

Next Thursday Will Be Plymouth Day At The Northville Fair—Parade To Leave Here At 1 O'clock

Everything In Readiness For County's Best Fair

Next Thursday, August 18, is Plymouth day at the Northville-Wayne county fair. All arrangements have been completed for the big event and from sentiment expressed about the city, prospects are that the parade which will form along the east side of Main street from the city hall to the south, will be the longest that has ever gone on from Plymouth to Northville. Everybody is invited to take part.

There is this advantage about it—those in the parade will be able to drive their cars directly to the center field for parking during the afternoon.

It is urged that every one who desires to go to the fair in the parade be in line not later than 12:30 next Thursday. The parade should leave just before 1:00 o'clock in order to get across the race track before the racing events start.

Plymouth day at the fair has always been a sort of gala day for Plymouth, with nearly every one in town taking part in the big event. Due to the lack of a full time secretary of the Chamber of Commerce this year there has been no canvass made to see what business places will close, but it is expected that the same rule will prevail as in past years. Persons going into the parade can decorate their cars in any way they desire or place advertising material along side their machines. The Plymouth high school band will play at the fair during the afternoon.

The fair, which starts Wednesday, promises to be the biggest and best Northville has ever had.

Meals will be served by the ladies of the Plymouth Presbyterian church under the grandstand, where the former Rotary club lunches were served.

In addition to the exceptionally large number of exhibits, there will be both trotting and running races, ball games, a four-day program for the home show, fireworks at night and one of the best stage shows that the association has ever booked.

Mrs. Horvath Visits Germany

Mrs. Elizabeth Horvath, who is visiting friends in Germany, wrote to The Plymouth Mail this week to tell of her experiences since she left Plymouth over two weeks ago.

Buffeted by heavy storms, her ship required a day more than usual to cross the Atlantic, she said. However, the latter part of the voyage was calm and she enjoyed it very much.

Just to get tabs on what might be happening in Plymouth, Mrs. Horvath kept one watch set to ocean time and one set to Plymouth time, a difference of five hours.

"We have seen three steamers so far, she wrote from abroad the S.S. Europa, and were we happy to see them, one the first morning out and the second Friday evening. We have just passed the Bremen going to dear U.S.A."

"Our cabins are lovely and clean. Our meals are very good. We have breakfast at 7:30 a.m., light lunch at 10 a.m., dinner at 12:30, light lunch at 4:00 p.m., dinner at 7:00 p.m. and another lunch at 10:00 p.m. so believe me it is wonderful the way they keep and treat you."

Heat prostration suffered Saturday by Miss Marie Johnson, of Marie's Grill has confined her to her home on South Main street since Sunday. She is improved and will probably be able to resume her work in the next few days.

On August 19, Wayne County association, Order Eastern Star will hold its annual picnic, at Bob-Lo. Proceeds will be used for relief. Games and contests have been planned. Gordon Robbins is chairman. The boat leaves foot of Woodward avenue, 9:00 a.m. and stops at Wyandotte.

The ladies of the Missionary society of the Plymouth Methodist church will hold an ice cream social on the lawn in front of the church tomorrow evening, Saturday, August 13, beginning at 7:30 and continuing until all are served. This will give their friends a chance to help a most worthy cause and at the same time enjoy ice cream, home made cake, and pie. Every one is welcome. Remember the date.

Sheriff Candidate Visits City

Milton A. Behrendt, a nephew of former Sheriff Henry Behrendt and who served for two years as attorney for the former sheriff, was in Plymouth and vicinity Tuesday in the interests of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff. Mr. Behrendt states that he is considerably encouraged in his campaign. He is a practicing attorney with offices at 1724 Union Guardian building, Detroit. He says the former sheriff is only in fair health at his cottage at Big Crooked lake.

City Tax Receipts Top Last Year's For Same Period

Treasurer Pleased With Situation On Deadline Eve

City Treasurer Charles Garlett said Wednesday that city tax collections as of August 9 had topped the receipts of last year for the same period by $1,625.

Final collections both at the office in the city hall and by mail had not been tabulated, he added, and were expected to run heavy, as they always have done in the past.

The receipts up to August 9 totaled $45,560.07, or about 65 per cent of the entire tax levy. Last year for the same period $43,930.95 had been turned in. At the close of the time limit last year 76 per cent of the total tax load had been received. Mr. Garlett estimated that the percentage might run heavier this year.

"We are very pleased with the way the taxes have been paid up," Mr. Garlett commented. "And we are quite optimistic about what we expect to find when the final figures are tabulated early next week."

"We can't be sure just how the figures will run, but generally there is a heavy payment of taxes on the last day, and we expect the same thing to happen this year."

"However, even if the receipts fail to surpass last year's figures, we still should be in very good shape. The situation looks much better than we had expected. Last year, for example, city taxpayers were only 10 and one-half percent delinquent on the levy by March 1, at which time 89 and one-half percent of the taxes had been paid up."

Mr. and Mrs. George Springer have been advised of the death of George Wilkinson, a brother-in-law of Mr. Springer, at his home in Canandaigua, New York, where he had recently moved from Chicago. He married Mr. Springer's sister, May, a former resident of Plymouth, who will be remembered by many of the older residents. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson were the owners of a large bakery in Chicago, but which they had leased a few years ago.

Firemen Find It's Easier To Fight Blaze Than To Get To It When Autos Race Truck Through Heavy Traffic

Police To Escort Apparatus And Arrest Fire-Chasing Drivers

Plymouth firemen are discovering that it's not as difficult to fight a fire as it is to get to the blaze.

About 10:00 p.m. Tuesday the siren shrieked a warning to volunteers to speed to the station and fight a blaze reported in a building in Rosedale Gardens.

The siren was a signal also to large numbers of Plymouth residents to jump in their cars and chase the fire engine to the scene of the blaze in search of a cooling thrill on a hot summer night.

The situation was reminiscent of a fire on Woodward avenue near Ferndale about a year ago when a garage, professional-offices and apartment building burned at a loss of over $10,000 because the three fire companies that were called couldn't even get near the blaze. There were too many cars going to the fire.

One truck became mired in traffic and the others couldn't get close through to the blaze because the automobiles of curiosity seekers were parked three deep in front of the burning building. The Plymouth affair wasn't as serious, but it might have been, if not for the fact that the City Manager Clarence Elliott

Last Call For Trade Directory Copy

President Stanley Corbett of the Chamber of Commerce wishes to advise the merchants that copy for the trade directory must be submitted to the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce office immediately as it is planned to start its publication in the next few days. The merchants desire to have it ready for distribution by the first of September. If you have not already turned your copy in, do so immediately.

Daisy Now On Forty Hour Schedule

Prepares For Better Business In Near Future

In anticipation of increased business in the fall and winter, the Daisy Manufacturing company this week resumed operations on a 40-hour week basis, giving to its force of workers a full schedule of weekly hours for the first time this year.

When confirming the report that the full schedule had been resumed, Edward C. Hough of the Daisy company explained that it had been done in the hopes that the present trend would continue during the next few months and that sales this fall and winter will take up the surplus being created in these slow times.

Local merchants were highly pleased when they heard reports that the Daisy was back on a full work week as it means immediate improvement in business about town.

The new toy products to be produced by the Daisy, it is hoped, will find a steady and popular market during the next two or three years. The ideas seem to have hit the fancy of many dealers who have stated their intentions of placing orders for the new products.

Traffic Violations Fewest In Years

The lowest number of summer traffic violations in years has been recorded so far this season, Chief of Police Vaughan Smith reported this week.

"In my experience this is the first year that traffic violations have been so few," he said. "It would seem that there would be more reported, as we have been keeping a stricter watch for violations. But there is more actual safe driving than last year."

"Usually July and August are peak months for traffic violations, as more persons are driving than in the winter and spring in addition to the large influx of tourists." Chief Smith said that he believed that stricter law enforcement had caused a considerable part in the drop in violations. However, he added that public awareness of the continual menace of death and serious injury on the city streets and highways and a general willingness on the part of drivers to obey sensible traffic regulations had played a principal part in the decreased violations.

Firemen Find It's Easier To Fight Blaze Than To Get To It When Autos Race Truck Through Heavy Traffic

pointed out. There was damage caused, but not by the fire. The damage resulted from the two auto accidents which were reported. It was believed that other machines were damaged in traffic mishaps which were not reported.

Police officers stopped the fire truck before it reached Rosedale Gardens when they received a report that the blaze already had been extinguished.

"The situation is becoming intolerable," Mr. Elliott declared. "The city will have to take measures to prevent recurrences of situations of this nature, both to prevent traffic accidents and to insure against delays in moving fire apparatus which may prove costly in the event of a fire of any importance."

"Hereafter a police convoy will escort the fire truck. Traffic violation tickets will be issued to drivers who insist on following—and even preceding—the fire apparatus, creating hazards both for the firemen and themselves."

"This type of thing easily can have serious consequences. An accident which may cost the loss of life or serious injuries to firemen, motorists or pedestrians is likely to happen unless the road is clear for the fire truck, which is impossible as long as people are trying to beat the truck to the fire."

Plymouth Enjoys Building Boom On Heels Of Housing Shortage; Construction Expected To Continue

Rentals Continued As Reasonable Rates Despite Demands

Plymouth is enjoying a building boom. Still without sufficient housing facilities to care for present and prospective residents, the city is building more rapidly than in years previous in order to ease the situation.

And incidentally, Plymouth is traveling the path that economists who are recognized as authorities advocate as the surest means of reaching prosperity and insuring its continuance.

Since May 1, the city clerk has issued permits for construction of 11 buildings, all but one of them dwellings. These structures have been or are being raised at a cost ranging high over $50,000, the minimum estimate available.

On the other hand, landlords are having no trouble with vacancies. Apartments, flats and houses listed for rent in The Plymouth Mail are being snapped up as quickly as they are available to new tenants.

However, except for a slight advance in rents earlier in the year, rentals apparently have not become a matter for proffering by Plymouth landlords.

Rents have remained quite steady, it is reported, and it is not anticipated that there will be any skyrocketing in the prices.

Permits were issued for three new structures within recent days, in addition to eight others approved since May 1, Clarence Elliott, city manager and clerk, said this week.

The latest permits were issued to D. Douglas Mann, for construction of a home at 1143 Maple street; to Paul B. Wood for building a residence at 1418 Sheridan avenue; and to the Standard Oil company, for construction of a new filling station at 789 Ann Arbor Trail.

Local authorities anticipated that the building boom would continue through the summer and might possibly even be increased in the fall months.

An influx of families into the Plymouth area caused the increase in building at a time when many cities find their building trades are at a standstill.

These families were brought in to Plymouth as a result of new businesses and of expansion on the part of industries already established in the area.

In addition, it was explained, a number of Detroiters, retired or still engaged in business in the metropolis, have moved to Plymouth, where they are finding the advantages of living well—but inexpensively—in pleasant surroundings only a short distance from the larger city.

This construction may well provide a stimulus that will spread to encourage and prolong local expansion, one spokesman said. Expansion in building at this time while the city still is growing is sound influence, he asserted.

Glider Touches Off High Voltage Fireworks; Pilot Escapes Electrocutation

Spectacular fireworks flashed over Triangle airport briefly Tuesday night when a youthful glider pilot tangled his craft in power lines of the Detroit Edison company, barely escaping electrocution by the high-tension wires.

The wires sparked and sizzled briefly as the wings and fuselage of the glider scraped by. The pilot, a 16-year-old Detroit youth, was frightened by deadly electricity display, managed to retain control of his craft.

The glider fell roughly to the ground a short distance below the wires. However, it was not damaged badly, although some of the fabric was burned by the high voltage wires. The pilot was dazed but scratched but was not hurt critically.

David Bolton Takes Own Life

A fear that close associates of David Bolton have had for more than two years that some day he might commit self-destruction was borne out last Friday when his body was found in his parked automobile. He had killed himself by attaching a hose to the exhaust pipe of his car in such a way that the carbon monoxide fumes filled the tightly closed automobile.

He was missing last Thursday but it was not until Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when he was found in his parked car on the American road about two and one-half miles east of Plymouth, by Carl Shear.

The young man had been seen earlier in the day in his car by a person who believed him to be asleep. It is apparent he had been dead more than 24 hours when found.

He had many friends among the young people in the city, who he had lived practically all of his life. Their fears as to what might happen resulted from his freely expressed statements as to what he might sometime do.

His associates had done everything within their power to discourage him from any such intention. The funeral held Sunday afternoon from the Broadway Funeral home was largely attended. Floral tributes were many and beautiful. His grieving parents and a sister survive.

Wilhelmine Rocker was the guest of honor at two surprise parties during the past week, one given on Friday evening, by Mrs. Miss Rocker (Margaret Maul) and Laura Kincaid, in the home of the latter. The guests enjoyed playing croquet and in doing so found notes fastened to the arches directing the bride-to-be to packages of groceries; later a beautiful mix-master was presented to Mrs. Rocker. There were about 30 guests present from Detroit, Ann Arbor and Plymouth. On Saturday afternoon Hazel Lickfield entertained 10 guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hubbard on South Main street. Miss Rocker was given many recipes and gifts for the kitchen.

BOBBIE HITT

Bobbie Hitt Wins Third Championship

Sets State Record For High Scoring In Horse Shoe Matches

Bobbie Hitt, Plymouth's 16-year-old state champion horse shoe pitcher, set a new record Monday for high scores in two consecutive games in the finals of the Michigan State Open Horse Shoe Pitching tournament.

Hitt won the state title for the third consecutive year, an accomplishment that has been equaled only once before in the history of organized competition in the state.

Only eight contestants out of an original 31 remained when the finals were started.

The finalists were Hitt, Joe Lasko, of Flint, Ed Walls, of Detroit, Alfred Fields, of Detroit; M. B. Getz, of Ferndale; E. Graves, of Highland Park; C. Lundgren, present Detroit city champion, and Lee Rose, of Detroit.

Lasko was runner-up in the tournament. Hitt defeated him four out of six games. The final game of the seven-game match did not have to be played. Hitt established a percentage of .75 in the matches; Lasko's percentage was .72.

In the two games in which Hitt set a new state record, his scores were 73 out of 90 and 75 out of 102.

Work Begins On Draining Phoenix Lake For Installation Of County Sewage Pipes; Water Diverted

Project Is The Last Section Of Middle Rouge Construction

Workers started activities on the last link in the Middle Rouge river section of the Wayne county sewage disposal system this week as they began draining Phoenix lake.

The water from Phoenix lake will be diverted into Newburg lake, which has been dry for a period while sewage pipe was being constructed on the lake bed.

The same system will be followed at Phoenix lake as at Newburg lake, in that the sewage line will be installed on the bottom of the lake. The work will take from one and one-half to two months, according to Harry Inkham, superintendent of the Ford Motor company plant at Waterford.

The work of laying the sewage line in Newburg lake is completed, he said.

The big trunk line sewer pipe will carry away the sewage disposal of Plymouth, Northville and all of the public institutions of Wayne county.

Installation of the sewage system will end pollution of the beautiful Middle Rouge river which flows through the townships of Northville, Plymouth, Livonia and Nankin. The recreational values of the river have been damaged by the practice which has been followed by dumping sewage into its waters.

Community Picnic Is Hailed As Success After Nearly Half Of City's Residents Enjoy Festivities On Civic Holiday

106th Cavalry To Drill At Fair

A rifle platoon from the 106th Cavalry, stationed at Fort Park, will offer a spectacular performance as part of the horse show at the Northville-Wayne County fair Friday and Saturday, August 19 and 20.

The squad of 16 men will perform under the leadership of First Lieutenant Casser, Kershaw, of Livonia township. The exhibition, Dr. Kershaw said, will be a combination of musical and rifle drills.

Rifle rushes, fights on foot and cavalry charges will feature the realistic performance. The 106th Cavalry last year presented a thrilling exhibition of a machine gun drill at the fair. The same performance was presented at Bloomfield this year.

It is expected that the rifle drill exhibition this season will attract an enthusiastic audience as witnessed the machine gun performance last year.

It was said that the matches held at Plymouth's Riverside park in connection with the community picnic comprised the best championship attraction they have ever had.

The eight finalists were guests of honor at a banquet held at the Hotel Mayflower Monday night and sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Each of the eight was awarded a cash prize for winning his way into the final bracket. In addition, Hitt, who won a cash prize of $50, received permanent possession of the horse shoe pitching cup by virtue of his third consecutive championship. The cup was awarded by Lattore and Lavagood, Dearborn sporting goods store.

The cash prizes totaled $190 and were obtained from the entry fees of the contestants and from a purse made up by the Chamber of Commerce. At the dinner, Stanley Corbett, president of the Chamber, spoke briefly.

The following were prizes for landing in the finals of the state meet: Hitt, $50; Joe Lasko, $40; Ed Walls, $30; Al Fields, $22.50; Getz, $17.50; Graves, $12.50; Carl Lundgren, $10, and Rose, $7.50.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newell and Mrs. E. C. Drows and daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Link, Mrs. Mary Polley, Miss Regina Polley, Mrs. David Polley and daughter, Regina, Mrs. Ida Nowland and Mrs. Homer Jewell enjoyed a picnic supper in Riverside park.

Children Discover Paradise Of Cookies, Ice Cream And Pop

Plymouth's community picnic attended by a crowd estimated at over 2,000 persons, was so popular Monday that members of the Civic Committee received numerous requests that the city-wide party be held again next year.

And was the picnic a success with the kids? Let the figures speak for themselves. Arno Thompson reported that the children consumed 1,320 bottles of pop, 35 gallons of ice cream and 2,840 cookies, all free. That would make any party a success where children are concerned.

But more than food was responsible for the entertainment which hundreds have praised as being so enjoyable. Probably most of the people didn't realize it, but they created their own fun just by relaxing and enjoying a peaceful afternoon in the open with their friends and neighbors.

That was exactly the result which members of the Civic Committee, which sponsored the event, were striving to obtain.

In addition, a program of recreation under the direction of Milton Corbett, Plymouth recreation director, added a flip to the solid enjoyment of the day. Those who wanted to have some fun took part in the various contests and those in the audience had just as good a time.

Adding a note of civic triumph to the day, Bobbie Hitt, Plymouth state horse shoe pitching champion, won his third successive title and set a new record for accurate pitching in the state-wide contests held in Plymouth's Riverside park, which was also the scene of the picnic.

A large majority of the business places in the city were closed by pre-arrangement among the merchants so that as many as possible might attend the picnic.

In addition, when it became known that employees of the Daisy company wanted very much to be able to participate in the civic celebration, Edward C. Hough immediately rearranged the working schedule so that the workers could put in the time on Friday and have Monday free to attend the picnic.

A large number of the Daisy employees participated in the picnic. In fact, nearly half of the residents of the city attended the picnic, it was estimated.

In the athletic and stunting program held in connection with the picnic in the afternoon there were the following results: The first man in a tug-of-war contest, in the early afternoon softball contests, Schrader's defeated Plymouth Hardware, and a team composed of married women won a victory over a team comprised of single women.

The married women also triumphed over the single women in a tug-of-war contest.

WE HOPE SO.

President Elmer Smith of the Northville-Wayne County Fair Association said a few days ago that he believed that the 1938 fair of the association would be by far the biggest and best the association has ever held. We hope that his prediction comes true and that it is not only the biggest and best, but the most outstanding fair of the middle west. It ranks today far above a lot of county fairs in communities much larger than Northville, due entirely to the untiring efforts of a group of boosters in Northville who like to see things accomplished. The Association members and the officials work year in and year out for the sole compensation of doing something for their community and county. Possibly it is the spirit of doing something that has resulted in the fair being as successful as it has been. A few years ago when it was decided to operate a horse show in connection with the fair, many said it would not be a success. But the fair board went ahead to make it a success, and as a result the fair horse show is today one of the outstanding horse shows of the country. More power to the Association—and may this year's fair really be its greatest and best! That's the wish of every one in Plymouth.

MISLEADING THE PUBLIC.

(By E. R. Eaton)

In last week's issue of The Charlotte Republican-Tribune there appeared a long statement given to that paper by John MacLellan, paid lobbyist of the organized professional welfare workers of Michigan, in which he tries to make it appear that the "county board" under the proposed welfare re-organization law is absolutely in control of all welfare matters, and that the state board will have nothing to do with the county administration "UNLESS it (the county board) abuses its discretion or acts in bad faith".

No person in Michigan should know better than Lobbyist MacLellan that what he says about "absolute local control" of all welfare problems under the proposed welfare re-organization bill is not a fact and NOT the intent of the re-organization law that was jammed through the legislature at the last session. This is the law which has been forced to a referendum of the people at the fall election and should be overwhelmingly defeated.

This editorial must be written in the first person because I am a member of the state legislature and I tried to incorporate in the law when it was being considered by the legislature just the thing that Mr. MacLellan now says is in the law.

Mr. MacLellan, as a representative of the professional welfare workers, in connivance with certain political leaders in the legislature, helped to beat both in committee and on the floor of the house, amendments to the bill which would have provided local control of all welfare matters.

I am a member of the welfare committee of the house. During the consideration of this bill in committee I tried by amendment to give the county boards of supervisors control of the make-up of the county welfare board, thereby assuring "home control" of the welfare problem.

I tried to have stricken out of the bill the sentence which reads as follows:

"The board shall be governed by the RULES AND REGULATIONS of the State Department of Public Assistance."

This was also beaten by Lobbyist MacLellan and his political followers on the floor of the house.

This one sentence alone gives to the state board the ABSOLUTE control of all county boards.

It was written into the state law at the DEMAND of Frank Bane, of the Federal Social Security Board and I have in my possession the copy of his demand that was given to members of the house welfare committee.

Mr. Bane said to the house welfare committee on this subject in part as follows:

"... the state law, must say, in effect 'The state department of public welfare may promulgate rules and regulations WHICH SHALL HAVE THE FORCE AND EFFECT OF LAW.'"

What does the proposed state law say on this question of state control that Mr. Bane said it must contain? It follows:

"The board (meaning county board) SHALL comply with and be GOVERNED by the RULES AND REGULATIONS of the State Department of Public Assistance."

Then follows a meaningless provision which says that the rules shall not apply if federal funds are not provided. But of course under the proposed set-up the use of even a dollar of federal money for any so-called welfare purpose whatsoever will make compliance of the county board with the state board essential.

Why does not Lobbyist MacLellan tell the people of Eaton county these facts?

Why does he not tell them that Representative Chester Fitzgerald of Detroit, who is chairman of the house committee on social aid and welfare and who worked hand-in-hand with him to get this welfare re-organization bill passed, went on the payroll of the Wayne county welfare organization just the minute the session of the legislature was over at a salary of $2240 per year? Why didn't he tell The Republican-Tribune that Representative Fitzgerald also gets the use of an automobile out of welfare funds? He should also tell the voters of Eaton county that his legislative assistant at the same time he is drawing this money out of the welfare funds, is still receiving his legislative check from the state every two weeks.

Would it be embarrassing to Lobbyist MacLellan if I should ask him the question if he knew anything of the "arrangement" whereby the chairman of the house social aid and welfare committee was to go on the payroll of the welfare department after this so-called welfare re-organization bill had been passed and the legislature adjourned?

Possibly the voters would like to know something about this question. I know that I, as a member of Mr. Fitzgerald's committee, would like to have the question answered, knowing as I do of his insistent refusal to even permit consideration of amendments which provided for the "home rule" of county welfare boards that Lobbyist MacLellan now has the audacity to tell the voters that the law contains.

Tell the public something about these facts, Lobbyist MacLellan. Tell them, too, that I have in my possession all of the home rule amendments that I tried to place in the bill during committee sessions and that the Democratic representative from rural Genesee county later presented from the floor of the house and tried to have made a part of the law. Tell them how YOU and your WELFARE PAYROLL REPRESENTATIVE in order to bring about the defeat of these amendments were FORCED to induce the Democratic majority to adopt a caucus rule demanding a party vote against the amendments, or face the loss of political patronage.

These are the kind of facts, Lobbyist MacLellan, the people of Michigan are entitled to know about your so-called "non-political" welfare re-organization bill.

THE OBLIGATIONS OF THE STATE

(By E. R. Eaton)

Michigan's state government finds itself in such a deplorable financial mess as the result of the way it has been operated during the past year or so that the Governor now finds it necessary to call the legislature into an extra session in order to raise additional funds to keep the state government functioning for the rest of his first term. He states that the need primarily for the extra session is to provide additional money for welfare purposes, that there are no funds left to buy food and clothing for those in distress.

He has said nothing up to the present time about the necessity of the state paying the many millions of dollars that the state welfare department owes to the thousands of small merchants and business men throughout Michigan for food, clothing, medical supplies and fuel that they have provided men and women on welfare since the first of January. There is a very large number of small business men who have been forced in many cases to borrow money in order to stay in business because the state has not paid its just obligations. In many, many cases the state's failure to pay its welfare bills has forced near-bankruptcy upon dealers.

While the small business men of the state have been forced to carry this tremendous welfare financial burden, for nearly a year, no one has heard of any of the welfare department or state officials missing a state pay-check.

The writer wishes to assure the Governor of one thing in advance of his extra legislative session, there will be a determined effort made to write into any appropriation bill that is made for welfare, a provision which will require the state welfare department to pay IMMEDIATELY all of its obligations. Not only will this be done by the writer, who happens to be a member of the legislature, but every effort will be made to see to it that not a cent of the proposed appropriation can be taken by the office holders to be used in the forthcoming campaign. There will be a determined fight put up against any additional tax scheme that hits the consumer. The same opposition exists to any proposal for additional permanent taxes.

If any one is looking for proof of the selfishness and greed of those administering the state government, it is not necessary to go beyond the failure of the state to pay its bills before paying out millions to support needless job-holders.

The Governor has done much talking about "clean and honest government". No government is clean and honest that operates in the dead-beat class.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

WIDE OUT THE EXEMPTIONS.

Now and then out of all this calamitous business of building up governmental deficits comes some improvement. For instance there was that period back of 1932 when ruthless local taxing officers so piled up the burden against property owners that the property owners rebelled and voted themselves two great protective benefits—the 15-mill tax limitation and the requirement that one be a payer of the property tax before he could vote a debt in the form of a bond against the property of others.

By the way, the taxpayers of Michigan had a reminder of this and other protective constitutional provisions of our basic Michigan law just last week. The governor, first lamenting that Michigan's constitution forbids the legislature borrowing money, said to the "little legislature" assembled to dole out a million and a quarter left in the emergency fund, "If we could borrow, we would not be here today." It is a mighty good thing for the citizens of Michigan that prohibition against unbridled borrowing is in the constitution of our commonwealth. Let's keep it there.

But what we started out to discuss is that some good comes out of evil days. And so down at Washington we hear of the big-wigs of the treasury department planning to do away with tax exempt bonds—federal, state and municipal—and to do away with exemption from both federal and state income tax thus far enjoyed by federal, state and municipal employees. Most business men will agree this is a wise move. It has been too long delayed.

Taxation of government bonds should help business men to raise capital. Suppose a retired business man has $10,000,000 to invest. If he puts it in government bonds at three percent his annual return would be $300,000 upon which no tax would be levied under present laws. In order to give him this much net return, private business would have to offer him at least 10 percent on his money, or $1,000,000 a year. Because after he'd finished paying the approximately $675,000 federal and state income tax on the $1,000,000 his actual income would be whittled to $325,000. Obviously men of wealth at present are not anxious to risk their money in private business when in many instances they can get the same net return by investing in relatively safe government bonds.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

JUST BOY TALK

Any man can remember several times in his boyhood when he has heard conversations between two belligerent youths something like this:

"You're a liar."

"You're another."

"You're a double liar."

"You're a double dirty liar."

And so on with neither lad wishing to start a real fight, but both going just as far as they dare.

Those boyhood rows remind us of the U. A. W. squabble.

"You're a communist."

"You're a bigger communist than I am."

And back and forth and forth and back, with nothing ever coming to a head. Just like two boys talking big, but just the same afraid.

The whole mess in the U. A. W. makes us sick. We're sick of reading about the C. I. O. and the U. A. W., communism and near-reds, because we can't help thinking the whole outfit is near the lunatic fringe.

Daily newspapers will do well if they relegate stories about Martin, Frankenstein, Lewis and the whole outfit to some other than the first page. It might be well to get together, if they can, and call all their reporters off those beats. Just as long as misleaders of the U. A. W. can make first page, they will try something fantastic. Take away their free publicity, and the whole business will die a natural death.—James Gallery in The Tuscola County Advertiser.

THE RIGHTS OF OTHERS.

The creation of the automobile has been and will likely continue to be both a blessing and a curse to humanity until drivers become conscious minded of the rights of other drivers and learn only one half of the road belongs to them, and will refuse to try and hog it all.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

EFFICIENT SEEING

Devoted to Eye Welfare for Everyone

For Unfinished Cathedral

Ever since I was a small boy, the Cathedral (which comes from a Greek word, meaning "the seat") of St. John the Divine on Morningside Heights in New York City has been building. Visitors, over the years, have seen it rise, slowly, almost painfully—new portions contrasting with blackened and weathered parts. It is a perfectly enormous building; perhaps the largest single church edifice in the United States.

In the papers, there is a renewed appeal for funds for more building! When will it end? Never, I hope. To me, the symbol of the ever-building but never built or finished cathedral is surpassingly beautiful—it speaks of infinity.

So, too, optometry. There are those who yearn for an ending of development and discovery. To them, optometry is doing well enough. If that were true, optometry would be a waste of effort, but it is ever being built and never finished, ever extending its researches and services out to wider and more valuable boundaries. My days away from the office, studying at our optometric clinics are not only inspirations to better work for my patients, but supply me with actual techniques and procedures that enable me to achieve finer results.

A budget plan of easy payments is available for those who desire to take advantage of it.

Tomato Crop To Be Record Breaker

An abundant tomato crop at reasonable prices is being harvested which will be a welcome note to Plymouth housewives, who will have opportunity to fill cans with wholesome food for use in the months to come.

Near normal tomato crops are reported in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan, with a record size crop around Plymouth.

Becoming especially popular for home canning, is the cold pack method. By using solid tomatoes of desirable variety, the finished product is frequently firm enough to warrant use of whole tomatoes on winter salads. Many canners will process tomatoes during the coming year and convert the canned product into juice as needed for the breakfast table.

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.—James 5: 16.

Prayer is a strong wall and fortress of the church; it is a goodly Christian's weapon.—Luther.

And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power.—I Cor. 2: 4.

What is your guess?

ELECTRIC COOKING FOR A FAMILY OF FOUR COSTS (PER MONTH):

- $173
- $235
- $350
- $419

(Check figure you think is closest to actual cooking cost)

or write your own figure

... then read the correct answer HERE

So rapid has been the development of electric ranges in the last few years, so great the improvement in speed and efficiency, that many people do not realize how little it now costs to cook electrically. As proof of this, jot down your own impression of electric cooking costs in the chart above, and compare your guess with the correct figure in the table at the right. The result may surprise you! Today's modern electric ranges open a new world of cooking enjoyment to thousands of women who have felt that they were unable to afford it. The price of an electric range is about the same as that of an ordinary stove of comparable size and features.

See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers or at Detroit Edison offices.

You CAN afford electric cooking!

$1.73 per month is the average cost of electric cooking in families of 4 persons, at the rate of 2 1/4 cents (net) per kw-hr. This figure was obtained by actual meter test in homes using electric meter test in a period of a year's time. For families of 3 persons, the cost averaged only $1.55 per month. Five well-known makes and 9 different models of electric ranges were used in this survey, by women cooking meals daily in ordinary kitchens.

the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 14. The Golden Text, (Ps. 143: 7, 8), is "Hear me speedily, O Lord; because me to hear thy loving kindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee." Among the Bible citations in this passage (Isa. 61: 10): "I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 247): "The recipe for beauty is to have less illusion and more Soul, to retreat from grief on pain or pleasure in the body into the unchanging calm and glorious freedom of spiritual harmony."

Softball Clubs End In Three-Way Tie

Super Shell, Plymouth Hardware and Schrader's finished in a three-way tie for first place this week in Plymouth's commercial softball league. These three teams and the Plymouth Mail club, all of which ended in the first section, will begin play-offs for the city championship next week.

The multiple tie ended a race that was undecided until the final games. None of the teams in the first six places were certain of remaining in the first section until the last of the games had been played.

The most exciting game was the contest between Schrader's and Fleetwing. O. Egloff pitched a beautiful one-hit game. The only hit he allowed came in the seventh inning.

Good crowds are expected to attend the play-offs next week, which are certain to provide some exciting baseball. Final league standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Super Shell	9	5	.643
Plymouth Hdwe.	9	5	.643
Schrader	9	5	.643
Plymouth Mail	8	6	.571

Adolph Koenig Gets New Position

Plymouth residents will be interested in knowing that former city manager, Adolph J. Koenig, who left here some seven or eight years ago to become city manager at Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, has just accepted a position as city manager, at Wilmette, Illinois, a city of some 18,000 population along the lake shore just north of Chicago. The new position carries with it a much larger salary than he received either in Plymouth or in Fort Atkinson. The News of Fort Atkinson, commenting on the departure of the city manager from Wisconsin, said Mr. Koenig a high tribute to his excellent work during the time he has been in charge of the affairs of the Wisconsin city. His selection for the new position was made from a list of over 100 applicants, and his choice was the unanimous vote of the commission of Wilmette. He will assume his new duties on September 1.

NO CHANCE FOR ARGUMENT

A BARBER USED HIS ELECTRIC CLIPPERS when he cut Little Tommy's hair, and when he got home he said to his mother: "I guess my neck wasn't very clean for that barber used his vacuum cleaner on it". Ever since we have been in the lumber and building material business, we have always treated our customers in a manner that they wouldn't have to apologise if they spoke a good word for us.

There will be no chance for argument this winter if you fill your coal bin now at low summer prices. Take our advice—you'll be glad you did when prices advance.

WHY IS OUR GLOVE TAKEN OFF WHEN BEING SWORN AS A WITNESS?

VERY long ago all criminals were branded on the palm of the hand. In court of law all witnesses when taking oath were compelled to bare and hold up for public view their right hand, palm out, in order to disclose whether or no they had a criminal record. Although the branding was stopped, the custom remains unchanged to the present day.

State Administration Starts School Of Journalism For Convicts In Jackson Prison

Killers And Thugs To Be Taught How To Write News Of Their Crimes For The Newspapers

(By E. R. EATON)

"Say Pal, Ise don't like what 'em guys write in dese newspapers about us. Look at dis one—they call us felons and thugs and they stick a hunk of dynamite souped up in nitro under ours big prize fight and blows it up jus like wez blows up de banks.

"Wez been off on de wrong foot. When de big screws open up dem barred gates and de parole man turns us out ter fodder agin, wez got to do some writin' for dem sheets so de people gets our slant on what's goin' on. Think of it, callin' us mugs tough guys and 'ixin' it so de Governor whose our pal had to call off our fight so de dear public can't come in and has their pockets cleaned right here without waitin' for us comin' out party.

"Yess Sur! Wez goin' into de scribblin' business and they's ain't goin' to call us thugs and safe-crackers and rubber-passers and felons and things like em names any more. Wez goin' to be scribblers and professors, so de folks whose got brains can get our slant of what's goin' on in de world of crime and corruption. It's about time we opened up our sleepy lids and do somethun what's got some influence on de outside of dis here crib."

There it is, the "inside" story of the announcement of the establishment of a

School of Journalism Conducted by Gunner, Killers, Burglars, Sex Perverts, Forgers and Highwaymen Now Inmates of The State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson. Joel E. Moore Professor of Journalism G. I. Francis Director of Education Frank Murphy President Emeritus

In the July 11 issue of The SPECTATOR, a tabloid newspaper, printed for the benefit of the inmates within Jackson prison, on page 1, appeared the following announcement:

"Sometime in the near future, The Spectator is to set up a complete and thorough school of journalism. Director of Education G. I. Francis, announced this week. "With the added facilities, provided by the purchase of an Intertype line-casting machine, the installation of a press room, and a move to larger quarters, the inmates' publication will be able to do its own printing. . . . Warden Moore has planned the new set-up for several months and hopes to develop the school of journalism into one of the finest educational prison movements in the country. An announcement will be made as soon as enrollments can be accepted."

The announcement does not contain reference as to when the new school faculty expects to conduct its first commencement. Neither does the announcement contain information as to whether the prison students of journalism will specialize in the writing of crime news or politics.

There is no reference as to how efficient the convicts will be trained in the art of stealing a newspaper scoop. Neither is there any statement about how extensive will be the journalism course in training the thugs, thieves and killers in the best ways to write the details of their crimes.

It is possible, however, the curriculum will contain a course in the proper construction of news articles as to the best methods of evading the law and keeping out of the clutches of the officers and courts.

The public is also left to guess how many thousands of dollars the present state administration is spending to start such a fool venture as a School of Journalism for killers and thugs.

In all seriousness I would like to ask the Governor if this is a part of a scheme to start a state newspaper and establish a great state printing plant, to be operated by convicts, thereby taking jobs away from hundreds of men who have spent a lifetime in learning a most complicated trade?

JUST THINKIN'

by Charles S. Kinnison

Just as I Am

Lord knows that I have lots of flaws— Yes, many imperfections. I violate the Bible Laws, In several directions.

But yet despite these flaws in me, Despite each sinful fetter, I pray that some will try to see In me, the thing that's better.

But I'd not ask that ALL would seek To find my armor spotless, And see not ways in which I'm weak, And to my faults be thoughtless—

I'll be content if just a few, Unto my faults are blinded, And see in me the side that's true. If just a few are minded,

To stand by me for what I am, For all I may be masking— And see the good, and not the sham, That's all I would be asking. (© 1938, Western Newspaper Union.)

Hill each collected two hits. Ase Hill's hits included a home run with none on board. Bad base running and poor pitching was responsible for the local's defeat. Garden City collected two hits in the first inning but failed to score. Three hits in the second accounted for a run, as did three hits in each of the third and fourth innings accounted for a single run. Next Sunday Garden City will play Hamtramck in Garden City. The game was originally scheduled to be played in Hamtramck but has been transferred to Garden City.

A bounteous dinner was served early in the afternoon, after which the regular business meeting was held. The hostess and host were thanked for their wonderful hospitality, also plans were made to meet with Mr. and Mrs. Mason Harbison at Lake Orion next year. The rest of the afternoon was spent playing games and visiting. Toward night the party broke up with memories of a very pleasant day.

WHY DO I LAUGH WHEN I AM TICKLED?

WHEN you are tickled on the feet or anywhere else you might be sensitive, a certain set of muscles and nerves are set into action. This action sends to the brain a spontaneous reaction causing a laugh. This same set of muscles and nerves are set into motion by a funny sight or sound causing the same reaction—a laugh. Just as when one person presses certain strings on the violin and draws a bow across them a certain sound is produced, so will the very same sound come forth when another person sets into action the same strings and pressure and bow.

Garden City Takes A Trimming

Garden City lost a close game to the Whitehead and Kale team of River Rouge by the score of 8 to 7. Trailing by four runs in the ninth inning, the local lads came within one run of tying the score. Two doubles, intermingled with a single, and a three base hit by Bill Rozich accounted for the three runs. With Dean pinch-hitting for Joe Higgins, the squeeze play was attempted but proved unsuccessful when the batter got mixed up on the signals.

Leo Fowler started on the mound for the Garden City team but lasted for only four innings. Waldo Scott relieved Fowler and did no better being touched for four runs the same number that was scored off of Fowler.

Garden City collected a total of 19 hits which included three two-base hits by "Double or Nothing" Higgins, Bill Sonnenberg, Garden City's spunky little catcher collected three singles to tie Higgins for the batting honors of the day. Charlie Wolfram collected two doubles while Bill Rozich collected a double and a triple. O'Brien, R. Wolfram, and

The Flapper-

By James Lewis Hays

She paints her lips a sunset shade,
This flapper young and charming
She calls a spade a blink blank spade
With frankness most alarming.
Her skirts will never chafe the knee,
She wears no hint of stocking.
"I get an awful kick," says she
When people gasp, "How shocking!"

She's sweet sixteen if you should ask
A dazzling, sparkling flapper!
With cigarette and pocket flask
The times conspire to trap her,
But I'll put up my house and home
Against a coolie's dinner
That (Bless her silly flapper ways!)
There's mostly goodness in her.

Boy Scouts Give Civic Service

The commissioner of the Plymouth district, Boy Scouts of America, has long had the idea that one of the duties of the Boy Scouts as an organization is to render service. The Civic committee which has sponsored five successful community enterprises in Plymouth up to date, has agreed with this idea and has called on the local Scouts to help their native city in various ways.

Last Halloween the boys helped with the parade, in lining up the children and in the distribution of apples, etc. At Christmas time the Scouts helped to distribute baskets and aided at the community carol sing at Kellogg park. Scouts participated in the hobby show as exhibitors. They ushered at the sunrise service several weeks ago. And Monday at the community picnic the Scouts again were on hand. Under Assistant Scoutmasters Moore P-3 and Partridge of P-2, Scouts VanLandingham, Charles Olson and Charles Bulson of P-3; Hunter and Erdelyi of P-2 and Blyton of P-1, maintained a first aid station in one of P-1's tents. Mrs. C. H. Bennett loaned the Red Cross flags which marked the tent, and the Plymouth municipal flag also designated the tent as picnic headquarters. Fortunately, the first aid services of the Scouts were not needed for any serious injuries. Three cut fingers were bandaged. Besides his work the boys assisted in serving the ice cream, pop and cookies. The large size of the crowd in attendance at the picnic made this much more of a job than applying iodine and gauze.

Plymouth Vicinity

Mrs. Frank Gifford and Mrs. Roy N. Leemon with Peter will have Sunday for Lake Charles where they will be the guests of Mrs. Kenneth Garlock for a week.

Monday, Mrs. E. J. Cutler and Winnifred, Mrs. Malcolm Cutler with Rupert and Edward spent the day at Bob-Lo. They were joined in the afternoon by Mr. E. J. Cutler, Malcolm and Alfred, all enjoying supper together on the island.

Mrs. George Richwine is enjoying a motor trip this week through the East.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Root and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Root were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Aldrich Sunday. Cleo T. Aldrich returned with them for a week's visit.

Mrs. Chloe Rook of Waterford is visiting at her brother-in-law's and nephews, J. F. and H. C. Roots this week.

Mrs. Marguerite Cronk of Chicago, Mrs. Elwin McTaggart, Mrs. Fred Chuck, and Miss Hutchens of South Lyon visited the J. F. Roots Tuesday evening.

Miss Marian Paddock of Penniman road and Miss Minna Brems of Plymouth were joint hostesses Saturday and Sunday to The Travel club, an organization of former business women in Detroit, seven of the guests coming from Detroit, and three from Flint. Resumes were given of a trip in the South as far as Key West, of a Caribbean cruise, of a California trip and also in northern Michigan. Plans were also laid for a trip to New Orleans. They were entertained in the Paddock home Saturday evening for dinner. Sunday breakfast was served in Benton park. The group was entertained at dinner in the Brems home on North Main street.

United States has almost 300,000 volunteer firemen in some 13,000 companies. Schools in more than forty states give fire-fighting instruction to 35,000 students yearly. One state with 90 cities and towns has only one paid fire department.

The 1400 percent increase in the number of air-conditioning systems installed since 1933 has raised the water consumption in American cities as much as 25.8 percent. As a result city approval is now required before installation in many communities.

Former Plymouth Girl Injured

Miss Royalene Martin, the little daughter of Mrs. Jesse Amick, of 4402 Rhodes avenue, S.W., Grand Rapids, was painfully injured last Saturday evening, August 6, in Howard City, Michigan, where she was visiting her grandmother with her sister and mother. The child was crossing the street at the corner of Main street and U.S. 131, when a car going north struck the child and knocked her to the pavement unconscious. She was taken to the office of Dr. L. W. Hayes where first aid was rendered, after which she was taken to the home of her grandmother until Sunday night, her injuries being so painful it was deemed unwise to move her home until Sunday night when she was taken home by Mr. Amick, where she is still confined to her bed. She suffered injuries to her head,

Crowds Visit Glider Airport

Several hundreds spent Sunday afternoon at the Triangle airport on East Ann Arbor Trail, which was formally dedicated to the use of glider planes at that time.

The spectators saw some of the expert gliders sail their motorless crafts through the air with the apparent ease of giant soaring eagles. It was a still day, but nevertheless after their crafts had gone several hundred feet into the air and they were cut loose from the tow, the gliding pilots maneuvered their planes nearly a mile from the port and back again, to perfect landings.

It was not only a busy day at the port, but the Green Shutters, the newly established restaurant at Newburg on the lake, was also busy taking care of the visitors at the airport. The flying gliders and their friends spent the evening

Townsend Club Hears Reports

At the Plymouth Townsend club meeting held last Monday night, Mrs. William Dores read a prepared report on the many interesting highlights which she experienced while attending the third national convention of Townsend clubs in Los Angeles in June. Her report urged all members and sympathizers to continue in their untiring efforts to gain the popular support of their fellow citizens for the "Townsend National Recovery Plan". The club is looking forward to its next meeting Monday, August 15 in the Grange hall when James McKenzie, advertising manager of the Redford Record will talk on the Townsend National Recovery plan which he will explain. The public is cordially invited.

CAR CATCHES FIRE

Firemen responded to a call to extinguish a blaze in a car which was burning near the city hall Monday and put out the fire, which caused no damage. Grease around the hub cap of one of the wheels caught fire but no further damage resulted.

Exhaustive researches by both the U. S. biological survey and Hudson's Bay company have failed to disclose any authenticated case of a wolf attacking a human.

NEXT THURSDAY

AUGUST 18

All Is in Readiness for the Biggest Day Plymouth Ever Had at the Fair

The parade will form at 12:30 o'clock from the City Hall south along the east side of Main street. It will start promptly at one o'clock with parking for those in the parade permitted in the center of the race track.

Make It A Big Day - - Your Holiday!

The Fair Starts on Wednesday and will continue through until Saturday night 12 o'clock.

Trotting races, running races, ball games, fireworks each night, tremendously big exhibits, a poultry show larger than any other in Michigan, it surely is going to be a big fair this year. Plan now to see all of the attractions and many fine displays.

Officials of the forthcoming world series aren't worrying about rain. They need only remember the 3,000 rabid fans who jammed the bleachers and unreserved seats at New York's Polo Grounds before the fifth game of last year's series, undaunted by cold, drizzly weather. Last year's series between the New York Giants and New York Yankees, which broke series attendance records, is expected to be exceeded this year.

Every Family, with proper planning should be able to include a home in their budget!

Stark Recreation News
Nineteen made the trip to Rouge park last Friday going with the Plymouth recreation group.

Forty-seven from Stark school and 14 from Nankin rode in the truck to Riverside park last Wednesday. A softball game was played between the two schools and the rest of them enjoyed the wading pool.

This week there is a hand tennis tournament being played off with an entry of 18.

We wish to thank the Plymouth committee for their invitation to the community picnic which was enjoyed by all of the recreation group.

The men's softball team dropped two ball games last week both of them being very loosely played.

While waiting for the truck to pick us up for the Rouge pools Tuesday some generous man bought the whole group a double dip ice cream cone apiece.

Miss Pape is trying to arrange to have some pictures taken of the recreation group this Wednesday.

Stark News

A new little school girl has arrived in our community, in the person of Donna Joy Phillips. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Phillips of Wayne road, and arrived on August 5. Just now Donna Joy and her mother are in Sharpsville, Indiana and we hope she will soon be able to pack her suitcase and bring Mother home. Incidentally, we offer our hearty congratulations to Papa Noble who is "keeping the home fires burning".

Barbara Jean Sims, of Detroit, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. William Loesch of Wayne road.

Roland Leclair, of Detroit, who has been visiting John Ray Bowser, has left for home. His sister, Doris, is staying on for the week with Carolyn.

High Taxes Ruin Chances Of Workers For Steady Pay Says Alleman

Business To Be Better, But Taxes Will Be Penalty

(By Gene Alleman)
Roger Babson's latest forecast, "I look for the sharpest increase in business this fall in many years", is good news in Michigan where 90 percent of the world's automobiles are made.

Because automobile manufacture is the nation's key industry, Michigan occupies a strategic spot on the economic map today.

In this pivotal industry General Motors manufactures and sells every year through its five divisions in Michigan—Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac—LaSalle, as well as GM trucks—approximately 40 percent of all the passenger cars and trucks made in the United States. And yet, unlike the Ford Motor company, its eggs are not all in one basket.

The story of General Motors is fascinating. And with business again reviving, payrolls of its eight Michigan plants will affect the butcher, the baker, and even the candlestick maker.

Started in a humble fashion in 1908 with the purchase of five automobile factories at a capitalization of $12,500,000, General Motors has grown to be big business on an international scale.

Through its research division, the corporation developed the electric self-starter, four-wheel brakes, "turret top" automatic choke, no-draft ventilation, synchro-mesh transmission and many other improvements.

General Motors possesses an 80 per cent control in the Adam Opel Motor company in Germany, producers of about 45 per cent of the motor cars made in this country.

It controls the Vauxhall Motors, Ltd., of England.

It owns 50 percent interest in the Ethyl gasoline corporation whose product has added much to engine efficiency.

General Motors has a quarter interest in Bendix-Aviation corporation and a 40 percent interest in the Fokker Aircraft corporation of America, now the General Aviation corporation.

It organized the General Motors Radio corporation, having a 51 percent interest therein.

It controls the Fisher Body corporation, the Delco Light company, the Winton Engine corporation (now the Cleveland Diesel Engine division), the Electro-Motive (diesel railroad engines) corporation, General Motors Acceptance corporation, the Yellow Truck and Manufacturing company, and has 307,951 share of common stock in the National Bank of Detroit.

About 50 per cent of GM income is now derived from activities other than automobile production. Among the non-automotive products are air-conditioning units, refrigerators, locomotive engines, radios, and airplanes.

Furthermore, the corporation has a definite decentralization program, as the 1937 annual report explains in these words: "on every count its (GM) policy should be to operate in the smaller communities and in as many communities as is economically sound and desirable."

What has labor got out of all this?

Recalling the widespread labor difficulties in Michigan plants last year, this is a pertinent question.

Get ready for a surprise!

Wages in the automobile industry during the sit-down strike year were 30 percent above 1929 level allowances is made for the changes in the cost of living. The average hourly earned rate for all manufacturing industries in 1937 was approximately 64 cents, while in the automobile industry it averaged 87 cents per hour and in GM was even higher.

Put on an annual earning basis, since seasons of unemployment makes the hourly rate an unfair basis for comparison, General Motors hourly-paid factory workers received an average annual wage of $1,618 in 1937. And that in spite of the adverse influences of labor troubles. This amount would have been higher if workers had not lost time due to numerous wildcat strikes. In 1938, GM workers received $1,587 for at least 46 weeks' work.

From time to time, you hear statements in Michigan about an "annual wage".

Consider this: In spite of the automobile industry's seasonal layoff for a large proportion of its workers, the annual earnings of the factory workers are much greater than those of the average full-time employed factory worker in the country as a whole. Statistically speaking, GM workers earned $1,618 for 46 weeks or more in the 1937 model year, as compared with an average of approximately $1,200 a year for the full-time (52 weeks) industrial workers of this country during 1936.

Since the cost of living was 15 per cent lower in 1937 than in 1929, when the comparable average earnings of such employees were $1,440, it will readily be seen that the worker's average annual real income was approximately 32 per cent greater in 1937 than in 1929.

Why then all the strike trouble?

In its quest for more golden eggs, is labor likely to kill the goose?

The automobile industry has prospered, by following the formula of having the consumer more for his money through research and lower prices and giving the worker a high wage and a short week through mass production methods. You can't laugh off the fact that you Yankees, even in the depression year of 1933, possessed 72 percent of the 33,330,000 automobiles used in the world.

Furthermore, according to the Department of Labor in its November, 1937, monthly labor review, the automobile industry is unique in having an actual increase in labor cost per unit of nine percent since 1929, while all other industries studied show either no change or an actual decrease in labor cost running as high as 48 percent.

These are cold facts, but they ignore the prevalent distrust of big business, fanned into hatred by politicians. Depression, bank failures, and home foreclosures, cut deep wounds in human emotions.

Forgotten during this period of disillusionment was the reality that payrolls constitute about 75 percent of the selling prices of goods and services. Or, phrased another way, labor's wages come out of the consumer's pocket. When the consumer doesn't buy, the worker gets no pay check.

And so the worker is affected directly by factors which increase the cost of the product. If costs rise in excess of the consumer's ability to buy, the worker suffers in loss of wages. The economic equilibrium must be kept balanced.

One unbalancing factor is taxes. General Motors' 1937 tax bill was $444 per worker, an increase of $106 in TWO YEARS. It was 53.4 per cent of earnings, or $2.45 per share of common stock. Of the total tax bill of $73,734,000 in 1937, only $13,741,000 went for social security taxes as compared with $3,722,000 in 1936.

High taxes penalize everyone—consumer, labor and investor alike. Reduction of the tax load would greatly speed recovery which Babson foresees for the coming fall months.

Of the 1,903,000,000 acres of land in the continental United States about 820,000,000 acres were originally covered with forests.

Early lumbering operations in Michigan were concentrated first in virgin pine and reached their peak about 1900.

Among the smaller duties of life I hardly know any one more important than that of not praising where praise is not due.—Sydney Smith.

Coward Family Likes Plymouth Mail

"It's just like getting a great big letter from home," wrote Mrs. Frank Coward, of Muskegon, to The Plymouth Mail the other day when sending a check for another year's subscription. Mr. and Mrs. Coward and children recently moved from Plymouth to Muskegon, where Mr. Coward is associated with the Continental Motors Corporation.

The family is now residing at 1267 Palmer Boulevard in Muskegon. Two of the Coward children, Marian and Richard, have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Coward's parents in Bronson, and Franklin is a leader at Camp Merritt, a Boy Scout camp near Muskegon. They are planning on a visit to Plymouth before the fall term of school opens.
