

According to Lansing newspaper correspondents, Mel McPherson, chairman of the state tax commission, says he has just discovered where the legislature during its last session made some sort of a mistake in fixing the time for the beginning of the payment of the new intangible tax to the state and the termination date of collection by the cities and counties.

He further states that it was "one of the bills that slipped through in the closing rush."

He also said that a special session of the legislature was necessary to correct this "error."

The bill which was passed by the legislature providing for the collection by the state of the intangible tax instead of by the counties and cities was introduced by Senator George McCallum, of Ann Arbor, during the early days of the last session. As a matter of fact, the question was a matter of some importance in the senate debate during the 1937 session. But no action was taken however on the proposal two years ago. During last winter and spring the senate taxation committee held many hearings for the consideration of this new tax collection plan.

The measure finally passed the senate with numerous amendments, and came over to the house where the house committee on taxation discussed the measure at length.

Numerous amendments were made in committee and some on the floor of the house.

Small loan finance corporations, all of which are now in the hands of the state, are especially mentioned in this bill. Their lobbyists perched about the galleries like a lot of Florida buzzards, alert to see to it that nothing was taken from these outfits by taxation for the benefit of the state of Michigan. It is needless to say that they did a fairly good job of protecting the interests of the small loan corporations against any possible additional taxation in Michigan.

But this is getting somewhat away from the point of discussion.

There is a provision in the new law that placed the responsibility for the collection of this tax with the present state tax commission, of which Mel McPherson is chairman.

During the debate in the house on the measure, the writer opposed that proposal and objected to another $100,000 per year being appropriated to the commission for the purpose of collecting the intangible tax.

It was my suggestion, and it still is my opinion, that all state tax collecting agencies be collected by one revenue collecting department. In fact, we could take as the basis for this responsibility, the sales tax department. The state could consolidate all of these tax collecting agencies in one tax department, save hundreds of thousands of dollars and get all of the tax money due the state.

Most of the members who spoke on the question agreed that this is the right course and that it should sooner or later be taken. But because of so many other pressing legislative problems, the taxation committee, stated its chairman, John B. Smith, did not think it advisable just at that time to revise the bill to include the consolidation of all tax collecting agencies.

That in brief, tells why the present useless state tax commission has an interest in the collection of the intangible tax.

The chairman of the state tax commission knows during the entire session of the legislature that the prospects of passing the new law providing for the state collection of the intangible tax were a practical certainty.

He knew, too, that the prospects of passing a bill at the last session providing for consolidation of all tax collecting agencies were not good because of the fact that there had been little consideration given to this important question and the members of the legislature do not ordinarily pass such extensive legislation without more previous consideration.

Knowing these facts, what did the chairman of the state tax commission do about the intangible tax bill when it was pending?

As the executive of this commission he is supposed to be an authority on all tax matters. In fact, in that capacity, he should be the one to know all about all tax bills, whether they are right or wrong, whether there are any loop-holes in the measures, whether they are just and equitable, or not, and whether they should be introduced by the outgoing authority on all tax matters and legislation pertaining to taxation problems.

But is he?

And what did he do about the intangible tax problem when it was up for consideration?

During the time this tax bill was pending in the legislature, he was spending his time running errands about Lansing for his Kent county boss, he was dabbling into welfare legislation, even though the legislature had no interest in the proper solution of this grave question, and he was helping the political convention boss drive into a senate caucus the writer's proposal to give HONESTLY elected convention delegates a right to exercise (Continued on Page 4)

Plymouth Resident Catches Probably Biggest Bass Ever Taken in State

Fish Weighing Nearly Nine Pounds Caught Saturday

While most of Plymouth's fishermen travel hundreds of miles away from home to try and get the "big ones" Jack Weed, 382 South Harvey street, editor of The Automotive Service publication in Detroit, fishes right at home and catches probably the biggest bass ever taken out of a Michigan lake.

Not only does he get the big ones, but present indications are that he is going to walk away with all of the prizes that have been offered for the biggest big mouth bass that has been caught in the country during the present fishing season.

Last Saturday while fishing in Crooked lake, he stated just a few miles west of South Lyon he hooked and landed an eight and three quarter pound big mouth bass.

He was spating along a lily bed, using a five-ounce casting rod, with a small frog for bait. But this is not the only big bass that Editor Weed has caught during the present season. A few weeks ago while casting one evening with a white bass bug, he landed a five and a half pound small mouth bass in the same lake.

His latest catch is being mounted.

Killed While Helping Friend Drill a Well

Freak Accident Takes Life of Milford Lockwood

A metallic well drill coming in contact with a high power tension line caused the instant death of Milford Lockwood Wednesday noon on the Ralph Carr property on Warren road.

Lockwood, who was 19 years old, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Lockwood who reside on Joy road just south of Plymouth. He had gone to the Carr home to assist Mr. Carr drill a new well and was standing on the ground, helping to lift the drill into the well casing when it hit a tension wire.

The youth standing on wet ground received the full impact of the power and was killed instantly, although the power passed through Mr. Carr's hands higher up on the drill and yet did not affect him. Mr. Carr was standing on a wooden scaffolding.

Help was immediately called after the accident and artificial respiration was applied for several hours to no avail.

Announce Doubles Tourney Winners

Winners in the men's and women's doubles tennis tournament were announced this week by Lester Daly and Leo Van Bonn who supervised and made the matches.

Bill Bake and Dunbar Davis won the championship in the men's division and Norma Coffin and Dorothy Barnes eliminated all players in the women's bracket.

In Davis' and Bake's climb to the men's championship they drew a by in the first round. A team of Colman and Hansen were first taken by Davis and Bake, 8-6, 6-3. They next met McClain and Parenter and won, 6-3, 6-3. In the finals Woodworth and Simmons were taken, 6-1, 6-3.

Coffin and Barnes climbed to the top by defeating Hartling and Squires 6-1, 6-0, in their first match. Secondly, Smith and Wellman were left by the wayside, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5; and in the championship match Coffin and Barnes defeated Heintz and Arnold 6-4, 8-6, 8-2.

Rotarians Hear U. S. Army Colonel

Col. LeRoy Pearson, in charge of United States Army State affairs in Michigan and affiliated with the Michigan National Guard headquarters and Lansing, appeared before the Rotary club Friday at their noon-day luncheon meeting.

Col. Pearson addressed the club on the subject of "National Defense and the Michigan National Guard." Plymouth Rotarians heard the details of the army's defense from one who is directly connected with it. Also they were told the purpose and plans of the Michigan National Guard. In view of the present European crisis, Rotarians expected Col. Pearson to dwell on that subject, but instead he talked only about the United States army and divisions of it.

England Ready for Long War, Says Returned Visitor

Percy Angove Tells of Determination of People

"We are ready. It's a war that we knew was coming and we might as well fight it out now as later," is the universal sentiment of all the people of England, according to Percy Angove, well known in Plymouth and a resident of Northville who arrived at his home Saturday night from London where he has spent the summer.

Mr. Angove, a former director of education at the Wayne County Training school and for the last six years executive secretary of the Michigan Crippled Children's society, went to London in June to attend the fourth world congress of Workers for Crippled Children. Following the end of the conference, he spent several weeks visiting with relatives and old friends he had known in London for 25 years. Mr. Angove came to America in England when a young man and this was his first visit back to his native country.

"There is no fanfare in England about this war. No marching bands, no cheering. The people seem to look upon the conflict as a long, dreadful duty that has been forced upon them by the mad desire of one person to rule all of Europe," said Mr. Angove.

"But everywhere you go one finds a willingness and a determination among the English people that is nothing more than amazing. This time they are out to really end war for all time, if such a thing is possible.

"England is not only determined, but she is prepared. When the war started 26 years ago, England, like the other allies, was caught unprepared. It is different this time. It is apparent from what they say that they have known for the last three or four years that Hitler was bound to force the conflict and so they are now ready for it.

"You can see anti-aircraft guns on the tops of nearly every building in London. The country is ready for the war it now finds itself in, business in London and elsewhere in England seems to be going along as usual. The people do not seem excited. They have long expected what has happened and their one determination now is to see to it that it is ended as quickly as possible," said Mr. Angove.

At the crippled children conference he attended, there were 41 different countries represented. There is no permanent organization for the first time. The International Association For The Crippled, with Paul King, of Detroit as its first president.

Mr. King, long active in Rotary club affairs, was the sponsor of the crippled children movement in this country that has brought so much benefit to thousands and thousands of children. He now seeks to induce other countries to bring the example of American bringing relief to these unfortunate boys and girls.

Mr. Angove declared that the United States was far in the lead of all other nations in this humane effort.

Sugar Shortage Hits Plymouth as Result of Buying

Sugar hoarders raised havoc with the sugar supply in Plymouth Tuesday. In fact, so great was the demand for sugar that the nightfall some of the grocery stores had practically no left.

One merchant declared that the demand was far greater than it was during the previous war when there really was a sugar shortage.

"But this time, I can't figure it out. There is no shortage of sugar. There are no prospects of a shortage. The demand being made by the people is the thing which is sending the price skyward. Not only are they buying up all the sugar we can get, but even flour is now in extra demand. It all goes to show what war will do," stated one local retailer who did not care to have his name mentioned.

Along with this terrific demand for both sugar and flour, there has also been a steady price increase, and if people keep on buying up reserve supplies, the price is bound to go higher, state merchants.

Plymouth is not the only place where people are buying up extra supplies of sugar and flour. Reports tell of similar conditions in practically every village and city in the country.

REGISTERED GUERNSEY BOUGHT BY ARCHIE KING

A registered Guernsey cow has recently been sold by Lester D. King, of Dearborn, to Archie King, of Plymouth. The animal is Rockland's Bonnie, Milkmaid 568908, according to The American Guernsey Cattle club, Peterborough, New Hampshire.

High District Official of Rotary Clubs Soon to Visit Plymouth Organization

ERNEST H. CHAPPELLE

Plymouth Rotarians will soon make plans for the annual visit of District Governor Ernest H. Chappelle, of Ypsilanti, states Eloy Eckles, president of the Plymouth club.

"We expect that our district governor will be with us sometime in October. We plan to have one of the best meetings of the year when he is here for his official visit," states Mr. Eckles.

District Governor Chappelle has, for years, been one of the most active Rotarians in Michigan. He has been especially interested in crippled children work.

Previous to coming to Ypsilanti where he is superintendent of public instruction, he held a similar position in Charlotte. Besides being regarded as one of Michigan's most active Rotarians, he is one of the state's outstanding educators.

Traffic Tickets Decrease During Month of August

Police Issue 63 Tickets—10 Less Than July

Traffic violations for the month of August were not as heavy as they were in July, Police Chief Vaughan E. Smith announced Saturday. A decrease of 10 violation tickets was seen when the monthly report was made.

Speeding was the cause for 30 tickets to be issued by Plymouth officers. This figure is six lower than that for the month of July.

The failure to have an operator's license was cause for the next largest number of tickets to be reported. During August there were nine persons who failed to show their licenses when asked by policemen. This violation is one less than for July.

Plymouth police issued eight tickets for failure to stop at a stop street intersection. Two additional tickets were issued in July.

Overtime parking was cause for four tickets. Two tickets were issued for improper parking and reckless driving in August.

One person was arrested for passing a moving vehicle on the wrong side of the road and another disregarded a red light and was given a ticket.

Sixty-three tickets were issued in all and a total of $231 was exacted for fines. Of this, $153 was collected and $78 is pending.

There were two felony cases reported and one was cleared. All reported cases of misadventure cases were cleared. Twenty-eight lodgers were accommodated in jail. Four dogs were impounded and six were killed.

Two persons were reported missing; twenty-six doors were found open in the business district by inspecting officers.

The police department issued 14 chauffeur's licenses and 154 driver's licenses. Forty-five persons requested a change in address to the department.

Three guns were registered and one person was given a gun permit. Three street lights were reported out.

Five Plymouth residents requested special attention to be given to their homes while they were away from the city.

It was reported that 12 peddlers were in the city during August and nine complaints were received concerning dogs.

Announce Third Annual Plymouth Golf Tourney

Casey Partridge, pro-manager of the Hilltop Country club, announces that the third annual Plymouth championship golf tournament will be played there and will start Sunday, September 10.

Lionel Coffin, champion for the last two years, will be defending his championship against other Plymouth golfers.

The match play tournament will be open only to players from Plymouth and vicinity. There will be championship, consolation, first, second and third flights. Winners of each flight will be awarded trophies. Other prizes will be given.

Sunday Bowling Amendment by Third Reading

Plymouth to Bowl on Sabbath, Sunday, October 1

The third reading of the proposed amendment to a city ordinance prohibiting bowling on Sunday was read and approved at the city commission meeting Monday evening.

The amendment as approved now reads, "No billiard room or bowling alley shall be operated or be open to the public between the hours of 11:45 p. m. and 7:00 a. m. on any day nor between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 1:00 p. m. on Sundays."

The Parkview Recreation alleys will be open to the public for the first time on Sunday afternoon, October 1. In previous years Plymouth bowling or billiard halls were not open on Sundays.

The present action to open the halls for a few hours on Sundays came as a result of the appearance of Robert Todd and Manna Blunk at the city commission meeting a month ago.

They requested that their new alleys be allowed to open on Sunday. City officials could see no reason for keeping them closed, as Plymouth bowlers were in the habit of going to neighboring cities to bowl on Sunday.

For the last three consecutive meetings the proposed amendment has been read and approved by the city commissioners.

It has been proved that bowling is one of the cleanest forms of recreation there is, and there is nothing questionable about it. It was because of this that commissioners saw fit to amend the city ordinance which prohibited Sunday bowling.

10 New Homes to Be Built in Plymouth

Ten permits were issued to build new homes during the month of August, announced City Manager C. H. Elliott, Tuesday evening at the city commission meeting. The total estimated value of these homes is $42,350.

A permit was given to Jack Miller for a $1,400 commercial building, which is to be an addition to his present business building.

Estimated valuation of additions, alterations and improvements amounted to $4,512 for the month. The total estimated value of additions and improvements being made in Plymouth this month is $48,282.

A. Myers expects to build a $150 garage at 904 West Ann Arbor trail. A $3,000 home will be built by D. Gruber at 604 South Harvey street and a home will be built by C. Dick at 624 Auburn for $4,300 and another at 357 Pacific for $4,500.

At 1008 Roosevelt, J. D. McLaren will have a $4,800 home built and John Henderson expects to build a house at 725 Auburn for $4,500. A $4,350 house will be constructed by William Kirkpatrick at 1274 Williams and Allen Giles will build a home estimated at $4,900 at 324 Auburn.

Four $4,000 homes will be built by the Vernon Pilgrim company. They will be at 650 Pacific, 600 Pacific and 550 Pacific.

Paul Thompson has a permit to build a $800 garage at 767 South Main and Knut Gustafson expects to have a $150 garage at 472 Adams street.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Dubee and Doris, motored to Mackinac Island for the week-end and on Saturday attended the Democratic State Central committee banquet at Grand Hotel.

School Attendance Reaches A New High

Over 1700 Are Now Enrolled

Total to Go Higher, Say School Administrators

Enrollment figures show an increase of 85 students in the Plymouth public schools this year as compared with the figures of the first day of a year ago.

There were 1701 students enrolled Tuesday while for the opening day last year the figure was 1676. First day enrollment at Starkweather grade school for both last year and this year was 298. Central grade school experienced a decrease of 21 students this year but the high school increased 46 students.

At the high school there are 913 enrolled; at Central grade school, 490; and 288 at Starkweather.

Superintendent George Smith expects at least 50 more students to enroll in the Plymouth schools by the end of this week, according to late enrollment figures of last year.

Tuesday, free textbooks were distributed throughout the grades. Students in high school received Tuesday morning and regular classes were in session in the afternoon.

Asks Residents to Water Trees

Although there has been a quantity of rainfall the last week, City Manager Elliott requests property owners to water the young trees on their property.

Some of these trees were set out by the city and others were planted by the property owners. It is impossible for the city to undertake watering of the young trees as often as they should be taken care of.

It has been noticed that many of the young trees in the city are dying all because of lack of water. It is thought by city officials that when residents are watering their lawns, it would be little or no trouble at all for water to be turned on these trees in their yards.

"Residents should have enough civic pride to keep these trees alive," Mr. Elliott said. "Eventually they will grow into beautiful shade trees if proper care is given them at this period of their lives."

Flower Show to Be Held Today

The people of Plymouth and vicinity are reminded to attend the Flower show being held this (Friday) afternoon and evening and also Saturday afternoon and evening in the Central grade school auditorium. They are also urged to exhibit flowers, the same to be brought to the school before 12:30 p. m. Friday so that they may be judged before the opening of the show at 1:30 p. m.

The ladies have worked hard to have the show a success but do need the cooperation of those having flowers that they could show. Several of our local florists plan to exhibit.

Mrs. John Dalton and her committee members, Mrs. Ralph Lorenz, Mrs. Max Trucks, Mrs. C. E. Elliott and Mrs. Harvey Whipple and many other members of the unit will be on hand to receive all exhibits and act as hostesses during the show. There will be no admission charge.

R. J. McDowell to Address Kiwanis

R. J. McDowell, director of merchandising, education and training for the Socony-Vacuum Oil company, has been selected as the speaker for the Kiwanis club meeting to be held at the Mayflower hotel next Tuesday evening, September 12.

His subject will be "The Responsibility of an Individual for the Success of any Business."

Mr. McDowell, who is a resident of Rosedale Gardens, was a recent featured speaker at the state convention of Kiwanis International held at Charlevoix. His address at the convention, say delegates who were present, was one of the highlights of the sessions.

His appearance before the Plymouth club is the result of the efforts of James Sessions, an enthusiastic member of Kiwanis.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Blair, of Ann Arbor Trail, spent the Labor day week-end at Kincardine and Tiverton, Ontario visiting the old homestead of his great-grandparents.

Fall Recreation Program Started

The fall recreation program for young people starts out this year with a roller skating party Friday night at the Methodist church. The admittance fee is small and the hours are from 7:00 to 9:30. All young people in high school are invited. On Saturday night a recreation dance will be held in the city hall. This is the first dance of the season and it is expected that there will be many young people attending; however if the attendance is large enough to warrant the change, larger quarters will be found. There will be at least one recreation dance each week during fall and winter so the young people in Plymouth may plan on a dance each Saturday night.

The girls' clubs are starting the fall and winter program with many varied activities. The Cardinal club is having an election of officers this Friday at 4:00 o'clock in the grade school auditorium and the Jay club spent Thursday afternoon at Silver Lake where they enjoyed swimming with a wicker roast later. They plan to have a hay ride at Silver Lake.

The Junior American Citizens' clubs of Central and Starkweather schools are having elections of officers also. The Starkweather club will hold its first fall meeting next Tuesday at 3:30 in the school and the Central club will have its meeting Wednesday in the auditorium. The clubs are planning on hay-rides, hikes, wicker roasts, picnics and indoor parties for their fall activities.

During the fall the girls plan to raise money for their activities by bake sales, collection and sale of papers and magazines, and by giving a musical program. The money raised will be used to furnish transportation for the clubs. Then, too, the girls are already planning on camp for next summer and will earn all of the money needed.

Pigskin Toters Report for Work

Sixty-six candidates for high school football reported to Coach Anthony S. Matulis Tuesday. They were issued equipment and practice started immediately.

With only a few veterans back this year, Coach Matulis will have to build a comparatively green team around these men.

Tuesday at the Plymouth Rocks' first session with their new coach, most of the time was devoted to getting the feel of the ball, conditioning exercises and a light drill practice.

Wednesday and Thursday the coach stressed blocking and tackling and today he expects to hold the first scrimmage of the season.

The Rocks have a quantity of new equipment which has been issued. The old uniforms have been reconditioned and every man out is adequately protected against injury.

Coach Matulis thinks if the boys will take their training seriously, there will be fewer injuries to players this year.

Most injuries are caused from improper training. Not only does the person injured lose out, but also the school, as a man on the sideline is of no use to the team on the field.

The Rocks in their first few practices look like winners. Coach Matulis says that every boy out for the team will have a fair chance to make it. He is especially interested in those who haven't played a great deal of football, making this term of practice as they are the ones who will carry the pigskin to victory for Plymouth high school in years to come.

PURE ENOUGH for your baby!

Rexall Milk of Magnesia

Puretest Epsom Salt is an old friend of your doctor. For it's the Epsom Salt with a new degree of refinement. Puretest's extra refinement removes much of the bitterness and unpleasantness that you find in many other brands of Epsom Salt. Why take other less purified salts when you can get Puretest?

If you could see Rexall Milk of Magnesia under the microscope you'd see why we call it pure enough for baby. Rexall uses a special extra-care process that removes the sharp crystals. All Milk of Magnesia are not processed this way. Rexall is pleasant to take too—free from earthy taste. And, of course, you get more for your money with Rexall. Be sure to ask for Rexall Milk of Magnesia.

EASY CANNING
Free Demonstration!

The afternoon of September 8 on our Sales Floor in Plymouth you may see a free demonstration of Oven Canning—the effortless, easy canning method. You will enjoy seeing the fine results so easily obtained.

Old fashioned canning really was a mess, wasn't it? A hot steamy kitchen—spills, and boil overs—steam everywhere. Even some so-called modern ranges due to uneven heat, ups and downs of temperature—caused boil overs with oven canning.

Only Modern Gas Cookery, with its even heat, gives the ideal conditions for oven canning. With the Modern Gas Range oven canning is easy, steam free, effortless, cool, and simple. With less hours in the kitchen, you are assured of perfect results. Come in and see the actual demonstration.

Builders Announce Bowling Alleys to Open Tuesday

Special Events Scheduled for First Night

Robert Todd and Manna Blunk, builders of Plymouth's new bowling alleys, the Parkview Recreation, announce that the alleys will be opened for play, Tuesday, September 12.

Jim Ford, oldest bowler in the Plymouth leagues, will be honored by being allowed to roll the first ball down the new alleys. This ceremony will take place at 7:30 p.m.

Following the ceremonies, the Plymouth Rocks' bowling team, the oldest team in the league, will roll a match with a women's team from Detroit. The Rocks are composed of William Lomas, Harry Lush, Bill Downing, Homer Williams and Matt Fowell. Open bowling will follow the initial ceremonies.

It is reported that these alleys are among the finest and most up-to-date in this part of the state. All new equipment has been used, and both the exterior and interior of the building have been decorated with care. Mr. Todd, manager of the building, said that there will be a meeting of team captains, Tuesday, September 5. This meeting has been called to make arrangements for the league games which will be played at Parkview this fall and winter. Reservations should be made soon," Mr. Todd said in explaining the system of setting aside certain times for league teams to play and practice.

Casey Partridge will manage the concession room which is included as part of the building. Soft drinks, tobaccos, lunches, ice cream and candy will be available.

This week, finishing touches are being put on the building interior. Last minute painting, sanding and a general cleaning are being done.

The Backus Automatic Pin setters are in place, also the backstops. Other equipment, such as the ball return tracks, racks, checks and post at the front of the tracks are made by the American Bowling and Billiard corporation.

The alleys have been approved by the National Bowling association, a fact in itself which means that conditions are perfect for bowling. In order for the alleys to be approved by this association, each foot has to be carefully checked for levelness and surface perfection. With this approval, the Parkview Recreation bowling alleys may be used for tournaments.

It is planned that from 15 to 18 persons will be employed at the building, including pinsetters, workers to keep the alleys in condition, janitors and concession room clerks.

Special materials have been used in the construction of the building to make it practically sound proof. Porous material is used for ceiling coverage, a heavy drop is to be used in front and behind the pits to further deaden sound.

A number of chairs and benches have been installed, making ample room for spectators to be seated comfortably while watching bowling activities.

Every item to make bowling conditions perfect has been arranged for and not one thing will be left undone when play begins Tuesday.

ONE-PIECE MEALS WITH MACARONI

(See Recipe Below)

One-Piece Meals

Lucky is the homemaker who has in her recipe file a series of suggestions for "one-piece meals."

After a long, lazy afternoon at the beach, or perhaps a busy day with sugar 'nd spice, and the preserving kettle, the meal that can be prepared and served all in one course is a life-saver.

And what food can you find that lends itself as aptly to this type of meal as macaroni and its closest kin? These foods, including spaghetti and noodles, as well as macaroni, are high in food energy and contain a some building and appetizing—the kind of food that's needed to meet the requirements of summer. Served with a green salad or a fruit dessert, any of these "one-piece" macaroni dishes make highly satisfactory meals.

Macaroni-Cheese Salad (Serves 4-5)

- 2 cups cooked macaroni
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 2 eggs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons green pepper (chopped)
- ½ cup cheese (grated)
- 1½ cups tomatoes
- ½ cup melted butter
- 1½ tablespoons prepared mustard
- Dash celery salt, onion salt, and white pepper

Mix all ingredients in order listed. Pour into a greased baking casserole. Bake 35 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Unmold carefully and serve.

Spaghetti Ring With Asparagus and Eggs (Serves 8)

- 1 8-ounce package spaghetti
- 1 cup cooked ham (ground)
- ½ clove garlic (chopped)
- 2 tablespoons pimiento (chopped)
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 eggs (beaten)
- ½ cup coffee cream

Filling: 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup cooked asparagus (cut), 2 hard cooked eggs (sliced). Break spaghetti and cook until tender in 2 quarts boiling water to which 1 tablespoon salt has been added. Drain and add to it the ground ham, garlic, pimiento, salt, pepper, eggs and cream. Pour into buttered ring mold, place in shallow pan of hot water, and bake at moderate temperature (350 degrees) for about one hour.

To make the filling, melt the butter in a saucepan and add flour. Blend thoroughly and then add milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add seasonings and lightly stir in the asparagus. Fill center of spaghetti mold with the creamed asparagus and garnish with slices of hard cooked eggs.

Baked Macaroni-Cheese Style (Serves 4-5)

- ½ package elbow macaroni
- 2 tablespoons onion (minced)
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 green pepper (minced)
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ pound country style sausage
- ½ cup soft bread crumbs (stale)

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Brown the onion in the butter; add green pepper and tomatoes. Add sugar and salt, and cook until the green pepper is tender. Make the sausage into small fat cakes. In a buttered casserole, place a layer of macaroni, then a layer of sausage, and another layer of macaroni. Pour the tomato mixture over this. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 45 minutes.

Macaroni Supreme (Cook ¼ pound macaroni (broken in 3-inch lengths) in boiling salted water until tender; drain. Cut 2 thin slices smoked ham in two crosswise. Arrange strips of macaroni on ham. Put ¼ teaspoon horseradish on each portion and sprinkle with ½ cup grated cheese. Roll and tie in position. Place close together in shallow baking dish. Cover with ½ cup milk and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) for 25 minutes. Uncover and continue baking until ham is lightly browned. Serves 4.

Scov. (Serves 6)

- ¼ pound bacon (sliced)
- 2 onions (medium size)
- 1 pound round steak (ground)
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- 1 8-ounce package spaghetti
- 1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper

Cut bacon into small pieces and cook until crisp in a large skillet. Remove bacon bits, brown the sliced onion in the hot fat, and finally take out the onion slices and use the remaining fat for browning the ground meat, breaking it into small bits as it cooks. Then pour in the tomatoes, and allow the mixture to simmer until it is fairly thick. Next add the spaghetti, which has been broken into 2-inch lengths and cooked until tender in boiling salted water. Then add the can of corn, the browned onions, and crisp bacon bits, and the seasoning. Allow this mixture to simmer slowly for another half hour, covered.

their responsibilities in nominating candidates for high state offices.

In fact, he was doing everything except to attend to his own official business for which he is paid good tax dollars by the people of Michigan.

Now some one (not McPherson) has discovered that in the bill passed by the legislature there might be a brief period in one year when the intangible tax might not be collected.

What does the messenger boy of the Kent county boss do about it?

Of course, he runs excitedly right to the newspaper boys to tell them all about the "flaw in the act."

He tells the newspapers that this error, (if one exists) "seems sufficient reason to ME to call a special session" of the legislature.

"Me"—Mel McPherson—says he has no record of how much local committees are collecting from this intangible source at present.

As tax commissioner of the state, why doesn't he know?

He has $100,000 or more per year to spend. Why hasn't he collected proper tax data for the information of the state?

Have you ever seen a report of his department?

If you have, did you ever find a worth-while idea pertaining to the taxation problem in it?

Of course not.

There are plenty of reasons why the legislature should be convened in extra session, and one of them should be the passage of a bill to provide for the immediate termination of such a useless agency as the state tax commission has proven to be in recent years—and at the same time consolidate the various state tax agencies and collection departments into one tax revenue department.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Mallett, of Northville road, were pleasantly surprised last Sunday afternoon on their 40th wedding anniversary when 30 guests from Birmingham, Royal Oak, Romulus, Pontiac, Wayne and Plymouth came with well filled baskets to help celebrate the occasion. A 8:00 o'clock dinner was served, the guests seated at three large tables made attractive with garden flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mallett of Royal Oak, son and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Mallett, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Wilkinson, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Clara Mooney, of this city, planned the surprise which was complete in every detail. A large wedding cake decorated with miniature bride and bridegroom and trimmed with tiny rosebuds was placed on the table for Mrs. Mallett to cut. As she started to do so she discovered that it was of a solid silver design that could not be cut. The jest caused much merriment. Mr. and Mrs. Mallett were the recipients of many cards and flowers from friends.

See Submarine Raised From Sea

Plymouth People Back From Trip

Mrs. William Simpson and two sons, Robert and Stanley Blondell, returned Labor Day from a 15-day motor trip which took them through 14 states. Mrs. Simpson and the boys left Sunday, August 20, on the 3,200-mile trip.

They went east on a northern route, stopping first at Niagara Falls. From there they motored through the Adirondack mountains and northward to Lake Placid. The winter sports center at this season of the year accommodates tourists, resorters and sightseers.

At Ticonderoga, New York, they visited the old fort at the head of Lake Champlain, built by the French in 1755. The fort is constructed from large cement blocks and still stands as it originally was built to ward off hostile Indians and later used in the Revolutionary War. The walls are about 20 feet high.

The Plymouth people then visited Dartmouth university at Hanover, New Hampshire.

In Maine, Mrs. Simpson and her sons saw the successful raising of the submarine, Squalus, near the navy yards at Portsmouth. Although they were not admitted to the yards proper, they viewed the operations through field glasses from the shore.

Nearing Boston, Massachusetts, they visited the battle fields of Bunker Hill and the museum showing relics of the battle.

Many interesting things were seen in Boston. The navy yards, museums, places of national importance and the quaintness of the old city made it one of the most interesting stops on their eastern trip.

The people of Plymouth, Massachusetts, were very interested in the family which had come from Plymouth, Michigan. Most of the people they met in that historical Plymouth had heard of the Michigan city and were interested in learning more about it.

"The White Stone bridge crossing the Hudson river at New York City is just what its name implies, constructed wholly of white stones and a beautiful sight to see," Mrs. Simpson said. It is the new bridge at the end of the 60-mile Merritt parkway drive from Connecticut to New York City.

They were in New York six days during which time they visited the World's Fair, Grant's tomb, statue of liberty, and took the 35-mile trip along the Hudson river to White Plains, New York, on Riverside drive. They also went to the top of the Empire State building from where they could see all of New York City and the surrounding territory.

Mrs. Simpson and sons also stopped at Baltimore, Maryland. At Annapolis, they were shown the United States Naval academy where they went through many of the buildings, boats and training ships.

No cameras were allowed to be carried into the Boston or Brooklyn Navy yards.

The White House, Capitol and United States supreme court buildings were visited at Washington, D. C.

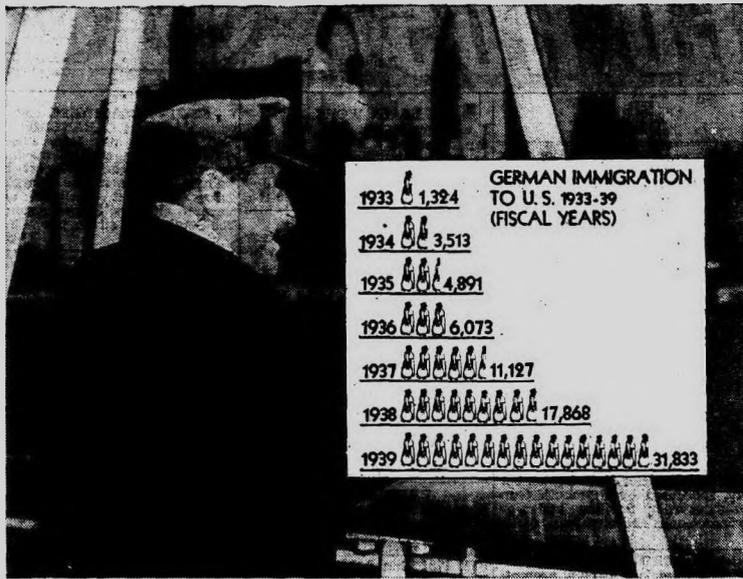

The monuments in memory of Washington and Lincoln and Arlington National cemetery were also seen at Washington.

At Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, they took the 27-mile parkway drive through the famous battle fields. The battle of Gettysburg is shown in miniature in the museum there. The model is electrically controlled and shows the movements of each army at the time of the battle.

Before returning home, they visited friends and relatives at Llkens, Pennsylvania.

Of the three who took the trip, each thought of different places

Mrs. Leo Wright entertained a few guests Saturday evening as a surprise to her husband, whose birthday anniversary occurred on that day. The evening was happily spent in playing crazy bridge after which a delicious waffle supper was enjoyed. Those enjoying the hospitality of the Wrights were Mr. and Mrs. Roth- ernel and Mr. and Mrs. Cook, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wesley, of Plymouth.

The members of the Junior contract bridge club will entertain this (Friday) evening at a steak roast in the home of Mrs. Lisle Alexander, as a farewell to Mrs. Goodwin Crumie, who with Mr. Crumie will spend some time at Traverse City. Following the supper the evening will be spent in the home of Mrs. Ralph West.

A delightful shower was given by Viola Luttermoser, Friday evening, in honor of Mrs. Burton Greenman of Plymouth. There were 16 present from Wayne and Plymouth who enjoyed cards for a time after which a dainty luncheon was served. The luncheon table was beautifully decorated in pink, blue and white.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hammond and daughters, Carol and Dorothy, plan to attend the wedding of Marjorie Armstrong, of Wayne, and Thomas Black, of Detroit, which will take place Saturday evening in the Methodist church in Wayne. Dorothy will act as bridesmaid at the wedding.

The North American Beauty and Fashion Hairdressers association is holding its show in the Book-Cadillac hotel, October 8, 9 and 10. Hairdressers from all over the United States will attend this large show and the Pursell Publishing company of this city is having two booths.

On Tuesday the Cassa Leonard Howe and the Sutherland-Gardner club of Wayne county will have a picnic dinner in Riverside park.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Herrick and Mrs. M. M. Willett were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Ida Eckles, in her home on Ball street. Later they enjoyed supper in the Herrick home on Bradner road.

The new members of the Eastern Star, taken in the last year, are to have a dessert bridge and "500" party Wednesday afternoon in the Masonic Temple, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hondorp and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbe and children were in Grand Rapids over the week-end and attended the annual reunion of the Hondorp family.

Mrs. John Wiggins, of Flint, and two children spent the week with her sister, Mrs. William Keeler, of North Holbrook street; also her brother, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, of Joy road.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ascott and Mr. and Mrs. Olivia Williams were entertained at dinner and cards Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Freshney, in Detroit.

Miss Evangeline Pursell, sister of Roy Pursell, has returned to Detroit from Caro, Michigan, to resume her teaching after spending the summer with her mother, who has been ill.

Master Billy Bieter, of North Harvey street, has returned home from St. Louis after visiting his aunt there.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pankow and daughter, spent Monday with Mrs. Pankow's mother in Northville.

Harold Perkins, of Niagara Falls, is visiting with his sister, Mrs. Roy Pursell of North Harvey street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ottwell were dinner guests, Monday of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clemmons, in Ann Arbor.

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Burton Greenman were hosts at supper, entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brewer and son, David, of Wayne, Alice and Mildred Gilbert, of Newburg, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mr. Brewer.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple and sons, Edson and Elmer Hus-ton, were Sunday guests of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Logan, at their lodge at North lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Smith attended the races, Monday at the Detroit Yacht club as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner, of Dearborn.

Miss Waunita Adams and Mr. and Mrs. John Oldenburg and family spent Sunday in Jackson, While there they viewed the Cascades.

Betty Winborn, Mary Jane Wilson, Katherine Brown and Mr. and Mrs. John Buckborough bicycled from Birmingham to Plymouth and back again, Sunday, and were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Smith on South Harvey street.

Town Hall Series Starts on Oct. 11

Plymouth residents who are patrons of the Detroit Town Hall series will be interested in knowing that Duninger, the mind reader whose experiments in telepathy have amazed the scientific world, will open the 1939-40 schedule in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday, October 11, at 11 a. m. In his lecture, "Unveiling the Mysteries of the Telepathic Mind," he will include some of the demonstrations which amazed Thomas A. Edison, the Duke of Windsor and five United States Presidents.

Dr. Lin Yutang, the wise and witty Chinese philosopher who wrote "The Importance of Living" has also been added to the list of 20 celebrity Wednesdays. "Can China Win the War?" will be his subject.

Two noted foreign correspondents, H. R. Knickerbocker and Edgar Ansel Mowrer, both Pulitzer Prize winners; the Earl of Warwick, nephew of Anthony Eden and confidant of Lord Halifax, and Mrs. Linda Littlejohn, leader of the Australian Women's Movement, will come from overseas with inside news on the European crisis.

Problems within America will be analyzed by Stanley High, Saturday Evening Post writer and Commander Edward Ellsberg, famous submarine expert.

Elsa Maxwell, America's "First Lady of Fun," Elizabeth Hawes, author of "Fashion Is Spinach," and Muriel Draper, famous on two continents for her salons, will speak.

Lloyd G. Douglas of "Magnificent Obsession" and "White Banners" fame, Dr. Donald A. Laird, psychologist, and William Lyon Phelps will discuss human problems.

Conrad Nagel, star of movies, stage and radio, will talk on Hollywood. Irving Stone, author of "Sailor on Horseback" and "Lust for Life," and Carl Van Doren, biographer of "Benjamin Franklin" are scheduled; also George Dangerfield, popular book critic and former literary editor of Vanity Fair.

General Platoff's Don Cossacks will be one of two glamorous entertainment attractions to make their first Detroit appearance. Famous on five continents, this exciting troupe of singers and dancers made their American debut last season. The Salzburg Trapp Choir, one of the most unusual singing groups in the world, will present a program of authentic Austrian folk songs and mountain calls in costume, a capella singing, and serenade on ancient instruments. Season memberships, $13.75, $18.50 and $22.00, including government tax, for reserved seats, are available now at Town Hall headquarters, 220 Hotel Statler, Cherry 5617.

S.P.C.A. Approves Bull Fighting—If It's Weaponless

An exhibition of bull-baiting was given in New York recently before members of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals by Sydney Franklin, Brooklyn, N. Y., matador who made good in the arenas of Central and South America and Spain. This was a preview performance for the A. S. P. C. A., who gave their approval of this form of bull fighting as long as Franklin and his assistants leave their weapons at the ringside. Regular fights started later—but without benefit of cutlery. Franklin is shown felting with a scarlet mulata, his only "weapon" of defense.

NEW SUNFLOWER GROWING CHAMP!

Lois Marvin, 10-year-old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Geney, who lives about one-half mile south of Newburg, on Plymouth rural route number 2, has grown a sunflower with 128 blossoms.

Each week someone brings notice to The Mail of an unusual plant or produce that they have grown. This week's entry has topped all those of the sunflower variety.

The Mail will be glad to publish a story concerning any unusual plant that is grown in Plymouth or the surrounding district.

Wives of Attorneys to Be Guests of Mrs. Henry Ford September 22

Mrs. Henry Ford has graciously invited the wives of lawyers attending the fourth annual meeting of the State Bar of Michigan at Detroit to visit her flower gardens on Friday, September 22. Mrs. Ford has also been invited to attend a luncheon of lawyers' wives to be held at Dearborn Inn at noon of the same day.

The annual dinner dance of the State Bar will be held at the Hotel Statler Thursday, September 21, and an unusually fine program has been arranged for the occasion. Friday noon the State Bar will give a luncheon in honor of the Michigan supreme court, and Friday evening will be devoted to the annual banquet of the organization. Wives and guests of lawyers are cordially invited to attend the annual banquet.

All of the sessions of the convention will be held at the Hotel Statler, Detroit, which is the headquarters for the convention. The sessions will be given over largely to a study of recent legislation, including the new probate code which revises all of the probate law of the state of Michigan.

Plymouth's Oldest Resident Recalls Events of Early Days

Marcellus L. Kinyon Tells Interesting Bits About the Town in 1860

Nowadays, when Plymouth residents for the most part, are looking toward the city's future, there is one man who remembers and loves the village of old. That man is believed to be the city's oldest living resident, Marcellus L. Kinyon.

Mr. Kinyon recalls vividly the years between 1854 and 1880. When asked how many people lived in Plymouth at that time, he said, "I should judge, by golly, there were close to 1,000 in those days."

Born on a farm a few miles south of Plymouth, Mr. Kinyon first remembers coming to the village when a boy of four or five. "I can just remember the time of the first big fire."

"Did the town completely burn down?" he was asked.

"No—but most all the stores did," he declared.

south end of Phoenix lake. There was no industry in Plymouth in Civil War days. The community was made up of retired farmers and merchants, he declared.

"I really don't remember much about the school," Mr. Kinyon said, "except that it was a two-story wood frame building and at the same site as the school now is located."

"The Presbyterian, First Baptist and Methodist churches stand in the same places as they formerly did. These three churches were the only ones here during Civil War time, as far as I can remember."

He laughed as he recollected thoughts about the toll gate at the corner of Mill street and Plymouth roads. A fee was collected before a person could travel east to Detroit on the old plank road. Mr. Kinyon said that a toll had to be paid to go to Detroit and then again for the return trip. Then plank road was eight or ten feet wide with a grade on both sides.

"One time I drove to Detroit in three hours. We thought we were going awfully fast—well, miles an hour was fast for horse and buggy on a plank road."

Plymouth's dirt streets were graded and kept in fair condition. "I don't remember if the streets were named or not—there wasn't but a few of them, anyway," he said.

In 1873, Mr. Kinyon and his brother-in-law, William A. West, bought a livery barn which was then located where the Penniman-Allen theatre now stands. The Flint and Pere Marquette depot was near the Daisy Manufacturing plant. Detroit and Howell station was in the same place as the Pere Marquette depot now stands.

Mr. Kinyon says that he can't recall where the postoffice was located. When the railroads first came in Plymouth, he took the first excursion train to Flint. That city was at the end of the line then.

John Kinyon cleared land for a new farm in 1875, in Tuscola county. The Kinyons then moved to it, where they lived until 1896. During the following 15 years they lived in Detroit and Northville. While in Detroit, Mr. Kinyon married Jennie Herland.

In 1915 Mr. Kinyon moved back to Plymouth, where he worked for the Daisy company until he was 75 years old in 1925. From that time to the present he has been living on Mill street in the same house.

There were six children born to the Kinyon family. Five of them are living, one boy having died when four months old, John H. lives in Detroit; Mrs. Edith Ambler, Northville; Albert T., Portland, Oregon; Gertrude Cline, Plymouth, with whom Mr. Kinyon is now living, and Pierre N., Los Angeles, California.

Although Mr. Kinyon is nearing his ninetieth birthday, he is in the best of health and every week he manages to make frequent trips up-town and to the homes of his many friends.

Potato starch is used in the cotton and woolen textile industries, the paper industry, in confectionery and in plywood factories. Other uses are as a thickener in canned goods, cold water glues, adhesives, dextrin, face powders, nitro-starch explosives, glucose, toilet articles, malt sugar, distilled liquors, cocoas, chocolates, sausages, dyeing, laundries, baked products and medicine.

At that time all of Plymouth's business district was in the block between the United Savings bank and Ann Arbor trail.

The morning after the fire, Mr. Kinyon and his father, John, who then lived out in the country on a hilly road, came into town and saw merchandise from the burned business blocks stacked in the park across from the stores.

In 1860 his father, John Kinyon, built the old Plymouth hotel. It was constructed entirely from wood and located on the corner where the D and C store now is. Behind it where the artificial ice plant is, was the hotel barns where transients kept their horses while staying over at the hotel.

On September 2, 1864, the grand opening of the hotel took place. Mr. Kinyon remembers the party well, he says. Invitations were sent out and a two-dollar admission fee was charged. He still has one of the invitations, although it can no longer be read.

There were no stores in the northern part of Plymouth at that time, but George H. Starkweather built a general store later, Mr. Kinyon says.

Two grist mills operated in the northern outskirts of the village. The Hardenburg mill was at the foot of the hill where the Ford plant now is located and Matthew's mill was at the

Canadian Money Out of Circulation

Canadian money has disappeared from circulation in and about Plymouth almost overnight.

The fact that a Canadian dollar is now worth only 87 cents of American money and that nickels, dimes and quarters are discounted even more than that, quickly took all Canadian currency out of circulation.

The first sign to go up in Plymouth refusing the acceptance of Canadian money appeared at Smitty's lunch room after some of his waiters had collected a pretty good amount of Canadian nickels and dimes one day last week.

Hamburgers, hot dogs, drip coffee and some doughnuts in various stages of petrification, cost Smitty real American money. When his lunch counter patrons began to buy them with Canadian currency and Smitty found that the bankers of Plymouth kept a pretty close eye on the foreign money market, it didn't take long for the warning signal to go up.

The "boys" are now paying Smitty in real American money for all that they get.

In fact, Plymouth bankers are urging that people who have Canadian money turn it in to the banks at the discount rate as soon as possible, so that there will be none in circulation until after the money market is again stabilized and no discounting of Canadian money is necessary.

TOUCH-DOWN TACTICS

This is the first of a series of six outstanding diagram plays by leading college coaches from Grantland Rice's new Football Guide.

The play diagrammed above was used in our Sugar Bowl game against Carnegie Tech. Tech knew our most vulnerable spot, so they had their ends rushing hard on all forward pass plays.

In this unbalanced formation to the right and left tackle is shifted. The ball is passed to the No. 1 back who takes about two steps back and tosses a shovel pass to No. 3 back. The No. 3 back follows the right tackle and the No. 2 back, who lead the play. No. 4 back and the left end block in the opposing right tackle. The right guard draws out of line and blocks the opposing right end out of the play. The other blocking assignments are clearly shown.

I recommend the use of this play only after you have used a number of passes and when the opposing ends are charging hard and fast. Its success depends entirely on the play of the opposing ends and that best can be determined after the game has been in progress for some time.

James Fitzgerald Fisherman Back Made President From Far North

At the annual meeting of the administrative board of the Wayne County Training School held recently, James Fitzgerald was elected president and Frank Cody, vice president. Mr. Fitzgerald is the executive secretary of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul and Mr. Cody is superintendent of Detroit schools. Mr. Fitzgerald succeeded Judge Henry S. Hulbert, so long head of the Juvenile and Probate courts of the county and now vice president of the trust department of the National Bank of Detroit.

The board is made up of the following members: James Fitzgerald, president; Frank Cody, vice president; Patrick H. O'Brien; Fred C. Fischer; John W. Smith; John C. Cowan; Mrs. Robert Beattie; Milton M. Alexander; Henry S. Hulbert; Robert H. Haskell, M. D., medical superintendent; and C. E. Elliott, Steward.

A case of skin poisoning traced to the handling of chrysanthemum leaves is pronounced the first of the sort in medical literature.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Butz, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finlan have returned to Plymouth from a fishing trip up in Canada. Most of their time was spent at a fishing camp on the north shore of Lake Superior at Batchawana. Here they enjoyed some of the best lake trout fishing they had ever experienced in the north, they state.

Russell Powell had the good fortune to take the biggest trout out of Batchawana bay. He landed one that weighed over 22 pounds.

In order to enjoy just a bit of fishing on some of the inland lakes not accessible by overland travel, the three men took an airplane trip to a lake some 80 miles back in the woods where they caught brook trout that weighed from five to six pounds.

"We never have had such good fishing as we did this year," declared Mr. Powell. Dr. Butz took some interesting motion pictures in color of the trip and he expects to show them at one of the future meetings of the Western Wayne County Conservation club.

IN POWER-FORD V-8

IF YOU like facts instead of claims, you'll be glad to know that the question of which low-price car is fastest has been answered—not in words but on the road.

At Daytona Beach in March a Ford-built Mercury 8 took first place in the grueling 150-mile stock car race. All prize-winning places were taken by Ford-built cars. A clean-cut triumph for the Ford V-8 engine.

In April the South American Grand Prize Race was run—twice across the Andes—4515 heart-breaking miles! All leading American low-price cars were among the 69 starters. The race was won by a Ford V-8. And 10 of 28 cars to finish were Fords!

There's just one way to know the smooth, quick power of a Ford V-8. That's to get behind the wheel. Come in and drive the new Ford.

To prove in your Home... The SPRING-FALL GAS-BURNER solves BETWEEN-SEASON HEATING PROBLEM

Here's your answer to the wasted fuel and useless work of trying to regulate your furnace during the up-and-downs of Fall and Spring weather.

Prove it? . . . Try it! That will prove it. Your own home is the place to prove the benefits many a family already enjoys. Your own family is the one to find out.

Try it! It's economical—a new idea in gas fuel use. It's automatic—no work, no shoveling, no kindling, no ashes, no extra fuel to buy—you just set the thermostat. Try it! Then when winter sets in—change in a jiffy to coal, coke or stoker.

TRIAL PLAN FOR YOU

EASY TO USE

The burner fits right in your furnace door and goes to work. Can be instantly placed . . . or removed and hung beside the furnace when not in use. No changes needed in furnace.

Thermostat controls heat at any desired level. Patented burner design uses "a little gas for a lot of heat" . . . more efficient than solid fuel. You'll be pleased with the economy of this plan compared with what you pay for solid fuel to cover the entire season. Installations now in use prove it. Let us give you the figures. (Priced at only $68.50 cash installed complete with thermostat.

Try the burner—prove its helpful and healthful benefits right at home. You don't have to buy it now to do this. We will install it for a trial during September and October—April and May. You keep it right there, ready to use, during any of the months in between. There is an installation payment of $1.50 a month only for these four particular months. Then if you keep the burner, this $6.00 will be credited as your down payment and the purchase may be completed on regular easy terms.

Woman Writer Tells of Dewey and His Driving Force

Michigan Political Observer Has High Praise for Him

(By Grace L. Moseman)
Thomas E. Dewey, New York's 37-year-old racket busting district attorney who passed through Detroit, recently, on his way to Owosso, Michigan, his home town, for a week's vacation, isn't saying "when"—or even "if"—he will announce his candidacy for the presidency on the Republican ticket.

During my recent visit to offices of District Attorney Dewey in New York, it looks as if he would have to run, from the telephone calls, telegrams and letters that came pouring in that day.

Mr. Dewey, black haired, black-moustached and bronzed (he had just returned that day from a vacation in Maine) has a genial way of greeting one. His eyes fairly sparkle as he talks. He studied music when a young man, you know, and I am sure he would have made good as a singer or actor, as he has a fine speaking voice.

Mr. Dewey is no "Alice in Wonderland"—he knows all the details before he starts anything. He demonstrates his executive ability in the way he handled the affairs as special prosecutor and again as district attorney. He was the choice of the New York Bar Association to be chosen as special prosecutor and again was the choice of the New York County Bar as the candidate for district attorney.

In his office he is known as fair, human and cordily efficient. They are all very loyal to him. There are five secretaries, three girls and two men, and they, like Mr. Dewey, came from small towns. As he goes through the different offices, he asks that this or that be done in a quiet, unassuming way.

Mr. Dewey has a remarkable memory. He learned spelling and proof-reading on his father's newspaper in Owosso. A former high school teacher told me, Tom Dewey never forgets a friend.

"Right now," Dewey is sticking to his job as district attorney. He said that is the job the people of New York elected him to. He is in the midst of the Louis (Lepke) Buchalter case, who is regarded as the nation's public enemy No. 1.

Mr. Dewey has no campaign committee. He has not solicited a dime for campaign purposes. He has made no political speeches this year. The thing that impressed me most about Mr. Dewey is his tremendous vitality. If he is on the Republican ticket, he'll be at the head and nowhere else.

Two Public Hearings at Next Commission Meeting, September 18
There will be two public hearings at the next regular city commission meeting Monday, September 18.

One will be for the construction of a sidewalk on the west side of South Mill street between Amelia and Ann Arbor Trail. The other is for a curb and gutter to be built on Maple street between South Main and Pine streets.

The public is cordially invited to these hearings which are held to determine whether or not such a construction is needed. The city manager says that it is every person's duty to his city to attend commission meetings. Without every resident's cooperation, city government cannot be carried on according to the wishes and well being of the city.

Improvements Made on Evangelical Church

St. Peter's Ev. Lutheran church has for the past two weeks been undergoing a complete outside reconstruction. The church has been covered with Johns Mansville asbestos siding and it greatly improves the outward appearance.

Windows have been relettered and repaired. The platform at the rear exit has also been rebuilt.

Rev. Edward Hoenecke reports that workmen have really done a fine job in making the church practically fireproof, and the siding has also added a great deal to the outside appearance of the building.

Heggblom to Talk to Townsend Club

On Monday evening, September 11, at 8 p. m. in the Grange Hall, U. S. A. Heggblom, manager for the Detroit area, who is well known in Plymouth for the fine speeches he has made on the Townsend plan in the past, will be the speaker. The public is cordially invited.

The people of Plymouth and surrounding communities will be interested to know that Louis C. Silva, deputy tax commissioner for the territory of Hawaii, who drafted their "Market Privilege Tax Bill" (a transactions tax similar to the tax proposed by Dr. Townsend) which has proven successful in operation in Hawaii, left his post there at the urgent request of Dr. Townsend last year and has been in the United States ever since for the purpose of lending his services to help secure enactment of the Townsend plan into law. He testified for the Townsend plan during hearings before the House Ways and Means committee, is tax advisor to Dr. Townsend and at present is helping draft the new Townsend bill which will be introduced into congress when the second session opens in January, 1940.

A survey of 52 land grant colleges and universities shows that three out of four students earn all or part of their college expenses.

Plymouth Folks Invited to Florida

(By John Lodwick)
St. Petersburg, Fla.—Society is preparing for its busiest season in the Sunshine City as the travel tide turns from eastern shore and mountain resorts into this direction and as private and public schools prepare for next week's openings. Hundreds of undergraduates are here for the Fall opening of Junior College, September 13, and autumnal fraternity dances are dotting the month's calendar of activities.

Arrangements are new being made for a long list of formal social affairs to be held through the season at smart shore bath, yachting and country clubs, leading hotels and academies beginning with the annual costume dances in late October and continuing through to the late spring.

Many changes will be noted by returning seasonal guests this fall with the completion of three new hotels, scores of new winter homes and apartments and many new buildings, including the new million dollar City Hall and Junior College.

Michigan will again be well represented here this season by many residents who will return to renew old friendships and acquaintances.

Among those from Plymouth who were here last winter included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Diederick, Bradner Road; Mr. and Mrs. George Ferguson, North Holbrook Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Guthrie, RFD; Mr. and Mrs. William Henry, William Henry, Jr. and Ernest L. Henry, East Ann Arbor St.; Mrs. Frank Loomis, Forest Ave.; Edgar Nash, Jeger Place; Mrs. Nellie Naylor, Blunk Ave.; Mrs. W. D. Parmenter, Starkweather Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Payne, Blunk St.; Mrs. Fred Schmidt, RFD; Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt, RFD; Mrs. Mary J. Shearer, Sheldon Road; and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens, Adams St.

That others are contemplating spending the season in the Sunshine City is indicated by the numerous requests made of the City Information Bureau for free literature descriptive of St. Petersburg and its surroundings.

Kalamazoo Girl Weds Carl Schuster—Couple to Reside Here

The wedding of Nancy Tubbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Tubbs, of Kalamazoo, and Carl Schuster, brother of Mrs. Herman Bakhaus, of this city, and son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Schuster, of South Lyon, took place, Saturday afternoon, September 2, in the First Congregational church of Kalamazoo, the Rev. Robert J. Locke performing the ceremony in the presence of about 30 relatives and friends. Preceding the ceremony Freda Snow Ball played "O Promise Me" and "Because."

The bride was lovely in a wedding gown of white lace over white satin, made with V-shaped neckline, short puffed sleeves and full skirt with net insertions. Her fingertip veil of net was fastened to a Juliet cap of lace trimmed with beads. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Jane Tubbs, who wore a gown of powder blue corded silk and carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

Alfred Schuster of South Lyon attended his brother.

Both Mrs. Tubbs and Mrs. Schuster were attired in gowns of airy blue with which they wore corsages of talisman roses. A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. Immediately afterward the young couple left on a ten days motor trip through Canada, the New England states and the fair in New York City, the bride wearing a biege wool costume suit with brown accessories. They will make their home at 592 South Harvey street, Plymouth. Mr. Schuster is plant manager of the Cloverdale Farms Dairy in this city.

Mrs. Schuster graduated from Michigan State college and is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. Mr. Schuster also attended Michigan State college and is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Two Livonia Schools Delay Opening Date

Schools at Livonia Center and at Seven Mile and Farmington roads will not open until Monday, September 18, according to an order issued by Livonia Health Officer Dr. J. W. Norton, of Farmington.

The order was issued after three cases of infantile paralysis in that vicinity had been reported to the health officer. Although the cases are not of a serious nature and all three victims are reported recovering, the doctor stated that for protection of the other children, school opening will be delayed for two weeks.

The five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyers, of Fremont street, near Eight Mile and Middle Be roads, is confined to Children's Hospital in Detroit. A young son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rohloff, who reside at Farmington and Five Mile roads, are also confined to Herman Kiefer hospital in Detroit.

Plymouth Gardens News

The Stark Ladies Auxiliary will begin holding their meetings at Stark school on Wednesday evenings at 8 p. m., September 13.

We are again urging the residents of Plymouth Gardens to keep their dogs tied or chained. Someone's dog caused a lot of unhappiness the week of the 20th. It killed three small pullets and a laying hen that belonged to Billy Newstead of Orangelawn. The remains were strewn all over the neighborhood and were discovered by Mrs. Newstead the next morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Odgers, formerly of Orangelawn, left on a belated honeymoon trip, Monday, for Niagara Falls and through northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beck and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Byrd left Saturday to visit relatives in Gladwin, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sasal and sons left Friday evening to spend a few days visiting relatives in Portage, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crawford and family enjoyed the week-end at a cottage on Portage lake, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Byrd and family are taking a vacation for the first time in years and are driving to Cincinnati over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tricks of Orangelawn are remodeling their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Holbert and family took a cottage at Lake Orion over Labor Day.

Miss Irma Leonhardt of Detroit is visiting Mrs. John Campbell of Wayne road.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson have moved back to Plymouth Gardens and will enjoy having their old friends and neighbors drop in again.

Mrs. William Newstead and children of Orangelawn left Thursday August 31, with Mr. Newstead's mother, to spend a few days in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Stark Recreation News
Seventy-nine boys and girls from Stark and Newburg attended the Detroit-Washington game at Briggs stadium as guests of Walter O. Briggs last week Wednesday. They wish to thank the drivers of the cars who transported them to and from the game.

The playground's summer recreation program ended last Tuesday afternoon with a melon feast at the school. About 45 youngsters had their fill of muskmelons and watermelons. T. Brutell, Miss Edith Blake and Miss D. Pape, of Detroit, visited the playground during the afternoon. Mr. Kreger wishes to thank them and the school board for their kindness and co-operation given him during the last summer.

The Stark men's softball team is to be congratulated on the splendid showing it made in the play-off games. The team lost the first game, but won three straight to reach the finals with Williams Service which defeated Stark 3-0.

This resulted in Stark and Williams Service being tied for first place. Friday evening in the game to decide the championship Stark was ahead by the score of 8-1 in the seventh inning, but being compelled to play in darkness so many errors were made that Williams Service, being at bat, tied the score. The game will not be played off as the summer recreation season is over. The Starkweather softball play-off games ended with the following results: Stark won three, lost one and tied two; and Williams Service won two, lost one and tied two.

The men who participated in the Stark games this season were D. Tarbutt, R. Bonner, A. Pitt, C. Monde, captain, W. Newstead, C. Swartz, D. Bonner, W. Morris, G. Vanhook, A. Kreger, manager, E. Bennett, R. Westfall and A. Neale.

The Clement Kelley family, together with Richard Hamilton of Ellerslie and Mrs. Don Wright of Detroit were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Squire of Seven Mile and Day.

Newburg News

Alice Gilbert resumed her duties as teacher in the third grade at the Milford school, Tuesday, after enjoying the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack MacCullough visited his brother and wife in Battle Creek, Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Mackinder of Grand Rapids were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Norris and James Norris Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grimm, Sr. were called to Detroit, Wednesday, by the death of the former's brother, Theodore Grimm. His burial took place Friday at White Chapel.

Mark Joy returned home, Saturday afternoon, from Harper hospital, Detroit. He is improving gradually.

George Cooper, of Beverly Hills, California, is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Gungolly. On Sunday the three of them were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones in Dearborn.

Mrs. Emma Ryder called on Mrs. Ida Taft and Mrs. Hattie Holloway, one day last week, at the Hotel Mayflower in Plymouth.

Louis Tandy of New Hudson visited Bert Paddock on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Melvin Guthrie and Mrs. Emma Ryder attended an interesting meeting, Monday afternoon, held outdoors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Maininger on the Ford road. There were four speakers on the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lamb, Sr. visited Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Leedam at Port Roan from Friday until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Clemens spent Friday with their daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Clemens, and family at their summer home at Wolf lake near Jackson, Mrs. Clemens and family plan to return to their home in Vicksburg, Mississippi, this week, after spending the summer at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson of Plymouth were entertained at dinner, Sunday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Guthrie.

The Sunday school is held at 10:00 a.m. and all teachers and officers are expected to be on hand. We have had a summer vacation and are ready to take up the work for another year. Rally Day is set for September 24, just two weeks away. Each class should strive for perfect attendance. The congregational worship service begins at 11:00 a.m. We have had a summer of excellent union services. But Sunday we will all feel as if we are home again. The choir will be prepared to lead in the service of praise. In view of world conditions the church should be filled with worshippers. Division of the Women's Auxiliary will meet in the parlors of the church Monday, September 11 at 7:30 p.m. Detroit Presbyterian society will meet in this church on Tuesday, September 12 at 10:30 a.m. This is a large and important meeting. It is many years since our group has held a meeting in Plymouth. We are honored in having the meeting here. The women of this church will serve the noon lunch to those attending, and will be hostesses to the many visitors to this church. It is a fine opportunity for the women of this community. All are urged to attend. The program of the day will be full of inspiration and information. The Women's Auxiliary will meet on Wednesday, September 13 at 2:00 p.m. in the church parlors. Mrs. E. C. Haley, the president, will be in charge. Reports of the summer activities including the serving of meals at the Northville fair will be presented. FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

"Substance" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 10. The golden text (John 27) is: "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed. Among the Bible citations in this passage (Hebrews 11:1): "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 468): "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: 'The substance of things hoped for,' the evidence of things not seen."

LET THERE BE PEACE!

These are dark days, indeed, for the entire world. Dark and gloomy, because there seems to be nothing sure, nothing permanent, nothing positive, anywhere—made so by war and political greed.

For four years, yes, five or six years, the nations of Europe have been heading directly for war. Seemingly the mad desire of one dictator, irrespective of the wishes of the people of his nation, has brought about a condition that is once again drenching the farm lands of Europe with the blood of young men who haven't the slightest knowledge of why they are killing. Not only do they have no personal reason for the slayings they are called upon to execute, but they are killing others because if they do not do so, they themselves will be victims of bullet or bayonet.

It is all so useless—all so unnecessary!
Why, why should the nations of the world every now and then be plunged into conflicts that take so many human lives?

Why must there arise a condition which upsets the daily useful and happy routine of the lives of the people of neutral nations?

No one feels secure. No one knows what the tomorrow may bring. No one has the slightest idea of what will happen next week, next month or next year. All because of the uncertainty of what the war will do.

The monarchies failed to maintain peace in the world. The dictators seemingly believe that their only hope of survival is in war. Apparently, then the answer to world peace is in the republican form of government—the democracies of the world.

If so, and peace can be restored through the establishment of absolute republics, then this war may result in world peace if there can be forced the creation of peaceful governments of and for the people—not governments of and for conquest and power. The prayer of all should be for world peace—now and FOREVER.

ROOSEVELT'S NEUTRALITY.

Marked contrast between the idea of neutrality as expressed by President Roosevelt in his broadcast to the American people Sunday night and that delivered by Woodrow Wilson in the early stages of the World War of 1914-18 is the subject of comment in Washington, states Mark Foote, one of the outstanding political writers of the country.

President Roosevelt said: "This nation will remain a neutral nation. But I cannot ask that every American remain neutral in thought as well. Even a neutral has a right to take account of the facts. Even a neutral cannot be asked to close his mind or his conscience."

President Wilson, on the other hand, asked the American people, before this country entered the World War, to remain neutral in thought and action. The divergence of viewpoint points to the fact that Congress and the country is on the verge of a momentous controversy as to the definition of the term neutrality. And this will be fought out when the President calls Congress in extraordinary session and again asks amendment of the neutrality act.

President Roosevelt, however, gave every indication that he would strive with all his power to keep this country out of war. "Let no man or woman thoughtlessly or falsely talk of America sending armies to European fields," he said. But later in his address he apparently pointed the finger of "war guilt" at Adolph Hitler, when he said:

"It is right, too, to point out that the unfortunate events of these recent years have been based on the use of force or the threat of force. And it seems to me clear, even at the outbreak of this great war, that the influence of America should be consistent in seeking for humanity a final peace which will eliminate, as far as it is possible to do so, the continued use of force between nations."

There was even a hint that America may not completely escape involvement, in the President's assertion that "when peace has been broken anywhere, peace of all countries everywhere is endangered," and that "passionately though we may desire detachment, we are forced to realize that every word that comes through the air, every ship that sails the seas, every battle that is fought does affect that American future."

MORE POWER TO THE YOUNG REPUBLICANS.

At a meeting of the Bay County Young Republican club at Bay City a few days ago, these energetic, clean-cut youthful believers in honest and good government, passed resolutions which are in keeping with the demand growing throughout the state that the political bosses in the Republican party be CLEANED OUT once and for all time.

Readers of The Plymouth Mail will be interested in knowing the contents of these pungent declarations by the type of young men who will within the next ten or fifteen years be the rulers of our state. They follow in full:

WHEREAS: By its constitution, the objects and principles of the Bay County Young Republican club are stated to be:

"to stimulate the active participation of all young men and women in governmental affairs, to educate them in the principles and to enlist them in the ranks of the Republican party, and to promote the success of the Republican party and its principles in the county, state, and nation. Its policies shall be such as to advance the cause of good citizenship, love of country, and loyalty to the government of the United States."

AND WHEREAS: In accordance with the provisions of its Constitution, the Bay County Young Republican club has heretofore been prohibited from participation in primary elections.

AND WHEREAS: It appears that the so-called Barnard-McKay Republican machine is at the present time exercising great influence in these elections of state officials, in the dispensing of state patronage, and in administering the affairs of the state of Michigan.

AND WHEREAS: We are not pleased with the way the influence of the Barnard-McKay machine has been recently appearing in Bay county political affairs.

AND WHEREAS: As young Republicans we are opposed to the unit rule which in the past has been misused by such Barnard-McKay machine to dominate Republican state conventions as against the wishes of a majority of the good Republican voters of the state.

AND WHEREAS: We are of the opinion that the policies and practices of this Barnard-McKay machine do not conform to the high standards and principles of the Young Republican movement as expressed in our constitution.

AND WHEREAS: It appears that the Bay County Young Republican club as an organization can best combat these objectionable elements and practices in the Republican party by actively participating in primary elections.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the constitution of the Bay County Young Republican club be amended to permit the club, as an organization, to participate in primary elections.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, MR. AVERILL?

"We would respectfully suggest to our pious Governor Luren D. Dickinson that words without action are not given high marks in Holy Writ. Even Jesus stopped his preaching long enough to drive the money-changers from the Temple," wrote Editor George Averill in the last issue of his Birmingham Eccentric.

Might we ask, Mr. Averill, do you mean to insinuate that there are money-changers loitering about Michigan's Temple of chastity? Shame on you, if you have such an evil thought in your mind.

A PRETTY GOOD EDITORIAL.

Carl B. Rudow, staff writer of The Detroit News in Lansing, and an exceptionally well posted observer of state affairs, a few days ago wrote an article for The News in which he pointed out that the removal of a large number of positions from jurisdiction under civil service had not resulted in a decreased state payroll as had been anticipated, but that the salaries now being paid were higher than under civil service.

His article in itself is such a good editorial, that it is hereby published in full as follows:

Spills politics has filled nearly 2,000 jobs in the state government since the administration's revised civil service law went into effect and took about 7,000 positions out of the merit system, state payroll records showed today.

Republican officials contended that "few changes" would be made among employees despite the "ripper" law, which they have contended merely was to "make civil service more workable."

But records show that 1,838 employees have been placed in jobs that used to be under civil service and are now in spills politics. This turnover is since only May 30, when the revised law really took effect. It does not include undetermined changes made earlier in the year in the 1,608 jobs unclassified in the original law, which placed 15,000 more jobs under civil service.

Other records show that nearly 8,400 jobs now are unclassified or open to spills practices, while only 8,500 to 8,700 remain under civil service. The declassification of former civil service positions is not yet complete.

Payroll records also indicate that the new unclassified employees, who obtained their jobs without merit tests, tend to get higher salaries than did the old civil service employees. This also indicates the historical viewpoint of politicians in regard to taxpayers' money.

One of the peculiar developments is that employees placed in non-civil service jobs since May 30 get a median pay of about $123 a month. The median pay for employees still on the job but no longer under civil service is only $110. The median pay for civil service employees hired since May 30 is slightly in excess of $86.

In other words, the taxpayers get work done for less expense under civil service. Experts in the past have estimated that the taxpayers lose about $1,000,000 a year when spills politics dominates state employment.

Another peculiar fact is that the new politically appointed employees seem to have gravitated toward better than the average pay levels. Computations from records show these paradises:

Salaries workers in the non-civil service group who receive less than $100 a month — new political employees hired since May 30 take only 19 per cent of these unclassified jobs. (Why bother with these jobs, anyway?)

Salaries workers on the same group who receive $100 to $120 a month — new political employees hired since May 30 are 20 per cent of the better-paying section of unclassified workers. (But, now, we're getting into real money.)

Salaries workers who receive more than $120 a month, ranging from $120 to $200 a month — new political employees hired since May 30 take only 13 per cent of this unclassified group. (These are the jobs that pay the best.) of the unclassified employees who get $500 to $600 a month, which is a lot of money, are newly hired since May 30. So are the remnant of similar employees who get more than $600 a month.

A third peculiarity develops in a scrutiny of those new unclassified employees who "just happen" to have been given salaries that "just happen" to be a remarkable figure.

A total of 168 such employees, for example, get exactly $1,500 a year. Politicians probably will insist that this salary coincides with the work only 58 old workers in declassified exactly, but it is noticeable that positions get the same pay.

Another 391 new political appointees just happen to get exactly $4,800 a month, and this again is scores more than get exactly this salary among declassified workers. The same sort of emphasis on a "round number" salary for new non-civil service workers comes at the pay level at $2,400, $3,000, $3,600, $4,000 and similar higher figures for a year's work.

It is the intention of The Mail to publish an article during the present fall setting forth some interesting information on this question. It will be a substantiating follow-up on Mr. Rudow's excellent news story.

Eight hundred dollars in the coat pocket of a Plymouth man on a hot day afforded surprise and amusement for a Wayne man the other day. As Homer Hubbard of Wayne and a friend, Mr. Snell of Muncie, Indiana, were standing on Michigan avenue, a gust of wind brought toward them a small package that closely resembled, despite their inclination to doubt, a package of bills. The little roll was gathered in and counted. They were astonished at the result. The total was $800. While they were wondering how to dispose of their find or how to locate the owner, a man who hails from Plymouth had discovered a similar deficiency in his accounts and was advertising his troubles along the streets.

It seems that he had placed the bills in his coat pocket and on account of the high temperature had carried the coat on his arm. A little carelessness and the wind did the rest.—The Wayne Weekly.

WHICH IS CORRECT?
Just to correct an error we find in the Congressional Record of June 30: Congressman Ludlow of Indiana, in a speech boasting ex-Gov. McNutt of that state for the nomination for the presidency, said Gov. McNutt had balanced the budget in Indiana while the neighboring state of Michigan had a mounting tax levy and a state debt of $742,000,000. Congressman Ludlow is either misinformed or dishonest. The state of Michigan never had any such debt and has not now. It did have a deficit of approximately thirty-one million dollars at the end of the fiscal year June 30, but that was directly chargeable to the spending administration of Gov. Frank B. Murphy, who was elevated by our President to the position of Attorney General of the U. S. probably because he had demonstrated his ability to spend the taxpayers' money for there is no other reason known to Michigan people why he should have been selected for that high and responsible position.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

CONSUMERS PAY MORE—FARMER GETS LESS
The Department of Agriculture has just completed a study of 1938 farm prices. They conclude that the consumer is paying more for farm produce, but that the farmer who raises it is getting less than in pre-war days. They add officially: "Of course many factors have influenced the prices of farm products since pre-war years; monetary and other factors affecting the price level, changes in population, industrial activity and consumer purchasing power, etc., etc."
We might mention some things they neglected to mention, viz, the forcing of higher wages in processing plants, adding many new taxes to food products heretofore exempt. All these have added to the cost of food. It has added nothing to the profits of the processor, the wholesaler, the retailer and it has added nothing to the value of the food.
The farmer is getting what is left.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican News.

STORY WITH A MORAL
In a Philadelphia court six joyful refugees who had just been granted U. S. citizenship offered to buy an American flag to hang in the court room. There were three Italians, two Czechoslovakians and a Russian. The Russian was a refugee from a Communist country, and the others from Fascist countries.
Said the six after being granted their citizenship papers: "We are so happy to become American citizens that we thought Your Honor wouldn't object if we put our money together and bought a flag for your courtroom." The judge thanked the new citizens but refused their offer and ordered that a flag for the room be purchased immediately with the proper funds.
The plea of the refugees was a fine gesture, and they should prove to be valuable Americans, for they may help to convince some in this country that life in the "ism" countries is not what the dictators would have us to believe that it is. Further, it should stir other Americans to vigilance to fight down the spread of these "ism" doctrines in the United States.—James Galler in The Tuscola County (Caro) Advertiser.

The only teakettle of its kind in ## AMERICA!

You've never seen a teakettle like this one. It is an educated teakettle . . . one that shuts off the electricity if negligence permits it to boil dry. When the water boils too low, the connection plug pops out—and it can't be replaced until the kettle has cooled off. But aside from this desirable feature, the teakettle has other unique advantages. Made of polished aluminum and spotlessly clean, it can be used anywhere in the house—in the kitchen, the laundry, the sick room. Simply plug into the nearest electric outlet. A special high-speed element heats water in a few minutes—from one to four quarts. You will find this teakettle a great help in your household . . . it will save you time and steps. And with reasonable care, it should last a lifetime.
