

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

By Eton R. Eton

WHAT ABOUT PAST SINS? I am glad to note that the Michigan State Bar Association has issued an edict which declares that it is a violation of the sixth canon of the legal profession for any lawyer to accept fees while serving as a member of the legislature from any company, group or individual interested in pending legislation.

For many years we have battled this offense against the people of the state and it is with keen satisfaction that we note the stand of the Bar Association pertaining to the dual activities of lawyer-legislators.

Now that the Association has branded as an offense this practice for the present and future generations of lawyers, what about applying the law of decency to those who have served as members of the legislature and who profited by their activities in behalf of beneficial legislation for their clients in past years? Why shouldn't these fellows be indicted and prosecuted for bribery?

We have never been able to draw a line between a "fee" for a lawyer member of the legislature and a "bribe" for one who is not a lawyer. We have always contended that a "fee" paid for legislative activities to a lawyer-legislator is just as much of a bribe as is a money payment made to any member of the legislature who is not a lawyer.

The statement issued by the Michigan Bar Association indicates that it will cost the taxpayers of that city more than $5,500 to restore broken windows in the school buildings of Flint. He said that this was an increase over the cost of the previous year, when it required $5,100 to make similar replacements.

"Intentional vandalism is the cause of most of this waste," he said.

And who is responsible for this VANDALISM?

Do you remember back just a few years ago when the fathers and mothers of Flint were pictured in the newspapers while hurling rocks and clubs through the factory windows of Flint?

Do you remember one picture which showed hundreds and hundreds of men and women marching along a street, breaking every factory window they could reach with their rocks and clubs?

No, do not blame the boys and girls of Flint who now prowled around the streets after dark getting a "kick" out of hurling rocks through school windows.

Blame their parents, who set the example of lawlessness for them. Blame the state officials and the city officials who permitted anarchy to rule supreme in Flint for days and weeks and months.

Flint public school window smashing is the first harvest of the New Deal whirlwind of anarchy, law defiance and general disregard of property rights.

SAVE THOSE WAR BONDS!

Federal "Security" Commissioner Paul McNutt, (the former Indiana Democratic governor who introduced the state employe two percent payroll shake-down racket for political jack-pot purposes) says there is growing unemployment throughout the United States due to war production cutbacks. Might we suggest that EVERY person not only hold on to the war bonds they have already purchased, but BUY MORE war bonds. Only the good Lord knows what the future holds for us the common people, of this country after the war is over.

The New Dealers have been talking about "security" for 12 years—and we have less of it now than we had before. But it will not be for long. Governor Dewey will soon be at the helm of the American nation and it will not take him long to restore orderly government in the place of the mad-house confusion now prevailing.

THE BLOOD-THIRSTY JAPS

So the Japs have murdered some more American flying boys who were forced down on Jap-held possessions. If that report is true, and it probably is—what a terrible vengeance they are asking! No, we do not mean that we shall kill defenseless men, women and children. We simply mean that we shall DESTROY the means by which this tribe of barbarians has been permitted to become a band of vicious killers.

TAKE GOOD CARE OF THAT "BUS"

"They" said down in Washington a couple of years ago, we might have some new automobiles in 1944. Last year "they" said we might get some new cars in 1945. Now "they" say it will be 1946 before the public will be able to buy new automobiles. Well, if it will help the war effort, we are perfectly willing to wait until dooms day before buying another automobile. Most people feel that way. But the thing we protest and do not like is the constant promising of something that "they" know down in Washington cannot be done. "They" must have known that cars would not have been available in 1944. Why not say to the nation, that there will be NO CARS made until we KNOW that we have thoroughly defeated our enemies? The public would be much better satisfied with that kind of statement.

BIG WHEAT CROP IN PROSPECT

There's good news about the wheat crop prospects for this year. It is said the crop is going to be so big that farmers will have to make provisions to store some, if not all the wheat they harvest in the next few weeks. The railroads will not be able to transport it until later in the year. That means that the farmers of America have seen to it this year that there will be plenty of "dough" during the forthcoming winter.

"FOURTH TERM" SYNONYMOUS TO "DICTATORSHIP"

If there is any person in the world who can tell us the difference in meaning between "Fourth Term" and "Dictatorship" we would like to know what it is. New Dealers say the difference lies in the fact that the voters in America elect their President. So did the people of Germany elect Hitler. So did the people of Japan elect Hirohito. As we see it, the constitutional form of government will come to an end, if the New Dealers win the election this fall. There will forever have been established in America a government by Presidential edict—and not government operating under laws created by the Congress. The war is NOT an issue. Republicans are determined to win a QUICK and DECISIVE VICTORY over our enemies. But the question of establishing a permanent DICTATORSHIP in America is an ISSUE! It is the big issue of the campaign—rest assured of that fact.

SAM LEVE AGAIN

Did you read in the newspapers the other day where a witness before the grand jury trials in Lansing had testified that Sam Leve, who was one of the "big shots" in the Wayne county welfare setup back in the days of "Dew and Sunshine", fixed up a county payroll so that it bringing go-between could get his county salary while spending his time up in Lansing paying out bribe money?

The testifying briber said Sam required that he (the briber) pay to him (Sam) one half of all the bribe money he got, in return for Sam's favor in gyping the taxpayers of Wayne county out of an unearned salary for a corruptionist.

These bribe stories out of Lansing are not all of Sam Leve's troubles. He is now out on bail, after having been convicted by a Wayne county jury of violating a state law in some Wayne county graft affair. He is asking the supreme court to set that conviction aside.

Well do we recall the days when Sam Leve was one of the few who had direct access to former Governor Murphy's office in Lansing. Well do we recall how Leve tried to control welfare legislation for the entire state of Michigan. He was a "humanitarian" he said, for the greatest of all great "humanitarians"—Old Dew and Sunshine. Now we find out, according to court testimony, that Sam was and is nothing more than a cheap grafter—just what we thought he was in the days when he was running in and out of the Governor's office in Lansing like a restaurant cockroach.

Peach Growers Enraged Over Price Ceiling

Peach growers in this vicinity of Plymouth are highly incensed over a recent order of the OPA in Washington fixing the prices that growers can charge for peaches this fall.

In fact some have declared that they will be unable to even pay the help for picking and packing the peaches out of the price they will be permitted to charge.

Growers can charge only $2.16 per bushel for peaches. But retailers can charge up to 16 cents per pound, which is equivalent to $8.00 per bushel.

"The only one who can make money out of the peach business this year is the fellow who can buy them from us at $2.16 per bushel and sell them for $8.00 per bushel," said one grower yesterday.

We pay 75 cents per hour for spraying, plus the cost of spray material. We pay 75 cents an hour for thinning our crop and we may have to pay more for picking the crop. On top of that we pay 20 cents each for bushel baskets and we may have to pay even more than 75 cents an hour for packers who put the peaches in the baskets.

If any one who knows anything at all can figure out how a peach grower can meet these expenses and sell peaches for a price far cheaper than they have been sold for at any time in the last 20 years, I would like to have them (Continued on Page 8)

Less Than 50 Used Cars For Sale In This City

Although all of the used cars in the United States are now under price ceilings, it is not anticipated that it will seriously affect the dealers in Plymouth.

As of Monday of this week, it was estimated that there are less than fifty cars on dealers' show floors and lots in Plymouth. All makes and models of used cars are covered and sales by individuals as well as dealers are included.

The new regulation includes special provisions designed to protect the individual buyer from being overcharged. This is done by requiring both the seller and the buyer to sign a certificate of transfer. The buyer files this certificate with his local price and rationing board when he applies for gasoline ration coupons for the car. The certificate describes the car sold and the price paid.

The price clerk at the local board checks the certificate to see that the price is in accordance with the regulation. "In other words," the Office of Price Administration pointed out, "the used car price ceiling has been issued to protect buyers from soaring prices, and to guard established dealers from the competition of those who sought to charge all the market would bear. We need the cooperation of motorists and dealers, working with our war price and rationing boards, to insure that this regulation will provide protection against illegal prices."

Seven simple things for buyers and sellers of used cars to do were issued by OPA as follows:

1. Get facts on the vehicle being bought or sold, including the make, year, model, radio and heater, and special "built in" items such as over-drive, fluid drive, vacuum transmission, etc.

2. Give these facts about the car to the price clerk of your war price and rationing board.

The price clerk will then tell you the correct ceiling, including allowance, if any, for extra equipment, taxes, and "built-in" items. The correct ceiling price will be one of the following:

a. An "as is" ceiling without any guarantee if the seller is not a dealer. This "as is" price is the highest price that can be charged for the car.

b. A "warranted" ceiling for cars guaranteed for 30 days or 1,000 miles. Dealers who maintain normal automobile repair service can give one of these guarantees for the car and sell up to (Continued on Page 8)

Lieut. Parsons Killed In Action

Lieut. Robert E. Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Parsons of 1012 Penniman avenue, who was reported missing in action over Germany three weeks ago, was killed in action, the war department has just advised his parents.

He was first reported missing in action on a flying mission over Germany, June 18.

Lieut. Parsons graduated from the Highland Park high school and spent two years as a student at the Highland Park Junior College.

He enlisted for services in the air corps early in 1943 and graduated from the army training course as a navigator in the Pathfinders.

A brother, Lieut. Carl Parsons, has just been awarded the flying medal for distinguished service in the flying forces. He is located somewhere in England at present.

The family moved to Plymouth about four years ago.

Although Lieut. Carl Parsons, his brother, was stationed but 30 miles from the base out of which Robert was flying and knew of his death, he did not immediately after it happened, army regulations prohibited him from sending the news to his parents. Even though they were close together, the brothers had not seen each other since landing in England.

Mrs. Dibble Is Taken By Death

Mrs. Nettie L. Dibble, a lifelong and prominent resident of Plymouth, residing at 905 Penniman avenue, passed away Sunday morning, July 16, after a long illness, at the age of 74 years.

She was the widow of the late Fred A. Dibble, for years one of the pioneer business men of this community. Her parents were among the early settlers of this vicinity, a brother, Mark A. Ladd being one of the first postmasters of Plymouth.

Not only was Mr. Dibble a prominent retail merchant, but he visioned the future of Plymouth, erecting a large business block on Main street which was still owned by Mrs. Dibble at the time of her death. Both were active in church, social and fraternal circles. Mr. Dibble was for a long period of years a member of the Masonic lodge and Mrs. Dibble of the Eastern Star chapter.

After his death, Mrs. Dibble continued her interests in church and charitable work and was a liberal supporter of every worthy charitable activity of Plymouth.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Gallagher; son-in-law, Patrick Gallagher; two grand children, Patsy Lou and Fred Thomas (Mike) Gallagher; her sister, Mrs. Lucy Baird of Plymouth and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, July 18th from the Schrader Funeral Home at 3 p. m. Rev. Henry J. Welch officiated. Members of the Plymouth Chapter No. 115 O. E. S.; The Daughters of American Revolution and the Woman's Club attended the service. Two hymns were rendered on the organ by Mrs. J. T. Chapman. The active pallbearers were Messrs. Andrew Dunn, Maxwell Moon, Austin Whipple and Charles Garrett. Interment was on the family lot in Riverside cemetery.

In Aleutians 29 Months, Is Home

Walter Jendryka, one of The Plymouth Mail boys who entered the armed services of the country during the early days of the war, has just returned from the Aleutian Islands where he has been stationed for over two years.

He has been granted a furlough and will spend the next three weeks in Plymouth with Mrs. Jendryka and his many old friends.

During the 20 months he was in the Aleutians, his outfit saw service on a number of the islands.

"We lived on spam and such junk for a long time. We did have some carabao steak, which was pretty good. The islands were not so bad, and there wasn't much to do except work. The winters were long and cold. Once some of our boys got lost in a snow storm going from our barracks to the mess hall. It snowed so hard, they hadn't seen more than five feet ahead of you. When we found them, they were pretty badly frozen, but they got over it o. k. Saw lots of walrus and whales in the ocean and the Bering sea," said Walter.

"I didn't do any fishing, but some of the boys did, and they caught some big ones. About once a week we had a poker game now and then and how some of the boys did like to play that!

"Don't know where we go next, but we expect to be back on the Pacific coast for a few months. I can tell you for one thing sure, I'm glad to be back in Plymouth."

Son Is Victim Of Shell-Shock

Gerald Shoemaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shoemaker of 625 Pacific avenue, is now in air base hospital somewhere in the Pacific, suffering from shell shock.

His parents have not been advised as to how serious his condition is, but they are expecting news shortly, as the last report they had stated that he was soon to be transferred to a mainland hospital somewhere along the Pacific coast.

No details have been received pertaining to the engagement in which he was shell-shocked, but evidently it was during an invasion on one of the islands in the Pacific ocean. Gerald was in a medical corp unit.

Plymouth Young Men and Women in the News From Military Fronts Over the World

Eleanor Petraszewsky

Popular Plymouth high school graduate who is now serving Uncle Sam's fighting forces as a jeep driver.

Marine Private First Class Eleanor Petraszewsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Constantine Petraszewsky, 39901 Schoolcraft, has recently been assigned to Motor Transport here as a truck and jeep driver at Camp Elliott, San Diego.

Private First Class Petraszewsky is a graduate of Plymouth High School, where she was popular among the students.

Before enlisting in the Marine corps, she was employed by the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company of Plymouth as a turret lathe operator.

Pfc. Petraszewsky received her recruit training at Camp Lejeune, N. C. After an additional month's training in the Motor Transport School at Camp Lejeune, she was transferred to her present station here.

Lieut. Carl E. Parsons

Plymouth aviation officer wins air medal for exceptional meritorious achievements in combat.

From an Eighth air force Liberator station somewhere in England has come the information that 2nd Lieutenant Carl E. Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parsons of 1012 Penniman avenue, has been presented with the Air Medal by Major Robert J. Lehnhausen of Peoria, Ill., who is shown in the above picture with Lieut. Parsons. The Plymouth bomber official won this award for, "exceptionally meritorious achievement while participating in bomber combat missions over occupied Europe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this man upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States," reads the citation. Lieutenant Parsons has participated in such celebrated attacks as those on Avord, Melun, Saarbrücken. His brother was recently killed in action.

Sgt. Franklin Coward

He jumped from a teller's window in the First National bank to a Liberator bombing crew over Germany.

There's an interesting story on "Our Boys" page this week pertaining to Sgt. Franklin Coward, who resigned as a bank teller in Plymouth's First National bank to join up with the flying fighting forces of the United States army.

He has been "shuttling" back and forth over Germany from England to Italy, Italy to Russia, then back to England.

Every time his bombing outfit has made the hop over Germany it has dropped a plentiful supply of "eggs" on munition plants and German fortifications.

Keep on buying war bonds. These young people have gone "over the top" more than once. They are still going. Plymouth cannot stop in its support of our young men and women in the armed forces. Buy bonds!

Donald P. Lewis

This Plymouth lad who has never had a furlough home went through the Sicily campaign and is now in France.

Mrs. Claude W. Lewis of 34208 Orangelawn Ave., has received the first letter since D-Day from her son, Pvt. Donald Peter Lewis, from "Somewhere in France".

After going through the Sicily campaign, Donald has been in England since December of last year, training in the latest type of invasion tactics.

Number six seems to be Donald's number, having been born on January 6, leaving the United States on the 6th of June, 1943, and one year later to the very day, he was in the invasion on the 6th of June.

The above picture, probably taken somewhere in Iceland or North Ireland, judging from the type of army building construction shown in the view, is the first his mother has received from him since he entered service nearly two years ago. He has never had a furlough home.

Many Enjoying Summer Program Of Recreation

Despite the fact that many of the young people in Plymouth are working this year, the summer recreation program is exceeding expectations.

Especially is this true of the very young youngsters, who are crowding the neighborhood playgrounds.

The need for more playground equipment has become apparent in some of the neighborhoods, it was reported by John Tomshack, director of the recreational program.

At the same time he said that some of the playgrounds are now operating in the morning hours instead of the afternoon to accommodate some of the tots.

Recreational equipment needed particularly are sand boxes, he reported.

The program for the older young people is not as strong as it was last year because more of this age group are working this year. Few high school youngsters are available to participate.

However, the weekly dances at the high school gymnasium, which were inaugurated this year, have been highly successful with an average attendance of about 200 persons.

Mr. Tomshack said that the swimming program is progressing well with the use of the Rouge park pools, but he pointed out that there are no facilities there for the very young people who are unable to swim. In other words, there are no wading pools available.

Collect Full Carload Of Tin

Twenty tons of tin! That is what the grand total amounted for Plymouth and vicinity in Monday's collection.

Plymouth cannot be stopped when it comes to doing something in behalf of the boys who are fighting for the preservation of America.

These twenty tons of tin were collected from the city of Plymouth and the townships of Plymouth and Livonia as well as the Detroit House of Correction, the Wayne County Training school and the William H. Maybury Sanatorium, stated Harry Hunter, who had charge of the collection because of the absence from the city of Mrs. William Rambo, chairman of the tin committee.

While this is not the largest amount collected, it does represent a substantial amount of tin, a complete carload from this locality, that soon will find its way.

Mrs. Edward Rothermel of Detroit spent Wednesday with Mrs. Leo B. Wright.

Free Text Books For Livonia's School District

Earl Bedell has been elected for the Livonia school board for a full three year term, and the annual meeting of the school electors of the township have approved free text books for the youngsters.

In the original election held in Livonia following the vote to consolidate the school districts, Mr. Bedell was elected for a one year term. Others elected at that time were Fred C. Weinert and L. Jack Gage, who were elected for two year terms, and George Bentley and G. A. Bakewell, elected for three year terms.

Actually, however, one year of the elected term was accounted for in the short time between the consolidation and June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

Following the new election, Fred Weinert was re-elected President of the school board; G. A. Bakewell was re-elected secretary and George Bentley, treasurer.

Salaries of the board were fixed by the school electors at $125 a year each for the president and two trustees and $175 a year for the secretary and the treasurer.

School offices have been established in the Livonia center school, and Harry Johnson, the new superintendent, has taken over the work of the school district.

It is expected that school will open September 5, the day after Labor day.

Badly Wounded In France Action

Mrs. J. L. Singleton, 1012 North Mill street, an employe of the Bomber Plant, has just been advised by the war department that one of her sons in the armed forces of the nation, Roy Singleton, has been seriously wounded in action in France.

The message stated that she would be advised later as to his condition and where he had been taken for treatment. He had been wounded in the engagement last Thursday, June 13, but the place in France was not designated.

Mrs. Singleton has two other sons in the service, Staff Sergeant James Singleton, and Corporal Chester Singleton, with a tank outfit. All are in England or in France.

The injured lad was only 18 years old, youngest of the three brothers in service. All entered the armed forces from Plymouth.

Mrs. Richard Simmons of 777 North Harvey street is a sister of the three soldiers. Miss Sarah Singleton, who resides with her mother, is another sister.

Mrs. C. G. Parmelee has gone to Walled Lake to take care of her mother, Mrs. Mary Chapman.

City Starts Its Paving Program This Week

Several Streets To Be Improved Immediately

Paving of South Harvey street from Ann Arbor Trail and of Wing street from Harvey street to Main street was started this week by the Oak construction company of Royal Oak.

The contract for the paving was started Wednesday morning in keeping with the paving program started last year by former Mayor Shear and being continued by Mayor Corbett.

It is anticipated that the construction of the four blocks of paving will require about three weeks, but the streets will be closed slightly longer than that in order to permit drying and opening of the street.

Work will start Monday on installation of a black-top surfacing material on Maple street east from Main street to Hamilton. Curbs and gutters already have been installed on that street.

Paving of Wing and Harvey streets is an improvement long needed. There is considerable traffic on these two streets which extend past the Episcopal church and the Perfection laundry.

The cost of the paving, including the curb and gutter is $17,977.20, the lowest of the bids submitted. Half of the cost will be borne by the property owners, and half by the city of Plymouth.

The cost of the black-top paving of Maple street is about $3700. The cost of the grading or about $500 will be paid by the city, and the remainder will be divided among the property owners.

These paving projects, together with the paving of Farmer street and Fralick avenue last year constitute the first badly needed paving projects of importance in Plymouth in years. The present city commission is committed to a program of street improvement, which it is hoped will be continued.

A check of facts reveals that there are practically no gravel streets in the village of Northville, nearly all of them having black-top or some other type of paving.

Mrs. Neil D. McLelland accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Mathew Yuchas, of Ridge Road, left Wednesday afternoon for Bad Axe where they will attend the funeral of her brother, John McLelland. Mrs. McLelland's other two daughters of Detroit, will make the trip with them.

Next Paper Collection!

The next collection of paper will be made Thursday, July 27, but it will be made by Plymouth Boy Scouts, and not city employes. This new system will be tried out for a few months, and if it proves satisfactory, it will become a permanent arrangement. Up to the present time Scouts have been doing an excellent job.

Rosedale Gardens Starts Clean-Up Of Ragweed "Crop"

The Rosedale Gardens' Branch of the National Farm and Garden Association have declared war on rag weed.

As everybody knows, the pollen from rag weed is dreaded by all hay fever sufferers. It grows in profusion in the vacant lots and unkept parkways in Plymouth township. It has a tendency to sneak into victory gardens if it isn't destroyed.

So the Garden Club is making every effort to rid Plymouth of rag weed and is asking the help of every individual in the township.

If you are not familiar with this common weed, a member of the garden club will be glad to point cut a specimen; or note posters displayed in stores bearing drawings of the same.

Won't you help make Plymouth free from rag weed?

Turkeys and Chicks Are Killed

After having carefully raised eight fine young turkeys to near maturity, some dog or animal Tuesday night got into the pen in the back of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Campbell and killed them. At about the same time Chief of Police Charles Thumme received this report, he was advised that 18 young chickens belonging to Herbert Felton, 455 S. Harvey, in the same neighborhood, had been killed in about the same way that the Campbell turkeys were killed.

THE DISTRICT SEVEN CUBBEREE

Upon a perfect summer day they came; The Cubs, the clowns and Cubbers all. To meet upon a common Cubbing ground In answer to Akela's rally call.

Amidst the trees upon Scout Hill Where sun and shade most aptly blend The District Seven Cubbers came A happy cubbing day to spend.

Neighbors met beneath the maples there, And many troubles ceased to be; When Cub and Cubbers' problems mutual proved At the District's infant Cubberree.

The program smoothly ran its course, In proof of efforts well spent By all who chanced to be in charge Of this progressive new event.

As Eventide her mantle drew About the golden trees of Day, The Cubbers bade their pleased farewells And regretfully moved away.

The maples sighed in the evening breeze, And seemed to say in pantomime, "Tis sad to see these good folk go, Though they return at a near future time." —Harold H. Schryer.

Horton Warns Of Seed Shortage

A call for action in this community to help relieve the serious nation-wide shortage of legume and grass seeds was made this week. Included in the critical list, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, were the seeds of alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover, ladino clover, alsike, lespedeza, sudan grass and several other hay and pasture crops.

To help meet the problems of harvesting these seeds, Don Horton, Allis-Chalmers dealer, is inviting all owners of All-Crop Harvesters in this farming area to join the "Seed Task Force" now being organized throughout the nation to encourage a larger seed harvest.

In volunteering to serve as headquarters for the "Task Force" in this area, Mr. Horton is urging harvester owners to register their machines for service in saving the urgently needed seeds. Farmers with no means of harvesting their seed are invited to contact him, and an attempt will be made to put them in touch with a nearby All-Crop Harvester owner.

Reserve supplies of legume and grass seeds are almost exhausted, it is stated. The only remaining source of seed is the growing sod in the Nation's fields. If seed for new plantings is not harvested from them this year, a disastrous shortage of hay and pasture is predicted by crop authorities. Last year's national seed harvest fell 43 percent short of production goals.

Most of the needed seeds are highly valuable, commanding excellent prices. It will be mutually profitable for harvester owners and farmers having seed to harvest to get together this year. A small fortune in seed has formerly been allowed to shatter in the field and go to waste on the ground, the U. S. D. A. authorities point out. Making it still more profitable to set aside one crop of hay for seed are the federal price supports and bonus payments.

1. Cut hay earlier, when it's fine-stemmed and high in protein; then to harvest a later cutting for seed.
2. Feed green corn, soybean hay, sudan grass, or other emergency crop. Reserve late-cutting hay for seed, in keeping with the best local practice.
3. Remove livestock from pasture several weeks in advance. Give the grass a chance to set seed.
4. Locate beehives if possible. Bring them into the fields to cross-pollinate the blossoms.
5. Have the harvester inspected after the grain harvest and properly equipped and adjusted for harvesting seed.

Commercial beekeepers are especially urged to locate their hives near blossoming fields which are to be harvested for seed. Honeybees, not bumblebees as commonly believed, have proved to be responsible for over 80 percent of cross-pollination. Reports from agricultural colleges indicate that clover seed quadrupled by locating hives yields, for example, have been right in the fields, using an average of one or more hives per acre. While not every farmer can expect so phenomenal a return, the rewards for saving seed are extremely promising this year, it is reported.

But most seed crops shatter easily if allowed to over-ripen so all interested farmers are asked to contact the Task Force headquarters immediately so that necessary harvesting arrangements can be made if possible. This will avoid last-minute delays and loss of seed. It is expected that a large number of local farmers will make definite plans to harvest some grass and legume seed this year.

ATTENTION! ALL HOME CANNERS! Before you begin your 1944 canning, Good Housekeeping Magazine advises you: use the boiling-water bath method for tomatoes and fruits, only. Can all vegetables except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker to be sure of killing botulinous germs. In the last few years, cases of botulinus food poisoning have cropped up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, borrow, share a pressure cooker—but don't can low-acid vegetables any other way. If you want further information, write Good Housekeeping Magazine, 859 Eighth Avenue, New York 19, N. Y.

Wagenschutz Family Reunion

The 17th annual reunion of the Carl Wagenschutz family was held Sunday at the home of Harvey Wagenschutz on the Six Mile road. A 2 o'clock pot luck dinner was served to 60 members present, preceded by a prayer of thanksgiving by Melbourn Partridge.

Following the dinner the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Arthur Marsh, who gave a brief family history, and a memorial prayer, also mentioning her nephew, Sgt. Milton Partridge, who is somewhere over seas with the armed forces.

A new addition, a grand niece, Yvonne Ida, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Partridge, was added to the circle.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Arthur Marsh; vice president, Mrs. Harvey Wagenschutz; secretary and treasury, Carl Wagenschutz; Entertainment, Mrs. George Ruttan and Mrs. William McClellan.

The afternoon was spent reminiscing and playing games. Ten members of the family having birthdays this month, Marilyn Wagenschutz was given a happy surprise party being her 11th birthday.

Birthday cakes, coffee and ice cream were served for supper.

Those attending the reunion were Mrs. Otto Wagenschutz, Mr. and Mrs. George Ruttan and family from Williamston, Mr. and Mrs. Melbourn Partridge from Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. George Krumm, Mrs. Krumm, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lindow from Chelsea, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marsh from Ann Arbor, Mrs. Amelia Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hamilton from Northville, Mr. and Mrs. William McClellan and family from Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. William Huber and son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huber from Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Austin

Church News

Hours of services and notices of church organization meetings.

ST. PETERS EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH, Edgar Hoenecke, Pastor. No Sunday School during August. Sunday Services—10:30 A. M. Picnic Service, July 30th, 10 A. M. at the church.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH "Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 23.

The Golden Text (Psalms 86:15) is: "Though, O Lord, art a God full of compassion and gracious long-suffering and plenteous in mercy and truth."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 25:1): "O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithful and true."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (11): "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."

Every girl is beautiful at seventeen, it is said, but she doesn't stay seventeen.

Few Breaking Traffic Laws

Reflecting the decrease in the number of automobiles on the highway, and the smaller amount of liquor available for consumption, City Judge J. Rusling Cutler's annual report reveals a decrease in the number of traffic violations handled by the city court.

The number of city cases of all kinds handled, dropped from 146 last year to 93 this year, and the number of state and county violations dropped from 147 to 132. However, even that figure is not truly indicative, for there were decreases in traffic law violations and an increase in speeding violations, which is a highway department regulation and not a part of the state law.

The number of civil suits has increased, due largely to the increase in the number of garnishments handled for failure to pay just debts. It was pointed out, that it is now comparatively easy to collect on a garnishment action because large concerns which previously discharged a worker when garnishment action was taken, now pay the garnishments because they want to keep the worker.

There are fewer violations of the regular traffic laws. There is less drunk driving. And there are fewer of the normal run of disorderly cases of all kinds.

the sport-loving younger set. The Junior Boys' League meets each Wednesday eve for golf and free group instruction. Boys between 14 and 18 years are eligible to join and later this summer will qualify to play in the Plymouth Junior Championship tournament. Bicycles seem to be the predominant style of transportation throughout the week in getting out to Hilltop. Although how to ride one is a question. Compressed Coffee. Freshly roasted and ground coffee is compressed at a temperature of 45 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, and in an atmosphere of carbon dioxide to prevent oxidation. The moisture-proof cellophane wrapper helps hold in the flavor. Tests indicate that compression does not cause the coffee grains to cake.

Fight Cane Insects. Seventy toads have been shipped from northern Argentina to the United States by fast air express to combat insects and worms infesting sugar cane in the South. The toads were consigned to a large sugar company in Florida.

Follow Valleys. Burna's mountains decrease in height towards the south, but they are generally covered with forest. The roads and railways mostly follow the river valleys, and in many parts the main communications are by water.

Start Picking Tomato Crop

Tomatoes, hundreds of bushels of the excellent tomatoes grown in the vicinity of Plymouth, are now finding their way to the Detroit market. Growers say the crop is of excellent quality. Last week, following a practice of many years, Clyde Smith, a well-known gardener of Newburg road, took 16 of his youth, full assistants on a fishing trip. You can bet the boys had a good time. They certainly enjoyed every minute—and not only that, they had good luck fishing, stated Mr. Smith yesterday.

Rabies Killing Michigan Cattle

So far this year 16 head of cattle have died in the counties of Ingham, Ionia, Jackson, Macomb, Washtenaw, Shiawassee and Clinton affected with rabies. Other cattle having died in these counties during the same time may have died from the same disease, states C. H. Clark, state veterinarian, but no analysis was made on the other animals. He cautions all livestock owners when a cow or other farm animal acts peculiar, that it should be immediately isolated from others. Charles Figy, State Commissioner of Agriculture, warns there are still eighteen counties under dog quarantine for rabies and that some laxness has been reported in some areas, of dog owners not keeping all dogs tied or under complete control. Cattle and sheep lost by rabies since January 1st are: Ingham county, 3; Ionia county, 1; Jackson county, 1; Macomb county, 2; Washtenaw county, 4; Wayne county, 1; Shiawassee county, 1; and Clinton county, 3.

Farm News By County Agent

(By E. J. Besemer) National Farm Safety Week is July 23 to 29, 1944. Several farm accidents in Wayne county emphasize the importance of using extra care and caution when working with machinery and around animals. Word has been received from Prof. Huston, Head of the Department of Entomology, Michigan State College that the first spray for second brood codling moth should be completed July 22. Codling moth emergence is so spread this year that two or three additional sprays will be necessary. There is every indication that codling moth activity will continue until picking time. Residue regulations are still in force. Use a softener with lead arsenate. Thoroughness in spraying will pay off in clean fruit. It's money in his pocket and food saved in the bin for the Wayne county poultryman who culls out his non-producers this summer, says C. G. Card, head of the poultry husbandry department of Michigan State College. Card estimates that about 10 per cent of Michigan's 12 million hens are not now producing. If these birds were sold as meat, there would be effected a saving of 4,800 tons of feed worth $300,000. In addition, there would be the income from about 3 1/2 million pounds of poultry meat. Poultry sold for meat will likely bring a greater return by fall, Card believes. High feed costs and reduced supplies can be overcome only by culling the flocks so as to maintain a 50 per cent production level all summer, he asserts. Here are two tips on how to spot the loafers: 1. The loafer is likely to be dull and mopey and stand with ruffled feathers. The laying hen is more alert, with bright eyes and seems to be busy. 2. The loafer's shanks may be thick, rough and deep yellow. The layer's shanks will be thin, smooth and of fine texture. Many 4-H Club members and other farm boys are now engaged in extensive culling work over the state. This program, which includes training of the boys to become expert cullers is sponsored by the Allied Poultry Industries, Michigan Poultry Improvement Association, and the Michigan State College poultry husbandry and 4-H Club departments. Farmers interested in details of the culling program and who would like to obtain information regarding the making and use of the Spartan poultry catching crate consult the Wayne county extension office.

Farm News By County Agent
 (By E. I. Besemer)
 A flock selection and blood testing school for poultrymen will be held at Michigan State College, July 17-21. This is an opportunity to learn how to cull by using physical characteristics.
 This office has been informed that peach moth parasites will be available late in the season. Professor Ray Hutson of Michigan State College states that the release of the parasites in peach orchards in September is desirable.
 Peach growers desiring these parasites should write directly to Philip H. Marvin, Moorestown, New Jersey, if interested.
 Wayne county farmers planning to store a portion of their 1944 wheat crop should consider means to prevent possible loss due to grain weevils suggests Ray Hutson, Michigan State College entomologist.
 Michigan farmers each year share proportionately in the $300 million worth of grain destroyed by weevils in the United States. Hutson explains. With a bumper crop in sight and the prevailing warm, humid conditions, unusual storage care must be taken. Principles of combating grain-infesting insects are set forth in Extension Bulletin E-217, a copy of which may be obtained free from the Wayne County Extension Office.
 Briefly, successful fumigation depends on four factors: a clean bin, a tight bin, a temperature above 65 degrees F., and the use of a satisfactory fumigant. Because fumigants are effective only in tight bins, every effort must be made to line the bin or seal all cracks and possible openings. It is desirable to have the grain not more than 4 feet in depth if possible. Such a quantity likely will not fill the bin, so it will be necessary to build a temporary cover of tarpulins or paper supported by poles and lumber about 1 foot above the top of grain. This reduces the space and saves in the amount of fumigating material to be used.
 A safe and satisfactory fumigating material available for general use in Michigan is ethylene dichloride which is sold under several tradenames and should be used according to the manufacturer's recommendations. Usually, about 2 pounds of fumigant is recommended for each 100 cubic feet of space between the floor and the cover above the grain at 65 degrees F. If the grain is 4 feet or less in depth, the correct quantity of material is thrown on the top of the pile, taking care to distribute as evenly as possible. If the pile is more than 4 feet in depth, about a third of the correct amount of material is put near the bottom of the pile by means of a hose or pipe, which should be placed before the bin is filled. After treating, finish sealing the bin and close the granary for 48 hours. Before using the treated grain, it should be allowed to air for a short time.

Housewives Urged To Can Vegetables May Be Shortage
 The green light on ration-free processed foods should not mean a red light for the housewife's summer canning plans, Mrs. Cecil H. Hobbs, nutrition chairman of the Detroit and Wayne County Red Cross chapter, said today.
 "The recent removal of many factory-canned fruits and vegetables from the rationed list reflects the efforts of millions of Victory gardeners who cooperated last year by filling their pantry shelves with home-canned produce," Mrs. Hobbs explained. "Every housewife should plan to can at least as much as last year. If reserve stocks of processed foods are drained from the markets now, ration points will again be necessary shopping equipment."
 The housewife who is tempted to ignore the canning season this summer should consider the satisfaction she derived last winter from having a plentiful supply of foods which the family ration points would not have provided, Mrs. Hobbs said.

 "She must remember the advantage of having a variety of foods of her own choice, and real satisfaction should be gained from her knowledge that, but for the success of the home canning program last year, many foods would not be ration-free today," the nutrition chairman said. "Only by refilling those jars again this summer can she ease the rationing problems next winter."
 Now is the time to replant gardens for canning produce, Mrs. Hobbs advised. The gardener who plans several plantings, insuring a continuous production until frost, will make the best use of the garden plot, and will have on the pantry shelf, ration free, all of the vegetables that will be rationed again within a few months.
 More farm people were killed by accidents in America's first two years of participation in the war than the number of fighting men killed in the war itself.

Sanitary Sewer For Harvey St.

The city commission Monday night received a petition from the property owners living on South Harvey street between Wing and Brush streets for the installation of a new sanitary sewer and enlargement of the water mains in that area.

At the present time, eight families are drawing water from a one inch water main, which is insufficient.

Effects Debated

Barbiturates were first discovered, in the form of veronal, in 1903. Because their "side effects" are much less disagreeable than the older paraldehyde and chloral, they seem to offer harmless relief from pain and sleeplessness. And because experts disagree as to the seriousness of their effects, barbiturates are still sold over the counter to all comers in 20 of our states; in many others, a doctor's prescription for one of the drugs can be indefinitely refilled.

Lard Grades

Lard is made from the fat of the hog. Three grades of lard are obtained from three parts of the body: the best grade, leaf lard, is made from the leaf, or layer of fat lying inside the abdominal wall; the second grade is made from the backs, the sides, and the pieces trimmed from the various cuts; the third and poorest grade is made from the intestinal and stomach fats. The last is much stronger than the other two and should not be mixed with them.

Livens Soil

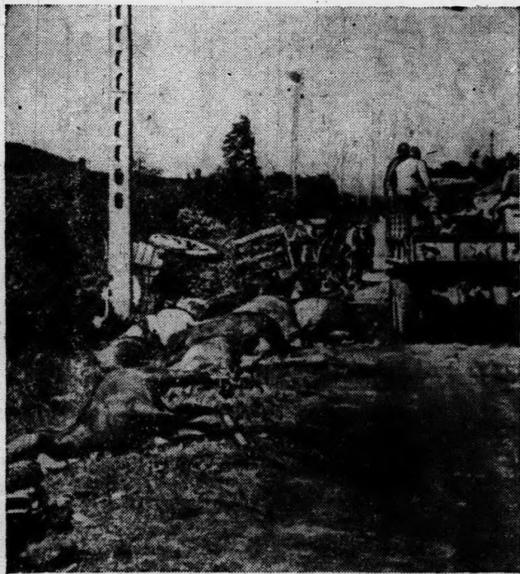

Application of well-rotted manure increases the organic material in the soil which means better physical condition, better moisture holding capacity and better aeration. Manure also adds some plant food to the soil. The presence of organic material in the soil speeds up chemical and bacterial activity and results in faster growing vegetables of better quality.

Big Game Population

Big game "population" of the national forests has increased more than three-fold in the past twenty years. Average works out to six animals to the square mile. Most numerous animals are deer. Next in rank are elk, black bears, antelopes, mountain goats, bighorn sheep, moose, grizzly bears and Alaska brown bears, and wild boars.

Furlough For Robert Egge

Robert Egge, son of Mrs. Martha Egge of 272 Arthur street, is enjoying a brief furlough home from an army station at Manchester, New Hampshire, where he was recently transferred from northern Maine.

"It's a great place. The people treat the soldiers mighty swell. One family sends me a half of a mince pie once every week. When we run down to Boston and go to the "Buddies Club" they give us baseball tickets or see to it that we have something to do. It's great the way folks down east treat the soldiers," declared Bob yesterday.

About 14,500,000 people worked more than 20,000,000,000 hours on American farms last year. Of these producers, 3,500,000 were volunteer Crop Corps workers. This year Uncle Sam needs 4,000,000 emergency workers to produce food for victory. Many of them will be inexperienced, perhaps half of them will be women and children. EXTRA attention for their safety is required.

Peach Growers-

It is just another one of the ways adopted by the administration in Washington to punish the farmers and other people who grow things for the country, it is asserted by some of the peach growers.

The apple grower is given a far better break than is the peach grower. The life of an apple orchard is something like 40 years. That of a peach orchard is only from ten to twelve years. The ceiling price on apples was much higher last year than that fixed for peaches for this year. Of course last year there was no peach crop, due to killing frosts and other reasons. Now that there is a peach crop, the Washington administration is out to ruin the peach growers, is the sentiment of those who have made an inquiry into the price ceiling just fixed for peach growers.

"ENGLAND NOT BAD, BUT NOT SO GOOD AS GOOD OLD U. S. A."
Writing from somewhere in England, Private Charles Barger says that old "England is not bad, but it is not anywhere near as good as good old U. S. A. All the boys wish this thing was over with and that they were back home again. (And how the folks back home wish for the same thing!) "I thought I had better write you this brief note to tell you that The Mail has been coming to me regularly and that I am mighty glad to read the news from home. I am well and in good health and I hope all my old friends in Plymouth are the same," wrote Charles.

"CHUCK" TEBBO WINS COMBAT HONORS AT BOUGAINVILLE
Private Charles Tebo, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Tebo of Robinson sub, who lived with them during the time he went to high school in Plymouth and previous to his entry into military services, has just been awarded the Army's newest award for infantrymen. It is the Combat Infantryman's Badge. The distinction came to him as the result of exemplary service during the engagement on Bougainville island where the Americans drove the Japs so deep into the jungle that few of them survived.

WOMAN RESERVIST MARIAN WILKIE IS GIVEN ADVANCEMENT
Woman Reservist, Marian P. Wilkie, 20, wife of Richard C. Wilkie, 935 Simpson, was enrolled recently at the Naval Training School (Yoeman-W) on the Iowa State College campus, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Houghton of 185 South Harvey street, is now receiving his initial naval indoctrination. It will be some weeks before he will be given a leave to visit home.

PLYMOUTH BOYS MEET SOMEWHERE OVER IN ENGLAND
Corporal Herbert Burley, well known Plymouth soldier lad, walked into a mess hall over in England a few weeks ago. Looking down the long rows of tables, he happened to see Chase Willet, another Plymouth fighting lad, since, but we are not able to get together often as I am working nights most of the time. But it certainly was good to see one from home. We are awfully busy now and so do not have much time to do anything except work," wrote Corporal Burley.

PLYMOUTH LAD WITH FAMED "SHUTTLE" FLYING FORCES
One of the big pieces of news that recently broke, told of the adoption of the "shuttle" system of fighting Germany from the air. American flying Fortresses and Mustangs are leaving air bases in England, dropping their bombs on Germany, then proceeding to either Russia or Italy. In Russia or Italy, they load up again and start back over Germany, dropping another load of bombs on the Nazis.

AWARDED GOOD CONDUCT MEDAL IN NORTH IRELAND
Staff Sergeant James Harbert, 15654 Stamford road, has just been awarded a good conduct medal, with a number of other American troops, at a camp located somewhere in North Ireland. The award is made only to soldiers whose conduct and ability has been exemplary for a period of one year or more previous to the issuance of the medal.

Law Says No On Extra Bluegills

Here's bad news for Plymouth freezer fans!

Michigan law says that 15 bluegills are the possession limit for any person at any one time. The law makes no exception in the case of a person who rents a quick-freeze food storage locker.

It is possible that the state legislature may someday consider the widening use of such food storage facilities and allow reasonable increases in possession limits fixed by statute for Michigan game fishes.

Meanwhile, the conservation department is busily saying "Sorry" to locker renters who want to save more than a taste fish for out-of-season days to come.

Serving Meals To TB Patients

Where there is an emergency, there is always a way to meet the situation over in Northville.

The other day the women of Plymouth's progressive neighborhood heard that the Maybury Sanatorium officials were having difficulty in getting workers to serve breakfast and the evening meals to the hundreds of tuberculosis patients in that institution.

The women in Northville decided to do something about it, so they organized a free volunteer service to help out the city of Detroit in its big institution near Northville. As a result there will be no more late breakfasts, or suppers and no one missed at meal time because the kind-hearted women of Northville are serving the city of Detroit as waiters without pay.

Already 36 have volunteered and are helping out in this unusual emergency.

One handicap in the effectiveness of the plan concerns transportation. Tunis Biddle of the Northville bus line, has agreed to furnish free transportation for all volunteers working in this service.

In addition to the five captains whose names have been announced, the following people have given their names as workers:

- Mrs. Mike Bongiovanni, Mrs. Herbert Brown, Mrs. D. V. Burn, Mrs. T. B. Carrington, Mrs. Harry Clark, Mrs. W. F. Clark, Mrs. Harley Cole, Mrs. L. M. Eaton, Mrs. Willard Ely, Mrs. Wm. Forney, Mrs. Mark Gardner, Mrs. Del Hahn, Mrs. Mary Hauger, Mrs. Lee Heaton, Mrs. Kenneth Kitchen, Mrs. M. J. Koldyke, Mrs. A. M. Lawrence, Mrs. A. W. Litsenberger, Mrs. Roy Matheson, Mrs. M. F. U. S. Attorney Tells of Dangers

(Omitted from last issue)

The Holy Name Society of the Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church, received holy communion in a body last Sunday morning at the eight o'clock mass and immediately after the close of the services the men, about eighty in number, went to the recently acquired Allen property on Penniman avenue, where they enjoyed a breakfast.

The audience heard an inspiring talk by the Honorable John C. Lehr, U. S. District Attorney, in which he cautioned the members of the society of the many dangers that may be attempted to be foisted upon our nation and that the pledge the men of the society had taken should make them ever alert to the possibility of political groups and attempted legislation that may impede the principles of our republic and Christianity.

He said, "we should remember that we are living in the best and greatest Christian - principled country in the world and we must do everything to preserve this great heritage."

He also dealt at length on the crime wave among juveniles that must be checked by an altogether different attitude to the youth of our country. In closing he warned his listeners to be aware of the dangers of radical groups who would change our form of government.

The next meeting and breakfast of the society will be held on the second Sunday in August and it is expected that about twice as many men will attend.

Officers of the organization are Henry Mullen, president; Garry Farnwald, vice-president; Frank Walsh, secretary; Russ Detling, treasurer; Clare Degenhardt, marshal, and Father Wm. Moon-ey, spiritual director.

State To Buy
Park Land Here

Michigan's conservation department is ready to start buying 100,000 acres of land in the southeastern part of the state to provide play spots for city dwellers. Real estate men who know local land values will work with the department in closing deals.

First group of realtors named by local real estate boards and vouched for by the Michigan Real Estate Association is being instructed in department policies and procedures before its members begin talking with property owners.

Three million dollars was voted by the legislature in special session last February for the purchase of land near big population centers in southeastern counties for recreational uses. Each million dollars of state money will be matched by $200,000 from the conservation department's game protection fund which is built up by the sale of hunting licenses. The department plans to complete purchase of the 100,000 acres over a three-year period.

All deals arranged by local realtors will be subject to approval of conservation department land appraisers. A schedule of commission payments to realtor agents that is somewhat lower than those earned by them when working independently has been approved by all parties to the arrangement.

Lands that will be bought lie within 24 projected units in a belt 50 to 60 miles from downtown Detroit. Largest projected purchases will be in the Pontiac area.

The recreational area program will provide hunting lands, fishing waters, park and playground spaces.

Another Plea For Pickers

There are 65,000,000 pounds of cherries to be picked in the Traverse City area. You can do your part in the War effort by going to Traverse area and picking cherries. You may obtain extra gas for this purpose if you will have four people over 14 years of age in a sedan or people in a coupe and there must be 80 hours or more of work accomplished per car.

If you are planning this trip, please take your house-trailer or camping equipment if you have such. If you do not possess any of the above, go anyway. Also take along 8, 10 or 12 quart pails. The rate of pay for picking cherries in the Traverse area is 50 cents per lug—a lug holds 26 pounds of stripped cherries. An average picker should pick from 10 to 14 lugs a day. You may also pick and bring back cherries for your own home use and in some areas canning facilities are available. To make out applications for gas and other forms go to your nearest United States Employment Service Office, County Agricultural Agent, located at 3914 Monroe Street, Wayne, Michigan, or Detroit Recruiting Office, located at 316 McKerchey Building, 2631 Woodward, Detroit.

People that have in mind a vacation instead of cherry picking need not apply.

Expect Waters in Big Lakes To Recede

With present water levels of Lakes Michigan and Huron approximately three-quarters of a foot lower than the August high of last year, the conservation department expects no repetition this season of the extensive beech damage caused in Muskegon, Ludington, Mears (Pentwater), and Bay City state parks last summer.

Water levels are due to reach their 1944 high next month but the expected level is likely to be a half foot lower than last August's peak. Lakes Michigan and Huron levels of June were approximately 1.4 feet below the high stage of June, 1929 and 2.84 feet above the low stage of June, 1934.

Lower water levels this summer will replace some sand stripped from state park beaches last season. In some cases, as at Mears state park, fills must be made to restore parking space where high water washed close to the highway. It was necessary to move some beach equipment out of the way of encroaching wave action at Muskegon state park last summer.

The Michigan legislature, in 1855, passed a law which permitted the formation of companies for the running, driving, booming, and rafting of logs, timber, lumber, and other such floatables, on streams of the state.

... I'm worth more to my boss now that he's installed a SCHULTZ Electric Milk Cooler

Because Schultz Electric Coolers quickly cool my milk—and keep it cool they insure my boss, the full butter fat test I have worked so hard to produce. Schultz Coolers also halt bacteria growth and make my milk more salable.

The Schultz principle is that of floating ice and top cooling without the need of a circulating pump of any kind. The coils automatically manufacture the ice on the smooth inside surface of the cabinet walls. This allows the ice to release and float on top of the water where it is needed. Schultz coolers effectively reduce labor costs; keep the nights milk under 40°. Many users say, "I wouldn't sell my Schultz Cooler for $1,000.00 if I couldn't get another."

Available in sizes to cool from 2 to 12 cans at one time. Buy the cooler to fit the job—not the milk house. Can be very easily installed in the average milk house. Easy payment plan can be arranged. See us today for further facts and prices.

Apply Now For That 'Cooking' Oil

OPA regulation number something or other is of more or less vital interest to a large number of people in this territory—people who use oil for cooking purposes.

Time was, when the user of oil for cooking purposes could send in his old forms, with a notation to the ration board that a new ration would be welcome, was needed and therefore please hurry it along.

But that is now changed. You can't just send in the old ration, and say "please renew."

Now, the user of oil for cooking purposes must appear in person at the ration board offices, and fill out a new application for the cooking oil.

There is a reason for it. There is a constant shift in the population in this area, and the ration board loses contact with users of oil, with the result that unless check is kept on the oil users, there will be some who will get more oil than they should have.

Although it is no longer necessary to have tires inspected at regular intervals, there are times when inspections are required by the OPA.

Bill Wood, chairman of the Plymouth War Price and Rationing board, pointed out this week that tire inspections are required for the issuance of new tire priorities. They are required for the transfer of an automobile from one owner to another, and they will be required for renewal of "A" gasoline rations late this summer.

Mr. Wood also pointed out that whenever an automobile is transferred from one owner to another, and the car is equipped with one or more new tires, then a copy of the priority under which the tire was purchased must also be transferred to the new owner.

Without this priority, it is almost impossible for the ration board to issue an "A" gasoline certificate.

What To Do With Ration Books

It's a funny thing, but it seems that there are always a few people who are uninformed, or are forgetful, or something.

Anyway, the Plymouth War Price and Rationing board requests this story. This story has been written several times before. It has been printed as often as it has been written, but still there are people who do not understand that--

Whenever a person dies, the ration book must be turned in.

Whenever a young man or woman enters the armed services, the ration book must be turned in.

For instance, last week a lady brought in a ration book to the office of the Plymouth board, and said she believed it should be turned in, but wasn't sure. Anyway, she hadn't used a single coupon since her son entered the service.

She was right.

It's possible this story will have to be written again, though, for some people still will not understand that ration books are for the use of those in civilian life.

Girl Scout Day Camp Is Ended

The second annual Girl Scout Day Camp at Riverside Park closed last Tuesday night with a jamboree attended by the parents and friends of the girls.

The more than 100 girls who attended the camp, including 14 girls from Salem, displayed the handicraft accomplished during the two weeks of the camp, as well as their ability to handle themselves before an audience.

Center of attraction during the two weeks of the camp were girl triplets from the Salem area.

The camp was conducted by Miss Helen Moore, under the direction of the Plymouth Girl Scout Council, which has shown tremendous growth during the past year.

Mrs. Wallace Osgood, leader of the Girl Scouts in Plymouth, explained, however, that there is still a crying need for leaders. There are still girls waiting to form into troops as soon as leaders can be obtained.

The Girl Scout Camp was operated at a cost of $2.50 for the two-week camping period. This fee included all of the handicraft materials used and milk for the girls at the noon hour.

The girls brought their own lunches.

Library Will Be Closed Wednesdays Until September 9

The Plymouth Public Library will be closed all day on Wednesday effective this week through September the ninth.

The action was taken by the Wayne County Library, in order to provide vacations for the staff. Mrs. Ada Murray, Plymouth librarian, said this week that the Plymouth library staff is also handling the Rosedale Gardens library work, during the vacation of Mrs. John Forsythe.

Demand for library services has slackened materially, it was reported since the close of the school year, largely due to the fact that many persons are working this year, who otherwise might be reading.

To Open Hangout For Fall Term

The recreation house at the corner of Church and Adams streets now has been vacated and will be put into condition during the summer for the use of the high school during the coming fall and winter.

The house is owned by the city, and by action of the city commission, was given to the youngsters to be used as a "hangout."

City officials ordered the house vacated last winter, but the tenants of the house found no new home until school was dismissed for the summer.

City Manager Clarence Elliott said the house would be cleaned during the summer by the youngsters themselves, but that the city will put the house into condition for use. This will include strengthening of the floors so that they may be used for dancing.

The youngsters will be required to maintain the house after it is handed over to them. They will receive a subsidy of $80 a month from the city, out of which they will be required to pay $30 rent for the use of the first floor of the house, heat the house and maintain it in repair. They also will furnish the house themselves.

It was the contention of the high school "crowd" that they needed some "hangout" of their own, where they could do as they pleased. It is anticipated that they will have a soft drink bar and a juke box for dancing. It is also planned to install other recreational facilities.

The house will be supervised during the time it is open.

The number of lakes of all sizes in Michigan as shown on the most reliable maps is 11,037.

Mary Duthoo Entry In Junior Vegetable Growers' Contest

Three youths from Wayne County have enrolled in the fourth annual National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association $6,000 production and marketing contest, Prof. Grant B. Snyder, of Massachusetts State College, advisory chairman of the organization, announces.

The contestants are competing for $500 national championship, a $200 regional award, ten sectional scholarships and two $25 war bonds provided the association by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. Prof. Snyder said. The winners will be decided on the basis of the efforts made by the contestants on studies of vegetable production and marketing methods, their vegetable projects and their community activities.

"The importance of more efficient vegetable production and marketing is gaining substantial interest among our coming generation of farmers," Prof. Snyder said. "This is clearly indicated by the increased enrollment in our contest which this year includes boys and girls from 44 states."

Among the contestants enrolled from this county are Mary Duthoo, Plymouth; Muriel Buege, Belleville; Arla Buege, Belleville.

HELP YOUR GAS RANGE TO CARRY ON TREAT IT WITH CARE... KEEP IT IN GOOD REPAIR... IT WILL LAST LONGER

The modern gas range is one of those time and labor savers that is hard to replace today. And because it seldom, if ever, requires repairs it is apt to be overlooked. Here are a few hints on the care of the gas range that will save time, money and disappointment.

SIX WAYS TO LENGTHEN THE LIFE OF YOUR RANGE

- ★ 1. Clean ports (small holes) of burners with wire or stiff brush. Wipe off burners with damp cloth. If necessary, wash with warm water. Use washing soda only with old type star burners.
- ★ 2. Care should be taken to dry the burners thoroughly before putting them back on the range.
- ★ 3. Do not clog oven flue outlet. It causes inefficient oven operation.
- ★ 4. Don't hang oven doors or load them with heavy utensils.
- ★ 5. Wipe off spilled foods. Keep all parts clean. Wash broiler pan and grill after each use.
- ★ 6. If anything goes seriously wrong, call your dealer.

Huckleberries, "All-Meal" Dish

There's going to be a wondrous big crop of huckleberries this year! That's what Plymouth folks say who have been able to get up north and look around a bit.

It is known that there are many who plan to go north, if they can get transportation, and pick a supply for use in the coming winter.

Along with this news comes advice from Ruth M. Griswold, assistant professor of food and nutrition at the Michigan State College in which she urges the use of blueberries for breakfast, dinner and supper.

"Blueberries are no longer considered just a breakfast food to be served with cream and sugar", states Prof. Griswold.

This year, Michigan growers of cultivated blueberries are also expected to harvest a 600,000-quart crop. A part of those berries would provide the fruit ingredients for two very tasty dishes, Miss Griswold believes. She suggests that the homemaker try blueberry muffins and blueberry mold. Here are her recipes:

- Blueberry Muffins—
- 2 cups family flour,
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons melted fat
- 1 cup blueberries

Sift the dry ingredients. Combine beaten eggs, milk and melted fat (slightly cooled). Add to dry ingredients. Stir until flour disappears but not until batter is smooth. Fold in blueberries, mixing as little as possible. Fill greased pans two-thirds full, handling the batter as little as possible. Bake in a hot oven at 425 degrees F. for about 25 minutes. This recipe makes 12 medium-sized muffins.

Blueberry Mold—

- 1/2 pound (9 slices) bread
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 3 cups fresh blueberries
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice if desired

Remove crusts from bread and cut into small cubes. Add sugar to berries. Cover and cook slowly until berries are soft. Add lemon juice if desired. Rinse a bowl or mold with cold water. Put in alternate layers of berries and bread, ending with berries. Pack firmly. Chill thoroughly, unmold on serving plate and garnish with whipped cream. This recipe makes six to eight servings.

Michigan's commercial blueberry industry is located chiefly along the lake between Muskegon and the Indiana line. From a quarter-acre planting made at the college's South Haven Experiment station in 1923, the industry has expanded in 1943 to 500 acres. Stanley Johnson, superintendent of the station, estimates this year's cultivated crop to be worth about $400,000. This does not include the crop to be harvested from wild bushes growing chiefly in northern Michigan, where there is going to be a big crop.

Ford Workers Are Planning Picnic

Employees of the planning and scheduling department of the Ford Motor Company will hold a picnic, Saturday afternoon and evening (July 22) at Cass Benton Park, Northville road and Seven mile road.

Athletic contests for men and women, climaxed by a baseball game, are on the entertainment program. The arrangements committee is composed of Glenn Sipple, Rosemary Anker, Betty Harrison, W. F. Smith, Wm. Murray, Betty Kolano and Jack Bingen.

Available information indicates that machinery is the chief source of farm work accidents, with livestock close behind. Falls are in third place and falls are the chief source of farm home accidents, with burns second.

Increase Loans On Wheat Crop

The 7 cents a bushel increase in loan rates on 1944 crop wheat, announced several days ago by the War Food Administration, means that Wayne County farmers can get loans of $1.49 a bushel on acceptable wheat which they store on their farms, Fred C. Earnest, Wayne County AAA Chairman, said this week. The rate previously announced for loans made in Wayne County was $1.42 a bushel.

These Commodity Corporation loans are made to farmers who want to store their wheat at the time of harvest for sale later on in the year. In addition to the $1.49 a bushel, an additional seven cents a bushel will be advanced as a farm storage allowance. If the farmer should deliver this wheat to the Commodity Corporation in liquidation or his loan next April, he will keep the seven-cent allowance as compensation for the use of the farm storage.

Mr. Earnest said that because of current prices, and also the general lack of commercial storage facilities, his office expects to receive a large number of requests for loans on this year's wheat crop.

Babson Says - - The Plymouth Mail

PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN

Editor and Publisher Sterling Eaton Business Manager AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER Entered as Second Class Matter in the U. S. Postoffice at Plymouth, Michigan

Babson Park, Mass., July 21. In most of its phases, American business has expanded and profited during the war.

In the immediate postwar era, business has even greater possibilities. There should be tremendous demand for goods and services here to be unavailable.

Manufacturers must decide what new products they must make to take place of their present war output.

The great single problem threatening American prosperity is labor. Manufacturers are already being obliged to drop many employees.

Many individual workers already see the handwriting on the wall and are quietly trying to get more permanent positions.

The ramifications of current business problems and those of the immediate postwar period are so many I cannot emphasize too strongly the need for efficient research and planning departments.

The Dewey-Bricker ticket is a definite "go ahead" signal, — win or lose.

If we have sound government policies and a greater degree of co-operation between government and business and co-operation between management and labor, we should have some good post war years.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

H. A. Spicer and son, S. W. Spicer, have broken ground for a new cottage in the grove at Walled Lake.

The Catholics of Plymouth and vicinity are planning on building a church and parish house here in the near future.

Lucille Miller, daughter of Mat Miller of Livonia, and John Gifford of Plymouth, were quietly married at the home of the bride's uncle, Peter A. Miller, at Newburg, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Arnold Leach left Friday for Kansas City, Kansas, where she will join her husband and make her future home.

Since the opening of the sale of lots in the new Amelia Starkweather subdivision, more than thirty lots have already been sold.

Mack Cook and Miss Hazel Fisher, both of Plymouth, were quietly married in Detroit, last Saturday. The young couple were attended by George Fisher and Miss Alice Larden, brother and niece of the bride.

The stone work on the new bank building is fast nearing completion. The new curbing in front of the high school building is a great improvement.

Miss Madeline Bennett has gone to Grand Ledge for a week's visit with Miss Helen Shearer.

A new concrete bridge will take the place of the iron structure which now spans the Rouge at Phoenix. We understand the new bridge will be built where the old bridge used to stand, thus doing away with the sharp turn at the south end approach.

The Clemens family of Newburg accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Levan and granddaughter, Vera Woods, picnicked at Bob-lo, Tuesday.

The hum of the threshing machine is again heard. The yield of wheat is not as large as has been expected, on account of the continued rains in the spring, followed by the extreme heat.

Tire Situation Grows Serious

Despite the announcements by the OPA in Washington, the tire situation in Plymouth is bad, and tire dealers report it is worse than it has been since the rationing of tires started.

Garnet Baker, a member of the tire panel of the Plymouth War Price and Rationing board, said this week that there are sufficient applications for tires now on file to take up the tire allotment for the next thirty days.

A check of the tire dealers in Plymouth shows that some of them have tires, and others have not. One reported that the manufacturers are unable to satisfy the demand for new tires because of a shortage of manpower.

There seems to be no lack of stock now of crude rubber, but all available manpower is now being used to manufacture tires for the army, with the result that there are none for civilian use.

Some of the shortage of tires in the Plymouth area is occasioned by the fact that new tire applications for workers in the Kelsey-Hayes and other plants are being processed through the local board. Despite this drain on the local board, additional tires for the area are now at a premium, and there is nothing the local board can do about the situation.

The tire problem is now considered to be so desperate that only the most urgent of applications from prime war workers are being considered at all.

Service station operators report there are now more service calls for tire repair on the roads than at any time since the start of the war.

WANTED!

ALL-CROP HARVESTER OWNERS TO JOIN THE SEED TASK FORCE

Seed is the farmer's ammunition. The supply is running dangerously low. Legume and grass seeds of all kinds are needed very urgently.

This job calls for every available All-Crop Harvester in this vicinity to join the "Seed Task Force". Your machine and your experience in harvesting seeds are an invaluable asset.

We are gladly volunteering as SEED TASK FORCE headquarters. Register your machine with us.

As a service to all farmers, we will be glad to help those who have no means of harvesting seed to contact All-Crop Harvester owners. The high seed prices will make it mutually profitable for you to get together... now before it is too late.

Tips for Bigger SEED YIELDS

- 1. Cut hay earlier, when it's fine and high in protein; then harvest the late cutting for seed. 2. Feed green corn, soybean hay, sudan grass or other emergency crop. Reserve the late cutting hay for seed, in keeping with best local practice. 3. Remove livestock from pasture several weeks in advance. Give it a chance to set seed. 4. Locate commercial beehives if possible. Bring them to your fields to cross-pollinate the blossoms. 5. Have us give your All-Crop Harvester the 24-POINT Farm Commando inspection and make it ready for handling these special crops.

DETROIT EDISON LINES

NEARLY EVERY DAY one reads of some new device to make living easier and pleasanter in the postwar home. Automatic dishwashers, quick-freeze cabinets, automatic home laundries, garbage disposal units, television sets, fluorescent lighting, air conditioning... the list is endless and varied. But all have one thing in common: They all operate by ELECTRICITY. Which raises a question: Will your house wiring be able to carry this postwar burden? If you are building a new home after the war, plan to provide proper wiring. More than ever in the home of tomorrow, electricity will play a major role.

TODAY'S TASTE TEMPTER... Here's a tiptop summer recipe from our Home Service Department:

Carried Shrimp in Green Peppers 2 cups medium white sauce 1 cup shrimp 2 tablespoons pimiento 1/2 teaspoon curry. Combine all the ingredients and fill green peppers. Place in tightly covered skillet with 1/2 cup water and let steam 45 minutes.

GOOD DEED FOR THE DAY... Boy Scout Robert Neal, Troop 343, recently performed a public service and did his duty as a Scout by warning people away from electric wires that had fallen in an alley in Detroit.

When our line crew arrived to handle the fallen wires, Scout Neal was on the job, keeping passersby away from the live wires. He stayed on the job until all danger was removed. Hats off to Robert Neall!

A JOB TO COME HOME TO... More than fifty Edison men in military service already have been mustered out and have returned to their jobs. A training program is now being worked out for other war veterans when they return. Many will have gained new skills and added years of experience. Others may be physically handicapped and will need lighter work. The Company feels that merely holding a place for service men and women isn't enough.
