THE PLYMOUTH MAIL

Vol. 58, No. 12

Plymouth, Michigan, Friday, November 23, 1945

$2.00 Per Year in Advance

FOR VETERANS.

Mr. Plymouth Veteran! Have you been able to get a job yet? It not just put a situation-wanted advertisement in The Plymouth Mail.

To Put New 22 Rifle on Market In Near Future

C. J. Hamilton & Son, gun manufacturers in Plymouth for over 40 years, have sold their shop equipment and dies and tools to the Hoban Manufacturing Company whose plant is located in Salem.

Designed particularly for boys, the new Hoban Rifles will be modeled after the Army Carbine. It is doubtful if they will appeal to men but it's certain they will make a distinct hit with the younger marksmen.

Although the Salem concern is a partnership affair Plymouth's John Hoban will manage its destiny. He said the rifles would be mass produced and marketed through jobbers.

The rifles are now in production at the Salem plant but it will be some little time before they are introduced to the public.

For the present the factory will utilize only its original 5,500 square feet of floor space.

Larger Packages For Soldiers

Postmaster Harry Irwin Monday was notified that a change in regulations limiting the size and length of packages for Army personnel overseas was now in effect.

The war-inspired five pound overseas troops has been raised to limit on parcels destined for 11 pounds, Postmaster Irwin said.

The notification also cautioned Postmaster Irwin to inform the public that although the limitations had been eased it still was necessary for the addressee to request the mailing of such a parcel.

Joe Merritt Is Back Home

Joe Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Merritt, who was one of the many American prisoners taken when Bataan fell, has arrived at the home of his parents on Lilley road.

He will be here until January 5, when he goes back to Cambridge, Ohio for discharge.

Joe is feeling fine and is much heavier than he was when he came out of the Jap prison camp.

Gifts for Wounded Men

Plymouth Stores Are Filled to Overflowing With Gifts of All Kinds For Christmas

Merchants Delighted With Success They Have Had In Getting Goods For Holidays

Plymouth merchants are this year offering a greater variety of merchandise for Christmas shoppers than they have been able to since the beginning of the war.

During recent weeks, merchants have searched the wholesale markets of the east and the west and they have been most successful in their efforts.

And they have already started their advertising in The Plymouth Mail to advise the thousands of shoppers in and around Plymouth of the good news they have for them for this Christmas holiday season.

Whether they are dealing in dishes or davenport, shoes or sleds, rugs or refrigerators, or milady's dainties, Plymouth merchants have been exceptionally fortunate in obtaining Christmas stock.

The situation quite naturally does not compare to the pre-war holiday supplies of goods but it is better than most merchants believed it would be some months ago.

Christmas tree ornaments and the traditional tinsel, imitation snow and icicles probably will remain scarce this year.

Removal of the shoe ration definitely will increase the usual heavy buying of footwear this Yuletide.

Adult and children's clothing supplies are expected to be fairly ample in Plymouth.

Coats and dresses for girls and women are of good quality and shipments are steadily improving.

Jewelers and gift shops have by far the largest stocks they have been able to get in a number of years—and their offerings this year are of a much wider variety than in the past three or four years.

Even the hardware and auto accessory stores have been getting much more Christmas stock than they had expected.

Plymouth stores that carry clothing for men and boys have also been fortunate.

Fire Destroys Small Home

Flames which were discovered shortly after 3 o'clock Tuesday morning destroyed the small home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Safran, living at 1136 Butternut street in Robinson subdivision.

Items such as pocketbooks, bill-folds, luggage and briefcases will be more plentiful than last year and of far better quality.

Plymouth drug store owners, like other merchants, are highly pleased with their holiday buying.

The hosiery picture for Christmas can be expected to appear brighter.

Grocery store Christmas items are appearing on the market rather early, but it will be two or three weeks before items of this type will be abundant because of the perishable nature of much of it, such as baskets of fruits.

Probably the category that has suffered the most from war wrought shortages is the toy market.

The First Thanksgiving--- And Today's Thanksgiving

(By Rev. T. Leonard Sanders.)

"The First Thanksgiving," which appears in Gregg's "Founding of a Nation" tells us that after a year of tragic suffering and great anxiety, the Pilgrims were rewarded with twenty-one acres of luxuriant and abundant harvest.

One of the striking passages in the account of that observance describes the harvest ritual connected with the gathering of the last shock of corn.

Then follows a description of the first Thanksgiving feast. From every hut came the ever faithful women, proudly trekking their way to the common house with the steaming dishes of corn and venison and wild turkeys and cakes and other delicacies, too numerous to mention.

On the following day, Massasoit arrives, by invitation, with 90 followers, to participate in the second feast. The Indians try at first to imitate their white hosts in the use of knives and forks, but they soon give up the struggle and sit cross-legged on the floor, devouring their turkey and "fixings" with a rather direct plan of attack.

After their feast, they are taught to play stool ball and quoits, after which they entertain their hosts with Indian dancing, war whoops, and bow-and-arrow marksmanship.

Here we are in the Thanksgiving season of 1945. What should be our mood at a time such as this? This should be a time of grateful and exultant praise to the heavenly Father for his bounties.

Let us thank God for his bounties. We cannot number his mercies. They are as the sands which by the seashore are innumerable.

Let us thank God for books: "The precious life-blood of a master spirit embalmed and treasured on purpose to a life beyond life"; for pictures, and that wide realm of art, where every day may bring a fresh discovery or announce a new joy; for music, the ministry of melody, the world of haunting harmonies; for blessings such as these and myriad others unnamed, let our praises rise in glad hallelujahs.

Let us thank God and repeat: Thank Him for His many mercies, and repent of our shortcomings as a nation, as churches, as religious leaders and followers of Christ.

Perry Hix Family Most Grateful

Probably the two most grateful people who have suffered a severe calamity are Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hix. Their home was destroyed by fire about two weeks ago.

Another fire call early Monday evening took the department to the home of James Simpson at 14440 Sheldon road.

Flames which were discovered shortly after 3 o'clock Tuesday morning destroyed the small home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Safran, living at 1136 Butternut street in Robinson subdivision.

City Makes Good Record For Its Taxpayers

According to City Manager Clarence Elliott, Plymouth in the last year has had a total of $41,500 worth of municipal improvements completed.

This is a record of which the city is rightfully proud and one which should make the taxpayers here glad they live in Plymouth.

Many communities larger than ours have had little or no public improvements since the war began. Others have had only minor projects completed since V-J Day.

Mr. Elliott says several of the improvements here were not started until after V-J Day but they were on paper and just awaiting the war's end.

"We foresaw the war's end," Mr. Elliott said, and figured it would be well to be prepared for action when it came.

The major project here was the $18,000 improvement of the City's water system. That is, the installation of new 12-inch mains with which to supply the high pressure water tower.

By introducing the use of 12-inch mains friction was reduced. This enables the gallonage pumped per minute to be upped from 800 to between 920 and 950.

Thus by replacing the six-inch mains with 12-inch pipes the City has increased its water supply by more than 100 gallons a minute without additional pumping costs.

Next on the list of municipal improvements here is the $11,000 blacktopping program for the city streets.

Along with the street improvements goes the $7,000 curb and gutter construction. Such building not only adds to the beauty of a street but also enhances the value of all individual property it embraces.

Harry Lush to Give Free Show to Help Encourage Bond Drive

Harry Lush, to help give the Victory war bond drive a mighty push, has again contributed his Penn theatre for a war bond premier.

The date has been fixed for Thursday, December 6. For this outstanding event he will book one of the best shows obtainable.

Admission will be by war bonds only. Tickets will be available at the postoffice and the two banks and at the Penn theatre on and after Monday, November 26.

Purchasers will be given free show tickets with each war bond bought in Plymouth.

Mrs. Walter Kellogg Sumner, chairman of the Women's Gallant organization, reports good success in the drive being made by these tireless workers.

The competition between school classes is growing exceedingly keen and as a result the youngsters will probably come to nearing their all-time high in this drive.

Plymouth has gone well over the one third mark and the city may reach its half way point in its quota before the week is over.

Indications are that the early winter dancing party planned by the Plymouth JayCee Auxiliary to raise funds for the Civic Memorial auditorium scheduled to take place Saturday evening, December 1, at the Masonic Temple will be an overflow affair.

Committees in charge state that there has been an exceptionally good advance sale of tickets and from inquiries, the members believe the affair will be one of the largest they have ever held.

Members say that an excellent orchestra has been secured. The date is definitely fixed for Saturday evening, December 1.

Good Fellows Plan Christmas

Plymouth's Goodfellows — Old Newsboys — met Tuesday night at the city hall to plan their annual Christmas activities.

They will later announce the date of their annual Goodfellow newspaper sale to raise funds with which to finance their gift and food baskets for Plymouth's indigents.

Committees to chart the paper sale and the distribution of baskets also were appointed.

The date of the paper sale and committee personnel will be given in a later issue of The Mail.

ing the past two years. Besides the curb and gutter construction the city poured $1,000 worth of new sidewalk at various locations in the community.

Some of the jobs were new and others replaced broken and cracked walks that were a hazard for pedestrians using them after night-fall.

Two sanitary sewers were constructed at a cost of $3,000 and one storm sewer at a cost of $1,500. The only thing lacking on the sewer jobs right now are the manholes. Mr. Elliott said these could not be built at present because the City was unable to obtain the necessary brick.

Before the year ends, Mr. Elliott hopes to have two other construction jobs completed. These are to include a sanitary sewer and water service on Forest street between Wing and Ann Arbor Trail and for the new J. K. Lytle Corp., makers of paper boxes, whose plant is being built on Sheldon road at the Pere Marquette tracks.

Here Are Ways To Prepare Cabbage For Best Results

With cabbage, the Vitamin C food, cheap and plentiful this fall, a few pointers on preparation and serving may not come amiss, especially if the cabbages are Plymouth grown.

Miss Roberta Hershey, extension nutrition specialist at Michigan State College, emphasizes one never-to-be-overlooked rule to follow. Prepare cabbage when fresh and serve promptly. This is absolutely necessary if the vitamin content is to be retained. Prepared in this manner, one cup of raw cabbage will furnish nearly half of the day's vitamin C needs, plus a good supply of B vitamins and calcium.

Air, water and heat can rob cabbage of vitamin C. So, the secret is to cook quickly and avoid exposing the cut cabbage to the air. Five to 10 minutes of boiling does the trick for shredded cabbage, and 10 to 15 minutes for quartered cabbage.

Boiled cabbage served with white sauce or cheese sauce is a table treat. Here is the recipe: Quarter the cabbage. Start cooking in just enough briskly boiling, lightly salted water to prevent cabbage from sticking to pan. Cover the saucepan and cook cabbage until just tender, about 10 to 15 minutes. Add 1 cup of white sauce to each 2 cups of cooked cabbage and the cooking liquid. To make a medium-thick white sauce: Blend 2 tablespoons of flour with 2 tablespoons of fat. Add 1 cup of milk. Cook slowly and stir constantly until smooth. Salt to taste. To make a cheese sauce, add 1 cup of cheese shaved thin, when the white sauce has heated and become smooth; then stir until the cheese melts.

Captain Laird On Way Back To Okinawa

The war isn't over as far as Captain C. B. Laird, a former resident of Plymouth and an employee of the state highway office here, is concerned.

He has just started back to Okinawa after a visit with his family at Harbor Beach. Captain Laird is a member of the army engineering forces. He has seen plenty of service in the Pacific and was sometime ago granted a leave so he could visit his family back in the United States. Mrs. Laird and their three children are now living in Harbor Beach, where they expect to remain until Capt. Laird's enlistment has expired. The Lairds now have three children, one having been born since they left Plymouth.

Scout News of Plymouth Area

(By Harold H. Schryer.)

One of the most important phases of Scouting is the public recognition of the Scouts who have made real advancements in their various ranks.

To this end there is that periodic Scouting event known as the Court of Honor. This may be either an event held within the Troop program or held as a Community or District function.

The former is a prepared program of highest interest to the Troop members as a group at which it is most important to summon the parental body and interested following of the particular Troop into the field of recognition as a stimulus to the general interest of the Troop-at-large.

The latter as a means of public recognition to all local Troops for efforts expended and to create a better understanding of the ver-all Scouting program as it affects the Community.

Scouts and Scouters alike are vitally interested in these events.

They are most desirous of seeing the general public participate in them to the extent of showing their recognition of the values of the movement by their attendance in full strength.

A Community Court of Honor is to be held at the Plymouth High School Auditorium on the evening of December 13.

Every Scout and Scouter; parent and interested adult, is most urgently requested to attend this event and to make their interest evident by bringing their friends and neighbors to see the local Boy Scouts of America receive their Advancement Awards and the recognition of an interested Plymouth public which knows the Worth of our active Scouting program.

Twenty-four members of Troop 2 participated in a "Secret Rendezvous Hike" last Saturday. With a rather rainy outlook the Troop was almost 100 percent in attendance and their planned program was almost completely successful despite the weather's handicaps.

Five patrols were represented by full working units and each went out under separate "Sealed" orders and found their various ways to the Secret Rendezvous by the use of several of the natural Scouting skills. Compass directions, trail signs, judging, "Bee-line" hiking and cooking were parts of the program as were the Scout games and test passing.

A Council fire and troop songs were the finale and only then did the rains begin to fall. All-in-all the troop reports that it enjoyed the day.

Scoutmaster Schryer wishes to thank all of the troop for their splendid co-operation and good Scouting practices which were well done. Also thanks the parent body for their confidence in the self-reliance of the Scouts which permitted such a large attendance to be possible under such adverse weather conditions.

Here's to another and tougher hike in the near future, fellows!

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weed and daughters will be Thanksgiving Day guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Crawford at Oxford.

Frank Durham was taken to the Veteran hospital in Dearborn, Saturday night. Mr. Durham is in a critical condition.

The Plymouth Assembly of Rainbow girls will have one initiation Monday, November 26 at 7:30 at the Masonic Temple. All members are urged to attend.

James Richards Is On His Way Out of Service

The U.S.S. Maryland—one of more than 250 carriers, battleships, cruisers and attack transports in the Navy's famed "Magic Carpet" fleet—left Pearl Harbor, Tuesday, November 6, and was scheduled to arrive in San Diego about Monday, November 12.

Passengers will go directly to the Separation Centers nearest their homes to complete the formalities of obtaining their discharge before returning to civilian life.

"WE'RE MOVING RIGHT ALONG"

... BUT THE JOB HAS JUST BEGUN

Telephone equipment for civilians is beginning to flow from the factories. Michigan Bell's 5-year $120,000,000 expansion and improvement program is off to a good start, with projects costing over $5,000,000 already under way.

We've begun to install telephones in those areas where only telephone instruments are needed to provide service. By next spring, we expect to clear up virtually all orders of this type—more than one-third of the 125,000 waiting applications.

To fill the other orders, cable must be produced, placed and spliced; complex switching equipment must be engineered, manufactured and fitted in with existing apparatus. In many cases, new buildings must be erected.

This work is being rushed. But the job is so big that it will be 1947 before enough equipment is ready to serve everybody who wants a telephone. That means we must still ask your understanding and patience.

Two new court of honor award trophies are now in the making. One is for the largest troop following at the court of honor; the other for the troop with the highest proportion of advancement during the intervals between these courts.

These are standing awards which will rotate from troop to troop according to their various rates of progress over the years.

Let's get on the beam, Scouts, and try to have both of the awards prominent on our troop display.

Your reporter has been advised that den 3 of our local Cub Scout Pack attended the Michigan-Purdue game at Ann Arbor on Saturday last.

This is one fine way of treating a neighborhood group of pre-Scout age boys to some of the pleasures of grown-up companionship which they so readily appreciate.

Nice going, Den 3!

Paper! Get you salvage paper out for the monthly pick-up which is to be held Saturday, Dec. 8. Although it seems but a short time since our last pick-up the regular schedule for the local Scouts falls on the last Saturday of each month, but because of the holiday it has been postponed until Saturday, December 8.

We will be around as usual so please be prepared for us.

Precinct 4 pick-up starts at 10 a.m. in order that our Scouts may have the afternoon for other tasks and pleasures.

Scouts and Scouters attention. This is your column and we would like to see any contribution to the Scout news submitted for editing in time to meet our Monday morning dead-line.

The citizens of Plymouth are interested in your work and appreciate timely tips as to your activities as well as the reports of same.

Needed: $1,000,000 worth of equipment in every farm county! Jobs! Big demand for one-man combines will make factory jobs.

Many farmers will buy one-man hay balers. More jobs! One-man ensilage harvesters will add to jobs in factories.

Making Postwar Jobs—With Farm Equipment

How many jobs will there be for men and women released from military service—and from war industry? No one can say, exactly. But this much we know: Business management, in scores of industries, has long since laid plans to meet quickly the tremendous, pent-up demand for goods of all kinds—and to introduce new products and services that will make jobs by the thousands by creating new demands.

Take the farm-equipment industry. Right now, there is a critical demand for standard farm implements of all kinds. Nearly a million dollars' worth of equipment is needed in every farm county! Making this equipment will make jobs for thousands, in mines, mills, and factories.

And a great new force for job-making is in the new developments by farm-equipment manufacturers. Among these developments are new ensilage harvesters that cut standing corn and make it ready for ensiling in one simple operation. New combines that harvest and thresh wheat without backbreaking toil. New machines that pick corn, pick up and bale hay, dig and pick up sugar beets. Machines that not only mean easier, better, more diversified, more productive farming—but also new jobs in industry.

The farm-implement industry is but one of many along the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Nickel Plate, and Pere Marquette, that are going full speed ahead putting their plans into operation, now that Victory has been won.

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

An altogether sensible man is Mr. Dunn. He remembers very well the day when Campau gave him the recipe. No other gin would do but Plymouth. And the hazel nut had to be just the right size. Having established the technique locally, Campau insisted upon everybody else trying his "new" creation.
As far as anybody can determine, it was the nut that did it. People got the idea that this filbert made the drink taste differently than any other cocktail. And so the "D.J." became a Detroit Club vogue which spread to other clubs and to other bars. Campau was as proud of his achievement as a man might be who had given his city a great hospital.

One of the old timers who delighted in the "D.J." because of his sense of humor, was the late Mortimer E. Cooley, famed engineering dean at the University of Michigan. When the Dean lived at the Detroit Club he spent hours with Frank Dunn talking over life in general. There was nothing incongruous about this as both men were philosophers.

One time years ago Dean Cooley went up to Minneapolis to see a Michigan-Minnesota football game. He introduced the "D.J." cocktail, giving the hotel bartender detailed instructions. During their three day stay in Minneapolis, the harassed bartenders served little else.

Years later Dean Cooley went back to that city to testify in some lawsuit. He sought the old bartender who did not recognize him.

"Have you got any Plymouth gin?" he asked.
"Yes."
"And, perhaps, some hazel nuts?"
The old bartender glared at him.
"Are you asking me to make one of those 'D.J.' cocktails," he demanded.

"Why, yes," said the Dean. "how did you guess?"
"I know how to make them," was the response. "Some years ago a bunch of crazy Michigan men came up here to see a football game and a damned old fool in the party got everybody around here drinking them. I've had to keep hazel nuts on hand ever since."

The Dean made no effort to enlighten the bartender as to the identity of the "old fool."

One night when Frank Dunn was young there was scarlet fever in his home. His son was sick. It was Christmas time and he had to remain on the job. He could not go home and it was too late to find a room, so he slept in the barber chair. Campau found him there in the morning and reported him to the house committee. Campau was like that. When the house committee rebuked Campau and explained, he went to Dunn and apologized. That was foreign to his nature but he had to keep the good will of the man who made those "D.J." cocktails.

Another Plymouth Duck Hunter Got a Goose; Rose Gets Big Deer

Plymouth duck hunters have scored especially well this fall as goose hunters. Last week there was published the names of several duck hunters who had shot a goose or two up on Saginaw Bay.

The name of Russell Powell can be added to the list, because he, too, shot a big Canadian goose while hunting for duck. He's just back from Lewiston with a nice deer.

Up to the present time William Rose holds the record for bringing back the biggest deer. He returned bright and early Monday morning from Barton City, west of Hartsville, with a buck that weighed well over 200 pounds. Mr. Rose states that in all the years he has been hunting up north he has never seen deer so plentiful as this year.

What some of our government officials and labor leaders need more than anything else is a thorough course in arithmetic.

Plymouth Stores

there are more toys on the market than at any time in three years.

It is nothing less than amazing what the manufacturers have been able to do in producing wood toys. Plymouth stores have some fine displays that are attracting the eyes of all the children.

A check of Christmas advertisements appearing in The Plymouth Mail each week will convince the most careful buyer that local merchants have done an excellent job under most trying conditions to prepare for Christmas shoppers. It is not necessary to go to Detroit or anywhere else to fight the greedy crowds in order to shop for Christmas. It can all be done right at home where quick and courteous service is available.

All in all the prospect for Christmas shoppers in Plymouth is mighty fine. Anticipated needs of the local buyers have been amply supplied. Once more Plymouth and vicinity will enjoy a pre-war holiday season, with large numbers of the boys now in uniform home in time to enjoy the delights of a peacetime Christmas.

Our 1st anniversary, coming as it does at this Thanksgiving Season, we have many things to be thankful for.

We are thankful that the war has ended. . . We are thankful to see the faces of many of our returned veterans and for the news that many more will be home for Christmas.

Our thanks, however, would be incomplete if we did not at this time take the opportunity of expressing our appreciation for your patronage this past year and to pledge ourselves to be worthy of your continued confidence.

Hospital Site May Be Near Here

Two sites within short distances from Plymouth are being investigated by state officials as a possible location for the new $10,000,000 metal hospital that was authorized at the last session of the state legislature. The bill specified that the institution be located in the Detroit area, which for years has been short of all types of hospital services.
One site is on the Seven Mile road, just east of the Plymouth-Northville road.
Recently state officials including Lieut.-Gov. Vernon J. Brown; Secretary of State, Herman H. Dignan; William J. Norton, chairman of the Mental Health commission; Charles F. Wagg, executive officer of the commission, and A. N. Langius, State director of buildings and construction, inspected a site on Seven Mile road that embraces a large acreage surrounding the Carmi Benton property.
The Seven Mile site is 16 miles from Detroit's center of population. Another site suggested near New Hudson is approximately 27 miles from the center of population.
The officials said that the water supply problem might be solved at the nearby site by a two-mile main connection with the Detroit water system, while sewage disposal might be provided by a connection with the Wayne County system.
"It looked to all of us as if we could find something in the vicinity of Northville and Plymouth," Lieut.-Gov. Vernon J. Brown said, predicting an early decision if prices prove to be reasonable.
Advantages listed for the area included 45-minute bus transportation from Detroit and the availability of connections with the Detroit water supply system and the Wayne County sewage disposal system.
The Legislature, which has appropriated $150,000 for a site of about 400 acres probably will be asked at a special session in January to provide $5,000,000 for construction of the initial units.
State officials have been interviewing property owners in the vicinity of the proposed site, and asking for permission to test for water and other basic privileges.

He is now out of the service and is enjoying a brief vacation. Much of his time in the past year was spent in the Philippine islands.
It is his plan after the holidays to return to Los Angeles where he will enter one of the Universities located in that city. He was in the life insurance business before going into the army and he plans to resume this kind of work when he completes his University course.
Before going overseas Lionel spent much time in training time in California and has become such a California booster that he expects to locate permanently.

CASEY PARTRIDGE

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS...

Well, here it is 1955! And Tom in business for himself—already heading for a real success.
Set himself up with those matured War Bonds we bought back in the 1940's—four dollars for every three we saved originally! Back in 1945, even, we knew it would turn out this way. Buying all the Bonds we could. And saving them! Tom's a wonderful husband. And he deserves all the credit.
Well, almost all!
There was a time—that was back in 1945, too, I guess—when he needed a little help from me. I found he'd let down on his Bond buying. Not only that, he actually almost suggested we cash in a Bond or two to pay for something we wanted...
And that's where I put my foot down!
"YOU LISTEN TO ME, Tom Lapham," I told him. "Don't you know that the biggest difference between a success and a failure is that the success sticks to his plans? I don't want to be married to a man who hasn't the resolution (or maybe I said 'gumption') to slack off on what he knows is right! You're not going to sabotage our future!"
I guess every husband needs a wifely dressing down once in a while! And thank heaven Tom listened to me!
We kept our Bonds—and bought more and more of 'em! First thing we knew, we had enough so we began feeling secure. That gave Tom confidence—helped him get ahead. And this year, enough bonds matured to make our dreams come true!
TOM'S A SUCCESS—yet he might have failed if I hadn't spoken. And, of course, he's forgotten. I wouldn't dream of reminding him—it's a secret between us girls.
MORAL: Think of your future—hang on to your bonds! And keep on buying more!

Veterans Seek Hospital Gifts

The Myron H. Beals Post and Auxiliary and the Passage-Gayde Post of the American Legion are again appealing to the citizens of this community to donate Christmas gift boxes for the thousands of men and women confined in service, veteran and private hospitals throughout the State of Michigan. Certainly we all agree that every one of these proven Americans should be remembered and not one forgotten at Christmas time.

By means of radio through Eddie Cantor's Wednesday evening program and local publicity, all civilians are urged to purchase gifts suitable for presentation to hospital patients, pack or have them packed at the store where they are purchased, make a list of the enclosed gifts and attach to the box covering, and turn them over to the local American Legion post or Auxiliary unit for presentation by the Legion and Auxiliary at Christmas.

Due to the tremendous task of scheduling all boxes to arrive at the various hospitals prior to Christmas, the final date for acceptance of the gift boxes by the local organizations will be December 10, 1945. We urge that you shop early and turn your gift boxes in as quickly as possible.

Information from the various hospital authorities make it imperative that certain articles not be included in the boxes and a survey made among the patients themselves indicates which gifts are needed and will be welcomed.

Undesirable gifts are candy, food, liquor, civilian apparel, magazines, puzzles, scrap-books, and used items.

Desirable gifts for men are: Pen and pencil sets, cigarette cases and lighters, billfolds, box cameras, toilet articles, fishing tackle, writing kits, pipes, leather belts, watch straps, bed lamps, the pin sets, books, tennis balls and key cases.

Desirable gifts for women are many—in fact anything a female hospital patient may use. A certain small amount of boxes should be made up for women.

Each donor is requested to include a card of identification and in order to make the boxes uniform, they should cost between three and four dollars. The Legion and Auxiliary invite your active participation in this great Christmas party for 15,000 Michigan patients.

See that your gifts reach the collection centers at Blunk & Thatcher, the Taylor & Blyton store and the two Plymouth hardware stores as promptly as possible. From these places the donations will go directly to the bedsides of patients who will surely be pleased with your generosity.

Inspection of Food Aids State

Michigan State Department of Agriculture's Division of Foods and Standards is one of the seven divisions of the Bureau of Marketing and Enforcements headed by Miles A. Nelson as Chief. The largest number of Department inspectors are employed by this division for food inspections and to maintain sanitary conditions in establishments handling and serving food to the public. These inspectors also test weighing and measuring devices for accuracy, according to Charles Figy, director and reweigh packages to ascertain if they meet the weight inscribed on the label.

Packages failing to show the net weight or showing incorrect weight; meat and food products not fit for human consumption or to which harmful ingredients have been added; bottled beverages not properly labeled or which are misbranded; bushel-baskets of fruit under-size and under the grade declared, cases of soft drinks or soft drink syrups not properly registered with this department and which are grossly contaminated, are a few examples of products seized because they do not meet the requirements of the state food laws.

Usually violators, when accosted, will admit their error and cooperate in complying with the State laws. Out of 22 court cases completed during the last month, there were only 2 cases in which the Department of Agriculture failed to get convictions. The majority of the violators pled guilty, and all of them paid fines and court costs.

A summary of a month's work by the Foods and Standards inspectors includes visits to 512 Michigan towns and cities and the inspection of 7,659 food establishments of all kinds. They took 81 official samples of food suspected of being adulterated; served 4 official sanitary notices to correct gross insanitary conditions; issued 296 orders in writing to correct conditions that were minor violations of the State pure food laws. They reweighed 2,775 packs in such establishments, inspected the weights and measures in 594 business places handling food, and tested 4,380 weighing and measuring devices in such places. Approximately 4,215 additional weights and measures inspections were made in other business establishments; 1,917 packages were re-weighed and found correct, 250 incorrect and condemned until re-weighed and re-packaged or re-marked.

Auction of oil and gas leases to 15,800 state-owned acres in 16 counties has returned $7,433 in bonuses to the state treasury. Competition for descriptions in Pioneer township, Missaukee county; Mills township, Midland county; and Barton township, Newaygo county, lifted some bids to around $5 an acre, although the average was 47 cents.

The Holiday Bird and His Stuffing

By Dorothy B. Hacker

(Wayne Co. Nutrition Chairman) There will be something new and different about this Thanksgiving. In the first place turkeys—young toms and hens—will be back on the market in numbers for the first time in many a moon. Now it is up to the homemaker to see the family turkey is cooked and stuffed in a manner to retain all the traditional glory of the annual Thanksgiving dinner. The finished product won't be perfection unless you have something to start on. So when you go to market here are the things to look for in a bird—a well-rounded body, a well-fleshed breast, a good coating of fat under the skin and few pinfeathers.

The rules of modern poultry cooking are few and easy to follow. Cook at moderate heat so the meat will be juicy, tender, and evenly done. When you think of turkey you usually think of roasting, but for poultry in general you may roast, stew, braise, fricassée, cream or curry the bird. Intense heat hardens and toughens the protein and too much heat shrinks the meat and drives the juices out. As for stuffings, some like 'em wet and some like 'em dry. Let your family's tastes determine what kind you put with the turkey. In general you'll want to follow the pattern which includes, bread base (white, brown or corn); melted butter and some other fat to add richness and flavor, seasonings such as sage, savory, sweet marjoram and thyme. For an additional touch, you may add celery, onions and parsley.

For variety in stuffings there is the dry stuffing which includes a lot of finely chopped celery, onion and parsley cooked in butter, oleo or drippings to develop flavor and seasoned with favorite poultry seasonings. There is the corn bread stuffing, a favorite of the South. Exotic stuffing made of dried apricots, raisins, or prunes goes well with duck, goose, or in boned smoked shoulder. And with these few pointers goes a wish for the best ever Thanksgiving in this first peacetime celebration of that holiday in four years.

The time that has passed between the First Thanksgiving in 1621 and the one you will be celebrating this year not only adds up to more than three centuries but adds up to a lot of progress—not the least of which has been in the Thanksgiving dinner itself. In 1621 they ate venison and wild turkey—today we plan to have the same, but now the accent is on turkey. And the turkey you carve will be a big improvement over his forbearers because research by the U. S. Department of Agriculture has led to improvement of the traditional bird. The idea is to produce a bird with more white meat and more tender meat. Research now is being keyed to raising smaller turkeys adapted to needs of small families. The Dept. of Agriculture has pioneered thousands of experiments to improve agricultural products. The corn you have now is superior in many ways to that eaten in 1621. You have a hardier variety of wheat imported from Russia and grown on the great Mid-western plains. It is called Durum wheat and from it are made macaroni and similar products.

Cranberries are larger and juicier than the wild New England berries were three centuries ago. There is a wider variety of fruits and vegetables for your table. Improved transportation, storage and refrigeration facilities contribute much toward bringing fresh vegetables to your holiday table, even when your own garden has long since become bare.

Other accomplishments since the first Thanksgiving include those in the field of nutrition. Most homemakers are more aware of the importance of planning meals to satisfy family food needs. There are such things as enriched bread and flour. Many groups have combined their talents to keep America's homemakers educated as to the best ways they may keep their families well nourished. While it marks the first peacetime Thanksgiving since 1941, that traditional day in 1945 also marks three centuries of progress in good eating.

New Control for Hospital

The final organization meeting of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority was held on Thursday, November 8, 1945 at the offices of the Detroit Edison company in Wayne, Michigan.

The permanent officers elected were: Adhemor Stults, of Flat Rock, chairman; Harley E. Smith of Wayne, vice-chairman; George Gerbstadt of Wayne, treasurer; Carl Heavlin of Garden City, secretary.

The Executive committee is composed of Adhemor Stults, chairman, R. J. Bullinger of Dearborn township and Edward J. German of Nankin township.

The first official action of the new Board consisted of the employment of the firm of Smith-Hinchman & Grylls, Inc., architects, to assist in the survey and planning for hospital structures in the area. Doctor Norris, formerly Dean of Wayne University, was present and offered some very constructive advice on planning. It is expected that a hospital consultant will be employed in the very near future to also assist in the survey and planning. Smith-Hinchman & Grylls, Inc., were instructed to immediately proceed with their survey.

The authority now consists of the following municipalities, townships of Nankin, Dearborn, Romulus, Taylor, Sumpter and Huron, and the Villages of Inkster, Wayne and Flat Rock. This represents 56.7 percent of the population of Western Wayne County intended to be covered by this Hospital Authority, which according to the 1940 census was 58,262, but is believed to be close to 70 percent of the present estimated census. The area now included consists of 178.22 square miles and has an assessed valuation of $51,959,327.00.

In the True Spirit of Thanksgiving

REUNITED at last! Heads bowed in prayer of thanksgiving; sons and daughters returned from the wars to the warm love of a mother's aching heart—a father's strong, silent yearning — the eager adoration of younger brothers and sisters. Thanksgiving dinner with all its trimmings and not one vacant chair! The world at Peace! Is this not reason enough for heads to be bowed in prayer—prayers of thankfulness for having lived in a land that escaped the ravaging hand of a deadly enemy—a land whose brave sons and daughters fought and died that truth, humanity and righteousness might triumph over deceit, cruelty and treachery—and today whose flag flies victoriously over a vanquished enemy. On this Thanksgiving, above all, our first since the end of a tragic and bestial war, there is much for which to be grateful—much for which to thank the Almighty. And those of us who are fortunate enough to have our loved ones home, in our joy, let us not forget those less fortunate, whose loved ones will never return—those who gave their lives that the true spirit of Thanksgiving in America might live on forever.

POEMS

It seems that there are a few poets in our high school because the poetry written below was found in Blicks one night after school.

A poem writ especially for my old friend Bea:

You're is me giding star
You're is from me never far
You're is all my joy in life
Oh, gee, I wish I had a knife.

A pome for my old fat girl:
My friend Marion was always good at carryn'
a book of history
But still never had ability to tell
Miss Fiegel 'bout liberty

But still I think she's lovely —
Marion, I mean.
Love and Stuff

Any similarity to actual poetry is purely coincidental!

Soldier's Outfit Wins Praise for Its Work on Luzon Island

Alfred J. Myers, 569 North Harvey St., Plymouth, and other members of the 115th Naval Construction Battalion have won commendation for their work at Luzon, where they were called upon to complete emergency repairs and landing strips while exposed to large caliber shelling and Jap air attacks, the Navy has announced.

Working in areas that had not yet been announced as "secured," the Seabees set up camp and radio facilities. Then, after the Japs had been driven out, they repaired the pre-war water supply for the area, and erected the major part of the buildings for that base.

The Seabee outfit previously had seen action at Wilne Bay, New Guinea, late in 1943. There, for four months, they worked around the clock, seven days a week, handling as many as 63 projects at the same time, and never falling short of a deadline on any of them.

Records of the outfit show that at Milne, its members laid the equivalent of two square miles of concrete slabs, eight inches thick, and logged and milled more than 1,000,000 feet of native lumber of all sizes in a single mill.

Postal Receipts Drop; Big Yule Mail Expected

Receipts at the Plymouth post-office during October dropped off $1,000 from what they were during the corresponding period in 1944.

Postmaster Harry Irwin believes the drop in receipts was due to the marked decrease in overseas mail for armed forces personnel.

Besides a letup in overseas mailing, domestic mailing to military installations also took a nose dive. Several camps in this country that were receiving carloads of mail last year are not in use now.

Despite the drop in receipts last month, local postal officials anticipate a record holiday mail this year. Because of this Postmaster Irwin urges Plymouthites to cooperate by getting their Yuletide mailing done early.

"There is nothing as out of place as Christmas cards and packages that are delivered after the big day, Postmaster Irwin said.

"We hate to have that occur and our carriers try their best to avoid tardy deliveries, but last minute mailing in large quantities can only result in such a situation," he continued.

People hear the annual plea for early Christmas mailing but seldom heed it. Each holiday season the postal situation is the same. Clerks, carriers and drivers work many, many hours overtime in an effort to keep up with the tremendous influx of mail.

The closer Christmas approaches the heavier the mail becomes. This is not fair to the mail personnel nor the addressees, who generally fail to get their holiday mail on time.

Mailing early should not only relieve congestion on mail trains and postoffices but also should make the public's holiday season more enjoyable.

Because of the public's lack of consideration for the postal workers the holidays are but a nightmare of long hours, little rest and hard work.

If the patrons of the Plymouth postoffice would make it their business to co-operate and where possible do their Christmas mail early the local situation would be greatly improved.

Although many service men and women are home, and many camps are closed, the postoffice here expects this coming holiday season will see the largest mail yet.

Give the postal workers in Plymouth some consideration and do your Christmas mailing early.

Science Church Thanksgiving

As is customary in all Christian Science churches, a special Thanksgiving service will be held on Thanksgiving Day in First Church of Christ Science, corner Main and Dodge Sts., at 10:30 a.m.

Following the usual order of service there will be a brief period in which members of the congregation may express their gratitude for healings and other help which they have received during the past year.

The Golden Text from I Thesalonians (5: 16-18), will be very appropriate for the occasion and reads: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks."

The Bible citations include: "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most High: For thou, Lord, hast made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands" (Psalms 92: 1,4).

Among the citations from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, will be the following: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech" (p. 3).

One good approach to good public relations is to do the right thing by everybody so far as we are able and can afford it.

Asking Advice of Ford Dealers

Dealer opinion on current and future Ford cars and trucks is being sought by the Ford Motor company in a series of meetings between company sales and engineering executives and representative auto dealers.

"Purpose of these meetings is to give our dealers an opportunity to express their views about products and policies," Henry Ford II, company president said.

In addition to Mr. Ford, the dealers conferred with J. R. Davis, director of sales and advertising; R. H. McCarroll, executive engineer, and other executives in the sales and engineering departments. Subjects discussed ranged from body design and engineering through advertising, parts sales and service and truck sales.

A glimpse into the future was permitted the visitors at the Dearborn engineering laboratory. They also drove various experimental Ford cars and trucks on the company test track.

Trapping Season Offers Profit

For the benefit of Plymouth farmers and others who wish to take advantage of profits to be had in part-time fur animal hunting and trapping, Arnold O. Haugen, game extension biologist of Michigan State college, offers a summary of this year's trapping regulations:

"The seasons on fur animals are the same this year as they were in 1944, except that the season on mink allows an extra month of hunting, closing on January 31, 1946. Also, the opossum has been removed from the game list and can not be taken at any time. The season on muskrat and mink opened November 1 in the Upper Peninsula; on November 15 in Zone 2 (upper half of Lower Peninsula); and will open on December 1 in Zone 3 (the farmland section of southern Michigan). A statewide trapping season on badger and skunk opened November 1.

Elton Bakewell on Way Home

Elton W. Bakewell, MoMMc, JSNR, husband of Mrs. Dorothy A. Bakewell, of 14493 Eckles St., Plymouth, is on his way home from Pearl Harbor. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bakewell of Plymouth road.

Bakewell is one of 1400 high-point Navy veterans whom the "Magic Carpet" is bringing back to the States aboard the U.S.S. Texas.

The U.S.S. Texas—one of more than 250 carriers, battleships, cruisers and attack transports in the Navy's famed "Magic Carpet" fleet—left Pearl Harbor, Tuesday, November 6, and was scheduled to arrive in San Francisco about Monday, November 12.

Passengers will go directly to the separation centers nearest their homes to complete the formalities of obtaining their discharges before returning to civilian life.

First Home with Their Deer

Maybe "Tip" Smith was the first to report home that he had shot the first deer on opening day of the deer season, but he wasn't the first to arrive home with his deer. Robert C. Breathe, 502 South Mill street and Harold E. Carson, 303 Elizabeth, went up to Mtg the day before the hunting season opened.

Last Friday night, the day after the season had opened, both of them arrived home in Plymouth with their deer.

Robert's buck was a spike horn, weighing just over 150 pounds. Harold's deer weighed 175 pounds.

Both of the hunters reported that they saw many deer where they were hunting.

First Report of Deer Success

First reports to reach Plymouth last week on the opening day of the deer hunting season as to who got the first deer came from Clifford Smith, better known to his friends as "Tip."

Clifford was hunting in the same old favorite spot where in years previous to the war he had been able to get his deer on the first day. The place is up near Baldwin.

He had seated himself on the top of a stump—and it was the same old stump—and started to look up his favorite deer runway.

Suddenly he heard some brush cracking. He turned to look, to see whether it was another deer hunter, bear or coyote. Sure enough, it was a big eight point buck, walking directly towards "Tip."

With just as steady a nerve as he displays when dishing out at Smitty's hot lunch (back in the good old days) he raised up his rifle—and let flicker. The deer jumped high in the air and started towards Cadillac. A second shot brought the deer down in its tracks—and there's going to be some venison steaks frying soon in the home of the Clifford Smith family.

P. S.—"Deadshot" Glenn Smith, father of the successful young hunter, is reported not to have even seen a deer, even though he is hunting on the same 40 where Tip got his deer. Reports are that he's going to stay until he gets his buck, even if it takes another week.

Do We Get Tires Or Not?

The public has become confused as to the tire picture. They read stories of great production, of an early end to rationing. They wonder why rationing boards are not more liberal in issuing new tire certificates—and then blame the dealer because he does not have tires. Naturally all of us would like to sell more tires if we could get them. They are not being held back. There are many reasons why the demand exceeds the supply—and may continue to do so for the next two years. Don't be too hopeful, but be practical about your tires and you will have little to worry about as to continued safe motoring.

Passenger tire quotas for November are 2,500,000. This is the same as it has been for the past several months. With a slight increase next month, it will mean that the entire yearly distribution will average one new tire per passenger car. Now—Let us see why YOU do not get tires. First, quotas are too small to meet the demand. Second, inventories in the hands of dealers are the smallest in history. The entire production of the rubber industry this month will do nothing more than fill backlog orders in the hands of manufacturers (more than 2 million) and the unfilled certificates in the hands of the public (more than 800,000). These have not been turned into tires because dealer stocks are virtually empty. Deliveries from manufacturers are two and three months behind. This is the complete story—verified by officials in the government agencies having to do with tire production and distribution.

Here Is What You Can Do

By all means continue the measures of tire conservation that were urged by every government agency. They were—and still are—common sense principles. They include such fundamentals as careful driving—avoid sudden starts or stops. Have your tires inspected regularly. Keep tires properly inflated. If the wheels are out of alignment, have them adjusted. If there is a break, have it repaired at once. When the tread is worn smooth, have tires recapped immediately. Visit your tire serviceman who is interested in your continued driving and knows tire care. The dealers listed below have had years of experience and played a major part in maintaining transportation in this area. Their services are just as important today.

Here Is What We Will Do

We know every phase of tire construction, factors that lower tire mileage and how to guard against them. We know how to add new, safe miles to your tires. The quality of our repair and recapping work meets government regulations and the standards adopted by the National Bureau of Standards. It is our desire to assure you every possible mile of travel for your dollar—the best value possible. It is our opinion that there will not be sufficient tires to meet full demand for the next two years. Even if rationing should end, your needs will not be met. Tire repairs and recapping will continue to play a dominant part in transportation and we offer you the combined skill—the services and facilities of these tire merchants—your local businessmen.

Ask Relocation of Highway

Here's something new! Here's a group of village officials displaying more than ordinary common sense. At a recent meeting of the Northville village council, the officials of the friendly little community to the north passed a resolution asking the Wayne county road commission to relocate the Seven mile road so that it will by-pass the village.

They want the road located so that it does NOT go through the village at all, but will carry all east and west bound traffic over a proposed road to be built along the south edge of the village. The Northville Record in its last issue, stated that the road commission had decided to postpone for the present the request of the village, but officials of the village of Northville and the Northville school board do not plan to let the matter drop. They want the main road taken out of the village, a step that is in keeping with all progressive municipal development.

The road commission said it was a matter of finances which kept them from taking immediate action on the Northville request. It was the Wayne county road commission which a few years ago saved the city of Plymouth from an insipid request that one of the county's main thoroughfares be built through this city. The county road commission officials said emphatically NO, much to their credit and to the benefit of the city of Plymouth.

Bread Mould Soon to End

Bread mould, bane of bakers and housewives for centuries, has been conquered electronically by one of the nation's foremost food scientists.

"Our experiments prove beyond doubt that mould in bread can be completely eliminated by use of electronic heat," Dr. William H. Cathcart, head of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company's national bakery laboratories, announced in New York. "Up to now certain chemicals added to bakers' formulas have merely retarded the growth of bread mould."

By "broadcasting" high frequency heat through wrapped loaves, Dr. Cathcart said he had succeeded in eradicating mould spores which each year ruin more than 150,000,000 pounds of bread in bakeries, stores and homes. The process takes only five seconds and eliminates the need for chemical retardants, he added.

"Our tests, which represent another forward stride in the interest of quality, taste and economy in basic foods, have succeeded on a type of bread which is especially subject to mould infection because of its high moisture content," he explained. "Three days after the experiment began, mould appeared on one batch of bread, while another which had been given the electronic treatment remained completely unaffected after three weeks under observation. It is noteworthy that both batches were baked of the same ingredients with the usual retardants added."

Several months ago Dr. Cathcart announced development of an electronic method of defrosting frozen foods at high speed. Since then he has adapted similar equipment to the new mould-elimination process. He said installation of large-scale mould-prevention equipment in A & P's 37 bakeries will begin in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lidgard and three daughters will spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Lidgard's mother, Mrs. Ida McWilliams of Owosso.

"My electric life and it will be still better"

"Life is wonderful . . . especially since I discovered the electric life. No more worrying about hot water in the morning for my husband's shaving, or during the day for the hot water needed for a thousand and one chores . . . and at night for the refreshing baths we all look forward to so much. My kitchen is electrified, too—an automatic range, an electric refrigerator, a garbage disposal unit and an electric dishwasher. A peek into my basement would reveal the biggest secret of all . . . an all-electric laundry that washes, rinses and damp-dries my clothes without my lifting a hand. Is it any wonder that my life is wonderful . . . and I know that it will be still better with the coming years and the miracles that electricity brings."

Electric equipment is not generally available for sale now. Some is being manufactured and distributed. It will be to your advantage to have your name on your electrical dealer's list, so that you will be able to get it at the earliest possible time.

Babson Says - -

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 23.—We probably are headed for two or three years of good business with fair employment. Sixty-five years ago only one billion dollars was available for spending or investing. In 58 years this gradually increased from one billion to 15 billion dollars. But, during the past seven years, these 15 billions have soared to 75 billions, most of which is waiting to purchase homes, merchandise and securities.

Possibilities of Inflation
Nothing will ever happen in this country comparable to what happened in Germany following World War I. On the other hand, further inflation is inevitable. This will be caused by a surplus of money and a scarcity of goods, homes and securities. It will be due to war waste, increased consumption and to the need of other nations for help to get on their feet, which will require continual expenditures. Labor Union Officials are also unconsciously causing inflation.

Increasing wages and prices will cause the spiral to go upward until people have spent, or invested, most of the above 75 billions when they will go on a buyers' strike. Then the spiral will collapse with the customary decline in production, much unemployment and lower prices. Before that time comes, however, homes, merchandise and securities will probably sell higher than at present. Yes, almost everything, except bonds, should continue to go up further in price.

Taxation Problems
We plan to collect in 1946 about 35 billions in federal taxes. This will probably be accomplished easily; but when the next depression comes it will be very difficult, if not impossible, for the Federal government to collect one-half of this amount. This will be accompanied by another government spending spree and a resort to the printing presses. From such, everyone—wage workers, home owners and especially bondholders—could suffer terribly.

It is an old saying, "In time of peace prepare for war." Based on this principle, the Federal government should immediately reduce government bureaucratic expenditures; encourage the production of goods and homes; and subsidize the unselfish—but sane—development of foreign trade. The world needs our charity and help now. Helping unfortunate people to raise their standards of living is not only a Christian thing to do, but it will be good business for us.

Atomic Energy Possibilities
Were I Economic Director of the U. S., I would also immediately re-convene the scientists who worked on the atomic bomb and get them busy applying this new energy to everyday uses. We might still be in the depression of the 1870's, if steam energy had not pulled us out. We might still be in the depression of the 1890's, if electrical energy hadn't then been harnessed. We would now be suffering from World War I, if the gasoline engine had not saved the day. Atomic energy may well serve a similar purpose to prevent a collapse around 1950.

I admit that the best authorities tell me that such an atomic development, within the next five years, is an impossibility. The stakes—namely the avoidance of national bankruptcy—are so high however, that we should at once make a tremendous effort to show these "authorities" that they are wrong. We MUST immediately harness this new energy to develop new industries and new jobs.

Remember this Fact
Atomic energy for industrial and utility uses means vastly more than the substitution of atomic energy for coal and oil. Atomic energy produces an entirely new heat which is actually a new power. Atomic energy may be as much of an advance over steam power as steam power was an advance over hand power. Atomic energy will result in entirely new industries and vastly different machines than now exist, all of which will provide millions of new jobs if we get it harnessed in time. In short, to me the question is either of harnessing atomic energy before 1950 or perhaps facing bankruptcy soon thereafter.

Judge Brennan Rotary Speaker

Judge John V. Brennan of Detroit was the speaker at a joint meeting of the Plymouth Rotary and Kiwanis clubs last Friday noon at the Mayflower hotel. Brought to Plymouth by attorney John Dayton the speaker chose as his subject a discussion of the Charter of the United Nations. He opened his remarks by saying that the Charter was not in actual operation as yet and its future use depended on the way the world could absorb the shock of the ending of the war and the effect of the atomic bomb. These two things will determine the fate of the work of the San Francisco conference he stated. In the main the charter expresses two things the speaker said, "First it makes mandatory for all countries a Democratic form of government and secondly it calls for some instrument to compel peace throughout the world."

On another page of this paper will be found a half-page ad of Schrader Bros. in which they announce that their newly remodeled furniture store is now ready for the inspection of the public and commencing Saturday, November 13, and continuing until Saturday, November 20, will be observed as opening week. For the past several weeks the work of remodeling and enlarging, the store has been going on, and today they have one of the finest furniture stores to be found anywhere, in fact it compares favorably with the large city stores, and is not only a credit to the progressive spirit of Schrader Bros. themselves but to the village of Plymouth as well.
