

Plans Announced For Professional Center

Construction of Office Building to Start Soon

E. Fletcher Campbell and R. F. Widmaier to Finance Project

Construction of a new professional center will begin shortly in the property adjacent to E. Fletcher Campbell's home at 941 West Ann Arbor Trail. Permission for the erection of the office building, which is to cost about $7,000, was granted when preliminary plans were approved by the city commission Monday evening.

Mr. Campbell, one of the partners in the enterprise, has long felt the need for such a professional center where services could be rendered by dentists, doctors, lawyers, and opticians with the convenience of ground floor offices.

Richard F. Widmaier, Plymouth contractor, and a business partner in the construction, expects to rush the building for occupancy early in 1941. Half of the 2,500 foot floor space is already spoken for in advance of the work and others have signified much interest in the remaining available suites, he reports.

The proposed building, 40x62.6 feet, to be constructed of face brick and tile, is planned to include five suites with provision for reception, operating, treatment, and recovery rooms, and laboratories for use by doctors or dentists. Each suite is to consist of four rooms, varying in size from 7x8 to 8x10 feet.

Halfway down the hall, a circular seating arrangement, 12 feet in diameter, is planned, one of which doors to the several offices will lead into inner waiting and reception rooms.

An oil burner unit will be installed in a boiler room, 10 feet deep and 40 feet across the rear of the building. A 14 foot setback from the old street line must be observed to allow a seven-foot clearance when the street is widened.

Home Building Active Here

Building activity held its own in Plymouth during the month of October, with a total of 27 permits issued for new homes, additions, remodeling and repair jobs which will total $35,115.50 in valuation.

The same number of permits was issued during the previous month, but the total valuation for September's building was $41,540.

Four new homes, two commercial buildings, two additions to present business sites, and a large number of repairs are now under construction.

Contractor R. F. Widmaier is building a new five-room house for Charles Barnes of McClumbeha road at 917 Hartwood street, between Harvey and Main streets at an estimated cost of $2,300, and a six-room house with attached garage for S. L. Dibble of Detroit at 1116 Harding street, between Edison and the end of the street. A one-and-a-half story house, this building is valued at $5,400 according to the permit.

Two five-room brick veneer houses, both one-and-a-half stories, are being built by Fred A. Hubbard, local contractor, one for Lawrence Fortin at 397 Pacific avenue between Blanche and Williams streets, at 3,800, and the other with a one-car garage, for William Huber at 1074 Roosevelt street, between Edison and Burroughs, for $4,000.

The Atlas Finance company took out a permit October 30 for the construction of a new brick store building, 40x100 feet, at 852 Ann Arbor Trail between South Main street and Harvey street. The estimated cost of this one-story building is $7,000. The building which will probably accommodate a furniture store, has not yet been located.

Fred Schrader has taken out a building permit to construct an addition to the Schrader Funeral home soon, at a valuation of $1,765.50. Another commercial permit was for the erection of the new gas station for Don Silkworth, Gulf distributor, who owns the station which has been on this same site at 853 West Ann Arbor Trail. The station will continue to be managed by Clair Travis.

The Plymouth Elevator corporation at 305 North Main street has taken out a permit for an addition of one stall to the garage and a roof over posts for a coal shed which will cost about $200.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson and son, Jack, will be Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nielsson in Detroit.

New President

JOHN BLYTON

Kiwanis Club Elects Officers

John Blyton was elected president of the Kiwanis Club for the ensuing year at a meeting Tuesday evening, November 5. Other new officers who will assume office the first of next year are Kenneth Corey, first vice-president; Ernest Henry, second vice-president; and Roy Fisher, treasurer.

The office of secretary is appointive, so that position will not be filled until the new board of directors meets for the first time. Bob Jelliffe is secretary of the club at present.

New directors appointed to the board for a two-year term are Claude DeKoube, James Gallimore, Dunbar Davis, and James Sessions. The remaining members of the directors' board, in addition to the newly elected officers, are Carvel Bentley, retiring president, Lyle Worden, Ernest Allison, and Clarence Moran.

George Hasz gave a talk on his trip to Porto Rico at Tuesday's meeting.

Announces New Allen Co. Contract

Announcement was made by James Schnarr, official of the union at the Allen Industries plant in Plymouth that a satisfactory contract had been signed for the entire year and company for the coming year.

The new contract calls for a two and a half cent per hour raise for the upper bracket employees consisting of about 60 per cent of the total employed and a two and one-half per cent bonus for vacations for all of the company men.

Announcement was also made that the company would net over one-half million dollars for the year and that the company's contribution to their employees would amount to about $35,000.

Driver's Licenses Set New Record

The largest number of driver's licenses issued in the history of the Plymouth police department was revealed in the monthly police report for October. There were 464 driver's licenses and 17 chauffeur licenses issued during October which netted the city a revenue of $14,355. The city retains 25 cents from each license fee.

Last month also marked a decrease in the number of traffic violation tickets issued by the department. Of the total of 25 tickets, 19 were for speeding, six for failure to stop at stop streets, one for improper plates, five for driving without operator's license, two for reckless driving, and one for failure to observe a school signal. The total fines for the month were $82.

Six felony cases were reported of which three have been cleared; there were 37 ladders accommodated in the city jail, four dogs impounded, and six dogs killed during the month of October.

The municipal court reported one cold desertion case which was turned over to a sheriff in Tennessee, one reckless driving charge for which a fine of $5 was paid, one indecent exposure case which was bound over to circuit court, and three drunk driving cases which paid a total of $70 in fines.

Gehring to Attend Scout Court of Honor

Troop P-2 to Present Bronze Plaque to Tiger Star Friday

Charles Gehring will attend a Court of Honor for the Boy Scouts of the Plymouth district at the Wayne County training school gymnasium Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. This is the first of the year's events which take in all of the 400 boys and men who belong out in this area.

The Tiger second baseman will be presented with a bronze plaque from Scout Troop P-2 by Captain Charles Thumme, of the troop committee. The inscription on the plaque reads as follows: "His quiet common sense, his clear life, and, not incidentally, his ability to play ball have made him the inspiration of Detroit and Michigan boydom. - Ify Awarded by the Boy Scouts of America to Charles Leonard Gehring." Gehring's business partner, Mr. Forsyth, and other notable baseball figures from Detroit will be at the court also.

There will be the award of honors and advancements to those who have made progress in the Scout program since last June. George A. Smith is chairman of the advancement committee; Russ Ammerman of Northville is chairman of the court of honor committee, and Sidney D. Strong is special field commissioner for the Plymouth district.

Arrangements for the program will start promptly at 7:30 and will be over at 9 o'clock so that those who wish to take in the Milk Fund ball can come to the Court of Honor and still not miss the ball.

It is hoped that a large number of parents and friends of Scouting will be present on hand to help the Scouts welcome their special guests.

William Streng Hit by Auto, Badly Injured

Traffic Victim One of Plymouth's Oldest Citizens

William Streng, 85 years old, of North Mill street, was struck by an automobile while crossing the street in front of his home at 6:40 Wednesday evening. The aged pedestrian suffered fractures of both legs and head lacerations.

According to the police report, Mr. Streng walked off the curb, not at an intersection, into the path of a car driven by Homer Tennant, 23, of 2310 Cadillac road, Plymouth. Witness stated that the driver was not traveling fast, and that he tried to avoid hitting the aged man, but could not swing to the center of the road because another car was approaching from the opposite direction. Mr. Streng was given first aid treatment at the Plymouth hospital and removed to Harper hospital in Detroit.

He had attended a church supper at the Methodist church and was on his way home when the accident happened. Mr. Streng is one of Plymouth's oldest and best known residents.

Lidgard Grocery Opens New Store

The Lidgard Brothers announce the grand opening of their new store at 74 State street, Friday and Saturday of this week-end. Robert Lidgard who has managed a grocery store at 173 Liberty street for the last four months announces that his brother, Clarence, will be manager of the meat department.

The store has been completely re-decorated and equipped with new showcases, and provides twice as much space as the former location.

Robert Lidgard has been in the grocery business in Plymouth for the last five years, working with the Kroger company. His brother has also worked with Kroger for many years, in charge of a meat department at Flatrock.

Leads Ticket

MURRAY D. VAN WAGONER

Murray D. Van Wagoner, Michigan's new Governor, led the Democratic ticket in Plymouth, receiving a total of 914 votes in Tuesday's election. The same was true in Northville, also a traditional Republican stronghold.

The Democratic gubernatorial candidates transcended party lines to step far ahead of the rest of his party, indicating split ballots from otherwise Republican voters. In Livonia township, he not only led his ticket, but defeated his Republican opponent by nearly 300 votes.

School Officials, Teachers Attend Banquet Meeting

Speakers Emphasize Citizenship Training for Democracy

"Functional Citizenship in a Democracy" was the theme of the tenth annual school officer-teacher banquet for the northern division of Wayne county held at the Marlowe hotel Monday evening, November 4.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction, who delivered the main address of the evening, stressed particularly "the dangerous drifts we are developing in America away from representative government which is a modified democracy."

He stated that the arousing of differences between political, economic, and religious groups provides the necessary groundwork for the possibility of a dictator government.

Fred C. Fischer, county superintendent of schools, presided as toastmaster for the program, which included musical entertainment by the "Dixie Eight" and group singing led by Mrs. June Salisbury, teacher in the Livonia Center school.

Extending a greeting from the county board of education, Marjorie L. Leacock, president of the Wayne county board, declared that money spent for schools in the county does not lose its usefulness as soon as money spent for some types of government protection, but rather, pays dividends through the years in the lives of men and women. He expresses lament that rural schools in the county are allowed such a small amount of money to build and maintain education in such a rich county.

The practical application of democracy in the schools was illustrated by Miss Elaine Radke, teacher in the Truesdell school, who cited the work of junior citizenship clubs in providing citizenship training in student government and in planning health and other programs.

The relationship of school board members in cooperating with teachers in an attempt to build democratic living through the process of education was the subject of a talk by Alfred G. Bakewell, director of the Newburgh school.

Men Invade Woman's Page

A masculine hand has taken over the kitchen and invaded the Woman's Page of The Plymouth Mail this week.

The men of the household have been going forth to bag pheasants and shoot ducks during the small game and wild fowl hunting seasons during the last few weeks, and they will soon be preparing for deer hunting trips when the season opens next month, so Glenn Lewin, president of the Plymouth Rotary club and connoisseur of such camp cookery as sour milk pan cakes and "Pere Marquette Specials," was interviewed this week for his outdoor camp recipes which appear with the sportsman's picture on the Woman's Page.

Dr. and Mrs. John A. Ross will be the guests of Dr. George W. Crane of the Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois this week-end. Dr. Crane noted psychiatrist has won national fame in his many fields of practice. He and Dr. Ross are friends of long standing.

While in Chicago Dr. Ross will also consult with specialists at the Northern Illinois College of Optometry on new developments in the field of Optometry. Dr. Ross is a former professor of that college.

Burglars Loot Jewelry Store; Attempt Second

$200 Worth of Goods Stolen From Halstead and Herrick Store

Burglars broke into the Halstead and Herrick jewelry store at 639 Michigan avenue early Sunday morning and stole $200 worth of merchandise, and smashed a glass pane in the front door of the Draper jewelry store at 290 South Main street in an attempted robbery.

Police believe that the robbers were frightened away from the front of the Draper store at the approach of a policeman. Officer Carl Gronley discovered the broken front window at 4:30 Sunday morning. A brick had been thrown through the glass door pane in an effort to unlatch the door, but burglars left without entering the store. Mr. Draper, in reporting that nothing had been taken from his store, said that this was the first attempted breaking and entering into his store in 47 years in business.

One whole side of the store window at Halstead and Herrick's was broken into with a six-inch square rock and the display window was entirely looted. The merchandise stolen, half of which was covered by insurance, included a set of 52 pieces of 1847 Rogers silverware, two men's watches, five ladies' watches, four rings, a card of glass watch straps, two gold overhand bands, and three cigarette lighters. The Halstead and Herrick firm has been located in Plymouth since July 6, 1940.

This robbery was reported to be the largest looting since the robbery at the First National bank in 1937 when $6600 was stolen. The bandits in that case are now serving 20- to 40-year terms in Alcatraz.

Tells Rotarians Child Hospital Is State Need

Would Be Better for Children and Taxpayers, Says Eaton

"The best and most progressive step Michigan can take in solving the crippled and afflicted children's problem would be the immediate construction of at least one, and probably two state hospitals for children," stated Elton R. Eaton, of Plymouth, in a talk Tuesday noon before a joint meeting of the Northville and Livonia Rotary clubs.

"One institution should be devoted to the care of some 1,000 or more children who are hopelessly crippled and can never be cured and who will always be a public responsibility. They are alert, mentally, and therefore should not be sent to Caro or Lapeer. But some proper custodial provision should be made for their permanent care, especially as long as the taxpayers must foot the bill," he said.

He also declared that he believes Michigan could greatly improve its care for both crippled and afflicted children if the state had a hospital devoted entirely to their care.

"Not only would the state be able to provide better and more uniform medical treatment for afflicted children, but it would prove far more economical than the present method of sending children, at state expense, to 25 or 30 different private hospitals about the state," said Mr. Eaton.

"The average cost of maintaining a patient in the hospitals for mental diseases, inclusive of medication and all other costs, averaged 85 cents a day, year ago. The average costs in institutions for mental defectives was a little over 79 cents a day. At the Caro State hospital for Epileptics, the cost a year ago was a trifle more than 88 cents a day, and at the Wayne County Training school, $1.17 a day.

"It is probable that because of the nature of medical treatment necessary the care of crippled children might be a trifle more than the cost of these other state patients, but not much. The next legislature can go a long way in solving this serious and important problem by providing immediately a state children's hospital."

DR. GEORGE W. CRANE TO ENTERTAIN THE DR. ROSSES

Dr. and Mrs. John A. Ross will be the guests of Dr. George W. Crane of the Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois this week-end. Dr. Crane noted psychiatrist has won national fame in his many fields of practice. He and Dr. Ross are friends of long standing.

City Votes True to Its Long GOP Tradition

Total of 2,259 Votes Cast for New High Record in Plymouth

Plymouth followed the state and not the nation in voting down the link with the Republican ticket in the general election Tuesday. Voters of the city rolled up a new record with a total of 2,259 votes cast in the city. There were 616 votes cast in Plymouth township, 3487 in Livonia township, and 878 in Canton township.

Holding to its Republican tradition, Plymouth recorded a 2 to 1 majority for national, state, and county Republicans. The Willkie-McNary presidential ticket received 1508 votes in Plymouth as against 722 for the Democratic ticket of Roosevelt and Wallace.

Governor Dickinson was given an overwhelming vote of 1286 with Murray D. Van Wagoner garnering 914 votes here. U. S. Senator Arthur Vandenberg seeking re-election was given a resounding vote of confidence from Plymouth voters, with a total of 1,525 against only 647 for Fitzgerald, the Democratic newcomer.

George A. Dondero, incumbent Republican representative in Congress from the seventeenth district, received one of the largest local majorities, with 1,454 votes against 692 for his opponent, Draper Allen. Clarence Reid, Republican candidate for state senator from the eighteenth district, also was awarded a large majority, with 1,464 votes against his opponent's 663. In the state legislative race, Edward F. Fisher scored a tally of 1,403 votes against the Democratic candidate, Harry E. Irwin, who received 723 votes in the city.

Republican victories were given all candidates for county offices. Plymouth gave heavy majorities to Emerson R. Boyle, for justice of the supreme court, Frank Day Smith for circuit court judge, and to D. J. Healy, county clerk. A. Murphy for probate judge.

The complete report of Plymouth votes appears in an adjoining column of The Plymouth Mail.

Michigan Bell Given Authority to Extend Area

State Commission's Order Will Result in $700 Savings

The Michigan Public Service Commission has approved a petition filed October 2 by the Michigan Bell Telephone company for authority to add nearly a square mile of territory to the Plymouth base rate telephone area. John R. MacLachlin, manager for the company, announced today.

MacLachlin said the commission's order will result in savings amounting to $700 a year for present telephone users in the territory to be added.

Under the order, exchange line mileage charges will be eliminated for 69 present urban line subscribers in the affected territory. MacLachlin explained, Rural line service in the area will be discontinued, but rural line customers will be enabled to take four-party line urban service at no increase in rates.

Beyond the territory to be added to the base rate area, the commission continues 19 urban line subscribers will have their exchange line mileage charges reduced, while five rural line customers will have their rural line mileage charges eliminated entirely.

The territory added to the base rate area covers one-third of a square mile on the north of the city, one-quarter of a square mile on the east, and one-quarter on the west.

Post Office to Close Monday, November 11 for the Armistice Day holiday. Postmaster Frank Learned announces that all postal windows will be closed to the public, but mail will be dispatched as usual. Both the First National and the Plymouth United Savings banks will be closed Armistice day. Superintendent George A. Smith announces that Plymouth schools will meet as usual Monday.

How They Voted Four Years Ago

What was termed "an all-time high vote" of 1875 votes were cast in the city of Plymouth in the 1936 presidential election. The city came within 181 votes of giving the Democratic ticket a majority, the biggest Democratic vote ever cast here.

A total of 986 votes were cast in Plymouth for Alfred M. Landon, 1936 Republican standard-bearer, and 805 for Franklin D. Roosevelt. In the township Landon led with 220 votes over Roosevelt's 158, and in Livonia township, 749 Landon votes were cast as against 895 for Roosevelt.

Canton township provided the upset, for that township long regarded as a Democratic stronghold, turned about and voted a Republican majority.

The 1936 victory was reported was entirely on split tickets. The total number of Democratic straight tickets in the district exceeded the total number of straight Republican tickets. While the state and national Democratic tickets were given slight majorities in this locality, one of the election upsets was the defeat of the entire Republican state ticket, Frank Murphy, then mayor of Detroit, defeated the late Frank Fitzgerald in the gubernatorial race, though Fitzgerald led with 1220 votes against 602 for Murphy in Plymouth.

Plymouth recorded 1004 votes for the Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, Wilbur M. Brucker, against Prentiss Brown who received 727 votes here.

Congressman George A. Dondero carried this part of Wayne county with a good vote against Draper Allen, who was his opponent this year also.

Voters Reject Tax Proposals

Plymouth voters rejected two of the amendment proposals which sought to levy increased taxes for school buildings and for a sinking fund for public buildings in Wayne county in Tuesday's election. Livonia township duplicated Plymouth's vote on both of these tax propositions.

Proposal No. 3 against which the DSR of Detroit waged such a vigorous battle was also voted down in both Plymouth and Livonia. The other three proposals for civil service, regulation of

"Old House Shoppe" Opens Saturday, Nov. 16

Mrs. Harry Lush and Mrs. Frank Rambo announce the opening of "The Old House Shoppe" at 917 Northville-Plymouth road opposite Cass Benton Park Saturday, November 16.

They have spent much time in re-arranging and decorating the house and as a result, it presents an interesting and attractive appearance.

Specializing in Mexican handicraft, the shop will offer a variety of unique gifts. The owners of the new shop have many friends in Plymouth as well as Northville and expect many opening day visitors. For the convenience of customers and others the new shop will be kept open on Sunday afternoons from now until after the holidays.

Chapter AI P.E.O. will meet Monday evening, November 11, at the home of Mrs. Perry Richwine. Mrs. Alvin Balden will present a musical program. At their last meeting members and guests visited the Goodwill industries in Detroit.

Teacher Retired After 43 Years

Miss Ursula Cary, with a record of more than 43 years' public service as a school teacher, retired from the Plymouth school system in which she has taught for the last 15 years.

A bookkeeping teacher in the tenth and eleventh grades at the Plymouth high school, Miss Cary was eligible for retirement at the end of this school year, but due to ill health she has resigned at this time.

A 17-jewel wrist-watch was presented to her as a gift from her fellow teachers, the school nurse, and school office girl, last week, Miss Edna Allen, a close friend since 1914, who lives with Miss Cary at 285 North Harvey street, presented the gift which carries an engraved inscription from her fellow workers, also a subscription to the National Geographic magazine.

The board of education and all teachers in our school system, I am sure, regret immensely the resignation of Miss Ursula Cary," said George A. Smith, superintendent of schools, in a statement issued this week.

"Her cheerful, sincere manner, enriched with a fine sense of justice, has been an inspiration to both pupils and teachers. In her 15 years in Plymouth, Miss Cary has done a fine job of teaching and has helped many pupils and teachers through gloomy instances in their work. Our disappointment in her resignation is tempered materially by the knowledge of the fact that she plans to live among us and hence will always be a part of us," continued Mr. Smith.

She received her life teaching certificate from Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti, and completed her undergraduate work at Marshall college at Huntington, West Virginia. Miss Cary taught in her home town school at Bad Axe, Michigan, for 23 years, at the senior high school in Huntington, West Virginia for five and a half years, and in the Plymouth high school for the last 15 years.

Her avid interest in science stems from her early training in botany with Professor Wheeler of Michigan State college, East Lansing, who later became a nationally known plant authority in the government service. Friends claim that it was from this study that Miss Cary developed a "green finger" for plants. For years, she gave tests to Boy Scouts for identification of birds and all forms of nature study.

Though she was born in Bar Harbor, Maine, she always considered Bad Axe her home town, for it was there that she went to school and in that school she developed a "green finger" for plants. For years, she gave tests to Boy Scouts for identification of birds and all forms of nature study.

Always interested in young people and their activities, the teacher had charge of a Camp Fire Girls' group in the Bad Axe schools, a Girl Scout troop and a stamp club at the Plymouth high school. She is a philatelist and has many other hobbies, among which are collecting early American glass and hammered brass and copper dishes.

She picked up her interest in bookkeeping as a profession from a young man in a Bad Axe store. Considered a wizard at rapid calculation, this young bookkeeper had worked with such firms as Wanamaker's in New York. Miss Cary became interested in this unusual skill, demonstrated while she was visiting in Bad Axe.

Officer Thumme Recites Fingerprinting History

Officer Charles Thumme reviewed the history of fingerprinting and pointed out the advantages of citizens being fingerprinted for their protection at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce held at the Hotel Mayflower Wednesday evening.

The JCC in co-operation with Officer Thumme plans to fingerprint high school children for local files.

Mrs. Sally Schepper and daughter, Mary, Helen, of Miles City, Montana, and Mrs. Katharine Lanphear, of Moscow, Idaho, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Brocklehurst at their home here last week.

Schools Hold "Open House"

"Education for Common Defense" is the theme of National Education Week from November 11 to 15 during which time the schools of Plymouth will be open to parents and the general public.

Thursday, November 14, will be "Open House" night for parents of high school students. Regular afternoon classes will meet at 7:30 in the evening.

Parents are invited to attend classes at Starkweather school on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday when special programs and class room exhibits will be presented. An assembly will be held at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon for the third, fourth, and sixth grades. The special chorus of the school will sing, and the rhythm band of the lower grades will play at the assembly.

Streng Voted for Hayes in 1876

One of the interested guests at the Republican dinner held at the Mayflower hotel last Friday evening was William Streng, one of Plymouth's best known and oldest voters. Mr. Streng recalled that his first vote cast was for Rutherford B. Hayes in 1876.

President Hayes served one term, following the administration of General Grant.

"We voted over on Main street where the old Plymouth hotel stood. People seem to think that there is more interest in elections now than there were at that time. But that is not correct. Everybody was interested in voting then. Of course women could not vote, but all the men who were able to do so, never missed an election," stated Mr. Streng.

It Will Be An Inspiring Occasion when on Friday night (tonight) at the Wayne County Training School the Boy Scouts of this district will gather for their court of honor. Proud parents and friends will be there to see them receive their awards and achievements for work completed during the last few months. Crowning event of the evening will be a presentation to one of America's outstanding examples of clean living and clean sportsmanship. Boy Scout Troop Plymouth Number Two will take the opportunity to present to Charles Gehringer, popular Detroit Tiger second baseman a beautiful trophy, exemplifying his living, his sportsmanship, and his outstanding ability as one of the nation's all-time baseball greats. Through pennies saved and earned, the majors of Plymouth Troop Number Two were able, with the help of one or two enthusiastic supporters of youth, to purchase a beautiful memento to present to one of their heroes. No man has placed before the young boys of this country a better example of manhood than has Charles Gehringer, and no man is more entitled to recognition from youth than is this example of clean living. His inspiration to youth helps in the development of better American citizens, and we salute Mr. Gehringer on the event of this great honor. Every scout in the entire district should attend this meeting and honor this true sportsman. It is indeed a feather in the cap of the entire community to entertain Mr. Gehringer, and we congratulate not only him for coming to Plymouth, but also the scouts who have made his visit possible. # Voters Attend Final Meeting

A group of Plymouth voters last Friday evening had the pleasure of hearing Congressman George A. Dondero, and Candidate Clarence Reid for the state senate and Dr. Edward A. Fisher, for state representative, discuss campaign issues. They were guests at a dinner at the Mayflower hotel.

The following report of the wedding taken from the Santa Monica newspaper, has been received by The Plymouth Mail: "Miss Margaret Bourne, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bourne of Santa Monica, became the bride of Edward B. Ayers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Ayers of 426 Palisades avenue, and of Plymouth, Michigan, in lovely garden nuptials solemnized at 2:30 p. m. yesterday, October 27, in the Ayers home. The Rev. Frank G. H. Stevens of Pasadena officiated before approximately 85 guests.

Both Mr. Reid and Dr. Fisher briefly discussed state issues.

"The bride recited her vows in a gown of ice blue lace and marquisette. She carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and wore a bandeau of roses on her head.

Townsend Club to Meet Monday Evening

The Plymouth Townsend club's present policy of short business sessions followed by an evening of entertainment and a light lunch is very popular and will be continued until further notice, it has been announced.

"Mrs. Snyder Morgan, matron of honor, chose a costume of ivory net over pink satin and carried delphinium and pink roses with a matching bandeau of delphinium on her head. The mother of the bridegroom attended in a gown of soldier blue with a corsage of talisman roses.

The next meeting will be held on Monday night, November 12, at 7:30 p. m. in the Grange Hall.

"Mr. G. Richard Crane served the bridegroom as best man. Proceremony soloist was Dr. Albert Raitt, of Bakersfield, whose selection was "Because." Mrs. William Reed accompanied him at the organ.

City Authorizes Condemnation of Alley Property

Commission Approves
New Traffic Light at Penniman and Harvey

A resolution authorizing the city attorney, Arlo A. Emery, to institute condemnation proceedings in circuit court to secure two parcels of private property for the alley paving project at the rear of Main street stores, was passed by the city commission at its meeting Monday night.

The resolution declares that the widening of the alley at the rear of stores located on the northwest side of South Main street between Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman avenue, and at the rear of the stores and other property located on the southwest side of Penniman avenue between South Main and South Harvey streets, and also a municipal parking lot at the rear of the same property are improvements for the use and benefit of the public.

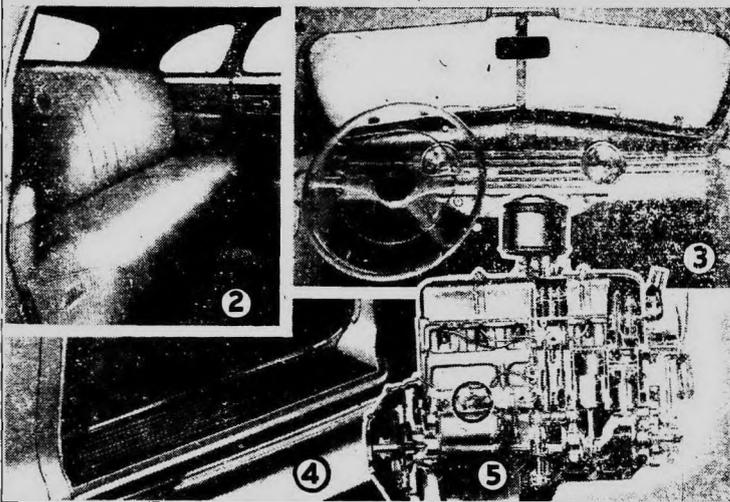

The private property necessary for making these public improvements is described as lot 160 and 161 of Assessor's plot No. 7 on which the Halstead & Herrick jewelry store building and the First National bank building are located.

Installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Penniman avenue and Harvey streets was also approved by the city commission Monday night. Two three-sectioned lights with two-way adjustable signals will be put up at opposite corners. It will be possible to turn the signal for an angle view at the intersection and it will also be possible to add a fourth section for a pedestrian "walk" signal at a later date. The installation of the signal at this corner is in response to numerous requests and a formal petition by residents of the two streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Peters, who recently moved to Detroit, were calling on old friends here Tuesday.

Mrs. G. A. Smith is entertaining a few guests at a luncheon today (Friday) in her home on Sheridan avenue.

Beauty Reaches All-Time High in New '41 Chevrolet

Completely new styling joins with numerous mechanical improvements to make the new 1941 Chevrolet, now on display at all dealers, a worthy successor to the cars which have earned first place in public favor year after year. The greater size and roominess of the new models, as well as their sleek new beauty, are apparent in the Special De Luxe Sport Sedan, shown above.

At (2) is shown the spacious interior of the same model's rear compartment, and at (3) is its front compartment, showing two-spoke steering wheel with horn-blowing ring, new sliding-type sun visors, and smartly re-styled dash.

One of the major changes is substitution of concealed safety-steps (4) for the running boards of other years, an improvement adding to the car's beauty without sacrifice of the safety and convenience which running boards provide. At (5) is the six-cylinder Chevrolet valve-in-head engine for 1941, in which many refinements have been made. Horsepower is increased from 89 to 90 without affecting economy; and cooling, lubrication and carburetion are all improved. In circle is the new switch which reverses the ignition current polarity each time the starter is operated, indefinitely prolonging the life of distributor points.

County PTA to Meet Tuesday

The November meeting of the Wayne County Council of Parent-Teachers' association will be held at the Flat Rock school, Flat Rock, on Tuesday, November 12. Business meeting will be held at 5:30 p.m., potluck dinner at 6:30 and evening meeting at 8:00.

Robert LeAnderson, superintendent of health education, of Wayne university, will show pictures and talk on safety education in relation to "America's Task of the Hour."

The council, with the assistance of the office of the Wayne county superintendent of schools is again sponsoring a fall clothing drive which will be held from November 1, through November 8. During this time they are asking that all articles of clothing which have been outgrown and shoes which can be repaired be sent to the school for collection by the Volunteers of America after which the material will be cleaned, repaired, and made available to Wayne county school children in families where there is a low income or unemployment.

Since the council began its sponsorship of this project in March 1939, to the present date 161 families, including 437 individuals, have been served—410 pairs of shoes and rubbers and 1801 other articles of clothing have been distributed—in addition to this the council has distributed over $200 for a leather fund to repair shoes.

Contributions are needed and will be appreciated.

Obituary

HARRY B. NORTHPROP
Harry B. Northrop, a former resident of Plymouth, and who for a number of years resided at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gladys Bulmon at 18 Marion street, Hillsdale, passed away Friday, November 1 at the age of 76 years. He was the husband of the late Nellie Shackleton Northrop. Besides his daughter he is survived by his son, Glenn Northrop of Plymouth; eight grandchildren and one great grandchild; a sister, Mrs. Louise Bradley of New Haven, Connecticut; and brother, Fred Northrop, of Connecticut. The body was taken to the Schrader Funeral home where funeral services were held Monday, November 4 at 2:00 p.m. Two beautiful hymns were rendered by Mrs. J. T. Chapman, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. M. J. O'Conner. The active pallbearers were Floyd Northrop, Clyde Bulmon, John Shackleton, James Burrell, John Weist and Allen Bordine. Rev. Gustave Enss of Plymouth and Rev. R. E. DeMille of Hillsdale officiated and interment was made in Rural Hill cemetery, Northville.

Salem News

Mrs. Julia Foreman accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Zach Foster of Detroit to Lansing Sunday to spend the day with her daughter and husband. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyar Baird of Detroit visited Sunday with her parents, the Charles Stacey's.

Wallace Bussey who has been spending a week with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wheeler, returned to Ypsilanti Sunday evening.

Mrs. Mattie McLaren of Plymouth, called at the George Roberts home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin and mother, Mrs. Amy Martin, of Base Line road, were Saturday evening callers at the Wheeler home.

William Naylor, of Ann Arbor, was calling on Salem friends Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred Burnett were Salem visitors Monday.

Funeral services for Wilbur Waterman were held at the Congregational church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Waterman had been in failing health for more than a year and died at his home at Wixom Saturday afternoon. He leaves a wife, one son, Alvin, and two grandchildren.

Appoint Draft Advisory Board

An advisory board was appointed by Governor Dickinson this week to advise and assist selective service registrants in the preparation of their questionnaire blanks, claims for deferment, and in meeting similar problems.

Appointees to this five-man board who will serve in a semi-official capacity for local board No. 61, include E. Reed Hunt, 1010 Church street, Plymouth; Alfred F. Meredith, D. Neal Reid; Feiler L. Perkins, 228 West Northville, and Dr. Ryder, 36723 East Ann Arbor Trail, Newburg.

Local board chairman, Walter Harms, said that the advisory board is not to be confused with appeal boards, which have not yet been appointed, or local advisors.

Harms also announced that the advisory board members would not assume their duties until questionnaires are issued to the registrants. The local board has received master copy of order numbers from Washington, and registrants will soon receive cards in the mail notifying them of their official order and service numbers.

Locals

Mrs. William Nelson, of Chicago, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Vickstrom for a few days.

Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple will speak over radio station CKLW at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon on "Government and Public Morals."

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bordine are leaving next Tuesday for Zephyr Hills, Florida, where they will spend the next four months.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jewell, Dr. and Mrs. John L. Olsaver and Mr. and Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, plan to spend the week-end in the latter's cabin at Black Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Otwell have a display of glassware at the antique show being held in Convention hall in Detroit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rae E. Chambers of Detroit were last Wednesday evening visitors of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers.

Kenneth Thumme, who is a teacher at Montgomery, Michigan, and Miss Esther Liken of Sebawaing, were weekend guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thumme.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Osgood and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Warren entertained at dinner, Monday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Heuston Williams of San Diego, California. Other guests were E. J. Williams, Mrs. J. W. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Moore, Mrs. Fred McRoberts, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bodilly, of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Osgood, of Plymouth.

On Saturday, November 2, Mrs. Lewis J. Norman (Betty Spicer) was the guest of honor at a luncheon and shower given by Mrs. C. W. Heller of Howell and Mrs. Basil MacKenzie of Hartland at the home of the former. Members of the Delta Alpha Phi sorority were among the guests invited to the luncheon. Bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and yellow tapers were used for table decorations, and each guest was given a corsage of tiny mums as a favor. An electric waffle iron was given Mrs. Norman by the young ladies.

Red Cross Opens Annual Drive

The annual Red Cross drive for membership will start Saturday, November 9 with a house to house canvass by young men of the Mantle club. Booths will be set up in the two banks to receive memberships.

The chapter is asking for $1 memberships, 50 cents of which will remain in Plymouth for local work. The drive is being confined to $1 memberships, says Miss Pauline Peck, local director, because contributions were solicited for war relief in June and the people of Plymouth responded most generously at that time.

The complete list of contributions for the war relief fund includes 108 children's sweaters, 44 men's sweaters, eight women's sweaters, 21 pairs of socks, three layettes, six boys' shirts, 24 baby bonnets, 72 girls' dresses, and 52 bed shirts.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my mother, Lydia A. Rogers, who passed away November 6, 1937. Three sad years have now gone past.
Since my great sorrow fell,
And in my heart I mourn the loss
Of a mother I loved so well,
I think I see your smile, dear Mother,
Through a mist of falling tears,
But your loved one's part is a broken heart,
And a burden of lonely years.

Surrounded by friends I am lonely,
A smile on my face and heart-ache,
I am always thinking of you;
I often sit and wonder
What you would do or say
If you only knew the changes
That have happened since that day;
Just the love and sweet devotion
Of the one who thinks of you.
Glady's M. Carman.

Christmas Cards!

It is only 48 days before Christmas . . . and Christmas cards should be mailed at least 10 days before Christmas. Therefore you have only 38 days left in which to get your Christmas cards and have them in Uncle Sam's custody, if you want to make sure that your friends get them before Christmas!

Nothing is quite so upsetting as to have the mail man deliver Christmas cards to you after Christmas is over. It looks as though the card had been mailed to you as a second thought—and that is not quite so pleasant.

For the convenience of Plymouth citizens, The Plymouth Mail has received its Christmas card supply list for the coming holidays. The cards are beautiful and most timely. Come in at any time and see them—soon.

Scout Training Classes Meet

Three sections of the second session of the Boy Scout leaders' training course will meet Saturday at 2:00 and 7:00 o'clock and Sunday afternoon at the gymnasium of the Wayne County Training school. The discussion leaders for this week are Amos Shield, Scout executive of the Detroit area council; Paul Harsha of Rosedale Gardens, and Richard Loomis of Northville. The three subjects, respectively, are "Receiving the New Boy," "The Troop Committee," and "Scout Health and Safety."

The three accompanying demonstrations will be an investiture ceremony by Troop P-1, first aid by Troop P-3, and compass and mapping by the field commissioner.

It is hoped by the district leader training committee that more men connected with Scouting will be present at these meetings this week. There will be no football game to divide the attendance and it is due to our fine executive, Mr. Shields, that we have as large an audience as possible. Much good to the leaders will come out of this series of training courses.

Awakened by the cackling of hens, F. J. (Ben) Brown, farmer living near Munising shot a horned owl with wing spread of 55 inches.

National Defense

Daniel C. Hoan, former mayor of Milwaukee, will speak on the relationship of national defense to municipalities at the national convention of the American Municipal Association to be held in Chicago November 13 to 15. More than 7,500 cities in 42 states belong to the association.

Buys Proposed Institution Site

Russell Walker, Detroit used car dealer who resides on the Eight Mile road just west of Northville, has purchased the 960-acre farm belonging to the House of Good Shepard on the Seven Mile road. The property located about a mile west of Northville was purchased originally as a site for the institution that this well-known Catholic group had proposed to build.

It was decided, however, that the site was too far from Detroit, and recently another location was purchased on the Nine Mile road near Detroit.

While it is not known definitely, it is understood that Mr. Walker proposes to plat the property into an exclusive residential section, with several acres comprising lots to be sold.

You need not tell all the truth unless to those who have a right to know it all. But let all you tell be truth.

Garden Club Meets Monday

The November meeting of the Plymouth unit of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association will be held Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Sam Spicer on East Ann Arbor Trail.

This is to be a most interesting meeting, as Mrs. Lee Joslyn, Jr., our former state president, of Birmingham, will be present. She will talk and show colored slides which will talk and show colored slides of Bloomfield Hills estates. It is hoped that as many as possible of the group will attend and show their appreciation.

The regular business meeting will follow Mrs. Joslyn's talk, after which tea will be served by Mrs. Spicer and the following committee: Mrs. Ward Jones, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Arthur White, Mrs. Austin Whipple, Mrs. John T. Neale, Jr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Moss.

The Christmas Greens committee, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. George Cramer, Mrs. Thomas W. Moss and Mrs. William Hartman, have sent for materials to make up the wreaths, sprays, etc. for the holidays season which will be made by the members at its December meeting.

Three bears which had been molesting livestock in the Junet area near Ironwood came to grief recently when they invaded the barnyard of Alex Aho. Chased by one bear, Aho succeeded in killing the three.

Local Resident Would Organize Chapter of Tailwaggers' Club

Mrs. Edson Huston, 107 South Main street, who has long been a member of the Michigan Humane society affiliated with the American Humane association, this week announced her wish to form a Tailwaggers' club in Plymouth.

The Tailwaggers' is a state and national organization of dog lovers of which Bette Davis, Hollywood actress, is national president.

The state Tailwaggers' club rewards any child who does a particularly kind or brave deed in behalf of an animal or any child who gives his pet perfect care, with a membership. All members are entitled to wear the Tailwaggers' blue and white buttons, says Mrs. Huston. The new members' names are announced over the radio program every Tuesday. The club's motto comes from the "Rime of the Ancient Mariner: "He prayeth best, who loveth best. All things, both great and small, For the dear God who loveth us, He made and loveth all."

Mrs. Huston explained the work of the state humane society which maintains an animal shelter in Detroit. The society's "alumni bulletin" reporting the whereabouts and news of its dogs who have found homes, reports the following cases:

"Everyone at the Shelter will agree that, if speechmaking indicated anything, the president of the class was a small wire-haired terrier, evidently named 'Say There Pipe-Down.' 'Say There' has a fine position as the companion of a small boy of similar disposition—active, loquacious, and loving. They recommend each other very highly."

"The most likely to succeed of the class is probably 'Junior,' a fine Doberman, who came in because his house was too small. He is coming right up in the world, learning to be a blind man's companion. After an extensive course, we regret to report that he failed in his first examination because he flinched in traffic. He is now having to take some of the work over."

Child Development Group to Meet Nov. 13

Mrs. Bertha Hess, child development specialist from Michigan State College, East Lansing, will meet the leaders of this project on Wednesday, November 13, from 9:00 to 3:00 in the Wayne library, Wayne, Michigan.

This will be the first of a series of four meetings to be held in Wayne county.

Miss Emma DuBord, county home demonstration agent, has already organized 14 groups. Each group will send two leaders to attend the discussion on "Taking Children Too Seriously."

The Friendly bridge club had its first dessert luncheon meeting of the season with Mrs. Paul Wiedman on Thursday.

Woman's Club to Feature "Early 1900's"

Mrs. Anthony Matulis to Review Book, "The Good Old Days"

"The Early 1900's" is the theme of the fourth meeting of the Plymouth Woman's club to be held at 2:15 o'clock next Friday afternoon, November 15, at the Mayflower hotel.

Highlights of the program are a book review by Mrs. Anthony Matulis, singers in costume singing songs of the period, and a display of articles typical of this first part of the twentieth century being arranged by Mrs. Matulis and the committee for the day.

Mrs. Matulis will review Chon's "The Good Old Days," non-fiction, written on 35 years of research of the Sears, Roebuck company catalogue. Mrs. Matulis has done extensive work in the field of book review. While teaching at Shurtleff college in Alton, Illinois; she had a book review class; in 1937 she conducted a book review class at Detroit Freshman college, and since coming to Plymouth, she has conducted a book review class at the high school as a part of the adult education program. Again this year Mrs. Matulis has such a class which meets each Monday evening at the local high school.

For the display of articles which are typical of this period, between the years 1900 and 1920 especially, Mrs. Matulis asks that club members contribute articles they may have, such as books, pieces of music, household utensils or gadgets, wedding dresses, evening dresses, hats, or any other articles which are definitely of this period. Members having anything for this display are urged to bring their articles with them next Friday.

Announcement was made last week that Thursday of each week has been designated Woman's Club day at the Red Cross sewing room at Starkweather school. This room is open daily from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. and on every Thursday some member of the Woman's club will be in charge of the work. All club members are invited to meet at the sewing room on Thursdays to help complete the garments sent out from Red Cross headquarters. Any members having portable sewing machines are asked to bring them to the sewing room when they come. Mrs. Rolfe Smith, chairman of the Woman's club Red Cross sewing committee, urges all members to support this worthy cause and go to the sewing room sometime during the week to help with the work there.

Presbyterian Women Meet Next Wednesday

The Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday, November 13, at 2:00, in the parlors of the church for a monthly meeting. Mrs. Cadot is in charge of the meeting, and "Missions" is the topic for the day. Mrs. Leslie Daniel will review the book "Dangerous Opportunity" by Earl Balou who has just returned from China.

Devotionals will be in charge of Mrs. Russell Roe. A business meeting will precede the program, with the president, Mrs. Ernest Vealey, presiding. The auxiliary is holding a rummage sale in the Grange hall today (Friday) and reports of the proceeds will be given at the November 13 meeting.

Hunter Glenn Jewell Gives Camp Recipes For Deer Hunting Season

GLENN JEWELL

Plymouth menfolk have been busy bagging pheasants and small game during the last few weeks, and are now getting ready for deer hunting trips to the north country. This week The Plymouth Mail called on that enthusiastic sportsman, Glenn Jewell, for recipes to help "the little woman" prepare birds next year, and to obtain camp recipes for men who will be going on deer hunting trips when the season opens next Friday, November 15.

Preparation of Pheasants

"First wash and dry the bird thoroughly with a cloth," directs Hunter Jewell. "Then roll in flour, and place the bird in a pan filled with an inch and a half of hot grease. Fry in this deep fat on top of the stove for about 40 minutes. Sprinkle with parsley, and add flour to the grease to make a gravy."

Skinning the bird and frying in deep fat requires much less time than plucking the bird and frying in an oven, Jewell explained.

With an eye to the opening of deer hunting season shortly, Mr. Jewell suggests the following pan cake recipe for breakfast in hunting camp:

Sour Milk "Camp Pan Cakes"
2 cups flour
1 tablespoonful salt
2 tablespoonful baking powder.

1 teaspoonful soda
Mix dry ingredients and add: 2 cups sour milk or buttermilk 3 tablespoonfuls fat or shortening.
"Stir well and add water if necessary to make batter thin. Serve with maple syrup. Serves four. This recipe is particularly practical for camp cooking because it requires no eggs."

His favorite recipe for camp potatoes to go with the pan cakes is named after the Pere Marquette river region where he and his friends go hunting every year:

Pere Marquette Specials
"Fry about three-fourths of a pound of bacon, finely cut, in a long iron skillet until half done. Add cut potatoes that have been boiled, three onions finely cut, and fry for about 40 minutes over a slow fire. Turn often to brown, salt and pepper generously."

Mr. Jewell has a fine recipe for cooking brook trout for which he fishes at Pine river, northwest of Reed City, every spring.
"Put a little grease in a frying pan; dry the trout with a cloth, and place in the pan. Roll out a 'thick crust to cover the fish. This crust holds the steam. Season the fish well with salt and pepper and cook over a slow fire for 40 to 50 minutes. Turn the fish over onto a platter so that the crust is on the bottom."

"Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ross of Belleville were Sunday guests of Mrs. Addie Westfall.
Marion Shoebridge of the Henry Ford hospital spent last week with Plymouth relatives.
George Haas arrived home Tuesday from a month's business trip to Porto Rico.
Mrs. Retta Smith, of Detroit, called on Mrs. Elsie Bovee, Saturday.
Mrs. Maude McNichols was a Sunday guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson, on South Main street.
Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hix and family attended a party in the home of the latter's cousin at River Rouge last Saturday night.
Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jewell and Norma Johnson spent the weekend at the latter's home in Mecosta.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce and daughter, Jane, visited friends in Oscoda and East Tawas over the week-end.
Mrs. Elsie Bovee and Mrs. Hattie Tripp were the guests, Sunday, of the Misses Nellie and Mattie Wilson in Tecumseh.
Grace Haas joined a group of Detroit friends on a hunting party in northern Michigan for the week-end.
Mr. and Mrs. William Greer and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Simmon spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rice in Novi.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brvan of Northville, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Greer Monday evening.
Mrs. Walter Ebert and Mrs. O. F. Beyer attended the funeral of Mrs. William Badell of Perrinville, held Monday in Garden City.
Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Parmalee and daughter, Lou Ann, of Chicago Heights, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Parmalee, Saturday.
Mrs. Ed and Alta Rice, Chiropractors, X-ray service, 747 West Ann Arbor Trail, Pa. 122—Adv.

Speaker to Discuss Books for Children

Miss Harriet Harwood, of Detroit, an authority on children's literature, will address the November meeting of the Central grade school Parent-Teachers' association on Tuesday, November 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Central grade school auditorium.

Miss Harwood's appearance will be sponsored by the lecture bureau of the J. L. Hudson company. The subject of her talk will be "What Shall My Child Read?" In connection with her lecture Miss Harwood will display the latest Christmas books for children and new editions of old favorites.

Mrs. M. J. O'Conner has arranged some special music for the program. There will also be group singing under the direction of Thomas Phillips, Mrs. A. Lloyd will preside as chairman of the meeting to which the public is cordially invited.

Spoon Slips on Snow Drop Recipe

Our measuring spoon slipped on that Snow Drop cookie recipe submitted by Mrs. Russell Daane a couple of weeks ago. It's a grand recipe and we want you to have it right before you try it.

Snow Drops
3/4 cup shortening
4 tablespoonful powdered sugar
2 cups flour and dash of salt
1 cup nuts
1 teaspoonful vanilla
1 teaspoonful water
"Chill and form into date shapes. Bake at 400 degrees for about 15 minutes."

We are very grateful for Mrs. Daane's apple dessert recipe on which we have received so many favorable reports. Look it up and try it for tonight's dinner!

Mrs. George Haas returned Thursday of last week from Louisville, Kentucky, where she visited her son, Sonny Haas for a week.

Fund Receives First Dresses

The first two "Goodfellows" to answer the call for Christmas dresses for little girls this week are the Auxiliary of the Myron H. Beals post, American Legion, and Dr. Hilda Irene Whitright, chiropractor, 11040 Melrose avenue, Rosedale Gardens.

The ladies of the Legion contributed four dresses and Dr. Whitright one, with a complete matching ensemble, making a total of five received to date.

At a meeting Friday afternoon, the Woman's club pledged $10 to buy dresses for the Goodfellow fund and appointed a committee of Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. John Blivon, and Mrs. Murray O'Neil to take charge of the contribution.

The dress sewed by Dr. Whitright is a pink cotton wrap-around trimmed with mother-of-pearl buttons and ruching at the collar and sleeves, for a four-year-old. With the dress are two pairs of matching panties, two hairbow ribbons, two little hankies trimmed with ducks and rabbits, a pair of pink socks, and even some remaining material for patches and repair.

The four dresses sent in by the auxiliary post are washable cotton prints trimmed with pique and dimity Peter Pan collars and rick-rack braiding for little girls from about six to ten years of age.

These folks have heard our call and responded generously. What are you going to do to make some child's Christmas happy?

The Dinner bridge group will have its first party of the fall season, Tuesday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lavers, in Rosedale Park. Those attending from here are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jewell, Dr. and Mrs. John L. Ol-saver, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Moon, Mr. and Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bickensstaff, Mr. and Mrs. John J. McLaren and Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Jolliffe.

Women Voters' Head Resigns

Mrs. Bruce Woodbury offered her resignation as president of the League of Women Voters at a board meeting of the organization, held in the home of Mrs. John Scheel of Bradner road, last Monday afternoon, November 4.

The board accepted the resignation when Mrs. Woodbury explained that she had accepted a third term of office because of circumstances which no longer exist. According to the state by-laws of the league, no person is to hold the office of president for more than two terms.

The league will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur Mills, 349 Adams street, Friday afternoon, November 8 at 1:45 o'clock. The subject of the program of which Mrs. Walter Hammond is in charge will be "Know Your Town—How the Wheels Turn."

The Jollyate bridge club was the guest of Mrs. William Rengert, Thursday, at a luncheon bridge.

Did you buy YOUR car on "Millinery"?

YOU hear it said often nowadays that it's millinery that sells automobiles.

All right—let's put it up to one who knows. Did you buy your car on nick-nacks, trick devices, novelties?

We don't think so.

We believe that while considering style, and room, and comfort — you really picked your car on what it would do on the road!

Now, we take our hats off to no car for being smarter-looking than Buick. We'll match our product against any for room, appointments, fine finish, comfort.

But beyond all that, we challenge the whole field to equal Buick on its all-round performance ability.

Miss Hanna Strasen, who has been organist and choir director for the last six years, finds her studio work so increased that she has found it necessary to give up the church duties. She will be in charge of organ and choir next Sunday. Miss Strasen's many friends in the church regret that this will conclude her official relationship as leader of the praise service. Beginning next week Dr. Kephart will take charge as organist and choir director. Sunday evening there will be a union service held at First Baptist church at 7 p.m. Young people from the Baptist and Methodist churches will have part in the service. Mr. Nichol will be the speaker. Division four of the Woman's Auxiliary will meet in the church parlors on Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. The Woman's Auxiliary will meet on Wednesday at 2 p.m. Mrs. L. I. Daniel will review the book "Dangerous Opportunity." Final plans for the annual bazaar to be held Wednesday, November 27, will be made.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Holbrook and Hardinberg. Lynn B. Stout, pastor. As these notes are penned, election day is here. When you read them it will have been passed, regardless of the outcome. Remember, Christian, that God still lives and one day soon His Son is coming back again, then the governments of this world will be upon his shoulders. Keep looking up. Calvary church continues to preach the Book of the Blessed Son, and the Blessed Hope—"Come thou with us, and we will do thee good." Preaching service Sunday at 10 o'clock. Bible school at 11:15 a.m. Young people's service, 6:30 p.m.; evangelistic service, 7:30 p.m. From December 1 to 8, Dr. M. E. Hawkins is coming for a mission and evangelistic conference. More will be said later. Bulb Evs No. 85: Too many churches are like a bomb proof shelter. You can go to sleep in them and never be disturbed.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 9:30. Pupils received up to the end of 20 weeks Wednesday evening. "Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 10. The golden text (Psalms 28:1, 9) is: "Unto thee will I cry, O Lord my rock. Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance; feed them also, and lift them up for ever." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Genesis 1:31, to first period): "And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 518): "The divine Principle, or Spirit, comprehends and expresses all, and all must therefore be as perfect as the divine Principle is perfect."

SALVATION ARMY.—Tuesday, 7:15, service at prison farm; 8:30, band practice, Wednesday, 7:30, prayer meeting, 8:30, preparation class, Thursday, 2:00 p.m. Women's Home League, 7:15, Girl Guards, Sunday, 10:00 a.m., Sunday school; 11:00 a.m., Holiness meeting; 6:15 p.m., young people's legion; 7:30, open air; 8:00, public salvation meeting. The preaching service begins at 3:15 p.m. Prayer meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Jewell and Blaich building. Young People's Missionary volunteer meetings are held every Friday evening at the home of John Deniski, 1741 Ann Arbor road.

ROSEDALE GARDENS PRESBYTERIAN church, John B. Forsyth, minister. Sunday, November 10, is Armistice Sunday at our church. At 11 o'clock Mr. Forsyth will speak on "The Gospel of Peace in a World at War." The trustees will meet in the minister's study Thursday evening, November 7, at 7:30.

Lecturer-Evangelist

WALTER ZVODA

The people of Plymouth are invited to attend a series of lectures to be given by Lecturer-Evangelist Walter Zvoda of Saginaw at the Salvation Army hall, 281 Union street, beginning Tuesday evening, November 12 and continuing nightly through November 19.

Rev. Zvoda has spent ten weeks traveling and studying the Holy Land in the light of Bible prophecy. He has also traveled extensively in Italy, France, Egypt, and Palestine. He has 300 views which he has taken and collected to illustrate the truth of the Bible as it has been fulfilled and is being fulfilled today.

In addition he has illustrated lectures on the Signs of the Times, dealing with prophecy as it concerns current events. This is Mr. Zvoda's first visit to Plymouth, and it is believed many will be interested in attending his lecture series on Bible prophecy.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.—Rev. G. H. Enss, Th.D., pastor. Morning worship at 10 a.m. "The Dream of Life," is the theme of his pastor's message. A number of important changes in our Sunday school staff have been made in connection with our advanced program. Mrs. May Allenbaugh is taking over the superintendency of the children's department and assumes responsibility for the children's programs. Mr. Campbell takes the secretarial work for the Sunday school. Two new teachers have accepted duties in boys' classes: Robert Allenbaugh and Stillman Warner. Rollin Allenbaugh is taking over the young men's class, and Mr. Phillips will give his time to the Sunday evening work with the young people. Sunday school session at 11:15 a.m. The Men's Study group will have the first lecture on Buddhism compared with Christianity, Sunday night union service in our church at 7 p.m. with the Methodist young people taking the devotional part of the service, the Baptist young people presenting the special feature, the pastor of the Presbyterian church giving the closing message. Remember the Wednesday night prayer meeting at 7:30 p.m. The Palmer Bible class meets on Tuesday night, and Thursday night is the date for the supper served by the Ladies' Aid. Mrs. Allenbaugh wishes to meet all the teachers of the children's department including John Blohmuff and Mrs. Milross. The meeting to be in the paragonie this Friday night, November 8, at 7:30 p.m.

PENTECOSTAL ASSEMBLIES of God, Berea gospel chapel. Rev. John Walaskay, pastor. Sunday school, 10 a.m.; morning worship, 11; young people C.A., 6:30 p.m. Evening service, 7:30. Thursday evening prayer and praise, 7:45. Tuesday evening ladies' cottage prayer meeting will be held next week at 330 Joy road. We extend a welcome to all, come and worship with us. John 14:27. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

Hanford School News

The fourth grade of Hanford school is making a book on Eskimos. It is about a little girl named Mitsu, and a little boy called Anka. They live in Iceland.

The eighth grade made a book called "Care of the Needy." It is now making a map of the United States, comparing the importance of rivers to the pioneers long ago and the importance of the railroad and airplane routes to the people of today.

On Thursday the children of Hanford school had a Halloween party. It was from 1:30 o'clock until 2:30. They dressed in costumes. They enjoyed games and refreshments.

We made a chart on which the upper grades are listing the books they have read. They each have a column for their books.

Kenyon School News

The P.T.A. meeting of the Kenyon school was held on Friday, November 1. E. Cutler showed movies of Greenfield Village, Georgia and the Caribbean sea which we enjoyed.

We wish to thank Norman Miller for buying our school a football.

The 4-H girls had their meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Root on Monday.

The upper grades of our school held an election on Tuesday. Shirley Miller brought the ballots. Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Mitchell and Mrs. Gail Downer attended the Teachers' Officers' banquet at the Mayflower hotel Monday night.

Michigan's 1940 frog-catching season ended October 31.

Northville Collector Has Pitchers From Every Corner of the World

Tin from Mexico, copper from northern Michigan, brass from Belgium, pewter from Massachusetts, brass with copper and silver interwoven threads from Persia, and every possible material, color, and design from nearly every corner of the world are included in the collection of 595 pitchers which Mrs. T. J. Knapp of 548 West Dunlap street, Northville, has gathered since 1922.

From a Switzerland gift shop on the Jungfrau comes one pitcher of Royal Satsuma, more than 100 years old. One of the most choice in the collection is a pitcher of yellow china with small floral figures made by Anton

Lang at Oberammergau, scene of the historic passion play. Mrs. Knapp has one whole shelf of pitchers collected from Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Spain, Italy, Germany, and Africa while she was on a Mediterranean cruise in 1934. From Algiers she brought a statuette pitcher in old Egyptian style. The Near East Relief society in New York sent her a pitcher from Jerusalem which has a repeated pattern in blue.

While in England in 1937, Mrs. Knapp bought a pitcher across the street from Shakespeare's home which pictures the famous Stratford-on-Avon. A certificate of verification is contained in an Adamsware pitcher which she secured in the "Old Curiosity Shop" immortalized by Charles Dickens, and established on Portsmouth street, London, in 1567.

Among her historical collection is a pitcher in Japanese motif which was purchased at the 1876 centennial in Philadelphia. Others bear painted pictures of President Monroe's home at Charlottesville, Virginia, The White House in Washington, D.C., and several state houses. A mug-like pitcher with the single inscription, "The Russell House, W. J. Chittenden, prop." recalls early Detroit when the Russell House was the gay and extravagant gathering place of Detroit society. It was there that the early pioneers in the automobile industry met to discuss plans for their first productions.

Three generations of English monarchical history is written on pitchers commemorating the silver jubilee of the late King George and Queen Mary, the ascension of King Edward of Windsor to the throne and the recent visit of the present King and Queen to the United States.

The collection includes a thimble miniature pitcher of Sheffield silver from the Caledonian market in London, a weave of sweet grass from Florida, Parian china from Bennington, Vermont, Queensware, Basalt, and Jasper, wear in Wedgewood from England and Bermuda, and Belek china, finest egg-shell porcelain, from Ireland. One of the pitchers was made from a cow's horn, and another, a sea shell, was found in the exact shape of a pitcher in Florida. Among the most beautiful in the collection are those of copper, gold, silver, bronze, and platinum lustre on Wedgewood china.

The shelf of pitchers from the United States includes Rockwood china from Cincinnati, Pewabic pottery made in Detroit, and Majolica which is characterized by raised flower patterns, from Baltimore. Many of Mrs. Knapp's Majolica articles are more than 60 years old. A left-handed pitcher is an oddity which she collected in New York state.

In the glass collection are pitchers of colored marbled glass or slag, mercury glass, white milk glass, hobnail and diamond cut designs, satin glass, and opalescent glass. One of the glass pitchers was made for Mrs. Knapp by the glass blowing class at Northville high school several years ago.

One shelf in the dining room corner where Mrs. Knapp keeps her collection on display is filled with grotesqueries or small figures of all sorts of animals. Modern toy jugs, little stout men with cocked hats for brims, in Charles Dickens' characters line another shelf. One of these toy jugs is a figure of Herbert Hoover which came out during his last campaign. In the jug-sized collection are many Mother Goose pitchers for children.

Mrs. Knapp is so fond of pitchers and chinaware that she has one half-pitcher with a flat back hanging on the wall of her dining room as an ornament.

The smallest of her collection are two diminutive pitchers, less than an eighth of an inch in size, which are mounted on cardboard and contained in a cellophane case.

Mrs. Knapp, who was born in Northville and has made her home there for the last ten years, is modest about her collection, pointing out that there are larger pitcher collections elsewhere. But her collection, which has been loaned for exhibit to several women's clubs, and has drawn favorable comment from art curators, is distinguished by its beauty and variety.

Michigan's only sizeable herd of wild elk is in the Pigeon River state forest.

Longfellow's "Land of Evangeline" has too many deer according to the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' association, which has petitioned the provincial legislature for permission to kill deer at all times, with no seasons or bag restrictions, to keep the animals from nibbling trees.

School Gives Willkie Win in Election

Van Wagoner Only Democrat to Place

Plymouth high school offered a split ticket to the United States Midday in its mock election for national and state officers as it voted the presidency into the hands of Wendell L. Willkie and the state governorship into the hands of Murray D. Van Wagoner.

Willkie and his running mate, Charles McNary, won the Republican cause by a narrow margin of a vote of 443 to 394 for President Roosevelt and nominee, Wallace. Van Wagoner, on the other hand, had a greater majority in winning the race for governor of Michigan by a vote of 505 to 350 for his opponent, Governor Luren Dickinson.

Arthur H. Vandenberg retained his office of United States senator, polling 488 to 357. Although Van Wagoner hit the winning ticket, he was the only Michigan democrat to receive a winning supply of votes. Every other state officer elected was a Republican. This included Eugene C. Keyes in the position of lieutenant governor.

Under the sponsorship and supervision of Plymouth high school government classes taught by James Latture, the election brought to light few third party, or protest votes. Though the Socialist party was given equal ranking on the ballot with the Republican and Democratic parties, the Socialist vote was so negligible it was not even counted in the election results.

Ten hundred and thirty-three students in the tenth, eighth, and seventh grades had registered previous to the election, and 901 of these voted. Of the 132 who didn't vote, 70 were found absent.

A comprehensive poll taken three days before the election by the government classes had shown Mr. Willkie to be in the lead by a vote of 528 to 487. These findings differed from the final results only eight votes.

The voting was conducted about exactly as is the regular voting. Upon showing his registration certificate, the voter was required to fill out a blank to guard against a double vote. Then he proceeded with his ballot to regulation voting booths borrowed for the occasion.

The junior high school voted in the room which is used for municipal voting, and the senior high school voted on the stage. Each room was equipped with three election booths and was supervised by a committee from the government classes. Special ballot boxes were prepared by grades so that the different votes by grades could be ascertained.

These results showed that the junior high school, the senior high school, and the eighth, ninth and tenth grades did little ticket splitting. Probably because they did not wish their ballot to be discounted, the lower grades voted for the most part, solidly for one candidate or the other.

It was the vote of the upper grades that put Van Wagoner in to office although the ninth grade was the only one to have more Democratic than Republican votes.

Although the government classes used for their own study a system of electoral votes, the election winners were determined only on the popular vote. However, the electoral vote showed the same result in each case.

These electoral votes were distributed one to each ten students represented in a particular class. In this way the ninth grade with 31 electoral votes would have been for Roosevelt, but the remaining grades with an electoral vote of 11 for the seventh, 11 for the eighth, 20 for the tenth, 16 for the ninth, and 16 for the twelfth would have carried the results in the same path in which they turned out.

So great was the interest taken in this election that three of the grades were able to boast complete registration a week before the actual voting took place. The twelfth grade was the first to attain a registration of 100 percent.

Very few ballots were refused because of improper filling out according to those on the election committee. Every member of the government classes took part in helping with the election.

In all county offices Republican candidates were winners by several votes.

Museum Trip

Student Publication

The trip to the University Museum proved a worthwhile afternoon for the 8A's. Mr. Berry's lecture helped to make the trip especially interesting. He told of the advance of animals from the single celled animals (protozoa) to man and ape. We were then taken around and shown these changes as displayed by the fossils. Some animals developed huge fins on their backs and could not turn, defend themselves, and were blown over in the wind. The Irish Elk, for example, grew huge antlers that were sometimes six feet long. These kept them from getting through the forest and made them unable to fight. Antelope horns grew in such a way as to go through their skulls and pierce their brains. It is an interesting fact to know that the common squirrel's incisors grow in much the same way as the clove's horns, downward and up.

Among the live animals was a young skunk. The children took a liking to it and named him Oscar.

Signe Hegge, Virginia Moss and Betty Jones were joint hostesses at a hayride last Friday night. Their guests were Jean Grandel, Doris Rowland, Jeanette Strachan, Pat Hudson, Margaret Jean Nichol, Dorrit Strauss, Beth Ann Hoehsel, Marietta Martin, Dick Neale, George Chute, Grayson Jones, Dick Behler, Jack Kenyon, Bill Slater, Bill Keefer, Noel Hoover, Claire Ebersole, Jim McAllister, Fred Elsworth, and Bob Johns of Chicago. After the ride they had refreshments and danced at Virginia's house.

Rosemary Kinsler entertained a group at a buffet lunch, Saturday, November 2. Her guests were Helen Jones, Dorit Kinsler, Mary Ellen Dahler, Ernie Cesario, Carol Siebert, Bill Sherman, Nancy Sherman, Lemarr Hugo, and Jack Owens.

Mildred Brose had a Halloween party, October 31. Her guests were Bernice Kinahan, Pat Kinahan, Janice Elzerman, De Rua De Planche, and Betty Holman.

The teachers of the grade and high schools presented Miss Cary with a wrist watch last week as she is resigning, on account of ill health, after having taught for over 40 years.

Dorrit Strauss and Marian Goodman saw Ruth Draper, a famous character actress, at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor, last week. Dorrit was Marian's overnight guest.

Virginia Rock spent the weekend with Doris Gable in Detroit. Friday evening she attended a shower given her cousin, Lucille Rock. Saturday she attended a meeting of the Detroit News Creative group at the Detroit News building.

Doris Shinn was the guest of Thelma Gowe of Novi last Saturday and Sunday.

Sally Haas was the hostess to another one of those affairs—a pajama party last Saturday, October 26. Accompanying the "big bear" were the "girls," Pat Hudson, Dot Fisher, Rosemary Ray, Connie Daily, Virginia Moss and Betty Jones.

Among the Plymouth students present at the Halloween dance at Northville last Friday evening were Virginia Brockiehurst, Dick Larkins, Doris Bridger, and Carl Mink of Newburg. Those present were Carl Hosier, Marie Ann Miller, Joe Measel, Jo-ann Steinhurst, Russell Ash, Marian Goodman and Archie King. A Halloween motif was used and games were played after the dinner.

Sally Haas and Arvel Curtner went by way over to Detroit to the Swing Bowl last Friday to meet a crowd from Detroit.

Nancy Alexander, who now is a student at Wayne University, was the week-end guest of Carolyn Castle.

Eldon Martin and Albert Donovan visited the University of Michigan campus last Sunday. Leona Niedooski and Ruth Keffer visited Beatrice Shultzski last Sunday. Beatrice, a former student of Plymouth, now attends St. Mary's seminary at Monroe.

Phyllis Hawkins and George Blyton visited Point Pelee, Canada last Sunday where they enjoyed a picnic lunch.

Sally Haas and Dot Fisher went to the Chinese Tea Garden for lunch last Saturday.

Jean Engleson, Charles Lowe of Detroit, Phyllis Campbell, and Phil Fishback were among those who attended the Riverside roller rink Halloween costume party.

Among those who visited the Michigan theatre last Sunday were Betty Wilski, Ray Wurster of Manchester, Sally Haas, and Arvel Curtner.

All persons having social news who wish to have it published in Social Register, please write particulars on a slip of paper and drop in box on steel cabinets in Mr. Dykhouse's office.

Reading Circle

Student Publication

An interesting and worthwhile system has been established by Miss Marian Taylor, high school librarian, which enables the teachers to read a number of current books with little expense to themselves. Begun last year, this plan has each teacher who wishes to participate in its benefits buy one book which he would like to own. After each has read his book it is exchanged for another until all the books have been read by those who bought books for themselves. They then receive their own book to keep. There are, at present, 20 teachers who belong to the "Reading Circle" and several have purchased more than one book.

Some of the books that have already been obtained and are now being read are "My Life in a Man-Made Jungle" by Bonchley; "The Flowering of New England" by Brooks; "The Lonely" by Jacques; "Beloved Return" by Mann; "How Green Was My Valley" by Llewellyn; "Southward Ho!" by La Varre; "Invasion" by Van Loon; "Education Today" by Dewey; "Holy Old Mackinac" by Holbrook; "Wave of the Future" by Lindberg; "Education and the New Realism" by Bredt; "Flowering Earth" by Peattie; "Idle Men" by Chase; "American Album of Poetry" by Malone; "Daroth School" by Counts; "Quietly My Captain Waits" by Eaton; "Story of Psychic Research" by Carrington; "Kitty Foye" by Morley; "Witchcraft" by Seabrook; "Murderers" by Lawes; "As I Remember Him" by Zinsler; "Foundation Stone" by Warren; and "Who Would Walk Alone" by Burgess.

Down Clawson

Out-gaining the Clawson team in both running and passing, the Plymouth high school eleven chalked up their second victory of the season 19-6.

Although it was raining and the field was very muddy, the Plymouth team gained a total of 210 yards to Clawson's 190 yards. Eight first downs were gained by the Rocks to the Clawson five first downs.

Jack Baker made all of Plymouth's touchdowns, but missed the points of conversion twice. Gettelson ran the third point of conversion over to make it good.

Baker scored in the first quarter after consecutive runs by Hoffman and Gettelson. He also scored in the second and fourth quarters.

In the last quarter Gettelson intercepted one of Creevey's passes, giving the ball to the Rocks. The Rocks failed to gain a first down and had to punt to Clawson.

Creevey then calmly threw a pass to quarterback Cartwright for a Clawson touchdown. The point after touchdown was blocked and the Rocks emerged on the long end of a 19-6 score.

Home Ec Meeting

More than 150 delegates and representatives from high schools all over the state of Michigan, including Ione Stuart, Gladys Davison, Josephine Armbruster, and Ruth Hogsrad of Plymouth, gathered at the Fort Shelby hotel in Detroit, October 25 and 26.

On Friday the program included a sight-seeing trip to the Detroit Art Center, a tour of the WJR radio studios, and a trip to Greenfield Village. After this West Dearborn high school was host at a style show and tea. In the evening was a formal banquet. Saturday was devoted to section meetings on various topics of interest of all state clubs, after which there was a general assembly where reports of the decisions made at the section meetings were given.

All Girls' Party

This year's annual all-girls' party, sponsored by the Senior Girl Reserves, proved a source of fun to approximately 100 senior high school students.

A get-acquainted game was played along with a relay and dancing. Sacks of popcorn and apples were the refreshments. Other entertainment included stunts arranged by girls of the junior and senior classes, the juniors winning with an act built around the currently popular historical character, Brigham Young. A football spectator's group was portrayed by the senior girls.

Prizes of Halloween candies were given for the best costumes. Miss Marian Taylor, Miss Hazel Rathburn, and Miss Winniford Ford, teachers and judges for the party, decided in favor of Ruth Parmalee in her colonial costume as prettiest, Betty Holman for the funniest in her barrel, and Ann Warren for the most original as a witch.

Justice

To the seven grim justices of the afflic court, the pupils who merit the court's attention are innocent until they are proved guilty, but, still, to most of the accused, the percentage of convictions is downright appalling.

The parade of the accused before the court each second Tuesday caters neither to age, class, or rank. This parade is a parade of un-cooperative pupils-ticketed by the student-hall-policing system, has so far embodied from four to ten offenders at a session.

In no case has this group of delinquents been in accord with the general run of prisoners in our large cities. Strata of high school society represented include all sorts between the two extremes: Meek seventh graders and outraged seniors who appear before the same jury and are handed out similar punishments.

The court even boasts a sort of mental clinic and psychopathic ward for unruly and difficult prisoners who are not properly humbled by their penalty. This is composed of the senior adviser, Miss Fiegel, and the school principal, Mr. Dykhouse, who interview such cases beyond the reach of juvenile hands.

The penalties issued by the court vary with the gravity of the offense. After Chief Justice Phyllis Hawkins draws out the reason for the ticketed one's appearance in court, the justices may administer such penalties as scrubbing desks, arranging books and cleaning light bulbs, or they may decide the offense was too slight to merit punishment.

As the season progresses, fewer offenders appear in court each week, which may indicate something.

Cross-Country

Royal Oak upset the Class A state cross-country meet at Ypsilanti Saturday when their team defeated Flint Central, the favorite, 58 to 61. Dominic Le Cato, a Lansing Central star, crossed the finish line in Michigan Normal's course in 10:53.1. The runner-up was Harold Hallam of Kalamazoo Central.

Plymouth's team consisted of O'Conner, who was Plymouth's leading man in twenty-first place, Kirkpatrick, Christensen, Robelli, Arnold, Trick, and Kisabeth. The official results have not been received yet, so they will be announced in a later issue.

Charlotte edged out Niles, last year's champion, for the Class B championship, while Napoleon took its eighth title in ten years in the Class C and D meet.

In the evening there was held the annual All Girls' Party and the costumes were humorous, pretty and frightening to say the least. The two real successes were Betty Holman in her barrel and Ann Warren with her excellent witch's disguise.

Thursday—Halloween and all the trimmings arrived at the high school with a bang. The policy now adopted by the townspeople is giving the children of the town a part out Lincoln Park, the old system of begging. Hot dogs, cider and doughnuts were enjoyed by all with little work attached to it.

Friday—Political arguments among students are much in the limelight. Especially amusing and yet interesting were the heated discussions of Louise Powell vs. Donald (Sonny) Eric and Doris Dubois. Allen, Oswald, and wonders, also, how close the polls taken by the students of government classes will come to being correct.

Break Even

Plymouth Harriers lost to Lincoln Park, 26-29, on the latter's course Monday, using a numbered team, and won 28 to 31 by the scoring method used by T.V.A.A. members. By this method of scoring, which is an agreement among the coaches, the first five men of each team are counted in the order that they cross the line; that is, if one team takes first, second, fourth, fifth, seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth positions it has 19 points, while other team which took third, sixth, eleventh, and twelfth has 46. If the winning team gets its first five men in the first seven places, the team's eighth runner and as many as are needed go to the other team to make up the five positions. In this manner Plymouth edged out Lincoln Park.

The system used by Lincoln Park counted the first five numbered runners in the position they placed. It so happened that one of Plymouth's men was not in "working order," but after the race starts there are no substitutions.

Plymouth's tentative team for the T.V.A.A. meet which is to be held here in the room consists of Kirkpatrick, O'Conner, Christensen, Hessler, Lewis, Trick and Butler.

To have a respect for ourselves guides our morals; and to have a deference for others governs our manners.—Sterne.

Northville Wins

Reserves Lose

Plymouth's reserves played Northville (here) after school November 4. Plymouth lost by the score of 13-6. The breaks seemed to be against the locals. Northville used a running attack and Plymouth made their touch-down by running plays. Behler scored the Plymouth touchdown.

Band Program

Mr. Lewis D. Evans, director of the high school band, has announced that the band and the drum majorettes are practicing for the Northville game on Friday, November 15. Lois Hoffman, Ruth Granger, Hazel Pan-kow, Shirley Bernard, Louise Carter, Elaine DePlanche, DeRua DePlanche, Uellen Mills, and Evelyn Eohl as drum majorettes, and Glen Ford as drum major are those who will accompany the band.

Cross-Country

Plymouth placed sixth in the cross-country regionals held at Dearborn, October 26. Enzastry, a Flint Central boy who placed first, was clocked at 10:31.5. Following are the results:

Flint Central ..... 31
Royal Oak ..... 54
Monroe ..... 134
Dearborn ..... 139
Dear Rouge ..... 143
Plymouth ..... 152
Ferndale ..... 170
Lincoln Park ..... 174
Wyandotte ..... 230

The reader will notice that there are only nine schools listed. The tenth is Flint Northville which did not qualify because there were only four men present.

Kirkpatrick, Plymouth's number one man, was clocked at 11 in eleventh place which is only 12 seconds slower than Bob Marshall's speed on the same course last year. O'Conner, the number two man, finished seventh at 11:15. The other Plymouth boys who ran were Hessler, Christensen, Robelli, Butler, and Trick.

Flint Central also won the Class A meet at Dearborn last year.

Do You Know?

How much do you know about the Detroit Zoological Gardens and its inhabitants? Do you believe that the bird seen bears at 11:15. The other Plymouth boys who ran were Hessler, Christensen, Robelli, Butler, and Trick.

Flint Central also won the Class A meet at Dearborn last year.

Court Session

Four persons were tried and three convicted at the second court session with Phyllis Hawkins presiding. Some examples of sentences imposed on those convicted were the dusting of Miss Allen's room by one prisoner and the cleaning out of the papers in the library chandeliers by another. Three other defendants who did not appear were apprehended and their sentences suspended when they supplied good excuses.

Plymouth GRIDDERS MEET NORTHVILLE ON NOV. 15

Plymouth's main football game is on the way. We play Northville (here) on November 15 after the cleaning out of the papers in the library chandeliers by another. Three other defendants who did not appear were apprehended and their sentences suspended when they supplied good excuses.

Probably the most amusing of all birds is the ostrich. Keepers claim that special care must be given him because he simply hasn't brains enough to avoid frost bites.

For cold weather a building known as a bird hotel is provided for tropical birds. Sections are made in it for different species, because in confined areas certain species do not agree.

The small birds at the conservatory perhaps receive the most tedious care of all animals in the zoo. A temperature of 70 degrees is kept for their convenience while a dual heating plant is maintained in case of the disorder of one of the furnaces.

Even though we live "way over here" in Plymouth, we should take pride in the Detroit zoo in Royal Oak. It is one of the copies of the famous German zoo in the Black Forest which has natural rock formations and trees for the animals to dwell among.

The man of integrity is one who makes it his constant rule to follow the road of duty, according as Truth and the voice of his conscience point it out to him.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Reserves Lose

Plymouth's reserves lost a scrimmage game with Dearborn's second reserves by the score of 27-0, Wednesday, October 30. The Dearborn squad had a heavy line and used running plays to an advantage. The locals played a defensive game and tried a passing attack which seemed to be ineffective.

Plymouth's reserve football team lost to Ecorse by the score of 35-0, Thursday, October 24. The Ecorse team tried very little passing and ran through Plymouth's line for most of their gains. The local boys tried an aerial attack but it failed to succeed.

Trash Heap

In the list of theme-songs in the column last week at least one was left out. Certain freshmen have been taking "Six Lessons from Goodness to Currier."

My! My! Warren Hoffman really attracts "little" girls, doesn't he? Besides Betty, there are several underclassmen who really go ga-ga over Hero Hoffman.

What makes Harold De Wulf blush so in third hour library? It couldn't be that he overhears things he shouldn't.

Sally Haas has really been "Bob-Bob 'in' along, hasn't she?" By the way, Sal, just which one is it?

Poor Red Herter is absolutely heartbroken now that Lesteen's seat has been changed in library. Have you seen that mournful expression?

He! We thought Erland (Sammy) Bridge was a woman hater! My goodness, Marian! What is your strange power over him? We've even heard you're going steady.

Jack Bickley really knows how to propose. It seems he must have had experience. The other half did her part in cooperating, too. Who are the two fish that are second on the list?

Who is the girl in first hour biology who can't stand to be stared in the eye by a frog? Guilty conscience, Ruth?

News Analyst on Town Hall Series

Fulton Lewis Jr., national affairs commentator, who broadcasts nightly from Washington over Mutual Broadcasting Systems' coast-to-coast network, will be the Detroit Town Hall speaker in the Fisher theatre next Wednesday, November 13, at 11 a.m. His subject will be "What's Happening in Washington."

The brilliant news analyst, who was selected by Columnists Pearson and Allen as radio newscaster of the year, will discuss the aftermath of the election in the nation's capital, and will discuss some of the problems to be faced in the months ahead.

A native and resident of the District of Columbia, Lewis knows Washington politics from the ground up. As head of the Washington Bureau of Universal News Service from 1929 to 1937 he covered every type of news beat.

In a poll of all members of congress asking which network commentator gives the best program from Washington, Fulton Lewis Jr. was selected for first place by a majority of more than two to one over the next ranking commentator. He was recently chosen by the editor of America's Young Men as one of the ten outstanding young men of America.

To do as you would be done by, is the plain, sure, and undisputed rule of morality and justice.—Lord Chesterfield.

Landscape Gardening Meeting Announced

Miss Emma DuBord, county home demonstration agent, announces that Mr. O. I. Gregg, landscape gardening specialist from Michigan State college, East Lansing, will be in Wayne at the Wayne library Tuesday, November 12, from 9:00 to 4:00 for the first extension meeting this year. Three planting plans for rural homes and one for the Monroe school in Wayne will be made by Mr. Gregg with the owners of the homes and superintendent of schools present.

At 2:30 in the afternoon Mr. Gregg will lecture on "Principles of Landscape Design" illustrated with colored slides of typical home areas throughout the state. The afternoon meeting is opened to the public.

Newburg News

Mrs. Ada Landis has been spending two weeks with Mrs. Metta Gunsolly.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith of Plymouth were dinner guests, Wednesday last week, of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith.

Jack McCullough would like as many as possibly can to turn out Saturday and help with the work on the church house.

There were 136 in the Methodist Sunday school, Sunday. Lee Ryder, Henry Grimm, Raymond Grimm and Walter Snyder left Tuesday for a month's stay in the upper peninsula, where they will hunt deer when the season opens.

The Fidelis class will meet this (Friday) evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCullough for a business meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Don Ryder attended the banquet in Dearborn Tuesday, given for the teachers and members of the school board.

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. John C. Calhoun will be hostess today (Friday) at a luncheon bridge for eight guests.

Mrs. Hector Coult entertained a party of eight at bridge Monday evening.

Mrs. Elmer G. Ross entertained the members of her bridge club Thursday afternoon at dessert. The following ladies, members of the calling committee of the Presbyterian church, will be guests of Mrs. Charles J. Smith, Monday, at a dessert luncheon at 1:30 o'clock with business meeting afterward. Mrs. Ralph McDowell, Mrs. Archibald Leadbetter, Mrs. Paul Harsha, Mrs. C. L. Bowdlear, Mrs. Frederick Waters, Mrs. H. W. Mason, Mrs. Dan Olson, and Mrs. Stafford Francis.

Residents of the Gardens are to be congratulated on the manner in which they responded to the Parent-Teachers association's appeal for assistance, both financial and otherwise, in the promotion of the first community Halloween party for children. They were not only generous with their gifts, but willing to cooperate, and the association wishes to thank all those who contributed toward the affair. The next regular meeting of the association will be held Wednesday, November 6, at the Rosedale Gardens school. Everyone is invited.

Mankind will be God-governed in proportion as God's government becomes apparent, the Golden Rule utilized, and the rights of man and the liberty of conscience held sacred.

Mrs. Elmer G. Ross entertained the members of her bridge club Thursday afternoon at dessert. The following ladies, members of the calling committee of the Presbyterian church, will be guests of Mrs. Charles J. Smith, Monday, at a dessert luncheon at 1:30 o'clock with business meeting afterward. Mrs. Ralph McDowell, Mrs. Archibald Leadbetter, Mrs. Paul Harsha, Mrs. C. L. Bowdlear, Mrs. Frederick Waters, Mrs. H. W. Mason, Mrs. Dan Olson, and Mrs. Stafford Francis.

Residents of the Gardens are to be congratulated on the manner in which they responded to the Parent-Teachers association's appeal for assistance, both financial and otherwise, in the promotion of the first community Halloween party for children. They were not only generous with their gifts, but willing to cooperate, and the association wishes to thank all those who contributed toward the affair. The next regular meeting of the association will be held Wednesday, November 6, at the Rosedale Gardens school. Everyone is invited.

Mankind will be God-governed in proportion as God's government becomes apparent, the Golden Rule utilized, and the rights of man and the liberty of conscience held sacred.

THIS IS AMERICA

President Roosevelt has won the third term as President of these United States. While large numbers of citizens held steadfast to the belief that the tradition established by our first President, George Washington, and strictly observed by all other presidents, should not be broken, a very large majority of the citizens of America have made it manifest by their votes that they are willing to set aside a traditional American policy and give Mr. Roosevelt another term.

This willingness to do so upon the part of the electorate is due entirely, we believe, to the war conditions prevailing all about us, and a willingness upon the part of the people to permit the present national administration to carry on its national defense program and its present foreign policies.

Irrespective of all partisanship, there is more or less logic to this viewpoint.

Now that the election is over and the results are known, the campaign should be immediately forgotten and EVERY American should roll up his sleeves and join in one vast army to make this a UNITED country, fighting one common enemy.

There must be unity—and we are one hundred per cent for it. World problems are too grave and our future security is too important to permit any feelings that might have grown out of the campaign to interfere with our united support of every effort which will safeguard our independence and our freedom. This is America—and for America we stand first, last, and all the time! Let's forget politics and go to work for Uncle Sam—and work for him more diligently and more patriotically than ever before!

DON'T ABUSE CREDIT

Credit is a boon to mankind if it is used in the proper way. When persons buy on credit what they can afford, they have the advantage of enjoying the articles purchased while they are being paid for. It is easier, too, to buy on the installment than to pay cash for merchandise, especially if the cost runs into a number of dollars. The harm comes when people overbuy or fail to keep their credit good by paying what they owe. If there were no dead beats in the country, if everybody paid their bills, the United States would be a more prosperous nation. There would be no losses from bad accounts which the business man has to take into consideration in figuring his cost unless he is on a cash basis. Everybody would buy cheaper and everybody would have credit. There would be real pleasure in doing business.

The damage is done by those who do not pay their obligations. They make it harder for the other fellow. Some of it is due to dishonesty, some to carelessness. The best plan to follow is to consider the money you owe belongs to your creditors and not to you. Make it a point to pay your debts and not spend your money twice. After all, the majority of people are inherently honest.—John Lignan in The Olivet Optic.

PREMARITAL BLOOD TESTS

Sufficient time has elapsed now for a fair appraisal of the value of Michigan's pre-marital blood test law. There is assurance in at least two phases of the act.

First, it is demonstrated that the prevalence of syphilis is not as great as exponents of the law believed. Slightly more than one per cent of all tests made during a seven-month period of the present year discloses the presence of traces of the dreaded social disease in one of the other of more than 25,000 couples proposing to wed.

Second, it is demonstrated that with one out of a hundred couples facing the hazards of married life with at least one of the two menaced with the germs of a terrible disease, the law should be continued in force.

The records show that state and private laboratories during a 12-month period have made in excess of 702,000 tests. Again, it is pointed out, the law is bringing to the knowledge of thousands the presence in their blood stream of germs inherited or acquired—and bringing that knowledge while there is yet time to be cured.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

ONE SAD EXAMPLE

People in this vicinity should not have to be told that the drafting of wealth can go too far. Look at the homes that have been taken away from their owners by the government during the last ten years because the owners could not dig up all the money that the government demanded to meet its expenses.

Of course this was not done deliberately. It all happened under a taxation plan that had appeared reasonably fair and equitable. But along came an unprecedented depression, our whole economic structure was thrown out of joint and thousands found themselves unable to pay their taxes. Just as soon as we recovered from the first shock, everything possible was done to make adjustments so as to save people's homes. But you know what happened in the meantime.

When anybody talks about drafting wealth, find out exactly what he means—if he knows. What new plan would be put into effect and why?

If he means that those who own property, who manage industry, should be obliged to do everything possible in the defense of the nation, his demand is right.

Certainly it is not reasonable to expect that when we are getting ready to risk the lives of men, we should not risk dollars too. But we should take proper care of both to see that they are not sacrificed needlessly.

The industries of the country are not owned by wealthy men. Their ownership is spread throughout the nation. It includes every person in Southern Oakland county who has a life insurance policy, a bank account, a share of stock or an investment of any kind.

This wealth is and always has been subject to the proper demands of government, either in peacetime or war.—Floyd Miller in The Royal Oak Tribune.

ALPENA PAPER MILL CLOSES

Another smashing labor blow hits Alpena just as winter approaches, and that is the closing down of the Alpena Paper Company Mills for no one knows how long, and thus throwing out of employment over two hundred men after the mill had enjoyed 50 years of continuous employment. The company attributes their suspension "due to economic conditions over which they had no control," but we dare say that labor trouble was the major factor. Under the present conditions wood pulp out of the mill is made has soared to prices that cannot be met by paper companies, as the price of paper has not been lowered to the wood pulp prices. The heavy price of wood pulp is due to the cessation of that flow of material from the mills since the war started in those countries and the wood pulp business of those countries was diverted to war-making materials.

Therefore, the bulk of the wood pulp available is now made in Canada and the demand for that has grown beyond their power to produce.

Up to the present year the Fletcher Paper Company manufactured the major part of the wood pulp used in their mill. Made it from timber cut in northern Michigan, particularly in Alpena, Montmorency, Otsego, Presque Isle and Cheboygan counties, thus furnishing a market for a locally grown product and giving employment to farmers and hundreds of others in those areas to get out the timber for the mill.

Then along comes the state's labor troubles, encouraged and cradled by a sympathetic administration, the pulp makers employed in the pulp mill at Alpena decided it was of more consequence to listen to and line up with Union Organizers and therefore a union organization was formed out of men that had grown old in the employ of the Fletcher Company, men that had established their homes, raised families and contributed a large part toward the wealth and advancement of their home town. The Fletcher Company learned they could not profitably operate their pulp mill under Union dominance and were obliged to close, and that closing was not only temporary—it was permanent and decisive, because they then began to dismantle it, but the war came on with leaps and bounds and now, when they need it most, their pulp mill is a thing of the past and they must suffer as do the men that went chasing off after rainbow promises.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

WE DID, TOO

This government and Canada's announce they will at once begin a joint "engineering investigation" of the seaway. We thought that was all done six or seven years ago. We thought the engineers then pronounced the project perfectly feasible, and even figured out the cost. What's the big idea? If it's a "defense measure," why not be about it? Why another "investigation"? Has the St. Lawrence silted up, or has the New Deal some extra money to spend?—Emerson Gildart in The Utica Sentinel.

HE FEARED THE OUTCOME

The late Senator Borah of Idaho was a truly great American—sometimes wrong, which is the common lot of humankind, but able to comment upon significant facts with intelligence and force of real logic. In one of his last addresses to the Senate, in—sometimes days of this year, Senator Borah offered an analysis of legislation to conserve industry that has developed even more pertinence today than when it was first spoken.

Borah's remarks are themselves the most powerful kind of an editorial to confound those who would give government complete control over all the processes of production. We think you'll agree when you've read his words:

"If we can do what is provided in this bill because of an emergency . . . then we could also provide, in case of an emergency, for the suspension of the Bill of Rights. We could prohibit free speech, free press, and the right to trial by jury . . ."

"Mr. President, democracy is having a pretty tough fight with arbitrary power and with arbitrary governments. . . . Such legislation as now proposed and the seizure of every opportunity to discredit democracy and democratic processes, hastening at all times to advertise the efficiency and the necessity of arbitrary powers, are telling most against democratic principles and democratic processes. . . . The glory of the Bill of Rights is that it is a restraint upon government as well as upon individuals."

Thus the eloquent "final words" of a great legislator serve to remind us that political assumption of power does not stop halfway and that the next step after the drafting of property is the drafting of free thought and everything else that democracy values most highly!—H. J. Kurtz in The Sparta Sentinel-Leader.

IT PAYS TO BE GOOD LOOKING!

With all the pictures of candidates in the papers the last few weeks, the good looking guy got the breaks, more or less, especially from the women's vote. Too bad, but nevertheless true.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

PROSPERITY FOR ALL

It is often truthfully said that the country cannot be prosperous when the farmers are not prosperous. But it is equally true that the farmers will never be prosperous until the working men are also prosperous. It is the laboring men who consume the bulk of the produce raised by farmers and when the laboring men are down they cannot buy. For this reason it behooves all farmers to take a vital interest in this election campaign. The tillers of the soil are not getting their just share of the national income and they will never get it by parity payments for soil conservation or crops unsold. They will receive it when the 9,000,000 or more persons now unemployed are given jobs so they will have money to buy food and clothing. Many instances are now related even in nearby cities where children of the poorer classes come to school without any breakfast, or practically nothing to eat.

When America enjoys good times again, all classes of people will be prosperous—the farmers, laboring men, business men, professional men, etc. It's time for each class to consider and assist the welfare of the other classes and not be selfishly interested in just its own.—John Lignan in The Olivet Optic.

QUITE RIGHT

People are gradually going to get over automobile riding through the country with no place in particular as their destination. They are going to get a little place where they can build a cottage, cabin, or home and spend their spare time there putting around at most anything.—Claude Riley in The Ontonagon Herald.

RIGHT AGAIN

If Reading, the late mayor of Detroit, is guilty of half the crooked deals he is accused of pulling off with Detroit racketeers, he ought to be sent to prison for life. Chicanery and deceit and deception in high places means more, much more, than it does in the lower brackets, and should be penalized greater.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

Let's Go Back 25 Years Ago!

And Read News of Days Gone By Taken From The Plymouth Mail Files

The entertainment given under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church at the village hall last Friday evening was largely attended. Among the song numbers by the chorus which deserve special mention were "When You Wore a Tulip and I Wore a Big Red Rose." During the singing of this number Gladys Schrader and Dorothy Dodsley did some fancy dancing that delighted the audience, and "Smarty," which was acted out by the Schrader twins, Edwin and Evelyn, made one of the decided hits of the evening. Jeannette Whipple as a little newsboy, sang "Home Sweet Home" in a most charming manner. Little Gladys Schrader rendered a piano solo very nicely and responded to an encore. Calvin Whipple, in the character of a colored gentleman, sang a solo in the same pleasing manner that always makes him a favorite with Plymouth audiences. Rev. E. F. Farber rendered a solo most beautifully and responded to an encore. Harry Green gave a reading entitled "The Village Gossip." Mr. Green's portrayal of the character of the gossip old lady was splendid and as natural as life, and he kept the audience continually laughing. He was heartily applauded for his efforts. The ladies' quartette, composed of Miss Hazel Conner, Mrs. F. F. Bennett, Mrs. William Baker, and Mrs. J. L. Olsvater, rendered a number that was greatly appreciated. The male quartette, composed of Calvin, Elmer, and Austin Whipple, and Evered Jolliffe, gave a song number that was splendidly rendered, and responded to an encore. Miss Bertha Beals was the accompanist for the evening.

A quiet wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage in Plymouth on Saturday evening, October 30, when Josephine F. Gierschke of Detroit was united in marriage to Conrad H. Hammond, one of Plymouth's highly respected young men. The happy pair will reside on Penniman avenue, west Rev. Joseph Dutton, pastor, read the ring service of the church. The bride is an estimable young lady who will soon win her way into the friendship of the people of Plymouth.

Arthur White was the victim of a well-planned surprise party last week Thursday evening by about twenty-five friends at his home at the corner of Ann Arbor and Harvey streets. The occasion was Mr. White's birthday. Five hundred furnished the amusement of the evening and light refreshments were served. As a remembrance of the event Mr. White was the recipient of a handsome rocker from the guests present.

Master Winston Cooper entertained 24 of his little friends at a Halloween party last Saturday afternoon. The little folks played various games.

Miss Verne Rowley was given a surprise party by 14 friends at her home on East Ann Arbor street Tuesday evening.

At high noon Wednesday, November 3, Miss Helen E. Smith, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Smith and the late C. F. Smith, was united in marriage by J. E. Webber at the home of the bride, to Robert Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gibson. The bride is a graduate of the Plymouth high school and the Ypsilanti Normal, and for the past two years has taught school in District No. 7. The bridegroom, a former student at the M.A.C., is a highly successful farmer.

Douglas Martin and The Detroit Free Press

Douglas Martin is an important cog in the great wheel that makes The Detroit Free Press tick. Though seldom heard of and certainly far from well known by the public, his is one of the biggest jobs in that important organization.

Who is Douglas Martin? Well, he is the general manager of The Free Press. Across his desk come all of the major problems that must be decided from a business standpoint before that great paper makes a move. He must worry about the financial problems of the firm as well as determining what is best from an expenditure standpoint, not only for The Free Press, but for its thousands of readers.

Mr. Martin has his hand in every department operating to produce that great paper. Editorial policy, advertising, circulation, mechanical and business department problems make up his daily routine. As director of these major departments, his influence is entangled in the life of the paper. Certainly his judgement has a far-reaching effect upon thousands of people throughout the world.

We wonder if the columns of Dr. George Crane have ever come to the attention of Mr. Martin? It is our belief that thousands of people who read The Free Press would enjoy these writings, and, Mr. Martin, we ask that you acquaint yourself with his work and pass judgement on the same. In our mind we know that you will agree with us that a feature as outstanding as his should be brought to the people of Detroit each day.

Will you give this suggestion your honest consideration?
