Scrap Quota Is Tripled by City and Township

Plymouth Way Over Top on First Day of Big Drive

Two hundred tons of scrap collected from the cellars, attics, backyards, fields and woods in and around Plymouth last Saturday will soon be rolling out of blast furnaces ready for immediate conversion into war munitions for Plymouth boys to use in fighting the Huns and the Japs!

While Plymouth's quota for the opening day of its tremendous scrap drive was set for 65 tons, careful estimates made by those who know something about metals, say that in the big scrap pile on the Hough lot at Main street and the Pers Marquette tracks and at Jack Miller's garage on Pearl street there are close to 200 tons, if not more.

But that is just the beginning! Under the able and enthusiastic direction of Mrs. Mildred Barnes, chief of the Plymouth city scrap committee and of Mrs. Russell Powell for the township, the scrap drive is going to continue from now until snow flies.

The two hundred tons are going to grow to one thousand tons by Armistice Day, when there will take place in Plymouth one of the greatest scrap celebrations Michigan has ever known.

That date has been tentatively set as the time when the old cannon in the park will be rolled down the street and started on its way to the blast furnace so that it can be remade into a modern gun for the use of Plymouth boys at the front.

Meanwhile every day, the collection is to continue. And as soon as farmers have finished getting in their crops, the two energetic scrap directors will work out details for the great scrap celebration on Armistice Day.

When darkness fell last Saturday and ended the first day's scrap drive, a hurriedly planned parade took place, winding up in Kellogg park with a brief program.

Down at the corner of Starkweather and Liberty, the high school bands, cub scouts, high school boys and girls.

To the 37 little boys and girls who make up Jack Miller's recently organized Junior Commandos, every citizen of Plymouth is today tipping his hat in respect for what these youngsters did in the city's scrap drive last week.

With their little play carts, express wagons, two-wheel pushabouts, these tots collected in nearly 20 tons of scrap. Where and how they got it all, no one knows except these enthusiastic little youngsters who are out to show Hitler and Hirohito what patriotic young Americans can do when they go to work.

Nancy Gothard is only four years old, but little Nancy loaded down her doll cart with scrap and wheeled it over to the pile stacked back of Miller's service station. Not only did Nancy help in collecting scrap, but she marched in the parade Saturday night carrying a placard almost twice as big as herself. On it was printed the words "We Are Bigger Than We Look."

The next youngest Commando scrap hunter is Dick Barker. He's just five—and how Dick hustled in the scrap!

Wouldn't Think of Giving Iron Fence For War Munitions

Because so very many people have wondered if the big iron fence surrounding the Kate Allen homestead on Penniman avenue might be contributed to Plymouth's scrap drive to be made into munitions for Plymouth boys fighting to preserve America, inquiry was made a few days ago as to what might be the fate of the tons of metal in the fence. Mrs. Claude S. Burgess, who inherited the property sometime ago, was called at her home in Detroit and asked if she contemplated the donation of the fence to the scrap drive. "I wouldn't think of such a thing. The property is up for sale and of course I will not take down the iron fence. It might hurt the sale of the property," stated Mrs. Burgess. So here's one iron fence in Plymouth that isn't going to go into war munitions.

Gayde's Old Coffee Grinder Goes Into Bullets for USA

"Well, that coffee grinder may be just as good as it was the day we stopped grinding coffee in my father's old grocery store, but it's not going to grind any more coffee. It's going into bullets and guns for our Plymouth boys fighting to save our homes, fighting to save America for Americans," declared William Gayde as he prepared to move a perfectly good coffee grinder to the Plymouth war scrap pile this week. For more than 50 years that coffee grinder served the patrons of the Gayde store. People from all parts of Plymouth in days gone by went down to Liberty street to get coffee at the Gayde store. "They seem to know how to grind it just right," they'd say. Well, the old coffee grinder isn't going to grind coffee any more, but it's going to grind up some of the wild-eyed marauders who seek to conquer the world. When the grinder was weighed in at the dump it was found to contain 176 pounds of good metal.

Junior Commandos Steal Show in City's Scrap Drive

To the 37 little boys and girls who make up Jack Miller's recently organized Junior Commandos, every citizen of Plymouth is today tipping his hat in respect for what these youngsters did in the city's scrap drive last week.

Everything Went Into Plymouth's Big Scrap Pile

Dave Taylor, who works at the Daisy plant, last Saturday walked over to the big lot donated by Mr. Hough for scrap storage, noticed that there was no one to direct the unloading of the trucks, took over the job and remained on it until the last truck had made its final trip last Saturday night. He saw every load as it was dumped, and he knows more about what is in the scrap pile than any other person in Plymouth.

Snowing Americans

Seek Change In School District Boundaries

The county board of education will meet Tuesday, October 20 at the Waterford school house for the purpose of determining possible changes in the boundaries between Plymouth School District No. 1 Fractional and Northville school district No. 5 fractional.

This consideration by the county board of education is necessitated by the filing of a petition by the parents of children living in the small triangle in Plymouth township between Five mile road, Schoolcraft road, and Bradner road, which is now a part of Northville No. 5 fractional, asking to be transferred into Plymouth district No. 1 fractional, citing as their reason the fact that the nearness to Starkweather school makes the change, from their viewpoint, desirable.

The meeting is to be held at 4:00 p.m. at the Waterford school house, and parents who are in favor of, or opposed to the change in the district boundaries will be heard by the county board of education.

League of Women Voters Holds Meeting

Mrs. Catherine Henderson entertained the League of Women Voters at a dessert meeting, Friday, October 9, in her home at 725 Auburn street.

This was the first meeting of the season and plans were made for the work of the coming year. The program consisted of reports by the departmental chairmen: Ruth E. Huston, Whipple gave a report of the state convention held last May. Mrs. Alta Woodworth gave a talk on the history and purpose of the League of Women Voters.

Don Horton Does More Than His Bit

When the truck and man shortage became acute in last Saturday's scrap drive, Don Horton was quick to come to the rescue. He turned over to Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Powell not only one of his trucks, but two mighty willing and able helpers to run it. Dozens of tons of scrap were brought to the Plymouth scrap pile by these hustlers.

World War Shell Goes Into Scrap!

Proudly youthful James Gray and his brother Tom, of 1027 Dewey, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gray, brought to The Plymouth Mail office last Saturday forenoon an unexploded three-inch shell made for the last World War. The powder and firing device had been removed from the shell when it was given to the Grays as a keepsake by Charles Sorenson of the Ford Motor company. It went on the scrap pile, to make new shells for the present World War after it had remained on display for a number of hours in the big window of The Plymouth Mail office.

Autos Collide, Six Are Injured, Cars Destroyed

Collision on Northville Road Last Saturday Eve

At least one automobile, and probably another, went out of commission for the duration when six people were injured last Saturday evening on the Northville road.

A car being driven by 14-year-old Earl Smith, son of Mrs. Mary Smith of Northville road, sideswiped another automobile driven by Ernest Evans of Pine street, this city, at the intersection of the Six Mile road, turned completely over and injured four youngsters in the Smith car so seriously that it was at first feared two might not recover.

They were the youthful driver, Earl Smith, who suffered a fractured skull, Eugene Milburne, 15, of Northville, who also suffered a fractured skull as well as some terrible lacerations, Marie Wick, a 15-year-old Northville girl, had a number of teeth knocked out and was badly cut about the face. Charles Harrison, 17, who lives in Phoenix subdivision, suffered a fractured shoulder bone, cuts and bruises.

Mr. Evans, driver of the other car, who resides on Pine street, is in Mt. Carmel hospital with injuries which are most critical. His chest was crushed and he suffered many other injuries.

Mrs. Harry Stanley of North Mill street, who was with him, was also badly injured. She is in Eloise hospital where she was taken with the four young people following the accident. The two boys with fractured skulls are still confined to the hospital. The accident happened about 8:30. The two cars were so badly wrecked that it is believed they cannot be used again.

Victory Notes

The Red Cross is again taking registrations for blood donors, although the Mobile Blood Donor unit will not come here for some weeks. Those who wish to give blood on the next collection day, please register at the city hall, at Beyer's Pharmacy or with Mrs. H. P. Penhale, phone 252W.

An advanced First Aid class will be started this month if enough registers in addition to the 15 motor corps members to make a class of 32. Mr. Wallace W. Laury, who has so ably taught Plymouth First Aid classes will be the instructor. Register now with Mrs. Winston Cooper, Red Cross educational chairman, telephone 387J.

Plymouth will need at least 70 volunteer registrars for gasoline rationing work the week of November 8. At least 40 per cent of them should be able to type, according to Mrs. Beatrice M. Schultz, recently appointed chairman of the Citizen Service corps. Registration for gasoline cards has been declared the responsibility of the local Defense Council, according to a letter received by Amos Thompson, secretary of the Plymouth Defense Council. More information will be published next week.

The next black-out for this area may be Thursday evening, October 29, at 9 or 10 o'clock, according to information received by Mayor Ruth Whipple at a meeting called in Detroit Monday afternoon by Mr. McLaury, area warden. Chief Atherton, who spoke to Plymouth's air wardens last month stated that this would be the last announced black-out. After this will follow a day-time alert and a surprise alert for the three counties of Macomb, Oakland, and Wayne.

The Plymouth Defense Council will meet Tuesday afternoon, October 20, at 4:30 at the city hall. Any citizen who has suggestions or criticisms of the war effort in Plymouth is urged to present them at that time.

The Detroit Red Cross chairman have asked that there be at least one person in each home who has taken home nursing. This is desirable because of the shortage of doctors and nurses with which we shall soon be confronted. The standard of one person per household with home nursing training means that Plymouth women should register now for home nursing courses, one of which is already being given with Mrs. Mary Strasen as instructor. Register now for new classes with Mrs. Winston Cooper, educational chairman.

The Mission society of the Lutheran church will meet at 2:00 o'clock, Wednesday, October 21, at the church. The hostesses will be Mrs. William Sakriscka, Mrs. George Priekorn, Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith, Mrs. William Ash, Miss Amelia Gayde, Mrs. Joseph Schoutz and Mrs. Ernest Wendland.

In New Caledonia

When Wanda Engle, U. S. Army nurse of Toledo, Ohio, visited the Kanakas in New Caledonia they presented her with a grass skirt—ample proof of her popularity as well as of her success as a diplomat. Wanda poses here with a local chief, who puffs at an American-made cigarette with considerable enjoyment.

Send Christmas Presents Now To Boys in Service

Providing They Are In Foreign Lands Says Postmaster

Postmaster Harry Irwin has issued an appeal to Plymouth residents who are planning to send gifts to soldier lads now located in foreign countries, to make shipments immediately to Australia, India and other countries located in that part of the world.

"Presents to these points should be shipped during the present month. To Europe and other places, they should be sent now or very early in November," said Postmaster Irwin yesterday.

He stated that arrangements have been made by the post office department in cooperation with the war and navy departments to make a supreme effort to maintain Christmas traditions and retain or build the morale of our Armed Forces both in this country and overseas. In order that gifts and greetings may reach the addresses on time and in good condition mailers are requested to observe and comply with postal instructions.

Gifts intended for Christmas should be marked "Christmas Parcel." Special effort will be made to deliver this mail in time for Christmas. In view of the urgent need for shipping space to transport materials directly essential to the war effort parcels are restricted to the following limitations: only one parcel each week, the weight not to exceed 11 pounds and not over 18 inches long.

While these limits are permitted, mailers are urged by the war and navy departments to further cooperate by voluntarily restricting the size to that of an ordinary shoe box or smaller and to 6 pounds in weight.

In consideration of the great distance this mail must be transported and the handling and storage it must undergo, it is absolutely necessary that all articles be packed in substantial outer containers of double faced corrugated board or material of similar strength. These parcels must not only withstand the pressure of other mail in the same sack but also the weight of other sacks that must necessarily be piled thereon. The articles should be arranged in a compact manner, fragile articles surrounded with cushioning material, liquids with absorbent material and sharp or pointed articles must have edges or points protected so they cannot cut through their coverings. All parcels are subject to censorship and easily opened parcels will minimize and expedite the necessary handling.

Names Beatrice Schultz To Post To Be Director Citizens' Corps

Mrs. Beatrice M. Schultz, assistant postmistress, has been appointed by Mayor Ruth Whipple as director of the Citizens' Service Corps, an important post in connection with Plymouth's war defense organization.

Among the new responsibilities taken on by Mrs. Schultz in connection with her new appointment will be cooperation and assistance to the consumers organization soon to be announced, the housing problem, welfare, recreation and other non-protective activities.

She will work in conjunction with the Plymouth Defense Council of which she is a member.

Appointment of these other agencies will probably be announced within the near future. The selection of someone to head up the housing committee will doubtless be the first to be considered.

Governor And Senator Brown To Visit Plymouth

Luncheon Arranged In Their Honor Thursday, October 29

Plymouth citizens will Thursday noon, October 29, entertain at a community luncheon United States Senator Prentiss M. Brown and Governor Murray D. VanWagoner, the affair taking place at the Mayflower hotel at 12:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Russell Powell, chairman of the committee on arrangements, is taking enough time off from her remarkably successful scrap drive in the township, to work out details for the visit of these two notables to Plymouth on that date.

Following the usual Plymouth custom of no high prices for political luncheons, the tickets will cost but 65 cents.

And of course the usual Plymouth menu, consisting of a big plate of baked beans, salt pork and Boston brown bread will make up the major portion of the menu.

It seems that Mrs. Powell read in a magazine sometime ago that there is nothing Senator Brown likes quite so well as he does Michigan beans, and that he invariably orders them for his lunch in the capitol's restaurant. In fact, he is known to have eaten Michigan beans for breakfast. And that is another reason, states Mrs. Powell, why beans will be the main dish when Senator Brown and Governor Van Wagoner come to Plymouth on October 29.

Tickets for the luncheon are now on sale at the Mayflower desk. In view of the fact that only 125 can be cared for at the present time, Mrs. Powell states that it is advisable for those wishing to attend to get their tickets early.

Women are also invited to attend the luncheon, and in view of the fact that the affair is of a community nature, it is expected that many Republicans will also be present, following the usual Plymouth habit of extending courtesies to high ranking public officials, irrespective of political parties.

After the luncheon, at which both Senator Brown and the Governor will speak, the two high officials have been invited to inspect some of the Plymouth plants working on war materials.

On this tour they will be accompanied by Earl Russell, president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and possibly one or two other Plymouth citizens. They will visit the Dunn Steel Products plant, the Wall Wire plant, the Pilgrim Products company's new steel plant, the Plymouth Tool & Gauge, possibly the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant and if time permits some of the other industries.

Save Tires, Plea Of Committee

Six Ways Are Suggested To Help

The War Transportation Conservation Committee is organized for just one purpose—and that is to get every last possible drop out of your tires. Plymouth is known far and wide for its patriotism—it's liberal contributions to all war efforts and its backing of every good move for governmental support. Let us then show our colors now and help keep our mechanized equipment well rubbered and our war workers on the job by observing the following rules:

1. Walk or use a bus whenever possible.
2. Make arrangements with fellow workers or neighbors so that your car carries more passengers per trip.
3. Alternate the use of your car with others.
4. Make one car do the work of several.
5. Miles not used for shopping and pleasure jaunts can be used later for your trip through proper periodic servicing and drive cautiously to prevent accidents.
6. Keep your car under 35 miles.

Remember when these tires are gone—you may not be able to get any more. Restrictions are mighty stiff and tires are awfully scarce. Keep the ones you have rolling into 1945 or maybe longer.

'Sgt. York' No. 2

Sgt. Alvin York captured 132 Germans in World War I. Sgt. Keith Elliott of New Zealand, captured 130 Germans near Ruweisat, in the Alamein line in Egypt. He is pictured after the exploit, which won him the Victoria cross. Enemy tanks attacked three sides of his battalion and 19 men were left of Company B. Elliott led them in charge after charge. While capturing a German machine-gun nest single-handed he got three wounds in the back and legs. He handed over the entire batch of 130 prisoners.

School Census Shows Increase In Population

Rapid Growth In Past Few Months Revealed by Report

According to a survey just made by the Plymouth school district board, the population of the district between May 31 and October 1 of this year has increased by nearly 700. This statement is based upon the fact that during that period approximately 175 new school pupils have moved into the district.

The number of children of school age, between five and 19 years old, living in the district as of May 31, 1942 was 1,789. This was an increase over May 31, 1941 of 88.

These numbers, less the number who have moved out of the district in the same period, indicate a substantial increase in population.

It is this increase in the school population which provides the answer as to the acute housing shortage in Plymouth and vicinity.

Schools To Test Air Raid Time

Given Try-Out Oct. 20

Tuesday, October 20, at 2:30 p.m., all school grade children who do not come by bus or automobile, are to be dismissed, and the time required to reach home recorded by their parents, in order to determine the possibility of dismissing those people whose parents wish them home in case of air raid warnings.

This timing of the distance for each pupil, between the school and his home, will give the parents accurate data upon which to determine whether they wish their boy or girl to remain in school, in case an air raid should ever come, or whether they would like to have their child dismissed in order that he or she may be at home with them.

The school is sending letters to all parents this week, asking their cooperation in the air raid dismissal of the children in grades kindergarten to eight, at 2:30 on Tuesday afternoon, October 20.

HELP! On Want Ads!

The Plymouth Mail finds it necessary to make an appeal to its many readers to get their want ads in earlier.

So overloaded are our telephone lines Thursday morning, that it has become almost an impossibility to take care of the calls that come to the office. We are, therefore, asking our many patrons to get their want ads in on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, if possible. It would be far better if you could bring them or mail them to the office, very early in the week. We do not like to set a "deadline" unless it is necessary. But with our telephones so over-loaded and the help situation becoming critical, we seek your aid in solving one of our serious problems. Thanks for whatever you do.

School Board Works Faster Than President

Orders Physical Training For Seniors Before His Speech

Plymouth's school board works just a little bit faster than President Roosevelt, if such a thing is possible.

Monday night just about one hour before the President recommended physical training for all high school boys, in his radio address to the nation, the Plymouth school board had officially taken action making compulsory physical training for boys in the Senior class, with the expectation that many of the students will be called into the services of their country within the coming year.

Upon the recommendation of Claude Dykhouse, the high school principal, physical training was made compulsory for all, with two exceptions:

1. Those excused for physical reasons by a physician.
2. Those whose regular work outside of school makes additional time for physical training impractical.

The training which the senior boys will receive will be similar to that recommended by the University of Michigan and approved by the State Department of Public Instruction.

It is hoped and expected that the boys in the senior class will be in much better physical condition after taking the required work than they otherwise would have been.

At the same regular meeting, the board of education voted to place an additional teacher in the Central Grade school, which shows a necessity due to the continual increase in the grade school enrollment.

No Hunting In Town, Says Chief

And Don't Shoot Cows For Pheasants

Don't hunt within the city limits—No, Sir, not even if you see a big cock pheasant walking right down the middle of Main street. Don't shoot!

If you do, the law'll get you! Chief of Police Charles Thumme has issued a warning to hunters.

He says there is a city ordinance which prohibits hunting—and he doesn't want to see anybody get in trouble, although the Chief says he would like to see a pheasant in every cooking pot in town.

Bert's Place Tops List Again

Leads Last Week In War Bond Sales

You just can't beat 'em—the little two by four restaurant known to all of Plymouth as "Bert's Place," when it comes to selling war bonds and stamps.

Maybe it's the smallest business place in Plymouth, but it's the biggest when it comes to pushing the sale of war bonds and stamps. Last week's total war bond sales, states Mrs. Swadlow, amounted to $3,233.25, the highest total yet reached by the tiny restaurant just across from the selective service office on North Main street.

"But we've only started," stated Mr. Swadlow yesterday. "We are going to make it $5,000 a week pretty soon—and it isn't going to be long either."

Mayor Battles Detroit Control of County

Monday evening Mayor Ruth Whipple spoke at Flois at a meeting of county employees. She opposed the adoption of the so-called home rule amendment, pointing out that it is anything but a home rule. She made it clear that people living outside the city of Detroit in Wayne county, if they voted for the plan favored turning over to the city government of Detroit the government of the entire county. At the meeting she debated Clarence Wilcox of Detroit, chairman of the committee trying to put over the plan.

You and I by CHARLES S. KINNISON

TREASURES O' THE HEART
It's nice to have plenty of money,
With all that gold dollars can buy,
But Life for me still can be sunny
Although poor in money am I.
We're buying a home—and we're healthy—
With plenty to eat and to wear,
So why should I ask to be wealthy,
With riches, like these, for my share!

With comfortable shelter above me,
A yard that is fragrant with flowers,
A wife and two kiddies who love me
And give me my happiest hours—
Who greet me at night with affection,
As, smiling, I open the door—
An evening of restful reflection—
Who is it that has any more?

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church. Walter Nichol, pastor. 10 a.m., Sunday school; 11 a.m., church worship; 6:30 p.m., young people. The Sunday school is well organized for the year's work. Parents are asked to cooperate by having children in regular attendance. The church worship service, Sunday morning will center around the Christian Home. A special form of service is arranged with appropriate hymns and readings. Families are asked to attend as families. One interesting feature will be the dedication of children in baptism. The choir rehearses Friday at 7:30 p.m. If there are those who would like to help in this important part of the worship, they are asked to speak with the director, Mrs. E. W. Blankenhagen. Division No. 1 of the Auxiliary will have an evening meeting Monday, October 19. Dessert will be served at 8 p.m. in the parlors of the church. The leaders are Mrs. Floyd Eckles, Mrs. J. J. McLaren, Mrs. George A. Smith and Mrs. Harvey Springer. This meeting will provide an opportunity for members to pay their pledges to the Auxiliary. The program will include the showing of colored slides of Isle Royale. A school of religion to serve the Plymouth and Northville area, will be held four Monday evenings beginning November 2. Each evening there will be an address by an outstanding speaker. The public is invited to share the interest and benefit of this unusual opportunity. Meetings will all be in the Plymouth Presbyterian church. The annual bazaar under the direction of the Women's Auxiliary will be held Thursday, November 19. Lunch and dinner will be served. A Church Night is planned for next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. Men and women, boys and girls, families and individuals are all invited. We are assured of a good time. Potluck dinner will be served at 6:30. Come and have an evening of congenial church fellowship. And the women ask that we all bring not only our food but also coffee or tea. Former Plymouth Residents Celebrate Golden Wedding

Old timers will be interested in a news item appearing in last week's issue of The Linden Leader, which gave details of the golden wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. William Peek of that place.

Mr. Peek years and years ago as an employe of The Plymouth Mail. In fact it was nearly 50 years ago when he assisted Editor John Steers in getting out The Mail. Editor Steers and "Bill" not only did all the work in setting up The Mail and printing it, but they also produced all of the job work of the town. In 1896 he went to Linden where he established The Leader.

He published the paper for a number of years, then sold it to Editor McMillan. Upon his death, Mr. Peek again bought The Leader and is still publishing the paper.

The anniversary celebration proved a delightful affair, all of the children, grandchildren, relatives and close friends joining in the event.

It's Expensive To Hunt in Parks

Costs Two Detroiters Nearly $100 Each

It doesn't pay to hunt pheasants either in or out of season in Wayne county's parkway system.

A few days ago a complaint was made by workers of the Ford Phoenix plant that two young hunters had shot a pheasant in the parkway.

The matter was immediately turned over to Game Warden Eckert for investigation. He finally located the two hunters, named Woodrow Wilson and Denham Wilson, both residents of Detroit.

They were taken before a justice of peace in Dearborn township, pleaded guilty and were fined $82.00 each.

INSIDE DOPE

Mrs. Brown had a treasure of a maid, and she was praising her wonderful qualities, especially her trustworthiness, to envious friends, when the girl herself entered the room with tea.
 "Oh, Jane," said Mrs. Brown, "will you run upstairs and fetch that letter I left on my dressing-table?"
 "Er—er—which one, ma'am?" inquired Jane. "The one about your brother's divorce or the one about the piano payments being late?"

Superfluous

The gift was still on the wedding ring of the customer who was buying a cook book.
 "I think I'll take this small one at 30 cents," she said at length.
 "We have a larger edition of that at a dollar," the assistant said temptingly.

"No, thank you," replied the bride shyly; "you see, both my husband and I are small eaters."

STILL MASTER

"Tom had saved a little money and he was undecided for a time, whether to get married or buy a radio."
 "What was his decision?"
 "He decided to buy the radio. He can shut it off when he's tired of listening."

Doctoring ailing machinery at the end of the season's field work makes more sense than usual this year in view of wartime restrictions on new machines and parts and the necessity to keep a farm in production. Agricultural engineers at Michigan State college advise against any wait until the machines are required for use next year.

MOTHERS OF MICHIGAN - What have you to gain by our work?

What does it mean to you, mothers—yes, and fathers and wives and sons—that your Consumers Power Company is working night and day in war production?

War reaches into the home and calls your men to the armed forces to protect the homeland.  What does our work mean to you in this critical hour? Right here and now, our workers, your fellow citizens are enlisted in the nation's cause.

Here's One Cut That Didn't Go Into The Scrap Pile! It's Wood!

Sometime ago Uncle Sam ordered all of the newspapers, printing establishments and other concerns using electrotypes, etchings and engravings of any kind that contained metal, to scrap them all, except those that had been used in recent months or would be used soon.

So "Ye Editor" and some of the boys in the composing room went to work.

From out of the files came hundreds of plates that had been used during the last half century or more in The Plymouth Mail.

And then into the scrap pile went engravings of citizens who had helped in the long ago to build our city of today, pictures of the old village as it looked to the childhood eyes of Edward C. Hough, Harry Robinson, Charles H. Bennett, Mrs. Dibble and scores of others who remember Plymouth when cows were pastured along-side the streets, when it was a "big event" if some one built a picket fence around his home.

when a horse trotting down the street kicked up enough dust to make a good-sized modern smoke screen, when "city fathers" dickered long hours as to who should be hired to light the old kerosene street lamps.

There were cuts of buildings and factories that were to have been, but that never did rise above the engravers' plates upon which they were printed.

There were zinc etchings of new subdivisions that now contain homes that were erected on the plots that were turned from cow pastures into city streets.

Metallic pictures of pioneer homes, stores, disastrous fires, wrecks, and of the Mayflower hotel when its sponsors dreamed it as a five-story building instead of a three-story hotel, will soon be on the way to the smelters.

And then there was a whole series of cuts of free hand drawings that The Mail had made a dozen or so years ago of some 75 or 80 local residents.

It would be difficult to estimate the total cost of the art work, the photography and the other costs that went into the production of these thousands of plates that were scrapped by The Plymouth Mail. To say that the total would exceed $25,000 or $30,000 would be a mere guess, but doubtless the amount expended over the years would far exceed that figure.

To one who delights to have around everything that has at anytime been used in the building of a substantial, progressive community newspaper, it wasn't a pleasant task to see plates of scenes that can never again be reproduced go into the scrap heap—but it is something that Uncle Sam wants done for our fighting boys at the front, and therefore The Plymouth Mail threw sentiment to the four winds and priceless plates into the scrap heap.

The copper, zinc, antimony, chromium, lead and nickel that these cuts contain can be used to wonderfully good advantage by the government in the making of munitions for Plymouth fighting boys at the front.

And what is sentiment, compared to that? If some day, "Ye Editor" wants to look at some old cut of Plymouth, he'll just go to the file and pull out the drawer containing the wooden cut of the old horse shown above and used by The Mail in by-gone days on auction bills, farm ads, fair posters and what-not, and wonder where in all the world another artist can be found who can reproduce on wood such a perfect picture of a dappie-gray draft horse.

Yes, sir, when the war is over, The Plymouth Mail has any amount of room to begin the building of a new "morgue" for the better and far more interesting pictures that will fill the newly created vacant filing spaces.

'Pudding Bomb'

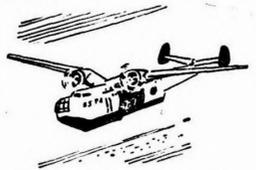

The "pudding bomb," used with good effect in the Egyptian desert, is said to be more potent than the "Molotov cocktail" for rendering German tanks hors de combat. Thrown at a tank, the "pudding" sticks to the side until it explodes.

Life and goodness are immortal. Let us then shape our views of existence into loveliness, freshness, and continuity, rather than into age and blight.—Mary Baker Eddy.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

At Midway, in the Coral Sea and from General MacArthur's headquarters in Australia, the Navy patrol bombers are searching out enemy bases, ships and transports and "completing their mission." The Navy Patrol Bomber costs about $750,000.

Our factories are turning out hundreds of these bombing ships. Yet it is only through your investment in War Bonds and Stamps you can do your share to help provide patrol bombers for our rapidly increasing air force. Invest at least ten percent of your income every payday in these Government securities and do your bit to win and shorten the war. Our airmen are depending on your help.

City "All Set" For More Chickens

No Law Against "Cackles" in City Limits

Hurrah for the good judgment of Plymouth city officials during the years that have gone by! This is one of the many cities in Michigan that has never passed an ordinance prohibiting the raising of chickens within the city limits.

Now Plymouth residents find themselves in a position to help Uncle Sam without the necessity of changing any city laws in order to do so.

R. J. Baldwin, director of the Extension department of the Michigan State college, says that Michigan must do its share towards producing the two hundred million more chickens that Uncle Sam says the nation will need during 1943.

Mr Baldwin points out that there are 427 hatcheries in this state, according to a recent survey made by the college. New facts to bring up-to-date the present status of the hatching industry have been unearthed by Ray Conolly, field manager of the Michigan State Poultry Improvement association.

The 427 hatcheries can set 14,334,100 eggs at a time. Normally the hatcheries obtain a 64 per cent hatch and utilize the egg capacity 2.73 times during the season. That results in a normal season's run of slightly more than 25 million baby chicks, according to Conolly's survey.

By capacities, Conolly rates the hatcheries in four groups. Small hatcheries are those with capacities ranging up to 20,000 eggs.

These number 197. There are 193 which can set 20,000 eggs. Another 26 hatcheries in Michigan run from 70,000 to 150,000 eggs. The large hatcheries, those that set more than 150,000 eggs at a time, number 11.

From his office at Michigan State college, Conolly issues a bit of warning concerning the expansion of hatching activities to provide more meat. He hopes commercial poultrymen and commercial hatchery operators will continue their blood testing and pullover control work. Otherwise, he warns, many poultrymen would be faced with a heavy chick mortality if their young stock came from flocks not tested and safeguarded against the disease.

Weddings

BARROWS-TELDER

Of interest to many Plymouth residents is the news of the marriage of Phyllis Jane Barrows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Barrows, of Grand Rapids, formerly of Plymouth, to Lieutenant Robert A. Telder, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Telder, also of Grand Rapids, which took place October 6, in Brownwood, Texas, where Lieutenant Telder is stationed at Camp Bowie. The Rev. Leslie H. Boone, pastor of the First Methodist church in Brownwood, performed the ceremony.

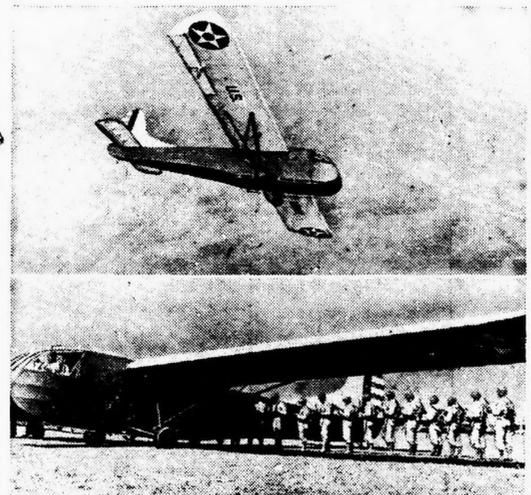

The bride wore an afternoon dress of ice-green crepe trimmed in silver lame, an off-the-face black hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of purple orchids.

Mrs. A. R. De Silva, wife of Major De Silva, was the bride's only attendant, and the bridegroom chose his brother, Dean Telder, as best man.

A reception followed in the Brownwood hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Barrows and Mr. and Mrs. Telder and family attended the wedding. Lieutenant and Mrs. Telder are graduates of Michigan State college at East Lansing.

CRIGER-ALLEN

The double ring ceremony uniting Alice Mary Criger, daughter of Mrs. Marvin Criger, and Walter I. Allen was performed September 12, in Our Lady of Good Counsel church with the Rev. V. J. Renaud officiating at the nuptial mass. The altar was decorated with white gladioli and asters.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Aviation Cadet Marvin J. Criger, was lovely in a princess gown of white satin fashioned with long sleeves made with puffs at the shoulder and sweetheart neckline. The skirt was full with satin panels of Chantilly lace down the front and back falling into a long graceful train. Her fingertip veil was edged with the same lace and hung from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried white roses mounted on a white prayer book.

The other attendants of the bride were Mrs. Robert Robertson, sister of the bride and Mrs. Arden Decker, of River Rouge. Their gowns were of rose and blue tulle and they carried pink and blue bebe mums. Nancy Pat Corston, of St. Clair, was flower girl, wearing white tulle and carrying a basket of flower petals.

County Budget Cut By Millions

County Tax Rate Goes Way Down

Monday was the 6th meeting in the fall session of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors. The chief matter for consideration is the annual budget for Wayne county which, as presented by the auditors, is $23,169,854.48. The county tax rate for the City of Detroit is presented at $4.833 per thousand or $5.7 less per thousand than last year. The total county tax rate for the area outside of Detroit is $4.823 per thousand or $7.85 less per thousand than it was last year. This will be the lowest tax rate for Wayne county in 19 years and means a substantial saving to tax-payers although certain Detroit groups are trying to make out just the opposite.

* Throughout the nation Greyhound buses start operating on new schedules beginning October 15th. Although Greyhound has been preparing for this change for some time, it is not a simple thing to rearrange fully a service that covers 65,000 miles of routes and has transported more than 85 million passengers since Pearl Harbor. Until every detail of the new service is carefully worked out, you may be inconvenienced on occasion. We hope you'll take it in stride, as we're doing our best to maintain customary high standards of service under unusual conditions.

Now when every bus, every tire, every gallon of gasoline must be used to full advantage, you can help in many ways. "Wind" Changed Marriage Date How That Wiedman Error Happened

Last week Wednesday was a "hot" October day. The windows of The Plymouth Mail office were open—and the wind blew in. The young miss who was copying the 25 years ago items from the old files, left her desk for a few minutes to chat with a good looking soldier boy out in front of The Mail office. Then she returned to her desk and started copying more of the 25 years ago items for re-publication in last week's issue. She failed to notice that the wind had turned over a lot of pages, when she started to work again. And that's why Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wiedman last Friday morning began counting their fingers to see just how many years they had been married. It seems that the wind that blew the pages over made it appear that the Wiedmans had been married 25 years instead of 21. "Maybe I did marry my wife before I knew her, but I don't remember of any such a thing. The Mail generally has everything just right—and possibly we have been married 25 years instead of 21, but we have counted up the years a half dozen times and both Mrs. Wiedman and myself are convinced that it was just 21 years ago instead of 25 years ago that we were married," declared Mr. Wiedman yesterday.

Editor's Note: Yes, Paul, you are right. You have been married just 21 years. Blame the extra four years to the wind and the hot weather last week. More than 65.2% of all war plants reporting in Michigan (a typical war production state) depend on trucks to haul their incoming and outgoing freight. Trucks haul nearly 100% of the milk supply of most large cities—and 58% of all livestock marketed in the U. S. Trucks are the sole transportation system serving our 54,000 communities not reached by railroads. Excerpts from A Lecture on Christian Science

Christian Science: Herald of God's Allness by Adair Hickman, C. S. B. of New York City

At this period of swift changes in the whole social order, we should—and naturally must, as Christians—turn unreservedly for guidance to the inspired Word, the revealed Truth, contained in the Holy Scriptures.

It is imperative, therefore, that Christians heed well the admonition of the Founder of Christianity, particularly at this time when the charge is being more and more aggressively made that Christianity is impractical or is failing at this crisis in human history.

Mary Baker Eddy realized that the spiritual interpretation of all Scripture is the vital interpretation. As she has said, in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 207): "The spiritual reality is the scientific fact in all things."

material senses behold; the basis of immortality" (ibid., p. 585).

This event seems beautifully symbolic of the light which Christian Science sheds on the sacred Scriptures throughout. Under the errors and changes of countless translations, below the many misconceptions and misrepresentations, which human theories have written over the primitive purity and prophetic meaning of the divine law, the searching ray of Christian Science has brought to light the meaning and message of this compilation.

"Obviously, to become aware of the spiritual fact, or Truth, is the vital need of the human race today. This need is being practically supplied to the receptive thought through the understanding which Christian Science gives of the realism of Spirit and the unreality of matter or material sense."

The profound significance to this very present hour of that beautiful event known as the transfiguration, as related by Matthew, and the deep and vital meaning of that sacred experience, is clearly and practically explained in Christian Science. What does the transfiguration really mean? It means "glorified"—Christ, Truth, glorified Jesus, you will recall, had taken Peter, James, and John up into a high mountain, and there appeared unto them Elias and Moses, talking with Jesus.

It was Moses who had heard, in the thunder of Sinai, the command, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me. It was Elias who had appeared when a renegade king and his heathen army given state sanction to idolatry. The prophet came to do battle with this monstrous evil and to hold the people faithful to the one true God.

When the vision of Moses and Elias had vanished and Jesus was alone with his awed disciples, they questioned him about the prophecy which had existed for centuries concerning Elias. It was then that Jesus spoke those words, among the profoundest he ever uttered. "Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things."

the second time she reached for Science and Health and opened it to this statement (p. 390): "Life is self-sustained." Dwelling upon these words, she began to realize that if Life is consciousness and is self-existent, it could not become unconscious or die; that whatever the seeming, she could not lose Life.

"Turning again to the textbook, her eyes fell upon these words (p. 492): "For right reasoning there should be one fact behind the thought, namely, spiritual existence." As the truth of this statement dawned upon her thought, she was able understandingly to reject the false evidence of material sense, and to accept and claim the spiritual evidence and law as the only truth or fact of her being.

This healing has been permanent is proved by the fact that it occurred thirty years ago. My friend has been constantly active in the business world during the succeeding years, and has not only manifested excellent health, but recently, in speaking to me of this experience, she stated that she had never lost that sense of freedom and energy which came at the time of her healing; that she had not found it necessary to take as much rest as the average individual, and that she seldom experienced fatigue.

Mrs. Eddy herself came as a messenger of the one God, the allness of Spirit. Through her scientific discovery of the truth of Spirit, that all Truth is Spirit or Mind, she discovered the entire claim that matter and material sense are actual, and set forth the divine law which reveals the perfection of being or allness of God, in which all life is sustained.

It became Mrs. Eddy's life purpose to establish the scientific interpretation and demonstration of the oneness and allness of God, the spiritual, logical acceptance of what that law demands. She found through her practice of the scientific law she discovered, that the divine attributes revealed in Holy Scripture combine in oneness and completeness, so that we can never separate the divine and demoniacal concept of Deity.

John the Baptist preceded the Messiah, as had been foretold. He heralded the coming of a greater messenger of Truth, Jesus of Nazareth, as he went through the wilderness, purging his floor, and gathering his wheat into the garner; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

John came declaring, "The kingdom of heaven is at hand." He called the people to repent, to turn—from that is the significance of the word "repent"—to turn from the material sense of existence. He foretold that the activity of the Christ, Truth, would purge and destroy the false and preserve only the true. This is the universal purge which must finally redeem the whole human race.

Just what is meant by the God-principle as Christian Science uses this term? Its Discoverer tells us clearly in these words (No and Yes, p. 20): "When understood, Principle is found to be the only term that fully conveys the ideas of God—one Mind, a perfect man, and divine Science." Can we not see that here we have a scientific law with which to demonstrate—make apparent to human consciousness—the ever-presence of God, Life, Truth, and Love? When understanding that the term "Principle" includes man and divine Science, the word no longer seems old or abstract to us, for it helps us to grasp a sense of the complete will of God as one, and of our real identity as an essential of that oneness, and the law, or Science of that oneness. In this allness of good we find the Christ, the ideal man, and the divine Science which reveals that likeness. We realize more and more of the divine ever-presence, and man's unity with that presence.

world, seeking to find an honest man, the real man. Instead, we go in the clear light of divinely scientific revelation to recognize more and more of the true man in God's likeness. His image or idea, everywhere present to spiritual vision and understanding, Christian Science shows that it was this true vision of man which enabled Jesus to heal the sick. It is this same spiritual concept or vision which is accomplishing the healing work today.

"Let us make man in our image, after our likeness," was the divine purpose. And that purpose to make man in God's, Mind's, likeness is the continuing law governing all real progress. Only as man appears in God's likeness, embodying Godlike qualities—love, mercy, justice, wisdom, unvarying rectitude, and the like—is reality made manifest. All else is illusion, the mist or mythology of material sense.

Through Christian Science we see that man comes to know himself only as he learns the true nature of God, learns to know the infinite divine Mind as Love. Since Love is the one Father or creator, "the only begotten" of that Father, and only that which is begotten of that Father, or creator, can be real. From this standpoint, the material truth we begin to perceive the fraudulent nature of all evil.

The false claim of a selfhood apart from God, Spirit, a selfhood capable of knowing evil as well as good, is the error which has brought us to the afflictions of mankind. Must we not see then how important it is to recognize this basic error of two minds and identify ourselves with the one God, one Mind, in order to demonstrate, image forth, or express our true, indestructible individuality? To be willing and able to give up this dream of a selfhood in matter—this claim that evil can be real in thought or experience, past or present—requires constant vigilance.

Righteous Prayer Since prayer is our means of communion with God, since it is the agency by which all true healing, saving work is done in Christian Science, it is to be expected that the textbook of this Science would have chapters on prayer. The question of prayer has indeed said much about it. One such chapter of this book is devoted to prayer. This clear, convincing, comforting chapter alone has been the means of drawing hosts of unsatisfied suffering mortals to further study and acceptance of Christian Science.

Miracles Explained Until the advent of Christian Science, it had long been thought of the miracles—the most vital, the most significant part of Christian teaching—that we did not know and we could not know how they were done; that they took place ages ago by means of some past dispensation.

God as Principle Just what is meant by the God-principle as Christian Science uses this term? Its Discoverer tells us clearly in these words (No and Yes, p. 20): "When understood, Principle is found to be the only term that fully conveys the ideas of God—one Mind, a perfect man, and divine Science." Can we not see that here we have a scientific law with which to demonstrate—make apparent to human consciousness—the ever-presence of God, Life, Truth, and Love?

Let us learn in this Science to claim our unity with God, to cease to grope, like Diogenes, in the mist and dimness of material theories, with a humanly contrived lantern made up of the elements of the material remember that we never climb alone. Every mounting thought or righteous desire helps to draw others upward in the path of progress, for it is a reflection of the one Mind's all-inclusive activity.

The necessity for demonstration was clearly perceived and stated by Christ Jesus when he said, "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples." Demonstration consists in rendering absolute Truth in terms appreciable to human experience.

As viewed simply as material substance and the result solely of human effort or skill, to be used only to meet material ends, all this will not, in the last analysis, prove to be wealth. If we accept the Principle of one divine cause of all things real, we shall see that these resources are a manifestation of Mind's infinitude, representing or indicating true ideas of usefulness, productivity, affluence, intelligence, industry, and so on.

True Government The eternal will claims to separate man wholly from God's government—from all knowledge or love of God—and then to rule mankind absolutely in God's stead. Whatever ideology the carnal mind may assume, it is the very antithesis of Christianity. In essence it is always atheism, paganism, or idolatry as was the image-worship against which the ancient prophets constantly warned Israel.

Michigan dairymen can select grains on an economy basis, since tests indicate pound for pound such grains as corn, corn and cob, barley, rye, wheat, and oats are about equal in feeding value for dairy cows. Similarly high protein supplements vary little in feeding value. Pound for pound, about the same value is obtained in feeding dairy cattle soybean oilmeal, soy beans, cottonseed meal, corn gluten meal or linseed meal. Half as valuable are cull beans, which should be coarsely ground.

Moderate

We appreciate that very often there is a limited budget for the last final rites. For such clients we advise a modest funeral—the living must be regarded as well as those who have passed on.

In any case—whatever the cost—the arrangements are complete, beautiful and reverent. We do not want people to spend more than they can afford.

Rocks Lose To Ecorse, 13-0

The Plymouth Rock football squad journeyed over to Ecorse last Friday night to suffer their first loss of the season at the hands of the Red Raiders who utilized passes and a fast backfield to win 13-0. Ecorse's first touchdown came in the first quarter when a backfield man tossed a pass to an Ecorse receiver in the end zone. The pass from center to the backfield man attempting to convert for the extra point was fumbled, leaving the score 6 to 0.

Ecorse's second touchdown came with only minutes to go in the final period. The Red Raiders marched from their own 25-yard line to the Rocks' six-yard line, then ran the ball over in the first down on this last touchdown march was executed by the Ecorse eleven. Three Ecorse backfield men pretended they were arguing over the signals while the center hipped the ball to the remaining backfield man who ran it for a first down.

Twice Ecorse men broke loose with the pigskin on a touchdown run only to have P.H.S.'s feet safety man pull him down.

The only time Plymouth threatened was in the second quarter when Kearney passed to Ebersole on their 30-yard line. Kearney then ran the ball to the 20-yard line only to have Ecorse take the ball over on downs when the Rocks ran up against a stone wall.

Starting line-up: Sheppard, lt.; Sasal, c.; Thams, rg.; Hunt, lg.; Scheppie, rt.; Donahue, qb.; Vogel, lb.; Wellman, qb.; Behler, rh.; Ebersole, lb.; Kearney, fb. Substitutes: Campbell, Gdancic, Broze, Hershey, and Wisely.

Here and There

"A relief map is a map that people who are traveling and get lost can look at and find out where they are. This makes them happy and causes relief." This was the answer given by one of the students in Mr. Goodwin's geography class when asked what a relief map is.

What a difference from a few years ago! If a person who had gone to school earlier than 1940 tried to talk with young people now it would be an entirely different language. For instance the term "you're cooking with gas" has many explanations. Here are a few.

"Now you've got the right idea." Evelyn Kurtz, 11B.

Question: What do you think of Zoot Suits?

Answer: Bill Bakewell, 11B. "You can almost hang your wash on the key chains."

Hale Leads Hi-Y

The Hi-Y club began their meetings Wednesday, October 7 and elected Lincoln Hale as the new president but the club needs more fellows for an outstanding organization, so if you have fourth hour vacant or have lunch that hour, come over to the grade school and join in.

The treasurer, Jack Kenyon, states there are sufficient funds on hand to get in some real activity. So with Mr. Harry Reeves as adviser, the Hi-Y gets started; and if you are a senior high student and you are really interested, come and join us.

Seniors, Take Notice

The contract for the senior pictures has been given to the L. L. Ball studios. Mr. Ball is starting to take sittings this week at which time the seniors are asked to pay a deposit of $1.50. If they wish their pictures before Christmas, they are asked to return the proofs within ten days of the sitting.

In regard to the type of clothes the seniors should wear, Mr. Ball has said that sweaters are not appropriate for pictures, but instead the girls should wear dainty blouses or dresses and the boys should wear dress shirts and ties instead of sports wear.

Class News

Mr. Reeve's vocation class is studying the different professions and trades in order to learn about their own choices of jobs. His geography classes are making maps of the United States and have learned most of the principal products of each state.

Miss Allen's 12B English class is studying the origin of English drama.

The senior girls are now required to take physical training two days a week. They will not have as stiff a program as the boys, but it will be good exercise.

Captains were chosen in the volleyball teams Mondays, October 5, and tournaments started Monday, October 12. When those interested in volleyball come out Monday, October 5, there were 125 girls. Also there was a hike for girls interested in Leaders' club Wednesday, October 7.

Mr. Blunk's 10B geometry classes have begun the study of the meaning of congruence and the study of congruent triangles.

Miss Wilson's general science classes are performing experiments.

Roots, stems and leaves are being discussed in Mrs. Bixler's biology classes. It seems as though a few freshmen are rather slow in grasping biological information.

Mrs. Carey's 11A class is presenting a patriotic play under the title of "For Want of a Nail", concerned with Civilian Defense. It revolves around a typical American family.

At the next meeting of the Junior Red Cross a scrap book will be started. The club now numbers 15.

Army Legend of Liberty Bell

One day in 1917 a regiment of Texas soldiers stopped in Philadelphia to visit Independence Hall before embarking for France. As the regiment filed past the Liberty Bell in Independence Hall each man paused to touch the bell. Later that regiment participated in one of the bloodiest battles of the war and miraculously came through without a casualty. The men insisted that their contact with the Liberty Bell brought them luck and the story has become a part of army legend. Today soldiers visiting Independence Hall carry on this tradition by touching the bell.

Physical Fitness For Seniors

A seventy-five yard obstacle race is now being planned by Coach Matulis to be used next spring by the gym classes and in the hardening up of senior boys for the armed services. Next semester all senior boys will be required to take gym either seventh hour Monday or Wednesday or Tuesday night seven to nine in the physical fitness program requested by the government.

After sprinting the first fifteen yards of the seventy-five yard obstacle race, a four foot wall confronts the student. Ten yards farther another wall, this time six feet high, opposes the student's advance. After a ten-yard crawl on his stomach, he swings hand over hand on a fifteen-foot long pipe. Before sprinting the final thirty yards, he has three-foot walls to overcome.

At present the program in the gym classes is based more on the physical fitness program than recreational activities. The boys' first fifteen minutes in the gym are devoted to calisthenics, utilizing all the muscles of the body. They then go outdoors and run three-quarters of a mile in which six three-foot hurdles are placed in the last one hundred yards.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It is imperative that the ship lanes be kept free of ice. With American troops occupying Iceland and the Navy using the northern route for transportation of supplies to Russia, ice breakers are essential to Naval operations. The ice breaker is a specially constructed ship with heavily armored bows and powerful engines that crush the ice floes rather than ram through them.

Ice breakers of the Kickapoo class operating in the North Atlantic cost approximately $10,000,000. You can help our Navy build these ships by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. Enroll in the payroll savings plan or apply at the nearest bank or postoffice. U. Should gas rationing soon become a reality... just what would it mean to you? Naturally your gallonage will be reduced and you would have to confine your driving to only the barest number of miles possible.

We wonder if SOUND REASONING when you consider your present transportation doesn't reveal some rather interesting facts. Whether you drive an old car or one of newer vintage both are going to burn gasoline. Its sound logic to assume the newer car will give better mileage and cost less to operate and run much longer.

From a safe INVESTMENT standpoint we wonder if you wouldn't make a wise move now, if, while better cars are available, you bettered your present transportation.

Certainly an investment, such as a car, would be small in relation to present day buying power and you would have a tangible possession when rationing days are over.

By acting now you will find there are many good automobiles that can be purchased at reasonable prices. Priced so that your investment will not be out of line for dependable and economical transportation. We urge you to consider this suggestion. We invite your inspection of our used cars and again urge you to make an investment in future transportation by purchasing a better used car while they are still available.

Sub-Postoffice Is Open Today

Rosedale Garden Residents Pleased

Beginning today (Friday), residents of Rosedale Gardens will have their own sub-postoffice, served from Plymouth.

It will be opened in the Kingsley hardware store, stated Postmaster Harry Irwin, where residents in that locality can purchase stamps, money orders, war bonds and transact all their postal business.

The office will also handle parcel post packages and conduct a regular postal service, where letters can be mailed during all hours of the day. The opening of the branch office comes as the result of a long time effort on the part of residents in that section to secure better mail service.

RUSSELL KIRK TELLS OF HEROIC TASK PERFORMED BY MORMONS

In his first letter to The Plymouth Mail, Russell Kirk, now stationed at the Dugway Proving Ground at Tooele, Utah, where he is being taught the uses of chemicals in warfare, has high praise for the work of the Mormons in turning a vast desert waste into a beautiful country.

His interesting letter follows: "Dear Editor:

"The arrival of my copy of The Mail here, at one of the smallest and most isolated posts in the United States, was a real pleasure to me. I reciprocate with a copy of our Sand Blast, enlisted men's paper of the Dugway Proving Ground Company, to which I contribute a considerable portion of the effort, editorial and physical. We're handicapped just now by a local shortage of mimeograph paper; but we're short of more important articles. At such a time as this, the United States find that vainglorious boasting of their might and wealth does not compensate for actual inferiority in industry and distribution.

"Dugway Valley is a waste of sand on the edge of the Great Salt Lake Desert; nothing has lived here since this was the bed of an ancient lake, 25,000 years ago. We're 70 miles from the nearest town of any size, Tooele, and 20 miles from the nearest ranch-house.

"The dangerous nature of experiments in chemical warfare—which Heaven forbid we or any other power should resort to with the glib explanation that this is a 'total' war—makes loneliness for us imperative. We, too, must be prepared, if gas should be used so early in Europe or Asia.

"The soldiers here have weekend passes into Salt Lake City or other towns, however; our officers are understanding and genial; and the work is more interesting than most. My job at headquarters has proved most pleasant.

"Dugway Valley is a picture of what the Great Salt Lake Valley was, when the Mormons came—except that there was one tree there, and there is nothing but low, scattered sagebrush here.

"Mormon industry has worked one of the miracles they claim were showered upon them; how so prosperous a countryside and handsome a city could be made from this desolation is hard indeed to understand.

"Only a few of our men at Dugway are natives of Utah; most come from Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, California, and New Jersey. They all come to endure the desert, and to be more cheerful, I think, than the average soldier in the average camp. The barren, low ranges of the Wasatch around have a beauty of a sort; and when the sand is blowing, one has a romantic feeling of being in Libya.

"More ere long."

From Private Dale Rittenhouse, a member of one of the army's tank corps, comes an interesting letter from the beautiful Hawaiian islands out in mid-Pacific. He writes in part:

"Many thanks for The Plymouth Mail. The first copy, which I received September 14, I enjoyed very much. Although many miles away, the paper brings you, for a few hours, right back home.

"It's nice to know that the people back home are working just as hard to win this war as we are here. If they just keep on buying war bonds and stamps, we will do our part over here.

"Of course, I can't tell you what camp I'm at, but I'm in the Hawaiian islands. I won't try to describe them, for John Birchall already has done much better than I would be able to do. I have visited Honolulu a couple of times, went swimming at the famous Waikiki beach. We go swimming about and the shows take up about all our spare time.

"I'm attached to a tank repair Ordnance Co. working in the parts department and like it very much. Although at first I didn't know a bogie wheel from a gear or bearing but now in six short weeks, have a good understanding of all tank parts.

"I might add that through The Plymouth Mail, I found out where an old friend of mine, Red Miller, is located. I haven't been over to see him yet as we don't have

Roger Babson Says . . .

Says There Is Hope For More Tires

Gloucester, Mass., October 16— I am just returning from a trip. Reports gathered from high sources confirm what I have always believed, namely, as the Baruch Committee intends, that there will be "tires for all." My readers know that last Winter while in Florida I made numerous tire experiments and wrote optimistically on the situation. I was severely criticized for emphasizing the necessity for automobile transportation and in forecasting that there would be plenty of recapping for everyone. Recent events confirm exactly what I have said from the very first.

Encouraged by the Baruch-Conant-Compton report, by progress in the development of synthetic rubber, and by the possibilities in reclaimed rubber, tire companies now await only the "go ahead" signal from Rubber Director Jeffers. They will do much to supply all legitimate civilian re-treading requirements. This re-treading material will be made from re-claimed rubber although three percent may be synthetic. Synthetic rubber will mostly be used for military purposes as it will hold up longer.

The tire industry in general has anticipated the coming new developments. The big three companies have already made recaps from both synthetic and reclaimed rubber. None of these have yet appeared on the market as their sale has been prohibited. These companies are, however, now all set to go although their productive facilities are jammed in getting out first-class off-sized tires for the military. Hence, in important position in the five, seven or nine man teams manning modern bombers. His job is to get 'em there and get 'em back, over land, over water, through weather and rain, hail and fog—through anything. He was a student at Michigan State college when he enlisted for military services.

Private Gerald Cooper, with the field artillery at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, has just been promoted to corporal, according to advices received by his parents here. He is now going to the officers' school so that he can enter the tank service. Gerald writes to his parents that he is enthusiastic about life in the army.

manufacture of aviation gasoline, the petroleum method is considered cheaper.

It is taking time to provide raw materials with which to produce the finished product. In all probability, no synthetic rubber in quantity will be available for the public until early in 1944.

However, for the next 15 months we shall be able to get along comfortably with re-treading from our reclaimed rubber. But readers can look forward with confidence to the coming of synthetic. In fact, it is more reasonable to expect that our passenger cars and commercial trucks will wear out rather than that a serious shortage of re-treading rubber will curtail our transportation requirements. Also, re-conquered Burma by that time, which would release a lot of native rubber.

John Guideau Knows How to Grow Onions. The Big, Sweet Kind!

Onions! What onions! When John Guideau of Briar Ridge farm out on Six Mile road, east of the city, grows onions, he grows onions, there is no question about that.

The other day Mrs. Guideau brought to the office of The Plymouth Mail a basket of sweet Spanish onions her husband had grown on one of the sandy loam hills on their farm that were almost as big as the football used in the game last by the University of Michigan last Saturday.

About a dozen onions filled a half bushel basket. Mr. Guideau started growing sweet onions a few years ago against the advice of every onion "expert" he had talked with. They all said that the light, sandy soil of his farm wouldn't grow onions.

But Mr. Guideau had different ideas. He started growing Spanish onions, and the size of his onions this year gives some idea as to his success. His present crop amounts to nearly a thousand bushels.

How to make your ELECTRIC SERVANTS work for you more economically

Measured in terms of convenience and comfort, in hours of time and labor saved, your household electric service is one of the cheapest things you buy. Many of your electric servants can be operated even more economically by following a few simple rules:

YOUR ELECTRIC RANGE. Conserve electricity by finishing surface cooking on "low" or stored heat. Plan economical oven meals (cook the entire meal at once). Use very little water in cooking (foods come up to "steaming" point more rapidly). Use the thrift cooker on your range for low-cost casserole dishes. Avoid wasting heat by choosing flat-bottomed utensils just big enough to cover the heating unit. Always keep lid on utensils.

YOUR REFRIGERATOR. A blanket of ice around the coils of your refrigerator actually makes your refrigerator work overtime—increases operating cost. Defrost it regularly for economy's sake. For the same reason, don't put hot foods in the refrigerator to cool. And don't open the door oftener or longer than necessary, because this lets the heat in. Locate your refrigerator away from heat sources—and out from the wall an inch or two to allow air circulation. Avoid overcrowding the refrigerator for efficient operation. And cover all foods so that moisture won't collect on the freezing unit.

YOUR SMALL APPLIANCES. Don't leave appliances turned on when temporarily not in use (your electric iron or toaster, for example). Pull the plug, and connect the appliance again later when you are ready to use it.
