

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

By Egon R. Eaton

HELPING THE WAR EFFORT.

Last week Friday Nazi troops were tearing through the American lines over in Europe, driving their bayonets through the hearts of American boys, blowing many to bits by artillery fire and crushing others into the earth by their great and powerful tanks.

Down in Detroit last Friday, a war plant foreman fired a "workman" because he absolutely refused to work. Then the whole plant went on strike because the firing was "work" was fired. Saturday the "foreman" was given his job back because the U. S. Conciliation Service asked the management to re-instate him to his old job where he wouldn't work. He went back to "work," but the plant was closed down because the other employees were still on strike.

This is all legal, right and proper under the rules and regulations of the New Deal.

But in the name of justice, in the name of decency and honor, how long is our country going to keep on tolerating such a situation?

FAITH IN MICHIGAN'S SUPREME COURT.

Michigan, during its long history, has been blessed with a supreme court membership which is far above the average. The court within the past few days has given additional demonstration as to why the people of Michigan have so much faith in its work and decisions.

Both Republican and Democratic members of the bench united last week in re-affirming the constitutionality of the one-man grand jury act in a most sweeping manner. The ruling involved a 60-day contempt of court sentence imposed by Circuit Judge Leland W. Carr in November on Francis P. Slattery, banker, who was held to have evaded answering questions.

The court reviewed six cases in which the court had previously upheld constitutionality of the act involving such legal points as the following: Non-judicial duties of circuit judge, conviction for perjury, judicial capacity of circuit judge in conducting examinations, and disclosure by attorney of information claimed to be confidential.

"So that there may be no further questions," the court opinion said, "we hold that the judge conducting a one-man grand jury proceeding is acting in a judicial capacity."

In reviewing the Slattery case, the court pointed out: "The refusal to answer or the giving of an evasive reply obstructs the work of a judge or jury which in an orderly manner is seeking to ascertain whether a complaint is true and whether certain crimes have been committed. If the witness could hide behind the answer, 'I don't remember,' or words to that effect, when such statement was manifestly untrue, it would emasculate the one-man grand jury proceeding and make them of little or no value." As to the claim that extra work was being imposed upon the judge, the court opinion stated: "We know of no more important duty than to sit as a one-man grand jury called to uncover criminal malfeasance in office."

The record of the Lansing one-man grand jury to date is sensational. Out of 68 arrests made in 1944, there were 28 convictions and two acquittals. Thirty-eight cases are awaiting trial.

More indictments, it is stated, are to come soon. The indictments are a stain upon the good name of Michigan. But to clean out the thieves and grafters, it is necessary that they be exposed and prosecuted and punished for their crimes.

What a God-send it is to Michigan to have a supreme court that is above approach and renders its decisions fearlessly in the best interests of all the people of the state.

THE GREAT POLITICAL FAKE.

Below is what John O'Donnell of the Washington Times-Herald has to say of the press conference at which the President made a most amazing and startling statement to the effect there was no real written formal Atlantic Charter:

(By John O'Donnell)

That New Deal holy of holies, the sanctified Atlantic Charter (which President Roosevelt once told the world ranked with the Ten Commandments and Magna Carta in the history of mankind) yesterday was whittled down to the size of a rubber check, drawn on imaginary funds in a nonexistent bank and issued unsigned by a couple of "big shot" international poker players named Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill.

The President told the fantastic tale of the nonexistent Atlantic Charter at an amazing press conference in the White House—his first since November 27 when he left here for Warm Springs.

To these eyes his face had that bronzed hue of health which since the days of '33 we have noted he has been able to recapture by escapes to the sunshine.

Perhaps the make-up artists with sun lamps and Hollywood touches had prepared him for his session with over 250 pairs of critical newspaper eyes. This we doubt. He looked authentically healthy. And the Atlantic Charter looked definitely and ridiculously dead.

In cold fact the President bluntly declared that there never was such a thing as the Atlantic Charter in the sense of there being in existence a formal document signed by himself and Britain's Premier, Winston Churchill.

As the President explained matters, it was easy to understand how Winston Churchill, under fire before the House of Commons over the partition of Poland, could be accused of misquoting the terms of an Atlantic Charter which never existed.

Sharply questioned by correspondents, the President told his press conference that the so-called Atlantic Charter—the supposed basis of Anglo-American principles on which the two nations entered a global war—consists merely of scribbled memoranda, some in Roosevelt's handwriting, some in Churchill's, some in that of Harry Hopkins. But all very informal, don't you know—some notes that you tossed off, and if anybody happened to sign them it would be the radio operators aboard Britain's battleship, the Prince of Wales, and our cruiser, Augusta, which bore the chiefs of state on their pre-pearl Harbor rendezvous off Newfoundland, in August 1941.

Most airily, brushing off with gracious insouciance the penetrating questions of such White House correspondents as J. Roscoe Drummond, of the Christian Science Monitor; the Chicago Sun's Thomas F. Reynolds; Warren B. Francis, of the Los Angeles Times; and the even more biting queries of Maine's Elizabeth May Craig, the President sought to put over the idea that even if the Atlantic Charter existed only as an idea it was still a fine and potent thing.

The great crack that the President received came when it was pointed out, courteously and firmly, that White House Secretary Stephen T. Early, on instructions from the President, still at sea, issued formally from the White House on August 14, 1941, the text of the so-called Atlantic Charter over the vitally important lines:

(Signed) Franklin D. Roosevelt.

(Signed) Winston Churchill.

Now that was a pretty tough one to answer, but F.D.R. hasn't lost any of his mental agility or what G.O.P. Candidate Dewey described as his "slipperiness" in giving an honest answer.

Well, F.D.R. came back at this one with the observation that after all it wasn't a formal document, it was a sort of a memorandum and everybody agreed to it. At least it was signed in substance because the spirit was there.

Now all this brought up the muttering in the rear as to whether a hit in a crap game, or an agreement among nations, is any good if the high contracting parties (whether they're trying to make an eight hard way or just establish an English-speaking dictatorship) decide to back up their lunches with unsigned checks which are good "in spirit only."

F.D.R. stuck to his point that there is no signed original of the Charter for, as he rather tartly observed, the entertainment of Washington sightseers. In fact, there isn't any original.

He went back to the probability that the radio officer and his files aboard the Prince of Wales would have the original scribbled notes. He didn't mention that the Prince of Wales and presumably all the radio operators' equipment and files was sunk off Singapore the week after Pearl Harbor.

And so, on December 19, at the White House press conference conducted by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the myth of the Atlantic Charter was at long last blown to bits.

That particular bit of cheap-jack hypocrisy has been sunk without a trace by the reputed author of something which never, in fact, existed. The air smells better now.

F.D.R. has escaped the shame of having his one-time pet Atlantic Charter ranked in history with World War I famous "scrap of paper" by the simple expedient of pointing out that the Atlantic Charter never existed except in the minds of suckers.

And Brother Churchill was absolved by F.D.R. "Did Mr. Churchill ever sign the Atlantic Charter?" demanded one suspicious reporter who had a hunch that although F.D.R. had cut himself out, he might perhaps have left Pal Winfield holding the bag.

Never, solemnly proclaimed the President. Nobody ever signed the Atlantic Charter.

You're thinking in awfully banal phrases and thoughts. It was scribbled on pieces of paper. It was sent to the British and the United States governments to be released to the papers. And that's the Atlantic Charter.

Thus President Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Lieut. Gary Tubergen Was Killed in Action Over Germany Nov. 26

Lieut. Gary Tubergen, 22 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Tubergen of 10289 Stark road, who was reported missing over Germany two weeks ago, was killed in action, according to a cablegram received by his parents Monday.

The American Red Cross headquarters was notified by the German government that the death of Lieut. Tubergen took place during an American air raid over Germany on November 26.

The youthful Plymouth bomber official had taken part in many missions over Germany previous to the one that cost him his life.

He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Tubergen. He has two sisters, Florence, an employee of the Dunn Steel Products company, and Betty, an eighth grade student in the Newburg schools. The father has been employed by the Nash-Kelvinator plant for many years. Lieut. Tubergen was well known and popular among the many young people of this city, most of whom are now in the armed forces of our country.

Vernon Rorabacher Expected Home From Germany—Lost Right Hand

Vernon F. Rorabacher, former Plymouth high school student, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rorabacher now residing on Hix road just north of Wayne, will be home soon from the battle front in Germany.

He is returning home with one hand instead of two. He has left his right hand somewhere in Europe where a German shore left it in an engagement fought on December 2.

Vernon had been in service less than eight months when badly wounded. He was inducted into the infantry forces on May 11, 1944 and was for a time stationed at Camp Fannin in Texas.

He went overseas on November 1 and on December 2 he was wounded in action somewhere in Germany.

His parents have just received a letter from him in which he says that he expects to be back in the States soon. The Rorabacher family is well known in Plymouth. For many years they did farming on East Ann Arbor trail near the Hix road. A few years ago they moved a few miles south on Hix road to another farm where Mr. Rorabacher farms as much as he can. Vernon has a brother, 18 years old who attends school in Wayne. He also has two sisters. The wounded lad was a former student of the Plymouth schools.

Government Orders All 4Fs Under 38 to Get Essential Jobs Now

Probably no order issued since the enactment of the selective service act will create so much general interest and upsets in Plymouth and other cities as the order of the President that all 4Fs under the age of 38 must immediately secure jobs in some industry essential to the war.

The order provides that any man, no matter what his handicaps might be, if under 38 years of age and not working at some business which is of aid to the war effort, must seek immediate employment in some industry helping the war.

If any one in this group quits his present job, he must report to the United States employment office and to his local draft board immediately.

Many who have been employed in industrial and business places not regarded as essential to the war, have already gone into some of the local war plants or made application for positions.

Meanwhile at the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant in Plymouth experienced women war workers are being laid off and they report that they are unable to secure positions elsewhere.

Daisy Company Honors Another One of Its 25 Year Employees

Following its usual custom which has prevailed for more than 20 years, the Daisy Manufacturing company last Friday presented to Joseph Lorenz, who has been in the employ of the company for more than 25 years, a gold wrist-watch. Charles H. Bennett, president of the company, expressed the gratitude of the management for the faithful service of Mr. Lorenz and wished him much happiness and prosperity in the years to come.

Mr. Bennett made it clear that even though these are war years and the Daisy has the same problems as the individual, it does not want to end a custom that has meant so much to both the company and its family of Daisy workers during the last quarter of a century. For years it has been the practice of the company every year to honor employees when they reach the end of a 25 year period of services with the Daisy.

Portable School House of Patchen District Burns to the Ground

Fire Sunday afternoon completely destroyed the two room portable school house erected in 1941 to take care of the large increase in the Patchen school district attendance.

The structure, 22x76 feet, stood at the back end of the school property and housed more than 80 of the pupils of the school. It was used by the first four grades.

How the fire started is unknown. People living in the immediate vicinity heard a slight explosion and a few minutes later another one of much more volume than the first one. The entire structure was almost immediately enveloped in flames.

The Plymouth and other fire departments were called but by the time they arrived, the structure was almost burned to the ground. Clyde Smith, secretary of the school board, stated that the building cost $9,000 when erected. It was heated by an oil furnace, located in another structure, 12x24 feet, which was also burned to the ground.

Walter Harms stated that the district carried adequate insurance on the structures. The school is located on Newburg road, near Ford road. The main school structure was not damaged.

Banks Elect Same Officers

Both Plymouth banks had their annual stockholders' meetings and elections of officers, as required by law, Tuesday, and all officers of both institutions were re-elected.

President Floyd Kehrl, of the First National Bank in Plymouth, announced to the stockholders that deposits had increased $748,000 in 1944 and that the bank had sold $1,071,175 in War Bonds during the fourth, fifth and sixth War Loan Drives in 1944.

Harry O. Mohrmann, cashier of Plymouth United Savings Bank, listed a deposit increase of $700,000 and sales of $773,000 in War Bonds during 1944.

Officers re-elected at First National were Kehrl, president; Russell Roe, vice president; Charles Finlan, vice president; Jack Taylor, cashier; Walter Brown, auditor; Arnold Luksche, administrative assistant; Dr. John Olaver, chairman of the board of directors; and George H. Robinson, director.

Officers re-elected at Plymouth United were: Charles H. Bennett, president; Edson O. Huston, vice president; Russell M. Daane, vice president; Paul V. Voochies, chairman of the board of directors; Mohrmann, cashier; Clara L. Alexander, assistant cashier; and John Blyton, Dr. Luther Peck, Charles H. Rathburn, Jr., Ernest S. Roe and Cass F. Hough, directors.

Bennett, Huston and Daane also are directors.

Arthur Eckles Dies Suddenly At Home Wednesday

Funeral services will be held Saturday for Arthur Eckles, who passed away suddenly at his home on Ball street last Wednesday afternoon. The news of his death came as a shock to his wide circle of friends who had thought his ailing health better during the last few months.

Mr. Eckles was one of the city's best known business men having started in the feed and coal business over forty years ago as a youth on his father's farm on Haggerty Highway north of Plymouth. In 1922 he moved his business to Plymouth and became associated with Oliver Goldsmith at which time the present buildings of the firm were erected.

In 1927 he bought out the interest of Mr. Goldsmith and his nephew, Floyd Eckles, became associated with him. The firm operated from that time until last June when poor health of both forced the sale of the business to Mr. and Mrs. William Ottwell of Plymouth.

Mr. Eckles was married to Martha Pagel in 1931 who survives him, as well as several nieces and nephews residing in and around Plymouth. Reverend Henry Walch will conduct the services which will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Schrader Funeral Home. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

Presbyterian Men Organize Club

Some sixty men of the Presbyterian Church met on Wednesday night in the church dining room to organize a mens' club. Mr. James Gallimore was elected president, and Mr. Herman Scheel, secretary and treasurer. After a hymn sing, led by Chauncey Rauch, brief talks were made by George Smith, Raphael Mettetal, Everett Gulden, and Henry Walch. The refreshments for the evening were served by a commissary committee headed by Everett Gulden, and composed of Milton Laible, Harold Curtis, Wally Laury, Hugh Law, and Eugene Benson. Plans were made for meetings to be held each second Wednesday evening of the month, with a program of recreation, fellowship, and special projects. All men of the church and community who are interested are invited to attend.

Subdivision Home Destroyed by Fire

Fire Tuesday afternoon destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, at 11866 Butternut, in the Robinson subdivision.

The fire started when the kitchen oil stove exploded throwing oil over the whole house. Firemen were hampered by lack of water and for a while the flames threatened neighboring houses.

The Allens and their three children were able to save practically nothing of their belongings.

Fat Collection Shows Increase

Plymouth housewives during the month of December saved and turned over to the government's munition factories 1,527 pounds of fat, an increase of a little more than 250 pounds over the previous month.

Mrs. R. D. Merriam, chairman of this committee, states that she hopes the total will continue to grow during the next few months and that it will soon exceed that of a year ago.

First Aid Instructions Scheduled Next Thursday

Only 25 Names Needed on Nominating Petition

Attention, prospective candidates for municipal offices.

You'll only need 25 (twenty-five) names on your nominating petitions in order to get your name on the primary ballot, March 5.

Through a typographical error last week, the story in the Plymouth Mail said 285 names were necessary. So, you can quit worrying about trying to get that many names before the filing deadline.

There was no error in the deadline for filing, however. It's still Feb. 1, said City Manager Clarence H. Elliott.

William Swadling Prisoner of War in Germany, Family Advised

Months of suspense and worry for a wife, father and mother ended Tuesday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Bert Swadling received a telegram from Europe stating that their son William, reported missing in action in Germany on September 26, is now a prisoner of war in Germany.

Efforts made by the family after they were first advised of the loss of "Bill" to secure information as to his fate were unavailing and it was not until this week that any of his family knew definitely his fate.

The meager information that came Tuesday was the first news of any kind received since the dispatch last fall which advised the family that "Bill" was missing in action.

Mrs. Swadling and little son Jack are residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thatcher at 262 Blanche street.

Soldier Swadling was overseas in just a few months after he was inducted into service. He was on the continent but a few days before he was reported as missing in action. All of his many friends in Plymouth rejoice with his family over the fact that he is known definitely to be alive, even though a prisoner.

Twins Are Born To The Widow of a Soldier

Twins—a son and a daughter—came into the world last Saturday, January 6, the children of Mrs. Louise Burke, the widow of Donald Burke, an American soldier who lies buried in a hero's grave somewhere in France. He was killed during the early weeks of the invasion of the European continent by the armed forces of the United States.

The boy has been named Leonard Carl and the little miss has been named Marcia Mae. Mother and baby, in Session hospital at Northville, are doing nicely.

Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burke, parents of the dead soldier-hero, are staying at the home of Mrs. Burke on Ravine road caring for the other two children of Mrs. Burke, a six year old son and a four year old girl. Mrs. Burke is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Talmadge of Bradner road. The father of the twins, who left for overseas late in the summer, was killed sometime during October.

Rev. Hoenecke Named Member of Building Board

Rev. Edgar Hoenecke has been appointed as a member of the Executive Committee for Buildings of the Wisconsin Synod of the Lutheran Church, which will present plans for a $900,000 building project to the Special Session of the Synod at Milwaukee, Wisconsin on the 17th and 18th of this month.

The committee has been working on the preliminary preparations for the project for the past three months, after appointment by the Synod's president. All the needs for new buildings to be erected at the various educational institutions of the Synod have been ascertained and are to be presented to the Lutheran body in a lump, some to be taken care of with critically necessary buildings as soon as priorities for building can be secured, others to wait until after the war.

One of the institutions badly in need of a new recreation building and gymnasium is the Michigan Lutheran Seminary at Saginaw, a pretheological school of the church. The enrollment at this school has advanced 75 per cent in three years.

Other members of the committee are Dr. Edmund Rein of the Theological Seminary at Milwaukee and Rev. I. R. Habek of Minocqua, Wisconsin. About two hundred delegates from all over the United States will meet at Milwaukee to deliberate and to decide on the building program. The project is conceived as a means of combining a necessary building program for the church with that of providing additional work for the post-war period.

Pastor Theodore Sauer of Five Mile and Farmington Roads is also to attend the convention as a regularly appointed delegate, holding over from the last regular session in 1943.

Two Plymouth Boys Due Home Next Week

Mrs. Julia Guidner, of 558 North Harvey street, is breathlessly awaiting the arrival home of her two sons, Cpl. Arthur F. Russell and Pfc. William C. Guidner, from the South Pacific on 30-day furloughs.

They're enroute from the West Coast from where they called their mother by phone. Both are due next week. Arthur was on Saipan and Bill was on Guam. They met for the first time in three years at Pearl Harbor.

Salvation Army Plans Special Services Sunday

Maj. Agnew, young peoples' secretary for the Eastern Michigan division, will conduct the 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. services. The evening services will include a "Book of Remembrance," honoring the men and women in service.

The public is invited.

Automobile Tire Shortage Grows Serious

Notice that fellow spinning his tires on the ice the other day?

He was trying to back away from the curbing at lightning speed.

His wheels spinned so fast that the heat caused steam to rise from the ice.

Maybe he thought it was cute—some young fellows were watching him.

He'll be wondering in a few short months what he will do about tires.

Local tire dealers have received information that automobile tires will be as scarce as hen's teeth before summer arrives.

Earl Fluelling, who runs a tire-recapping plant, states that he has been advised that the only rubber he will get from now on for recapping purposes will be reclaimed rubber.

Up to the present he has been receiving a high grade rubber that has given car owners excellent service, providing they didn't try to burn up the pavings.

"This reclaimed stuff will be better than nothing," said Mr. Fluelling, "but it will not be anywhere near as good as the rubber we have been using for recaps. Auto drivers will have to be mighty careful of their tires from now on, because from all the information I can get hold of, there will not be many more good tires for a long time to come."

Carl Shear, Buick dealer, says he is not too alarmed over the situation.

"There can be plenty of synthetic rubber produced to take care of the army and necessary civilian use, providing they can get production out of the factories. It's hard to find men to work, but maybe the present labor situation will ease off before long and there will be more new rubber for civilian use," said Mr. Shear.

"But I agree with Mr. Fluelling that everybody should be careful of their tires and their automobiles, too. If drivers will use their machines with a full realization that it may be another two years or more before we can get new cars, there will not be too bad a transportation breakdown," said Mr. Shear.

William Baker, a member of the tire rationing panel, stated yesterday that the tire allotment for this vicinity for January had been cut "right in half."

"I see it, the situation will not be any better. I don't know as it can get any worse, but it may. We had only 200 tires for this vicinity for this month. What we will get for February, I don't know, but it surely will not be more than it is for this month, and maybe not as many. You can tell these automobile drivers that they had better begin to take good care of their automobile tires if they want to keep driving their cars," stated Mr. Baker.

"March of Dimes" Headed By Lantz

A. L. Lantz has been named campaign director of the annual fund appeal and March of Dimes to be conducted January 14-31 in celebration of the President's birthday by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Commenting on the need to reinforce our lines of defense against this insidious enemy of childhood, Lantz stated, "The 1944 epidemic of infantile paralysis was the second worst outbreak of the disease in its history in the United States."

"Fortunately, we were on the alert and well prepared to meet that attack in all parts of the nation."

"More than a million dollars—or ten million dimes—contributed by the American people were spent by your National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to provide the best of modern care and treatment for all victims of the epidemic."

"Since no one knows where, or how hard, polio may strike in 1945, we must again be ready to meet the attack wherever it may come."

"Participation in the annual March of Dimes appeal is our assurance that no victim of infantile paralysis will go uncared for, regardless of age, race, creed or color."

Lantz has named Mrs. Katherine Henderson and Mrs. Esther Valli-Ouette as his assistants in the drive.

Mrs. Jack McAllister entertaining a few guests, Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Edmund P. Yerkes, of Northville, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bresser, were Mrs. Hugh Cash, Mrs. Harry Davis, Mrs. Howard Dicks and Mrs. Edwin Campbell.

Collect Paper In Third District

Troop P-3 of the Boy Scouts will make a waste paper collection tomorrow at 10 a.m. in District 3, bounded by Pennington, Main, Church, the Pere Marquette railway and the city limits, Sheldon.

All residents of this area are urged to cooperate with the Scouts in every way possible and have every scrap of paper they can scrape up ready for the pickup.

This vital war material has been termed the No. 1 critical shortage by the War Production Board. One mill in Michigan already has been forced to close down because of the dire shortage and others may have to follow.

More than 700,000 vital war products absolutely necessary to the successful prosecution of the war—are made with the use of waste paper and there is a threat of a complete breakdown if the paper isn't obtained.

Michigan mills produce 39 per cent of all the badly needed paper made with the use of waste.

Among the products made from the waste paper are shell casings, which use 90 per cent waste to 10 per cent pulp. Blood plasma containers also are made from waste paper.

Thursday Last Day For School Registration

Claude Dykhouse, High School principal, reminds returned veterans and adults wishing to enroll in the spring night school program that next Thursday night is the deadline for enrollment.

The new program, which includes classes Mondays through Thursdays, lists a special class in English, history and government for servicemen which will give credit toward a high school diploma.

It also lists a special parent education course given by Mrs. B. M. Murray, of the University of Michigan extension department. Classes in this course won't start, however, until later in the term.

Eight other courses are included in the program.

Lutherans Hold Annual Meeting

Reports on the 88th year of the existence of the Lutheran church in Plymouth were received by the assembled voters of the congregation on Tuesday evening. Under the able and progressive leadership of Albert Rohde, president, and Edward Hoshbach, vice-president, the congregation has concluded one of the most eventful periods in its history.

Because of the fact that the congregation is definitely hemmed in at the present location, the momentous decision to relocate on a new site has been passed, all but one of the lots on the corner of Pennman avenue and Garfield street having now been purchased from the Allen estate. If the necessary priorities can be obtained, building operations are to begin this spring on the first unit, a combination Christian Day School, parish house and auditorium, seating 300, plus a ladies' parlor and meeting room. At a special meeting on Jan. 24, the congregation will select a firm of architects to carry out the building of the new complex which is to be erected by March 5, 1956, will consist of a large church, school and parsonage, done in the Early American style of architecture. Every effort is being made to erect buildings which will be a credit to and a fitting embellishment for the entire community.

The Planning Committee of the church has worked on the plans for these buildings for the past two years with marked success. The vote of confidence of the congregation, consisting of the entire membership, for an additional year indicated the satisfaction and approval of the congregation. The committee consists of Jacob Brinks, chairman, Edward Hoshbach, Roy Fisher, Louis Ribar and A. Perry Wood.

Paul Groth and Edward Hoshbach were re-elected to the Church Council for another three years, while George Schultz was elected in place of Charles Rohde who, because of a recent eye injury, could not remain active as a member of the council.

The officers of the congregation, elected for the coming year, are the following: Albert Rohde, president, Edward Hoshbach, vice-president, Walter Schultz, secretary, William Bartel Jr., treasurer, Paul Groth financial secretary, Jacob Brinks, chairman of the board of trustees, Harold Stevens, William Kreeger, and George Schultz, deacons, Edwin Goebel, also a member of the council, is at present inactive, while he is serving his country in the army.

The newly elected officers will be formally inducted into office at the regular service next Sunday morning.

The finances of the congregation show a considerable increase over the past years. This will be of special interest to those who believe that a church can be properly supported without pledges, dues, or commercialization of any kind. All the funds received were contributed directly without solicitation from either members or non-members, almost exclusively in the Sunday morning services. Receipts in 1930 were $3,423.52, an average of $20.13 per communicant member, while last year's receipts reached an all-time peak of $14,185.36, an average of $38.01 per communicant.

The Finance Committee, assisted by William Bartel and Paul Groth, consists of William Gayde, Wesley Sheere, Harold Kuisel, Walter Tacia, and George Peterson.

A total of almost $15,000 has now been collected for the new site, and the church building and organ funds. Of this amount, the congregation holds war bonds of almost $7,000 maturity value. Within a little more than a year

Rouge Quintet Invades Plymouth Gym Tonight

The River Rouge High School basketball team invades the Plymouth High gymnasium tonight to challenge the bid of Coach John Tomshack's charges for their fifth victory in six games and their fourth in a row. It will be the last home game until Feb. 2.

Tomshack announced yesterday he has drafted Bill Strautz, high-scoring, 6-foot sophomore forward from the second team to replace Duane Olds who appears lost for the season due to the leg injury he aggravated last month.

The coach said he also is expecting momentarily to lose Bob Hall, who has just returned to the squad after being out a couple of weeks with a leg injury. Hall will be 18 this month and is enlisting in the Navy before his birthday.

The Plymouth quintet had to come from behind last week to gain its fourth victory by defeating Ypsilanti, 45 to 41. The Rocks trailed, 22 to 12, at halftime and had to put on a bit of a spur to keep the visitors from gaining the victory column for the first time this season.

Bob Reinas ran wild to score 19 points and lead the Rocks to victory. He was followed by Bob Brink, who tallied 13.

The boys apparently were troubled with overconfidence in the first half but the tables appeared to have turned after the intermission, with the visitors sighting their first triumph and the locals just a little worried.

Terry Hitt paced the seconds to a 27 to 23 victory over the Ypsi seconds with nine points.

Last Thursday afternoon, the Plymouth freshmen lost a close decision, 36 to 33, to Redford Union, while the Eighth Graders defeated the Redford Union Eighth Graders, 27 to 20.

The Plymouth Fresh and Eighth Graders journeyed to Belleville Thursday afternoon for games with the teams of that city's school.

Further details and box scores of last week's games will be found in the "Plymouth Prints" section, on Page 8.

The meeting, at 8 p.m., will include refreshments and a special "surprise" program, Mrs. Holton said.

Maccabee News

The public is invited to attend the installation of the following incoming officers of the Maccabees on Wednesday, January 17, at 8 p.m.: Bessie Sallow, commander; Louise Granger, past commander; Hazel Norgrove, Lt. commander; Clara Mumby, chaplain; Arbutus Killingworth, first guard; Glenda Pyle, second guard; Doris Curtis, sergeant; Arnetta Hance, Master at Arms; Ella Gould, sentinel; Zeda Gordon, picket; Doris Nickelson of Detroit will be installing officer. Made President of Michigan Club

Plymouth residents will be interested in knowing that Arthur Goodhue, a former resident of Blumk avenue this city, has been elected president of the Michigan club of Lake Worth, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodhue have spent the past several winters in Lake Worth. They left Plymouth early last fall for Florida and recently purchased a home in Lake Worth. They plan to make that place their permanent home, returning to Plymouth for brief periods during the summer months.

Mrs. Goodhue is the mother of Mrs. Charles Garlett and Sam Shattuck, both residents of Plymouth.

The Michigan Club of Lake Worth has over 200 members, all residents of this state who spend their winters in the southland.

Schoolteachers of Michigan and Illinois who got conservation instruction in the field last summer are visiting conservation department headquarters in Lansing.

The teachers were enrolled in a class held at the department's training school at Higgins Lake. Teachers of the short course also are attending the reunion.

Editor to Be Town Hall Speaker

Frank Gervasi, Collier's dynamic Associate Editor, will review the latest news from the war fronts at Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, January 17, at 11 o'clock. The noted correspondent returned recently from the invasion areas where he has been covering the news for his magazine. He has been in the battle areas almost continuously since the war started, and before joining Collier's was an INS correspondent in Europe for five years.

Described by Hugh Walpole as "one of the best journalists in the world," Gervasi has covered the important stories of the age. He reported the war action in the Mediterranean, followed the Italian and Sicilian campaigns before joining the Allied troops for the big invasion. The news ace was the first to disclose Italian intervention in Spain for which he was expelled from Italy. He has interviewed some of the leading political figures of the world such as Mussolini, Antonio Primo de Rivera, General Weygand and Wavell, Premier Smuts, Count Ciano, and Virginia Gaysay. Last year, Gervasi made a 36,000 mile trip around the world, writing stories from England, France, Holland, Greece, the Balkans, Italy aly Syria and Palestine, and Egypt where he covered the war in the desert as an accredited correspondent with the British troops.

The famous editor-reporter is author of "The War Has Seven Faces." He is one of the most colorful and exciting figures in American journalism, a brilliant speaker and a superb news-getter. Advance reservations for the lecture are available at Grinnell's, Ra. 1124.

You can't cut grass with a dull lawn mower and Charlie McConnell says you can't cut hair with a pair of dull scissors. . . those in his barber shop at 249 S. Main street are always sharp.—Adv.

Besides buying War Bonds, the average American family, has saved nearly $2,000 in the past three years.

Playing with fast company, the Plymouth second team defeated a superb Ypsi passing combination by a score of 27 to 23 in the game here last Friday night. The score was fairly close all the time, but the Plymouth boys kept their slight lead during the last three quarters. The boys from Ypsi played plenty fast ball, but their shooting was not too often or too accurate. Terry Hitt, who ran up Plymouth's first 7 points, scored 9 points in all, and played lightning defensive ball. Hill, Ypsi forward, tallied 11 points, while 8 were credited to Ypsi's guard, Dawson. River Rouge Squad At Plymouth Tonight

The Plymouth basketball squad will meet River Rouge here tonight in what promises to be a very good game. The down river boys usually have a good team, and this season they have beaten Wayne 20 to 30, while Plymouth won over Wayne by only two points. The second team game will begin at 7 o'clock.

Staff Visits Plymouth Mail

The "Pilgrim Prints" staff visited the office of the Plymouth Mail last Thursday afternoon, and observed the printing of the paper. Mr. Eaton showed the staff how the linotype operates and how pictures are printed. As the paper is printed on Thursday afternoon, the staff saw the large press in action, and observed the method of sending out the paper to subscribers and servicemen.

Senior Sketches

David Folsom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Folsom of Ingram, Rosedale Gardens, is undecided about what vocation to enter. He is taking a college preparatory course. Bowling is his hobby, and he was a member of the baseball team. Girls who are boy-crazy are his pet peeve.

Wanda Harder, daughter of Howard and Freda Harder of Blackburn in Rosedale Gardens, is taking a general course and plans to go to business college after graduation. Her work at Pride Cleaners interferes with extra-curricular activities, so Wanda has been active in chorus only.

Jean Gould, daughter of Esther and Willis Gould of Holbrook, is taking an apprentice course. Jean's hobby is ice skating, and her pet peeve is "people who put on." She has been in Girl Scouts and Girl Reserves. Jean's plans for after graduation are very indefinite.

"People who run their mouths all the time" are the pet peeves of Jane Narthel Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Hood of 333 Maple Street. She is taking a commercial course and plans to attend business college and be a secretary or enter some form of business. Jane was secretary of Girl Reserves and was also in the Glee Club for three years and the Home Ec. Club.

Here and There

The Girl Reserves will give a tobogganing party at Cass Benton Park on January 25. Refreshments will be served.

Miss Gravelle received 65 rebound books from the bindery.

Alan Owens, now a flight officer, was a school visitor Wednesday. Harry Wooster called on Thursday, as did Warren Mason and Yale Cummings.

Latture Talks About Cookery

Mr. Latture is a good cook, a fact that can be verified by all the teachers. Last week he gave the girls of Homemaking III a talk on quantity cookery, a subject he is experienced in since he spent the past summer cooking for 800 at Interlocken National Music camp. Some of the points discussed and emphasized were to plan carefully when preparing large quantities of food, give yourself enough time, serve foods that can be prepared ahead of time, see that enough equipment is on hand to work with. Other things to remember are to plan meals ahead, make dishes that taste good, use plenty of milk and eggs as they are economical as well as nourishing and are ready to meet emergencies. He also explained methods of making large quantities of lemon juice and gravy. It is interesting to note that when men learn the art of cooking they often make better cooks than most women.

Exams May Have Hidden Qualities

Just think how petrified you'd be when you took your test for your driver's license if you'd never taken an examination. Or if you went to get a job and someone gave you a test that looked worse than all your five-weekers put together. It may be surprising to know that professional people, doctors, lawyers, and dentists; public service people, beauty parlor operators, firemen, barbers, and pharmacists; industrial workers, engineers, truck drivers, and inspectors; and office workers as underwriters, etc., must take an examination to get their jobs. Colleges, also grade you almost entirely on term and final exams and they have requested that A and B students, those who go to college, be given exams along with the others in order to prepare them for their college work. Plymouth high used to excuse all honor students from final examinations until the colleges found that such students, perhaps because of nervousness, never did themselves justice. So when you are cramming the night before, it may be some consolation to know that exams are a necessary part of education for tomorrow.

Ping Pong Offered to Girls

A girls' ping pong tournament will soon be organized, and all interested should contact Miss Olmsted. Since this may be played in homes, it is an especially valuable skill since so many homes are equipped with tables in their recreation rooms. Games that carry over into adult life and that do not demand teams and expensive equipment are more valuable to living than others.

The girls' bowling teams which were recently organized played Thursday, January 4. Shirley Sokow is manager of the teams and any girl interested in joining may contact her or Miss Olmsted. A girls' skating party was held recently at Newburg, with dancing and refreshments at the high school gym after the party. Basketball teams were organized and are practicing now for the tournament next semester.

Junior High Dance Tonight

Mr. Dykhouse announced recently that since the Junior high dance on December 8 had been a successful experiment, these dances would continue. Tonight, with a Junior high orchestra in the grade school gym the Junior high students will again dance from 7:30 until 10 p.m.

Be Ready January 24

Wednesday, January 24, is the fatal day. Exams start. The students will begin their examinations in regular class periods on Wednesday and will complete them on Thursday. Friday students will be excused while teachers correct papers and decide the students' fates. The new semester will begin on Monday, January 29.

Class News

The Pre-Flight class finished studying meteorology, which they found was very important in aviation. They learned how various weather instruments such as the barometer, hygrometer, thermometer, theodolite, anemometer, anemometer, and the anemograph are operated. The class is studying how the earth revolves to give seasons.

Alice Moore brought a log cabin, in which she had very cleverly constructed, to her 7B geography class, which is studying the unit on lumbering from those the coca cola company gave the class.

Gremlin Gossip

The little chair that isn't there has Barbara Folsom, hall marshal on the third floor first hour, hopping mad.

Asked to name a noted educator, an American history student wrote "Horse Man" (Horace Mann).

Congratulations to Mrs. Thams, general science teacher who has recently become grandmother to a nine pound baby girl who was born only three hours before her daddy left for overseas.

Coach John Tomshack, commonly known to students as J. T. was approached by an unsuspecting seventh grader and asked, "Does J. T. mean gym teacher?"

36-33 Final Score of Freshman Game

Although they lost their first game of the season to Redford Union 36 to 33, Plymouth freshmen played whirlwind ball last Thursday night when they came from behind a 13 point lead to score 21 points in the final quarter, and lose by only 3 points. With the score 25 to 12 at the half, Coach Tomshack put in his starting lineup, which he had removed earlier. Dobbs was high scorer for Plymouth with 10 points, while Cahea and Newton of Redford Union were credited with 11 points each. The lineups were:

Youngest Senior Is Fifteen

He is fifteen and a senior in a class whose average age is seventeen. He is also as shy about his age as a woman past her twenties. He won't publish his name either. But he says he went to a grade school where there were only three pupils. This shows clearly what individual attention in education can do. In modern classrooms of thirty to fifty pupils a student does not receive this personal attention and often falls down on his work. Teachers find it impossible to give slow pupils enough individual attention. Alert minds are made lazy by doing the same work as slow pupils. This condition is true in many schools especially in areas where new industries have developed and schools have not expanded to meet the new need. Since individual attention is impossible the only solution seems to lie in division of pupils according to intelligence in order to allow more advancement for those who are capable.

Accidents Due to Snow and Ice

If you were to have an accident and could choose the scene, where would it be? An unknown driver, one day last week, was responsible for snarled traffic right smack in front of the Plymouth hospital. A policeman rushed to the scene and unscrambled the traffic. There have also been a few minor accidents around school resulting from snowballs and ice. Teachers must also watch out for stray (*) snowballs.

Seniors to Give Mystery Play

Mystery and melodrama are the keynotes of the play "Last Warning" by Thomas F. Fallon, to be given by the Senior class. The cast includes Joan Gillis, Mitzie Jacobson, George Valrance, Stan Burden, Connie Moncrieff, Beverly Broman, George Waters, Jack Eubler, Audrey Neal, Lorraine Nichols, George Simmons, William Horie, Peggy Hart, Jim Witse and Ed Strong.

Plymouth Grads Do Well At "M"

A perusal of the records by Ira M. Smith, registrar of the University of Michigan, brought out the agreeable fact that students who entered the university from Plymouth in 1943 turned in fine scholastic records.

Smith told Claude J. Dkyhouse, principal of Plymouth High School, in a letter that the grade point average of the group for the first term was 2.77, which is just a shade below a B average.

To Open New Lands For Hunters Near Here

The conservation commission is expected to open several thousand acres of land in southeastern Michigan to public hunting next fall. The land has been bought as part of a 100,000-acre recreational development that will serve large downstate population centers.

To date, the commission has approved purchases of nearly 15,000 acres, financed by a $3,000,000 grant voted by the legislature last year. Postwar plans call for extensive development for recreational uses of acquired lands in a belt reaching from eastern Jackson county into Oakland county.

Such development will preclude hunting in some areas eventually but it is believed that hunting can be permitted with safety until facilities are provided for more extensive recreational use of the areas.

More Gardens Needed This Year

The State Victory Garden Committee of the Michigan Office of Civilian Defense has taken action to forestall a tendency on the part of the public to discontinue growing gardens in the face of a sharp curtailment in the amount of commercially canned foods available for civilians and an increase in food demands by the military forces.

According to Plymouth Victory Garden chairman, Robert Joliffe, a goal of 792,000 gardens has been set for Michigan in 1945. This is the same as in 1944, but only 750,000 gardens were grown this year. To assure reaching the goal and, if possible, exceed it, the committee will make greater use of the facilities of the Civilian Defense organization and request additional aid from the State College Extension service and the War Food administration to carry on the 1945 garden campaign and provide increased service to gardeners, particularly in the urban areas.

Figures show that there will be a smaller carry-over of the 1944 pack into the fall of 1945. Likewise it was reported that the armed forces want 53.5 per cent more canned fruits and vegetables next year than they did in 1944, and that the food situation has been further aggravated by the prolongation of the European war through reverses suffered on the Western front.

Action of the OPA in restoring many canned vegetables to the ration list was fully justified, the committee believed, and should be regarded by the public as certain proof that the need for victory gardens is as great as ever.

Figures are now available showing that probably less than 20 per cent of Michigan's families are canning and using the quantities of vegetables and fruits that are recommended by health and nutrition authorities. Only 15 per cent of Michigan's families are canning more than 50 quarts of food per person per year. With the current point values on canned food, it is considered impossible for families canning less than 50 quarts per person to purchase enough food to provide the 115 quarts health authorities regard as essential.

Gun Tax Buys Hunting Land

A federal tax on Plymouth hunters' guns and ammunition has helped pay for nearly 52,000 acres of hunting lands in downstate Michigan counties.

Nearly $60,000 is available at the start of the new year to finance additional land purchases.

Since July 1, 1939 when federal Pittman-Robertson funds first became available to finance game land purchases and game research in Michigan, the conservation department has acquired 51,358 acres in 14 state game areas in southern counties. Federal funds totaling $565,907 have been turned over to the state, biggest amount paid to any state.

Of each dollar spent on such projects, 75 cents is taken from Pittman-Robertson grants, 25 cents from conservation department license money.

About 77 per cent of the combined funds has been used in the purchase of state game lands in southern Michigan, about 11½ per cent has been used in research, about 3½ for land negotiation and office expense, and about 8 per cent remains unobligated.

One new project, near Lapeer, was initiated during 1944.

The department conducts two game management research projects, at Swan Creek in Allegan county, and at Rose lake near Lansing.

War-time manpower and materials shortages have held project development to a minimum during recent years, work having been limited to erection of partition fences, posting of boundaries so that the public can locate state-owned areas open to hunting, erection of roadside direction signs, and maintenance of improvements.

Pittman-Robertson funds are divided among the states and territories on the basis of land areas and hunting license sales. Michigan's 1944 allotment was $47,453.

He's Up, But Really He's Down, Figures Show

The express business in 1944 developed the unusual phenomenon of having shown a 14 per cent increase in volume but an actual decrease in volume and revenue, Leonard Millross, Railway Express agent, reports.

The increase was in the number of items handled but the total tonnage wasn't there, apparently because there was much more shipping by individuals, Millross said.

"In 1943 we had quite a bit of heavy tonnage from the industrial concerns in cases where large amounts of material were needed somewhere in a hurry," he explained. "Now that the shipping situation has leveled off somewhat, that picture no longer exists."

Charlie McConnell says don't come to his barber shop and expect to sleep in the chair because he's got a lot of customers who don't have time to waste. . . there is no delay at 249 S. Main street.

The log cabin is not native to America and it was unknown to our earliest colonists, such as those at Jamestown and Plymouth. This type of construction was introduced by the Swedes who founded their first settlement here in 1638 on a site that is now a part of Wilmington, Delaware.

YES, BUT A TELEPHONE ON THE PREMISES
DOESN'T ALWAYS MEAN WE CAN FURNISH SERVICE

If you move into a vacant home or apartment and find a telephone already there, you'll probably wonder why we may not be able to give you telephone service. Here's the reason:

As soon as a present customer moves out, even though the instrument may not be removed for several days, his service is disconnected at the central office. Then the equipment and switchboard space that telephone required are put right into use for war-essential or other priority service or for the next person on the waiting list.

With the armed forces taking most new telephone equipment, and with more people wanting service than ever before, we're following this fair and equitable plan provided for in governmental orders.

We'll be glad when we can again give all the service everybody wants—wherever and whenever they want it.

MEETS PLYMOUTH BOYS OVER IN SWELTERING NEW GUINEA.

In a brief Christmas note to The Plymouth Mail, Ruth Hadley with the American Red Cross in New Guinea, writes that she saw Don Blessing of this city recently somewhere over in New Guinea.

"He looks just fine. Also saw one of the Dempsey boys."

"Best Christmas wishes to everybody. This picture is a typical New Guinea setting. Just picture us among these New Guinea dusky belles. Truth to tell—I think we gain by the competition," she wrote.

PRIVATE LEROY WESTFALL COMPLETES AUTOMOTIVE COURSE.

Leroy E. Westfall of 840 Irwin Street, Plymouth, has just graduated from the automotive course at the Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland. Pvt. Westfall is the son of Louis F. Westfall, who resides at 840 Irwin street. He will soon return to his regular station where his address will be 32D 7th Ord. Depot Co., Fort Bliss, Texas.

PRIVATE KOWALSKI GETS FURLOUGH AFTER 30 MONTHS IN PACIFIC.

In a note from some distant part of embarkation somewhere over in the Asiatic Pacific came a brief notification from the army command that Private Kowalski, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kowalski of 1725 Gorman of Plymouth, has been granted a 30 day furlough. This youthful soldier has seen more than 30 months of service overseas.

ROBERT LORENZ, SAYS HE RECEIVED CHRISTMAS BOXES IN FINE SHAPE.

"I never thought they could cram so many Christmas presents in such small boxes," said Pvt. Robt. J. Lorenz, Plymouth, serving with the 36th "Texas" Division in eastern France. "We got everything this year—candy, cookies, cigarettes, even a fruit cake. It all came overseas faster than ever, in plenty of time for the holidays."

Pvt. Robert J. Lorenz has been overseas twenty and one-half months. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lorenz, live at 1419 Sheridan avenue.

SEABEES HAVE HIGH PRAISE FOR THEIR OUTFIT.

The Seabees are proud of their outfit and are not afraid to tell the world about it. From three of "Our Boys" in Seabee service, The Plymouth Mail received a brief sketch of the work of this famed outfit on its recent third anniversary.

The three Plymouth boys, Edgar W. Adams, M. C. Lickow and Donald Hirschlieb, from somewhere out in the Pacific, all sent to The Mail, the following brief tribute to the work of the Seabees:

"The third anniversary of the 'workingest, fightingest bunch of men' in the nation's armed forces, the Navy Seabees, was observed on December 28 by 240,000 officers and men of the United States Naval construction battalions.

"Born just three weeks after the Pearl Harbor disaster with an authorized strength of 3000, the Seabees won their spurs at Guadalcanal and have been with the assault troops in every major American amphibious operation. They can now boast that they built the network of air and naval bases in the Pacific that pushed the Japs back 3000 miles; that they developed amphibious equipment and techniques that helped carry the day on the African, Sicilian, Italian and Normandy beachheads.

Every commission Construction Battalion is either currently overseas or has completed a tour of duty; many battalions are on their second tours. Seventy-six percent of the Seabees are now outside the continental limits of the United States; only 9000 essential men have never seen foreign service.

"As General Douglas MacArthur wrote in a letter to Seabee chief Vice-Admiral Ben Moreell, 'The only trouble with your Seabees is that you don't have enough of them!'"

DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS AWARDED WILLIAM DEMPSEY.

S/Sgt. William H. Dempsey of 1623 Garland Street, Plymouth, now with an air transport command in India, has been awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross, as well as an Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal received some time ago, it was announced by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding general of the India China Division, Air Transport Command. The Distinguished Flying Cross is given after completion of 300 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the dangerous and difficult India-China air routes, where enemy interception and attack is probable and expected, while the Oak Leaf Cluster represent 450 hours of such flight.

The citation accompanying the awards add:

"Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable, mountainous terrain through areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments requiring courageous and superior performance of his duties to overcome... he accomplished his mission with distinction."

KEITH AVEY HELPS HIT NAZIS WITH THE THIRD ARMY.

(By Pfc. Mark F. Porter)

WITH THE THIRD INFANTRY DIVISION OF THE SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE—When the Third Division's 15th Infantry Regiment trains its new officers as artillery observers it does it realistically.

Take for instance 2nd Lieutenant Ernest J. Maron, of Lansdale, Pennsylvania, an infantry platoon leader. He was packed into a jeep with 1st Lieutenant Robert L. Hawkins, of Brooklyn, New York, a regular observer for the regiment's Cannon Company, along with the lieutenant's radio operator, Pfc. Robert W. Philenworth, of Circlo, Montana, and taken out to the bank of the Rhine.

Realism came quickly. On the way to the river Kraut planes came over to strafe. Jeep driver Pfc. Arnold R. Davis, of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, put on the brakes and all piled off into a nearby ditch as ack-ack popped away.

At the river the Third Division men lay on the reverse slope of an embankment and spotted their targets in German through concealing bushes.

A call back to Staff Sergeant William D. Richards, of Palestine, Illinois, section chief on a self propelled 75 mm gun, and his crew, brought direct hits on a farmhouse and set it on fire. They also shelled Jerry pill boxes along the bank and in a batch of woods.

The afternoon was well spent. Lessons were learned. Any Germans in the area were made uncomfortable and the farmhouse was destroyed.

Lieutenant Hawkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Hawkins, of 377 East 8th Street, Brooklyn, New York.

Lieutenant Maron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Maron, of Lansdale, Pennsylvania.

Pfc. Philenworth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Philenworth, of Circlo, Montana.

Pfc. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Davis, of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania.

Sergeant Richards is the son of Mrs. Vern Richards, of 402 East Franklin Street, Palestine, Illinois.

Other crew members on Sergeant Richards' gun included Pvt. Keith D. Avey, number one man and assistant driver, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burns, of 42435 Hammill Street, Plymouth, Michigan; Pfc. Clyde I. Edwards, driven son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde I. Edwards, 1616 Sharon Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana; Corp. Elmer P. Ode, gunner, of 110 North Underhill Street, Peoria, Illinois; Pfc. John A. Rivers, son of Mrs. Margaret Rivers, of 38 Houghton Street, Worcester, Massachusetts; and Pvt. Junior L. Sanders, son of Mrs. Lela Sanders, Winfield, Alabama, are both ammunition bearers.

GEORGE MOLNAR GOES TO UNKNOWN ADDRESS.

In a brief note asking that his copy of The Plymouth Mail be held up temporarily, George Molnar says he is being sent somewhere to an address he does not yet know.

His brief note says:

"I'm writing this letter to you as my only way that I can express my sincere appreciation for sending me a copy of The Plymouth Mail for the time I was away from home.

"I don't believe that the editor remembers me, but I think he remembers me, maybe if I mention the fact that I played ball for the Schrader & Haggerty baseball team for five years.

"I have completed 20 weeks of training as an Aviation Electrician's Mate, at the Naval Air Technical Training Center of Jacksonville, Florida, and I am leaving this base to be stationed elsewhere and am notifying you so you will not go to the expense of sending the paper to me here.

"I'm now closing this letter with great hopes of coming home to Plymouth soon and seeing all my friends back home and I'll pay you a special visit and thank you personally."

HAROLD KRAUSE NOW AT KEESLER FIELD.

Pvt. Harold Krause Jr., formerly of Plymouth, has reported to Keesler Field at Biloxi, Mississippi, to take the Army Air Forces Training Command examinations to determine his qualifications as a pre-aviation cadet.

As an application for training that will make him a flying officer, he will be given a series of medical and psychological tests at Keesler Field which will indicate

In a brief letter from Richard Behler, with the United States naval forces, he says he is located right on Broadway in New York, training for services at sea. "This is a strange place for a navy barracks. Broadway runs directly under my window and the Hudson river is only a block away. This is the last step in my training. It's a midshipman's school. We are in a Columbia University dormitory but have all military instructors. Expect to be here for about four months."

Corporal Edwin S. Goebel, located at Camp Bowie, took time out from his busy camp life to send holiday greetings through "Our Boys" page to all of his friends in Plymouth.

"Just tell them that everybody at home has my best wishes for the new year and that we all hope that this will be the last holiday period we will have to spend away from home," he wrote.

"I want to thank you for sending me The Plymouth Mail. I enjoy it very much. It brings home right to you, and keeps a fellow up to date on all that is going on," he added.

Bigger Mangers Needed In Barns

One of the great needs in barns on many Michigan farms is larger managers, maintains Carl F. Huffman, of the dairy department of Michigan State college. By this he means that many dairy farmers are overlooking a good method of producing milk cheaply—that of feeding large quantities of roughage.

Some managers just aren't big enough to hold all the roughage that a cow should eat, and others are big enough but don't get enough hay into them; he insists.

The buying of protein supplements can be avoided almost entirely by feeding plenty of high quality alfalfa or alfalfa-brome hay, Huffman points out. By high quality, he means hay that has been early cut, if leafy, high in color and of good aroma.

Hay can vary from 300 to 400 per cent in its milk-making capacity, depending upon its quality. The average cow should receive up to 20 to 30 pounds of roughage per day from October through March. Those getting that amount come out of the barn in better health, give more milk, and give better results on spring and summer pasture.

Only a minimum of grain is necessary for cows fed with good roughage, and millions of dollars worth of feed could be saved by this practice, Huffman says.

Depot Work Soon To Be Finished

The Pere Marquette depot improvements should be completed within about a week, Emerson S. Woods, station agent, has announced.

The building work already has been completed and the new waiting room already is in use as is the new forced air heating plant. All that remains to be finished are the two rest rooms, first to be installed here, and the new flooring. The station also will have new furniture when completed.

The railroad spent about $14,000 on the improvements which included complete remodeling of the station inside and out. Plymouth will have one of the finest small city depots in the state when the work is completed. The remodeling included removing the large overhanging roof, refinishing the outside and installing modern paneling inside. The station also has a new, large baggage room.

"The new heating plant keeps the place as warm as toast," said Woods.
