

Six Candidates File for City Spring Election

Deadline Is Feb. 1; Five Enter Field for Commission Seats

Six candidates have filed petitions to enter the city's spring election on April 7. Those seeking a place on the city commission are George Robinson, L. E. Wilson and Warren Worth, present incumbents seeking re-election; and Robert Joffile and J. Rustling Cutler. Constable George Springer, incumbent, has filed a petition for re-election as constable. Two days remain in which candidates may file before the deadline on Saturday.

In addition to the terms of office for three city commissioners and constable, the term of Municipal Judge John S. Dayton also expires this year. No candidates have filed as yet for the office of municipal judge. The term of office for commissioners is two years, and for the offices of constable and municipal judge, four years.

If any more candidates file by Saturday in the commission contest, a primary election will be required on Monday, March 4. There must be twice as many candidates for any office as there are to be elected before a primary is called.

A general primary election for county auditor and circuit judge of the third judicial circuit will be held in Plymouth on Monday, February 17.

Coach Bing Miller Talks at Kiwanis

Bing Miller, veteran baseball coach for the Detroit Tigers, will relate "baseball anecdotes" when he appears as guest speaker of the Kiwanis club next Tuesday evening, at 6:10 at the Hotel Mayflower.

Four Kiwanis clubs from Plymouth, Wayne, South Lyon and Ypsilanti, will be represented at the "four generations" meeting Tuesday evening. Originally, the Ypsilanti Kiwanis club sponsored the Plymouth club which was founded 15 years ago. The Plymouth Kiwanis in turn sponsored the Wayne club, and the Wayne club started the South Lyon group. All of the clubs will attend the meeting and contribute to the program.

Special guests at the meeting will be Lieutenant Governor Arthur E. Crippen and District Secretary Francis Clement of the Kiwanis organization.

Last Monday evening, Carvel Bentley, past president of the local Kiwanis club, spoke on "Vocational Guidance" at the Wayne Kiwanis club.

Methodist Women Plan Study Course

A study course in "The Church's Responsibility to Our Youth" will be offered, under the auspices of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church, to begin Thursday evening, February 6, at 7:30 o'clock at the Plymouth high school.

Miss Neva Lovewell of the high school faculty will lead the course in which many churches in the community are cooperating. Miss Lovewell has specialized in this subject and hopes to accomplish practical results of the study course. High school young people will assist her in the work of the course which will continue for four weeks meeting every Thursday evening during February at 7:30 at the high school. Everyone interested in the subject is invited to attend.

Half-Year Plates on Sale Saturday

Half-year auto license plates for the first half of 1941 will go on sale at the secretary of state's local branch office in the Hotel Mayflower at 8:30 next Saturday morning, according to Frank Rambo, local branch manager.

The color scheme of the new half-year plates which will be good until August 31 of this year is maroon letters and numerals on a white background, just the reverse of the full-year plates.

The local branch of the secretary of state's office sold 600 full-year license plates for 1941 up to noon on Wednesday. Last year, 1843 half-year plates were sold for 1940, 1507 of which were for passenger cars, 178 for commercial vehicles, and 46 for trailers.

Local Board Receives Quota for Next Call

Tentative notice that 42 men will be called in the next draft quota for February has been received at the local board office, No. 61, Evered Joffile, secretary, states. The quota of 42 men is twice the number called from the Plymouth district in January when 21 men were summoned and inducted into service.

Four volunteers have enlisted with the local board and are now waiting the next call. They are William Medler, Douglas L. Cross and Carl G. Taylor, all of Northville, and John Blackmore of Canton township.

Mrs. Ada Murray Is Named to Board

Mrs. Ada Murray was re-appointed to the Board of Appeals for a three-year term at a special meeting of the city commission last Monday evening. The one-year term of Mrs. Murray who was appointed to the first board, set up after the passing of the city zoning ordinance in October, 1939, recently expired.

Other members of the board of appeals include Lisle Alexander, chairman; Mrs. Nellie Curry, Dr. John Olaver and W. S. Baker. Appointed for three-year terms, Mr. Alexander and Mrs. Curry have two years of remaining office, and Dr. Olaver and Mr. Baker have one year of service remaining on the board.

Northville Women Injured in Crash

Mrs. Hugh Babbitt of 306 Rogers street, Northville, and Miss Ione Palmer, school teacher at Northville, were injured in a collision with another automobile, driven by William G. Allen of Detroit, at the intersection of U.S.-12 and Sheldon road at 8:20 last Saturday morning. The two Northville women were enroute to Ypsilanti.

Police report that Mrs. Babbitt was apparently blinded by the sunlight, and failed to see the stop sign at the corner of Sheldon road. Mrs. Babbitt suffered head injuries and a broken left shoulder, and Miss Palmer received head injuries. Mrs. Allen, wife of the driver of the other car, was also injured. Her two sons were given first aid treatment at the scene. They were taken to Sessions hospital in Northville, where it is reported they are improving satisfactorily.

House of Correction Organizes New Classes and Library for Women

Several new classes and a new, enlarged students' library are being organized in the women's division of the Detroit House of Correction, according to Miss Grace Travis, supervisor.

The new classes include instruction in book binding, sewing classes for babies' layettes and children's clothing, designing greeting cards for Easter and special occasions, and candy making.

The new library to serve the 255 inmates of the women's division includes hundreds of books contributed from the Detroit schools. Including travel, poetry, drama, domestic arts, music, arithmetic, sociology, mythology, science, nature study, and hobbies and crafts, the library is designed to offer everything from sight-reading primers to advanced literature appreciation.

In addition, the institution offers a magazine library from which current reading may be drawn to be circulated among the seven inmate cottages and hospital unit. The walls of the cottages are lined with picture posters cut from magazines and mounted by some of the inmates.

The color scheme of the new half-year plates which will be good until August 31 of this year is maroon letters and numerals on a white background, just the reverse of the full-year plates.

The local branch of the secretary of state's office sold 600 full-year license plates for 1941 up to noon on Wednesday. Last year, 1843 half-year plates were sold for 1940, 1507 of which were for passenger cars, 178 for commercial vehicles, and 46 for trailers.

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. William Gayde, 117 Holbrook avenue, next Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Mrs. Otto Beyer will serve as assistant hostess.

J.C.C. to Honor Ernest Henry as "Key Man"

Committee Selects Postoffice Clerk for Civic Activities

In conjunction with Founders' Week celebrating the twenty-first anniversary of the national Junior Chamber of Commerce, the local chapter will meet at the Hotel Mayflower next Wednesday evening. At that time, the distinguished service award committee of the JCC will present a key to Ernest Henry who has been selected as Plymouth's junior "key man," in honor of his contributions to civic life.

Members of the distinguished service award committee who selected Mr. Henry as "key man" included Mayor Ruth Huston Whipple, John Blyton, president of the senior Chamber of Commerce; Carvel Bentley, president of the Kiwanis club; and Glenn Jewell, president of the Rotary club.

Mr. Henry, a clerk in the Plymouth postoffice, where he has been employed for the last eight years, was selected by the committee for his meritorious work in organizing the Cub Scouts unit in Plymouth, as well as his civic work on the boys' work committee of the Kiwanis club during the last year. Mr. Henry was one of the founders of the local chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and served as its first vice-president. The selectee has been leader of Pack 620, Cub Scouts, an organization for boys from 9 to 12 years, since 1936.

A member of the Kiwanis club for four years, he is now second vice-president and a member of the board of directors. At present, he is serving on the membership, program, and achievement committees of Kiwanis club. A native of Plymouth, he was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1926.

Following the key presentation, members of the JCC and their friends are invited to a slight or hay ride, depending upon the weather. Marvin Terry is program chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Blunk will be hosts to the following at a co-operative dinner and evening of "500" on Tuesday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Woods, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk, of Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Frederick of Farmington.

O. E. S. Announces Meeting February 4

The regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star will be held next Tuesday, February 4, with a school of instruction to be conducted by Eloise Rowley, the Worthy Grand Matron of Michigan.

A covered dish dinner will be served at 6:30. Officers of Orient chapter, Northville, will be guests of the local chapter.

The annual O.E.S. bridge luncheon will be held Wednesday, February 12, at 1:00 o'clock, in the Masonic Temple. Members are urged to secure their tickets early.

Shriners Sponsor Benefit Party

The Suburban Shrine club of Moslem Temple will have a Valentine party at the Mayflower hotel, Friday evening, February 7, for the purpose of raising funds for the support of the Shrine Crippled Children's hospitals.

Following a turkey dinner, which will be served at 7:00 o'clock, an informal evening of entertainment and dancing has been planned. Nobles attending are urged to wear their Fez or be subject to a penalty.

Reservations for the party are limited to the capacity of the hotel facilities, and those planning to attend are advised by the committee to make early reservations. Tickets may be obtained and reservations made through the Moslem Temple of Detroit, at the Mayflower hotel, or with any of the following committee members: Haze G. Bennett, president, South Lyon; Raymond Bachelder, secretary; Fred D. Schrader, Joseph E. Measel, of Plymouth; Raymond Honsinger, or Roy LeMaster, both of Northville.

The local board of governors includes Joseph E. Measel, Arlo Emerson, Ernest J. Allison, A. Blake Gillis, Fred D. Schrader and Hal P. Wilson.

John Blyton to Attend Mart

John Blyton of Taylor and Blyton's department store will leave Sunday, February 2, to attend the thirty-ninth semi-annual merchandise mart at Chicago and to secure new spring merchandise.

Accompanying Mr. Blyton will be his son, George, Mrs. Zella Livingston and Mrs. Harold Young.

The merchandise show, sponsored by the Chicago Chamber of Commerce and the Interstate Merchants' Council, will feature the newest in spring and early summer merchandise as presented by 2200 manufacturers and wholesale distributors. The mart, which is attended by an average of 20,000 out-of-town buyers each season, will continue through February 15. Occupying the large Merchandise Mart building and many floors in all of the leading Chicago hotels the mart presents extensive displays of all forms of wearing apparel, gifts, linens and glassware.

Interesting highlights of the mart will be a banquet sponsored by the Interstate Merchants' Council on Tuesday evening and a premier style show of the latest fashion creations in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House on Wednesday evening. Mr. Blyton and his assistant buyers promise to bring back a stock of the latest in dresses, millinery, coats, suits and giftware.

U. of M. Club Plans Round-Table

The next event to be sponsored by the University of Michigan club of Plymouth will be a round-table discussion at which Professor Charles F. Remer, political economist at the University of Michigan, will be the guest speaker. The meeting open to University of Michigan club members and friends will be held early in March. The exact date and details of the round-table meeting will be announced later.

Professor Remer spent a year during 1939 as an observer at Geneva, Switzerland, and he will speak on the current economic situation and his experience and work in the International center at Geneva.

Mrs. George A. Smith is general chairman in charge of plans for the round-table, and Claude Dykhouse, principal of Plymouth high school, will preside as discussion leader.

This round-table meeting will be the first of a series of educational features planned by the University of Michigan club during this year. The club was formed last year as an organization of local university alumni and persons interested in university affairs.

The Lutheran Women's club will meet Monday evening, February 3, at the home of Mrs. William Martin, 344 North Harvey street. All members are urged to be present at the meeting which begins at 7:30.

Charles G. Draper, Pioneer Merchant Dies Suddenly

Veteran Jeweler's Health Fails After Recent Retirement

Death came unexpectedly to one of Plymouth's pioneer business men Sunday afternoon when Charles G. Draper passed away at his home at 1046 Church street, following a stroke last Saturday. Although Mr. Draper had been ill for the last three weeks, his condition was not considered serious and death came as a decided shock to his family and friends.

Two months ago, Mr. Draper announced his retirement after 47 years in the jewelry business in Plymouth. Mr. Draper planned to continue his watch repair and optical work "just to keep busy," but his illness prevented him from occupying the quarters which were set up for the store next to his former business place.

Born in South Lyon on May 19, 1865, he was the son of Joel and Martha Draper. After attending a watchmakers' school in Ann Arbor, he first located in business in South Lyon. Two years later he came to Plymouth with his boyhood chum, Charles Fisher. He rented a window in the old Hall dry goods store, located where Taylor and Blyton's department store is now. While Mr. Draper was in South Lyon getting his tools to set up work here, the entire block of stores on Main street burned down. He then moved to the general store at the corner of Main and Penniman avenues, now occupied by the barber shop, and operated at that time by G. R. Rauch and son. The general store carried a stock of clothing and groceries, and Mr. Draper rented space in the front window for watch and clock repair. Later he occupied two other sites on Penniman avenue, before moving into his recent Main street location about 30 years ago.

At one time, Mr. Draper and his mother lived in the old Conner home on Penniman avenue, which was razed recently to make way for the new City Bank store. In January, 1901, Mr. Draper married Miss Satie Merrell who was a dressmaker in Plymouth.

Friends of the veteran jeweler recall that Mr. Draper often spent hours working conscientiously just for the pleasure of it. He enjoyed tinkering with and repairing old-fashioned grandfather clocks, and took justified pride in his work.

Funeral services were held from the Schramm Funeral home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Mr. Draper was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth for many years. Interment was made in South Lyon. Surviving are his wife, Satie A., a son, Dr. Merrell H. Draper, of Ann Arbor; a daughter, Mrs. Elmer Carby, and one grandson, Donald Paul Carney, of Plymouth.

State to Sell Plymouth Lots

Hillmer's addition; lots 37, 38, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 59, 63, and 100, 128, 142, 148, and 170, Nash Park subdivision; lot 1, lot 22, Park subdivision; lot 26, Fairground subdivision; lot 27, Gravel Hill subdivision; lots 15 to 19 inclusive, 21, 22, 24, 25, and 32, Mary K. Hillmer's addition; lots 37, 38, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 59, 63, and 100, 128, 142, 148, and 170, Nash Park subdivision.

Persons interested in entering bids of any of these properties may obtain further information from the city hall.

Local Youth Returns to U. S. Marine Corps

Leonard S. Johnson, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Johnson, of Beck road, will return to Quantico, Virginia next Monday to begin his second period of four years' service with the United States Marine corps. Johnson recently completed an enlistment of four years and eight months with the infantry division of the Marine corps.

He first enlisted at Chicago and served a six weeks' training period at the naval training station in San Diego. He re-enlisted last week in Detroit to return to the Marine base in Virginia where he will continue his service in anti-aircraft maneuvers and drills.

School Enrollment Sets Record; Seek Federal Aid for Building

School Board Sees Influx From Defense Activities Here

Federal aid for an addition to the Plymouth high school has been requested by the Plymouth board of education to meet the problem of rapidly increasing school attendance, George A. Smith, superintendent of schools, announces.

The board of education has requested a grant of $150,000 for an addition to the high school building which is to cost $140,000 according to the present plan, and for equipment in the amount of $10,000.

"The problem of school attendance is complicated by a considerable influx of additional students because of a munitions factory which is being built within our school district by the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company, and because of the four units of the Ford Motor company located in or so near to Plymouth that the increased defense activities enlarge materially the number of people employed in these units," declared Superintendent Smith in a letter to the department of federal security United States office of education.

Mr. Smith met Wednesday afternoon with an agent of the department of public instruction to consider the needs of Plymouth, and he announces that negotiations for a federal grant are pending.

"At a recent conference with the Kelsey Wheel company officials, at which the city manager of Plymouth and myself were in attendance for the consideration of housing and school problems, we were informed that the machine gun plant is to be in operation in April, and, in May, will reach a capacity employment of 2,000 persons. The firm plans to hire 1,000 locally, the employment of which would not materially affect our school system. The additional 1,000 will locate within the district or adjacent to it, and will probably necessitate provisions for the education of 750 children between kindergarten and high school ages. The grade increase, of course, will be shared with the outlying rural districts, but the high school increase, which I estimate to be 237, will have to be borne by Plymouth alone," Mr. Smith explains.

Plymouth school district No. 1 fractional now has three school buildings upon which there is due and unpaid a sum of $186,000. The interest upon these bonds and debt payments amount to approximately $20,000 a year. "I believe it is reasonable to assume that preparedness is a problem for the whole nation, and when local situations are produced clearly out of normal proportions, then those who benefit, or the whole nation, should come to these situations and bring them to normal," continued Mr. Smith in his petition for federal aid.

"To relieve the grade situation in the area of the new munitions factory, I have suggested a $40,000 building which would be so built that the school district could then change it from a seven-room to a 14 or 16 room building in order to care for the additions in the school area for the next few years," said Mr. Smith.

Women Voters Meet Feb. 14

The controversial lend-lease bill and the state school administration will be the subjects for the League of Women Voters at 1:45 o'clock Friday afternoon, February 14, at the home of Mrs. John Dalton, 489 Blunk avenue. League members are reminded of the change in meeting date.

Mrs. Maurice Woodworth will give a talk on the world situation, following which members will discuss the lend-lease bill and the League's stand on the question. Mrs. S. S. Closson, of the League's educational committee, will speak on school administration.

Townsend Club Meets Monday Evening, Feb. 3

The next meeting of the Plymouth Townsend club will be held a night in the Grange hall with a potluck supper being served from 6:30 to 7:30, followed by the usual business session and other entertainment. The public is welcome and all are requested to bring a passing dish, sandwiches, and dishes and silverware.

Local officers report that Dr. Francis E. Townsend is directing activities from the Townsend Washington bureau which are expected to bring action on the new Townsend bill recently introduced in congress by Representative James F. O'Connor of Montana.

J. Merle Bennett Re-Named Head of Plan Commission

City Planners Discuss Possible Changes in Zoning Classifications

J. Merle Bennett was re-elected chairman by the members of the city planning commission at the regular monthly meeting last Monday evening. Bennett has been chairman of the commission since its inception on November 8, 1937.

No proposals were voted upon at Monday evening's meeting, but the advisability of several changes in the zoning classifications were taken under consideration. The commission discussed possible changes in classification of the property immediately adjacent to Goldsmith avenue bounded by the Pere Marquette railroad between Arthur street and Moreland avenue. This property is now designated as light industrial and Class B residential areas.

Other areas for which changes are being considered include the east side of Amelia street from the alley north of Main street to the Pere Marquette railroad, which is now Class B residential; the property recently acquired by the school board on Theodore street, which is now industrial; the northeast corner of South Main street and U.S.-12, which is now Class A residential; the northwest corner of U.S.-12 and Mill street, which is both Class A and B residential, and the four corners of Main and Mill streets, which is now Class A residential. Changes in the zoning classification of the last three locations are being considered for the purpose of possible extension of local business areas adjacent to these properties. In each of these cases, local business property is adjacent to the locations under consideration.

T. Glenn Phillips, consultant to the planning commission, presented his views on the proposed trailer and tourist camp ordinance pointing out the problem of determining trailer areas which will not result in the deterioration of property values nearby.

The commission also discussed possible sites for a city hospital which will afford necessary space for future expansion, a desirable and desirable neighborhood. The planning group proposed the planting of approximately 100 maple and elm trees in city parks in the spring to complete the program undertaken last year.

Two city projects, not to be undertaken in the immediate future but which are being given consideration, are the proposed widening of South Main street from Ann Arbor Trail to Wing street, providing for a street width of 86 feet in place of the present 68 feet, and the plan for a civic center as proposed a year ago on the Church street parkway.

J.C.C. Plans Series in Home Planning

The Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Plymouth public schools will sponsor a six-week series of courses in "Home Planning and Building" at the high school, starting Tuesday, February 11, from 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock.

Marvin Partridge, chairman of the civic affairs committee which is sponsoring the course, announces that the topic of the first discussion will be "Finance and Law." Topics for the next classes which are open to the public and will be held each Tuesday evening include "City Service and Zoning," "Selecting a Site and Planning the Home," "Building the Home," "Plumbing, Heating, Air-Conditioning, and Lighting," and "Furnishing the Home."

Attendance Totals 1,930 Students for Second Semester

A new all-time high in attendance has been reached in the Plymouth public schools with a total enrollment for the second semester of 1930, an increase over last February's enrollment of 117 students when the total registration was 1,813 students.

At the mid-year promotions, the high school enrollment was increased by 43 pupils who were graduated from the sixth grade at Central and Starkweather grade schools to the seventh grade in the high school. Approximately the same number of pupils were enrolled in the kindergarten for the first time.

The enrollment in the grade schools remained unchanged with 300 pupils registered at Starkweather grade school and 510 at the Central grade school.

A total of 1,120 students are enrolled in Plymouth high school as compared with 936 at the same time last year. The largest proportion of the high school enrollment is in the ninth grade which has an attendance of 303. There are 165 seniors in the high school to be graduated in June. The maximum capacity of the high school is 1,156 students. There are 35 class rooms accommodating 875 students, in addition to 116 in the library, 100 in the study hall and 65 in the gymnasium. The present record enrollment, therefore, is only 36 short of the school's maximum capacity, which threatens to present a problem by next fall.

Banquet Tickets Selling Rapidly

Tickets for the annual father and son banquet, to be sponsored by the Boy Scouts and the Service Men's club of Plymouth on Monday, February 10 at the high school, are selling rapidly. Only 300 tickets will be sold for the event, and no tickets will be sold at the door. More than 100 persons were turned away from the banquet last year. Tickets may be secured from the Beyer Pharmacy, Community Pharmacy or Dodge drug store, or from any of the committee members.

The guest speaker at the banquet will be Officer Herbert German of the Detroit police department, and Dr. Edwin A. Rice, district commissioner of the Boy Scouts, will serve as toastmaster for the evening.

Following Officer German's address on safety, movies will be shown, and the Ford Mountaineers will entertain with their music. Alfred J. Smith will lead the guests in group singing, and the Plymouth high school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Doris Hamill, will provide music.

Library Reports List of New Books

The Plymouth branch of the Wayne county library announces a number of new books now on the shelves and ready for circulation.

Among the new fiction books are "Death of a Peer" by March; "Murder is a Serious Business" by Dean; "Sue Barton, Superintendant of Nurses" by Boylston; "Folly Island" by Deering; "Treasure Ranch" by Selinger; "Moon Tide" by Robertson; "Deadly Sunshine" by Taylor; and "To-day and Forever" by Rich. New rental books include "Six Shooter Showdown" by MacDonald, and "Left Leg Mystery" by Taylor.

"A Treasure Chest of Memories" by Chopple; "Mental Tests for Civil Service Examinations" by Barse; "One Hundred Non-Royalty One Act Plays" by Kozlenko; and "Today and Destiny" by Spangler are included in the latest non-fiction releases.

New books on the juvenile shelf are "Julia Ann" by Varble; "My Brother and I" by Finta; Robert Louis Stevenson" by Grover; "Thomas A. Edison" by Miller; "The Fairy Book" by Long; and "Playthings for Indoor and Outdoor Fun" by Marran.

Car Hits Telephone Pole to Avoid Auto Collision

A car driven by Miss Jean High of Ann Arbor hit a telephone pole on Penniman avenue near Arthur street Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 in an attempt to avoid colliding with another car driven by Miss Ruth C. Drews of 472 North Harvey street. The front end of Miss High's car was badly damaged, but no one was injured in the accident.

Patricia Burton Married in Las Vegas Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burton, 33480 Oakdale, Rosedale Gardens, announce the marriage of their daughter, Patricia, to Bob Bragg, of Los Angeles, California in Las Vegas, Nevada, Saturday afternoon, January 25.

Miss Burton, who was graduated from Plymouth high school with the class of 1937, attended Fairfax Hall, a girls' school at Wainsborough, West Virginia, and it was there that she met Mr. Bragg, who attended a neighboring college. He is now employed by an aircraft manufacturer in Los Angeles. Miss Burton left about two weeks ago on a trip to California and the couple was married in Las Vegas after an airplane trip from Los Angeles.

She is well known in this part of the state from frequent competition in shows and excellent horsemanship.

Mrs. Mary Mills was a Sunday guest in the home of Mrs. Paul Thompson, on South Main street.

Mrs. William Wood Presents Recipes For Colorful, Nutritious Salads

MRS. WILLIAM WOOD

Salads furnish color to a meal and nutritious vitamins to the diet, and Mrs. William Wood, 963 Roosevelt avenue, has many fine salad recipes. Here are a few of her most popular ones:

Shower Salad

Package of strawberry jello
1 cup cold water
1 cup canned diced pineapple
1 cup apple diced
3 maraschino cherries, chopped fine
1/2 cup whipped cream
"Dissolve jello in hot water. When slightly thickened, add fruit. Fold in cream. Put in individual moulds. Serves six to eight people."

Burnt Almond Charlotte

2 tablespoonsful Knox gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup scalded milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup caramelized sugar
1/2 cup blanched, browned, and

chopped almonds

1/2 pint cream
1 teaspoonful vanilla
"Soak gelatin in cold water. Dissolve in hot milk. Add sugar and caramel. Allow to set until it begins to thicken. Fold in whipped cream. Add chopped and browned almonds. Pour in mould rinsed in cold water and allow to set."

Cardinal Salad

1 package lemon jello
1 cup boiling water
3/4 cup beet juice
3 tablespoonsful vinegar
2 teaspoonful salt
2 teaspoonful onion juice or grated onion
1 tablespoonful horseradish
1/2 cup diced celery
1 cup cooked beets, diced
"Dissolve jello in boiling water. Add beet juice, vinegar, salt, onion and horseradish. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in celery and beets. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Serves eight."

Mrs. Wood also suggests a sweet salad dressing for those who prefer a mild dressing without oil or spice.

Sweet Salad Dressing

2 eggs
1 tablespoonful flour
Juice of 3 lemons
1 tablespoonful butter
1/2 cup sugar
Pinch of salt
"Cook slowly but do not boil. The secret of a smooth dressing is in its slow cooking and constant stirring. Add 1/2 cup of whipped cream last."

For a dinner menu, Mrs. Wood suggests the following:
Dinner Menu
V-B Cocktail (Vegetable Juices)
Chicken
Scalloped Potatoes
Green Beans with Cheese Sauce
Shower Salad
Graham Muffins
Butterscotch Pie
Coffee

Mrs. Wood prepares her chicken by cutting it up and rolling the pieces in flour to which salt has been added, and first frying it in butter until brown. Then, put the pieces in a roaster, and add enough water to partially cover the meat. Cook slowly at about 325 degrees for four hours.

Graham Muffins

16 graham crackers
1/2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoonsful sugar
1/2 cup milk scalded
1 egg well-beaten
2 tablespoonsful melted shortening
2 tablespoonsful baking powder
"Roll the crackers and add salt, sugar and hot milk. Mix well. Add well-beaten egg and shortening. Sift baking powder over the batter and mix well. Fill greased muffin pans and bake at 400 degrees for about 15 minutes. Serves eight."

Butterscotch Pie

1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1 tablespoonful butter
Yolks of 2 eggs
2 tablespoonsful flour
2 cups boiling water
"Cook the ingredients and add 1/2 teaspoonful of vanilla after removing from the fire. Pour in baked pie shell, and put egg whites on top and allow to brown."

Mr. and Mrs. A. Yuchas Observe Golden Wedding
Sunday, January 26 marked the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. August Yuchas of Powell road, Plymouth. They were married at St. Casimir church, Detroit, on January 26, 1891, and lived in Detroit until 1914 when Mr. Yuchas took up farming. They have lived at their present residence about 15 years. Of their six sons and six daughters, Frank, Joseph, Anthony and Matthew Yuchas, and Mrs. Fred Voss, Mrs. Leo Moore, Mrs. Ed Fegan and Mrs. Jack McIlhargey are living. They have 24 grandchildren and one great grandson. A mass of thanksgiving was celebrated at Our Lady of Good Counsel church in Plymouth Sunday, after which the couple was feted at a family dinner at their home. Special guests were the Rev. V. Renaud, who officiated at the church ceremony, and Mrs. Anna Schwartz of Chicago, a sister of Mr. Yuchas.

The table was centered by a four-tiered wedding cake and decorated with tall tapers and baby mums, the gift of Mrs. Ethel Williams. Miss Charlotte Williams of Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. King of Pennsylvania. Other floral gifts that decorated the home were from Mr. and Mrs. Nich Pott, Mr. and Mrs. John Foley, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bernwintz, and the Rosebud Flower shop.

Savery-Schrader Vows Spoken

At 7:00 Saturday evening, January 25, Myrilla Marie Savery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coda J. Savery, became the bride of Edwin A. Schrader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Schrader, at a wedding ceremony performed in the Wesley chapel of the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church in Detroit, the Rev. Charles B. Allen reading the service.

The members of the wedding party took their places as the traditional Lohengrin wedding march was played by the church organist. Tall, stately seven-branch candelabrum, large, wide baskets of white chrysanthemums and palms, formed the background.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of white jersey, made with a sweetheart neckline, a close fitting bodice gathered from the side to center and fastened to a ruffle of the same material. The sleeves were made full to elbow and close fitting from elbow to wrist. The skirt was very full, brushing the floor in the back. Her coronet, which was trimmed with sprigs of orange blossoms, was made of tiny ruffles of tulle and held the double fingertip veil. She wore a necklace of pearls and her bouquet was of white roses, white larkspur, lilies of the valley, stavia and adiantum, tied with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. George Schmeman, of Detroit, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor, and Evelyn Schrader, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. Both wore jersey gowns in shades of roses shade. Their dresses were made with a gathered bodice, V neckline, full floor length skirts and elbow length sleeves with which they were fitted stitched jackets. Arrangements of blue forget-me-nots were worn in their hair and they carried blue iris, larkspur and stavia tied with blue satin ribbon.

Sally Wynn Prescott, of Dixon, Illinois, niece of the bridegroom, was daintily gowned in a floor length dress of yellow net over taffeta which had aqua bows down the front of bodice. She carried an aqua basket filled with rose petals. Tiny yellow flowers were worn in her hair.

Lyle M. Prescott, of Dixon, Illinois, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Sterling Eaton of this city, and Richard Gustine, of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Savery wore a floor length gown of aqua moss crepe with matching turban and a corsage of lalams roses. Mrs. Schrader chose a pale blue crepe gown with matching hat and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Detroit Yacht club for 60 guests from Plymouth, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Northville, Detroit, Chicago and

Mrs. and Mrs. Schrader are well known in Plymouth having lived in and near Plymouth throughout their lives and have many friends who extend best wishes to them.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cramer plan to leave Saturday evening for a sojourn at St. Petersburg, Florida.

School-Aid Bills in Legislature to Provide More Adequate Equalization

Proposals Will Make No Material Difference to Plymouth Schools

No material difference will accrue in the operating allotments granted by the state to the Plymouth school district as a result of either the "full equalization" formula of the Michigan Educational Association, or the more limited proposal of the Department of Public Instruction, which are both ready for introduction in the state legislature, says George A. Smith, superintendent of Plymouth schools.

Both bills seek the establishment of a school standard of $55 expenditure for every elementary-school child and $75 for every high school student, and they each call for state disbursements sufficient to reach this level.

Charles Gregory Draper, who resided at 1046 Church street, a jeweler and optometrist for 47 years in Plymouth and who retired from business about three weeks ago, passed away at his home, Sunday afternoon, January 26, at the age of 75 years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Satic A. Merrell Draper; son, Dr. Merrell Draper, of Ann Arbor, daughter, Mrs. Winifred Carney, of Plymouth and one grandson, Donald Carney; two cousins and a host of other relatives. The body was taken to the Schrader Funeral home, from which place funeral services were held Wednesday, January 29, at 2:00 p.m. Two beautiful hymns were rendered by Mrs. M. J. O'Conner at the organ. The honorary pallbearers were Oren Merrell, Sidney Baker, well and Charles Fisher. The active pallbearers were Albert Allen, Clark Porter, Walter Merrell, Paul Healey, Ralph Relyea and Earl Steigler. Rev. Walter Nichol officiated and interment was made on the family lot in South Lyon cemetery.

MRS. URSULA K. B. HOLCOMB

Mrs. Ursula K. Barrows Holcomb, who resided at 654 Holbrook avenue, passed away Saturday evening, January 25, at the age of 76 years. She was the widow of the late Willard Holcomb. She is survived by four grand-children, Mrs. Edith Sheppard and Lloyd Holcomb, both of Fremont; Mrs. Winifred Beach of Clarkston; and Henry Holcomb of Rosedale Gardens; also, five great grandchildren and a host of other relatives. The body was taken to the Schrader Funeral home, Plymouth, from which place services were held Tuesday, January 28, at 2 p.m. Two beautiful hymns were rendered by Mrs. J. T. Chapman, accompanied at the organ by M. J. O'Conner. The active pallbearers were Homer Godfrey, Clyde Holcomb, Alfred Barrows, Carl Brooks, Charles Rittenhouse and Roy Co-vell. Rev. John Forsyth of Rosedale Gardens officiated. Interment was made on the family lot in Lakeview cemetery, Clarkston, Michigan.

MRS. JOSEPHINE POCHERT

Mrs. Josephine Pochert, who resided at 1134 Ann Arbor road, passed away Wednesday morning, January 29, at the age of 67 years. She was the widow of the late Louis Pochert. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Price, of Plymouth, and Mrs. William Feek of Wayne. She was the mother of the late Ernest Pochert. Also surviving are 10 grandchildren and five great grandchildren, two brothers, Frank Cline, of Armada and Matthew Cline, of Detroit. The body was taken to the Schrader Funeral home, Plymouth, and later taken to her home at 16639 Stoep-el avenue, Detroit where funeral services will be held Saturday, February 1 at 2 p.m. Rev. Walter Nichol will officiate. Interment will be made on the family lot in Riverside cemetery.

Social Custom

THERE ARE CERTAIN graceful acts that society expects when death has occurred in a family. The sympathy of friends and other courtesies must be acknowledged. We know what is socially correct, and provide suitable cards for acknowledgment, as well as counsel on proper funeral conduct. It is one of many refinements in our service that clients value.

Church News

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH. Rev. C. H. Enss, Th.D., pastor. "The Privacy and Community of the Religious Experience" is the theme of the pastor's message on Sunday morning at 10:00 a.m. You will find help for your inner life in it. In the Bible book review Dr. Enss will deal with two of Paul's epistles, Philémon and First Timothy. The men's study group is now making a study of "Zoroastrianism," the other classes study the regular Sunday school lessons at 11:15 a.m. This Sunday night we expect a special treat from the visit of Chuck Holtz who will be the main speaker of the evening. There will be several other young people from Detroit for the evening meeting. It will be an unusual program. Everybody is welcome. The meeting begins at 7:00 p.m. Next Sunday morning, February 9, it will be our special pleasure to be hosts to one of the Boy Scout groups. They will have reserved seats and take part in the service. Our regular Wednesday meeting at 7:30 p.m.; choir rehearsal at 8:30 p.m. On Thursday night the ladies will serve a chicken dinner, you may secure your ticket at any time. Please remember the communion service on Sunday morning.

FIRST METHODIST Stanford S. Clonson, minister. 10:00 a.m. Sunday school; 11:00 a.m. church service. Provision is made for the whole family at this hour. Bring the children. They will enjoy the nursery and junior church. 6:00 p.m. Epworth League; no evening service this week. On Sunday afternoon from 3:00 to 5:45 in the Ypsilanti Methodist church there will be a conference for Sunday school workers in the adult and children's divisions. Expert leaders from outside will be present. Monday, 8:00, official board meeting at the parsonage. Tuesday, all day, open district meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service in Chelsea. Wednesday, 7:30, executive committee of the W.S.C.S. Thursday, 7:30, study group at the high school under the auspices of the Women's Society of Christian Service. The first of a series of four sessions under the leadership of Miss Lovewell upon the subject, "The Church's Responsibility to Our Youth." Friday, January 31, fried cake sale by unit 3 of the Women's Society of Christian Service. Call Mrs. Squires, 353, for orders and deliveries will be made. Friday, February 7, District Epworth League Winter Rally banquet at Adrian.

CHURCH OF GOD, 333 NORTH Main street. Pastor Rev. Clifford C. Funk, who preaches the true word of God for the benefit of one and all. Please come! You will be rewarded richly by the wonderful blessing you will receive. Sunday services: Preaching service, 9:45 a.m.; Bible school, 10:00 a.m.; young people's meeting, 6:30 p.m. Very interesting surprise for our young people's meeting. Come, young people, for good environment. Evangelistic service, 7:30 p.m. Weekly services: Tuesday, young people's meeting, 7:30; Thursday, prayer meeting, 7:30; Sunday, 10:00 a.m. Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile. We will be looking for YOU. Please don't disappoint us. Psalm 32:1-2.

PENTECOSTAL ASSEMBLIES of God, Berea Gospel chapel, Ann Arbor Trail and Mill street. Pastor, John Walasky. Sunday school, 10:00 a.m.; morning worship, 11:00; young people C.A., 6:30 p.m.; evening service, 7:30; Thursday, prayer and praise 7:45 p.m. Ladies' cottage prayer meeting Tuesday evening, will be held next week at 8354 Canton Center road. We extend a hearty welcome to you. Come and worship with us. Rev. 3:21. To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame.

Debaters Lose to East Lansing in State Tournament

Rouge and Belleville Out in First Round

By a 2-1 decision East Lansing negative defeated Plymouth affirmative on the question, "Resolved: That the power of the Federal Government should be decreased." in the final round of the state elimination debate tournament staged at Plymouth last Saturday, January 25. The judges for the debate were Drs. Scott and Cortright of Wayne University, and Professor Wood of Michigan State Normal college. The East Lansing negative, coached by Mr. Gernant, was upheld by Ann Pennington, Harriet Hillier, and Ann Fagon; Plymouth's affirmative, coached by Mr. Latture, was Jim Zuckerman, Bob Daniel and Virginia Rock. As a symbol of their victory, East Lansing received a trophy from the Previous to this debate Plymouth's negative defeated River Rouge. The Rouge team was composed of Mahlon Vaughn, David Baker, and Larry Burns. Dr. Cortright awarded the decision to the negative principally on superior debating technique. East Lansing defeated the Belleville affirmative team, Daniel Wolfe, Jacqueline Caldwell, and Josephine Parente. Dr. Scott served as critic judge at this debate.

Chairmen and timekeepers for the debates were Marion Goodman, Dorrit Strauss, and Marie Ann Miller.

Lunch was served in the school cafeteria after which a movie, "Wheels Over India" was shown to the entire group.

This defeat was the first sustained by the Plymouth team for the 1940-41 season. The record now stands at six won, one lost. After the conclusion of the other tournaments next Saturday, East Lansing will be one of sixteen schools left in the competition.

In order for a team to qualify for the state elimination debates it is usually required to be champions or runner-up in its respective league, or if it does not belong to a special league, to win three of its four debates with other schools. Plymouth has qualified for elimination debates the last nine consecutive years.

Home Making Club

During the first semester of 1940-1941 the following were officers in the Home Making Club: President, Ruth Hoysradt; vice-president, Ruth Granger; treasurer, Helen Bennett; secretary, Ione Stuart.

On January 17, the following officers were elected for the second semester: President, Ione Stuart; vice-president, Gladys Davison; secretary-treasurer, Josephine Armbruster.

The January society meeting was held at the home of Ione Stuart with games and light refreshments. The club planned, prepared and served a luncheon on Saturday, January 25, for the group who participated in the debate tournament.

Miss Lundin and Miss Schaeffer attended a dinner meeting of a group of home making teachers of outlying towns at Wyandotte Monday evening, January 13. The next meeting of this same group will be held February 10 at Dearborn Inn. After dinner the group will visit the new home making house built last year, with provisions for a modern home making set-up.

Social Register

Iris Hitt, Lois Hoffman, Owen Gorton and Bob Birt heard Tommy Dorsey's dance band at the Michigan theatre in Ann Arbor last Saturday evening.

Ruth Parmalee was the dinner guest of Harold Fischer last Sunday.

Alan Bennett and Bill Wernett spent the week-end at Gaylord, where they enjoyed skiing.

Sally Haas visited her father in Washington, D. C., last week end.

Nan McLaren, Bill Wernett, Pat Hudson and Alan Bennett saw Kay Kyser on the stage and "Trail of the Vigilantes" at the Fox theatre, last Thursday.

Cagers Defeated

Plymouth's varsity basketball team was defeated again last Friday night, 26-40, playing Dearborn. Even with the aid of Johnnie Wilkie, the team still could not push ahead. Butz and Norman, half-year students, played their last game for Plymouth.

The starting line-up was composed of Norman, Hoffman, Baker, Wilkie and Johnson. The Dearborn Panthers had Reader, Germain, Nieland, McWilliams and Harris.

In the first half minute, Reader of Dearborn tallied the first two points of the game. Baker then retaliated with a shot made from the middle of the floor. The rest of the quarter was composed of Dearborn's free shots and "shorts" and the Rock's long-range aerial bombardment.

The second quarter was highlighted by "Locomotive" Baker's sudden collision with Nieland's stomach. Nieland receiving the brunt of the blow and being awarded a shot, which he made good. Immediately after, Warren Hoffman broke away for a well-made shot.

At the end of the first half the score stood at 16-10 in Dearborn's favor. There were two well-made shots, one by the Panther's Reader and the other by Baker, supplemented by short lightning-like passes, and a long, leisurely made shot by Art Johnson.

The result showed Hoffman and Johnson credited with seven points each, Baker with four, and Norman Wilkie, Gorton and Hunter with two apiece. On the opposite side Germain led with 17, followed by Reader with 12.

Plymouth 28—Norman 2; Hoffman 7; Baker 4; Wilkie 2; Johnson 7; Gorton 2; Hunter 2; Olds, Hancock, Butz.

Dearborn 40—Reader 12; Germain 17; Nieland 2; McWilliams 6; Harris 2; Nieland 1; Sutherland, Winkler, Sturdy, Cameron, Tillman, Huston.

Seconds Lose

The Dearborn Pioneers' second team defeated the Plymouth Rock seconds on the Rocks' court last Friday night, 21-35.

The first half showed great hopes for the Plymouth team. The score was even most of the first quarter. Dearborn would score; then Plymouth would tie it up in see-saw fashion. At the end of the first quarter the score board showed Dearborn five in the lead 3-4.

Early in the second quarter the Pioneers were ahead by two points. Out of nowhere came the Plymouth center none other than Daniel Douglas, and shot one from the center of the floor, tying the score 6-6. The Pioneers would not stand for this and shot ahead, ringing down the second quarter 11-15.

The second half opened with a bang. The Dearborn quintet was ahead by four points and steadily climbing higher.

In the middle of the third quarter Ebersole was fouled and was given two shots. He made both of them, making the score 14-16. The quarter ended with the Dearborn five in the lead 21-16. The last quarter was hopeless for the Plymouth quintet, as the Pioneers jumped into the lead and held it until the end of the game, the final score being 35-21. High point man for Plymouth was Ebersole with eight points; for Dearborn Chaddock with 11 points. The game was rough and tumble most of the time, for Plymouth chalked up 13 fouls to Dearborn's 19.

The starting lineups were as follows: Plymouth—Bloomhuff r. f., Lacy l. f., Sessions c., Birt r. f., Shoemaker l. g. Substitutions: Donahue, Upton, Dougan, Ebersole, Kearney, Evans.

Dearborn—Wesley r. f., Chaddock l. f., Linton c., Wagner r. g., Marshall l. g. Substitutions: Elder, Rothwell, Gregory, Seput, Vicary.

Mineral Collecting

(By Harold Young)

Imagine, if you can, getting up at 6:00 a.m. during summer vacation to go on your first field trip. If so you will know how I felt three summers ago. Maurice Woodworth and I left Plymouth at 7:00 a.m., heading for Ohio where we met the gang of the Michigan Mineralogical society at the state line and thence we drove to Clay Center, Ohio, a vast excavation of rock. It is the first step for collecting. What can you find in the quarry? It depends upon the type you are in. Clay Center is a limestone quarry from which is taken railroad and road bedding. The equipment necessary on any field trip is: A hammer, preferably a mineral pick, a small hand lens for inspecting small specimens, a collecting bag or any knapsack or canvas bag will do, and last a couple of old cold chisels. Now after going down to the third level you are prepared to start your prospecting. Before doing any digging or hammering make sure there is no overhang or rocks that may come loose. If there is none then it is safe to start. The minerals don't just stare you in the face; you have to look for them. The quarry at Clay Center has revealed many interesting minerals such as fluorite, calcite, celestite, pyrite, sphalerite and galena. These names may sound complicated at first but with some facts about minerals on your fingertips you can recognize them immediately. Dinner time rolls around and everybody meets on second level to eat around the campfire. The topic of discussion is usually about their finds during the morning. Some of them even go to their cars and bring out beautiful specimens. Upon arriving home I wash them, make a display case and cover the shelves with green velvet, thus starting a mineralogical career. This took place three years ago and now I have 38 different kinds of minerals. Information can be obtained from either library and also the Cranbrook Institute of Art has an excellent display of minerals from all over the world. There are several men in town who cut and polish minerals; among them Maurice Woodworth, Brant Warner and Glen Jewell.

The densest matter known is the substance of the stars called Wolf 457 and Wolf 219. A cubic inch of it on the surface of the earth would weigh about nine thousand pounds.

Editorial

Eddie Cantor's brain child, "the march of dimes," has turned into a nationwide parade. The dimes to aid children stricken with infantile paralysis are sent to Washington. The money is then used to provide adequate treatment for paralysis victims.

It has been said that more children die or are crippled for life by infantile paralysis than by any other disease. No one is exempt from it; it may strike at the poorest child in a slum district or may invade a home of the wealthy to claim a victim. Because of the nature of the disease, proper treatment is absolutely vital to save a life or a limb.

It is for this cause that the money is used, and for that reason we should "Help the child around the corner." Join the march of dimes by sending a dime to Washington and have the satisfaction of believing that it might be your money that will help a stricken child to walk.

Heaven must be in me before I can be in heaven.—Charles Stanford.

ATTACK ON AMERICA

THE STORY SO FAR: Colonel Finckle, acting assistant chief of U. S. Intelligence department G-2, estimated there were 200,000 European troops in Mexico poised for an attack on the United States. Both he and the President were powerless to act because Con-

By the end of a week, Benning had gained something of Finckle's confidence together with a knowledge of the workings of Van Hassek's headquarters at the palace. He had adopted the habit of going for a walk each evening with the Austrian, usually to the Alameda.

Benning had learned that the Austrian was an artilleryman, on temporary detail at headquarters because of knowledge of the United States.

"But at headquarters, Finckle," Benning prompted, "life is not too active. Isn't it your experience that once headquarters gets its claws on an officer he's sunk?"

The Austrian responded with a grunt of contempt.

"I'm an artilleryman, not a staff officer," he snapped. "My battery of seventy-sevens is at Jolisco for target practice and I'm in Mexico City only until the show opens!"

Benning laughed and said, "But with your fluency in English, your chief isn't likely to part company with you when our troops head into the United States."

"I've Colonel Bravot's word for it!" Finckle said hotly. "Yes, and I remind him of it as soon as he returns from Washington, which ought to be any day now."

Benning prolonged the promenade with Finckle, stopping from time to time at the bar of the Gonzales near the park for Scotch-and-soda. Once the Finckle's artillery enthusiasm was aroused, the Austrian needed little urging to talk.

At first he boasted of his own guns, then branched off into the subject of Van Hassek's superiority in artillery. He painted a picture of well trained regiments splendidly equipped with the best armament.

"What a wonderful show, Bravot!" Finckle exclaimed after he had elaborated the weapons in detail. "Particularly when we pound their artillery to pieces with our superior ranges. Himmelkreuz! They will be helpless in counter-battery."

"Not too fast, Finckle," Benning cautioned. "We mustn't forget their tremendous manpower once they get them equipped."

"But a million men can crush the Americans before they can get themselves ready!"

"A million men, perhaps, but how can we ever expect to get a million men mobilized in Mexico without rousing the Americans finally to action?"

Finckle stopped in his tracks and his blue eyes looked gravely at Benning through their thick lenses. The Austrian lowered his voice.

"That is not mere surmise, Bravot. This I will tell you in the deepest confidence. One day in General Van Hassek's office I glimpsed his little map of the United States and on it are red arrows pointing in from the south, the east, and the west. I had only a glimpse before he returned the map to his desk, but I caught figures enough to convince me of a million men."

Benning managed an indifferent smile and decided to close this dangerous subject.

"With a million men, Finckle, a great deal might be done," he said, and added, with a glance at his wrist watch, "but it's getting late and what do you say to some dinner?"

The two went to a Mexican cabaret on Avenida Hidalgo, a favorite spot of officers of the new regime. Benning ordered dinner and picked at his meal. Apparently he was mildly entertained by the show about him. Actually he was only vaguely conscious of his surroundings. His mind was busy with Finckle's disclosures, with a piecing together of the things Van Hassek had told him.

Benning made his decision. There was the air corps yet to check, and some verification of Finckle's disclosures. That should not be difficult. But only Van Hassek would know the broader plan of attack on the United States and Benning knew now that he must find some way to tap the Van Hassek brain, at any cost. A glance at the Van Hassek operation map might answer all questions. In some way he meant to get his eyes on that map.

His thoughts were interrupted by the action of Finckle in springing abruptly to his feet. A dark, erect man in Mexican uniform paused at their table to acknowledge the Austrian's greetings.

"My colonel, I am overjoyed to see you back in Mexico!" the Austrian exclaimed. He turned to Benning, who got to his feet. "I wish, my colonel, to present our new officer, Major Bromlitz, who has reported to us from Europe in your absence. Major, our chief of service, Colonel Bravot."

The Frenchman searched Benning with a quizzical glint as if trying to associate him with some vague memory. In a moment his black eyes cleared and he passed on with a stiff bow.

Benning's memory had clicked instantly on seeing the colonel. Bravot, his chief of service, unmistakably was Sergeant Gaujos, the masquerader in American uniform on whose trail he had been camping at San Antonio.

Benning had little more than settled down at his allotment of American newspapers the next morning than Van Hassek's majordomo, Captain Schrott, came in with a summons.

"Excellency directs that you report to him immediately," Schrott muttered.

Benning promptly went down the tiled corridor to the Van Hassek suite. He had spent the night on pins and needles, knowing that once the Bravot memory clicked the jig was up with him. What did this summons mean? However, he kept his faith in his masquerade.

Since leaving Bordeaux he had effected those slight changes in appearance that are the most effective masquerade. The Atlantic sun and wind had given his face a deep tan, and he had cultivated a thin mustache cut at a rakish angle. At San Antonio his hair had been rather full, now it was cropped close at the sides and the length of his head increased by a bristling pompadour. His new Mexican uniform, cut wise at the shoulders, gave his torso a different appearance from that of the civilian clothes he had worn in Texas.

There was a catlike animation in Van Hassek's one straight eye that grease and the general public failed to realize the significance of the troops. To obtain more definite proof, Captain Benning, American intelligence officer, went to Mexico City where he posed as Bromlitz, former American army officer who had been captured in Paris after turning trator to the United States. After a short interview with Van Hassek, leader of the foreign armed forces in Mexico, Benning was accepted as a staff member. Here he strove to gain the confidence of Finckle, an enemy officer.

Now continue with the story.

"Mademoiselle, now that your identity has been established to our satisfaction, you're welcome in Mexico. If you desire, I can't treat you as he should, my life is cabbage, just you come back and report the facts to me!"

Mademoiselle threw her arms gratefully about Van Hassek's shaggy red neck and kissed him on his cheek. Then she turned to Benning, looked him over and said, "You're a good-looking fellow, but you're not French. You're picked out a seat under a shady cypress."

"What is it you want here, mademoiselle?" he bluntness demanded. "Information," she replied crisply. "Naturally, my government sent me."

"I should have guessed they had something like this in mind," he complained. "But why do you wish yourself off on duty?"

"There are excellent reasons," she answered, regarding him with a level smile. "For one thing we are both after the same information and ought to be able to help each other."

Benning had decided that inevitably he must accept the French girl as an associate, since he was already in the palm of her hand by caprice or stupidity she betrayed his masquerade.

"I'll be glad to give you advantage of anything I may learn," he told her. "But of course, we must work separately."

"As you please," she agreed, and said, with unabashed frankness, "but at least we'll have to live together."

Benning demanded, "Why do you propose that?"

"For two reasons. First, Van Hassek thinks I'm your mistress and I want him to continue thinking that for the time being, at least."

"Your second reason?"

"That," she said, looking at him again with her level smile, "is the important one to you. Bromlitz escaped from your custody three days after you sailed for Vera Cruz."

Benning sat glumly while his mind swept to an estimate of that calamity.

"Don't blame my government," Mlle. Ducos spoke up at once. "It was wholly the fault of a stupid secretary from your embassy who was sent to the fort to interview Bromlitz. An hour after he left, a guard found your secretary hiding in Bromlitz's cell. Bromlitz had escaped in the secretary's clothes and spectacles."

"You've no doubt Bromlitz will make his way to Mexico?"

Mlle. Ducos smiled unconcernedly. "Not the least. But now that we understand each other, monsieur, let's find a place to live. To-night I'd like to have you take me to the Avenida Hidalgo to dine and dance."

On reporting at the palace next morning, Benning was greeted by a new determination. He meant to play whatever tricks were necessary promptly to close his mission in Mexico. With Colonel Bravot on the job, Bromlitz at large, and the French operative on his heels, he knew he skated now on very thin ice.

With Mlle. Ducos he had struck a bargain. She was to keep strictly away from headquarters. He promised her any pertinent information he picked up and allotted her the task of checking on the air service. Also she was to keep on the alert for any cancellation of military leaves to Mexico City, which would be a significant development.

They set up together in an inexpensive suite on Jesus Maria. When they were alone in their apartment, Mlle. Ducos' attitude was one of a purely professional associate. But when they were together in public during evenings that followed, she kept up the ruse of a romantic attachment.

They had gone to the Avenida Hidalgo for dinner one evening when the French girl's covert situation with a bald-headed Italian officer in a colonel's uniform brought from Benning a sharp rebuke.

"Doesn't it strike you a bit inconsistent, mademoiselle," he charged, "for you to pose as my fiancée and at the same time flirt outrageously behind my back while we're dancing together? We agreed that you were to limit yourself at present to finding out about Van Hassek's air service."

She looked up at him and smiled as they danced, then put her lips close to his ear and spoke in a low voice.

"Would it interest you, monsieur, to know that I have learned most of what we wish to know? Van Hassek's air bases are located in Tamasulipas, and he has a total of more than a thousand planes, with more coming by ship in the near future. Colonel Roggie, if you will take the trouble to study his insignia, is an officer of the air service."

"You shouldn't have come here this way, Lucette," he coolly told her. "I've a man's role to play here and it's no place for a woman."

Van Hassek came from behind his desk to intervene. He took the French girl's elbows in his chubby hands and his voice was ingratiating.

A glance gave Benning his appraisal. A girl to turn any man's head, and he understood at once Bromlitz' mad infatuation for the girl. He felt a stir of revolt at the thought of an ally from the French secret service, but promptly remembered that he had a role to play.

"You shouldn't have come here this way, Lucette," he coolly told her. "I've a man's role to play here and it's no place for a woman."

Van Hassek came from behind his desk to intervene. He took the French girl's elbows in his chubby hands and his voice was ingratiating.

NATION-WIDE telephone communication is a mighty asset to the country's program of defense. Every city, village, hamlet and rural area is closely linked with every other by America's 21,830,000 connecting telephones. In a matter of minutes a Michigan manufacturer, working on defense orders, can speak directly with his suppliers in any part of the country. That is a single example of the service rendered by the telephone industry, thousands of times daily, in this period of national emergency.

Children Attend Traffic School

Two hundred safety patrol boys, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts from Plymouth and Northville were guests of the traffic school at the Detroit House of Correction last Friday afternoon. Captain Charles Thumme took the group to the traffic school where "Tommy," an inmate lecturer on safety, explained how patrol boys and Scouts can help in furthering safety education in the schools.

Stating that the cost to the taxpayers of one "stop" sign, of which Wayne County, apart from individual cities and the state, has 18,000, is $21.40, "Tommy" declared that to ignore traffic signs is to ignore one's own pocket-book. The average cost of city parking signs is $2, he stated, and there are some 2300 streets in Detroit equipped with parking limit signs.

The speaker pointed out the need for courtesy and common sense in driving, warning that instead of assuming the "right of way," drivers could avoid many accidents by yielding the "right of way" to others. He pointed out the need for pedestrians to form the habit of stopping and looking each way before stepping from the curb.

The young guests were shown all the traffic signs on display at the traffic school, and invited to submit posters on safety education.

CLEAN THEM ALL OUT

It is about time for the Russian educated Communist residents of this country and the foreign Communists who are sharing the protection and the liberty that free AMERICAN citizens created, turn right about face and GET IN STEP with our ways of life, or get out of the country and get out about as quickly as they know how!

When America faces an emergency, there is no fooling. The vast majority of the people are for America first, last and all the time — and even though some of the crack-pot officials in Washington have encouraged and given lip support to the enemies of our country who are within our boundaries, that does NOT mean that the majority of the people share any of this "softy" sentiment.

And just a word to Sidney Hillman — your pedigree is not any too good in the eyes of WE THE PEOPLE of America. You and your crowd had better make up your minds that neither SELFISH nor class interests will be tolerated in times like these.

You came to our shores because you couldn't exist where you lived. No matter if you have been elevated to a high place within our government, the people of America have always acted and ACTED swiftly when our liberties and rights have been endangered.

American citizens are just awakening to what is going on — and when AMERICA AWAKES — GOD help those who are found to be our enemies!

UNCLE SAM'S BIT

The Chamber of Commerce of Michigan seems quite excited because Uncle Sam dipped into the pockets of Michigan taxpayers last year and took more than a billion and a half in cash out of the state. That's almost 14 times as much as was collected to run the entire state government of Michigan.

Voters have "wolfed" considerably about the expenses of conducting affairs in Lansing. When these tax totals are compared it would appear that Lansing officials have only had pin money to spend.

Federal taxes are the real burden. And the levying of federal taxes hasn't even started, as to what it is going to be in the near future. But we voted for it, and we are going to get just what we voted for.

A billion and a half in federal taxes does seem like a lot of money to take out of the state, especially when we realize that a couple of dozen years ago, it amounted to practically nothing, and when we realize, too, that there has been so much of it wasted. If it had been properly spent for national defense our plight would not be what it is today.

ALWAYS AN INSPIRATION

One hundred and thirty-one years have rolled into the ages since the birth of Abraham Lincoln. Kindled at the very hearthstone of his being were the fires of two great principles whose flames have burned with a brilliance undimmed by time through generation after generation — the cause of liberty and equality for every man. Believing inherently in these two great truths, his became an inspired vision.

When the startling breath of war's alarm spread throughout the land, in defense of these principles, with impassioned zeal, he led his country to noble victory. The memory of this rugged man of modest dignity and enduring qualities, whose broad ideals become more clearly revealed with the passing years, is a sacred heritage to the American people.

Though the treasured dust and ashes, once his mortal frame, have long been enshrined by a worshipful nation, his immortal spirit lies not entombed, for today, in the hearts of our grateful Republic, the inspiration of the martyred soul of Abraham Lincoln to eternal freedom goes marching on.

IT IS ABOUT TIME

There seems to be general public approval of the statements coming out from Washington that there will be no political luxuries in the budget to be adopted by congress this year.

Michigan residents hope so. This state, faced with a tremendous increase in its own expenditures, pays something like 14 times as much to the federal government as it does to the state government to support public activities.

Any statement, or any act upon the part of a state or national executive which tends to make less burdensome the tax burden of the masses is most welcome news. One recent statement of the president says that his next budget will involve drastic paring of government expenditures with the sole exception of those which have a direct bearing on the defense program. That is sound. It will meet with the approval of the people.

The president and his financial aids certainly have a wide field for slashing expenditures in many overgrown activities of the government. There can be no further excuse for relief spending on a grandiose scale, inasmuch as the rearmament drive is rapidly absorbing the unemployed, according to the government's own official figures. And, vastly important, there can be no further excuse for spending of tax funds for purposes which can and should be left to private enterprise and private capital.

Federal competition with the utility industry is an outstanding case in point. As has recently been observed, most of the government's power plants are in regions where there are few defense industries. The great industrial regions on which we must depend for our instruments of defense, no less than our tools of peace, are served almost 100 per cent by publicly-regulated, highly-taxed private companies. These companies have laid ambitious plans for expanding to meet anticipated increases in demand. Their responsible spokesmen have said again and again that they are fully capable of providing needed service—and at a low cost. There is no necessity whatsoever for squandering another dollar of the taxpayers' money on socialized power development.

It is high time that we tighten our belts and eliminate every penny of useless drain on the public treasury. We need dollars for defense—but not one dime for political luxuries.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF WAR AIRCRAFT

American aircraft makers and designers are learning many a lesson from this war. The planes sent to England have not been satisfactory—that is, they have not been comparable in effectiveness to the first-class British and German ships. As one British authority said, the Americans make first-class flying machines, but third-class fighting machines. Reason: According to the English, the American planes have been inadequately armored and under-gunned, and have had too many complicated controls to distract the attention of nervous pilots confronted with the enemy.

These defects, according to officials, are being corrected in the new ships. There will be fewer blind spots, more armor, more guns and fewer gadgets. Also, performance will be materially stepped up. Some of the American planes which have been publicized as 400-mile-an-hour performers have, under war loads and war conditions, done little better than 300. It is taking time to iron the bugs out of our newer type big engines.

The British are now replacing their famous Spitfire pursuit ships with a new type, which is supposed to exceed 400 miles under full load, is extremely maneuverable, and has an unprecedentedly fast rate of climb. Rumors say that the Germans also have some new types of which great achievements are expected. German problem is gasoline—German planes downed in England were found to carry gas of 50-octane content. That is too poor a fuel to even turn over a modern American engine of the 1,000 horsepower class.

THE AMERICAN WAY

The following poem was written by S. Conger Hathaway, a former resident of Plymouth who has many friends and acquaintances here. Mr. Hathaway now lives in Hastings, Michigan:

"Justice and truth and industry"
Has been America's boast;
To have the mind and spirit free
To live and love in unity—
This all the world needs most;
But now that we're menaced by racketeers,
We'll face the bold challenge with patriot cheers,
And hasten each man to his post,
For the U. S. A., I'll say today,
Is "all out" to lead the band,
And show the world "The American Way"
Democracies demand.
Army and navy and aeroplanes,
And "home defense patrols"
Shall rule the land from inland sand
To where the ocean rolls.
From Canada north to Panama,
Including Mexico,
One "Doctrine" bold we shall uphold—
The one we call "Monroe!"
For the U. S. A., I'll say today,
Is "all out" to lead the band,
And show the world "The American Way"
Democracies demand.
"America first, America last,
America all the time!"
This is the motto we'll hold fast
And broadcast long as life shall last,
To folks in every clime.
We'll give our best and all the rest
Of things that are required
To help America reach the crest
To which She has aspired.
For the U. S. A., I'll say today,
Is "all out" to lead the band,
And show the world "The American Way"
Democracies demand.
So gather your children 'round your knee
And tell them to be brave;
America continues free
To help her friends across the sea
Escape the "blitz" of Germany,
The "dagger-thrusts" of Italy,
And Japanese mendacity—
And She the world will save!
For the U. S. A., I'll say today,
Is "all out" to lead the band,
And show the world "The American Way"
Democracies demand.

POWER OF PRESS

In spite of the fact that a majority of American newspapers were opposed to the re-election of President Roosevelt to a third term, he won. This results in many people saying: "The newspapers have lost their influence." Well, that isn't quite true. For years American newspapers have been less partisan in their offerings to their readers; they often print "both sides" of political campaign talk; they do this, even though in their own editorial columns they may plead for some specific candidate or issue that loses at election time. The real truth of the situation is this: The newspapers print the news, and this news is what influences the voters—not mere editorial opinion. If the news columns were colored, perhaps the story would be different—which is a credit to the character and methods of the average American newspaper, carrying out the tradition of a "free and unkept press" in this country. —George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

Success in business is more often achieved through observance of simple, obvious rules than through uncanny shrewdness and deep cunning.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT—IT'S IMPORTANT

One of the great intangibles of every town, city or village, or of any locality where human beings are grouped together in the every-day business of living, is that something called "community spirit." Probably most everyone has a pretty well-defined idea of what community spirit is, and all about us in the towns and cities we know and visit, we can see the existence of it, or the lack of it.

In those places one goes to visit, it is not long before the subconscious self meters a fairly accurate rating of this intangible thing. For it is reflected in the conversations and attitudes of those who live and work in that town. Indeed, a casual drive through a region will reveal volumes about the prosperity, thrift and enterprise of the people who have elected to call that bit of the earth's surface their dwelling place. For community spirit, after all, is but the combined reflection of individual pride in home, the manifested result of hundreds of individual acts and individual initiative to make or mar the picture as a whole.

That is why it is so important that each individual do his or her own part in furthering this fragile thing called community spirit, be it home beautification, civic improvement or what not. While community spirit is itself an intangible, the results of it have a decided monetary value. For a proper display of a strong and wholesome community spirit means that property values will increase, that new business and new enterprise will be attracted, that new homes will be built, and that the community will grow.—Robert Rowe in The Milford Times.

Here's unsavory news for old John Barleycorn: Army rejections under the 1940 draft are 25 per cent more than they were in 1917, when three-quarters of the area and two-thirds of the population of the United States was under prohibition. Repeal has gotten in its destructive work in steady big licks. Wotta patriotic old pal is the liquor traffic!—Emerson Gildart in The Utica Sentinel.

LABOR AT THE CROSSROADS

Already the signs of labor troubles calculated to delay and impede the progress of the nation's defense and armament program have begun to appear. They appeared in the last World War, but the Government then in authority sought and found power from Congress to make it a penal offense to strike against either the Government or the agencies of the Government engaged in building fighting machines.

To the average man in the street that looks like the common-sense way of handling labor difficulties in war time. If they won't agree, knock their heads together but insist that the work go on. Any questions of union jurisdiction, hours or wages can be settled afterwards.

The apparent difficulty with handling wartime labor troubles in that way now is that Labor is in the saddle. Labor elected the President and most of the members of Congress and Labor know it. It feels that it has the right to ask for whatever it wants and to get it.

We think this is a short-sighted view, which in the end will breed more trouble for organized labor than any quick war benefits which its workers may get from the defense program now under way.—George O. St. Charles in The Dearborn Independent.

Sunday was the occasion of twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Minehart of West Plymouth. Covers were laid for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Miller and family of Northville; Christine Minehart, Jane Wine and Raymond Littlefield of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. August Schroeder and family and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder who motored from Farmington; and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gates and little Avery of Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Minehart were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Archie Wells visited his grandmother, Mrs. Goupelle in Detroit the first of the week.

About forty gathered at Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hallen's home in West Plymouth Saturday to enjoy the excellent dinner served by the Helping Hand. A fine program in charge of Mrs. Ben Tyler was rendered. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peck of Livonia Center are entertaining a young daughter, who arrived at their home January 11.

Jason Root of Kansas City was a guest at the homes of H. D. Peters and Jesse Hake in Livonia Center last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Esch and son, William, visited Mrs. Esch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wolff Sunday.

Don't forget the lecture on "White Slave Traffic" at the church in Newburg this Friday evening, by the Rev. Etta Shaw.

The Epworth League met in the church parlor Sunday night and elected the following officers: President, Ada Youngs; first vice-president, Beatrice Davey; second vice-president, Clyde Smith; third vice-president, Faye H. Ryder; fourth vice-president, Bessie Farley; secretary, Ed Taylor; treasurer, Beulah Ryder; organist, Marion Carson; and chorister, Anna Youngs. They will have installation next Wednesday evening, January 26, in the church parlor. Popcorn, apples and candy will be served and a good social time will be enjoyed.

The people living on the Rosenberg farm in Newburg had a bad scare Tuesday night. They were awakened by hearing a noise around the smoke house. The prowlers had pried the lock off the door when the two women of the house, who were alone at the time, fired a shot from the window and frightened them away. The barn door had also been opened and the horses turned out. The men of the house work in the city and no doubt some one knew of this and took advantage of it. They received a warm reception and probably will not try it again.

OVER 27,000 CLAIMS REPRESENTING About $1,250,000 in Losses

Were Sustained by This Big Company
Because of the Windstorm which Swept Over Michigan November 11, 1940

No other windstorm within the 55 years' experience of the Michigan Mutual Windstorm Insurance Company ever did such great damage in Michigan

CASH ON HAND TO PAY

Carrying a cash reserve on hand, a policy adopted by this progressive company a few years ago, has enabled the policyholders of the Michigan Mutual to always receive checks promptly in payment of their losses. Had it not been for this cash reserve this company would have had to levy an extra large assessment before these losses from the November storm could have been taken care of, causing policyholders to wait months for their pay. Under this cash reserve plan, here is what this big company has been able to do through the work of its competent adjusters and office workers.

ADJUST ALL LOSSES AND PAY ALL CLAIMS PROMPTLY WITHOUT SPECIAL ASSESSMENT

When the thousands of claims came piling into the home office after the storm of last November, our vast force of adjusters and office employees began at once the tremendous task of taking care of losses. While there have been certain delays, they have been in no way the fault of this company or its force. Bad roads and weather have sometimes slowed up the work of our adjusters. The chief obstacle to more rapid adjustments and payments was the overwhelming number of claims filed. Settlement of claims has been made just as rapidly and quickly as was humanly possible.

The progressive policy of this company has been vindicated. It has rendered a service to its policyholders unexcelled by any other windstorm insurance company, and at a minimum loss of time. The management of this company wishes to thank its policyholders for their splendid spirit of cooperation. This company still has a substantial cash reserve and is prepared to take care of its policyholders after the next windstorm.
