

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

Edson R. Eaton

MICHIGAN'S SHAME.

So Michigan ranks second place in the record of crime increase in the nation! Figures revealed do not show the age groups involved, but police records do show that a very large percent of this increase in crime is due to the misdeeds of juveniles. We do not have to go beyond the little city of Plymouth to find substantiating facts for this assertion. Notwithstanding the efforts of the community during past years to see to it that youngsters were provided with various safeguards, we have our share in juvenile misdeeds and crimes.

The situation is similar throughout the entire state. In one of the smaller villages of the state, where a denominational college, its public schools and its churches have been the center of all juvenile activities, there were not less than 24 of its young people jailed during the past summer for crimes of various kinds.

To our way of thinking there is just one reason for all of this, and that reason is IDLENESS.

If the young boy and girl are fully occupied with work and recreation, there is not much danger of them getting into trouble.

It is IDLENESS which leads to nearly ALL of the trouble our young people get into these days—and parents can dodge their responsibility as much as they care to, but MUCH of the blame can be laid right on their doorsteps.

The public can do its part, but the parents must do their part in keeping their children busy and out of trouble.

One of the sure ways to end crime waves is to cure one of its chief causes — IDLENESS.

THOSE SILK HATS.

As we glanced at those pictures sent to America from Japan showing the high officials of that nation wearing high silk hats as they marched up to sign the surrender terms, they made us think of some dressed up monkeys we had at one time seen in a circus. We quite agree with Admiral Halsey when he said he felt as though each one of the Japs should have been given a good, swift kick right on the nose.

MORE LAWS BY "RULE AND REGULATION."

From the secretary of state's office in Lansing we received a few days ago a copy of additional "rules and regulations" issued by that office under the authority of the Governor which now have the force and effect of law.

These new "rules and regulations" which are as effective as any law passed by the legislature, were prepared and written by some of the numerous state departments and boards up in Lansing.

The Governor says he has signed the new rules because it appears "that extraordinary circumstances have created an emergency and that the public interest requires that the attached rules become effective WITHOUT the delay required for the prior publication" etc., of rules and laws.

These new rules cover everything from the regulation of barbershop hair clippers, pink eye, fishing in Calhoun county to gonorrhoea and the inspection of tomato seed.

Not one of these many hundreds of new rules and regulations were ever authorized by the state legislature.

Please do not misunderstand—we are not saying that the new rules are good or bad, but we are attempting to emphasize the fact that we are utterly opposed to the scores of boards and commissions up in Lansing making rules and regulations and giving them the force and effect of law, without proper legislative approval.

When a bill is passed by the legislature regulating some condition within the state, the public has every opportunity to know about that law. First it must be considered by legislative committees in both the house and senate. Then it must meet the approval of the 100 members of the house and the 32 members of the senate. Then if these two bodies pass that bill, it must be signed by the Governor before it becomes effective.

Meanwhile it must meet the scrutiny of a dozen or more alert newspaper correspondents who are constantly on guard in behalf of the general public.

But not so with "rules and regulations." They can be issued without any one knowing a thing about these board-created laws except those who have written them. The people involved frequently have not the slightest opportunity to discuss these "rules and regulations" with the various boards before they become effective.

We have always contended that this delegation of authority to various groups within the state government is bad business. It is not only bad business, but it parallels the very condition which brought both Germany and Italy to their destruction — a condition which gives to non-elected government officials unlimited authority over the rights of the individual.

The legislature last winter passed a bill to end this vicious practice. Unfortunately under pressure of various boards and commissions, the Governor vetoed what to our way of thinking was the best piece of legislation enacted at the last session. We hope that the next legislature will pass the bill very early in the session, so it can take action on the Governor's veto if the next Governor should again submit to the dictation of a group of public office holders.

Colonel Hough Back at Daisy

Colonel Cass Hough, one of the most colorful officers in the Army Air Forces, has written his brilliant military career and returned to Plymouth's work-a-day world. He got home Wednesday.

Cass, as he is best known in Plymouth, will return to his duties as vice president and sales manager of the Daisy Air Rifle Company. Building air rifles and toys might sound drab to the average person after such a career as that experienced by Cass. But anyone well acquainted with him knows that anything Cass does is far from drab.

Welcoming the happy warrior home were his wife, Margaret, and two children, Emmy Lou and Kit, and his father, E. C. Hough. They were mighty happy to know he was coming home to stay and their happiness was equalled by him. Cass said it was grand to know he was coming home to stay. He is looking forward to the University of Michigan football games and many other things he has not been able to enjoy the last four years.

A few friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stockton joined them Saturday evening in celebration of her birthday anniversary. Dainty refreshments were served. Guests were present from Romulus and Plymouth.

Unusual Floral Arrangements Feature Show

The crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower was the setting for the annual Flower Show sponsored by the Plymouth branch of the Michigan Division of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association on Thursday afternoon and evening of last week.

The room was beautiful with its many colored flowers, breakfast table settings, plants and vegetables. Many of the flowers were in antique containers, prized by their owners and many lovely arrangements were in bowls and vases of the same color as the flowers adding to the beauty of the show and the miniatures, although not numerous, were unusual.

A cart of vegetables shown by Mrs. William Rambo received first prize and special mention; a cactus collection shown by Mrs. Flora Good also received first prize and special mention and Mrs. James Hunt, who exhibited a large cart filled with plants, some in bloom, received second prize and special mention.

Others receiving prizes were as follows: Mrs. Carl Hartwick, three firsts; Mrs. Paul Wiedman, two firsts, two seconds and thirds; Mrs. Albert Piss, two firsts and one second; Mrs. James Hunt, two firsts, one second and one third; Mrs. William McAllister, one first and two seconds; Mrs. Arthur Mills, one first and two thirds; Mrs. L. R. VonStein, one first and one second; Mrs. R. R. Lindsay, one first and one second; Mrs. John Scheel, one first; Mrs. O. F. Eyer, one first; Mrs. Thomas Moss, one first; William Gayde, one second; E. C. Hough, one second; Mrs. Frank Henderson, one third; Mrs. Dohmen, one second; Mrs. Austin Whipple, one second and two thirds; Mrs. C. A. Smith, one second and one third; Mrs. George Stecker, one third; Doris Waidecker, one second; Jo Ann and Shirley Hersh, one second, and Edward DeLay, one third.

The judges were Mrs. Andrew Vargha of Detroit and Mrs. Nevin C. Barnes of Birmingham. Mrs. Albert Pint, general chairman and her committee may feel well repaid for their efforts in making the show a success as so many members and friends contributed to the show by entering exhibits in several classes.

It seemed unusually nice to have the show in the crystal room again and all appreciated the flowers more because of having background of mirrors.

Li. Lorenz Home From Solomons

Lt. Ralph G. Lorenz returned to his home here last week after spending nearly two years in the Solomon and Admiralty Islands. During the last year Lt. Lorenz has been doing liaison work to the 7th fleet staff and his work brought him in contact during that period with five Plymouth boys who were also serving in the Pacific.

He first met Lt. (jg) Robert Champe who was on his way to the Philippines, then next he ran into Lt. Kenneth Gust, then Seabee Alden Plank a former Plymouth Mail employee. Not long ago he met Al Bakewell and soon after that Charles Williams. All the Plymouth boys were looking fine he said and all were looking forward to that final trip across the Pacific that would bring them home.

Lt. Lorenz will be in Plymouth until September 19th. He reports for a two week course of War Readjustment Study at Harvard University in Boston after that date and will be given a new assignment from there. His family will accompany him east and to his new station if it is in this country.

Pay $130,000.00 In Liquidation at Bank

The final dividend due Trust certificate holders of the former Plymouth United Savings Bank, amounting to $130,000, is now ready for distribution, according to the Depositors Liquidation Corporation of Detroit, Trustee.

Individual checks are now available at the Plymouth United Savings Bank. Beneficiaries of the trust are requested to call there for them. The bank is acting as agent for the depositors corporation to facilitate the pay off.

The final dividend made available to the beneficiaries represents 19.69715 per cent of the total original trust certificate.

Evans Products—What It Is and What It Makes

Evans Products Company was founded in 1915 by its late president, E. S. Evans. The company and its products have both national and international distribution.

The main office and plants of the company are located in Detroit, and these will shortly be transferred to the newly acquired site in Plymouth.

In addition to the Detroit operations, the company also owns and operates modern plants in Vancouver, B. C.; Coos Bay, Oregon; Los Angeles, Calif.; and Lexington, Ky. However, the Detroit operation is the major one.

While Evans in the past 15 years has greatly diversified its products, it is perhaps best known as the manufacturer of the Evans Auto Loader, and the company has acquired a reputation as an authority on freight loading and its many complex problems. The Auto Loader is permanent equipment installed in railroad box cars to permit the double decking of automobiles so shipped. It is estimated that this equipment has saved the railroads, automobile companies and receivers over a half billion dollars since it was first introduced by Evans.

Other products manufactured in the Detroit plant include the Utility Loader; the Sky Loader; automotive heating and ventilating equipment for trucks and buses; the Auto-Railer; airplane seats; Evaniar domestic heating and ventilating equipment; the Auto Stop; stampings and loading accessories.

The West Coast plants produce battery separators for use in automotive and submarine storage batteries, molded plywood products, and veneers.

The Lexington plant at present is producing domestic water heaters.

The Sky Loader is a unique Evans development, produced in wartime but which should have widespread use in peacetime, and is designed to make secure freight flow in cargo planes.

The Utility Loader is another exclusive Evans development which is used to lock the loads in place in railroad freight cars. Use of this equipment eliminates damage (bracing) and, by safely locking the load in place, is capable of saving millions of dollars yearly for railroads and shippers in damage claims. During wartime, cars so equipped were employed in the shipment of shells, bombs, explosives, and other essential war equipment.

Evans is internationally known in the truck and bus field for its highly efficient automotive heating and ventilating equipment. This equipment found widespread use in military service during the recent war and was particularly useful in the sub-zero areas of Alaska and Russia, or at other points where extreme cold interfered with efficient performance.

The Evans Auto-Railer is unique in its versatility since it operates with equal efficiency on railroads and highways. These vehicles, made in a variety of models, follow the principles of automotive design and are equipped with retractable steel flanged wheels, both front and rear. These vehicles had a widespread wartime use and were previously used by railroads for inspection and maintenance work as well as for industrial and terminal switching.

The Evaniar is a pioneer in the home heating field. This equipment consists of water heaters, furnaces, and space heaters in a variety of models. It is expected to be one of Evans' leading peacetime products when full production is gotten under way.

The Auto Stop is a highway barrier designed to provide positive automatic protection for vehicular traffic at danger points by stopping such traffic at a predetermined safe distance.

The company's name and products are known in all the world's markets, and for nearly 20 years the stock has been listed on the "Big Board" of the New York Stock Exchange. Since the recent death of E. S. Evans, president of the company, the management of the corporation has been in the hands of his son, Edward S. Evans, Jr., who for the past 10 years has been executive vice president. Other officers are: President Semmes, Secretary E. A. Evans, Treasurer J. C. Goldrick, Vice President and Assistant Secretary E. M. Groover, Assistant Secretary J. M. Russell, Assistant Treasurer Ben Colman, R. B. Evans, Frank Heath, V. J. Johnson, W. T. Ramsay, R. M. Singer, and W. G. Webb, Vice Presidents.

The Board of Directors at present is comprised of Edward S. Evans, Jr., Frank W. Blair, H. J. Campbell, George Slocum, F. S. Robinson of New York, and E. M. Groover.

RFC Announces Consumption Of Factory Sale

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14.—The government-owned munitions plant located at Plymouth, Michigan, and operated during the war by the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Company, has been sold to the Evans Products Company of Detroit, A. J. Fushman, Manager of the Detroit Office of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation announced today. The plant was acquired under competitive bidding which closed August 20. Both Mr. Fushman and Mr. Edward S. Evans, Jr., Executive Vice President of the Evans Products Company, expressed themselves as well pleased with the speed with which the negotiations were completed.

"Although the plant was purchased on a competitive bid basis, which gives the highest possible recovery value to the government, the price agreed on was fair to both the government and to the Evans Products Company," Mr. Evans, Jr. said.

With the completion of this sale, Evans Products Company becomes one of the first five companies in the Detroit area to acquire a government-owned war plant for conversion to peacetime production.

The company's new plant is on Eckles Road, two miles east of Plymouth, between Schoolcraft and Plymouth Roads. The property consists of approximately 116 acres with 330,739 square feet under roof. The plant construction is steel frame, brick walls and monitor roof. Erected in 1941, it is thoroughly modern in every respect. All facilities are on one floor with adequate column spacing to afford maximum stock handling efficiency and straight line production. All utilities required are available in ample capacity to accommodate further expansion when required.

"Speedy acquisition of a modern war plant for postwar production of needed peacetime products formed the hub of our planning when we began, several years ago, the development of a long range civilian production program," Edward S. Evans, Jr., Executive Vice President, said in announcing that the Company had been the successful bidder for the property.

"This new plant enables us, not only to reconvert to peacetime production with a minimum of dislocation and unemployment, but more importantly it permits us to contribute in a larger way to the development of a long range civilian production program, a considerably larger employed personnel than at any time prior to the war."

"We have outgrown our plant at Fullerton Avenue and Greenfield Road in Detroit, and the Plymouth Plant provides us with a larger and more modern manufacturing facility. Much of the work which we previously shipped out to outside sources, because of our limited manufacturing space, will now be produced directly by us."

"The Plymouth Plant, will be devoted to the manufacture of Auto Loaders, Auto-Railers, Airplane Seats, Sky Freight Loaders, Utility Loaders, Domestic Heating Equipment, Auto-Stop Barriers (Continued on Page 8)

Plymouth WAC On Bomb Project

It has recently been made known to the many friends of Cpl. Pearl Smit, a Wac of Plymouth, stationed in Richland, Wash., that she was one of those doing special work for the government on the Manhattan District project, the atomic bomb, and will receive a citation from the president. She is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Smith on Hamilton street.

An article printed Aug. 18 in the Army Times, stated that there were 432 Wacs assigned to various phases of the work, stationed in Tennessee, New Mexico, Washington, New York and London.

Major-General L. R. Groves commended the Wacs of the Manhattan District on the atomic bomb job stating "they had performed the hardest type of Army duty any Wac had been called upon to do because it was hard work and long hours over a long period of time with no recognition and no chance to tell about their jobs."

The Wacs handled the classified files entirely and the teletype division. Because of the importance of their work, life for the women was different from life at an Army post. The Wacs working for the Manhattan District had no extra duties such as kitchen police or drill and they had maids to keep their barracks clean.

Many who wondered just what Cpl. Smit's duties were will now realize why she could not tell them before and are proud of her being chosen for the secret work.

Fireworks Will Provide Feature of Celebration

Three more committees for Plymouth's gigantic commemoration of victory in Europe and Asia and the return of peace to the world, its Victory Thanksgiving Jubilee to be held Wednesday, Oct. 3, were named this week.

George A. Smith, chairman of the Jubilee executive committee, has selected the Rev. Henry Walsh to head the program committee and Garnet W. Baker to direct the activities of the sports committee. He has chosen Harry R. Lush as pyrotechnics chairman. In other words Mr. Lush will head the fireworks committee.

Those picked to serve on the program committee with the Rev. Mr. Walsh are Charles E. Brake, Harold Curtis, City Manager Clarence Elliott, Cass S. Hough, Mr. Lush and Superintendent of Schools Helmer A. Nelson.

Members of the sports group beside chairman Baker are Dr. B. E. Champe, Sterling Eaton, Coach Wayne Falan, Lewis H. Goddard, Ernest Henry, David Mather, Edwin Schrader, Edward Sinta and Dr. A. C. Williams.

Assisting Mr. Lush as members of the fireworks panel are Roy Fisher, Harry Irwin, John J. McLaren, John Palmer and E. S. Roe.

"We have it on authority from Mr. Lush that his group is hard at work contacting the many manufacturers of fireworks to insure a mammoth display with which to conclude the Jubilee."

"We want our part of the celebration, said Mr. Lush, to be a bang-up in more ways than one. We hope to have lots of noise and plenty of beauty in the display we will present."

The Rev. Mr. Walsh has a big task ahead in trying to whip many program suggestions into the shape of a presentation comparable to the occasion. His committee already is flooded with ideas from the hundreds of enthusiastic Plymouthites.

Some suggest a pageant, others want a silver-tongued orator while many reflect the spirit of the affair and ask that the military services be honored with a little oratory as possible. Most likely the program will be built along the lines of the latter suggestion.

The fact that the committee is being bombarded with ideas shows that the celebration is awakening the city and has the attention of most persons. It is just another example of how a republic works when individuals unite for a common cause.

Those on the sports panel also are faced with a herculean task. To plan and promote an athletic program for a celebration like Plymouth's Victory Thanksgiving Jubilee will surely be a mammoth task and lots of work.

The sports events will be held on the playing field at the rear of the high school. There will be races, games and contests for all age groups. The older youths probably will take part in such events as the baseball throw, shoe race, basketball toss, milk drink contest and many others. There is a likelihood that softball games may be held.

To keep the celebration on a high plane and free from any note of brutality or cruelty where animals are concerned there will be no calf scramble, greased pig or chicken toss. The committee does not want any bloodshed as that is the very thing the jubilee will be hailing the end of.

All animal events such as those mentioned only cheapen a celebration of that sort and result in hysteria for the live pawn used to say little of the exhaustion, pain and abuse they have heaped upon them by lustful unthinking humans. Such a stand by the sports committee is to be commended.

With the parade, homecoming, war trophy exhibit, fireworks, program and sports committees all hard at work formulating plans for the event the executive committee is still planning additional panels to help with the gala occasion.

Permission Is Given for Mains

City Manager Clarence Elliott, has reported that the Pere Marquette Railroad and Plymouth have entered into an agreement whereby the railroad will let the city cross its right of way with the 12-inch water main now being laid on Blaine street.

Mr. Elliott also reported that the Board of Education had given the city permission to lay the main adjacent to its property on Blaine.

To Sponsor Social For Girls State Fund

The ladies auxiliary of Myron H. Beals Post, American Legion, will sponsor an ice cream social tonight (Friday) at six o'clock in Kellogg Park. Proceeds will be used to finance their girls' state program.

For the occasion the auxiliary has arranged to have the 17th District 40 & 8 locomotive in Plymouth. All juniors of the auxiliary and past and present girls' state girls who serve at the social will be given a ride in the famous vehicle.

Community Fund Drive Opens Oct. 1

Goal Set at $12,000 For City This Year

Plymouth's 1945-46 Community Fund Drive, held in conjunction with the National War Chest campaign, is scheduled to open Monday, Oct. 1. The goal is $12,000.

Judge James Sexton will serve as chairman of the drive in the city and Russell Walker will head the collection in Plymouth township.

Other members of the executive committee of the Community Fund Drive are Frank Walsh, Margaret Hough, Earl Demel, Maude Bennett, Clifford Tait, James Keyes, Edward Scully, Clara Alexander and James Galloway.

With the advent of the drive fast approaching, the committee is hard at work planning the campaign. Uses of the money contributed and anticipation requests for funds are taking up much of their time but they are determined to have an accounting of every cent. The committee is equally determined that no eligible request for aid will go unfulfilled.

All requests that by investigation are proved to be ineligible for aid from the fund are rejected without qualification.

For the edification of those who are unfamiliar with the drive's setup the committee wishes to explain that by agreement with the National War Chest, all funds collected in Plymouth are equally divided.

The Plymouth Community Fund gets half and the National War Chest takes the other half. Therefore all contributors are urged to bear in mind that 50 cents of every dollar donated remains in Plymouth for purely local use.

Agencies applying to the Community Fund for aid must be established either in Plymouth or Plymouth township. Before they can receive financial assistance from the fund they must prove that their work is strictly a COMMUNITY project.

Many local agencies whose applications last year were rejected, pointed out that their work was extremely worthy. The Community Fund admitted that it was but pointed out that unless they were working solely in the city of Plymouth or Plymouth township they were not entitled to such aid.

Agencies particularly assisted last year included the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Youth Recreation Center. After aiding these groups the fund still had more than $2,000 on hand and unpromised as of this week Monday.

With a balance like that to start out this year's drive the Community Fund will be in a better shape than ever to offer assistance locally.

Assuming that the local quota will be met and possibly oversubscribed, the local share will be in the excess of $6,000. That plus the balance on hand will make the Community Fund very able to meet all anticipated eligible requests for aid.

Contributors also should bear in mind that while helping the local situation, their donations also aid in many national programs such as flood disasters, hurricane victims and the countless thousands of European war-weary citizens.

Many will raise an eyebrow at the mention of Europe. But those persons should bear in mind that the invaluable service rendered the United States by the Norwegian underground alone is worth all the food and medicine we can ship to Europe for years.

President Truman gives another sound reason for feeding Europe, China and the Philippines. "Desperate men," he said, "are liable to destroy the structure of their society to find in the wreckage some substitute for hope. Today, Europe is hungry. Many of (Continued on Page 8)

Dog Ordinance Fee Increased

An amendment to Plymouth's dog ordinance calling for the annual tax on females to be increased from one to three dollars was approved by the city commission Tuesday night following its second reading. It will be given a third reading before it becomes a law.

An ordinance to establish a city recreation commission also was given its second reading and approved. Briefly, the organization plans call for a seven-man commission to be made up of City Manager Clarence Elliott, Superintendent of Schools Helmer Nelson, an appointee each of Mayor Carl G. Shear and Board of Education and three other citizens chosen by the Mayor and the president of the school board.

Another ordinance to regulate the keeping and raising of chickens by Plymouth residents was tabled by the commission.

The commission went on record as favoring an ordinance to control the operation of motor buses on Plymouth's streets and will write one in the near future, according to Mayor Shear.

Bus Service Not Being Used By City Residents

Plymouth's new local bus service, inaugurated several days ago by the Plymouth Coach Company, is being treated like a stepchild by most Plymouthites, according to Edward Sinta.

Mr. Sinta says he is perplexed. It seems that one of the things the city has cried about for years is local bus service. Now it is here and very few, so far, have taken advantage of it.

"We are currently operating the local service at a loss, Mr. Sinta reported this week. For years Plymouth has been wanting it, now why aren't they taking advantage of the service?"

He says the whole problem is one of common sense. Now that his company has placed local service at the disposal of Plymouth they must have customers to continue it.

"If the people of Plymouth expect such service from us, Mr. Sinta said, then we in turn have the right to expect patronage from them."

In regard to the transportation of school children from the North End, Mr. Sinta said he believed many parents were not using the bus service because they believed the bus would not get the children to school on time.

The fault lies in the printed schedule, Mr. Sinta says, because the time shown is 8:30 a.m. Actually the bus reaches the school at 8:22 a.m. which gives the children sufficient time to reach their classes on time.

Very few if any complaints have come from North End residents in regard to that phase of the service, but Mr. Sinta is of the opinion that the scheduled time is the one prime factor restricting greater use of the service by school children in that area.

Has asked the Mail to advise parents that despite the time shown on schedules the bus will get children to school on time under normal conditions.

Asked if any one area served by the local buses was patronizing the service heavier than others, Mr. Sinta replied that the Robinson and Five Mile district residents were his best customers.

In commenting on the use of the local service for shopping, Mr. Sinta said his company would not object to housewives carrying their groceries on the buses. Of course this does not mean that one could expect to clamber aboard with a bushel or two of peaches or tomatoes but all packages of carrying size and sacks of groceries will not be objectionable.

If Plymouth housewives would develop the habit of using the local buses to do their shopping they would soon see how simple and economical the plan could be.

In the first place no one can drive their car from their home to the nearest shopping district, for a nickel, upon reaching the district there is seldom a parking place within a block from where the shopper wishes to go.

Housewives already using the local buses for such trips find they save time and money. They can get off within (most cases) a block of their destination thus eliminating the problem of parking. Their round trip costs them ten cents and that is much cheaper than the family car could be operated on such an excursion.

Mr. Sinta said the present schedule is arranged to have a bus operating through each district in Plymouth every two hours. Added patronage would determine the frequency of such service.

Unless Plymouth shows a greater desire for local bus service it surely will be removed and once such service is abandoned the city can not expect the Plymouth Coach Company to offer it again ever.

Tin Collection Next Monday

Plymouth housewives are once again reminded that tin still is vital. The nation's need for more and more of the metal has not decreased although the war is over. Mrs. William Rambo, chairman of the tin salvage efforts here says the city's next pickup of tin cans will be next Monday, Sept. 17.

Mrs. Rambo urges the housewives to have their boxes of flattened cans at the curb in front of their homes at an early hour. Just take the cans and remove the label. Wash them out and cut both ends out. Then flatten them by stepping on them. Place the cans and the cut-out ends in a box and have the box at the curb on Monday, Sept. 17.

"Substance" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 16. The Golden Text (Hebrews 11:1) is: "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Eccl. 3:14): "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him." Correlative passage, to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (263): "The fading forms of matter, the mortal body and material earth, the fleeting concepts of the human mind. They have their day before the permanent facts and their perfection in Spirit appear."

Field corn and popcorn, planted close together, will cross without affecting the popping qualities of that season's popcorn reports E. E. Down, crops research specialist at Michigan State college. However, seed from such crossing will affect the following year's crop making it unsatisfactory for popping.

Mrs. Sophie Heugel returned to Plymouth to live with Mr. and Mrs. Julius Saner after spending three months with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Huegel in Redford.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes of Detroit who have just returned from visiting friends in West Virginia, attended the Campbell reunion at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Campbell of Canton Center road, Sunday. While in town they also visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers.

The first meeting of the Starkweather P.T.A. will be held on Thursday, Sept. 20, beginning with a pot-luck dinner at 6:30 p.m. This will be followed by the regular business meeting. Supt. and Mrs. Helmer Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Alford, and the Starkweather teachers will be guests of the association.

On Thursday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. William J. Squires celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas their 25th wedding anniversary having dinner at the home of Mrs. Squires. Mrs. Agnes Hunter, mother of Mrs. Squires, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fullerton, of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wagenschütz and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas gathered in the Squires home for a social evening in honor of the anniversary.

Prof. and Mrs. Godfrey Burk parents of Lucius Burk of Rosedale Gardens, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Aug. 20, at New Ulm, Minn., with an open house. Among the 100 or more guests who called during the day to offer congratulations, were 1st and 3rd generations of students taught by Prof. Burk at Dr. Martin Luther College. After 59 successful years of teaching organ, piano, violin, and English, Prof. Burk resigned his professorship last November. Due to present conditions only three of their six sons were able to attend this happy occasion.

One of the happiest occasions of the season was the open-house reception held on Sunday, Sept. 9, from 4 to 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas at 345 Blunk Ave. The gathering was in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. About one hundred and seventy-five of their relatives and friends called during the afternoon to offer congratulations and best wishes, and to enjoy the dainty refreshments which were served. Beautiful flowers decorated the rooms of the home and the tea table was centered with a large crystal wedding ring filled with dainty pastel colored flowers and surrounding three tall, ivory tapers. Guests were present from several out-of-town places, among them being the minister who officiated at the wedding, the Rev. Frank Field of Saginaw, and the best man. The one regret of the day was the fact that "Bill," the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, is still with the armed forces in Germany and was unable to be with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Robyn D. Merriam announce the engagement of their daughter, Margery Jean, to Lieut. Lawrence L. Arnold AAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurv A. Arnold of this city. The engagement was announced at a tea given at the Merriam residence Sunday. Guests included Mrs. M. A. Arnold, Mrs. J. H. Todd, Patricia Arnold, Betty Brown, and Nancy McLaren of Plymouth, Pat Johnson of Wyanotte, Mrs. J. E. McGuire, Virginia Wilson, Shirley Telen, Elaine Fishleigh, Mrs. Rudolph Fessel, Irene Moody, Martha Vargha, Eleanor Koch of Detroit, Jean Carr and Barbara Stover of Grosse Pointe, sorority sisters of the bride-to-be, Miss Merriam attended the University of Michigan, Bowling Green State University and was graduated from Michigan State College in June. She was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Lieut. Arnold, a bombardier of the 12th air force, was recently returned from Corsica and Italy where he had completed 54 bombing missions. Before enlisting he attended the General Motors Institute of Technology where he was affiliated with Alpha Delta fraternity. No date has been set for the wedding.

News of Plymouth Boy Scouts

Local Scouting Leaders met at the Community Round Table Sept. 6, 1945 at the home of Mr. Newton Gould to discuss final plans for the Community Troop Rally to be held in the Riverside Park on October 13-14, 1945. Troops participating will be P-1, P-2, P-3, P-4 and N-1 of Northville. The troops will check in on Saturday, Oct. 13, at 1:30 p.m. and a full and busy program will follow through until 3:00 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 14, 1945. Get up on your toes, Scouts and Scoutmasters; let's make this one good!

Local Troops P-2 and P-4 have lately returned from their Summer Camps and both report a fine time and excellent results in respects to Troop advancements. Their planning coincided so closely that both Troops found themselves at the same camping grounds at the Albert E. Sleeper State Park on Lake Huron, near Caseville, Mich.

was of the fourth generation of a family pioneering to Michigan in 1830. For many years Mr. Wilcox was in business with his father in milling and the tobacco business. For several years, he was in the County Clerk's office and later served very efficiently as accountant with the J. D. McLaren Elevator Co.

Beals Auxiliary Meets Sept. 21st

The War is over!! Now we are faced with a certain amount of re-conversion, too! The Paper Pick-up will continue to be held on the last Saturday of each month as of the past. The Leaders of the Local Troops wish to express their thanks for your fine cooperation to date and to add thanks for your permission for us to omit the August pick-up because of our Summer Camp Programs. However, we are now to begin a new chapter in Scouting and new ways of Scout Service will soon evolve themselves for your approval. May they ever satisfy.

Following the meal the main item of business to come before the auxiliary will be the nomination and election of officers for the coming year. The collection of 1946 dues also will open that night. Another feature of the meeting will be the report on the girls' state just held. It will be given by Plymouth's delegates, Rosemary Guthrie and Mary Agnes Evans. The auxiliary president, Mrs. Gladys Shore, also will make a report on the War Conference.

There is no need to tell you that true understanding and willing leaders are needed in your vicinity for others have made this appeal. Any man over the age of 21 who can see with the eyes of understanding and feel with a sympathetic heart, the wants, needs and desires of youth is indeed welcome in this great Boys' movement and we know that many will come forward at this time to add their bit to the Scouting Program in the days of Peace which thank God now lie ahead of us and in which we will be able to add more power and glory to the characters of our own American youth.

Any interested parties who are not contacted by our local leaders are sincerely urged to contact Mr. Newton Gould, 44707 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Phone 827-W1; or any Scouter in the community for details of these classes soon to begin.

Weddings

West Warwick Girl Becomes Bride of Owen Ford Gorton

On Sept. 8 the marriage of Bertha Jacques, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jacques, of West Warwick, Rhode Island, and Owen Ford Gorton, R.A.M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gorton of this city was solemnized in the St. John church in West Warwick. Father Fagan officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed in lace. Her fingertip veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried an orchid bouquet.

Madeline Jacques, who attended her sister, wore a taffeta and net gown and carried yellow roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Thomas Cullinana and Norman Jacques, a brother, seated the guests.

A wedding breakfast and reception followed at Kid Blair's Showboat.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorton will reside in West Warwick following a wedding trip to Plymouth.

Four Bible Clubs Start Classes Here

Four Good News Bible Clubs for children are in the process of organization in Plymouth under the direction of the International Child Evangelism Fellowship.

The clubs are non-sectarian in doctrine. Emphasis is placed on the Bible as the true word of God. Each lesson, taken from the Bible, is vividly illustrated with a flannelgraph.

Plymouth parents who would co-operate as Christian people uniting to eliminate juvenile delinquency with preventative measures are invited to enroll their children at once. There is no cost, no money is required.

Teachers are accredited as graduates from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago; Omaha Bible Institute, Omaha; National Bible Institute, New York; and Denver Bible College.

The four clubs now getting underway in Plymouth will hold their meetings after school during the week. One group meets Monday afternoons at the home of Mrs. John Paton, 481 Pacific.

RFC Announces

(Continued from Page 1) for grade crossings and draw-bridges, automotive heating and ventilating equipment, and other items. These, Mr. Evans said, will be the main products of the company's eastern operations.

In addition to the Detroit plant which is the home office of the company, the organization also operates modern plants at Lexington, Ky., and on the Pacific Coast, at Coos Bay, Ore., Vancouver, B. C., and Los Angeles. Battery separators, moulded plywood products and veneers are produced in the West Coast plants.

"One of the principal reasons for seeking a plant near north-west Detroit was the fact that the greater majority of the employees of the company live in that area, making the plant readily accessible to them.

"Transfer of all plant operations to the Plymouth site is expected to be concluded in less than six months, moving will be done on a departmental basis in order to maintain steady production with a minimum loss of man-hours and output. Occupation will be gotten under way at the earliest practicable date," Mr. Evans said, "with schedules now being made to regulate the change-over."

Community Fund

(Continued from Page 1) its citizens lack clothes." "They also lack the means to restore their cities and factories. As winter comes on their distress will increase. Unless we do all we can to help them, we may lose next winter what we won at such terrible cost last spring. We must help to the limit of our strength."

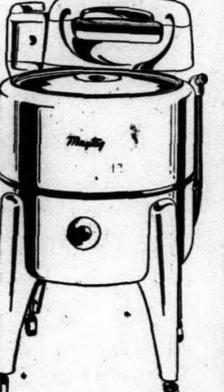

Plymouthites who are looking forward to a winter of warmth, plenty to eat, nice, undamaged homes, good clothing and all the luxuries the American way of life provides, can well contribute handsomely to the drive. It's the Christian thing to do and the human thing, too.

If our nation is to lead the world in establishing a lasting peace its citizens, and that means the people of Plymouth, must rally to all programs like the National War Chest and Community Fund Drives. Ignore their appeals and you set the stage for World War III.

Tells of AAA Plans For 1946

The 1946 AAA program should go further than any past program in meeting the most serious needs for soil-building and water-conserving measures on Wayne County farms, according to County AAA Chairman, Fred C. Ernest.

Chairman Ernest praised the new plan of operation adopted for next year's program, as being very helpful at this particular time. The big increase in production on Wayne County farms during the war has increased the need for restoring and maintaining soil-fertility and for other conservation measures.

Because funds available for AAA assistance are not sufficient to cover all the soil-building or water-conserving needs of either the Nation or the county, the new plan aims to use them on the farms and for the practices where they will do the most good. The farmer-elected township committeemen have the experience and the knowledge to get AAA assistance where it is most needed.

Under the new plan the State AAA Committee will allocate a definite sum of money as a county budget for AAA assistance to farmers next year. The county committee, in consultation with the farmer-elected township committeemen, will then choose from an approved State list the conservation practices most needed on farms in this county. The township committeemen will call upon individual farmers next winter and spring and help them work out a plan of AAA assistance on their farms.

Mr. Ernest points out that the AAA program is important to people living in towns and cities as well as farmers. The conservation practices encouraged by AAA help farmers to grow more and better quality food, thereby protecting both the pocketbooks and the health of the folks who buy it. A program of public assistance such as AAA is particularly needed at this time when farmers have gone all-out to produce for war with resulting loss of soil productivity, he says.

Jahn's Opening This Saturday

The new business venture of the Jahn's on Five Mile road will open officially this week end. With a grocery and meat market, a hardware and a lumber company already in operation, the Jahn's announce in this issue the opening of their newest unit, a new appliance store.

With the completion of a new building 20 by 60 feet which enlarges their present store they now have all of their enterprises with the exception of the lumber company under one roof. The lumber company is directly across the street from the other stores.

Saturday has been set as a grand opening day and according to their advertisement elsewhere in this issue they have many attractive specials for their clients during their opening event.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Moran of Detroit were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clair on Phoenix road. Callers that afternoon were: Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Smith of Plymouth and Miss Grace Stowe of Detroit.

Cpl. Charles Bingham, Jr., who returned last week from nearly two years overseas in France and England, spent Friday and Saturday in the home of his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ragnar Blomberg on Arthur street visiting also with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bingham, who have been in Plymouth for two weeks, and his sister, Mrs. W. S. Martin, who came down from Ludington. Cpl. Bingham, who has a 30-day furlough, was enroute to Sheppard, where Mrs. Bingham has been residing during his absence.

A supply officer, stationed on a Pacific island base tells this one. "One night a Marine came into the office and asked the Chief on duty where they buried the dead Japs on the island. The Chief told him and then, curious, asked why he wanted to know. "Oh," said the Marine, "I've got one out in my jeep and I didn't know what to do with him."

Warns of Metal Kite Dangers

An urgent warning against the purchase and use of any kite with metal in the string or with metal supports in the kite was issued today by R. P. Douglas, head of the safety department of The Detroit Edison Company.

"Kites with metal in them or in the string are about to be offered for sale as surplus material from Army or Navy stocks, and are a dangerous hazard about which we want to warn the public. If one of these kites touches an overhead electric wire or line it may immediately burn it down and the fallen wires can be very dangerous. Even if the string has no metal in it, a little dampness will let the string carry current to the child on the ground and he may be instantly killed or badly burned," Mr. Douglas said.

"We are notifying the Army and any store owner concerned that this kite is unsuitable and very dangerous for public use. The kite is designed, we believe, for signal work over the ocean and will be too heavy for ordinary use in addition to being dangerous," Douglas said. He asked that the Edison company be advised if any of them are offered for sale in this area, so that the merchants may be warned of their harmful possibilities.

Safety rules for kite fliers are: Always use cotton or linen string, never metal or tinzel as it is dangerous; fly kites in open fields; do not climb poles or throw rocks to get kites off wire; don't use kites with any metal in the kite or string; and don't try to fly them in damp weather—according to the Edison company.

Meat Poachers Better Look Out

If there are any hunters in or around Plymouth who have an idea that they can go up north before the deer hunting season opens and get some venison to fill in the vacuum made by the meat shortage, they had better think twice before doing so.

State conservation officers are making life miserable for game law violators in northern counties. The conservation department has revealed details of its newest campaign to stamp out "meat hunting" in deer country.

A flying squadron of 75 officers in cars equipped with two-way radio telephone sets has been patrolling a dozen counties on the west side of the lower peninsula.

The officers have been in constant communication with a dispatcher at the department's Baldwin headquarters. Cars, spotted at strategic road intersections in the counties, can be directed quickly to trouble spots.

A reported gunshot brought cars to every road leading out of one area in Lake county. Officers arrested three men for possession of a loaded gun out of season in deer country and found a meat saw and wash boiler in their car. The hunters had missed hitting the first deer seen.

The department plans to send the flying squadron into other sections of the state, north of the Muskegon-Bay City line, but will not announce its plans in advance.

Operation of the plan so far apparently indicates that fewer violations than had been rumored are occurring, although enforcement officers point out that if only one deer is killed illegally in any one county in a day, the total for the state still would constitute a serious drain.

News of Our Boys In Armed Forces

"BOB" LORENZ EXPECTS TO BE HOME EARLY IN OCTOBER

A brief letter from "Bob" Lorenz written from Lauda, Germany, states that he expects to be home early in October. "Bob" has been serving during recent months with the "Blood and Fire Men," the nickname of the 63rd Division.

He encloses a clipping from his army paper which gave the details of the plans for the removal of this hard-fighting outfit from Germany to France and then the United States.

"Along with many other high pointers, I was transferred from the 36th Division to the 63rd over two months ago. We have been waiting to start for home all of this time. All of our equipment has been turned in and we are ready to move at any minute. When I come home I will be discharged. All I can say is that it will be a happy day," he writes to The Mail's soldier page.

KENNETH LANGBECKER NOW AT PEARL HARBOR

Kenneth Henry Langbecker, motor machinist's mate, first class, USNR, husband of Mrs. Mary Langbecker, 12919 Mercedes, Plymouth, serves at the Naval Service Force organization at Pearl Harbor that trained and provided men to operate and hold forward bases during the Pacific war.

The advance base personnel administration operated a combat training center and provided training in combat communications, fire fighting, first aid, small boat operations, ship repairs, water purification, sanitation, mechanics and shop operation.

ELLWOOD ELLIOTT SENT TO TEXAS CAMP

Ellwood Elliott, 236 East Ann Arbor Trail, has been sent to Camp Fannin, Texas for his basic training. Mrs. Elliott is for the present remaining at her home in this city.

"THANKS A MILLION" WRITES LIEUT. HOWARD EBERSOLE FROM DEMING.

Lieut. Howard Ebersole, one of the many Plymouth boys who has been through plenty of tough going since entering the nation's fighting air forces, now stationed in Deming, New Mexico, writes that he hopes to be home soon for keeps. Lieut. Ebersole, it will be recalled, during the rays when Germany was being bombed out of the war, gained fame when he piloted his big bomber that had been almost wrecked by flak and fire, safely back from Germany back to its base in England.

The Flying Lieutenant writes: "It has been a long time since I have written you, and if everything goes well, I should be dropping into your office in a few weeks wearing those tweed pants and plaid shirt I laid aside a few years ago. So don't be too surprised if Mrs. Ebersole's oldest son Howard comes bouncing into your office and says, quote 'Mr. Eaton, here's a little old E flat check for my next year's subscription of The Mail.' Unquote.

"That's the day I've been looking forward to for quite a while now, and when I reported back to Sioux Falls, South Dakota after my thirty days at home the powers that be informed me that I could get out if I so desired. In fact they gave us three choices. 1 Volunteer to sign up for a tour in B-29's in the South Pacific. (there will be a slight pause here for two bars of the Air Corps song). 2 Those who are not eligible for separation from the service and who do not wish further combat may be stationed at any 2nd Air Force Station in the mid-west. 3 (This is it!) Those who wish and who have enough points and have enough combat time and are unessential may apply for separation as soon as possible. Needless to say there are too many B-24 drivers and they didn't have to twist my arm very long before I asked to be discharged.

"As most of the 8th and 15th Air Forces were at Sioux Falls they had to send us to another base where we would be further processed for separation, given our flying time and paid up to date. Unfortunately, I think, I was sent down here to Deming, N. M. But as long as it relieved the congestion at Sioux Falls, and will speed up our discharge, I wouldn't care where they sent me. Rumor has it that we will be out of here soon after the first of the month bound for our separation center, Ft. Sheridan in my case, so I might just accidentally possibly be home in a couple of weeks. To stay!

"I have already been processed here, and flew a B-26 for four hours Sunday morning to get my flying time in, so I'm just sweating out payday and that trainride to Ft. Sheridan. Which reminds me—I think after the novelty of it has worn off that I'll write a book on how to enjoy a train ride in the summer time, day coach style. I'll call it "Mid-Summer Misery from Massachusetts to New Mexico—via South Dakota." We did have a lot of fun though on the various legs of the trip. Especially when we would stop, which was not infrequently, and examine our classic carriages. From the sides of the cars there were arrow shafts (Indian War 1837) and various placards and poster offering rewards for the capture, dead or alive, of the Dalton Bros., and the James Bros., and numerous others. The prize winner was inside the coach near the end of the car where the tank was for the gas lights. It said, and I quote it, "Passengers are asked in the interest of safety to refrain from shooting buffalo whilst the train is in motion. The Management."

"Since I have been here at Deming they have assigned me a part time job as assistant to the base mess officer, and as I walked through the mess hall today an industrious red headed KP let out a yell and it was 'Bud' (Lorne) Archer. He just arrived here a couple days ago and is awaiting further assignment as he does not quite have enough points for discharge. It was like old home week for a little while, and I hope they lower the points so he can get out soon. Also a lot of others we all know!

"It gets awfully old, moving around all the time, never knowing where you will be next or how long you will stay there. Then you go overseas, and you don't know when you are coming back. Or even if— I was lucky though, and I shouldn't complain, but it all just makes me more eager to want to settle down in one place permanently. Since May 1940 I haven't lived in one place for more than three months, and that is not the way it should be. A military life is all right, the discipline is good for a young fellow, and the pay is satisfactory, but all of us don't want that kind of a career. I feel like we have done the job thoroughly and its time to go back to our peace-time jobs and our homes again, and that's what I am bucking for.

"So perhaps this will be the last letter I shall write you while I am in the army. And I'd like to thank you again for the many copies of the Mail that you have sent me during all this time. It was no small effort on your part and I'm not alone when I say that it was one big morale builder to find a Plymouth Mail at mail call.

"I must close now, and I hope that in about two weeks one of 'Your Boys' becomes one of your 'civilian constituents.' Or is that wording a trifle misleading? Anyway, I think you get the general idea that I am about to make a change in titles from Looie to Mister and that is what I started to write you for in the first place. So until I come home to stay, Thanks a Million."

SGT. CHARLES WILSON JR. GETS GOOD CONDUCT MEDAL

The Public Relations Division of the army air base at Barksdale Field, La., has announced that Sgt. Charles Wilson Jr., of 194 Holbrook, has been awarded the Good Conduct medal. Barksdale Field is a B-29 base of the Third Air Force. The Good Conduct medal was established as a reward for those enlisted men who demonstrate fidelity through faithful and exact performance of duty, as well as efficiency and a capacity to produce results.

SGT. RORABACHER GIVEN SERVICE AWARD

Staff Sergeant Merritt E. Rorabacher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rorabacher, of Plymouth, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge for exemplary performance of duty in action against the Japanese. Previously he was awarded the Expert Infantryman's Badge for meeting the highest standards of the American Infantryman.

Staff Sergeant Rorabacher, is a veteran of three campaigns, and since February has been on duty in the Philippines in the rugged, mountainous regions of Northern Luzon. He also is eligible to wear the Asiatic-Pacific overseas ribbon with two battle stars and the Philippines Liberation Ribbon with one battle star.

Staff Sergeant Rorabacher entered service on Sept. 14, 1942. When hostilities ceased he was serving with the 123rd Infantry.

PLYMOUTH GI HAS COOKED OVER 35 TONS OF FOOD FOR ARMY

Sergeant Carl A. Helm, Route 5, Plymouth has prepared well over 35 tons of food in Army kitchens, during the four and one half years he has been in the Army. He is now stationed at Bremen, Germany.

Sgt. Helm entered the Army in February 1941, and served with the Third, Seventh and Ninety-fifth Infantry Divisions in the United States, before joining the 72nd Railway Operating Battalion in December, 1943.

He arrived in France with the unit in August 1944, and wears four battle participation stars for the major campaigns through France, Belgium and Germany.

Springs, Texas. He is now assigned to the ordnance section of the 1562nd AAF Base Unit of the ATC's Southwest Pacific Wing.

He has been overseas since June 1944 and wears the Asiatic-Pacific Theater ribbon with one battle star for the New Guinea campaign and the insignia of a Meritorious service unit, awarded to the personnel of the 1562nd for "superior performance of duty in the performance of exceptionally difficult tasks."

KENNETH BURDEN SERVED ON FAMED HEAVY CRUISER "CANBERRA." Kenneth Burden, who was born over in Northville but now resides at 32858 Mecosta road north of Wayne and has many friends in Plymouth, who will be interested to know that he served in the far Pacific on the famed heavy cruiser Canberra, that saw plenty of fighting and was hit squarely during the final months of the war by a Jap torpedo and was nearly sunk when hit later by a Jap suicide bomber.

The Canberra has now been entirely repaired in the Boston navy yard and is again back at sea.

Named for His Majesty's gallant Australian ship Canberra, which was sunk by enemy gunfire in the Battle of Savo Island on August 9, 1942, the U.S.S. Canberra went through 18 separate engagements between February 14 and October 13, 1944, materially helping to avenge the loss of her Australian predecessor. Nor was she "put out of action" entirely by the Jap torpedo, whose launcher she sent crashing down in flames. Even after that, her anti-aircraft gunners continued to shoot down Jap planes, and she served commendably, while being towed 2,300 miles to an island repair base, in what came to be known as the "Streamlined Bait Group of the Battered Remnants of the Blue Fleet."

It was shortly before sunset on October 13, 1944, while the Canberra was in the protecting screen of ships around the aircraft carriers which were recovering their planes following a raid on Formosa, that seven Japanese torpedo bombers attacked the task force. Three of the planes were shot down, and the other four began a run on the Canberra, which was making an emergency turn to cope with them. The big cruiser had held firm up to this point to avoid hitting other vessels, but now her anti-aircraft gunners went into action and quickly downed three of the attackers. The fourth succeeded in launching its torpedo before joining the others in a flaming crash into the water.

A huge ball of flame shot more than 100 feet skyward when the missile exploded on the starboard side, killing an officer and 22 enlisted men and injuring about 40 others, as boiler rooms were destroyed and engine rooms temporarily flooded. No other casualties were suffered by the U.S.S. Canberra during her eight months' action in the Pacific.

During the 14-day tow from Formosa to the first repair base at Ulithi in the Caroline Islands chain, the "Streamlined Bait Group" was formed when the U.S.S. Houston, a light cruiser which was hit by an aerial torpedo one day after the Canberra, joined the slow-moving task group. Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., USN, Commander of the Third Fleet, heard the Tokyo radio announce the "annihilation" of his fleet, although only the Canberra and Houston had been damaged. Then the Japs discovered that the "remnants" of the Third Fleet were retiring at slow pace, and Admiral Halsey directed his "bait" group to proceed in such a manner as to try to draw out the Imperial Fleet.

The Japs did venture forth to "kill" the "sitting ducks" Canberra and Houston, but when they were about equidistant from the "bait group" and Halsey's main fleet, they discovered the latter and turned back before they themselves were "killed." For this daring move during their retirement, the Canberra and Houston and escorting ships received a "Well Done!" from Admiral Halsey, who declared that their "skill and guts" will become a "Navy tradition."

On the afternoon of October 16, a mass attack by enemy planes began. Approximately 80 were downed by carrier planes, and the Canberra shot down one of two that broke through—making six Rising Sun flags for the cruiser's bridge. It was the other plane which managed to score a second hit on the crippled Houston.

After a brief stay at Ulithi, the U.S.S. Canberra was towed to the Advanced Base at Manus in the Admiralty Islands. Her wounds temporarily healed there, the 13,000 Baltimore-class cruiser was able, with her three remaining damaged engines, to limp back over the 10,000-odd miles to Boston Navy Yard in 35 days, January 13 to February 16 of this year, escorted by a single destroyer on only part of the journey.

Kenneth escaped injured during the many assaults that were made upon the Canberra. His wife and little son are patiently waiting for his return from service. He entered the navy before Pearl Harbor was blown up and is now anxious to get back to civilian life. For a time before going into the service, he was employed at the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant.

RICHARD ERDELYI, NOW DOWN IN TEXAS.

Richard Erdelyi, 751 Forest avenue, recently arrived at Camp Fannin, Texas where he is taking his basic training with Company A, 53rd Battalion, 11th Training Regiment. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Erdelyi.

GIVEN ADVANCEMENT TO SEAMAN FIRST CLASS.

The Navy department announces that William J. Zimmerman, of Plymouth, now serving at the construction depot at Pearl Harbor station, has been advanced to the rating of seaman first class.

This advancement has come to Zimmerman in recognition of outstanding faithfulness and skill in the performance of duty, and completion of the course of study prescribed for this new rating.

He is the son of Mr. Everett L. Zimmerman, who resides at 254 Blunk street.

CAP Officials Tell of Progress of Group Here

Now that the war is over the heroic and unsung Civil Air Patrol personnel can turn their attention to more peaceful pursuits. This applies to all the CAP officers and cadets, or anyone connected in any way with the organization.

People in Plymouth will recall the huge job the CAP pilots performed in their own planes and without any remuneration. They even bought their own gasoline. Their work was not without danger. Their planes were slow-flying and without armor plate.

All CAP pilots were volunteers. They flew many hours without rest or food. In all about 30 of them gave their lives in doing one of the greatest jobs of protecting the United States, their fighting men and ships without cost to any one but themselves.

Finally the CAP was given the job of recruiting and basically training qualified personnel for the Army Air Forces. The army promised aid in this work but soon forgot the CAP because two wars taxed their facilities so the unsung CAP went doggedly to work training and recruiting potential combat and bomber pilots.

One of the busiest and largest CAP squadrons in Michigan was and remains the Ypsilanti Squadron, commanded by Capt. George E. Wood. An integral part of the Ypsilanti Squadron is the Plymouth Flight.

Several months ago the squadron at Ypsi began getting appeals from Plymouth persons seeking organization of a "flight" here. Captain Wood was surprised and pleased. With the aid of several Plymouth men the flight was organized with a roll of 70 members.

It is and has been one of our most attentive and progressive flights," said Capt. Wood. "The man responsible for its splendid progress is none other than Lt. Lorenzo Wells. He has and still does devote an unbelievable amount of time to the Plymouth Flight."

Capt. Wood warns that just because the fighting is over the CAP can't disband. He is afraid that unless the people of Plymouth find out just what the CAP plans to do now that the war is over they may withdraw the support that so far has kept the Plymouth Flight active.

The present plans of Capt. Wood and all other CAP squadron commanders call for an increased tempo in the administration of flight training to thousands of eager young people.

Capt. Wood and Lt. Wells know that the Army Air Forces are counting on the nation's CAP squadrons and flights to provide the United States with qualified and youthful personnel to give America an endless stream of potential pilots and insure her air supremacy in the coming decades.

Herm Bakhaus Up-to-date Says Farm Magazine

Much has been said in jest about the new "lake" that Herman Bakhaus is having created on his farm just west of his home on West Territorial road.

But let it be said, according to a recent article in one of the nation's greatest farm magazines, that what Herman Bakhaus is doing is right in step with one of the most progressive farm ideas that has been started in many years.

The belief that farm ponds should be producers like gardens or chicken yards is rapidly spreading, reports Country Gentleman. Growth in the number of ponds in the United States makes it likely that this new fish "crop" will grow in importance.

According to a conservative estimate, at least 100,000 farm ponds, averaging about one and a half surface acres, have been built throughout the country in the last ten years.

The principal cost is pond construction, which can vary greatly. In Alabama, for example, where approximately 3000 privately financed fish-ponds were counted by County Agents in December 1, 1944, many were built for from fifty to one hundred dollars per surface acre.

Fish differ from other livestock in that one stocking, if you start right, is generally enough to last a lifetime. Since they put on weight for the same reason that steers and hogs do, fertilizer is used in ponds to support the microscopic plants and animals on which they feed. Maintenance under present conditions runs from eight to twenty dollars per surface acre, if commercial fertilizer is used.

How much of a harvest can be expected? Allen M. Pearson, Alabama specialist in fish and wildlife marketing, says that from 250 to 300 pounds of edible fish may be harvested annually per acre without hurting a pond, and such fish at present prices are worth at least thirty cents per pound. This makes a meat yield, in the South at least, comparable to that of the best pastures.

That is what the Country Gentleman says in a recent article. But that is not all; the American Wildlife Association and the United States Department of Interior, strongly urge the creation of these small fish-ponds wherever possible.

Not only does the government urge the creation of small lakes along streams by building small dams, but it recommends that small ponds be created wherever there is a spring that can be used. Mr. Bakhaus spent considerable time in investigating the problem before he started a steam shovel to work digging out a "lake" on Territorial road just west of his farm. The site he selected for his lake had several springs that flowed the entire year.

Since he started excavation it has been necessary to keep a pump in almost continuous operation in order to keep the water low enough so that the steam shovel could operate.

The lake is not going to be a large one, but according to all information provided him by the Interior department, Mr. Bakhaus is sure it will be sufficiently large to keep alive all the fish he desires to rear as well as provide a "resting" place for ducks that might be in transit during the early spring and fall.

But he is not the first one to build a lake on his place. Russell

Powell sometime ago created a small lake on his place out Territorial road. He not only had the advantage of some good springs, but a small branch of the Toniquish creek as well.

Mr. Powell planned it to fish a number of years ago and he has found that they are doing very well.

He has also had many ducks use the lake on his place, one year a number of wild geese landing on it. From what can be learned, there are numerous other similar lakes being planned by residents in this vicinity.

Babson Says - -

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 14—Recently walked by Lord & Taylor's beautiful Fifth Avenue show windows. Behold, I saw an elaborate exhibit of Folly Cove Designs. When a boy here in Gloucester I had a girl friend at a place on Cape Ann known as "Folly Cove." When I went down there my father used to call it "Roger's Folly!" As I had never since heard of any other Folly Cove, I stopped at Lord & Taylor's and examined the goods. Sure enough they were from my own Folly Cove of Gloucester. Furthermore, I was again proud of this Cove. The goods were as pretty as the girl I used to go with.

Better Living for Less Money
So, at my first opportunity I hiked back to my old home at Gloucester where I am writing this column for my 400 friendly newspapers. Well, here is the remarkable story: A very intelligent girl named Virginia Lee Burton—a graduate of the Boston Art Museum, married a successful sculptor named George Demetrios. So this is what, if any "Mass. Tech." men read this story please note she is the daughter of our beloved Dean Burton and the sister of Senator Burton of Ohio. Well, although this couple could afford to live in any apartment of any city, they chose to live as God intended they should live. Hence, they bought a little farm here at Folly Cove and are living better for less money.

After the honeymoon was over and George and Virginia had started two fine boys on their way, they decided to try a truly co-operative experiment in art. They felt that many of the so-called "co-operative enterprises are just a form of big business sailing under false colors. So this is what they did: They called together all their married neighbors, wives of farmers, fishermen, stonecutters and others. These were mothers who were doing their own housework and taking care of their own children. Hence, the first requirement was that the work must be done at home.

The Joy of Creating Something
The second requirement was that to hold these mothers' interest they must be encouraged to use their heads as well as their hands. Hence, Virginia had them actually design and create something themselves. Yet, all of the townspeople—except Dorothy Norton and Louise Kenyon—thought this was impossible. Only these two believed that untrained people could design original patterns and they must be absolutely original for which great Fifth Avenue stores would scramble.

Well, these women have no company or organization. They call Mrs. Demetrios, "President"; while all the others are "Vice Presidents". They also elect a jury of 5 to settle any disputes which may arise. Each woman makes and owns her own designs; she carves the blocks (out of battleship linoleum), mixes the ink and rolls it on the blocks. Then the blocks are put over the cloth laid upon the floor and stamped; yes, literally stamped upon because a woman must jump up and down on her block to make a good print! They began by making only table doilies, scarfs, etc.; but now they make yard-goods for dresses, curtains and exquisite wallpaper.

Eliminating Overhead
But there is one more feature which should be noted. It usually costs more to sell goods than to make them; but not so at Folly Cove. The overhead advertising and sales expenses of these women amount to only 1 1/2 per cent. Hence, each woman gets 98 1/2 cents of every dollar which the retail stores pay for the goods. These women certainly are teaching manufacturers something in connection with distribution. This lesson alone entitles this story to be in this weekly financial column. But most important of all, this is proof that nothing succeeds like true co-operation. Here all have the same powers, vote opportunities and yet the income of each is based upon her own individual efforts. Question: Why cannot this co-operative principle be applied to many other products? May there not be a suggestion here for returning veterans who want to be both independent and useful?

For this work, their jaws are equipped with sharp hooks which project so far that the soldiers have to be spoon-fed by the nurses, the workers and other super-numeraries.

Three Return From Service Together In Africa and Italy

Rodger Vanderveen, Herman Trick and James Gearnes all returned home last Sunday after spending the last 26 months with ordnance evacuation in Africa and Italy. The three boys who were close friends in Plymouth High School all entered the service at the same time and were fortunate enough to manage to stay together throughout the war in Europe.

"Mail was never a problem to any of us," stated Rodger, "because when any of us got a letter or a Plymouth Mail we just passed it around and that way we kept up on all the home news and among us we managed to get some kind of a note almost every day."

The boys were not impressed with either Africa or Italy and all agreed that neither could even in the slightest way compare with good old USA. The only interesting city that they saw in the two year period in that part of the world was Rome and they were fortunate enough to have enough time to visit all of the worthwhile places there.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

A great many from Perrinsville attended the Livonia home-coming in Miners' woods. Threshers are very busy between showers trying to save the grain.

A pretty christening service was held last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fisher on East Ann Arbor street, when in the presence of relatives and friends, Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, pastor of the first Presbyterian church administered baptism to their infant son, Kenneth Edwin Fisher. After the ceremony the guests were served ice cream and cake. The fact that it was Kenneth's first birthday added interest to the occasion.

A new baptismal font, donated by a member of the Lutheran church, was dedicated in the morning service, last Sunday. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Beyer was the first one baptized from the new font.

Julius Kaiser and Roy Fisher, who have been taking a motor trip through northern Michigan, have returned home. Mr. Fisher stopped for a few days at the Y.M.C.A. camp near Alpena.

Charles Thumme and family have moved from Farmington to Maple Avenue.

Miss Verne Rowley left last Saturday for a two-weeks trip to Yellowstone Park.

Lee Eldred is a busy man these days, tearing down and rebuilding silos.

Miss Della Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Perkins, and E. J. Glass were married Wednesday, Aug. 25 at noon, in the Northville Methodist parsonage. The bride was attended by Miss Florence Nelson, and the bridegroom by Frank Everett, both of Plymouth.

William G. Jennings has purchased the George Dean residence on Main street, and has moved here from Detroit.

George W. Richwine is attending a convention of the National Retail Harness and Leather Dealer's Association, at the Statler hotel, in Detroit, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

On Tuesday, Sept. 7 the public schools will resume the work of making a better tomorrow. The new athletic field and playground with its baseball diamond, football gridiron, running track and tennis court is certainly a fitting monument to the co-operation of the Board of Education, Village Commission and management of the Plymouth Baseball association.

The store of the Conner Hardware Co. was burglarized last Friday night or early Saturday morning. The thieves gained entrance to the store through the cellar window. Several watches, flashlights, etc. were taken, amounting in the neighborhood of $100. No clue to the robbers has been found by the officers.

According to the preliminary announcement of the bureau of the census, Plymouth has a population of 2,857. This is a gain of 1186 over the census of 1910.

Samurai Sword Captains Pride
Captain Stanley Allen recently home from many months of service in the Pacific has as his most highly prized war trophy a Japanese Samurai Sword. Proudly displaying his treasure in the Mail office Captain Allen said that he became owner of the sword and its scabbard on the island of Saipan.

He stated that he first noticed the sword protruding from the back of a dead Jap soldier and the gold on the hilt attracted his attention as his company was moving forward. On inspection and removal of the sword he couldn't help but wonder what conditions had brought about the incident that caused the Jap's death with a sword from one of his own countrymen in his back and search of the dense tropical area soon provided an answer.

Not far from the soldier's body was that of a Jap Major and on his belt was the empty sheath. Therein lies a tale and today the sword and sheath are the pride and joy of the Allen war trophy collection.

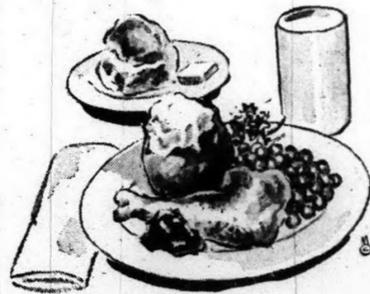

Captain Allen will remain in Plymouth for the next two weeks then report back for reassignment or possible release.
