Dog Owners to Obtain Licenses

July 1 is the deadline for the sale of dog licenses at the present fee and all dog owners are urged to obtain this year's license as soon as possible. City Treasurer Charles Garfield, who issues dog licenses at the city hall reports that only 100 tags have been sold to date out of a possible 450 dogs to be licensed in the city.

Licenses are obtainable for a $1 fee before July 1 and dog owners must pay $1.50 after that day to secure licenses. All licenses expired on the last day of May but owners are allowed a 30-day grace period to comply with the law. No license is required until a dog reaches the age of six months.

There are two kinds of licenses, both at the same fee, for vaccinated and unvaccinated dogs. Vaccinated dogs, according to the city ordinance, are allowed to run at large at all times except during the regulation quarantining months of July and August. All unvaccinated dogs must be confined to the owners' premises at all times. Those owners applying for licenses for vaccinated dogs must present rabies' vaccination certificates before obtaining a license. Vaccination certificates are good for a two-year period.

The police department reports that the regulation quarantining against all dogs running at large will be in force during July and August, according to the city ordinance. No dogs shall run at large during these months unless held by a leash.

Mr. Meddaugh, while there, attended all of the sessions of the Switchmen's convention. He was sent as a delegate to the convention by the Plymouth Switchmen's organization. During the hours while he was not at the meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Meddaugh spent most of their time sight-seeing about that interesting part of New York state.

Dr. Marshall Reed of Nardin Park, Methodist church, Detroit will be the speaker at the fourth annual non-denominational sunrise service which will be held Sunday morning, June 22 at 6:30 o'clock in Riverside park just east of Haggerty highway. The service is sponsored by the Civic association and the following program will be presented:

Singing, "America The Beautiful" and "The Church in The Wilderness"; chorus, "The Heart Divine"; prayer, Rev. Robert A. North; song, "O That Will Be Glory"; glee club, "Jesus, Friend of Sinners"; chorus, "A Song of Peace"; address, Dr. Marshall Reed, Nardin Park church, (introduction by Rev. S. S. Closson); song, "America"; benediction, Rev. G. H. Enns.

The pianists will be Miss Czarina Penney and Mrs. Anthony Matulis and the buglers will be Lloyd Clark and Donald Vanderveen.

All members of the chorus are requested to meet at the park at 6:15 Sunday morning.

The committee, consisting of: Everett Joffe, Mrs. Maxwell Moon, Mrs. Howard Bowden, Mrs. Parmenter, Warren Worthe, Sidney Strong, Robert Joffe and Rev. Stanford Closson, has been especially fortunate in receiving the cooperation of Wayne county and city of Plymouth officials, also the Plymouth board of education.

It is believed a large number of people, not only from Plymouth, but from Newburg, Roseville Gardens and other nearby communities are planning to avail themselves of the opportunity of having picnic breakfasts in the park following the service.

In these days of world conflict everyone owes it to himself to indicate in some manner his sincere appreciation of the special privileges he enjoys in a country such as ours. Attendance at and participation in the Plymouth sunrise service is one way of doing just that.

Attend Jaycee State Meeting

Frank Walsh, president of the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, Clayton Koch and John MacLachlan, active members of the organization, were in Lansing last Thursday night where they attended a meeting of the state board of the organization. Plans for more uniform action on various community projects as they develop throughout the state were discussed. Mr. Walsh states that the Plymouth organization will accept membership applications of Plymouth residents who are between the ages of 21 and 35. He says the membership has grown during the last year but it is felt that there is a number of young men in the city who would make good members and good community workers and the organization would like to have them join.

Plymouth Ty Tyson fans will be interested in knowing that his only public appearance this year in this vicinity will be at Pontiac on Monday evening, June 30 at 8:30 o'clock at the all-star game to be held at the State Hospital baseball park. Kiddies who are interested in seeing Ty had just better read some of the ads in this week's issue of The Plymouth Mail.

Mrs. Peter Gayde and children arrived Friday from Newport, Rhode Island in time for the wedding of her sister, Eleanor, and William Epps on Saturday. Mr. Gayde plans to join them here in three weeks.

Business 'Clinic' Planned for Tuesday Evening

All Citizens Invited to be Present at Mayflower Meeting

Announcement has been made by President Earl Russell of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce that plans have been completed for the first "business clinic" to be conducted by the organization in the immediate future. The first meeting will take place, according to plans made by the directors of the organization, Tuesday evening, June 24, at 9 o'clock in the Crystal room of the Mayflower hotel.

The officials of the organization wish it made clear that any citizen of Plymouth is invited to be present and express his or her views as to what the Chamber of Commerce can do to solve some of the city's problems or help in building a bigger and better community.

The members of the "clinic" committee are: President Russell, Jack Taylor, C. H. Rauch, R. G. Lorenz, Harold Curtis, F. D. Schrader, Paul Wiedman, Frank Terry, William Rose and Carl Shear.

Paul Ungrodt, who has been especially successful in chamber of commerce work in Ypsilanti, will be present and briefly express his views as to ways a business organization can function to build up a bigger and better city.

There will be no solicitation of funds at the meeting, and it has been called only for the purpose of securing opinions of Plymouth residents as to what the chamber of commerce can do to improve conditions within the city.

Three meetings have been arranged for the immediate future, the first Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock, the second on Wednesday evening, June 25, at 7:30 o'clock and the third clinic on Monday evening, June 30, at 9 o'clock in the Mayflower hotel. Officials of the Chamber of Commerce are especially anxious to have a good representation at the meeting both Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

New Program for Class Day

Class day exercises at Plymouth high school Tuesday, June 17, were a considerable innovation from the former stereotyped Class Day parts.

The program represented a pageant showing the work of the class in the four high school years. Particularly outstanding was the movie of senior activities in and about the school, taken by members of the senior class and presented as a part of the Class Day program. All parts were well taken, however, clearly outstanding were the piano solos by James Zuckerman and Valbert Groth, "Carmena" by the senior girls' double quartet, vocal solo, "Ave Maria," by Patricia Kinsman, the panel discussion upon "Future Outlook and Possibilities for the Class of 1941 Finding Its Place in Society Outside of School," and the president's address by Robert Daniel.

Nearly 8,000 Auto Licenses Sold Here in Year

Figures Revealed by Manager Rambo Provide Surprise

According to data just compiled by Frank Rambo, manager of the Plymouth office of the secretary of state, there was sold from this one branch office last year a total of 7,977 sets of automobile license plates.

This number far exceeds the sale of any previous year, and indicates the tremendously rapid growth of automobile ownership in and about Plymouth.

"I knew we were busy, but little did I realize that we were selling that many plates. Of course, the number includes half year plates, but they must be counted too. All of this extra work was carried on by our regular force. We had to work pretty fast and we didn't quit when the clock struck five every day," stated Mr. Rambo yesterday.

"Some thought when another office was opened in Northville that it would make a big difference here. Well, the only difference has been in the fact that our business has increased. There is plenty of business here for everybody if we take care of it," he added.

The secretary of state's office continues as a part of the functions of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

The new building is being constructed at an estimated cost of $8,000. The garage will set back from Ann Arbor road (U.S. 12) about 47 feet.

The building was made possible by an extension of the local business zone by the planning and city commissions and by a ruling of the board of appeals in that district.

Ex-Service Men Plan Benefit for Adopted Child

Club Takes on New Responsibility for Coming Year

Plymouth's Ex-Service Men's club at its last meeting voted to "adopt" an English child for the forthcoming year, through a plan that has been approved by the Namesake Town Committee of Plymouth, organized for the purpose of assisting the badly bombed city of Plymouth, England.

A committee was appointed at the meeting by Commander Gottschalk consisting of Charles Thurne, chairman, John Jacobs and Harry Brown, who, together with the commander, plan a benefit 500 party and dance, to be held Friday evening, June 27, at Jewell & Blach hall.

Proceeds of this party will be assigned to the Namesake committee and used entirely for the purpose of supporting the adopted child.

Table and door prizes will be given out and after the card party is over, Herman Scheel's orchestra will provide music for modern and old-time dancing.

There will be a very nominal admission charge, which will be used entirely for the commendable charitable responsibility the organization has taken upon itself. The public is most cordially invited to attend the event next week Friday evening.

Buffalo 'Kidnaps' Cow's Calf

Of all things! Old "Ruth," newest of the buffalo herd at Schrader's buffalo ranch on West Tenth road, has turned out to be a cold-hearted kidnapper.

"She kidnapped and held in her possession for more than a day a calf that belonged to Bossy, one of the cows that Fred Schrader has permitted to run with the buffalo herd during the last two or three years.

No matter how hard Bossy tried to get her calf back, old Ruth seemed possessed to keep the youngster.

Each time the cow tried to get to her calf, the buffalo lowered its head, rammed Bossy in the ribs and pushed her down the field.

This kept up for a day or more. Finally, in order to return the calf to its rightful mother, it was necessary for Mr. Schrader and his hired man to put the cow and her calf in another field.

And now "Ruth" has developed such a terrible disposition as the result of having the kidnapped calf taken from her, that it isn't quite safe to be alone in the pasture with her. Strange things happen, even in the animal world.

They'll Be Summer Brides

Each year, come summertime, a group of brides-elect takes the spotlight at the picturesque Phoenix plant of the Ford Motor company in Plymouth, which has 154 women among its 209 employees. Shown here on the rustic bridge that spans the Rouge river are four of the girls who will join the ranks of young matrons this summer. Left to right are Hilda Davis, Barbara Cramer, Helen Winter and Olga Konye, all of whom make electrical parts used in the Ford organization.

Miss Davis, daughter of Stanley Davis of 35607 Richards street, Wayne, will wed Lewis Bogetta of Wayne. She has been employed at the Phoenix plant for a year.

Miss Konye, daughter of Mrs. Julia Konye, 131 West Dunlap street, Northville, will become the bride of Michael Zayti of Northville. She has been employed at the local Ford plant for one year.

Miss Cramer, who has also been employed here one year, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Cramer, 507 Beal street, Northville. She will marry Richard Lardie of Pontiac.

Miss Winter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Winter, 207 North Rogers street, Northville, is to leave the Phoenix plant after two years' employment to wed James Hochkins of Northville.

The annual summer recreation program, sponsored jointly by the Plymouth board of education and the city recreation committee, will start next Monday, June 23 on the Central school playground for children of all ages.

Anthony S. Matulis will direct the program, assisted by Miss Jewel Starkweather, and Willis Roe, assistant attendant. Miss Starkweather will be assisted in the girls' sports program by a group of student members of the Girls' Leader club, who will earn letter points by leading activities on the neighborhood playgrounds in the city.

Intramural softball tournaments for boys and girls, sponsored by the Scholastic magazine, are attracting considerable interest. The boys' teams will play at Central playground at 6 o'clock on Monday and Tuesday evenings and the girls will play at the same time on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Individual medals will be awarded by the Pepsi-Cola company to all members of the winning teams in the tournaments. All boys and girls interested in joining a tournament team are asked to see Coach Matulis.

Swimming will be held once a week starting the second week of the program and bus transportation will be furnished to the River Rouge pool.

The high school band will give a concert every Monday throughout the summer with Clarence Luctman directing. Mr. Luctman has directed the musical department of Romulus public schools and will assume the directorship of the Plymouth music department next fall.

Recreational directors announce that a donkey-baseball game will be held later in the season and those maintaining regular attendance at the playgrounds will be treated to a Tiger baseball game sometime this summer.

Spectators and players alike agree that Leichtweiss has a masterful change of pace with his lightning fast ball, slow sailing sinker and a beautiful curve with a deceiving hook. A speed demon on the diamond, Leichtweiss is a baseball "natural."

The board of education for 1941 and 1942 organized Tuesday, June 17, elected the following officers: George E. Fischer, president; Alice V. Strong, vice-president; Claude H. Buzzard, secretary; George S. Burr, treasurer; Michael J. Huber, trustee.

The first meeting of the new board of education will be Monday, July 14.

Plymouth in Top Place in Purchase of Defense Bonds

City Out to Lead Country in Patriotic Endeavor

Let's go! Plymouth never falters when there is a big and an important job to be done!

It generally lands in first place in every humane endeavor it undertakes.

We've led the country in the sale of Christmas seals. We've made cities twice as big as Plymouth look like pikers in campaigns to sell stamps that were marketed for the benefit of crippled children and in securing Red Cross memberships.

During the last World War this city went over the top so fast in the sale of Liberty bonds that it made other cities wonder how it was accomplished.

But now there is a bigger and more important job for us to do than we have ever had to deal with before.

It is the purchase of Defense bonds—to help Uncle Sam prepare for the future protection of our country and our homes.

Yes, we've made a remarkably good start.

Postmaster Harry Irwin reports that up to May 1 there has been sold in Plymouth a total of $5,268.75 worth of Defense bonds. Up to the same date there has been sold $719.85 worth of savings stamps in this city.

Would you believe it!—These totals are nearly equal to the totals of sales in our neighboring city of Ann Arbor for the same period.

But it is just a beginner! Plymouth has during its long life of usefulness established outstanding records in giving aid to every charitable cause and doing its share in the defense of the country when defense was needed.

No one needs to be told of the urgency of the situation confronting our country these days.

Uncle Sam needs every dollar we can spare. But he isn't asking us to donate it to him. He is offering good interest for the use of our money.

Think of it! If we loan him $75 now, he will pay us back in five years $84, or if we let him keep the money for ten years, good old Uncle Sam will pay back $100 for that $75!

Yes, sir, he is going to pay that high rate of interest to use our money for no other purpose than to protect our homes, to protect our families, to protect our opportunities, to protect our schools, our churches—to protect all that we possess and all that we cherish. He is going to PAY for doing something for us!

What other government on earth would do anything like that for its citizens? NOT ONE! Let's GO!

Why should not Plymouth lead every city in America of its size in the purchase of Defense bonds and Defense stamps?

Sure, it will take some tight pinching, but pray tell, what better way is there to help our country and to help the boys who have been taken from the homes in and around Plymouth to go into military training, than by buying Defense Bonds?

Today is an ideal time to start the ball rolling and put Plymouth in FIRST place in all of the United States as the owner of the greatest amount and the greatest number of Defense bonds.

No Soap Box Derby for Plymouth

To the many Plymouth boys who are waiting for information pertaining to the soap box derby, the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce advises that there is no information which it can reveal at the present time. The organization had hoped to send a Plymouth lad to the Akron derby, but efforts so far to secure a release of this territory from the Detroit area has failed. It is recommended that boys who desire to enter the contest make their entry in the Detroit News contest, as officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are not at all hopeful about being able to secure a permit for this city. It is contended that Plymouth is so close to Detroit that there should be only one contest for this area and therefore boys are urged to enter The Detroit News contest.

Mrs. Leon Terry underwent an operation at Sessions hospital in Northville, Tuesday and her many friends will be glad to learn that she is getting along as well as possible.

Babson Predicts American Control of Continent

Says Boundary
Lines of Nations
Sure to Change

(By Roger W. Babson)
Babson Park, Mass., June 20—Not many hundred years ago England was divided into little Principalities. Each had its own army, castle, and cathedral. All went well while the battering ram was the heaviest implement of warfare. Until the warfare use of powder was invented, every little Principality made its own war materials. Only a few were able to make cannons, guns, shot, and powder. Hence, these Principalities were forced to combine into what is now England. It was not because one Principality was braver than another; but it was a question of geography and other uncontrollable factors. UNCONTROLLABLE FACTORS LIKEWISE EXPLAIN WHY TODAY IN NEW YORK THE BRITISH POUND STERLING NOTES SELL AROUND $2.00 AND BRITISH GOVERNMENT BONDS SELL IN THE 30'S.

What History Teaches
Peace reigned again for two hundred years more until the use of steam was applied to war vessels. Sailing battle frigates had required no bases and used no coal or oil. Small nations of sea-faring people, properly located, even had certain advantages. When, however, the era of steam came, the situation again changed. Holland and Spain became secondary powers, while England with its vast supplies of coal and iron forged ahead. This again changed the map of the world. It was not a question of courage; but of geography and other uncontrollable factors.

The same general principle applies to the Western Hemisphere. The United States and Canada are natural allies and should continue to work together. Some day the United States and Canada may be obliged to take over Mexico, the West Indies, and the Latin American countries bordering the Caribbean. Whether or not, the United States and Canada will be in a position to dictate to the Argentine Republic, Brazil, and Chile is another matter. However, this is something that will be determined solely by geography and natural resources.

Importance of Character
Of course, geography and natural resources are not everything. The character of the people is of great importance. History shows that the nations which forged ahead were motivated by a religion which taught "rewards and punishments." All combined to develop ruling classes which won their power through struggle supplemented by native intelligence, physical strength, and indomitable courage. All went well for awhile; but as their successors came into power it was the same story, "where wealth accumulates men decay."

Although we hate to admit it, this same problem is involved in World War II. The Democracies have become soft. Their rulers are no longer men who secure power through ability; but rather are politicians winning votes by deceiving the people, encouraging laziness, and offering false security. The Nazi gang—however bad they are—do believe in the survival of the fittest and certain Old Testament doctrines which we have discarded. America is still young and can run on its momentum for some time. Hence, although the character problem may not be a factor in our present conflict, it will be all-important some day.

How The World Will Look

World War I had no reason for starting in 1914 and it settled nothing. With World War II, however, the situation is very different. Today the bombing plane and tanks bear the same relation to history as did the original use of powder in warfare and the use of steam in ships of war. National boundary lines, existing before the development of modern air warfare, cannot be expected to hold. Winston Churchill knew this before Hess's arrival. After the war there will be consolidations of European nations. Hitler has already sold this idea to France and the Balkan States. To what extent this centralized power can be extended beyond the confines of Continental Europe, no one now knows.

I am glad we saved England in 1918 and I am 100 per cent for saving her again; but not necessarily to keep the status quo. Some readjustment of boundaries and world powers is inevitable. The result, however, will not depend upon bravery, nor money, nor population; but upon geography. England and Germany must, for geographical reasons, ultimately join forces. Some day—in case of a conflict between Europe and America—we may have to fight the English whom we are now saving. It is well for us to mix a certain amount of realism with our idealism. This is why I disbelieve in the "Union Now" program for making one nation of America and England.

Something to Remember
Another optimistic feature of the present world conflict is our policy of backing both England and China. Thereby we are bound to win something which should in the end pay us for our sacrifices. I say this because military strategists, contrary to popular opinion—believe that finally both England and Japan will win or else both will lose. The similar geographical features make this certain.

If the United States were backing both England and Japan, we would then have something to worry about. Then we would win all or lose all. Now, however, we are playing safe because to the extent Germany may possibly win, Japan must necessarily lose. No one can now determine whether, after World War II, the United States will turn for trade and investments eastward to Europe or westerly to Asia. I say by backing both England and China, we are one of these great potential continents. ALSO REMEMBER: ALTHOUGH GERMANY CAN CUT ENGLAND'S "LIFE LINES," GERMANY HAS NOT SHOWN HOW SHE CAN PROTECT HER OWN LIFE LINES AS THEY ARE EXTENDED.

Yes—let's contribute our best to helping the Democracies—but let us not weaken ourselves with worry. We will not let Britain be beaten. Yes, and Hitler will be punished. God is still ruling in His heavens. Some changes and readjustments may, however, be for the best. This could apply to the Mediterranean Sea and Northern Africa—who knows? There may be a wise "happy medium" between Lindbergh's defeatism and the War-Monger's propaganda! So let's cheer up!

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our loved one, Evelyn (Elliott) Huber, who passed away two years ago June 20.
We watched over you as ill you lay.
An angel came, you went away.
To lose you then seemed passed belief.
We could not see beyond our grief.
We prayed, wept, and wondered why.
And even wished we, too, might die.
And as we loved her, so we miss her.
In our memory, she is always near.
Loved, remembered and longed for always
By her husband and mother.

Class of '41

A changed and startled world faces the graduate of 1941. Youths now completing their scholastic careers find themselves a bit closer to the "top of the world" than their fellows of the past few years.

For while it's a tense, torn world... the very elements that have given it tenseness and that have ripped it apart are responsible for giving this class of 1941 many of its opportunities.

First, long periods of unemployment do not immediately face the graduate. For actual jobs are to be found in defense and allied industries. There is the career military, the skilled trade and general upswing in employment to welcome the newcomer. That's the big thing most graduates of recent years have had to worry about... finding jobs. Now the jobs are here. Men Wanted... Women Wanted... Help Wanted. And getting these jobs, graduates find themselves a bit further up the proverbial ladder that leads (as the artist's conception here shows it) to the "top" and to "success."

Then, too, the very discouraging aspect of civilization, 1941 style, with its wars, its aggressions and its unholy thirst for power on the part of some nations and individuals, offers to the graduates a challenge. A challenge to do great good, to repair devastated lands and to build anew.

So, graduates of '41... find work for your hands in helping to shape a new America; a new democracy and a new world; and find work for your heart in the supreme effort to restore high human ideals.

Thus will the "top of the world" be reached, and thus will "Success" mark your path.

Revivalist at Wayne Church

Beginning June 22 and continuing for two weeks James Stewart, Scotch evangelist, will be conducting special tent meetings at South Wayne road and Maple, Wayne, Michigan, sponsored by the Baptist church.

From a soccer star to an evangelist is the history of James Stewart in brief. As far back as his memory will take him he has been kicking a ball around the streets and at twelve held a prominent position on a team of grown men. His fourteenth year found him captain of the school team and the object of talk in the Glasgow Senior club. Many predicted for him a successful career in the world of sports. Since then some of his associates have come to international prominence in the soccer world.

Everyone rejoiced and praised his skill except one, his mother. With a sad and disappointed look she declared, "I offered you to God for an evangelist, Jim, before you were born. It was never for this He gave you to me."

"From that time" Stewart declares, "I was so under conviction of sin I could not kick a ball straight. Then one night as I stood there on the ball field, feeling as if heaven and hell were wrestling inside of me, I took off my cap, looked up into heaven and said, 'O God, save me!' From that time on I never doubted that He did."

James Stewart began to preach. He was only a lad in school shorts who had never studied theology. His former fans of the field became his congregation in the market places and on the street corners. At nineteen he was preaching up and down England.

In the last few years Stewart has broadened his ministry to include Czechoslovakia, Moravia, Hungary, Poland, Rumania and Serbia. Eva Watt labels his European ministry "dynamite." Now in America and for the next two weeks in Wayne, Michigan, his ministry is blessing thousands. His knowledge of the European situation will be an added attraction in his nightly messages.

Alumni Members Plan Picnic

Plymouth high school graduates of the classes from 1913 to and inclusive of 1918 have made plans for a picnic in Plymouth-Riverside park to be held Sunday morning, June 22 at 9:30 o'clock. The committee suggests that the graduates bring along members of their families to the event which promises to be a most interesting one. There will be fires to fry whatever you desire to eat for breakfast and to make as much coffee as one desires—but each one must bring his own food supply. It is especially urged that members of the class of 1916 be present, to celebrate their graduation from the old K. of P. kitchen after the fire. Invitations have been extended to Anna L. Lappens, Nina Munch and Mr. Isbell and it is believed they will be present.

Northville Flower Show June 23

An invitation has also been extended to the members to visit the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. T. Glenn Phillips after the show. This is the time asked for each one to visit the gardens of the beginners and encourage them in their new undertaking.

On Wednesday, July 2, the local branch will join others in a pilgrimage through the gardens of Mrs. W. D. Thompson, Mrs. Richard English, Mrs. C. Patterson and Mrs. Lee E. Joslyn, Jr., in Birmingham. A small fee will be charged and a box luncheon furnished. All members wishing to go are asked to call one of the program committee, Mrs. Von Shear, Mrs. Wernett, Mrs. Von Stein or Mrs. Hondorp, by Monday evening, June 23, for reservations.

Civic Association Has Final Meeting

The Rosedale Civic association had its final meeting of the year Friday, until fall, with 45 members attending. Reports from several committees were heard. According to previous plans, the Gardens' new fire truck will be completed by that time and will have a featured position in the parade.

Senator Brown Says Taxes to be Next Big Problem

In Michigan to Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

Michigan's United States Senator Prentiss M. Brown spent last Friday night in Northville visiting with his niece, Mrs. Nelson C. Schrader Jr. and her family. Senator Brown was accompanied on his visit by his daughter.

The Senator will be in Michigan for the next few days attending a family celebration at his home in honor of his twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

In an interview with The Plymouth Mail, he revealed that he is still much of an optimist in his viewpoint about this country entering the war in an active way, and he stated that he is convinced that President Roosevelt is doing everything in his power to stand by his pledge to keep this country out of the conflict.

Senator Brown is chairman of the senate tax committee and said that the senate would go into the tax problem directly after the Fourth of July holiday. He is of the opinion that a large increase in taxes will be necessary but he is not sure just what form they will take. He said that in theory, at least right now, it seems that the majority of senators favors a tax bill that would work in the following manner: If a man bought a four-dollar pair of shoes he would pay a very small tax but if he paid twelve or fourteen dollars for shoes his tax would be large.

The same system would probably be applied to such items as refrigerators, stoves, clothing, etc. He did state specifically, however, that he is sure there will be no increase in the tax on food. When asked how taxes would be increased on imports in this country he said that at the present time there are absolutely no imports coming into the country.

Crayon Wizard Is Prison Guest

Over 400 inmates and visitors at the Detroit House of Correction Traffic school enjoyed the lightning crayon offering of Norman Pearsall, Plymouth high school boy, last Monday evening at the conclusion of the regular traffic classes.

Norman, who is soon to enter Bible school to prepare for religious work, has a novel, as well as very clever way of bringing his message to the public, by means of rapid crayon drawings which illustrate the hymn he sings at the completion of his work. The young man's mother, Mrs. Hazel Greenlaw, accompanied him at the piano.

Visit Floral Gardens in Grosse Pointe Park

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Burden, sons Arvid and Halvor, spent last Sunday afternoon as visitors of the annual Detroit Garden Center Pilgrimage at Grosse Pointe Park.

The tour consisted of a visit to 12 of the finest gardens in that locality. Included was the 18-acre Dillman estate, well known for its rose garden, made up of climbers and tree roses. From the terrace, this view was enhanced by the lake just beyond. Also visited was an eighteenth century French garden and several noted for their rock gardens or for simple informal treatment. All told, this pilgrimage was a delight to flower lovers and the eyes of camera fans.

Ernest Explains Wheat Program to Farmers

Tells of Penalties for Not Conforming to Decision

The details and procedure involved in carrying out the provisions of wheat marketing quotas, which wheat producers throughout the nation approved by an 80 per cent favorable vote in a national referendum on May 31, were reviewed today by Fred C. Ernest, chairman of the Wayne County Triple-A committee.

The provisions, as set forth in the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 and subsequent amendments, state that a farm marketing excess shall be determined for every wheat farm which is subject to wheat marketing quotas. Every farm on which the acreage of wheat is in excess of 15 acres and on which the normal production of such acreage is 200 bushels or more is subject to wheat marketing quotas.

Mr. Ernest pointed out that the farm marketing quota for wheat shall be the actual production of the acreage of wheat on the farm less the normal or actual production, whichever is smaller, of the acreage of wheat in excess of the farm wheat acreage allotment.

The farm marketing excess for a farm is the normal production or the actual production, whichever is smaller of the acreage of wheat on the farm which is in excess of the farm wheat acreage allotment.

An adjustment may be made in the farm marketing excess if the producer establishes the fact that the actual average yield per acre of the acreage of wheat in 1941 is less than the normal yield. The producer, however, must make an application for an adjustment not later than 60 days after the threshing of wheat produced on the farm is completed, or by December 31, 1941, whichever is the earlier.

Mr. Ernest said that the marketing penalty is 40 cents a bushel on the farm marketing excess. He outlined three important points in regard to penalties, as follows:

(1) Payment of penalties by producers—The producers must pay the penalty on the farm marketing excess upon their failure to store or deliver it to the Secretary of Agriculture. The penalty on the amount of the farm marketing excess which is stored must be paid at the time, and to the extent of any depletion in the amount stored, except depletion resulting from some cause beyond the control of the producer. The penalty cannot be avoided by consuming the amount of the farm marketing excess on the farm, or by disposing of it as premium to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. When the farm marketing excess is stored the penalty thereon shall be secured by a bond of indemnity or by placing a warehouse receipt or money in escrow with the county committee.

(2) Payment of penalties by buyers—Until the farm marketing excess is stored or delivered to the Secretary of Agriculture, or the penalty thereon is paid, each bushel of wheat sold by the producer to a person within the United States is subject to the penalty. The penalty must be paid by the buyer. The buyer may, however, deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid for the wheat.

(3) Lien for the penalty—Until the farm marketing excess is stored or delivered to the Secretary of Agriculture, or the penalty thereon is paid, the entire crop of wheat produced on the farm will be subject to a lien in favor of the United States for the amount of the penalty.

He said that farmers who are exempt from quotas would be notified by mail in the near future of their exemption.

"However," Mr. Ernest declared, "even exempt farmers must obtain a wheat marketing card before they can market any wheat."

Farmers who are subject to marketing quotas will also be notified in the near future of their farm marketing quota and their farm marketing excess, he said.

Farmers interested in obtaining more detailed information may do so by contacting their community or county Triple-A committee.

Visitors Praise Prison Work

Members of the Judge John Faust Unit No. 113 American Legion Auxiliary, made a tour of the Detroit House of Correction last week under the guidance of Otto Flechsig, superintendent of the chair factory, and Joseph Fishman, associate officer of the same department. There were 37 in the group.

After the trip, which carried them through both the men's and women's divisions of the institution, the ladies stopped for a half hour at the traffic school where they were given a short safety talk.

Mrs. Fishman, president of the organization and Mrs. Flechsig, co-chairmen, have written the superintendent, A. B. Gillies, expressing their gratitude for the courtesies shown the group and commending the fine work being conducted in the institution.

Jewells Attend Convention of Rotary Clubs

Witness Dedication of Denver Rock Amphitheatre

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jewell are in Denver attending the international convention of the Rotary clubs of the world. Mr. Jewell is president and the official delegate of the Plymouth club. Following the close of the convention it is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell to take a "hunting" trip through the Rocky Mountains.

With approximately 9,000 Rotarians and their families present from more than a score of countries, the convention got under way in Denver last Sunday with special ceremonies which not only marked the opening of the convention, but also the dedication of magnificent Red Rocks Park Amphitheatre. Under construction for more than four years, work on the Amphitheatre was rushed to completion in time for the Rotary convention. The Amphitheatre, hewn out of the solid red rock of the foothills of the Colorado Rockies, has been judged by engineers and acousticians as the finest amphitheatre of its type in the world.

The colorful and picturesque dedication and convention inauguration ceremonies featured an 80-piece symphony orchestra, conducted by Henry Everett Sachs, and a chorus of 100 voices under the direction of John Kendel. Miss Helen Jepson, leading soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, thrilled the 9,000 assembled guests with her beautiful voice. The entire musical program was enhanced to an unbelievable degree by the magnificence of the setting. The dedication address was delivered by Rotarian Benjamin F. Stapleton, mayor of Denver, and a message of welcome, broadcast over a coast-to-coast, Canadian, and Latin America hook-up, was delivered by Armando de Arruda Pereira of Sao Paulo, Brazil, president of Rotary International and presiding officer of the convention.

Prior to the convention it had been thought that the international fellowship, which has always been the keynote of Rotary conventions, would be limited this year because of the difficulties of ocean travel. However, with others expected to arrive later during the week, Rotarians already in attendance at the convention represent Rotary clubs in Argentina, Australia, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, China, Colombia, Cuba, Ecuador, England, Hungary, India, Lebanon, Mexico, Morocco, Peru, Philippines, Puerto Rico, South Africa, Straits Settlements, Switzerland, the United States, Uruguay, and Venezuela.

Warning to Sweet Corn Growers

(By E. I. Besemer)
Sweet corn growers in the vicinity of Plymouth should be on the lookout for corn borer infestation. The corn borer moth is laying eggs on the underside of the leaves of sweet corn. A few days of warm weather and these eggs will hatch into young borers. Now is the time to get started with sprays for control of the corn borer.

There should be four or five applications at five-day intervals. Examine the plants carefully and if many eggs are being deposited, sprays or dusts ought to be used.

Some of the plantings may escape heavy infestation, only careful examination will show when infestation is likely to be heavy.

Rotenone, dual fixed nicotine and nicotine-bentonite dusts will control corn borer if applied thoroughly enough to get the material into the growing whorl of the plant. Make especially sure the dust is directed into the whorl. Twenty pounds of dust per acre per application is the proper rate.

One pound of cube or dorr (four per cent rotenone) added to 25 gallons of water containing a suitable spreader makes a good spray for use against corn borer. A knapsack sprayer with a rod long enough (two feet) to insure getting the spray into the growing whorl of the plant is the proper method of spray application.

For information on spreaders, see your county agricultural agent.

If women were as helpless as children, there'd be some justification for the laws protecting them.

Study Documents Left in Detroit Fire Station Corner Stone

MRS. JOHN ROSS, MISS LENA WILLIMAN AND MISS S. T. BLACK
They found what they were looking for in an 1880 Free Press

In last Saturday's issue of The Detroit Free Press, there was published the above photograph with the following write-up pertaining to some historic Detroit documents removed from the corner stone of a fire station being torn down in that city.

Plymouth's interest in the picture and the article centers around the picture of Mrs. John Ross, who is the wife of Dr. John A. Ross, Plymouth's well known optometrist.

Says The Free Press:
The corner stone in the eighty-three-year-old firehouse (more lately a night club) at the head of Griswold, was opened for the second and last time Friday, and a lot of history, of the Detroit that used to be, poured out.

The site will be used for an ultra-modern two-story building that in early fall will house the L. Black Company, opticians. The first persons to examine the cornerstone contents were Miss S. T. Black and her sister, Mrs. John Ross.

When the structure was rebuilt in 1880 many documents, newspapers and a city directory of 1879 were sealed in the lead container within the stone. They came to light first.

The sisters looked quickly through a copy of the 1880 Free Press and found what they expected—an L. Black Company advertisement. It detailed the latest styles.

Meanwhile Eugen Mahlin, in charge of wreckers at the landmark, delved deeper in the container and came out with papers sealed up when the original structure was erected in 1858.

In the Free Press copy found there was another advertisement of the store which Louis Black, ancestor of the two young women, had founded eight years before. It advised readers to "Save your vision with Black glasses."

Along with the newspapers were many documents bearing on the early history of Detroit's fire fighters, which were seized upon eagerly by Richard R. Reaume, secretary of the Fire Commission, for department files.

Among them was a ticket admitting one lady to a dance held 10 years previously—the first annual ball of Phoenix Fire company No. 5.

Moving to a new location will not be a new experience for the Black firm. Miss Lena Williman, an employee for 34 years, Thursday helped piece out history that showed the move in the fall from 1540 Woodward will be the eighth in the firm's history.

Plymouth Committee of Christian Scientists Aids War Sufferers

Mrs. W. J. Osgood, chairman of the Christian Science War Relief committee of Plymouth, reports that more than 700 garments have been prepared and shipped since the committee was organized last December. Mrs. Kate E. Allen, owner of the Penniman-Allyn building, has kindly donated the use of a large, light room, with heat, light and janitor service for the use of the workers. The room is open daily, except Saturday and Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Plymouth committee is working through the Detroit General headquarters, maintained at 817 Book building. These offices are open daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., where anyone desiring to aid in the work may secure instructions and materials. The Plymouth committee is glad to welcome visitors to their work room and is happy to have the assistance of those who are not Christian Scientists.

In addition to the new garments which are being made, used garments are accepted, provided they are clean and well mended, and comparable to new. Shoes for men, women and children are much needed but these must be in good condition. It is emphasized that high-heeled shoes cannot be used. The cable recently received from the distributing station in London stated that more men's clothing and warm woollens are urgently needed.

Clean linens and old sheets which have been thoroughly washed and ironed are needed for preparing bandages and wash cloths. That there is great need for all these articles is evidenced by an excerpt from a letter from a mother: "You do not know what real destitution is until you do not have even a wash cloth to wash your baby."

Since last October more than 1400 cases of goods for war relief have been sent abroad by the Christian Science War Relief committee of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

All materials are distributed to those in need without reference to creed, color, race or nationality by local almoners appointed by branches of The Mother Church. Shipments are now made from Boston, New York, Los Angeles and Portland. Goods are packed in wooden cases lined with waterproof paper, standard for relief work. Shipping space has been adequate and no goods are allowed to remain unshipped for any length of time. It is gratifying to know that nearly all shipments are arriving safely. Of 25 shipments sent up until April 1, 22 had been received abroad and another is believed to have been delivered since that time. Since April 1, another consignment of 996 cases has been shipped.

Hundreds of letters expressing gratitude have been received, a typical one reading "Yesterday I took two little homeless children to our Christian Science War Relief rooms and they were fitted out with little woollen suits, even caps to match. While I was there yesterday at least eight frightened looking people came in for clothing, some of them shivering with cold, but they went away smiling and warm."

Generous contributions have been received by local committees from individuals and from large firms. Rooms with light, heat and janitor service have been donated in some communities. Dry-cleaning firms have offered to clean soiled garments free of charge. A hosiery concern shipped 65 dozen pairs of stockings to the committee in Boston.

An Oregon minister brought the entire collection of goods from his own church to the Christian Science committee which was equipped to handle it. Sewing machine agencies have generously donated machines for the use of the workers and experienced garment cutters have given many hours to cutting out clothes for the sewers to work on.

New Pitcher Misses No-Hit Opening Game

Schrader-Haggerty's new pitcher, 17-year-old Ray Hartner, of Northville, nearly tallied a no-hit opener last week and would have done so except for a scratch hit by Inkster in the latter part of the game. Plymouth won the game from Inkster by a score of 1 to 0. Hartner struck out five men, walked non and only four men were able to get on base.

"Ham" Kubitskey is leading the team in slugging, with 29 trips to the bat and 13 hits, for an average of .448. Plymouth got the winning run in the ninth inning when Jim Williams bunted and was scored by a double hit by Howdy Schryer.

Library Receives Latest Books

American guides are a series of truly American books of which we can all be proud. Since it is extremely doubtful that there will be many opportunities in the near future for travel outside the Americas, it is easy to forecast the increased popularity of these volumes. They are written by residents of the state and in general have the plan to present to the American people a portrait of America—its history, folklore, scenery, cultural backgrounds, social and economic trends and racial factors. Your librarian can get them for you on almost any section of the country in which you are interested. As one library patron said, "Even though I can't take any trips just now, I want to read all the books in the series so I'll know what the rest of the country is like."

Plymouth library has the ones on Virginia, Colorado, Vermont, Mississippi, Washington, D. C., and the Guide entitled U. S. one, Maine to Florida. A description of the special foods of each locality is given so vividly that one is tempted to eat one's way down the Atlantic coast.

In the guide on Vermont is included a sparkling essay on Vermonters by Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

New books on the rental shelf at the Plymouth branch of the Wayne county library include "The Voyage" by Morgan; "Tumbleweeds" by Roberts; "Ox-Bow Incident" by Clark and "Wings on My Feet" by Henie.

Books limited to 7-day circulation are "Education Before Verduin" by Zweig; "My Theodora" by Seton; "Dark Gods" by Millin; "Fame Is the Spur" by Spring; "Richard Pryne" by Harris; "Gun Smoke on the Mesa" by Dresser and "Murder in Shinbone Alley" by Reilly.

New juvenile books are: "Colonel of the Crimson" by Playfair; "Kayoo, the Eskimo Boy" by Swanson; "Tommy Carries the Ball" by Renick; "Diantha's Signet Ring" by Crownshield; "Francie on the Run" by Van Stockum; "Dogs" by Cannon; "Kee and Boh" by Pack; "Presents for Lupe" by Lathrop; "Goat That Went to School" by Cridle; "Alaska" by Lambert; "Kobi" by Buff; "Doll House Book" by Bronson; "Captain, Story of an Army Mule" by Crockett; "Courage Over the Andes" by Kummer; "Flight 17" by Lent; "Hobnail Boots" by Nolan and "Bob Wakefield's Flight Log" by Miller.

Townsendites to Hear Report on Bill

At the meeting of the Plymouth Townsend club on Monday evening, June 23, at 8 o'clock at Grange hall, there will be a report made to the members and guests present of the progress being made in congress on Townsend legislation, states Clarence Pankow, chairman of the publicity of the local club. Local Townsendites have been advised, states Mr. Pankow, that Dr. Townsend is making an effort to have congress bring the bill to the floor of the house for discussion. In order to do this, club members are requested to sign petitions asking for the discharge of the house ways and means committee from consideration of the bill.

Judge Smith Heads New Law Firm

Plymouth friends of Judge Frank Day Smith have received announcements which tell of the formation of a new law partnership, with the former circuit judge heading up Wayne county's new law firm. Associated with Judge Smith will be Daniel W. Ross, corporation counsel of Belleville, Stanley C. Barker, a former assistant attorney general and Martin J. Milsdonk, former chief naturalization examiner in Detroit. The new law firm has offices at 616 Penobscot building.

Young Women to Attend Girls' State

Janet E. Peterson, daughter of Norman Peterson; Patricia A. Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Evans, and Ruth E. Keefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Keefer, all of Plymouth, have been chosen to attend the first annual Wolverine Girls' State, a week's leadership training program for girls, to be held at the University of Michigan June 19 to 26. The program is sponsored by the Michigan department of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Two hundred girls, sponsored by women's organizations in their home communities, will go to Ann Arbor to take part in the program, designed to produce leaders for future generations of women. All three Plymouth girls are sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary.

The Girls' State program will stress women's place in the home and in the community, says Mrs. Norton H. Pearl, president of the Michigan Auxiliary. "The trend today for women seems to be directed again toward the home," she says, "and the present national defense effort makes women's place in home and community one of outstanding importance."

The program is being planned to present a picture of the opportunities open to women in the fields of home economics, nursing, occupational and physiotherapy, dietetics, dramatics, music, and the arts.

Features of the program already arranged include a visit to the University hospital and its departments, a home economics program, the University's Commencement exercises, and attendance at a play in Ann Arbor's spring Dramatic Festival.

The girls will live at Jordan Hall, University residence for women students. A staff of ten counselors will supervise the activities of Girls' State.

Officers of the board of the Michigan Auxiliary who have charge of Wolverine Girls' State are: Mrs. George H. Richardson, Detroit, president; Miss Lelia Boyce, Allegan, vice-president; and Miss Bertha Proestel, Detroit, secretary-treasurer. Directors of the Girls' State are Mrs. A. D. Vining, Greenville; Mrs. Ben Alber, Ann Arbor; Mrs. Ward McAllister, Battle Creek; Mrs. Joseph Heath, Lansing; Mrs. N. J. Danhof, Zeeland; and Mrs. Pearl.

The mourning dove, considered a song bird in Michigan and a game bird in most southern states, is the only game bird that nests in every state in the union.

Student Decries Intolerant World

"Our Last Lesson" was the topic of Virginia Rock's valedictory address which she delivered before the graduating class of 1941 at commencement exercises in Plymouth high school.

"Nearly two months ago I chanced to make the acquaintance of an old man of 84. It was not an ordinary meeting. I did not know his name then; I still do not. And yet, from that half hour of conversation, I have the feeling that there was some reason for me to meet him; there was something that prompted him to tell me a little of his engrossing story. I was walking home from school that night with a load of books in my arms. He came to the walk as I was passing, and said, 'You just gettin' home from school? How far do you have to walk?' And when I told him three miles, he said, 'I had to walk four and a half miles when I was a boy.' Then he told me of the little he remembered about the Civil War when he was a small lad in West Virginia, of how he was a storekeeper in Mexico, and how one of the lovely señoritas fell in love with him, how he came back to his home when his father became ill and finally of what he was doing in Plymouth. Then he turned to education—wanting to know what subjects I had in school and how I liked them. He confessed somewhat proudly, as a small boy does telling of the first fish he caught, that he was the best mathematician in his normal school in Texas; he said he learned trigonometry by himself and that the only reason he did not graduate was because the 'measle plague got him' and he 'nearly died of it.' Then he told me of the difficulties he had when he, a West Virginian, tried to go to school in the North after the 'Yankees whipped the Southerners.' And when I saw him turn back toward his home in town, I started to think about what he had told me. His story was not mere reminiscing; it had a message for every one of us in this modern hustle-bustle world of 1941.

"We have all been able to go to high school four years, taking as many subjects as we cared to and were capable of handling. Our modern education has given us more than the education of 70 years ago gave that old man. Today we study a great number of subjects: chemistry, physics, biology, geometry, algebra, history of all kinds, literature, music, art, languages, American government, economics and law. And yet, with all this additional information, the same problem confronts us as faced that old man when he was nearly driven from that Northern school. That problem is intolerance!"

"As we seniors look about us we find a world filled with intolerance and greed and hatred. We find man against man, neighbor against neighbor, nation against nation, fighting madly for what they know not, except that they hate and despise their enemy with all the malevolence they can muster. Did not the English speaking peoples in the last war condemn the entire German race, stamping them with labels such as 'cruel Huns' and 'dirty Boche,' forgetting that they had contributed much to the arts and literature and science? Today some people have become so excited and intolerant that they condemn anything that was, is, or will be German. History is repeating itself with the same degree of intolerance, making no distinction between one man, and entire race. And in turn, do not the Germans, if one can believe reports, hate the English speaking peoples with an envy and bitterness that make for more intolerance and more greed? Haven't the Japanese hated and despised anything Chinese, considering these people of low mentality and incapable of handling their own affairs? Haven't the French long distrusted the Italians? Italy in the last great war fought on the 'Allies' side; then she was brave and strong, and true. Today, those same people, now on the other side of the fence, have been called cowardly and weak, jellyfish with no backbone. Unfortunately, we still have that same vicious circle of envy making for greed, and greed causing hate, and hate resulting in intolerance, and back again to envy."

"Not only is there intolerance among people of other countries, but it exists in our own nation, toward those of other nationalities. Not long ago, newspapers screamed the story of Lindbergh's resignation, a choice that the former Commander-in-Chief of the Army Air Corps felt necessary when considering the official statement concerning his views on the foreign situation. True, his views might be among a minority; many do not agree with him, and yet, did he not, under the Constitution, have the right to freedom of speech? And many of us criticized him for exercising that right! Where is our tolerance in America, the nation where 'all men are created equal, and each has the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness?'"

"Then, too, haven't we Americans often spoken slightly of the Jews, Polish, Negroes, Italians, Mexicans, and Chinese, stamping them with uncompensated stickers of 'dirty Jews, Poles, Niggers, Dagoes, Greasers and Chinks?' When we hear about one of a foreign race committing some crime, haven't we often said, 'Well, what can you expect?' It was Lincoln who first taught us something of real tolerance when he said, 'With malice toward none and charity for all with firmness for the right as God gives us to see the light... And God has given us to see the right, once saying 'Judge not that ye be not judged.' Oh, can we not be blind mortals see that fundamental truth; can we not be more tolerant?"

"In our own school we have seen instances of intolerance. Times when people have made slurring remarks about another's clothes, never considering that it might have been the best she had, or casting little hints not exactly complimentary about one's friends and companions, or tearing down a reputation because a certain person was just a little too popular. This, too, is intolerance!"

"The philosophy underlying the life of the world is a false philosophy; it teaches that the only way to get along is to grab what you want and step on the other fellow if you must. That false premise is the basic cause for all the world's suffering and pain; we should find new values, set new ideals, help to create a state based upon a new philosophy. It is true that we 162 seniors are not even a small, small drop in a large, large ocean of millions of people; yet we can do something. We can respect the rights and opinions of others; we can change our own if we find ourselves wrong; we can establish a new set of values; we can apply our education in the arts and science and literature to help us understand other peoples of the world better. I say we can if we will!"

"Three months ago we dedicated a flagpole to the school as our gift. We ought to consider that dedication a mere starting point; we must go on from there. While a flagpole to us is a symbol of our democratic way of life, and may it always remain so, it should also be a symbol of dedicating our hearts and minds, enriched by our education, toward making this world a better place in which to live. It is not a pleasant world that faces us as we are being graduated tonight; we seniors have a lesson to learn—our last lesson—to be tolerant. 'High school, to me, just as it has been to my classmates, was a beginning upon that long hard road. I have tried to prepare myself by listening to others talk, just as I listened to that old man, by debating four years on subjects of national and international significance, by writing for the school paper, and by reading books of all types and descriptions. The immortal Lincoln had a message for us in his unforgettable Gettysburg address. He said, 'It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the task remaining before us.' The message of Lincoln and of that old man has become a living part of my creed—to dedicate myself and my education toward eliminating intolerance. May God help us all to live with malice toward none and charity for all.'"

Planting of uncleaned seed often does the same job as spreading weed seeds on a field, according to members of the Michigan State college farm crops department.

Taxi-Cab Driver Finds His Patrons Both Interesting and Unusual

There's rarely a dull moment in the life of a taxi-cab driver. George Rimer, who drives his cab on an average of 200 miles a day and picks up an average of 40 passengers a day, has found a number of interesting persons and unusual experiences during the course of his "travels." There's joy even in a rainy day to a cab-driver, for that's when he does his greatest business.

Driver Rimer's duties include delivering packages for mailing to the postoffice, taking passengers to church on Sunday, to the race track for the daily doubles, unlocking front doors for Saturday night celebrants, delivering telegrams at all hours of the day and night and most important of all, keeping confidences.

"The only difference between me and a doctor is the doctor gets more money for getting out of bed in the middle of the night," declares the local cabbie.

Only last week, the cab driver had an unusual experience when two men enroute to Plymouth, Indiana, got on the wrong train and had to be driven back to the Michigan Central station in Detroit.

One of his most interesting passengers was a well-dressed and friendly woman who constantly borrowed money and spent just as freely. A university graduate who had been released from the House of Correction and lived here for a short time, the woman hired the cab five days a week last fall to drive her into Detroit "in style."

A man passenger recently asked to be taken to the Detroit race track. Unable to pay the fare but confident of his ability to pick a winner, he asked Driver Rimer for a loan of $10 and returned after the races with $100 to pay off the fare and the loan.

Mr. Rimer, who establisned his taxi-cab business here last October, reports that during the winter bad-weather months, he had 17 steady customers in the city whom he regularly drove to work each day in addition to five steady passengers whom he takes to the Training school. An excellent barometer of business conditions, the local cab driver reports an increased volume of business in recent months as a result of new factories and increased industrial activity in Plymouth.

Fix Dates for State Land Sales

Land sales scheduled by the conservation department for July 15 to 18 in cities near the Straits of Mackinac will be the first to dispose of tax-reverted municipal lots on which municipal recommendations of sale have been approved by the conservation commission.

These sales are the first of a series which will return tax-reverted city and village lots to private ownership. All bidders are on an equal footing and all sales are for cash.

Further sales of municipal lots in the 47 northern counties, where tax-reverted properties are administered by the conservation department, will be scheduled as more local plans are approved by the commission and records are completed.

Dates, places and the 17 municipalities involved in the first series of sales are: July 15, at Rogers City, for Millersburg and Onaway in Presque Isle county; July 16, at Cheboygan, for Wolverine and Cheboygan in Cheboygan county; July 17, at Petoskey, for Alanson, Harbor Springs, Mackinaw City, Pellston and Petoskey in Emmet county; and July 18, at Traverse City, for Beulah and Elberta in Benzie county, Empire, Northport and Suttons Bay in Leelanau county, and Fife Lake, Kingsley and Traverse City, in Grand Traverse county.

State Police Give '40 Report

A report of the revocation and suspension of drivers' licenses by counties has been prepared by the Michigan State Police at East Lansing and distributed to the chiefs of police, sheriffs and prosecutors of Michigan to aid in the campaign against unsafe driving.

Generally, the ratio of licenses revoked is greater in the large population centers such as Genesee, Wayne, Kent, Oakland, Ingham and Calhoun. A total of 1021 licenses have been revoked from drivers in Wayne county.

According to the state-wide accident summary for 1940, the largest number of accidents occur between the hours of 3 p.m. and 6 p.m.; the age group in which most accidents occur is between 30 and 49 years; and the greatest number of reported accidents occur in residential districts.

Lightning Causes Fire Saturday

Fire, caused by lightning, destroyed a shed at the rear of a home owned by Lawrence Fisher, of 9012 Middle Belt road, near Joy, last Saturday evening, at about 8 o'clock. Damage was estimated at about $250.

A number of pigeons, rabbits and chickens were lost as were all interior fixtures.

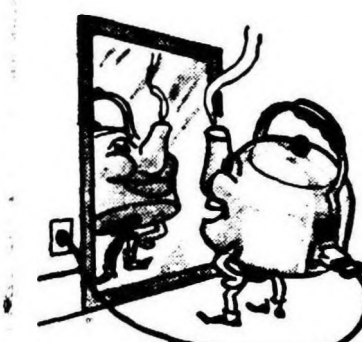

Fisher plans to build a two-car garage at the site on which the shed formerly was situated.

A prominent scientist has estimated that 30 million acres of land formerly required for horse feed have been released for other uses during the last few years.

Goes Fishing—Forgets Hook, Line

Oh! Oh! The story is out! And what would you think of a fisherman who drove way to northern Canada to fish—and didn't take even a fish hook along with him? 'Tis said he's a regular dyed-in-the-wool follower of Isaac Walton, too.

Here's the true, truthful story of that fishing trip.

A week or so ago Herman Backhaus and Harold Finlan were having lunch down at the family table in the Mayflower hotel.

Soon they were joined by Attorney Perry Richwine.

Said "Herm," "Let's go fishing."

"Where?" asked Mr. Finlan. "Up in Canada," suggested Mr. Richwine.

"When shall we leave?" asked Herm.

"As soon as we can pack," declared Harold.

Soon the three picked up their fishing duds and tackle and were off for the Batchawana bay country of Canada.

It was one of those sort of non-stop, auto-flights between Plymouth and the north shore of Lake Superior.

The sun rose bright and clear on the morning following their arrival in the northlands.

Fishing tackle was unpacked for the trip up the river—that is the fishing tackle of Herm and Harold.

Where was the fishing tackle for Attorney Richwine?

There just wasn't any! He "plumb" forgot it. A native loaned him a fishhook—Herm let him have a line—Harold let him take a bobber—and he cut a pine pole for a fishing rod. That's the truth as related to the fishing editor by Harold and Herm.

Silver Tea, Bake Sale Successful

Considered a success both financially and socially, the silver tea and bake sale conducted for the Livonia Center Campfire Girls Friday at the home of Mrs. Harry Schumacher, Surrey road, enough money was raised to send each of the girls to camp in September. There are 15 members of the group.

Fifty residents of the locality attended the tea and sale, sponsored by the girls' mothers and friends. Serving and selling were done by the members of the organization.

Mrs. Schumacher was chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Max Schumacher. Appreciation was expressed to mothers and friends who donated goods, by the girls and their sponsors.

Last Thursday the Campfire Girls had a cook-out at which they learned to cook over an open fire. Such events as lighting the fire with one match, and others, were instructed. They were accompanied by Leaders Mrs. Charles Shelton and Mrs. Dale Harrison. Monday they had a weiner roast in Cass Benton park, with Mrs. Shelton supervising.

June is the last month of activity for the group until September.

TAXES.

Much is being said by congressmen and others pertaining to taxes the government will be forced to levy to pay for the war in which we will soon be participating. As far as we can see it, there is no use in opposing new tax levies, no use in complaining.

If by paying taxes we can escape the fate that has fallen to France and other European countries, we are traveling out of a serious situation over a rose strewn highway. But it is not going to be that easy. We are going to pay taxes—and we should do so gladly and willingly—and we are going to sacrifice more than we did during the last World War—more than we have since the days of the Civil War.

No one should think we are going to escape becoming involved in the world's greatest tragedy, and the price we are going to pay to preserve any form of Americanism is going to call for real sacrificing. Before it is over the country will be bled white—but our forefathers were willing to pay the price—so why should not we?

DELIBERATE MISREPRESENTATION.

When the news was first received that the Robin Moor, an American ship, had been sunk, it was immediately stated that the disaster had been brought about by a German submarine. In every subsequent news dispatch giving additional details, there was never any question raised as to the nationality of the submarine. Even the Germans did not dispute their responsibility.

Then Senator Gerald Nye issued a statement in New York in which he said it probably was an English submarine that had sunk the American vessel sailing in neutral waters. A few days later it was necessary for the senator to retract his original charge and admit that his first statement was false. Such a statement charging a friendly nation with such a fiendish act coming from a United States Senator seems so irrational as to be almost unbelievable.

True, these are hectic times, but it does not behoove any one, especially one in such an exalted place as a United States senatorship, to make such misleading statements to his fellow countrymen. It would be well if the people of North Dakota would advise their Senator to be more careful as to his public assertions in the future—careful that they be at least truthful.

JUST A LITTLE THING.

Maybe it is not much to comment about, but The Plymouth Mail has been most favorably impressed by the conduct of some 50 or 100 Plymouth public school students who on pleasant days during the spring have eaten their lunches in Kellogg park. Most of the boys and girls carry their lunches wrapped in paper. As the writer has walked by the park noon hours these many days, not once have we ever seen one of the boys or the girls throw wrappings of their lunches on the grass. Each one seemingly has always taken great care to see to it that the paper and what might be left of their lunches have been carefully placed in the containers located in the park. As a result the park always looks neat and tidy. We commend the parents and the school, and especially do we commend the boys and girls for their thoughtfulness in keeping Plymouth's beautiful downtown park free from papers and litter. It is proof, too, that home training does really amount to something.

WHY NOT?

Editor Berkey of The Cassopolis Vigilant suggests that Dr. Sherman Loupee of Dowagiac, who has been a member of the house of representatives for the last two terms, become a candidate for state senator from that district.

In proposing Dr. Loupee for the senatorship, Editor Berkey has given to his district a very worthy suggestion. No man in the legislature has made a better record than has Dr. Loupee during the time he has been in the house and if any representative ever won a promotion to a higher place, that individual is Dr. Loupee.

He is careful, conservative, alert and always on the job. He is keenly interested in welfare and institutional legislation and has never failed to oppose measures which he believed paved the way for unnecessary expenditures of state funds. He has no use for petty, party politics when it comes to important matters and where the general welfare of the entire state is concerned. We hope the Republicans of the Cass-Berrien district will nominate and elect such a worthy citizen as Dr. Loupee to represent that part of Michigan in the upper house of the state legislature.

"THE LURE BOOK."

Two or three weeks ago there came to the desk of the editor a beautifully printed publication, entitled, "The Lure Book" of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. It is the yearly publication of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, printed and circulated throughout the United States for the purpose of advertising to tourists the amazingly interesting attractions in that part of the state.

It was not until a day or so ago that the editor had time to review its pages and read much of the well prepared descriptive matter contained in the publication. It is filled to overflowing with illustrations. In fact, this year's publication is by far the best ever issued by the Bureau. Of special interest were the views in and around Eagle Harbor way up on Keweenaw Point where the writer spent two or three most delightful days a year or so ago. In our estimation the Eagle Harbor country far excels as a tourist attraction the famed Bar Harbor of Maine, and if the people of the Middle West knew of all of the attractions thereabouts, Eagle Harbor would quickly become one of the greatest tourist meccas of the country.

All of the Upper Peninsula is interesting, no matter where one may travel. The Development Bureau is to be commended for its 1941 publication. If there could be a general distribution of the booklet, it would attract so many tourists to that part of Michigan that there would not be sufficient accommodations for the visitors.

Farber officiating. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. S. Kraus. The bride was becomingly attired in pink crepe de chine. After the ceremony a three-course dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, only the near relatives being present. Miss Vena Willett, sister of the bride, and Miss Ruby Williams assisted in the serving. After a short wedding trip, they will reside at the bridegroom's home a short distance south of town.

At a meeting of the Lutheran congregation and Young People's society held in the church last Friday evening, it was decided to remodel and build an addition to the parsonage. The work will commence as soon as possible.

Rambling Around

With Editors Of Michigan Their Views About Public Problems and Issues

MAKES GUESS ABOUT HESS

The best suggestion we have seen about Rudolph Hess is that he was headed for Ireland in an effort to secure Ireland's aid against England. Ireland has been quite cool toward giving aid to England and offered a possibility of German approach that Hitler might have considered worth trying. This sounds reasonable, and, in a situation in which few real facts are available, is as good as anyone's guess—and is a safe one to consider.—George O. St. Charles in The Dearborn Independent.

OTHERS THINK SO, TOO!

Listening to radio commentators leads us to believe some of them are rather "common taters."—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

CRACKS CRAZY NEW DEAL ISMS

We won't go anywhere except into full and permanent totalitarianism unless we realize how we have reached our present predicament, unless we are courageous enough to win back the freedom we have sold for "security" and "leisure," and state and federal aid, which aid, after all, comes eventually from our own pockets.

This nation can be defended more loyally, more zealously, if the people are determined to reclaim their freedom once the present emergency ends. That freedom may mean sacrifice, for it is inescapable that peace entails sacrifices no less than war, or undeclared war.

To regain our American heritage of freedom we may have to support our own schools without depending on state and federal aid. We may have to work out our own welfare problems. We may have to build our own highways and operate our own health departments. We may even have to operate our own businesses and plant and harvest our own crops. We shall have to turn deaf ears to office-seekers who promise us something for nothing. In fact, we shall not only have to work out our own salvation, we shall have to be anxious to work out our own salvation.

After the present emergency our fight for reclamation should begin and should be prosecuted so that reclamation can be full and complete, until the people regain their full rights to rule themselves, until our freedom is safeguarded to the point where senators and representatives will be unable to surrender their powers to anyone except to the people themselves, no matter how expedient the surrender may seem to appear at the moment.

Yes, the president's proclamation reveals how far we have come from freedom, and it reveals how hard we shall have to struggle to win back that freedom, and we can win it back if we are deserving of it.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

HINTS "PULL" SAVED AGITATOR

Walter P. Reuther, director of the UAW-CIO General Motors department, has been placed in Class 3-A, his draft appeal board has announced. Reuther, who had asked occupational deferment and appealed after receiving a 1-A rating, was placed in 3-A on grounds his wife is a dependent. Mrs. Reuther is her husband's secretary, and says she would be unemployed if he were drafted. Evidently some strong pressure has been brought to bear in this case, which should be looked into.—Charles Seed in The (Democratic) Rochester Clarion.

CHICAGO LABOR CASE

A Chicago Federal Court jury has decided that several building contractors and union labor leaders were guilty of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Law by agreeing to bar finished building stone from the Chicago market. The specific charge was that they refused to buy or lay cut stone from the Indiana field. They would handle it only when it was shipped to Chicago in quarry blocks and finished there. It was alleged that their purpose was to take work from Indiana stonecutters and give it to Chicago union members.

In the light of recent Federal legislation and United States Supreme Court decisions tending to exempt labor unions from all restraints of the Sherman and Clayton Anti-Trust Acts, the verdict in this case is of great importance. Federal attorneys said that its importance is in the fact that "it is the last avenue that remains for anti-trust prosecution against labor unions." The defendants announced, of course, that they will appeal.

Although the defendants did not offer evidence or testimony to disprove the Federal charges, it is clear from the case presented by the government that it believes another principle is involved. In this instance, the unions were charged with forcing employers and builders to have raw material finished within the jurisdiction of the Chicago unions. If the verdict is reversed, other unions certainly will try the same things, thus in effect setting up a trade barrier identical to the colonial barriers which the people sought to abolish in the Constitution.

If the verdict stands, the people will have further reason to be grateful to the authors and champions of the Constitution.—Philip T. Rich in The Midland News.

SAYS CIO TELLS UNCLE TO GO TO

John L. Lewis and the CIO continue to tell the government to go to hell, and so far are getting away with it. How we would like to see them try this on Hitler—and we have no love for Hitler, either.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Review.
