Use Available Communities, Not Build New City

Government Plans Regarded as Waste Of Public Funds

(By ELTON R. EATON)

"The United States will build a new city at Willow Run," says Clifford Prevost, alert, accurate Washington correspondent of The Detroit Free Press. "It may become the second city of Michigan," he added.

From the INSIDE looking out, such a proposal should have little serious consideration at this or any other time.

The proposed city, says Mr. Prevost, is to take care of the 90,000 or 100,000 workers who will eventually be employed at the Ford bomber plant located about 12 miles south of Plymouth.

Within a radius of 15 or 18 miles of the new bomber plant are eight cities and villages. These communities have churches, schools, recreational opportunities, all necessary public utilities, water and sewage systems, paved streets, and thousands of vacant building lots.

These building lots in Plymouth, Northville, Wayne, Dearborn, Belleville, Romulus, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor are immediately available for home construction. They are sufficient in number to care for more homes than are necessary for bomber plant employees.

If water, sewage, gas and electrical extensions are necessary, these improvements can be made far more readily and at much less cost than new improvements of a similar nature can be planned and constructed.

It will cost the government millions of dollars less to provide such living accommodations that might be needed than to build a new "Arthurdale" or "Eleanor" — new cities where millions upon millions of public funds have been squandered in recent years.

Building restrictions in the various villages and cities will prevent the rise of any "chicken coop" city, such as has disgraced many of the government projects throughout the country. Wheeler, Montana being a good example of the type of city that sprung up adjacent to and near the model community constructed at government expense at Fort Peck dam.

The racketeers, prostitutes and political pressure groups reaped a harvest from the thousands of laborers who were employed in building Fort Peck dam.

No such bungling as has existed at Arthurdale, Eleanor, Fort Peck and other similar ventures in city building are necessary in providing homes for workers in the Ford bomber plant.

The President has declared that it is entirely possible for Detroit to be bombed at any time. Then why congest in one small area and directly adjacent to a great industrial plant producing air bombers, the thousands of workers of the plant and their families so that they can become easy targets for air raids? With bomber plant employees living in half a dozen different localities within a dozen or so miles of the plant this very possible danger can be entirely avoided.

Plymouth, Northville, Wayne, Dearborn and Redford are all located alongside of or in close proximity to one of the most beautiful and finest equipped recreational parks in America. The recreational Parkway system, Wayne County Parkway system, rivals even that of Westchester county in New York state. Here about Plymouth without one additional cent of expenditure thousands upon thousands of people can find both summer and winter recreational opportunities that can be secured in no other place in this or any other state. The communities about the new bomber plant are all good, clean villages and cities, with ideal environmental conditions, a factor that should have much weight in the government's consideration of this problem.

It is estimated that there will probably be somewhere near 80,000 or possibly 90,000 workers in the bomber plant when it is in full production.

The Ford Rouge plant has at times had more than a hundred thousand workers employed in the production of Ford automobiles. Only two highways have carried these workers to and from the Rouge plant, and never has there been confusion when shifts of workers have taken place.

There are at least half a dozen highways leading from the new bomber plant that can carry as much traffic as Schaffer or Miller road. The Rouge plant is eight or ten miles farther away from Plymouth than the new bomber plant. During production days at the Rouge, probably 75 or 100 residents of Plymouth drove each day to the factory.

They much preferred to live at a distance from the factory than under the shadow of its smoke stacks. Even residents of Northville, four miles to the north of Plymouth, found it too difficult to live in Northville

Guest Speaker

CLEVELAND ROE

A guest speaker at the First Methodist church Sunday morning, February 22, at 11 o'clock, will be Cleveland Roe, superintendent of Belleville schools and brother of Russell Roe of Plymouth. His appearance in the local church pulpit is in conjunction with the annual Methodist Laymen's Day.

Members of the local church who will participate in the Sunday morning services are Horace Thatcher, who will read the scripture; Miller Ross, who will lead the responsive reading; Alan Read, children's sermon and Carlton Lewis, presiding chairman.

Next week, the Lenten supper series will start at the Methodist church and speakers for the evenings of fellowship and worship and potluck suppers will be as follows: February 26, Rev. Verle Carson of Newburg; March 3, Rev. Arno Wallschlaeger of Berkley; March 12, Rev. Leslie Williams of Northville and March 19, Rev. Walter Heyler of Ypsilanti. The series will climax March 26 with an honor visit to Plymouth by Bishop Raymond J. Wade.

and commute to the Rouge plant. Transportation?

That is one of the easiest of all problems. With the decrease in use of automobiles, bus lines could be established to operate between the bomber plant and the communities already in existence.

Mr. Prevost says "the program calls for construction of homes in a ratio to the income of the worker."

That means that a certain group in the proposed city would live in nice homes and that lower income groups would live in "shells" or chicken coops.

If the proper government officials interested in the housing situation will give more study to the question and make funds available for homes in the cities and villages adjacent to the new bomber plant, there will be no grouping of homes for the higher income workers than for the lower income workers.

In out city of Plymouth, clerks, factory workers and tradesmen live in homes next to merchants, factory owners and professional men. There is no recognition here or in other of the small cities of the "better income" classes—and there is no necessity of such a condition anywhere.

When the Rouge plant was running with something like a hundred thousand workers, a mere few thousand of this total lived in or around Dearborn.

They lived in Plymouth, Northville, Belleville, Ypsilanti, Detroit, Redford, Romulus, Carlton, Farmington and Ann Arbor. This year is going to be costly enough without making it cost more than necessary by building new experimental cities that are unnecessary. When homes can be erected in already established communities and with a transportation problem that can be most easily solved, the project just doesn't seem to make sense.

Might it be suggested that the city officials of the various communities and the township officials, meet to consider this plan. And might it not be suggested that the various townships immediately pass zoning laws so that if Washington does squander its money by building a new city, there will be no "Wheeler" spring up around here, and no new city built next to the bomber plant where Jap or German raiders can blow women and children to bits when the bomber plant is also being blown up. Here is an opportunity for the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and the other organizations in these various cities to do something worthwhile. First STOP such a waste of public funds as would be involved in the building of a new city in a most dangerous location, and next induce the government to use the facilities of already established communities within a safe distance of the plant for necessary homes of bomb plant and Kelsey-Hayes machine gun workers, too.

Did You Know That

Tonight, February 20, the University of Michigan club is giving an all-college dance. Proceeds are to benefit loan fund for students in this school district.

A surprise program awaits members of the Plymouth Woman's Club, today, February 20 at 2:15 o'clock.

Victory Gardens in This City to Be Sponsored by the Garden Club

Victory gardens to meet the demands of the war-time emergency will be sponsored by the local Women's Farm and Garden association. Citizens of Plymouth are urged to cultivate plots of ground throughout the city to raise vegetables for their own use or for sale.

The purpose of the Victory garden program, sponsored throughout the United States by the National Farm and Garden association, is to raise food at home, save on truck deliveries and farmers' trips to markets.

Under the direction of Mrs. Horace Thatcher, general chairman, the conservation committee of the local club is conducting a survey to obtain lots for garden plots which will be subdivided for assignment to volunteer gardeners. Children's gardens will be included in the program.

"Victory gardens will mean victory for you sooner if you will do your share. Do your planning now for future planting," advised Mrs. Thatcher, who recently attended a meeting with Mrs. C. E. Elliott, club president, and Mrs. Arthur Mills, at the Detroit Garden center at Belle Isle where plans were organized and movies shown of Victory gardens.

Posters, with a red, white and blue V for Victory symbol and the motto, "Waste Not; Want Not," will be displayed in store windows throughout the city this week-end.

Committee members appointed for the local program include Mrs. Thatcher, general chairman; Mrs. Arthur Mills, Mrs. William Hartman, Mrs. George Cramer, Mrs. Frank Dunn, Mrs. Gertrude Burton, garden plots, and Mrs. C. E. Elliott, Mrs. Carlton Lewis, Mrs. Douglas Elliott, Mrs. James Gallimore, Mrs. John Dalton, Mrs. T. G. Hegge and Mrs. Charles Cushman, planning committee.

Local Prison Given Highest Rating Of All Penal Institutions in United States by the F. B. I.

Department of Justice Report to Congress Reveals Fact

There is plenty of reason for Warden Blake Gillies and other officials of the Detroit House of Correction to feel pretty good these days.

The Federal Department of Justice has given the local penal institution the highest rating of any prison in the United States.

This fact became public during the present week when the Federal Bureau of Investigation asked congress for a $21,000,000 emergency fund to be used in connection with its campaign against sabotage.

The report touching upon prison conditions throughout the country, showing the high rating of the Detroit House of Correction was attached to information presented to congress because of the fact that this prison is one of many used throughout the country for temporary custody of federal prisoners.

The Department of Justice gives the Detroit House of Correction a rating of 87 percent, a standing that has never been attained by any other American prison.

When this fact was called to Warden Gillies' attention Tuesday by The Plymouth Mail, his only comment was, "Well, we keep pretty hard out here to keep things on the up and up and that's that."

But this is not the first time the Detroit House of Correction has won outstanding attention because of the high prison standard maintained at the institution. Frequently the Osborn commission and other prison authorities have given the Plymouth institution the same high praise as it has just won from the Department of Justice.

Name Delegates To DAR Meetings

Mrs. Wallace Osgood Hostess to Chapter

At the meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held at the home of Mrs. Wallace Osgood, Monday afternoon, delegates were appointed to the state and national conferences.

Those who will represent the chapter at the state conference to be held in Jackson, March 25, 26 and 27 are Mrs. Henry Baker, Mrs. Dwight Randall, Mrs. Allen Buckley and Mrs. J. Merle Bennett with Mrs. Earl Mastick, Mrs. S. N. Thams, Mrs. Wallace Osgood and Mrs. Walter Hammond as alternates.

Delegates to the national Continental Congress of the D.A.R. in Washington in April will be Mrs. Henry Baker and Mrs. Sherman Hill with Mrs. Harry Daniel, Mrs. Fred Dibble, Mrs. Irving Blunk and Mrs. Dwight Randall as alternates.

The meeting was preceded by a luncheon of the executive board in honor of Mrs. Curtis T. Wolford of Detroit, guest speaker of the afternoon, and Mrs. E. D. Gortley of Detroit, Mrs. Wolford, state chairman of the Good Citizenship pilgrimage, explained the program to select "Pilgrim" girls from high schools throughout the state in recognition of good citizenship and to send "Pilgrim" representatives to the Continental Congress. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Elliott Osgood and Mrs. Walter Nichol, who served tea.

Mrs. James Bentley attended a luncheon bridge, Tuesday, in the home of Mrs. Wesley Spengler, in Wayne.

What to Do About County Mess, Timely Subject of Kiwanis March 3

Postoffice and Banks Close Monday

Because Monday will be observed as the birthday anniversary of George Washington, the Plymouth postoffice and both banks will be closed during the entire day.

Postmaster Harry Irwin suggests that local residents do their Monday mailing as far as possible on Saturday. This will prevent any delay in the dispatching of mail from Plymouth.

Local Board Registers 2,431 Men for Draft

895 Sign in Plymouth; Expect Induction Quotas to Increase

In the nation's third draft registration Monday, there were 2,431 men between the ages of 20 and 44 years registered with local board No. 61 for selective service and training. This represents approximately 60 per cent of the local board's total registration of 4,100 since the introduction of selective service in November, 1940.

There were 895 men registered in Plymouth, including 335 at the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant, 310 at the city hall and 250 at the draft board offices. Special registration facilities were set up in the Kelsey-Hayes plant last Thursday and Friday to accommodate the workers and avoid loss of work time on war production. There were 900 registered in Northville, 639 in Livonia township and 497 in Redford township.

A lottery will be held in Washington in mid-March to determine order numbers for the new registrants. Meanwhile, local board No. 61 announces that its next call for pre-induction physical examinations will be March 14. It is generally expected that the quotas of men to be inducted into service will steadily increase in future months following the recent registration.

Raymond L. Carley of 561 Deer street, Plymouth, was the first man registered at the local draft office Monday morning at 7 o'clock, and he was signed up by his wife who volunteered her services as registrar. The first man to register at the city hall offices Monday morning was Claude R. Yoe, 542 Holbrook street, an employee of the Wall Wire Products company.

An interesting sidelight of the local draft registration was the signing of a father and son who came to the city hall together. Fred W. Vandandingham, 42 years of age, of 628 North Harvey street, who is a foreman at the Plymouth Tube company, and Dean M. Vandandingham, 21 years of age, who is a student at Hillsdale college, were the father and son team who registered with Uncle Sam. The elder Vandandingham registered for the last war but was not in the army service.

Volunteer registrars who donated their services at the city hall in Plymouth include Harry Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Avers, Caroline O. Dayton, Mrs. Ed Brown, Mrs. Sidney D. Strong, Mrs. Alvin Wagenschutz, Mrs. Carlton Lewis, Mrs. T. H. Shinn, Mrs. M. O'Conner, Mrs. Joseph Elliott, Mrs. Frank Dicks, Mrs. Willard Holton, Mrs. Earl Houghton, Mrs. Charles Cushman, Mrs. Lee Sackett, Mrs. Harry Mumby, Mrs. William Vanderveen, Mrs. Hugh Means, Mrs. Harry Terry, Mrs. A. Berutti, Mrs. Douglas Miller, Miss M. McBride, Miss Betty Brown, Mrs. Arthur Todd, Mrs. John Goodman, Miss Grace Squires, Mrs. William Keefer, Mrs. Roy Lawson, Mrs. George Ridley, Mrs. George Hanse and Mrs. Jayson Lyke.

Registrars who assisted at the local board offices include Mrs. Leone Chapman, Mrs. Kermit Smith, Mrs. M. Alguire, Mrs. George Evans, Mrs. Howard Hunt, Mrs. Wallace J. Osgood, Mrs. Henry S. Baker, Miss Elsie Melow, W. S. Jackson, Mrs. Frederick Thomas, Mrs. Harry Hunter, Mrs. Angie Blunk, Helen Campbell, Mrs. George Curtis, Mrs. John L. Osterhoudt, J.A.C. Hildner, Lois C. Dicks, Mrs. John W. Jacobs, Mrs. Warren B. Lombard, Mrs. Clifton Tholston, Harry C. Nelson, Mrs. Gustaf Lundquist, Mrs. Kenneth Thorpe, Mrs. William Schoof, Mrs. Romeo S. Wood, Charles Bessey, Mrs. Alfred Innis and Mrs. Raymond Carley.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Elliott and son, Emerson, were in Detroit, Sunday afternoon, to attend a piano and violin recital by the pupils of R. P. Dawson, which was held in the Lutheran church of the Nativity on Phillips avenue, and in which Emerson took part.

WILLIAM P. LOVETT

William P. Lovett Will Be Speaker To Lead Discussion

"The Wayne County Mess and What To Do About It" is the timely and exceptionally interesting subject that William P. Lovett, executive secretary of the Detroit Citizens League will discuss before the Plymouth Kiwanis club on Tuesday evening, March 3.

Mr. Lovett has for years been rated as one of the outstanding government advocates in Michigan and his coming to Plymouth just at this time to discuss a subject every one has become interested in is regarded as most fortunate.

Paul Ramsdell, active member of Kiwanis and interested in governmental problems, secured Mr. Lovett's consent to make this visit to Plymouth. Present at the meeting will be city officials as well as others who are not members of the club but interested in doing something to clean up the situation in Wayne county.

Mr. Lovett has been executive secretary of the Detroit Citizens League since 1916. This is the non-partisan citizen organization which in 1937 furnished principal leadership in the campaign for preservation of Detroit's non-partisan city charter.

Since 1912 when the Citizens League was first organized, the League has promoted modern methods of government in the Detroit metropolitan area and in the broader field of Michigan and other states. During this period Detroit has established, under municipal home rule, a strictly non-partisan system of government, including honest elections, that accounts in large measure for Detroit's success in keeping the balance between administrative efficiency and popular control. The Council of nine, since 1918, has been elected at large on a non-partisan ticket.

Mr. Lovett served nine years as a member of the Council of the National Municipal League. He also has been a leader in the National Association of Civic Secretaries, which he served several times as president. Mr. Lovett graduated at the University of Chicago, he spent several years in newspaper work in Chicago, Detroit and other cities. As a secretary and newspaper man he has been a public speaker and consultant regarding city charters, questions of state organization and legislation, county re-organization, civil service, governmental research and promotion of higher standards of citizenship through volunteer, unofficial organizations.

During his service with the Detroit Citizens League, Mr. Lovett has been a state leader since 1920 in organization of campaigns to secure modern methods of county government and civil service in Michigan. He was the organizer and first executive secretary of the Michigan Merit System Association, which in 1937 and 1940 successfully campaigned for adoption of civil service requirements for state employees in Michigan.

Board Elects C. of C. Officers

Re-Elects Earl Russell As Group's President

At the first meeting of the new board members of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce held last Thursday evening, Earl Russell was re-elected president. Other officers elected were Rolfe Smith, vice president; Jack Taylor, treasurer; F. J. Bange, secretary. Directors of the organization are Frank Terry, Earl Fluelling, David Mather and Dr. A. C. Williams.

The board of directors will meet on the first Thursday evening of each month instead of Tuesday. The group discussed the advisability of pooling credit information for mutual benefit to local businessmen and the secretary reported receipt of two applications from firms desiring factory space in Plymouth.

Notice About Want Ads

So many are the calls and so great is the time taken up in answering phone calls that The Plymouth Mail has been forced to make a firm rule pertaining to giving out advance information about want ads and rental ads. At least four hours were devoted Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning to answering these inquiries on the telephone. It has been stated previously that NO information can be given out previous to the hour of publication about want and rental ads. Previous information given over the phone is entirely unfair to readers who wait for the paper.

The Plymouth Mail goes on sale Thursday afternoon at all news stands and at the office of The Plymouth Mail at 3:30 o'clock. We are asking our readers and real estate dealers to kindly wait hereafter until the paper has been published before making inquiries about advertisements. We want to help all we can in the problem facing this city and district, but there is no advantage to be gained by giving out information pertaining to advertisements previous to publication. Hereafter, please wait until the paper is on the news stands.

Mayor Appoints Three Citizens to Plan Commission

Lisle Alexander and Attorney Arlo Emery Resign City Posts

John W. Bickenstaff, Elton R. Eaton and Mrs. John Henderson were appointed by Mayor Ruth Huston Whipple and confirmed by the city commission as members of the planning commission Monday evening. Both Mr. Bickenstaff and Mr. Eaton have served on the planning commission since it was established in Plymouth, while Mrs. Henderson will be serving her first term. All were appointed to three-year terms.

Other members of the planning commission include J. Merle Bennett, chairman; George A. Smith, Mrs. Maud Bennett, Sidney D. Strong, George Burr and Hildur Carlson.

The city commission received the resignation of Lisle Alexander from the city's board of appeals also Monday night. The commission accepted the resignation "with regret," citing his valuable services as chairman of the board since it was founded December, 1939. Before that time, Mr. Alexander was a member of the planning commission. He has resigned to devote his full time to his new duties as state adjutant of the American Legion.

Other members of the board of appeals include Mrs. Nell Curly, W. F. Bate, Dr. John Olsaver and Mrs. Ada Murray.

The city commission also accepted the resignation of Arlo Emery, city attorney, who was granted a leave of absence a year ago to enter the military service as lieutenant colonel at the Federal building in Detroit. Harry M. Deyo, who has been acting city attorney for the past year, was appointed to replace Mr. Emery.

How to Prepare For Air Raids

These Instructions Worth Saving

Instructions sent to M. E. Horn of the Boy's Home and Shelter store in Plymouth as to ways to prepare for air raid fire bombs, are so excellent and adaptable to all stores and buildings, that The Plymouth Mail is passing along to other stores the advice that Manager Horn has received. They follow:

"Be prepared at all times for air raid bombs and fires. "Keep in a place very handy to reach a 50-foot water hose, attached, if possible. Two pails of sand should be kept in convenient places. One axe must be placed where convenient. "No white lights are to be left burning in the store. No Neon signs are to be left burning on the inside or outside of the store. "After night lights are to be blue and located where they cannot be seen from planes flying over the city. "For your own safety and protection as well as for the safety and protection of adjacent stores, these instructions are to be followed explicitly. You must be prepared and alert at all times."

Miss Helen Klaska, R.N., of Harvey street, was called to Detroit Saturday because of the illness and death of her father. Funeral services were held Wednesday in that city.

Safety Corners Are Located

Find Shelters Where Flying Glass Cannot Do Injury To Students

Air raid drills will start this week in the Plymouth public schools, stated Superintendent George A. Smith yesterday afternoon.

Every detail has been worked out for the protection of the nearly 2,000 boys and girls who are students in the schools of this city.

Mr. Smith states that instructions from the state pertaining to the protection of the children are being followed to the letter and that if and when danger comes to this community, school children will have been drilled in all protective measures.

Plymouth school buildings are better protected from possible air raids than most school buildings, as the structures are of steel, concrete and brick construction, with all of the second floors being of solid concrete.

Spaces have been located in all buildings so that children can be gathered in certain sections where they will not be hit by flying glass. In addition to this other protective steps are being taken. The basement of the postoffice has been designated as one of the downtown shelters if air raids should ever come to Plymouth.

City Appoints Election Officials

Changes Location of Precinct Four Polls

Members of the city election commission were appointed and polling places have been selected for the March 2 primary election to nominate candidates for the short term on the city commission.

Polling places will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. at the following locations: Precinct 1, city hall; precinct 2, Starkweather school; precinct 3, Plymouth high school and precinct 4, St. John's Episcopal church, St. John's and Maple streets. The polling place for voters in precinct 4 has been changed to the Episcopal church instead of B. E. Giles' real estate office to afford more space and a more centrally located place for that precinct.

Members of the election commission will be Mrs. Arthur Todd, chairman; Mrs. Julius Willis, Miss Verne Rowley and Hugh A. Means, precinct 1; Mrs. K. Starkweather, chairman; Mrs. William Vanderveen, Mrs. Lawrence C. Hill and Mrs. Grant Simpson, precinct 2;

Mrs. Edward Dobbs, chairman; E. A. Houseman, Mrs. William Squires, and Miss Ada Daggett, precinct 3, and Mrs. Sidney D. Strong, chairman; Mrs. J. T. Chapman, Mrs. Seth Virgo and Robert Zimmerman precinct 4. City Manager C. L. Elliott, in announcing the appointments, explained that the election boards were comprised largely of women workers because the men of the community are engaged in defense work.

Atchinson to Operate Station

Announces Purchase Of Simmons' Interest

Announcement is made elsewhere in this issue of The Plymouth Mail of the purchase by Norman Atchinson of all the interests of Leroy Simmons in the Simmons and Atchinson gas station at Starkweather and Main streets.

The station has been operated during the last eight years by Mr. Simmons and Mr. Atchinson and the dissolution of their partnership was announced to the public for the first time yesterday.

Mr. Atchinson will continue to offer the public the same products and expects to maintain the same high type of service in the future that the station has been noted for in the past. The many friends of Mr. Atchinson wish him well in his new undertaking.

Seventy friends and neighbors gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Tillotson, Saturday evening, in celebration of their recent marriage. Mrs. Tillotson was formerly Mabel Hull. Several lovely gifts were presented to the newlyweds.

Library Lists Many New Books

Receives Adult and Juvenile Fiction

A number of new books were received at the Plymouth branch of the Wayne County library this week for circulation. New adult fiction books on the library shelf include "Knickerbocker Gardens," by Bruce; "Copperheads," by Blake; "O'Reilly of Notre Dame," by Wallace; "Shocking Bad Heat," by Hewlett; "Verdict of Twelve," by Postgate; "Corpse and the Three Ex-Husbands," by Mac Veigh; "Strangers Are Coming," by Wylie; "Some Lose Their Way," by Lidden and "Drum Goes Dead," by Aldrich. Adult non-fiction includes "U. S. Camera," edited by Maloney; "Total Espionage," by Riess; "Walt Whitman," by Deutsch; "Good Speech Primer," by Daniels; "Jungle Performers," by Beatty; "Delinquency Control," by Carr; "Government Today and Tomorrow," by O'Rourke and "Sky Hostess," by Peckham. New juvenile reading includes "Lottie's Valentine," by Eyre; "Whistling-Two-Teeth," by Averill; "Nathaniel's Witch," by Gibson; "Lost Worlds," by White; "Caroling Trail," by Key; "Down Ryton Water," by Gaagin; "Big Fellow," by Baruch and "Make Way for Ducklings," by McCloskey.

When a Michigan conservation officer stationed near Newberry found an illegally killed buck hanging in the woods two days before the season opened, he inserted a 1918 time in one hoof, scratched one antler. On opening day he apprehended the violator dragging the deer out, and his identification of the deer through the dime changed their story of a fresh kill to a plea of guilty in court.

Recalls Distinguished Service of Brother in Last World War

These trying war days have recalled to Frank Learned the tribulations of World War I when his distinguished brother, Captain Charles Learned, was leading a force of American soldiers against Germany in the last world conflict.

To him fell the responsibility, according to clippings Mr. Learned came across the other day while cleaning out his desk, of establishing and commanding the first outpost "on a new and active front" somewhere in France.

Soon after this newspaper dispatch was printed in this country, there began one of the decisive engagements of the war in which Captain Learned and his troops distinguished themselves.

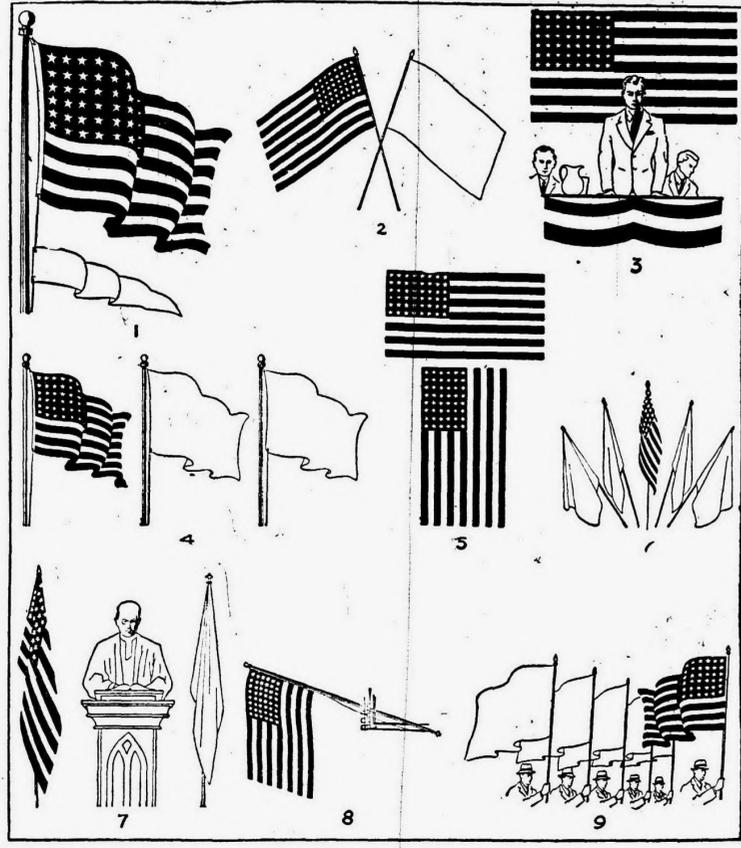

So excellent was his war record that veterans of the World War named the first American Legion Post established in Detroit in his honor.

The war today just naturally recalls to Mr. Learned's mind the famed services of his brother during the last world war.

Rebekah News

On Friday, February 13, Mrs. Minnie Ray, noble grand, Betty Mende, vice grand and Hazel Roach, deputy of Plymouth Rebekah lodge attended the district deputy study club luncheon held in Detroit. A very interesting talk was given by Lila Stoner, past president of the Rebekah assembly of Michigan.

On Tuesday, February 17 several members of Plymouth Rebekah lodge attended the visitation at Highland Rebekah lodge in Detroit. Presentation of the "Three Links" was made by Scotia Rebekah lodge.

THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA—HOW TO RESPECT AND DISPLAY IT

- 1—When flags of states or cities or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States of America, the latter should always be at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last.
- 2—When displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, the Flag of the United States should be on the right (the flag's own right), and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.
- 3—When used on a speaker's platform, whether indoors or out, the flag should never be reduced to the role of a mere decoration by being tied into knots or draped over the stand. For this purpose bunting should be used. The flag, if displayed, should be either on a staff or secured to the wall or back curtain behind the speaker with the union to the flag's right.
- 4—When flags of two or more nations are displayed together they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be of approximately equal size.
- 5—When the flag is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left.
- 6—Whenever a number of flags of states or cities or pennants of societies are to be arranged in a group and displayed from staffs with the flag of the United States the latter should be placed at the center of that group and on a staff slightly higher than any of the others.
- 7—When the flag is displayed in the body of the church, it should be from a staff placed in the position of honor at the congregation's right as they face the clergyman. The service flag, the state flag or other flag should be at the left of the congregation. If in the chancel or on the platform, the flag of the United States should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation and the other flags at his left.
- 8—When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony or front of a building, the union of the flag should go to the peak of the staff (unless the flag is to be displayed at half-staff).
- 9—Whenever the flag of the United States is carried in a procession in company with other flags, it should occupy a position in front of the center of the line of flags or on the right of the marching line.

"Life" Pictures Plymouth Soldier

"Local boy makes good." In fact, this Plymouth boy made "so good" that he had his picture on the front cover of "Life" magazine last Friday. He is Private First Class David S. Ingall, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow D. Ingall of Joy road, who is stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Private Ingall is pictured with Miss Shirley Lloyd, pretty brunette singer who tours the Army camps with a USO show.

A graduate of Plymouth high school, young Ingall was employed as a linesman for the Michigan Bell Telephone until last January, 1941, when he was inducted into the Army. He is now stationed with the armored division at the Georgia camp.

Lillian Mae Howes Weds Charles Pettibone; To Reside in Plymouth

The wedding of Lillian Mae Howes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Howes, of Rosedale Gardens, and Charles Mitchell Pettibone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pettibone, also of the Gardens, was solemnized at ten o'clock, Saturday morning, February 14, in the rectory of St. Michael church.

For the ceremony the bride wore a street length dress of gold wool crepe and navy blue accessories with a corsage of Johanna Hill roses and white fuchsia. Dorothy Seemko, of Dearborn, a cousin, attended the bride, wearing a dusty pink crepe with brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Charles Wadell of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Howes wore a green tweed ensemble with beige accessories and a corsage of ruby and blue flowers. Mrs. Pettibone wore black crepe with powder blue voke which was trimmed with pastel beads. White fuchsia and blue iris formed her corsage.

A breakfast for 40 guests followed at the Pen-Mar after which Mr. and Mrs. Pettibone left on a trip to Chicago. They will reside on Beech street in Plymouth.

What you believe must influence what you are. What you are determines what you do, and what you do determines your value here and hereafter.—Jane Tudor.

Church Circle Holds Valentine Party

Circle 2 of the First Methodist church, of which Mrs. S. L. Besse is chairman, entertained at a Valentine party in the church parlors last Friday evening. A program of tableaux was presented consisting of the Minuet, by Virginia Sessions and Mary Ann Witwer, Virginia Smith and Sally Keig; School Days, Wilma Lature; Sweetheart, Ione Stewart; Bride, Mrs. Lois Dix; Mother, Mrs. Ivan Cash, and Grandmother, Mrs. William Fehlig. Miss Linnea Vickstrom sang several selections, accompanied by Mrs. J. R. Witter at the piano and Miss Ruth Ericksson presented a dramatic reading. Guests conducted an auction of surprise parcel post packages mailed from all parts of the country for the church party.

Farmers-- Stop-Think-Decide

Self-Governed Cooperatives or Dictatorship

The farmers of Michigan and of the United States must answer this question themselves or be told what they can do. Outside organizations (not farmers) are already actively engaged in taking over control of farmers and farming.

They are getting help from certain people in the fringe of rural life who seem to prefer to string along with self-seeking dictators instead of cooperatively running their own show on democratic principles.

The Michigan Milk Producers' Association has for 25 years been managed by its members, everyone of whom has one vote and only one. Its policies, whether to regulate production, guarantee payment, guarantee a market or any other service, are all adopted by members voting in the American way.

Are red-blooded farmers ready to give up their rights? The answer is NO. Our members showed their mettle when non-farmer organizers tried to forcibly tell them where they could not sell their milk. FARMERS WILL CONTINUE TO RUN THEIR OWN BUSINESS.

A. & P. Stores Now Going Through Fourth War Experience

As America moves into the third month of World War II, its largest food distributor, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company, adapts itself to war-time operations for the fourth time in its history.

In announcing plans for local participation in Founder's Week, February 16-21, J. A. O'Donnell, vice-president for this area, explained that the organization was established two years before the war between the states, serving also through the Spanish American and the first World War.

"Founder's Week honors George Huntington Hartford who, in 1859, not only organized the company but established a new, straight line distribution system that today is more important than ever before," O'Donnell said.

America has been called upon to complete the greatest industrial production program the world has ever seen, he explained, pointing out that as a consequence the nation as a whole must be stronger and healthier than ever.

"To achieve this strength and health we must all be better fed and nourished than ever, which means that every man, woman and child in the country must get the most possible food for the money," he declared.

The economies inherent to the streamlined distribution system established by Mr. Hartford 82 years ago thus assume a vital role in the nation's war effort, the executive said. In this connection he noted that recently John A. Hartford, a son of the founder and now president of the company, had publicly pledged the organization to "cooperate unhesitatingly in every effort of authorized government agencies to prevent unwarranted rises in prices of foods."

Methodists Hold Services at School

The congregation of the First Methodist church met in the Central grade school auditorium for morning church services last Sunday and the children attended Sunday school classes in the school classrooms. The heating apparatus in the church was disabled when the steam boiler sprung a leak last Saturday. Pastor S. S. Closson expects the heating apparatus will be repaired before this Sunday's church service.

He that would make real progress in knowledge must dedicate his age as well as youth, the latter growth as well as the first fruits, at the altar of truth.—George Berkeley.

Most Bugs Are Harmless; Women Don't Think So

Like the weather, bugs are always with us. They do Maypole dances around our picnic lunches. They drop from the rafters while women faint and strong men turn pale and bite their lips to keep back a scream. They scuttle across the floor unexpectedly, more terrifying sometimes than a lion in a jungle. So what can you do about them? Nothing. Just accept them. The United States department of agriculture tells us that out of 80,000 species of insects only 7,000 species are harmful. You mathematically minded folks can spend a pleasant afternoon figuring out what percentage of the bugs you meet are harmless. Then you can sit back and relax. You have better than an even chance of surviving in an open war between man and the insect world.

The department of agriculture has classified all the different kinds of insects. The "critters" have been mounted and filed so that no matter what kind of insect you find, it's pretty sure to have a cousin or uncle in Washington where the entomologists know all about its personal and family history.

The department receives and identifies thousands of unknown insects sent in from all over the country each year. Plant quarantine inspectors at various ports watch for crawling creatures in foreign shipments, and upon discovering one, they send it to Washington post-haste for identification. And if Washington says it's harmful—the shipment just doesn't land, that's all.

Nothing upsets the department as much as the appearance of an "unclassified insect." The experts can't sleep well until they know all about each bug.

Legion and Auxiliary Hold Joint Meeting

The Myron H. Beals Post No. 32 of American Legion and the auxiliary will hold a joint meeting, Friday, February 20 in the Legion hall, Newburg. A potluck dinner will be served after which a short program will be given to celebrate all February birthdays. The Legion will also show a very interesting moving picture entitled "This Amazing America." All members are urged to attend.

The "recovery" we need most is of our American spirit of independence.

Police Issue Warning On Double Parking

The Plymouth police department issued a warning this week against double parking on the streets of Plymouth. Violations have been reported lately on Main street, Penniman avenue and Ann Arbor Trail in the downtown business district, and have resulted in some cases in accidents. Drivers are advised also not to park too near the corner of street intersections to interfere with passing traffic.

City Offers Lots for Victory Garden Plan

The city commission Monday evening voted to make available between 50 and 60 lots for citizens to use in cultivating Victory gardens. These lots were obtained in the state scavenger land sale for the future development of the city. Persons interested in starting Victory gardens may register for a garden plot at the city hall or with any member of the Garden club of Plymouth.

Huge, Historic Trees Stand Out in Tennessee

Tennessee is noted for its large and historic trees. Three of them stand out in particular because of their size and tradition. The largest pecan tree in the world stands in Natchez Trace state park in west Tennessee. It is seven feet in diameter and has a limb spread of 125 feet and is still producing pecans.

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilson were honored at a silver anniversary party given by their daughter, Ernestine. The evening was passed by playing cards after which a buffet lunch was served. The table was beautifully decorated in silver and white with the wedding cake as centerpiece. Out-of-town guests were from Ann Arbor, Wayne and Redford. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

Another Huge Tree

Another huge tree that owes its existence to a girl is an American elm that stands on the farm of Will Hicks, near Doveville, at the foot of Roan mountain in east Tennessee. It has a limb spread of 142 feet. Ten thousand people can stand on the 15,000 square feet of ground over which it casts its shade. This tree was saved 175 years ago by Loretta Stout, who threw her arms around it and said she would die with the tree when her brother, Dave, attempted to cut it down.

A REAL WEEK-END SPECIAL on STEAKS and ROASTS

So that our patrons can be convinced of the high quality of beef we always have on hand, we are offering this remarkable special. This is according to the estimate of Miss Grace E. Smith, president of the National Restaurant association. Miss Smith said that despite efforts of some restaurants to abolish the practice of tipping it seems to be as popular as ever. She stated that the $200,000,000 figure was arrived at by considering the $2,185,000,000 worth of meals served by restaurants last year, eliminating cafeterias and certain other restaurants that have a "no tip" rule and estimating the range of tips on other meals as from 10 to 30 per cent of the price.

Ross Tells of Seed Growing

Kiwanians Hear Interesting Address

Miller Ross of the Ross greenhouses gave an exceptionally interesting talk on "The Preparing and Marketing of Flower Seeds" before members of the Kiwanis club at their Tuesday evening meeting. Mr. Ross stated that the production of flower seeds is an industry which is probably responsible for more beauty in the country as a whole, than any other single business.

In normal times about one-half of the world's supply of flower seeds is grown in the United States and of that half, 75 percent is produced in California, due to climatic conditions.

stated the speaker. He also told of the processes of cultivation, selections of specimens and harvesting of the seeds and also explained the various methods of distributing seeds to the consumer.

Robert Lidgard of the Lidgard Brothers grocery was made a new member of the club.

Next Wednesday members of the club will take the Cub Scouts to the Shrine circus and on February 24 Roy Crites will preside as chairman with Dr. Robert Haskell as speaker.

William Lovett, executive secretary of the Detroit Citizens' League will speak to the club on "Home Rule" March 3. Members of the Rotary club, school board and city commission will be guests at that time.

Human law is right only as it patterns the divine. Consolation and peace are based on the enlightened sense of God's government.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Townsend Club Circulates Petitions

(By Clarence Pankow)

Believing that in peace and war we must have full employment opportunity, Townsendites everywhere are circulating among the citizens of our country for their signatures a petition calling upon congress to propose an amendment or amendments to the constitution of the United States in accordance with Article five of the United States constitution which shall embody the basic principles of the Townsend Plan.

They believe that by so doing the general welfare of all the people will best be served both during and after this war (which must be won).

In the recent series of articles by Blair Moody of The Detroit News-Washington Bureau entitled "After the War, What, Boom or Bust?" it was pointed out that the Temporary National Economic committee and others in their reports stressed the need for a definite program to be put into operation now before the war suddenly ends, and then find ourselves unprepared to cope with the problems of unemployment and distress, say local Townsendites.

The next meeting of the Plymouth club will be Monday night, February 23 at 8 p.m. in the Grange hall. All members are urged to take part in this petition drive to give all citizens the opportunity to make known their desires to their congressmen in this way by signing these petitions. A social evening will follow and the public is invited.

When the destination is desirable, expectation speeds our progress.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Charles Hadley Trains For Merchant Marine

CHARLES HADLEY

Charles H. Hadley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Erwin Hadley of Evergreen avenue, whose application for enlistment in the Merchant Marine Corps and bakers' school was approved several weeks ago, left Detroit Monday for St. Petersburg, Florida, where he will take seven months' training before being assigned to a boat. Young Hadley graduated from Plymouth high school in June, 1939, and finished a four years' apprentice training course at the Terry Bakery in September, 1941. Before taking this, he had worked in several local stores. He is now the only Plymouth man in the Merchant Marine.

Plymouth Girls Are Guests at U. of M. Event

Miss Jane Springer, of Plymouth, was a guest of the West Quadrangle Residence hall at the University of Michigan for the annual J-Hop held Friday and Saturday evenings, February 6 and 7 at the University. The J-Hop, annual ball of the junior class at the university, consisted of a formal dance on Friday evening and an informal dance on Saturday evening, music for both affairs being furnished by well-known orchestras.

Miss Gloria Jones, also of Plymouth, was a guest of the West Quadrangle Residence hall for the J-Hop at the university.

A delightful tea and reception was given Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock by Mrs. Paul H. Hazelton, in her home on West Ann Arbor road, honoring her daughter, Jane, who will become the bride of Marion M. Robeson, of South Carolina, Saturday, at a ceremony in Greenfield Village. A red, white and blue color scheme was used on the tea table.

LET FREEDOM REIGN

EVERY AMERICAN HOUSEWIFE HAS AN IMPORTANT JOB TO DO . . .

- ★ SAVE VITAMINS
- ★ SAVE FUEL
- ★ SAVE FOOD
- ★ BUILD HEALTH

Do All FOUR And In Addition SAVE Time And Money . . .

FOLLOW THE U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE'S RECOMMENDATION to PRESERVE the VITAMIN VALUE IN FOOD with "WATERLESS" COOKING

Ladies, put an end to cooking waste. Now as never before is the time to take full advantage of the health-saving, time-saving, vitamin-saving features your modern gas range affords. Follow the vitamin-saving waterless cooking method. Your modern gas range is designed to do this job to the letter.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT VITAMIN-SAVING

1. Use very little water in cooking.
2. Cook vegetables for the shortest possible time.
3. Cover tightly to keep air out.
4. Avoid unnecessary stirring of vegetables.
5. Don't put in baking soda to brighten food colors.
6. Start vegetables in boiling water.
7. Don't throw away vegetable liquids—use them in soups or cream sauces.
8. Keep foods as fresh as possible—use dependable automatic refrigeration.
9. Serve plenty of green vegetables.
10. Serve foods soon after cooking.
11. Broiling is preferable to frying to retain vitamins.
12. Low-temperature roasting saves vitamins and minerals.

Vitamins are valuable . . . don't pour them down the drain!

Waterless cooking helps keep vitamins in the food, saves minerals and rich natural juices, too. That's why foods taste better and are more nourishing. Planning of meals is most important if you are to have a properly proportioned and balanced menu. Equally important, however, is the cooking operation.

Don't pay good money for nourishing food—and then lose the health-giving vitamins when you cook it. You can be sure that the meals you cook will build strong young bodies and promote good health by observing the simple rules at the right.

Wisdom of Washington Serves As Guide to Patriotism Today

Excerpts from counsel offered by George Washington to the nation as a young republic, are remarkably appropriate to the world we live in.

BY RALPH HERBERT

"It is incumbent upon every person of every description to contribute to his country's welfare."

Thus simply did George Washington pen immortal lines which are as true now as they were in the days when he was at the helm of our ship of state.

"Let us impart all the blessings we possess, or ask for ourselves, to the whole family of mankind," Washington said, in prophetic forecast of President Roosevelt's "Four Freedoms."

"The name America must always exalt the just pride of patriotism," the Father of Our Country said, foreseeing, perhaps, just such a time as that in which we live.

Washington may not have had a fifth column with which to contend, but his words of warning are worth remembering: "Every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest should be indignantly frowned upon."

In phrases that sound as though they were taken from a "Remember Pearl Harbor" speech, Washington proclaimed that "the propitious smiles of heaven can never be expected on a nation that disregards the eternal rules of order and right, which heaven itself has ordained."

HAVING won his important victories, Washington urged a just peace for the post-war period. "My brave fellows," he said, "let no sensation of satisfaction for the triumphs you have gained induce you to insult your enemy. Let no shouting, no clamorous huzzinga increase their mortification. It is sufficient for us that we witness their humiliation. Posterity will huzza for us."

Washington's answer to critics is as timely today as it was during his career as the nation's first President. "If there was the same propensity in mankind for investigating the motives, as there is for censuring the conduct, of public characters, it would be found that the censure so freely bestowed is oftentimes unmerited and uncharitable," was his opinion.

No wonder Americans have immortalized George Washington as first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen. No wonder George Washington's birthday has greater meaning for us now than ever before.

No man has a right to do as he pleases, except when he pleases to do right.—Simmons.

Nothing but the right can ever be expedient, since that can never be true expediency which would sacrifice a greater good to a less.—Whately.

Shells on Mountains Clue to Earth's Story

There was a time when people knew very little about rocks and mountains. They wandered across hills and valleys, but could not explain the history of the land.

Shells found on mountain tops made men wonder about changes in the past. "How could shells of sea animals have reached layers of rock thousands of feet above sea level?" they asked.

Leonardo da Vinci, who lived in the time of Columbus, put that question before the world. He said the shells must mean that the earth's surface had changed greatly through the ages.

As time went on, study proved that the shells were "real," that they surely must have covered animals which had lived long before. Such proofs led to statements like this:

"Yes, the shells are real, but they must have been left on mountain tops at the time of Noah's flood."

There were many who held that view, and more than two centuries passed before it was given up. The only thing which brought men to agree with the words of Leonardo was the slow, careful work of scientists. The scientists found facts which at last made it clear that the earth's surface has been changing through the ages.

Origin of April Fool

If some one plays an April fool joke on you and then declares, "Oh, you poor fish!" instead of the more familiar retort: "April fool!" he or she will be but doing that which used to be done in France on April 1, and is still done among our French-speaking people in Canada. Because the French equivalent of our "April Fool!" is "Poisson d'Avril."

April 1 has from time immemorial been All Fool's day. Why? That is a question not so easy to answer. Its origin lies somewhere in the backwaters of the history of old Europe, for it was not introduced into England until the Eighteenth century, but once there, its observance spread rapidly, probably from the mere fact that when April comes in England one wants to get out into the country and get exuberant, and for those who were unable to travel afield to pick primroses, the opportunity to let off the spring fever was to make a fool out of those nearest and dearest to one, in a harmless way, of course.

We part more easily with what we possess than with our expectations of what we hope for; expectation always goes beyond enjoyment.—Home.

Thursday night, February 5, more changes took place. J.C.C. No. 1 took three points from Perfection Laundry and remained in first place, but tied with Hudson Motors who took four points from Mayflower Taps. Refrigerated Lockers dropped back from first to third by losing four points to the strong Hi-Speed team, who moved up again, this time from seventh to fourth place. Wall Wire moved up one notch by a 3-point win from Plymouth Hardware as Todd's Market lost four to Plymouth Country club and dropped to sixth place. Super Shell No. 2 dropped again by losing three points to Oldsmobile. Eight men rolled series over 600. "Bob" Blondell, 637, George Ball, 620, Frank Dely 620, Warren Todd, 619, Roy Wheeler 615, Don Lightfoot 611, Gerald Greer 606 and Clyde Smith 601. Other high 3-game series turned in included Beryl Smith 594, Ed Kinnunen 593, Bill Rudick 587, Doyle Rowland 586, Tom Levy 585, Hartner 584, Wendy Lent 576, Earl Lyke 574, Clarence Levy 569, Floyd Eckles 564, Doc Lyke 566, Ed Klinske 561, Hiley Andrews 561, Ray Danol 558, and Gordon Robinson 554.

Parkview Recreation League

The Parkview Recreation League ended its third round of play this week. The teams are running so close together that predicting the outcome is an impossibility. Anything can happen and will as witnessed Tuesday night. Jim Williams bowled games of 206, 212, 269—687 total helping his team, Daisy, roll up a score of 2748 only to drop two games to the Farmall Tractors whose best was 2659. That's sabotage, Mr. Williams, but it did dislodge Butler from the second place for high individual game with your last game of 269. Le-fever had a 636 total for the winners. Wild & Co. gained another game on the runner-up by blanking Cavalcade Inn with a 2901 total to 2606 for the Inn-ers. Meanwhile Goldstein's took two from Simpson's and Stro's took three from the Mayflower hotel.

Parkview Ladies' League

Plymouth Mail kept the lead by taking three points from Purity Market. This proved to be an interesting match as the two teams were tied for first place. Beverly Smith led the two teams by bowling 544 total pins, 232 her high game and second high single game for the season. When B. Smith bowled 232, the rest of the team helped her make a game of 854 which was high single game for the season until Goldstein's department store rolled 863 their second game in bowling the City of Plymouth from whom they took three points. Orchid Beauty Shop took four points from Michigan Bell making them tied with Purity for third place. Hillside Barbecue split even with Perfection, but Burroughs, absent a bowler, lost four points to Terry's Bakery. Cavalcade took four points from "Bill" Woods, bowling 835 pins their second game with Lois Hoffman and E. Powell both having 500 series.

THE STORY OF ELECTRICITY
Number Four in a series published by The Detroit Edison Company.

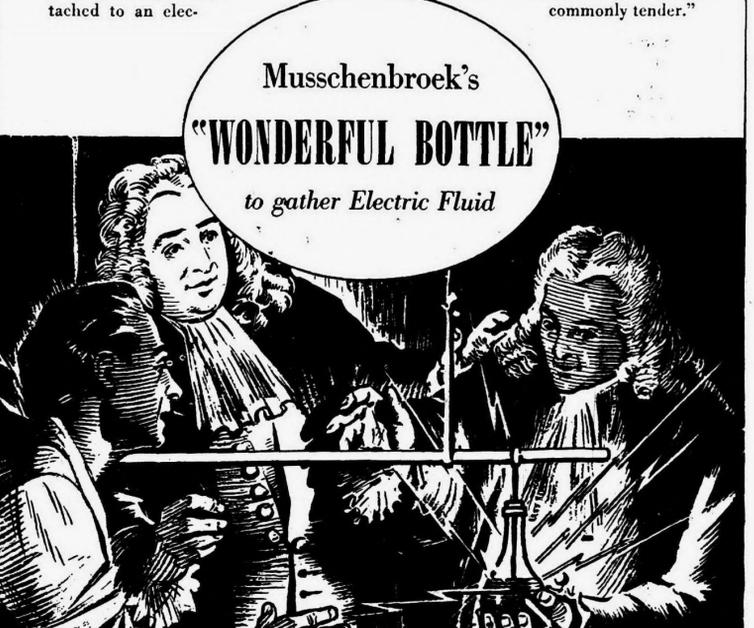

The year 1745 marked the first time that electricity was collected in quantities large enough to facilitate experiments. The feat has been variously credited to Bishop von Kleist, dean of the Cathedral of Comin, Pomerania; to Pieter Van Musschenbroek, professor at the University of Leyden, Holland; and to Cunaeus, a pupil of Musschenbroek and wealthy burgher of the city of Leyden. At any rate, this invention supposedly owes its name to the Abbe Nollet of France, who dubbed it the "Leyden jar."

Musschenbroek set about "collecting the "electric fluid" in a wide-mouthed flask half-full of water. The flask was corked, and a wire through the cork dipped into the water of the jar. The other end of the wire was connected to a gun barrel suspended by two silk cords, and attached to an electrical "spark" machine. After having charged the bottle, Cunaeus, who was assisting with the experiment, attempted to disconnect the wire, and received a violent shock.

Musschenbroek, writing to his friend Reaumur in Paris, declared he "would not take such a shock for the kingdom of France." But the Abbe Nollet repeated the experiments before King Louis XV, sending an electrical charge through 180 of the King's guardsmen. Benjamin Franklin, in a letter to Peter Collinson in 1747, said, "I cannot forbear adding a few observations on M. Musschenbroek's wonderful bottle," and described 10 different experiments that he (Franklin) had performed. Another letter told how he used five Leyden jars to kill a 10-pound turkey. Franklin added, "The birds killed in this manner cook uncommonly tender."

Begin Mightiest Salvage Job in History

Raising and repairing of the 83,423-ton former French liner Normandie, lying tragically on her side at her Hudson river pier, is the biggest salvage undertaking ever attempted in the United States. Task of raising the $80,000,000 ship is complicated by the fact that she lies half submerged in 12 feet of mud, and is pinched between two piers. Salvage experts estimate that actual raising will probably take two or three months.

Farmers to Meet Here February 24

Repair Problem Will Be Discussed

The farmers of Wayne county are helping in the Food for Freedom program by ordering their machinery repair parts early and by finding out what repairs are needed. The machinery dealers are also helping in every way possible.

A machinery repair meeting will be held at Don Horton's corner of Canton Center road and Ann Arbor road, February 24 at 10 a. m., according to Fred C. Ernest, chairman of the county U.S.D.A. war board.

Time is important. Farmers can be sure of getting repair parts for planting, cultivating and harvesting this year's crops only by checking all machinery now and ordering repair parts immediately.

Farmers who have trouble in obtaining parts should notify the county U.S.D.A. war board.

Sugar Shortage Will Benefit Health Of American People

Don't complain about sugar rationing; it will be good for you. This is the advice of Dr. L. H. Newburgh, widely-known University of Michigan authority on dietetics.

As a matter of fact, Dr. Newburgh declares, it would be a Godsend if there were no sugar at all for if there weren't, we would be forced to eat more whole grains, meats, milk, green vegetables and other foods which give us everything that sugar does, plus much-needed B-vitamins and other necessary food elements.

Sugar's only importance to our diets is its fuel value, Dr. Newburgh points out, adding that this fuel value may be readily replaced by a host of other foods, many of which provide more than mere fuel.

Proposed rationing will reduce sugar consumption from 114 pounds per person in 1941 to 77 pounds per person in 1942, according to the Office of Price Administration.

Such a restriction in sugar consumption will force us to seek approximately one-third of our body fuel from other resources, Dr. Newburgh points out.

Milk is the best fuel substitute for sugar, Dr. Newburgh says, since it also provides proteins, vitamins, salts and fats. One glass of milk, he says, is equal in fuel content to four teaspoonsful of sugar.

Whole cereals, Dr. Newburgh adds, are a much more wholesome food than sugar since they provide, in addition to fuel, vitamins of the important B group and 10 per cent of protein. An ordinary portion of oatmeal, he says, is equal in fuel value to four teaspoonsful of sugar.

To Tell of Need Of United Action

Former Panama President to Speak

Dr. Ricardo Alfaro, former president of Panama, will discuss "The Solidarity and Defense of the Americas" before the Detroit Town Hall audience in the Fisher theatre, Wednesday, February 25 at 11 a.m.

Dr. Alfaro predicted recently that should Germany conquer Britain, Hitler would not attempt an invasion of the United States, but would attack Latin America.

The Latin American authority on international law feels that Hitler's probable policy would be to set up a puppet state in South America, then attempt to destroy our foreign commerce by cutting off the flow of raw materials from the South. For that reason he feels no nation in the Western Hemisphere dares think only in terms of its own territory.

"Only force will stop the dictators," Dr. Alfaro says. "When they think they are ready they will strike." Close union of the three Americas, North, Central and South seems the only answer to the threat, and it is this union that the brilliant Panamanian statesman will discuss in his lecture.

Dr. Alfaro is world-famous for his work in Pan-American affairs. He has been decorated by six governments for his achievements in this field. After serving his term as President, he went to Washington as Minister and during his tenure negotiated with Secretary of State Hull the important Panama Canal Treaty.

Church Observes World Day of Prayer

"I Am the Way" will be the theme of the World Day of Prayer to be conducted Friday (today) from 1 to 2 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. The prayer service, open to persons of all denominations, has been prepared in conjunction with the observance of the first Friday in Lent, February 20.

The program, sponsored by the National Committee of Church Women, was prepared by a group of three women now living in the United States, including a former teacher in Ginling College, China, and now a professor in a Biblical seminary; the wife of a German pastor, imprisoned in a concentration camp abroad, her husband in another, both of whom are now doing pastoral work in the United States while a son remains confined in a concentration camp, and a French woman who has had no word from her family in France for more than a year. Out of this rich background of faith in the face of discouragements and dangers, they have prepared this World Prayer program. Mrs. K. B. Hart of Detroit, who serves on the Baptist state board, will be the speaker at the local service.

Don't expect the impossible, but cooperate with the inevitable.—Familiar saying.

Army Changes Enlistment Rules

No Release to Enlist After Physical Exams

Local draft boards will not release any selectee for enlistment in any branch of the armed forces, except flying cadets, who has had his U. S. Army pre-induction physical examination and been found acceptable for general military service. This is necessary, state headquarters of the selective service explains, in order to fill future calls for induction with men already found to be physically qualified. If selectees desire to enlist in some particular service they must make application for enlistment and be accepted before they are due to report to U. S. Army stations for pre-induction physical examinations.

China Needs Guns, Rotarians Told

U. of M. Chinese Student Is Speaker

"China will never make peace with Japan," Sik Che Tang, a Chinese University of Michigan student told members of the Plymouth Rotary club at their regular meeting last Friday noon.

"Would you make peace with a man who moved into your home, took possession of it and kicked you and your family out? I don't think you would. Neither will we make peace with Japan, for that is just what Japan has done to us," he said.

"We have the men and we have the will to fight, but we need guns, munitions and planes. I cannot say how many men we have in the army, but the number runs up into the millions. But we need something to fight with. We are getting some supplies from the United States. We need more and more. Russia has provided us with some munitions. If they close the Burma road, we can get some supplies up through India. But right now we are getting some along our Pacific coast line, even though Japan has taken possession of all of our seaports.

"The Chinese people have the fondest of feelings towards Americans. You would be amazed if you knew how much good our missionaries have done in our country. They have created good will and they have taught us much. We call the United States the 'Beautiful Country.' After the war is over there will be a great field for American business in China. We are a nation of farmers and we will have to depend upon you for our manufactured goods," he said.

The bright young speaker illustrated by blackboard the development of the Chinese language. In reply to a question by Supt. George A. Smith, he said an American school textbook translated into Chinese would make a smaller volume than one printed in English.

City Commission to Meet Tuesday, March 3

The next meeting of the city commission will be Tuesday afternoon, March 3, at about 4:30 o'clock. The date was changed to Tuesday because of the primary election on Monday, the regular meeting time. They were Mrs. Raymond Bachelder, Mrs. Walter Hammond, Mrs. Max Trucks, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. Floyd Wilson, Mrs. Frank Dunn, Mrs. Ralph Lorenz, Mrs. M. G. Blunk, Mrs. John Dalton, Mrs. R. L. Hills, Mrs. William Stratton and Mrs. Seth Virgo.

Mrs. John Jordan entertained at a neighborhood party, Monday afternoon, as a farewell to Mrs. Norman MacLeod, who with Mr. MacLeod moved to Manchester on Thursday. Bunco was enjoyed during the afternoon and dainty refreshments served. Mrs. MacLeod was presented with a nice gift. Prizes in bunco were awarded to Mrs. Neesham Lockwood, Mrs. Maurice Evans and Mrs. Knut Gustafson. Others present were Mrs. Edwin Campbell, Mrs. James Honey, Mrs. Russell Merritt, Mrs. Floyd McCartney, Mrs. Lester DeWitt and Mrs. Fred Drews.

Old Paper Tells of Severe Winter

Some think the weather during the past week or so has been pretty severe winter weather. But nothing of the kind—if one is to judge from an article in an issue of the Deckerville Register of February 5, 1904 that is in the possession of Mrs. Mary Robson of Holbrook avenue. Mrs. Robson, a former resident of that community, is keeping the paper as a prize because it was printed on wrapping paper, the snow being so deep that the regular supply of paper could not be delivered to the town. Not only was there a paper shortage, but the coal supply nearly ran out.

To Discuss Farm Machinery Care

Government Man Here February 24

As part of Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard's program to double the United States' agricultural output in 1942, a discussion on conserving and repairing farm machinery will be held at Don Horton's Allis-Chalmers headquarters here by Mr. Wanty, of the Department of Agricultural Engineering at Michigan State college, at 10 a.m. next Tuesday, February 24.

The meeting, one of a series being presented throughout the state, is being arranged through the efforts of Ellsworth I. Besemer, Wayne county's agricultural agent; by the county's board of supervisors; and by the defense board of the agricultural school at Michigan State college.

Secretary Wickard's outline of the Department of Agriculture's responsibility under national defense is one of furthering the cultivation of every available farmland acre, and of maintaining crop production over a season that will be extended as far as agriculturally possible.

One of the most urgent problems in the program, according to a recent letter to Mr. Besemer from Frederick C. Ernest, chairman of the U.S.D.A. county defense board, is "how to get farmers to order repair parts for farm machinery immediately. If parts are not ordered now and repairs made, many machines will be laid up next spring and summer."

Effective measures, Mr. Wanty has emphasized in his addresses throughout the state, begin with the protection of farm machinery during the winter, and with preparedness for immediate use when the planting season begins. The first step is a thorough lubrication of all moving parts before storage for the winter, with a footnote to the effect that the use of old crankcase oil is poor economy. A thorough spraying of the entire machine with oil is the next step, as general insurance against rust and against the rotting of wooden parts.

Inspection of the machinery can be checked while the lubrication is taking place, and notation taken on any parts that should be replaced. This is the time, Mr. Wanty has pointed out, to take down the identification number stamped or cast on each part.

If this number is put down on the order blank, and with it the make, model, and year of manufacture of the machine itself, delay on the order is reduced to a minimum. He has illustrated the point by showing that the 20 major farm machinery units alone present a list of almost 200 replacement parts, a number that allows too much room for error when an order is not sufficiently specific.

Winter is the best repair season, when the glut of replacement orders that come with spring do not complicate the picture. If machinery is stored in a shed that can be heated when necessary, and that will be large enough to allow maneuvering about the machinery, the average farmer, when not pressed by emergency, is able to make his own repairs. The procedure outlined above has the added advantage, moreover, of giving the farmer plenty of time to call in his local parts and repair man if he decides he needs him.

Mr. Wanty's discussion will include actual demonstration with several farm machines. Requests will be taken for bulletins issued by Michigan State college dealing with various aspects of repair and adjustment, labor-saving methods and devices in farming, and management of available equipment to take care of crops harvested for the national defense program.

Audience Enjoys 'Town Hall' Play

Series Concludes Successful Season

The "Town Hall" series, sponsored by the choir organization of the Methodist church, concluded its season Monday night with the presentation of "The Beautiful People" by the Workshop Civic players of the Wayne University theater.

Saroyan's play is "zany," philosophical and a little wistful, but even those who found little sense in it seemed to enjoy the evening's entertainment. The success of Monday's entertainment was chiefly due to the excellent characterizations of the Workshop players under the direction of Richard Dunham of Wayne University.

The "Town Hall" series has been well received in Plymouth and the committee, of which Mrs. James Sessions is general chairman, hopes it will be possible to repeat the program next year.

BRACE UP!

The war news in recent weeks has all been bad. It seems that the picture is dark and gloomy in every direction we look. So it was in the war of the Revolution, in the War of 1812, in the Civil War and in the first World War. The first two or three years of the Civil War were all against the Union forces. But the tide turned, just as it will in this war, and the Union forces marched on to victory.

Nothing is gained by despairing and holding our hands up in Holy horror.

Nothing is gained by protesting and condemning. But everything can be gained by buckling into a tremendous task that has befallen us.

All cannot enter the fighting forces at the front—but ALL CAN DO SOMETHING to help the boys at the front. There is much, very much that we can do right here at home. We can keep the supply lines open—and we can keep the supply lines FILLED to overflowing with all the things that our boys need at the front.

That is OUR job—to provide the army and navy with EVERYTHING they need. Let us NOT fail in doing our part. We must realize right now that it is going to be a long and hard war—long and hard due to our failure to properly prepare ourselves during the days that we should have been preparing. Because the job is a bigger and more important now, it makes it all the more necessary that we dig in with all of our might to serve and protect our country. Brace up—BUCKLE IN—WIN THE WAR!

UNFORTUNATE, INDEED

It seems that members of our congress who twice had the opportunity to register their opposition to the bill which provided life pensions for themselves and failed to do so, are now trying to make the voters believe that they were and are opposed to this pension grab.

If they were opposed to it, as they now claim, why under the sun didn't they get up in congress and say they were opposed to it and register their opposition to the bill when it was pending before congress?

They had at least two different opportunities to do so—but the record shows that at neither time did a single member of congress demand a roll call so he could vote NO. How can they expect the people of Michigan and the nation to put faith in their post-mortem claims of opposition to their self-voted pensions? Our own congressman is damning the President because he didn't veto the bill that he, himself, didn't oppose, when he had the opportunities to do so!

It begins to appear that there is probably considerable truth to the assertion made the other day by Congressman Mary Norton when she said "I don't mind telling you that the majority of members I have talked with were and are for this bill. I wish those members who will enjoy the benefits of the act would stand up now and tell us how they feel, or how they did feel about it before the newspapers got started."

QUICK RESULTS PRODUCED

We have with us today another Free Press golden gloves champion. This new "king of the ring" is none other than James Haswell, who with one right and one left, cleaned up the civilian defense mess in Wayne county just that quickly. To do the job, he tucked away in his gloves all the parts of his faithful old typewriter. In other words, it required only two special articles by him about our civilian defense mess to accomplish more than all of officialdom in Washington, Lansing and Detroit has been able to do in months.

HOW IS IT HERE AT HOME?

How is it going in Kankakee?
What of the people in Lynn?
Will the run of folks like you and me Tackle the task, and grin;
Whatever the job; whatever the cost In time and sleep and play?
Well, unless we do, the game is lost. And it's folly to delay!

HERE'S where the fight will be sifted down To victory or defeat!

On each farm; in each city street!

Tho' never a gun they bear,
Are the ones who'll settle the fate of the foe,
By backing the boys who dare!

It's fine to talk of how we'll win,
And God knows, win we can,
But only if each of us pitches in
To work like a cornered man!
And cornered we'll be if we halt or pause
In giving the "home-grown" stuff
That puts the teeth in freedom's cause—

AND HIGH OFFICIALS WERE TOLD!

The destruction of the great ship Normandie in New York harbor by fire has aroused the country to a new phase of our war preparedness. Just how careful are we in protecting our war supplies?

Not very, according to an article published in New York's biggest newspaper.

Read the following, and draw your own conclusions: The evening newspaper PM revealed that on January 3 its reporter, Edmund Scott, after a personal investigation of the waterfront, had written a story that would have told "any agent or crackpot firebug just how to go about setting the Normandie afire, just how easy it would be."

Because this story was a "blueprint for sabotage," PM did not print it, but told Capt. Charles H. Zeerfoss, chief of the anti-sabotage division of the United States Maritime Commission "that we had discovered sabotage of war cargoes and ships would be a cinch, that we actually had a reporter working on a United States ship of vital importance to the war."

Captain Zeerfoss didn't even ask the name of the ship, "PM's story today continued. "He just said: 'Better get your reporter out of there before he gets shot.'"

PM then published the story which Scott wrote on January 3. "For the last two days, I have been wandering all over the S. S. Lafayette, once the Normandie. I have been lighting imaginary fires. I have been planting imaginary bombs. I have succeeded in 'destroying' a dozen times over, the second biggest ship in the world," Scott's story began.

Scott said he dressed in typical longshoreman's working clothes and wandered around the waterfront seven days, to

A STINGER!

Have you sent in your "Bundle for Congress" to Washington yet? Just as a suggestion you might send your favorite an old tin cup, colored glasses and a cane.—Charles Seed in The Rochester Clarion.

WHO DOES KNOW?

The Ford Motor company has canceled the two hundred million dollars of group insurance that it maintained for its employees; for instance, a $1500 life-insurance policy for each of 125,000 workers. Ford always took pride in caring for his men and in paying them top wages; but he wanted no unions to keep his place in a turmoil. Now they are organized, and Ford is letting the union carry the insurance. Maybe the workers are better for the change; we don't say, for we don't know. Does anybody?—Emerson Gildart in The Utica Sentinel.

WHAT ABOUT SPILT MILK?

Some towns are cutting milk deliveries to every other day to save wear and tear on tires and vehicles. It is said that this is the only way deliveries can continue for any length of time by the dairies as they are not eligible for new equipment under the present ruling. That sure ought to cut down considerably "spilt milk," too.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

ABUNDANCE IS NOT ENOUGH

Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, says there are 40,940,000 people employed in the United States today, which is 5,000,000 more than were employed in the banner year of 1929. Yet Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, deplors the bottleneck in airplane motor production because it does not keep pace with airplane body production.

This time it is not claimed that industry refuses to cooperate, but it is labor, according to Secretary Knox, which crowds the day shift but refuses to work the night shifts. He claims there is no dearth of labor in the day shifts, but that the shift that comes on at 4 p.m. is only 80 per cent, up to capacity, and the shift that runs through the small hours is down to about 10 per cent. Maybe they could cure part of this trouble by changing the time of starting shifts to 4 a.m., 12 noon and 8 p.m. Usually a man doesn't mind taking part of the disagreeable, but few want it all the time.

We wonder whether there will now be a chorus of New Dealer voices charging "sabotage" against labor, which would be sure to be heard if the "shoe was on the other foot"?—Adrian Van Koeveering in The Zeeland Record.

HOARDING WILL BE FATAL.

One can hear many statements from authoritative sources that rubber would not have been rationed had not a tire buying wave developed in the East. The same thing is said about sugar, that there is plenty of sugar were it not for hoarding. Spices are now disappearing from the market as housewives are buying up stocks. Even the lowly sage is becoming scarce. Unless hoarding ceases all commodities will probably be rationed. All of us should buy what we need and no more than we need if we want to escape drastic rationing. Nothing will cause price advances and scarcities quicker than hoarding.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

25 YEARS AGO . . .

And 50 years ago news taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail

The sacred concert of song service given at the Lutheran church last Friday evening was well attended. The singing of the octette and the male quartette proved a delightful surprise for all who heard them and their splendid work under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Charles Strasen, has been highly complimented. The church octette and male quartette is composed of the following members: Mrs. James Horan and Miss Clara Strasen, sopranos; Miss Cordula Strasen and Miss Sarah Gayde, altos; George Strasen and Albert Drows, tenors; Edward Drows and Albert Strasen, bass; Miss Edna Fisher, organist and Rev. Charles Strasen, director. The Lutherans are planning on the purchase of a new pipe organ and as soon as it is installed in the church, which will be sometime after Easter, a pipe organ recital with special music by the choir will be given.

A few friends gave Miss Mary Penney a pleasant surprise at her home on Harvey street last Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. A pot-luck supper was served.

Early Tuesday morning an alarm of fire was given when sparks from a burning chimney ignited the roof of George VanDeCar's house at the corner of Main and Mill streets. The fire department quickly responded but were unable to use the hose on account of frozen hydrants. By prompt action on the part of the firemen with buckets, the fire was soon extinguished. Slight damage was reported.

Five laymen spoke at a most interesting service of the Methodist church at the village hall last Sunday morning, giving impressions received from the great Efficiency Conference at Detroit which was attended by 2,950 Methodists from the Detroit area. The speakers were Mrs. I. N.

Dickerson, Mrs. Adelaide Hudd, George W. Richwine, Robert Joliffe and Evered Joliffe. The Methodist male quartette furnished special music.

Ralph Lorenz is driving a new Buick Six, purchased from Bentley Brothers.

The bridge club met at the home of Miss Mary Conner last Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. T. W. Driver of Howell visited her sister, Mrs. Henry Steinmetz, last week.

Alton Richwine of the Great Lakes Naval station of Illinois is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Richwine.

Mrs. Adelaide Hudd's Sunday school class enjoyed a social evening at the home of Miss Czarina Penney Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton, who have been visiting relatives here, left the first of the week for their home at Colorado Springs.

Orrin McGraw has purchased a house and lot on Harvey street of William Tillotson and expects to move from the Lyndon farm the first of March.

Plymouth citizens experienced the coldest weather for several years Monday morning when the thermometer registered 16 degrees below zero.

Mrs. Joe Tessman entertained a party of friends Sunday at dinner in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary. Substantial remembrances were presented by the guests and were pleasingly accepted by Mr. Tessman.

H. A. Spicer has purchased the Passageway property on East Ann Arbor street of Mrs. Belle Cahoon and later expects to move the old house back on Maple avenue and erect a new bungalow on the present site.

Eugene Riggs and family have moved into Eli Nowland's house on Harvey street. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riggs have moved into the part of the Reed double house on Penniman avenue vacated by Eugene Riggs.

Miss Madeline Bennett is visiting friends at Algona this week.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Soth Wednesday, February 14.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Doerr and little son, Philip, of Bad Axe, were over Sunday guests of Mrs. Doerr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spicer.

Miss Margaret Brems, who recently completed her training for nurse at Harper hospital, is spending a two weeks' vacation with her parents here.

The long continued spell of zero weather seems to be the cause of much sickness in this vicinity.

District No. 7's school was closed Tuesday because the stove smoked.

A very gay and happy time was experienced by both young and old at the box social held at John Butler's last Friday night. One brave youth purchased three boxes, but it remained for the host to secure the real prize package, and secure it he did, with all the eagerness and activity of a real conqueror. The sum of $16.95 was cleared.

The marriage of a former Plymouth boy is reported in the Trinidad, Colorado, Picketwire. Miss Rose G. Staley, only daughter of J. W. Staley, and L. W. VanVleet were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in their new home in the Radford Flats, with the Rev. R. E. Chandler of the Presbyterian church officiating. Mr. VanVleet is general manager of the Isbell-Colorado Bean company and is well known in business circles of the city.

ROGER BABSON SAYS . . .

Present Tire Policy Is Definitely Wrong

En Route to Washington, February 20. During the last two weeks, I have been making a careful study of the tire situation. I am convinced of two things:—(1) The American people can have tires if willing to go without certain other cotton and rubber products. (2) The American people are willing to go without almost anything if they can avoid putting up their cars.

When Washington—on the spur of the moment—says we can't have any more tires for the duration, it is playing with a buzz saw. Transportation is fundamental. It always has existed and is more needed today than ever. Of course, much of it is unnecessary. We all can, and will, cut our mileage 30 percent to 40 percent or more. But we all want a car with tires—capable of running if we need it. Furthermore, my guess is that—until Washington gives us time to build buggies and raise horses again—we are going to get tires.

Tires are made mainly of cotton with some rubber and a very little wire. Of cotton, we have a great surplus. By switching spindles from something else we are willing to give up, the fabric could easily be made. There is an enormous amount of wild rubber at the upper waters of the Amazon. It will be expensive to gather this; but it can be gathered and floated down on rafts to Para.

This rubber can be brought in sailing vessels and old steamers to Tampa, Mobile, New Orleans, and Texas ports where the cotton is. Furthermore, these ports are near the naval stores and asphalt supplies which could be mixed with the pure rubber. Moreover, the American has a surplus of unemployed people who could make tires under proper supervision. In addition to the above, we have a great undeveloped field of "camelback" retreading and capping rubber.

The above facts show that everything is available to make tires except the will on the part of our Washington dictators to let us buy them. Moreover, the methods which I visualize will not in any way interfere with the waging of the war. We will get poorer tires and will need to pay more money for them; but these "ersatz" tires will enable us to always have a car available to use when necessary. This is a reasonable request.

The American and Canadian people are willing to cut their driving 50 percent; they are willing to go without other cotton and rubber products in order to have tires. I especially "gets the goat" of American taxpayers to be told they can have no rubber and, when going to Washington, see these same dictators getting all the tires they want. The whole affair does not make sense. The present program is very unfair to all concerned.

This program does not in any way handicap our boys at the front or retard the making of airplanes, tanks or any other necessary war supplies. We are willing to make all the sacrifices necessary; but we do claim that transportation is entirely different from many other things for which we spend money. In other words, while our Washington dictators are free to reserve the necessary cotton, rubber, asphalt, wire, and everything else needed to win the war, they should be willing to let us people decide what we make with the balance. We, and not the Washington dictators, should decide this latter question.

I have seen the American people in many panics. My first one was in 1893 when Washington thought we would all starve to death because we couldn't get sold even though the West was burning corn. The next was in 1907 when Washington thought we would be unable to ride on trains because of the railroad row between Hill and Harriman.

Then I remember the panic of 1914 when Washington promised to keep us out of war if we would only make certain sacrifices. But once again we were fooled. Then came the panic of 1929 when we were unnecessarily scared into throwing ten million innocent people out of work just because paper stock prices went off 50 percent or more. Now Washington is starting a panic on rubber and certain other things. Washington may be right this time, but I am determined not to get scared to death just because some young fellows down in Washington cry "Wolf, Wolf."

Let us remember "Pearl Harbor" and realize we must make sacrifices. Let us, however, remember the "Gold Scare" of 1893; the "Railroad Scare" of 1907; the "War Scare" of 1914-1918; and the "Wall Street Scare" of 1929. In each of these cases, if we had gone about our business, we would be infinitely better off today. Let us intelligently "stretch our rubber" to serve fairly all needs.
