Plymouth, Michigan, Friday, May 9, 1941

$1.50 Per Year in Advance

Property Owners Show No Interest In City Taxes

Commission Postpones Action On Appointment of Commissioner

Plymouth property owners are not interested in taxes. No other deduction can be made because not a single taxpayer appeared at the city commission's public hearing on the 1941-42 annual city budget Monday night, not a person to approve or disapprove the $101,338.50 appropriations recommended by the budget committee and submitted by City Manager C. H. Elliott.

Although the budget recommendation as approved by the city commission provides for an $11,000 increase in total expenditures, the total revenues to be received by the city show a corresponding increase, and the same tax rate of $12.80 per thousand will be levied as last year. The increased revenues anticipated by the city will result from an increase of about $170,000 in assessed valuations due to the number of new buildings erected during the last 12 months and the placing back on the rolls of about $70,000 for lots which became state-owned on November 3, 1939 in the scavenger land sale. The budget as approved by the commission was sent to the board of review for final approval of the assessment rolls the end of this week.

The commission also voted to postpone action on the appointment of a fifth commissioner until an adjourned meeting to be held next Monday evening, May 12. The commission delayed action on the appointment to provide L. E. Wilson an opportunity to obtain a representative counsel. No action was taken on a resolution offered by Commissioner George Robinson and supported by Commissioner Robert Jolliffe to declare a vacancy of a vacancy on the commission body. The resolution offered was as follows: "Resolved, that this commission having heretofore refused to seat Dunbar Davis as a member of this body upon the grounds that he was not qualified to hold the office of city commissioner, this commission declares a vacancy to exist in the office of the city commissioner of the city of Plymouth."

A plot plan of Assessor's Plymouth Plot No. 26 was presented to the commission Monday evening. The land delineated in the plot, situated east of Main street, south of Ann Arbor trail, west of Hamilton and Kellogg streets and north of the Reiser-Stellwagen subdivision, has formerly been defined in metes and bounds, but definite lot boundaries have been established in the newly drawn plot plan. Herald F. Hamill executed the field surveying of the plot, assisted by John Daoust in the technical drawing of the plot and by the Wayne county board of auditors. The title to streets and alleys shown on the plot has been acquired by the public. The plot will remain in the city hall for public inspection before given final approval.

Upon the recommendation of Vaughan R. Smith, Plymouth chief of police, the commission voted to establish $2 fines for failure to stop at stop streets and $5 fines for the use of illegal plates. Both of these offenses now draw a $1 fine. The city of Detroit fixes a $2 fine on the first offense and state law fixes a $5 fine for the use of illegal license plates.

Upon receipt of a petition signed by 14 residents complaining against smoke from the Plymouth Plating plant, Commissioner Henry Hondorp, part owner of the plant, expressed his willingness to cooperate to remove the nuisance. Mr. Hondorp explained that the situation has become more acute in recent weeks because the plant has been forced to use inferior coal during a recent strike in that industry.

Approval was granted for the installation of a 12-inch storm sewer on Simpson avenue, and the treasurer's report showed an increase of $8,533.65 in funds on hand over last year.

Style Show To Be Given May 13

A style show featuring summer fashions and especially sportswear will be presented at the high school auditorium next Tuesday afternoon and evening, May 13. The style show, open to the public, is sponsored jointly by the Taylor and Blyden department store and the home economics department of Plymouth high school. ## Many People Buy Defense Bonds

Plymouth, always loyal to its government in times of stress, has responded wholeheartedly to the request of Uncle Sam that its citizens buy defense bonds.

The First National bank, the post office and the Plymouth United all made numerous sales.

While it is too early to indicate what the totals might be, it is expected that by the end of the present month purchases of defense bonds by Plymouth residents will be as high if not higher than in other cities of the same size in Michigan.

It is possible that within the next few weeks a special drive will be put on in this city if necessary to put Plymouth in first place among cities of similar size throughout the country.

Students Present Musicales Tonight

The students of Plymouth high school will present their annual musical in the high school auditorium Friday (tonight) at 8 o'clock. ## Namesake Committee Sponsors Musicales To Aid War-Stricken

"Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep" is a childhood prayer universally known. But in half the world, no longer can a small child repeat these words in safety or security. Blind, deafened, bomb-shocked little children huddle together in bomb shelters and try to pray but their faith is shattered.

The Plymouth Namesake Town committee plans a benefit musicale to give aid to these children. The program will be presented, under the direction of Mrs. Edna O'Connor at the high school auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 21.

"The Namesake Town committee was organized to aid our stricken namesake town of Plymouth, England. Since the organization of this committee, Plymouth, England has been bombed savagely. Women, children and the aged have had to be evacuated making correspondence with civic authorities difficult. But we here know the need is great, and as soon as the way is clear, assistance will be vital to children and aged not to mention those cruelly maimed in the raids," declares Arno B. Thompson, general chairman of the Namesake group.

Following a message from Mayor Ruth E. Huston Whipple, Mrs. James Sessions and Alfred Gignac will present solo selections. Mr. John Chapman and Edwin Campbell will present several vocal duets and Miss Doris Hamill and Dr. H. C. Ruffus will offer violin duets.

Readings will be given by Mrs.

Business Women Hear Speech on Russia's Poverty

President Appoints Committee Chairmen For Ensuing Year

Conditions of utter poverty and ignorance among the general populace in Russia were described by Miss Lily Svoboda, 20-year-old medical student of Detroit who just returned from 10 years in Russia, in a talk before the Business and Professional Women's club of Plymouth at Rotunda Inn Monday evening.

The speaker stated that for over two years in Russia she had never seen a potato, and that meat, fresh vegetables, fruit, butter, eggs and milk were unheard of. A laborer's wages amount to only a small percentage of the price of a pair of shoes and other necessities of life.

"The people of Russia are not allowed to read anything except what the government issues and no one dares say a word against Russia for fear of imprisonment or death. Christianity or the belief in any religion is prohibited on penalty of death," said Miss Svoboda, who added that many of the older persons would like to impart religious education to their children but dare not.

Miss Svoboda's speech highlighted the club's dinner meeting which opened its new year of activities. Lillian Terry, retiring president, closed the year's work with reports from committee chairmen and presented the gavel to Hanna Strasen, newly-elected president.

Miss Strasen announced the following chairmen for the coming year: Florence Stader, education; Sarah Gayde, health; Ruth Whipple, legislation; Hil-dur Carlson, international relations; Vaun Campbell, membership; Winnifred Wolfe, assisted by Elizabeth Sutcliffe and Bertha Anderson, program coordination; Lillian Terry, public affairs; Ada Murray, publications.

Police Issue Dog Warning

Many complaints have been received at the city hall about dogs running at large, especially at this time of year when everyone is planting gardens. Police Chief V. R. Smith declared this week.

"The police department feels that dog owners should make an effort to keep their dogs confined. A large number of dogs running at large have no licenses. The city has two types of licenses, one for unvaccinated dogs which must be kept confined to the premises at all times and the other for vaccinated dogs which are allowed to run during all months except July and August when a quarantine is imposed on dogs.

"If complaints continue to come to our attention, it may become necessary to take steps to remove these unvaccinated dogs. Dog licenses are obtained from the city treasurer at a fee of $1 per dog. The police department feels that if persons have any regard for their dogs, they should prevent them from becoming nuisances," said Chief Smith.

Mr. Miller obtained the relic of another day when the old wooden main was being torn out at the corner of Congress and Woodward avenue. The cedar mains, laid in 14-foot lengths, had not been used for over 50 years.

These activities included the annual Soap Box Derby, the home builders' and salesmen's classes at the high school, Christmas activities in cooperation with the Civic committee, band concerts, state JayCee golf tournament and the recent Clean-Up Week campaign.

Traffic Violation Tickets Increase

The number of traffic tickets issued by the Plymouth police department is on the increase and the municipal court invoked heavy penalties last month upon reckless and drunk drivers. Two offenders drew $50 fines for reckless driving and another $50 for drunk driving. A third violator received a $25 fine for driving while his license was revoked.

A total of 67 tickets for traffic violations were issued during April as compared with 45 a year ago in April and 27 during March of this year. To date this year, 143 tickets have been issued as compared with 120 last year at the same time. Eight traffic accidents were reported by local police during April.

Of the tickets issued, nine were for reckless driving; one for drunk driving; four for illegal parking; eight for overtime parking; 26 for speeding and 12 for failure to stop at stop street.

CANCEL FREE MATINEE

The matinee planned for children Saturday afternoon cooperating in Clean-Up Week has been cancelled, according to the JayCee committee. It was decided that the baskets of rubbish required for admission to the theatre might clutter up the streets unnecessarily and interfere with the regular schedule of rubbish collection. Merchants commended JayCees for their excellent job of street-cleaning last Sunday morning on Penniman avenue, Main and Liberty streets.

Local Committee Launches Plans for "University of Life" For Youth

Plans were launched Monday night to organize a "University of Life" program for youth in Plymouth. Representatives of churches, civic groups, school leaders and service organizations in Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens attended the first organization meeting. The program has been carried out successfully in Ypsilanti, Royal Oak and Fenton.

Mrs. Thomas P. Bateman and Miss Neva Lovewell, Plymouth high school teacher, are in charge of organizing the "University of Life" program here. Plans are being made for a four or five week program of meetings for junior and senior high school students beginning in October. C. J. Dykhouse, principal of Plymouth high school, has been selected as dean of the "University of Life."

Following informal supper meetings and a short vespers hour, the young people will divide into small groups for which outstanding discussion leaders will be provided from Detroit and Ann Arbor. The memorial flowers, made by disabled war veterans, will be offered on the streets throughout the day by the Auxiliary women.

"The poppies which the Auxiliary will distribute here have been made by disabled veterans at American Legion hospital at Battle Creek. All Poppy day workers will serve as volunteers and all of the money contributed to them for the flowers will go into the welfare funds of the Auxiliary to carry forward the auxiliary's work for the disabled, their families and the families of the dead during the year ahead," said the chairman.

Pettingill Grocery Marks 37th Year

Tuesday, May 6 marked William T. Pettingill's thirty-seventh year in the grocery business in Plymouth. Coming to Plymouth on a visit from his home in Kentucky, he has remained here ever since. After working for several years as conductor on the old Detroit, Plymouth and Northville interurban line, Mr. Pettingill brought out Claude Shafer's interest in a grocery store on Main street, located on the present site of the Kroger store. With Will Brown, he remained in business there for 30 years.

Clerks who worked in the store at that time were Glenn Jewell, Fred Holloway, Fletcher Campbell and Oliver Martin. Main street was an old dirt road and the store more closely resembled a drug store than a grocery. It was something of a gathering place in those days and Mr. Pettingill recalls that on Saturday nights, the womenfolk used to wait in his store for their husbands to come out of the saloons. Barrels of pickles and bushel baskets of fresh vegetables lined the aisles of the little store. School supplies and an assortment of candies were enclosed in glass showcases in the front of the store and no attempt was made toward the elaborate window dressings of today. These showcases were outmoded with the advent of the cellophane-wrapped package.

The Pettingill grocery has been in its present location on Penniman avenue for about 17 years, and it is a credit to Mr. Pettingill's business that he still has some of his original customers.

Banquet Forum Offers Ideas To Stimulate Group

Elect New Board And Officers At Annual Meeting

A program for the re-vitalization of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce was launched Monday night when more than 50 members gathered in the Crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower for the organization's annual meeting and banquet. John Blyden, retiring president, issued a stirring appeal to the membership for support and cooperation, and an open forum of the membership produced many promising ideas and suggestions for the improvement of the Chamber of Commerce.

The membership unanimously elected Earl L. Russell, Frank Terry and Jack Taylor to the board of directors. At a meeting of the executive board following the evening's program, Earl Russell, vice-president of the Wall Wire Products Company, was elected president; Frank Terry, proprietor of the Sanitary Bakery, and Jack Taylor, cashier of the First National bank, secretary-treasurer.

Among the suggestions offered during the open forum were a discussion of membership dues, the posting of signs in all business place prohibiting peddling and canvassing without proper permits from the Chamber of Commerce, a census of the city's general membership contributions from all property owners, better teamwork, more frequent meetings, increased publicity, a concerted membership drive, and the spread of Chamber of Commerce membership fees upon the general tax roll of the city.

"A great deal of enthusiasm was shown about what the Chamber of Commerce should do during the forthcoming year at last year's annual banquet meeting. Unfortunately, when the members walked out of the meeting, they took that enthusiasm with them," declared John Blyden in his president's message. "Do we want a Chamber of Commerce in name only or do we want one that is active, that gets behind things and puts them over? We can't put any project over unless we have complete financial backing and cooperation of all members in everything we do."

"Every Chamber of Commerce is a business. No business can operate beyond the amount of its capital. Our business has been held back by a lack of capital and lack of interest. The Chamber of Commerce is not an individual thing, it is a collection of business and professional men and women working as a whole for the welfare of the city. During the next year, I hope this Chamber of Commerce will receive the backing of increased membership."

The board of directors has met regularly for ten of the last twelve months. While its accomplishments may not always be visible, the Chamber of Commerce has successfully sponsored several projects during the last year, including the start of the parking lot and alley paving project at the rear of the business district and improved street cleaning. The Chamber of Commerce is a clearing house for information and the office has received hundreds of applications asking for information about the city-factory sites, housing and employment possibilities. We derive a large share of our income from the license bureau which reports an increase in sales of 591 license plates this year. We now have $660 in the bank which is twice the capital we had last year," concluded Mr. Blyden.

Earl Russell, the new president, has called a meeting of the executive board, comprised of Frank Terry, C. H. Rauch, John Blyden, Lester DeWitt, Jack Taylor and Frank Rambo, for next Monday evening, May 12 at 7 o'clock. Committees will be appointed at this meeting and plans made for a renewed membership drive.

Women Voters' League Changes Meeting Date

The date of the next meeting of the League of Women Voters has been changed from May 9 (today) to next Friday, May 16. The group will meet at the home of Mrs. Bruce Woodbury at 1:45 o'clock and the program will feature a discussion by club members of a booklet distributed by the national division of the League of Women Voters, entitled "Battle of Production." A resume of the year's work will be presented as well as plans for the next year's activities.

Crippled Aid Drive Tops $500

Upon the close of the annual Crippled Children's Aid drive in Plymouth, Russell Daane, district treasurer of the organization, announced that the funds raised in this year's campaign will exceed the $500 mark. Several contributions pledged are yet to be received. A total of $420 was raised during April through the sale of Easter seals for crippled children in which the Rotary club participated, by direct-mail appeals and contributions from the industries, business places and individuals in the city, and a benefit dance sponsored by the local committee.

Another $70 was realized from a benefit dessert-bridge held in the Masonic Temple Tuesday afternoon and sponsored by the Woman's Club of Plymouth. The committee in charge of this benefit party was supervised by Mrs. Richard Bloomfield, assisted by Mrs. Edward Dobbs, Mrs. William Arscott, Mrs. Floyd Burgett, Mrs. M. A. Arnold, Mrs. Harvey Springer, Mrs. M. L. Pierce, Mrs. Grayson Jones, Mrs. John C. McIntyre, Mrs. Ralph J. Taylor, Mrs. George Haas, Miss Neva Lovewell, Mrs. D. R. Lashmet, Mrs. Floyd N. Wilson, Mrs. H. L. Hudson, Mrs. H. Shierk, Mrs. Murray O'Neil, Mrs. William Clark and Mrs. C. C. Witte.

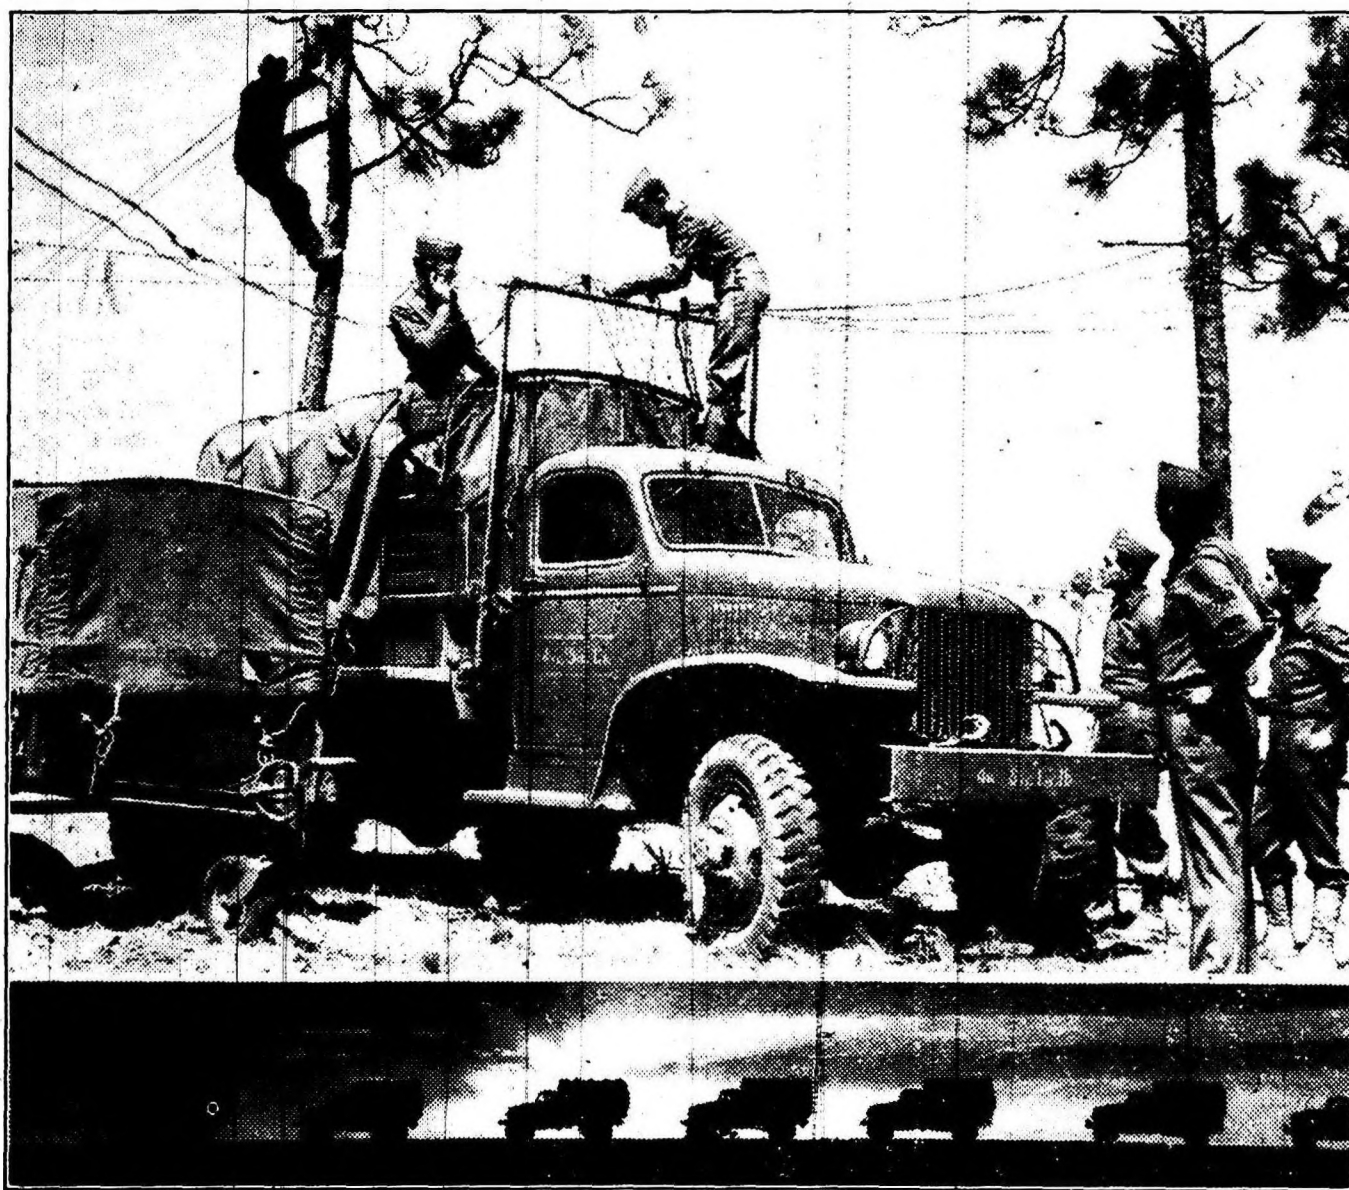

The local committee in charge of the crippled children's aid campaign was headed by Robert Willoughby, general chairman; C. H. Bennett, Russell Daane, A. Blake Gillies and Dr. Elmore Carney.

Speaker Depicts Mountain Schools

Kiwanis club members enjoyed a talk Tuesday evening by Mrs. Marvin Terry who spent five years teaching in a Kentucky mountain school. Mrs. Terry described conditions in the mountain schools and the general lack of educational opportunity among these people. She explained that the school year includes only a few months of the year from July 1 to February 1 to permit children to work the rest of the year.

Calvin Furlong, student at the Plymouth high school, presented a declamation on "Heredit and Environment" which he will deliver in a state declamation contest this week.

Men and Motors—The New Army on Wheels

Uncle Sam's motorized force—the new army on wheels—is symbolized by the "dawn patrol" of Chevrolet 4 x 4 army trucks shown across the bottom of the photo. The Chevrolet four-wheel-drive army truck, above, carries a complete telephone switchboard. Within a few minutes after the Fourth Division's motorized units completed a 235-mile trek from Fort Benning, Ga., on a practice mass movement, Major-General Lloyd R. Fredendall could communicate with every part of the vast encampment. The Fourth, moving in three columns, each 45 miles long, made the trip in 10 hours as compared with nearly 10 days before motorization.

Wilcox Student Wins Contest

Frances Grassnickie, an eighth grade student at Wilcox school, was awarded first honors in the northern division of Wayne county, for her patriotic essay in a county-wide contest sponsored recently by the National Sojourners society. For winning, she was presented with a medal and the school received a plaque which will be on display until next year's contest. First prize in this division last year went to Shirley Cramer, of Elm school, and Emil Tetreault, of Wilcox, placed second.

The current contest centered around the essay theme, "Daniel Webster, Defender of the Constitution of the United States of America." Joan Kodyke, of Baseline school, Northville township, won second place; Mitzie Jacobson, Newburg school, Livonia township, third, and Robert Green, Eastwood school, Grafton township, fourth.

Miss Grassnickie, the winner, was also the Wilcox representative at the Detroit News district spelling bee held last week at Plymouth high school in which she was quarter-finalist, preceded only by Patricia Woods, of Fisher school, semi-finalist, and Arthur Walstrom, Truesdell school, the winner. Eight Livonia representatives participated in the spelling-down.

Babson Urges America To Work—Predicts Era of Prosperity Ahead

(By Roger Babson)

Babson Park, Mass., May 9.—This is a time when readers should quit arguing and get down to business. If you have a farm, live on it and watch it. If you have a store, be in it every minute that it is open and attend to your customers as you never have before. If you work for someone else, give better service than you have ever given in years past. There is no use talking now as to what will happen after the war.

Between now and then, we should see a gradual strengthening in commodity prices, productive real estate, and employment. With this thought in mind, we should forge ahead. Of course, some time there will be another depression—perhaps worse than the last one—but this is some years ahead. Moreover, when it comes its duration will depend largely upon how we act during the next year or two. If we attend to business, get out of debt, and have faith in one another, we should have nothing to fear.

Germans Work Together.

Let us learn something from Germany. Noted always for their industry, the Germans have to date surpassed all previous attempts at organization, efficiency, and thrift. Certainly, Germany has secured the solidarity of her citizens. In our determination to help Great Britain, we must not forget there is a happy medium between ruthless autocracy and wasteful democracy.

All German life has long been subordinated to the good of the nation as a whole. Hitler has been tough. Standards of living, wages and hours, and other factors in the lives of the German people rank ahead of individual desires. Above all, discipline has been intensified and maintained. This last is not one of our own national characteristics. It was conspicuous by its absence in France and contributed to her downfall.

Let Us Wake Up

In the "Arsenal of Democracy" role our country is playing, our program of defense and aid is seriously bogging down. This is not due so much to bottlenecks, strikes, priorities, lack of machine tools, skilled workers, etc., as to a lack of appreciation on the part of our people as to the seriousness of the situation. The commonly considered hindrances are largely of a "mechanical" nature. They should all, including the strikes and shutdowns, be cleared up in short order. The real bottleneck is our spiritual attitude.

There is too much of a tendency to believe that should Hitler defeat England that the affairs of our own country would remain relatively unchanged. Isolationists believe that instead of our trading with London, our relationships would simply be transferred to Berlin. Unfortunately, the problem is not so easily solved. Should Hitler gain and remain in control of Great Britain, the Northern Countries, the Continent of Europe, Africa, and of the Middle East, we would become a second-rate power and be dependent upon him—invasion or no invasion.

Watch the Politicians

As a guide to public opinion, the way our senators and representatives vote is worth considering. Senator La Follette is very close to the President, yet he strongly opposed him when the Lend-Lease Bill came up. The senator knew that the majority of his constituents were not in favor of the passage of this legislation. Not alone in Wisconsin, but in Minnesota, Illinois, and Iowa, the people were generally opposed to this bill. This does not mean that the Midwest is in love with Hitler's form of government. Rather, it is either concerned over the proper way to defend this country and uncertain as to the step to take,—or else it lacks courage and a willingness to sacrifice for the common good.

Except for a few die-hard isolationists, our representatives in Washington are alive to our unpreparedness and to the necessity of aiding Britain and her Allies. Yet, they are put into office to represent and interpret the wishes of their electors. Hence, the position they take upon matters of national policy constitutes a good barometer of sectional belief and public opinion. My advice to the members of congress, however, is to get back home more often and personally tell the voters "what's what."

Unite and Serve

Only a little more than a year ago Hitler struck at Norway. His progress to date in spreading disaster is shocking in its threat to the American way of life. Perhaps for us to realize this menace and the necessity for cooperative thinking and action, the sinking of one of our own warships will be necessary. Whatever this might hold for us and for our good neighbor, Canada, we will, as individuals, rise or fall together.

We talk of our ideals and beliefs, yet shut our eyes and plug our ears to the real sights and sounds of the day. We seem mainly interested in acquiring and spending the new-found wealth that the defense program is bringing. As a nation, we must wake up. Unfortunately, through lack of individual responsibility, we may be smashed economically if not physically. Our deficiency of spirit may lead to our disintegration. We must all speak up for righteousness, heed the call to sacrifice, and toil to the limits of our capacities whether we be a workman, banker, farmer, or housewife.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 429): "Jesus said (John viii, 51). 'If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.' That statement is not confined to spiritual life, but includes all the phenomena of existence. # Girl Reserves Entertain 300 At Annual Banquet

Fete Daughters And Mothers In Play And Speeches

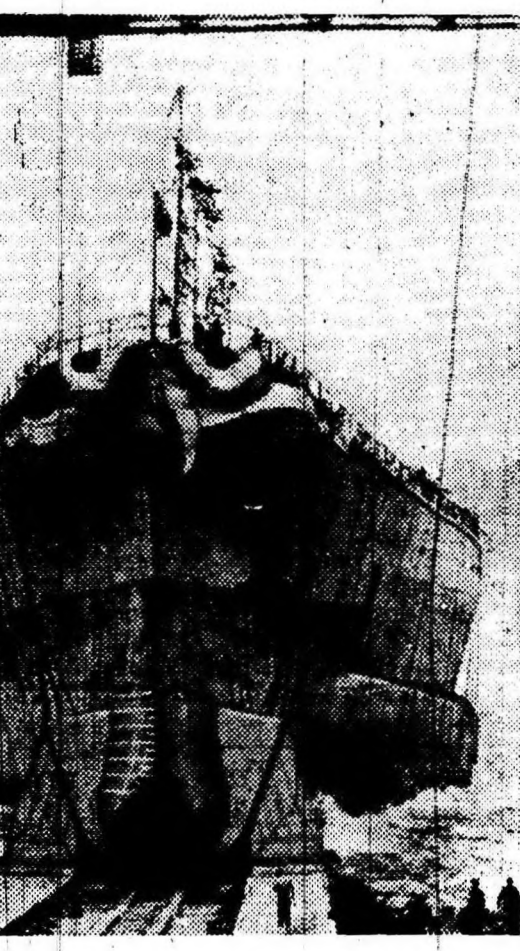

The portrayal of the evolution of the modern girl in a play called "Four Generations," written and directed by Virginia Rock and the speech of Mrs. E. C. Thompson, president of the Parent-Teachers' Congress of Michigan, proved to be the highlights of the seventeenth annual mother and daughter banquet, sponsored by the Girl Reserves Wednesday evening. The play, based upon the change in women from 1862 to the present, portrayed in four scenes the growth of women in recreation, education, politics, vocational fields, and social activities. Between scenes, Allene Parmelee played a violin solo, Margery Merriam and Mary Jane Olsaver offered a vocal duet, and Shirley Bernard, an accordion solo. Annabelle Becker led group singing, accompanied by Ruth Drews on the piano.

Mrs. Thompson declared that "in reality, there is no dividing line between mothers and daughters, but rather there is an endless procession, unbroken from one generation to the next—with a unity of interest—the home." In relation to the war she said, "There is a chance for women to do something in the present situation. One hears the motto, 'In time of peace, prepare for war.' I prefer to turn that around to read: 'In time of war, prepare for peace.' For the peace of tomorrow will be made in terms of what people are thinking, in terms of what is going on in the homes. Women have a big responsibility: to teach that while there are privileges and opportunities in a democracy, there are likewise responsibilities and duties, responsibilities of neighborliness and tolerance, and of understanding what citizenship in a democracy means. We should remember that the first line of defense is the home," she added. At the conclusion of Mrs. Thompson's talk, Ardith Rowland presented her with a corsage on behalf of the Girl Reserves. Other participants in the program were Ruth Parmelee, chairman of the evening, "Pioneer Girl"; Ardith Rowland, president of the Girl Reserves; and Frances Weed, who gave a toast to the mothers, "To the Gibson Girl"; and Mrs. Manfred Beck, who responded with a toast to the daughters, "To the Bewildering Offspring." The dinner was served by the Hi-Y boys. The auditorium, as usual, was filled to its capacity of 300.

Rapid expansion of the United States army is being matched by the navy as it continues to speed new ships to completion. In addition to small auxiliary vessels constantly joining the fleet, two powerful fighting ships will be commissioned on May 15 when the 35,000-ton superdreadnaught Washington (right) and the 243-foot submarine Mackerel (left) are placed into service. The Washington will join her sister ship, the North Carolina, which was commissioned last month, while four other similar battleships will be launched within a year.

The Fred Hearn Reveal Daughter's Engagement

At a dinner party in their home on Plymouth road Saturday, May 3, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hearn announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Norman Kincaid. The guests, college friends of Miss Hearn's from the Julia Ann King residence hall at Michigan State Normal college in Ypsilanti, included Misses Jean and Kitty Harding, of Detroit; Miss Jane Eyre of Flint; Misses Jean and Helen Finkbeiner of Saginaw; Miss Marjorie Dinning of Flint and Miss Myrtle Dunlap of Pontiac. Two tiny white hearts on which the names of the engaged couple were printed were tied to individual gardenia corsages and given to each guest. Miss Hearn will graduate from Michigan State Normal college in June and is this year president of Pi Kappa Delta. Mr. Kincaid is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kincaid of Plymouth. Upon his graduation from Michigan State college in 1940, he became affiliated with the Socony Oil company in New York. On April 28, he was commissioned to active duty and is now a lieutenant in the Quartermaster Corps at an Army air base which is being constructed at Pendleton, Oregon.

How to become A SKILLED DRIVER

By RAY W. SHERMAN
Courtesy of the FORD GOOD DRIVERS LEAGUE

EDITOR'S NOTE: We believe many motorists in this community would drive better if they knew how to drive. In the interest of safety, we will publish from time to time excerpts from the book, "How to Become a Skilled Driver," written for the Ford Good Drivers League by Ray W. Sherman, noted authority on driving. These excerpts are reprinted through courtesy of the Ford Motor Company.

SKILLED DRIVERS NEVER STUNT

Some drivers think skill behind the wheel consists in doing tricks with a car—driving fast, beating lights, gliding through "stop" signs or generally making the rest of the world miserable.

When a skilled driver watches one of these unskilled operators, he feels rather sorry. He sees a wonderful piece of machinery, glorious roads leading to lovely countryside, a driver with good intellect, good arms, good legs, good eyes. And he sees the whole picture marred because the driver never acquired real driving skill.

Some drivers think they're smart when they do tricks with a car. Actually, if a driver doesn't think right, he can't drive right.

Central P.T.A. Meets Tuesday

Betty Lou and Cynthia Baker and Patricia and Sally Zink will perform their "Jockey Dance" with Miss Marjorie Teague accompanying at the piano. Miss Georgina Zemer will direct a group of younger children in singing.

First Grade
The Robins and Snowbirds have been reading in their Good Times Together. All the first grade made pictures about the robins and wrote a little poem about them. They made May baskets and went on a trip to pick May flowers. May 1. Most of them came back without flowers but they had a nice walk.

Second and Third Grades
—Val Cutcher
We have been busy reviewing our books and practicing for the May Festival. We have been studying pictures and making up stories about them. Some of them are very interesting. We made posters to illustrate May Day in the third grade. The second grade made May baskets.

Fourth Grade
Five people from our room are going to be in the May Festival. It is going to be next Friday night at Fordson high school. Yesterday Mrs. Acles gave us back some health records that we made last fall. We are going to compare them with our health habits now to see if we have improved. Last Friday we had a C. J. C. meeting. Kathleen and David were chosen reporters. Garland was elected for editor. We are doing long division now. We think it is easy. In geography we are visiting China. We are glad to we do not live there because we have much more in our land. We want to be good citizens and keep our land one of the best on earth.

Seventh and Eighth Grades
This week the children of Cooper school have been making ready for the Spring Festival to be held at Fordson high, Dearborn, Friday, May 9. The seventh and eighth grades were chosen from the entire school to do the dance, "Gustaf's Skool." Most of the girls and all of the boys made their own costumes for the dance. The girls made their hats out of crepe paper. The boys made their own costumes entirely of cambric. The chorus chosen from our school is from the second grade through the eighth. Our captain, patrols and pupils have won the traveling cup presented each year by the Michigan Automobile club. We are now taking milk from the Wilson Dairy with a slight change in price—white milk, chocolate milk and orange juice is three cents.

Other officers elected for the coming year are Vau Campbell, vice-president; Mildred Barnes, treasurer; Rebecca Obsniuk, recording secretary; and Hazel Diack, corresponding secretary. Following the close of the business session, the program was turned over to the chairman of the evening, Hazel Diack.

The program, "Women in Democracy," presented brief biographies of outstanding women of the last 40 years. These pioneer club women were represented by club members dressed in the costume of the time and presented in an old-fashioned picture frame. After the introduction, the character in the frame presented the biographical sketch of the woman she represented.

The following women were characterized: Susan B. Anthony and a Young Suffragette by Hazel Diack; Florence Nightingale, Clara Barton and Julia Stimson by Florence Stader; Jane Addams and Ann Hutchinson by Gwendolyn Inge; Juliette Lowe, the founder of the Girl Scouts of America, by Ione Stuart of Troop 2, Plymouth Girl Scouts and Eleanor Roosevelt by Gwendolyn Inge.

Edith Nolte, winner of the Democracy essay contest held by the Plymouth high school, presented her winning declamation, "This Democracy of Ours." The program closed with the group singing, "God Bless America." Assisting Mrs. Diack with plans for the meeting were Gwendolyn Inge and Florence Stader. Mrs. Daisy Jewett, district chairman of the club, was a special guest at the meeting.

Board Chairman Tells of Wayne County Progress

Rotarians Hear John Breining At Last Meeting

"Wayne county has the finest highway system in the United States. Its road commission has been awarded the distinction of being the best organized and best conducted county road organization anywhere in the country, the award having been made by a national organization that made a careful study of all road organizations in counties possessing large metropolitan sections." Chairman John F. Breining of the Wayne county road commission told members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday.

The club's program was under the direction of John R. MacLachlan, who introduced the speaker as one of the outstanding road officials of Michigan.

Mr. Breining briefly sketched the road development of Wayne county, pointing out that it was the establishment of a military road along the Detroit river that marked the beginning of the remarkable road system of Wayne county.

The first trail road in Wayne county is now the famous Jefferson avenue. The road followed along near the river bank, and its location has never been changed, except slightly in a few places.

During the early settlement days of Michigan, Mr. Breining pointed out, lakes and rivers were used for all transportation purposes, but as the country grew it became evident that roads were essential, and when military needs became important along about the time of the War of 1812, Jefferson avenue was laid out as a military road. Then came the location of the road to Toledo and Cleveland, Michigan avenue, Grand River, Woodward and Gratiot avenues, all military roads. They are now some of the busiest thoroughfares in all the world, stated Mr. Breining.

He briefly alluded to the plans of the commission for the building of additional super-highways in Wayne county.

"While we were the first county in all the world to build a concrete paving, we, too, were the first to build what is known as the super-highway. In fact, the phrase 'super-highway' was created by our commission," he said.

"Soon we will start the construction of the new Davison avenue through traffic super-highway. The through traffic will be carried on paved thoroughfares depressed below the grade of the present streets and all intersections will be overhead. We hope to make it the finest super-highway of its kind ever built."

"Not only are we planning much new construction for safer and faster traffic, but as you know we also have charge of the county parkway system and this, too, must be developed to take care of the ever increasing number of people who find enjoyment by visiting our parks."

"Last year over three million and a quarter people visited our parks, and the number will continue to increase. Out here you know well what the meaning of our county parks are to the people," stated the speaker.

His talk was one of the most interesting heard by the club in sometime.

High School Girl Writes Essay On "America and Opportunity"

Phyllis Hawkins, senior student at Plymouth high school, wrote the following essay on "America and Opportunity" in the senior government class instructed by James Latture:

Mr. John Doe to Mr. Average American citizen: "I was promoted yesterday to the position of vice-president of the firm and just think, it has been only five years since I was hired as a clerk. It isn't so difficult to progress if one has the ability and ambition."

Mr. Average Citizen to Mr. John Doe: "You know it's people like you who present a problem to America and make the poorest citizens. Oh, I know, you vote regularly, drive your car sensibly, work hard, lead a quiet life, contribute to charity, and obey the laws willingly, but what you don't do is appreciate the opportunity you have to do these things. Have you ever thought that if we didn't have our form of government, you wouldn't gain promotion no matter what the amount of your in-ability?"

The realization of the American dream as is expressed in our Declaration of Independence, our constitution, and our Bill of Rights, provides the opportunity for you to obey laws willingly, drive an automobile, live a serene, uninterrupted life, vote regularly for whom you wish, and work hard and long so that in the end you might receive a just profit or an earned reward or promotion.

If more people who are promoted, or given an increase in salary or elected to a public office would stop to recognize the things which give them the privilege of such gains, they would realize that intelligence, skill, and talent are of no value whatsoever if there is no opportunity to make use of them.

When we read articles proving that we have the highest standard of living in the world, when we see charts showing that more money is earned per person in the U.S.A. than in any other country, that more goods can be bought for each dollar, that there are more comforts and luxuries per person, such as telephones, automobiles, and radios, that we are one of the healthiest and wealthiest of all nations, we should pause momentarily to consider the facts. When we learn that our country is rich in natural resources which are being used for creative and productive materials, then we should be able to comprehend the cause behind all of these facts, private and personal benefits—Democracy. The American dream, opportunity, or form of government -- the government that makes us astonished when we hear that people in China receive about eight cents a day in wages or when we hear that a large share of Russian people don't know the meaning of money or comfort.

Yes! There are a lot of people like you Mr. John Doe, who don't appreciate the fact that if we didn't have our form of government, we wouldn't have our standard of living and you wouldn't have the opportunity to excel because of your ability and ambition.

Council Opposes Proposed Bill

A resolution was passed by the city commission at its meeting Monday night opposing House Bill No. 470, a proposed amendment to the weight and gas tax act of the state.

At the present time, the entire weight tax and $2,550,000 of gasoline tax is distributed under the Horton Act from which municipalities receive a share. Under H. B. 470, all revenues collected from commercial vehicles would be distributed directly to county road commissions on a direct mileage basis, leaving only passenger vehicle revenues, representing only 66 per cent of the 1939 weight tax collections to be distributed under the Horton Act, and it would be from these greatly reduced funds that cities and villages would get their share which would be similarly reduced.

The following resolution in which the commission placed itself on record against the proposed bill was forwarded to legislative representatives and to Chairman Alpheus P. Decker of the roads and bridges committee:

"Whereas, there has been introduced in the house of representatives House Bill No. 470; "Whereas, if such a bill were passed the weight and gas tax returned to Plymouth would be reduced 25 to 33 per cent; "Whereas, there is not sufficient sums returned to adequately care for the streets of Plymouth which receive a large amount of traffic;

"Therefore, be it resolved that the commission of the city of Plymouth oppose such legislation."

Imagination was given to man to compensate him for what he is not; a sense of humor to console him for what he is.

Library Lists Books on Music

Since this is Music Week, readers are reminded of the collection of books on music and musicians at the Plymouth branch of the Wayne county library. This is an appropriate time to study up on music and the librarian suggests the following books:

"Men of Music: Their Lives, Times and Achievements," by Brockway; "So You Want to Write a Song?" by Bruce; "A Child's Book of Famous Composers," by Burch; "What to Listen For in Music," by Copland; "I Played Their Accompaniments," by David; "Living Musicians," by Ewen; "My Wife and I," by Homer; "Science and Music," by Joans; "A Smattering of Ignorance," by Oscar Levant; "Music in History," by McKinney; "Listening to Music," by Moore; "Music and Society," by Siegmeyer; "How to Write and Sell a Song Hit," by Silver; "Music as a Profession," by Taubman; "Well-Tempered Listener," by Taylor; and "How to Understand Music," by Thompson.

Send Coffee to Finnish War Sufferers, They Sell It To Raise Hospital Money

"Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days," says the Bible.

It has been many days since that Friday on last October when Plymouth Rotarians dug into their pockets and purchased some 60 or more pounds of coffee to be sent to the stricken people of Finland.

The "bread cast upon the waters" has been returned to Plymouth Rotarians after these many, many weeks and months—and what happy return it proved to be.

Last Friday noon, President Glenn M. Jewell of Plymouth's Rotary club read a letter addressed to the members which he had just received telling of the safe receipt by the Helsinki Rotary club of Finland of the 60 pounds of coffee. The letter also expressed their heartfelt gratitude for the gift made by Plymouth Rotarians.

And what did the Helsinki Rotarians do with the coffee? Surely they enjoyed a cup of good American coffee, one might say, especially when it is so scarce and difficult to secure in that war-stricken country.

Nothing of the kind! The Helsinki Rotarians auctioned off the 60 pounds of coffee, that cost the Plymouth Rotarians some thing like $18, for a total sum of more than $240—the coffee selling at the auction for about $4 a pound.

Possibly it would be better to quote President Herbert Anderson's letter to Presidents Jewell as to what the Rotarians of Finland did with the money they made by auctioning off the coffee sent to them from this city:

"Feeling sure of your intention that this gift should be used for some purpose of charity, we applied for permission to dispose of this coffee outside of rationing in the best possible way for the benefit of the new Children's hospital at Suomalaismi, near the eastern frontier.

"In that partly devastated and now poverty-stricken region with high infant mortality, a hospital is now in course of construction, and our club has twice voted funds for its erection and maintenance. In fact, it was our initial gift of some $4,000 that gave it a good start. Other subsidies started to pour in, and the funds now aggregate about $21,000. Our application to sell the coffee was granted and at a recent night meeting most of the coffee was sold for an average of $4 a tin as against $1 per tin. "The proceeds were handed over to the board of trustees of the Children's hospital. Through that fancy price, a nice contribution was secured in a place where money is badly and urgently needed and we really hope you will approve of our procedure. On behalf of this club, I beg to extend to you, Mr. President, and to the fellow Rotarians in your club our sincere thanks for the present, and our best greetings."

The idea of sending coffee to Finland was suggested to the Plymouth club last fall by William Pettigill—who, like other Rotarians, was delighted to know that the idea had brought about so much good.

Women's Club Installs Officers

Seventy-eight members of the Women's club of the Rosedale Gardens Civic association met for dinner and the installation of new officers on Thursday, May 1, at 6:30 p.m. at the club's tables were attractively decorated with spring flowers.

After a delicious dinner, Mrs. Martin W. Lott, retiring president, was presented with a corsage and thanked the group for their co-operation and help in the past year and hoped that the new officers would be successful. She then turned the keys of the clubhouse over to the new president, Mrs. Ralph Baker, who thanked her for her good wishes and introduced the other officers who are Mrs. Earl Stanbury, vice president; Mrs. Palmer Fry, secretary; and Mrs. George Hamilton, treasurer.

She also announced her committee chairmen for the coming year and asked everyone's co-operation in all projects to be undertaken. The committee chairmen are:

Mrs. Earl Stanbury, program; Mrs. Harry Burton, hostesses; Mrs. Edward Zopf, publicity; Mrs. C. H. Groth, welfare; Mrs. M. G. Watterworth, historian; Mrs. Harold Crisp, book review; and Mrs. Roger Cooper, book secretary.

League of Women Voters Study "Battle of Defense Production"

"The Battle of Production," a booklet prepared by the National League of Women Voters to describe the organization of the defense program, is currently being discussed by the local chapter of the league in Plymouth.

"It is public opinion and its effect upon labor and capital, military and civilian services that will determine the success or failure of an undertaking such as has never before been made and whose success demands sacrifices never before practiced except by people at war. Therefore, the league is presenting a few facts necessary to an informed and intelligent public opinion," explains Mrs. James Sessions, first vice-president in charge of publicity for the Plymouth League of Women Voters.

"Since May 1940 a bewildering array of government organizations has been set up to handle defense activities that are supplementary to work of the War and Navy departments and other agencies. Between June and December of 1940, federal employees increased by 137,000 and the number is still growing. This has meant an influx into Washington of almost 25,000 new workers. The representation of foreign governments in the United States has also been increasing. There are at least a dozen foreign agencies for purchasing munitions, by far the largest of which is the British Supply Council and its affiliates," the league booklet relates.

"Three features of the United States defense organization are of particular significance at the present time: the Office of Emergency Management, the Office of Production Management, and the evolving organization for administration of the Lease-Lend Act.

"The Office of Emergency Management (OEM) is a part of the Executive Office of the President; it exists to facilitate the work of the defense agencies. Through this office, headed by William H. McReynolds, funds are allotted to defense agencies out of the President's emergency fund. The Office of Production Management (OPM) is the most important of the non-military defense agencies at the present time. It is responsible for getting production of goods in the quantity and of the type needed for our own defense program and for 'lending and leasing' abroad. If necessary, such economic weapons as priorities and commandeering may be used. The OPM has four members—William S. Knudsen, Sidney Hillman, and the secretaries of the War and Navy. The administration of the Lease-Lend Act is conducted by the Cabinet committee, directed by Harry L. Hopkins.

"The present gigantic defense program was launched in the spring of 1940 after the German Army marched into western Europe. Between June 1940 and March 1941, over two billion of government funds have been obligated for financing 723 industrial plants. Another billion and a half has been invested in 19 government-owned and operated arsenals and shipyards and in 283 government-financed factories for lease to private manufacturers. Nearly 400 million of government funds has been made available for the private financing of 421 different kinds of plants. In addition, the British government has financed 61 plants at a cost of 171 million. Over-expansion, which might leave capital with enlarged facilities still unpaid for when the war is over, is recognized as a continuing hazard, although government is attempting to lessen this danger through amortization plans.

"Defense plants cannot function without labor. Between June and December of 1940, the bureau of labor statistics estimates that 2,159,000 workers were added to defense industry pay rolls and Mr. Knudsen estimates that 3,000,000 more will be needed by autumn 1941. Between June 1940 and January 1941, airplane workers increased by 73 per cent, foundry and machine shop workers by 21 per cent and steel workers by 15 per cent.

"To prevent slowing up of production in defense industries through strikes or lock-outs, a National Defense Mediation board has been organized to help adjust labor disputes. Between January 1 and April 4 of this year, the War department reported 101 labor disputes in 96 plants engaged directly or indirectly in production or construction for the War department.

"For the period of the emergency, it becomes apparent that labor will be expected to make sacrifices. If the new mediation board fails to settle disputes and if labor slows up defense production by engaging in jurisdictional disputes and pressing for closed shop agreements, Congress may pass drastic legislation which will curtail labor's activity far more than if labor should make sacrifices voluntarily. There need be no necessity to sacrifice past gains if labor will show cooperation and be satisfied to progress more slowly.

"Government defense funds, authorized and pending, amount to approximately 40 billion dollars. British orders already placed in this country will bring the total of defense expenditures to nearly 43 billion. By April 1941, contracts for more than 12 and a half billion dollars have been let by the United States and an additional three and a half billion by the British government.

"The money necessary for the defense program may be raised by reducing non-defense expenditures or increasing revenues.

Congratulations Mother

An Open Letter to All Mothers of the City of Plymouth

Mother's Day Sunday, May 11

Sunday is Mother's Day. What a day that will be in all of the homes of Plymouth. What an event it is to honor all of the mothers of this great country of ours. Who is there that deserves our praise more than they?

We direct this message straight to them and we hope the joys that are theirs today will continue to be theirs throughout the years ahead. For the mothers who have sons serving in the service of our country we tell them that we are justly proud of them and we hope that they will thrill when they pause to think that it's their sons who work to keep this nation for the free.

We feel that the mothers of the city are a major influence in the things that go on each day. The good deeds that come from here and there are for the most part those inspirations which some mother has fostered in her home. Look about you and watch the mothers at their work. Surely no home is at its best without a mother's guiding hand.

To all mothers we say congratulations... We believe that it is our right and just duty to take time out and pass along to you this word of praise... If only our life was planned so that we could devote our time to the furtherance of happiness for others surely every mother would receive our every thought.

May you enjoy to the fullest this day that is yours. We salute you and wish for you the best of everything throughout the year ahead.

Most sincerely yours,

State Representative Discusses University Tax Problems

Plymouth Club Heals Interesting Talk By J. E. Warner

Members of the University Club of Plymouth at their annual spring banquet last Thursday evening had the pleasure of hearing State Representative Joseph Warner of Washtenaw county discuss in detail the financial problems of the world's greatest school of learning.

Probably no state official is more familiar with the University's tax problem than Representative Warner.

In view of the fact that the University is located in his district, it is one of his chief responsibilities to see to it that the state government properly supports this great school. For more than ten years he has been a member of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives and during all of these years he has looked after the appropriation bills of the school.

Mr. Warner was introduced to the 100 or more guests present by Mayor Ruth Huston Whipple, who acted as general chairman of the evening's event. She spoke highly of Mr. Warner's work in the legislature and said it was fortunate indeed that the club had been able to secure him as its speaker.

Mr. Warner briefly reviewed the long tax history of the school, pointing out the fact that the University is the only state institution that is protected in its financial requirements by a provision written into the state constitution.

He stated that he was sure that the present legislature will be as liberal with the University as possible, and that the state appropriation would be sufficient to take care of the badly needed additional requirements of the school.

HON. JOSEPH E. WARNER

Hayley Tapping, an official of the Alumni Association from Ann Arbor, brought greetings to the club from the organization. Evered Jolliffe led in the group singing and Clarence Schultz, a University student, provided several selections on the marimba.

After the banquet, held in the Masonic Temple, the following members were elected to the board of governors: Three years, Mrs. Thomas Bateman, Paul Harsha and Mrs. Richard Brand; two years, George A. Smith, Clarence H. Elliott and Rev. G. H. Enss; one year, Warren Worth, Sidney Strong and Stuart Dubee.

A special vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Bateman, the retiring president for the splendid work she has done in behalf of the club during its first year of existence.

Schrader Team Wins Game, 8-5

Plymouth's Schrader baseball team won a game at Cass Benton park last Sunday afternoon from the Amazo Sales team by a score of 8 to 5. H. Williams earned four of the team's 12 hits. Ken DeBozy connected with three and H. Kubetsky earned two. The Plymouth team won despite five errors as against the Amazo four errors.

DeBozy had 10 strike outs and walked only four batters. Schauer got a home run for Amazo in the eighth inning.

This Sunday the Schrader team will journey to Jackson to play the Trusty's team at the Jackson state prison.

Boy Scouts Plan Varied Activities

In accordance with the request from the President, Boy Scouts are distributing defense bond posters. All local troops have received their quota of posters and will distribute them throughout the business places of the city.

The Scouts of Troop P-2 will spend the week-end at the Wayne County Training school cabins. After attending church with their mothers on Mother's Day, they will return to the cabins for a dinner to be cooked by Troop Committeeman William Hobson and his wife.

On Monday evening, May 12 at 7 o'clock at the city hall, the first of a three week training course will be held for the parents of Scouts in Troop P-2. The meeting will be led by Field Executive E. G. Silver and other district leaders. This will mark the first time such a course has been given for parents of existing Scout units.

ATTACK ON AMERICA

THE STORY SO FAR: More than 200,000 foreign troops secretly assembled in Mexico by Van Hasek suddenly invaded the United States. Vastly superior in numbers and equipment to the American forces which opposed them, Van Hasek's troops pushed relentlessly

CHAPTER XVII—Continued

Benning went to bed after watching for several hours and managed to sleep through part of the day. From his porthole, Benning saw flying fish scurry out of the course of the ship in late afternoon, which confirmed fast progress south. With evening he caught the blink of distant light myriads on the coast line. He explored the possibility of escape in the night by whaleboat, but concluded he stood slender chance of success in such an exploit. At dark he resumed his reconnaissance of the deck in his effort to locate Bravot.

Schmolz' stateroom was empty at nine o'clock, again at ten. On his third trip down the boat deck, Benning found that half a dozen men had assembled, including Bravot and Schmolz. He stationed himself again in the shadows of a whaleboat and waited. An hour passed without development, then the group fled out and went to the rail to strain their eyes into the starlit night.

One of them set off a flare, and ten minutes later a second flare. Benning's ears caught the distant hum of an airplane. The sound grew in volume until a plane zoomed overhead and circled to a stop.

The engines of the ship slowed down. Four men lowered a boat. Bravot shook hands with Schmolz and climbed over the rail to disappear down the ladder. A few minutes later Benning caught the flash of oars in the starlight. The plane burst into a roar of sound, lifted into the night, and streaked off into the void whence it had come.

Benning returned heavily to his cabin. Bravot's departure by plane clearly meant that the ship would not pause at Tampico or Vera Cruz. But at least, Benning consoled himself, he could play a stiffer game on deck with the French renegade out of the way.

Somehow, in the tense days ahead, he would find a solution to this hideous problem, he vowed. If nothing better, a chance at the radio room whence he could flash a warning code to the coast artillery forts and naval base guarding the Canal from Limon Bay.

During the next few days, while the dynamite ship ate up the long miles to Panama, Benning carefully went over the vessel and watched his chances. Land had vanished, escape by boat he had dismissed finally as out of the question.

Benning's interest centered on the radio room as his best chance. The radio station lay in a cubbyhole under the bridge. Several times he visited the room, pretending interest in its mechanism. But the radio operator, one Smidt, was sullenly uncommunicative and resentful of visitors.

"You been around here enough, mister," Smidt complained at Benning's third appearance. "I got work to do, so you please keep away."

After that incident, Benning gained an uncomfortable suspicion that he was being watched. Twice he tested his trail by an abrupt about-face on deck. Both times a hatchet-faced steward slouched past him with exaggerated preoccupation.

Only one chance remained if he failed at the radio. That was to reach the American officers who would come aboard to check cargo before the ship was permitted in the locks. But Benning decided that he must not wait on that last desperate extremity.

Benning kept up a careful estimate of the speed and progress of the ship. His calculations told him when the ship must be approaching Limon Bay. Schmolz' plan, he guessed, was to detonate the ship as it passed through Gatun Locks.

Benning's plan of direct action crystallized on what he judged to be the last afternoon at sea. In his cabin he blocked out, on a sheet from his notebook, a blunt warning message.

"Commanding General, Panama—Halt American freighter now approaching Limon Bay from New York with cargo of high explosives. General plot in effect to wreck Panama Canal. Instant action imperative.—Benning, Major G-2."

Until he saw Schmolz go to the bridge, Benning loitered about the boat deck, then went direct to the radio room.

"Mister, didn't I tell you to keep out of here!" Smidt exploded as Benning stepped into the little room. Benning said quietly: "I want to use your radio, Smidt. You'll be good enough to do just what I tell you to do."

Smidt scowled at Benning's leveled pistol and yielded with a sullen nod of his head. Benning strapped the fellow's hands behind his back and forced him to stretch out face downward on the floor. Sitting down calmly, Benning started putting his message into Panama. He had buzzed out the words, "C. G. Panama—Halt"—when a voice challenged from the door.

"So, my ship has a new radio man!"

Schmolz was framed in the door.

INSTALLMENT SIXTEEN

INSTEAD, THE U. S. army was not prepared for this sudden attack, and could only retreat in the face of overwhelming force. While an American spy in Mexico City, Benning had gained the confidence of two enemy officers, Fincke and Bravot. Weeks later he unexpectedly met his voice a raucous sneer. Murder burned in his round green eyes as he covered Benning with a long-barreled Luger pistol. Behind Schmolz were his mate, steward, and a member of the crew. With an oath he unstrapped Smidt's hands and kicked the operator to his feet. Smidt took Benning's pistol and message and passed them to Schmolz.

"El, himmel!" Schmolz gasped, as he read the message. "A spy aboard!"

In a surge of savage fury Schmolz seized Benning by the collar and jerked him out on deck. With a sudden swing of his arm, he flung him down upon him with his two hundred pounds of beef and brawn.

"Got here—just in time—didn't I?" Schmolz bellowed. "Not for nothing—did I have you watched!"

Schmolz' beefy fists pummeled emphasis to his words, flailing Benning's face and head.

"Chuck him overboard to the sharks!" he roared.

Benning was driven to the rail. He gripped the rail with his hands and held tenaciously against the fatal plunge into the Atlantic. One of his assailants clutched his legs, and other ground, with heavy heels at his fingers. Below Benning could see the water foaming down the hull of the ship.

His feet were clear of the deck, his left hand lacerated into helplessness. A knife flashed in the air over his right hand to slash it free of the rail. Schmolz bellowed an order before the knife could reach the flesh and bone of Benning's fingers.

"Stop it! Hold everything—keep him aboard! Ja, I got a new idea!"

The others turned to Schmolz with questioning glances. The knife hung in the air over Benning's hand.

"Ja, in the water it is over too quick!" Schmolz leered. "So I think we give him a nice stateroom—where he can think—until—boom!"

Schmolz sprang forward, seized Benning's collar and hustled him down a narrow flight of steps from the boat deck. He searched Benning's pockets and shouted an order.

A winch sang, a hatch crept open over the hold. At command, one man seized Benning's legs, the other two helped Schmolz cram their prisoner head foremost through the opening.

Benning plummeted through black space, struck on head and shoulders and lay stunned, consciousness holding by a thin thread. Slowly his mind cleared. He stretched his pain-racked body out on the hard cargo and tested shoulder blades by moving them. There was no fracture. Lying flat on his back, he strained his eyes upward through the blackness. The hatch had been closed.

He muttered to himself: "This time, Benning, you've tangled yourself in a fine snarl. Looks like curtains, doesn't it?"

Benning felt drowsiness creeping over him, a strong opiate. He woke with a start to find the engines shut down now. The ship was not moving. He concluded the ship must have stopped at Cristobal. Here a quarantine officer would come aboard. Schmolz would advise him of the nature of his cargo, but this merely for the computation of weights and water displacement required for passage through the locks. Unless suspicions were aroused, the ship would steam on into the Canal.

In a short time the engines churned. Benning took this as verification. The ship was leaving Cristobal.

After a time the engines slowed down, stopped. Benning's pulse hammered.

Glider Pilots Secure New Field

(By Skysailor)

The Detroit Glider council has acquired a new auxiliary airport site near Ypsilanti and glider pilots are enthusiastic about the possibilities for developing a fine field. Ypsilanti members of the XYZ Soaring club and particularly, Lyman Wiard, located the new field which is about three miles east of Ypsi and south of Michigan avenue. It lies just south of Tyler road and east of Wiard road. Ypsilanti township has taken an interest in the project. An area of tax delinquent land comprising 300 acres or more has been deeded by the state to Ypsilanti township for public purposes, to be used specifically as a gliderport for a period of 10 years.

It is hoped that the port may be one mile square when more land now individually owned is added to the original plot. Runways are being planned to extend 4,000 feet in all directions.

On Saturday, April 19 and the following Sunday, April 20, glider pilots were engaged in felling trees to clear the field. For some time, glider pilots have looked for a suitable auxiliary field with a longer clear space particularly in the north-south direction. It is felt that a hop can be made from Triangle field, the present headquarters for glider activity, to such an auxiliary field where gliders may attempt thermal soaring during the day and hop back to Triangle for storage of the gliders in the hangars.

Glider pilots have considered gliderport sites around Detroit for several years. Previous to April 3, 1938, gliders were flown at Pontiac airport. Power pilots back in those days thought that gliders were nothing but a nuisance. They managed to crowd gliders off the field. A couple of small airport operators were kind to the people who would fly gliders and the glider people under the group organization of the Detroit Glider council considered sharing some small field with airplanes. The council rented Triangle airport in the spring of 1938. A few airplanes were hangared there for a time but gradually all the gliders in the entire area were brought to Triangle until finally only two airplanes, both owned by glider pilots, remained at the field.

Meanwhile until the new field is put in readiness, glider pilots continue to soar. On Saturday, April 26, L. D. Montgomery stayed up in the Midwest Sailplane of the XYZ club for 20 minutes reaching 2,100 feet and then later he again found thermal lift on a second flight and stayed in the air one hour and four minutes. He reached 2,800 feet on this second flight.

William Putnam, who ordinarily flies the Midwest Sailplane company's ship, was invited to fly the XYZ machine in which he stayed up for 18 minutes, reaching 2,400 feet.

Randy Chapman was towed by airplane to 4,000 feet and again to 6,000 feet in a second flight. He was testing the Midwest ship to check stall and spin characteristics. On the second flight he kept the ship in the tail spin for quite a number of turns, though he reported that the ship would come out very readily if he simply let up on the controls and did not hold it in the spin. William Putnam conducted further tests in the same ship from 4,000 feet.

On Sunday, 101 flights were made in seven ships. The outstanding flight of the day was made by Arthur B. Schultz who stayed up an hour and 27 minutes.

utes, landing the Midwest sailplane at the Wayne County airport. This is a 10-mile airline. Art reached 4,100 feet at the highest point. He used a vario-meter built by Kempes Trager as a flying guide.

Ted Bellak made a flight of 12 minutes and 45 seconds in the Oriol. On his second attempt, he stayed up 34 minutes and reached an altitude of 2,400 feet.

W. J. Trott, a student of nine months' experience, made a flight in the XYZ Franklin of 14 minutes and 40 seconds and reached 1,500 feet. This won for Trott the right to a C soaring certificate.

A check of the records for 1941 reveals that pilots at Triangle have already this season made a total of 51 soaring flights lasting longer than ten minutes. The average is 24 minutes' duration and 1,860 feet altitude. This represents a grand start quite early in the season.

Livonia Center Boy Scouts Presented Charter

Twenty-One Boys Are Charter Members of First Local Troop

A dream which during the course of the last few months has rapidly become a reality was realized last Tuesday night at the community church by Livonia Center parents when they saw their sons presented with membership certificates in the organization of Boy Scouts of America. Twenty-one members of Troop LVI were given their Tenderfoot badges, significant of their passing preliminary tests of Scouting; five troop committeemen, two assistant scoutmasters and the scoutmaster were inducted and the troop as a whole was presented with its charter from the National Council by G. Earl Silver, Detroit area field executive.

Mr. Silver in his introduction gave a brief resume of events leading up to the official recognition of the troop.

"This Livonia Center troop is a community enterprise," Silver said. "It is the product of a few of you parents, headed by Mrs. Myron Anderson, who wanted Scouting and its principles imbedded upon the minds of your sons."

"Instead of being sponsored by your school, church organization or a like group as in other localities, here you have your own separate sponsoring organization—the Scouters Club."

"Tonight," Mr. Silver continued, "you are reaping the benefits. This is the occasion of the presentation of charter to the troop, marking a big occasion in the life of Livonia Center. Your boys are now one among 9,000,000 who have been Scouts and among the 2,000,000 current membership. The national organization of Boy Scouts of America is 31 years old and its current membership is larger than that of the U. S. Army."

The field executive said that Scouting is the greatest morale builder in the United States, and although it does teach military discipline, it does by no means teach military tactics, nor is it connected with the Army in any way.

"Scouting is for the advancement of Americanism ideals into the mind of every one of its members. A Scout knows how to take care of himself in the woods, on a hike or while camping. He also knows how to conduct himself properly in public places and has something to occupy his mind when alone, as there is always something to learn in Scouting," Silver declared.

The speaker presented the charter to Mrs. Anderson, president of the Scouters club, on behalf of the National Council and the Boy Scouts of America. It is issued for one year, at the end of which it is renewed for another term.

Each of five committeemen was presented a certificate of his office. They are: L. F. Larsen, chairman; R. W. Johnson, activities and camping; T. C. Bogen, advancement; A. L. Nielson, health and safety and M. J. Anderson, treasurer.

The Scoutmaster is William Cook, new resident of Livonia Center, who has long been interested in Scouting, being connected with it in Detroit. Jack Kurtz and E. L. Magee are his assistants.

As each member of the Livonia Center troop was given his certificate, his Tenderfoot badge was pinned on by Scoutmaster Cook. The entire membership had passed tests advancing them to the preliminary stage of Scouting.

Charter members of the first Livonia Center Boy Scout troop are: Larry Larsen, who was the first to pass his tenderfoot tests; Walter Hawkins, LaVerne Nielson, Raymond Kurtz, Robert Schable, John Whitesell, Donald Shely, Andy Izzo, Wallace Sutherland, Bill Schable, Charles Gilbert, Jack Wixon, John Martin, Donald Bogen, William Davis, Lawrence Smith, Leland Kilgore, Harvey Johnson, Bill Caldwell, Bill Magee and Dick Rothwell.

The troop is divided into four patrols. Raymond Kurtz is leader of the Eagle Patrol and Jack Martin is assistant patrol leader. The Tiger patrol is headed by Bill Caldwell, with Larry Smith as assistant, and John Whitesell as patrol leader of the Wolves, with Don Shely, assistant.

Scoutmaster Cook expressed appreciation at holding his position in the troop and was gratified in the manner it has been received and backed by the community.

Mrs. Anderson announced that the Scouters club meets the first Monday of each month at her home on Edington road. All parents in the community interested in Scouting are invited to attend their meetings. She also said that Dr. L. M. Hotchkiss, has donated his services so that every member of the troop will be given a physical examination within the next few weeks.

Staff Members At Press Conference

Fifteen members of the Pilgrim Prints staff attended the annual state-wide meeting of the Michigan Interscholastic Press association last Friday, May 2, at Ann Arbor.

The general morning session began with a roll-call of the high schools represented and their number of delegates. Dr. Merton Rice, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church of Detroit gave the principal address, called "Your Tomorrow." His talk was concerned with the value of great men. He concluded that two of the greatest men who ever lived were George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Washington, the gentleman, was great because he was patriotic without profit—something that democracy needs now more than ever before; Lincoln, the common man, was great because he came "out of the dark" to lead the nation at one of the most crucial times in its history. "The nation," he declared, "was in the keeping of youths' hands."

Professor Brumm, head of the journalism department of the University of Michigan, then gave criticisms of high school papers. Most frequently mentioned faults were the lack of editorial policy and the lack of emphasis on scholastic affairs of the school. The remainder of the morning session was spent in criticizing make-up of the publications, done by means of photographs projected on the screen. Points emphasized here to make a more readable paper were proportion, contrast, balance, unity and poise.

Mr. Arthur Secord, manager of the Michigan High School Journalism association, spoke on "Pursuit of Personality" at the afternoon session. He defined personality as evaluated individualism or, in other words, what others think you are. "For an attractive personality," Mr. Secord declared, "one must have health, a hobby, knowledge of one's self, general information, confidence, tact and adaptability." He concluded his talk with the words of Cervantes — "Everyone is the sum total of his own work."

The remainder of the afternoon was spent by the staff members in attending special discussion groups, including editorial writing, news writing, feature writing and annuals.

Those who attended were Robert Daniel, Virginia Rock, Paul Harsha, Margery Merriam, Jack Glettsen, Phyllis Hawkins, Gloriette Galloway, Virginia Garrison, George Chute, Archie King, Doris Shinn, Carolyn Sanford, Harold Young, Marion Goodman and Marie Ann Miller.

Social Register

Sharptailed grouse in the Upper Peninsula subsist almost exclusively on a diet of browse, wild fruits and a few seeds. They use mountain ash extensively when it is available.

Spring Sports

A softball tournament is one of two events on the girls' spring sport calendar. The other activity is a tennis tournament. Both of these tournaments are of the elimination variety and both boast a goodly turnout. Tennis play has been carried on for some time because of the large number of participants.

Girls enough to form nine teams will play softball on the diamonds of the playgrounds after school. The freshmen have three teams as do the sophomores while the juniors have two and the seniors one. Captained by freshman Violet Grady, Lois Vetal and Madeline Allen; sophomore, Faith Brandt; Leona Bakhaus, and Ruth Granger; junior, Carmel Stitt and Phyllis Nichols; and senior, Olive Mae Bakewell, the teams started play on Monday, May 5.

Local Nine Loses

Plymouth's baseball team journeyed to Dearborn Monday hoping to return with a victory, or at least an errorless ball game to its credit. But neither hope was fulfilled. The game was lost, 13-2, and our lads committed 15 blots.

Hancock led off and laid down a bunt which the pitcher promptly grabbed up. But when the throw pulled Wiseman off the base, Hancock was safe. Lacy struck out. Schwartz singled. Bridge struck out and Sheppard flied deep left field to end the inning.

Marshall singled, Davis singled, but was out trying to steal second and Marshall came home on an error. Thomas singled and De Priest popped to Schwartz.

Plymouth went down in order in their half of the second.

Chaddock got on on an error, stole second, took third on a passed ball and came home on an error. Mead popped to Schauffele.

Nieland struck out, Czajkowski walked and was left when Wiseman struck out.

At this point in the game, one of the most outrageous exhibitions of jockeying ever embarked upon was started by the opposition. Coach Jensen had to request the umpire to quiet the Dearborn subs.

In the third, O'Connor struck out, Hancock also struck out, Lacy walked and Schwartz grounded out second to first.

Dearborn went down in order. In the fourth, Bridge and Sheppard popped to the catcher and Vetal grounded out third to first. DePriest got on on an error and Chaddock singled. DePriest took third on an error. Mead popped to Schwartz but was safe when John dropped the ball. Nieland tripled, scoring DePriest and Mead, who had stolen second.

Chaddock walked and was hit by a pitched ball and Wiseman struck out. Marshall singled scoring Czajkowski and Nieland. Marshall stole second. Davis singled sending Marshall to third, but when Marshall tried to take home, a perfect throw from deep centerfield retired him at the plate.

In the fifth, Schauffele popped to Marshall, Williams singled, and O'Connor popped to Chaddock. Hancock tripled scoring Williams and came on home when the throw in got by the third baseman. Walsh took over the pitching duties and walked Lacy. Schwartz popped to short.

Dearborn scored four runs on hits by Nieland, Mead, DePriest, Sheppard, Williams and Lacy.

Bridge led off in the sixth and was hit by a pitched ball. He was left when Sheppard, Vetal and Schauffele were retired in order.

Dearborn scored three runs and made two hits in their half of the sixth.

Williams opened the seventh by driving a hard single to deep center field, ending the ball game.

Lineups: Hancock rf; Lacy lb; Schwartz ss; Bridge cf; Sheppard lf; Vetal 2b; Schauffele 3b; Williams c; O'Connor p; Blanton p; Kaiser, Ebersole.

Marshall ss; Davis cf; Thomas c; DePriest 3b; Chaddock p; Mead lf; Nieland rf; Czajkowski 2b; Wiseman 1b.

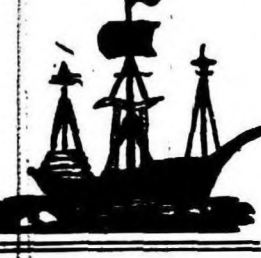

We should give as we would receive, cheerfully, quickly, and without hesitation, for there is no grace in a benefit that sticks to the fingers.—Seneca.

Frosh Baseball

Bill Wood, star of the freshman baseball team did a brilliant job of pitching last Monday May 5 by "shutting out" Dearborn 7-0.

Plymouth took the field in the first inning. The only hit that Dearborn made was executed in this inning, but he was nicely trapped by a quick throw to Hunt, the first baseman, retiring the side. Henry was lead-off for Plymouth who drew a walk followed by Brink and Wood who both hit singles. Muggs, Hunt and Jack Unger both had the same inning in common. Muggs hit a 3-bagger and so did Jack. Sassel then struck out to end the inning with two runs scored. In the third Wood led off and struck out. Hunt then drove another triple, he scored when Unger got on by error. The score then was 3-0 in favor of Plymouth. Nothing more in the way of excitement happened during the rest of the game except for a beautiful "pick off" pulled by Mead and Hunt. The game ended with Plymouth in the lead, Bill Wood's total of strikeouts was 11.

The line-up was as follows: Plymouth: Henry rf; Labbe cf; Sassel lf; Brink 2b; Unger ss; Mead 3b; Hunt 1b; Bennett c; Wood p.

Dearborn: Sowers rf; Rendall cf; Cook lf; Aiksey 3b; Alston ss; Hansen 2b; Filer 1b; Cameron c; Carney p.

Subs: Dearborn — Ebercuren and Russell.

Golfers Win Again

Plymouth's golf team again was the lord of the fairways when it defeated Northville April 30 by the combined scoring method, 16-3. "Jack" Shoemaker was the low scorer, shooting 80 on the par 72 hole course. To do this he carded three birdies on the second, fifth, and seventh holes. Hoffman had a birdie three on the first hole. Russell, in his first match of the season, shot 83 while Hoffman carded 89 and Maxey, also new, shot 99. Ross of Northville shot 89, McCusky 111, Boyden 103, and Martin scored 110.

According to the medal play, used by Plymouth, the Rocks won to the tune of 356 to 413.

World as I See It

(Second of a Series by Seniors)
Our public high school system, the best in the world, has given millions of Uncle Sam's sons equal opportunities to advance in scholastic enlightenment. And today having been graduated from a trade school, I find myself attending night school to complete my high school credits. The boy who has learned a trade and who will constantly reach for mental development I feel will never be in need. With foreign situations in chaos there seems little to look forward to—a state of war for us seems inevitable.

I thoroughly believe in conscription. At least for young boys specifically eighteen. This will prevent the interruption of careers which is becoming so prevalent now. So far as entering the war goes, primarily we are not ready for one with its depressions and booms. Every ounce of possible aid should be forwarded to Britain since it really is our war. But for spilling young America's blood in Europe I say "no" with a sign outside the door reading "Unlimited aid to the One Time Country."

If Germany does win the war, naturally we will be next on Hitler's conquest list. Speaking from an optimistic viewpoint, the world has seen Alexander and Napoleon with their imperialistic ideas go down in utter defeat. Some say Britain could never win even with our assistance. But yet who really knows. Bible prophets have been correct before but no one really seems to know where we are in the Book.

The future does seem black, but can we be consoled by viewing from the standpoint that things have turned out all right before and so will do so now. Strange how the seemingly big things of the present seem so small when viewed over a number of years. My aim in life will be mostly in seeing that democracy will survive in the United States—in the world. Whether or not I become a prominent leader, or even on a common everyday laborer in a factory, I have tasted government as an agency promoting the wishes of the people. As a modern lyric goes, "Oh, no, they can't take that away from me." The rights we have access to, day in and day out, will slip from our grasp if we fail to appreciate them.

Religion that builds strong character and moral is essential throughout the world. But until our human race can approach a more spiritual attitude toward life we can never expect truly to appreciate Deity. I say religion is the backbone of a nation. Thank God we have religion of faith and marriage, which runs close to religion in morals and ethics, should be planned with mutual understanding and agreement. The vow "to love, honor, and obey till death do us part," should never be taken lightly. I think for race motivation two children per family is sufficient.

So today in the year of 1941 I find myself living under the best constitution ever written in an ideal country labeled "Opportunities Unlimited."

He that has no cross will have no crown.—Quarles.

Public Speaking

Mock banquets were broadcast over a microphone by the fourth hour public speaking class in the grade school auditorium on Wednesday, April 30.

Three committees under the leadership of one chairman each worked their programs and presented them at the same time. Two surprise prizes were awarded, one for the best group presentation and the other for most outstanding individual speaker.

Bill McAninch was chairman of one group. His committee members were Don Fulson, Jack Baker, Don Williams, Ronald Swagles, Harold Young, and George Evans. The boys took as their theme the annual Tiger banquet.

Next on the program was Marion Goodman's committee. Her group consisted of Fran Weed, Evelyn Stewart, Jack Baker, Agnes Zim, and Allan Baum. This group chose the Academy Awards banquet as their principal.

The winners of the contest were the followers of Marion Parsons who had the humorous idea of a reunion of the speech class of 1931. Ruth Keefer, Doris Dubois, Marjorie Carver, Dorothy Campbell, Lesteen Sides, and Norman Pearsall made up the committee.

After the contest the class voted and it was decided that Norman Pearsall was the best individual speaker. Each member of the committee was given a white ribbon with the words "Speech Class Champions" on it. Norman received another ribbon.

Movie Assembly

In an attempt to promote good driving, the Ford Good Drivers' League presented a movie assembly to the senior high school students last Thursday, May 1. This is a part of the nation-wide contest open to all boys and girls who have drivers' licenses. To compete for the prizes, the contestants are required to fill out the entry blanks they were given as they entered the auditorium and to write a 300-word essay about good driving. The national award for the best boy and girl driver in the country is a $5000 scholarship and a gold trophy.

Second place winners will each receive a $2000 scholarship and a gold trophy. Third place national winners will receive $500. There will be two winners from every state to enter the national contest. No entries will be accepted after June 7.

One of the movies was concerning the usefulness of Ford cars in the Army; the other movie showed that a champion in sports is no different from a champion driver. Each must have perfect co-ordination, control, good condition, and keep his mind on what he's doing.

Students in high school who are interested in being good drivers are urged to enter the competition.

Two other movies, shown to the seniors on Tuesday, were concerned with choosing a vocation and with aeronautics. It was emphasized that in choosing a vocation one should study all types of careers and then choose after considering one's abilities and likings.

Howell Victorious

Losing by only two shots, Rock golfers bowed to Howell's team last Thursday at Howell to even up the two teams for their two matches, each winning one. Hoffman, Plymouth's low scorer, shot 45 and 40 to make an 85 for the 18 holes. Shoemaker carded a 44 and 46 to total 90. Zuckerman ended with 93 while McAninch accounted for 98 shots.

For Howell Griffin and Zizka each scored 84 points, Sandling 91, and Nibrock 105. The final score was Plymouth 366, and Howell 364.

On the eleventh hole, Hoffman, one of the Rocks' power houses, birdied three over the 372-yard fairway.

Metsger Injures Eye

Dean Metsger, substitute outfielder on the Rocks' baseball squad, may lose the sight of his right eye as the result of a freak accident May 1. During batting practice at Riverside park Metsger bunted, the ball caromed off the bat to smash his glasses, then severely injuring his eye. After receiving first aid from the school nurse, Mrs. Strasen, Metsger was taken to Grace hospital, Detroit.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Metsger of 9809 Blackburn avenue, Rosedale Gardens.

Rocks Win, 8-5

Plymouth high school's baseball team, coached by Henry Jensen, scored an 8 to 5 victory over Ypsilanti in the first game of the season last Wednesday on Ypsilanti Central's diamond. Stolen bases and six hits won for the Rocks despite the team's ten errors. Ypsilanti tallied four hits and made four errors.

Hancock opened by beating out a bunt. Lacy was safe at first when the Yps pitcher made a bad throw to second. On a wild pitch to Schwartz, Hancock took third and Lacy stole second. Schwartz drew a walk. Bridge grounded to the shortstop but was safe on an error when the shortstop booted the ball allowing Hancock to score. Sheppard singled to left scoring Lacy. Vetal hit to short but was safe on first on a throw to the plate in Schwartz from scoring. Schauffele grounded to the pitcher but was safe on the fielder's choice when Bridge was thrown out trying to score. Sheppard advanced to third and Vetal stole second. Williams singled to right field scoring Sheppard and Vetal. O'Connor popped to first base to end the Rocks' inning.

Ypsilanti's Berchlich grounded out second to first. Smith hit to Schwartz at short but was safe when Schwartz throw pulled Lacy off the bag. Baily popped to Schwartz and, without tagging up, Smith went down to second. Baily's pop-up made the second out, but Plymouth's field delayed the relay to first on the next ball. After much shouting, O'Connor picked up the ball and threw to Lacy to end the inning.

Hancock walked to open the second but was out stealing, catcher to second. Lack struck out. Schwartz tripled and Bridge singled, scoring Schwartz. Bridge stole second but was left on base when Sheppard ended the Plymouth half of the second, grounding out second to first.

Ypsi went down in one, two three order to finish the second inning.

In the first of the third, Vetal struck out. Schauffele singled and Williams grounded to short forcing Schauffele, O'Connor walked advancing Williams to second. Hancock also walked filling the bases. Lacy got on on an error scoring Williams. Schwartz singled scoring O'Connor and Hancock was out sliding home.

Mitchell grounded out pitcher to first. Brothers, the relief pitcher for Ypsi, got on on an error charged to O'Connor. Freeman struck out and Brothers stole second. Green singled scoring Brothers. Berchlich singled scoring Green who had stolen second. Smith grounded to Vetal but was safe on an error by Vetal. Berchlich took third on an error by Williams and Smith stole second. Berchlich scored and Smith took third on an error by Sigmor. Coach Jensen then removed O'Connor and sent Ross to the mound. Baily walked and Moffet grounded out second to first to end the Ypsilanti team's three-run rally earned chiefly on errors.

Plymouth went scoreless in the fifth.

Lawrence opening the second half of the fifth for Ypsi drove a fly ball to left. Plymouth's left fielder, who had been pulled toward center started on the run. After a long chase, he had to cross his body with his gloved hand while still going full speed to try for the catch. Although Sheppard missed he was lauded for a fine try. Mitchell singled next sending Lawrence to second. Lawrence then took third on an error by Williams. Ross threw a wild pitch allowing Lawrence to score. Pratt then replaced Ross on the mound. Brothers grounded to Pratt but was safe at first on the fielder's choice when Pratt tried to get Mitchell at the plate but made a bad throw. Freeman struck out and Green flied to Hancock.

Plymouth and Ypsilanti both went down in order in the next inning to end the game and give the Rocks their first game in the winning column.

To disregard the welfare of others is contrary to the law of God; therefore it deteriorates one's ability to do good, to benefit himself and mankind.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Wayne Wins Meet

Wayne high school plucked a dual track meet from Plymouth team on the Wayne track Friday, took eight first places, and won 60-44.

Plymouth coaches found a consoling note despite the loss, in what they called "tears of joy."

Only four first places were won by Plymouth athletes, but second and third place points swelled the score so the schools were tied until the last two events—broad jump and relay. Best efforts here were a second place in the jump by Harsha and a dazzling relay final sprint by Sessions which did not quite win the race.

Jack Baker won the shot put with a heave of 44 feet 2 inches, best throw he has had in three meets this year. This was the only first place unmarked by special color.

In the 220, Bob Sessions, Paul Harsha and Bob Whittaker tangled on a curve, enveloped a Wayne man, and finally won all three places. Harsha's winning time was 25 seconds.

Entered for the first time in a 440 sprint, Eugene Shipley pelted his long legs about the track to such effect that he won in the time of 60 seconds. Just behind him was Jim Sexton of Plymouth.

The Wayne track is all grass, but Bob Kirkpatrick forgot that fact in a final winning sprint in the half-mile. He turned in his best time of this year 2:15 as Jack Christensen placed second.

Plymouth meets Ecorse and Ypsilanti on the Normal college track Friday.

Mother

WHOSE HANDS ARE UNTIRING

AS A war-conscious nation pauses Sunday to pay homage to the spirit of motherhood, thoughts of mankind drift emotionally to the theme "Mother."

Beyond the name are the deeds and the actions, the unselfish life, devoted not alone to those of her own blood, but to all living things—it is to these that mankind gives praise.

Mother's hands are never idle, not until that last day when man carries them away from the home they have long loved. They represent her very spirit. They are tender, gentle, pathetic hands, possessed of some magical power to heal and comfort!

They have woven a little, shining needle in and out of satchel-scented baby garments, and softly caressed the tiny new head. The babe has ceased his crying and smiled.

They have, with tender firmness, guided the six-year-old's pink fingers to form "A."

They have compassionately wiped the teardrops from fat young cheeks, and proffered a sugar cookie.

They have, though weary, set the perfectly-appointed table for the evening meal, and cleaned this last speck from the best china.

They have, at sunset on Sabbath evenings, softly pressed the ivory keys to bring forth the appealing melodies of beloved hymns.

They have been tightly clasped in supplication when the darkness of midnight enveloped a tired world, and little ones dreamed.

They have carried trays to the room where you could have heard a pin drop, trays with brown-topped custards, and nourishing broths. They have stroked the fevered head, and smoothed the pillow.

They have made futile, fluttering motions in grief when toilet-stained hands would never be warm again, but have courageously swept away the scalding tears that pelted downward like spring rain.

They have passed like a benediction over the golden fuzz on the new grandson's head, and he, too, under their magical charm, has ceased his crying.

They are not just hands. Rather, they're just a different way of saying MOTHER!

'YOU CAN DEFEND AMERICA'

By David Lawrence

A booklet comes to hand. In it is a foreword by General Pershing who "commends its message to every American." It is a penetrating declaration that emphasizes the importance of spiritual defense in the world crisis.

We have been thinking a good deal in terms of military rearmament. We are asked now to consider moral rearmament as an indispensable factor in the building of national morale. Without it we cannot face the exacting tasks that face us.

Today America is building ships, planes and guns. "But," it is asked, "is this enough? Does America have total defense?"... Does she build character? Spirit? The will to sacrifice? Does she build men? Men who pull together?... We in America ask: "What can I do? What can 130 million Americans do? Plenty."

Then follow three lines of defense:

"Sound homes.

"Teamwork in industry.

"A United Nation."

Pointing out that America "needs guts as well as guns" and that "national character is the core of national defense," the pamphlet declares: "Congress can't vote it. Dollars won't buy it. It's your job to build it."

The plea is a simple one. The booklet can be read in a few minutes. Some of its passages are reproduced here in part:

"Human nature is the bottleneck in the production of national morale. We need a new spirit in the country. But to get it we must start with a new spirit in every citizen. And that means you.

"Either you sacrifice your personal selfishness for the nation—or you sacrifice the nation for your personal selfishness.

"America needs a change of heart. We must live the American way.

"Americans are honest, unselfish, neighborly, clean and free.

"Or are they? Always? Are you? All the time?

"If not, what can you do about it?

"A new spirit can grip your heart and mind and muscle—if you are willing. You can change. How?

"The first step is to face the facts. The facts about yourself. Honest? Unselfish? Neighborly? Clean? Free? At home? In industry? In politics?

"Our fathers looked to God for their direction. We've looked about every place else.

"We still print 'In God We Trust' on our money. Everybody carries the idea around in his pocket. Is it just an idea? Or is it the main point?

"William Penn said: 'Men must be governed by God, or they will be ruled by tyrants.'

"What are you governed by? Your wife? Your husband? Your desires? Your pocketbook? Fear of losing your job? Personal ambition?

"Only God can change human nature. When you decide to be governed by God, then the change comes.

"It's like joining the army. You decide there's something worth fighting for. You enlist. You put yourself under orders. Then you are given new equipment. You find new comradeship. Your way of living changes. And your whole outlook on life.

"To be governed by God means to listen to a Wisdom beyond your own. And obey.

"George Washington listened at a time of conflict—and gave a nation freedom.

"Abraham Lincoln listened at a time of crisis—and preserved a nation's unity.

"Lincoln said, 'I have so many evidences of God's direction that I cannot doubt this power comes from above. I am satisfied that when the Almighty wants me to do or not to do any particular thing, He finds a way of letting me know it.'

"You don't have to be President to do as Lincoln did. When you take time to be quiet and listen, God will guide your thoughts. He will give you orders. And a plan. Directions how to put things right. Creative ideas about yourself, your home, your job, your community, your nation...

"Musket and powder-horn once hung over the door of every American home. Our fathers were not afraid to use them. The Minute Men at Lexington and Concord seized them and ran to defend their country. Not a man in America would hesitate to do it again if invaders threatened his homeland.

"But America has already been invaded. Like parachute troops in the night, fear, hate and greed have slipped into our homes, our industries, our communities. Like termites they are eating away our national character.

"The fight is on. The fight against our softness, graft, laziness, extravagance, buckpassing, materialism—allies of the Fifth Column. The battle line runs through every home, every office, every factory, every farm.

"It is a daily battle. It takes courage. Imagination. You've got to be tough inside. You've got to think hard, and live clean.

"You and 130 million other Americans can enlist today in this fight. You don't have to wait to be put into uniform. You're in the army now.

"First lick the enemy inside yourself. Then get the next fellow to join you in this battle for a new America. Get your newspaper, radio station and movie theatre to fight for a new morale.

"Fight to make your home and community a pattern.

"Fight to bring teamwork in industry.
"Fight to unite the nation.
"Then America will have what ancient China lacked.
What modern France lacked. She will have TOTAL DEFENSE."

Then there's another striking passage which says:
"America does not need to be divided and quarreling at home just to prove she is a democracy—any more than husband and wife need to get into an argument just to prove they have minds of their own."

"A crack football team isn't all made up of quarterbacks. Every man has his part. Each depends on all the others. So with the nation. Unless we have national teamwork someone is likely to take the ball away from us."

"Nations in Europe have gone down because they were at war inside themselves. Their people couldn't get together. They refused to face facts. They were caught unprepared. Even as the storm broke, men fought to get more for themselves."

"National unity is the heart of national defense. If a nation is united, no Fifth Column can slip through and sabotage its strength."

"A united people will have the spirit which no disaster will shake and no danger will weaken."

"Unity is more than agreeing on what we like or whom we hate. Teamwork cannot be built by high talking and low living; by fine ideals and selfish lives."

"Teamwork," said Knute Rockne, "is a combination of self-sacrifice, brains, and sweat." It means working together for America. Honest teamwork between government and business, labor and management, union and union, Republican and Democrat, city and farm.

"A United people will build the new America. A nation set free from fear, hate and greed. A nation that holds the secret of the new world..."

"Friction between men slows up work more than friction in machines. If employers or workers destroy teamwork by their selfishness, then America is in danger. And the gains each fought for will be swept away."

"The defense of the nation demands that all rise above self-interest. It means each faces up to his own mistakes. It means we join forces for the common good."

"Then our industries will run at capacity. Our man power will be put to work. Together we all will produce the materials and morale to make America strong."

"I AM AN AMERICAN" DAY—1941

That the civil and educational authorities of States, counties, cities, and towns be, and they are hereby, urged to make plans for the proper observance of this day and for the full instruction of future citizens in their responsibilities and opportunities as citizens of the United States and of the States and localities in which they reside:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Sunday, May 18, 1941, as "I Am An American" Day and urge that this day be observed as a public occasion in recognition of our citizens who have attained their majority or who have been naturalized within the past year. ### MORE NAME CALLING

Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes is again running at the mouth. In a Chicago address Sunday night he listed Lindbergh, General Hugh Johnson, Henry Ford, Oswald Garrison Villard, General Robert E. Wood, Hanford McNider, and other men who have proved their patriotism, as Nazi stooges. Because the men Ickes sought to stigmatize are for America before they are for England, they are the target of Ickes and his fellow interventionists and internationalists. When a man runs out of arguments he indulges in name-calling. That's a line in which Ickes has won a name for himself. It is too bad he didn't save some of his venom for the stooges who failed to follow the play between Russia and Japan.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

THE DANGER HOUR

Most dangerous hour on American highways is 7 p. m., a report discloses. Apparently folks leave for the night's festivities a bit earlier than formerly.

DON'T KILL LIBERTY TO SAVE IT

In war or a huge defense program like ours there are two directions which we might travel. One is to copy the authoritarian methods to become ourselves a socialist state in the sense that the government would be given absolute control over the life of the people. It is appalling to discover how many people are willing to adopt that sort of solution for the present problems of the United States.

That solution means death—death for liberty, for free enterprise, death for everything this country stands for. Its advocates are wily and insidious. While they urge measures that would destroy our free institutions, they say that they are urging them in the name of democracy. But they would like to out-dictate the dictators.

What proportion of Americans will swallow that bogus philosophy? History tells us that free peoples have always out-matched oppressed peoples in every field of action. Government may need special powers in critical times, but it is not necessary that those special powers be designed to destroy democracy in the name of preserving it. Such powers, when granted, should be definitely limited in time.

Those who would use this world emergency to socialize our banks, our service industries, and many of our manufacturing industries, represent a philosophy of life which menaces us as directly, and perhaps more directly, than any possible aggressor beyond our borders. If we cannot make this country impregnable without throwing to the winds all its traditions and principles, what is our defense program for?—M. E. Perlberg in The Arenac County (Standish) Independent.

SQUARELY UP TO CONGRESS

Congressman Roy Woodruff of Bay City, Michigan, is authority for the following statement: "The President recently named an eleven-man Mediation Board. That board was supposed to operate to prevent strikes in the same way as the Railway Labor Mediation Board does. The President left a fatal flaw in the set-up. The Mediation Board cannot touch a single strike or dispute in defense industries until the Secretary of Labor, Madam Perkins, certifies that strike or labor dispute to the board for action."

Those statements raise the questions which the people have a right to ask and which they should insist upon having a truthful answer to. Who is Madam Perkins? Where does she come from? What background has she for holding down the most important job in the United States at the present time? Is she working for all of the people or the advancement of the C.I.O.?

The people also have a right to ask: "Who is Sidney Hillman? Where did he come from? What is his background? Whom does he represent, all the people, or part of them?"

President Roosevelt, Madam Perkins and Sidney Hillman all have been quoted as saying that the strikes are trivial and that their number and importance are exaggerated by the newspapers.

War Department records show this growing toll of man-days of labor lost in 1941 by strikes at plants producing defense items for the army: January—150,211 man-days; February—468,855 man-days; March—645,635 man-days, a total of 1,264,701 man-days. Breaking that down, it means 48,556 months or 4,214 years of man-days. It was stated over the radio that when the Ford strike started Roosevelt was fishing, Perkins in Mexico and Hillman in Florida. The people have a right to ask why.

You Congressmen are right in Washington and must know these facts. How can anyone with any degree of common sense at all, say that this is a trivial matter? The people have a right to ask you why you sit and draw your salary and still allow this thing to go on. They have also the right to ask whether you represent the people who sent you to Washington or whether you represent the C.I.O. Four thousand two hundred fourteen years of man-years is a lot of time for you to ignore.

How can you maintain your self-respect and hope to have the respect and confidence of the people if you stand by and approve this sort of waste of the people's money and time. Whose money are you spending? Certainly it is not yours. It belongs to the people. All those wasted days are your fault, because you have the power to stop that nonsense by your vote. If you expect the confidence of the people, wake up and do your duty as members of congress. Remember that you are sent to congress to represent the people and protect their interests.—H. S. Babcock in The Alma Record.
