

Michigan Taxpayers Assured There Will Be No New Or Increased Taxes Imposed By Legislature

Law-makers Dead Set Against Tax Increases; Expect To Finish Work Ahead Of Schedule

By ELTON H. EATON

There is one thing sure that Michigan residents need not worry about. There will be no tax increase of any kind voted by the state legislature during the present session. Not only are the members dead set against any new tax proposal, but they are determined to force the cost of the state government down to the lowest possible minimum consistent with a properly conducted government.

While it is true that there has been some talk about proposed measures that might provide additional income for the state, there is not an overwhelming sentiment among the members that there shall not be an additional tax burden forced upon the people this year, next year or for a number of years to come.

Efforts will be made, however, to plug up some of the loopholes by which tax money collected for the state has not reached the state, but these will not be measures to increase the amount of the taxes now paid.

Governor Fitzgerald believes that there can be a tremendous cut made in the cost of the state government. In his efforts he will have a one hundred percent support of the legislature.

He has found where there has been a general salary increase all along the line. He is finding that these salaries cannot be easily reduced without additional legislation. Michigan citizens have not much conception of how much juggling there was with pay checks in the last couple of years. A lot of job holders are getting from two to three times as much as they ever received in private industry. After getting a public job, they seem to feel that there is a pot of gold which is constantly running over with tax dollars and that they are entitled to get as many of them as they can. The grab-bag days are over. It may take the governor some little time to get the pay checks down to the point of "normalcy" but they are going to come down and if the job-holder whose pay is cut doesn't like it, he can lump it and get out or be kicked out.

It is well to emphasize the fact that the administration of civil service is not responsible for all that has happened during the last two years in the state government. The inquiry made by the legislative committee shows that the violations of the intent and spirit of the law, all the juggling of jobs and the over-loading of the payroll was done by the elective state officials and department heads. There is considerable talk about amending the civil service law to remedy some of the evils that have been uncovered. Admittedly, there are some members of the legislature who feel that because of its miserable misuse under the last administration that it should be kicked out. But that should not take place. It is doubted very much if it will. Mr. Brownrigg and his associates are not responsible for what has happened. In fact, in the face of it all, they have done a pretty good job. But there is liable to be some lively discussions over the subject when it reaches the floor of the house within the next few weeks.

Michigan has joined the other farm states of the nation in demanding that congress pay back to the farmers the processing tax taken out of their pockets on hogs marketed for slaughter under the old Agricultural Adjustment act that was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. It develops that the government has refunded to cotton producers and ginners the processing tax they paid as well as refunding to railroad corporations their retirement fund that was knocked out by the supreme court, but it has not paid back to the hog producers the processing tax they paid. The writer introduced joint resolution in the legislature and upon its passage it will be forwarded to congress. Numerous other states have already acted favorably upon similar resolutions. All of the various farm leaders of the state approve of the proposal.

Work of the legislature is far ahead of schedule. Old timers up in Lansing say that not since the days of Alex Groesbeck has legislative work been so far advanced. No early in the session, legislative problems develop, there isn't much question but what the legislature ought to be able to finish up its work early in May. Under the late jitters administration, the legislature didn't finish up its work until July—and what a mess it did.

The recital, which is for violin and piano students, will be open to the public.

Lee Boosted For Conservation Job

Sportsmen, civic organizations and other prominent citizens of this locale and elsewhere in Michigan are working together to boost the appointment of Harry S. Lee to the State Conservation commission.

Mr. Lee, a well-known Plymouth resident and president of the Cement Mill Equipment company here, was recently chosen by friends as a candidate to the ranks of conservationists to represent Plymouth. This district, outstanding for its interest and work in wildlife conservation, has never had a representative on the Conservation commission. It is felt that Harry Lee well exemplifies the best type of sportsman and his friends are seeking his appointment by Governor Fitzgerald. Among those who are sponsoring the "On with Lee" movement are the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Western Wayne County Wildlife association, and other civic organizations and Dr. Merion S. Rice of Detroit, who is leading a group of prominent citizens of that city in an endeavor to have Lee appointed.

MRS. HAMILL BREAKS HIP IN FALL MONDAY

Stumbling backwards over a washing machine cover in the basement, Mrs. F. W. Hamill of Stark-weather avenue fell and broke her hip last Monday night. She was taken to the Plymouth hospital where X-rays revealed that her hip was badly broken. Mrs. Hamill will probably be moved to her home early next week. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Walter Nichol will be the chairman and leader of the meeting and the guest speaker will be Miss Grace Boyes of Detroit who will speak of her experience as a nurse in Syria. Appropriate music will be a feature of the service.

This is an invitation to all the women of Plymouth and the surrounding communities to join together in this service and take part in this Christian fellowship.

Local Resident Edits New Type Magazine

Jack C. Weed Heads Editorial Force Of Paper

First issues of Automotive Service, a picture paper for automobile service men, have been circulated throughout the country and have made a decided hit with that vast army of courteous men who look after the needs of automobile drivers.

Plymouth's interest in the new publication is due not only to the nature of it but because Jack C. Weed, its editor, is a resident of this city. Editor Weed and his family reside at 392 Harvey street. Mr. Weed has long been associated with the Automotive News, published in Detroit, as one of its editors. The new publication is a part of the excellent service the publishers of The News gives to both automobile manufacturers, dealers and service men.

While home in Plymouth over the week-end, Mr. Weed stated that in his experience over many years with automobile publications, he had never known of a new publication service that had met such a ready acceptance upon the part of both advertisers and readers.

The publication follows much the style of the present day magazines and shows in picture form the ideas its publishers wish to convey to the trade.

Benefit To Be Held At Newburg

"Dance in the name of charity" seems to be the slogan of the Livonia Ladies' auxiliary of the Goodfellows. These ladies will sponsor a dance and card party in the American Legion hall of Newburg on Saturday night, February 18. Doors will be open early and dancing will begin at 8:00 p.m. All proceeds of the party will be donated to the Goodfellow fund to provide underprivileged children with a merry Christmas next year.

Although Christmas seems far away to most people at this time of year, the Goodfellows realize that the month slip by quickly and unless they plan and work throughout the year, they will be unable to provide for needy families during the holidays. Goodfellows were organized in Livonia township at holiday time in 1936 and last year they took care of 100 families. The ladies' auxiliary is of more recent origin. Livonia women who saw that the food and clothing needs of the indigent were cared for by the men's organization, felt that toys and clothing, beyond bare necessity, would make many children happier, have banded themselves together since Christmas.

Capacity Crowd At Lincoln Day Banquet

Visitors Enjoy Menu—Contribute To Milk Fund

The dining room capacity of the Mayflower hotel was taxed last Saturday evening when Republicans and their friends from western Wayne county gathered to attend the annual Lincoln day charity dinner.

As popular as ever was the menu of plain, but substantial food, Michigan produced and prepared in the good old ways of pioneer days. There was fried pork, and plenty of it, milk gravy, baked Michigan potatoes, corn bread made from Michigan grown field corn, Michigan maple syrup and sugar made from Michigan grown sugar beets.

It was as typically an all-Michigan menu as was the one served last year and the big crowd thoroughly enjoyed it. The two speakers of the evening, Dr. Eugene Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, and former Congressman John C. Ketcham of Hastings, made instructive and inspiring addresses. Dr. Elliott urged that every effort be made to induce young men and young women to join forces with the Republican party, as its continuance in power meant the consistent advancement of progressive government.

Former Congressman Ketcham spoke in high praise of Congressman George A. Dondero who was not able to be present at this year's event. It was Mr. Ketcham who introduced Congressman Dondero to the house when the representative from this district entered congress some ten years ago.

A service as master of the Michigan State Grange for more than a dozen years and as a member of congress for practically the same length of time, gave the speaker an intimate knowledge of Michigan's economic problems that made his address a remarkably interesting one.

Fred D. Schrader, who was general chairman of the committee on arrangements, introduced Perry W. Richwine, who served as toastmaster of the evening. Miss Linnea Vickstrom sang pleasingly two solos. Miss Carol Campbell was her accompanist. Orlov Owen, of Northville, introduced the speaker, Dr. Elliott. Walter Nichol of the First Presbyterian church offered the invocation.

There was collected a total of $44.05 for the school milk fund. The amount was not as large as it was hoped it would be, but an effort will be made to increase the amount that had in charge the arrangements of the banquet to raise the additional funds needed to provide milk for the school children during the balance of the year.

Club To Sing Here Next Week

Vernon D. Kellet, director of the Edison Glee club, will bring this well-known group of singers to Plymouth next Tuesday evening, February 21. They will appear under the sponsorship of the Central P. T. A. in the high school auditorium at 8:00 o'clock. Remembering the fine concert given here by the same chorus about four years ago, many people requested their return and the Parent-Teachers' association has arranged to bring them here again. Nearly 100 employees of the Detroit Edison company in this area are members of the group, although there are no longer any Plymouth members.

Stressing the fact that there is a change in the management, Mrs. Edwin Campbell, president of the Central P. T. A., urges everyone to come. No restrictions were made that guests of the evenings be members of the P. T. A. The concert is public and every lover of music should attend.

Falls Dead In Funeral Home

When Harold L. Perry, 50 years of age, a resident of 12-747 Evanston avenue, Detroit, stepped into the Schrader Funeral home Sunday afternoon to see the remains of his uncle, Ferdinand Kapernick, aged 90 years, he toppled over to the floor of the chapel, dead. Accompanied by Mrs. Perry he had asked Mr. Schrader about the funeral arrangements. Then he turned to enter the chapel. After taking one or two steps towards where he laid the remains of his uncle, his knees sank and he fell dead.

Mr. Perry had been employed as an inspector by General Motors for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hix and family were recent guests of Mrs. Anna Holmes, at East Dearborn.

Assessment Hearing Feb. 25

A meeting of the board of review has been called for Saturday, February 25 to review the special assessments on WPA projects recently completed. Interested taxpayers who will not be able to attend the hearing are asked to call at the office of the city manager to be heard before that date.

Stanford L. Besse, city engineer, assisted by Assessor William Petz are preparing the special assessment rolls to cover the costs of improvements on the sidewalk, curb and gutter, Mill street sewer and Chich street paving projects. By using WPA labor, costs were low and assessments cut accordingly. The city engineer estimated the cost of sidewalk construction, using WPA labor, at 10 and a half cents per square foot, curb and gutter at 36 cents per lineal (front) foot and sewer taps at $8.58 per connection.

The board will review assessments on the following projects: Sidewalks on the north side of Liberty street between Mill and Holbrook; on the west side of Forest avenue between Wing and Brush streets; on the north side of Williams street between Arthur and Pacific; and on the east side of Pacific between Williams and Blanche. Also to be assessed are the curb and gutter improvements on both sides of Union street between Hamilton and Roe, on both sides of Adams between Farmer and 60 feet north of the west side of Spring street from Holbrook to the end of the street including the turn in front of the Lutheran church; and on the north side of Main street between Amelia street and the railroad; the Mill street sewer between Main street and Ann Arbor Trail; the 12-inch storm sewer on Hartsough avenue, the 12-inch, 15-inch and 18-inch storm sewer in the alley back of the main business district; and the water mains. Mains have been constructed along the entire length of Caster avenue, for 237 feet on Canal avenue, and on Sutherland avenue westerly to the end of the street.

Officials Announce Purchase Of Plant Hiring 50 People

Officials of the Daisy Manufacturing company announced early this week the purchase of the American Ball company of Minneapolis, Minnesota. The acquisition of this large manufacturing plant has long been considered by the Daisy officials and in making the purchase announcement, they stated that the present excellent attitude of the employees of their company had influenced them greatly in the deal because the ultimate effect of the operation of the new company here in Plymouth will do two important things for the company and its employees.

First, according to the officials of the Daisy, it will balance the company's employment by giving it additional work for its men and, second, it will enable them to balance their manufacturing schedules.

The American Ball company has been located in Minneapolis for the last 30 years and the Daisy Manufacturing company has been its exclusive sales agent for the last 10 years.

The company employs between 45 and 50 people steadily and of that number only a very few of the men in key positions will come to Plymouth from Minneapolis, giving the Daisy many more positions for its own employees in the new plant.

Final negotiations for the sale and complete removal of the company were completed by Cass S. Hough, vice president and secretary of the Daisy early this week. Mr. Hough estimated that it would be May 10 before the machinery would all be in Plymouth and in operation in the Daisy plant.

The company manufactures "Bulls Eye" steel air rifle shot and has a normal production of about nine million pellets a day which production Daisy will attempt to maintain here in Plymouth. The equipment, which consists of approximately 100 machines, will be located in the new building completed by Daisy about two years ago.

The plant is modern and practically automatic. The shot, containing the machines from a roll man; Harry Mumby, John Jacobs, Harry Hunter, George Gottschalk, Howard Eckles, Charles Thumme and Arno B. Thompson.

Mr. Hough stated that although the air rifle business is seasonal and has certain times when the demand is greater than others, the shot business is more constant. This feature will do much to level off the entire production of the Daisy plant and give it a balance in employment and production that few companies are ever able to attain.

U. Of M. Woman
Tells Of Conditions
In China

Plymouth Church
Audience
Hears Address

"Yes, I can speak Chinese, it's not as hard as it sounds and I had to learn in order to eat," said Miss Barbara Tinker of Ann Arbor in her talk at the union services in the Methodist church Sunday evening. Her subject, "The Fringe of Flame," is also the name of a book of her experiences that she is compiling at present about her life with the people of China.

When she was a student at the University of Michigan, she was privileged to study a textile collection donated by the Chinese people to Dr. Angell of Ann Arbor and this study led to her unique and solitary trip to the country.

"As often happens, when you learn of the things of a country, you soon want to know the people," she said, explaining the object of her trip. She landed in Shanghai in the summer of 1936 when there were still no hints of the war to come. Leaving soon for Peking, she found a different story; the city was under martial law and the gates were locked at night. Instead of one policeman, four now directed traffic on every corner. Realizing that she would have to get away from there in a hurry she looked up railroad schedules and decided to leave for the interior early the next morning despite the protests of the American consul. The gates were unlocked for only 15 minutes the next day but she managed to get through the crowds of Chinese city dwellers, seeking the protection of the country, and the incoming farmers, looking for the safety of the city walls. With $200 in Chinese money (about $70.00 in United States) she was soon on her way 1500 miles inland. Some months later she found that the railroad station from which she had been blown up two hours after her departure. Her train, the only one out of Peking, took her far out of her way, nearly to the Mongolian border where she was to get another train south to Chung Lu, her destination. Traveling for 48 hours on the rear platform of a freight train, a driving rain beating down in her face, she could neither move nor eat, and slept standing.

Arriving at Tientsin, where war was a certainty, she found that she would have to go to Chung Lu in Szechuan in an ox-cart instead of the bus or train she planned to take. The trip which should have taken her about two weeks, took two and a half months to complete. When the driver of her ox-cart reached the Yellow River he told her that it overflowed to foretell tragedy for China. The last time it flooded was during the Boxer Rebellion because the water spirits were angry with the people, he said.

She said that it felt like watching a slow-motion picture, a native palanquin, and that she either had to travel that way or on foot. Much of her trip over mountains was made on foot. . . her only baggage was a thermos bottle which she soon broke. As she traveled her supply of money diminished rapidly and she was forced to live with poor Chinese farmers' families. She found them very gracious about giving to complete strangers and it was here that she had to speak Chinese exclusively. She found it easier to travel with no money, for there was no fear of the bandits which overran the country. In some sections she was amazed to find that the people did not even know who their country was fighting. Much of this ignorance is due to the fact that the Chinese philosophy ranks the scholar first and the soldier last. There is nothing glorious about being a soldier there, for the average man only gets nine dollars a month to take care of himself and his family, though most of the army is composed of youngsters in their teens. The Chinese do not blame the Japanese people for what is happening, however, for they all say, "Military bad? yes; people, no."

Finishing her research at the university town of Chung Lu, she returned and was in Nanking during the perilous days before its destruction. She recalled the air-raid practices and the black-outs, speaking of the heroism of the college students who treated their countrymen with no hope of reward other than death. In Chungking, the new capitol, she told of watching the funeral procession of a governor. The parade was a mile long; clowns, soldiers, mourners and members of the family marched beneath her window. Standing in her hotel room, she watched the procession move slowly on, when suddenly the air-raid signal sounded. Panicked, she grabbed her purse and ran downstairs, realizing that it was hopeless to try and get to the only air-raid shelter, two miles across town. For 15 silent minutes the raid was anticipated, but never came. The Japanese were turned back seven miles from the city. With Chinese stoicism the funeral he moved steadily on during the signal and would have proceeded had it been bombed.

Soldiers were required to make frequent check-ups on the residents of hotels to make sure that the foreigners were not spies. Miss Tinker recalled the time that a boy in his teens had come to question her. He asked her what nationality she was and she answered American, he parried "Then why is your passport written in English? She could think of no answer to that and he grew suspicious. A sample of the other questions about America on which he hoped to trip her was, "Is it true that in America the houses are all a mile high and that people keep their cars and airplanes in their houses?" Still undecided about whether she was telling the truth, he said that he had one more question. If she answered this correctly, he'd know. The question was, "To whom does the Pacific ocean belong?" When Miss Tinker said, "To the United States," she was released.

She concluded her talk with a brief period of questions and answers. Miss Tinker, who graduated from the University in 1934 and received her M. A. in 1935, gave many interesting sidelights on the situation. Her book on the subject will be soon published.

Preceding her discussion, the Methodist choir sang Lincoln Day selections of Negro spirituals. The white-robed chorists sang first "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," followed by the stirring "O, Lord, Send the Fire." Mrs. James Sessions sang the mournful "Deep River," the choir "Glorious Home" and Miss Ethel Hillman concluded the concert with "The Crucifixion."

Mrs. Leo Bartz of Cherry Hill was in Detroit last week to attend the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Sarah McEachen. A week previous Mrs. McEachen had fallen on the ice in Detroit and she died from the injuries received. She was a member of the Third Order of St. Bonaventure. Mrs. McEachen had a number of friends in and around Cherry Hill, having frequently visited at the home of Mrs. Bartz.

Champe Attends Wildlife Meetings

Dr. E. E. Champe, president of the Western Wayne County Wildlife association, attended the Tuesday and Wednesday night programs of the North American Wildlife association conference in the Statler hotel, Detroit, this week.

The conference, planned to stimulate interest in conservation, presented leading men in all fields of wildlife control. President Champe was particularly interested in seeing the colored moving pictures which "Captain Bob" Bartlett, polar explorer, presented on Tuesday evening, since Walter Hastings, official photographer for the Michigan Department of Conservation, has also made a movie of Labrador Wildlife which Dr. Champe hopes to get soon for the local club.

High school students doing the schottische and the varsoviene today and liking them? Impossible, you say? Then you should visit the Plymouth high school gymnasium any Thursday and see for yourself.

Henry Ford, a lover of early Americana, has revived among Michigan students an interest in these dances by providing excellent teachers for them. J. J. Lovett taught boys of the Edison Institute the early American formations and drills and soon a clamor arose for teachers and like opportunities for public school children. This fall Plymouth was lucky to have the services of Mr. Johnson of the Institute. He came on Thursdays and taught the dances in the second and third hour gym classes and at noon to members of the Girl Reserve clubs and Hi-Y group.

The schottische, the not-too-far-removed ancestor of the "shag" was soon the favorite of all the dances and has continued to be the most popular. When Mr. Johnson could not continue his work this term, he was replaced by another good teacher, Mr. Mariewitz. Dancing is still taught second and third hours to classes, but the noon hour is now open to all students.

A very vital part of the dances is the ceremony with which they were performed. An attempt is made to instill this in the dancers as well as the actual steps. Mrs. Kingsley Miller, physical education teacher in the Plymouth schools, is well pleased with the reception of the old dances, especially the instruction in ballroom etiquette.

Finishing her research at the university town of Chung Lu, she returned and was in Nanking during the perilous days before its destruction. She recalled the air-raid practices and the black-outs, speaking of the heroism of the college students who treated their countrymen with no hope of reward other than death. In Chungking, the new capitol, she told of watching the funeral procession of a governor. The parade was a mile long; clowns, soldiers, mourners and members of the family marched beneath her window. Standing in her hotel room, she watched the procession move slowly on, when suddenly the air-raid signal sounded. Panicked, she grabbed her purse and ran downstairs, realizing that it was hopeless to try and get to the only air-raid shelter, two miles across town. For 15 silent minutes the raid was anticipated, but never came. The Japanese were turned back seven miles from the city. With Chinese stoicism the funeral he moved steadily on during the signal and would have proceeded had it been bombed.

Soldiers were required to make frequent check-ups on the residents of hotels to make sure that the foreigners were not spies. Miss Tinker recalled the time that a boy in his teens had come to question her. He asked her what nationality she was and she answered American, he parried "Then why is your passport written in English? She could think of no answer to that and he grew suspicious. A sample of the other questions about America on which he hoped to trip her was, "Is it true that in America the houses are all a mile high and that people keep their cars and airplanes in their houses?" Still undecided about whether she was telling the truth, he said that he had one more question. If she answered this correctly, he'd know. The question was, "To whom does the Pacific ocean belong?" When Miss Tinker said, "To the United States," she was released.

She concluded her talk with a brief period of questions and answers. Miss Tinker, who graduated from the University in 1934 and received her M. A. in 1935, gave many interesting sidelights on the situation. Her book on the subject will be soon published.

Preceding her discussion, the Methodist choir sang Lincoln Day selections of Negro spirituals. The white-robed chorists sang first "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," followed by the stirring "O, Lord, Send the Fire." Mrs. James Sessions sang the mournful "Deep River," the choir "Glorious Home" and Miss Ethel Hillman concluded the concert with "The Crucifixion."

In Memoriam

In remembrance of our dear father, Carl F. Richter, whom God called home three years ago February 17, 1936. Remembrance is a golden chain. Death tries to break, but all in vain; To have, to love, and then to part, Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart. The years may wipe out many things, But this they wipe out never: The memory of those happy days When we were all together. Sleep on dear Dad, and take thy rest; God call you home when he thought best. Sadly missed by his children.

A sidelight on the company's sales performance in 1938 is furnished by the fact that its sales declined only 38.6 per cent under 1937, during a period when

Rhythm Kings Play For Dance

A full week-end is planned for the young people of Plymouth. Friday night, another modern and old-time dance will be given at the city hall. The hours are from 8:00 to 10:30 and a good time is promised. Come, learn to square dance. If you are a "jitterbug" we have the music for that, too. This dance is for all young people over 12 years old. John Mastick will again call the square dances.

Saturday night from 6:30-7:30 a lesson in dancing will be given to all girls between the ages of 11 and 15 years. And now comes the news scoop of the year! Mike and his Rhythm Kings (musical maniacs) will play at the Saturday night dance, so come on out and dance to your own band that night at the city hall. The time, 7:30-9:30. Come early and avoid the rush!

Saturday afternoon the very young set from five to 10 years old will have a special story hour party in the city hall. This will be a combination Valentine and Washington's birthday party. There will be no story hours Saturday morning as the party will be from 2:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon. All children in Plymouth are invited.

And, of course, roller skating is still popular. Two groups now skate at the Methodist church each Tuesday. The younger group, under 12 years old, skate in the afternoon from 3:30-5:30 and the older group in the evening from 7:00-9:30. It's really "fun on wheels!"

Club Celebrates Valentine's Day

Saturday, February 11, the Junior American Citizens Girls' club had a Valentine party at the city hall. Over 30 girls were present and all had a lovely time. Although this club is but a few months old it has a membership of about 40 girls from 8 to 12 years old and is showing signs of becoming a really worthwhile group. The club is sponsored by the D. A. R. and Ruth Campbell is president.

The two girls' clubs, sponsored by the Woman's Club of Plymouth, have also had parties to celebrate Valentine's day. Monday night the Jay club met at Eloyce Zimmerman's home for the first course of a backwards rotation party. Everything was backwards. The girls even wore their clothes backwards, and so dessert was served first. Next the girls went to Elizabeth Horvath's home where they walked backwards through the back door and had the second course of the party. Then the group, 25 in number, walked over to Katherine Wingo's home where the last course was served. The girls considered this party the best one yet.

Not to be outdone by the Jay club, the Cardinal club held a party in the city hall Thursday, February 16. This was a belated Valentine party but a lively group of girls enjoyed the fun. Dancing, games and an amateur hour comprised the program and refreshments were served. About 30 girls were present.

Kiwanis Hears Park Executive

H. E. Curtis of Ann Arbor, executive secretary of the Huron-Clinton Parkway committee and former professor at the University of Michigan spoke to 50 Plymouth Kiwanians Tuesday evening.

Introduced by Chairman Carvel Bentley, Curtis spoke to the club members on the work of the parkway committee. He explained the bill which was introduced in the state legislature providing for the re-apportioning of Michigan tax money. He said that as matters stand now, the five metropolitan counties which contribute 70 per cent of the money to the state, get only a 40 per cent return. The largest share goes to the counties in northern Michigan which contribute the least. It is the purpose of the parkway committee to work for a re-distribution so that Macomb, Wayne, Washtenaw, Oakland and Livingston counties will have more money to use on park improvement. Curtis illustrated his talk with slides of Huron Drive and the necessary changes.

Following the lecture, John Blyton told of his recent visit to Chicago and, especially, to the International Office of Kiwanis.

Katherine Spicer Weds Hillsdale Man

Green and white flowers and tall white candelabra decorated the altar of the Hillsdale Presbyterian church when Katherine Margaret Spicer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spicer, of Detroit, and John Williams, son of Mrs. Grace Williams, of North Adams, were united in marriage. The service was read by Prof. Abbott P. Herman of Hillsdale college.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length beige dress and matching accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Her sister, Ida Jane Spicer, attended as maid of honor and Hattie Marie Moore was bridesmaid.

Keith Williams of North Adams was his brother's best man.

An informal reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Convis, aunt and uncle of the bride, followed the ceremony.

Nellie Welch and Dorothy Carlisle presided at the tea table while Betty Haberkorn and Ardath Hagaman served. Dusty pink and white was the color scheme of the table; a spring bouquet flanked by white tapers formed the centerpiece.

The bride was a junior at Hillsdale college and a member of Pi Beta Phi. She is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spicer and Miss Mabel Spicer of Plymouth.

Mr. Williams also attended Hillsdale college and now has a position as infielder in the Western International Baseball league. Mr. and Mrs. Williams left at once for San Diego, California where he will rejoin his baseball club.

this year and are working in conjunction with the men at this time. Twenty-six women met in January and drew up their plans. Mrs. Louis Le Bar was chosen president and Mrs. Charles Smith was made secretary-treasurer of the new group which is now comprised of representatives from all parts of the township. Mrs. Le Bar said that while the purpose of the women's division is to care for youngsters during the holidays, the Ladies' Auxiliary will go to the aid of any emergency cases immediately.

The ambitious plans to hold benefit bridge and other parties to raise money, started as soon as the club was organized and now, in the second month of its being, it is sponsoring a township-wide dance. After the winter parties, during summer vacation especially, the women wish each make a dress to brighten some peedy child's Christmas.

The question of whether to hold card parties in the members' homes or in the new township hall was decided in favor of the homes, because it is much more convenient, the president said this week.

Mrs. Le Bar, president, announced today that Russell Cook's popular band of Plymouth had been engaged to play for the dance, including both modern and old-time selections.

At long counters in the Legion hall, refreshments will be sold during the evening. Soft drinks, foot-long hot dogs and home baked ham sandwiches will be on sale at reasonable prices. Committee members for the party include besides the president Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Maida Fisher, Mrs. Walter Dann, Mrs. Victor De Wolfe, Mrs. Harry Wolfe, Mrs. Jesse Ziegler, Mrs. John Haze, Mrs. Leo Nye, Mrs. Arthur Trapp, Mrs. Isabella Burgett, Miss Millie Hubensmith, Mrs. Leonard Graham and Mrs. Clayton Roday.

The maximum recorded age for muskellunge is 20 years, the top weight from 60 to 75 pounds.

German Band Vies With Quilt Talk

Patchwork occupied the time of the Presbyterians on Wednesday. First, the women of the church held a luncheon in the church parlors. Mrs. Vaughan Smith as chairman, introduced Miss Edith Crumb of the Detroit News who spoke on quilts and her interest in them. An exhibit of quilts was arranged and displayed by Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mrs. Clyde Fisher. In the evening the church was taken over by the men of the congregation so that they might entertain their sons.

The father and son program called for a band concert. It was a German band with its "oom-phas" in the approved German style. Not exactly the patchwork manner, but not in the stilted tempo of the Philharmonic either. The Ford Motor company's German band, well-known in this vicinity, entertained with old favorite selections. Hamburgers, fried cakes and coffee were served and boys and their fathers enjoyed songs and games during the rest of the evening.

Sailor Describes Fleet Maneuvers

A desire to "see the world" led Red Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller, of Irving street, to join the U. S. Navy when he graduated from Plymouth high school. From time to time Red writes to the Plymouth Mail, telling his experiences so that residents of this city may enjoy them. The following letter was received Monday:

"U. S. S. Whitney
% Postmaster
New York, N. Y.

"The Plymouth Mail:
"Since many have read in the papers that the U. S. Fleet is in its annual fleet maneuvers, I thought that perhaps Plymouth residents would like to know something more about it.

"To begin with, I am on the U. S. S. Whitney for special duty until the middle of February when I shall return to my own ship, the U. S. S. Clark. With several other ships that travel slower than the main fleet, the Whitney left San Diego for Panama on the 29th of December.

"We arrived in Panama on January 1 and stayed there for three days. From Balboa, C. Z., which is on the Pacific side of the Canal, we crossed to Colon, C. Z., on the Atlantic side. The trip through the canal took about eight hours. Those who know little about the canal will doubtless be surprised to learn that a ship travels northwest to go from the west coast to the east coast. En route through the canal, I had the misfortune to spend four of the eight hours on watch in the fireroom where the temperature was about 136 degrees.

"Our stay in Colon, C. Z. lasted about five days. From there we came to Gonaives, Haiti, which is about a three days' run from Panama. At the present time we are anchored in Gonaives where the inhabitants are French-speaking negroes. The island is a French possession where the city of Port au Prince is also located. The city of Gonaives is what we might call a backwoods town as far as modern conveniences are concerned, the main asset being sugar and the famous Haitian Rhum (rum to us). Being a French possession, she imports many articles from France, such as perfume and champagne.

"A few of the ships here at Gonaives with the Whitney, will get underway for Port au Prince on February 10, and will stay there for two days, giving the sailors time to visit the city. After our stay there, I will report back to the U. S. S. Clark. On the 6th of March, or thereabouts, the Clark will proceed to Mare Island Navy Yard for overhauling, instead of going to New York with the fleet.

"A year ago last September, I was fortunate in making fireman, first class. This past December I took the exam for machinist mate, second class, a petty officer rating which is only two rates from the top. The highest petty officer is called Chief Petty Officer. After the exams were corrected, I found that I had made the third highest mark in the Destroyer Squadron Three. As yet I don't know whether I made the rate, but I feel confident that I did. If there are only two vacancies open, I didn't make it, but if there are more, I will pass the good news on to you.

"Sincerely,
"ALBERT (Red) MILLER"

Wins High Place Among Debaters

Miss Jewel Starkweather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Starkweather, has been notified by critics at the recent Seventh Annual Invitational Debate tournament held in Normal, Illinois, in January, that she was ranked sixth of the 36 debaters who participated.

Miss Starkweather and her teammate, Miss Elizabeth Tuller, Royal Oak, were given third place as a team among the 16 teams entered in the championship team. Both of these honors are unusual as Kalamazoo college entered the only women's team in the tournament. Miss Starkweather is a sophomore at the college.

Recently she served as publicity chairman of the Valentine dance sponsored by the Women's League.

Crippled Plymouth Rocks Bow To Rampant Zebras

"What's the matter with the Rocks?" queried many local basketball fans when they learned that Plymouth had taken a 32-18 licking at the hands of the Wayne Zebras last Friday, February 10. The absence of Bob Hitt and Jack Ross, the team's two highest scorers, from the line-up adequately explains the problem, for this pair used to be the hub of the quintet.

It became apparent that Plymouth was going to take a beating when Wayne rolled up a 10-3 lead in the first four minutes. Though the Rocks narrowed this to an 11-6 margin at the end of the first quarter, they never threatened again, being content with battering down their defenses. However, Brown and Horton, Wayne stars, resorted to one-handed shots, at which both were adept, and the score roamed to 19-7 by intermission time.

The home team's misfortunes continued in the second half. Two goals by Horton mounted the score to 23-8 before Plymouth began to perk up. Birchall sank a free throw and Wes Hoffman, who played an exceptionally fine game, broke away and dumped in a dog shot. Baker's mid-floor shot and Hoffman's free throw, with intermittent scores by Wayne, made the count 26-13 at the beginning of the last quarter. The "beginning of the end" was marked by shots from all over the floor and general roughness. "Speck" McAllister staged a one-man closing spurt when he caged a gift toss and a short shot in the last 30 seconds.

Fourteen men compiled the final score of 32-18, seven for each side. Horton of Wayne led all scorers, with nine tallies, and was followed by Brown, also of Wayne, with eight. Hoffman, McAllister, and Baker were tied at four points apiece for Plymouth. The Rocks will seek consolation when they take on the Ypsilanti Braves this Thursday, February 16.

The line-ups were as follows:

Wayne (32)	FG	FS	T
Ketchum	0	0	1
Austin	1	0	2
Angel	0	0	2
Horton	4	1	9
Brown	4	0	8

RESERVES AVENGE WAYNE SETBACK IN 22-18 VICTORY

Turning the tables in half-breath defeats, the Plymouth Reserves outpointed Wayne 22-18 last Friday, February 10. Plymouth had previously bowed to the Zebras 18-17.

As in the last game it was the hotly played final quarter climaxing with a surprise bit of ball handling, that established the winner. Don Bloomhuff, ganging Plymouth center, found the basket twice in the last period to establish his team in the lead. His first shot pulled Plymouth from the hole by one point, and his last set up an unneeded margin of safety.

Plymouth paced the scoring throughout the contest which tended, with the exception of the final quarter, to be rather unexciting and drab.

With seconds remaining in the third quarter, Bill Aluia wound up and split the twine with a spectacular midcourt shot, something he'd attempted a myriad of times without success prior to this time. This score tied up the game at 14 apiece and gave each side a clean slate for the fourth and deciding quarter.

No sooner had this frame begun, however, when Dale, Wayne highpoint man, flashed up with a quick dog shot to put the Zebras in the lead. Furiously each team battled involving many fouls, but Plymouth, at the crucial moment, sunk not a one while Fountment, muscular Wayne flash, furthered his lead by collecting on a gift shot.

At this point, Jack Wilkie swooped in upon the basket, picked the ball out of the air, and converted a Wayne pass into a solid Plymouth two points while placing the Rocks only one point behind Wayne 17-16.

The game continued helter-skelter, neither side proving equal to advance the ball to the inviting basket. Three fouls were called, everyone of which was missed. And then Bloomhuff took a pass and untangled the ill-used Wayne basket's meshes with a deceptive dog shot. The ball had no sooner been put into play when Bloomhuff running away from his objective received it. He took aim in the flash of a second and fired one over his shoulder. The ball again plunked through to make a margin of safety and the score 22-18.

The sincere job of "freezing" the ball Plymouth then displayed would make an icicle weep. It proved the last basket superfluous if amazing.

An unofficial count shows that 27 fouls in all, were called by the referees. Jack Wilkie, speedy Plymouth guard, collecting a full third of these, turned four of them into points to supplement his total scoring activities to 12 points. This score excelled by three his nearest competitor, Dale of Wayne, who equalled the combined total of his team mates.

NEW BASKETBALL IS CENTER OF CONTROVERSY

Basketball is recognized as one of the fastest, if not the fastest of all American games. The new seamless ball put into use this year has developed the game into a veritable whirlwind of speed. A controversy has been raised by several coaches as to whether the new ball is placing physical bigness above athletic skill. That is whether the big fast player is afforded a better chance than the small fast player.

"In the earlier years," the objecting coaches say, "the player had the chance to make up in skill what he lacked in size; now the game is being swiftly developed into a whirlwind of speed with not a chance for skill."

It is true that a team of six-footers has the advantage over a shorter quintet, but whether the new ball makes the advantage even more pronounced is a different question.

Plymouth has several of both types, but the new ball has not seriously impaired the ability of either to hoop the baskets.

As the new ball becomes more universally used, many authorities agree that the short and tall men alike will adapt themselves to the new ball, making the game faster, yes, but just as skillful.

INTERESTING ORIGIN OF THE POPE'S TITLE OF "PONTIFF"

The death of Pope Pius XI, the supreme pontiff, has aroused interest and attention the world over. "Pontiff," a word frequently used but rarely comprehended, has a very interesting history. The first part of the word, "pon" comes from the Latin word "pono, pontis" meaning "bridge." The latter part of the word has its origin from "facio" which means "to make." Thus, the word originally meant "to make a bridge." Gradually it came to mean "pathfinder or way maker." The word in its origin shows the importance attached to keeping roads and bridges open, a special body being designated for that purpose. It is now used as a synonym for bishop, a pathfinder, but when used in connection with the Pope, as it usually is, either supreme or sovereign is added to distinguish it from a pontiff. The official definition is "in the Roman religion, a member of the council of nine, later fifteen or sixteen priests forming the most important body of the Pontifical College." The Pope is the supreme pontiff.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF J-HOP MET WITH APPROVAL

The announcement that was made last week of the signing of Al Weeks and his Commodores for the J-Hop has met with enthusiastic approval by many of the students at Plymouth high school. Weeks features a number of special arrangements made by himself and members of his band. He also features as his vocalist Miss Elinor Thompson. Weeks' present group of musicians have been playing together under his direction for five years.

If you have not received your invitation, please call the school as all those but students will be asked to present one.

JUNIOR JOTTINGS

It is the consensus of opinion that Pauline Taylor, in her rarer moments, is the super-silliest female in Plymouth high school. However, the question remains as to who is the most supercilious. Some time ago the physics class was studying the units of work and Mr. Evans asked Keth Jolliffe to define an erg. Keth hemmed and hawed a while before Mr. Evans got impatient. "Hurry up," he said. "I ergs you to go on."

The school has been uncommonly quiet to date, taking in account that Valentine's day is on the threshold at this writing. Still and all, the usual sentiments will be exchanged among the lovers, and teachers will again find unsigned comic verses on their desks.

Marvin Hauk took a merciless verbal beating at the Wayne basketball game. Bob Daniel, his fellow-defender, was head heckler for the occasion. Spying his victim in the midst of a bevy of women, Bob chuckled. "Hauk," he yelled, "is just a synonym for girls." When the fortunes of the team declined, Mr. Daniel continued. "If they were only as fast as Hauk," he lamented, "we'd go places."

The Plymouth Reserves were in truth shining lamps last Friday. Each wore an elaborate blue-black eye—the result of amateur application of some borrowed art chalk. One blue-green peeper meant little to Jack Wilkie. He was a veritable "Dead-eye Dick" in the hooping of baskets.

As it is considered good practice for columnists to occasionally hand down bits of sage advice, Junior submits the following which incidentally, is the only way to make certain of a boy's opinion toward the opposite sex;

In his wanderings about the campus (excuse our generosity) even an unobservant person will note two distinct types of masculine hair-dresses. Namely: the Zulu type, appropriate to the Belgian Congo, and the niftily parted, conspicuously combed "woman's ideal." A deeper glance into this apparent phenomenon will ascertain that the lad with the impeccably groomed brush last; Bob has really shaved off his mustache. It wasn't his fault, for it was the work of certain senior boys who really should thank them, Barb. We wonder if a certain Northville boy is true to Kye. Do you think so, Miss Moon? Rumor has it that George B. is that way about Florence S.—We hear that Ned May really decorated his car last week. What did you use, Ned? Don McDonell does everything but study history fifth hour. He practices singing, beats out rhythms with his pencil and argues with Miss Feigel on any subject. Don Mietbeck seemed to be in a daze in physics recently. When asked which was the heavier, a pound or a gram, he replied, "I don't know." What were you thinking about, Don? Paul Keller has also shaved off his cookie-duster in hopes that it might improve his appearance to Helen. Bob Carlson wants a girlfriend. Can anybody help him? Have Bob N., Warren H., and Bill McAllister come to any agreement on their "beautiful babe" yet? The grape vine says Bill has it all fixed up as he graduates with her. —By the Brother Hats.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 11: 33, 34): "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?" Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 469): "There can be but one Mind, because there is but one God; and if mortals claimed no other Mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. We can have but one Mind, if that one is infinite."

Paul said: "Mark them which cause divisions and offenses contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them." (Romans 16: 17). The doctrine the church in Rome had learned, was the pure, simple gospel of Christ. And may this writer remind you, reader, that no sin is more severely condemned in the Bible than the sin of division. The man who knows his New Testament, knows this; and because he does know it, God holds him responsible for it, and expects him to "do something about it." Co-pastors, Clifford Funk and Arno Thompson.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Holbrook and Harding, Lynn B. Stout, pastor. Once more an appeal is being sent out to ministers and laymen reading this column who are burdened to see a city wide revival to get in touch with the writer. Can't we forget "our movement" long enough to give our God a chance once more to present His movement of the Holy Spirit? What say you? Sunday services: Preaching, 10:00 a.m.; Bible school, 11:15 a.m.; B.Y.P.U., 6:30 p.m.; evangelistic message, 7:30 p.m.; prayer meeting, 7:30 Wednesday night. There will be a cotillion prayer meeting at the Walter Beckwith home, 344 Ann street, Friday night, 7:30. You, who are interested in a city wide revival, come into this meeting. Bulls Eye No. 24: The wide awake person is never affected by the alarm clock, it's the sluggard who gets "out of sorts." You never hear the wide awake, uncompromising Christian complain about the preaching of the naked word of God; it is the sleepy worldling who wants to snore his way into heaven who puts up such a fuss.

4-H Clubs To Get Pheasant Eggs

Special consideration is to be given to 4-H clubs in the distribution of pheasant eggs for hatching this year.

Due to the fact that requests for pheasant eggs from the state game farm at Mason greatly exceed the available supply each year, the department of conservation has concluded that it is necessary to limit the number of eggs allocated to any single individual or group.

The policy to give preference to 4-H clubs is based on the wide interest shown by these organizations in conservation projects and on the incidental interest shown by sportsmen's clubs in 4-H club activities. Sportsmen's clubs have often agreed enthusiastically to aid 4-H clubs in their pheasant program instead of handling the eggs themselves.

Last year a total of 21,360 pheasant eggs were distributed to individuals and clubs, besides 5,400 pheasant chicks. Applications for both eggs and chicks far outnumbered the supply.

Townsend Plan Gets Hearing

The pledge of Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the House Ways and Means committee for "full and uninterrupted hearings" for the Townsend Bill H. R. 2, was made to Representative A. J. Elliott, (Dem., Calif.) acting chairman of the Townsend legislative committee.

On Monday, February 13, W. A. Bennett of Detroit gave an interesting talk which was enjoyed by all.

The following officers were elected for 1939: Clarence E. Pankow, president; Miss Ella Jackson, first vice president; Mrs. Edward Herrick, second vice president; Mrs. Thomas Wilson, secretary; Mrs. James Gates, corresponding secretary; and Clarence Stevens, treasurer.

The next meeting on Monday, February 20 at 8:00 p.m., in the Grange hall, will be an open forum on the Townsend Plan with everyone invited to bring up questions for discussion and also to hear the latest news on the progress being made on the Townsend Plan bill in Congress.

WASHINGTON.

In his person, Washington was six feet high, and rather slender. His limbs were long; his hands were uncommonly large, his chest broad and full, his head was exactly round, and the hair brown in manhood, but gray at fifty; his forehead rather low and retreating; the nose large and massy, the mouth wide and firm, the chin square and heavy, the cheeks full and ruddy in early life. His eyes were blue and handsome, but not quick or nervous. He required spectacles to read with at fifty. He was one of the best riders in the United States, but, like some other good riders, awkward and shambling in his walk. He was stately in his bearing, reserved, distant, and apparently haughty.

Shy among women, he was not a great talker in any company, but a careful observer and listener. He read the natural temper of men, but not always right. He seldom smiled. He did not laugh with his face, but in his body, and, while calm above, below the diaphragm his laughter was copious and earnest. Like many grave persons he was fond of jokes and loved humorous stories. He had negro story-tellers to regale him with fun and anecdotes at Mt. Vernon. He was not critical about his food, but fond of tea. He hated drunkenness, gaming and tobacco. He had a hearty love of farming and of private life.

There was nothing of the politician in him,—no particle of cunning. He was one of the most industrious of men. Not an elegant or accurate writer, he yet took great pains with style, and after the revolution carefully corrected the letters he had written in the time of the French war, more than 30 years before.

He was no orator. He never made a speech. The public papers were drafted for him, and he read them when the occasion came.

It has been said Washington was not a great soldier; but certainly he created an army out of the roughest materials, out-generated all that Britain could send against him, and in the midst of poverty and distress, organized victory. He was not brilliant and rapid. He was slow, defensive, victorious. He made "an empty bag stand upright," which Franklin says is "hard."

by their ideas or their intellect. Washington had neither original ideas nor a deeply cultured mind. He commanded by his integrity, by his justice. He loved power by instinct, and strong government by reflective choice. Twice he was made dictator, with absolute power, and never abused the awful and despotic trust. The monarchic soliders and civilians would make him king. He trampled on their offer and went back to his fields of corn at Mt. Vernon.

Washington was the first man of his type: when will there be another! As yet the American Rhetoricians do not dare tell half his excellence; but the people should not complain.—Theodore Parker, in "Our Country in Poetry and Prose."

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.

The appointment of Dr. Linwood W. Snow, of Northville, as manager of the Michigan State Fair has opened to the energetic, youthful physician of our neighboring community a field of activity with unlimited possibilities. The state fair over a period of years has bogged up and down, mostly down. We believe that Governor Fitzgerald has made the right selection and that Dr. Snow will make the state fair what it should be. It is an interesting sidelight that another Northville citizen, Edward Fuller, has for years been in charge of the poultry show at the state fair. Up until the recent imbecilic Murphy administration the poultry show at the state fair had been one of its outstanding attractions. Fuller had, under Murphy, been shoved aside. But so loud were the complaints last year from poultry fanciers all over the state that, after the fair had started, it was necessary to call upon Fuller to try and get the poultry department back where some of the criticism could be eliminated. In a few hectic days he did a pretty good job. It is not the intent of Dr. Snow to let the bars down. He has declared that his purpose is to give Michigan an outstanding state fair. He will have the cooperation of every person in Michigan in his efforts—and we hope that he will make immediate amends for the rebuff handed the 4-H clubs by the Murphy-Isbey combination during the last state fair.

ALBION.

Editor and Publisher Richard T. Baldwin of the Northville Record, who is slowly recovering from a long illness, has sold his newspaper and announced that he plans to return to his old home in Albion where he will "take things easy" until he has entirely recovered his health. Dick's host of friends in and about western Wayne County where he has resided for the last eight years regret to learn that he has found it necessary to leave this hustling, bustling part of Michigan. He has been a mighty good neighbor, an ideal citizen and a fine gentleman. Every one wishes for him a speedy return to health. With the less active life he has decided to lead, there is no question but what he will be back on his feet soon, enjoying the freedom from business routine and responsibilities that every person aspires to gain some day. He is taking his family back to Albion, his old home town, where he can adapt himself to the new routine of life he has found necessary to follow. What a wonderful thing it is to think that Michigan is filled to overflowing with so many and so varied types of communities as it possesses. Albion is one of Michigan's progressive, but conservative educational centers where one can enjoy all of the finer things that life has to offer. Good luck and good fortune to you and yours EDITOR Baldwin.

To the new publisher of The Northville Record The Plymouth Mail joins with Northville in extending a welcome to this dynamic part of the state. Publisher William Cansfield is a young man, clean cut and energetic. There is no question but what he will carry on the good work that Editor Baldwin has been doing for the fine, progressive little city of Northville.

RELIEF.

Following a meeting of the state Emergency Relief Commission in Lansing the other day, the welfare administrator of Detroit and Wayne county announced that he could eliminate some 800 people from the payroll and that those remaining could carry on the work without delay. It seems that in Wayne county we have had a welfare worker for about every 14 people on welfare. The average in the rest of the state has been one relief worker for every 50 people. Such an admission is downright shameful and it fully convinces the public that Mayor Dick Reading of Detroit is one hundred percent right in his efforts to remove Welfare Director Harris from office. Here is an admission that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been flowing into the pockets of political job holders while people in need have been deprived of food, clothing and fuel. It is a situation that should be remedied immediately.

MURDERING THE GOVERNOR!

No legislator, however partisan he may be, would long oppose civil service if he personally had gone through the man-killing patronage grind experienced by Governor Fitzgerald since he came home from a fortnight holiday, following the election, in Florida. December was gruelling but throughout January the executive office was a mad-house. Under our old-fashioned theory of patronage the governor takes the rap because it is well known that the state ticket personnel is pretty largely his own selection. We need civil service, or something comparable in theory, for the physical protection of the governor. He doesn't meet half the people—due to lack of time—who come to Lansing to see him and of the balance not to exceed two per cent can be politically favored showing how unfair the system is to a person as well as to a political sense. More people are provoked than pleased under the present plan. Civil service had to start from somewhere; the democrats turned in some lousy exhibits of its misuse but even so the present law has its virtues. Routine employees, subject to sensible restrictions, should be under a merit program. We favor civil service for all state employees drawing $2,100 (the pay of the average postal employee after his probationary period) or less; employees over that figure should be under a semicivil service—appointive arrangement. Character in policy making department heads, personal secretaries and possibly two or three others, should always be named by and be directly responsible to the elective head. So far as Michigan is concerned civil service is in the interest of the governor's physical well being and the legislature should pretty largely follow his ideas. He knows the real side of the mounting patronage problem. Why murder the governor as the old way permits?—Muri De Foe in The Charlotte Republica-Tribune.

LAWING FOR LAUGHS

If there is any single law that should be enacted for the benefit of humanity, it is one that compels everybody to laugh more than once daily. To laugh at something besides so many laws that are enacted, too.—George Averiff in The Birmingham Eccentric.

DO NOT KILL CIVIL SERVICE

Progress always takes place slowly and at times painfully. There are periods of discouragement and apparent defeat. But if an idea is fundamentally sound, it usually comes out ahead during the "long pull." The history of civil service in Great Britain is an example to point.

Civil service is sound because it makes a government job a career job instead of a political one. It places the matter of retention and promotion on the basis of experience and efficiency rather than political affiliation. It will build up a trained force to handle the routine matters of government. It will eliminate the wholesale turnover which invariably takes place at Lansing with each change of administration. It will eliminate, too, the great bulk of patronage problems which take up so much of an executive's time—time needed for the consideration of problems pertaining to the welfare of the state—in a democratic system, those entrusted with the management of government must be elective. Only in this manner can citizens have a government run according to their will. But there is no reason why the great majority of government offices and positions dealing only with the routine of carrying out executive orders should not come under civil service.

Republican legislators have it in their power to kick civil service out of the capitol window. However, the idea of civil service has been publicly endorsed not only by the governor but by the Republican convention. Add to this the fact that at least a considerable proportion of the public believes that the idea of civil service is sound and it seems probable that any such "kick" would be followed by a rebound of rather sizeable proportions.

It will be mighty poor politics—in addition to a lot of other things—for Republicans to scuttle civil service.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

hood of 25 new houses built in Plymouth, together with a large amount of repairing and remodeling of various homes about the village, which is a sure indication that our village is steadily growing. While a great many houses have been built during the last few years, yet there are no vacant houses in town, and the demand today for good comfortable homes would make it possible to rent at least 25 houses, by men who are employed in Plymouth, and would move their families here could they find a place to live in. The building outlook for the coming year is very bright, indeed, and those who are in a position to know are of the opinion that more building will be done during the coming summer than was done last.

Do you know that the more electricity you use, the cheaper it becomes? The nature of electric costs is such that prices average down rapidly as use goes up. For example: If you are now using 10 units per month at the regular residence rate, you can buy 10 MORE at less than half the price paid for the first 10. If you are now using 50 units per month, you can buy 50 more at just half the price paid for the first 50. -- follows:

10 units per month cost	61c
But the next 10 cost only	34c
50 units per month cost	$2.28
But the next 50 cost only	1.12 1/2
100 units per month cost	$3.28
But the next 100 cost only	2.28

And so it goes. It's worth knowing that you can make free and unstinted use of lighting and appliances and not add much to your bill. Prove this to yourself by using all the electricity you need. Electricity is cheap!
