the practice was discontinued steps would be taken to enforce the regulations, even to the point of prosecuting if necessary.

Garden Club To Enjoy Basket Picnic

The Plymouth branch of the National Woman's Farm and Garden association will join the Northville branch, Monday, August 8, at a basket picnic at 12:30 p.m. in Cass Benton park, Northville. Call 402-J or 420 for transportation. On Monday, August 15, the local branch will have a garden tea at the home of Mrs. Arthur White on Canton Center road. The gathering will take place at 3:00 p.m. Members of the board are asked to meet with Mrs. Paul Wiedman, president, this (Friday) afternoon at 1:30.

Blunk Bros. To Open 16th Storewide Sale

Blunk Brothers department store on Main street will open its sixteenth anniversary storewide sale Saturday. The sale will continue until Labor day, which provides 28 days for residents of Plymouth and vicinity to take advantage of bargains which will be listed in every department of the store, the management announced this week.

Interesting details of this sale will be found in the Blunk Bros. advertisement in this issue of The Plymouth Mail.

Curb And Gutter Project On Spring St. Completed

City WPA crews completed the curb and gutter project on Spring street this week. A few jobs remain to be done, however, such as constructing a wall at the end of the street.

The laying of sidewalks on the north side of Liberty street between Mill and Holbrook streets also was finished. The men now are working on the Adams street curb and gutter project.

Northville Fair Plans Are Completed

Officials Believe This Year's Event Will Be The Best

At a meeting of the Northville-Wayne county fair board Tuesday evening in the village hall at Northville, reports from various department heads indicated that all is in readiness for Northville's 22nd annual fair, which takes place this year on August 17, 18, 19, 20, a week earlier than last year.

President Elmer Smith and Secretary Dayton Bunn reported that they were convinced that this year's fair would be by far the best that Northville has ever had.

"Never saw so much interest displayed so early—and our big job right now is to make sure that everything is in ship-shape for the crowds we are going to have," declared President Smith at the meeting.

Secretary Dayton Bunn had the same optimistic report to make. He has recently visited all of the friendly little neighbors of Northville and reports the same interest.

The horse show will run four days this year instead of three days as in past years. The horse show ring has been enlarged and more boxes have been provided for the guests around the track. Entries are larger than ever before. Interest in the junior horse show which has come to be one of the big features of the fair has never been greater than this year, reported Harry Clark, who has complete supervision over the horse show.

Secretary Bunn is devoting much of his time to making room for all the exhibits there will be this year. Some slight changes have been made as well as many general improvements about the fairgrounds. In fact, the grounds (Continued on Page Nine)

Wednesday Is Hottest Day

Plymouth residents Wednesday suffered from the hottest day of 1938—it was hot and humid.

The mercury crowded well above 90 degrees from early morning until late in the afternoon. The slight breeze that prevailed for a time did not help much, as it was not the cooling kind that sometimes brings relief.

The unusual heat kept many people from the streets and businesses not only in Plymouth but elsewhere was exceedingly slow all day Wednesday—except at the ice cream and soft drink places.

Urges Townsend Club To Keep Active

At the meeting of the Plymouth Townsend club held Monday evening in Grange hall, M. G. Frost, of Detroit, the speaker, urged local members of the club to put forth a special effort to get new members.

"It is important that you do in order to keep your organization functioning as it should. Not only that, but we must make ourselves felt in the elections," he said.

He pointed out the successes of the club in the Florida elections and declared that future success could be won only by all working together.

The next meeting will be held Monday evening, August 8, at 8 o'clock in the Grange hall. Mrs. William Dares of Detroit will be the speaker.

Best Ever

ELMER L. SMITH
President of the Northville-Wayne County Fair Association

When in Plymouth Wednesday in connection with the Northville-Wayne County Fair, President Elmer Smith declared that there was every indication that this year's fair would be far the best that the association had ever conducted. He said plans have been made to make Plymouth day a real one. The Plymouth high school band will be a guest of the fair on Plymouth day and will lead the parade from this city to Northville.

State Horse Shoe Pitching Tourney Opens Saturday

About 30 To Seek Title Held 2 Years By Plymouth Youth

About 30 of Michigan's ace horse shoe pitchers, young and old men who can do as many tricks with a u-turn of steel as a major league pitcher can with a baseball, will go into action Saturday on the courts at Riverside park in the annual Michigan Horse Shoe Pitching tournament.

The defending champion, who has held the title two years straight, is Bobbie Hitt, Plymouth high school junior who requested that the bouts be held in Plymouth this year.

Hitt is out to equal the record of Ed Walls, of Detroit, who won the championship three years running. Walls, who last held the title in 1935, has won it five times altogether, although not consecutively.

Hitt will enter the tournament with confidence. "I won last year," he explained, "and I've been going much better this year."

Among those who will seek to wrest the title from him are Ed Walls, James Skinner, of Battle Creek, elderly thrower who held the title in 1935; James Burt, former Detroit city champion; Carl Lundgren, the present Detroit champion and the runner-up in last year's state championship; and Joe Lasco, of Flint, state champion in 1928.

Among those expected to attend the tournament are President McKinley of the Michigan Horse Shoe association. The winners will receive the James Lature Cup, with a gold horse shoe mounted on it, in addition to a cash prize which usually amounts to between $40 and $50.

The tournament, which is open to all, will open Saturday morning for qualifying rounds. Each contestant will pitch 350 shoes. The highest players will compete in a round robin elimination Sunday and the eight highest will take part in the finals.

The finals will be held Monday afternoon and will be one of the features of the Plymouth community picnic.

PROCLAMATION

By The Mayor of Plymouth
Henry Hondorp

To the citizens of Plymouth:
Monday, August 8, having been selected as the date for the first community picnic for all of the residents of Plymouth to be held in Plymouth-Riverside park, it is a pleasant duty for me, as mayor of this city, to officially proclaim Monday-afternoon, August 8, as a civic holiday. Every one in Plymouth, both young and old, should arrange to take part in this community event. It will not only bring us all closer together, but it will give all of our citizens an opportunity to enjoy a day of recreation with our own neighbors and friends. The committees of local business men have spent much time in working out the details in order to make the day a joyous one for everybody. The city officials of Plymouth find a real pleasure in endorsing the picnic and urging that it be made an annual affair. May every one attend and enjoy the occasion to the fullest extent.

HENRY HONDORP, Mayor.

Ordinance To Regulate Public Dances Under Consideration Of Commission; Stiff Penalties Set For Violations

Would Require Permit To Conduct Dances And Schools

A proposed ordinance to govern the conduct of public dances and of dance schools in Plymouth was offered to the city commission Monday night. The ordinance was tabled for the commission pending a study of its provisions. A vote on it is expected to be taken a week from Monday at the next regular meeting.

The matter of adopting an ordinance on dances arose two weeks ago when a petition was presented to the city commission in protest against the dances which were conducted at the Grange hall on Union street and the Jewell and Blain hall on Ann Arbor Trail.

The petition, signed by about 20 residents in the area, protested that the dances caused too much disturbance and that the dances threw bottles and other debris on nearby lawns.

The proposed ordinance on which city commissioners will vote provides a fine not to exceed $100 or maximum imprisonment of 90 days or both, in the discretion of the judge, for conviction of violation of any provision of the new rule.

The tentative ordinance would require sponsors of public dances or operators of dance schools to obtain a permit. The permit for dances would cost 50 cents for each dance. Dancing school permits would cost $2.00 a year.

Terms under which the permits would be issued specify that sanitary and health regulations must be approved by the health officer and that fire regulations must receive the approval of the fire chief.

The ordinance, however, reserves the right for fraternal organizations, churches, chartered clubs, and schools to hold dances for their sole use without obtaining a permit.

Further provisions ban smoking while dancing, any indecent acts or any disorder or conduct of a gross, violent or vulgar character, or any intoxicated person in the dance hall.

The sponsors are held responsible for the actions of the dancers and are required to provide a capable floorman in the dance hall at all times for this purpose.

Authorities are granted the right to clear the dance hall if any of the banned acts are committed.

The tentative ordinance also provides that it shall be illegal for a person to leave the dance hall and be re-admitted without the original charge being made.

The ordinance provides for a closing deadline on week days, but this time limit has not yet been set. The same admission fee shall be charged for both men and women, it provides.

Any form of marathon or endurance dancing or walking also are outlawed under the terms of the projected ordinance.

Wolf's Market Holds Grand Opening Sale

Wolf's Market on Penniman avenue inaugurated its three-day grand opening sale Thursday. The store, which was damaged by fire July 17, has been completely remodeled and fresh stocks of merchandise have been installed.

In addition, new varieties of products have been placed on sale to augment the lines carried before the fire. New fixtures will assist customers in shopping, the management said. Complete details of the sale today (Friday) and Saturday are provided in an advertisement carried in this issue of The Plymouth Mail.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Willett called on Mrs. Roy Warner in Salem Tuesday.

A Gala Day

HENRY HONDORP

The mayor of Plymouth has issued a proclamation urging every one to go to the community picnic Monday and enjoy the day. "The whole town is going to close up and we are going to have a real time, with plenty of amusement for both the young and old," said the mayor. "Certainly the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is entitled to a lot of credit for what it is doing and I want to thank President Corbett for the good work he is doing," declared the mayor. Practically every business place in Plymouth will be closed Monday afternoon so that all can enjoy the big picnic.

Set Fence To Guard Cemetery

The city commission received a communication from the Wayne county board of park trustees Monday that material for several rods of fence was being shipped to the city.

The city will erect the fence within the next few weeks at the border between the Wayne county park and Riverside cemetery.

The city commission had questioned the fencing material earlier after it was learned that considerable damage had been caused in the cemetery by thoughtless and careless picnickers and other users of the park who had crossed into the cemetery grounds.

The new fence will shut off the cemetery from the park and will prevent recurrence of the damage, it is expected.

Sam and Son Drugs Opens This Week

Sam and Son Drug store on Penniman avenue announces its opening this week. The store, which will be under the management of Joseph Lippson, is unique in this section because it is lighted entirely with neon tubing. There are none of the ordinary type of electrical lights in the store, the management announces. Further details of the opening sale can be found in this issue of The Plymouth Mail.

Two-Way Police Radio For City Use Demonstrated To Plymouth Officials

City and police officials attended a demonstration Monday of a two-way radio system by W. R. Watson, of the Wayne county sheriff's department, from a sheriff's car to a set established in the Plymouth police department in the city hall.

The car roamed around the city limits, in constant touch with the operator of the set at headquarters. Those in the car held a speaking tube with which they talked to the police station and a loud speaker in the machine conveyed messages broadcast from the station to those in the car. The range of the set is 10 miles.

Watson made the demonstration program as part of a contemplated radio system in city police stations and patrol cars throughout the county. He expects to have the system in operation within the next few months.

Even more extensive use of police cars equipped with radio was urged this week at the Detroit convention of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, which was attended by Chief Vaughan Smith.

Capt. Caesar J. Scavarda, of the state police, explained a program stressing the need for radio-equipped cars in all towns in the state of 5,000 population or more. In addition, Chief William P.

Rutledge, of Wyandotte, who was one of the organizers of the association, urged the erection of 30 teletype stations at strategic points in outstate Michigan to correlate the Wayne county teletype system, of which Plymouth is a unit.

According to the plan under which a Plymouth police radio system would operate if it were installed, the local police department would be in constant touch with any police cars roaming the city, with deputy sheriff cars in areas adjacent to the city and with a central office at Wayne.

In event of a crime here, a bank robbery, for example, warnings could be broadcast direct from the Plymouth police office to cars on the road in the city and outlying areas.

In addition, a call would be made to the Wayne "central" which would set the machinery of the sheriff's department and the state police into quick operation to trap any bandits if they should elude the net strung up around the immediate area of the crime.

Both officials of the city and of the police department were uncertain this week whether such a system would be installed in Plymouth. There was doubt also as to whether such a system would be financed by the city or by the county.

100 Young People Will Lead Affair In Kellogg Park

Plymouth young people from the ages of 10 to 20 will present a community sing in Kellogg park at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 24, it was announced this week by Ruth Hadley, who is directing the activity.

Over 100 of the city's youth will take part in the affair, which is expected to draw wide interest in the community. Permission to use the park was granted this week by the city commission, and approval also has been made of the use of the microphone loud-speaking system for the event.

The project is being sponsored by the Plymouth Women's Club and the city recreation commission, but will be presented entirely under the direction and through the efforts of the young people.

The city commission had questioned the fencing material earlier after it was learned that considerable damage had been caused in the cemetery by thoughtless and careless picnickers and other users of the park who had crossed into the cemetery grounds.

The new fence will shut off the cemetery from the park and will prevent recurrence of the damage, it is expected.

Livonia To Provide Free Text Books

Livonia township school district No. 6, in the annual school meeting, unanimously adopted a resolution for the district to provide free text books, supplies and work books.

This action is in step with the Plymouth school district, which voted last month to provide free text books for Plymouth school children, beginning at the opening of the fall term.

The Livonia district also unanimously elected Fred C. Weinert as trustee for a term of three years.

In a close three-way race for election as trustee for a period of one year, Jack Whitehead defeated Herb McGregor and L. Britton.

Both officials of the city and of the police department were uncertain this week whether such a system would be installed in Plymouth. There was doubt also as to whether such a system would be financed by the city or by the county.

Variety Of Contests Will Feature Program On Monday

For five hours next Monday Plymouth is expected to take on the appearance of a ghost town as residents leave their homes with picnic baskets in hand and merchants close up their shops to attend the city's first community picnic.

The picnic will be held from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. in Riverside park in the space from the wading pool up to and including the horse shoe pitching courts on both sides of the road.

The horse shoe pitching courts will play an important part in the picnic as the Michigan horse shoe pitching championship final matches are scheduled to entertain the picnickers in the afternoon.

A note of local pride will be infused into the contests as Plymouth residents cheer the defending champion, Bobbie Hitt, Plymouth high school youth, who has held the record two years and will seek to take the title for the third running year.

When asked that the employees of the Daisy company would like to take part in the community picnic on Monday, Edward C. Hough immediately made arrangements to operate the plant today, Friday, and close the plant tomorrow, Saturday, to enjoy the day at that might.

The company is now operating four days a week, and the re-arrangement of the schedule will enable the workers to get in full time this week as well as next week and enjoy the picnic, too.

The community recently resumed operations after the summer vacation period. While business is no where near normal, officials of the company are manufacturing ahead in the hopes that there will be an improved condition during the coming fall and winter.

The audience will participate in singing many numbers which are known to all, such as "Old Black Joe," "She'll Be Coming Around the Mountain" and "Ain't Laurie." The singing will be accompanied by Miss Carol Campbell, and Mrs. M. J. O'Connor and the Women's Club will serve as advisers.

A novel feature of the program as tentatively outlined will be a "sweet versus swing" number, in which the Hi-Steppers, orchestra composed of high school seniors, will take part.

Quartet, solo, chorus, instrumental and community singing numbers are planned in addition to an Indian-girl dance which will open the program.

The program has been arranged according to classifications, with such features as Indian, cowboy, Spanish and Mexican, Negro, hillbilly, Gay Nineties, sea chantey, wartime and sweet versus swing entertainments included. Details of the program are yet to be completed.

All young persons who are interested in participating in the entertainment are urged by Miss Hadley to meet in the grade school auditorium for practice at 2:30 p.m. each Thursday afternoon.

Fix Dates For Crow Shooting Contest During Last Week In August

President Champe Secures Permits For Participants

Hunters who live in and around Plymouth are going to have a chance to get in some good practice work before the hunting season opens! And that's big news for the gun powder fans about here!

At the meeting of the Western Wayne County Wildlife association held Monday evening at the Mayflower hotel, President Brick Champe announced that he had made arrangements with the state conservation department for a crow hunting contest to take place probably Friday and Saturday, August 26 and 27.

The department has already furnished him with necessary permits for those who desire to try their luck in crow shooting. It would be well for any one who plans to do a little shooting during the contest to see President Champe in the near future and get the necessary permits, which have provided the association.

Prizes for the crow shooting contest have not yet been announced, but President Champe says he will be able in the near future to let the contestants know what the most successful hunters will get besides the joy of doing some shooting before the hunting season opens.

At the meeting Monday night it was also announced that the association will have an exhibit at the Northville-Wayne county fair, which takes place August 17, 18, 19, and 20. There will be a display of the many fine trophies that members of the club possess. It is known that there are some mighty fine specimens of birds, animals and fish in the possession of club members and many of these will be displayed at the fair.

There was also a display of some excellent motion pictures at Monday night's meeting.

Redmen To Hold Big Picnic Fete

The first annual celebration and picnic sponsored by the Ottawa Tribe No. 7 of the Improved Order of Redmen will be held at East Shore beach, Walled Lake, Saturday, August 27. It was announced this week. The beach is at the foot of Fourteen Mile road.

The gala affair is expected to draw many from this entire section of the state. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the order.

Entertainment to be provided will include swimming, speedboat rides, motor scooter rides and other activities.

The celebration will be featured by a bathing beauty contest and a huge stage extravaganza in which 30 actors and actresses will take part.

Officials of the order sponsoring the celebration emphasized the fact that the general public is invited to attend and take part in the festivities. There will be no charge for parking, picnic tables and other conveniences, they said.

Livonia Pitcher Wins 8 In Row

Harry Wolfe, son of Harry S. Wolfe, Livonia township clerk, is burning up the Nebraska baseball league as a pitcher for the Sioux City (Iowa) team, which is well out in front in a six-team race for the pennant.

Monday Wolfe pitched his eighth consecutive victory for Sioux City in a 13-inning contest with Norfolk. The score was 3 to 2. He has won half of the team's 18 victories for the season.

Sioux City sports writers acclaimed Wolfe's performance Monday as the "game of the year". He allowed only seven hits, didn't walk a man and permitted only one earned run.

In the women's division, Norma Coffin advanced to the semi-finals by defeating Elaine Bifert in the quarter-finals. The quarter-final match between Miss Hadley and Betty Barnes had not been

Plymouth Girl Ends Three-Week Alaskan Tour

Betty Mastick Returns As Member Of Buchanan Group

When Betty Mastick is ready for a honeymoon she has no doubt about where she wants to go. There's no honeymoon in immediate prospect, she says, but when there is she would like to go to Alaska, which she visited during the last three weeks.

Miss Mastick, who will be a senior in Plymouth high school next fall, came home Monday after a thrilling journey as a member of the Buchanan group.

The annual tour to Alaska is sponsored by George E. Buchanan, who pays a third of the expenses as an "honor debt" which the recipients may pay if and when they choose with the understanding that the payment goes into a fund to send others to Alaska.

Miss Mastick wasn't the only one who thought that Alaska would be ideal for a honeymoon. All the 18 girls who made the trip confided the same hope to Mr. Buchanan, Miss Mastick said. About 50 boys and girls made the tour.

She was impressed particularly by the beautiful Banff-Lake Louise section of Canada in the Rockies, she said. The tour went through that area to Vancouver. The party took a coastwise ocean liner and touched at many ports on the route to Upper Alaska, including Juneau and Shagway, where they transferred to another boat going farther north.

The return to blistering Michigan weather might have impressed Miss Mastick all the more with the advantages of Alaska, for while she was there, she said, she was very comfortable in the kind of clothes that kept the chill out in Plymouth last spring. The weather was cool all the time, she said.

One of the features of the Buchanan tours is that those making the trip must earn part of their expenses. Mr. Buchanan asks that the young travelers earn one-third of the cost and that the parents pay another third to augment the third which he provides.

Miss Mastick said that she earned her part of the expenses in a variety of ways, including house work, tending children and other activities. However, she did so well that she was able to provide two-thirds of the cost of the trip without assistance from her parents.

Sassafras was esteemed as a "sovereign remedy" in the 16th and 17th centuries.

War Vets Meet

John H. Smith, one-hundred-and-eight-year-old Confederate army veteran of Biloxi, Miss., chats with a fellow inmate of Jefferson Davis home about the forty-eighth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans which will open Tuesday, August 30 at Columbia, S. C. Also attending will be members of the Sons of Confederate Veterans and the Southern Memorial association. South Carolina appropriated $12,000 for the gathering.

What's the Answer?

MOST of us today think of football as strictly an American game and will be very much surprised to learn that it was conceived and first played in Japan as early as the Seventh century. It was very popular among court circles and was limited mostly to those enjoying high royal rank. It was called football to distinguish it from the Roman national game of handball.

Miss Iva Sutherland And Walter Love Have Church Wedding

The wedding of Iva Jane Sutherland, of Plymouth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Sutherland, of Hermansville, U.P., and Walter James Love, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Love, of Nankin Mills, took place Friday evening, July 29, at 7:00 p.m. in the Newburg Methodist church with the Rev. Clifton G. Hoffman performing the ceremony before a large group of relatives and friends.

Marion Luttermoser sang "I Love You Truly" and Dorothy Odell, of Garden City, played "Because" on the violin, while the wedding party took their places before baskets of gladioli and roses.

The bride was gowned in light blue satin, floor length, with veil of finger tip length. Her flowers were blush roses. She was accompanied by her sister, Genevieve, who wore a gown of yellow, also floor length, and carried yellow roses. Gladys Love, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl and was attired in a dainty gown of pink organdie.

William Sutherland, brother of the bride was the ring bearer. Clyde Love attended his brother as best man and James Love, another brother of the bridegroom, was an usher.

A reception followed in the Civic hall on Middle Belt road with about 200 guests present. The happy couple returned Tuesday evening from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and are at home at 33043 Ann Arbor Trail. Mrs. Love chose an ensemble of blue for traveling.

The young couple have the best wishes of a host of friends in their wedded life.

A large crowd was present to hear the speeches and presentation of Mr. Moore, who has announced his candidacy for congress in the 16th congressional district. This district includes Canton, Nankin, and all the other townships lying south of Plymouth in Wayne county.

Frank Hutchinson presided over the occasion which was begun with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. Charles Madigan, Jr. sang a number of solos throughout the evening, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. George Fanning.

C. L. Butterfield spoke first on behalf of Mr. Moore and gave encouraging reports of the support that has shown itself in Mr. Moore's cause. Others who spoke during the evening were Barney Malepa, Mr. and Mrs. William Buckingham, of Detroit, William Van Moll, who is chairman of the 16th district congressional republican party, the Rev. Father John Furlong, Dr. Eugene Keys of Dearborn, Fred Fisher of Belleville, Mark Harvey of Dearborn, and Harley E. Smith.

M. H. Tinkham presented Mr. Moore who spoke of his policies and his desire to run for the office which is now held by Congressman John Lesinski. Mr. Moore is well and favorably known in this end of his district and is regarded as a real contender in the race.

The Rev. Father Leo Roberge, who offered the St. Mary's hall for the meeting, was unable to attend.

We are apt to love praise, but not to deserve it. But if we would deserve it, we must love virtue more than that.—William Penn. Prayer is the soul's sincere desire, Uttered or unexpressed, That trembles in the breast.

Northville Plans Are Completed

Thursday, August 18, has been set aside as Plymouth day, and the fair officials are making the same efforts as in past years to keep that one of the biggest days of the entire fair.

While local arrangements have not yet been completed, it is known that Plymouth residents are planning to cooperate as in past years.

The Presbyterian ladies of Plymouth will be more than interested in view of the fact that they have been granted the main concession for serving meals on the fairgrounds. Their place will be under the grandstand and workmen are already busy making the place ready for the opening day.

Harry Robinson of Plymouth will start the races as in previous years. Mr. Robinson declares there seems to be more interest in the track events than usual, and the entry list is already being rapidly filled.

The list of superintendents for the various departments and events has been announced as follows:

Prayer, watching, and working combined with self-immolation, are God's gracious means for accomplishing whatever has been successfully done for the Christianization and health of mankind.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Tax Collections Coming In Slowly

City tax collections this week totaled $23,560.78, slightly lower than for the same period last year, which amounted to $25,467.80, City Treasurer Charles H. Garlett announced. He added, however, that he expected a heavy run of payments in the next few days before August 10, deadline for payment of taxes.

He said that the city tax collection offices in the city hall would be open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Saturday to accommodate residents who wish to pay their taxes on Saturday afternoon.

Win Children's Games

Barbara Stitt and William Stout led activities of Starkweather playground recreational program last week. Barbara won the girls' hop-scotch tournament and William was champion of the boys' checker contests. This week the girls are playing "O'Leary" and the boys are engaging in ten-pins competition.

If one would be successful in the future, let him make the most of the present.

Cranbrook Tour Leads To Another

An educational tour of Cranbrook Institute of Science last week, which was sponsored by the Plymouth Woman's Club, proved so successful that another trip is being planned for Sunday, August 28.

The small group that attended the first tour was enthusiastic. It is expected that the second party will be much larger. Those who attended said that they considered the displays were very interesting. The fluorescent display alone was worth the trip, they said.

It was viewed in a dark room under the ultra-violet rays and for sheer beauty nothing could rival the colors nature produced in the stones. The work of James Wood, taxidermist known to many Plymouth residents, was presented against a beautifully painted background. Several real life pictures were presented. Anyone interested in making the second trip to Cranbrook is requested to get in touch with Maurice Woodworth, Bill Thams or Ruth Hadley and transportation will be arranged. The group will leave from the city hall at 1:00 p.m. Sunday, August 28. It is hoped that about 100 persons will attend, the sponsors said. It is estimated that today there are 20,000 bowlers in New Jersey.

YOUR OIL FREE

(UP TO THE FULL MARK)

IF I FORGET TO CHECK IT—

WHEN you drive in my station, I'm going to remember to check your oil. We Shell dealers listed below have agreed to this.

If we forget, just say, "Didn't you forget something?"—and without any hesitation we'll bring your crankcase up to the full mark with Golden Shell. FREE!

WHY THE BRAINSTORM? Well, we know we ought to keep your oil up to the full mark for safety's sake. Besides, we've got an oil that will do the job for your engine like never before.

It's made for the kind of driving you do—STOP and GO. About ten times a day you shut off your engine. Your oil drains down into the crankcase.

When you start up again, engine parts grind together "dry" of lubrication until your oil gets up there. About 3/4 of all the wear on your engine comes in starting.

GOLDEN SHELL OIL LICKS THIS. It leaps to every moving engine part the instant you step on the starter. And it's tough, too, so that it won't break down under the heat of steady driving. In fact—

There's no finer oil at any price than Golden Shell.

Super Shell Leads Softball League As Play-Offs Near

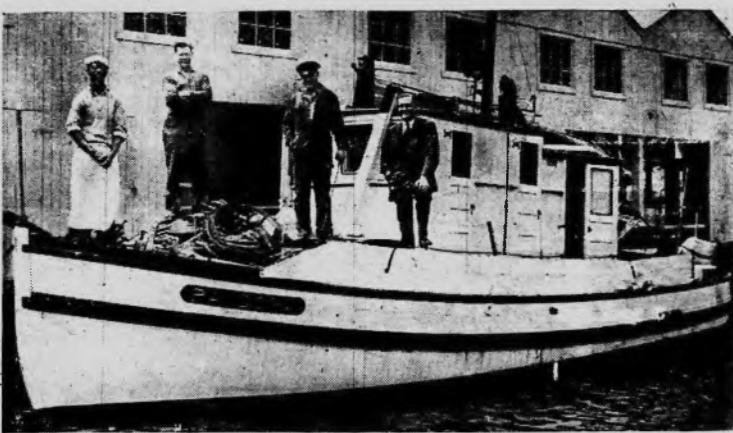

Upsets Likely In Race For Final Contests

Plymouth industrial softball teams neared the end of their regular schedule this week and will compete in play-offs next Tuesday. The first section of the eight-team league will be eligible for the play-off competition.

Only Super Shell, which battled its way into leadership of the race this week by defeating Schraders, was assured entrance into the play-offs. Ties or defeats offered a possibility that any of the other three teams in the first division could be eliminated from the play-offs.

In contests last week Daisy defeated Fleetwing 13 to 3; Plymouth Hardware defeated Red and White 6-5; Super Shell downed Peter's Shoes 8-2, and Plymouth Mail defeated Schrader 9-1.

Expedition Erects Memorial to Rogers, Post

Making a special trip to Point Barrow, Alaska, in the boat, Pandora, this crew will erect a marker at Wallakpa lagoon Monday, August 15, scene of the airplane crash exactly three years ago that killed Will Rogers, famous comedian, and Wiley Post, round-the-world aviator. At the same time Rogers will be remembered at the southwest historical pageant in Amarillo, Texas. On Friday, August 19 the second annual memorial rodeo and dedication of the Will Rogers stadium is scheduled at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Plymouth Mail is scheduled to play Plymouth Hardware today (Friday).

The standings are:

Super Shell	9	4	.692
Ply. Hdwe	8	5	.615
Schrader	8	5	.615
Ply. Mail	8	5	.615

"Potter's Field" Is Girl Ball Players Not Forgotten Beat Ann Arbor

Nancy Brown, who is well-known to many readers of the "Experience" column in the Detroit News, is responsible for the landscaping of the Eloise cemetery, which, for so many years, was in need of care and planning.

About a year ago, Nancy secured a grant from the WPA and added to that $100 received from donations and went about making preparations for the reconstruction of the plot in which so many friendless have been buried.

Through her help the old cemetery has been resodded and a large number of pine trees planted to shade and protect the graves from the rain and sun. It is now nearing completion, bearing no longer the aspects of a paupers' field.

Round, flat cement headstones have been replaced for wooden sticks that crudely marked each place, making it possible now to run the lawn mowers over each part of the plot, with no regard for unsightly wooden obstacles. Each cement block is marked with a number which corresponds to a number in the records of the hospital which reveals the name of the deceased and the conditions of his death—another system which will lessen the confusion of former days.

Nancy has championed the cause of many of the patients confined to the institution, and has repeatedly shown her kindness and consideration by gifts and encouraging words.

The girls' all-star softball team defeated a club from Ann Arbor Wednesday, July 27, in an exciting overtime contest.

The Plymouth outfit entered the seventh inning six runs in the red but emerged with a shower of hits that tied up the score. The game ran into the tenth inning before the Plymouth girls set the pace at too fast a clip for the visitors, running away with the same eight runs to seven.

Women's softball contests have been showing such action recently that the girls have been taking spectators away from the men's contests.

The fast-moving Thelma Beauty shop team stepped out and won a contest from the fighting Alumni team Tuesday to win unchanged first place in the league.

In a well-played game Thursday, July 28, the Leaders' club defeated the Midgets. The Midgets will play the Beauty shop Tuesday and the Alumni will meet the Leaders' club on Thursday.

The standings are:

	W	L	Pct.
Thelma Beauty Shop	4	1	.800
Alumni	3	2	.600
Leaders' Club	3	2	.600
Midgets	0	5	.000

Wheat For Cows Cuts Feed Cost

Simple arithmetic proves that feeding the new wheat crop to dairy cows at present prices makes a saving of about 25 to 30 cents a hundredweight for all that can be substituted in the dairy ration.

A. C. Baltzer, Michigan State college extension dairyman, suggests the new wheat crop thus offers a chance, until the new corn crop matures, of producing milk more efficiently.

"Wheat is not a complete food for dairy cattle, but neither is corn," Baltzer points out.

Found for pound the feeding value works out about the same as corn in energy value, but the wheat offers more protein. Alfalfa users find that wheat makes a good supplement to use with alfalfa pasture or hay.

In price the wheat has about a 25-cent advantage over corn for every hundredweight used, about 30 cents over bran.

How to use this wheat has been studied out by the dairy department at the college. Cracking or rolling is preferred to fine grinding. From one-fifth to one-third of the supplement can be wheat. With good summer pasture an ideal supplement mixture appears to be 200 pounds wheat, 200 each of corn and barley or rye, and 100 pounds of soybean oil-meal. Another mixture could be 350 pounds corn, 150 wheat and 100 soybean oil-meal.

For poor pasture a better supplement would be 100 each of wheat, corn and either soybean or cottonseed meal. To all of these mixtures the college recommends adding two percent steamed bonemeal and one percent salt.

West Virginia Rightly Lays Claim To Possession Of One Of America's Most Beautiful Spots, White Sulphur Springs

The Greenbrier and part of its 7,000 acre Estate in the heart of the Alleghany Mountains. The center portion of the hotel was built in 1913 and the two wings were added in 1931 to form the new Greenbrier. In the background may be glimpsed the Casino-Clubhouse with its five tennis courts and part of the three golf courses comprising 45 holes.

Few Places In World Can Compare In Natural Beauty

In all the world no section has enjoyed the popularity of American people as has the spring country of the Virginias, the scene of the recent annual meeting of the National Editorial association. Before the days of the railroad, before there were any transportation facilities except the coach-and-four and the lumbering stages, the springs of West Virginia enjoyed the patronage of the South and North's society. They came during the nineteenth century in great hordes, thousands of them, bearing up gayly under the considerable strain of travel, to spend their days or weeks at the springs.

Hub of a large part of the

The famous White Sulphur Spring on the lawn surrounding the Greenbrier. The beneficial powers of these waters were first enjoyed by white settlers in 1778. The springhouse, surmounted by a wooden statue of the goddess Hygieia, was built in 1835 and presented to White Sulphur Springs by Mr. S. Henderson of New Orleans, who built and lived in what is now the President's Cottage.

activity of the section was, and will be White Sulphur Springs with its magnificent Greenbrier hotel, justifiably called America's most beautiful all-year resort. Since 1778 this gracious spa has existed in Greenbrier county—a source of pride to the county, to the state and to the nation. Its present glory is far different from what it was on that summer day 160 years ago when the springs had its first white patient. In looks, in patronage and in facilities there is vast chasm of years of development and enlargement and promotion. Compare its present outlook with what it was then. A party of hardy pioneers pushed their way through the virgin growth, in search of a fabulous spring of which they had heard tall tales from the Indians. Their burden was a Mrs. Anderson, painfully and hopelessly crippled with rheumatism. The group finally arrived at the green-encompassed dell, where these famous waters gushed from the ground in a never-ending stream. Felling a great tree and fashioning from it a crude tub by hollowing it out with an axe, these settlers, rough, uncouth but skillful, filled it with waters from the spring and heated them with white hot limestone from a nearby fire. Into this contraption Mrs. Anderson was bathed, to be cured forever of her ills. Today there is every facility. Not only as a spa, but as a great playground, word of White Sulphur Springs has reached round the world. Three golf courses, five tennis courts, two hundred and eighty miles of bridle trails, lakes, valleys, mountains, a one hundred and five foot swimming pool, a complete medical department staffed by expert doctors and hydrotherapists. Seventy two hundred acres now, with two polo fields, skeet club, private landing field for airplanes. Hundreds of socialites gathered in The Greenbrier's six hundred rooms and twenty five cottages. That is White Sulphur Springs today. The comparison is odious with that long distant day when Mrs. Anderson first felt relief in the healing waters: the comparison is poor even with a hundred years ago, when beaver-hatted beaux and crinoline frocked Belles trod the green turf of the Springs' lawns, dined in the separate dining hall and danced in the separate ball room.

Greenbrier county is proud of its spas, its springs and the glory they have brought its hills and valleys. It is proud of White Sulphur and for what it stands and, seeing it, the citizens of Greenbrier are reminded of the gracious words of Mark Pencil, written in 1839: "The whole face of things has a look of enchantment, as if the inhabitants of some fairy isle were turning out to welcome the coming of expected strangers."

High on a promontory above the oldest spring house in the United States, stands the most historical spot in Greenbrier county, on the estate of The Greenbrier hotel. It is a white, two-story, colonnaded house of Southern Colonial style, a landmark in the history of the entire nation. It is called the president's cottage and now houses small but creditable museum of White Sulphur Springs memorabilia, a museum in essence of the very country, for in this resort and its surrounding hills much of America's history has been enacted.

Thirteen United States presidents have visited this picturesque little cottage, from Andrew Jackson, number seven on the list of chief executives, to Woodrow Wilson, number 28. Three of these 13 have actually lived in it, have used it as their summer White House and have run the affairs of the nation from its breeze-cooled porch.

Martin VanBuren, little Van, was the first United States president to use it as his White House, although Jackson preceded him before the cottage was finished in 1835. VanBuren came to the springs while in office in 1837, his first summer as chief executive. His successor, the ill-fated Whig, William Henry Harrison, did not survive the rigors of campaigning long enough and left it to John Tyler, the tenth president, to come in his stead. Tyler found the place attractive and returned for a second summer. As president in 1843, Tyler moved from the heat of Washington to the cool Alleghanies and set up his White House; but business was not his sole pursuit, for he met and wooed the beautiful Julia Gardner that year. Married the following year, the couple returned to White Sulphur Springs for the summer of 1844. The third chief executive to make the cottage his summer White House was Millard Fillmore, suave, dapper thirteenth president, from New York. His year was 1851, a season that still stands out as a highlight of the many social zeniths of the Springs.

The complete list of presidents in their order includes Andrew Jackson, seventh president; Martin VanBuren, eighth; John Tyler, tenth; James Knox Polk, eleventh; Zachary Taylor, twelfth; Millard Fillmore, thirteenth; Franklin Pierce, fourteenth; James Buchanan, fifteenth; Ulysses S. Grant, eighteenth; Chester Alan Arthur, twenty-first; Benjamin Harrison, twenty-third; William Howard Taft, twenty-seventh; and Woodrow Wilson, twenty-eighth.

The shagbark hickory may reach an age of from 150 to 200 years.

Imperial airways are now carrying a new type of passenger—crayfish—to Africa as "flying doctors." They are released in streams to feed on dysentery-propagating snails.

SLIM SLOCUM SAID TO HIS FRIEND CY Perkins: "Why don't you wake up and let your wife know who is the boss?" Cy replied: "I don't have to do that, she knows already." "AN AMERICAN WAY FOR AMERICAN PEOPLE."

Dr. Stanley W. Insley of Detroit was a member of the commission appointed some three years ago to recommend to the state legislature a revision of the welfare laws of this state. When the report was made, he refused, along with other members of the commission, to sign it, because, he pointed out, that it did not reflect the honest views of all of the members of the commission and the recommendations were not for the good of all the people of the state.

He filed a minority report, but notwithstanding his efforts to bring it to the attention of the state, it was buried so deep that it never saw the light of day.

Then came the enactment of the set of laws drafted by an imported "executive secretary" of the commission from New York City. A powerful group of welfare politicians, aided and abetted by political plunder-bunds, succeeded in having the bills passed.

So hostile is the public to these measures that they have been forced to a popular referendum this fall. Present indications are that they will be overwhelmingly defeated by the voters—and they should be.

Dr. Insley was one of the speakers before the convention of county and township officials held a few days ago at Sault Ste. Marie. His address was one of the outstanding made at the convention. It so accurately tells the details of how these proposed laws were enacted, that his talk is published in full, as follows:

"I have come here this day, not as a spokesman for one group, as against another, but as a mere citizen surveying our situation as a whole.

"Shortly before the French Revolution thousands were crying at the palace gates: 'We want bread; we want bread.' You remember the answer from inside the castle: 'Let them eat cake!'

"Today history has repeated itself just this far: A picture of thousands beseeching for work—and the administration's answer is: 'Let them have welfare!'

"Do not charge that our present administration has deliberately set about to maintain this scarcity of jobs. I DO indict them, however, with not improving the situation and THEN, OF ALL THINGS, using the relief rolls for political ambitions.

"Two years ago the Welfare and Relief Study commission turned in a majority report suggesting a sweeping reorganization of welfare and relief. MUCH of that work was later made into law.

"I, for one, refused to sign the majority report. Too much of the picture was clouded with EAD FAITH, and as partial evidence in the direction, my signed minority report was never allowed to see the light of day. As a matter of history, copies which finally were distributed on legislators' desks were mysteriously removed by unknown parties.

"I maintained then, and I maintain now, that the reorganization was planned and drawn largely by outsiders. The Commission itself, i. e., the majority, ended up by being just another example of political 'window dressing'. Anyone who did not sign this majority report was at that time called just 'too d— dumb', or else a politician.

"My two-year old report mentioned the possibility of using relief money toward building up a political machine. Well—who's 'too d— dumb' now, and who is there to shout 'politics'? Mr. Average Citizen is only trying to keep this relief machine close enough home and subject to personal observation.

"I said then and I repeat now, that the proposed State Welfare commission would be too far removed from electoral influences to be safe in the long run for any democracy. Mr. Tax-Paying Citizen, who foots the bill under the reorganization, is to have NO VOICE WHATSOEVER as to HOW his money should be spent.

"Does not this last sound strangely familiar to the situation existing in some of the states of Europe? And will it not jar the public more to learn that the proposed Relief Commission shall be a body 'corporate', and is hereby authorized to . . . do any other act or thing necessary in carrying out its programs? (Sec. 6, Senate Enrolled Act 99.)

"I have wondered long and often as to whether or not the original design behind this whole series of relief acts was not to start building a corporate or other European type of State-hood. I have pondered all the deeper when I see the wealthy socialites and the would-be club women being put into the field to argue for the reorganization. Are they being used as stooges and tools by the social workers' organizations, or are they really trying to remove the government farther and farther from the average citizen? I can only guess at how many of these women have ever read the law.

"Let me call attention to another section of this Act (Section 13A). The proposed State Department shall have the powers: '(A), to allocate and distribute appropriated moneys to the counties or cities. UNDER RULES AND REGULATIONS PROMULGATED BY ITSELF.' That, Gentlemen, is the example of local control which has been promised the local committees throughout the state. I again accuse the backers of this act of bad faith when they utter their silly mouthings: 'We have given the local governments a maximum of local control.' One does not even have to quote the supplemental acts to show their utter mis-statements of intention.

"I wonder how many responsible men in this state have given thought to the possibilities contained in Section 7 of Senate Act 99. Some one slipped this section in under the probable excuse that it would allow investigation of claimants for relief. Actually, it allows any member of the State Welfare Commission or its Director to walk into homes, offices or businesses and go 'fishing' for any information he desires. Under the cloak of a 'survey' or 'statistical study,' he can pry into anyone's personal life as well. This section is a little NLRB. It also creates a snooper's paradise, which will be a political weapon of destructive force, regardless of what party is in power.

"MIND YOU, Gentlemen, there is NO provision in this section for any court to pass upon the justice or need of the subpoena. A court is reached only after disobedience to such summons, at which time they can act or not, on the merits of the subpoena, but only to enforce attendance and testimony.

"The viciousness of this section becomes all the more amazing when we recall that the proposed State department is directed to cooperate with the Federal Government in administering the 'Social Security Act,' AND ANY FUTURE AMENDMENTS thereto.

JUST THINKIN'

by Charles S. Kinnison

Look Out for the Children

As on the crowded streets I roll,
I'll keep my car in close control.
There's risk enough in all events
To make me always drive with sense,
But certainly, no chance I'll take
When lives of children are at stake!

You never know what tykes will do.
They're just as apt to rush on through
Across your path, as you draw near,
As they are apt to stop, in fear.
For playful feet don't understand
When Death, perhaps, is near at hand.

So, when I'm driving on a street
Where little folks I'm apt to meet,
Who dash across the streets in play—
I hope I'll drive in just the way
That I would drive if mine were there,
Upon that crowded thoroughfare.

he is doing. If he doesn't do his job, then if we continue to allow him to hold it, it is our fault and no one's else if the country goes to the dogs. Election is not far off. Think a moment about the privilege of the good old U.S.A. as compared with other countries. Let's keep them, and the only way that can be done is to vote, not party, but individual, and insist that that individual does as good a job for us in his official capacity as we would demand if we were paying his salary out of our own pocket, and had to economize and make every penny go just as far as humanly possible.—Paul McDonald in The Osego County Herald-Times.

DYNAMITERS STILL LOOSE.

We doubt very much whether the cause of labor, business, or social progress was benefited by the dynamite bombing and wrecking of the garage at midnight Monday in Redford. The dynamiters apparently were venting their spleen against the family of the Kroger employee who was carrying out orders from headquarters to try to get along without the services of some striking truckmen.

Our opinion is that whenever the federal, state and local governments wish, they can end such outrages. Dynamite is made in, say, a few factories; its sale can be as carefully checked, and, as a package sent parcel post, and every stick of dynamite, and every ounce of any other explosive, can be checked and traced from maker to user. A proper check and register system would stop such dynamitings, which imperil innocent women and children.

There has been no concerted effort by police, prosecutor or state official to end bombing outrages.—Floyd McGriff in The Redford Record.

THE CHURCH.

While on this question of attendance, here is one other thought and then we'll forget it. Only eleven couples—husband and wife—were present at a Sunday morning church service. There were many others but outside the above martial classification. Of the eleven couples, not to exceed three were under fifty years of age, which gives some idea of the church problem of the future. We vaunt as our three great mural agencies: the home, the church and the school. We have given you some interesting close at home data about the church and the school. Write your own ticket on the home situation. We make a single observation: the number of divorces, the principal reason for broken homes, is steadily increasing. The preacher must have picked his text after he mounted the rostrum.—Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

WHAT'S GONE WRONG WITH THE DOLLAR BILL?

A few weeks ago we talked with two score or more WPA men who were dissatisfied with the pay they were getting. "How can a man with a family live on $43 a month?" asked several of these men. Anyone who lives in town where everything one eats and wears has to be bought, will appreciate there is considerable logic in this question. Ten dollars a week is not exactly conducive to the "more abundant life" we have heard so much about in recent years.

Yet, time was when men worked at common labor for $1.00 a day and thought it represented pretty good pay. What is the difference between those days and the present? Almost any child could tell. The standard of living has gone up—WAY UP. The value of the dollar has gone down—WAY DOWN. Not the least of the influences which are affecting the value of the dollar and will affect the value of the dollar in the future is TAXES.

Too few of us have any idea of what we pay in taxes every day of our lives. Taxes go out in every penny one spends. Taxes are what we are swallowing with every bite we take of a slice of bread. We kick about the price of bacon without realizing that the fat that fries out of it and the smoke that floats around the kitchen has cost us money in taxes. Even the soap we use to slick up with before we eat our tax-ridden food is also taxed.

It would take a long, long column to list the taxes collected by the federal government to carry on its spending and lending program. Just so that you, MR. WPA WORKER and you, MR. AVERAGE CITIZEN, will realize that YOU are paying the fiddler for this merry spending spree, we list just a few of the many taxes:

- 20 percent on hosiery, shirts, shoes and clothes
- 58 taxes on bread (seven paid by farmers, 10 by grain elevators, 8 by flour mills, 11 by railroads, 7 by truck owners, 9 by baking companies and 6 by the retail store)
- 38 taxes on bacon
- 345 taxes on an automobile (27 when you buy it, 117 on its upkeep and 201 on gasoline and oil).

As one writer suggested in a letter to this newspaper, perhaps all this dispensing of spending and taxes is "blah, blah." The WPA workers don't think so. We daily meet dozens of people who grumble that their dollars don't go very far. We find that true in our own experience. The people who each week work to produce this newspaper have to scheme and study to make their dollars meet their expenses. Yet few, very few of us, realize how much of our dollar is taken from us in hidden taxes.

It may be tiresome, distasteful, or even positively aggravating to some people to face facts. Yet, it IS A FACT that increasing public debts will continue to swallow a greater and greater proportion of our dollar in TAXES.

The dollar isn't what it appears. More and more of it each year is TAXES which do not appease hunger, keep us warm or make us happy.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

Success Is A Personal Product

No matter what business conditions are in this land of ours, boom times or bad times, success is still an individual matter.

To enjoy success, you have to do the things that bring it, because success is a conquest—not a bequest! Remember, you must DO the things—not just think them. Well, what are they? First of all, you must sell yourself daily (hourly, if need be) on the value of your services to the community (and be sure you give value). This applies to mothers and wives just as much as it does to men in business. That life is a success that enriches those it touches. Giving is the measure of living—not getting, and you cannot give unless you are properly equipped. How much your personal success depends on your seeing efficiency may be hard to understand, but impaired income, starved lives, mistakes, quick tempers, all act to hurt your personality—and they all can come from visual inefficiency.

Increase the value of your services and you can go through booms and depressions with the confidence and inner peace that makes your personality stand out in your home and community without the necessity of pushing yourself forward, bragging and wrangling. The greatest achievement of human life is a fine personality and it can be cultivated and built as surely as any physical structure, for it is, in a large measure a physical structure itself. You can't unscramble physical and mental conditions—they are one.

A budget plan of easy payments is available for those who desire to take advantage of it.

EDICTS. Some under cover man has done his work well because this section, to my knowledge, was never publicly discussed.

"I further said, as a member of the Welfare Study commission two years ago, that the majority report on the means of financing relief was not satisfactory. The bills as passed are even more unsatisfactory. Incidentally, my repeated requests for statistical information to study possible formulas for distribution of moneys were always refused. It was: 'It can't be done,' or—'We don't have it.'—'It would take too long to find out.' In the meantime, millions of dollars were being talked about, as if it were tomorrow's cigarette money. I suspect that most of the social workers involved in the clerical, statistian work and drafting of this majority report never had to pay a direct tax in their lives. They have never had the slightest idea of the heartaches and work involved in building up a farm, a small business, a store or a profession. They have always played with someone else's money. They have never been responsible in a subsequent election for taxes squandered nor for a job badly done.

"I could go on and on pointing out proposed changes, each to be made through a bribe of theoretical improvements; but in each instance, also, to strangle tighter and tighter all individual freedom for the citizen.

"The Welfare Reorganization Bill and its supplemental enactments is dangerously unsound. It is a FRAUD on the public, who SEES not what is going on behind the scenes.

"Mr. Chairman, I salute you, May your fight for the people back home be one smashing success. Let us have an American way for American people."

A REASON TO BE JUSTLY PROUD

Michigan may justly be proud of its Henry Ford, the industrialist. From his "Model-T's" which we all knew intimately or remotely in years gone by, to his present up-to-the-minute models he has kept the most important industry in Michigan before the people in a most emphatic way. Twenty-five years ago when many other makes of cars were beyond the financial reach of the average person lots of us rode the roads in a flivver and had the time of our lives.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

PRETTY GOOD ADVICE.

We rant and rave about high taxes, extravagances, loss of personal rights, restrictions of this and that kind. Well, friends, there is plenty to say, but what right have you to say them. Do you take an active interest in civic, state and national affairs? Do you attend elections and vote your convictions? Do you insist on economy and efficiency in your own community as well as state and nation? Do you use your efforts and influence in getting good men in office. In fact, there are a thousand 'Do's' necessary to the kind of a government that our forefathers set up. Just because we elect a man to office is no reason for us to forget it. In fact, that is the trouble. Seledom have 50 percent of the people taken the trouble to go to the polls and vote on election day. When we do elect a man, it is our obligation to ourselves and friends to take an active interest in what

Back From Vacation To Northlands

Richard Kent, manager of the Wolf store in Plymouth, and his mother, Mrs. Lucina Kent, of Trenton, returned a few days ago from a vacation trip to Traverse City and the Upper Peninsula. They remained in Traverse City until after the cherry festival was over, and from there went on up to L'Anse where they spent the remainder of their vacation. It was while in the northlands that Mr. Kent learned of the fire which did so much damage to the Plymouth store. He returned home from his vacation in time to help arrange the practically new store for the opening, which took place this week.

THIS IS THE SEASON FOR HARVESTING

We can all take a lesson from nature, who bountifully provides us with every need in the spring and summer seasons then permits us to reap the harvest for plenty in winter. So we all should save, in the spring and summer of life, and reap the harvest of our earnings, in its winter.

Time Savers Aid Young Mothers

mothers anxious to take some of the worries out of homemaking. Use as many knit and crepe materials as possible to avoid ironing, is one of her ideas. Time is saved if the baby's washing can be done every other or third day instead of every day. This, says Miss Bergstrand, has one drawback in that a greater supply of clothing is necessary.

Plymouth Taxi Service Is Unexcelled Anywhere

Modern, radio equipped car. Complete insurance coverage on all passengers. Round the clock service at the lowest rates. Just phone the Mayflower Hotel 250 for service.

So Evalyn Bergstrand, instructor in home management and child development at Michigan State college, has devised a few suggestions useful to young mothers-in-law. If the baby gets his codliver oil and orange juice while he is undressed just before a bath, there is a considerable saving in time because clothes are not stained with the feedings. Some mothers have discovered that in preparing vegetables, fruits and other foods they save time if they do it while bottles are being sterilized. In some households larger amounts of sieved foods are prepared and canned for later use in sterile jars using proper methods. Perhaps a larger tray will mean one trip for a meal instead of several. A basket for the baby's toys might help in carrying them from one room to another. A removable gate which can be attached at a stairway or doorway means less watching during the days when creeping is in style. An outdoor play pen is another timesaver to permitting mothers to spend their time more efficiently in getting household chores out of the way.

Locals

The many friends of Frank Durham will be pleased to know that he is feeling much better and will be home from Marine hospital, Detroit, within the next few days. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bowring and sons spent Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Garchow and Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Dickinson. Mrs. Oliver Herrick and daughter, Mrs. Howard Bowring, called on Mrs. Content Taylor Friday evening. The beauty of the Duchess of Devonshire so annoyed Gainsborough that he was unable to paint her portrait. In desperation, he gave up the attempt, drawing a pencil across the canvas and saying, "Her Grace is too hard for me."

$1.55 a month
... a figure of new importance to thousands of women!
Not so many years ago, electric cooking was a luxury that nearly every woman wanted some day to enjoy, but that few could afford. Electric ranges were high in price and costly to operate. As a result, thousands of women postponed owning a range until the price came within reach of their pocketbooks. And now comes an announcement of special significance.
The newest cost figures for electric cooking—compiled over a year's time and just released—reveal the startling fact that the average cost for families of three persons is only $1.55 A MONTH! The door to the enjoyment of electric cooking is now open to thousands of women who have been afraid of high operating costs. On today's fast, efficient ranges, it has been definitely proved that electric cooking is NOT expensive! And the price of a modern electric range is about the same as that of an ordinary stove of comparable size and features.
The figure of $1.55 a month is the AVERAGE cost for families of 3, at the rate of 2 1/4 cents (net) per kwhr. Actual meter tests were made in homes using electric ranges. The cost figures were obtained under everyday working conditions in ordinary kitchens, by women cooking meals daily. The cost of operating a range will vary with the amount of cooking done, and with the use of retained heat and the waterless cooking method. * * * By installing an electric range in your kitchen now, you can enjoy the comfort and convenience of this modern cooking method through the hot summer months. Don't delay—choose your new range today!

See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers or at Detroit Edison offices.

Evererd Jolliffe, one of Plymouth's prominent young men and Miss Grace Wise were quietly married at the bride's home in Reed City last Wednesday morning, August 6. Only the immediate family were present at the marriage service, but in the afternoon a small reception was held. Miss Wise has taught in the kindergarten here in the public school for the past two years and is well and favorably known. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Jolliffe will return to Plymouth where they will reside in the home recently purchased by Mr. Jolliffe on Penniman avenue. The happy couple have the best wishes of many friends for a prosperous wedded life.

Kill Corn Borer By Filling Silo

Corn borers seem to be encroaching themselves more deeply into the corn growing industry of Michigan this year, leading to a warning that where the increase seems serious and damage shows up now it would be wise to put such corn into the silo. In Wayne county, says E. I. Besemer, county agricultural agent, this problem is not serious. From Michigan State college, information reaching H. C. Rath, head of the farm crops department, leads to the suggestion that ensiling the borer-damaged corn will serve two purposes. One job of ensiling will be to conserve feed, for if heavily weighted ears are permitted to hang on until maturity the stalks will break off, the corn likely will be soft and moldy and harvesting difficult. Another purpose of ensiling is that normally the use of the ensilage cutter and the subsequent ensiling will kill off the borers. "More borers are apparent this year," Rath announces. Reason for more borers is not definite. One factor probably is that the weather of 1937 and so far this year has been humid, a condition liked by the borers. Eradication is not possible but control measures do help keep down increased numbers and greater damage. Ensiling borer-infested corn is done at normal silo filling time and in the normal way. Cutting as close as possible to the bottom of the stalk is recommended, in order to reduce places where the borers may winter.

Things Look Double Here!

Parades, dances, boat rides and banquets will feature the annual international twins convention which will open Friday, August 26 at the Morrison hotel in Chicago. The organization, headed by William F. Whitmore of Fort Wayne, Ind., is designed to "promote the welfare of twins of the world." This picture was taken at last year's convention in Fort Wayne.

It's All "Crazy" Says Idle Worker

On page 13 of a little booklet entitled, "Information for Workers" issued by the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission and given to each person who has registered with the commission, is the following paragraph: "Total Unemployment. A worker is considered totally unemployed when he does not earn wages in excess of $3.00 a week."

During recent weeks a number of unemployed workers in Plymouth who have had opportunities to do odd jobs which might make them $4, $5 or $6 per week have not dared take these jobs because of the above rule, which says they are not totally unemployed if they make more than $3 per week. They have been advised that if they make more than $3 per week, they say, from private industry they are not entitled to the benefits under the unemployment compensation act.

Now the attorney general of Michigan has ruled that WPA workers who are paid from $54 to $60 or more per month are NOT WORKERS and are therefore entitled to draw unemployment compensation, if they have any coming. Several local Plymouth residents who have been unable to get WPA jobs for lack of pull or for other reasons, and who have not dared take private employment for two or three days a week, because of the rule which says a person is not considered unemployed if he earns in excess of $3 per week, are incensed at the condition brought about by the ruling. These unemployed workers declare that the ruling, which without much question was inspired, for the purpose of trying to influence votes in the forthcoming election, is unfair to them because it forces them to go through the three weeks' waiting period without an income of any kind, while those fortunate enough to have WPA jobs can get WPA pay while waiting for their unemployment compensation checks.

One worker declared that he was not "crazy" enough to figure out such a "crazy" situation as the rule in the book and the ruling of the attorney general had brought about. This unemployed worker is not the only one who is not crazy enough to figure it all out.

When Philip III of Spain went traveling, he sent hundreds of men ahead to beat the swamps and quiet the frogs so that they would not disturb him on his trip.

Samuel Parr, English author, had a horror of the east wind. Once a friend kept him prisoner in the house for two weeks by fixing the weathercock in that direction.

Let the soul be joyful in the present, disdaining anxiety for the future, and tempering bitter things with a serene smile.

Oh, the dullness and hardness of the human heart, which thinketh only of present things and provideth not more for things to come.

A Communication

Eloise, Michigan
July 25, 1938.
Editor, Plymouth Mail, Plymouth, Michigan.

Dear Sir:
If I may intrude further on your kindness, I wish to submit to the public, apropos old age pensions, "A simple problem in mathematics."

According to the statement of the old age assistance administration board, the total amount paid for old age pensions, during the past fiscal year was $13,800,000. Of this amount, the state pays one-half, the federal government the other half. And in order to arrive at the cost of administration, it will be necessary to subtract the state's half $6,900,000, from the state's appropriation of $8,000,000. And in so doing we find the sum of $1,100,000. As the state's share of the cost of administration, and if we can believe the press, this sum represents 55 percent of the cost of administration. Then if this be true, it necessarily follows that the federal share, 45 percent amounts to $900,000, making the total cost of administration $2,000,000.

Now this sum represents 25 percent of the state's appropriation of $8,000,000 or 14 and one-half percent of the $13,800,000 paid to the pensioners. And delving a little deeper into the statistics, we find if we divide this $2,000,000, by 70,000 (the total number of recipients) we find that the total cost of administration, was $28.57 per capita. And as the average amount paid the pensioners was $18.56 per month, I am leaving it up to the reader, to judge whether this is an equitable distribution or not.

Now a few more words in refutation of the statement that the pensioners were cut $1.00 per month in the interest of "economy." I know and can prove that the majority of the cuts were from $2.50 to $6.00 per month. I personally read a letter from the board to a pensioner whose monthly check was $25.00, and this letter stated that beginning April 1, owing to lack of funds, the board would allow over the cost per month for care, (which in this case was $20.00) $1.00 per month for clothing and $1.65 for incidental expenses. Then they added the $2.65 to the $20.00 and made the total $22.50 or a cut of 10 percent. And in many other cases, that have come to my personal attention, that were receiving $30 per month, the cut was $5.00 and then the additional $1.00 or 20 percent cut.

Thanking you for your kindness in publishing my previous letter, and the copies of your paper,
Sincerely,
ALBERT R. MATZ,
Eloise, Michigan.

Garden City Votes Against Bonds

Garden City voters have decided that they would rather get along with their present school building than assume a bonding obligation of $50,000. The electors a few days ago voted down the plan to bond the district.

Two propositions were voted on at the election, one on the proposed bond issue and the other on a proposal to increase the tax limitation of the district to 2.67 percent of the assessed valuation for a period of five years. Both were defeated. The bond issue proposal provided that the district issue its bonds to the amount of $50,000 for the erection of a new school and that the bonds bear interest not to exceed four percent. The proposal was defeated by a vote of 262 to 216. Five spoiled ballots were cast. Increase in the tax limitation lost by a vote of 273 to 232, with four spoiled ballots being cast.
