Strikers And New Dealers Hit At War Garden Prize Awarding

Farmer Lands On Jaw Of Politicians, Soldiers Hit Strikers

The Plymouth Victory Garden contest literally wound up in a blaze of glory Monday night with a gigantic patriotic and bond rally at the high school auditorium which was featured by talks by two wounded soldiers from the Percy Jones Memorial hospital at Battle Creek.

The auditorium was filled for the awarding of the prizes to the champion victory gardeners of the community.

Mrs. Walter Sumner, chairman of the contest committee presided at the meeting, which was opened with selections by the high school band, under the baton of Walter Luchtman.

Walter Postiff, as chairman of the board of judges, which selected the winners of the contest, presented the prizes, which were contributed by business men of Plymouth.

In his remarks in presenting the prizes, Mr. Postiff, one of the best known and progressive farmers in this locality, took a smash at the Washington New Deal and Washington bureaucrats.

"The New Deal is no new deal. It is a raw deal. Farmers are sick and tired of this planning business. If they (the New Dealers) keep on, maybe you won't have anything to eat after a while, not even what you grow in your victory gardens," he declared.

Following the awarding of the prizes, Mayor Carl Shear told the audience that the people of Plymouth were to be congratulated on the remarkable success of the contest, and said that in a large measure its success was due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Sumner.

E. I. Besemer, the county agent, spoke at length on how to preserve all vegetables for winter use, and Elton R. Eaton, chairman of the Plymouth war bond drive, gave a report on the current drive and asked everyone to purchase all of the war bonds they can.

But the feature of the evening was the presence of Private First Class Joseph Barker of Rock Spring, Georgia, and Private Robert Masse of Attleboro, Massachusetts, both of whom are wearers of the Purple Heart, awarded for wounds they received in the Plymouth war bond drive.

Following their arrival in Plymouth, they toured the Wall Wire Co., and the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant, and were entertained at dinner by Mrs. Sumner and Mrs. J. R. Keyes, who was one of the garden prize winners. They spent the night at the home of Mrs. Powell.

On Tuesday, on their return to Battle Creek, they had lunch at the Sinson Aircraft plant at Wayne through the cooperation of the Plymouth American Legion and toured the plant there.

They took with them gifts for other soldiers in the hospital. A bushel of apples, shaving soap and kits and all of the things which soldiers really want were donated by the Plymouth Canteen Club, the Mom's Club, the Navy Mothers' Club, the American Legion and the Livonia Mom's Club.

The soldiers related their experiences in the army, including stories of how they received their wounds. They were interviewed on the platform by Mrs. Powell, and then the audience was permitted to ask them questions, and of all the questions asked, two stood out.

"When you saw a Jap were you scared?"

And the other question was asked after the meeting was over by one of the high school boys who crowded around the soldiers getting autographs.

"What do the soldiers think of the strikers," the high school lad asked.

Famed Orchestra Is Coming To Plymouth

Detroit Symphony To Play Free Concert In City, October 13

Announcement was made today by Mayor Carl Shear that the Detroit Symphony orchestra will give a free concert in Plymouth on Wednesday afternoon, October 13 in the Plymouth high school auditorium. The orchestra will play a program between 2:30 and 3:30 o'clock for the students of the high school. Between 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock another program will be given for the general public.

Mayor Shear and City Manager Clarence Elliott have arranged with the school officials for the use of the school auditorium for what promises to be the outstanding musical event ever held in Plymouth. There will be between 80 and 90 musicians in the orchestra when it appears in Plymouth. More complete details will be published next week. This remarkable musical event for Plymouth comes as the result of the efforts of Mayor Shear and City Manager Elliott.

Presbyterians Install Their New Pastor

Hundreds Witness Ecclesiastical Ceremonies

The Rev. Henry J. Walch was installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening with the admonition to honor his calling by remaining close to God, close to his people and close to himself, and at the same time the congregation was admonished to care for its pastor in the years to come in order that five, or ten or twenty years hence he will be as happy in his pastorate as he is now.

The ceremony of installing the pastor was performed in Plymouth for the first time in almost a score of years. It was last used here when the Rev. Walter Nichol was installed.

Nationally famous men participated in the ceremony before all of the people who could crowd into the beautiful auditorium.

The ceremony was opened with a procession headed by the Christian and American flags, the combined choirs of the Plymouth, Rosedale Gardens and Northville Presbyterian churches, the visiting clergy and the visiting deacons and elders of the churches.

Dr. Willis Gelston, pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian church in Detroit, and Moderator of the Detroit Presbytery presided. The Rev. Francis Tetu, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, read the invocation, and the Rev. T. Leonard Sanders, pastor of the First Methodist church delivered the pastoral prayer.

Dr. Joseph Vance, pastor Emeritus of the First Presbyterian church in Detroit, delivered the sermon, and told the story of Philip who as a preacher lived close to God and did God's work even though it appeared that there was no reason for it.

Following the sermon, Dr. Gelston installed the pastor, and Dr. Paul H. Buchholz, secretary of the Detroit Presbytery, delivered the prayer of installation.

The Rev. Harold Fredsell delivered the charge to the pastor with a prayer that the new relationship be of long and steadfast friendship.

The Rev. John Forsyth, pastor of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church, who was moderator of the local church during the time the local congregation sought a new pastor, told the people that they should attend church whether they agreed with everything the pastor said or not.

"This," he said, "is a free pulpit. The minister, because of his training, his reading and his thinking will bring to you, the congregation, the truth as he sees it, and he should have that right. He should not be made a messenger boy for the congregation."

"And I charge you," he said, "to accept responsibility. There are some things which because of his training, only the minister is able to do, but he should be left as free as possible to do those things, with the result that other jobs in the church from teaching a Sunday school class to serving on the various church boards, should and must be done by the members of the congregation."

Seek Solution Of Serious Parking Problem

Planning Commission Makes Suggestions To Officials

The city planning commission will recommend to the city commission at its next meeting that immediate steps be taken to obtain possession of the property on Fralick avenue, between Main street and Harvey street, abutting onto present city property, for the purpose of converting it into a parking lot.

The planning commission also will recommend that steps be taken to convert property in the vicinity of Forest street and Ann Arbor Trail, and in the vicinity of Ann Arbor Trail and Elizabeth street into parking lots. But there was no recommendation that these steps be taken immediately.

If the city commission should follow the recommendations, it will be the first steps taken since the Chamber of Commerce brought about the establishment of the parking area in back of the Main street stores during the time that City Commissioner Stanley Corbett was president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Acting at their last regular session because of the increasing parking problem in the city, the planning commission suggested that the city commission consider the possibility of charging a small fee for the use of public parking lots to pay for the capital investment and for the payment of an attendant.

The property on Fralick avenue, which is recommended for use as a parking lot, is now for the most part occupied by the Plymouth Replacement Parts Co., a junk yard which recently has been in the news because of the unsightly appearance of the property.

Two of the lots of Fralick avenue, are now unoccupied. All of the lots to be used as a parking facility are adjacent to the city property where the standpipes is located. The lot would accommodate about 125 automobiles.

Pay Tribute To Wm. Friedman

DeHoCo Lauds His Great Services

Employees and inmates of the Detroit House of Correction paid tribute and bade goodbye to Judge William Friedman at the institution Monday evening. Judge Friedman, recently appointed to the circuit bench in Wayne county by the Governor, will assume his new duties soon.

He is resigning as a member of the Detroit House of Correction commission for 17 years. He was first appointed by the late Mayor John W. Smith.

As a tribute to his high service to the institution and his interest in their welfare, the employees met in the office of Superintendent Blake Gillies where they presented Mr. Friedman with a beautiful writing set. Then he was invited to the woman's division of the prison, where he said goodbye to the several hundred confined in that department. Always popular with both employees and inmates, he was given a tremendous ovation.

"He has been a most devoted member of our board and while we are delighted to know of his advancement, we regret to have him leave the services of the institution, where he has given such outstanding service," stated Superintendent Gillies.

Seek High School Boys For Army Training

Teachers Asked To Select Best Among Students

Principal Claude Dykhouse of the high school has received notification from the army and navy for the second of a series of tests designed to select the best of the young men in the local high school for army and navy specialized work.

The second tests will be given at the high school on November 9 of this year and are open to all boys who will be 17, but not yet 22 on March 1, 1944.

The first such tests were given last April second. Under the program, the boys will have an opportunity to go to college under army or navy supervision. The purpose of the Army specialized training program is to provide technicians and specialists for the army.

Those selected for the program will study at government expense at colleges and universities in fields determined largely by their own qualifications. They will be soldiers on active duty, in uniform, under military discipline and on regular army pay. They are under no obligation to serve in the army longer than any other soldier.

The purpose of the navy college program is to provide officers for the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard. Courses are open to qualify a trainee as deck officer, medical corps, general engineering, civil engineering, construction corps, engineer specialists, aerology, supply corps and chaplain corps.

When students take the tests, they will be required to indicate on the day of the tests whether they prefer service with the army or the navy. Taking the test does not signify enlistment in either the army or the navy.

Those who pass the tests and are selected for service, are given certificates, and for those who choose the army, are advised that after their induction they present their qualifications to army induction authorities, who will send them to college for their original 13 weeks of preliminary training. A student with navy preference, will report to the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, where he will be given a physical examination, and if selected, will be taken into the navy immediately and will be assigned as soon as possible to a navy college. Previous to assignment, he will be on inactive duty, but will be a navy enlistee and subject to military orders from the navy only.

In other words, these tests, if passed, give the young high school student every chance to become either an officer or a specialist in either the army or the navy.

The army and navy is looking for leaders, and this is one way of finding them. Every boy should grab at such an opportunity.

Plymouth Goes Over the Top In Big Way In Great Third War Loan Drive

Archie King Is Killed In Asia

Popular High School Lad Dies For America

Was One Of The Youngest Officers In Aerial Forces

"Don't worry about me, Mom. I'll be alright. No matter what any one tells you or what you hear, I'm coming back."

That is what Archie Franklin King, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. King of Canton Center road, wrote to his parents in the last letter they received from him—a letter that came a few days ago from somewhere in the Far East.

Yes, Archie King is coming back—coming back in spirit—a nation's hero—a son of America who has given his life to our America.

From the war department in Washington Sunday came the following message to his parents:

"We regret to advise you that your son, Archie F. King, died on September 18 as the result of an Asia area attack. Letter following."

The youngest commissioned aerial officer in the United States army at the time he was awarded his wings a year ago Archie had lived through many hard fought aerial combats in Africa, India and British Guinea, only to give up his life in his fight for America in Asia. Just a few weeks ago his parents had read of his thrilling escape from death in British Guinea.

His plane had been forced down in the jungle. For three days he fought his way through the grass and brush to the coast. Following a brief stay in a hospital, he went back into the jungle, repaired his plane and flew it out to safety, just to help keep the costs of the war down. Then he was transferred to Asia.

The grievous news of his death was the first message his parents had received from him since his arrival in Asia.

"I've been living and hoping for just one thing—the return of our boy, our only child, to our home safe and sound. We wanted him to come back so that he could enjoy himself as he did before he enlisted. We wanted him to come back to live and prosper in happy America," said his sorrowing mother as she arose from a sick bed to talk of her son who brought honor and glory to his name, his family, his friends and his home town.

"We are not complaining. We are willing to sacrifice all that we had if it will aid. And we know, too, how Archie felt about it."

"When he wrote about baling out of a burning plane, of his many combats with the Japs, we just couldn't help but worry. You see, he was a pursuit pilot. But always in his letters he urged us not to worry," said Mrs. King.

Archie graduated with honors from the Plymouth high school with the class of 1941. He had served as drum major of the high school band and he was outstanding as a member of the Drama Club. He took part in both the Junior and Senior plays which his class presented. He was an exceptionally good student, said his teachers, and he was popular with the student body.

During his last two years in high school the sports items that appeared in The Pilgrim Prints of The Mail were written by him. After his graduation from high school at the age of 17, he was employed for a brief time before enlisting as secretary to one of the designers in the aircraft department of the Ford Motor company.

To The Women of America!

It was just a week or so ago when Mr. and Mrs. L. D. King of Canton Center road, received a letter from their hero son, Archie, in which he enclosed a few paragraphs he had requested his mother to give to The Plymouth Mail for publication. Because of illness Mrs. King did not deliver the message to The Mail until a reporter called at the home on Monday. Archie's last public appeal is addressed "To The Women of America."

It follows: "If you lost your son at Pearl Harbor, if your husband died on Wake Island, or if your sweetheart died at sea, don't feel overly sad. Be proud that your son helped protect our nation, be proud that your husband was one of the men who so gallantly defended Wake against the enemy, and be proud that your sweetheart was able to do his duty in carrying supplies to our forces. "Even if he was just a private or an ordinary boy, he was doing a job worth doing and he was doing it well. "Although you have lost him — you'll always have the memory of a noble citizen of the United States. Be PROUD that you were the mother, wife, or sweetheart of a man who wasn't afraid to fight and die so that other sons, husband and sweethearts may live in a land where they can be free to live and love. "ARCHIE F. KING."

Frank Learned To Move West

Family To Buy Home In Arcadia, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Learned, for more than a quarter of a century well known residents of Plymouth, have sold their attractive home at 1074 Roosevelt to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe and will next week go to California where they plan to make their future home. They will be accompanied on the trip by their daughter, Mrs. Julia Steiner.

They plan to make their home in Arcadia, where another daughter has been a school teacher for a number of years. Mrs. Steiner's husband, who is now in South America, expects to join the family there in the near future.

Mr. Learned has been one of Plymouth's most active citizens in past years in civic affairs. As a member of the old city council, he advocated the commission form of government for Plymouth and upon the adoption of the new system became a member of the city's first commission. He served on the body for a number of years. He was also one of the first county supervisors appointed by the mayor.

Later he was appointed postmaster and served in that position for over five years. Previous to coming to Plymouth the family resided in Detroit and Highland Park. Mr. Learned was a member of the old Detroit Light Guards, a military group well known throughout the state for years.

The American Legion Charles A. Learned post in Detroit is named after a brother, Major Charles Learned, who was killed in France during the last world war.

The Learneds plan to drive the southern route to California and take two or three weeks to reach their destination.

Coast City Is Crowded Place

Ralph Lorenz Tells Of San Diego

"San Diego is without question the worst place in the world for any civilian to go at the present time," stated Lieutenant Ralph Lorenz, U. S. N., home for a brief visit with Mrs. Lorenz and children early in the present week. He returned to the Pacific coast Tuesday and expects soon to be assigned somewhere to a naval base in the Pacific.

"There is absolutely no milk in or around San Diego for civilian use. People here can buy oranges and get orange juice, but out there where they grow oranges, there is little, if any, fruit for the civilians, and not very much for men in service," he stated.

"There are no places for people to sleep. I have seen crowds sleeping on the floors in hotel lobbies and prices paid for a right to doze now and then on chairs in hotel lobbies. Hundreds, yes thousands, of people walk the streets unable to find a place to sleep. "It is difficult for civilians to get anything to eat in San Diego. I like a hamburger with a cup of coffee sometimes late in the evening. When I buy one out there, it's about the size of a round cracker with barely a spoonful of hamburger in it. And you pay 25 or 30 cents for it, sometimes more. "San Diego is certainly no place for a civilian to go at the present time."

Baker-Buzzard Exchange Homes

Real Estate Transfer Interesting One

A real estate transaction involving the exchange of the Anna M. Baker residence at 233 South Main street for the Claude H. Buzzard residence at 1398 Penniman avenue, is of more than ordinary interest in Plymouth.

The Baker residence, built some 60 years ago and occupied for more than half a century by Miss Baker, was one of the show places of Plymouth in the days gone by. It was the first house erected in Plymouth with a bath room and the first house to have gas lights. Everybody used kerosene lights hereabouts in those days.

The site was a part of an apple orchard belonging to Henry Fralick when Miss Baker's brother, Henry W. Baker, bought the site for the new home back in the late seventies.

"There are hollows in my lawn to this very day where we took out the apple tree stumps," stated Miss Baker yesterday. This is probably one of the few pieces of property in Plymouth that has never changed ownership in over 60 years.

Attorney and Mrs. Buzzard expect to move into the well known Baker home within the next two weeks and Miss Baker will move to the smaller former Buzzard residence.

New Ration Book To Be Issued

School Teachers To Conduct Work

Ration book No. 4, which the Office of Price Administration sincerely hopes will be the last one issued, will be handed to the public through the facilities of the public schools from October 25 to 30 inclusive, it was announced this week by William Wood, chairman of the Plymouth War Price and Rationing Board.

Under the plans as they have been set up by the Office of Price Administration, one person from each family will take all of the No. 3 ration books to the school, where they will be given the No. 4 book, without registration. But each No. 3 book must be marked by the issuing officer in order that no more than one No. 4 book be issued to each person.

Stove Business Bungled One

Blame Bureaucrats, Not The Dealers

Its the quota, not stoves on hand that is raising havoc with the stove market in and about Plymouth.

Energetic Drive Results In Quota Being Exceeded

Every One Joined Enthusiastically In War Bond Effort

Plymouth is over the top in the Third war loan drive — way over the top!

Not only has the city made the full quota of $536,000.00, but it has many thousands to spare. It is one of the few cities in Michigan or the country to have exceeded its quota in every war bond drive since the government started issuing war bonds. It has not only made its quota each time, but it has far exceeded the amount specified for the city to invest in America's fight for freedom.

To the members of the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, to the school teachers, railroad employees, the school children, luncheon clubs, the business men, the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, the Minute Women of Plymouth, the American Legion, the war clubs, Harry Lush, owner and manager of Plymouth's two theatres, the banks and the Plymouth Federal Savings and Loan association, the farmers, many factory workers, and all of the others who devoted their time and efforts to making the war bond drive a success, the Plymouth war bond committee extends its appreciation.

Seemingly every one entered into the contest with a spirit that just could not help but result in the accomplishment of the purpose.

The Daisy Manufacturing company was the high individual buyer in the great bond campaign. It was the theatre drive which resulted in bringing in the biggest total during the campaign. As nearly as could be decided, the result of Mr. Lush's theatre contribution was nearly $160,000.

It was the enthusiastic work of Mr. Lush and his staff, assisted by the Chamber of Commerce, the Legion and the school children, the Minute Women and others which helped push the theatre total so high.

And to the school teachers of Plymouth who handled more than $30,000 in war bond cash in one brief day without an error of any kind, goes the unlimited appreciation of the war bond group.

The sophomore class by a total of $10,287 topped all, even the Central and the Starkweather schools; the freshman at $3,000 placed second and the seniors third at $2,500.

The High School total was $20,000 cash for the purchase of war bonds. The largest purchase was a $5,000 bond by Dick Groth of the tenth grade; while Nancy Groth, his sister, purchased a $1,000 one from the ninth grade. The Central grade school turned in $7,500 and the Starkweather turned in $900. The results of the drive are considered very good and all seem glad to have done their part.

Another thousand dollar pledge made during the final hours of the campaign came from the Plymouth American Legion. Commander Carryl Cushman stated that the executive board had directed the purchase of a $1,000 bond, but that the actual purchase cannot be made until early in October. It's another $1,000 for American fighting boys even though it goes to the government in October instead of September.

The drive was given an exceptionally good start when the Junior Chamber of Commerce made its one day drive on September 11. The total from this campaign resulted in the sale of more than $125,000 in bonds. Then the Edison company allotted to Plymouth a $10,000 contribution to its war bond campaign.

Every one seemed anxious and willing to buy war bonds. Many, very many, expressed regrets at not being able to buy more. And they will buy more bonds in the days to come, they said. Yes, Plymouth citizens purchased MORE than $100 in war bonds for every man, woman and child in the city in addition to purchases being made by payroll deductions in cities outside of Plymouth.

Churches Hold World Communion

Services Planned For October 3

Plymouth churches, in conjunction with churches throughout the nation and the world, will observe World-Wide Communion Sunday, October third.

On that day, people, regardless of religion or creed, will gather at the Communion Tables of their churches to express their unbroken fellowship and unity which all Christians have in Christ.

The World-Wide Communion Sunday observance will begin in Wellington, New Zealand, at the 10:30 worship services. It will only be seven p. m. Saturday in Plymouth. But less than twenty-four hours later, churches in this vicinity and in the nation will begin their observance of the day.

The 1942 observance of World-Wide Communion Sunday met with hearty approval, especially from servicemen in the States and overseas. Held in neighborhood churches, in hospital wards, in improvised "chapels," the day takes on a new, deeper significance.

As one overseas Army chaplain wrote, "There is something about administering the Sacrament to soldiers that deepens its significance; and this year in another sense it was world-wide."

World-Wide Communion Sunday is being sponsored in the United States by the Federal Council of the Church of Christ in America, through its Department of Evangelism.

Weddings

FINK-BENNETT The chapel at Camp Murphy, Florida, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Betty Fink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fink of Elwell, Michigan, and Corporal Alan P. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Merle Bennett of Plymouth. The double ring ceremony was performed by Chaplain P. H. Bancroft Saturday afternoon, September 25, at three o'clock.

Preceding the wedding march played by the chapel organist, Mrs. John Megg sang "I Love You Truly."

Miss Fink was dressed in white. After the wedding, an informal reception was given at the camp social center. Refreshments were served from tables beautifully appointed with Florida flowers. A wedding cake encircled with a white bridal wreath was placed on the table of the bride and groom. Guests included the many friends of Corporal Bennett from Camp Murphy.

The newlyweds are residing in Stuart, Florida, while Cpl. Bennett is stationed at Camp Murphy.

Mrs. Bennett is a graduate of Alma high school and completed a year at Michigan State College. Cpl. Bennett is a graduate of Plymouth high school and attended Michigan State where he was a member of Pi Kappa Phi. He was inducted into the service last spring and is now in the radio school of the Army Air Corps at Camp Murphy.

Mrs. Bennett and Miss Fink's mother accompanied the bride to Florida for the wedding.

After a man has invested money, ideas, time, and his best romantic eloquence in a woman, he hates to see his investment fail. Like many novices in Wall Street, he dislikes to cut his losses and start a new investment. But, experienced operators would advise this, and would oppose "averaging down."

Royal Reception For Soldiers

Stinsons Entertain Plymouth's Guests

Charles Cushman, commander of the Homer Beals post of the American Legion arranged a final touch to the visit to Plymouth of Pfc. Charles Barker of Rock Springs, Georgia, and Private Robert Masse of Attleboro, Massachusetts, who were the principal guests of the Victory Garden Contest patriotic rally held at the high school Monday night. On their return to the Percy L. Jones Memorial hospital at Battle Creek, where they are patients, they were the guests of the Stinson Aircraft plant, at Wayne, where Mr. Cushman, is employed.

Mrs. Walter Sumner, chairman of the contest committee and Mrs. Esther Powell, who in her capacity as a driver for the Red Cross Motor Corps, went after the boys and took them home, escorted the wounded soldiers to the aircraft plant, where they were guests at luncheon.

The president of the company, the war bond selling champion at the plant and other important executives, entertained at the luncheon, gave the soldiers, and their chauffeur airplane rides, and then gave the soldiers each a $100 war bond and $60 in cash. Mrs. Sumner and Mrs. Powell reported that the boys returned to the hospital, thoroughly happy after their day in Plymouth.

It was revealed at the meeting that more than $5,000 worth of vegetables had been preserved in cans alone as a result of the victory gardens.

Well, you are going to have your chance. During the coming evangelistic service, with "Jimmie" Mercer as evangelist, much time will be given over each night to congregational singing. Duck Season Opening Proves Duckless For Plymouth Hunters

The calendar said the duck hunting season opened Saturday, September 25. Plymouth duck hunters said it didn't. Many of the intrepid hunters journeyed to Saginaw Bay and other duck haunts in the northern regions over the week-end only to come back with nary a duck. The main cause for the duckless hunt seems to be the mild weather. However, in spite of the fact that local hunters came home empty handed, they state that the week-end was worth while.

High School Band Elects Officers A very busy organization at Plymouth High School is the high school band. Under the capable direction of C. A. Luchtman, Michigan, is hereby called to be held in the church, Harvey and Maple streets, on Wednesday, October 13, 1943 at 6:30 o'clock, p. m., for acceptance of articles of incorporation and election of a vestry. 1t-c

As a part of the school government plan, band officers were recently elected for the 1943-44 season with William Schoof as president, Robert Chute was chosen vice president, June Van Meter, secretary-treasurer, Robert Bartell, uniform custodian, William Bateman and Richard Olin, librarians. Playing for all musical affairs, the band has planned an average of two appearances a week for the year.

"I have seen them come down from the ships... they are puzzled... and homesick... the gap... when they did not come back..."

JOHN STEINBECK CABLES FROM LONDON

"I HAVE SEEN the soldiers come down from the ships and stand in long lines on the docks, their 'B' bags on their backs and their rifles slung over their shoulders.

did not come back and the empty bunks, the blankets thrown aside as they threw them, and the framed photographs on the steel lockers.

"I have seen the supplies come in by the hundred shiploads, locomotives and tanks and trucks—acres of boxed food and great mounds of hams, shiploads of bombs stacked in from keel to hatch and all materials that we need at home—steel for bridges and buildings, food for our own people, material enough to make all America well fed and well housed and well clothed.

"The men have gone up the gangway again to go into action and they jump from landing barges to a beach, strewn with the bodies of their own people, and they claw their way like animals into a hostile coast.

"I have seen the hospitals with the mangled men, the legless and blind, the fingerless hands and the burned faces—all the destruction that steel and fire can do to a man's body and mind. In God's name, what is it for except to get this horrible thing over with as quickly and as thoroughly as possible? And if this is true, it should not be a matter of 'Who will lend his money?' but 'Who dares not to?'"

Football Team Needs Support

Is the football team playing for Plymouth High or some other school? The team is in there fighting to win, but so far they have not had much backing. It would look much better if the students were there cheering. The cheerleaders have not shown up at the games yet. We play Ecorse at Riverside Park after school today. Let's get in there and help the team out by showing them some school spirit.

The hobby of Gwin E. Barber is roller skating. "I could live on this," she said. Gwin is the daughter of Earl and Glade Barber of 474 North Mill street. She is taking Home Economics course. Like everyone else she has a pet peeve, and quoting her, "I dislike catty people, and people who never wear a smile but look like a sour puss." Working in a floral shop next summer and then to continue school are her future plans.

Ruth Marie Blackmore, daughter of Oren and Eva Blackmore of 5773 Canton Center road, is completing a general course. Her accomplishments have been the Glee Club and the Home Economics Club. Her hobbies are collecting military insignia and writing letters. Her pet peeve is girls who wear high heel shoes and no silk stockings. She plans to take a beautician's course and later to own and operate a beauty shop.

Patricia Jeanne Benson, daughter of Eugene and Myra Benson of 190 Blunk street, is completing a college preparatory course. Her accomplishments have been the Glee Club, Girl Reserves, Lams, and Glee Club. Her hobbies are cooking, model airplanes, riding, and swimming. Her pet peeve is being called "Patsy."

We have found one person without a pet peeve, Robert Gottschalk, son of Mr. G. Gottschalk.

Football Shorts

Ecorse-Plymouth football game, here Friday, October 1, at Riverside Park Football Field.

Ironman Muggs Hunt reported for practice Monday after coming very near to having his back broken. When asked if he would stop him, he said if his back wouldn't stop him, nothing would.

The coming Dearborn game will be interesting because Dearborn graduated the first eleven men of last year's team. Dearborn always has good material and will make it tough for all opposition.

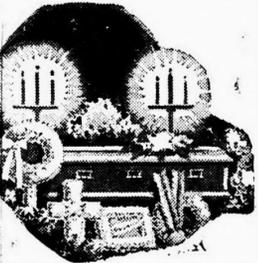

The football team looked very odd in one of the later practices with linemen playing backfield positions and backs playing guard and tackle.

chalk of 7804 Lilly road. He lists football as one of his accomplishments. After graduating he hopes to go to some engineering school. His hobby is stamp collecting.

Betty June Cousins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Cousins, lives at 33090 Ann Arbor Trail. She has been in Home Economics Club and Dramatics during her four years at P.H.S. ## Class News

Because they had not been absent more than once and always had their assignments in, these students, David Jolliffe, Barbara Tinnegan, Edson Whipple, Jeanine Stillwagon, Jack Sheil, and Keith Miller did not have to take the weekly math test.

The 8B science classes have been studying the atmosphere, and the way in which it affects our lives.

The 8A science classes are studying magnetism and the value of electricity.

Mr. Stadmler's eighth grade history class is studying the American Indians. Joan Struble and Harvey Rotarius brought Indian arrow heads, skinning stones, and other relics, some of which were found in and near Plymouth.

Some boys in Mrs. Highfield's shop are doing woodwork; others, household mechanics; while some are making electro-magnets and electric buzzers. Before any pupil is allowed to start work, he first must make his own job plan and then have some idea of how to follow it.

Miss Saffell's world history classes are reading in the Scholastic magazine about the recent revolt in Denmark and in their text books are studying the Egyptian and Tigris Euphrates River Valley civilizations. Mrs. Carey's 8B students are carrying out projects showing Indian occupations, costumes, means of travel, ways of communication, and homes.

Though the students may not have known it, those taking art are really contributing very much toward the war effort. The posters on display in the halls promoting the purchase of bonds were made in the art classes. They also have made posters helping the tag sale sponsored by the "Moms" Club.

Odds and Ends

Whenever Norma R. is at a pajama party one can be sure something will happen to his clothes. The "Lambs" found their clothes locked up in a room and Norma had the key. Apparently a battle of words was held. There were three against fifteen. Shirley Luttermoser and Ruth Campbell are ruining the popularity of Double Quartet at banquets—they eat too much. Flash! Senorita Bovee is to have the lead in a Spanish play to be given in assembly. It seems odd to see girls who must have won their letters in track or football—judging by the sweaters they wear. Why didn't more students wear their brightest socks at the Sophs Soxs dance? Those who did ranged all the way from the senior girls' brightly colored knee socks to Bill Saxton's red ones. Nat Reitzel's might have come from a lumberman's dream. Marvin Mepmans thinks the noon hour is the best time to vote, especially when Nan B. and Bunny U. are giving a side show in the gym.

And do you know what I learned? I learned that some of the cigarette trouble the school has had is directly traceable to parents—and of all things to mothers.

I know you think I'm an old fogey. And maybe I am. But I know and you know that cigarettes aren't good for adolescent boys—and girls. And I know that when mothers leave their cigarettes out on the table, and the mantle, and make it possible for the boys to get them, then they are doing a disservice to their children.

And I know that boys today are stealing to get the money to buy cigarettes. Yes it isn't just cigarettes. These lead to other and worse things.

Yes, sir, the more I see of the troubles of kids, the more I'm convinced that the only trouble the kids have—I mean serious trouble—is trouble brought on by you parents, because you're not doing your job.

One Pair Of Shoes For Six Months

Old Plan More Than Public Needed

Your next shoe ration stamp will be good for six months instead of four months, which in effect means that from now on you're going to get only two pairs of shoes a year.

But don't worry about it.

As a matter of fact, shoe merchants say three pair of shoes a year which you were buying under ration stamps issued every four months, was more than you ought to have before the war.

When ration stamp 17, which was the first shoe ration, was about to expire, thousands of persons rushed to their shoe merchants just to spend the stamp. They might not need shoes; they might not even find shoes which they liked, but they bought them just the same.

Now, stamp 18 is about to expire, and a rush already has started to spend them.

Shoe merchants are always glad to provide the shoes, of course, but nevertheless, they also are experiencing a shortage of help. They have more work to do than ever before, what with bookkeeping, and taking care of the stamps. The result has been that when there is a rush in buying, which the merchants are unequipped to handle work piles up.

As far as children are concerned, or men or women working in factories who need extra shoes, these are obtainable through special rations at the ration board.

So, even though the regular shoe ration has been cut down, don't worry about it.

You don't need more than two pairs of shoes a year anyway.

Auxiliary Policemen Attend FBI Meeting In Detroit Friday

Several members of the Plymouth Auxiliary Police attended the FBI meeting held at Rackham Memorial Hall in Detroit Friday evening. Stressing juvenile delinquency, Commissioner Witherspoon of the Detroit Police addressed the group in a very interesting manner. The FBI praised the Detroit and local police organizations throughout the country for their cooperation and assistance given in their work.

Attending the meeting from Plymouth were Harold Anderson, Leroy Anglin, Julius Frantz, W. C. Smith, and Fred Hadley.

Charles E. Brake Has Taste Of Army Life At Fort Custer

Charles E. Brake, assistant county superintendent of schools experienced some of the rigors of army life when he spent last Wednesday night and Thursday as an "inductee" at Fort Custer. With Superintendent Russell Amerman of Northville, Superintendent Roe of Belleville, and Superintendent M. L. McCoy of Wayne, Mr. Brake followed the routine of new soldiers as they arrive at the induction center. The school heads also conferred with Army officials at the post as to plans for best equipping seventeen year old boys in their last year of schooling before becoming members of the armed forces.

From Fort Custer, the party went to Lansing where they attended the annual state conference of superintendents Friday and Saturday.

Trenton Batters Plymouth 25-0

Picking the weakest spot in Plymouth's line, the right end, Trenton High's football squad ran through it for four touchdowns September 24 on Trenton's field. Trenton converted only once, emerging victorious, 25-0. Plymouth never threatened. Trenton scored one touchdown each quarter.

Bob Sheppelle, regular tackle since his sophomore year, played Friday at fullback. He played his best game Friday, with a line-bucking average of nine yards. Since one man never makes a squad, Sheppelle's achievements were of no scoring value.

Plymouth played an almost 100 percent line-play game, throwing very few passes during the entire game. In addition to lacking the scoring punch, the right side of the line allowed long and consistent gains by Trenton. Individual men looked good, but team drive never showed up.

Ivan Campbell, who leaves soon for the Air Corps, acted as captain, playing right end. Others in the starting line-up were Livernois, RT, Moffet RG, Rock C, Bachelder LG, Montgomery LT, Bennett LE, Sheppelle FB, Harsha QB, Hunt LH, Williams RH. Every member of the squad who had no injuries saw action.

Trenton out-punted the Rocks; Brink ran back punts well for P. H. S.

Coach Matulis has worked the men hard this week and promises they will show plenty of scrap against Ecorse in today's contest. Today's game begins at 3:30 at Riverside Park.

William Powell, a park policeman, who lives at 40700 Joy road may have set in motion a movement of importance in Plymouth. Mr. Powell appeared at the office of City Manager Clarence Elliott last week, and said:

"I've got an old boot jack that was made by Fred Bullen, Sr., my father-in-law, right after the Civil War, and I have an old candle mold which my father, James Powell, used. I just wondered if the city would like to have them."

"You mean to display?" asked Mr. Elliott.

Mr. Powell said that was what he meant.

"I certainly would like to have them, and I'll be glad to accept them on behalf of the city," said Mr. Elliott.

And then after Mr. Powell had gone, Mr. Elliott went on:

"You know, I think we should have a museum here in Plymouth. There are many things in the city which should be preserved for all time in a museum of some kind."

"I'm not just sure whether it should be a city museum or whether the idea shouldn't be taken up by some of the patriotic organizations, who might take over one of the old early American houses here in the city, as the permanent location of a Plymouth museum."

Everyone interested in this subject and in the work of the Health Guild is welcome to attend.

Last year the Guild added a wheel chair to the Loan Closet equipment. This year the goal set is a hospital bed, for which a fund is already started. Contributions are welcomed.

To Check Use Of Gasoline

OPA To Send Auditors Here

The Detroit office of the Office of Price Administration has announced that field auditors will be sent into each of the local ration boards for the purpose of checking gasoline allotments with the view of cutting them by twenty per cent.

The local board has received notification of the dates when the auditors will be in Plymouth.

A previous check was made last spring, but there were few changes made in the local board's decisions.

The general shortage of gasoline throughout the country is believed to be responsible for the plan to make a complete check throughout the 13-county area of the Detroit district.

WALTER JENDERYKA WRITES FROM STATION IN ALEUTIAN ISLANDS

A former employe of the Plymouth Mail, Walter Jenderyka, is getting along fine in the army. He is stationed in the Aleutian Islands and writes, "The Mail comes to me about three weeks late and enjoy receiving it as much as ever."

"Censorship is still quite strict here—it prohibits my saying anything concerning land, climate and weather. I have the privilege of sending snapshots home, but, of course, they have to be approved by the censor. Have a dark room in our company, but the only difficulty is that printing paper is hard to obtain."

WAR BOND QUIZ

Q. May I sell a Bond or give it away?
A. No. War Savings Bonds are not transferable.

Q. May a beneficiary redeem a Bond during the lifetime of the registered owner?
A. No. The Bond will be paid to the beneficiary by the Treasury only when the beneficiary has furnished the Treasury with proof of the owner's death.

Q. How much does a War Bond cost?
A. The price of War Bonds is 75 percent of their maturity value. For a $25 denomination Bond, for example, you pay $18.75 and at maturity in 10 years you receive $25. This is the smallest Bond you can buy.

Q. How do I receive my Bond?
A. If you buy over the counter for cash, it will be delivered at that time. If ordered by mail, it will be mailed to your address or to anyone whom you designate.

Remember—the longer you keep War Bonds, up to 10 years, the more valuable they become.

TWO PLYMOUTH BOYS RECEIVE PROMOTIONS

Two local boys are now proudly wearing corporal's stripes. Charles Gustin, the son of John Gustin, Mill street, received his promotion at Courtland, Alabama, where he is attending the Army Air Forces "Basic Flying School."

Kenneth H. Porter was promoted at Camp Bowie, Texas. He is with a field artillery battalion at that station. Porter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Porter of Northville road.

HOME ON FURLOUGH, MEETS FELLOW HE OPERATED ON OUT WEST

Proof that the Army is OK is Sgt. Leland P. Card, son of Mrs. Mary Card of 924 Chatham, who call at The Mail office last week while home on furlough.

Stationed at Vancouver, Washington, he works as a nurse at Barnes General Hospital there. He's been there since November, 1942, and, in his own words, "It's the best branch of the service and I want to stay in it."

Sgt. Card, better known as "Whitey," was the victim of one of life's little quirks when he was approached by a local resident, Carl Drews in one of the local restaurants last week. Drews was sure he had seen Card somewhere before. After a bit of out with springs and rubber tires and a wheel assembly from a Rolls Royce automobile. You can also see people riding donkeys, on horseback, and in wagons loaded with their worldly belongings. The people in this section of the country are very happy that the American troops are here. You can hear them singing all day while they ride.

"But I sure will be glad to get back to Plymouth again, working at The Mail."

DEHYDRATED FOODS MAKE DELICIOUS ARMY DINNER

James L. Heller, recently promoted to technical sergeant at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, sent his mother a typical army menu consisting of green pea soup, pork patties, mashed potatoes, portered beets, fried onions, cranberry salad, apple pie and cheese, and hot rolls—dehydrated, except for the pie crust and rolls.

Sgt. James is the son of Mrs. Della Heller, Brush street. He took his basic training at Camp Carson, Colorado, and while there, attended cooking school where he learned how to prepare dehydrated foods. He was recently transferred to Fort Sill.

His brother, Clarence, is stationed in Hawaii. Both boys graduated from Plymouth High School in 1940.

PART TWO OF FIGHTER PILOT'S ADVENTURES WITH FORCES IN INDIA

A letter from Lt. Arthur Klein, somewhere in India, was recently received by The Mail. Writes Lt. Arthur: "This is part two of 'A Fighter Pilot's Adventures in India." Even if you shouldn't find them good newspaper material, perhaps you'll find the various installments interesting reading for yourself. So, until asked to cease, I shall continue to add a chapter from time to time.

"Today, (being Sunday, we had a day off) my roommate and I girded our loins and ventured into the not too nearby city of ———, in search of entertainment and interesting photographic subjects. The city boasts some very fine theatres which feature American movies (the feature today was 'Springtime in the Rockies') and a beautiful Officers Club. The subjects for photography are many and varied, but more of them later—we are now bound for the theatre."

"On arriving, Chuck and I (Lt. Charles D. Tehman of Columbus, Ohio) found the ticket window a mass of teeming humanity. The outstanding persons were two British soldiers who refused to be convinced that the house was sold out and expressed their opinions in no uncertain terms. Chuck and I also refused to be convinced, but went about doing something about it in a more diplomatic manner. Most of the American troops here can get more out of the Indians than the British because we don't try to brow beat them. To me, Chuck is master diplomat of the Armed Forces in India, because, after less than five minutes of conversation, we emerged from the manager's office as the proud possessors of two box seats."

"As I said, the movies are very nice, but they have one rather odd custom. They take something of a seventh inning stretch right

"Following the movie, a matinee, we began our search for something on which to test our skill as photographers. Human subjects are easy to obtain. Everyone here wants their pictures taken although they realize they'll never see them. Often after taking a picture of a native, you will be followed for blocks by said native because he thinks he deserves something for posing. Another subject which attracts the lens of many cameras is the cows which wander untethered through the streets. They don't seem to belong to anyone but just wander aimlessly about. Between July 1st and Labor Day, Great Lakes Greyhound buses carried 6,020,974 wartime travelers. For their good-natured acceptance of unusual present-day travel conditions, we sincerely thank these travelers—as well as all those people who postponed taking trips until the greatest rush was over.

Such cooperation made it possible for us to serve more soldiers and sailors on leave than ever before, more war workers, more essential travelers of every type. In addition, 15,000 selectees and enlisted reservists were transported and 22,000 children taken to summer camps—a job designated as essential by government agencies.

Your continued cooperation will do much to ease wartime bus travel in the months to come.

OFFICE OF WAR UTILITIES
WAR PRODUCTION BOARD

TO ELECTRIC UTILITIES AND THEIR CUSTOMERS:

"The War Production Board has proclaimed that maximum war production requires the greatest possible conservation of manpower, transportation, fuel, equipment and critical material such as copper, steel, tungsten and many others—much greater than has been heretofore accomplished. It believes that this greater conservation can be accomplished by the voluntary cooperation of all citizens of our country in the effort.

"Each principal industry and agency is organizing to carry the objective of the War Production Board to its members and they, in turn, to their customers so that the fullest conservation may be obtained.

"In the electric utility industry, the installed generating capacity, together with capacity now under construction, is ample to meet all foreseeable electric needs. But, it is essential TO SAVE THE USE OF ELECTRICITY WHEREVER POSSIBLE so as to reduce, directly or indirectly, the demands for materials, fuel, transportation, and manpower.

"The desired result will be obtained through the full cooperation of millions of people in the conservation program. With everyone contributing, the effect will be tremendous in hastening the day of Victory."

FOR OUR BOYS

When the third great war loan drive was started early in September it was taken for granted that the city of Plymouth would meet its quota. No one had any other thought in their mind. Every one expected the attainment of the full amount set aside for this city to raise.

Plymouth went way over the top. We sold more than one $100 extra bond for every man, woman and child in Plymouth, a record that few cities in the country can equal. Our good city did all of this without any fanfare or exceptional ballyhoo.

Seemingly every one put their shoulders to the wheel and helped to make the war loan drive a great success.

School teachers, school children, farmers, workers, business men, industrialists, every one joined in the great drive to put Plymouth over the top.

It was a great victory — and when OUR BOYS who are far away in India, the Solomons, Australia, Africa, Egypt, England and elsewhere throughout the world, read in The Plymouth Mail of Plymouth's outstanding success in the great drive — they can say to their comrades in arms, "Look, see what my home town did in that great war loan drive! You bet I knew the home folks in Plymouth would stand back of us. I'm from Plymouth and I'm proud of it!"

PLYMOUTH'S GARDEN CONTEST

The frost is on the pumpkin and the tomato leaves have been turned back by the nightly freezes. The Plymouth victory garden committee has awarded its war bonds to the prize winners in the city's victory garden contest conducted during the summer. The 1943 Plymouth garden contest is over. It ended Monday night with one of the outstanding community events of the year.

To Mrs. W. K. Sumner, general chairman of the garden committee, can go everlasting credit for the remarkable success of the contest. It has been through her tireless efforts, through her splendid cooperation and her enthusiasm that Plymouth can now boast of having had probably the biggest and most successful garden contest of any city of its size not only in Michigan, but the entire country.

It was the belief and contention of The Plymouth Mail that this city and vicinity should conduct its own garden contest, that we should not make ourselves a mere speck in any metropolitan or statewide affair, that there was enough public spirit and enough executive ability within our community to make a garden contest a most successful adventure. Our expectations were not only realized, but the contest was a far greater success than any one dreamed it would be. Thanks especially to Mrs. Sumner, the judges, the 200 or more contestants and the donors of the numerous prizes. It might be interesting to readers of The Plymouth Mail to know that no city, outside of Detroit, offered more prizes than did Plymouth.

WELCOME TO PLYMOUTH

The city of Plymouth joins with the members of our historic Presbyterian church in welcoming to our community Rev. Henry J. Walch. The reception extended to him last week, and Sunday's services of installation, were both happy and impressive events. Rev. Walch is one of the youthful and progressive ministers designed to play an important part in the church movement during the trying years that lie ahead. He becomes the worthy successor of Rev. Walter Nichol, one of God's chosen men, and The Plymouth Mail joins with members of the Presbyterian church in extending to Rev. Walch a welcome to our city. May his success be as outstanding as we believe it will be.

Congress Is Waking Up To Country's Danger From Pressure Blocs

Washington, D. C., October 1 — I have been interested to see what kind of a Congress would return to Washington after the long summer recess. I found the answer sooner than expected. The speed and vigor with which the members, hardly waiting to hang up their hats, tackled the father-draft controversy, was a revelation. The issue itself is not the important thing. It is the fact that Congress made up its mind to think for itself once more that should be noted and applauded.

Congress is a sounding board for the sentiment of the great masses of voters. Congress does not mould public opinion or lead in our national affairs. It responds to the pressure group put on the most heat. For too long a time successive sessions of Congress have acted as a rubber stamp for the White House and the bureaucrats. We have seen the farm bloc get what it wanted through high pressure methods. The same goes double for labor. A few business interests have chiseled into the picture — but not to any extent. The New Deal has never been friendly to businessmen.

The bloc that needs the most help has not had proper representation. It is made up of you and me, average citizens, who have been left out. Look at the record. Mr. Roosevelt told Congress he needed Executive authority to do a lot of things that could not be embodied in separate legislation requests subject to the delays all appropriation measures must meet. Congress, unpreparedness, signed a lot of blank checks for the White House. This was born Government by Executive Order. It created the heyday of the bureaucrat who owed his existence and loyalty not to the lawmakers of the nation—but to the Administration; in many cases to Mr. Roosevelt personally.

Washington has become overrun with self-constituted "experts" and advocates of strange political and economic doctrines. Not all these activities were un-sound. Many were both necessary and intelligently conceived. It is the swing of the pendulum, which carries us to extremes, that causes the trouble. By the law of action and reaction a turn to the right is overdue in our national affairs. Even before Pearl Harbor, Congress went along with everything in connection with defense the White House requested. With the declaration of War, Congress said "yes" whenever the President or the Army and Navy chiefs asked for anything.

Today is a different story. The House and Senate have already served notice on the President that they intend to reassert their long discarded powers. Now they are telling the Army and Navy, "We will give you everything you need to win the War, but we must be shown." Here is what happened. Congress has spent the past summer feeling the home pulse. The members have returned still anxious to do everything in their power to win unconditional surrender at the earliest moment. Congress, however, is no longer in a blank check mood. From here out they want to know why Senators and Representatives are still smarting from the things the folks back home said about some of the goings-on in Washington.

Congress has had to be the whipping boy for what the public thought about OPA, local draft boards, new taxes, and, generally speaking "those crackpots and bureaucrats down in Washington." Since many members of Congress had never gone along with some of the things the folks back home said about some of the goings-on in Washington, this was like rubbing salt in a wound. Congress listened to these complaints back in the home town—and returned to Washington with fire in its eye. This is a good thing for the country and I for one am optimistic over the outlook as a result. As we approach another Presidential campaign, we can at least count on a Congress that is not going to shut its eyes and say "me too" every time the White House speaks. This country needs the full powers of the three departments of government which the founding fathers were wise enough to set up — along with the principle of "checks and balances." The legislative and judicial have been scrapped as a result of emergencies—first by the depression and then by war necessities. Our best contribution to the postwar world and to politically-torn Europe will be the example which we set in our own front yard. Let us get back to representative government. I am delighted that Congress is beginning to show the way by refusing to sign blank checks or by rubber stamps. Certainly this change of attitude should help business and give confidence to investors.

the farm home of the latter's father, P. B. Whitbeck, where they will reside for the present. J. A. Lundy, formerly a contractor and builder of Plymouth, has purchased a bungalow at 4632 Kingswell avenue, Hollywood, California.

A "draft" social is to be given Friday evening at the Methodist church, Plymouth, under the auspices of the Epworth League. A most interesting war time program has been prepared. Born, a little son to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carrington of Northville, Thursday, September 19. Mrs. Carrington will be remembered as Miss Rose Wilkie of this place.

Work will be commenced on the Ford dam at Newburg, Monday morning.

Gasless Sunday will have one advantage to the farmer. He can hitch up Old Dobbin and spend a few hours away from home, with a fair assurance of his crops not being stolen while he is gone. A surprising number of city autoists seem to make a very literal interpretation of the words, "a free country," and help themselves very freely.

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bentley of Livonia Center was destroyed by fire last Saturday evening.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

The Daisy Manufacturing Company has secured a war contract for the manufacture of parts of the metal helmets worn by our soldiers. The contract calls for 7,000,000 pieces. Work on making the dies for getting out the order was commenced Tuesday morning and the first delivery will be made on October 8th.

Mrs. Thos. Bacot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Felt of this place, who has been acting as mail carrier in Detroit for the past few weeks, has given up that work and has taken another government position. Mrs. Bacot is now working in the 20th street sewer in that city, and has charge of the levers which operate the switches and signals of the Michigan Central Railroad, a position of responsibility and trust.

The Local Board has been a busy place the past week getting out the questionnaires to nearly 1,500 registrants between the ages of 19 to 21 and 31 to 36. Every person interested in the welfare and safety of our soldiers is earnestly requested to save all pits of peaches, plums, olives, etc., also shells of hickory, walnut, brazil and other nuts, and deposit them in receptacles provided for that purpose, in each of the hardware stores in Plymouth. These pits and shells are peculiarly adapted for the making of charcoal, which is used in the manufacture of gas masks.

VICTORY'S SONS Lt. Comdr. Lucius H. Chappell U.S.N. COLUMBUS, GA. THE submarine commanded by Lieut. Comdr. Lucius H. Chappell lolled silently in the deep waters of the Pacific. Chappell peered tensely in the periscope. All hands stood rigidly at their stations. The periscope showed a ship. It looked like a great smudge against a gray background. The faint outline beyond the vessel was the Japanese shoreland. Chappell had moved his submarine right to the enemy doorstep. The ship seemed to stand still on the horizon. Chappell slowly raised his right hand. "Target off starboard bow," he said, then dropping his upraised hand, he ordered, "Fire!" The torpedo left the tube, cutting a foaming swath through the water. It struck amidship. The vessel quivered, then suddenly went up into a thousand pieces in a great billow of black smoke as the munitions on board exploded. Lieut. Comdr. Chappell gave the order for full speed ahead. Behind lay the tenth Jap cargo vessel his submarine had sunk. To the ten was added three enemy warships.
