

Wayne Farmer Is Killed at Crossroads

Well Known in Plymouth and Vicinity

Carl Truesdell, 57, of Wayne, and well-known in Plymouth and vicinity, was killed as a result of an automobile collision Tuesday shortly after noon at the intersection of Middle Belt and Schoolcraft roads, five miles east of Plymouth.

Also killed outright in the accident was Stephen Cherechewick, 27-year-old Detroit man who lived at 14301 Trinity avenue. Truesdell and Cherechewick were drivers of the two cars.

An inadequate signal at the intersection of the two roads was blamed by deputies and state police for the automobile collision which killed the two men and sent three men and a boy to the Redford branch of Receiving hospital.

Cherechewick was instantly killed and Truesdell died several hours afterward at 11 p.m.

In the hospital with serious head injuries are Robert Huebler, 10, and his uncle, Glen Truesdell, 36, son of Carl Truesdell; Brandon Adams, 18, 14259 Trinity avenue and Paul Cherechewick, 18, brother of Stephen Cherechewick.

Truesdell, his son and grandson, were riding in a sedan when the car driven by Cherechewick struck them. Witnesses told police Truesdell had stopped at the intersection and was crossing when struck by Cherechewick's car which was traveling at a high rate of speed. Both cars were hurled 60 feet, stopping in a corn field after crashing through a roadside vegetable stand.

There was a blinker warning light at the crossing. Most other highway intersections in the vicinity are protected by stop and go signals.

Truesdell operated a farm near Wayne and with his son, also a farmer, was driving to Port Huron to purchase farm implements.

Cherechewick was married and the father of a one-year-old daughter, Stella Catherine. He was employed as a crane operator and his brother and the Adams boy were riding from the Cherechewick home to their place of employment.

Finlan Office Basement Done

During the last week construction on the C. L. Finlan & Son insurance office building progressed rapidly with the basement completed and the side-walls nearly so.

The structure is being built in such a manner that additions may be made to the proposed one-story building. It is to have a 28-foot frontage on West Ann Arbor Trail and will run along Forest avenue for 38 feet. It is being constructed of cinder block and decorated with brickwork.

There will be two suites of offices in the building, one of which will be occupied by the Finlan agency, the other has not been announced.

The Finlan concern, which has been located in offices in the Mayflower hotel, will move to its new location as soon as the building is completed which is expected to be some time in September.

Methodist Picnic Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday, July 26, is the date which has been fixed for the annual mid-summer parish picnic of Plymouth Methodists.

The event will take place in Plymouth-Riverside park near the wading pool. There is going to be a good old-fashioned Methodist potluck supper. Those attending are requested to bring their own lemonade, coffee or tea.

In case the weather should be bad, the picnic will be held just the same, but it will take place in the church.

Young Republicans Elect Officers

At a meeting of the Young Republicans club held at the home of Belva Barnes, Thursday evening, July 13, the following officers were elected: Belva Barnes, president; Harry Wheeler, vice president; Carol Campbell, secretary; and William Schultz, treasurer.

Last evening (Thursday) club members and their friends had a picnic near the Mill street entrance of Riverside park.

Anyone between 18 and 25 years old who wishes to join may obtain full particulars from the president.

Stanley Norton, who has been ill for two weeks in the University hospital and confined to his home for the last week, has returned to his place of business on Penniman avenue.

Sky View of Northville Fair Ground Improvements

Many Improvements at Northville Fair Grounds

Workmen are busy these days at the Northville-Wayne county fair grounds in Northville making numerous improvements and changes necessary for this year's fair. Because of the fact that there will be running races, instead of trotting as in past years, much work has been necessary on the track and new fences have been erected. Grounds have been graded, buildings repaired and new entrances built. More improvements have been made so far this year than in any half dozen previous years.

Robinsons Back From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson and Miss Rose Hawthorne have arrived home from an automobile trip that took them through the Rocky Mountains in Colorado, Wyoming and Montana. The return trip was made through northern Minnesota, and the Upper Peninsula. Stops were made at Duluth, way up on the western tip of Lake Superior and then as far east as one can go in the Upper Peninsula, with a visit there to the Soo locks. Never forgetful of his friends, Mr. Robinson came to the office of the Plymouth Mail with a bundle of newspapers from the Rocky Mountain cities, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

"I have to keep up with these speedy times, no matter where we are," stated Mr. Robinson. The entire trip was made without mishap, the three enjoying one of the finest vacation years.

"The weather was fine all of the time except we did have one or two rather warm days," he said.

While in Colorado, the Plymouth travelers called upon Lynn W. VanVleet, former resident of this city, who owns a 12,000-acre ranch near Boulder. Mr. VanVleet left Plymouth with his father and mother when he was 17 years of age. The father, who was a well known horseman about here in the years gone by, is still enthusiastic about driving trotters and owns three of the fastest horses in Colorado. He recalls the day rates for the care of state patients.

Many Buying New Auto Plates

Plymouth people who are buying new automobiles or have not had the opportunity to purchase license plates this year may do so now for half the original price. Full-year plates were on sale at the branch office of the secretary of state at the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce office in the Mayflower hotel, July 11, for half price.

The original date for the new license sale to go into effect was on July 15, but after receiving numerous requests for advancing the date, Secretary of State Harry F. Kelley released information to the branch offices throughout the state fixing the date to July 11.

The request effecting the date were from new car buyers and vacationists who wished to take their vacation trips with full-year plates in the early part of the week instead of waiting until the 15th.

These new plates will be honored until March 1, 1940, at which time 1940 plates will be compulsory on all motor vehicles traveling on public highways.

Paul Hummel returned Sunday from a week's vacation in Sandusky and Bellevue, Ohio.

Children to See Detroit Tigers in Action

First Chance Given to Those With Best Attendance

Children who take part in the summer recreation program will have a chance to see the Detroit Tigers in action at Briggs' stadium when they play a series with the Chicago White Sox during the second week in August. Those with the best attendance will be given transportation preference.

Eighty contestants have signed for entrance in the novice tennis tournament and it is expected that over 100 will be entered by the end of the week. Pairings will be made Saturday and Plymouth's bracket will be printed in Sunday's Detroit News, so that games may be arranged for the early part of next week. There is still time to enter the tournament and entrance blanks may be obtained from recreation leaders at any of the playgrounds and at Starkweather or Central grade school.

Finals in the all-star games will be played at Central playground Thursday evening, August 3, at 6:20 o'clock. Four teams were originally picked, two from Starkweather and two from the Central league. One of the teams from Central have been eliminated and the teams from Starkweather will play July 27.

The softball leagues are only one phase of the summer recreation program and evidence of its success is shown by the number of spectators and players present at the games. There are five leagues with a total of 43 teams and at least 250 players. This is only counting those in the recreation leagues. There are also the park leagues which have not been included.

Monday, July 10, the Heitz girls slugged their way to victory in the Baker tennis by a padded score of 26-22 and the next night Thelma's swamped Barnes, 27-1.

Willoughby Wins Rotary Honors

It was rather an unusual occasion last Friday noon at the regular meeting of the Plymouth Rotary club when former President Brick Champe of the club had the privilege of presenting to Robert Willoughby, Rotary signifying 46 years of a perfect attendance record.

It is not often any Rotarian accomplishes such an excellent attendance record as this, and when one does so, it has been a practice of the organization throughout the country to present to the member a distinguishing Rotary pin.

The interesting part of the incident was the fact that Mr. Willoughby came into the club the year that Dr. Champe was its president, ten years ago, and it was a bit of thoughtfulness upon the part of President Floyd Eckles to request Dr. Champe to make the presentation.

A brief talk was made by William Hoffman of Wayne about the recent Cleveland convention. After the meeting, most of the Rotarians went to Detroit to see the Tigers take a good trimming.

Non-Stop Auto Trip From Cody to Plymouth Takes Only 24 Hours

From Cody, Wyoming to Plymouth, Michigan is some distance. Years ago it required weeks to make the trip and by train it now takes two days and almost two nights to cover the miles between these two points. But Jack Butz, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Butz, and Jack Gettleman, made the trip from Cody to Plymouth a few days ago by automobile in twenty-four and a half hours. It was a non-stop trip, except for meals. The youngsters spent their vacation out on the Pacific coast and while away they visited the San Francisco exposition.

Dr. Brisbois Family Back From Vacation

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Brisbois and son returned home Monday from a vacation trip spent in the Georgian Bay and the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Stenstrom of Detroit on their visit. Dr. Brisbois states that the trip was one of the most enjoyable vacations his family had ever enjoyed.

Swimming and fishing provided most of the recreation. Scenery in the Georgian bay is beautiful, he declares.

Finds a Five-Leaf Clover in Lawn

It is not often that one finds a five-leaf clover, especially one that is so small that only the best of eyes might see it hidden in the grass. But Edgar A. Thomas while sitting on the ground at the David Perkins place on Hamilton road the other day, found a fully developed five-leaf clover.

Plymouth Flyer Leads Air Cruise

CASS S. HOUGH

Cass S. Hough, Michigan governor of the Sportsmen Pilots association, presided over a dinner and meeting of the aviation Friday night at the Dearborn Inn.

Saturday morning, a squadron of 38 planes piloted by members of the association took off from the Wayne County Airport for a cruise to Albany, Montreal and Quebec.

The group leaving Detroit was joined at Albany by 22 planes from Pennsylvania. The 128 persons on the trip will spend a week at St. Jovite, Quebec.

Bennetts Visit Chinatown

"We've been all through Chinatown," wrote Charles H. Bennett to Plymouth friends from San Francisco the other day. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett left recently for an automobile trip to the Pacific coast where they expect to spend a few days at the exposition in San Francisco and visit other interesting places in that part of the country.

It is quite apparent that they are "seeing things" because in other cards sent to Plymouth friends, they have told of visiting several of the national parks and of trips through some of the scenic mountain country west of Denver.

Chinatown, in San Francisco, is one of the most interesting places in the country to visit. There one sees much of the way people live in the Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett are expected to return to Plymouth some time early in August.

West Is Guest of Tractor Co.

A. R. West, Plymouth implement dealer, was a guest of the McCormick - Deering Farmall Tractor company Friday at Jackson, when they showed a preview of their new Cult-Vision tractor.

The new tractor is built in such a way as to allow the driver to look straight ahead and view the work he is doing. This is accomplished by offsetting the motor to the right of the center. The cultivator is attached under and to the left of the front right wheel, thereby allowing the driver of the one-row cultivator tractor to see what he is doing, exactly in front of him, without leaning to the right or to the left.

With the culti-vision tractor, 14 to 17 acres may be cultivated a day. The tractor travels nearly five miles an hour.

The culti-vision tractor is constructed especially for working crops that are planted in rows, such as corn, cotton, beans, peas, onions, lettuce, potatoes and the like.

Being heavy on the left side, the tractor is balanced for plowing. There is sufficient weight on the left wheel to balance the traction on both wheels when the right one is in the loose soil of the furrow.

The tractor will be shown at the Northville fair, August 18, 17, 18 and 19.

Methodist Ladies Plan Social

Mrs. Miller Ross' circle of the Methodist church has planned an ice cream social to be held on the church lawn, Saturday evening, July 29.

Mrs. Ruby Terry is general chairman for the occasion and Miss Ada Daggett is in charge of the ticket sale.

Ice cream, cake and pie will be served.

Hold Band Concert on North Side

This week's band concert will be held at the corner of Starkweather and Liberty street, Saturday evening at 7:30. There will be a one hour concert followed by an important announcement from the merchants of Plymouth. The announcement calls for the attendance of everyone interested in the World Fair trips that the merchants are sponsoring.

Permits Issued for Eight New Plymouth Homes

Average Figure Does Not Come up to Last Year

Additions, alterations and miscellaneous improvements have been made to homes and commercial buildings in Plymouth to the extent of $7,120, according to the report of the building department of the city for the last two months.

Inspector Robert S. Todd of the department reports that there were four permits to build new homes during the month of May and an equal number for June. The combined estimated cost for the eight homes is $25,150. For the two months' period there were permits given for three new commercial buildings, two in May and the other two in June. The estimated cost for the commercial construction is $10,390.

During the two months' period, Plymouth residents have built or improved on their property to the extent of $42,660, making the average monthly figure at $2,133.

Residential and commercial improvement at an average of $200,000 each month brings the average yearly improvement to a figure of $2,400,000. Last year the average estimated cost of building and improvement during the two months was $23,598.50. Compared with this year's figure of $21,330, there shows a decrease of $2,268.50. Included in last year's building and improvement was one of Plymouth's largest homes and one new industrial plant. Excluding these, building for May and June for this year was done on a much larger scale.

Schrader Wins From Wayne

Schrader-Haggerty won from the B. and Builders of Wayne, 10 to 8, Sunday, in a game played on the Riverside diamond. Moinat, pitcher for the Schrader team, was replaced by Epps when he was hit by a pitched ball and carried from the field. Upon examination it was found that Moinat was not seriously injured and no bones were broken.

Wolfe formed the losing end of the battery. Bixler and Bowman worked for the losers. The feature of the game was a home run by Schryer of Plymouth in the sixth inning.

Next Sunday Schrader meets Saline at Riverside park. Saline has a twin brother battery, the Fry boys, to work for them.

Plymouth-Allen lost their game with Amazo, Sunday, at Cass Benton park. 5-4. Plymouth was leading the other team in the eighth, 4-3. Amazo had two men out in their half of the inning. Plymouth's third baseman, Drot, made a bad throw to first, allowing the runner to get on. Monday tripled to the woods in the field, scoring one man and Golin singled to between third and short, scoring Findlay with the winning run. Allen was unable to overcome the lead in their half of the ninth.

Findlay and Epstein were the winning battery and Buers and McGarry worked for Plymouth.

Plymouth-Allen plays at Garden City Sunday.

Equipment for Plant Arrives

Equipment for the new plant of the Wall Wire Products Company is arriving in Plymouth and workmen are installing it as fast as it can be unloaded from trucks and freight cars. E. L. Russell of the company stated yesterday that if the present rate of progress can be maintained he is sure that the plant will be in operation probably by the middle of September.

Improvements about the plant, such as the construction of additional office space and the building of wash and rest rooms are being completed.

The removal of the equipment of The National Window Shade company is about completed. It is being sent to the company's plant in Minneapolis, where all of the company's manufacturing work is being centered.

Townsend Club to Meet in Park

The Plymouth Townsend club held its first summer open air meeting Monday evening in Kellogg park with a good sized attendance. The next meeting will also be an open air meeting to be held in the same park Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock. Judge Edward Jeffries of Detroit will be the speaker. Officers of the club say that every one is invited to attend these meetings even though they are not members of the organization.

Society News

The first annual summer parley was held by the University of Michigan last week. Patterned after the established Spring Parley, a student-faculty discussion of present day problems, it had as its general theme, "Which Way Progress—Social Responsibility or Individualism." The parley opened with a general session after which it divided into four panels, discussing education, international relations, industry and labor and government and politics, each panel being presided over by a student chairman and having, as speakers, one representative of the faculty viewpoint and one representative of the student body. Jack Sessions, '40, was chosen to represent the student body for the panel on international relations; speaking on the subject, "The Trend of World Affairs." Professor Arthur Smith of the department of economics was the faculty speaker.

Bowling Fans Will Soon Enjoy Favorite Sport

Play to Begin by September 1, It Is Expected

Soon bowling fans from Plymouth and vicinity will be able to enjoy their favorite cool-weather recreation. The alleys, being constructed on West Ann Arbor Trail, are rapidly nearing completion and within two months play will begin.

This week the alleys are being laid. When completed, it is expected that this set of eight alleys will be among the finest in the state.

It is interesting to note the manner in which the 61-foot alleys are constructed. Contrary to all the laws of building and practicalness, they are built in a vertical position, parallel to the walls of the building. Then when one length of wood is fitted upon another until the pile becomes about four feet high, work stops on that one and the workmen go to another. The same method of procedure builds up the next alley. When all eight of them are finished they will be laid down side by side, thus forming a flat surface. The alleys will then be planned, leveled, and sanded, treated with a protective covering and shellaced. All this goes into the making of perfect bowling conditions.

When the alleys are finished an inspector from the National Bowling association is called to check them. The inspector checks over every foot of the alleys with a six-inch level and, in order to be passed by the association, the alleys must be perfectly level.

From the foul line to the head pin is a space of 203 square feet of glassy-smooth, wood surface alley. Back of the head pin is 10 and a half square feet for the remaining nine pins making a total of 231 and a half square feet in one alley. Multiplied by eight, the number of alleys in the building, the total amount of space being laid is found to be 1708 square feet. Every inch of this space will be perfectly finished to make faultless bowling conditions for this city.

Manna Blunk and Robert Todd have financed the construction of the building and the work was contracted by Paul Wood.

Locker rooms, rest rooms, storage rooms, a concession room and a pin boys' room are different parts of the building which will all go to make it one of Plymouth's newest and finest.

Plymouth Kiwanians Given Data of Crippled Children Controversy

the legislature when it reduced the medical fee rate, to break up the control that 14 orthopaedic surgeons have over all crippled child surgery in the state. We have in nearly every city very competent and able surgeons who have been denied a right to do any of the work for the commission because of the fact that they did not happen to belong to the exclusive orthopaedic society that has had absolute control of all crippled child surgery in Michigan.

Unfortunately, this whole matter has all of the appearance of just another powerful pressure group trying to get more than its rightful share of the money paid to the state by the taxpayers.

I have been interested in crippled children's work for the last 15 years or more as you well know, and I am ready to help push through the legislature a measure setting up a state hospital to take care of these cases if the private hospitals about the state should reject them as has been threatened if a higher day rate is not paid.

I think, too, your commission should find out if those in charge of the University of Michigan hospital have the authority to close the doors of this public institution to the care of any person in distress. I do not believe that they have that right—and if they have, that is a matter that should be remedied immediately.

Respectfully, ELTON R. EATON.

Truth

(By Ben W. Stewart)

Brave as the hoards of Caesar, Bold as the knights of time, Strong as the ice of the Arctic, Sweet as the fruit of the vine, Pure as the dove of the morning, Free as the path to heaven, Calm as the rest of the weary, Rich as a love freely given, Old as the oldest treasure, New as a thought in the mind, Fragrant as scent from the lily, Complete as the form of mankind, Firm as a rock in the ocean, Bright as the sun in the sky, Warm as a breeze from Sahara, Deep as a Persian dye, Swift as the light in its travel, Keen as the edge of the sword, Smooth as the oil from the Cyprus And simple as words of the Lord.

Beaten by wave and tempest, Battered by wind and rain, Rocked by volcanic eruption, Cut by the tongues of the vain, Smote by the hand of the tempter, Tossed to the ground to lie, Kicked by the foot of the wicked, Thrown in a dungeon to die, Mocked by the false and revengeful.

Soaked by the slime of deceit, Strangled by ropes of the liar, Gored by the horn of defeat, Cast at the feet of Pilate, Stoned by the ignorant mob, Chained to the oars of the galley, Stung by a passionate sob, Drowned by the leary of envy, Chased by the villains of fear, Deformed by the bearers of malice

And spurned by the youthful ear.

Wayne Women Plan to Attend Sessions of Farm Women's Week

Fourteen hobbies to pick from but plenty of time for rest and recreation are on the program that is expected to attract 750 farm women in all sections of the state for the annual Farm Women's Week at Michigan State college, July 23 to 28.

The hobbies offered an hour each morning include landscaping, literature, history, news-writing, entomology, vegetable gardening, floriculture, parliamentary usage, speech, foods and nutrition, home management and child development, clothing and home furnishings, recreation and nature study.

Somewhat in contrast, each afternoon in addition to other daily features there are to be seven clinics. These will answer specific problems of food, food, clothing, home, poultry, child development and home furnishings.

Devotional, rest periods, get-acquainted sessions, meals, recreation and opportunity to attend the summer school play are other features of the program.

To wind up the events is Friday, July 28, designated by the college as annual Farmer's Day when departments in the agricultural division and the Michigan experiment station undergo inspection of rural visitors. Some of current experimental work and demonstrations of new methods and equipment are included.

Miss Margaret Cole, Wayne county home demonstration agent, announces that the following Wayne county women are planning to attend Farm Women's Week: Mrs. Joseph Bodary, New Boston; Mrs. Broughton Fennell, New Boston; Mrs. John Chovenac, Wyandotte; Mrs. Carl Mach, Wyandotte; Mrs. George Harrison, Belleville; Mrs. Sydney Sutton, Belleville; Mrs. Edward Fauser, Romulus; Mrs. Albert Damerow, Romulus; Mrs. Walter Schimkat, Wayne; Mrs. Herman Schrandt, Flat Rock; Mrs. Ray Atkinson, Detroit; Mrs. Samuel Geraci, Northville; Mrs. Cyril Frid, Northville; and Mrs. C. M. Chase, Northville.

Mrs. Marguerite Mollack, of Los Angeles, California, who is visiting in the home of her niece, Mrs. John Wahn, of Plymouth, entertained 20 ladies at a surprise shower tea, last Friday afternoon, in honor of the latter. Refreshments were served.

Jewell's Jump Into Third Place

Most surprising was the sudden jump of the Jewell Cleaners' golf team from fifth place into a tie for third place honors with Mac's Service in the city golf league. Preceding them in the race are the Barbers with 34 points in first place and Bell Telephone with 32 1/2 in second.

Four of the teams came through last week's play by winning all five points from their opponents—Bell Telephone, Barbers, Mac's Service and Jewell's Cleaners.

Next week the teams will be entering the eleventh week of tournament play, Tuesday, July 25. Barbers will play the Plymouth Mail, Blunk and Thatcher will be up against Maybury San and Cloverdale will meet Mac's Service.

Wednesday, Bell Telephone meets Newburg Fords, Bell's Market and Metro-Life will play and Jewell's will be playing against Ken and Ork's team.

July 27, Todd's play Wild and Company and the Bakery will be matched against the Union Paper and Twine team.

At the end of the ninth week the team point standings are as follows: Barbers, 34; Bell Telephone, 32 1/2; Mac's Service, 27 1/2; Jewell's Cleaners, 27 1/2; Plymouth Mail, 27; Todd's Cash Market, 25; Newburg Fords, 24 1/2; Blunk and Thatcher, 22 1/2; Union Paper and Twine, 22; Wild and Company, 22; Sanitary Bakery, 22; Metro-Life, 20; Bell's Market, 17; Mayberry San, 13 1/2; Ken and Ork, 12 1/2; Cloverdale, 10.

Besemer Tells How to Make Homes in Country More Attractive

Rural living is not complete unless the home and its surroundings are designed and maintained attractively, points out County Agricultural Agent E. I. Besemer, Dearborn.

He suggests use in Wayne county of a new bulletin available by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State college, East Lansing. The title is "Landscaping the Home Grounds." Extension Bulletin 193, written by C. P. Halligan of the college landscape architecture department.

Plans, grading, lawns, walks and drives, plantings—all have been given space in the bulletin.

"Beautiful home grounds are a measure of good taste, of pride of ownership and enjoyment of a beautiful environment," says Professor Halligan in an introduction to the bulletin.

"Most conditions confronted in this problem are common to the resident of the city, suburb and the country. In the city or suburb, however, there usually are limitations in the selection of a building site and in the space available for development. In rural districts other limitations are apparent, such as the amount of money available for development and of labor for maintenance."

Eighteen pages are devoted to laws alone in the new bulletin.

taking up major phases of preparation, seeding, weed treatment and general care and fertilization. Forty illustrations provide pictorial aid to readers of the publication designed by the author to serve Michigan residents.

Residents Find It Difficult to Believe Their Own Eyes

Rare Cactus Blossoms Live Four Hours

Someone has said, "To see is to believe," but it is still hard for some Plymouth residents to believe what they saw in the yard of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Robison late one night last week.

Friday night marked the second time that the seven-year-old night-blooming cereus cactus plant (Cereus grandiflorus) came into blossom. This tropical plant is supposed to blossom once every year, and is liable to do so without warning.

The number of flowers govern the number of nights during which one may see the plant bloom. Each blossom stays out only for about four hours and it is not at all uncommon to have two or more of the large fragrant white flowers out at the same time as happened at the Robison home Friday night.

Last year, the first time that the plant has come into bloom since it was nursed seven years ago from a small shoot to the large plant that it now is, it had five blossoms, but there were only three this year. The first one came out Thursday evening about 9:00 o'clock and the other two blossomed Friday at the same time.

One may watch the flowers develop from an egg-shaped bud to a beautiful blossom, and then view it while it wilts. This process, in its entirety, lasts about seven hours. The blossom is about seven inches in diameter and when open is supposed to signify the scene of the Christ child in the manger. The numberless stamens represent the manger bed and the pistil looks very much like the Star of Bethlehem as it shoots out above the crib and gracefully curves over the manger, all of which is very beautiful upon a background of pure white petals.

Mr. and Mrs. Robison feel very fortunate that they have so rare a plant in this locality and they have kept it living for so long a time. Each fall, at the first suggestion of cold weather, Mr. Robison takes the plant to greenhouses of the Wayne County Training school where he is employed and brings it back to his yard late in the spring. He says that one reason that the plant had so few blossoms this year was because it was frosted by the untimely cold spell this spring. Next year he expects at least 25 blossoms.

Car Hits Culvert, Man Uninjured

Motorists thought a Willis man, Melvin Speaks, to be injured when his car ran off Ford road and hit a culvert at 4:45 Sunday morning. Although his car was wrecked, he escaped with only slight bruises.

Speaks was traveling east on Ford road, between Sheldon and Lilley, when apparently he fell asleep and his car went off the left side of the road and hit a culvert. Speaks could not get out of his car, and was released only after officers arrived to pull him from the wreckage.

An ambulance was called and Speaks was taken to the Plymouth hospital. Upon examination it was found that he was not seriously injured.

The case was out of the jurisdiction of the city police and was turned over to state policemen.

How to Avoid Swimmer's Itch

Officials of state agencies working on a program aimed at ridding Michigan's public bathing waters of "swimmer's itch" today handed out several simple easy-to-use methods of prevention.

A vigorous rubdown with a rough bath towel immediately after coming out of the water is one way for bathers to head off the irritation. Washing with a strong soap shortly after swimming is another means. Applying a lotion containing oil before entering the water also tends to minimize the effect.

This advice came from officials of the department of conservation, who are working on the problem with representatives of the Michigan Department of Health, the state stream control commission and the University of Michigan biological station at Douglas lake in Cheboygan county.

They said research had shown that some persons are immune to "swimmer's itch" and that only the lakes or streams containing extensive beds of snails of the type that carries the parasite are likely to cause trouble to bathers.

Complaints have gained number in recent years, coming from lake residents and resort interests where certain beaches were found to contain some of the free-swimming larvae which, when they attach themselves to human skin, bore under the surface and die, causing an itching similar to that of a mosquito "bite."

State officials discounted the idea that the irritation arises from pollution of lake or stream water. Extensive experiments have demonstrated, they said, that pollution will exterminate the snails bearing the parasite, rather than give support to them.

They pointed out that beach owners can head off the difficulty if they call upon the state groups to inspect their lake property for evidence of the existence of the snails. The field party operating out of the Douglas lake station is supplied with chemicals with which the water in the vicinity of public bathing beaches is treated to kill the free-swimming larvae and the snails which carry them. This unit also is on call for application of the chemical treatment process, which is not harmful to bathing facilities.

Fireman Turns in Own Fire Alarm

"What does a fireman do when his own property catches fire?" This question has often been asked by curious bystanders at a blaze but the interrogation is seldom answered.

There is only one answer to the question—he turns in the alarm, the same as you or I.

An incident such as this was brought to light last week Monday when a Redford fireman's car caught fire while parked at Phoenix park, one-half mile east of the city on Northville road.

Plymouth firemen answered the call at about 7:30 o'clock and extinguished the blaze. The car was damaged to the extent of $250.

Salem Young People Plan Busy Week

Next week will be a busy one for members of the Young People's class of the Salem Federated church when they observe their sixth annual Young People's Week.

Starting Monday evening the young people have something interesting planned for the remaining nights of the week. The first night they will go roller skating at Island lake; Tuesday evening picnic and ball game at Riverside park; Wednesday, service and tea at the church; Thursday, sight-seeing tour of the Rouge Ford plant; Friday, banquet at church; Saturday, moonlight excursion to Bob-Lo amusement park; Sunday morning, services at the church with the state secretary of the Michigan Endeavor society as speaker.

Next week marks the sixth consecutive year the Young People's class of the Salem church has observed such rites. Age limits for the class are unlimited and anyone may participate in this year's activities.

In 15 years the big game population in national forests has tripled. In a recent checkup the reports indicated three times as many of the wild animals as were found in 1924.

Jean Hamill Plays Recital

A piano recital was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herald F. Hamill, 112 Union street, by their daughter, Jean Louise, Sunday afternoon, July 16, at 3:15 o'clock.

Miss Hamill was assisted on the program by Edith Mettetal, soprano soloist, who was accompanied by Helen Bulkeley Walbridge of Rosedale Gardens, Miss Hamill's instructress.

The Hamill home was beautifully decorated with flowers lending much to the esthetic sense of the recital.

Fifty persons attended the informal program which was composed of 15 musical numbers: Miss Hamill's nine piano numbers and six solos by Miss Mettetal.

Following the recital, refreshments were served.

Last June, Miss Hamill completed her high school course and she plans to enroll in the music division of Michigan State college in the fall.

Community Sing Set for August 24

Plymouth residents may again join in community singing as they did last year in Kellogg park, August 24, at 8:00 o'clock.

Ruth Hadley will direct the singing and arrangements are being made to have this year's program even more interesting and varied than was the previous one.

"In America everybody sings; music is a common meeting ground for all races and each race brings its own songs which we, as Americans, adopt as our own. Throughout the land Americans sing: Irish, Italian, English, colored and the rest—Americans all, are all lovers of music. Community singing is becoming more and more popular each year for audiences love to participate by joining in and singing their favorite songs." Miss Hadley said.

There will be a rehearsal for all children taking part in the program today (Friday) at 2:00 o'clock in the high school auditorium. All singers and instrumentalists are urged to participate.

The patrol leaders and their assistants of Newburg Troop 1 are leaving Friday night for an overnight hike. They will be accompanied by Scoutmaster Ed Norris and Mr. Trengry. The Golden Text (John 17: 11, 17) is: "Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are. . . Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 43: 3): "O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 286): "The understanding of Truth gives full faith in Truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings."

We ought not to be content to do these things in an indifferent way, in a second-best way. There is as much reason for a man to pray that he may buy and sell well, or learn and teach well, as for Solomon to pray that he might rule well. Although Michigan produces nearly 40 per cent of the nation's white pear or navy beans, it has but a one-third share in the total production of dry edible beans, the United States Department of Agriculture reports. Another state whose total approaches that of Michigan is California, followed in lesser order by Idaho, New York, Colorado and New Mexico. Varieties include kidney beans, dry limas, the mottled brown pintos, yellow eyes, pinks, red Mexicans, great northern, California whites and cranberry beans.

Railway Wages Go Highest in 1938, Latest Report Shows

A 3.9 per cent increase in employees on the state's railroads over the number at this time last year is reported by the Michigan Railroads association. The increase nationally was 4.06 per cent. Total number of hours paid on the state's lines was 3.49 per cent greater and total compensation was 3.82 per cent greater than a year ago. The average wage of railroad employees, both nationally and in Michigan, the association reports, reached an all-time high, $1859, in 1938 or $115 or 12 and a half per cent higher than in 1929, despite the fact that the average rail employe worked five per cent fewer hours than in 1929. Working the same number of hours in 1938 as in 1929, at the average hourly rates of 1929 would have raised the annual compensation of the average rail worker about $200 above the 1929 level, the association points out. While number of employees on the nation's railroads totals 950,352, part-time employment in the last 30-day period increased to 1,054,721 the number of all rail workers who received pay. This compares with the 1938 average of 939,505 employees on U. S. railroads, the lowest average of rail employment since 1897.

Attend Meeting on Cruise Ship

Robert O. Wesley, president of the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by John MacLachlan and George Kenyon, attended the summer board meeting of the organization in Muskegon last week-end. Representatives from all of Michigan's junior chambers met at the lake city and boarded a steamer bound for an overnight cruise to Milwaukee and back. Official business was transacted on board the boat during the afternoon and the evening program was left open to guests so that they might enjoy the comforts of a ride on Lake Michigan.

English Couple Visits Relatives in City

Stopping over in Plymouth for a few days during their tour of the United States will be Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barsley of Cheshire, England. Mr. Barsley's sister, Mrs. John Birchall of Plymouth, will be hostess to the English couple during their short stay here. Mrs. Birchall went to Cleveland Monday where she met her brother and his wife Tuesday. The Barsleys arrived in this country last Friday and stayed in New York until Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Barsley will leave Plymouth Monday in order to continue their journey through the states.

VACATION JOYS ARE HERE... IN Michigan!

The time for planning your vacation is here... and the place to spend it is here too! Perfect for adults, our own State has advantages that make it a paradise for boys and girls of any age. Proof of this lies in the 225 licensed camps for children that are maintained by various organizations... State Forests and 57 State Parks... thousands of lakes and streams... many spots of educational and historic interest... endless miles of scenery that Nature must have designed for the special benefit of youthful hiking parties! Give your children a chance to know their native State. It will be good for them... and good for Michigan too! It's a comfort to know that home and family can always be reached quickly by telephone.

WHERE TO BUILD.

Plymouth is going right ahead—just as it should. In fact, its growth has been somewhat ahead of the average community of its size. But it has been a healthy, desirable development.

Many new homes have been constructed in and around this city.

Fortunately for a city of this size, we have many exceedingly desirable building lots within the city limits as well as outside. Our real estate dealers should make an effort to induce prospective home builders to purchase vacant property and build homes anywhere in this locality.

Plymouth has everything to offer—the best drinking water in the state of Michigan, paved streets, ideal schools, churches, stores, utility services, every public convenience and some of the finest shaded thoroughfares anywhere in Michigan.

There are desirable vacant lots everywhere—and most of them are held at a reasonable price.

But there is one thing our real estate dealers should always keep in mind, and that is the desirability of the home builder and the type of home to be erected. We should see to it that there are no little one or two room homes built on streets where there are attractive residences and we should see to it that the homes to be erected are in conformity with those already in existence in the neighborhood. Any real estate dealer who has the good of his city at heart works along these lines, and Plymouth fortunately has just that kind. We have no room here for the type who looks upon the dollar in his pocket of more importance than the good of the city and we should permit none of this type to locate here.

Build in Plymouth—and build NOW is about as good advice as any one can offer.

ASSESSED VALUATIONS.

There is so much interest and so much discussion these days about taxes that any information on the subject is of more than ordinary interest to the citizens of Michigan. The subject is of more than ordinary interest when it pertains to real estate assessments.

The value of property subject to general and selective property taxes in the 48 states and the District of Columbia for the year 1937 totaled $139,005,744,000, or $1,083 per capita, according to a report released June 10 by Director William L. Austin of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. This was a reduction of 14.9 per cent from the total assessed valuation reported for 1932. Only three states—Delaware, Florida, and Iowa—showed an increase in 1937 over the 1932 total valuation.

The report showed that real property valuations totaled $111,306,545,000; personal property, $21,948,040,000; and other property, $5,751,159,000. "Other property" consists largely of public utilities valuations, in 28 states, in which this type of property is not separately classified as between real and personal property.

In four states it was impossible to obtain a division of the total assessed valuation between real and personal, and the figure for real property includes both classes. New York does not assess personal property. In Ohio, some types of intangible personality are taxed upon a yield basis and other types upon an ad valorem basis, and it is impossible to obtain the assessed valuation of intangibles.

The assessed valuation reported for 1937 is that valuation, in most instances, upon which the tax levies for operating the states and local units of government for the fiscal year 1937 were made, and commonly this valuation was made in 1936. The valuation reported is the total that was subject to general and selective property taxes for the state and local units within the state. The proportion of the total valuation that was taxed by different governmental units, and the rates of taxation thereon, varied widely according to state and local legislation. In five states, there was no general property tax for state purposes, and in some other states the state levy was made on selected types of property only.

The assessed valuation may not represent the true or full value of real and personal property in the state, as in some states the basis of assessment of property is by law less than 100 per cent, and in other states assessing practice is to apply a lesser ratio of assessed to true value than 100 per cent, such ratio being accepted by a state board of equalization.

The per capita assessed valuation ranges from $1,933, in Rhode Island, to $195, in South Carolina. These figures are exclusive of the District of Columbia, having a per capita assessed valuation of $2,858. The per capita figures are, of course, affected by the varying of extent to which personality is assessed for taxes and the deviation in the ratio of assessed to true valuation of both realty and personality in the states.

The table herewith presents the assessed valuation for 1937 compared with 1932, the figures being reported by nine geographical regions and by states including the District of Columbia, in total and per capita, and in percentage of increase or decrease in 1937 compared with 1932. A decrease in the per capita valuations in 1937 compared with 1932 is reported for all but two states, these states being Florida and Iowa.

The total assessed valuation in 1932 was $163,317,104,000. A net reduction of $24,311,360,000, or 14.9 per cent, therefore, has occurred during the last five years.

For the country as a whole, the per capita valuations in 1937 and 1932 were $1,083 and $1,312, respectively. This is a decrease of $229 per capita, or a percentage reduction of 17.4 per cent, during the 5-year period.

In Iowa and North Dakota, the data for the two years are not comparable because the assessed valuations for 1937 are reported upon a different basis of assessment, in percentage of full value, than for 1932. The table does not present the legal basis of assessment, however, or the ratio of assessed to full value applied in the several states.

CONFESSION NOT ENOUGH

Having been caught sucking eggs, the National Labor Relations Board quite condescendingly announces (with reservations) that it will go and sin no more.

It proclaims modification of certain rules it arrogated to itself as long as it could get away with them, and to which it stubbornly clung until pushed by public sentiment and congressional investigation.

The whole NLRB performance has been a striking example of a bureaucracy failing to understand that ours is a government of laws, not of men. It has performed like the constable who thinks a search warrant is a lot of silly circumlocution.

That it should at this late date deign to yield in an effort to prevent amendment of the law under which it operates amounts to nothing less than an insult to a Congress that set it up.

Congress should immediately write into that law the concession the NLRB has proffered under fire, and not leave up to the NLRB the privilege of changing its mind; and to write also such other changes as are indicated by the inquiries which brought this begrudging concession from the board.

The Wagner Act should be made to function as its author intended. With it should be dovetailed a mediation system which will assure continuity instead of chaos in industry. That's a definite and obvious duty of Congress before it adjourns.

And the NLRB should be taught, by amendments to the law it administers, that Congress, the creator, and not the board, the creature, is the policy-making body of this nation; that statutes must be bureaucratic and whims and prejudices and predilections.—James Gallery in The Tusculoa County (Caro) Advertiser.

PLAYING THE MARKET

Short cuts to wealth by the stock market and grain pit have many pitfalls. It is bad enough when the gamblers use and lose their own funds. It is even worse when they use the funds of depositors or the public.

Walter P. Jacobs, until last week president of the National bank of Adrian, used and lost $126,000 of the bank's funds in the stock market. Dr. James Monroe Smith, former president of the University of Louisiana, used and lost upwards of $100,000 gambling in the grain market.

Human nature is slow of change. One would have thought that experiences of 1929 would have taught us the danger of stock market gambling. It didn't. A new crop of suckers is ready for the taking.

Whether it is bingo, slot machines, cards, horse races or the stock market, gambling is only for those who can afford to lose.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News

NOT FIT TO LIVE

It's too bad that Michigan does not have capital punishment for cold blooded murder offenses. For that's the sentence which should have been handed out to Daniel Kent, the Williamson hitch hiker who murdered a Detroit oil man after the latter had given him a "lift." The kindness that had been done meant nothing to the paroled convict nor did the life of a human being. Kent's philosophy of life is to take anything he wants even though it calls for murder.

Kent is a matured man, being 32 years old. Had he been a boy or had he killed in the heat of passion, he might be entitled to some sympathy. Receiving a life sentence which is the most severe penalty that could be meted out, this worthless criminal, who had been given a chance to reform time and time again will now have to be boarded by the tax payers of Michi-

While standing on the porch at his home west of town last Monday afternoon during the severe storm, Don Packard received an electrical shock which injured his left side and arm. For a time it was feared that serious trouble might result, but he is much improved at this writing.

Scarcely a day passes that people do not come into The Mail office and inquire as to whether there are any houses being advertised for rent in the paper. Plymouth is growing and there is a steady demand for good rentable houses, and if we expect to continue to grow and more employment is given to labor, houses must be built in which they may live. If someone does not put up some houses for rent, it is going to be a serious draw-back for our factories in the securing of labor. A number of houses could be rented today if they were available at good prices. It would seem that it would be a good investment for some of our local capitalists. A vacant house in Plymouth is as scarce as hen's teeth.

H. A. Spicer's farm home, a short distance east of town, was struck by lightning last Monday afternoon during the severe electrical storm. The lightning entered the house on the southwest corner of the roof and passed out on the northeast side of the building. Seven rooms out of nine were damaged, plaster gan and possibly released in time to kill someone else. We believe our prisons should be institutions of punishment and not persecution. We believe in trying to reform criminals but there are certain kinds that cannot be changed. The criminal who holds that human life is cheap—who kills in cold blood—is himself unfit to live. He belongs to the class that is not likely to be reformed. He should not have the opportunity to snuff out another life.—John Lignian in The Olivet Optic.

A DIRTY DIG!

United States Congressmen have just voted an appropriation of $658,500 annually to pay for a third clerk in each of their offices. With three clerks, paid for by the taxpayers, your Congressman ought to be able to get extra seeds to send back home, so that the federal government can pay you some fund for not planting it. Why not adopt the New Deal farm program and plow every third clerk under?—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

A "BALANCED" LIFE

Balanced budgets is a phrase heard frequently these days with reference to units of government, but why not balance the budget of individual human resources? Each of us has a certain amount of vitality and energy to expend, and perhaps we should budget that vitality and energy and expend it on a balanced basis. Some devote the greater part of their life's physical and mental resources along the single line of acquiring wealth, but they can do this only at the expense of failing to develop along other lines. Some exhaust themselves in the acquisition of an education; some labor only to satisfy the needs of hunger and shelter; others seek pleasure and enjoyment; but few seek to balance their life's budget so that they acquire the necessary material things, develop themselves mentally, husband their physical vigor, and acquire a spiritual experience that makes life worth while. A well balanced life is a happy life, but a life out of balance is like the unbalanced budget—it breaks you.—William Berkeley in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

Let your EYES relax, too

When your body is tired, you sit or lie down to rest. Yet seldom do your eyes get the same chance to relax as your body does. Consequently your eyes are under constant strain and your fatigue is aggravated rather than relieved. For eyestrain does cause fatigue. Have your eyes examined regularly—health and efficient vision demand it.
