City School Attendance Records Broken As Fall Term Opens; Total To Reach 1,700 Mark

Increase Of Over 100 Is Forecast By Official

Plymouth public school attendance records were shattered Tuesday when the 1938 fall term opened. Enrollment figures totaled 1,676 on the first day, a gain of 66 students over last year. However, Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith said that when late enrollments were added into the records, the total would amount to about 1,750. Plymouth school enrollments have soared upward progressively in recent years. In 1936, the total attendance at the schools was 1,512. In 1937 the total was 1,610, and this year's attendance is expected to show an increase of well over 100 above last year's.

Figures for the individual schools, as reported on opening day, showed 238 pupils enrolled at the Starkweather school as compared to 316 last year; 511 at Central school as compared to 498 last year, and 867 students at the high school as compared to 796 who were enrolled last year.

School administration and classes ran smoothly on opening day. For the first time free text books were issued to grade school children under the provisions of the mandate given to the board of education by the electors in the last school district election. High school students were classified in the forenoon Tuesday and regular classes were held in the afternoon.

The addition in the grade building was put into service on opening day to provide two class rooms for high school students and four new rooms for use of grade pupils.

High school students will make use of the facilities until the Wood property is made available for high school classes.

A feature of the opening of schools this year was the inauguration of a machine shop course to provide practical opportunities for Plymouth youth. The course received a full enrollment opening day.

Classes in all departments were under full swing Wednesday. Extracurricular activities also got under way this week, with athletic squads and participants in social and other projects laying plans for a busy season.

Here's A Picture Of Plymouth That Takes You From A to Z

Plymouth's first citizen, alphabetically speaking, is Albert Ackman, of 617 Ann street.

And the last man in town—we're still speaking alphabetically—Elmer Zuckerman, of 1630 Ball street.

Mr. Ackman's name leads all the rest in the 1938 Plymouth city directory. At the opposite end of the list of Plymouth residents, which in the last census totaled 4,484, is Mr. Zuckman's name.

Mr. Zuckerman is general manager of the Plymouth Felt Products division of Allen Industries, Inc.

The Smith family name leads all others in the directory for numerical strength with a total of 48 listings. The Wilson clan comes next with 26. Next are the Johnsons, with 20 listings, closely followed by the Williams family name, which has 19 listings.

Residents On Sunset Ask Sanitary Sewer

The city commission received a petition Tuesday night from a large number of residents on Sunset street to install sanitary sewers on the street from Penniman to Junction. The commission, told that taxes were well paid up in the area, set a hearing on the matter for September 12.

Work was started this week on the sanitary sewer on Irving street between Blanche street and the railroad. Funds also have been granted, it was announced, so that the city can go ahead with construction of a storm sewer on Irving street for the same distance.

The work will provide Irving street with better drainage than it ever has had before, City Manager Clarence H. Elliott commented.

Awards Made In Condemnation Of Tonquish Land

Work On Project May Be Started In Six Weeks

Condemnation awards have been made by three commissioners appointed by the Probate Court on two parcels of land which the county drain commission has designated for use in connection with the Tonquish Creek drain project, the drain office announced this week.

Pending a possible appeal against the awards by the owners of the property, the drain office is going forward with plans to let bids for contract work on the project. It is possible that work will be started on the project within six weeks, if there are no court delays, it was stated.

The drain office reported that the awards were in the amounts of $500 for a parcel of land owned jointly by John McLaren and William ettingill and $300 for a parcel owned by August Myers.

The awards were made by F. J. Snyder and Charles Pyle of Wayne, and Charles Kurland, of Inkster, under commission of the Probate Court after hearings in the Mayflower hotel, Plymouth.

Plans for the project were laid as far back as 1930, but no definite action was taken until this year. The project will cost an estimated $54,291.47, according to Herald Hamill, civil engineer. The creek drains an area of about two and a half square miles, as far west of Plymouth as the Detroit House of Correction.

The project long has been considered necessary for the purpose of enlarging and protecting the drainage capacity, conserving property and beautifying the tangent area and of elimination of odors from the water which courses through the town.

The plans call for covering the creek from Harvey street to the alley east of Main street and deepening, widening and straightening of the open ditch from Harvey street to Garfield. Similar work also is extended beyond the city limits to west of Sheldon road.

As a protective measure, the turns between Harvey street and Garfield are to be reinforced with concrete and stone so that the creek will not be able to wash out of its banks as it has done on occasions.

The slopes of the open ditch will be sodded and the old ditch will be filled in and leveled off. Hamill said, where the course of the ditch is to be changed.

The county drain commissioner expects to obtain WPA assistance on all of the work except for construction of the covered part of the creek, which will be done under private contract to be awarded by bid.

CREW STARTS PAVING OF CHURCH STREET

Paving of Church street between Main and Harvey streets was started this week. It is expected that paving of the 40-foot parkway will be completed this fall and that some work also may be done on paving the approach from Church street to the Plymouth high school. The work has been progressing slowly, it was explained, because the construction crew has been divided between two projects.

Hearing Today On Injunction Of Volunteers

City Will Fight Permanent Restraining Order

City Attorney Arlo Emery will represent the city of Plymouth in a hearing today (Friday) before Circuit Judge James E. Chene to show cause why a temporary injunction granted the Volunteers of America to restrain the city from interfering with its agents should not be made permanent.

The organization, which has headquarters in Detroit, charges that the city has denied its agents the right to solicit clothing in Plymouth. Edward S. Piggins, counsel for the Volunteers, told the court that the agency had supplied clothing last year and this for needy children in Plymouth.

Judge Chenot granted the temporary injunction Monday, August 29. The city contends that the agency must obtain permission for the soliciting from the city. A year ago, Chief of Police Vaughan Smith said, the organization's agents were halted in their work by police, who told the agents of the necessity for obtaining permission for the work.

When the organization requested such permission the city commission refused it on the grounds that the Salvation Army had done such a fine job in caring for the city's needy that the assistance of another agency was not needed.

This spring agents of the Volunteers, city officials said, attempted to gather old clothing again without the permission of the city commission and again were halted by police.

Explosion Lifts Manhole Covers

A crowd of about 75 persons was drawn to Fralick avenue just off Main street Tuesday forenoon when a sewer explosion blew two manhole covers into the air. The covers flew several feet into the air with a dull thud that was heard throughout the center of the city. No damage resulted.

Leroy Segnitz told Ertolmarch Lee R. Sackett, who made an investigation, that he was draining a gasoline can which he had been washing out with water into the sewer when a passing motorist threw out a lighted cigarette butt which touched off the explosion. He said he did not know the man. Segnitz was not injured.

Some spectators said that the blast lifted the manhole cover nearest Main street as much as 10 feet from the ground but other estimates on the height reached by the heavy iron cover ranged several feet lower. The cover landed four feet from the sewer hole.

Hitch-Hiker Killed Mouch, Police Believe

Plymouth Murder Lacks Suspect After 10 Days

Lacking a suspect in the apparent holdup murder of Robert A. Mouch, 38 years old, Detroit salesman whose body was found in his parked car on Eckles road, two miles east of here, police turned to the theory this week that Mouch was the victim of a hitch-hiker. The slaying was discovered early Monday, August 29, and it was learned later that Mouch was on the way to visit a friend in Plymouth when he lost his life.

Officers of the state police, sheriff's office and Plymouth police department pointed out that a large number of motorists who had befriended hitch-hikers recently had been the victims of their own kindness when the thumbers turned to robbery or violence.

One such case was reported near Plymouth last week when a New York waitress told police that a hitch-hiker whom she had picked up in Chicago had turned on her while they were approaching Detroit on Plymouth road. The man forced her out of the car after robbing her of all of the money she had.

Police scoffed at theories that Mouch had taken his own life, pointing out that no weapon was found in or near the death car and that the county medical examiner had found no evidence of powder burns, having said that he was present if Mouch himself had fired the two bullets through his right cheek and back of his right ear.

In addition, his pockets were turned inside out and friends said that he had between $15 and $25 in his wallet.

Chief of Police Vaughan Smith urged motorists to take the tragedy as an example of the fruits of being a good Samaritan to a hitch-hiker.

Time and again that it is exceedingly risky to pick up hitch-hikers, but it takes an occurrence of this nature to drive the point home that a motorist may be putting his life in the hands of a killer when he picks someone up on the street and gives him a ride.

Chief Smith commented, "Persons in small towns or rural communities always have been kind about offering rides to pedestrians, largely because they knew the person walking to the road and wanted to give him a lift. The kindness has been extended to the point where college boys can boast about the amount of mileage they cover gratis through the courtesy of motorists who pick them up."

The danger lies, not in picking up friends well known to the driver, but in extending aid to thieves and murderers who frequently accept the motorist's hospitality until they reach their destination, then rob or attack their benefactors."

The statements of opinion of police officers, drivers who pick up hitch-hikers are fools who gamble with disaster as much as the reckless driver.

As a warning to the driver who believes he knows an honest face when he sees one or believes it is safe to pick up a youth who apparently is just a student homeward bound, it was recalled that a dangerous insane criminal who escaped from a state hospital told police that he always managed to travel wherever he wanted by the simple expedient of wearing a sweater with a college letter on it and carrying a light suitcase.

Death Takes Holiday In Labor Day Traffic

Plymouth marked up a perfect traffic score for the three-day Labor day holiday week-end. The box score, according to police reports, was no deaths, no injuries, no accidents.

The safety mark was attained despite heavy traffic which coursed through Plymouth during the holidays and which was particularly heavy Monday night as thousands of Detroiters passed through the city on their way homeward from holiday outings.

The traffic report bettered that of last year when several accidents happened and one person was killed in an auto smashup at Plymouth and Haggerty roads in these Plymouth roads.

Traffic fatalities for the state at large were much lighter this year than last, when the automobile massacre reached a total of 82 fatalities over the four-day vacation period, according to state police reports.

Berry Picker Discovers Suicide In Woods

James Swartz, 39 years old, of 14327 Lesure avenue, Detroit, who had been missing from his home four days, was found dead in his car at 3 p.m. Saturday off Levan road near the Pere Marquette railroad tracks four miles east of Plymouth Saturday by Anthony Kregor, of Mill street.

"I was looking for thimbleberries when I saw this coach parked in the woods out of view from the highway," Kregor said. "I walked up to the car and saw the body of a man inside. A hose attached to the exhaust pipe led into the closed interior of the machine."

Swartz had been dead about three days, it was decided after deputy sheriffs, called by Kregor, investigated the case. There was no note left to explain why Swartz had taken his own life. His body was identified Sunday in the morgue by his brother.

Townsend Club Hears Candidates

The Plymouth Townsend club concluded its outdoor meetings in Kellogg park Wednesday, August 31 when a large crowd heard some equally nice speaking by Judge Earl N. Nash, candidate for congress, Clyde V. Fenner, candidate for state senator, James MacKenzie and George E. Guillen.

Monday, September 5, at 8:00 p.m. in the Grange hall a Townsend service, conducted by J. F. Winneer of Highland Park was enjoyed by everyone. Stanley C. Barker then outlined his platform in connection with his candidacy for state senator from this district. Following Mr. Barker's encouraging talk on the Townsend Plan, pointing out the many desirable features of the plan and the rapid strides being made by the Townsend organization all over the country in the interest of real national recovery.

Monday evening, September 12 at 8:00 p.m. in the Grange hall the last regular meeting before the primary election will be held and it is important that all members and friends be present. Judge Edward J. Jeffries expects to be present to speak at this meeting.

Members of the Rotary club enjoyed melons last Friday that came from the garden of Jesse Hake out on Plymouth road. A number of friends, including the scifie, also enjoyed some of his watermelons.

Good Government Has to Be Human, City Manager Says

Nearly 50 persons heard an address delivered by City Manager Clarence H. Elliott at a luncheon meeting of the Rotary club in the Hotel Mayflower last Friday.

Mr. Elliott took for the topic the subject of a quotation by Henry Clay which is printed over the mural in the commission chambers of the city hall. The quotation reads, "Government is a trust created for the benefit of the people."

"If government is a trust created for the benefit of the people, then there are two very important equations by which we must measure the benefits derived," Mr. Elliott pointed out.

"First, there is the mathematical equation, which is a matter of spending the people's money carefully. What we are trying to do here is to put the measuring stick to expenditures by comparing our costs with those of other cities and by seeing just how cheaply we can run government efficiently.

Salvation Army Aids 222 Over Eight Months

Report Shows None Went Unfed Or Unclothed

Since the first of the year 222 persons, whose financial condition ranged from destitution to milder needs for assistance, received aid of the Salvation Army, Capt. Elwin Alder revealed this week in a report on the work done by the Plymouth post from January to September.

"To our knowledge, no one in the Plymouth district of the Salvation Army, which includes an area within a 12-mile radius of Plymouth, has gone needy," Capt. Alder said.

"We have answered every call brought to our attention and, in addition, we have spent 740 hours alone in search of and investigation of the needy so that no cases would go unnoticed."

The Salvation Army cares for the needy regardless of race or religion and without profit. In addition to such material aid the Plymouth post has conducted an intensive campaign to rehabilitate those who have lost possessions and spirit.

In rendering aid to 41 families in the period, the organization has been grateful, Capt. Alder said, for the whole-hearted cooperation of residents of the community in contributing money and supplies.

During the period, he said, 13 pieces of furniture and 426 articles of clothing and shoes were (Continued On Page Six)

Electors Urged To Note Rules Under New Secret System

More than 1,000 residents of Plymouth are expected to cast ballots Tuesday in the primary for nomination of candidates for state and county offices.

City Clerk Clarence H. Elliott reported that about 150 new registrations had been received when the deadline for acceptance of new registrants was reached Saturday. He said that the total number of electors would top considerably the number of registrants for the 1936 primary, which totaled 984.

He said that he would be in his office at the city hall daily through Saturday for the purpose of giving out absent voters' ballots. No absent voters' ballots will be given out after 4:00 p.m. Saturday, he said.

At the same time, he scheduled a meeting of all election officials for Monday evening in order that new features of the election procedure might be studied carefully so that there would be no confusion at the polls.

Voters were warned this week to study election requirements closely so that their ballots will not be disqualified. They were advised particularly to remember that a split ticket is not permissible in the primary, although voters may pick out candidates from both parties in the final elections, which will be held November 8, when Mr. Elliott said he had received a number of calls asking information on this point. It should be clearly understood, he emphasized, that in the primary Tuesday voters must indicate their choices on the ballot of one party, and on that one ballot alone.

The primary is entirely a nominating election for specific political parties and the voter must restrain his votes to just one party Tuesday, although he can cast his first ballot for candidates in different parties in the final election in November.

Michigan this year is adopting a secret primary ballot law, which is causing confusion in the minds of some voters. Formerly, electors first had to choose their party by telling their choice to the election board, which made the decision a matter of public record.

Under the new system, voters will receive ballots of both parties and will make their party choices in the secrecy of the polling booth.

After marking the candidates on the party ballot of his choice, the voter will fold each ballot separately so that only the number on each is visible. He will then place it in a box and the inspector, pointing out the ballot which he is voting.

The inspector, in the presence of the voter, will destroy the numbered corners, deposit the voted ballot in the voted box and the blank ballot in the blank ballot box.

Voting in the primary will open at 7:00 a.m. Tuesday and the polls will close at 8:00 p.m. There will be four polling places for Plymouth voters. Electors living in Precinct 1 will cast ballots at the city hall, precinct 2, at the Starkweather school; precinct 3, at the high school, and precinct 4, at Giles Real Estate office on Penniman avenue.

The Western Wayne County Wildlife association will hold a meeting at 8:00 p.m. Monday night in the Hotel Mayflower to discuss adoption for the Plymouth area of the Williamson conservation plan. All members are urged to attend and take part in the discussion.

IF THE GOVERNOR SAID IT, HE IS A DELIBERATE FALSIFIER!

(By E. R. EATON)

In last Friday's issue of The Detroit News there was printed an article written by William Markland, Lansing correspondent of The News, pertaining to comment made by Governor Murphy about the special session of the state legislature which had completed its work the day previous to the publication of the Governor's alleged comments.

Mr. Markland wrote in part as follows: "The Republicans he (Gov. Murphy) characterized as 'autocratic' and 'high-handed'. He criticized them 'for operating under the unit rule' and 'for forcing members to vote against legislation they really wanted to approve. The pressure that has been exerted here on some of these Republicans is very astonishing. This is the same group that voted as a unit in the regular session against civil service and for illegal adjournment'."

The Governor, in this statement, had reference to the state legislature.

I have known Mr. Markland of the News staff for a great many years and I know him to be a careful, accurate writer. The Detroit News has long enjoyed a reputation of exceptional reliability in its news columns.

I am confident that Governor Murphy was probably correctly quoted, and if he was quoted correctly, he made a statement to the public that he knew to be a DELIBERATE FALSEHOOD.

The proof of the falsity of his statement can be found in the printed roll-calls of both the house of representatives and of the senate.

I am a Republican member of the state legislature and I attended the few brief caucuses held by the Republican members.

At no time was there a demand made that the Republican members of the legislature vote as a unit and at no time did they vote as a unit.

It required Republican votes in both the house and senate for the Governor's request of a $10,000,000 appropriation to be passed for immediate use. He was given these Republican votes in both the house and senate. He had the vast majority of all Republican votes in favor of the appropriation. He knows this to be a fact, if he knows anything about the truth and can tell the truth. The Republicans accepted the statement of welfare officials that the funds were needed and nearly all of them

How To Make Friends — With Yourself

The number of men and women in this land who are their own "best enemies" is amazing. Half-sick, forever ailing and never in positive good condition, they battle against doing the things they know would remove the cause of their handicaps. The number of "sops", dopes and "patch-ups" that are used in order to avoid doing the drastic thing that needs doing, is beyond belief. Cathartics, analgesics, pain and ache stupifiers, gargles and the like sell into the hundreds of millions of dollars—and in the end, the taker has merely postponed the necessary dental, visual or other work that would get at the basic cause of the trouble.

The way to make friends with yourself is to find out (and face the truth) the basic cause of your difficulties and set yourself to remove it. The professional service man on the other end of the line can't make your decision for you. His part of the work is to find the cause (diagnosis), determine what must be done to remove it (analysis) and state the assistance he can render—in the end, YOU must do the re-conditioning work under his guidance.

A budget plan of easy payments is available for those who desire to take advantage of it.

And at once cuts down his diet—
And to keep himself from starving
Merely nibbles at a bone.

Thus, he keeps his tummy hollow—
And no pills are his to swallow,
And he gets no special treatment
From the Doctor, or from me—
He lets Nature work, unhampered.
And he's petted hot, nor pampered—
As I say, he rests and diets,
And improvement soon we see.

When MY tummy, tho, is aching,
Quite a fuss I soon am making—
And I still continue eating,
Till my weary maw I clog.
Then I take the Doctor's tonic,
Like an invalid that's chronic,
So which one of us is smarter,
When we're sick—I, or the Dog?

voted for the appropriation as well as the immediate expenditure.

The Republicans did demand an accounting of public funds. They wanted to know why the state finances had diminished to such an extent in less than a year and a half that those in distress could not be provided proper aid.

The Republicans tried to keep the Governor from cutting the jugular vein of Michigan's public school system, and in this they were partly successful.

They wanted to know why he had not given the welfare problem consideration last June when the distressing financial condition of the state was urgently called to his attention. They wanted to know how it could be possible, if he is so interested in the welfare of those in distress, that he packed his bags and hastened off to Mackinac Island for a two months' vacation spent swaggering around in the role of the rich playboy, while welfare administrators were in a frenzy to know how to provide funds to feed the hungry.

The Republicans wanted to know why he remained frolicking about on his vacation lark until the very last dollar had been spent for welfare before he returned to Lansing to take official action!

They demanded that he reinstate to the old age pension lists the thousands that HE had ordered cut off and restore the pension reductions that he had made. In this they forced his hand and COMPELLED him to make partial restitution of the amounts that had been slashed.

The Republicans did try to compel the state to pay its long over-due obligations to the thousands of little coal dealers, clothiers and grocery storekeepers who have supplied welfare families with the food, fuel and clothing necessary to keep body and soul together. Frank Murphy even went so far as to say in his message to the legislature in considering this question that it "might establish an unwelcome precedent" if the legislature wrote into the appropriation act a provision demanding the immediate payment of these bills.

Yes, Frank Murphy, it was the UNIT rule you forced upon your own party which beat the Republican attempt to make possible immediate payment of obligations the merchants of this state have carried for nearly a year!

Three members of your own party REFUSED to be bound by that unit rule and voted FOR this amendment and they freely declared that by doing so they had disobeyed YOUR orders.

The Republicans wanted to be sure that the additional welfare money that will come from the pockets of the taxpayers of this state—of which the Governor has NEVER been one—

Capt. Thumme Wins Recognition In Police Journal

Police Capt. Charles Thumme has been honored in the first issue of the Michigan Identification Association Bulletin by publication of his picture and a few paragraphs concerning his work in Plymouth.

He was one of four Michigan police officers to receive recognition in the magazine's "Who's Who Among the Whorls and Loops" department.

Capt. Thumme attended the recent convention of the International Association of Identification which was held in Columbus, Ohio.

The Bulletin article said, "Capt. Charles J. Thumme has been a member of the Plymouth police department for 12 years. He was appointed captain in 1934. Capt. Thumme has had wide experience in his line of work, in the United States army, guard at the state prison, etc."

Capt. Thumme is a very able and aggressive officer. He is superintendent of the Plymouth Identification Bureau, member of the Michigan Identification Association, also the International Association of Identification."

The fellow who is in love with himself doesn't need to fear competition.

Fishing regulations in some national parks are more extreme than those of the states in which the parks are located.

would be spent for welfare purposes and not used to buy votes in the forthcoming election.

These are some of the things that the Republican members of the legislature stood for and DEMANDED.

Apparently it was the minority demand for these facts and requirements which has enraged the Governor to such an extent that he is willing to resort to untruths in order to cover up his own miserable administration of public affairs.

The Governor's statement is not only deplorable, but it is almost unbelievable to think that any one elevated to the high office he now holds would deliberately mis-state facts to the public. But it is not the first time. He committed the same offenses last spring when discussing the enactment of the civil service law. The Governor, almost from the day he assumed office, has endeavored to make it appear that he and his own little clique are the only ones interested in the welfare of humanity. He has been willing to resort to almost any sort of a verbal trick to accomplish his purpose.

It is, indeed, unfortunate that the governor of a great state is so narrow and his mind so constricted that he is unable to realize that there are those in other political parties who are sincerely progressive, who believe in fairness and justice and in considerate treatment of those who, through unfortunate acts of fate, find themselves face to face with want. But when one realizes that his entire career has been characterized by selfishness and insincere palaver, it is not at all surprising to find him assuming such an unfair position. It was this attitude made manifest almost the first day of his administration as Governor which caused some members of the legislature to turn against him in disgust and contempt.

A Detroit judge the other day sent a man to jail for telling a falsehood in his court. But what about a Governor who commits the same act, if he has been correctly quoted in a great metropolitan paper?

Realizing as he probably does, that he faces the most crushing defeat that has ever been administered to a governor, he is perfectly willing to resort to the vile tactics manifested in his statement published in The Detroit News on September 2.

Such falsifying will not save him from the wrath of an indignant and outraged citizenship, because nearly five millions of good people in Michigan have but one prayer—and that is that the good Lord will save our state from another two years of such a mal-administration as we have lived under since Frank Murphy became governor.

THE RIGHT KIND OF A CANDIDATE.

To our good Democratic readers who have the right conception of government. The Mail respectfully suggests that they give serious consideration to the nomination of John D. McGillis, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for congress in this district. Mr. McGillis resides in the 22nd ward of Detroit, which is a part of the 17th congressional district. He is clean, a good thinker and comes to the voters with the endorsement of those who favor a progressive, honest and substantial government. The time has arrived for voters to give consideration to the qualifications of all candidates of all parties, and see to it that the straight, honest thinkers who possess undying loyalty to our type of government win the nominations. We know that Mr. McGillis possesses these qualifications and we do not hesitate to recommend him to our Democratic readers. On the Republican side there is no doubt as to the loyalty or straight thinking, as both candidates qualify under this rule.

FOR STATE TREASURER.

Consideration is already being given by Republicans to the selection of candidates for the state ticket to be nominated within the next few weeks. There has already been suggested one candidate for state treasurer, James Frey of Battle Creek, who is worthy of more than ordinary consideration. Mr. Frey has long been interested in public affairs. He has a clear conception of public responsibilities and duties and if he should be nominated and elected state treasurer he will be a credit to the political organization to which he belongs as well as the state he would serve.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

McKAYISM

It seems particularly unfortunate that Republican aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination should waste any time in personalities as between themselves. There's a job to be done in Michigan, a much needed job. That is to clean up with the present Democrat governor and most of his regime. There's plenty of ammunition there to keep all the other candidates busy for a long time to come. And whichever one of them is nominated will need all the strength he can muster to win the election by such a majority that it will serve as a mark for other states to shoot at. Once, too, the Republican has been elected governor it will take all his vitality and all the aid he can get from every source to clean up the mess in which Michigan is now mired.

So why was it necessary to start sharpshooting as between the Republican candidates? And why bring up the old bug-a-boo so indefinite that none can explain just what is meant, the old bogey "McKayism"? Just what is "McKayism" in the first place? What does it mean? What good or what harm has whatever it is ever done to anybody? Of course, "McKayism" in general means the activities of Frank D. McKay of Grand Rapids. But what has he ever done that is reprehensible? Nobody connected with this newspaper owes Mr. McKay a penny or a favor of any kind. We've blasted him when we thought he was wrong and we've boosted him when we thought he was right. We've heard many stories of this or that that McKay has done or is guilty of. We've tried to check up on these alleged misdeeds and when we have come to the end of the trail, we've found no substance there.

McKay has sold tires to the state. What of it? The state must buy tires and the purchases are made on sealed bids. If the low bid happened to have McKay's name on it, should it be rejected and the state pay a higher price for the tires?

Same way with many other things charged against McKay. He has put some of his friends into State jobs. Do you happen to know anybody at all active in politics who hasn't done just that whenever he has had an opportunity? How do you suppose men and women get political jobs anyway? McKay has been active in politics for a long time. He has been successful more times than not. Why? Because he is one of the best organizers and detail men you ever met in your life. He'll go out and organize down to the city block and do it thoroughly. He delights in that sort of work. Anything wrong about it? How does anybody get elected captain of the baseball team or leader of the Sunday-school class except by some sort of organization? McKay is a great organizer, has a tremendously wide acquaintance and is a hard worker.

That's "McKayism" and that's all it is. The rest is conversation. It would be well indeed for the Republican candidates for the gubernatorial nomination to aim their darts at the big target and quit talking about so ethereal a thing as "McKayism". It doesn't mean anything.—Frank Sparks in The Grand Rapids Herald.

KILL THE RATTLESNAKE!

After all the talk pro and con about Communism we awake to the fact that the noxious weed has been growing by leaps and bounds throughout every section of our domains. Like a foul disease it came upon us unnoticed, but it will take more than a surgical operation to rid us of the viper. Prof. J. B. Matthews before the House committee in Washington has started not only the committee by his avowed facts but the whole nation as well. Now what will the powers that be do about it?—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

DO YOU MEAN BOTH ARE GUILTY?

In the U.A.W. quarrel, the Martin group has charged the Frankenstein crowd with conspiring with Moscow Communists. The Frankenstein followers in turn charge the Martin boys with being under the domination of Jay Lovestone, leader of the Communist party before Earl Browder took over the reins of that group. The question arises, is the Martin faction right, or is the Frankenstein faction right? Or are both sides right? The readers may figure out their own answers.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

SALES TAX LEAKS.

It is noted that one source of revenue depended upon to provide Michigan with necessary funds to meet its fading revenues and red ink deficits is the leak that is occurring in sales tax collections. This, it would seem, is a confession of incompetence, quite unexpected in the face of claims made all along by Mr. Draper Allen, administrator. His name in bold type drapes the front entrance to every mercantile establishment in Michigan. Mr. Allen is politically ambitious. He believes in the efficacy of good advertising. He believes also in compelling the people to pay his advertising bills. So he had the manufacturers make the state retail sales license stickers twice as large as need be and used the added half to popularize his own name—Draper Allen.

It is a notorious fact that since Mr. Allen assumed management of the sales tax administration, he has run the show to suit himself. There are three elected state officers who are statutory members of the sales tax board but they seldom act, it is claimed. Mr. Allen runs the department. Motor car dealers know what confusion followed his entry upon the scene in 1937. It is generally understood in the metropolitan area that sales tax chiselers are common, that inspectors make bargains with delinquents and that votes promised at the next election are used instead of cash in settlements. This, mind you, is not in cases where the merchant has failed to collect the tax by adding it to the selling price; it is in cases where the retailer has actually collected the pennies off his customers but has not turned them over to the state. Settlements have been made on some unusual terms, it is currently reported. The more reputable retailers have been forced to organize themselves into associations for group action against these bargaining sales tax board representatives.

It is probably true that Michigan would be able to collect from its retailers from one to five million dollars a year, now being taken away from the public but never turned over to the state, or its collection evaded in unfair trade practices. Either is bad for the honest merchant and bad for the public. Any suggestion that these conditions will be improved will meet with wide public approbation.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

The vicinity of Pine Tree road and Wayne road was the scene of considerable excitement last Tuesday morning. It all started when a pig got loose from the pen of Larry Bohls and went on a tour of the neighborhood. His travels were not unaccompanied, however, and he soon wished that he were safely in his pen, for he received considerable exercise while being chased by William Loesch wearing boots and carrying a pitch fork, ably assisted by Joe Sitarz, armed with a broom. Finally the pig was driven across Wayne road and back to his familiar living quarters, too tired to object.

Stark school's versatile maintenance man, Noble Phillips, completed an excellent interior decorating job at the old building and has the temporary structure on Wayne road once more looking spic and span and ready for the school bell. Shortly after 3:00 o'clock Monday afternoon the canning factory of George A. Ravier in the north village was discovered to be on fire and is supposed to have started by a spark from a passing Ford Marquette engine. The building was formerly used as a cheese factory and was owned by ex-Governor Warner.

A petition is being circulated for the signature of citizens and taxpayers, asking the village board of health to cause to be vacated the cemetery known as the Presbyterian cemetery on Church street, and arrange for the removal of all bodies now interred there and have the grounds placed in a sanitary condition. This is something that should have been done long ago and it is believed that the movement will meet with the approval of the majority of our citizens and those who have relatives and friends buried in this now sadly neglected cemetery, situated as it is in the heart of the village.

Country Old Timers Winners

The baseball game at Plymouth Riverside park Labor day between the City and Country Old Timers resulted in a victory for the Country boys. All players belong to the Detroit Old Timers Baseball association, but for this particular game the players were divided City and Country. The Detroiters used Felrath, Darling, and Gilbert on the mound while German, Sr., twirled the nine innings for the rural boys to victory 15 to 7. Tony Dugray and Reske caught for the City and Eddie Drinkert for the Country. Hobbins, Licht, Hoffman and German were some of the players on the winning side that are better known in this community. Dugray, Darling, Walsh, Felrath, Jones and Stappole of Detroit took part with the losers, and are well known as good old-timers.

A feature that might be interesting to "Ripley" took part in the first inning when three generations of players played for the Country boys. Harry German, Sr., German, Jr., and German III started off the batting order who were grandson, father and grandfather. Two of them scored in the first inning.

Over 1000 spectators saw the game and plenty of old time fans were present and interested. Among the fans were Czar Penney, Ed Hinkley, Harry Robinson, Dan McKinney and George McClure, president of the Detroit association.

Earl Gray, of Plymouth, an Inter-County leaguer and "Bill" Byron, an ex-major leaguer, officiated as umpires.

"You get your oil FREE if I forget to check it"
(UP TO THE FULL MARK)

AN ENGINE THAT HASN'T ENOUGH oil in it is headed for the repair shop. And parts like pistons and bearings aren't cheap.

To help you skip repair costs, every Shell dealer listed below makes you this proposition for a limited time:

Drive into any one of our stations. If we don't check your oil without your telling us to, we will bring your oil level up to the full mark free.

We'll put in our Golden Shell, too, the oil that has been made especially for today's stop-and-go driving.

Maybe you never knew that stop and go calls for a certain kind of oil. Well, it does—and here's the reason why:

You average ten cold starts a day. If your oil is slow-flowing, one start can cause as much wear as 50 miles of steady running.

Golden Shell changes this. It's fast-flowing. The second you step on your starter, it coats each engine part with a tough oil film that doesn't break down... even under the heat of your steady running. In fact—

There's no finer oil at any price than Golden Shell.

Government Has To Be Human

and the government itself.

"Other problems which illustrate the human equation in city government are such matters as old-age pensions, social security, WPA, city relief, all dealing strictly with human beings.

"As a very simple illustration of the human equation in government, the city hall is the greatest information center in the city. There is hardly an hour that goes by that we don't have to answer questions.

"People want to know street directions, where to obtain a marriage license, requirements for a driver's license, where to find someone and a hundred and one other things. The value of the answers can't be jotted down in a ledger on the credit side of good government, but is an essential aspect in the human equation of such government.

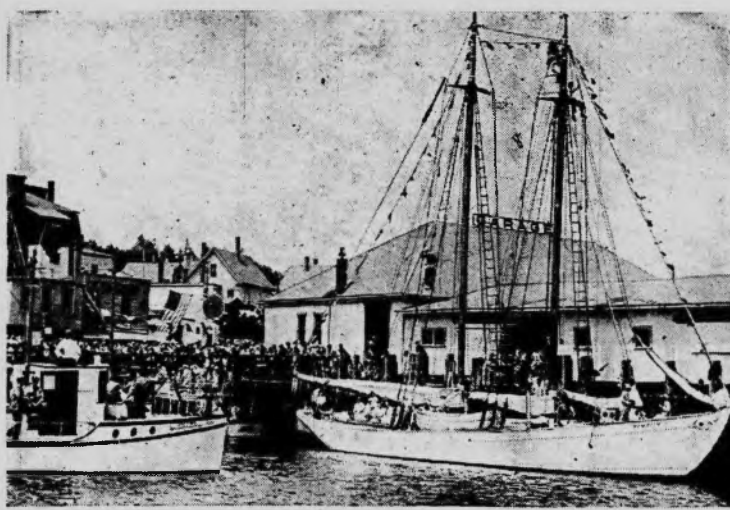

"We are now about to start on another important function that will deal with human beings. This is the city zoning and planning project. This activity, we know, will reduce living expenses and increase health and lead to other benefits, but there is no yardstick to measure it by.

"Good government involves two things. First, a deliberate and careful budgeting for current expenses, and secondly, a logical but sympathetic allowance for the human equation.

"Only by consideration of both factors are we able to have what Clay regarded as good government, 'a trust created for the benefit of the people'."

distributed, permitting many a child, who otherwise could not have done so, to attend school and providing men and women with the lift they needed until they could find jobs.

The larger share of these donations were volunteered by residents who called the Salvation Army and told the officers that they had old clothing, furniture or a great many other usable items which the organization could take to help the less fortunate.

There are no typical examples of the aid rendered, Capt. Alder said, as each case is a human and individual problem, but one case he remembered particularly.

A young couple, he said, attempting to make their own way were unable to leave the home of their parents. However, a man called the Salvation Army, said that he was re-marrying and wished the organization to take his household furnishings and give them to someone who needed them.

The young couple received a bed with spring and mattress, an ice box, an electrical washing machine and several pieces of furniture. They got the start they desired.

The widespread activities of the Salvation Army, Capt. Alder pointed out, had proved adequate for the Plymouth area. No one went hungry or unclothed to the knowledge of the organization, he said.

In other divisions of the work of the Plymouth post, 173 classes for young people, including recreation, Bible study and musical instruction and band practice; 19 sewing classes and other meetings for women; 94 religious meetings in prisons which were attended by 6,500 persons, and weekly meetings of a troop of Girl Scouts, which is similar to the Girl Scouts, were held during the eight months.

Plymouth To Get Title Chance In Sunday Game

Must Defeat Garden City To Stay In Race

Plymouth's Schrader-Haggerty nine will attempt to dash Garden City's hopes for a league championship in what may prove to be deciding game of the playoff series Sunday.

Garden City enters the contest as favorite on the basis of a victory over the Plymouth team Sunday and by virtue of its unsullied playoff record. Garden City alone of the four teams in the playoffs has no defeat against its name.

The Inkster and Cass Benton teams have been eliminated by means of two defeats each.

Good-sized crowds are expected to attend the contest, which will be held in Riverside park commencing at 3:00 p.m. Sunday. If Plymouth loses, the league crown goes to Garden City; if Plymouth downs the other nine, the two teams will fight out a final championship game.

Plymouth split its double bill playoff series this week, losing 5 to 3 at Garden City Sunday and winning a chance to take the championship by means of an 8 to 5 defeat over Inkster in a Labor day game at Cass Benton park.

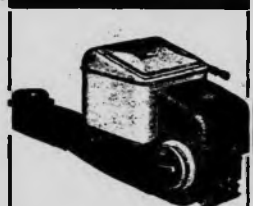

In the Sabbath contest, the Garden City pitcher allowed the Plymouth lads only four hits, which were developed into three runs.

However, the Plymouth sluggers had their innings on Labor day when they batted out a flurry of 14 hits, including a home run by Joe Horvath, second baseman, and three three-baggers. George Molnar pitched a smooth game for Plymouth.

Man, we read, was created a little lower than the angels. And he hasn't gained very much on them since.

First substantial oil production in Michigan was in 1925, when 4,000 barrels of crude were obtained near Saginaw.

Wash Day Now Also Play Day

Wash day, which formerly meant long hours of labor and a multitude of household steps, can now be a play day, according to representatives of the Bendix home laundry, newest appliance making for housewife leisure. The machine, seen in the lower right of the photo, can be conveniently located almost anywhere in a home, even in that portion of a basement which may be devoted to indoor sports. After placing the clothes in the machine and setting a dial, the operator does not touch them again until they are washed, rinsed and damp-dried ready for the line, and while all that is going on the operator's time is hers to do with as she desires. The machine is extremely compact, being 35 inches high, 25 inches wide and 20 inches deep, and all working parts are protected.

Just Thinkin'

by Charles S. Kinnison.

Youthful Heart

As years move on, and bit by bit,
I near the day when I must quit,
The soft, relentless hand of Time,
At last will steal away my prime.

My legs and arms, now quick and spry,
Will shrink and wither by and by—
My eyes that now are bright and clear
The fog of years will slowly blur.

The gentle sounds, once clear and sweet,
Upon my ears, unheard will beat.
Thus, bit by bit, my life will fade,
But let it be—I'm not afraid!

And the my body older grows,
As earthly portals slowly close,
And youth and strength at last depart,
I'll still, I hope, be young at heart!

An Evangelist again assures us there is no buying or selling in heaven. Certainly not, that isn't where business went.

What's the Answer?

By EDWARD FINCH

IN ANCIENT times, Halloween, or the Vigil of Saman, the god of death, fell on the thirty-first of October. On this night, Saman was supposed to call together the souls condemned during the past year and assign them to the bodies of animals. It was a time of fear and apprehension and the pagans wore hideous masks and lighted bonfires to keep away the ghosts and wretches which were supposed to wander the earth freely on this night. At the advent of Christianity, it became the Vigil of All Saints day and lost its bogey meaning but the custom of celebrating the night in a macabre manner still persists.

BARE lamp bulbs are harmful to eyesight—

Here's how to cover them up!

"RAW" light is never good for your eyes. You know what happens if you try to read a book out-of-doors on a bright summer day, with dazzling sunlight on the page. You are forced to squint because of the glare, and before long the type is dancing before your eyes. If you continue, serious eyestrain may result. But if you move out of the bright sun, under the shade of a tree, you have perfect light: You can enjoy your reading in comfort.

The same thing is true of artificial light indoors. A bare lamp bulb is irritating. It is a glaring light source that causes you to squint if you look directly at it. And even if you do not look at it, it is still a possible source of eyestrain. You may find yourself frowning slightly as you read a book or newspaper, and rubbing your eyes as they rapidly become tired.

All lamp bulbs should be shaded. No matter where bare bulbs appear—on decorative wall brackets, in ceiling fixtures, on stairways or in your basement—there are suitable shades and fixtures designed to cover them. These shades and "light adaptors" are surprisingly inexpensive. Our Home Lighting Advisors will be glad to tell you about them, and to check the lighting in your home without charge. Call your Detroit Edison office.

The Detroit Edison Company does not sell light adaptors or floor or table lamps. See them on display at department stores, lighting fixture stores or electrical dealers.

Dondero's Record In Congress

In keeping with the policy of giving information on the records of incumbents, The Mail herewith presents an outline of Rep. George A. Dondero's work in congress:

Rep. Dondero was instrumental in defeating the Parsons Bill which provided for the continued diversion of water from the Great Lakes, which increases the cost of commerce and navigation on the Great Lakes. He worked for the improvement and flood control of the Clinton river, which means much to drainage and sanitary facilities in Oakland county.

He sought to eliminate legislation providing for the construction of Gilbertsville Dam in the TVA system and succeeded in defeating it on three occasions although unsuccessful when considered the fourth time. Rep. Joseph J. Mansfield (Dem.) of Texas, chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, pointed out that the dam would destroy navigation on the Tennessee river and supported Rep. Dondero in his fight.

He urged, in a letter to the President on January 10, 1938, that the National Labor Relations Act (Wagner) be modified as a step toward recovery. Nearly eight months later, on August 24, the press announced that the President had come to the conclusion that the act ought to be amended by Congress.

Rep. Dondero secured the passage of an amendment to the National Firearms Act removing restrictions hampering small industries in the 17th district. He also secured an amendment to the Tariff Act permitting the return of American milk containers to dairy concerns in this country without the payment of duty, effecting a considerable saving to the dairy industry. He aided in securing postoffice buildings for Ferndale, Royal Oak, Birmingham, and Rochester.

He prevented the abandonment of the only federal fish hatchery in Michigan, located at Northville in the 17th district. He worked for the elimination of the surplus profits tax on small business firms and for the modification of the capital gains tax. He worked for and voted for pensions for the aged and needy and sought to increase the amount of federal funds paid to states for such pensions.

Rep. Dondero believes that business and industry should be encouraged to expand in order to employ more labor; that the National Labor Relations Act should be amended to provide an equitable system of settling labor disputes; and that government competition with private business should cease.

With reference to the farm problem, Rep. Dondero believes that the domestic market should be restored to the American farmer by stabilizing conditions in urban centers and restricting the importation of competitive farm products.

Rep. Dondero has served in the 73rd, 74th, and 75th congresses. He is a member of the following committees: Rivers and Harbors, Foreign Affairs, and Education.

Atlantic City Seeks Another 'Miss America'

Here are a few of the comely bathing beauties from among whom judges had to choose a "Miss America" Tuesday, September 6 at the annual Atlantic City, New Jersey beauty contest. Fifty-five winners in state and city finals competed for the national title.

The Mystery of Batchawana Bay, Or Who Caught The Big Fish?

A few days ago Matthew Powell, better known to the world at large as just plain "Matt" Powell, and Bert McKinney returned from Batchawana bay, up on the northern shore of Lake Superior where they had spent several days fishing.

"Matt" brought home with him a photograph of a large lake trout he said he caught in the bay.

It was after some of the folks out around "Rough and Ready Corners" had made some inquiry into the matter of just who caught the fish that "Matt" hedged a bit and declared that if his friends did not believe that he caught the 44 pounder to ask Bert McKinney.

The inquiring reporter went out to see Bert the other day in an effort to get the real facts about the fish.

"There's a lot of gossip up town, Mr. McKinney, about that big trout Matt claims he caught while fishing up north with you. What are the facts about it?" he was asked.

"Better ask Matt," declared Bert.

"We have already talked with Matt and he hesitates to give all the facts about that fish and he referred me to you to get the facts," said the reporter.

"Well, you know Matt," retorted the merchant king of the corners.

"Then you will not say whether Matt caught the fish or some one else caught it," pressed the reporter for a definite answer.

"I'm not saying one way or the other. Let Matt get himself out of the hole he has gotten into, if he wants to get out," said Bert.

"But, of course, you know that all fish stories should be true and if a man caught a 44-pounder he is entitled to have his name recorded up among the top-notchers in the fishing business," continued the scribe.

"Matt can take care of himself. I'm not going to get mixed up in any of his yarns—no, I didn't mean yarns. I mean I don't want to get mixed up in any of the fishing stories he has been telling the folks down town. When Matt comes out here it's the truth and only the truth that he tells," declared Bert.

"So it's going to be impossible to get all of the facts from you about how, when and where that big trout was caught and who caught it?" continued the persistent scribe.

"I'm mum. That's all there is to it," declared Bert as he turned to look at a Canadian moose hunting offer of —"no moose, no pay if you hunt with me".

Back to town came the reporter to again interview Matthew Stephens Madison Powell of Tonquish Creek Breeze fame.

Aroused from his afternoon siesta, Matt declared that he wished folks wouldn't talk to him any more about that fish, who caught it or how it was caught, or when it was caught.

That ends what in the beginning looked like a pretty good fish story.

Stanley Barker One Of Preferred

Stanley C. Barker, Republican candidate for the state senate in our district, today pointed to the following experiences he has had and to his platform as he came to the closing days of the present campaign: He has been a practicing lawyer since 1929 and as such has represented large numbers of poor people who have lost their cars because they could not pay for them, and then found themselves being sued for "the difference"; and because of this experience advocates drastic reform in "small loan laws" looking toward protection of Mr. Average citizen.

As to labor he states, "The principle of establishment of a permanent arbitration court is the sensible way out for both capital and labor. My platform is that of the golden rule, 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you', and it may be used for capital, labor and the consumer. Labor needs fairer workmen's compensation laws, particularly as applied to occupational disease acts. I am anxious to stand in the front lines to help secure proper reform which will fairly divide such losses between employer, employee and the consuming public."

Judge Barker has represented more than fifty taxpayers associations, home owners organizations and P.T.A.'s during the last several years.

Barker recently endorsed the Townsend Plan at several Townsend meetings, and carries the written endorsement of George E. Gullen, national Townsend representative in Michigan, and other Townsend Club leaders.

Mr. Barker is a member of Corinthian Lodge F. & A.M., Wayne Lodge No. 2, I.O.O.F., Townsend Club No. 3, Highland Park high school, is past president of the Interdenominational Young People's council, a division of the council of churches, former county chairman and national committeeman of Young Republicans, and past president of the Greater Detroit Epworth League.

He has been a lawyer nearly ten years, now located at 512 Hammond building, court clerk to Commissioner William J. Griffin, associate municipal judge of Ferndale, state inheritance tax representative under Gov. Fitzgerald, and secretary to the Grosse Pointe board of education.

He is "preferred" by the Detroit Citizens' League, Republican Servicemen's League and other civic organizations in all parts of the 18th district.

Two years ago he was rated first on his ticket by the bar association in the race for circuit court commissioner short term, and was rated first by the popular vote of that part of Wayne county which comprises the 18th district.

Kronk Seeks Sheriff Post

Councilman John A. Kronk's campaign for the nomination as sheriff on the Republican ticket at the primary election, September 13, is based on his record of efficient public service spanning almost 25 years, since his first election to the city council in 1914. With Councilman John C. Lodge, Mr. Kronk is the only public servant now in office whose career covers long a period (with the exception of members of the Circuit and Recorder's Court benches).

As chairman of the Wayne county board of supervisors in 1920 and 1930, and through many years of service on the Ways and Means committee of that body, Mr. Kronk is amply equipped with the knowledge of the county's budgetary requirements, and he can carry out a pledge to operate both the civil and criminal branches of the sheriff's department economically, without sacrificing prompt and efficient service.

John Schneider Has Many Local Friends

In an interview with a representative of this paper today Former Circuit Court Commissioner John H. Schneider asks his many friends in Plymouth for their support in his campaign for state senator in the eighteenth district on the Democratic ballot. His candidacy affords the people of this district an opportunity to bring about the type of humane, intelligent and good government that they are entitled to.

John H. Schneider is married and a graduate of the University of Michigan law school, and has been active and successful in the practice of law for the past 12 years. His outstanding success as an attorney was largely responsible for his election to the office of circuit court commissioner of Wayne county by a tremendous majority in the last state election. On the democratic ticket there are five contesting for the nomination and John H. Schneider is the only attorney among the candidates. His legal training and experience with the law will be a great asset in serving the people of this district and of the state of Michigan. Many people overlook the fact that every person is affected by the laws that are passed in the state senate and therefore should select their senator with more consideration.

John H. Schneider, former circuit court commissioner together with his extensive experience with the law is better qualified to advance the best interests of the people of this district.

Former Judge Schneider embraces in his platform the following legislation and he pledges to work for: Industrial peace, liberalization of the Old Age Pension Law, reduction of taxes, legislation to end deficiency judgments on repossessed cars and furniture, and to correct many abuses practiced by finance companies; to clarify and strengthen the Civil Service Act; exemption of small homes from taxes; enlarging hospitalization facilities for the needy; liberal for schools, churches and hospitals.

Mosier Tells His Qualifications

"Character, experience and qualifications should be weighed by every voter before casting his ballot for any candidate in the forthcoming primary election."

This was the key note sounded by Duane H. Mosier, Republican candidate for state senator, in a statement made today. "What is most needed today," Mosier said, "is sane, common sense, hard headed thinking, particularly in the legislative branch of our government. There, laws are made and whether they are good or bad, depend upon the caliber of the law making body. Once a bad law gets on the statute books, it is hard to remove it."

"In thirteen years under the dome of the capitol at Lansing, five of which were spent as assistant attorney general (1916-1921) and eight as law clerk of the senate (1923-1931), I acquired an insight into the process of law making which cannot be acquired from books. During the close of the 1929 session when the late Dennis E. Alward, then secretary of the senate, became ill I was delegated to take over his duties and conducted the sessions for many months until he was restored to health. During those years I counseled with senators on pending bills and drafted many hundreds which were introduced, many of which became law. This experience was later utilized when, in 1933 at the request of the committee of 17 citizens appointed by the Honorable William Comstock, then governor, to formulate a liquor control policy for the state, I drafted the first liquor control act which was introduced in the legislature."

Mosier stressed the point that Wayne county has one-third the population and one-half the assessed property valuation of the entire state and that our extensive interests should be carefully safeguarded.

"I am a home owner and a tax payer and I am fully conscious of the back-breaking load people are carrying to maintain themselves and their homes. I believe a common sense program can be worked out to relieve this burden. I pledge myself to that end."

The trouble with a lot of these new "economic problems" is that they don't have the first thing to do with economy.

Another peculiar thing about the American system is that the committee named to study a situation is usually picked by those responsible for that situation.

Brink Tells His Views On Law Enforcement

When you vote for a man for sheriff of Wayne county in the coming primaries, you want to be sure that the man you select will enforce the laws of your county, state and nation, irrespective of sympathy and threats. The sheriff is the county's strong arm of the law and the office, therefore, requires a man who is conscientious, fearless and faithful and at the same time fully performing his duties showing no partiality. This feature would not be complete, we feel, if we did not make mention of George W. Brink, a well known Detroit, who has been engaged in business in Detroit for the past 25 years. Mr. Brink knows this county and its people and knows that if he is elected, he will always keep in mind the interests of the people and serve them in this law enforcement office to the best of his ability. He asks your support to ward his nomination and will certainly appreciate what you may do for him and the good words you may speak in his behalf. We certainly wish this able candidate success in his campaign.

Judge Jeffries To Boost Nash

Judge Edward J. Jeffries, recorder's court judge, will address a Nash for Congress rally at the Royal Oak high school, Friday, September 9, 1938 at 8:00 p.m., to which the public is invited. Judge Earl N. Nash, municipal judge of Ferndale, is running on the Republican ticket for the nomination to congress from the 17th district.

Earl Nash's program is varied in scope. His broad experience gained through various jobs held while working his way through Valparaiso university and the Detroit College of Law gave him that knowledge of humanity so necessary for a representative of the people to have. He favors adoption of General Welfare Act H. R.-4199, adequate government financing of small home construction and liberal R.F.C. credit for the small business man.
