

Father Lefevre Advanced To Large Detroit Church — Father Schuler Of Northville To Be Transferred

Announcement Of Changes Causes Regret

Announcement was made Tuesday by Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit of the appointment of Father Frank Lefevre as pastor of St. Margaret Mary church in Detroit. The announcement came as a surprise to the many members of the congregation of Father Lefevre's church here and to his friends in this vicinity.

Father Lefevre said that he was reluctant to leave this city as he felt that it was his home but that he was pleased with the advancement that had come to him. He said that he would forever cherish his many friendships in Plymouth.

The announcement of his leaving came within a few days of the time when he would have served his church in Plymouth for 10 years, coming to the locality from Detroit on November 27, 1929. He has devoted his entire time during these years to the upbuilding of his parish and to the community. He has also been one of the most active members of the Plymouth Rotary club.

St. Margaret Mary church is located on the east side of Detroit at Warren and LeMay streets and has a membership of some 1200 families. The work in connection with his new parish is so great that he will have two other parishes to assist him.

The many friends of Father Joseph Schuler of Northville were also surprised to learn of his transfer and appointment as pastor of Guardian Angel church in Detroit. Father Schuler had been pastor of Our Lady of Victory church in Northville for the past 16 years.

Both Father Lefevre and Father Schuler have made hosts of friends and admirers in this part of Wayne county who regret greatly to see them leave their respective communities, but who are gratified over the advancement that has come to them.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Paper

Kiwanians are getting mighty proud here lately of the fine types of programs which are being presented as a regular feature of the weekly meetings. Last Tuesday evening the program was presented by Miss Betty Mastick. She is the daughter of Earl Mastick, who was chairman for the evening. Miss Mastick, who was one of the members of the annual Buchanan party that made the trip to Alaska this year, gave the members a vivid picture of the trip in her talk and movies which she presented to the Kiwanians. The young school student displayed a keen interest as well as knowledge of Alaska.

Last week Ray Labitt, of Detroit, guest speaker introduced by Ray Danol, told the members about the mysteries of paper making and how the industry was born.

He traced the work from the crude specimens of papyrus used in the days when people first took the trouble to write down what was going on in the world (and had to have a place to write it) through the period when the churchmen were the only ones who knew how to write and the monks did beautiful work with illuminated hand script on vellum to the present day when there is a specific paper for every use from newspaper to the type of parchment used by the government to print currency.

Labitt, a representative of the Whitaker Paper company, went into great detail to explain just how the various types of papers are made. It was a different than usual program and was enjoyed by the Kiwanians.

Next week the program will be in charge of Ernest J. Allison who has promised a top-notch speaker.

Included in future programs are two that will merit attention. Claude Dykhouse has arranged for Winfield Line to describe his recent trip to Korea and George Haas is planning a trip through the National Steel Plant at Escore.

Creek Covering Delayed By Tax Petition

Construction work in covering over the open sewer flowing through the city of Plymouth, generally called Tonquish creek, did not start last Monday afternoon as had been expected.

Work was tied up as a result of the circulation of a petition calling for another method of assessment than that which had been proposed by Drain Commissioner George Dingman.

When Mr. Dingman was advised of the petition, he immediately decided that the work should not be started until this new obstacle had been settled satisfactorily to the residents of Plymouth. Mr. Dingman had proposed that those benefiting the most by the covering of the creek, should pay the greatest part of the cost, and the so-called second and third zones, that is properly lying next to that nearest the creek, should bear the remainder of the cost, except the portion paid by the county.

The circulation of a petition calling for a spread of a good portion of the tax over the city at large has been filed with the drain commissioner and Mr. Dingman has announced that he will immediately take the case to court in the hopes of having this straightened out so that work can be started before winter.

The celebration that had been planned for Monday afternoon in connection with the starting of this important public improvement has been postponed until the courts have decided the new taxation question. Those who have been exceedingly anxious to see this improvement brought about hope that there will be no additional litigation, which has delayed the starting of this work for several years.

Legion Dance Friday Night

Plymouth Legionnaires have a real treat in store for them on November 11 when the entertainment committee of their post announces a real old time celebration and dance commemorating the signing of the armistice. The celebration will take place in the Legion hall at Newburg and everyone is invited to attend.

George McIntyre, chairman of the entertainment committee for the evening promises both dance and martial music with a generous offering of refreshments to top off a big evening.

Closely following the Armistice day dance the post announces two big feather parties to help swell their charity funds. The first of these will be held on Wednesday, November 16 and the second on Saturday night, November 19. Both will be held in the Legion hall at Newburg and will start at 8:00 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend all of these post functions and the members of the Legion are looking forward to a big attendance.

George E. Gullen of Detroit and Dearborn will be the principal speaker of the evening and an interesting and enjoyable time is assured for all.

Eaton Leads G. O. P. Ticket In District

Has Nearly Five To One Vote In Plymouth Area

Plymouth's representative in the state legislature, E. R. Eaton, candidate for re-election, led the entire Republican ticket in the Fifth legislative district, winning by the largest vote ever given a candidate in western Wayne county.

Eaton carried this vicinity by a vote of nearly five to one and he defeated his opponent, Councilman Clarence Doyle of Dearborn in Doyle's home city by more than a thousand votes.

It is interesting to note that Mayor Carey of Dearborn only carried his home city in his contest for election to congress by five votes over his Democratic opponent.

In Northville, the Plymouth candidate had a vote of almost three to one over his opponent. There were many Democrats who split their tickets only for Representative Eaton. On some other ballots, Fitzgerald and Eaton were the only candidates to be given votes.

The unofficial tabulation on state representative by townships and cities follows:

Alvin Diedrick Weds Detroit Girl

On November 2 at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon Alvin Roy Diedrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Diedrick, prominent fruit producer of Plymouth, and Miss Ursula I. Dueball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dueball, of Roosevelt avenue, Detroit, were united in marriage by Rev. Claus of the Evangelical Lutheran church.

The bride was beautiful in a transparent velvet dress in the new diaphane shade made on simple lines with puff sleeves and lace collar and cuffs. A small off-the-face hat with circular veil and shoes of the same shade of duobonnet completed her costume. She wore a shoulder corsage of souvenir roses.

As her only attendant the bride chose a cousin, Miss Doris Eickman. She was dressed in teal blue crepe and small hat in matching color. Her corsage was of talisman roses.

The groom chose as best man, Leonard Dueball, brother of the bride.

A wedding supper was served to the immediate family and the happy couple left for a week at a lake resort. Upon their return they will leave with Mr. Diedrick's parents for a honeymoon in St. Petersburg, Florida. They expect to make their home in Plymouth upon their return and have the best wishes of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Michener and family, of Adrian, were Sunday dinner guests of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Luther Peck.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Swegles and son, James Erwin, who have been visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Swegles have returned to their home in Dearborn.

Your New State Officials After January 1st

VERNON J. BROWN Auditor General, HARRY KELLY Secretary of State, FRANK D. FITZGERALD Governor, THOMAS READ Attorney General, MILLER DUNCKEL State Treasurer

Thanks To The Voters

I wish to express to every one of you my sincerest appreciation for the remarkable vote you gave me in Tuesday's election. To win an election is a pleasant thing, but to win a re-election by such an overwhelming vote as you gave me is, indeed, an honor to be forever cherished. By your vote you have indicated that you approve of the kind of services I have given you in the state legislature at Lansing. I assure you that during my next term I will watch your interests with the same alertness I exercised during the last session.

It was my one purpose to follow as closely as I knew how, your wishes, and I repeat to you that my same pro-public policy of the past will be pursued in the future. Living with and associating daily in all of my contacts with the kind of thinking people who make up the vast majority of the population of Michigan, I believe I am fully cognizant of the needs and wishes of the vast majority of our citizens. Again permit me to express to you my deepest appreciation for the confidence you have expressed. I assure you that I will continue my efforts to merit your approval.

Flint Youth Arrested On Street Five Minutes After Robbing Church; Confesses Theft In Cheboygan Also

Five minutes after an alarm was given, Officer Carl Greenlee arrested Vincent Miner, 17 years old, of Flint, on a charge of breaking and entering the Plymouth Catholic church.

Miner admitted that he had stolen 15 cents from the church candle collection box Sunday afternoon. Police were notified at 6:55 p. m. and Greenlee arrested the youth on the street at 7:00 p. m.

When questioned, the youth also admitted that he had stolen $38 on the night of October 30 from the home of a priest at Cheboygan. He took a trip through the East on the money, he told police.

He was hitch-hiking through Plymouth when he made the raid on the local church, he said. He was accompanied by another youth, who was not held.

Miner admitted that he had escaped from the Boys Vocational School at Lansing on July 11, 1937.

Police Chief Vaughn Smith said, however, that there apparently was no charge pending on the escape as he was told in a telephone call to the institution that the youth was not wanted there and could not be returned as he had passed the maximum age limit for offenders held at the school.

He was sentenced to the vocational school on charges of breaking and entering at Flint, he told police.

Chief Smith said that he communicated with state police on the Cheboygan case and that if Cheboygan authorities still wanted to prosecute the youth he probably would be returned to face charges in Cheboygan, which are more serious than those in Plymouth.

SIDEWALK WORK IS EXTENDED

At a hearing before the city commission Monday night on a proposal to construct sidewalks on Garfield street the project was amended to include work on Penniman avenue.

Sidewalks will be constructed, it was decided, on the south side of Penniman from the end of the existing sidewalk to the city limit. The new section is in the K. E. Allen subdivision.

Plymouth Summer Recreation Program Attended By 23,827

An average of over 2,978 children and adults took part in the summer recreation programs at the Central and Starkweather fields each week of the eight-week program, Milton H. Jacobi, director of the project, reported to the city commission.

The work was started in 1935 under the sponsorship of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, with the co-operation of the city commission, the school board and the federal government.

The program this summer was made possible through the combined efforts of the city commission, the school board and the federal government.

Total attendance for the season was given as 23,827, an increase of 7,169 over the attendance total for last year.

In addition, 275 persons attended the games; 35 teams were organized in various sports; 236 persons participated in tennis tournaments; 1,621 engaged in neighborhood playground sports; 686 children were taken to the Rouge swimming pool; 328 took social work in the city hall; 107 received music lessons under the program, and 160 boys and girls were taken to see the Tigers play a baseball game.

The cost of the recreation program to Plymouth was $500, of which the city commission and Dangerous traffic aspects of the intersection of Farmer and Adams streets have been removed with the lowering of the street level.

The former high level made a traffic hazard of the intersection, especially for motorists approaching it from the south.

The intersection was lowered about 14 inches extending east and west on Farmer street to each alley and north on Adams street to conform with the new curb level, Stanford L. Besse, city engineer, said.

In addition, more drainage structure was installed, he said, so that the intersection now is well drained.

Farmer, 91, Votes For 70th Year

Carman W. Root, who has voted regularly since 1868, didn't let the fact that he is bedridden prevent him from voting in Tuesday's election.

Mr. Root, who lives on the Root homestead four miles west of Plymouth on Ann Arbor Trail, is 91 years old, but his mind is keen and he is vitally interested in current affairs, with which he keeps in touch by reading newspapers and magazines.

Norman Miller, a neighbor, took an absent voter's ballot to Mr. Root Monday so that the aged farmer would be sure of having his vote recorded. He is bedridden because of a weakness in his legs.

Mrs. Root, who is 85 years old, also filled in an absent voter's ballot.

But it doesn't seem like old times, Mr. Miller points out, saying that it was a familiar sight for many years to see Mr. Root entering the polls to vote and bringing his whole family along for the same purpose.

Allen Requires Five-Month Residence

Allen Industries, of Plymouth, announced this week that under a newly formulated employment policy no one would be hired by the company unless they could prove that they had resided in Michigan for six months or more previous to the date of application for work.

Build Sewer Line For Phoenix Park

Workmen will within a few days complete the laying of a sewer line from the Phoenix park comfort station to the big trunk line sewer that has been laid through the parkway system.

The connection has been laid around the south end of Phoenix lake and will be in service as soon as construction of the main line has been finished.

It will probably be six or eight months before the line can be used.

It has been necessary to remove some of the paving from the bridge over the Rouge river at Phoenix in order to extend the sewer line across the bridge.

Union Services Sunday Eve

The regular monthly union service of the First Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist churches will be held in the Methodist church Sunday night at 7:30. The service is to be in charge of a deputation team of Gideons, a group of business and professional men whose work is the placing of Bibles in hotels and public institutions. There will also be special music.

Plymouth Goes Better Than Two To One Republican — Aids In Smashing State Victory

Murphy And State Ticket Defeated—Wayne County Democratic Officials Are Winners

Plymouth, by an exceptionally heavy vote, aided strongly in the help to voters throughout the state to bring about a complete change of state administrations at the election Tuesday. There was a total of 1728 votes cast in the city, the largest that had ever been voted here. Add to this total about 400 additional votes cast in Plymouth township, it makes a total of more than 2000 votes cast in this immediate locality.

Outstanding in the election result is the defeat of Governor Frank Murphy and the entire state ticket. The Democratic ticket in Wayne county was successful, all Democratic county officers being elected.

Congressman George Dondero has defeated former Mayor Backus of Pontiac for congress. Mr. Dondero had a strong Wayne vote, the same as two years ago.

Clyde Fenner of Detroit will be the new state senator from this district. In spite of a strong Detroit effort to beat him, he held almost the regular party vote.

The district is fortunate in having the term of Senator Burke come to an end. Candidates for county offices on the Democratic ticket ran slightly ahead of their ticket in this locality.

The anti-Murphy vote was especially strong about here. This city also voted strongly against the proposed welfare reorganization bill, giving 642 no votes to 549 for it. It approved the highway gas tax proposal by a vote of 1069 to 648 no votes. It also opposed the proposal to elect county officers for four years instead of two and it rejected the plan to appoint supreme judges by a vote of 705 to 702, a majority of only three votes against it.

Figures tell the election results more interestingly, with tabulations for Plymouth and vicinity following:

Party Marks 89th Birthday For Old Resident

Lumberman Truman Monroe Still Hard Worker

Truman Monroe, who celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday anniversary recently at a party in his honor at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Pinnow, on Stark-weather avenue, has worked so hard and so long that he just can't quit.

His idea of recreation would put many a younger man to shame for the amount of physical exertion involved.

For instance, the other day "just for the fun of it," he cut down the trunk of a hard elm tree and sawed up nearly two cords of wood.

He still has much of the old fire and ambition of his youth in his spare and sinewy frame. In his younger days he was a lumberman and a builder. He has been a lifelong resident of Plymouth and his mind is a storehouse of facts about the time when Detroit was just a sprawling town and the Plymouth area was open country.

He can remember when traveling to Detroit meant either on horseback or by stagecoach. When he rode horseback to Detroit, he says, he had to use the old toll roads and pay a cent a mile to go through the toll gates.

He spends most of his time in his workshop, filing saws or sharpening all kinds of other tools for persons who know of his ability.

His philosophy is that it is fun to work when your heart is in the job no matter what that job may be.

At 89 he reads his Plymouth Mail each week without having to use glasses.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist, Sunday morning service, 10:30, Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 13. The Golden Text (1 Cor. 5: 17) is "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." Among the Bible citations in this passage (1 Cor. 3: 16): "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?" Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 14): "Entirely separate from the belief and dream of material living, is the Life divine, revealing spiritual understanding and the consciousness of man's dominion over the whole earth."

Look up "for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh." James 5: 8. The subject for the 7:30 service Sunday night will be: "The Great Tribulation." Such questions as "When will it come? Who will be caught in it? Will salvation be extended to this time? etc., will be answered. Don't stay away and say "it never will happen." Come and bring your Bible, and see what it says about it. Subject for the 10:00 o'clock hour "God's Training School for His Forerunners." Bible school, 11:15 a.m., B.Y.P.U., 6:30 p.m. Again the arrow of truth hits its mark. The Epworth League of Newburg is having a Thanksgiving program November 23 (Wednesday evening). Admission is free. Mr. and Mrs. James DeFuxco entertained the William Loesch and other guests for the evening of November 6.

A belated Halloween party was held Friday, November 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage. The party was held in the basement, which was decorated in Halloween fashion. The evening started off with an arrangement of partners who left directly on a scavenger hunt, after which games were played. Every one enjoyed themselves thoroughly. The guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Noble Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bohl, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ziegler, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sitarz, Mr. and Mrs. William Dryer of Florida were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sitarz, who entertained them at a party in their home Thursday evening, November 3.

The ladies' night out (P.T.A. auxiliary) is a huge success. They are planning big things, and every one who attends these meetings are willing to do their share, even more, to get people together for good times. We sure are happy to see so many attending these meetings, taking their part, and making very helpful suggestions.

Newburg News

There seems to be quite a misunderstanding about the name of our community. During Jackson's campaign several years ago, this vicinity out here, then just sparsely populated, was called "Rough and Ready" community. Then as it grew and streets were cut through, and farms were divided into acres, the school had the name of Stark and a lot of people called it Stark community. But we are now known by Plymouth Gardens, since Rosedale Gardens has become well known, and we have grown at least three times our size of two years ago. So, now, ladies and gentlemen of the vicinity, we are Plymouth Gardens and not "Rough and Ready" as of years gone by.

Plymouth Gardens Improvement association held its meeting Monday, November 7 at 8:15 p.m. Mr. Strong, Boy Scout commissioner of the Plymouth district gave an interesting talk to the group on scouting, and its benefit to the community and the boy. Mr. Schnell, assistant commissioner, explained the purpose and ideals of the scout organization. The Plymouth Gardens Improvement association voted on sponsoring a Scout troop and the result was unanimously in favor of such a sponsorship. Elton R. Eaton, publisher of The Plymouth Mail, explained in a very interesting speech, the benefits and advantages of an improvement or civic association. Mr. Eaton's talk was impressive and the way it was accomplished in a lot of informing the organization how benefits may be obtained at no cost to us. We need drainage, traffic signals, projects to improve and beautify our community. If we go after these things in the proper manner we can get what we want. We must be of such a strength. Our meeting November 7 indicated that we are strong. We want you all to attend our meetings, however, not a portion of the community but ALL of us must unite. Interesting and peppy talks were given by Mr. Byrd, Mr. Newstead and Mr. Loesch. A change of meeting night was voted upon and the second Friday of each month was chosen as the night for the Gardens Improvement association meeting. There are many important and critical events pending that will vitally affect you and your personal welfare. Let's go, Plymouth Gardens.

New York Parkway - Playland System Draws Admiration Of Huron - Clinton Committee Following Inspection

The Huron-Clinton Parkway committee is directing attention, through offices of the secretary, Dr. Henry S. Curtis, to the parkway and playground development of the New York City metropolitan area. Accompanying pictures were taken by Dr. Curtis during a visit of inspection.

RECREATION COMMUNITY: Jones Beach, at Long Island, N. Y., is one of the outstanding play areas in the country. It is connected to metropolitan New York by swift, carefully engineered parkway. Since New York has discovered that the sand is the most used part of a bathing beach, hundreds of feet of sand separate boardwalk from water, and other facilities are maintained under the supervision of the Long Island State Park Commission. Picture provided by Dr. Henry S. Curtis, executive secretary of the Huron-Clinton Parkway Committee.

NO BLEMISH HERE: This is how the heavily traveled parkway of the Long Island State Park Commission maintain their scenic beauty. The planning and construction of the gas station pictured above do not detract from, but add to, the charm of the wooded boulevard. New York's parkway development offers Michigan many pointers, according to Dr. Henry S. Curtis, executive secretary of the Huron-Clinton Parkway Committee.

Where a few years ago there were 119 playgrounds, Dr. Curtis cites the increase now to 436. Hundreds of acres of land have been converted into playgrounds and scores of beaches have been developed and renovated.

Swimming pools are of special interest. Most of these are open to children each morning during the warm months without charge. In winter the pools are flooded for ice skating, and in the spring and autumn they are used for roller skating, volley ball and basketball.

New York has introduced a new theory of beach planning, of which Jones Beach on Long Island is the best example, according to Dr. Curtis. On old-fashioned beaches, board walk and concessions were near the water and produced ugly effects and undesirable congestion.

Yet, surveys showed that no more than 10 per cent of the people using beach facilities at any one time are in the water; the rest are on the sand. So on New York's new beaches, concessions and board walk are placed far back from the beach to allow ample room for a sandy beach.

Dr. Curtis also praises the parkway and express highway systems of New York and the surrounding area. Many splendid parkways have been constructed already. Dr. Curtis says, but when others are finished, a motorist will be able to start from Westchester county, north of New York City, travel the length of the Bronx, and be at Long Island beaches in a half hour or less.

Center of a system of great parkways is the Triborough, which is not, as most persons think, a bridge. Linking Queens, Manhattan and the Bronx, the Triborough will later establish connection with Westchester county's Bronx river parkway, and now has 14 miles of land highways and several bridges in its system. Thus, it is a transfer center where recreation-seekers from one part of the metropolitan area can pick up their route to parks or beaches.

In Cleveland, Dr. Curtis found that the law permitting the organization of metropolitan park districts had been passed in Ohio 21 years ago. To co-ordinate recreation facilities in their areas, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Akron, Toledo and Defiance have organized park districts under this law.

Boston, says Dr. Curtis, has much the same problem as the Detroit metropolitan area. The parkway system, which should be both scenic drive and a speedy method of getting to recreation areas, is only average, and its development has been limited. Beaches stand in need of much improvement, and there is no great movement under way to further the utilization of recreation resources.

Young Women Trained For Career Of Successful Home Managers In Courses At Ford Hospital

Work Ranges From Sewing To Marketing

A little-known activity is going on in Ford hospital, Detroit, which each year is preparing young women of southeastern Michigan communities for a career as happy and capable wives and mothers in accordance with the ideas of Henry Ford.

The five-month courses are held each year for these young women, high school graduates who do not intend to go to college.

They receive training in a wide variety of domestic work, from sewing to dietetics. They live at a hospital building for the period and naturally some of their work is for the hospital.

But in accordance with Mr. Ford's belief in "learning and learning" each student receives a sum monthly in recognition of assistance given in connection with the work of the hospital.

The Henry Ford Hospital School of Home Arts is located in the Clara Ford Nurses Home and is under the direction of Mrs. Rebecca Crane.

"Some idea of the scope of the training," says the "Herald" published by the students of the Edison Institute, Ford organization, "may be gathered from the week's schedule, which includes practical work and demonstrations in household marketing, laundry, child development, foods and nutrition, sewing, hygiene, family relationship, textiles, current events and a course of lectures on these and other kindred subjects.

"Cultural and recreational activities also have their proper places in the school curriculum. Periods are assigned for the gymnasium and swimming pool, and on Saturdays there are trips to the museum, attendance at concerts and other forms of educational entertainment.

"The subject of family relationships includes three recitations per week; current events, one group discussion period per week; foods and nutrition, three recitation periods per week; sewing, two two-hour periods per week, with other subjects in due proportion.

"This comprehensive course and practical exercises in the home arts are conducted and supervised by teachers experienced in the various subjects, and are calculated to make these young women capable and trustworthy house managers.

"It gives them adequate knowledge of how to purchase and prepare food, lay the table attractively and acquire that poise and confidence which characterizes the successful hostess of today."

The school at present has an enrollment of 14 students, according to Benjamin B. Lovett, of the Edison Institute. Among

WHY DOES A HEN CACKLE AFTER LAYING AN EGG?

IN EVERY form of animal life there is a specific way of expressing joy when that animal has performed the mission for which he was created. The hen cackles to notify the chicken world that she has discharged this duty and shouts her joy that the attendant discomfort in the laying of the egg is over. She is proud of herself!

the communities represented on the roster are Plymouth, Dundee, Milan, Flat Rock, Saline, Northville, Milford, Tecumseh, Macon and Ypsilanti.

Some of the work at the hospital was described two weeks ago on the Pilgrim Prints school page of The Plymouth Mail by Helen Norgrove, who graduated from Plymouth high school last year and now is attending the Ford hospital school.

Twenty girls are allowed to enter, she said, and new students join each semester.

She said that the 14 girls now enrolled are divided into three groups, all but one with five members.

One group does the washing, cares for babies at the hospital "home," markets and prepares the meals.

The other two groups go to the hospital for work in the stock room, in the mending department or file references. Miss Norgrove said, while others work in the bakery, kitchen, operating room with convalescents or in the accounting department. Each group rotates so that all get the benefit of the varied training.

In the afternoon the girls have classes from 1 to 4 p.m., vacant periods (except for the cooks) from 4 to 6 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. They study from 8 to 9:30 and lights go out at 10 p.m.

They have a full schedule but find time for fun, she said. "This is a grand experience and I wish every girl in every graduation class could come here no matter what course she is taking," Miss Norgrove commented.

Hunters Report Good Season

Numerically speaking, it was the best pheasant season in several years. That's what hunters said who attended Monday night's meeting of the Western Wayne County Wild Life Association at the Mayflower hotel.

Yet, paradoxically, it was a poor season for many pheasant hunters.

Although there were more pheasants than in several years and although the birds were more fully plumed than for the 1937 season, making it easier to distinguish cocks from hens, weather conditions were against the hunter during most of the recent season.

The abnormal heat and dryness of ground conditions were a handicap on dogs as well as hunters. Game investigators of the department of conservation believe because of the weather which prevailed, especially during the first few days of the season, the birds received an early "education" on the meaning of the shooting, without as heavy a kill as would have been scored had hunting conditions been more favorable. The game men point out that hunters did not find the weather conducive to covering a great deal of territory, while the dogs were not only slowed down physically also, but the dry ground conditions made it more difficult for them to pick up the birds' scent than when there is moisture.

However, hunters who didn't have much luck and who didn't find hunting in mid-summer temperatures very comfortable, may take some consolation from the fact that a large crop of birds will be carried over. A severe winter, of course, might reduce the carry-over, but game investigators have discovered that pheasants ordinarily are not seriously affected, unless heavy and prolonged snow buries their customary feeding areas. It is known that they will travel considerable distances to find feed and will congregate in bunches on finding it. When the grain in farm fields is covered, the pheasants often will seek plant seeds to be found in the marshes.

Plymouth Rocks Emerge Victorious Over Clawson 7-6

As the reporter was coming upon the scene of the Plymouth-Clawson clash, Prough, Rock right end, started the play around left end and went plunging for a touchdown. The point after touchdown was converted on a fake kick-play making the score, right off the bat, 7-0 with Plymouth on the field. Plymouth kicked to the Clawson 27, where, after a five-yard penalty and a first down, they punted to the Blue-and-White 32-yard line. Ross returned the piskin to the 40-yard stripe. Baker and Ross tried the line but picked up only a few yards. Plymouth relinquished the ball on their own 45. On the first play Clawson fumbled the ball and Thams recovered for Plymouth on their own 47-yard marker. Joliffie promptly pushed the defense backward for 24 yards, putting the ball on the Clawson 27, where, on a wide end run Gettleson was stopped, smack dab, at the line of scrimmage. The third down found Leach back in punt formation with Joliffie skirting around behind him to take the ball via right end to the Clawson 13-yard stripe. Ross picked up five yards on a line plunge. This put the Rock piskin toters again in scoring position, but on the fourth down their chances were spoiled when Plymouth fumbled and Clawson recovered. Clawson gained a first down, on two completed passes and end runs, but to no avail as they were forced to put out on Plympass by Hitt forced Leach to punt to the opponents' 10-yard line where a Plymouth player in the person of Paul Thams leaped on the ball after it had been fumbled by a Clawson griddler. On the following play a short pass that was intended for Joliffie was juggled in the waiting arms of Dittmar, the Clawson quarterback, who rated and panted 89 yards for their one and only touchdown. The chance for a converted point was knocked down with the pass. Gettleson batted down the Clawson kick-off and went to the Rock 12-yard line and was returned by Ross to the 22-yard line. There Gettleson lost three yards after Ross had gained 10 more. Leach gained one yard and was forced to punt to the opponents' eight-yard line. After three downs Crewey toed the ball to Ross. Hitt fell back and threw a pass to Prough. A 15-yard penalty was then levied against Clawson. Leach finally booted the piskin to Crewey who on the next four plays took the ball to the Clawson 13-yard line where he received the punt on his own 27-yard line but was forced back two yards. The rest of the game resulted in punting duel and an aerial attack by both sides. Thus, Plymouth emerged victorious by the slim margin of one point, the final score being 7-6.

PLYMOUTH RENEWS OLD RIVALRY WITH NORTHVILLE

Plymouth will meet its old-time rival, Northville, there on Friday, November 18, at 4:00 o'clock. George Houghton, a former Plymouthite will be playing for Northville.

The line-ups were:
 Plymouth: Joliffie, L7; Krumm, LG; Thams, LT; Curtis, C; Olson, RG; Darnell, RT; Prough, RE; Hitt, LH; Gettleson, RH; Ross, RB; Leach, FB.
 Clawson: Duffee, Bohrtor, Kriger, Herkimer, Hall, Davis, Tierney, Schwenn, Cairns, Creevey.
 Substitutes: Hall, Dunham, Birchall, Baker.
 Referee: French, Royal Oak.
 Umpire: Hughes, Royal Oak.

PLYMOUTH MEETS YPSILANTI TODAY IN VITAL GAME

The Plymouth Rocks travel to Ypsilanti this Friday to take on the Ypsilanti high school boys in a battle that will be the deciding factor in the T. V. A. A. championship race. Provided that Ecorse beats Dearborn, the winner of this battle will take the Twin Valley title. Both Ypsi and Plymouth have conquered Wayne Ypsi held Dearborn to a scoreless tie while Plymouth played a 13-13 draw with the same team. Since only the Northville game remains on the schedule after this contest, Coach Jacob is in a position where he does not need to conserve the strength of his team. Since a deal hinges on this game it is very likely that he will "shoot the works."

PLYMOUTH BAND LEADS HALLOWEEN PARADE

The Plymouth high school band, directed by Mr. Evans and drum-major by Dick Dunlop, marched for the second time at the head of the Halloween parade. Providence blessed the occasion with an extremely dark night, fitting for goblins and the like but not for a band member to read music. The band's volume audibly increased with the passing of every lighted intersection. Every band member was arrayed in some sort of Halloween costume which lent greatly to the spirit of the occasion.

For some time the band has led a campaign for new uniforms. In the summer they have given concerts in the park. They have played at several ceremonies when requested by the authorities. Many band members were given lessons during the drum-major by Dick Dunlop. Education, but the band's appearance is not so attractive as it might be. All large high schools have well-equipped and well-uniformed bands. Plymouth should have the same.

THE VALUE OF AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK: EDITORIAL

This week has seen another American Education Week pass into oblivion. How many have realized the importance and significance of this one week devoted to education? On one's participation hinges the success or failure of our democracy.

American Education Week was inaugurated in 1921 and has been a powerful instrument for acquainting the public with the needs and purposes of the schools. In 1937 nearly ten million people visited schools and participated in American Education Week programs. An interest so greatly developed carries over into the rest of the school year. American Education Week accomplishes a very important thing: It makes the public education-conscious. This week brings to the attention of people the fact that we must have free education if our democratic social organization is to be preserved. Free education implies a great deal. Freedom to think and say what one will, freedom to teach all the facts, not to suppress those facts which put the controlling party in a bad light, or those which condemn the government. We have been told again and again but still we do not realize the importance of free education. If we should lose this freedom we would realize how important and inherent it is in democracy. One could take a common example and see what happens without free, or without enough of, education. Germany, who is one of the most outstanding examples of only partial education for the people, is very likely the country that she is because of her inadequate education. If we in America wish to preserve this democracy, if we want our freedom of speech and education, if we are desirous of making this country and democracy to become better for all, we must have freedom to learn all facts and to promote our education, parents, teachers, and students realizing all these cannot fail to appreciate the purpose and value of American Education Week and to give thanks that they live in a democracy.

LET US FORGET—EDITORIAL

American youth of today, born in the aftermath of the World War, cannot realize the horror, degradation, and deep sorrow that such a disaster ultimately brings. Through books, personal accounts, and newspaper citizens of tomorrow are partially able to glean a true picture of war. Clear thinking is vital to every American youth in these chaotic times. How fortunate they are to live in America—no raving dictator, no compulsory militarism, no constant fear of invasion and death; instead they have (as set forth by the Declaration of Independence) the inalienable rights of life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness. Thus, it is that at this time of celebration of Armistice Day, all those who can remember it will breathe a prayer that their loved ones who died will not have died in vain—if thinking is vital to every American youth in these chaotic times. HARRIES LOSE FOURTH STRAIGHT MEET

Plymouth harriers were again kept from the winning column by the score of 16-39, this time by the cross-country runners of Ypsilanti. This meet proved to be the most disastrous to date, as Plymouth's first man finished only fifth. This might be accounted for by the fact that Plymouth arrived at Ypsilanti late and just as the Ypsi runners finished, so the team had to run against the time of their competitors which is much harder than actually running against them. Only three boys ran for Plymouth, and they finished as follows: P. Hansen, fifth, 11:33; R. Marshall, seventh, 11:56; and H. Wilson, eighth, 13:02.

INFORMATION ABOUT CLASS ROOM WORK

Miss Saffell's geography class is studying the possessions of the United States: Alaska, Panama, Philippine Islands and others. Her world history class has just completed a study of Greece and is now beginning the story of the Roman Empire.
 Miss Hearn's second year Latin classes have finished translating the Latin stories of Ulysses and will begin those of Hercules this week.
 Miss Allen's 11-A English class recently began the study of Ivanhoe. The 12-B class is beginning Macbeth.
 The high school girls have begun practice for their basketball tournament which will be played Monday, Tuesday, and Friday nights.
 Miss Tyler's seventh grade English classes have been writing general descriptions and reading Longfellow's "Courtship of Miles Standish." The eighth graders are reading Longfellow's "Evangeline."
 Mr. Fountain's beginning shorthand class, consisting of 56, has just now completed the first 25 assignments in their Functional Book. They now enter the field of writing which is the next step in the subject. The usual impression of the outlines secured through reading enables the student to write the shorthand quickly when the material is dictated to him. This inspires confidence which is essentially necessary in the development of skill. The students are keenly interested in the subject and it is hoped that this interest continues.
 The American history classes are studying the constitution.
 Home Economics I has been preparing breakfasts and is now studying the history of foods used for breakfasts.

STORY HOURS PROVE POPULAR

The story hours held in the city hall are very popular with the very young people in the community. However, there is still room for more children. If your child likes stories and enjoys playing games and singing with other children, send him to the city hall each Saturday morning. The time is 9:00 o'clock for children 8 to 10 years, and 10:00 o'clock for children five to seven years. The children will have a good time and will look forward to the story hour each week.

Of interest to many readers of The Plymouth Mail is the wedding of Reva Phyllis Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton E. Wolfe, of Detroit, to Sol Yolles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yolles, also of Detroit, which took place at the Hotel Statler, on Sunday, October 30. The bride's mother was formerly Sarah Cohen, of Northville, but of recent years of Detroit.

Several from the Lutheran church of this city made their annual visit to Toledo, Ohio, Sunday, where they attended a concert directed by William Rentz, well known in Plymouth. Following the concert they were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rentz as in former years. Mrs. O. F. Beyer who was among those attending remained for a visit of a few days.

The teachers of the Lutheran Sunday school and their families gave Mr. and Mrs. Claud Gebhardt, newlyweds, a surprise on Thursday evening of last week, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Beyer. A potluck supper was enjoyed after which games were played. The guests of honor were presented with a lovely floor lamp.

Several relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn gave them a housewarming, Saturday evening, in their home on North Territorial road. Various games were enjoyed during the evening and lunch served.

Freak Autumnal Storms Kill 500, Red Cross Aids Hundred Thousand

At top—Hurricane-wrecked home and motor car on Long Island; thousands were similarly destroyed. Lower right—One thousand fishing and pleasure craft were beached by tidal waves; a glimpse of Long Island coast. Lower left—Refugees from storm, seated on an overturned chimney, fed by Red Cross.

SIX New England states and Long Island are engaged in digging out from under the debris of wrecked buildings, roads and utilities, of destroyed homes and forests as a result of the worst hurricane storm damage to visit that section of the nation since 1921.

The storm, known as a West Indies hurricane, swept in from the Atlantic on September 21, virtually without warning, attained a wind speed of 100 miles an hour at some points, and was accompanied by high seas. Fire followed in some sections, and rivers already rising, were soon in flood. Lives lost numbered 475 identified persons, with many still reported missing.

More than 56,000 families suffered grave losses, and today the American Red Cross is engaged in rehabilitating 21,000 of these families in their homes, their occupations, and on their farms, because they are unable to restore their losses without some outside help.

The Red Cross is in a race with approaching winter to get families back into their homes. Work to be done ranges from mending roofs and chimneys to completely rebuilding and refurbishing modest homes. Fishermen and farmers were heavy losers, because boats, nets, lobster pots were washed away, and tobacco crops, barns, poultry, maple sugar and fruit trees were destroyed.

Red Cross Chapters rescued, housed, fed and sheltered the storm victims, and more than 100 disaster relief workers of the Red Cross were in the stricken area within three days, arriving by airplane, boat and bus, despite disrupted communications.

Mobilization of Red Cross workers to aid victims of this storm was not completed before a series of three tornadoes struck Charleston, South Carolina, September 29, killing 50 people and making 600 families homeless. Red Cross provided shelter, and now is engaged in rebuilding homes and aiding the families. Thus these two September catastrophes claimed more than 500 lives.

The annual roll call for members in the Red Cross which occurs from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving provides the funds which keep the Red Cross Chapters and national organization prepared to meet emergencies such as these.

My Flag!

Beginning of our present flag On June 14, 1777, Congress, in the midst of a series of naval resolutions, passed the following: "Resolved, that the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation."

This made "OLD GLORY" our official flag. We observe Flag Day (June 14) to commemorate this event. It is the official birthday of the flag of the United States.

When Vermont and Kentucky had come in, new stripes and new stars were added in 1795. It was this 15-striped flag that flew over Fort McHenry in Baltimore harbor on that historic night of September 13, 1814—described in our national anthem.

This 15-striped flag continued to be the official flag until 1818 although five more states had come in. It had then become apparent that a stripe added for every new state would soon render the flag unwieldly and unsymmetrical, so on April 4, 1818, a bill was signed by President James Monroe restoring the flag to the original thirteen stripes, but one star for each state. Stars represent states starting in the upper left hand corner and reading each row from left to right, gives the star of each state in order.

Row 3: Ohio, Louisiana, Indiana, Mississippi, Illinois, Alabama, Maine, Missouri.

Row 6: Montana, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona.

The proportions of the flag as prescribed by executive order of President Taft, October 29, 1912 are as follows:

Hoist (width) of flag, 1 unit. Fly (length), 1.9 units. Hoist (width of union) 7/13 units.

Fly (length) of union 0.76 units. Width of each stripe, 1/13 of hoist.

Diameter of star, .0616 units. Taken from Handbook for Boys by Senior Scout Troop Three by permission of Scout Commissioner Mr. Strong.

Request Special License Plates

Of the thousands of letters coming into the Department of State these days, many are requests for special license plate numbers. Hundreds ask for plates with their initials on them, others request special combinations such as WOO, DOC, etc., which they think will make their automobiles run faster, smoother and longer.

Some people want the smallest numbered license plate they are able to obtain and others desire the largest and longest numbers available. One individual requested a license plate numbered 1234567890.

Under the new system, a majority of the counties receive license plates bearing two letters designating their counties and numbered from one to five digits. Therefore, requests for special letters and numbered license plates may be obtained through the Department of State local branch offices in the different counties.

A large number of Michigan motorists have had the same numbers on their license plates for several years. The Department of State tries to please the individual motorist to the greatest extent possible in the matter of issuing special plates.

They Shine for Navy, Duke and Notre Dame

Playing in three important football games Saturday, November 12 will be, left to right: I. F. Fike, Navy end in the Navy-Columbia game; Co-Captain Eric (Red) Tipton, Duke halfback in the Duke-Syracuse tussle; and Benny Sheridan, Notre Dame back, playing against Minnesota's vaunted Gophers in one of the day's biggest games.

Your Michigan—And Mine

TWO IN ONE Hartford—How, in all the garden freaks that have been receiving newspaper publicity this fall is one of a two-in-one variety reported here recently. Mrs. Edward Curtis displayed a perfectly formed green pepper grown inside a red pepper.

BIGGEST MICHIGAN PUMPKIN—Lincoln—How, big does a pumpkin have to be to qualify for the title of biggest pumpkin? The local newspaper, The Herald, recently published a picture of some oversize pumpkins, the largest one measuring 75 inches in girth and weighing 126 pounds.

CURIOSITY BURIED Bangor—Oil wells, like steam shovels, attract large numbers of spectators to watch operations. The crew drilling an oil well here was good natured enough when spectators told them how they thought the work should be done, but questions regarding depth of the well irked the drillers. As a result, there is now a freshly dug grave on the project with the headstone inscribed: "Here lies the last guy that asked us how deep we are now."

Lawn Raking is Dangerous Dearborn—Raking a lawn, usually supposed to be a harmless occupation, proved to be quite hazardous for William Riddiman. He was raking the lawn at his home, when his rake struck a hole in the grape juice. The bottle exploded and the jagged neck

LAST WORD IN SERVICE

West Branch—Here is a new record in delivery service for butcher shops to aim at. While working in the kitchen one morning, Mrs. Mert Valley was startled by a crash in the dining room. Investigating, she found a plump pheasant, which had flown through a window, lying on the floor. The Valleys had pheasant for supper that night.

WHAT A PICKLE!

Kalkaska—What a pickle this giant cucumber would make! Lewis Hill of Rapid City brought one to the Leader office here recently that weighed five pounds and 12 ounces. It measured 16 inches in length.

HEN LIVES ON ODD DIET

Three Oaks—Glass isn't considered a desirable part of a diet for either human or animal, but a chicken here ate glass and lived. When a hen raised by De-

Bird Flies Through Windshield

Reed City—Despite the fact that the windshield of Frank Berger's car was made of shatterproof glass, a partridge flew right through it and landed in his lap. Berger, who was driving near Baldwin at the time, ceased to hold the scratch, although pieces of glass were found in the back seat.

Found Early Bank Notes

Nashville—Two bills, relics of the wild cat days when banks in Michigan cities issued their own money, were found here recently by Mrs. Findlay Traylor. One was a $1 bill issued by the Bank of Marshall in 1857, and the other $2 bill of the Bank of Clifton, dated 1861.

Art Gifts Made To School

Six large reproductions of fine drawing and woodcuts of famous American composers were presented to the public schools of Plymouth by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

The proffer of the portraits was made by the society to the schools through Miss Dora Gallimore, supervisor of music. She has accepted the same for use in the music department.

Among the portraits is a reproduction of a drawing of Victor Herbert by Abbo Ostrowsky, the Russian artist. Victor Herbert, incidentally, in 1914 founded the society. The prints also include an Ostrowsky drawing of John Philip Sousa, famous composer and band leader, who, until the death of the artist, was vice-president of the society.

George Gershwin, best known as the composer of the "Rhapsody in Blue" is represented by another print made by Ostrowsky.

The art pieces also include three proofs of woodcuts by the famous engraver, Howard Simon, all upon Chinese hand-made paper.

The woodcut of Edward MacDowell has a background illustration of his "Woodland Sketches" suite. The background for the proof of Henry Hadley symbolized the composer's distinguished career as a musical director. The woodcut of Ethelbert Nevin is from an old photograph of this composer of that great composition "The Rosary."

These prints secured through Miss Dora Gallimore are distributed to the schools.

ITS LAST STAND.

The "Old Guard" of the Republican party in Michigan has made its last stand. Its strangle hold on the throat of Republicanism which for half a dozen years has bogged the party to new lows in public estimation is definitely broken. The days when good Republican citizens interested in progressive, decent, honest and equitable governmental administration have shame-facedly gone about apologizing for its leadership are over and for all time ended.

Do not misunderstand—the fight against trickery, deception and rottenness is not yet over. The schemers have not been annihilated. They will try to squirm and crawl into the smallest opening they can find. But their power of control is gone.

It is gone for the reason that there is a new and aroused spirit prevailing among decent Republicans today, a fighting spirit that is going to control in behalf of the decent, common, everyday Republicans of Michigan.

This editorial is being written four days before the results of the state election on Tuesday are known. The reflections pertaining to public sentiment and a NEW REPUBLICANISM are based upon knowledge gained during the bitter political campaign that has just come to an end.

Farmers, working men, small business men, women and professional citizens have indicated clearly that they no longer will tolerate "boss" political rule.

They know, too, that in order to get new blood into the Republican party that the bosses and their kind must be completely eliminated. By their open and emphatic public declarations thousands of Republicans have not hesitated to declare that the one major effort from this day on will be to CLEAN OUT THE BOSSES and once again make the Republican party the political organization of the common people. That is what it was when Abraham Lincoln, William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt led it to victories. That is what it is going to be again.

NEW OPPORTUNITY.

The big cities of this country must look to their tax levies, for slowly but surely they are losing their industries to the small towns, says Edward Mott Wooley, noted investigator and writer.

Mounting taxes, over-reaching competition, and the strangulation of business by big city restrictions—these are the things which are causing industry to seek new fields of endeavor.

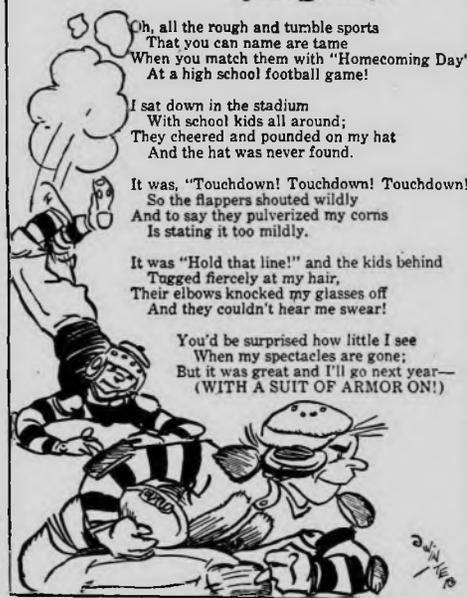

Within the last year or so, thousands of industries of all sizes have torn up their roots and sought new fields. Furthermore, they are not moving from one big city to another. They are going from the cities back to the small towns.

That the small towns of the country are awake to opportunity is shown by the fact that more than 1,000 such places are now actively engaged in plans to procure and support, through relocated industry, 10,000,000 additional population in the next five years.

The migration from the cities to the thousands of places of less population density is getting into full swing. Wise is the small city, the town, the village that realizes this, then prepares to take full advantage of the migration already begun. America's towns are coming into their own again, and both industry and the people are going to be far better satisfied in this particular phase of the new deal.

IDLE HOURS.

(Contributed.)

The longer we live, the faster time goes. Time is like a ball rolling down hill. With each yard its speed increases.

The reason for this becomes clear if we recall how full and long the days seem when we are placed in a new environment. The first few days of a vacation, if we go to a strange place, seem longer than the succeeding two weeks.

In the early days of life, the senses are hourly stimulated by new experiences. Gradually, however, these senses are blunted and the days fade into one another, leaving almost no impression on our intellect. Birthdays come so fast that we lose the count.

Schopenhauer's reflections on this subject led him to lay down the rule that the length of any given year in a person's lifetime is in direct proportion to the number of times it will divide our whole life. At the age of fifty the year appears to us only one-tenth as long as it did at the age of five; at the age of sixty the fraction is reduced to one-twelfth; in other words, the fifth year is twelve times as long as the sixtieth year.

Schopenhauer contends that the time of boredom, therefore, is youth and not old age. Children are so thoroughly alive that they need constant occupation or they are miserable. To them an idle hour is like a day. In later years the days fly so fast that the old man is hardly aware that he is out of bed before he discovers that the time has come to retire. Is this a consolation, or a cause for regret?

IT NEEDS EXPLANATION.

Editor Murl DeFoe in the last issue of The Charlotte Republican-Tribune wrote an editorial in which he commented about "strong political names" in Detroit. He linked the name of Edward Barnard with Edward J. Jeffries and Frank Couzens as "men with state ticket strength." Then Editor DeFoe goes on to say that "the man of the street—in Detroit—would likely name Edward Barnard, admittedly a strong figure in Republican affairs, but not in the sense of being a personal vote getter outstate. We are speaking now of men of state ticket strength, which eliminates Mr. Barnard, able as he is, from this comment."

It is just such "bunk" as this which has enabled scheming politicians to embarrass and bring discredit to the Republican party campaign after campaign. The Barnard name from the minute the Wayne county Republican convention was held has been one of the biggest burdens the rank and file of Republicans of Michigan have had to carry during the campaign that has just come to an end.

There hasn't been a nook or corner of this legislative district or of the state where explanations and excuses have not been necessary for the part the Republican party permitted Barnard to play in the state convention. He was able to command the position he did in the convention only through connivance that brought shame and discredit to Republicanism.

As a "vote getter" on the streets of Detroit, he probably couldn't get a handful. From out of the gutter he might get another handful, but that is all.

Editorial comment such as appeared in Editor DeFoe's paper gives additional public belief to the erroneous impression that the Republican party of Michigan is controlled by machine and gang politicians. It is no credit to Republicanism to even mention Barnard's name in connection with the party. Editor DeFoe should do a bit of explaining to the good people of Michigan as to just what he meant by declaring that "Barnard is a strong figure in Republican affairs."

THE TRUTH.

JOB UPSWING

The papers speak each day of an upturn in business. It must be true because for the last year there has been little or no buying and it certainly must be true now for many thousands of businesses to restock the shelves depleted during this time.

Thousands are trekking back to the automobile factories right here in our own state. This is a good sign. It means that before long you will see the charts, which show the rise and fall of buying, head up because these men have been without a pay check for a long long time. They need suits, overcoats, clothes for themselves and perhaps for their children and families, and then the roof may leak or the house be badly in need of repair of this or that nature and they can get it done before the snow falls if they are employed and have a steady income. All this is good. It is what every man, woman and child in America dreams of continually. But it is a thing which cannot be achieved with empty promises or in the air-castles of a politician. It is only in practical business with the practical business man working out his destiny without the interference of government, that this can be done.—George O. St. Charles in The Dearborn Independent.

HASN'T HELPED FARMERS.

Potatoes selling by the growers at 50 cents a hundredweight doesn't lead the farmers to believe that those new deal gadgets, intended to aid the farmer, such as reducing acreage, destroying crops and proposing taking all the hollow potatoes off the market, have not benefited them, as any one can notice the more the government monkeys with farmers the deeper they get into the hole.—Al H. Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

IT'S NOT GOING TO HELP.

The wages and hours law is proving a handicap to the young men who are ambitious and do not mind a little hard work. What it does is to put the ambitious worker and the unambitious worker on the same plane. It doesn't help business and it does hurt the worker. Our prediction is that when the Washington experimenters get through with their places are taken by men of more judgment this law will either be repealed or vastly changed.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

THEY NEED PITY

We could pick out a half dozen people in this community for whom we feel genuine pity.

No, they are not the people on the welfare; they are not the overworked mothers who even the patients lying in hospitals. We will tell you in confidence who they are. They are the selfish people—the ingrained selfish people whose whole range of thinking extends around their little ego. If we were a swearing man the people who arouse our deepest sympathy are the selfish, yes, the damn selfish.

And the tragedy of selfishness is that as the days come and go the self-seeking people become more selfish, more grasping and more "Scrooge" like. Luckily the world has a lot more generous and self sacrificing people than of this grasping, selfish variety.—Dick Baldwin in The Northville Record.

CONSULT YOUR DOCTOR

(By O. F. Beyer, of Beyer Drugs)

This is a thrilling age, full of speed, danger, complexity. The average person of today knows more, sees more, feels more in a day than his grandfather did in a decade.

The age also makes its demands upon the human system. The shocks and alarms of modern life are exhausting, enervating; they break down physical reserves until life becomes a burden. Yet a really healthy person enjoys modern life.

Physicians understand the need for physical fitness. Consult your doctor at the first sign of apathy or mental unrest. He can improve your health and keep you zestful.

His first aid is a reliable drug—right who understands the art of accurately filling a prescription. This is the seventh of a series of Editorial Advertisements appearing in this paper each week. Copyright

EFFICIENT SEEING

Devoted to Eye Welfare for Everyone

What Well Dressed Eyes Will Wear

Every year that passes sees more professional optometrists studying the style and cosmetic elements of their work more carefully. Why not?

It is human nature to want to look well while it sees well. We have had sculptors, designers, artists and stylists at work, telling us how to do a double service for our patients. They have shown us how the features of the face; the ears, height of the forehead; length of the face, shape, and relative size of the nose, contour of the jaw-bone all have a place in our design.

Just because we do not have our glasses festooned all over the place—in fact, because we do not, we are able to personalize our designs, suiting them to the cosmetic needs of our patients. A woman hates to meet her hat or dress on another woman at a party—in our work, we avoid that condition by making every design of lens shape and style of frame or mounting, an individual matter.

A budget plan of easy payments is available for those who desire to take advantage of it.
