

First National Bank Addition Now Completed

Beautiful Interior Follows Modernistic Trend Throughout

Workmen are finishing the final touches on the enlargement and remodeling job which has been in progress at the First National bank during the last few months. With the completion of an addition of 5,120 feet, housing a large bookkeeping office, and a directors' room in the basement, the interior of the building presents one of the most modern appearances found anywhere in Michigan.

Designed by Architect Thomas Moss and built by Richard Widmaier the building is novel in many respects. Customers are greeted upon entrance with a view of new six-foot high, modern counter partitions made by H. R. Penhall, his plant on Ann Arbor road. For customers' convenience a private office and two coupon booths have been constructed. A much larger vault has been installed and Jewell and Blach have equipped the building with a new oil heating system. Fluorescent lighting has been used throughout and asphalt tile has been put on the floor.

Business has been carried on as usual in the bank but, with the completion of the work, a much more satisfactory working condition for the employees and the customers is now available.

At the insistence of federal banking authorities the enlargement was started several months ago. A constant growth during the last five years made it almost impossible for bank officials to do their work under the crowded conditions in the former quarters.

An invitation to all of the residents of Plymouth to visit the bank and see the new interior has been extended by President Floyd Kehrl.

Legion Conducts Defense Survey

An American Legion national defense questionnaire is being circulated among all World War veterans in Plymouth for a survey of their qualifications and capacities for possible service. The indexing and enumeration for national defense purposes being conducted by the American Legion is not restricted solely to membership of the American Legion. Questionnaire blanks may be obtained and filled out at the police department in the city hall before Friday, March 14.

In addition to general information concerning address, number of dependents, education and branch of former war service, the questionnaire covers the most important national defense capacities such as police or fire experience, interpreter ability, as well as the type of present vocation and name of employing firm.

Under the heading of availability for service, a general statement should be made by the registrant stating his present willingness and ability to respond either immediately or after some period of notice to the recruitment and training of defense capacities for which he expresses himself to be qualified. A list of 67 vocations, mechanical, clerical and professional, are listed in which registrants are to check any experience to serve in case of local or national emergency.

Plymouth Couple Conducts Personal Five-Year-Plan Survey of Mexico

"Mexico on a Five-Year-Plan" might be the subject of an economic white paper by a young Plymouth couple should they choose to do so.

When Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ralph Miller, of East Ann Arbor Trail, motored down the Pan-American highway to Mexico City in February 1936, they were doing what few motorists had done before them. For at that time, the famed highway had just been officially opened and was still 30 mountainous miles short of completion.

Enamored of Mexico and vouching further links in the high-speed travel to the south, the Millers decided to return to Mexico each year for five years, to run the length of new roads as they were constructed, to peer into new sections as they were opened to automobile traffic.

The plan, made five years ago, has been faithfully carried out. Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their nine-year-old son Keith returned home after four weeks of motoring that took them 1200 miles below the Rio Grande. This was Keith's second trip, having accompanied his parents on the initial journey.

In the five years, the Millers have visited every important city in Mexico and have motored

Guest Speaker

PROF. C. F. REMER

U. of M. Club to Hold Round-Table

"Conversations in Kiel" will be the topic of Professor C. F. Remer of the University of Michigan who will speak at a round-table discussion, to be sponsored by the local University of Michigan club in the Presbyterian church parlors next Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Following Professor Remer's presentation of the German and general European background of the present war, the subject will be thrown open for discussion by the club members. Claude J. Dykhouse, principal of the Plymouth high school, will preside as chairman of the discussion. A social program will follow the discussion, with Mrs. George A. Smith acting as chairman.

Professor Remer is particularly well fitted to discuss European affairs for he spent a year as director of the Geneva Research Center in 1938-39 while on leave from the University of Michigan. He has been a professor of economics at the university since 1928.

A native of Minnesota, Professor Remer received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Minnesota, and his master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from Harvard. From 1910-12, he served in the bureau of education of the Philippine Islands; instructor in economics at St. John's university, Shanghai, China, from 1912-15; tutor in history, government economics at Harvard from 1923-24; professor of economics at Williams College, Williamstown, Massachusetts from 1924-28, and professor of economics at the University of Michigan since 1928.

He has a wide experience in Far Eastern affairs also, having served as director of the study of international economic relations of China for the Social Science Research Council of New York, a member of the American Economic Mission to the Far East, and a member of the American Advisory Council of Lincang University in Canton, China.

The round-table discussion program is open to members and friends of the U. of M. club in Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens. Founded last year, the U. of M. club now has 118 members. The club staged a highly successful all-college banquet addressed by President Alexander Ruthven of the University of Michigan in January, and the round-table discussion is the first of a series of scheduled educational features to be sponsored by the club during the year, according to Mr. Thomas P. Bateman, president of the club.

Some 10,000 miles over practically every foot of paved highway in the southern republic. They have seen the Mexican peso change from 28 cents in United States currency to last year's all-time low of 16 cents and back to the current 21 cents. They have watched the inevitable changes that came with the influx of American tourists. They witnessed the depression that followed the expropriation of foreign-controlled oil holdings.

They were in Mexico during the throes of the 1940 presidential campaign when revolution seriously threatened. They were conscious of the tranquility that followed Camacho's victory, evidenced on their most recent trip.

On this last trek southward, the Millers proceeded directly to tropical Acapulco, Mexico's southernmost Pacific seaport. After a week there, they returned to Mexico City and went by plane 320 miles southeast to Oaxaca City for three days of exploration among the ruins of Monte Alban which are currently being uncovered.

Mr. Miller, who is a Detroit advertising executive, has filmed most of Mexico in natural color and has more than 2000 feet of 16mm. motion pictures to remind him of their "Five-Year-Plan."

Woman's Club to Celebrate 48th Anniversary

Anniversary Day Program Arranged for Friday, March 7

Forty-eight years ago on March 6, 1893, the Woman's club of Plymouth was organized. Each year since that date the club has been celebrating the founding of its organization. Today the club has nearly 150 active members and several honorary, associate and non-resident members as well.

Next Friday afternoon, March 7, at the Mayflower hotel, the club's forty-eighth anniversary will be celebrated. This meeting will be held at the regular time of 2:15 o'clock in the Crystal room, and will be guest day, so that club members may invite their friends to join them at this Anniversary Day program.

Mrs. J. G. Clemmons of Ann Arbor, well known for the many splendid programs she has presented before numerous clubs and organizations, has been secured by the program committee for this meeting. She will present a "Musical Romance of the Gay Nineties," accompanied by Mrs. M. J. O'Conner, Maricela Martin and Doris Rowland, wearing costumes of the period, will assist Mrs. Clemmons in presenting the program she has planned for this occasion. Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, program chairman for Anniversary Day, will present Mrs. Clemmons, whose unusual program promises to provide a most pleasant afternoon of entertainment.

Following the program, tea will be served from tables decorated in the club's colors, green and white. The committee for the day, with Mrs. Rolfe Smith as tea chairman, includes Mrs. Byron Champion, Mrs. Elton R. Eaton, Mrs. A. L. Lantz, Mrs. J. E. Latture, Mrs. Ralph G. Lorenz, Mrs. H. Poppinger, Mrs. George A. Smith, Mrs. Seth S. Virgo, Mrs. F. A. Vollbrecht and honorary member, Miss Nettie Pelham.

Methodist Church Conducts Drive

The First Methodist church of Plymouth will participate in the Methodist Emergency Million Crusade in a nationwide attempt to raise one million dollars to meet three war-caused appeals. The offering plates of the 43,194 Methodist congregations in the United States will be simultaneously passed on what has been named "Methodism's Day of Compassion," next Sunday, March 2, at 11 a.m. The service will include the celebration of holy communion and the reception of members.

The Rev. Stanford S. Closson explains the three types of appeal that are consolidated in this Good Samaritan movement as follows: "A total of $250,000 is to be allotted to the religious and social well-being of young men in army camps and navy yards. Modest chaplains within these camps will be aided with literature and equipment as needed from the fund. Churches nearby will be helped to meet their enlarged responsibilities in ministering attractively to unusual numbers of youth during the critical hours of their leave. In some cases this fund will provide a general Methodist share in creating interdenominational social and religious centers to sustain and build character."

"Another $250,000 will be devoted to assist the mother church in England in temporarily relieving some of the financial situations involved in 1500 bombed churches. Also, in the south and east of England there are parishes so dangerously located that almost the entire congregations have evacuated, leaving quite unprovided for the pastors who are staying to minister to those who remain. Other urgent needs grow out of the necessity of rescuing"

Planning Group Studies Zoning

The planning commission at its meeting last Monday evening discussed possible changes in the city's zoning ordinance to accommodate the probable demand for a greater industrial area and also changes in residential areas caused by defense activities and the influx of population in Plymouth which may result.

Those present at the meeting included J. Merle Bennett, chairman of the commission, T. Glenn Phillips, planning consultant, George Burr, Mrs. Maude Bennett, Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, Sidney D. Strong, and Miss Hildur Carlson.

Other matters discussed by the planning commission were possible locations for a municipal hospital site, and plans for the possible widening of Tralick avenue and the improvement of property through zoning and proper planning for the street.

Edith Nolte Wins J.C.C. Speech Contest

Edith Nolte, eighth grade student at the Plymouth high school, was awarded first prize in a speech contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday afternoon. She placed first in a field of seven finalists with her speech, "This Democracy of Ours."

Second prize was awarded to Joan Gillis, whose topic was "Democracy, the Will of the People," and Denise Daust received third prize for her speech, "What Is Democracy?"

Judges for the contest were Carvel Bentley, Paul Weatherhead, of the high school, and Charles Wolf, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The contest was offered for students of the eighth grade class of Miss Bryce, social studies teacher. The prize awards were made by Harold Davis, chairman of the Americanism committee of the J.C.C.

Wall Wire Co. Signs Contract With Union

Announcement made yesterday by Thomas Cramb, president of the International Association of Machinists lodge, number 1312, of Plymouth, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, that the first contract has been signed by the Wall Wire Company and union officials.

Negotiations on the contract were started immediately after the election held at the plant on November 28 and throughout this period each point was approved by the union and the company it was immediately put into effect.

The contract features a profit-sharing plan for all employees whereby at the end of each month a substantial share of the profits will be divided among the workers in the plant. Distribution of the January profit-sharing checks was made Wednesday and it gave all of the employees a considerable amount over their regular earnings. The plan is designed so that on the twentieth of each month the amount of profit-sharing will be posted and on the last Wednesday of each month profit-sharing checks will be given out to the employees.

The committee which negotiated for the employees was headed by Union President Thomas Cramb and consisted of the following men: Ward Tracy, Harold Williams, Claude Yoe, John Chubb, Lawrence Wroblewski and Charles Miller. Since the plan has become effective a greater over-all efficiency has been noted throughout the plant and each employee now feels a sense of responsibility in regard to cutting down company waste and costs. Although production supervision and other plant officials were not included in the original profit-sharing plan, the union has made provisions for their sharing in the profits each month.

An international representative of the American Federation of Labor stated after viewing the contract, that he believes it is one of the most fair he has ever seen and that everyone concerned will benefit under the plan.

Wild Life Club Meets Monday

The Western Wayne County Conservation association will hold its monthly meeting next Monday evening, March 4, at 7:30 o'clock in the Hotel Mayflower. Jack Taylor is chairman in charge of the evening's program which will include movies of Alaskan wild life.

The third annual meeting and election of officers of the association will be held on Monday, April 7, Dr. B. E. Champe, president, announces. The present officers of the club include President Champe, Ross Heilmann, vice-president, Bob Merriam, secretary, Jack Taylor, treasurer, and Lisle Alexander, George Hess, Glenn Jewell, Jack Wood, Mark Chaffee, Russell Powell, William Rambo, E. R. Widmaier and Harry Lush, directors.

The club plans to hold two meetings during the month of April. During National Wild Life Week from April 13 to 19, a skeet shoot will be held for club members for which chevrons will be awarded by the national association. Jack VanCoeveering, outdoor editor of The Detroit Free Press, will be guest speaker at that meeting of the club.

New Ball Studio Holds Opening Saturday

The formal opening of the new L. Ball Studio, now located at 659 West Ann Arbor street across Kellogg Park, will be held Saturday. The new studio, which has been completely redecorated, includes a large reception room, private office, camera room, dressing rooms, printing and finishing rooms, complimentary sitting and photo will be given as a favor to all opening day guests.

George Springer, City Constable, Dies at Age of 71

Former Police Chief Was Law Enforcement Officer for 35 Years

George W. Springer, who served as a law enforcement officer in Plymouth for 35 years, died at his home on Mill street last Friday at the age of 71 years following a long illness. Formerly chief of police of this city, Mr. Springer was a constable from the village days to the time of his death. Despite his failing health, he had filed petitions on February 1 of his intentions to seek reelection to the office of constable in the April election.

Born in Plymouth on September 15, 1869, he attended the Plymouth schools, and became the sole law enforcing officer of the village of Plymouth 35 years ago. Starting as a marshal when Louis Hillmer was president of the village, Mr. Springer was later constable, deputy sheriff, truant officer and health officer of the community. His early assistants were Frank Steinable, Charles Millard and Fred Reiman.

In 1914, Charles Thumme, now captain of the Plymouth police department, was sworn in by Ann Hearn at the John L. Gale general store as an official police officer under Mr. Springer. At that time, the site of the village police station was the old municipal electric light plant near the Daisy factory. Captain Thumme is the only present member of the Plymouth police force who

Electric Shop Opens New Store

The Kimbrough Electric shop, operated by Richard L. Kimbrough, and formerly known as the Electric Motor shop, will hold a formal opening of its new modernized store at 868 West Ann Arbor Trail Friday and Saturday. The new store carries a complete line of General Electric appliances and Deep Freeze products.

Opening day features will include many displays and demonstrations of General Electric appliances, and a display of a miniature revolving kitchen showing the development and progress of modern electric kitchen appliances. A cooking demonstration of frozen foods will be given for visitors at the store along with a demonstration of the use of Deep Freeze products.

Mr. Kimbrough has been in the electrical appliance business in Plymouth since 1925, first operating the North Side Electric shop on Liberty street and later the Electric Motor shop at 628 South Main street. The new building, 20x35 feet, offers three times the space of the former store for the display of electric ranges, refrigerators, radios, vacuum cleaners and washing machines.

The new store is equipped with fluorescent lighting, tile ceiling and an asphalt tile floor. In addition to the retail sales room, the store includes a large stock room, a used goods department, and a work shop. The Kimbrough Electric shop specializes in service repair on washing machines, vacuum cleaners and oil burners. An advertisement announcing the formal opening of the new store will be found on another page of The Plymouth Mail.

Ford Sales Marks 20th Anniversary

The Plymouth Motor Sales exclusive Ford-Mercury authorized agency, will celebrate its twentieth anniversary in business in Plymouth, and Paul Wiedman will mark the twentieth year as manager of the agency next Tuesday, March 4.

Starting in business in a small wooden building located on the present site of the Hotel Mayflower at the corner of Main street and West Ann Arbor Trail on March 4, 1921, the Plymouth Motor Sales, under the management of Mr. Wiedman, built its present sales and service office and garage at 470 South Main street in the spring of 1922. There were only four employees when the firm started in business, with one mechanic in the service repair shop. Today the Plymouth Motor Sales includes a staff of 20 employees, with 14 shopmen in the garage.

"We look forward to our best year in business during 1941. To date this year's sales have doubled over the same period for last year," said Manager Wiedman, who has been associated with Ford sales since 1913.

The Plymouth Motor Sales service includes a general repair service for all makes of cars, painting and bumping work, complete Ford accessories and parts, and a 24-hour emergency road service. In addition to a large display room for new Ford and Mercury models.

Church Women Join in Day of Prayer Program

A World Day of Prayer program in which all church women of the community will participate will be held this afternoon (Friday) at 2 o'clock at the First Methodist church. Mrs. W. Carl Rufus of Ann Arbor, mother of Dr. H.C. Rufus of Plymouth, will speak on "Christian Education of Foreign Students." A worship service and special music will complete the program, at which Mrs. S. S. Closson will preside as chairman.

Sixty Compete in Ice Carnival at Newburg Lake

Program Features Series of Skate Championship Races

Sixty contestants competed in Plymouth's second annual ice carnival at Newburg lake last Saturday afternoon. The program of events for local skaters was augmented by a series of championship speed races sponsored by the Southern Michigan Skating Association which the city of Plymouth became a member recently. While there were fewer spectators than last year because of the blustering wind Saturday afternoon, it was generally agreed that the skating and events was superior this year.

Medals were presented by the carnival committee to the first three winners of each event. Local winners in the first series of scheduled events were as follows: 75-yard races for boys and girls, eight and nine years of age: Bruce Besse, first; Edison Whipple, second; Fletcher Campbell, third; Betty Wilson, first; Martha Wilson, second; and Lyle Olson, third; 100-yard races for boys and girls 10 and 11 years of age: Jack Dobbs, first; Lief Johnson, Walter (Continued on page 8)

Submit Plans for Apartment

Plans were submitted to City Engineer S. L. Besse this week for the construction of a multiple apartment building of four suites to be built by Richard L. Widmaier on property owned by Kenneth Corey, on Wing street between Forest and Harvey streets, west of the Perfection Laundry plant.

A special hearing will be held before the Board of Appeals on Monday, March 10, to consider the zoning jurisdiction on the property in question. The proposed apartment is to be built on the west half of lot one, block two, of the C. R. Kellogg addition. According to the city's zoning ordinance, the west half of this block is a Class A residential district, and the east half of the lot is in a Class B area. Apartment buildings are permitted only in Class B areas.

The 80x32-foot apartment building, to be built on the west half of the lot which includes 271x61 feet in all, is estimated at a cost of $8,000. The general plan for the apartment building calls for two two-story apartments in the center section, 32x24 feet, and a single-story four-room apartment in each of the two wings, 24x24 feet, on either side of the center apartments. A wood frame structure with wide siding in a Cape Cod design, the building plan calls for an asphalt composition roof and oil heat with individual radiators in each apartment. Each of the wings will accommodate four rooms, and the center section of the building will include two two-story apartments with large living rooms and combination kitchen and dining downstairs and two bedrooms on the second floor. The building will be soundproofed.

The Wall Wire Products Company is figuring on many other government contracts for defense projects and is now making fixtures for airplane parts for the Chinese Aircraft corporation of China.

Legionnaires Honor Retiring Commander

Legionnaires will gather for a stag party at the Legion hall in Newburg next Tuesday night, March 4 at 6:30 o'clock in honor of retiring commander, George McIntyre, who will have next week to take up residence in Tennessee. The new commander of the Plymouth Post of the American Legion is Harry Hosbach.

Did You Know That

The members of the Plymouth Townsend club are planning a pancake supper for Thursday evening, March 13, in the Grange hall. Watch next week's Plymouth Mail for further details.

Eight-year-old Billy Farwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Farwell of Adams street, who has been confined to the University hospital in Ann Arbor for the last four weeks with complications and pneumonia following the measles, is reported sufficiently improved to be removed from the critical list. Billy's many friends hope that he will be able to return to his home soon.

City Commission Revises Proposed Sign Ordinance

Special Hearing on Revised Ordinance Monday, March 10

Several revisions in the city's proposed sign ordinance were made at a special meeting of the city commission last Monday night, and the date for a special public hearing on the revised ordinance was set for Monday night, March 10. The proposed ordinance has passed its first and second readings but before it is ready for final passage, the revised proposal will have to be re-read.

It is expected that the proposed trailer and tourist camp ordinance which the commission has completed its study will be ready for its first and second readings at the next regular meeting of the commission next Monday evening.

The sign ordinance was changed to eliminate provisions from the ordinance governing signs less than two square feet in area and not projecting more than one foot over building lines on public property. This change will permit small telephone signs and professional men's office signs.

The original draft of the ordinance was changed to add a provision for notice to owners of projecting advertising signs before action is taken to remove them. The revised ordinance provides that "no advertising device shall be erected to project over any street or other public property or beyond the building line more than one foot. When any advertising device is found in such condition as to make it immediately dangerous, he is to notify the owner of such condition. If the owner fails to comply within 24 hours the building inspector shall declare the sign a public nuisance and order its removal."

The present ordinance eliminates the five-year provision entirely for non-conforming signs. The ordinance is to be one of future restriction only.

The following section was added to the ordinance: "This ordinance is not to be construed to relieve from or lessen the responsibility or liability of any person owning, operating, controlling, installing or maintaining any sign or advertising device for damages to persons or property caused by any defect in material or workmanship. No shall the city of Plymouth and its officials be held as assuming any such liability by reason of the inspection authorized herein."

Wall Wire Co. Has Government Order

The Wall Wire Products Company of Plymouth received a large government order for United States Navy equipment last week. Ross V. Heilmann, vice-president of the company, announced yesterday. This is the first government contract to be filled by the company since it has been located in Plymouth. The contract calls for a large quantity of stainless steel baskets to hold food compartment trays for use in ship galleys and dining rooms. The first release of 1500 baskets, a sample order, is due for delivery by May 15.

Material for the manufacture of the products has been ordered and will require several weeks for delivery according to Mr. Heilmann. The order for material carries a government priority. All tooling for the job will be designed and built by the Wall Wire plant.

The Wall Wire Products company is figuring on many other government contracts for defense projects and is now making fixtures for airplane parts for the Chinese Aircraft corporation of China.

Church of God Plans Revival Meetings

A series of revival meetings will be conducted by the Rev. Hollie McLanahan of Middleton, Ohio, at the Church of God, 233 North Main street, beginning Sunday evening, March 2 at 7:30 o'clock and continuing every night for two or three weeks.

Known as "The Walking Bible" because of his ability to quote from memory verse after verse of the Bible, the Rev. McLanahan also plays a musical saw. He will be assisted by quartets, duets and solos. The Rev. Clifford Funk, pastor of the Church of God, announces that the "Singing Star Quartette" will also be featured.

PROVES PAPER'S READERS

David Galin, proprietor of the Purify Market, reports that he never realized how many persons read the advertisements in The Plymouth Mail, until his store was besieged with customers last Saturday to buy his special on Pet or Carnation milk. By an error the special was advertised at 4 cents for 19 cents. It should have read three cans for 20 cents.

Andrew Sambrone to Manage Hotel Northville

Andrew Sambrone, manager of the Andover hotel in Plymouth, announces the opening Saturday of the Hotel Northville under his management. Located on the Northville road at the entrance to the city, the 20-room hotel has been completely remodeled, with a new dining room, bar and lounge. Residents of Plymouth are cordially invited by Manager Sambrone to inspect the new remodeled Hotel Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wallace, 616 Dodge street, announce the arrival of a son, Douglas Henry, at Plymouth hospital, Wednesday, February 10. He weighed eight pounds and five ounces and both mother and son are doing nicely.

Church News

FIRST METHODIST, Stanford S. Closson, minister. We desire to serve those who choose to espouse us. This Sunday, March 2, will be observed throughout American Methodism as a Day of Compassion in behalf of a stricken and needy world. A Good Samaritan Offering of a million dollars will be taken in the more than 40,000 churches throughout the country. Plymouth Methodists are asked to come prepared to make their contribution to this emergency fund. 10 a.m. Sunday school, 11 a.m. church service. Holy Communion and reception of members. Junior church and nursery care for the children every Sunday. The pastor's sermon theme will be "Moved With Compassion" and the talk to the children will be on "Sharing." 6 p.m. Epworth League for youth, 7:30 p.m. evening service. Monday 8 p.m. official board meeting at the parsonage. Wednesday, 7:30, executive committee of the Woman's Society at the home of Mrs. Joseph Witwer, 593 Edison. Thursday, 6:30, the second in the series of Lenten mid-week supper gatherings. Supper is potluck with a devotional hour following while still seated about the tables. Music will be furnished by the choir and the speaker will be Rev. William E. Harrison, our district superintendent. Everyone is cordially invited to these suppers and those who cannot come for the supper will be welcome at 7:30 for the service. Thursday, 3:30, junior choir rehearsal. Thursday, 8:30 the senior choir will rehearse following the mid-week supper service. The new Youth Girls Choir rehearses Sunday mornings at the Sunday school hour at 10 o'clock. They will be making an appearance in the near future. Friday, February 7 doughnut and cookie sale by the Woman's Society. Call Mrs. Squires, telephone 353, for orders. Deliveries will be made.

ASSEMBLIES OF GOD. Did you know that in an audience of 4,875 people it was found that only 23 persons came to Christ after they were 30 years of age, 400 came to Christ under 10 years of age, 600 came to Christ between 10 and 12 years of age, 600 came to Christ between 12 and 14 years of age, 1000 came to Christ between 14 and 16 years of age and 2,250 came to Christ under 20 years of age. In the entire audience 500 were ministers. The majority were converted before they were 16 years of age, 40 of them between 16 and 20; and only 15 of the entire 500 ministers present were converted after they reached 20. This in itself is an unanswerable argument in favor of attending Sunday school at Berea Chapel, located at Ann Arbor trail and Mill street, next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Morning worship will be at 11 o'clock with Rev. John Walaskay, the pastor speaking. Christ's Ambassadors meet at 6:30 p.m. and evening service at 7:30 with Rev. Sanford E. Cook speaking. The ladies' prayer meeting will meet this Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Groom at 6060 Canton Center road.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service 8:00. "Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 2. The golden text (Isaiah 9: 6, 7) is: "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given . . . Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth ever for ever." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Jeremiah 23: 5): "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 482): "Jesus was the highest human concept of the perfect man. He was inseparable from Christ, the Messiah—the divine idea of God outside the flesh."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN Church. Walter Nichol, pastor. 10 a.m. Sunday school; 11 a.m., church worship. The sermon Sunday morning will consider "The Cure of Spiritual Lethargy." Indifference presents a chief obstacle to the progress of christian truth. To what extent is it an obstacle to us, and how shall we meet it? The Boy Scouts will meet on Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Scout room. There will be a joint meeting of the Session and Board of trustees and the Every Person Visitation committee at the church Wednesday, March 5. It is to be a supper meeting. The men will assemble at 6:30, enjoy a good meal together and go at once into this important business meeting. Plant Food Is Key to Beautiful Lawn

(By the Master Gardener)

Sure, you had a fine lawn several years ago. But what sort of an appearance did it present when it went into dormancy last fall? Weeds, bare spots, patchy grass, a patchwork quilt? And you wonder what the matter is?

Let's take a look at the picture presented last fall by your neighbor's lawn across the way—smooth, velvety, weedless—a stretch of green that delighted the eye. "Now, he started his lawn the same year I did," you say. "He had the same landscape gardener make the lawn—the same grade of seed, same treatment until the lawn became well established, insofar as mowing and watering were concerned."

And after the lawn became well established? Oh, yes, you rolled, you watered, you reseeded, you mowed the lawn properly.

But, did you feed the lawn? Your neighbor did. He used a complete balanced plant food, and he has made both a spring and fall feeding annually. Of course your lawn is a failure and your neighbor's a success; he knows that grass must have ample nourishment readily available at all times.

If you want a good lawn you will have to replace constantly the fertility that the growing grass removes from the soil. And the easiest, most economical method to replace this fertility is to apply a complete balanced plant food to the lawn area.

It does not pay to slight feeding. Your lawn will soon deteriorate if you do. Feed your lawn this spring. Apply the plant food early, before the frost is out of the ground, and before the grass starts growth. Research and experiment have shown this early feeding is especially beneficial, particularly to a weedy lawn. It enables the grass to get an early vigorous start, crowding out the weeds, which begin growth later than grass.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wesley and baby daughter of Highland Park were Sunday guests at the William Martins.

New Spring Millinery Fashions

Millady will wear flowers in her hair this Spring similar to this small saucer hat trimmed with violets and veil.

This straight-set skimmer in the fashion of 1910 styles is trimmed with a veil tied under the chin.

It's "Anchors Aweigh" in this popular gob-bet which follows the patriotic trend.

Elaborate Flower Trimming Adds Femininity to New Spring Hats

A millinery shop this spring looks more like a flower show than a place to buy a new hat. Fashion decrees that you shall look ever so feminine this season in an all-over flower hat covered with violets, roses, or daisies, or in a flat sailor hat with a single flower or a corsage combination perked straight up in front in the manner of the 1910 style.

Mrs. Norma Cassidy is featuring a collection of flower and veil trimmings to dress up spring hats and costumes. Her collection includes red velvet geraniums, velvet roses in dusty rose, pink, red and white colors, elegant-looking orchids, poppies, daisies, and blue cornflowers. Both nose-veils and veils which fall over the face and are tied under the chin are popular this season.

Clusters of fruit cover the crown of many of the small pan-cake or saucer hats. A piece-de-resistance now on display at the Cassidy Dress Shop is a little navy felt, the size of a small tea saucer, topped with a bunch of fruit and a veil. This miniature creation is the smallest of the small.

Natural beige is a color which features prominently this spring to replace even traditional black. Leading style contenders are the new gob-bet hats trimmed with military emblems, straw sailors and straight-set skimmers, postillions, derbies and helmets, large Mexican gaucho hats of rough straw trimmed with gay silk jersey prints, little flower-covered saucers, and turbans.

"Vogue tells us that the one unparadiseable way to wear a hat this season is to tilt it over one eyebrow. The newest style is the hat that sits straight as a die on the head. While previewing the styles and buying new hats at the wholesale houses recently, I observed that the new hats are cut on straight lines and must be worn accordingly," said Mrs. Cassidy.

For you women who will be going in search of a new spring hat soon as a chaser for the late winter-doldrums, we are passing on some valuable hints: First, never buy a hat just by looking at the front view. Look in a three-way mirror with the aid of a hand mirror to view the effect from the sides and particularly the back. Another important rule is to never buy a hat while sitting. Before making a final selection, one should stand before a full-length mirror to determine if the hat is suitable to her general proportions. What looks well in a small table mirror may look too heavy or pin-headed in the full picture.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Blunk entertained at dinner, Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Blunk and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lundquist, in their home on Ann street.

Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mrs. Lawrence Lyon and Mrs. Sidney D. Strong attended the luncheon of the Fort Ponchartrain chapter given, Friday, in the Ingleside club.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers entertained the following relatives, Sunday: Mrs. D. A. Davidson, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Sterling, and a little daughter Nancy of Dearborn Hills, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes and daughters, Kathryn and Barbara Jean, of Detroit.

Mrs. C. E. Elliott, Mrs. William Wernett, Mrs. Carl Shear, Mrs. D. Branigan and Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, members of the Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association attended the free course in landscaping, held Tuesday and Wednesday in the auditorium of the J. L. Hudson company, under the direction of Robert S. Sturtevant, of Nashville, Tennessee. Mr. Sturtevant is a nationally known lecturer on horticulture, teacher and landscape architect and was sponsored by the Michigan Horticultural society and the Detroit Garden Center, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lee E. Joslyn, Jr., lecture chairman for the society.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dundas of Peoria, Illinois, spent the last two weeks as guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Austin and daughter, Shirley, attended the fortieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rynd, of Clinton, held Sunday in their home. Mrs. Rynd is a sister of Mrs. Brown.

The many friends of Mrs. Eleanor Warner will be sorry to learn that she fell Friday and broke her left hip. This is the third break in that same limb. Mrs. Mary Fournier of Caro is aiding her cousin, Miss Bertha Warner, to care for her mother. Mrs. Warner is 87 years old.

Mrs. Ralph Drews and brother, Wallace Moore, of Dearborn, returned Saturday from attending the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Rose Slater, of Circleville, Ohio, who passed away February 12 at the age of 85 years. While away, they visited relatives in Mount Sterling, Washington Court House and Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dunham of Belleville, formerly of Plymouth, announce the marriage of their daughter, Nancy Elizabeth, to Eugene Wilson, son of Mrs. Bertha Wilson, of Cass City, on February 15. They will reside in Cass City and they have the best wishes of their many Plymouth friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beckwith, Ann street, entertained Sunday in honor of their son, Earl, who will leave Sunday for Fort Sheridan, Illinois, as a member of the 210th Coast Artillery. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Richards and sons, George Jr. and Thomas, of Saginaw; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw and daughter, Sandra, Miss Irene Beckwith and George Squires, all of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. America Live Out-of-Doors

(By the Master Gardener)

Soon Mr. and Mrs. America and all their progeny are going to begin the exodus out of doors. It's the pioneer strain still cropping out in all of us that explains the call outdoors holds for us as a nation.

You need not go far afield to satisfy this urge for outdoor living, not if you are a sensible gardener who makes provision in his landscape and gardening plans for a comfortable outdoor living room and play space.

Get the family busy building an outdoor barbecue. If space makes this impracticable, have a special nook that is reserved for outdoor meals, in a location that isn't so far from the center of preparation that trudging back and forth with dishes and food becomes not fun, but drudgery.

Provide comfortable chairs, a hammock, a grass tennis or badminton court.

But for utmost enjoyment of your outdoor living area, make

Garden Clubs Plan Luncheon Mar. 10

City Reduces Bonded Indebtedness More Than $200,000 in Last Five Years

The bonded indebtedness of the city of Plymouth has been reduced more than $200,000 during the last five years, making a per capita difference of $45.70. In January, 1936, the city's total indebtedness including land contracts outstanding amounted to $313,750. With an estimated population of 4800 persons at that time, the per capita debt was $65.36. By June 30, 1941, the city's total obligations will stand at $105,000 or only $19.66 per capita based on a population of 5340.

These facts were brought out in a talk on city administration given by City Manager C. H. Elliott last week at a meeting of the class in "Home Planning and Building" being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the high school.

The tax levy on a slightly above-average home assessed at $3,000 figures $38.50. A breakdown of an individual tax payment shows that 10 cents of the total levy goes for city planning including the surveys and studies made by the planning commission; $1 for maintenance of parks; $2 for street maintenance and repairs; $2 for car expense, equipment, replacements and repairs; $1.25 for sewer expense; $1.50 for fire protection; $5.50 for police protection; $2.50 for garbage collection; $3.75 for street lighting; $4.50 for the city's share toward general improvements; $7.50 for bonds and interest; and $6.80 for the general fund which includes assessing, accounting, auditing, health, and recreation, Mr. Elliott stated.

Urging the building of homes within the city, the speaker pointed out that home-owners outside of the city obtain no fire or police protection, and must therefore pay double insurance, and must pay higher water rates and heavy assessments for improvements. At the same time, those living in outlying sections benefit from the services afforded by the city, declared Mr. Elliott.

A sand blasted in the West advertised that he "launders" high buildings. In twenty years in the business, he has yet to return the wrong sky scraper.

Daisy Employees Stage Minstrel Show Program

The Daisy association held its regular meeting, Wednesday night in the Jewell and Blain hall. Following the business meeting, the employees invited their families to an evening of entertainment.

Fifteen of the Daisy girls put on a minstrel show under the direction of Bessie Sallow, with Mary Lou Wright as interlocutor. Flora Gust as Mrs. Husky and Mildred Gilbert as Mrs. Dusky, accompanied at the piano by Wenona Stout, staged a very clever dialogue. Everyone enjoyed the excellent program.

Kelly Delivers Americanism Talk

In an Americanism address at the Plymouth high school last Thursday evening, Raymond J. Kelly, past national commander of the American Legion, explaining the meaning of this country must build its defense with a larger navy and air force, and better equipment and at the same time, must extend all-out aid to Britain.

"The American Legion has for years been working for peace but for larger defense preparations. At the Boston national convention of the American Legion last fall, a resolution was passed to urge Congress to give all-out aid to Britain short of war," declared Kelly, who agreed that England is our first line of defense.

Stating that corrupt politics was the cause of France's fall and that lack of understanding was the real cause of the fifth column in Norway, Kelly emphasized the need for vigilance in this country. He stated that this country is in a worse condition internally than France.

The Americanism meeting was sponsored by the Myron H. Beals post No. 32, of the American Legion and the Legion auxiliary. Harold Owen, commander of the seventeenth district and chairman of the Americanism committee, and Mrs. Harry Terry, chairman of the Americanism group of the ladies' auxiliary, were co-chairmen of the meeting.

Aged Clipping Found in Root Family Bible

A clipping tracing the history of the "snow apple" tree was found last week by Dr. H. J. Briscoe in a family Bible belonging to Mrs. Carman Root of West Ann Arbor road. Mrs. Jared Fairman, grandmother of Mrs. Root, set out a snow apple tree in 1828. The original snow apple tree, now 70 years old, is a production of Oakland County, Michigan. It still bears fruit. The tree was planted by Apollis Dewey on his farm between Birmingham and Pontiac, and the experiment of grafting brought forth a new apple, which, for lack of any other name, was styled the "snow apple." It is related in the newspaper clipping now worn yellow with age.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Evans entertained 18 guests from Monroe and Plymouth Saturday evening for dinner, followed by bridge. The color scheme was red, white and blue for the table decorations and favors.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Foster, son, Malcolm and daughter, Sharon, and Mrs. Merle Stinson of Adrian, are to be dinner guests, Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown, on Amelia street. Mrs. Stinson plans to remain for a week.

Of course, by "right way" we mean Jamesway. Jamesway water chickens are galvanized after fabrication and are the finest you can buy. These waterers are easily filled and cleaned and they can't leak or flood.

When you provide your chicks with a Jamesway waterer you provide them with sanitary drinking conditions, with water that stays clean and fresh a longer time, and with plenty of water to care for an entire flock.

Jamesway Chick Waterers are made in a range of capacities from 4 quarts to 3 gallons and accommodate from 25 to 250 chicks. The 3 gallon waterer has a copper float to control water level. Every waterer is made from heavy copper treated black sheets "Galvanized After Fabrication" for longer life and strength.

Come in and see these waterers and learn why the Jamesway is the right way to water chicks. We also have a complete line of Jamesway Baby Chick equipment including the Jamesway Oil Burning Brooder Stove—the world's finest brooder.

Home Building Class Meets Tuesday, March 4

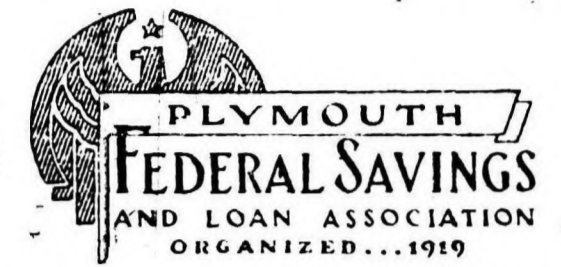

A representative of the Plymouth Lumber and Coal company will speak on "Building the Home" at the next meeting of the class in home planning and building, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday evening, March 4, at 7:30 o'clock.

"Selecting a Site and Planning the Home" was the topic at last week's meeting, at which Sidney D. Strong and Thomas Moss appeared as guest speakers. The series of six weeks' classes is being sponsored by the civic affairs committee of the J.C.C.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dear mother and wife, Elizabeth Zielasko, who passed away one year ago February 22, 1940. Sadly missed by her children and husband.

George Springer Dies at Age of 71

worked under Constable Springer.

Mr. Springer served as chief of police in Plymouth for 12 years until 1931 when he was succeeded by Chief Vaughan R. Smith. He was a charter member of the Police Chief's association.

Known for his excellent work in many police cases, one of the most outstanding was his capture of armed bandits in a Pere Marquette box car who were convicted of the robbery of the Howell post office. During his administration as chief of police, in 1931, he drew commendation from Circuit Judge James E. Chenot for his work in convicting robbers of the Plymouth United Savings bank. Commending him upon the thoroughness with which the case was prepared for trial before coming into court with all available witnesses, Judge Chenot wrote his appreciation in a letter to the former chief. "Your work in this case evidences a devotion to duty and a thoroughness which is seldom seen in criminal court."

Funeral services were held from the Schrader Funeral home Monday afternoon, with the Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Pallbearers included William Gayde, Otto Beyer, Oliver Goldsmith, John Shackleton, Henry Fisher and Sidney D. Strong. Two beautiful hymns were rendered by Mrs. M. J. O'Connor at the organ. Interment was made in the Riverside mausoleum.

Survivors include his widow, Helen; a son, Harvey C. of Plymouth; a granddaughter, Helen Jane; two brothers, John of Glennie, Michigan, and William of Detroit; and four sisters, Mrs. Nettie Stewart of Peru, Indiana; Mrs. May Wilkinson of Canandaigua, New York; Mrs. Lucy Stewart of Detroit, and Mrs. Alice Gates of San Diego, California. Mr. Springer was a member of Plymouth Rock Lodge, No. 47, F. & A. M. and of Tonquish Lodge, No. 32, I. O. O. F.

Announcement

The formal opening of the new

L. L. BALL PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO

SATURDAY, MARCH 1st, 1941

The Studio is located right at the east point of Kellogg Park at

and you are invited to attend, inspect and get acquainted with some of the features that are associated with the new Studio and its location.

"Better Photographs"

... has been our motto for years, but we have never before been confronted with the opportunity, the convenience and the spirit to put as much effort in our work as we are now in our own permanent location—so we should and will produce a still better quality of work.

Family and Wedding Groups

For the past 17 years we have been somewhat handicapped on handling groups of more than eight people; now, in our new Studio we can accommodate more than double that number without congestion.

SPECIAL

We give special attention to the photographing of babies and children and the knowledge of child psychology makes the producing of outstanding BABY PHOTOGRAPHS easy... Notice some of our samples of babies and you will be more than convinced.

Portraits of Character

Portraits of men and women are poor examples of photography if they do not possess the characteristics of the individual... We take special pride in claiming to produce and retain in our finished work those most important lines of expression that go to make your portrait a portrait of character.

Opening and Favors

We trust you will not overlook the address of our new location and the date of our opening, Saturday, March 1 and that you will be ready when your turn comes for the complimentary sitting and photo we are giving as favors to all adult guests.

Easter Seals Aid Crippled Children

Governor Murray D. Van Wageningen issued an endorsement of the eighth annual Easter seal campaign sponsored by the Michigan Society for Crippled Children from March 21 to April 13.

"It is particularly appropriate that the effort to obtain public support for the work should be linked to one of the most important events in the Christian calendar, suggesting the hope and ambition of suffering humanity over mortal afflictions.

"It is my hope that the work of restoring crippled boys and girls to useful citizenship, at the same time relieving their suffering, may continue on an ever-expanding plane. All citizens of Michigan can well be proud that such a fine, humanitarian program is being carried on within their state.

"As Governor of Michigan, I share that pride and herewith urge a full measure of support for the Easter Seal sale and the program of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children. May I urge your support?"

Townsendites Receive Report on Legislation

Representative James F. O'Connor of Montana, Townsend leader in the house of representatives, has promised Townsend club members that if the Townsend Plan bill committee hearing has not started by March 1, he will start a petition among house members to secure such a hearing. A steering committee under the chairmanship of Congressman O'Connor will map plans for an aggressive program this session.

At their meeting last Monday night, local Townsendites discussed plans for a pancake supper to be held soon, and details will be discussed at the meeting next Monday evening in the Grange hall.

certain British Methodist missionary personnel and projects which are in jeopardy," stated Rev. Closson.

The additional $500,000 will continue and supplement the Methodist overseas relief now in progress; feeding, clothing and sheltering non-combatant war victims.

Since war conditions make added demands on all regular missionary and philanthropic funds both the national and local leaders of this campaign emphasize that this is an emergency offering and must not be allowed to block the flow of giving to the regular world service activities of the church or the result will be the creation of new and equally serious problems.

The national movement is being led by Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, retired, of Washington, D. C., who is supported by the Methodist Emergency Commission, composed of all the bishops and a representative number of prominent Methodist laymen and ministers from all the six jurisdictions of the church. Dr. Orin W. Fifer is executive secretary and Dr. Elmer T. Clark, formerly of Nashville, Tennessee, is handling the promotion.

Sixty Compete in Ice Carnival

Trucks, Margie Bassett, Betty Wilson and Martha Wilson; 200-yard dash for 10-, 12- and 13-year-olds: Richard Vaughn, Roy Bennett, Harold Johnson, Leola Laughlin, Eleanor Hart and Elizabeth Brandt.

The 220-yard dash for girls, 14 and 15 years old: Lois Vetal, Katherine Trinka, and Marjorie Stitt; 440-yard dash for boys, 14 and 15 years old: Dale Wisley, Jim Ward and Duane Johnson; 220-yard dash for girls, 16 and 17 years of age: Cecelia Ballen, Ruth Popovich and Leona Bakhaus; 440-yard dash for boys, 17 years old: Bob Hooper, Robert Blanchard, and Vernon Rorabacher.

Andrew Krensch captured first place in the half-mile open race with John Liess and Jim Ward placing second and third respectively. First prize in the fancy skating division went to Glenn Ford; Geraldine Savage, second; and Bernadine Noragrove, third.

An outstanding feature of the carnival was an exhibition of figure skating by Mr. and Mrs. Grikshoff of Detroit. Mrs. Grikshoff is the former Phyllis Rorabacher of Plymouth.

Vincent Bozich, 24-year-old Detroit, won four out of five races to take the Southern Michigan men's ice speed skating championship. It marked the red-headed state champion's fifth victory in six meets. Bonnie Doyle of Saginaw, senior women's state titleholder, staged a comeback triumph in her class. Dorothy Koinis of Saginaw bettered the former half mile record of 1:40.2 by skating the eight-lap track in 1:32.6.

Bozich swept the 440, half-mile, mile and two-mile races for a total of 125 points to 65 for Jim Thomson, his nearest rival. Thomson had two seconds and a tie for third. Terry Browne of Detroit was third in the senior men's class with 50 points. The races were marked by several spills because of the strong west wind which threw skaters off balance on the back stretch.

Through the courtesy of Miss Lila Neuenfelt, circuit court nominee, officials had the use of a sound car for announcing the events and the winners.

Members of the local ice carnival committee included Austin Wilson, general chairman; J. Marie Bennett, Miss Clara Taylor, S. L. Roscoe, A. S. Matulis, Ezra Rorabacher and Seth Viro. Assisting in the plans was Benjamin Bagdad, secretary-treasurer of the Southern Michigan association.

Study Revision of License Fees

Two years ago Representative Victor Knox introduced in the legislature a bill that would provide that automobile license fees should be based on a pro rata basis depending on the number of months remaining in the calendar year at the time of application for registration is made.

At his request the secretary of state's office made a study as to the effect of such legislation upon the plate revenue collected from motorists. If the motorist would register his car next year in the same manner as last year, under such a plan it would result in reduced revenues of between two million dollars and two and one-half million dollars. This would mean a reduction in the amount of weight taxes now distributed to the various counties for road purposes, but could be amply offset by increasing the county allotment from present increased gas tax collections now only receive $2,550,000 from the gas tax collected. The legislature in 1934 passed the present act under which they receive this amount.

The 1934 gas tax collections were approximately 22 million dollars. The 1940 collections were 24 million, an increase of 12 million dollars.

It seems to the secretary of state's office that it would be advisable for the legislature to give very serious consideration to not only the pro-rating of license fees but also to what added distribution of gas tax monies should now be made to counties in view of the increased gas tax revenue.

Michigan laws provide for the use of the old plates can be used on a car but does not provide by law when the new plate shall go on sale and be placed on the car. Practically every state in the Union does so provide and the secretary of state's office believes Michigan should definitely provide for this period by law.

Kiwanis Members Enjoy Movies

Members of the Kiwanis club enjoyed a movie, "Old Man River," depicting the part river traffic plays in production and power and illustrating the progress made in flood control and power dams, at the regular meeting of the club Tuesday evening.

Carvel Bentley was program chairman for the evening.

Wednesday the Kiwanis club was host to 50 Cub Scouts at the Shrine Circus in Detroit.

Julius Kaiser, chairman of the program for next week's meeting of the Kiwanis club, announced that the guest speaker will be Lieutenant Colonel Riley of the Reserve Officers Training Corps of the University of Michigan.

"M" Engineering Alumni Plan Reunion March 29

Governor Murray D. Van Wageningen, President Alexander G. Ruthven and Dean Ivan C. Crawford, of the University's college of Engineering, will be the featured speakers at a reunion of engineering alumni of the University of Michigan to be held at Ann Arbor March 29. While the reunion program is being planned especially for engineering graduates residing in Michigan and nearby states, it is hoped that many from other sections of the country will be present.

Electricity milks the cows for Charles Stade

CHEAPER THAN MILKING BY HAND

ELECTRIC MILKERS give the farmer extra hands when he needs them most. And farmers who have tried both ways will tell you every time that it's cheaper to milk cows electrically than by hand. Here is how Mr. Stade figures it:

"Milking my 18 cows by hand would take one man four hours of real labor every day in the year. If I had to hire a farm hand to do it, that would cost a good chunk of money each month.

"This electric milker does the job better and for about 4c worth of electricity a day. It saves me a lot of hard work as well as time and money."

—Charles Stade, Macomb County.

Gives Talk on Fingerprinting

A history of fingerprints and the benefits to be derived from universal civilian fingerprinting were outlined in a speech by Captain Charles Thumme of the Plymouth police department sponsored by the men's study group of the First Baptist church last Thursday evening.

"A fingerprint is a reproduction on some surface of the pattern or design formed by the ridges of the first joint of a finger or thumb. The different patterns are arch, tented, arch radial and ulnar loops, whorls, central pocket loops, lateral pocket loops, twinned loops and accidentals," explained Captain Thumme, who stated that fingerprints are the only positive method of identification.

Fingerprints, the speaker explained, cannot be disguised, counterfeited or worn out, and there are no duplicates. Fingerprints left at the scene of a crime convict the guilty, but they also acquit the innocent. Stating that the United States government has been using fingerprints for many years in the army, navy, marine corps, immigration service, and most recently, in recording positive identification of aliens and draft registrants, Captain Thumme urged the adoption of compulsory universal fingerprinting of civilians.

"We have in the United States an average of 46,000 unknown dead annually, at a cost to the taxpayer of about $150 each. We have over 80,000 missing persons annually. If we had universal fingerprinting with complete files of all persons in the United States, civilian as well as criminal, these unknown or missing persons might easily be identified. Universal fingerprinting would eliminate 'bad check' losses which amount to seven millions of dollars annually, bigamy, substitution of corpses for the body of another, and the problem of identifying amnesia victims."

"Fingerprints are your blueprints, your passports to freedom and citizenship. It is the positive patriotic way of identification," concluded the speaker.

No. 289,699
At a session of the Probate Court for said County of Wayne, held at the Probate Court Room in the City of Detroit, on the nineteenth day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-one.

Present PATRICK H. O'BRIEN, Judge of Probate.
In the Matter of the Estate of WILLIAM ROBINSON, Deceased.
On reading and filing the petition of Edith G. Wibel praying that administration of said estate be granted to Maud M. Bennett or some other suitable person: It is ordered That the twentieth day of March, next at ten o'clock in the forenoon at said Court Room be appointed for hearing said petition.

And it is further Ordered, That a copy of this order be published three successive weeks previous to said time of hearing, in the Plymouth Mail, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Wayne.
PATRICK H. O'BRIEN, Judge of Probate.

Plans for the construction of a canal through the Isthmus of Panama were proposed more than four centuries ago, says a study issued by the Columbia University Press. Alvaro de Saavedra Ceron, a companion of Balboa at Darien and subsequently a lieutenant of Cortes, is generally credited with being the first to suggest the project. Between 1517 and 1529 Ceron is supposed to have engaged in extensive surveys which led him to urge the practicality of routes closely approximating those most frequently recommended by later engineers.

NOTICE To Property Owners Water Main

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held in the Commission Chamber at the City Hall on Monday, March 3, 1941, at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of determining whether or not to construct a water main on Arthur street, between Blanche street and Junction avenue. (This work to be done by the City water department).

All property owners whose property abuts the said improvement will be given ample opportunity to participate in said hearing.

C. H. Elliott
City Clerk
Feb. 21 and 28, 1941

Cribbage Champion

Miss Kay Butterfield will defend her championship title at the National Cribbage tournament to be held in St. Paul on March 1 to 3. Four thousand players are expected to compete for $1,000 in prizes.

The San Francisco earthquake occurred on April 18, 1906, the main shock being felt at about 5:13 in the morning. Fire broke out almost immediately. The water service was impaired and for three days the fire raged in the heart of the business section. The property loss was estimated at over $200,000,000. About a third of the city was laid in ruins. About 250,000 people were rendered homeless, and the loss of life was placed at 452.

American History in Recent Novels

American history figures largely in a selection of new novels which Mrs. Ada Murray announces are now on the shelf at the Plymouth branch of the Wayne county library.

"Artillery of Time," by C. P. Smith is a homely up-state New York Yankee novel of the 1850's. "An American, Sir," by Corwin Root relates a historical romance of the war of 1812, and "Thread of Scarlet" by Williams is laid in Nantucket during the War of 1812.

"A Sea Island Lady," by Francis Griswold, a story of the Civil War period, concerns a heroine who marries first a carpet-bagger and later takes as her second husband a member of one of Beaufort's aristocratic families.

August W. Derleth draws heavily from the history of his native Wisconsin in his latest novel, "Bright Journey," which concerns Mackinac Island and the early fur trade in Wisconsin. The rich fertile land along the coast of North Carolina is the scene of "Raleigh's Eden," by Fletcher.

"If Not Victory," by Hough concerns a 19-year-old Quaker who, driven to despair by the conditions of war in his home region, deserts his Quaker family and throws himself wholeheartedly into the struggle.

Truth is so great a perfection, that if God would render Himself to men, He would choose light for His body, and truth for His soul.—Pythagoras.

An electric eraser is now made with a hollow shaft in which a seven-inch eraser is used. Frequent changing of erasers is eliminated—a chuck at the lower end permits the rubber to be fed out as it wears.

Traffic Violators Attend School

Officers German and Dunn of the public safety bureau of the Detroit police department instructed a class of 94 traffic violators at the Monday evening class of the traffic school at the Detroit House of Correction.

Stressing the fact that education is more important than enforcement, Officer German declared that safe driving is a voluntary obligation and that drivers will observe traffic rules only when they themselves are convinced of their individual duty to preserve life and property.

Movies of naval and submarine schools of the United States government were shown following the safety lectures.

"Tommy," inmate lecturer at the traffic school, reports that statistics from 26 states show an increase in licenses issued for 1941 of nine per cent for pleasure cars and seven per cent for trucks. Accident fatalities in Detroit to date are three percent less than in 1940. The probable national fatality increase over 1940 is estimated at 2.7 percent this year, according to the National Safety Council.

Dorcas and Welfare Federation Plans Red Cross Defense Aid

At a recent Dorcas and Welfare Federation meeting held in the Grand River Seventh Day Adventist church, plans were laid for participation in the Red Cross defense program. The local branch of this organization meets at the Jewell and Blach hall.

The total of welfare work done in this district during the last three months is as follows: Four hundred and seventy-two persons were given needed assistance; 1860 garments were repaired and given away; 4496 hours were employed in neighborhood service; 98 baskets of food were given to the needy; and labor to the value of $1982 was donated to needy families.

Births in 1940 Approach Record

Births in Michigan in 1940 were 10,000 more than they were only four years ago, and the provisional total of 99,139 reported to the Michigan Department of Health is only a few hundred under the all-time record of 1927. The total that year was 99,940.

"Records show that births are associated with economic conditions, for there are fewer births following depression periods and more births in good times," said Dr. H. Allen Moyer, state health commissioner. "Births dropped 8,000 in 1931, another 5,000 in 1932 and still another 5,000 in 1933, when the low point of recent years was reached with 20,432 births. Better times recently have seen gains of 5,000 in 1938, and 5,000 in 1940."

Figured on the 1940 final census population of 5,256,106, the 1940 provisional birth rate is 18.88 births per 1,000 population. On the basis of revised population estimates, this is the highest rate since 1930, when it was 20.4.

Merited Confidence

NO PROFESSIONAL MAN can hope to succeed unless he has the confidence of his clientele. Least of all, the funeral director, for he is counsel to the bereaved family at a time when they must be able to rely upon him completely.

We are proud of the confidence this community has placed in us. And we will never violate that trust, continuing to serve in future years as reliably as in the past.

We have the staff, the equipment and the experience to serve well. More than that, we are guided by a rigid code of professional ethics that insures a perfect funeral service at prices that are unusually moderate.

THE STORY SO FAR: In an effort to substantiate rumors that 200,000 foreign troops were in Mexico preparatory for an attack upon the United States, Intelligence Officer Benning went to Mexico City. Here he joined the staff of the unsuspecting Van Haskel, leader of the

Hysteria was spreading. Thousands were fleeing the city in taxicabs and private cars. Cavalry was ordered into the city from Fort Myer to help police clear masses of people who flooded the parks despite frantic radio warnings that crowding was dangerous.

Benning dismissed all thought of trying again tonight for the Van Haskel spies.

A finger of light leaped into the air across the Potomac. Benning went tense as he saw the restless movement into the skies of that ominous beam.

Another bolt of light shot up, the sky filled with those long penitents rising from the Sperry drums, driven upwards with the intensity of their thousand million candlepower. The bark of a cannon crept across the river. It told Benning that the lights had picked up an enemy craft within their six thousand yards' range of observation. Other cannon barked. The three-inch guns were driving at the skies.

Grimly he lifted his wrist close to his eyes and strained at the luminous dial of his wrist watch.

Thirty racking seconds ticked by. Forty. Benning braced himself, wet his lips, his hand was stricken by an agony. Through the crackle of artillery he caught the ominous roar of motors in the sky. At this instant bombs were plummeting downward, he reckoned, released three thousand yards or more to the south-west of Washington while the planes flashed toward the city. A vivid yellowish sheet of light winked over the city, low against the earth. In the next instant came the clap of thunder as the mighty detonation smote the city. Benning felt the earth reel under his heels, his ears rang with the reverberation. Another crash, a third, fourth, fifth. The titanic wrath of the bombers smothered all sound of the anti-aircraft in a bedlam of volcanic fury that filled all existence. Two more crashes, separated by short intervals of time.

Silence came swiftly, a hush that yielded no sound for several seconds. Then, as his ears recovered, Benning caught the shrill roar of motors overhead, the sharp staccato of machine-gun fire. Near-by, the crews of the 30 caliber anti-aircraft machine guns were popping away inanely. A few rounds of futile bursts and they ceased fire. Now came the sound of excited masses of people.

Benning headed into Fifteenth Street. People were running this way and that on the heels of hysterical, unbridled terror. Others were massed in stricken silence, gaping into the skies. Taxicabs and automobiles sped crazily in all directions. Benning saw pedestrians bowled over by wheeled vehicles, left floundering on the pavement. Scattered policemen were trying to stem the tide of panic. Sirens screeched as ambulances and police cars raced into the targeted area.

It was a few minutes before midnight when Benning turned into Pennsylvania Avenue. There was no such thing as a taxicab in the present disorder. He walked rapidly on past the White House, intent on reaching Munitions by twelve. Beyond sentries paced placidly back and forth in front of the President's official mansion. The placid looked solemn and torpid in the vague light of a quarter moon, the somber mass of its gray walls unbroken by a single lighted window.

But Benning, as he hurried on, knew that behind those screened windows grave conferences would carry through the night as the heads of government charted the desperate course of an untidy nation plunged suddenly into war.

On reaching Colonel Flagwill's office, Benning found the G-2 chief engrossed in the verbal report of an air service staff colonel. As near as could be judged, the attack on Washington had been made by a single bomber squadron of seven planes. The bombers had been accompanied by a squadron of pursuit ships. The anti-aircraft reported no hits, and was setting up now to cover the city as best it could against the return trip of the invaders. "If I'll not be very long now before they're back over the city for a second fling at us," the air officer predicted, speaking in a calm voice. "No report, yet of damage to important buildings, but one bomb came pretty flush into a crowded street and we have a preliminary report of heavy casualties."

"No word of any other squadrons headed this way, Colonel?" Flagwill asked.

"None. We'd have picked them up if any more were coming tonight. But what puzzles us is how these bombers expect to get back into Mexico without refueling. Especially since the bombs dropped sounded like heavy ones, probably a thousand pounds or more."

"I'll want all details as rapidly as you get them," Flagwill instructed. "By the way, have our planes taken off for Texas yet?"

"Yes, sir. We've notified Operations. Our Third Wing will have one attack and two pursuit squadrons at San Antonio before daybreak, all ready for business. Other forces will report there as rapidly as possible."

The telephone buzzed, a summons for Flagwill to conference with the Chief of Staff. Flagwill gathered up his notes and turned to Benning. "You'd better come along, Captain. There may be some questions on Mexico City for you to answer."

Briefly, as they marched down the long corridor to the staff chief's conference room, Benning sketched in his own observations of the bombing of Washington, emphasizing the panic in the streets, the chaos and disorder that followed.

The floor under them reeled with the impact of a sudden terrific explosion in the distance. Flagwill's expression did not change, there was no hesitation in his gait.

"Here the birds are back again," he muttered. "He shook his head despairingly. "We've been pounding the public by radio all evening now to bunch up, but I'm afraid people will have to learn by costly experience. God, but I hope no persistent gas is dropped! I doubt if there are a dozen gas masks in all Washington."

Another savage detonation filled the night. As its vibrations waned, there came the uninterrupted clink of typewriters and telegraph instruments as messages went hurtling across the country from the War Department mobilizing the country's armed forces.

General Hague's conference room was filling with generals and colonels, all self-possessed, but with the effects of fatigue and strain in their faces after long days without rest. They were promptly in the room where they stood until the four-starred head of the Army, now in uniform, came in. General Hague was grave and lined, but his shoulders were erect and his gray eyes burned with a level vitality.

"Gentlemen," he proceeded at once, "I've gone over the situation in detail with the President. First I'll give you a brief summary of available enemy information."

"Three enemy columns are reliably reported at our Texas border and it is a reasonable assumption that they will bridgehead the Rio Grande tonight ready to attack at daybreak. Likely enough the main body will strike from Laredo with the objective of San Antonio. Two other columns are likely to strike from Brownsville and Eagle Pass."

"You are familiar with the bombing of San Antonio, Galveston, New Orleans, and Houston tonight. We hope to give those cities the protection of our air forces, beginning tomorrow, but we are at the mercy of night raiders for the time being. I needn't tell you that nothing can save San Antonio and the occupation of our great oil and sulphur belts. It looks pretty hopeless for our troops."

Communication

To The Editor: America and its defense. Does it mean anything to the citizens of Plymouth?

From the turnout to the Americanism meeting held in the high school Thursday evening, February 20, the citizens feel very secure. The people of Norway felt secure a year ago, too. Now they are learning to talk German and go without food and all their privileges they once enjoyed.

"That just can't happen to us. We are thousands of miles away." Friends, it is taking place today in our own midst. When a Communist candidate for Circuit Judge receives more votes than the past national commander of the American Legion, who is one of the highest type of Americans, I say it is happening.

What do you know about our defense needs? Of course we won't be invaded. The Germans declared war on us years ago. They are already here. Yes, right here in Plymouth. Don't forget our water supply, railroads, highways, schools and many other things that are marked for destruction. Yes, they are on Hitler's list.

What to do? For one thing, wake up. Then think, "Maybe I can help—if it isn't any more than stay until the meeting is over."

Do you know Hitler has troops in Mexico? Do you know it would take forty-five regiments of anti-aircraft to defend Detroit alone, and we have but fifteen regiments in the United States?

Oh yes, we are very secure. We shouldn't help England because they did something to us years ago and never paid their war debts. We can get along without all the world.

Friends, we do need all the countries. Without their trade we wouldn't be much better than China or Russia. Did you ever try to live on ten dollars a week? If you like ten dollars, then try living on two or three dollars as they do.

What was this Americanism meeting? Well, little twelve-year-old Ann Ray sang "My Own United States" very beautifully. Thank you.

Laid End to End They Add up to a Swell Idea

We mean these Four New Additions to the Buick SPECIAL Series that Give you Big-Car Thrill in less Curbside Space

THE way cars have been stretching out lately, it usually takes only a couple of cars to occupy the curb space of an extension-ladder fire truck.

Not so with the newest additions to the 1941 Buick line.

Here we've reversed the trend—just to prove that an honest-to-golly BIG car can be built without going overboard on bumper-to-bumper distance.

The four new models now adorning the Buick SPECIAL Series fit neatly into modest garages without putting a permanent crimp in the doors.

They slip into parking places smoothly as a rowboat nestles up to a dock—and the way they flit through traffic is a delight to wheel-weary drivers.

When it comes to action—well, they've got a 115-hp. FIREBALL eight under their bonnets that skims you down the road like a mallard heading home. You can add Compound Carburetion at small extra cost and have 125 horsepower that does things we hardly dare hint about in print.

But they're a handy six inches shorter, bumper to bumper, than other Buicks—a quartet of top-quality cars in a new and easily-handled size.

The price? It's lower too. So better take a look at the first really BIG car in this bumper-to-bumper size.

Good Drivers' League Sponsors Safety Contest

Contestants to Take Driving Test and Write Safety Essay

In order to encourage safe driving among the boys and girls of America, the Ford Good Drivers' League again offers scholarships, valued at $25,000, to the best drivers in the states and nation. The following schedule of awards will be made in both the boys and girls contest divisions: First prize, $5,000 scholarship and trophy; second prize, $2,000 scholarship and trophy; third prize, $500 scholarship; fourth prize, $500 scholarship; fifth prize, $500 scholarship; next 44 prizes $100 each.

This year the League's Safe Driving contests, with University scholarships as awards, are open to both boys and girls, with girls competing in a separate division. To enter the contest one must first fill out a questionnaire on driving, then take a driving test under the auspices of a qualified observer, and after that, write an essay on safe driving. If one is selected as one of the 12 best boys or 12 best girls drivers in the state, he or she will compete in the state finals on July 1. If selected as state champion, the contestant will be the guest, with a sponsor, and all expenses paid, at Dearborn, Michigan for the national finals, starting on August 6.

Any further information concerning this contest may be obtained from Mr. Dykhouse.

Ecorse Wins, 43-31

The Ecorse Red Raiders showed a last-half burst of speed Friday evening and won their second straight basketball game from Plymouth 43-31 in the great big Ecorse gym.

From the third quarter onward Ecorse more and more gained the balance on the scoring tectonic after the half time whistle had stopped the scoreboards. Ecorse 17, Plymouth 15.

In a third-quarter score-fest, Ecorse marched away with the game and scored 12 points in Plymouth's 6. Even though Plymouth heaped 10 points the last quarter, Ecorse was sitting out of danger without using stall tactics at the final horn.

The earlier Twin Valley League game between the two schools, played at Plymouth, had ended, after some basketball fireworks, 25-24, and up until the half this game promised the same sort of action although it progressed more deliberately.

Ecorse's center, Marcus Aldrich, played only half the game, but during that time he managed to account for 15 points to be the game's high scorer. Five of his points were foul throws, out of play, to approach that scorer with 9 points, Warren Hoffman was next with 8.

Referee Kazluskys and Jack called a minimum of fouls. Eleven Plymouth men were accused of fouling, with 10 for Ecorse.

The lineups and points scored by each player follow: Plymouth: Old, 1; Gorton, 1; Hoffman, 1; 3; Lacy, 1; 0; Baker, 0; Hunter, 0; Johnson, 0; 2; Lorenz, 0; 0; Wilkie, 1; 9; Hancock, 1; 0. Ecorse: Ouida, 1; 4; Martin, 1; 4; Compton, 1; 4; Ghindia, 1; 4; Aldrich, 1; 15; Redwine, 0; 4; Mitea, 0; 7; Ponaracys, 0; 0; Lovatz, 1; 1.

Reserve Game

Out-scored in every quarter both in field goals and free throws, the Plymouth Reserves did the inevitable in losing to Ecorse 40-22 the evening of February 21. Stockinger, the Ecorse right forward, led the pace by scoring six field goals to account for nearly a third of the Ecorse score. Jones, also of Ecorse, was runner-up with six points, followed by Dougan and Shoemaker with five points apiece.

Plymouth was overwhelmed during the first half. Donahue and Slater with a field goal each, and Upton with a free throw scored the Reserve's five points. Each of the Ecorse starting team with a minimum of one basket and a maximum of four explains the 20 points of the opposition.

The second half was a different story for even though Ecorse retained a margin in scoring it was much less. Birt, Sessions, and Ebersole along with Dougan and Shoemaker blossomed forth with 17 points to the 20 made by Ecorse in the same time. This three-point margin added to the lead piled up in the first half was more than sufficient to defeat the Plymouth squad.

Plymouth 22: Birt, 3; Donahue, 2; Sessions, 2; Shoemaker, 6; Kearney, 0; Bloomhoff, 0; Upton, 1; Woodard, 0; Dougan, 5; McAllister, 5; Ebersole, 2; Slater, 2.

Ecorse 40: Stockinger 12; Shell, 3; Tabula, 2; White, 4; Jones, 6; Callow, 0; Ketchmer, 4; Roger, 2; Betag, 2; Scott, 0; Smith, 4; Shebonak, 1; Simlo, 0.

Win Honors

Virginia Rock, high school senior and the mayor of Plymouth high school, won honorable mention in a contest sponsored by Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalists. The contest was carried on in the fields of copywriting, ad writing, and headline writing. Virginia entered the headline writing contest. She was given a story already written and in one hour she had to have a headline headline ready. Virginia sent her headline in and received an honorable mention for her work.

Paul Harsha, also a senior, entered a current affairs test sponsored by Time magazine. Paul received a four months' subscription to the Time magazine as a result of his efforts.

Social Register

Parties, and more parties—so begins the spring social season. Last Friday evening ten couples from Plymouth attended the St. Mary's of Redford alumni dance at the Bonnie Brook Country club. Larry Arnold, Carol Carlson, of Northville, Jack Christensen, Joyce Tarnutzer, Bob Dailey, Louise Newman, Bob O'Connor, Helen Jones, Bob Bowden, Gladys Clark of Northville, Jim Zuckerman, Doris Rowland, Arvel Curtner, Sally Haas, Dick Dailey, Barbara Litsenberger, Orville Lewis, Marian Parsons, John Reppert of Detroit, Betty Holman, Lewis Canon, and Phyllis Campbell attended.

Editorial

Perhaps one of the most serious problems in the world today, if one were to ask an older person, is the attitude of youth toward religion. There is a growing fear and apprehension that we youth no longer care about any kind of religion, that we see no sense in going to church, that we no longer believe there is a God. If this is true, though it seems scarcely possible that the problem has gone that far as yet, then it is time to do something.

What are some of the most commonly expressed complaints that we youth have voiced? Well, one hears that "It's too early to get up in the morning to go to church, and we don't see why we can't sleep in." Or one hears that "We're old enough now to know our own minds, and we mean to stay home from church. When we were too young to help ourselves, we HAD to go to Sunday school. Mom and Dad said so."

Or, "Why should we go to church? Nobody else in our families do. Our mothers and fathers haven't gone for ages, so why should we bother. After all, you can't expect us to believe in something which our own parents don't believe in." Or quite often "Well, what should we go for? There's nothing to interest us. We don't see what good going to church will do us. We're never told the actual value religion has for us—not in ideas and words that we can comprehend. We never have any fun, we never do anything interesting. Can you blame us for wanting to go to a show, or a dance, or bowling instead. At least we can see here where we are deriving SOME benefit."

Yes, you have all heard those attitudes and opinions expressed. Fortunately it ISN'T true that all youth feel that way. This is one of the REAL compensating features in our chaotic world. But what to do about that ever increasing number of youth who are beginning to believe that religion has no place in their lives? Something should be done, that is certain for if the world, with a love for the brotherhood of mankind and the maintenance of Christianity is to continue, youth must be shown, and shown soon, that church and religion are important to THEM.

What can be done? Innumerable suggestions have been made by the youth themselves. "Show how religion affects us, how it is of importance to us," they demand. "Give us some fun, so we don't feel obliged to believe where for social activities. Have discussions with groups of us on the part religion could and should play in a world that has seemingly gone berserk. Show us the practical AND spiritual side of religion to us in a way that we never can forget it, and never want to forget it." Some of those suggestions may be entirely impractical or unsuccessful, but they can be tried. Yielding even a small amount of success, their trial will have been well worth the time and effort required.

Homemaking

A Valentine party was given to fifteen pre-school age children by the Homemaking II class, the youngest of whom was two years old and the oldest, five. Each girl had a child to care for or helped on the following committees:

Chairman—Maizie Bakewell; refreshments—Marie Weststock, Romona Wilson, Barbara Lizenburg, Iris Hitt; table setting—Pat Conery, Corrine Schiffler, Iris Hitt; entertainment—Geraldine Gienop, Ruth Granger, Helen Bennett; clean-up—Marjorie Allen, Alice Burden, Mable Donahue, Marie Weststock and Beatrice Radke.

New girls in home economics III, second hour have a chance to observe others work in their desired profession every second hour for two weeks.

A girl who is interested in clerking has the opportunity to go to Taylor and Blyton's department store and watch the business transacted. Often these girls have some task to do about the store.

Other girls interested in work in greenhouses or bakeries may go to the Rosebud Flower shop or to the Sanitary bakery.

Large Play Cast

"Please, please," say the editors. "Don't write an article on class spirit. Remember, don't do it!"

So we know beforehand that this is a horribly trite way to start an article. It's bringing to light a sadly washed out subject, one that the best editorial writers will drop like a draft board will drop an applicant with no teeth. But, you do have to admit—the senior class really must have oodles of CLASS SPIRIT!

No class executive board would pick a play that called for a third of their class members to make a complete cast if they had any qualms about the spirit, but that is exactly what the senior executives did when they chose Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice" for their class play two months ago.

The dramatization of the classic by Helen Jerome calls for a cast of 26. Because the class plans on presenting it on both March 6 and 7, they have called 52 actors, actresses and prospects into service for a complete cast, five or so seniors plan to graduate this year so that makes almost exactly one-third of the class who will actually appear on the stage in one of the presentations. Even more are represented on the myriad committees that attend the presentation of a play.

For 12 years, Miss Winnifred Ford has served as a dramatics instructor for Plymouth high school. This is the biggest cast of any of the 24 big plays she has supervised previously.

The play, even aside from the cast, is called generally remarkable by those drama critics who saw its long run in New York. The book, "Pride and Prejudice," is a classic, and critics say its new stage form has not in the least abused its quality.

Senior Sketches

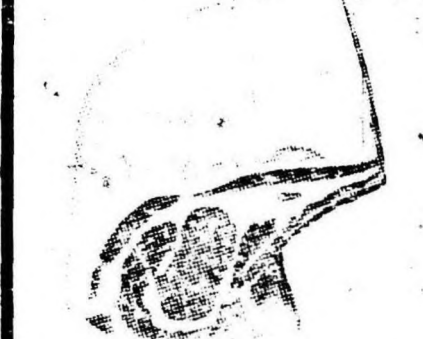

Being broke, like almost everyone else, is the pet peeve of Jack Lee, son of Gladys A. Lee of 632 Harvey street. He was born in Yver, Quebec. His chief hobby is baseball. Two years of Varsity club and baseball have been his interests in extra-curricular activities. To be a noted surgeon is his aim in life.

Valbert J. Groth, of 311 North Harvey street, intends to graduate in three and one-half years instead of four. A half-year student, he has had time besides getting the necessary credits, to be in band as well as in basketball, track, football, photography club and camera club. He is studying to be an engineer and his chief hobby is music. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth are his parents.

Audrey Guggisberg has as her aim to be a dress buyer in a department store. Her hobby is cooking, and snowballs are her pet peeve. Her activities include French club at Chadsey high school and Library club at Munger school, both in Detroit. Audrey, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guggisberg, lives at 37530 Plymouth road.

Rosedale Gardens

At high noon, Saturday, in the Holy Redeemer church, in Detroit, Louise Dittman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dittman, of Christy avenue, spoke her nuptial vows to Joseph Ruloff, son of Henry Ruloff, of the Garden City, Mich. The Rev. Father John Keating, pastor of the church, officiated. The ceremony was held in a background of palms and burning tapers in cathedral candleabra. Low vases of pale pink gladioli decorated the altar. The bride's father gave her in marriage. She chose a wedding gown of ivory slipper satin made on period lines. The bodice featured a square neckline trimmed with lace, pearly, and long sleeves which extended to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of tulle was scalloped and was attached to a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried calla lilies. Mrs. James Vincent and Mrs. Lavern Thiesin attended the bride, each wearing period gowns of marquisette trimmed with starched lace of the same shade and white ribbons. The bride's train over matching satin. Mrs. Vincent wearing pale blue and Mrs. Thiesin, pale yellow. Both carried colonial bouquets of roses and lilies of the valley tied with contrasting ribbon. Heart-shaped off-the-face hats, of net and marquisette, with ribbon trim, completed their gowns. Charles L. Cook, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Ruth Dittman, brother of the bride, were the bridegroom's attendants. Following the ceremony a breakfast for the bridal party and immediate families was held at the Wa-beck Tea Room in Wyandotte, and in the evening a reception for 250 guests took place in the bride's home. Those attending from the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Cook, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Shierk, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Coutu and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Ross. Mr. and Mrs. Ruloff are residing in the Helen apartments, in Detroit, following a brief wedding journey.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weinert entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rapp, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Sunday, for dinner at Botsford Tavern.

An Auburndale group, of the Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church, met, Thursday afternoon, for dessert, in the home of Mrs. L. G. Kraus. Mrs. Frederick Waters is chairman of the group.

WE ARE GLAD

It was interesting news as well as good news to read the other day that Herbert Swanson, long associated with the Plymouth Motor Sales Ford agency, had been designated as manager of the beautiful new Silkworth Oil company's service station on Ann Arbor Trail. It was a fortunate selection for the company and one that assures for it an excellent business in Plymouth. Mr. Swanson during his many years of residence in Plymouth has won for himself a host of friends, friends who have been made by his agreeable way of doing things. It is good news, too, to read that he plans to retain his position with Paul Wiedman in the Ford agency. He has proved to be Mr. Wiedman's "right hand bower." The Plymouth Mail congratulates Mr. Swanson and Mr. Silkworth—and we hope for both bountiful success, which we are sure that they will enjoy.

CAMERON AND WINCHELL

A scandal-mongering magazine a few weeks ago in an effort to smear the name of William Cameron of the Ford Motor company's staff, published a vicious article in which it tried to make it appear that Mr. Cameron had committed some sort of an offense in securing his citizenship papers. It will be recalled that Mr. Cameron, who was born in Canada when his parents, former Canadian citizens, had temporarily moved back to that country, for many years thought that he was an American because of the belief that his father had taken out citizenship papers. It was only by chance that Mr. Cameron a few years ago discovered that his father had never become a citizen. He then immediately proceeded to become an American citizen.

It was in this connection that a New York magazine which is apparently subsidized from some source, made vicious and false charges against Mr. Cameron. Of course Michigan citizens who know Mr. Cameron know the falsity and spleen back of the article.

But Walter Winchell, loud-mouthed scandal monger of the air, picked up the vicious charge and twice in his radio broadcasts made exceedingly grave insinuating charges against Mr. Cameron in connection with the citizenship issue.

After some misguided congressman from California had demanded a congressional investigation of the matter, and after the Federal Bureau of Investigation had carefully checked into the records, and had found that there was not the slightest foundation for the vicious charge, we listened to Winchell's broadcast the following Sunday evening to see how far he would go in endeavoring to remedy the damage he had done to the name of a good Michigan citizen.

He most begrudgingly made an admission that there was nothing to the charges against Cameron—but we wonder how far it will go in offsetting the damage that the previous radio announcements without question had made in the minds of some of the people?

And we wonder, too, how much of a cheap "publicity stunt" was involved in the loudly ballyhooed newspaper account of an attempt "to get Winchell" following one of his recent Sunday evening broadcasts?

The whole thing had every appearance of being just one of "those things" to which people of the type of Winchell resort to keep folks talking.

LET'S GET BUSY!

No longer is it essential to impress upon Americans the seriousness of the situation confronting this nation as the result of the activities of a war-mad European dictator. No longer does any one doubt the fact that he will strike at America's shores just the minute he sees that we stand in the path of his determination to rule the world.

His successes to date have been due entirely to the fact that he was PREPARED to do what he is doing. Franco was not prepared. England was not prepared to meet the onslaught Hitler forced upon the world.

But we CAN be prepared if we get busy—and when we say BUSY, we mean 24 hours a day and seven days a week.

in the plants where our war materials are being made. We must eliminate all of the bickering, all of the delays, all of the CHISELING that has so far characterized our defense work.

No longer can we plow under crops, penalize farmers for growing more than what the government says they can grow, and kill livestock because we have too much of it.

America for eight years has lived under one of the most shameful economic conditions the world has ever known, conditions brought about to a very large extent by enemies within—enemies of the American way of life.

But there is no use in discussing that now. Everyone knows that we are faced with a grave emergency, an emergency that may mean the end of everything we cherish. It may mean an end of all hope of restoring to Americans the kind of America we have come to know and love.

We have the materials. We have the men. We have the factories. We have the ability—and we have the resources.

They are arguing down in Washington about a strange question—whether we are "up" to schedule on our production of war materials.

There should be no argument about such a question. We should be way AHEAD of our production schedule—just as were the Chinese when they built the Burma road in less than half the time engineers said they could do it. And they did it WITHOUT pay from the government.

Our troubles lie entirely in the cheap, miserable politics that has been and is being played by both sides. We should kick the Bridges, the Hillmans, the Perkins and all others of their type OUT—and put on the job HONEST-to-GOD Americans who know more about the American way than they do the Russian way.

It is time for America to get busy—FULL STEAM AHEAD—until we have the greatest navy and the most powerful army the world has ever known. We need it—so why not have it?

SHIP-YARDS IN MICHIGAN

Newspaper dispatches tell American citizens that our ship-yards along the oceans are exceedingly busy, producing badly needed ships for both our commerce and our defense. They say that the production is not fast enough and that our requirements are more than is being produced and that it will be three, four or possibly five years before we have all the ships we need, providing we do not lose any, meanwhile.

But what are we doing about it here in Michigan? We have a coast line of nearly two thousand miles, with dozens and dozens of excellent sites for ship-yards.

Why are we not busy here in Michigan developing an industry that will help our government to get the ships it so badly needs?

We are close to the source of all materials that are used in ship building—in fact, closer than any other place in America. After the ships are built, they can be sent to the oceans. Of course until the St. Lawrence Waterway is finished, the ships we construct cannot be great ocean liners, but most ocean going vessels are of the size that we can build in Michigan and can get to the ocean after they are built, even now before the St. Lawrence Waterway is built.

Then, too, we are far inland, far away from possible attack, where workmen can keep busy without being disturbed by enemies from without. The safety question, while it may now seem remote, nevertheless, is one to take in consideration. Michigan can provide safety—it has the materials—so why not have the ship-yards and make the Great Lakes the ship-building center of the world?

Their Views About Public Problems and Issues

TRYING TO PLEASE

It doesn't take long for a fellow who is in the newspaper business to know how quickly the public wants a change in its reading. The task of giving a new story a punch is our business. The job of using an old story with a new angle is also in our line. But today it is difficult to keep the papers of the country alive with different news to satisfy all the reading public with a complete change in each edition. Someone cries, "War, war, war, that is all we read about." Another says he is sick and tired of all this political stuff, can't we find something different to write about? Therefore we try to hit upon other subjects that will give our readers respite from the constant thought of the changing map of Europe, the altering destinies of nations. The political angle is a subject of national importance and its effect upon our lives is too critical for us to abandon it entirely. The campaigning of politicians is another one of the rights of Americans. We must carry along with politics or be like an ostrich and stick our head in the sand until the storm passes—then look what we have missed!

We shall do our very best to keep the pages of our papers alive to other topics of interest, to give the public here in Oxford and in all communities like ours, something else to discuss over the family round-table. But even so, let a group of lively-minded citizens gather in one spot for more than ten minutes, no matter how tired they are of war and politics, dollars and doughnuts they will be discussing both subjects before they disband.—E. H. Congdon in The Oxford Leader.

There is an old American saying that "when Greek meets Greek a new restaurant is started." But what happens in these warring days when Greek meets an Italian soldier? (Yet one ought not indict the courage or bravery of the average Italian soldier who, in the Greek campaign, is routed largely because of poor organization and leadership by his higher-ups.)

Wonder if robbers of turkeys, cranberries and pumpkins were behind the move to create two Thanksgiving Days in the U.S.A. Anyway, compared with the rest of our earth, our country has enough to be grateful for so that every day ought to be a thankful one.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

OTHERS HOPE, TOO!

We are hopefully looking forward to the day when advertisers of cigarettes and of cures, etc., using the radio, realize that one short talk per program will help them just as much as their constant and annoying interference and gabble.—James Smith in The Muskegon Observer.

DEFINES A RABID POLITICIAN

A really rabid politician was the fellow who refused to play bridge according to Culbertson when he learned that Culbertson ran for office on the Democratic ticket.—R. J. Jeffries in The Lowell Ledger.

THE CURSE OF BIG CITIES

I don't know how we're going to get rid of our big cities, but they're certainly one of the curses of present day civilization. Perhaps "civilization" is the wrong word to use in this connection. But somehow it seems as though the influences of big cities tend to put people farther back in the jungle rather than to make them more human.

Of course we couldn't have the big streets and grand boulevards and the impressive style parades down the big avenues, if we did not have the immense cities. Neither would we have the appalling slums, great fires and other catastrophes and a traffic death rate that puts many wars to shame.

The worst thing about a big city, though, is its effect on people's minds. No matter whether their income is large, medium or small, they seem to travel more in herds, mentally. The fact that it is easier to hate someone whom you do not know is never better exemplified than in a great city. It is easier for labor to hate capital and capital to despise labor.

It is easier for ultra conservatives or wild radicals to gain supporters for their arguments. Neither group deals in realities. They live in the big cities, but they know only a woefully small part of them. The rest they imagine according to the opinions which their own ignorance and selfishness build up for them.—Floyd Miller in The Royal Oak Tribune.

BETTER VISION—GREATER SUCCESS

Work Quickly and Efficiently
 Performed Is the Springboard for Promotion and Better Pay...

Good work requires good vision. Poor vision retards mental and physical reactions—causes fatigue. Good seeing is the result of good eyesight and ample, well directed light on every eye task.

HAVE YOUR EYESIGHT EXAMINED REGULARLY. DEFECTS CORRECTED; AND ALWAYS WORK UNDER GOOD LIGHT.

De Luxe "Torpedo" Six Two-Door Sedan $874* (white sidewall tires extra)

"They don't build them any better than that

Pontiac Torpedo"

"I'VE BEEN AROUND motor cars for a long time. I know what makes them run... what makes them last. I also know that there's not a better car built than this year's Pontiac 'Torpedo'.

"Pontiac has all the features that are essential to fine performance, great comfort and trouble-free operation. Among them are such noteworthy Pontiac engineering 'firsts' as: Full-Pressure Metered-Flow Lubrication, Cusher Valve Cooling, Electroplated Pistons, Duffer Rear Springs, Triple-Sealed Hydraulic Brakes, Safety Shift, Lifetime Oil Cleaner and scores more—all of which add up to the greatest money's worth in the industry.

"Pontiac also is the best looking car of the year. That combination of Silver Streak front end with 'Torpedo' styled Fisher Body can't be touched for beauty.

"If you're thinking about a new car—why not see your Pontiac dealer today? Compare De Luxe 'Torpedo' prices with the de luxe models of the 'lowest-priced three' and see how low Pontiac prices really are!"
