Judge Healy Tells of Child Work in His Court

Officials Aim to Build Good
Citizens for Future

The good work that Wayne county is doing to build future worthy citizens out of neglected and delinquent children was briefly reviewed by Probate Judge D. J. Healy, who is in direct charge of the juvenile division of the Wayne county probate court, at a large meeting of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday noon.

Judge Healy, regarded as one of the leading workers in Michigan in behalf of dependent and neglected children, presented a mass of interesting data relating to one of the most important problems under the control of public officials.

Fifty years ago children who were held as responsible for their wrong doing as were men who had committed some criminal offense. But the attitude of the public relative to these problems of boys and girls has rapidly changed and we now regard these matters in their correct light," said Judge Healy.

"We try to build good citizens out of neglected and delinquent children. We work with various civic and church organizations in efforts to restore these boys and girls to the right way of doing things. We endeavor to improve home conditions where we find that they might be at fault for the delinquency of a child," he said.

A broken home, where father and mother have separated, he pointed out, provided the most serious situation for juvenile delinquency to develop.

The judge briefly touched upon recent legislation pertaining to state aid for crippled and afflicted children, and declared that the legislature in view of past records, was justified in taking the action that it did. He was content, he said, that the next legislature would make such additional appropriations as conditions justified.

Judge Healy was accompanied to Plymouth by County Auditor Jack Cowan, who was a guest of the club.

The program was in charge of Harry Robinson, who invited Judge Healy to come to Plymouth to give this interesting and timely address.

Flag Week Proclamation

To the citizens of Plymouth:
Whereas, on June 14, 1777, Congress resolved "that the flag of the United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Whereas, it has been customary for the United States to observe June 14 as national Flag Day;
Whereas, several patriotic organizations, including the Ex-Servicemen's club and the Daughters of American Revolution, have requested that this city make an effort to give the flag special honor this year;

Whereas, at this time our flag stands more than ever before for security, for freedom from bloodshed, and for safety from tyranny;
Now, therefore, as mayor of Plymouth, I do hereby proclaim the week beginning June 8, as national Flag Week in Plymouth, with the request and with the hope that the homes, business places and factories as well as public buildings will display the flag of the United States each of the seven days of this week in appreciation of what our flag means today.

Ruth Huston Whipple,
Mayor of the city of Plymouth.

Rotary Club Honors Him for Work With Boys and Girls

To Charles J. Thumme, captain of the Plymouth police department and long an energetic worker in behalf of the boys and girls of Plymouth has been presented the 1940 distinguished service plaque of the Plymouth Rotary club for the most outstanding community service during the past year.

The plan, originated by the Community service committee of the club some few years ago, provides that each year some one individual be selected because of interest and beneficial services to the community.

Plymouth residents over a long period of years have known of the excellent work of Captain Thumme in connection with the young people of the city. They have known of his efforts to keep youngsters out of difficulties and of his good work in connection with the Halloween festivities. In fact, it has been largely through his efforts that the nightmarish accompanying the old time Halloween celebrations have been turned into a gala festival for the children, with no destruction of property and no soaping of store windows or disturbances of any kind.

The presentation made at Friday's meeting by Elton R. Eaton in behalf of the club seemingly met with not only the general approval of the entire membership, but citizens of the city as well.

The speaker pointed out that while Plymouth has one of the best police departments of any city of its size in the state, the recognition was because of his splendid work in connection with the young people of Plymouth.

"There has never been a boy or girl from this city required to appear before the juvenile court of Wayne county because of delinquency. Such a record is due largely to the good work of Charles Thumme in cooperation with citizens, the public schools and various civic groups," stated the speaker.

"It shows, too, the general high standard citizenship that prevails here."

Mr. Thumme briefly expressed his appreciation to the Rotarians and declared that the excellent condition prevailing in Plymouth was largely due to the cooperation and assistance of the business men and other groups in the city.

Urges Residents to Re-Register

City residents are urged to register now for the coming fall primary election if they have not done so by May 10. City Clerk C. H. Elliott reports that the last day for registration before the primaries is August 31. Under a new system of permanent registration all qualified electors in the city of Plymouth must re-register this year. Re-registration begins May 10.

"August 31 will sound like a long time away to many of you," Mr. Elliott said, "but because of additional time taken by the added office work connected with this new method of registration, it would be well for everyone to register now, if it can be arranged, so as to avoid the rush that is almost sure to come the last few days."

Since May 10, about 200 have re-registered and because of the fact that this spring there were more than 2,000 registrations before the general election, and also because reports show that the city of Plymouth has increased in population during the past year, city officials expect the new registration figure to be well above the 2,000 mark.

Alumni Banquet Will Be June 21

Perry W. Richwine, president of the Plymouth high school alumni association, this week announced that the fifty-fifth annual banquet will be held at the high school auditorium, Friday night, June 21. Earl L. Bedell, director of vocational and technical education for the Detroit board of education has been secured as the principal speaker.

The president appointed the following committees to make arrangements for the banquet: Reception committee, Robert J. Joliffe, Harold W. Joliffe and Austin Whipple; nominating committee, Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple and Mrs. Norma Baker Cassidy; and Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd.

Hazel Rathburn, vice president of the organization, was put in charge of decorations, and the menu will be planned by a committee headed by Annabelle Brown, who is the organization secretary-treasurer this year. She will also take reservations for the banquet.

Following a short program, music for dancing will be furnished by Don Mielbeck and his orchestra of Plymouth.

A Devoted Partnership Broken

William C. Lyndon, who resided at 167 South Harvey street, passed away early Thursday morning, June 6, at the age of 85 years. He was the husband of Mrs. Almida L. Lyndon. He is survived by two sons and three daughters, Alfred W. Lyndon of Rochester, New York, Mrs. E. O. Morley of Syracuse, New York, Mrs. Clarence Rathburn, Mrs. Irene Shaw and Raymond Lyndon, all of Plymouth, eight grandchildren and three great grandchildren, also survived by one brother, Clarence Lyndon of Ohio. Mr. Lyndon was taken to the Schrader funeral home, from which place funeral services will be held Saturday, June 8, at 3 p. m. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery.

Born in New York state, Mr. Lyndon came to this vicinity nearly 65 years ago. After being employed for a time as a farm worker, he purchased a farm south of the city and operated it for more than half a century, when advancing years made it necessary for him to give up his work. The Lyndons then purchased a home in Plymouth where they have resided since. He possessed the high respect of everyone who knew him.

Soap Box Derby Plans Complete

Plans are complete for the First Annual Plymouth Soap Box Derby which is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the E. J. Allison Chevrolet agency. Although the exact date of running has not been determined, boys between the ages of 11 and 15 are urged to begin work on their racers so that they will be completed by the middle of next month.

The Plymouth derby will be run just previous to the Detroit race. Ten winners will be sent to Detroit to compete there July 25-27. The winner is sent to Akron, Ohio, for the National and International finals to be held August 11.

Advertised as the greatest amateur racing event in the world, indications are that it will be just as popular in Plymouth because already about 25 boys have declared that they will build racers.

Clayton Koch, chairman of a Junior Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of arrangements for the derby, urges each boy who intends to build a racer to get his entry blank, official rule book and other material, free of charge, at the Plymouth Chevrolet dealer's showrooms. Racers have to be built according to specifications, at a minimum of one axle and wheel sets, weight, and other important parts of each gravity powered car have to be constructed according to rules set forth by the International and All-American Rules committee.

Local merchants who wish to sponsor a racer in the Plymouth derby may do so by contacting one of the committee members. As there is a considerable amount of money which has to be expended for insurance both on the boys and against property damage, merchants who sponsor a car will be asked to contribute a $2 entry fee. There will be no fee imposed upon individually-sponsored cars.

Each boy, when he completes his racer, will be given an official crash helmet. One is on display, in addition to other race material, in the windows of The Plymouth Mail office.

All boys interested in entering a racer in the derby are asked to attend a meeting at the city hall, Thursday evening, June 13, at 7:30 o'clock. At that time Mr. Koch, and other members of his committee, including Mr. Allison, Byron Becker, George Todd, Charles Wolfe and John MacLachlan, will be present to explain racer specifications and other rules and regulations.

Serve 21,770 Bottles of Milk

Parent-Teacher organizations of both Central and Starkweather schools, in addition to several Plymouth individuals and business firms have made it possible for under-privileged children in the schools to receive 9,558 half-pint bottles of milk during the winter months. An additional 12,232 bottles were served to children whose parents could afford to purchase the milk. It was served during each morning recess.

This year, 4,805 more bottles of milk were served than last year. There were 1,973 more free bottles and 2,832 bottles purchased by children's parents. In total, this year, 21,770 bottles were dispensed to children in both schools.

At Central, there were 6,416 bottles purchased by the P.T.A. and 8,232 purchased by parents. Starkweather school children received 3,122 free bottles and 4,000 bottles were paid for.

Several methods were used to raise money in order to purchase the milk, among which was a Milk Fund Ball held during the early fall and also individual contributions to the fund by business organizations and school groups.

This year's Milk Fund Ball made $182.80 for the project. The largest single contribution of $85 was from Cloverdale creamery.

Following is a list of other contributions: Masonic lodge, $15; Allen Industries, $10; Dairy Manufacturing company, $10; Plymouth Tube company, $5; Eckles Coal and Supply, $5; Starkweather grades five and six, $4.00; assembly dances, $4.30; Plymouth Lumber and Coal, $2; Plymouth Elevator, $2; Starkweather Girls' club, $1.45; Youth Movement, $1.35; and miscellaneous, $76.

The project was carried out during the period from December 1, to May 15. From 200 to 250 children were served each day.

Residents Pay Tribute to City's War Dead

Dr. G. H. Enss
Gives Memorial Day Address

Through intermittent showers, Memorial Day, Plymouth residents and members of several service organizations paid tribute to the city's war dead. In the hearts of everyone, especially those who had a son, brother, father or grandfather taken by the ravages of the war, there was a prayer that America will stay out of the present crisis in Europe. Rev. G. H. Enss, Ph.D., pastor of the Plymouth First Baptist church, and principal speaker of the day, in his address, "The Strength of a Nation," declared that this country's physical strength lies in the fact that it is so situated that the natural boundaries afford unusual protection.

Another physical strength the United States of America has is its natural resources, he said. And still another is the historical situation. "We do not fear our neighbors because we have committed no grave injustice to them in the past," the speaker declared.

He said that our moral strength is in our youth. "It is up to us to keep our alien influence so that their minds will not be poisoned by ideology teaching and practices. We in America have heroes which these young men can look up to, in whose footsteps they may set their course. But, it seems, instead they are finding their idols across the ocean."

Dr. Enss, in the beginning of his address, brought out the point that the nation's strength does not entirely lie in its armaments. "The present world situation forces every nation in the world (continued on page 9)

Issue Five Permits For New Residences

The newly organized camera club, now known as the Parkway Photo club, of Plymouth, met Monday, May 27, at the city hall. Lack of attendance caused the meeting to be short with little business discussion.

Further plans were made for the future of the club and a drive is being put forth to obtain new and interested members, as well as to have a better attendance of club members.

At the next meeting of the club, to be held at the city hall, Monday, June 10, at 8:00 o'clock, there will be a special discussion of portraiture and all will participate in portrait photography. Lights, subjects and backgrounds will be furnished by the club. Members and those interested in joining will bring camera, films and also a portrait attachment, although the latter device is unnecessary. It was suggested that tripods also be brought to the meeting.

City Makes Final Bond Payment for Fiscal Year

Commission Authorizes
Payment of General
Obligation Bonds

With the retirement of $10,436.25 worth of general obligation bonds and interest for which the city commission authorized payment Monday night, a total of $53,982.54 in bonds and interest has been paid during the fiscal year which will end the thirtieth of this month. Of the approximate $54,000, $14,237.50 has been for general obligation bonds; $11,370 for water bonds; $7,587.57 for cemetery bonds; and $20,787.50 for special assessment bonds. Very little of the amount has been paid on interest. $45,560.14 being applied on the principal of the bonds.

On July 1, 1940, the beginning of the new fiscal year, the city's total bonded indebtedness will be $124,000.

"In spite of the fact that the city of Plymouth has paid such an enormous amount of money this year in retiring a large part of the bonded indebtedness, it will end the year with a small balance in the banks," Mayor Ruth Whipple declared Tuesday morning. "And the feature of the thing is that we have had to do no short-term borrowing."

City Manager C. H. Elliott estimates that the city will be free and clear of all bonds against it by 1950. "From now until 1950, we will not be retiring bonds as fast as it has been done in the past because all bonds which are left are not callable," he said. "That is, they cannot be retired until their expiration dates unless we can pick up a few from individuals who will sell them."

General obligation bonds are those which must be paid from monies in the general fund. Special assessment bonds are shared by the city and persons requesting special services, such as sidewalks, curbs and gutters, etc., Mr. Elliott said.

"Plymouth is free from special assessment bonds of all descriptions at the present time. This is very unique feature, because there are few cities in the state which can boast such a record," he said. "Even the city of Kalamazoo, which is advertised so extensively as being debt free, has several hundred thousand dollars worth of the special assessment bonds outstanding."

The holder or holders of any such bonds or any coupons therefrom shall have all other rights and remedies given by said Act No. 94 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1933, as amended, for the collection and enforcement of said bonds and the security thereof.

Section 6. The alteration, improvement, repair, operation and management of said Water Supply System shall be under the immediate supervision and control of a Board of Water Commissioners consisting of three members appointed by the Supervisor and confirmed by the Township Board. The term of office of such Commissioners shall be three years, one Commissioner to go out of office each year.

Section 7. Charges for services rendered and water supplied by the said Water Supply System shall be assessed against and payment therefor shall be collected from each beneficiary served or supplied on the following basis:

Master meters shall be installed at the points of connection with the mains of the City of Detroit, and all water supplied through such master meters shall be billed by the City to the Township. The Township shall furnish individual meters to all property supplied with water through the Township mains and shall be each property for the water supplied at the regular municipal water rate charged by said City. The Township shall also charge each property receiving service through the mains constructed by the Township an additional service rate of Two ($2.00) Dollars per quarter. No additional charge shall be made to those now receiving service from the City. Service connections shall be made by the Township and the Township shall make a connection charge of Fifty-seven ($57.00) Dollars. The Township shall pay for each fire hydrant at the rate of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars per year.

Charges shall be collected in four quarterly periods, and bills shall be sent to each customer within thirty days after the end of each quarter and shall be due and payable at the office of the Township Treasurer within forty days after the end of the quarter. The payment of the charges for services and for water supplied may be enforced by shutting off the user's water supply if bills are not paid within forty days after the end of the quarter. The Township shall pay out of its appropriate general fund, the reasonable cost and value of any service rendered to and the water supplied to the Township by such Water Supply System on the foregoing basis of rates and amount of water used.

Charges shall constitute a lien on the property served by such connection, and if not paid within ninety days shall be paid on the next general tax roll and collected as a part of the general Township taxes.

Section 8. The rates hereby fixed are estimated to be sufficient to provide for the payment of the interest upon and the principal of all bonds issued hereunder and when the same become due and payable, to create a Bond and Interest Redemption Fund for said bonds, to provide for the payment of the expenses of administration and operation and such expenses for maintenance of said Water Supply System as are necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order, to build up a reasonable reserve for depreciation, and to build up a reserve for reasonable and proper improvements, betterments and extensions thereto other than those necessary to maintain the same in good repair and working order. Such rates shall be fixed and revised from time to time as may be necessary to produce these amounts, and it is hereby covenanted and agreed at all times to fix and maintain such rates for services furnished by said Water Supply System as shall be sufficient to provide for the foregoing.

Section 9. The Board of Water Commissioners may make such rules, regulations and by-laws governing the operation of said

Water Supply System and the collection of the service rates as it shall deem necessary, and for the management and protection of the said Water Supply System. Such rules, regulations and by-laws shall have the same force and effect as ordinances.

Section 10. The said Water Supply System shall be operated on the basis of a fiscal year commencing March 1st and ending on February 28th.

Section 11. The gross revenues of said Water Supply System, including all appurtenances and extensions thereto are hereby pledged and ordered to be set aside and distributed monthly or oftener into separate funds, as follows:

(A) OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE FUND. There shall be first set aside out of the gross revenues amounts sufficient for the payment of the current reasonable and necessary expenses for operation, administration and maintenance of said Water Supply System.

(B) BOND AND INTEREST REDEMPTION FUND. There shall next be established and maintained a Bond and Interest Redemption Fund which shall be used solely and only for the purpose of paying the principal of interest on the Revenue Bonds hereby authorized. All the remaining gross revenues after providing for the Operation and Maintenance Fund, shall next be set apart and paid into the Bond Fund until the amount in said fund shall be sufficient to pay all interest and principal due and to maintain a reserve equal to the interest and principal requirements of said bonds for the next twelve months. Such reserve shall be held in the Bond Fund and used solely for the payment of principal and interest on said bonds.

Section 12. At any time after the reserve provided in the foregoing section for the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund has been accumulated, the Township Board, in its discretion, may abolish or reduce the additional Township charge for water supplied, or readjust such charge as said Board may deem reasonable, provided such reduction does not endanger the security of said bonds. Water mains heretofore or hereafter constructed by special assessment districts or by private owners may be connected with and become a part of the Township System, if approved by the Township Engineer, and on such connection the title to all such mains shall be in the Township free from all special rights of any persons contributing to the construction thereof. Consumers connected with such mains shall be entitled to the same rates as those connected with the present City mains.

Section 13. The proceeds of sale of said bonds and the gross revenues derived from the operation of the System shall be deposited in a Federal Reserve System money bank, duly qualified and doing business in the State of Michigan, in the separate and special funds hereinabove described, and each of said designated funds held therein shall be impressed with a trust for the benefit of those entitled thereto.

Section 14. Such bonds shall be sold and the proceeds applied in accordance with the provisions of Act No. 94 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1933, as amended, at a price which will produce a net interest cost not exceeding six per cent per annum.

Section 15. The bonds authorized shall be in substantially the following form:

Legislators Aid Land Owners

Michigan legislators may be the knights errant who will save many an old homestead which otherwise might be auctioned to highest bidders because records show the owners had failed to pay taxes.

Included in the thousands of descriptions of properties in northern Michigan which reverted to the state last November because of tax delinquency are many whose former owners contend are in jeopardy because of misunderstandings.

Former owners, in some instances, claim that errors on the part of tax collectors resulted in their failure to pay back taxes. In other instances, it is claimed that lands were purchased in good faith on the representations of sellers that all back taxes had been paid and that such lands later were seized.

The lands division of the conservation department, charged with the administration of reverted properties, is making every effort to prevent the working of injustices in cases of the kind in which former owners' claims can be substantiated. County treasurers are being asked to assist former owners in the preparation of applications to withhold such lands from sale.

A ruling by the attorney general has been requested in certain cases and if the number of such substantiated claims should become so large that a general ruling is needed, the legislature in its next session may be asked to authorize adjustments.

First auctions of lands reverted to the state last November other than lands applied for by former owners, are not expected to be held before the coming fall or winter.

The sport of lake trout trolling, which will highlight the Munising July 4 celebration in a "derby" for catching the most, the largest and the smallest fish, has 30 licensees in Michigan waters of Lake Superior in the current fiscal year. They are distributed as follows: Bessemer, 4; Matham, 1; Copper Harbor, 1; Grand Marais, 1; Hancock, 2; Ironwood, 6; Marquette, 2; Munising, 8; Ontonagon, 2; Phoenix, 2; and Skaneateles, 1.

What to Do

BY PHYLLIS BELMONT

WILL you please settle an argument? How is a small fish bone removed from a steak? Is it correct to use the napkin, the fingers, or to place it on the fork and then on the plate? Thank you.

MISS M. R. Y. Answer—I assume the straying fish bone escaped your attempt to remove it before you started eating the piece of fish. We all find them occasionally where they are least expected. But if one unexpectedly turns up in your mouth, take the fish bone with your thumb and forefinger and place it on the side of your plate. Once food has reached the mouth, anything which cannot be swallowed should be removed by the fingers as inconspicuously as possible and put back on the plate. To use one's fork or napkin for this purpose today is an affectation, really.

Proposed New Public Park Playground

Although ideally suited to recreational development, the five counties constituting the Detroit-Huron-Clinton area—Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, Oakland and Macomb—are sadly deficient in public bathing beaches and other play facilities, surveys by state and federal agencies have shown. The nearly 8,000,000 people living in the area have only 10 percent of the recreational spaces they need, according to the national standard.

This situation, however, will be remedied if the voters of the area approve the Detroit-Huron-Clinton Parkway-Playground. Proposal in the election of November, 1940. Public Act No. 147 of the 1939 state legislature provides that in the forthcoming election there will be in the five counties a referendum vote on the plan. If the citizens of the area say "Yes," a Metropolitan Authority and metropolitan park district will be established, and planning of the new facilities for play can be started immediately.

The picture-map, above, shows what could be done in the area. Through the valleys of the Huron and Clinton Rivers, from Lake Erie to Lake St. Clair, would wind the proposed Detroit-Huron-Clinton scenic parkway, backbone of a chain of diversified recreational facilities. Its two ends could be connected by a pleasure drive along the Detroit river and Lake St. Clair. The system of parks, playgrounds, bathing beaches, overnight shelters, bicycle, hiking and nature trails, fishing and boating areas, picnic grounds and other facilities for pleasure-seekers could be quickly and easily reached over new express highways radiating from the heart of Detroit. Landscaped parkways themselves, these express highways would pass over or under existing streets and thoroughfares. They would be routes without intersections or traffic lights to hinder and delay motorists headed for the recreation lands or for destinations beyond the area.

They Help Revive Mountain Traditions

Age-old traditions will be maintained Sunday, June 9, when the tenth annual American Folk Song festival commemorates the traditional "Singin' Gatherin'" of the Kentucky mountains. The festival, sponsored by Jean Thomas, will be held at "Traipsin' Woman" cabin on the Mayo trail, 18 miles south of Ashland. The program will include Elizabethan ballads, Kentucky mountain ballads and hymns, and music from homemade dulcimers, banjos and guitars. Pictured here is a Kentucky family typical of those who will take part in the music festival.

Springer Back From Hospital

George Springer, former chief of police of Plymouth who has been confined to the University of Michigan hospital for many weeks, has sufficiently recovered to be able to return to the home of his son, Harvey Springer on Auburn avenue. Mr. Springer served Plymouth as village marshal, constable and chief of police for more than a quarter of a century and during that time won statewide fame for his excellent police work. He will probably be able to be out again in the near future. Meanwhile he would appreciate calls from his old friends.

Stove Explosion Starts Fire

A garage at the rear of a house owned by Harry Bassett, at 3901 East Ann Arbor Trail, just outside the city limits, was partially destroyed by fire Monday morning which started from the explosion of a kerosene stove. Plymouth firemen were called at about 9:30 o'clock. A lean-to shed at the side of the garage was leveled by the flames and a large part of the garage was destroyed.

The owner of the building, Bassett, lives in Wayne. Present occupants of the property are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nimans.

The suspicions of women, so far as men are concerned, are not without foundation.

Plymouth Gardens News

Mrs. Morris held a party at her home Friday evening for the 20 graduates of Stark school. Mr. and Mrs. Rossman were guests of honor. The eighth graders presented Mr. Rossman with a traveling bag.

Miss Ruth Heirmann of Buffalo, New York was the week-end guest of Miss Audrey Morris. Jack Fetterley spent the past three weeks visiting with his grandparents at Rochester.

A lovely bouquet of flowers and a nice box of candy was sent to Mrs. Fetterley by a group of 16 neighbors living on Stark road. She returned home from Mt. Carmel hospital Monday, much improved.

Virginia Savage was the guest of Helen Jones Tuesday night and visited Plymouth high school with her Wednesday.

From all reports, the Stark school picnic was a huge success. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Savage and son of Royal Oak attended the graduation exercises at Stark school in honor of their niece, Virginia Savage.

OLD HOUSE IS WIRED

ROME — A 93-year-old home here was recently wired for electricity for the first time. Lumber for the house was cut from nearby trees, and Indians watched building operations. Lighted first with candles, about 25 years later three oil lamps were purchased from a salesman named John D. Rockefeller. One of these lamps, that served for 58 years, is now wired for electricity and graces a 29-year-old table.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sly and Elizabeth Sculley, of Detroit, were Memorial day guests in the home of Silas Sly and family.

Three Troubled Rulers 'Celebrate' Anniversaries

Rulers of three gravely troubled European nations will "celebrate" anniversaries during the next few days, but in a much different manner than in former years. King Carol of Rumania, center, Europe's only royal dictator, observes the tenth anniversary of his return from exile on Saturday, June 8. King Gustave of Sweden, left, will be 82 years old Sunday, June 16. King George VI of England, right, will celebrate his birthday Thursday, June 13. Though his birthday actually falls on December 14, English custom sets the date for his anniversary.

Kaye Krausmann spent last week-end in Detroit, where she was maid of honor for her friend, Willo Sheridan, whose marriage to George Toubeneck, was an event of June 1. On Friday evening the bride entertained her wedding attendants at a cocktail party following the rehearsal. Her guests were Mrs. Robert Holman, of Mt. Clemens, matron of honor; Kaye Krausmann, of Plymouth, maid of honor; Mrs. Charles Caroline and Kay Wade, of Detroit, bridesmaids. The groomsmen were Dr. John Owen, William Gobel, Phil Rediker, John Adams and George Christanson.

Delores Holman, Plymouth road, was the guest of honor at a surprise kitchen shower given by Misses Millie Sanders and Jean Vertin, of Detroit, last Tuesday evening. Many colored balloons and crepe paper were used in the decorations in the recreation room where the guests assembled. The evening was spent in dancing and games, after which the hostesses served refreshments. The honored guest was presented with many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens, of Tecumseh, entertained the members of the Friday evening bridge club of Plymouth, consisting of the following members: Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Innis, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Giles, Mr. and Mrs. T. Fraser Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon, Mrs. J. William J. Spurgeon, Mrs. Chloee Powell and Albert Powell, at an all-day party on Memorial day.

The members of the Birthday club gathered Thursday in the home of Mrs. Arthur White for lunch and bridge with Mrs. Paul Wiedman as the guest of honor. Others present were Mrs. John A. Miller, Mrs. George Cramer, Mrs. Josephine Fish, Mrs. Raymond Bachelder, Mrs. Christine Van Poppelen, Mrs. Harold Brisbois and Mrs. E. J. Allison.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Nozle Jr. plan to entertain the Saturday dinner bridge group this Saturday at a party at their home. The guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cowgill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Moss and Dr. and Mrs. John L. Olsaver.

Bernice Clark, who is a teacher in the Midland high school, will arrive home Friday and on Wednesday of next week, plans to leave for Boulder, Colorado, to attend summer session in the University of Colorado. At the completion of the term, five weeks, she will go on to Hollywood, California, for a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Nina Conklin.

On Monday evening Mrs. John Dalton will be hostess to her bridge club, the following to be guests: Mrs. Max Trucks, Mrs. Floyd Wilson, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. William Hartmann, Mrs. H. Stratton and Mrs. Walter Hammond. Mrs. R. L. Hills has been invited also.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Winkler, of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gales and family, of Middle Belt road, joined Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis and son, Larry, Sunday, at a picnic in celebration of the latter's wedding anniversary and the birthday of Mrs. Gates.

The following ladies, members of the Liberty street bridge club, were in Detroit, Thursday, for their annual dinner and theatre party: Mrs. J. J. Stremich, Mrs. James Riley, Mrs. Harvey Springer, Mrs. Forest Smith, Mrs. Anthony Signorilli, Mrs. Gus Ebert, Mrs. Charles Fleming and Miss Ruby Drake.

Mrs. C. E. Elliott, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. Carl Shear, Mrs. John W. Blackenstaff, Mrs. O. F. Beyer, Mrs. John L. Olsaver and Mrs. Maxwell Moon were in Ann Arbor Monday to attend the annual Flower Show, held in the Yost Field house in that city. Mr. and Mrs. George M. Chute and sons attended on Sunday.

Complete was the surprise of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Doakes when their four children, ten grandchildren and friends gave them a pleasant party last Thursday evening, on their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Every one brought refreshments and an enjoyable evening was spent in visiting and playing games that all will long remember.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wood entertained at dinner, Wednesday evening, honoring Mrs. Lester Vandecar and daughters, Virginia and Verita, of Glendale, California. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple and Czarina Penney.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wiedman and daughter, Pauline, will attend the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Wiedman, in Ann Arbor Sunday. Open house will be held in the afternoon with a family dinner later in the day.

Dykhouse and Charles, Mrs. Russell Deane and Elmer, Mrs. Austin Whipple and Elmer, Mrs. Shattuck, of Glendale, California, Mrs. Jack Meyers, of Redford, and Mrs. J. J. Frank Allison Contest Winner

A Plymouth auto salesman is among the 794 winners in a nation wide question and answer contest sponsored by Fisher Body and the five General Motors passenger car divisions. William S. McLean, director of advertising for the body-building organization, disclosed today in announcing the results of the competition.

He is Frank K. Allison, of Ernest J. Allison Motor Sales, North Main street, who placed seventh in this zone and will receive a merchandise award as a result of his efforts. He was entered in the Chevrolet division of the contest.

The contest, which was open to retail salesmen employed by Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick, LaSalle and Cadillac agencies throughout the country, climaxed an education campaign emphasizing body features that was started with the introduction of the new models. In commenting upon it, Mr. McLean declared:

"In a day and age when buyers insist upon style as well as safety and comfort, it is only natural that the automobile body should assume increasingly greater importance. The purpose of our educational work, culminating in the questionnaire contest, was to give the salesmen of the General Motors dealer organization answers to all the questions that buyers are asking about the new 'unsteer' turret top Fisher bodies."

York, Monday, June 17. They are, Chevrolet division, L. X. Johnston, Carrollton Motor Car company, Carrollton, Ohio; Pontiac division, Frank Warbeck, the A. C. Hine company, Hartford, Connecticut; Oldsmobile division, George M. Rozzell, Community Motors, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas; Buick division, J. Thomas Gum, San Jose Buick company, San Jose, California; Cadillac division, P. W. Pitts, Cadillac Motor Car Division, New York City.

Judges of the contest were William A. Fisher, vice-president of General Motors, Mr. McLean and the general sales managers of the passenger car divisions, W. E. Holler, Chevrolet; D. U. Bathrick, Pontiac; D. E. Ralston, Oldsmobile; W. F. Hufstader, Buick; and D. E. Ahrens, Cadillac-LaSalle.

The 794 winners represent 468 cities in 47 states and the District of Columbia.

Community Band Is Organized

The first practice of the newly organized Plymouth Community band was held at 7:30 Friday evening. Band leader Alex Henderson was gratified at the large turnout of members and promised that Plymouth would be treated to some "real music" very soon. Meetings would continue at the high school, he said.

The band members are as follows: John Lang, tuba; Morris Knowles, bass horn; Jim Monroe, bass horn; Martin Standish, first cornet; Joe Raybeck, second cornet; Arthur Stone, clarinet; Max Rinz, clarinet; "Buzz" Jones, trap drum; Murray Coomb, bass drum and Henry Lanky, trombone. There were many more candidates for places in the band, some of which will be placed later, it was announced.

Sometimes it is better to forget the past for the sake of the future.

Old Glory's Birthday

Our Flag has been waving in the breeze since June 14, 1777, when it was adopted by the Continental Congress. U. S. Marines display the Stars and Stripes along with their regimental standard. At right: Grand Union, rattlesnake and pine tree flags, prominent among early colonial banners.

Romance has trailed Old Glory since it became our national flag 163 years ago. Since that time it has symbolized the hopes, aspirations and spirit of a nation devoted to the cause of liberty.

Prominent among early American flags, forerunners of the Stars and Stripes, were pine trees, rattlesnakes and other designs. The Grand Union flag, with a British jack appearing where forty-eight stars are now shown in a blue field, was the immediate ancestor of our national flag.

Fine tree flags were displayed by the cruisers of Washington's fleet which operated in New England waters, and such flags bore the words, "An appeal to Heaven."

Rattlesnake designs were frequently used by the southern colonies, and a flag of this type was carried by the U. S. Marines and bluejackets from the Continental Navy, who made a landing in the Bahamas in March, 1776. The rattlesnake symbol, with its motto "Don't tread on me," also appeared on the drums of American Marines at that time.

The Grand Union flag was popular with naval men and it was sometimes called the "First Navy Ensign." There were scores of other colonial banners, each of which found special favor in the colony where it originated.

Even today there is a certain mystery about Old Glory. Historians fail to agree as to who designed it, although tradition points to Betsy Ross, a Quaker City seamstress, as the maker of the first Stars and Stripes adopted by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

With a deep appreciation of the benefits we enjoy as citizens, each of us should display the Star-Spangled Banner on Flag Day, and by so doing honor the birth of our flag. No flag in the world is more beautiful. No flag spreads its folds over a more highly favored land than ours.

to carefully estimate its own strength with which it may meet a possible crisis. Our own government is taking all precautions in order that we may not be caught in a moment of national weakness but shall be able to meet any situation with the full power of our great national resources," Dr. Enss stated.

"However, we must not let ourselves be misled by the idea that the strength of a nation consists in mechanized armaments and efficiently trained armies only. There are other sources of strength which constitute the backbone of a great nation. We shall speak of them as natural and social forces. To some of these forces I wish to direct our attention at this time.

"Whenever a nation is threatened with an invasion from the outside, the first thought is the security of its borders. In this respect the United States could, up till now, speak of a peculiarly fortunate geographical situation. On the east and on the west we have two of the best friends in the world, the Atlantic and the Pacific ocean which always remain the same. And on the north and south our neighbors do not threaten our national existence; and this situation will not change overnight. Add to this situation the fact that to our north we have the Arctic and to the south the tropics and you will realize that we occupy the zone which in itself is a source of tremendous strength in the history of a nation.

"Another natural resource of our national strength is our almost unlimited natural resources of the widest variety.

"Nor should we forget our privileged historical situation. Although we cannot say that in the process of its historical growth the United States has not offended any other nation, this situation is not burdened with an uneasy conscience as many of the European nations, who must fear their neighbors because of grave injustices committed in the past.

"However all these advantages may not save us in the hour of crisis if we ourselves prove unworthy of the great blessings bestowed upon us by providence. There is the social side of national strength or weakness which after all may prove to be the more important factor in the solution of our national problems. Here we may detect some weak spots which must be bared and corrected if we mean to stand in the hour of crisis. Serious social mistakes were committed in recent years which are now producing undesirable results. Unfortunately these mistakes were committed by men in responsible positions and their correction has become an almost impossible task, but we shall have to tackle it anyhow.

"Men in high position have spoken disparagingly of the constitution of the United States and have coined phrases which have left their impress upon the minds of the younger generation. Now you hear the cry about the 'fifth column.' Would you be surprised if you found that the deepest sympathy for this so-called fifth column may be found among the American youth? Who is to blame for that incredible situation? Not our youth. For youth simply accepts the ideals held before them. The responsibility rests on those who have pointed to the wrong ideals. Free love, political radicalism and religious atheism have been the ideals held before the American youth by persons in high responsible positions and now we make much ado about subversive elements. True enough, a house cleaning is necessary, but where should America begin this process? Our young people have been taught to admire Soviet communism while the heroes of American history were pushed in the background. Now they are beginning to admire the German war machine. Why are the leaders of America so slow in inspiring the young of our land out of America's own historical past? Why all this chatter about the great European democracies while the American republic offers the best classical example for American youth?

"Here is the weakness of our nation today. Our youth has been taught to look across the oceans for inspiring ideals and they have lost the hold on true American ideals. And we all know that the responsibility for this deplorable situation rests upon our own leaders. Men like ex-President Hoover have tried to recreate the American ideals, but their attempts were met with laughter. One thing you must remember: peace time battles can be won by men of middle age, but for war you must have the enthusiasm and virility of young manhood."

Another item of interest on the program held in Kellogg park, was a talk, "In Memoriam," delivered by Virginia Rock, high school junior who represented Plymouth and won the Michigan High School Forensic association sub-district extempore speaking contest held recently at Ypsilanti.

High school musical organizations, in addition to several selections by the band were high lights of the program. Hon. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple, mayor of the city of Plymouth, presided as mistress of ceremonies. Presentation of officials of the organizations sponsoring the services were made. The organizations were the Myron H. Beals post of the American Legion, the Ex-Service Men's club and their auxiliaries. A monument was dedicated to Plymouth's World War dead at Central park preceding the ceremonies at Kellogg park.

Joe Scarpulla Holds Record in Decathlon

Member of This Year's Graduating Class Made 9398 Points in 1937

Each year for the last 11 years, Plymouth Rotarians have sponsored a Decathlon race for boys in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Medals are given for point totals in 10 events. For 9,000 points a gold one is awarded; 7,600 point winners receive a silver medal and bronze medals are indicative of at least 6,000 points.

On record in the athletic files at the high school is a list of all Decathlon participants since the meet was begun in Plymouth. It is interesting to note that the record for the highest number of points ever made by one man is held by Joe Scarpulla, who garnered 9,398 in 1937 when he was a freshman.

Douglas Prough, another member of this year's class holds second place honors. He made 9,365 points when he was also a freshman. Both boys have furthered their athletic careers by being outstanding members of Plymouth high school athletic teams. Both have been stellar performers on the basketball and football fields in addition to bringing numerous honors to their school in track and field events.

Following are the first 11 place holders for highest number of points ever made by Decathlon participants from the hundreds of boys who have taken part in the meet at Plymouth high school: 9398 points made by Joe Scarpulla in 1937; 9365, Douglas Prough, 1937; 9321, R. Egge, 1934; 9320, O. Fisher, 1934; 9220, G. Krumm, 1935; 9177, H. Wagenschutz, 1933; 9135, W. Bassett, 1931; 9076, J. Kinsey, 1933; 9065, R. Sessions, 1937; 9055, J. Warcup, 1936; and 9010, C. Drew, 1931.

Scarpulla is the first and only man since 1935 to make a new record in one of the meet events. He broke O. Fisher's eight-foot, three-inch mark made in 1934 for the standing broad jump when he leaped nine feet.

R. Wachtel holds the record for chinnings, having executed 20 in 1931. The longest overhead shot placement, a distance of 52 feet, was made by J. Kinsey in 1933, and Harold Wagenschutz holds the record for the running broad jump, made in 1933, when he leaped 19 feet, six inches. He also has the longest standing hop, step and jump mark on the books, making a distance of 24 feet and is high man in the 100-yard dash, making the record time of 11.4 seconds.

Three hundred and eight sit-ups, the record, was made by W. Highfield, in 1930. There is a three-way tie for the high jump record, of five feet, held by J. Kinsey, 1933; H. Wagenschutz, 1933, and C. Levandowski, 1931.

Dick Innis, in the running hop, step and jump, holds a record for the distance of 38 feet, made in 1934. Forty-seven feet is the record shot put which was made in 1933 by J. Kinsey. D. Hewitt in 1935, holds the record for the dip, executing 50.

Prospects are promising for some of the present records to be shattered this year. Plymouth residents are cordially invited by school officers and Rotary club members to attend this year's Decathlon meet which is to be held at the Central playground, Wednesday afternoon, June 5, starting at 3:45 o'clock. Anthony S. Matulis, high school athletic director, is in charge of the meet.

Robert Marshall Wins Business Men's Association Trip to Boys' State

One of Seven Local Boys to Attend East Lansing Meeting

It was revealed last week by William Rose, of the Plymouth Hardware, and John Jacobs, of the Plymouth Automatic Sealing Vault company, that Robert G. Marshall, of 344 Ann street, had won a trip to Boys' State to be held at East Lansing, June 20 to 28. The two men represent the Plymouth Business Men's association.

Marshall is one of seven Plymouth boys who will be delegates to the annual convention held on the campus of Michigan State college. He is a member of the Plymouth high school junior class and is an outstanding athlete in addition to being interested in city, state and national affairs.

Following is the essay, "Why Should We Patronize Our Local Merchants?" which was judged to be the best in the contest sponsored by the Business Men's association:

"This question can be answered by these facts. Who does most for a city? The Chamber of Commerce, composed of merchants and tradesmen. They are taxed heavily and these taxes go to support the municipal government, schools, public relief and to the beautifying of the city. If the merchants have a good business it will encourage other people and merchants to inhabit the city. The more citizens and merchants the more prosperous our city will become. Better government, better schools, more relief and a more beautiful city will be the result.

"If you went to another city to buy, you might save a few cents on the article you buy. But think of these things, the time and cost of going to and fro, also of carting the purchases all home after paying cash for them. While all you had to do was to telephone your local merchant, tell him what you wanted and in a short while it would be delivered at your door. You can pay cash or say charge it for you live in the city and the merchant knows you will pay him when your pay day arrives. This is one of your local merchant's greatest courtesies. Most people greatly appreciate this friendly gesture. Also your local merchant will help you select articles of good quality and value for the money you spend. While other out-of-city merchants do not and may try to sell you inferior goods.

"Another thing the local merchants do is to cooperate with the schools. They take boys on the apprentice course and teach them their business. They hire other boys on busy days and after school to help also.

"When posters were presented advertising church parties, school sports and plays, local dances, and other sales, the merchants very willingly let them be placed in their windows.

"The merchants are always the first ones asked for contributions to worthy causes. Two fine examples are, the annual Halloween party and the Christmas entertainment. In the Halloween party they offer prizes for the best dressed and most original costumes. They select these from the long parade which begins at one end of the city and ends at another. The children receive fruit and candy and are shown about three outdoor movies. The Christmas party isn't really a party but the people on the receiving end think so. They receive food, clothing, and very often money from the merchants and other charitable minded citizens with the help of the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts and the police department. I think this is one of the most worthy of all the causes to which they contribute.

"Have you ever watched an exciting game of softball between two colorful looking teams? These teams and others are all sponsored by the local merchants who make possible this splendid sport and pleasure. They buy brilliantly colored suits, bats and balls, other needed equipment. Also they buy basketballs and suits for their basketball teams in the winter. These games supply a recreation in the winter that many young men and women enjoy playing and watching. These are several facts that ought to convince you.

"My adaptation of the Golden Rule would be, 'Do unto the local merchants as you would have them do unto you.'

A rude and vulgar man is one who starts at a girl's figure when she's doing her best to display it. Unread books quickly acquire a stale look.

Ferries Create A World Record

A world record never approached by any other two ships in maritime history is credited to the Pere Marquette Railway steamers, City of Flint and City of Saginaw, which have just completed 10 years of car ferry operation on Lake Michigan.

The two boats were put in service between Ludington and Milwaukee in the spring of 1930. Since then, according to R. J. Bowman, vice-president of the railroad, the boats have traveled more miles, hauled more freight per mile, given steady employment to more persons per mile than any other two ships.

In the 10-year period the boats traveled 1,986,660 miles, equal to 80 times around the world; carried 8,580,000 tons of freight; provided $1,825,000 in wages to their crews who incidentally were served 1,614,200 meals in the decade, and carried more than 47,000 tourist automobiles and 150,000 passengers. Despite their day-and-night, winter-and-summer operations there has not been a day in the 10 years when storms have prevented either ship from making a crossing of Lake Michigan.

The ships are two of a fleet of car ferry steamers operated by the railroad between Ludington and Milwaukee, Manitowoc and Kewaunee, Wisconsin and which make up the largest fleet of their kind in the world. A new steamer, costing $2,000,000, the first streamlined ship to operate on the Great Lakes and said to be the most powerful steamer ever on American inland waters, will be added to the fleet January 1. Officials announce its launching at Manitowoc, Wisconsin, late in the summer.

Conservation department ornithologists say the last week of May witnesses arrivals of the most tardy bird species which summer in Michigan. Among them are the black-billed cuckoo, yellow-billed cuckoo, night hawk, wood pewee, Acadian flycatcher, alder flycatcher, indigo-bunting, Tennessee warbler, black-poll warbler, Cape May warbler, corvian warbler, bay-breasted warbler and mourning warbler.

YES sir, what you're looking at is the biggest-selling Buick of all time—which, in times like these, is certain proof that here's the best-built Buick of all time.

But why just look at it? Why not try it?

Why not go find out what this car's got that has made more people buy Buick this year than even back in the easy-money days of the twenties?

See what there is about that big, hundred-plus horsepower Dynaflex straight-eight that gets people—what it's like to have plenty-room all around and style that has the highway eyeing you.

You ought to know about the BuicCoil Spring-ride—it's not only gentle and easy, but these soft steel coils eliminate a lot of fuss and care about lubrication.

And you ought to have the straight dope about prices—prices that make this Buick the yardstick of up-to-the-minute car values.

This much will give you an idea: Current prices† begin at $895 for the business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich. *Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories are to be added.

What the total amounts to is a surprisingly low figure—one your local Buick dealer will be tickled to show you.

†Prices subject to change without notice.

Southern Michigan Editors "Open" Upper Peninsula Tourist Season

Group Sees Many Amazing Places in Michigan's Wonderland

(By ELTON R. EATON)

Under the leadership of Al H. Weber, of the Cheboygan Observer, and Hal H. Whitley, of the Presque Isle County Advance, two prominent northern Michigan newspaper men, a group of southern Michigan newspaper editors formally opened the 1940 "tourist" season for the Upper Peninsula two weeks ago.

In the group were Floyd Miller, of the Royal Oak Tribune, president of the Michigan Press association; George Averill, of the Birmingham Eclectic; Lawrence Towse, of the Jonesville Independent; Nelson Brown, of the Ingham County News; Muriel H. DeFoe, of the Charlotte Republican Tribune; Webb McCall, of the Isabella County Times-News, and the writer. In the Upper Peninsula they were joined by William Fritz, of the Newberry News; Claude Riley, of the Ontonagon Herald; and Thomas Conlin, of the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

"We want you fellows to come up here early, so you can go back home and tell the folks how foolish it is to go outside the state of Michigan for a vacation trip, when they can find so much within our own state to see and enjoy," said Editor Weber in one of his letters in discussing the purposes of the trip.

Beginning with this week in the Michigan, My Michigan column of The Plymouth Mail will appear the first of a series of articles prepared from material gathered along a trip that covered but a small portion of the Upper Peninsula, the most interesting vacation land in all the nation.

But there are many incidents of the trip that provided plenty of excitement, fun and pleasure, that do not belong in the Michigan, My Michigan column.

That's the why of this story. The touring editors met in front of the office of the Cheboygan Observer. Right on the minute they departed for the trip across the Straits of Mackinac on the state highway ferry system established during the days of Alex Groesbeck. The ferries during those days paid into the state a handsome profit each year. But under the free-spending system of these times, the tremendous increase in revenues collected at the ferries fell far short of paying all the various things for which state money can be spent. The travelers should have found additional pleasure in the ferry trip because the taxpayers had to kick in some of the costs in transporting them across the Straits, but the editors are all taxpayers too, so it wasn't such a big kick after all. And it was a sort of cloudy afternoon as well.

When the boat landed at Isle St. Ignace, an effort was made to corral Editor Chappell and take him along on the trip. Unfortunately he wasn't "in" that afternoon and he missed a fine trip and a good time. Except for about 20 miles, the travelers speeded over gravelled roads built back in the days when Frank Rogers was state highway commissioner. They were on their way to Newberry, where the first two-day stop was to be made.

John Turnbull owns a hunting and fishing camp some 15 or 18 miles out from Newberry. Al and Hal had arranged for the tourists to make the camp their headquarters. It is beautifully located on a small strip of land lying between two small lakes hidden away at the foot of some hills among the pine forests that cover many hundreds of acres in that locality. Mr. Turnbull is a pioneer in that part of the country. He served for nearly 20 years as sheriff of Lapeer county and recently he was named county clerk. His friends say he knows every person in that part of the state and he calls them all by their first names. Any one to serve in a county office so many

But It's True -----!

JUNE KEITH, OF PASADENA, CALIF., ONCE SWAM 104 MILES WITHOUT STOPPING!!

THE TRAINED BUFFALO WHICH LEARNED TO EXPRESS ITSELF BY TAPPING ITS FOOT, AND EVEN CALLED FOR THE FAMILY GROCERIES... IT BELONGED TO John Martin, a full-blooded Sioux, of Evansville, Indiana.

THERE WAS A JOHN BULL WHO WAS A MAJOR IN THE GERMAN ARMY DURING THE WORLD WAR, AND A WILLIAM HONENZOLLERN WAS AN ENGLISH CAPTAIN!!

The average buffalo, according to authorities on animals, is not very bright. But the one belonging to Mr. Martin, a female called Blanche, not only went on errands but woke up her master every morning by rubbing noses. Blanche was a dwarf variety.

Like a circus train, Al Weber saw to it that the "troupe" moved out of this delightful camp bright and early to head for the next stop at Ontonagon. One of Michigan's most slightly high-ways lies between Newberry and this little Lake Superior port and industrial community. Through L'Anse, Marquette, Michigamme, moved the cavalcade of automobiles, reaching Ontonagon early in the afternoon.

There hustling Editor Claude Riley had made arrangements for the visitors to spend their all-too-brief visit at another hunting camp. Rain, rain, rain — and high water didn't do the fishing any good. So the visitors spent their time seeing the sights — and there are plenty of them around Ontonagon. These will be described in another article to appear soon in The Mail.

If any one thinks that only the "young fellows" can do the hiking and tearing around, they had better think twice. Al Weber may be crowding along towards the 70's, but he is younger than a lot of fellows down around the 30's. He went over the top of the Porcupine mountains just like a Rocky Mountain goat. Up and down the cliffs he climbed while the others in the party perspired and rested at every chance they had to stop in their trip up to the Lake of the Clouds. Lawrence Towse, a youngster editor from Jonesville, was able to follow Al's lead better than any one else in the crowd, but even he found it necessary to hunt up a comfortable rock on which to sit now and then. "Bill" Fritz, of Newberry, who has spent 53 years of his life in the Upper Peninsula, made his first visit to the famous Michigan mountains with the visiting southern Michigan editors. He did a lot of "puffing" but he went way to the top and down again.

Over at Crystal Falls the followers of Isaac Walton found their heart's delight in some good fishing. Loaded onto a lumber train by Editor Thomas Conlin of Crystal Falls, Howard Atkins of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dexter Van Ostrand, of the Patten Timber company, the visitors were taken down some 14 miles to an old lumber camp, near where the East Fence river flows on its way to the Great Lakes. Here, indeed, was a real trout stream. Studious Nelson Brown, of the Ingham County News, caught his first mess of real brook trout. George Averill, Webb McCall and Al Weber, veterans with the trout fly, did their "stuff" to a queen's taste. Floyd Miller puddled along in the stream using some trout flies that he brought home with him from England. Harold Cole and John Fribbly, two natives of this delightful part of Michigan, showed the boys how to really catch trout. The East Fence river is, without question, one of the best trout streams in all Michigan.

But all the visitors didn't fish. "Doc" DeFoe spent the long hours of the day tramping about along the roadbeds of old railway lines that served the lumbering company in years gone by. He chatted with workers about the war, politics and the north.

Yes, sir, it was a great trip to a great land. For more about it, follow Michigan, My Michigan column for the next few weeks.

The peak of Michigan coal mining was reached in 1907, when 2,035,858 tons were produced.

Recommends City Hire Comfort Station Guard

Health Officer Peck Submits Monthly Report to City

So that there might be a more sanitary condition at the public comfort station on Main street, City Health Officer Luther Peck, M. D., recommended to the city commission Monday night that a watchman be put in charge of the building during several daytime and evening hours.

"At numerous times during the month I have personally inspected the comfort station and it was found to be in a very filthy condition," the doctor told commissioners in his monthly report. "Because I believe much of it is due to neglect, a watchman stationed there will be the answer to the problem."

In his report he mentioned that such a building can be a valuable asset to a community when properly cared for, but when permitted to be in the condition as he found Plymouth's to be in, it is nothing but a debit and perfect spot for disease breeding, he declared.

Included in his report for the month of May, it was mentioned that seven homes were inspected in which there were no inside toilets. Orders were given to carry out state health requirements in each of these cases, he reported.

At the request of the city manager, who has been working with the health officer in regard to city health problems, 19 firemen were examined following the Willoughby Shoe store fire to guard against any complications which might result from smoke and other obnoxious fumes. It was found that seven men needed medical attention.

During the latter part of April and the forepart of May, 15 cases of scarlet fever developed in the city. With the aid of the school nurse, considerable time was spent in preventing the spread of the disease and at the present time there are only two active cases in the city.

A severe venereal disease was ferreted out by Dr. Peck last month. He said that fortunately the carrier has been removed from the city. He placarded and closed to occupancy two pieces of property whose unsanitary condition warranted such action.

During the last three months conservation officers confiscated approximately nine running miles of unmarked, undersized chub nets in three major seizures in Lake Michigan—off Ludington, Frankfort and Charlevoix.

Plymouth Golf Teams Lose in M. G. A. Play

Previously Undefeated Country Club Foursome Bows to North Hills

Plymouth's two golf teams in the M. G. A. league were defeated by foursomes from North Hills and Redford.

The biggest surprise of the day came when Northville won nine and one-half to two and one-half, over the previously undefeated Plymouth Country club quartet. Nick Uzela, paced the winners with a 72—two over par—to take Jack Fitzpatrick, Plymouth Country Club's No. 1 man, who shot a 75. Another 75 was registered by John Lock who edged out Bill Duesenbury, taking 78 strokes. Seventy-sevens were not good enough for Herb Bury and Jim Lock to win from their opponents, Art Pomey and Bob Gajda, who had a 75 and 76.

Lorrey Moe, No. 1 man for Hilltop, was unable to pace Don Mead, top-ranking player for Redford who took the local foursome eight to four. Playing for Hilltop were Moe, Lionel Coffin, Louie Campbell and Ivan Baldwin. Coffin was low scorer for Hilltop, registering a 74, with Moe's 77, Campbell, 81, and Baldwin, 79. Coffin garnered two and one-half points with Campbell winning the rest.

Wedding News

Blunt-Marcelain Nuptials Performed Saturday Morning

On Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock in Our Lady of Good Counsel church, Mrs. Genevieve T. Blunt became the bride of Albert J. Marcelain, the Rev. Father Victor Renaud performing the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Boman Bardon, of Jackson, wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, made with fitted bodice, long sleeves, shirred to the elbow, with tiny button trim down the back to the waistline and a long train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tiny headress of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies tied with wide satin ribbon.

Mrs. Edward Marcelain, of Waukegan, Illinois, was matron of honor, wearing a gown of peach net, made with short puffed sleeves, full skirt, trimmed with two rows of lace insertion and small velvet bows of blue. Her headress was of forget-me-nots, pink and blue with shoulder veil of blue. She carried a fan ar-rangment of talisman roses with loops of satin ribbon in contrasting color.

The bridesmaids, Della Lampira and Lenore Frasset, of Detroit, wore similar gowns in pink and aqua with matching headresses. Their flowers were pink roses with loops of pink and aqua ribbon.

Little Joyce Frasset, of Detroit, was the flower girl, daintily dressed in a floor length gown of rose net, made with short puffed sleeves and full skirt, edged with a narrow ruffle of same material. She carried a colonial bouquet of talisman roses and white sweet peas with a cascade of pink ribbons falling from it.

The ring bearer, Duane Blunt, carried the wedding ring on a beautiful pillow of white satin. He wore formal attire as did the men of the wedding party.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Edward Marcelain, of Waukegan, and the ushers were Ludwig Marcelain, of Waukegan and Willard Methot, of Detroit. Each wore a white carnation in his lapel.

The altar was beautifully decorated with baskets of gladioli, peonies, and white carnations, with lighted tapers and tall palms placed at intervals.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was held at the Pen-Mar, for the wedding party and a few relatives and friends, and in the afternoon, from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Oldenburg on Plymouth road, the home of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcelain have many friends in and about Plymouth who extend best wishes.

Guests at the reception were from Waukegan, North Chicago, Cleveland, Jackson, Grosse Pointe, Detroit and Northville.

Mrs. Marcelain was honored, before her marriage, with a lovely miscellaneous shower, given by Mrs. George Oldenburg and Mrs. Alice Mulligan, in Mrs. Oldenburg's home. Guests numbered 30 and the evening was spent in playing buncie which was followed by a delicious luncheon. Many lovely gifts were received by the guest of honor.

Municipally owned electric plants in Seattle and Tacoma, Washington, and Eugene, Oregon, have turned down offers of power from the government-ownership plant at Bonneville, as municipal plants can generate power at less cost than Bonneville's price.

Odd News in and About Michigan

STEAL ARABIAN PIPES

Dearborn — City police are wondering what burglars are going to do with the loot taken in a recent robbery. Said Nassar reported someone had broken into his home and taken two Arabian pipes four feet high, fitted with long hoses. They were valued at $100.

HONEY GOES ABOARD

Grandville — Two carloads of Michigan honey, 100,000 pounds in all, were recently shipped from here for an undisclosed foreign port. Duty on the honey, which was packed in 60-pound boxes, amounted to more than $1,000.

LAMBS SET RECORD

Bad Axe — For the fourth successive year, the same ewe on the Phillip Neez farm near here has given birth to triplet lambs. Each year the three lambs from this ewe have lived. THREE BROTHERS GRADUATE

St. Johns — Probably for the first time in history of the local high school, three brothers will receive their diplomas at the same time when seniors graduate this June. They are Jack, 17; Merrill, 18; and Harry, 19; sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Carpenter.

SQUIRREL IS FRIENDLY

Ithaca — Theodore Bloss, who has been feeding fox squirrels from his back porch for several years, now has one of them trained to rap on the window when she wants a little attention. A pair of nuts is kept handy in the kitchen for her. The squirrel will eat from Bloss' hand.

DOG IS CONDEMNED

St. Louis — "Laddie," a valued collie dog owned by Miss Martha Carlson was "condemned" to death by Justice J. L. Smith recently after testimony on the dog's deportment was taken in his court. The collie was "paroled" at a similar hearing last year.

Rocks Drop Low in Valley Meet

Score 19.2 Points for a Fifth Place

Plymouth's unbalanced track team which placed far above any class B team in the Twin Valley league at the state meet a week ago could collect only 19.2 points and a fifth place among the seven schools competing in the annual T.V.A.A. meet at Ypsilanti, Saturday.

Dearborn and River Rouge, both class A schools, were first and second in the meet while Birmingham and Ecorse, Class B schools were ahead of Plymouth. Here are the results of the meet which was entered by all seven schools that form the Twin Valley League and compete in all high school sports:

Dearborn 52.7; River Rouge 44.5; Birmingham 27.7; Ecorse 22.2; Plymouth 19.2; Wayne 8.5; Ypsilanti 2.5.

Dearborn, led by Russ Reeder, junior star, gained six first places out of 12 to supplant River Rouge in their five-year monopoly of the T.V.A.A. championship. Reeder scored 15 and a quarter points himself by winning the high and low hurdles, the broad jump, and running a leg on the 400-yard relay when placed fifth.

Usually strong in first places and weak on seconds and thirds, Plymouth did a complete about face of her usual form Saturday. Doug Prough who won the pole vault was the only Plymouth first place winner although Plymouth placed in nine of the track events. Expected to place much higher than it did, Plymouth failed to live up to pre-meet expectations due to at least two breaks of bad luck. One was that Bob Marshall, who was almost a certainty to win the half mile, was unable to compete. As a result Plymouth did not get a point in this race. The other was that Claude Underhill, who was scheduled to take a first or second, was able only to obtain a fifth in the quarter mile because he was boxed on the third curve of the Ypsilanti track.

In winning Plymouth's first place in the pole vault, Prough attained 10 feet, nine inches. He also took for a fifth place in the high jump to account for two-fifths of a point.

Bob Sessions, Plymouth sprinter, ran the 200 in 24.2 to win second place. Plymouth did not get a point in the 100-yard dash. The other two events in which Plymouth's team balance failed to show up were the low hurdles and the broad jump. Dearborn's three broad jumpers placed first, second and third.

Jim Buckle, who usually makes his points in the low hurdles, placed fourth in the high hurdles. Jack Baker was third in the shot put which was won at 44 feet.

Elmer Myers who has defeated most of his Twin Valley opponents in the mile, placed fourth in the race when his final sprint carried him from seventh place to the finish line still behind.

The Plymouth relay team of Harsha, Sessions, Butler and Underhill stepped into an early third place and maintained it for the 880 yards to finish fourth—defeating Dearborn, Ypsilanti and Wayne.

Times on most of the races were only average due to a very muddy track. One of the Dearborn relay men slipped in the mud and lost the lead in the race. This meet concludes the Plymouth season.

He Values Mother More Than Medal

Bob Marshall's mother who is in Mt. Carmel Mercy hospital can compete in the Twin Valley track finals Saturday because he lacked a pint of blood.

Bob Marshall's mother who is in Mt. Carmel Mercy hospital can compete in the battle for life because she has that pint of blood. Marshall, who was scheduled to run the 400-yard race, Marshall couldn't even run in the race when doctors said he was too weak. Less than a week before the race, he gave his mother a blood transfusion and a pint of his blood now leaves her on the road to recovery today.

Marshall was scheduled to do more than win the half mile; he was expected to set a record. As events turned out, Plymouth didn't even place in the race.

Undeafened this year in dual meet competition, Marshall was fairly certain of what his mind would do. In fact, he told his mother so and it appears right now that he is right.

Instead of a medal from his work last Saturday, Marshall has something much more permanent and valuable, two small scars on his right arm where they connected the pump.

GOLFERS FAIL AT STATE MEET

The Plymouth high school's golf team tried vainly to fulfill the hopes put in them at the State Regionals Saturday, June 1 at Kalamazoo. The team shot a score of 380 to win tenth place out of 12 schools competing. Redford finished with a score of 374. The "Big Four" played in this, the last match of the season and these were the scores:

Dick Dunlop 96; Captain W. Hoffman 96; Al Owens 96; Jack Sequin 92.

Delirium Tremens

The Plymouth-Wayne baseball game Monday was scheduled to be played on the Wayne diamond, but didn't make any difference to the Plymouth right fielder or the Pilgrim Prints baseball reporter.

Don Blackford, regular right fielder, and Bob Daniel, who was assigned to write up the game reported just after 3:30, at the Plymouth diamond, though with different objects in mind. Blackford was prepared for a regular practice and Daniel was ready to write the game. The only difficulty was that the Plymouth team was at Wayne.

The Plymouth team waited a long time for Blackford and at length concluded that he was home sick. Meanwhile Blackford was in his last hour class unaware that there was to be anything other than a regular practice.

Daniel must have been rather amazed to find not a sign of a team on the diamond, but the accident wasn't his fault. He was assigned the game by the editor. Meanwhile he accented a member of the tennis team and received the information that the team was to have played at Wayne.

Fortunately the reporter had a bicycle. He used his time to advantage by watching a tennis match. The regular Plymouth right fielder, except for Monday, was home. He didn't find out until the next day that the game was at Wayne.

Neither the coach nor the baseball pitcher had a comment to offer.

100 Participate in Pentathlon

Approximately 100 girls participated in the senior high Pentathlon. Of this number the girls won eight silver medals and 37 bronze medals were equivalent to the girls. The girls won the Pentathlon on the playground from 3:45-5:00 was under the direction of Mrs. Miller assisted by the eighth and ninth grade girls.

Due to inability to supply medals for all the grades this year, only girls in the three lower grades can win a medal. Girls in the upper three classes completed this year for points toward their senior letter. Thirty-four hundred points, the equivalent of a silver medal, gave a girl 300 points toward her letter. Twenty-four hundred points were equivalent of a bronze medal, gave a girl 150 points toward her letter. Mrs. Miller expressed a hope that next year medals may be offered to all six grades.

The winners of the equivalent of a silver medal will receive 300 points toward their school letter. Doris Dube had the highest number of points with 3861. The other seven are Virginia Barkley, Hazel Pankow, Dorothy Barnes, Shirley Trinka, Velma Stokes, Helen Lisul, and Irene Kracht. Of these eight four are sophomores, two are juniors, and two are seniors.

Twenty sophomores won equivalent of a bronze medal and will receive 150 points toward their school letter. Joyce Barbee, Annabelle Becker, Shirley Berard, Lois Bowden, Fern Bower, Louise Carter, Gladys Davison, Shirley Freeland, Virginia Garrison, Ruth Kiefer, Doris Lee, June Morgan, Phyllis Nichols, Agnes North, Allene Parmelee, Muriel Simpson Barbara Sweetney, Onetta Thorpe, Betty Wick, and Agn Zimba are the sophomore winners.

Nine juniors won the equivalent of a bronze medal. Betty Brown, Janice Elzerman, Lillian Fisher, Olive M. Bakewell, Mary Jane Olaver, Matilda Sancer, Ruth Williams, Helen Marcoe, and Joyce Zobel are the junior winners.

Eight seniors won the equivalent of a bronze medal. Betty Barlow, Patricia Braidel, Dolores Bettling, Margaret Erdelyi, Isabelle Nairn, Emily Sancer, Velma Thatcher, and Barbara Zietsch are the senior winners.

A turnout of 237 girls was expected for the junior high girls' Pentathlon held June 4. Members of the Women's Club were to be in charge of the event assisted by Senior Leaders' Club girls.

Information About Classroom Activities

Girls' biology classes, instructed by Miss Ford, are studying types of flowerless plants: fungi, algae, mold, yeast and bacteria. In these classifications they also study their growth and method of reproduction.

Upon inquiring about where their relatives lived, Miss Allen discovered that in her English classes only six out of 75 of the students lived in the same place that their grandparents had, and that one-third of their relatives were living in the South, one-third in the East, and one-third in the North, indicating thereby that Americans are a restless group of people as it was explained in American literature books and that this type of people did not like to settle down in one spot, content to do as their fathers had done before them.

One of the most outstanding projects submitted for the "Idylls of the King" was a mural by Lucien Sides depicting all the famous characters at the death of Elaine. The painting, an original composition, is done in rich glowing colors that give life and depth to the scene.

In connection with the section on drama in their literature books, "Prose and Poetry," Miss Walldorf's English classes have been acting out several of the plays. The best play of both the second and sixth hour classes was the "Grand Champ's Diamond." The second hour cast was George Chubb, Charles Bowdler, Marie Ann Miller, Ruth Drews, and Carl Hosier, directed by Frances Weid. The sixth hour group, who gave their play in the grade school auditorium, used properties and lights. Glenn Ford, Betty Wyckson, Onetta Thorpe, Archie King and Robert Bachelder depicted the characters and Betty Jewell directed.

Editorial Brevities

The fact that a high percentage of Germans before the war were supposed to have flat feet was used by the Allies to do with their ability to put their foot down when and where they please!

The Germans erred sadly when they announced that in the present campaign they were using a secret weapon. Every one of the reliable authorities and well-informed sources in Europe and America can produce a different one. Life Magazine thinks it is a radio wave that can heat and destroy metals, newspaper reporters think it to be any one of half a dozen other things, including the Belgian Bascio, the giant tanks, the parachute troops or the pincer plan-of-action. Perhaps the worst is yet to come: meanwhile all the middle-class and uninformed observer can do is take his pick.

The report that German war news is just as accurate or is more accurate than that of the Allies is not without foundation. As an incentive to publish reports of horrible losses they suffer, the Allies have the hope of American entrance in the war. Meanwhile the Germans are afraid of that very thing, do not wish to exaggerate their gains. The Allies want America in; the Germans want it out.

While everyone else is speculating on war, we would like to turn our thoughts to more pressing problems. Just how many wonder, of this year's freshman boys wish to become baseball players?

Seniors Spend Skip Day on Lake Huron

Leaving at 10:00 o'clock at the Shelby street dock, 55 seniors stepped on the "City of Buffalo" for their annual Skip day. Saturday, June 1, they boarded the largest lake boat in the world cost approximately three and a half million dollars to build. They went to Lake Huron and turned around and came back. Aboard the boat the students enjoyed dancing and also a floor show which included various types of entertainment.

Besides seniors from Plymouth, there were students from rural schools all over Michigan.

In our wakenful moments at night, we wonder how many filing cabinets are in use in Washington, D. C. where they are located, and what acreage they cover.

Teachers Hold Annual Picnic

In Riverside park near the tennis courts, the teachers of Starkweather and Central grade schools and high school held their annual picnic Tuesday, May 28. There were about 75 teachers, husbands and wives present.

A committee made up of teachers from Central grade school selected the ladies from the Baptist church to serve the dinner.

Besides the picnic supper, the teachers enjoyed games, and sports. The men played baseball and the women played tennis, shuffleboard and croquet.

Seniorite Completed; Distributed to Class

"Put those Yearbooks away," are words that have been echoed throughout Plymouth high school ever since the seniors received their yearbook, The Seniorite. The fact that this command had to be repeated so frequently attests to the interest in the Senior annual which was guided to the completion by Patricia Braidel and Nancy Alexander with the aid of 18 others.

Thumbnail sketches of the 114 graduating seniors include their name, nickname, and accomplishments. Still another feature is a synopsis of the senior play, "Annie Laurie," and a list of the cast. In addition the Letter Girls are honored with their picture appearing along with an explanation of the point system. A picture of seniors in music is included. The history of probably the most important senior project—as far as the school is concerned—the move for Student Government is related. The activities of the Senior Girl Reserves appears with a picture of that group. In telling of their Senior Prom at which Bobby Grayson played a picture of Tommy Marvin and the J-Hop was included by mistake.

Pictures and reviews of the six sports—football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, and golf—form the sports section of the Seniorite of 1940.

Graduation, the high point of the Seniors' year, is featured with the baccalaureate, class night, and commencement programs. With this the class history and class song is included. Besides pictures of the various seniors in school and at play, the salutatory by Richard Strong is included.

The Seniorite which was financed by the senior class treasury has been distributed at no cost to the members of the class of 1940.

Makin' the Rounds

Question of the week: Does Eugene Bakewell have grounds for his anger? . . . How about it, Nancy A? Could anyone do anything for Alan B? . . . except Eloise Z. . . Teachers seem to know everything . . . including the times you haven't read the lesson.

Could it be that Arvel C's broturing will be just like him? . . . More creamed chicken tonight . . . Ah, these banquets . . . Someone is a mighty good story teller, Homer! . . .

This week we saw the seniors with their Seniorities. . . Jack Gettleson and his 32 dozens of flowers; problem . . . Jack Butz and guess who . . . the program cover committees and their crayons . . .

Attention seniors: Your year book is misleading. . . or do you prefer the Junior Hop to the Senior Prom? . . . anyway Tommy Marvin isn't Bobby Grayson . . . surprised?

What Flag Week Means — Editorial

A week ago yesterday we Americans celebrated Memorial day with Europe at war and our land disturbed by harrowing uncertainties and rumors of war. It is with great fear and apprehension that we look to the future, for the future he man has been the worst enemy we have. June 8, begins the first day of Flag Week, an observance that will be nation-wide. It may seem ironical to celebrate Flag Day with war so widespread, but this day can have a message for us if we will only listen.

"What does it mean?" "Is that like Cotton Week?" What does Flag Week mean to us Americans? To many it will mean little just as Decoration Day, the Fourth of July signify little. To others, Flag Week of 1940 will have an added significance and perhaps a changed tone from those of former years. When the past it was designed to promote a united citizenship and to free our people from class hatreds and racial intolerance, this year's national observance carries with it an added meaning since the laws and flags of other lands are being engulfed by war and destruction.

If plans for the week materialize, cities all over the nation will have Old Glory fluttering over public buildings and homes, factories, and institutions; it will have promoted a new and better understanding of the flag and its significance among its citizens, among grade and high school students. Proclamations have been issued by President Roosevelt and Governor Dickinson asking Americans to honor the flag and spread appreciation for the ideals and institutions for which it stands.

Red for courage, white for cleanness of life and blue for loyalty, justice, and truth, the American stars and stripes will find its celebration culminated with Flag Day on June 14, 163 years after the first flag was authorized by the Continental Congress.

We are Americans; in our world and its problems we are fortunate to have a flag yet—a flag worthy of our honor and respect. Let us see if we cannot pay it the reverence and respect that is due by observing Flag Week, by appreciating its significance, by repeating the significance to it at the first opportunity we have. How many of us remember those simple but so very significant words?

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands. One nation indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

Plymouth Tennis Team Wins Final Match From Birmingham, 3-2

Winning their final tennis match of the season, Wednesday May 29, from Birmingham, the Plymouth team officially closed their 1940 tennis season.

Although not winning many matches, the team had a fair year since they came out on top in the Class B regional.

The players and their respective scores are as follows:

Norman (P) defeated Stulte (B) (6-4); Lorenz (P) defeated Platt (B) (2-6, 6-3) (6-4); Sevin (B) defeated Lewis (P) (6-4) (10-14); Butz-Gettleson (P) defeated Danyes-Pearshall (B) (6-2) (6-0); Bill-Hartsough (B) defeated Dunham-Birt (P) (6-4) (6-3).

Of this year's team only Gettleson, Lorenz, Butz, and Lewis will be eligible to play next year since Butz, Norman, and Dunham are half year students and will be ineligible for sports next year.

Juniors Banquet 300 Tonight

The annual junior and senior banquet will be held tonight in the high school auditorium. Multi-colored flowers will deck the tables as centerpieces and fernery will fill the stage.

"Gulliver's Travels" is the theme of the banquet and all speakers will be personified as characters from the movie. A record crowd of over 300 juniors and seniors is expected.

Rain Would Have Saved the Wayne Game

It's too bad it didn't rain last Monday. Yep! Just too bad. Why? Well, if it had rained the game between Plymouth and Wayne would have been called off and consequently Plymouth's warriors wouldn't have come out on the tail end of a 12-2 count.

Your reporter knew that Wayne was disappointed at being beaten by Plymouth a couple weeks ago, but he didn't know that they were down right mad. In this return game they not only defeated Plymouth but they put out a 12 runs to make sure of victory. They hit Plymouth's starting pitcher, Bob Hancock, with everything but the players' bench, and even threatened to do that before the game ended. The rough part of the game was that Wayne was a good tight one with the score 2-0 in favor of Wayne until the fifth and sixth innings when Wayne cut loose and scored 10 runs. Part of these runs came as the result of hits and part as a result of errors.

Tommy Carrioco, brilliant Wayne hurler, again continued to pitch winning ball and allowed Plymouth only one hit, a single in the first, and struck out 14, which is good pitching in anybody's league. Carrioco, a tall, good natured fellow, got himself in trouble only a couple of times. To top it all away, managed to pitch winning ball and allowed Plymouth only one hit, a single in the first, and struck out 14, which is good pitching in anybody's league. Thousands Visit Parkway System Memorial Day

Motorists Unable to Find Ample Parking Facilities

In spite of the intermittent showers and otherwise inclement weather on Memorial day, thousands of people visited the park system near Plymouth. At one time in the afternoon, parking spaces were at a premium, and sometimes motorists had to drive for miles before a space could be found.

The crowded conditions last Thursday, are an indication of the fact that more and more people from Detroit and other cities in this vicinity are realizing the beauty and comfort that the Wayne county road commission has developed in the 10-mile Riverside park system which winds with the Rouge river practically on the outskirts of Plymouth. Between this city and Northville is Cass, Benton park which, although away from any river, has been developed to an equal extent of beauty.

Millions of people visit the parks each year. On Sundays and holidays there are usually so many motorists that traffic is in a congested condition, and picnic tables and stoves, of which there are thousands, are at a premium.

Recreation facilities are also available in both Riverside and Cass Benton parks. There are a number of tennis courts, softball diamonds, and provisions for football, basketball, and baseball grounds in addition to playground equipment for smaller children. All these commodities are for use of picnickers free of charge. Several refreshment stands, operated by Glenn Smith, of Plymouth, are also scattered throughout the system.

The parkway is maintained by the county and is under the supervision of J. Merle Bennett, of Plymouth, who is superintendent of Wayne county parks.

Shoe Repair Shop Has Formal Opening

Blake W. Fisher, this week, announces the formal opening of his new shoe repair shop in the Voorhies building, at 289 South Main street. The building was formerly occupied by the P-D Cleaners, Book Shelf and Evelyn Dress shop.

Mr. Fisher has purchased a new Landis finisher and has had his other equipment reconditioned so that he may offer Plymouth residents shoe repairing by new, modern methods.

A cordial invitation is extended to all of his patrons to patronize him at the new Main street location.

Big Fire Loss During May

Fire loss in the city of Plymouth during the month of May was the largest it has been for any like period in several years. For only two fires within the city limits, the loss was over $50,000. Plymouth firemen were called to four fires outside the limits.

The most disastrous blaze outside was at the Titan Refinery located on Stark road, two weeks ago. Damage was estimated at $25,000. Barn and sheds at the corner of Joy and Merriman roads, on the Hanchett farm, burned, causing damage to the extent of $500.

Firemen were called to put out a small woods fire at the E. J. Cutler residence, 2050 Ridge road, and also one at 1014 Mill street where burning rubbish had become out of control.

One of the fires inside the city was at the Allen Industries plant which did little or no damage. Another more serious was at Dunn Steel for which damage was estimated at several thousand dollars.

Fire Chief Fred Wagenschutz stated in a report that he and another fireman made 54 inspections to business places last month to guard against fire hazards, and also both schools were checked. Sixteen recommendations were made which were followed up by 14 personal calls.

Gardens Softball Team Wins Again

Plymouth Gardens softball team defeated a team from Plymouth, Sunday, 12 to 1. The Plymouth team was made up of players from the Daisy, Dunbar Davis and Wall Wire teams which play in the city Recreation league.

C. Malik was the winning pitcher with Monty on the receiving end of the battery. The hurler has not been charged with a defeat for this year. He gave up five hits and struck out 10 men in downing the Plymouth team.

The batting star of Sunday's game was Bill Hamilton who hit a home run with two men on base and also two doubles.

Wednesday, May 29, Plymouth Gardens was defeated by West Point, in a closely played battle, 11-10. Monty was the losing pitcher with J. Vaughn doing the catching. Monty had a little trouble in the first two innings, letting West Point score seven of their 11 runs. It was the Gardens' third defeat of the season.

The Plymouth Gardens Athletic club wishes to take this opportunity to thank the following merchants who sponsor their team: Lomas and Lockwood Greenhouses, Dann's Tavern, The Old Elm, Eckles Coal and Supply company, Parkview Recreation, Levan's Grocery, McKinney and Schaeffer, Newville Furnace company, Carrey's Garage, Ford Service at Northville, Maplelawn Dairy, Schaeffer's orchestra and J. H. Vaughn Lawn Mower Sharpening company.

Threatened diversion of clear channels to furnish greater radio service to cities at the expense of farm circuits has roused vigorous protest. Agriculture has no representative on the federal communications commission.

Police Arrest 16 on Charges of Overtime Parking

Chief Makes Monthly Report to City Commission

Last month the police department stated that parking regulations were going to be watched more closely and from the number of violation tickets for this offense issued during May, it is apparent that they made good their warning. Sixteen individuals were ordered to pay fines of $1 for the offense.

A systematic hourly checking is carried out in the restricted area by members of the police department. Cars are marked and if found to be parked longer than the limit, tickets are issued.

"Until such a time that the city will have a parking lot," Chief Police V. R. Smith declared, "we will have to be strict in the parking enforcement. The condition as it now exists does not warrant the parking of any car over the two-hour limit."

In a report to the city commission, the chief listed the traffic violations for the month. Included were the names of 11 individuals who were given tickets for speeding, six for improper parking, two for reckless driving and three for no operator's license.

Running stop streets was the cause for four violators to be given tickets and one was arrested for not observing the school signal. Improper signaling caused another individual to pay a traffic fine.

A total of $103 was assessed in fines. The report listed an amount of $41 which was collected for previously issued tickets and two cases were referred to higher courts.

City to Buy Cement Mixer

Mayor Ruth H. Whipple appointed a committee to study the purchase of a new cement mixer when the city commission met for regular meeting Monday night. Members of the committee are City Manager C. H. Elliott and city commissioners.

The city at the present time has three various-sized mixers, but additional curb, gutter and sidewalk work, in addition to cement patching at several locations makes it mandatory that the new mixer be purchased. It will be about twice the size of the present largest one. A smaller mixer will be offered as part payment.

The mixer which will be turned in was purchased about ten years ago, then second hand. It is now obsolete and difficult to repair.

Schraders Beat Garden City

Schrader - Haggerty baseball team remained in first place in the white division of the Inter-County league by defeating Garden City Sunday at Inkster, 5 to 4.

Panosian, Plymouth hurler, allowed only seven scattered hits and scored the winning run in the eighth inning after beating out a bunt. Harold Williams drove Panosian home from second. The battery for the winners was Panosian and Wolfe. Sieperanski, Korytkowski and Kachula worked for Garden City.

Next Sunday, Schrader-Haggerty will meet the B. and A. team of Dearborn at Riverside park.

A lot of people prefer to appear dumb as a protective device.

WAKE UP, AMERICA!

Recent newspaper polls among certain groups of voters reveal that there is a considerable sentiment for the election of President Roosevelt for a third term, and that this sentiment has increased since the world is being devastated by the most destructive war of all time.

Who started the war in Europe?

A political dictator!

To elect any president for a third term would be the first long step in setting up a dictatorship in this country.

We do not wish to be misunderstood. We do not share the belief of some that President Roosevelt has any desire to have any part in the European war. We believe that he will sincerely and honestly do all he can to keep this country out of war and that he does not want to be a dictator such as we know them to be over seas.

But that is not the point. Just the minute these United States elect a president for a third term, we are headed directly for the same kind of dictatorship that prevails in Germany, Russia and Italy with all the blood, fire and hatred that go with one-man rule.

Another four years of such an administration as this nation has had during the past seven and a half years will forever end all freedom in America. The rights of the voters will have disappeared for generations to come.

Wake up, America! A third term means DICTATORSHIP for these United States just as surely as the sun will rise tomorrow. Free-born American citizens are NOT for DICTATORSHIPS!

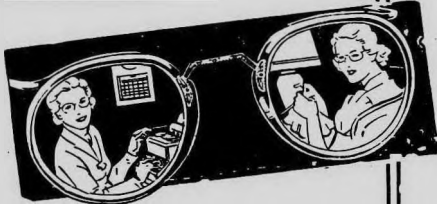

THE FIRST STEP IN NATIONAL DEFENSE

Official Washington seems to be greatly perturbed over our national defense. Well, as we see it, the first and most important step towards national defense should be a thorough housecleaning in Washington, with a broom sweeping clean all of the long-haired, wild-eyed "ism" boys and girls who have attached themselves to the New Deal like a lot of barnacles.

THE RIGHT KIND.

State Representative John Guggisberg, of Gaylord, who represents one of the largest legislative districts in Michigan, the other day announced that he would be a candidate for re-nomination and election to the legislature. We hope that he wins out by a handsome vote. Mr. Guggisberg came down to Lansing two years ago as a first term. Although a newcomer, he made one of the best records of any man ever elected to the legislature from any district. He never missed a session of the house. He was a member of five different committees, some of them exceedingly important committees. He attended every meeting of every committee.

of which he was a member, a record that few other legislators can claim. He didn't dodge voting on highly controversial questions. He knew what was going on and he served the interests of his part of the state with a devotion and tenacity that won the admiration of all of his associates. Northern Michigan has reason to be proud of such a representative as John Guggisberg proved to be. Honest, diligent, alert, he is the right type to serve such a great state as Michigan and he should be retained in his present capacity as long as he desires to remain there. It is too bad that more men of his type do not offer themselves for highly important legislative service.

A WARNING TO BE HEEDED.

When Commissioner Oscar Olander of the Michigan State Police gives utterance to any prevailing condition within the state that comes within the province of his department, he knows what he is talking about. In the long years he has been head of the state police, Michigan has never known him to err in his judgment as to what is going on within our boundary lines.

The other day he appealed to Governor Dickinson for more men to investigate complaints of sabotage, and declared that the "Fifth Column situation in Michigan industry is very serious."

"We are getting more complaints than we can handle," he said.

It is not surprising that this condition exists in Michigan. A former Governor opened the door wide in order to make Michigan a safe haven for all the radical elements who desired to seek shelter within the state. In return, he was given the solid political support of the Communist party in Michigan.

That we may not reap the whirlwind, Michigan should heed the warning of State Police Commissioner Oscar Olander. Any one guilty of the sabotage in any form and in any industry within the state should be punished to the limit—and there must be no prosecutions based upon a desire to destroy any worthy, loyal and law-abiding working organization.

NUTTY McNUTT TALKS.

The other day "Natty" McNutt desecrated a sacred Memorial day service by talking politics. He declared that he was willing to sacrifice himself upon the altar in behalf of humanity by not running for President if President Roosevelt would take a third term. It would serve public interest far better if "Natty" McNutt would step out in front and let the voters take care of his "sacrificial" offer.

THE BEST SELECTION.

From information secured about the state during the past few days, it is evident that Michigan Republicans are almost unanimous in their demand that Mrs. Frederick T. Murphy of Detroit be elected a member of the Republican National Committee.

Large numbers of men long associated with Republican party management believe that the women are entitled to a place on the committee and that Mrs. Murphy, who has probably done more than any one individual to assist the Republican cause, is entitled to that place.

Recently various women groups throughout the state circulated petitions asking that this honor be conferred upon Mrs. Murphy. When they were returned party leaders were amazed to find that in the brief space of just a few days nearly 10,000 names had been signed.

She has never aligned herself with any party faction and as a result of this attitude, she has been able to be most useful to the entire party. In fact, it has frequently been said that Mrs. Murphy is probably one of the most useful women Michigan Republicanism can claim.

Her supporters contend that the Republican delegation to the national convention can give Michigan Republicanism an outstanding service by unanimously electing Mrs. Murphy as a member of the National Committee.

JOE CREIGHTON.

Announcement of the appointment a few days ago by Governor Dickinson of Joseph Creighton, Lansing newspaper writer, as executive secretary, is good news to all the people who know the new official. Mr. Creighton has for many years been one of the hard-working, enthusiastic and accurate political writers of Michigan who has done a pretty good job in keeping voters informed as to what's what around Lansing. His loss to the newspaper readers of Michigan is Governor Dickinson's gain. It is a good appointment and we hope that Mr. Creighton will be able to retain the position for many, many years to come.

FACT AND FANCY.

The good old Detroit Free Press generally hits the nail right on the head when it speaks editorially. It took but a few lines for the Free Press to make Mr. Roosevelt's last "reside chat" look pretty sick, when it said the other day: "Mr. Roosevelt says: 'We now have, on hand or order, 1,700 anti-aircraft guns.'"

"Actually we have 163 of the three-inch outmoded models and one of the modern type."

"Mr. Roosevelt says: 'We now have, on hand or order, 1,600 modern infantry mortars.'"

"The army says officially it actually possesses 'only a handful' of the 75-mm howitzers."

"Mr. Roosevelt says: 'We have, on hand or order, 1,700 modern tanks.'"

"There are on hand fewer than 100 light tanks."

"And so on."

"That expression 'on order' is what Cousin T. R. would have called weasel words."

HARRY MARBURGER.

Friends and acquaintances of Harry Marburger of Northville, veteran superintendent of the Ford plant in that place, were grieved to learn the other day of his death. Mr. Marburger had not been in good health for a number of months. While he had never been especially active in community affairs, he was regarded as a high type citizen and a credit to the community in which he lived. Probably one of the best tributes that could be paid to any man was expressed by one who said when told of his death: "He was a good man and he raised a fine family." What greater service could any citizen render to his community and his country than to raise a "fine family"?

Rambling Around

WITH EDITORS
OF MICHIGAN
Their views about public problems and issues.

LET'S BE PREPARED

America is the land of the free and the home of the brave—brave enough to fight for our own freedom if need be, but refusing to fight the battles of other nations on foreign soil. America will take up arms anytime to enforce the Monroe doctrine so it is only logical that we should keep out of European affairs if we expect Europe to keep out of ours.

However, the best way to keep out of trouble is to be prepared to meet it. That is why the majority of the people are willing to go along with the government in its rearmament program. America must be ready to meet any emergency but she should go about it in a sane and methodical manner with the aid and advice of experts. America has millions, yes billions, for defense but not one cent to be wasted in a frenzied way.

War equipment has become mechanized in this mechanical age. As mechanical as America is, we should have no difficulty in mechanizing our army, navy and air force. But machines soon wear out or become obsolete. Therefore, it is only good business to build enough equipment for the present emergency and not squander a lot of money by over-preparedness.—John Lignian in The Olivet Optic.

"HYSTERIA" BETTER CALLED "REASONABLE CONCERN"

While most Americans seem to be in accord with the idea that adequate defense preparations are necessary and vital to our country, there are still those who "pooch, pooch" the thought that any real danger exists. They refer to the present state of public mind as "war hysteria." In my opinion the application of such a term to the present state of public mind as reflected in opinions advocating preparedness is as far from the truth as can possibly be. Such a practice comes definitely under the well-known propaganda technique known as "labeling"—that is the art of assigning and associating a bad name with whatever is opposed.

Probably the best application that might be applied to the present feeling in America is "reasonable concern" and springs naturally from a wish to be prepared against whatever the future may bring forth.

Americans have seen and realize what can happen to countries, however peaceably inclined, which allow their armed forces to fall below standard. England and France are being outstripped right now for allowing themselves to be outstripped in preparation for war. Moreover they are paying heavily for their years of hesitancy and mistakes in not taking aggressive steps to curb the rise of totalitarianism.

The immediate advantage of a strong army, navy and air force, is that America will be able to speak powerfully and with certainty in a world that in the future is going to need a highly constructive force. And an adequate trained and equipped armed force takes time to build—as the allies have found out.

Advocating such a policy does not seem to me to be "war hysteria" but just good plain sense.—Robert Rowe in The Milford Times.

QUITE RIGHT!

Just dug up some interesting deportation data. Back in 1917 when the World War was on, the United States deported 1,922 individuals, in 1918 it deported 1,619 and when the war was over in 1919 it deported 3,102. These were classed as insane, public charges, criminals, anarchists and contract laborers. Communists, Nazis, Bolsheviks and fifth columnists were unheard of at that time. Now that the fifth column movement is recognized—and its leaders are out in the open, a good sized concentration camp would serve quite well. Browder, Bridges, No. 1 aliens, and that subversive following would then have a place to go, where their free speech would nowise be interfered with.—J. John Pope in The Grandville Star.

Two miniature trains adorned the center of the table, one placed in a bed of flowers, facing the West, bore a California flag; the other, homeward bound, bore a Plymouth banner. The favors consisted of tiny suitcases containing appropriate remembrances for each guest. After a substantial breakfast, the guests were motored to

A gasoline tank on an automobile that was just being finished at the Alter Motor Car company factory last Saturday evening, caught fire and an alarm was turned in for the fire department. The firemen responded promptly, but luckily, their services were not needed, as the blaze was soon put out by the use of extinguishers. John Mining, one of the workmen, had his hand quite badly burned.

Riverside cemetery presented a very nice appearance on Decoration Day. The improvements that have been made by the cemetery trustees in the past several years in the way of improving drive-ways, setting out of ornamental shrubbery and the laying out of flower beds has much to do with the well kept appearance of the cemetery.

The Alter Motor Car company will soon commence the construction of another large factory building just south of their present plant. The business of the company has outgrown its present buildings and they must have more room in which to increase the capacity of their daily output if they even begin to appease the demands of their agents, who are continually clamoring for more cars.
