

"Keep on Doing Just as You Have" is Public Request Following Efforts to Terminate Inquiry

Not One Person has Expressed Disapproval

(By ELTON R. EATON)
"Don't stop! Keep on doing just as you have. Everybody is with you."

If that statement has been made once, it has been made by practically every person the writer talked with in and about Plymouth during the past few days.

The encouragement comes as a result of the circulation in and around Plymouth of a political publication which is right now apparently endeavoring to discredit members of the legislature who have advocated a clean-up of the Blue Water bridge scheme whereby a person who had not the slightest part in the development or building of the bridge reaped a profit of more than $105,000 at the expense of the users of the bridge.

These attacks have not only been made on the state representative from this district, but upon Chairman Murl DeFoe of the state liquor commission, who is devoting his energy to cleaning up the liquor business in Michigan and putting some honesty into the conduct of the liquor traffic and upon Auditor General Vernon J. Brown, who has been making an effort to place state buying above all suspicion.

Circulation of this publication has been made in their localities as well.

It costs MONEY, plenty of it, to print and circulate by mail so many thousands of these publications.

Who is paying for it? The writer does not know. All that is known is the fact that some one is vitally interested in ending the activities of the writer and these others in state affairs.

But there should be no worry on this standpoint. The enthusiastic encouragement received over the week-end in itself alone provides plenty of justification for a continuance of these efforts.

It has provided direct proof of the public interest. It also has provided plenty of substantial confirmation of the belief that the vast majority are expecting something to be done to rid the state government of the influences which have brought about conditions which have made possible all that has happened.

During the last several years there has been much hinted as to certain questionable facts in connection with the conduct of some of the state's business.

If it is true, why should not the facts be made known? If untrue, then why should not the facts be established?

Certainly vicious attacks upon those who are seeking only the truth does not lend support to the claim that all is clean and above-board.

Assaults made upon those who investigated the inquiry and who are carrying it forth only serve to create a greater degree of suspicion.

It has been persistently rumored during the last week or so that an effort is being made to terminate the activities of the house committee of inquiry.

Why should this be done? Why not permit the committee to do as far as it desires in its search for the truth?

If there is nothing wrong in any of the transactions the committee desires to inquire into, why should there be any opposition to it?

The truth will hurt no one. It will only serve to clear away much of the mystery that has been created in recent years by Lansing reports of connivance in this, that and the other thing.

Legislative inquiry or no legislative inquiry, there will be no end to the efforts to get at the facts until the truth is known. Mrs. Myron J. Bennett can be assured of that fact.

Some day, it may be this year, and it may not be for several years to come—there is going to be a day of reckoning in Michigan—and when that day comes there will not be a breath of question about the control of the state government being returned directly to the electorate of the state.

It is true that the voters today nominate by direct primary the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor. They also nominate by direct primary the candidates for the state legislature and county officers.

Candidates for auditor general, secretary of state, attorney general and state treasurer are nominated by political conventions in Michigan.

Former Resident Called by Death

Funeral services for Harry E. McClumpha, who died Saturday, May 13, in his home at 447 Dayton Avenue, Bellevue, a suburb of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, were held on Monday afternoon, with interment at Mt. Olivet Mausoleum nearby.

Mr. McClumpha, who has a wide circle of friends here, was a descendant of one of Plymouth's pioneer families; his grandfather, Thomas McClumpha, lived on a farm west of Plymouth on the road that is now named after him, and the grandson was born on the adjoining farm, July 29, 1870. He was graduated from the Plymouth high school in the class of 1888, and from the University of Michigan four years later. He married Louise Norton at Joliet, Illinois, June 14, 1900.

Shortly after that he became associated with the Keystone Car Wheel company, Pittsburgh, where he originated the novel, continuous method of casting wheels on moveable platforms accurately timed for the heat treatment cycle, and was recognized as a leader in his field. Mr. McClumpha leaves his widow, Mrs. Louise Norton McClumpha, and a son, D. Norton McClumpha.

Edward C. Hough of Plymouth flew to the funeral services on Monday.

Plymouth Girl Again Honored at Kalamazoo

Is Made First Woman Manager of Forensic

Jewell Starkweather, of Plymouth, who is a sophomore at Kalamazoo college, won new honors there last week when she was elected manager of forensics for the ensuing year, and on the same day, was made vice-president of the Women's League.

She is rated one of the best women debaters in the state this year, having competed during her two years of college in 35 debates with a winning average of more than 50 per cent. She is eligible for a high-ranking degree in Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic society, and was a member of the state championship team which took top honors in the Michigan Intercollegiate speech league debate tournament by winning three out of four debates.

Also during the year she paired with another outstanding debater to appear opposite the Australian team which visited Kalamazoo on their way to Harvard a few weeks ago. Her appearance in this debate was unique because she was the first woman debater to participate in an international debate at this school. Miss Starkweather has been honored in many ways for her speech work; this winter she was representative of the women at an all-college banquet. More recently she was chairman of the Inter-Previding League Festival and was on the team which traveled to Wisconsin for a Delta Sigma Rho tournament.

Sewer Project Approved Here

Announcement was made this week by Rep. George A. Dondero that the new WPA project to construct sanitary and storm sewers, submitted over a year ago by Plymouth, had been approved. An allotment of $11,740, is scheduled to start soon. The city asked in their proposal for an allocation of $36,583 from the national government and they planned to contribute $9,158, making a total of $45,741. Whether only a part of the funds have been allocated or not, the city has not been officially notified.

Of the storm sewers contemplated under project O. P. 665-51-2-709, the first will be on Evergreen avenue, from Pennington to Blanche streets and the second will be several blocks on Carol avenue. This will include manholes and catch-basins. Sanitary sewers are proposed on Sunset avenue, on Herald avenue, on Broad street, on Junction street from Evergreen to Pacific, on Main street for a short distance east of the Union street intersection, and on Plymouth road from the line of the county interceptor sewer, west to Holbrook avenue.

City Engineer Stanford Bease said that work on the project would begin on Junction avenue as soon as funds had been finally allocated and that if it were possible to start immediately it would be completed before December. Work on the new project is expected to require all the men who have been laid off from the WPA during the last several weeks. The volume will be largely governed by the availability of funds and the presence of certified relief labor of the types and skills required.

Fintons Find An Experimental Balloon Here

Wisconsin Club Trial Balloon Lands Near City

Because Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Finton of 312 Harvey street were curious, the Pio Nono Science club of St. Francis, Wisconsin is much the richer today in its quest for scientific knowledge. It seems that last Tuesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Finton were driving to Northville via the Beck road when Mrs. Finton noticed a child's red balloon dangling in the corn stubble in a field back of the House of Correction. They stopped the car and picked up the balloon and to their surprise they found a printed post card tied to it, addressed to the Pio Nono Scientific Club at the Pio Nono high school in St. Francis, Wisconsin.

On the face of the card it explained that the balloon was released for the promotion of scientific research by the club and asked the finder to mail the card back to them telling where it was found and the diameter of the balloon at the time it was found.

The Fintons returned the balloon with the desired information to the club and also requested that they be informed when it was released and the purpose of the flight.

Deadline Nears On Petitions

Two Merchants Protest City Ordinance 89

Earl Fluelling and Andrew Sanborn, local business men, applied to the city council last Monday evening for licenses to put up signs between the sidewalk and curb. Ordinance 89, which the city commission passed in 1931, prohibits the exhibition of wares and other displays between the property line and curbing.

Since these merchants have protested the right of this ordinance, the commission instructed City Manager Clarence Elliott to study it and the effect of the proposed zoning ordinance on it, and report at the next regular meeting.

Paint Manufacturer Addresses Kiwanians

Dr. J. M. La Pointe, who is a representative of the Detroit White Lead company, was the speaker at the Kiwanis meeting on Tuesday evening. His subject was "Paint" and he gave a very interesting story of the manufacture of paint. He explained that paint is pigment plus oil, water, or varnish, with a thinner such as turpentine or a dryer such as japan. Changes in the method of making paint and the use of white lead in modern paints were also included in his talk.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Banquet Monday

National Officer Will Make Charter Presentation

The elaborate plans for the charter presentation to the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Plymouth are completed and next Monday night will find 50 of Plymouth's younger business men at the Hotel Mayflower to formally open the activities of this city's newest civic body.

Under the capable direction of President Robert O. Wesley, an interesting program has been arranged for the banquet.

Members of the board of directors of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and members of the city commission have been invited to attend the charter presentation. The organizing committee of the Junior Chamber has made an effort to contact as many eligible Plymouth business men as possible and they wish to make it clear that in case any one has been overlooked that they are especially invited to attend the meeting.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate guests from Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Lansing and Detroit at the banquet as Junior Chambers in those cities have signified their intentions of sending delegations to the presentation.

At the regular meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, D. A. R., which was held on Monday at the home of Mrs. Henry E. Baker on Sheridan, the principal events were the reports of officers and standing committees on the work accomplished during the last year, and the election of officers for the coming year. The annual reports indicated a very interesting and successful year.

The officers elected were: Regent, Mrs. J. Mervin Bennett, first vice regent, Mrs. Henry E. Baker, second vice regent, Mrs. Allen Buckley; chaplain, Mrs. Edward J. Cutler; recording secretary, Mrs. Del W. Hahn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. David Mather; treasurer, Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill; registrar, Mrs. Irving Blunk; historian, Mrs. Marian Paddock; directors, Mrs. Carl Bryan, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Sydney D. Strong, and Mrs. Dwight T. Randall.

The "daughters" were then surprised by a very dainty and delicious repast served in her beautiful dining room by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robert H. Reek.

The worthy matron and the worthy patron, Len Brocklehurst, wish to express their appreciation for the part the officers, members and friends took in the celebration.

Many Attend Chapter Party

The 45th anniversary of Plymouth Chapter 115, Easter Star, was celebrated Tuesday evening, with a dinner at 7 o'clock, in the Masonic Temple, which honored past matrons, past patrons, life members, charter members and honorary guests.

There were 150 present, who greatly enjoyed the repast and the program which followed. The first number was the history of the chapter given by Evelyn Brocklehurst in her own unique way. This was followed by a varied program of music rendered by Lieutenant Bartkovich of the safety department of the Dearborn police, and a group of children whom he sponsors. They played old time tunes on the piano, accordion, saxophone and banjo, dedicating them to older members, C. H. Rauch, Harry Robinson and Mary Connor. Maxine Willard, of Plymouth, then entertained with several dance numbers accompanied by Alice Stevens.

After the dinner and program the degree of the order was given to three candidates, Kathleen Micol, Eva Sugden and Elmira Cielia. Moles; Warden, Ciella Smith.

This was also the birthday anniversary of the worthy matron, Ann Carley, and in remembrance the officers presented her with a lovely corsage and Lillian Terry, an officer, gave her a beautifully decorated cake.

The worthy matron and the worthy patron, Len Brocklehurst, wish to express their appreciation for the part the officers, members and friends took in the celebration.

Police Warn Violators of Traffic Rules

Campaign for Safe Driving Begun Here

The police force of Plymouth last week inaugurated a concentrated drive against careless motorists. During the week they arrested 20 drivers for violation of speeding and restricted-parking ordinances.

They warned residents that the best way to avoid a ticket was to drive safely and within the bounds of the city ordinances. Until Plymouth is a safe town for drivers and pedestrians, the police will not relax their efforts to stop all breaking of the traffic rules of the city. Although many of those arrested for speeding and improper parking are people from out-of-town, Police Chief Vaughn Smith said that fully 40 per cent of the violators are residents.

"The most common fault is speeding, with failure to stop at stop streets running a close second. Improper parking also covers a large number of violators," he said.

In explaining the concerted campaign against reckless drivers, the police department gave the minimum cost of a fine in the three most common cases. For failure to stop at a stop street, one dollar for the first offense; for parking in a restricted zone the fine is the same. American drivers are fined according to the seriousness of their crime; the limit as set up by the city is 20 miles per hour in the business district and 25 miles per hour in the residential section. Drivers who exceed this up to 35 miles per hour are fined $4, from 36-45 miles per hour the cost is $6, and 45 miles per hour and above carries a $10 fine.

"We are not joking about arresting those who ignore the traffic ordinances," the police chief said. "We intend to continue this campaign indefinitely for the protection of the careful driver."

Do you remember to obey the traffic ordinances that we have enacted for the general welfare of the residents, and not for your punishment, the chances are that you will not be the next driver arrested," concluded the chief.

Zoning Hearing is Set for June

The final hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance will be held on Monday, June 5 at the regular meeting of the city commission.

When City Manager Clarence Elliott presented the final draft of the proposed ordinance to the commissioners on Monday evening, he reviewed the history of the ordinance thus far. The work was begun early in 1938 and on July 1, T. Glenn Phillips, was employed as consultant so that the zoning ordinance might be more quickly and judiciously prepared. Since that time the planning commission has been holding regular meetings which culminated recently in the preparation of a final draft of the zoning ordinance and a zoning map. When the City Commission gave authority to the planning commission to hold two hearings on the ordinance, one at Starkweather school and the other at the City Hall, several citizens were present and voiced their opinions and criticisms. The commission studied the criticisms in detail and made the corrections to their satisfaction.

Only one thing remains to be done before the ordinance is adopted. In accordance with the state law, the commission must hold a final hearing on the proposed law.

The new charter received by the club is on display in the window of the Plymouth United Savings bank.

"Keep on Doing Just as You Have"

United States have in recent years decided that the far better system of nominating all candidates for state offices is by the direct primary system.

Certainly such a right delegate will take away from the manipulators of the political conventions the power to say who shall be the candidates of the political parties or who shall not be the candidates.

That is a right that belongs directly to the voters of the state.

The writer of this article, in cooperation with Representatives Dykstra of Grand Rapids, Miles of Holland and Root of Van Buren county, secured the enactment in the house of a bill giving to the voters a right to nominate all of the candidates for state offices. It now lies in a senate committee.

What has this to do with the Blue Water bridge bond inquiry? Plenty!

By the direct primary system the voters would nominate the state officials.

These officials would be responsible only to the voters. Under the controlled political party convention, the nominees are answerable only to those who through the manipulation of delegates are able to bring about their nominations.

Is not the riddle, after all, a simple one to solve?

The legislature is about to adjourn. Not until after next week will it be possible to review its work.

Girls Clubs Present Musical Program

Thursday, May 18, the girls' clubs gave a musical program at the Central Grand auditorium. They had as their guests the mothers of the girls and also the members of the Woman's Club and of the D. A. R. The Cardinal Jay and both Junior American Citizens' clubs combined to give a musical evening and a great deal of talent was discovered in the clubs' memberships.

Boys and girls! Keep an eye on this paper for soon there will be an announcement of the big dance to be given in June for all young people in Plymouth. Both Mike and Jack will have their orchestras there and a grand evening is anticipated since the ladies of the Eastern Star have charge.

Police Ask Bike Riders To Obey Law

"A bicycle is just as much a vehicle as an automobile and is subject to the same laws," said Vaughn Smith, chief of police in Plymouth. He was speaking of the bicycle accidents that happen every year when inexperienced riders take to their wheels.

Some riders do not understand that a bicycle is supposed to follow the same laws of the road as a car; that it is supposed to keep to the right; stop at stop streets, signal for a turn and obey traffic lights. Police explained that riding on the sidewalk is prohibited only in the business district. Recently the bike riders have become somewhat of a problem for the police because they insist on following the fire trucks.

"The sound of the fire siren is the signal for every bike in town to gather at the city hall to chase the trucks," Chief Smith said.

He made it quite clear that it was dangerous as well as illegal to follow the trucks and asked that parents keep their children from chasing trucks. Those who disregard and deliberately run red-lights are another menace to traffic; an effort by parents to correct this would help traffic matters considerably, he believes.

RESIDENT PROTESTS AT SIDEWALK HEARING

A public hearing was held Monday night on the sidewalks proposed for Evergreen Pacific and Auburn avenues. One property owner from Marquette subdivision was present to protest the heavy tax burden that would be placed on him. After the situation was thoroughly explained to him and he saw that the city must build the sidewalk in order that other developments may be made in the subdivision, he waived his objections. To lighten his tax burden the city agreed to stretch this special assessment over a five-year period.

A CLOSE CALL

Iron River (MPA) — The Iron River Reporter reports an Iowa accident worthy of being classed among lucky breaks. Gus Hansen and Fred Schmidt were thankful when nothing happened after their car overturned. Why? Because in the back seat was a load of 200 pounds of dynamite and 100 dynamite caps. Soft snow formed a cushion and eased the cargo to a gentle landing.

Mrs. John Herrick of Salem, who underwent a very serious operation five weeks ago, has returned from the hospital and is convalescing at the home of her sister, Mrs. William McCullough.

"Soul and Body will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 21. The Golden Text (Isaiah 58:10) is: 'If thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul, then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon day.' Among the Bible citations is this passage (Deuteronomy 10:12): 'And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul.'" Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 273): "Man is harmonious when governed by Soul. Hence the importance of understanding the truth of being, which reveals the laws of spiritual existence."

Local Library Gets Seven New Books

The librarian of the Plymouth branch of the Wayne County Library announced this week that several new pieces of fiction have been added to the shelves. Most of the recent books have been procured in response to demands of local readers. The novels are:

"Guns of Burgoyne," by Bruce Lancaster—One of the best of recent novels. "The author has given us a first-class story from the American past. The history is there—and fascinating history it is. But it doesn't stick out in chunks; it is part and parcel of the narrative. And, despite the length of the book, there is a fresh vividness to the telling that carries the reader steadily along."—S. V. Benet in the New York Herald Tribune.

"Bitter Creek," by James Boyd—"This story of the American West in the '70s begins with the revolt of a thirteen-year-old boy against a tyrannical father. The best novel of the West that has come along in a month of Sundays."—New Yorker.

"The Far Down," by Elizabeth Corbett—"A story of the large family of Tim Malone, and his pretty, lazy wife, living near the Old Soldiers' home, in the skirts of a Middlewestern city. The time is 1877 and Tim is himself a veteran of the Civil War."—Book Review Digest.

"The Patriot," by Pearl Buck—"Story of twelve years in the life of a young Chinese—his experiences with the Communists, his sojourn in Japan and his marriage with a Japanese girl, his eventual return to his own country to fight under Chiang Kai-shek. Her picture of both Japanese and Chinese life is very good."—Book Review Digest.

"Martin Valiant," by Warwick Deeping—"Romantic tale of England during the Wars of the Roses, relating the adventures of one Martin Valiant who begins as a monk, but for the cause of a girl left his cloistered ways and became a mighty man-at-arms."—Book Review Digest.

"Hope of Living," by J. Hyatt Downing—"A story of the early years of the present century in South Dakota.

"Pastures of Heaven," by John Steinbeck—"Since 'Grapes of Wrath' has been discussed on every hand, there is a renewal of interest in Steinbeck's earlier books such as this one. 'A series of short stories located in a lovely, secluded valley in California is included in this volume. Mr. Steinbeck writes with deep feeling for the tragedy implicit in each situation, yet undecieved by the self-delusion or self-dramatization of the persons involved. Racy, realistically direct and caustically humorous, his writing is noteworthy for originality of phrase and image and a strong poetic feeling.'"—New York Times.

Chats with the Master Gardener

Perennial Flowers

I've always thought that sometime I'd like to experiment with a garden of nothing but perennials. It could be as beautiful a garden as you'd find anywhere, from early spring to late fall.

Almost as soon as snow had left, you'd have crocuses and snowdrops, poking their heads up to let you know spring had officially arrived! Then early in May you'd begin having a regular parade of blossoms—long before most annual flowers were anywhere near ready to bloom.

First would come scarlet and yellow masses of tulips, and fragrant lilies-of-the-valley. Then you'd begin having peonies—creamy white, pink, and the lovely dark crimson ones. And iris—deep blue, violet, yellow, soft grey.

Then as it got into June you'd be having big, creamy-white Shasta daisies. And soon your larkspur would be in bloom, splendid blue spires standing high in corner clumps and against your fence. And hollyhocks would be coming along, pink and white and scarlet, towering even above the larkspur. By July your borders would be blazing with phlox in almost every color in the rainbow. Here and there you'd have a clump of crimson and gold gailardinia. And of course you'd have gladioli, blooming all summer and into the fall, with varieties of color beyond description.

And so into September, when one of the finest perennials of all would come into flower—your chrysanthemums. And with them would be your hardy asters and many-colored dahlias. And of course these are only a few of the hundreds of varieties you could have.

Now here are some things that should be emphasized about growing perennials. I've found it hardly pays to try to raise them from seed. It's very little more expensive to buy plants or bulbs from a good reliable nursery, and your results are quicker and surer.

In preparing the soil for perennial plants, spade it to a depth of six or eight inches, then pulverize it thoroughly. Mix in some complete plant food, using a pint of it to each 25 square feet. Water the plants thoroughly when you're putting them into the ground, and keep them moist for at least a week.

Remember this: Just because perennials are growing well and seem to need little care, you can't neglect them. Some varieties don't thrive unless you cut their flowers regularly. Others need to be transplanted now and then; it's always do better if you take the bulbs up and separate them every third year or so. Some, like gladioli and dahlias, need to be taken indoors for the winter. But most important, all perennials must be fed! All through the growing season they're drawing eleven different food elements from the soil. Sooner or later these elements become exhausted, and unless you replace them the plants will die. So I'd strongly recommend that you give your perennials a square meal this spring. Use a plant food that supplies all eleven of the food elements they need from the soil, in balanced proportions. Four pounds of it per 100 square feet applied to your flower borders will keep them blossoming strongly all summer long.

SQUIRRELS LIKE KIDS

Harbor Springs (MPA)—Two flying squirrels here must like children, for they have made their home on the window ledge of the third grade room in the public school. Daily the pair make exhibition flights at 9:15 a.m. as the teacher pounds on the back of the box. Other grades have been guests of the third graders to watch the animals perform. The squirrels reach their box by climbing the brick walls of the school building.

World's record brook trout, weighing 14 and a quarter pounds, was taken from the Nipigon river in Ontario which runs into Lake Superior.

Religion is Key to Democracy, Says Minister

Highbrows Find Study Valuable in Government

"To find the basis for our democracy, look in the old and new Testaments," said Dr. E. W. Blakeman, religious counselor at the University of Michigan, when he spoke at the union church service in the Methodist church on Sunday evening.

Dr. Blakeman advised all students of government and philosophy to study the Bible to find where the principles of our living originated. He said that the law of Israel and of Moses, as well as the laws of Jesus, are the foundations of our democracy.

"Religion is renovating and dynamic," he said. "It always has been and always will be what men live by." Dr. Blakeman finds that most men look at religion as the means, not the end, of living. He spoke of the task of ministers who try to make it the end, saying that this is not the way the Bible teaches it. In that book, religion is the means to fuller living. This full life is what Dr. Blakeman calls the "highbrow life." The intellectual striving of men is their highbrow living; not to be confused with "high hat life." When people begin to take such an interest in religion, and learned people admit that religion has a great contribution to make to their living, it goes highbrow. He noted the fact that in the last seven years since the University of Michigan has inaugurated a course in training for the ministry, 367 ministers and missionaries have gone out from that institution. The new interest in religion, the movement back to the Bible and its philosophy in these troubled times are the foremost issues among the intellectual people of today, he thinks.

This concludes the union services for the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches for this season except for Baccalaureate which will be held Sunday, June 18.

But It's True

Miss Todd lost the weight by staying in steamrooms for 10 hours each day. Massaging and dieting did the rest. According to the terms of the bet, Mr. Haworth was to let his great-toe-nails grow uncut for six months.

Flowers Cause Much Interest

Why go to Holland to see beautiful tulips and other blossoms at this time of the year? Just climb into your automobile and drive out on Joy road past the home of Mrs. L. M. Rehr, and look at the beautiful tulip beds that have been in full blossom for a number of days. To lovers of flowers, the sight is a beautiful one.

Lists River Improvements

(By Cong. George A. Dondero)

The law imposes upon the Army Engineers and duty of telling Congress each year the amount of money which should be spent upon river and harbor projects during the following fiscal year. The Army Engineers during this session have advised Congress that the economic needs for new work for rivers and harbors during the next fiscal year will require an appropriation of about 103 million dollars, and the chief of engineers has specified the projects and has set forth the amount needed for each.

The report of the chief of engineers lists the following Michigan projects on which the army engineers recommend new work during the next fiscal year and the amount of money estimated to be needed for the work on each:

Keweenaw Waterway	$ 738,000
Charlevoix Harbor	15,000
St. Clair River	250,000
Detroit River	575,000
Saginaw River	1,030,000
	$2,608,000

In this connection, Rep. J. J. Mansfield, chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, U.S. House of Representatives, says:

"The appropriation for new work on rivers and harbors for the current fiscal year was $75,020,000. The director of the budget has recommended that the appropriation for new work during the next fiscal year be cut down to $30,000,000. This means, of course, that more than two-thirds of the money which the chief of engineers officially reports should be expended for new work must be eliminated.

"Friends of river and harbor work on the rivers and harbors committee and in the House feel that such a drastic cut in funds for river and harbor work is not in the public interest. Experience has taught us that the recommendations of the army engineers, who have no selfish interests and no interest whatsoever, except the public interest, have been sound, and I am writing you this letter to urge that you earnestly cooperate with others who share our views in an effort to procure an amendment to the non-military activities bill of the war department which will provide adequate funds for deserving and meritorious river and harbor works throughout the country."

In addition to the Michigan projects which I have listed above, the army engineers recommend new work on the following in the Great Lakes area: Sturgeon Bay and Lake Michigan ship canal, Waukegon harbor, Calumet harbor and river, Indiana harbor, Huron harbor, Cleveland harbor, Erie harbor, Buffalo harbor, Black Rock channel, and Tonawanda harbor. A total of $4,965,000 is recommended for the Great Lakes area, with more than half designated for Michigan projects.

Youth Hurt in Accident Recovering

Friends of Dale Buttermore, who was badly injured last week, will be glad to know that he is getting along nicely, but will be confined to his bed for some weeks because of a fractured leg. The injured lad and Lawrence Ransom of 1102 South Harvey street, were riding their motorcycles to Northville. An automobile that was ahead of them suddenly turned into Cass Benton park, apparently without a warning sign being given to the boys of the intended turn by the driver. As a result the motorcycle collided with the automobile, resulting in injury to the Buttermore youth.

Widmaier, Wolfe Win Trip to World's Fair

The official returns in the Detroit Times six weeks' contest for subscriptions were announced for this territory on Tuesday. William Widmaier was the winner among the 22 boys who are carriers in Plymouth and environs. Charles Wolfe, who is the local distributor of the Times, will be one of the agents and roadmen who will accompany the 100 boys and ten agents from Detroit and the outlying territory. They will start the four-day excursion on the Michigan Central railroad on Sunday, June 4, change to a steamer for the voyage down the Hudson, spend two days at the Fair and return by train; food, Pullman, hotel room accommodations, sightseeing trips, admissions to the Fair and its buildings will all be free to the boys.

The trips to the Fair were first prizes in the contest; the winners of second, third and fourth places in each locality won other valuable awards. The winners not only received trips, but received half credit on the regular prize list. Second place was taken by Clifford Maddox, who won a baby Philco radio, third was taken by Kenneth Nowry, who won a sport suit and the last prize of a baseball glove went to Victor Buttermore.

SOUND SLEEPER

Armada (MPA) — Edward Schwartz, a Mt. Clemens milk man, awoke as usual at 3:30 one morning and reached for a bedside lamp. Not finding it, he groped his way to the wall and switched on a lamp. Missing were the table, table lamp, radio, floor lamp, two rugs, table scarf, two pictures, two pillows and some ash trays. An open front door showed footprints on the porch explained the theft—and Schwartz had slept through it all.

It is always easier to exploit human weaknesses than to correct them.

"Pickerel Derby" on Sunday, May 21

The big wall-eyes or pickerel are starting their annual run in the St. Clair river and members of the Blue Water Sportsman's association are completing plans for their second annual "Pickerel Derby" which will be held Sunday, May 21.

The derby is held on the St. Clair at the south city limits of Port Huron, with trolling and still fishing usually producing the best catches. Boats are available but contestants must furnish tackle. Fishing will start at sunrise and continue to sunset.

Fishermen from more than 12 cities competed in the 1938 derby and more than 150 boats were filled with anglers, according to Frederick J. Nern, 1421 Twentieth street, Port Huron, who is now receiving registrations for the event.

Prizes are offered for biggest fish and largest catches. Invitations have been extended by the Blue Water Sportsman's association to P. J. Hoffmaster, director of the department of conservation; the officers of the Detroit Sportsmen Congress and officers of the Michigan United Conservation clubs.

Royalty Rides in Buicks

Royalty has established a Buick vogue this year, with visiting monarchs and princes specifying this world-known make of car for their personal transportation while in America.

When Their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth arrive in Canada Monday, they will be met by two specially built Buick convertible phaetons, which they will use wherever they require automobile transportation while on tour in this country.

The Crown Prince Olaf of Norway and Princess Martha have chosen a Buick Century convertible phaeton for their tour of the northwestern states.

And from London comes word from Landrum and Hartman, Ltd., Buick Distributors in the British Isles, that the Duke of Windsor has placed his third repeat order for new Buick cars.

The two cars for use of the English King and Queen on their Canadian tour were completed last week in the Oshawa, Ontario plant of General Motors. The royal cars have custom built bodies, finished in a beautiful maroon, and are built on special 155-inch wheelbase chassis, powered by 143-horsepower Buick Series 80 valve-in-head engines.

Combining all of the most advanced features of modern engineering and design, the cars are equipped with special wrought fittings and beautiful fabrics, selected on the advice of Norman Hartnell, the designer of Her Majesty's wardrobe. Specially designed silver vanity equipment is installed in the folding arm-rest in the center of the rear seat, while at either side of the rear quarters are electric dictographs, communicating with the chauffeur. White sheep-skin fleece mats cover the floor of the rear compartments.

One of the cars is upholstered in special maroon broadcloth and the other in beige broadcloth. Auxiliary seats facing the royal occupants are provided in each car.

Windows and ventilators extend to the back of the body, while an electrically operated glass partition separates the driver and passenger compartments.

The two new Buicks are the seventh and eighth which have been especially built in Oshawa for members of the royal family.

Salem Students to Hear Secord

Graduates from the eighth grade at Salem school will be honored at a banquet given by the P. T. A. on Wednesday evening, May 24, at 7:00 at the Federated dining room.

The banquet is a community affair and Arthur Secord, A.M., the speaker for the evening, is a teaching fellow in the department of speech and general linguistics at the University.

Mr. Secord is also the manager of the Michigan High School Forensic association at present. His record in speech work began at Western State Teachers' college where he took his A.B., and at the University of Michigan where he took his A.M.; he is now working on his Ph.D. in speech. He first taught in the Paw Paw high school then at the University of Western Ontario, Western State Teachers' college and the University of Michigan. For the last three years he has taught during the summer session at the University of Western Ontario, London, Ontario, Canada in the speech department.

P. T. A. Reports On Milk Fund

The underprivileged children in both Plymouth public schools have been supplied with milk at recess time throughout the winter because of the Milk Fund of the Central and Starkweather Parent-Teacher Associations.

Statistics on file in the office of the superintendent show that under the direction of the two sponsoring P.T.A.'s, teachers have dispensed 7,566 bottles of free milk to underprivileged children. This worthwhile project of the associations assures that children from all economic classes will be given a daily bottle of milk to supplement their diet. Children whose parents can afford to buy milk bought 9,440 bottles during the winter. With each half-pint of milk both sold and given out, were distributed two graham crackers to complete the lunch.

Proceeds of $216.34 from two civic projects, the P.T.A. Milk Fund Ball and the Lincoln Day banquet of the Republican party were donated in full to the fund, in addition to the contributions of Plymouth residents. This amount was sufficient, with the amount received from the milk which was sold, to leave a balance in the treasuries of the two schools of approximately $40 with which to start the campaign next year.

Mrs. Edwin Campbell, president of the Central P.T.A., and Mrs. Frank J. Pierce, president of the Starkweather club deserve much credit for the fine work they did in the campaign which ended last week.

Consumers Will Adopt New Hours

Adoption of the 40-hour week for office and clerical employees of Consumers Power company was announced today by Division Manager B. C. Campbell.

About 3,200 employees are affected, of whom approximately 175 are in the Pontiac division. The company's service area includes most of the lower peninsula outside the Detroit and Thumb areas. Operating employees generally are already observing the 40-hour week.

The new working schedule for office and clerical employees will become effective next week.

"Office and clerical employees have been working 44 hours a week," Mr. Campbell said. "Henceforth they will receive the same compensation for working only 40 hours."

"To the greatest extent consistent with the company's obligation of rendering a satisfactory service to the public, the 40-hour work-week will consist of five eight-hour periods, from Monday to Friday, inclusive. The local office will be open on these days from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m."

"Commercial offices will remain open Saturday morning, with a minimum force on duty, to permit our customers to make service applications, purchase appliances and pay bills. In order that the Saturday working staff may be kept as small as possible, the bookkeeping department will be closed. Discounts on bills due Saturday but which customers find it inconvenient to pay on that day will be allowed the following Monday."

Employees who work Saturday will be given time off on other days of the week, Mr. Campbell explained, and in so far as possible this will be on Monday, in order that these employees also may have a longer week-end.

Mr. Campbell emphasized that the change will not affect Consumers' continuous trouble service or special service in emergencies.

Of Michigan's total land area of 36,787,200 acres, approximately 56 percent is today classified as forest or wild land.

Local Girl Weds Inkster Man

St. John's Lutheran church of Wayne was the scene of a lovely ceremony last Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Hilda Buehler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buehler of Ford road, was united in marriage to Sherman Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mann of Inkster. The Rev. O. J. Peters officiated.

The church was beautifully decorated with ferns for the occasion. Teacher Schultz played the organ and Mrs. Ed Lydell sang "Today, O Lord, We at the Altar Stand."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white net over satin; the gown had a long train. A veil of white tulle was fastened to her Juliet cap, which was trimmed with satin. She carried a sheaf of Calla lilies.

Elen Buehler, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor; she wore aqua blue net with matching accessories and carried yellow roses. Alma Buehler, another sister of the bride, Dorotaine Graff, Wymple Mann, Lorraine and Marian Buehler, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids. Their dresses of peach net were alike and they carried bouquets of tea roses. Harriett and Alvera Priekorn were the flower girls. They wore peach organza dresses and carried small bouquets of sweet peas.

Edward Mennick attended the bridegroom as best man. The ushers were Frank Davis, Joe Crova, Edward Golm, Ralph Long and Orville Patrick.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Buehler wore a dress of powder blue lace and a corsage of sweet peas. Mrs. Mann, mother of the groom, wore a pink net dress and a corsage of orchid sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a dinner and reception were held at the home of the bride's parents. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening to the music of Happy Harry's orchestra.

The bride, who was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1937, is well known in this vicinity. The happy young couple are now settled in their new home on Ford road. Their wedding gifts were many and beautiful.

PITIFUL PATTERINGS OF PLYMOUTH'S PLATITUDE INNOUS PRECINCTS

George Bennett—tell us does one or doesn't one cast longing glances at red headed sophomore girls and then do nothing about it? And speaking of redheads, no snyder seems to have both local curts and bud jordan on hand—yes, alan hennett, it does look like a bite but will save your name and confirm the report that it was only a boxing match—so love is on the run eh, bob and barbara? betty brown hasn't as yet made up her mind—gosh and we'd just come to the conclusion that she'd decided on old holidays—sheik erdelyi of the big brown eyes has recently been seen threatening people with black axes, eating burned steak doesn't seem bad at all in the company of barbara olavser, does it bill mcallister? to doug prough goes the honor of breaking the high school pole vault record—congratulations—eleven feet is a lot closer to heaven than six, warren hoffman seems to have intervened in the butz-olavser interests—too bad jack barbara zitsch is in the hospital with appendicitis; we're sorry, barbara, and from good authors what we hear jerry is too ellis brandt seems to be playing "questions and crazy answers" lately, nothing he says makes sense, scene—walled lake; characters—bob brown and jean schoof; action—shaking hands for a long time with no movement; note—also similar actions on other stages; there seems to be a silent feud between maggie and lynne—they both are singing "you take the hand and i'll take the row-land—tsk! tsk! don't you know taint nice? 'tis known that jerry farrier likes lipstick just like idid shirley burnham's "up-down" make her light-headed at the barn last week-end?

JUNIOR'S JOTTINGS

Chemistry and physics students do not carry their speech work into their classes. They leave off the oratory, and call it just plain "lab."

Pete Gilbert says he is going to be a bachelor and bring up all his children to be the same. How about your grandchildren, Pete—going to bring them up the same way?

Recently this column tapped a cross-section of students on the question, "What is the most interesting book you have ever read?" The most important thing that is brought out was that English writers were preferred almost two to one. Sixty four and three-tenths per cent chose Britone, 34.8 per cent and 1.6 per cent others such as "Pinocchio," "Heidi," and "Les Misérables." R. L. Stevenson, James Hilton and Charles Dickens led the winners with Mark Twain, who was far ahead of other Americans, abreast of Hilton. Other popular Americans were Gene Stratton-Porter, Nathaniel Hawthorne and Zané Grey.

Another noticeable thing was this: Sophomores and freshmen invariably chose lesser-known books—"Lone Cowboy," "What-How," and "Far From the Madding Crowd." Seniors, on the other hand, liked the classics—"Treasure Island," "Ben Hur," and "Tom Sawyer," which goes to show, maybe, how high school students mature in four years.

Mr. Balden is a college man. He believes in college institutions, one can tell it by his mien. Recently gave himself away. He walked through the main portal of the facade carrying—not books, mind you, but—an empty fishbowl, complete with seaweed, and not a fish in sight. Have you broken the record, Mr. Balden?

ROCK TENNIS TEAM LOSES TO YPSI ROOSEVELT 3-2

Before the onslaught of the Ypsi Roosevelt racqueters, led by five seniors, the Rocks dropped their second match this season, 3-2, May 15.

In the singles: Bob Norman (P) fell before the placement shots and net rushes of Allen (Y) (6-4) (6-3); after taking the first set from Cox (Y), Jack Dunlop (P) lost to him (7-8) (6-0) (6-4). Jack Butz (P) gained one of Plymouth's two points by defeating Wortley (Y) (62) (6-3).

In the doubles: Lamb and Whitehouse (Y) defeated McAllister and Holdsworth (P) on Bill's County game for Hitt came in and Hansen (P) gained the other point by defeating Holly and Durham (Y) (6-1) (6-2).

What an adventure life is, if you keep yourself alert and alive.

SIX HUNDRED ATTEND THIRTEENTH ANNUAL VOCAL

The vocal department and orchestra under the direction of Dora M. Hondorp presented the 13th annual musicale last Friday, May 12, to an audience of 600. The program opened with a group of five orchestral selections: "The Jolly Coppermiths," "Neapolitan Nights," "Dark Eyes," "Out of the Dust to You," and "Yankee Spirit." The seventh grade chorus, composed of 110 voices, sang "May Time," and "The Herd Dells." The girls' octette gave three well known numbers: "I Love to Hear You Singing," "Italian Street Song," and "Nightfall." Maxine Willard interpreted the latter song by a ballet dance. The boys' junior chorus sang "All Through the Night" and "The Keeper." Keith Joffile offered two vocal solos, "I Heard a Forest Praying" and "Come Unto Him." Linnea Vickstrom sang "Il Bacio" and "Sous-venir of Love." The girls' glee club presented a medley of three songs: "My Johann," "In a Persian Market," and "Cradle Song." "Tingle-Ingling" and "Pilgrim's Chorus" were sung by an ensemble of mixed voices. The accompanists for the evening's program were Carol Campbell, Vera Ess, and Linnea Vickstrom.

Closing the program, a flag was lowered while Linnea Vickstrom and Keith Joffile, accompanied by the mixed chorus, sang "God Bless America."

PLYMOUTH TRACKMEN TAKE FIFTH IN T. V. A. A.

Plymouth placed fifth out of six schools participating in the T. V. A. A. track and field meet held at Ypsilanti last Saturday, May 13.

River Rouge, Dearborn, Wayne, Ypsilanti, Plymouth, and Ecorse comprise the entrants in the meet. The results were in the same order.

Plymouth collected third in the half mile, fourth in the shot put fifth in the broad jump, 220, and relay and second in the pole vault to net 12 points for a fifth place.

Lowell Healy, River Rouge's star, took a first in the broad jump, 100-yard dash, and 220, besides running in the relay to contribute plentifully to his team's first place.

Bob Marshall fought his way to the front in the half mile and maintained a place among the leaders to take a third place. Jack Baker took fourth in the shot put as he saw Jack Sullivan of Wayne break a record of 49 feet, 6 inches that Jack Kinsey established in 1936 for Plymouth, with a record toss of 50 feet. Keith Joffile contributed a fifth place in the broad jump and the 220 to give Plymouth two points. Doug Prough was able to place second in the pole vault.

Although Plymouth did not come within hailing distance of first place in the mile, the winner was clocked in the near record time of 4:51.4.

The Plymouth relay team anchored by Don Mielbeck nosed out Ecorse for a fifth place.

HIT WHITEASHES WAYNE; LEADS ATTACK

Bobby Hitt was a one-man team last Tuesday, May 9, as he blanked the Wayne Zebras with one hit and garnered two of the Rocks' three hits. He scored one of Plymouth's two tallies, helped in the other, and fanned nine.

Coach Jacob Juggled the lineup considerably for Hitt came in for the first time this year, was an air-tight combination. Don Taylor played third, Folsom switched to left and Lee replaced M. Krumm in right.

The tilt provided the best pitcher's duel seen around these parts in a long time. Wayne hurler struck out fifteen men, which, if not a record, is very near one. He allowed only three hits: Hitt's double and single, and "Flash" Folsom's very helpful one-bagger, which brought in both the Rock runs.

The bingle which spoiled the perfect game for Hitt came in the second. It was a grounder between Taylor and Hoffman. Hoffman stopped it but could not recover in time to throw the runner out. C. Raymond, Zebra center-fielder, was the batter.

Plymouth's rally came along in the third. With one out, Lee was hit by the pitcher. Hitt got his safety and Hoffman walked, filling the bases and putting Folsom on the spot. "Flash" pounded his single to left, driving in both runs. "Butch" Krumm also walked, again filling the bases. Newman's foul to the catcher and a strikeout by Taylor, who had batted before Folsom, retired the side.

Hitt doubled in the fifth but was left. He passed three men, while Carrio walked four.

The victory boosted the Rock record to three wins and two losses, and the boys are now looking forward to whipping a few league opponents.

PLYMOUTH ACES DEFEAT NORTHVILLE 11 1/2 TO 1/2

The local golfers came very close to shutting out their long-standing enemy by stacking up eleven and one-half points against them at the Plymouth Country game for Hitt came in Thursday, May 11.

The total scores made by the home team were lower than they had been in any previous match. This game came early in the season, with the exception of a few practice matches, leaving Plymouth a good average of 665.

Line-up and points were as follows:

Warren Hoffman 2 1/2, opponent 1/2; Allen Owens 3, opponent 0; Don Williams 3, opponent 0; Dick Dunlop 3, opponent 0.

DEARBORN DEFEATS PLYMOUTH FOUR 8 1/2 TO 3 1/2

The local four-aces were overpowered by the Dearborn golfers at the Warren Valley golf course Tuesday, May 9.

The next match will be the regionals, Saturday, May 20.

Scoring and line up were as follows: Warren Hoffman, scored 98, no points; opponent 104, no points; Don Williams, 104, no points, opponent 3 points; Allen Owens 98, 1 1/2 points, opponent 1 1/2 points; Jim Heller, 95, 2 points, opponent 1 point. Total 349, opponent 3 1/2 points, opponent 3 1/2 points.

Plymouth Rocks Whip Strong Ypsilanti Nine 6 to 4

The local nine cracked a tough nut easily last Friday, May 12, when it led an experienced Ypsilanti combination from start to finish for its fourth victory in six starts. Bob Hitt acted in six positions but one safety in the first three innings and then eased up and coasted down the stretch for his second straight triumph.

While Hitt handcuffed Ypsi in the early innings his mates ran up a healthy lead. Bob led off with a lusty double himself but start the machinery going. Taylor advanced him to second when Herbst, third-baseman, muffed his grounder. Folsom singled to left, scoring Hitt, and both Taylor and Folsom continued the trip when Herbst booted the return to the infield. Butch Krumm also singled, bringing in Taylor. Folsom scored after Newman's towering fly to left.

In the second a pass to Hitt and a fluke hit by Hoffman with an error on it by the left-fielder, got men on second and third. Taylor scored both with a nifty Texas Leaguer, making the Rock margin 5-0. Plymouth's only other run came in the fifth, when Butch Krumm belted a triple into deep left and tallied on a passed ball.

Ypsi worked the bunting racket with a good deal of success in the third. Kuster got to second when Taylor came in fast for his but threw wildly to Krumm at first. Krumm had no chance on Walton's bunt toward first, and Wilson, Ypsi's Negro football, basketball and baseball star, laid down a perfect one to load the bases. Smith singled here to relieve the pressure, and Hitt bored down to retire the side. To the three counted here another tally was added in the fifth. Herbst rapped one to center, was sacrificed to second and doubled home by Kuster.

Krumm, with a single and triple in three times at bat, led the Rock offense. Taylor, with two sound singles, and Hoffman, who also had two, counting a criddle, also started. Hitt's double and bingles by Folsom and Newman completed the array.

Wilson led Ypsi with a double and single. Kuster had a two-bagger, Walton, Shiffer, and Herbst each a single. Only three were solid blows, the rest were bunts.

Hitt fanned only six but brought his total for four games to 39. Wilson whiffed three for Ypsi.

After two weeks of experimentation it looks as though Coach Jacobi has achieved a winning infield group. But the outfield is as yet weak, and will likely see more of the trial and error method before it is set.

A human body falling from an airplane will attain a speed never greater than 118 miles an hour.

MICHIGAN MAPLE SUGAR.

Maple sugar may not be a very interesting subject upon which to write an editorial—but maple sugar to Michigan is an exceedingly important subject.

Maple syrup and maple sugar furnish Michigan with one of its first "money" crops of the season. Thousands of farmers who own small sugar bushes early in March are able to collect real American dollars weeks before it is time to start their spring plowing and planting.

It is estimated that considerably more than a quarter of a million dollars came into the possession of farmers as the result of the sugar bush crop this spring.

A report just issued by the Michigan crop reporting service contains much valuable information on this subject. It says that the Michigan 1939 maple sugar season was of average length, but began and ended from 10 days to two weeks later than usual. The average date of tapping this year was March 11, and the average closing date was April 10. The flow of sap was rather slow during the first half of the period due to continuous cold weather, but the rate increased during the latter half as the weather became warmer.

The estimated number of trees tapped was 387,000, which was an increase of two per cent over the number tapped in 1938. Michigan producers convert the greater portion of their crop into syrup, only two percent being made into sugar. The quantity of syrup made was estimated at 104,000 gallons, which was 62 per cent more than was obtained in the relatively short 1938 season. The quality of the syrup was exceptionally fine, rating considerably higher than that of the preceding year.

Nearly all of the Michigan crop is consumed locally and five-sixths of the syrup is sold at retail against one-sixth on a wholesale basis. The average price for all syrup sales was $2.05 a gallon, the same as was received in 1938. The small amount of sugar sold brought an average of 30 cents a pound, compared with 29 cents a year ago.

New England experienced an unfavorable season. The season was cold and relatively short, not opening in most localities until near the first of April. It was estimated that about 25 per cent of the trees tapped in 1938 were blown down by the hurricane on September 21 of that year. Much fallen timber had not yet been cleared away rendering many standing trees inaccessible for tapping. Operations were further hampered by deep snows and frequent storms.

Conditions in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Wisconsin, the other important states, were comparable to those prevailing in Michigan. Increased tapping and a relatively large production of fine quality syrup were the dominant features.

Only 10 states are commercially important in maple production. These states produced 715,000 pounds of sugar and 2,447,000 gallons of syrup in 1939 compared with 1,078,000 pounds of sugar and 2,772,000 gallons of syrup in 1938. The considerable reduction in total quantities produced was due to sharp decreases in the New England states, which more than offset the sizeable increases in the other leading maple-producing states.

GO TO WORK!

Dead weight is hard to move, says The Rotarian Magazine. A man of ordinary strength can push a 3,000-pound automobile, yet may be unable to budge a 300-pound rock. The inertia of people who need work but do little to find it for themselves is a dead weight that complicates unemployment. "Here I am; move me! Find me a job!" Some economists believe that this attitude and the tendency to heed it and to accept responsibility for job placement as a social obligation, have promoted mass inertia. There is growing conviction that it is important to return to individuals most of the responsibility for finding their own jobs.

Encouraging, in view of this, is the kind of activity embodied in the Forty Plus Club. This club, born in Boston, Massachusetts, is now more than a year old, and a pioneer. To be a member you must be past 40, you must be out of work, and you must have held and still be able to hold a job worth at least $4,000 a year. The purpose of the club is mutual help. Some members call on employers and ask for jobs. But note this: they ask not for themselves, but for fellow members. It seems that a man can usually "sell" his friend's skill better than his own. Other members keep records, make speeches, write job-getting letters.

The response has been surprising. Many a man, after knowing the depths of discouragement when hunting for work alone, has located an excellent job quickly with the group's help, and has helped others to do the same—this despite the prejudice of some employers against men past 40. As soon as a member gets a job, he automatically becomes an ex-member.

Several other cities, including Chicago and New York, now have clubs on the Boston model. In London, England, a Forty Plus Club was organized with the help of members of the London Rotary Club, and one of the first members, a man well over 50, who had hunted work for six months, was found a job in two weeks.

Men past 40 have special prejudices to overcome. But at every age level, and in every field of employment, there are special prejudices and handicaps. Overcoming them is often made easier by practical group activity. There is, perhaps, no good reason why job-hungry youngsters should not band themselves together as the Just-Out-of-College Club, nor why slightly older out-of-work women should not unashamedly have a Women-Past-Thirty-Club.

The plan is based on sound salesmanship. Most employers respect the worker who, instead of being a dead weight, uses the leverage of a little extra ingenuity to get on the payroll, and feel that he may do as much to stay there. Forty Plus is fresh proof that human beings who intelligently cooperate to help themselves do somehow "go to town."

THE FIRST MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION

We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders.

Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed grounds; let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of revered visitors and fond mourners; let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations, that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic.

If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain to us.

Let us, then, gather round their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with the choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us as a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude—the soldiers' and sailors' widow and orphan.

—Extract from the order of the G. A. R. Commander-in-chief (John A. Logan) May 5, 1868

PAID PARKING

The new parkometers in Pontiac, in which every patron of stores in that city has to deposit money to park, mean: "Pay for the privilege of shopping in Pontiac."—There are no restrictions on parking in Lake Orion. Customers may park where they please, as long as they please, and not pay one cent to deal with local merchants. Shop in Lake Orion where your business is appreciated.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

IS HE RIGHT?

Republican members of the state legislature, who sought office to eliminate patronage and put the state on an economy program, are going to have to make a lot of alibis among their constituents when they return home and ask for another term. They are just as bad as the preceding legislature in many ways. Civil Service is virtually scrapped by them, for one purpose only—that of passing out patronage to their friends. Only eight Republicans in the House voted against a bill to open up thousands of jobs without merit system restrictions, and by a three to one vote it was decided to give the bill immediate effect.—Paul McDonald in The Otsego County (Gaylord) Times-Herald.

WHAT ABOUT MAINTENANCE?

Michigan residents and especially those of us who reside in Ingham county, can take pardonable pride in the millions of dollars worth of new buildings being erected at Michigan State college. A drive around the campus last week left us actually amazed at the number and size of the new buildings going up. Michigan State can now be listed among the greatest educational institutions in the world.

The new buildings are needed to take care of the increased enrollment Michigan State has grown so rapidly that there are thousands of Michigan people who do not know that the undergraduate enrollment at Michigan State is now equal to that at the University of Michigan.

There is only one fly in the ointment of the new buildings at Michigan State. That fly is the maintenance cost and general overhead that will have to be added to the cost of education at Michigan State or added to the tax burden.

When Michigan State college opens for the fall term it will open as one of the most modern plants in the nation. We can take pride in that and let us hope that our pride will offset the extra money that must come from some source to pay the added maintenance costs.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

WATCH YOUNG G. O. P.

If a few of the older heads can show a little of the independence and initiative displayed by some of the Young Republicans recently, there will be a lot more hope for the future of the GOP in Michigan.

I have never seen a more demoralized group than the Republican party since the death of Frank Fitzgerald. They are not low in spirit, but they are hitting a new low in lack of intelligence and in their handling of many vital state matters.

In their defense of Civil Service and their activity in the McKay $92,000 "mystery fund" investigation, some of these young men have exhibited a refreshing honesty and straightforwardness. These men have insisted that what goes under the name of public business really is the business of the citizens of Michigan.

These and other younger men who are active in politics will be told by experienced politicians that they are acting very rashly and are not doing the party any good. On the contrary, they are bringing cheer to the hearts of thousands of Michigan Republicans who are thoroughly ashamed of the activities of many party leaders.

It was a perfectly legitimate and a very smart thing for the older members of the party to organize the Young Republican clubs so as to make sure that the younger citizens voted right in the last election. They fed these young men and women a lot of inspirational matter to the effect that the future of the country lies in the hands of our vigorous youth.

To the politicians who are seeking victory at the polls more than anything else, this was so much baloney. But they dished it out so well that the youngsters swallowed it. The Young Republicans really believed what they were told.

These younger men will have to avoid the cockiness that always threatens those of lesser years when they find themselves in positions of importance and the light of publicity shines upon them. But I, as one Republican, hope that they continue to kick up their heels and do things.—Floyd Miller in The Royal Oak Tribune.

SUPPORTING JOB HOLDERS

After years of profligate spending it is refreshing to note that men elected to high public office last November are considering the results of that election—a mandate to reduce the spending of public money and are acting accordingly. In our own and in the neighboring states of Ohio and Wisconsin we note that the new administrations are making heavy cuts in the number of job holders—such heavy cuts that it must be apparent that state offices had been loaded up with appointees for political purposes. Last week in Congress the House Appropriations Committee cut $150,000,000 off the amount demanded by the President for relief. The President commented that the anti-spending group in Congress seemed to be thinking more in terms of dollars than in terms of human beings. This was a somewhat nasty fling at men who are attempting not only to do what the voters indicated they wished done, but who may be just as humane as the President professes to be and who believe there is a better method of aiding America's unfortunate than that embodied in his spending plan. These men have seen the people's money spent by the billions in the past five years in an attempt to spend ourselves into prosperity, and now find more millions of unemployed than we had when the spending program was started. They have seen business restrained by heavy taxes, they have seen farm prices reduced to new levels, they have seen millions of once self-reliant people lose that self-reliance and become satisfied to accept government aid—in fact, except that aid as a right—and they believe there is a better way out. That way is to cut the spending, balance the budget as soon as possible, and give business confidence to go ahead and start the wheels of industry so that more millions can be employed at a profit to themselves and to their employers. This would, of course, remove them from political pressure by the Hopkinses, Ickeses, Cohens, Corcorans and the other satellites who have glorified the President and advised and encouraged him to continue the reckless spending, but those gentlemen were not elected by the people and the members of Congress are. If the President's spending program had succeeded in reducing unemployment and started business on its way again, he would not now need to ask for such money. If it failed, as the employment figures show, why should he be granted money to continue the spending on the same huge scale? We have more faith in the united wisdom of the new Congress, now out from under the President's thumb, than we have in the wisdom of the one individual who is President.—William Berkeley in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

Even "Indian cooking" COSTS MONEY!
Whether you cook in a tin can over a fire, a wood stove, an oil stove or what, you PAY for cooking... but some methods of cooking give you better results than others. And the difference in cost between ordinary cooking methods and the best cooking method is very little. An electric range gives you better tasting food, cleanliness, ease and simplicity of operation, healthfulness, and cool, comfortable cooking in warm weather. Since you pay for cooking anyway, why not enjoy the advantages of the most modern, up-to-date method? The average cost of cooking on an electric range (family of three) is only $1.55 a month.
