THAT SPECIAL SESSION.

You'd heard tell of folks who had a pocket full of money and they just couldn't sit still until they had spent every last cent of it, haven't you?

Well, that seems to be about the way it is up in Lansing, Michigan has, or will have, by July 1, something like a surplus of $27,000,000 in its general fund. During the last session of the legislature, we set aside another $50,000,000 out of the surplus that had accumulated at that time for the benefit of our returning veterans.

It's only eleven months before the next regular session of the legislature will convene, but the Governor has decided he wants an extra session of the present legislature so that we can figure out ways to spend that money that seems to be burning holes in the pockets of the proper custodians of that fund up in Lansing.

When we first heard about a special session, it was for the purpose, we understood, of working out ways to spend that $50,000,000 of money for the vets.

Now that seems to be a secondary thought and we hear much about the hospital needs of the state as well as the financial needs of some of our educational institutions.

Recently the Governor sent to the newspapers a statement pertaining to the plight of the University of Michigan as well as Michigan State College.

HE POINTED OUT THAT THE LEGISLATURE DURING ALL OF THE YEARS SINCE 1927 HAD DONE NOTHING FOR THE EDUCATIONAL BUILDING NEEDS OF THE UNIVERSITY AND THAT THE STATE COLLEGE HAD BEEN NEGLECTED IN THE SAME WAY. THE YEARS HE COVERS ARE SINCE THE RETIREMENT OF FORMER GOVERNOR GROESBECK FROM OFFICE.

It was during the Groesbeck administration when the state started out to do something to build up the various state institutions. During the time that Mr. Groesbeck was Governor there were more than 100 buildings erected at various state institutions.

Well do we recall the situation over at the University of Michigan. The Governor had spent all of the money appropriated for buildings at the University. He had finished building the University hospital, the steel "skeleton" of which had stood for years looking as though it had been hit by a tropical hurricane with the state making no effort to complete the structure, when he found that a nurses' home was badly needed.

The legislature had made no appropriation for any building of this kind, and the Governor did not think it best to call the legislature back into special session to ask for an appropriation just for this purpose alone, although he was determined to see to it that the University hospital had proper housing for its staff of nurses.

What did he do?
The telephone rang one day in the office of James Couzens down in Detroit.

"Say, Jim, this is Alex talking. You know we need a nurses' home over at the new University of Michigan hospital and we've spent all the money for buildings that the legislature has appropriated. Just thought possibly you might do something about it?" ran the general theme of the conversation.

What happened?
Out of funds donated by James Couzens at the suggestion of Governor Groesbeck, the once mayor of Detroit who was later appointed United States senator by Mr. Groesbeck, one of the most complete nurses' home in the United States was built without a cent of cost to the taxpayers of Michigan.

This was not the only private aid Michigan received during the years that Governor Groesbeck served as its chief executive. This, however, is not the time to discuss state gifts further. You can imagine the writer's surprise a few weeks ago when he read a copy of a speech that Lieut. Governor Vernon Brown had made over the Michigan State College radio in which he asserted that the only building erected for Michigan's institutions during the Groesbeck administration was the "world's largest prison" over at Jackson.

Now comes Governor Kelly, who hints that all building for various Michigan educational institutions ended when the Groesbeck administration went out of office. He doesn't mention Groesbeck, but he specifies the year 1927, which ended the Groesbeck administration.

WHEN WE SAY THAT DURING THE ADMINISTRATION OF FORMER GOVERNOR GROESBECK THERE WAS MORE BUILDINGS ERECTED AT STATE INSTITUTIONS THAN UNDER THE ADMINISTRATIONS OF ANY HALF DOZEN GOVERNORS YOU MIGHT NAME COLLECTIVELY, THE STATEMENT WILL STAND UNCHALLENGED.

But we have somewhat strayed from the subject we intended to discuss.

It's about that special session. We are in full accord with the Governor's desire to do something for the University, the State College at East Lansing as well as aid the Wayne University, providing we make it a state institution.

Unfortunately, the Governor in none of the matter given to the newspapers, has mentioned additional state aid to the public schools of Michigan.

Many of our public schools are in far greater need of assistance than are the higher institutions of learning.

The other day I took pen in hand and wrote the Governor, suggesting that he include in his call the right of the legislature to consider additional aid to the public schools.

We have all of this money on hand because we have not spent it as we should for the benefit of our institutions and our public school children. During the last regular session I was one of a group in the house that tried desperately to get more aid for the public schools, but the administration pleaded poverty at the time.

My views upon some of the matters Governor Kelly has indicated that he might present to the legislature, are set forth in a letter I wrote him a few days ago, a copy of it follows:

Dear Governor Kelly—
A few days ago I received a copy of a statement you had issued to the newspapers pertaining to legislative neglect of the building needs of the University of Michigan and Michigan State College during the past 17 or 18 years and of the financial plight of Wayne University.

You indicate that you plan to call these matters to the attention of the legislature in a special session you are soon to convene. In addition to making provision for additional aid to these institutions, I believe, and would like to suggest that you open the way for legislative consideration of the plight of many of Michigan's rural school districts, especially some of the newly consolidated districts.

The boys and girls attending our rural schools are entitled to much more consideration than they have received in the past. There are many districts in desperate need of enlarged and new school buildings. I would like to see the creation of a rural school district building fund, to be administered by the department of education in cooperation with the state administrative board. This subject I

Tells of Conditions On Continent

Nearly 100 members and friends of the Plymouth Hi-12 Club were privileged to have the Honorable George Dondero address them last Wednesday evening at the Masonic Temple. The theme of his talk concerned conditions in Europe as observed as a member of our Congressional Committee.

Mr. Dondero said, "The treatment of our war casualties in English Hospitals was fine and the percentage of recoveries was very high. As soon as an American wounded was able, he was brought to the U. S. by plane. America had the best equipped, trained, fed and hardest fighting army of any country in the war."

He then went on to say, "America is providing 72 percent of all relief being sent to Europe. The poverty in the Netherlands and France is extreme due to the removing of all livestock to Axis Countries. This loot in many instances was paid for with invasion money printed in Germany. The French peasants did not seem to realize that the money they received was worthless. Conditions in 'neutral' Sweden are good while in 'betrayed' Norway the picture is just the reverse. Denmark was the best prepared for the coming winter."

The Commission was taken in a Russian plane to Moscow and were shown many "censored" Russian institutions of government, health and industry. The Congressman's address was well received by those in attendance as he vividly pictured the entire course of his trip.

Paul W. Voorhies, Chairman; Charles H. Bennett, President; Russell M. Daane, Vice-President; Edson O. Huston, Vice-President; Harry O. Mohrmann, Cashier; Clara L. Alexander, Assistant Cashier.

In Clinton, Mass., Mark O'Toole, arrested by Patrolman Martin O'Toole, on complaint of John O'Toole, was booked at headquarters by Desk Officer Edward O'Toole, fined $10 for drunkenness by District Judge George O'Toole.

Charged with preparing the dinner is John Crandall, Assistant chef Crandall will be Harry Rackham, Bill Gayde, Ezra Rotnour and Ernest Henry, association scribe.

Mr. Henry and prexy Brick Champe said no tickets would be sold at the door. Either you have your ticket before the dinner or you don't get in. Such regulations are necessary because of the limited space.

Ask Gifts For Percy Jones Veterans Again

The Plymouth Chapter of The Red Cross is making an appeal to the residents of this locality to turn in magazines, puzzles, playing cards and other suitable gifts for disabled veterans of the Percy Jones Hospital at Battle Creek. It is requested that all magazines be tied in bundles in order to facilitate handling. All gifts should be turned in prior to January 15th at the Beyer Pharmacy or at 725 Mill St.

Husbands Feted By Members of Womens Club

More than 165 members of the Plymouth Woman's Club and their husbands last Friday night attended the club's annual observance of Husband's night at the First Presbyterian church parlors. Ladies of the church prepared and served a most delicious and bountiful dinner of chicken and all the trimmings. When all had eaten beyond the point of comfort the club president, Mrs. William A. Otwell, took charge and introduced the program chairman, Mrs. George Burr.

Mrs. Burr in turn introduced Earl Reh, vocal soloist, who favored the assembly with two selections. His wife accompanied him at the piano. The program was then turned over to the guest speaker, Plymouth's own Col. Cass Hough.

Col. Hough, one of the most colorful figures to come out of World War II, made a distinct hit with his excellent talk about the job of ferrying fighter planes to the British Isles.

His vivid description of flying over the Atlantic and the landings on Iceland and Greenland airfields was something not to be soon forgotten. Guests of the evening were thrilled with Col. Hough's remarks and the only criticism heard was the fact that he could not have talked longer. All agreed it was a fine program and that such affairs should be held every six months instead of just once a year.

Dinner chairman for the occasion was Mrs. Charles Brake. Members of the hospital committee included Mr. and Mrs. James Keyes, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Crane and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weed.

FOUR PLYMOUTHITES WILL ENTER SERVICE

The local draft board announces that 11 registrants from this area will be inducted into the Armed Forces January 14, 1946.

The following Plymouthites are listed:

Edward L. Walker, 9438 Butwell; Donald C. Ritenour, 168 Hamilton; Charles R. Dolamore, 745 Harvey; Frank E. Kechl, Jr., 252 Blanche.

accepted by the Wayne County Board of Education.

Charles Brake, Plymouth resident, and deputy school commissioner of Wayne County, told The Mail this week that the county school panel had scheduled the special election for Saturday, February 2. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

According to Mr. Brake, there are to be two polling places. Electors residing in Plymouth district No. 1 fractional will as usual vote at the local high school. Electors of the three rural districts will vote at the Allen School.

In urging all eligible residents in these districts to exercise their franchise and vote, Mr. Brake made it clear that it was not necessary to be registered to vote in this election. Neither is it necessary to be a property owner or the parent of a school student. Mr. Brake said.

The qualifications set forth by Mr. Brake for eligibility to cast a ballot in the special school election Feb. 2 are as follows:

(1) must be a citizen of the United States,
(2) must be 21 years of age or over,
(3) must be a resident of Michigan at least six months,
(4) must have resided in their respective school district at least 20 days.

Plymouth Partners Become First Kaiser-Frazier Dealers in County

Hines & Owen Purchase Station; Plan $12,000 Addition to House Cars, Tractors, Implements

Wayne County's first authorized Kaiser-Frazier agency is located right here in Plymouth. Last Friday the papers were signed, sealed and delivered making Jake Hines and Cy Owens, co-owners of the Shell Service Station at Mill and Plymouth, dealers for all K-F products in and around Plymouth.

Jake and Cy told The Mail they hoped to have models of the Kaiser and Frazier automobiles on display by the middle of February. They will be showing tractors and all types of farm implements sooner than that, according to Cy.

In addition to becoming Wayne County's first Kaiser-Frazier dealers, Jake and Cy also have announced purchase of the property on the northeast corner of the Mill and Plymouth intersection from the Austin Oil Co. The company has operated a station there the last 20 years.

To properly house the Kaiser-Frazier products and parts for them, Jake and Cy will construct a $12,000 addition to their present property. Plans are already on the drafting board and preliminary work is underway for the new structure. It will be approximately 50x100 and of cement block and brick construction.

The partners asked The Mail to keep the public "straight" on their future plans. They ARE NOT GOING OUT OF THE GAS AND OIL BUSINESS. They are just adding to their present business.

Selling the new automobiles and the K-F tractors and farm implements will be just another part of their business like any car dealer that operates a garage, repair shop or service station in

Harry Reeves To Head March of Dimes Campaign

In announcing the appointment of Harry Reeves as Plymouth's Chairman of the March of Dimes Campaign, for the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, A. L. Lantz retiring chairman stated today that this year's drive will need the loyal support of all Plymouth citizens more urgently than ever because the epidemic of last year put a severe drain on the resources of the Wayne County Chapter.

The chapter still stands ready to combat the ever-present menace of this dread disease.

Now that we have entered upon an era of world peace, and can direct our thoughts toward the social and health problems of our own community, it is hoped that the people of Plymouth, through their generous giving, will surpass the excellent record attained last year.

You will be solicited by the school children for direct contributions. Coin collectors will also be placed in all public buildings and business places as a constant reminder of the urgency of giving in this campaign.

Let each box represent a victim of infantile paralysis appealing to you with outstretched hands.

Winners Named In Local Contest

Robert A. Webster and Doris M. Ryder were announced as winners in the contest sponsored by the Plymouth Federal Savings and Loan this week. Of the many entries in the contest judges found it difficult to award first and second prize winners and a third award was also added because of the quality of the essay submitted and adjudged third.

Mr. Webster's essay placed the first need of the city as "hospital and second most pressing need of the city a viaduct under the Pere Marquette railroad crossing.

Doris Ryder who placed second in the contest cited the need for an auditorium as first in order for the city to provide. Both of these essays and others will be published in full in forthcoming issues of the Plymouth Mail.

The awards were made by Percy Richwine, secretary to the Savings and Loan Association in the Association's offices Friday afternoon. All material submitted by contestants will be presented in full to the city commission, the school board and the city planning commission for their further study and consideration.

connection with his sales agency. Cy reports that the Kaiser-Frazier assembly lines are all set to go. Tractors and farm implements will reach the market sooner than the automobiles, however, due to the general turmoil now hindering the production of cars.

He reports that the Kaiser auto will be in the same price class as the Ford and will be the Ford's chief competitor. The Frazier, according to Owens, will vie with such standard makes as the Dodge and Pontiac.

The Frazier, he said, will have a 123 1/2 inch wheel base. It is to be only 64 1/2 inches high and will be powered with a 100 horsepower engine. Both the front and rear seats of the Frazier will be so constructed that four adults can be comfortably seated in each.

Plymouth has reason to be proud of Jake and Cy for being the first in the Detroit area to become full fledged dealers for the new Willow Run occupants. It is a distinct boost for the community and should enhance the business life here considerably.

The Mail joins with the rest of the community in wishing Jake and Cy the best of luck in their new venture.

Rotary Resumes Rural Urban Fetes

For the first time since Mars went on a rampage and loosed a devastating war upon the world in 1941, the Plymouth Rotary Club staged another of its popular Rural Urban dinners Thursday night in the parlors of the Cherry Hill church.

More than 50 "country gentlemen" of the area surrounding Plymouth were guests. After a bountiful dinner of chicken and all the trimmings the evening was turned over to Robert Waldeck, prominent Canton Township farmer, and chairman of the club's rural urban committee. He in turn presented a most interesting program for the assembled guests.

Rotarians and guests alike commented that it was most inspiring to have the rural urban dinners resumed. They always have been in favor of such a move and it was with regret that the rotarians had to discontinue them during the war.

The dinner took the place of the regular Rotary luncheon this week which was scheduled for Friday, today.

Former Ford Photographers To Open Camera Shop, Studio Here

Two personable young gentlemen, one a Plymouthite, with a combined total of 28 years' experience in the photographic department of the Ford Motor Company, soon will open a combination camera shop, wholesale amateur finishing plant and commercial photography studio in Plymouth.

They are Harold F. Enterline, of 11850 Haggerty Road, and Lester J. Wilson, of Detroit. Their establishment, to be known as "The Photographic Center," will be located on the northeast corner at the junction of Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman Avenue.

Of cement block and brick construction with a glass brick front, the structure will present a most pleasing appearance. A large display window runs almost clear across the front. The entrance will be of colonial design with a wooden canopy which will support large block letters spelling out the name of the business. The letters will be outlined in neon tubing.

The building is of triangular shape. It has over 1,600 square feet of floor space. It will have fluorescent lighting fixtures and modernistic painted walls. Forced hot air gas heat is being planned.

A complete camera shop capable of supplying every amateur or professional need, even to eight and 16 millimeter movie cameras, projectors, films and screens will occupy the main room on the first floor. Two other rooms at the rear of the first floor will house the wholesale amateur finishing plant.

In addition to handling all photo finishing for local drug stores, the new plant also will serve the amateur finishing needs of Northville, Milford, South Lyon, Walled Lake, Webberville, Farmington and Northwest Detroit.

At present this finishing work is being carried on by Mr. Enter-

Movie Taken At Ranch of Former Local Resident

"Arabians in the Rockies," a technical short, has been booked for local theatre goers on January 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th according to Harry Lush owner of the Penn theatre.

The picture is of unusual local interest in view of the fact that its setting and the horses in the picture are owned by a former Plymouthite. Scene of the movie is the Lazy VV ranch near Boulder, Colorado, which is owned by Lynn Van Vleet.

Mr. Van Vleet was born in Plymouth and spent his boyhood days in this city. His father was a partner with the father of J. J. McLaren in the operation of the Plymouth Elevator Corporation which the latter McLaren now owns. He is a cousin of J. J. McLaren and a nephew of Mrs. Anson Hearn also of this city.

Well known in Plymouth, Mr. Van Vleet has had many local visitors at his ranch and J. D. McLaren, his second cousin, spent 5 weeks there this last summer.

Raising Arabian horses is strictly a hobby with Mr. Van Vleet and his herd at the present time consists of about 75. The horses roam his 25,000 acre ranch at will and the scenes, according to people who have seen the picture of the ranch, are unusually beautiful.

At the present time, Mr. Van Vleet is trying to train the horses to become accustomed to water and this is difficult in view of the fact that for 4 thousand years they have been bred away from it.

Warner Brothers who produced the picture claim that it is one of their best and Jack Warner president of the company says that if it doesn't win them an "Oscar" he will be greatly surprised.

The picture will be shown at the Penn theatre.

On the second floor of "The Photographic Center," will be the studio and professional finishing laboratory where all commercial and studio work will be handled. A modernistic iron-railling open staircase will lead to the second floor.

Upon completion of the building the Plymouth Camera Club will immediately begin holding its weekly sessions there.

Mr. Enterline is a veteran of 17 years in the Ford photographic department. From 1939 until last year he was assistant manager of the photo division at Ford's. He has resided here since 1940.

Mr. Wilson, a veteran of 11 years experience with the Ford photographic division, spent the last four years in the photo department at Willow Run.

Both are well qualified and able to conduct a business like "The Photographic Center." The Mail joins with the local business world in bidding the partners welcome to Plymouth and wishing them success.

Kiwians Plan Minstrel Show

As one of their special projects, the Kiwanis club of Plymouth is making plans to stage their annual minstrel show, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1st at the local high school gym.

The show will be under the able direction of Mr. O. M. Valiquette who starred in last year's show "Dinah." Mr. Valiquette will have one of the leads again this year. The proceeds of the '46 show are to be added to the Girl Scout Cabin and Camp Site Fund.

In Atlanta, blind Walter McDonald went on a turkey shoot, was first to bag a bird.

Credit Bureau Re-opens Under New Management

Jay L. Barrett, of Ann Arbor for the last 17 years operator of the Credit Bureau in that city, purchased the Merchants Service Bureau—the credit bureau of Plymouth and Northville—last November from R. C. Osborne, of Detroit.

After considerable reorganization and a complete revision of the files, Mr. Barrett has reopened the Merchants Service Bureau here. The bureau offices are located in the Pennington-Allen Building. The telephone is 586.

Mr. Barrett feels he has restored the local agency to its previous efficiency and is now offering Plymouth and Northville a complete credit reporting and collection service. He still operates the Ann Arbor bureau and is dividing his time between there and the local office. His bureau here can give nation-wide coverage through state and national association affiliation.

A past president of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Michigan, Mr. Barrett is thoroughly experienced in the operation of such an agency. He is now serving that group as first vice president for the second successive term. He also is past president of a district organization embracing seven states.

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

think is of major importance.
I am glad to note that you do intend to include in your consideration of the problem facing Wayne University.
I am in favor of the state taking over full control and support of this institution. Our income as the result of tax legislation back in 1933 and since has resulted in a state income of sufficient size to enable Michigan to do much more for its educational institutions now than in past years. The operation of another university in Detroit by the state for the benefit of the thousands of students in that part of Michigan would be no burden whatsoever to the state.
It would be an easy matter to set up a board of control for the institution without the creation of another board or commission. The state board of education could well serve Wayne University in a capacity similar to the board of regents for the University of Michigan.
There is another important fact for consideration in connection with Wayne University. Detroit for years has been using make-shift structures to house this institution.
The state is in a position to convert the state fair grounds in Detroit into a site for Wayne University without the expenditure of a cent for additional land. There the new University buildings could be erected and a campus created that would for all time be a credit to Detroit and the state of Michigan.
The state has for years depreciated the value of an important section of the city of Detroit by maintaining what at times amounts to a near public nuisance, with horse-barn odors floating over a large residential section. The heart of a great city is no place for any state to maintain such an unsightly place as Michigan's state fair grounds.
If Michigan is to have a $27,000,000 surplus by July, I am in favor of enacting legislation which will divert nearly all of this amount to our educational institutions, the public schools and Wayne University.
Relative to the $50,000,000 we set aside at the last regular session for the benefit of the veterans, I would like to suggest that you make it possible for the legislature to consider the appointment of a house and senate committee to work out details for the proper disposal of this money, with its recommendations being made to the next regular session of the legislature.
It is my opinion that all of this fund should go to Michigan boys who were wounded or incapacitated by illness as the result of their services in the terrible war they helped to win. I believe we should work out a plan whereby those who lost limbs should be compensated with fairly good sized cash amounts.
For those who suffered grievous wounds or were incapacitated by illness and who will need medical treatment, the balance of the amount should be set up as a fund to be used in paying for their hospital and medical care as long as they may need it.
These are details which cannot be worked out quickly at a brief session of the legislature and it is for that reason I recommend the appointment of a legislative committee to prepare the proper kind of a bill for submission to the 1947 session. I am sure all of the veterans who returned in normal good health will approve this suggestion.
Thanks in advance for your consideration.
I remain, Sincerely,

An Inspiring Example of Achievement Despite Handicap

Because Franklin Roosevelt himself had long suffered from infantile paralysis, he was zealously devoted to extending research toward completely conquering the disease... and to the Warm Spring Foundation whose facilities can aid those already stricken. The man who became president in the face of so great a handicap appreciated all the more the value of completely restored health, and the need for an institution which would make necessary therapy available to all. Until infantile paralysis smites someone dear to you, you cannot realize how tragic it is. May you never know! But to help those whom it has already claimed, give generously... "Where Your Money's Well Spent"

Outlines Work Done During Past Year

Michigan emerged from World War II without having suffered a serious drain on its natural resources, P. J. Hoffmaster, Director of the Department of Conservation, reported today in making his annual report of the activities of his organization.

Despite the fact that it contributed heavily to the excessive demands for timber products, the timber resources of the state were not seriously impaired, he said. Sound conservation practices prevented waste in the oil fields. With some exceptions, due to unavoidable natural conditions, the game and fish supplies are holding their own. In fact, with some species, such as deer, Hoffmaster said, the population has increased during the wartime period.

Hoffmaster's entire report sounded an optimistic note. He pointed to the greatly enlarged program for providing outdoor recreational facilities through the purchase of park lands, water frontage and public hunting lands; to an augmented program for parks development and to increased stress being placed on public forests for recreation as well as for the growing of tree crops.

"In recent years there has been a very definite increase in the tendency of people to get out of doors," he said. "Just before the war we were observing more and more people using the forests, the fields and our waters. More people were buying hunting and fishing licenses. There is no reason to expect that tendency won't continue. And at the same time people are faced with more leisure time. There isn't any doubt but that every acre of ground and every foot of water frontage the state can make available will be utilized enjoyably and effectively by the public."

During 1945 the Department brought to 33,095, the acreage purchased in the proposed 100,000-acre Southeastern Michigan Recreational Area program. Through the year it succeeded in buying 26,536 acres of surface lands and 24,581 acres of timber in the proposed 45,000-acre Porcupine Mountain Recreation Area. Using a quarter of a million dollars appropriated in 1944, it bought lands to add to the Algonac, Lakeport, Sterling-Monroe, Warren Dunes and Higgins Lake State Parks. Using Game Protection Fund ear-marked money it bought 50,264 acres of game lands and deer yards, of which 27,709 acres are on scenic Drummond Island. Frontage on 19 lakes and nine streams was bought with ear-marked fish license money. Using both hunting and fishing license funds, the Conservation Department acquired the 4,288-acre Rifle River Area in Ogemaw County, and the Pointe Mouillee marsh, an area of 2,808 acres a few miles down river from Detroit.

Right now the Plymouth High School has enrollment sufficient to not only warrant but demand the immediate construction of a new building. Records will show that the same situation prevails in the Cooper, Allen and Keynon districts.

Regardless of anything, it will be necessary for each of the four districts involved to build additional educational housing next year. The real issue in the coming special election is whether each district be forced to construct separate buildings or pool their money and unite to bring about a modern, centralized educational plant which will guarantee urban and rural students equal opportunities in their quest for learning.

Either each affected district must build its own small school building with limited facilities at the added burden of increased taxes, or they can combine to construct one of the finest consolidated school units in the state and enjoy lower school taxes and the benefit of better transportation for their school children than they now have.

As is The Mail's privilege we are asking that all qualified electors get out and vote YES on this vital issue. Plymouth is at the crossroads of education. There should be no question which way we will choose to go. It would be the community's greatest tragedy should the districts electors fail to ratify the consolidation.

School Consolidation Election Scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 2

lotting at Plymouth High School must be chosen by the local Board of Education.

The Wayne County Board of Education will select the election clerks who will conduct the balloting at the Allen School.

Results of the balloting will be determined the same night, Mr. Brake declared. "We will see that all ballots are tallied that night, as said, 'the counting will begin as soon as the polls are officially declared closed.'"

The Mail understands there will be only one question on the special school ballots. It will not be worded so as to confuse any elector. Briefly, if you wish to have the districts consolidated into one central school the X should be placed before the YES, if you are not in favor of the move you should mark an X before the NO.

It is the belief of The Mail that any right-thinking elector who is qualified to participate in the special school election can vote only one way. That is YES. Consolidated schools are becoming the rule rather than the exception in Michigan. Why should Plymouth fail to progress along with other communities of its size?

Of unusual interest to Plymouth Farmers, states E. I. Besemer, County Agricultural Agent, "will be the Michigan State College touring display which is scheduled to visit Wayne County on January 23rd at the County Road Garage, Norton Yard at Inkster Road, one half mile North of Plymouth Road."

How the farmer can save time and back breaking effort by use of the new chemical weed killers that have been recently placed on the market will be explained in exhibits at the Rural Progress Caravan Show. Such chemicals as 2,4-D and ways of using them on field crops, in pastures, on lawns and in gardens will be illustrated as part of the exhibit.

Other labor-saving exhibits by the department include: A simple peach thinner, made from a bamboo pole and a rubber hose, that saves time and expense in the annual peach orchard job. An inexpensive home-made spray tank refiller which speeds the operation of filling the spray tank from streams, ponds or open wells. This device can also be used for cleaning out stock tanks, cisterns or basements flooded with water. A method of applying fertilizer with irrigation, which makes the feeding of plants possible during critical periods.

It's a waste of labor to apply lime where it isn't needed, and, it can do harm. Also, it's a waste of power, labor and good seed to prepare the seedbed and plant a crop on soil that is in need of lime.

How to know when and where to lime will be explained in an exhibit by the soil science department of Michigan State College as part of the Rural Progress Caravan. According to County Agricultural Agent, E. I. Besemer, tests in the soil science department laboratories at the college and at clinics throughout the state

City Manager Clarence Elliott has announced that the deadline for filing nominating petitions for the city commission is 5 p.m. Friday, Feb. 1. Petition blanks, he says, can be obtained from the City Clerk.

No petition can be filed unless it bears the signature of at least 25 qualified electors of Plymouth. Candidates seeking a place on the commission must be at least 25 years of age, a citizen of the United States, a property owner in Plymouth for at least two years and a local resident two years or more.

Commissioners whose terms expire this year are Mrs. Ruth Whipple and Jack Taylor.

prove that liming materials should be applied according to soil test and the need of the crop. Some crops prefer soils that are neutral or only slightly acid, while other crops thrive on more acid soils. An example is the potato which doesn't seem to care if the soil is strongly acid.

There's a right and a wrong way to do everything. This will be more apparent than ever to folks who visit the Rural Progress Caravan when it stops in this area. Right ways of doing all kinds of jobs will be illustrated on panels and in pictures included in the more than 350 feet of displays. For example, the emergency farm labor exhibit shows the right and wrong ways of doing several hand jobs of harvesting. One panel shows faster methods, one shows easier methods, and one shows ways of saving labor. The entomology department exhibit will include four panels illustrating the right and wrong ways of using the new DDT insecticide. The various DDT mixtures and the particular uses for which each is adapted are pointed out. Included are a half-dozen "DDT Don'ts" that will prevent misuse of the chemical. But the caravan exhibits won't be entirely devoted to the hard facts of farm and home-work life. There's something for the soul in the display by the landscaping department. Color photos and models will show how a well landscaped farm home should look for greatest eye appeal. The display suggests that good landscaping leaves areas open for play and recreation and arrangements reduce work of caring for the lawn and shrubbery.

BANK PROMOTES THREE EMPLOYEES

bank. Franklin's grandfather was the head of the Bronson bank for many years before his retirement. This is the third generation of Cowards to choose banking as a vocation.

George N. Kenyon first entered the employ of the First National in November 1939 when the bank totals were a little over a million dollars. He entered the armed services of his country in April 1941, from which he was discharged in October 1945. After being discharged from the army he re-entered the employ of the First National on December 1, 1945, serving in the bookkeeping department. George graduated from Plymouth High School in 1937, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kenyon, and the son-in-law of the bank's Vice President Russell A. Roe.

The First National Bank announced that it is following its past policy of advancing employees in the organization and members of its own personnel who have found themselves worthy of advancement. This policy of advancement makes it attractive to those who might have a desire to follow the banking field.

The same Board of Directors was re-elected by the bank's stockholders at the meeting on Tuesday, namely: Geo. H. Robinson, Charles L. Finlan, Dr. J. L. Olsaver, Russell A. Roe, Jack E. Taylor and Floyd A. Kehrl. At its organization meeting the Board of Directors, in addition to the three new assistant cashiers, named Floyd A. Kehrl as president; Russell A. Roe and Charles L. Finlan as vice presidents; Jack E. Taylor as cashier. Dr. Olsaver again was chosen as Chairman of the Board.

President Kehrl announced to the stockholders the fact that the bank now was in the five million dollar circle. He compared this total to the total deposits ten years ago of $283,000. In the last bond drive the bank purchases of one government issue alone amounted to a quarter of a million dollars. President Kehrl also stated to the Board its desire to assist all worthy people in the community and particularly stressed the fact that the housing situation in Plymouth is a real challenge to the bank. "The bank is going to do everything possible to assist G.I.s in obtaining loans for the purchase of homes, farms and businesses. The bank's responsibility to take care of those that might want to buy homes, farms or businesses is greater than ever before and the bank intends to fulfill its local obligations," stated Mr. Kehrl.

St. Peter's Hold Annual Meeting

St. Peter's Ev. Lutheran Church held their annual meeting Jan. 8 with an election of officers for 1946 and a financial report was given for the past year. The receipts for 1945 totaled $14,395; the Benevolences for the year were $3,800.

William Bartel, Jr., Walter Schultz, and Harold Stevens were re-elected to the Council. William Gayde was re-elected to the School Board.

Officers of the Congregation for the forth-coming year are as follows:

Albert Brode, Pres.; Edward Hosbach, Vice Pres.; Walter Schultz, Sec.; William Bartel, Treas.; Paul Groth, Financial Sec.; Jacob Brinks, Chairman Board of Trustees; Harold Stevens, Chairman Board of Deacons; Edwina Gobel and Geo. Schultz, Deacons.

The planning committee was expanded and is now the building committee. The following men make up this new group: Jacob Rinks, Chairman; Roy Fisher, Sec.; A. Perry Wood, Louis Ribar, Edward Hosbach, Charles Wixtrom, William Kreeger, Henry Fisher, Floyd Wilson, Ralph Wagenschutz, George Schultz, Henry Gobel.

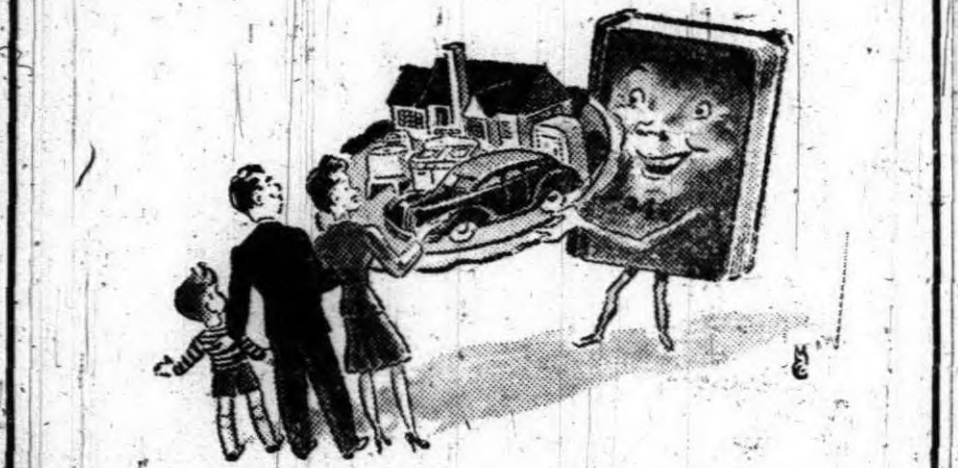

The new Board of Education consists of Wesley Sheere, Roy Fisher, Walter Schultz, Joseph Rowland, and William Gayde.

St. Peter's is in the 90th year of its founding and a suitable celebration is being planned for the third of March.

A novel French plane, recently demonstrated, is equipped with wings, each of which is made in two sections so the outer half can be telescoped into the inner half. Thus the pilot may use the maximum wing area of 388 square feet for a take-off or the minimum wing area of 204 square feet for level flight.

Beals Post Holds Aviation Banquet

More than 100 persons attended the Aviation Night banquet of the Myron H. Beals American Legion Post last Saturday at the Legion Hall on Newburg Road. It was a most gala affair.

In the absence of Col. Cass Hough, previously engaged as the principal speaker, who was confined to his home with an attack of influenza, his combats movies were shown by Robert Shafer, a war buddy of Col. Hough's who is now a business associate here with him.

Rocks Edge Out Mustangs 31-28

(Pilgrim Prints by Ronald Hees and Keith Miller) A capacity crowd that hung from the rafters saw the Plymouth Rocks nose out the Northville Mustangs 31-28. The game itself was a normal example of what happens when two aggressive teams meet on a small gym floor.

The star of the evening was sophomore Duane Becker, who netted seven baskets and three foul shots for a total of 17 points. Strautz, acting captain, was credited with seven while Dobbs scored four. Becker played a marvelous offensive game and far over-shadowed any other player on the floor in this department.

The close score at the end of the game was due to a late fourth period rally by the Mustangs. The score at the end of the third period was 23-18 in Plymouth's favor, and after this time the Rocks scored only three points while Northville rolled up eight.

Friday the Rocks clash with Trenton at the Training School.

Bill Thomas Back From Army; Plans To Enter School

Bill Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas, of 345 Blunk, is back home to stay after three long years in the Army. He arrived home last Sunday honorably discharged from Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Bill is very proud of his division and mentioned that the division was the first of the Third Army to liberate Austria and also drove deeper into Germany than any other division.

Bill did not have the pleasure of ever seeing the late General Patton in person. The one time he visited Bill's division, Bill was in the hospital recovering from his wound.

Bill entered the United States at Newport News, Va., after a rough trip home on the Army transport, U.S.S. Maniopa. The smile on his face and the light in his eyes indicate to everyone that Bill, a Plymouth native, is very glad and thankful to be back home and back home to stay.

What I Hear And Think About Under The Palm Trees Down in Florida

Had a note from a friend in Plymouth the other day asking about the price of meals down in Miami. He said he had read in one of the Detroit papers about conditions here in which it was said so many people had gone south to spend the winter in Miami that there might be a serious food shortage, with resulting high prices.

Let it be said in the beginning in answer to this question, that there is no food shortage down here and no prospects of any. Sometimes you don't get all the butter you need and most eating places dish out the sugar for you. Outside of this, there seems to be plenty of everything. Not once in over three years have I ever been able to get bacon in a Plymouth restaurant. But here it is as common as canned meat back in Plymouth.

Prices average about the same, or a little higher than they do in Plymouth. One can get a good meal in any of the Plymouth restaurants for around 60 cents.

It might run a little more or less, all according to what you order. Down here its about the same. Two meals a day, and that's all one should eat if you are loafing, will not cost you over a dollar and a half.

Some restaurants make a special of "two big golden griddle cakes" with a dab of sausage and coffee for 30 cents.

There are many places that offer shrimp dinners, "all you can eat" for $1.25. But when you get your boiled shrimp, you have to peel them yourself, and that's a job worth $1.25. Here's one person who prefers to have his shrimp all tumbled up and ready to devour when served.

That's enough about the eating question down here. There's a "lunch counter" tucked around somewhere in any direction you might look.

Many Plymouth Masons know Clark McKenzie of Kalamazoo. A number of years ago he was one of the high officials of the Knights Templar in Michigan. He's here for a few weeks. The McKenzies formerly owned a home over in Miami Beach, but they have taken advantage of high real estate prices and sold it. He says when things get down to earth again, he might be interested in buying, but not right now.

Have no desire to give any "northern" tips about how to replenish their sugar supply, but over in Miami Beach restaurant owners are faced with a real sugar problem. Here's the reason: customers will take with them into restaurants white, clean handkerchiefs. When the waitresses and managers are not looking, they will dump the contents of sugar bowls on the tables into their handkerchiefs. The Miami News says that this practice is one of the reasons why restaurants are facing such a sugar shortage.

The new city manager of Key West, southernmost city in the United States, is a Michigan man. The Key West city commission has just engaged David King, former manager of Berkley, Michigan and also at Harbor Springs, as city manager at a $5,000 a year salary. His ability to speak Spanish, Portuguese and German was given as one of the reasons for the commission's favorable action.

The many Plymouth friends of Roy Muir, who served at the head of the purchasing department of the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company's machine gun plant in Plymouth all during the war, will be interested in knowing that Mr. and Mrs. Muir are spending the winter near Fort Lauderdale. He has under construction a new winter home directly on the ocean front just a few miles north of that city. It will probably not be ready for occupancy for sometime, but its arrangement is ideal for its location as well as the kind of climate they have down here.

Never before spent a Christmas day sitting outdoors in my shirt sleeves, with the sweat running off my forehead. But that's just what the weather was down here at Christmas time. It hasn't been warm the last week or so, its been HOT. And right during all of that time, the north was fighting one of the worst snow storms of years, according to Florida newspapers.

Plymouth Rotarians will be interested in knowing that the big Miami club held two regular noon-day meetings during the holiday period at which wives were welcome as guests. The first meeting at which the ladies were present featured a Christmas program conducted by Miami high school students. One hundred young singers did high credit to themselves as well as the music department of the public schools of this city. The following week's program just before New Year's made a big feature of the football contest played New Year's day between Miami University and Holy Cross, of Boston. The two coaches, well known throughout the country, were interviewed before the club by Ted Husing, prominently known for his radio work. Ted is a member of the Rotary organization.

James Black of Northville, who always has charge of the car parking whenever there is anything going on over at the Northville fair grounds, has been down here since the end of the fall racing meet in Northville. He says he has a job at one of the Miami dog tracks doing the same thing he does at fair times in Northville.

With thousands of automobiles from northern states descending on Florida, the traffic police have a real job on their hands. According to reports, there has been a terrific increase in the number of accidents. To me it is nothing more than amazing to note how well the police handle the traffic in view of the congestion of cars that there is here and the carelessness of many of the drivers. Pedestrians are seemingly as careless as are some of the auto drivers. If it was not for the alertness of officers stationed at the main corners, there would be any number of thoughtless people who walk off the curb and into the street without looking, either injured or killed. One has got to take off his hat to the Miami police for the swell job they are doing in the face of a terrific traffic congestion.

Sgt. James H. Hopkins Will Return to College

T/Sgt. James H. Hopkins of Plymouth, who enlisted in the Engineer Reserve Corps while a student at Michigan Tech, Houghton, three years ago, has been honorably discharged from the service and expects to resume college with the opening of the spring term. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Hopkins, of Lakeside Drive.

Sgt. Hopkins underwent training at Ft. Belvoir, Va., the University of Kentucky, and Camp Claiborne, La., and served on New Guinea, Owl, Blak, and Luzon, being overseas two years. He was with the 864th Aviation Engineers.

His brothers, Fred and John Hopkins, who graduated from Plymouth high school in June, and who are now midshipmen cadets at San Mateo, Calif., came home on Christmas furlough, leaving Dec. 29 to resume their training. They complete their basic course in May and spend a year at sea, followed by two years at King's Point, N. Y.

The Milwaukee Sentinel appeared this weather forecast: "It will be a little colder and a little warmer today than it was yesterday."

Today's struggle between the Chinese Communists and the Nationalist government recalls that in 1936 Chiang Kai-shek offered rewards totaling $1,200,000 for the capture, dead or alive, of 13 men and two women members of the Communist army. Of these rewards, the two largest, offered for Leader Mao Tse-tung and General Chu Teh, were $250,000 apiece.

HEARTLESS HUMANS LEAVE CANINE IN HANDS OF FATE

It was the night of January 5, 1945—10:30 p.m. It was dark, dreary and misting, out-of-doors. But, inside of the Music Box there was excitement. Boys and girls were dancing, playing games or just talking over the weeks' events.
 Suddenly the door was opened and in limped a poor innocent dog. It was cold, wet and full of dirt. He was alone; no one to care for him in this vast world of hard-hearted human beings. Doubtless, he had been cast from his owner's car at the corner of Main and Penniman.
 Nevertheless, here he was with no one whosoever to care for him. After scanning the dance floor with a pitiful expression in his eyes and seeing that there was no one to give him love and attention, he dragged himself with tail between his legs onto the couch in the lounge. Gallantly, Danny Wisely stepped to the creature's side and willingly placed his crimson red jacket upon the poor dejected creature's limped form. After this great action on Mr. Wisely's part, some brute who was a poor excuse for a human being, snatched the jacket and left the animal cold and shivering. Again and again and again he was covered by those who began to come to his plight, but it was to no avail.
 Thus the evening wore on and it was finally terminated by the cruel director of the youth organization throwing the innocent puppy outside to face the evils of man.
 What has happened to this pitiful specimen of the canine species? He is gone. Will we ever see him again? Constantly we are amazed to man's inhumanity to animals. Shall we let this continue?
 Ah, and so it was on the night of January 5, 1945.

DON'T SAY WE DIDN'T WARN YOU

No, it won't be long before the class of '47 will be holding the J-Hop and the gymnasium will be bedecked in the colors of spring. Knowing that this party will be held within four or five months from now we advise you boys to get your dates now for the big event or if things become too bad the girls may resort to drastic measures and invite the boys. Another little hint is not to have any squabbles with that date and you will save yourself the trouble of calling the dating bureau for another mate.—Don't say we didn't warn you!

LIFEBOY

At last sorrow has been lifted from the air of P.H.S., for this week the missing persons bureau located the long lost son of YKNITS who died so recently in his office while preparing to write his forebost for a current edition of the Pilgrim Prints.
 Yknite's son, Lifeboy, happens to be in the same line of business as his father was and so after securing his permission and taking care of the necessary details we are happy to begin publication this week of his column of mirth and madness.

ENGLISH-10 CLASS-NEWS.

If you were wondering what the commotion was in the halls first hour last Thursday it was the students of Mrs. Blunks' 10B English class going on a field tour to The Plymouth Mail.
 With Hector Ethier, who works at The Plymouth Mail, acting as guide the 28 students were shown the process by which the newspaper is made. Mr. Eaton showed the class how the illustrations for the paper are made.
 The students were especially interested in the newspaper "morgue" and book containing the first newspaper published in 1887 in Plymouth.
 The tour ended with Mr. Eaton explaining how the first type was set up. After this the students trooped back to school just in time for their second hour class.

THE LATEST

Vince Simonetti and Ella Jean Ahearn attended the theatre in Detroit last Friday and afterwards returned to Vince's house for refreshments.
 Have you noticed lately a certain girl who used to be escorted through the halls now walks alone?
 Marg's best Christmas present according to her was the letter she received from that certain Marine saying that he might be on his way home.
 That's all right Bob, worse things could have happened—buck up, old boy.
 The ship was in—at least it seemed that way last week when so many sailors invaded their old school.
 It isn't lawn-mowing time but the boys seem to be getting caught in the lawn-mowers anyhow.
 Something peculiar has been going around the halls of old Plymouth High lately; it seems somebody got the queer idea of forging Libbie Neal's writing. Let's be careful about things like this.
 Two happy girls were Marion Bakewell and Marge Kahler when Russ Downing, U.S.M.C., and Hank Schultz, U.S.C.G., came home last week—do you blame them?
 Plymouth High's debate team topped Thursday, January 2 in a practice debate with Eastern Lansing High School, in Plymouth.
 Lois Mills, Marion Bakewell, Marge Kahler, Jerry West, Pat Martin, Vivian Anderson, and Wanda Hunt enjoyed a pajama party held at Lois' home Friday.
 New Year's Eve parties were in the wind this last week and The Lucky Stirrups Horsemanship Club sponsored one at the home of Florence Lyvrance.
 Tobogganing and hot dogs were enjoyed by a group of people during Christmas vacation at Mickey Schuster's home.
 New Years was welcomed by Mary Swanson, Margaret Swanson, Marion Pernie, and Rose Ann Ewer at the home of Helen Fisher.
 Marvin Mepians, U.S.N., while visiting his dear old Alma Mater last week, dropped in to visit the Journalism class.
 Believe it or not kids you could walk up 309 steps every day—if you wanted to. But who wants to do it? We can thank Wanda Hunt for her curiosity, as that is how we found out the exact number of steps.
 Remember the holes in the steps that we used to fall over all the time? Well you will be glad to hear that they filled them up with a little bit of cement the other day.
 Why can't people make up their minds as to what they want when they come into a drug store? Ask Donna H. and Barbara J.

SCIENCE CLUB IS STARTED AT SCHOOL

Miss Schultz, teacher of advanced high school science, has organized a branch of the Science Club of America in Plymouth High. At the last of the bi-weekly meetings, a constitution was adopted and officers were elected.
 At the next meeting on January 16, the club will choose a name. A list of names will be compiled from suggestions, and a name will be chosen from among them. Bring your written suggestions to Miss Schultz in Room 39.
 The club, which is affiliated with many large and potentially helpful organizations, is still open to membership. Old members who have not attended meetings regularly must start coming immediately.
 The elected officers are as follows: Bob Chute, president; Bill Moon, vice president; Caroline Rolan, secretary; Veronica Kucie, treasurer; Allen Christensen, reporter; Dan Hines, lab assistant.

Plymouth Scouting News

(By Harold H. Schryer)

The Scouters of our Community were honored by the presence of Frank Specht, our newly appointed Council Executive at the Community Scouters' Round Table which was held at the High School on Thursday evening, Jan. 3.

It is with pleasure that we extend our sincere thanks for the interest shown by our Executive in our local Scouting efforts. We hope that such interests are to be kept alive throughout the future for the common welfare of all our Scouts, that their efforts be more appreciated in the light of Council representation and recognition.

The Round Table was Chaired by Newton Gould, Community Commissioner and the agenda of the meeting carried three main issues as subjects of discussion by the participating membership, and were as follows: Scout Week Activities; The Dawson City Sweepstakes and the Scout Swimming program which is at present a major activity in local Scouting.

Too much cannot be said in boosting this latter activity. It is of highest importance to Scouting that each member of our Troops be given the complete support of all concerned; the school, the community and the home, that each of the many Scouts in our city have the opportunity to participate in this vital element of Scouting skills.

We citizens of Plymouth are fortunate, indeed, to have as mentors in this phase of the Scouting skills, two of the most able persons that it is possible to obtain at any place under any circumstance.

Both Messrs Mastick and Laury are men of experience whose key interest in our local Scouting problems spring from personal interests in the Youth of our city.

Earl Mastick is well known to almost all of our citizenry for his business interests here. He is a fully qualified Senior Red Cross Life Guard and is quite able to take the required responsibility of the safety and well-being of our lads while they are in the pool.

Wallace Laury is a member of the Northwestern High School faculty and a swimming instructor of excellent repute in the same school. He has had many fine swimming teams to his credit, hence he is of great importance to us here, being instrumental to the highest type of instruction adding to the knowledge and abilities of our sons in a field of personal knowledge to which each of us should most heartily ascribe.

Parents of Scouts can do their sons a good turn by permitting them to participate in this well organized swimming program which is always held under the supervision of capable adults who are sincerely interested in the welfare of our sons.

It is requisite that the lads be properly examined by duly accredited physicians in order that they meet with certain requirements for their own safety.

Also, be possessed of your own written permission which should be inscribed upon the forms supplied them through their Troop leaders.

This is a grand opportunity! Take good advantage of it!

The District Dawson City Sweepstakes are to be held at Cass Benton Park on Sunday, Jan. 13, snow permitting. In case there

Helping Pheasants To Find Food

Fox squirrels are helping pheasants to find food while the nearby Todd wildlife sanctuary is covered by heavily drifted snow.

Conservation department game men recently flushed two hen pheasants that were picking up corn dropped by squirrels foraging in nearby corn fields. The pheasants apparently had difficulty getting to the corn themselves.

The incident is offered as furnishing additional insight into interrelationships between some game species.

Veterans Use Counsel Service

During the month of December 51 Veterans of World War II came to the City Hall for information or help concerning their needs. Some returned more than once making a total of 72 contacts made at Plymouth's Veterans' Information Center. The requests and needs of these veterans totaled 126. Education, both high school and college, and Vocational Training (apprenticeships and non-apprenticeships) interested many. As in most other areas veterans have found the housing situation very discouraging. Many came seeking advice on National Service Life Insurance, and various types of claims. New jobs, loans, and advice on personal affairs were other matters which brought them to the Information Center.

Everything possible is done to aid the veteran, locally, either at the Information Center located in the City Hall or by local individuals or agencies who have so willingly offered their help. Whenever there are cases which cannot be answered locally, the veteran is referred to a state or federal veterans' organization for assistance. However, before being referred to other than a local office, much of the necessary correspondence and forms are taken care of at the local Veterans' Center.

Carvel Bentley, who at present is acting as veterans' counselor for the City of Plymouth, is in the office at the City Hall each Monday and Thursday evening from 6 to 9 and on each Saturday from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. Any veteran seeking information, counseling or guidance is welcome to call at the City Hall during these hours. Everything possible will be done to give the veteran the assistance he desires.

Plymouth is following the plan set up by the Office of Veterans Affairs for the State of Michigan. The December report for the entire state is not available, but the following information is taken from the November report: "Reports tabulated from 81 of Michigan's veteran counseling centers reveals that 26,777 veterans called at these centers for information, counseling and guidance, during the month of November. July reports from the same centers showed only 9,865 veterans calling for the same services. This definitely shows the trend to be upward in a high degree."

One time when fishing on Houghton lake with Ezra Rountner, he said he caught an eel up there some years ago that was over a foot long.

One can believe almost any sort of a fish story that originates in or around Houghton lake, because they do have the whoppers up there.

The other day the writer was talking with a couple of residents from New Jersey. The subject just naturally drifted into fishing and fish.

"Up in Michigan," said the writer, "we're spending quite a bit of time and money in an effort to clean out the eels that have gotten into the Great Lakes and many of our inland lakes. Commercial fishermen say the eels are killing off our game fish."

"What! Michigan getting rid of the eels? Why, down in New Jersey that's our highest price fish on the fish market. There's nothing quite so good as a smoked eel or one that is fried in nice little steaks. We just skin them and eat them. It's the best fish there is to eat," the New Jersey folks declared.

Next time we see Ezra we're going to ask him to save the next big eel he catches, and either have him smoke or fry one, or we'll do it ourselves to see whether the fresh water eels we produce in Michigan are as good as those that command such a high price on New Jersey fish markets.

We always did like smoked fish of any kind. Maybe the eel is just as good as the Jersey residents declare it to be. The best way to find out is just to try it and see.

There have been times when we haven't always agreed with the practices and policies of Michigan's Conservation department, but on the whole we believe that Michigan has the best conservation department of any state in the Union. It is progressive, it is up and doing and it has accomplished much that is worthwhile.

Its greatest opportunities lie ahead—and we are sure that the department will meet the problems of the future in the same way it has met them in the past.

The other day out-door writers in Florida were all in jitters because Florida's conservation department had set aside an order closing the season on mullet, a kind of fish down here that the writers say is becoming scarce, and is a good seller on the markets.

They raised such a hullabaloo about it that the attorney general had to step in and settle the dispute. It was the general statement of these Florida writers that the Florida conservation department is nothing more than a license issuing bureau, something like the fish and game commission was before we created the conservation department back in 1921.

If these Florida out-door writers keep up the barrage over the years that they have been conducting in the last few weeks, we freely predict that this winter resort state will within the next few years have a real conservation department.

Jack Van Coevering, of Rosedale Gardens who is the Detroit Free Press out-door editor (and let it be said one of the best there is in the business) has been writing much lately about the snowy owl invasion of Michigan.

Apparently Michigan is not the only state that has seen these birds that live most of the time in northern Canada up around the Hudson bay country.

The Sportsman's Service Bureau say that these early Michigan reports have been followed by subsequent reports from Pennsylvania, from New York and Iowa indicating that an unusually heavy southward migration took place this winter. Such migrations are generally believed to result from a shortage of mice, lemmings and rabbits in the north.

Latest reports in Michigan say that the big birds have extended their invasion well down into this part of the state, although no more numerous in the upper Peninsula where they were first observed. This is the first appearance of snowy owls in our state since the winter of 1941-42.

Pennsylvania states that the appearance of the owls there is the first in several winters. Several taxidermists have reported birds turned over for mounting, and one was recently caught alive by a sailor stationed at the Naval Depot at Mechanicsburg, after a merry chase atop a large warehouse.

New York reports that while some snowy owls are reported from that State every winter, this year's influx is much heavier than usual. They have even been observed as far south as Westchester County, just outside the New York City limits.

Dr. Brick Champe, president of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association who last winter organized several fox hunts in an effort to reduce the number of these pests in this locality, still thinks something should be done to rid the state of foxes. He declares that the fox is one of the most deadly enemies of the pheasant and until we reduce the fox population, these roving animals will get their share of this game bird.

Plymouth's well known conservation devotee is also interested in what other states are doing on this matter.

Ohio's response to the current predator situation, according to the Sportsman's Service Bureau, has been to educate farm institutions, rural youth groups, Boy Scout organizations and individuals in fox trapping methods.

In announcing the appointment of Dayton Parsons as Predator Control Instructor, Law Enforcement Chief Lester Bailey said that the program had been conducted on an experimental basis for several weeks and had proved very effective, and that a "great many foxes" had been trapped by the trainees.

Bounties of from $1 to $5 paid in many counties, plus prices paid for pelts, and said to have made Ohio fox trapping a fairly attractive proposition, with total potential income per animal ranging up to nearly $10.

Dr. Champe believes that Michigan could do more than it is to rid the state of this pest.

Missionary Will Discuss Japanese

On Tuesday evening, January 15th Rev. T. T. Brumbaugh, who resided in Japan for 17 years, will lead the discussion at The Plymouth Public Forum on "What Can We Expect from Japan?"

Dr. Brumbaugh served first as a missionary in that country and from 1931 to 1941 was director of the Wisley Foundation which served upper-class students from all over the world who were attending universities in Tokyo as well as many Japanese students. He has appeared on the Chicago Round-Table and in Our Opinion programs.

Being a World War I veteran and a member of the army of occupation in Germany after that war, he brings to the Forum a world-wide vision of this question of getting along in a war-torn world. He is now executive secretary of the Detroit Council of Churches.

It is free to the public and will be held in the Central Grade School Auditorium at 8 o'clock. The usual question and discussion period will prevail after the presentation of his conclusions.

In Nora Springs, Iowa, town officials forked over $25 for running a truck with no headlights, no tail lights, no sidelights, no stoplights, no clearance lights, no identification lights, no flares, no red flags, no windshield wiper, no rear-view mirror, no license plates.

License Plates Not In Demand

With less than two months left to purchase full year 1946 auto license plates, the license bureau here has sold a few more than 300 plates to date. Plymouth motorists either are forgetting about that all-important plate or are hoping that the new car bottle-neck will be broken soon and they can get that new car and still have to buy only one 1946 plate.

It may be that many are waiting for the half-year plates which as yet have not put in their appearance here. They may be available about Jan. 15 but that is only a guess. Several persons will purchase the half-year licenses this year due to the new car stalemate. Only those with fairly new cars or those whose tires are good can be expected to invest in a full year plate, bureau officials declared.

In Southbury, Conn., Max Laboudy, battling his way into an obstinate shirt, dislocated his shoulder.

Reports from 23 states in 1944 show that 73 per cent of the drivers involved in automobile accidents were residents of urban areas, according to the National Safety Council.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

HARRY: "I don't know what they'll weigh up, Judge, but my cattle and poultry sure have been gettin' fatter since I started to use distillers' dried grains in their ration."

OLD JUDGE: "You're about the tenth one who has told me that, Harry. How do you account for it?"

HARRY: "The by-product recovered from grains used by distillers is very high in vitamin and protein content. It's the best feed supplement we can get to balance the rations we feed our dairy cows, livestock and poultry. Mixed with original grain, these distillers' dried grains have a much greater feeding value than the original grain has."

OLD JUDGE: "Have any trouble getting all you need?"

HARRY: "Yes, at times, even though the distillers produced 1,200,000,000 pounds of it for the year endin' last June. I hope they'll be in a position to produce a lot more next year."

OLD JUDGE: "Then I guess nobody can tell you grain is wasted in distilling."

HARRY: "Not me, Judge... I know."

THERE ISN'T ALWAYS ROOM FOR ONE MORE

Abdul doesn't know that a stray too many can break the camel's back. And many people don't know that one appliance too many on a circuit is the cause of that troublesome blown fuse. Many people are accustomed to inadequate wiring. But overloaded circuits are not your only handicap to home happiness if you have inadequate wiring. It means, too, improper distribution of outlets—not having the electric roaster where you want it because there's no outlet convenient, or it means that Dad can't use that electric shaver where he wants it. Don't think "there's always room for one more." Don't be like Abdul. Adequate wiring means a home for you "as good as new"—good enough to use every new appliance you'll want in your home. And, of course, if your plans for tomorrow include a brand-new home, adequate wiring is an "A-1" item to check in plans and specifications.

This is one of a series of advertisements prepared in the interest of the electrical contractors in your area to insure adequate wiring for every home. When you build or remodel, be sure your home is properly wired.

A "Look at the Books" OR "A Finger in the Pie"?

Which is the UAW-CIO really after? Is it seeking facts—or new economic power? Does it want to know things—or run things?

These questions concern you as well as General Motors.

For years the facts about General Motors have been made public.

In spite of this, the UAW-CIO demands a chance to look at our books, with the hint that we could meet Union demands "if the truth were really known."

We have firmly declined to recognize this as a basis for bargaining:

- 1. The Full Facts are Published
- 2. All Figures are Thoroughly Checked
- 3. Basis of Collective Bargaining is Defined
- 4. Something New has been Added
- 5. This Threatens All Business

How much General Motors takes in each year—how much it pays employees—how much it pays to stockholders—how much it pays in taxes—how much net profit we make—and many other facts are plainly stated in annual reports and quarterly reports.

These are broadcast to 425,000 stockholders from coast to coast—sent to newspapers and libraries. Additional copies are free for the asking.

Every General Motors annual statement is audited by outside auditors. Similar figures are filed with the Securities & Exchange Commission.

Does the UAW-CIO honestly believe that General Motors would or could deceive these experts?

The Wagner Act lays down the rules for collective bargaining. These cover such areas as rates of pay, hours of work, working conditions.

No mention is made of earnings, prices, sales volume, taxes and the like. These are recognized as the problems of management.

The obvious fact is that the UAW-CIO has gone beyond its rights under the law—and is reaching not for information but for new power—not for a look at past figures, but for the power to sit in on forecasting and planning the future.

A "look at the books" is a clever catch phrase intended as an opening wedge whereby Unions hope to pry their way into the whole field of management.

It leads surely to the day when Union bosses, under threat of strike, will demand the right to tell what we can make, when we can make it, where we can make it, and how much we must charge you—all with an eye on what labor can take out of the business, rather than on the value that goes into the product.

If the Union can do this in the case of General Motors, it can do it to every business in this land of ours.

Is this just imagination? Union spokesmen have said, "The Union has stated time after time that this issue is bigger than just an ordinary wage argument, that it is bigger than the Corporation and bigger than the Union."

For Labor Unions to use the monopolistic power of their vast membership to extend the scope of wage negotiations to include more than wages, hours and working conditions is the first step toward handing the management of business over to the Union bosses.

We therefore reject the idea of a "look at the books" not because we have anything to hide but because the idea itself hides a threat to GM, to all business, and to you, the public.

grandchildren. Perhaps a more likely reason for a market break would be a fear of Communism or Socialism. When people in this country are finally convinced that Europe is going Socialistic and that the cloud is constantly moving westward, investors will begin to sell.

Stabilization or Destruction? But eliminating the above scares, it is very possible, with the present money situation, aided by the S.E.C. and the C.I.O., that the stock market may be stabilized at a high level for a few years, as it stabilized at a low level from December, 1938 to December, 1942.
