Sanilac, according to Wyandotte traditions, was the name of a chief, who took an active part in the early wars between the Huron and Wyandotte. The name of this chief is preserved in many of these traditions in his manuscripts, and in 1831, Henry Whiting, then a major in the army of the United States, and stationed for many years in Detroit, published a poem entitled "Sanilac," based upon the name given in these manuscripts. The poem treats of the love of Sanilac and Wona, an Indian maid living with her father upon Mackinac Island, and of Sanilac's adventures in warring upon the Hurons (the name given to the Huron by other tribes), the hereditary foes of the Wyandottes, and the finale, after describing a sanguinary battle between the Mingoes and Wyandottes, in which the Mingoes are victorious, leaves the fate of Sanilac and his Indian bride uncertain. The county as originally laid out included Huron and Tuscola counties.

Shiawassee county was named for the river which extended through the county and divided it nearly equally, as the county was originally laid out. Its original size was reduced by parts going subsequently into the counties of Livingston and Genesee. Kelton derives the name from words meaning "the river exists about" and this is certainly more accurate description of the river than the meaning sometimes ascribed to it, "straight ahead or straight running river," and is the one generally accepted within the county itself.

The Indian name for Grand River in its Chippewa form was Washneton, and with the addition of sebec "river" meant the river that is far off, that is, extends far off, far in the interior, it being the longest river in the state. The French as was customary with them, called it the Grand River. The valley of the Grand River had a considerable Indian population, and before the government of the Indians generally called the region west of Detroit district, "Wash-net-on," and when Governor Cass laid out this new county just west of Wayne county, he appropriated the general name to this specific territory and called it Washneton, although the name then ceased to have any proper local application. The county as originally laid out included the present county and parts of Ingham, Jackson, and Shiawassee counties.

After the creation of the six counties, there was a lull for a short time. In 1824 Michigan came under an advanced form of territorial government by election of a legislative council of nine members. The territory was divided into six counties, and the tide of western travel and settlement was flowing in, the government surveyors were busily at work laying off the public domain into townships and sections. The national turnpike road from Chicago, Toledo, Fort Gratiot and Saginaw, were authorized by Congress in 1826.

The county of Michilimackinac still embraced a large part of the Lower Peninsula and most of the Upper. The government had established an agency for the lake tribes of Indians and in 1822 Henry R. Schoolcraft was appointed agent. He took up his residence at the Sault which was also the site of Fort Brady, and a settlement of some importance was established. Petition was made to the Council in 1824 to establish a new county to be called "Chippewa" to include the settlement of Sault Ste. Marie but this was denied.

However, two years later on December 26, 1826, the council established the county of Chippewa to include the settlement of Sault Ste. Marie and extending westward to the Mississippi river. The name was taken from the Chippewa or Ojibwa Indians, the largest of the Algonquian tribes, and who had from immemorial times lived upon the shores of Lake Superior and also spread over the Lower Peninsula. They were closely related to the Ottawa and Potawatomi, their rights to the land within Michigan were acknowledged by the United States, and

"Woman of Week"
A Plymouth woman, Mrs. Helen Montgomery, was named "Woman of the Week" in the Sunday edition of the Detroit Free Press. Following are the lines which appeared below a large three-column picture:
"Mrs. Helen Montgomery, of Plymouth, Michigan, is nominated 'Woman of the Week' because of her fine character and her many good qualities. She is a registered nurse, housewife and mother of a year-old daughter. She is the wife of L. D. Montgomery, widely known pilot. Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery live at 312 North Harvey street and have made many friends since coming to Plymouth."

City Will Extend Tonquish Conduit

Make Decision at Special Meeting Friday

Work to Be Done Entirely by City Employees

A 130-foot extension of the Tonquish creek conduit, on the Harvey street end, will be started within a few days, City Manager C. H. Elliott announced early this week following a special meeting of the city commission Friday.

It will be a seven and one-half-foot tube of monolithic concrete. The cost to the city will be approximately $14 per lineal foot with the entire cost of the project estimated at $1800.

The city manager was instructed to proceed with plans for the construction immediately. He said that S. L. Besse, city engineer, is now working on the drafting of the project and construction will begin as soon as blueprints are ready.

Work on the conduit will be done only by city employees. No additional men will be put on the city payroll.

Because of a lack of funds, it was reported that only 10 feet of the conduit could be constructed each day. City employees will combine this work with the summer program of street resurfacing and curb and gutter construction which is now already in progress.

Last summer, the Wayne county road commission, with the city of Plymouth sharing in the cost of the construction, built the conduit over Tonquish creek between Main street and South Harvey. Now the city will extend the conduit west from the Harvey street end.

City Manager Elliott said that the construction is being done with regard to public safety and sanitary conditions.

Money to pay the cost of the project will be taken from the sewer fund. It is reported that there will be no special assessment of any kind to city taxpayers for the construction.

Liberate 50 Young Pheasants

Here is good news for the pheasant hunters! Tuesday afternoon, President Brick Champe and other members of the Western Wayne County Wild Life association liberated more than 50 half-grown pheasants that had been reared by Warren Harris at his place just east of Phoenix lake.

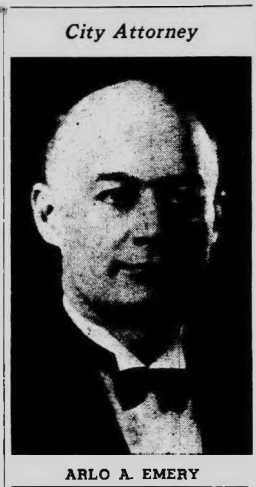

The young birds were taken out west of Plymouth near the Lloyd Williams farm where they were reared in the fields. This is the first of the young pheasants raised from eggs secured from the conservation department that have grown large enough to be turned free. More than 500 eggs were secured early this spring, and according to reports, the various hatches have been fairly good.

Mrs. Francis Beals entertained her contract bridge group on Thursday evening.

Vernon J. Brown to Seek Re-Election as Auditor General of Michigan

Has Cut Expenses of Office and Simplified Records

Vernon J. Brown, auditor general, today made known his intention to seek re-election this fall, Mr. Brown said.
"Two years ago the voters of Michigan elected me auditor general. My campaign slogan had been 'Stop this Red Ink Bookkeeping.' My promise had been to provide better accounting at less cost to administer this department for less, and to not a stop to deficits and overruns. The legislature responded by placing all accounting under my control and also amended the tax laws to permit the abolishment of useless operations. The net results are astonishing."
"Confusing, conflicting and misleading financial reports have been replaced by a single, dependable source of fiscal information. The new operations cost less and provide a guide to careful management for all administrative officials never before available. A million and a half has been applied against a 30 million dollar deficit inherited on January 1, 1939. Better bookkeeping can be given consider-

ARLO A. EMERY

Appoints Emery to Attorney Post for Another Year

Will Be His Eighth Consecutive Term in City Position

The re-appointment of Arlo A. Emery as city attorney met with unanimous approval of the city commission when Mayor Ruth H. Whipple brought his name before the group for confirmation at a special meeting Friday evening. This will be Attorney Emery's eighth consecutive term, having first been appointed in 1932.

Mr. Emery now resides in Detroit, but at the time of his last appointment he was a resident of this city, living on West Ann Arbor Trail. He had lived here for several years previous to the time he transferred his practice to Detroit.

In his eight years of service to the city as attorney, Mr. Emery has been involved in several most important cases.

One in particular, which was taken to the state supreme court, and handled by Attorney Emery just recently, was the Campbell case in which several property owners of Plymouth brought suit against the city in an alleged overtaxation matter. The case involved a considerable amount of money and had the city lost, it would have cost taxpayers well in excess of $200,000. Had the decision gone in favor of the property owners, the case would have reverberated in almost every city and village in Michigan and without a doubt it would have cost taxpayers in the state many millions of dollars. Municipal officials throughout the state watched the case very closely. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1940, the cost for the outstanding municipal case in the supreme court last year.

Miss Betty White and Miss Genevieve Spaulding, of Plymouth, took the D & C steamer to Buffalo Friday evening where they placed at the Touraine hotel and visited Niagara Falls and all places of interest Saturday afternoon, returning Sunday by Greyhound bus, stopping at Erie, Pennsylvania and Cleveland, Ohio.

The eighth contest brought together Jimmy McAllister with his green and red Mac's Service special, and Frank Keel, running in his third heat of the day. The green and red speedster stroked across the finish line one-half a second ahead.

That brought together Gladstone and McAllister for the championship.

A special attraction, the three fastest cars were matched off. The main heats were run off. The race provided a thrilling (Continued on page 5)

Installs Serve Self System

Installation of a semi-serve self system is being made at the Purity Market this week, according to an announcement made elsewhere in this issue of The Mail. The new system will enable customers to serve themselves in the refrigerated market if they so desire. "The same clerks will also be on hand to help those who prefer to be waited on," stated Mr. Galin, "but so many people prefer the serve self plan that we thought we would keep in step with progress and bring it to Plymouth."
Celebrating the event this week-end the Purity Market is giving away $25.00 worth of free groceries to people who do their weekly shopping in the store. Mr. Galin directs the attention of all of The Plymouth Mail readers to a page advertisement which he will have in The Mail next week announcing another gala event at his store.

Over 3,000 See James McAllister Win Derby

Ten Qualify to Take Part in Detroit Derby at Rouge Park

A record crowd estimated at more than 3,000 lined the race course in Cass Boulevard park to witness the First Annual Plymouth Regional Soap Box Derby last Thursday evening.

James McAllister, driving his green and red "Mac's Service" speedster, paced the field to victory. He covered the 1,000-foot course in 32 and four-fifths seconds, a fifth of a second faster than Ewert Gladstone. Frank Keel, Jr. was third.

Ten Plymouth boys, between the ages of 11 and 15, constructed their own Soap Box racers for the Plymouth Derby, and each qualified for entrance in the Detroit News Derby finals which are to be held in Rouge park tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The derby was co-sponsored in Plymouth by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the E. J. Allison Chevrolet agency. Clayton Koch, a JCC member, was general chairman of the affair, assisted by John R. MacLachlan, president, and other members of the organization.

Edward Strong's Daisy racer was judged to be the best constructed car in the field. Bill Keefe who entered his Keefe's Service contender, was given a special award for having the best upholstered car and Gladstone's Plymouth Country club special was the best designed. A special award was given to Melvin Hunt for the originality in his design of the Keefe Sausage sponsored racer. Judges were Mayor Ruth H. Whipple, Ralph Bachelard, Clarence H. Elliott and John Blyton, president of the senior Chamber of Commerce.

All awards were given at the Award Presentation banquet put on by the JCC with the aid of several local merchants at the Mayflower Friday evening. At that time Ralph Bachelard was voted by contestants as the best all-around sportsman.

For more than an hour before the race officially started, the Plymouth youths drove their cars down the course for time trials and practice runs. Each group of three cars was timed and paired with another car of equal time or nearly so. The race was arranged in nine heats.

In the first heat Edward Thorne drove his red Roe Lumber company racer to victory over Ralph Bachelard's red and silver trim car which was sponsored by Blunk and Thatcher, Inc. Donald Allen, driving his two-tone green Hotel Mayflower sponsored racer, was beaten in the second heat by Bill Keefe and his blue Keefe's Service car.

Thorne, winner of the first heat, was nosed out by Bill Sexton in the third heat. Sexton's cream with black trim racer was sponsored by Blunk's Community Drugs.

Keefe in the next heat was paired up with Frank Keel and his yellow Eckles Coal and Supply company speedster. Keel crossed the finish line one and a half seconds ahead of his contender.

Gladstone won the next heat from Bill Sexton and Melvin Hunt beat Frank Keel in the sixth frame. The seventh was between Gladstone, winner of the seventh, and Edward Strong. Gladstone came through to win the seventh in one of the closest races of the day. Only a fraction of a second decided the heat.

The eighth contest brought together Jimmy McAllister with his green and red MacAllister's Service special, and Frank Keel, running in his third heat of the day. The green and red speedster stroked across the finish line one-half a second ahead.

That brought together Gladstone and McAllister for the championship.

Free Barbecue to Feature Community Picnic Wednesday, August 14th

A free barbecue for all of the residents of Plymouth and vicinity will headline the annual Community picnic which will be held in Plymouth Riverside park the afternoon of Wednesday, August 14. It is expected that the third annual picnic will be one of the biggest city-wide events ever staged, and elaborate plans are under way to provide amusement of interest to people of all ages. All Plymouth stores will close at 1:00 p.m. on the day of the picnic.

An old-fashioned touch will be added to the affair by the committee members when they will release a graced pig late in the afternoon for the benefit of those who enjoy the sport of trying to catch the worthwhile prize. (Mother's note—dress the kiddies so they can enter the fun.)

A full afternoon of games and contests with lots of prizes for young and old alike will be followed by a barbecue. The committee plans to provide everyone present with two beef sandwiches and all of the orangeade they can drink.

In years past the committee, through local business men, have furnished ice cream and pop to all of the kiddies, but this year it is planned to furnish sandwiches and drinks.

Other entertainment will consist of a tug of war, races, business men's softball games, band concert and a community song fest. The committee is also anticipating the visit of a couple of the Tiger ball players late in the afternoon to add a little color to the ball games and is planning on having them play a few minutes in each of the softball games. There will be prizes for the couple present who has been married the longest time and also for the couple who has been the most recently married.

A committee consisting of Ralph Lorenz, William Rose, Sterling Eaton, Anthony Marston, John McLaren, Edgar Erickson, Rollo Smith, Earl Fluelling and John MacLachlan is making the plans for the event. Full details of the games and other events will appear in next week's Plymouth Mail.

Plymouth Schools to Be Used as One of Vocational Training Places for Key National Defense Program

MAIRIE'S GRILL IS SOLD TO ELTON ELLIS OF DETROIT

Elton Ellis, of Detroit, announced this week the purchase of Mairie's Grill, the restaurant operated during the last few years by Mairie Johnson Smith, is located on South Main street, across from the South Main Mail. Mr. Ellis has already assumed control of the business which is not a new one to him. For a number of years he operated a restaurant in Alma, Michigan, and for the last five years he has been chef at the Detroit City Airport restaurant in Detroit.

The National Defense commission and the United States Office of Education, McDonald said, are sponsoring a program for the training of workers to be used in key defense occupations.

This state plans a thorough cooperation in the vocational training program, according to Chairman Harry McDonald.

"The federal law under which this program will operate provides that all of the individuals participating in the training program must be actively registered with the Michigan State Employment service, the job-finding division of our commission."

McDonald, in announcing the commission's plans which go into effect immediately, explained that all training in connection with the program will be done in the public schools of the state, using present equipment and teaching facilities.

Vocational training programs will be given under guidance of the state board of control for vocational education in the following occupational fields, McDonald said:

Machine shop, pattern making, welding, sheet metal work, auto mechanics, radio service, cabinet making, aviation mechanics, mechanical drafting, foundry practice, electrical construction, and airplane construction.

"All of these occupational fields," McDonald declared, "have been determined to be vital to the nation's defense needs and are considered 'key' defense occupations. Other courses in other fields may be organized in individual communities where the need exists."

Storm and Fire Cause Damage

Wind, fire and rain brought heavy damage to this locality late Wednesday afternoon when the most severe storm of the year swept this part of the state. Burns on the Ira Wilson farm, corner of Canton Center and Cherry Hill roads, were burned to the ground, with all of their contents during the storm. It is believed the fire was started by lightning.

Wind leveled the big frame roller skating rink on Plymouth road, two miles east of the city, causing an uninsured loss to its owner, L. E. Lamey, of Detroit, of several hundreds of dollars. It will not be rebuilt this season.

Big trees were blown down throughout the city and country. So strong was the wind that eleven glass globes were blown from the light poles in the business section of the city.

At the Schrader Buffalo ranch, hay which had just been raked into rows, was blown across the field and piled against a fence. It is estimated that hundreds of trees were blown down and the heavy rain caused damage to some crops.

A house belonging to Charles H. Bennett at 164 North Main street, was damaged slightly when a big limb was blown over the roof.

Honored Again

CASS S. HOUGH

Cass S. Hough, vice president of the Daisy Manufacturing company, was elected president of the Sportsman Pilots' association at its annual summer meeting held last week-end at Gray Rocks Inn at Saint Joseph, Quebec.

The association is composed of several hundred private flyers from all parts of the country and listed among its active members are Powell Croxley, of the Crosley Radio Corporation, of Cincinnati; Henry DuPont, of the E. I. DuPont de Nemours corporation; Roger Wolfe, Conn., nationally known orchestra leader; Albert B. Lambert Jr., of the Lambert Pharmaceutical company; Bernarr McFadden, of New York; William Packer, vice president of Packard Motor Car company; J. G. Vincent, chief engineer of Packard Motor Car company; and also included in the group are the presidents of all airplane manufacturing companies.

In becoming president of the association, Mr. Hough succeeds Henry King, director for Twenty-first Century Fox Pictures of Hollywood, California. One of its youngest members, Mr. Hough has been active in the association's affairs for a number of years and during the last two years he has had complete charge of annual flights made by the group to different parts of the United States. The presidency of the association is a distinct honor and hasn't been held by anyone from this section of the country for several years.

Present indications are that the scavenger tax sale for property taken over by the state in Plymouth will take place toward the end of the week of July 29. Clarence H. Elliott, city manager, stated this week. He said that the sale is progressing rapidly throughout Wayne county. This week last listed in Book No. 9, page 15, is being auctioned. Plymouth property listings are in the same book, page 42.

Last week land was sold from 27 pages and at that rate it should take somewhat more than another week to get to the Plymouth listings.

Because several Plymouth property owners whose property was taken over by the state have redeemed their land, only 318 parcels are to be offered from this locality, which is less than the number previously announced. Much of this land is unimproved vacant lots, the city manager said.

Merchants Name Committee to Study Ordinance

Proposed Sign Law Discussed by City Business Men

A committee of Plymouth business men to work in conjunction with the city manager and attorney in re-drafting the proposed sign ordinance was appointed Monday night at a meeting of merchants called by the Chamber of Commerce. Not only will they assist in revamping the ordinance but also propose changes as suggested by the group at large.

On this committee is Ralph G. Lorenz, chairman, and William Simpson, Irving Blunk, John Blyton, Blake Fisher, Orla Rooker and William Rose.

Committee members will consult with business men and seek their opinion on the proper steps to take.

At the present, it is felt that the time limit for taking down signs is too short. Suggestions were made to the effect that five or more years be allowed. The city manager said that the normal life of a sign is somewhat shorter than five years, he has been informed, but probably when the ordinance is re-drafted and placed before the city commission for final hearing, it will be in complete accord with Plymouth merchants whom it will protect and benefit.

Also at the meeting it was suggested that a clause be inserted in governing awnings and advertising placed upon them. Merchants discussed the placing of signs over private alleys and other property.

Following the report of the committee to city officials and their discussion of the proposed changes to be put in effect, the ordinance will be considered by the merchants before it is submitted for final approval by property owners and the city commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Jewell and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Blunk over the week-end, at their summer home at Maxfield lake. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Felton, of Rochester, joined them for the day.

A. & P. to Start Structure Soon

Ice Plant to Be Located on North Main Street

Workmen are tearing down the ice plant located on Main street and moving it to a new location on the property of the Plymouth Elevator Corporation to make way for a new A & P store building. Construction will be started early in August.

The sale of the ice company property was made by the owner, John McLaren, to the Atlas Finance company of Detroit. The new owners plan to construct a building 50 by 100 feet on the west side of the property, which has a frontage on Ann Arbor Trail of 156 feet. The east side of the lot will be used at present for a parking lot.

The A & P building will be of modern brick construction and will be faced with macotta or glazed brick. There will be no basement and heating will be done with unit steam heaters.

Mr. McLaren states that the ice company will conduct its business from its new headquarters shortly after August 1. Mr. McLaren, William Pettigill, Frank Rambo and Edward Gayde purchased the ice company in 1919 from William Rambo and since that time the interests of all of the original owners.

Find No Trace of Lake Victim

The body of a 22-year-old Chicago youth, believed to have drowned in Belleville lake Monday afternoon, had not been located by Wayne county sheriff's deputies late Wednesday night. The youth, William A. Ryan, of 7701 South Green street, Chicago, was last seen alive when he and his brother started to swim across the quarter-mile width of the lake.

When away from the shore shore some distance, the brother glanced back to see how William was coming. It was then noticed that he was missing.

The brother called for help when he became exhausted and was pulled in by his father, William J. Ryan.

Immediately the sheriff's department was summoned and a search with grappling and drag hooks was started. When the body was not located by this method it was thought that perhaps it had become lodged beneath a tree trunk or some other obstruction and dynamite was used.

The Chicago family had been on a trip through Canada and was on the way home when they stopped at Belleville lake for the night. After putting their camp in order, the boys decided to take a swim. The family is still at the lake awaiting trace of the boy's body.

Plymouth police supplied dragging equipment which was used in searching for the body of the youth.

The Lieutenant Governor—

What Are His Duties?

By Elton R. Eaton

Editor and Publisher, The Plymouth Mail

The second most important place in the Michigan state government is the Lieutenant Governorship. The position became vacant more than a year ago when through the untimely death of the Governor, it became necessary, under the constitution, for the Lieutenant Governor to become Governor.

What are the duties of the Lieutenant Governor? What are the official responsibilities of the office?

These are questions asked many times by the citizens of Michigan, more so than ever at the present time, because Michigan does not, right now, have a Lieutenant Governor.

The constitution of the state fixes certain definite responsibilities for this official. The state legislature has added considerably to these constitutional duties.

In this article only the constitutional duties of the office will be discussed.

No one can be elected Lieutenant Governor of Michigan who has not attained the age of 30 years. He must have been a citizen of the United States at least five years and a resident of the state not less than two years.

In case of the death of the Governor, or his inability to serve, his resignation or absence from the state, all of the powers and duties of the governorship devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor.

Under the constitution the Lieutenant Governor is made president of the senate. But he does not have the right to vote upon any question pending before the legislature.

As president of the senate he appoints all senate committees and presides at all sessions of the senate.

He occupies a position where he can do much to maintain friendly relations between the two branches of the legislature and the executive office.

Outside of the Governor, he is probably one of the busiest officials in Lansing during a session of the state legislature.

It is not frequent that a Governor spends much time away from his position, but it will be recalled that a few years ago the Lieutenant Governor served so much time as Governor because of the absence from the state of the Governor that he asked for the Governor's compensation. The constitution fixes the compensation of the Lieutenant Governor the same as that of Governor while he is carrying on the duties of the executive office.

Sometime ago the legislature deemed it advisable to make the Lieutenant Governor a member of the state administrative board, delegating to him the same powers and responsibilities as possessed by other members of the board. The legislature took this action because it believed that the second highest official in the state should be in close touch with all state activities and problems at all times.

The duties of the Lieutenant Governor under the acts of the legislature will be discussed in the next article of this series.

crowd, with the three cars running almost neck to neck until the very last, in the straightaway, when the time finisher in the order of their result in the Derby proper.

Honorary race officials included: Mayor William C. Cavanaugh, City Manager Elliott Brock, Police Chief V. R. Smith, assistant track directors, Police Sergeant Lee Sackett and Patrolman Ira Hauke; Chief Judge J. M. B. Bennett, superintendent of Wayne county works director of first aid, Dr. W. W. Hammond, Jr., and Dr. T. H. Graham, Detroit News Derby chairman; starter, President of the Union of the County Chamber of Commerce; and Mayor Harry C. Robinson, who has been an official horse race timer for several years in this part of the country.

Active JCC race officials included: chairman and co-chairman, Mr. Koch and Mr. McLaughlin; George Todd, director of the Frank Walsh, assistant director of heats; Charles Wolfe, starter; Lionel Coffin, assistant starter; Ralph Lorenz, chief judge; Ernest Henry and Tom Mangano, judges; Dr. Elmore Carney, timer; Marvin Terry and Charles Van-Vleck, registrars; John Gaffield, chief clerk; Jack Sills, clerk; Frank Allison and Byron Becker, inspectors; Fred Koch, Jr., and Jack McAllister, directors of service; William Rando, director of billion operations; and Robert W. Cox, director of finish line operations.

Plymouth merchants who contributed in a great measure to the success of the Plymouth Derby are: Blekenstaff's Community Drugs, Blunk and Thatchers, Inc., Eckles Coal and Supply company, Don Horton Farm Implements, Kiefer's Gulf Service station, F. A. Koen and Sons, Sausage, Koenig, Grocery and Baking company, Mayflower hotel, McAllister Cities Service station, Perfection Laundry and Dry Cleaning company, Plymouth Country club, Plymouth Hardware, The Plymouth Mail, Rex Lumber company, Sanitary Bakery, George Straub Mobilgas station, Taylor and Blyton, Inc., Todd's Cash Market, Wild and Company, Cloverdale Dairy and Plymouth Lumber and Coal company.

Plans are already being made for a bigger and better Derby next year. Merchants who wish to sponsor racers are asked to contact a 1940 race official. So much interest was shown in the current race, it is thought at least 50 cars will be in the next Plymouth Soap Box Derby.

Imports of canned beef were 310 per cent greater in 1939 than in 1932.

Schools to Be Used as Training Places

gram, the commission chairman explained, will be made from three sources: Assignment of certified workers will be made by the Michigan Works Progress administration; National Youth administration project personnel will be assigned for this training; and qualified individuals who wish to take the training will be certified by the Michigan State Employment service.

W.P.A. workers, by W.P.A. regulations, are already registered with the employment service, which has also acted as the certifying agency for the N.Y.A. Anyone interested in such training should report to a local office of the employment service.

All other trainees must be certified for the courses by the various offices of the Michigan State Employment service.

"The schools will retain the right to reject any individual referred by any of the participating agencies, either at the time of the referral or at any subsequent period. All individuals participating will be available for private employment at any time."

The State Employment service, McDonald said, will make definite efforts to place workers at the completion of their training in jobs in private industry where the training will be of greatest service to the nation and to national defense.

"Only those workers whose employment experience and training indicate definite aptitude for training in the specific fields considered as 'key' occupations should be certified to the schools," the chairman continued.

"Participation in this training program should be of definite assistance in increasing the employability of the workers involved. Upon completion of the training program the various schools will report to the local office of the State Employment service."

"This report will include a review of the types of training received by each worker, together with an evaluation of how well the student did in the program. This information will be annotated on the commission's registration card used as a basis for referral to jobs."

Each of the 51 offices maintained by the commission throughout Michigan will immediately begin an exhaustive search of the active files of workers registered with the service. These workers thought to be best suited for training will, as a result of this search, be certified for participation in the training program.

Locations where training will be given follows: Marysville, Marine City, Algonac, Kalamazoo, Three Rivers, Adrian, Saginaw, Port Huron, Plymouth, Pontiac, Muskegon, Lansing, Jackson, Highland Park, Hamtramck, Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Flint, Dearborn, Bay City, Battle Creek, Detroit.

Hurt by Fall From Scaffold

Merle Weiler, of Plymouth, with two other workmen who were erecting a sign in Pontiac Tuesday afternoon, were injured when the scaffolding on which they were standing gave way, throwing them to the sidewalk, 14 feet below.

All were rushed to the hospital at Pontiac where it was discovered that Weiler had a bad cut on one leg and severe bruises. One of the other workmen suffered a deep cut on his face, requiring three stitches. The young men are employed by a Detroit sign company.

The report that Congress had allowed $500,000 mostly for a New Deal press-clipping bureau was a mistake. The amount granted was $750,000.

Strangest pheasant of the thousands hatched this season at the state game farm near Mason is one little fellow who's black and white, with an all white breast. It is the lone survivor of four that poked their way out of their shells as yellow as any domestic chicks. The dark stripes of normal chicks were lacking entirely. The four were hatched from a clutch of nine taken from a nest uncovered in a field by one of the game farm attendants, when mowing.

MICHIGAN, MICHIGAN

they were parties to practically all the important treaties by which lands in Michigan were ceded from 1795 to 1842. The naming of the county for them was very appropriate. The form Chippewa is an adaptation of Ojibway, which means "to roast till pucker up," referring to the puckered seam on their moccasins, or, as stated by Warren, referring to the custom of these Indians to torture by fire their captured enemies; other meanings ascribed to the word are, "he who wears puckered shoes," also "the summitts obstacles."

Although the public surveys were not completed in the southwestern part of the state by 1829, the Indian title to the extreme southwest corner not having been completely extinguished until the Treaty of Chicago in 1833, the legislative council took time by the forelock and prepared for the future growth already beginning, and on October 29, 1829, set off twelve counties which included all the land west of the principal meridian, and south of the fifth township north of the base line, except what is now Allegan county. These twelve counties were named, Jackson, Barry, Berrien, Branch, Calhoun, Cass, Eaton, Ingham, Van Buren, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo, and St. Joseph.

It would not require much knowledge of political history to determine the political affiliations of a legislative body, which would name eight of the new counties after the Democratic President Andrew Jackson, his Vice-President John C. Calhoun, his Postmaster General William T. Barry, his Secretary of Navy, John Branch, his Attorney General, John M. Berrien, his Secretary of War, John H. Eaton, his Secretary of the Treasury, Samuel D. Ingham, and his Secretary of State Martin Van Buren. It is to be regretted that men Van Buren, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo, and St. Joseph, of so little permanent national or state reputation as most of these, could be so commemorated, when LaSalle, Joliet, Champlain, Cadillac, and Frontenac among the French, and representative leaders in the English part of our history, as well as desirable and appropriate Indian names, remain unused. H. R. Schofield was at this time a member of the legislative council and upon his motion a few days later after these counties were named a committee was appointed to prepare a list of names proper for use in naming territorial subdivisions. Being made chairman of this committee, he brought in a considerable list, and at least ten of his suggestions were used by the council.

Better buy NOW— and Be Ready for Anything!

YESTERDAY'S gone and tomorrow hasn't come—but here's today to make the most of and get something done!

And what's more sensible, all things considered, than to turn in that car, that has seen its best days, on a brand-new, bright new, sound-and-solid new Buick?

Nobody has to tell you it's good—it couldn't have smashed all previous Buick production records otherwise. Nobody has to tell you it's a mighty smart buy—looking ahead, one thing you can count on is that prices won't be lower!

Meantime, current figures* on a big, hundred-plus horsepower Buick with the only micropoise-balanced engine in existence start at $895 business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich.; transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra.

Yes, better get set—now! Today! Your Buick dealer is making deals too good to pass by.

Tells Benefits of CCC Enrollments

Walter J. Dunne, director of the Wayne County Department of Social Welfare, is seeking to clear up some misunderstandings pertaining to CCC enrollments. In a notice to county newspapers, Mr. Dunne states:

"We wish to bring to public attention several recent changes extending the scope of CCC enrollment and to explain the more important features of this worthy enterprise.

"There appears to be some reluctance to send boys to CCC camps because of an unfounded fear that the employment involves military training. This is not correct. Boys between the ages of 17 and 23 and a half years old, single, out of school and not on a vacation from school, and physically and mentally fit to work, are eligible for enrollment. Formerly only boys in families receiving public relief were eligible. Under present regulations, no applicant is excluded from selection because his family is not in need.

"The tenure is for a six months period. Upon voluntary re-enrollment, the boy is given six days leave of absence with pay. Should he obtain private employment while in camp, he will be honorably discharged to accept the work. He earns $30 per month, $8 of which is given him for spending money and the remainder, $22, is either placed in a CCC deposit or sent to his dependents if they are in need. He is furnished food, clothing, medical and dental care, recreational and educational opportunities, and transportation to and from camp. High school and college courses are available to those who wish to continue their education. Almost all vocational trades are taught and are made more complete by practical application in camp. The parents and family of the boy are free to visit the camp at any time.

"There is no military training in camp. The boys work 40 hours per week on constructive public projects, such as reforestation and other conservation endeavors.

"We feel that many eligible boys are overlooking a wonderful opportunity to obtain gainful employment and improved health. Any boy who lives within Wayne county, outside the City of Detroit, may apply for enrollment at 1019 East Forest avenue, Detroit, on any week day until Friday, July 26."

Make Plans for Future Townsend Activities

At the Townsend Seventeenth District convention, Monday evening, July 22, many important plans for the immediate future were made.

All future meetings are important and all Townsends, friends and well-wishers of the Townsend Plan will be asked to help the club's recovery program. The first of these meetings will be held Monday evening, July 29, at 8:00 o'clock, in the Grange hall, when a full report on the plans will be presented.

In honor of the birthday of Mrs. Leo Soule of Northville, Mrs. Ed Masters, also of Northville, entertained a number of guests at the Detroit Edison lake near Belleville, Thursday, July 18. Florence Blessing of Plymouth was among the guests.

The average railroad must make 1,000 returns to questionnaires by New Deal agencies. Each return carries answers to an average of 150 questions.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Truth" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 28. The Golden Text (Ps. 108: 1, 4) is: "O God, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise, even with my glory." For thy mercy is great above the heavens; and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 33: 1, 4): "Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright. For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 287): "Truth cannot be contaminated by error. The statement that Truth is real necessarily includes the correlated statement, that error, Truth's unlikeness, is unreal."

Lowell to Stage Showboat Soon

The ninth annual Showboat will be staged this year at Lowell, Michigan, July 31, August 1, 2 and 3. This summer evening entertainment is recognized by the West Michigan Tourist association as one of Michigan's outstanding features. The boat, which is a replica of an old Mississippi river steamer, is floated on oil drums and actually travels down the river bringing a show troupe of 150 people to the dock-stage.

According to N. E. Borgerson, general chairman, the year's show will feature Eddie Penabaz, who has appeared in 43 movies, and several nationally known radio programs. Other attractions will be the Eight Singing Marines; Howard Nichols, world famous vaudeville star; Dorothy Dyer, Girl Scout Wharton's famous colored band and ten other star acts. The Showboat seating facilities will accommodate 5,000 people. Reservations may be made through D. A. Wingard, of Lowell.

Jean Jolliffe and Robert Champe Wed; To Reside on South Main

Mr. and Mrs. Evered V. Jolliffe, of Hilltop Farm, announce the marriage of their daughter, Jean, on July 15, to Robert Champe, son of Dr. B. E. Champe, of this city.

Both the bride and bridegroom are well known and highly respected young people, having always lived here. Both are graduates of Plymouth high school and Michigan State Normal college, in Ypsilanti, where Mrs. Champe was affiliated with Theta Lambda Sigma sorority and Mr. Champe with the Arm of Honor fraternity.

Mrs. Champe will continue teaching in the Marine City high school, where she taught last year. Mr. Champe has accepted position as instructor in the Roseville high school the coming year.

They will be at home to their many friends here after July 27 at 1287 South Main street.

Complete Street Surfacing Here

This week city employees finished, with the exception of two streets, the municipal street resurfacing project. All is completed except for the application of a seal coat which is ordinarily put on one or two weeks following the final application of tar. The two streets yet to be resurfaced are Burroughs and Maple streets.

Streets which have been given a new surface are Irvin, between Williams and Blanche; Farmer, between Starkweather and Amelia, and the entire length of Caster.

Also this week construction on a storm sewer was started on Ross street, as a part of the summer street improvement project. City officials said that the sewer will be completed by tomorrow (Saturday) night.

Other improvements on city streets have been done by WPA, including a sewer job on Evergreen street and also one on Main.

The Ocqueoc in Presque Isle county is the only river in the southern peninsula having falls in its course.

Watch Health of School Children

Children starting off to school for the first time deserve as much attention as a high school graduate leaving for college, says the Michigan department of health.

The five-year-old boy or girl may have a much more difficult adjustment between family life and school than does the senior high school and college. Partly for that reason, each child newly entered in school should have a physical check-up, even though he may seem to be in perfect health.

In many Michigan schools, Parent-Teacher associations have arranged for summer round-ups of preschool children, so that physicians may examine them and defects may be corrected. Although there is still six weeks of summer, children not yet examined should be taken to their family physician now so that if corrections are necessary, there will be time to make them before school starts.

Every summer round-up shows case after case where important defects have been overlooked in apparently healthy children. Often allowance is unconsciously made for actual handicaps, because parents are constantly associated with the child. Hearing and sight deficiencies are easily overlooked, only to become serious later. The commonest defects in preschool children are cavities in teeth. The check-up should include a visit to the dentist.

Death Rate From TB Stays Low

Tuberculosis deaths for the whole state last year held close to the record low of 1938, but rates of individual counties varied widely.

Three northern counties of from 2,000 to 8,500 population reported no tuberculosis deaths in 1939. This does not mean, however, that tuberculosis does not exist in these counties. Crawford and Oshtemo counties were free from tuberculosis deaths for the second consecutive year and the third county was Gladwin.

"In the five years from 1930 to 1935, the tuberculosis death rate dropped from 60 deaths to 40 deaths per 100,000 population," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, state health commissioner. "The rate is below 40 now. It can be pushed still lower, however, by more concentrated work in finding and treating cases of tuberculosis. In order to make further reductions, cases must be found even before the individual knows of his tuberculosis infection. Finding such early cases is possible with chest X-ray of persons who have been in contact with anyone ill with tuberculosis."

Deaths from tuberculosis in the state totaled 1,881 in 1939, showing a rate of 36.9 deaths per 100,000 population. This was only a slight change from the 1938 figures of 1,866 deaths and a rate of 36.6. Detroit had 945 of the 1,881 deaths last year.

Republican Women Plan Potluck Luncheon

The guest speaker, Mrs. Fred T. Program chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth Sammond, has announced that a string ensemble will provide a musical program.

After years of litigation the Supreme Court, in 1907, declared the lower portion of the delta of the St. Clair river to be state property by virtue of the fact that this area appeared conclusively to have been a part of the bottom of the Great Lakes in 1837 at the time Michigan was admitted to the Union.

MODERNIZE YOUR MECHANIZED EQUIPMENT

WITH CHEVROLET TRUCKS

at today's low prices!

YOU KNOW THE LEADER IN TRUCK SALES
MUST BE THE LEADER IN TRUCK VALUE

Truck buyers are careful buyers—they thoroughly analyze and compare all types of trucking equipment—they want to make certain that they'll get the make and type of truck best suited to their business requirements.

It is a significant fact that more truck users choose Chevrolet than any other make of truck... because Chevrolet trucks could not have established their record of leadership in 1940 and maintained it for six out of the last eight years had it not been that Chevrolet trucks deliver more dollar-for-dollar value than any other make.

All models and types of Chevrolet trucks may still be purchased at today's low price levels, so it would be wise to consider replacing some of your trucking equipment with new Chevrolets now.

Children Go to Rouge Pool Twice a Week

Street Showers at Starkweather Every Day at 3:00

In response to numerous requests, announcement was made by the recreation committee this week that for the remainder of the summer, two trips to the Rouge pool will be taken each week. Busses will transport children taking part in the summer recreation program regularly who are privileged to go swimming at the pool each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon.

Busses leave Central school at 1:00 o'clock and from Starkweather at 1:05. Only children who have written permission from home will be allowed to go.

Because of the continued hot weather, street showers are turned on every day at 3:00 o'clock. The showers are located on Mill street, in front of the Baptist church. All boys and girls in Plymouth are invited to take part in this activity.

In the Boys' Afternoon softball league, Forest Wings is leading with four games won and one lost for a percentage of .667. Last week the Snaps shut out the Wings, 2-0, and the Sluggers swamped the Yanks, 9-1. Mill street Braves, cellar position holders, accepted a shut-out from the Tigers, 9-0. The Sluggers won from the Tigers, 28-7; Wings 12, Snaps 7; Wings 18, Tigers 9; and the Snaps beat the Sluggers 11-8.

Because the Yankees and Braves dropped from the league this week, a new schedule has been drafted. Monday at Central, the Tigers will meet the Sluggers and at Starkweather, Wings vs. Snaps; Wednesday, at Central, Wings vs. Tigers and at Starkweather, Snaps vs. Sluggers; Friday at Central, Wings vs. Sluggers, and at Starkweather, Tigers vs. Snaps.

Boys' Afternoon league standings are:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Forest Wings	4	2	.667

Ginger Snaps	5	4	.554
Central Tigers	3	4	.429
Central Yankees	1	2	.333
Mill St. Braves	0	2	.000

At Starkweather in the Twilight league play last week, Stark edged out the Wall Wire No. 2 team, 4-3. Allen Industries and Studebaker had an equally close game, with the Allen team winning, 8-7. Wall Wire team No. 1 beat Hi-Speed, 9-2.

Standings are as follows:

Team	W	L	Pct.
N. E. Merchants	7	2	.778

Sessions Service	4	4	.500

Wall Wire No. 2	1	9	.100

Next week Monday, Stark will meet Allen Industries; Tuesday, Hi-Speed vs. Studebaker; Wednesday, Wall Wire vs. N. E. Merchants; Thursday, Hi-Speed vs. Sessions Service; and Friday, N. E. Merchants vs. Allen Industries.

Central standings are:

Team	W	L	Pct.

Shrubs are being planted at considerable cost along main highways, to beautify them, while some counties and townships still are paying to have them cut down on little used country roads, where they provide good game cover without the hazard of heavy traffic.

Plymouth Teams Lose in Golf

Harry Fitzpatrick, No. 1 man on the Plymouth Country club foursome carded a three-under-par 33-34-67 in their match against North Hills in Metropolitan Golf association league play Sunday but were unable to stop their opponents who won a close match, six and one-half to five and one-half. North Hills is at the top of the standings for the West section of the league, having a clean record of 11 wins and no losses. Plymouth Country club is in fifth place.

Fitzpatrick took his man for three points and John Lock split for one and one-half. Jim Lock made a point while Herb Burley had a bad day and failed to register.

Teams Race for Playoffs

It is not a question of what four teams are going to play in the Central Twilight league playoffs. It is a question of which two teams tied for four place will win their game this week, thus putting them in the playoffs. In the event that both teams tied for the playoff position, Plymouth Hardware and Daisy, either win or lose a one-game knockout game will be played Monday. Otherwise the playoffs proper will begin Monday.

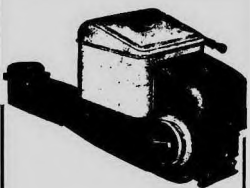

Teams appearing will be Plymouth Plating, which finished the season with a percentage of .923-12 games won and one lost—and there is a tie for second place between Schrader and Super Shell.

Providing the knockout game isn't played, Monday playoff fans will see Super Shell take the team in fourth position. Schrader and Plymouth Plating will play Tuesday; Wednesday, losers of Monday vs. winner of Tuesday; Thursday, winner of Monday vs. winner of Tuesday, and Friday, winner of Wednesday vs. loser of Thursday.

Umpires selected for the playoffs are Lester Day, Bob Smith, Jim Williams, Anthony Matulis, Ray Gilder, Eddie Dobbs and Harry Hunter.

SLEEP LIKE A PRINCE

in a house cooled for 5c a night!

If you have ever tossed and turned in a hot, stuffy bedroom until four o'clock in the morning, trying in vain to sleep, you will be thankful for a discovery that brings the cool outdoors right into your room... making it refreshingly comfortable. You will be doubly thankful when you find that this method of cooling your entire house costs only about 1/2c an hour!

So effective is this type of cooling—lowering the temperature as much as 7 to 14 degrees in the evening, depending on the outdoor temperature—that it is hard to believe you can accomplish it with nothing more than a giant fan in the attic. Do not confuse this fan with an ordinary fan, however. It is a special type of fan—very large—and its quiet, powerful blades are capable of producing a complete change of air in your house every few minutes. Prices vary from $50 up (installation extra).

The principle on which it operates is simple. The attic fan draws the warm air in your rooms upward to the attic and discharges it out-of-doors. At the same time, a flood of cool night air is pulled in through the windows and gently circulated through the house—making the rooms delightfully comfortable and assuring long hours of restful sleep.

Department stores, electrical dealers, and fan dealers will gladly give you full information about this low-cost method of house cooling. Telephone today. The Detroit Edison Company. (We do not sell or install this equipment.)

IT DIDN'T HAPPEN.

During recent months of discussion of the question of whether President Roosevelt would violate American tradition and become a candidate for the third term, The Plymouth Mail has consistently refused to believe that he would become a candidate. While we have never been enthusiastic over his administration, its waste and its hateful retaliation for those who would not do its goose-stepping, we have always had a pretty high regard for the President's patriotism and his Americanism.

It is true that there are some who so thoroughly disapprove of all that he has done that they are not charitable enough to even recognize his patriotism. But The Mail always has—and it was a real jolt the other day when he stepped down from a high pedestal of public estimation to accept the nomination for a third term at the behest of a mob of political bosses.

Because of our system of government, there is real danger to all the liberties we possess if this nation permits any machine to stay in power long enough to build a great political army of public payroll leeches that could not be overthrown through the ballot box. No one in Germany expected Hitler to remain in power forever when he took over possession of the government. The Italian people did not plan to set up a permanent Mussolini government and little did the people of Russia believe that they were to live forever under the threatening heel of a dictator.

Given four more years to build up and create a political machine through the unlimited use of public funds, the present administration could so strongly entrench itself that no other party could ever hope to win another national election.

We refuse to believe that President Roosevelt followed the dictates of his own conscience in this matter. But we are convinced that the vast army of political job holders and public payroll benefactors so overwhelmed the President that he yielded to their demands rather than to follow his own judgment in the matter. The Plymouth Mail was one newspaper that maintained right up to the time of the Chicago convention that President Roosevelt would not set aside one of America's greatest traditions—but he has done so and the unfavorable public reaction already indicates what is going to happen in November.

The Democratic Detroit Times intelligently discusses the unusual action of the President. Says the Times:

"Perhaps the American people should not have expected anything better than blind, grasping and penurious politics from a convention of New Deal jobholders.

"But they surely expected something better, some higher show of principle, some finer expression and example of AMERICANISM from Mr. Roosevelt.

"A man twice honored by election to the presidency should have been willing and content to take his place in the revered and honored company of distinguished and immortal American presidents.

"He should have had respect, and not contempt, for the historic admonition of Washington and the inspiring example of Jefferson.

"He should have joined the immortal Jefferson in saying:

"I should unwillingly be the person who, disregarding the sound precedent set by an illustrious predecessor, should furnish THE FIRST EXAMPLE OF PROLONGATION BEYOND THE SECOND TERM OF OFFICE."

"Mr. Roosevelt has shown himself to be entirely willing to shatter the principles of Washington, Jefferson and ALL his predecessors in office.

"But the American people can still preserve those high and vital principles.

"Let the American people rise to their responsibilities better than Mr. Roosevelt rose to his."

BOYS MUST NOT WORK UNTIL 14 YEARS OF AGE!

Out at the Clinton County Country Club shop a notice was posted recently. It served notice that caddies must be fourteen years of age or older; also that there must be a "work permit" obtained for them until they are seventeen years of age. This ruling, or law, is another cock-eyed interference with rights of American boyhood. It is another excellent sample of why American youth gets out of high school or college and cannot find a job.

Too many of them cannot find a job because they wouldn't know what a job looked like if they met it in the middle of the road in broad daylight.

We had a little visit one morning this week with our good friend, John Hopko. John is about eleven years old. He has been a caddy and a good one. True, he is a little light to carry a heavy bag of clubs, but he doesn't mind. John has the sweetest smile. When your ball lands in the rough, if you look a little puzzled, John will politely suggest, "You'd better use the No. 6 iron."

John's family doesn't have too easy sledding. So his caddy fees and those of his brother, Steve, go to help buy clothes, shoes, milk, and school books. John was blinking pretty fast when we talked with him. He's a little feller, but he would hate to have any of the men who employed him see tears in his eyes. John didn't say it in so many words, but in his juvenile mind the thought was percolating, "This is a hell of a country that won't let a guy caddy when he's got a chance."

We agree with John. Caddies are taught good deportment. The work isn't exactly easy, but it doesn't hurt them. It keeps them outdoors and out of mischief. Just because we've got some party-waists on public jobs in Lansing, we can see no reason why they should be allowed to make party-waists of boys who haven't yet acquired the disposition to loaf or a soft public job to support them. — Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican News.

DOING A GOOD JOB.

Diplomats do come in for a lot of criticism. Yet when one reflects upon the fact that such government representatives are necessary for the carrying on of international relationships, one must admit that diplomats are legitimate items on the public payroll. After all, most diplomats do a better job in cementing good relationships between countries than most of the inhabitants. Many an American has so deported himself in Paris, London, or other foreign city so disgracefully that thousands of persons disgustingly exclaimed: "So that's a typical American, eh?" — George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

NEW TAXPAYERS

Two million two hundred thousand more Americans will be called upon, starting next year, to pay income taxes. This was assured by Congress when it passed the statute to raise money for more than four and a half billion dollar defense plans for this nation. Married persons must pay on all income above $2,000. Instead of $2,500; single persons from $800 instead of $1,000. Thus does an evil world, requiring war to settle international differences, cause people to spend money that ought to go for more humane needs. — George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

Rev. Charles Strasen, of Bay City, formerly superintendent of the Evangelical Lutheran Children's Friend Society of Michigan, was installed as minister of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church of this village and St. Paul's church of Livonia Center, last Sunday by the Rev. O. Peters, of Wayne, formerly pastor of these churches. There has been a vacancy in these churches for nine months and the members feel that they are very fortunate in securing so able a man as Rev. Strasen to assume the pastorate in this field, and are much pleased over the arrival of their new pastor, who comes to them very highly recommended.

Another large crowd was in town again last Saturday night. Each succeeding Saturday evening sees the crowd getting larger. Between the hours of 8:00 and 9:00 o'clock, a count of the autos and buggies was made and there were 317. The excellent music of the Schaffer band and the splendid moving pictures are drawing the people to Plymouth from miles around. A merry-go-round on the vacant lot opposite the Plymouth hotel, attracted the attention of the boys and girls as well as their nickels.

Postal receipts for the fiscal year, ending July 1, of the Plymouth post office were $10,138.60, exclusive of money order fees, which totaled over $600 more. Under the post office regulations all post offices doing a business of $10,000 or over per year are entitled to free mail delivery. This brings Plymouth in line for such delivery and it is up to the post office department to grant the same.

An announcement of the marriage of Fred J. Stocken and Ina Dunn, of Ann Arbor, former residents of this place, has been made. They were quietly married in Ann Arbor, Saturday evening, July 17.
