What I Think and Have a Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

McKAY AND VAN WAGONER.

There's been a lot of speculation in the newspapers about whether Frank McKay will support Sigler or Van Wagoner for Governor. To one who knows something about state politics, the answer is an easy one — McKay will support Van Wagoner, but it will be under-cover support, just like it was in the years gone by. McKay says he will support the Republican ticket, because he's a Republican. That's pure bunk. Check back over the Van Wagoner administration and you will quickly make up your mind as to where McKay will land during the next campaign.

HE OUGHT TO KNOW.

Walter Reuther, head of the big auto union, says the optimistic predictions of auto manufacturers that there will be 6,000,000 cars rolling off the production lines next year, is just plain bunk. No such production will take place, he says.

Everybody thought when the boys came home from the fighting fronts of the world that there would be automobiles to buy. The war has been over for a year and you can't buy a car yet. Why? Ask Reuther.

GOOD LUCK, AND MUCH OF IT.

Plymouth had two mighty good citizens move from this community last week. Clarence Elliott went to Jackson to become the city manager of that energetic municipality. Rev. Leonard Sanders went to Owosso to become pastor of the First Methodist church of that city. While residents of Plymouth, they served this city well — and Plymouth is a better city because these two good men lived here.

We wish for their successors the same commendable career that Mr. Elliott and Rev. Sanders enjoyed during their years of service here — and we believe they will have it.

ATTACKS ON BENEFACTOR

The following taken from a recent issue of The Congressional Record, will provide The Plymouth Mail readers with interesting and somewhat alarming information as to former President Hoover's problems in feeding the world:

Mr. Speaker, those Americans who pointout that the road to Moscow for our people is the road to ruin often find of opposition from certain groups in our country. Different people give different reasons for suggesting that Russia is suspicious of us and has a right to be. It is fashionable in certain spots to defend the communistic philosophy which comes from Moscow.

Those who believe in communism have a well-defined plan and they are carrying it out in every way possible from day to day. They seek to undermine the American way of life and form of government. The attack takes different forms, shapes, and developments. But it always has the same purpose and result. So far only occasionally has anyone had the courage to say that the communistic plan to dominate the world would stop at nothing; not only would the Communists violate all the principles of honor, integrity, and self-respect, but they would starve people to death if that served their desire for world domination. In yesterday's newspapers is a startling statement by Herbert Hoover. Mr. Hoover modestly accuses the Communists of willingness to cripple and defeat our purpose to help famine-stricken people, because such an accomplishment would promote the cause of communism, even though it meant the starvation of untold thousands of women and little children suffering from disease and hunger. Such is the policy of the rulers of Russia.

The following newspaper item in the Washington Times-Herald for June 16, 1946, is worthy of careful reading and thought:

Hoover Accuses Red Press of Plot to Block Food Relief—Charges Attempt to "Produce Chaos" by Denying Supplies to Needy Nations
RIO DE JANEIRO, June 15.—Herbert Hoover told a press conference here today that the "universal party line of the Communist Party in every country is trying to break down the provision of food for hungry people and thus produce chaos where they can fish in troubled waters."

Hoover, in Brazil on a food study in South America for President Truman, said that if his analysis of the Communist policy on food were "not the case, it would appear that this is the time for Moscow to establish a new party line in the Communist press of the world."

Hoover—who said the Government and people of Brazil were eager to help relieve world famine and could furnish rice, beans, and corn—was attacked upon his arrival here by the Communist press as "the ambassador of Wall Street coming to take bread from the Brazilian people."

"In Brazil as well as in the 37 other countries I have visited," Hoover said, "wherever there is a Communist press, and this is in most of them, that press has attacked this effort to provide food for the hungry working people of the world, alleging the food was to be used for political purposes."

"In Latin America it also takes the form that we are trying to take food from the people, when our only purpose is to provide food. The unity of the opposition is interesting because the Communist press is aware that the Christian world today is denying itself food in order that the working people of France, Belgium, Italy, Poland, Yugoslavia, and 20 other countries may be saved from starvation. Among these people there are millions of Communists who have received their full share and whose lives were saved by our action."

"It is still more interesting because after the First World War at the request of the Soviet Government, I organized relief for the great famine among the working people of south Russia and received the most fulsome documents of thanks and appreciation signed by the highest officials of the Russian Government."

"As we are feeding Communists in all countries and always have done so, there obviously has been no use of food for political purposes or no intent to make such use of it."

Perhaps the most interesting and significant quotation in the foregoing newspaper item is that part in which Mr. Hoover comments on the fact that in World War I he was in charge of relief work and had to do with sending food to the famine-stricken people among the working classes of Russia. Some of us will recall that there was in America a great wave of sympathy and generosity. Food was collected and aid was extended to these people in a manner that befits our kind of civilization and our type of Christian leadership. I have a rather distinct recollection of a Member of Congress, one of my predecessors, taking great pride in the fact that he had voted for a direct appropriation of many millions of dollars out of the Treasury of the United States to buy wheat for shipment to Russia. Now in the hour of the world's greatest opportunity, the Communists, under orders from Russia and its leaders, are interfering with the program of furnishing food to famine-stricken Europe.

In the face of these facts we still have people in this country who have mud in the brains and whose thinking is so chaotic that they say, "Russia is suspicious of us and has a right to be." Those individuals who utter those sentiments need to be watched. People who applaud that type of a statement are equally guilty.

Plymouth Man Forms New Firm At Ann Arbor

Lawrence Blunk, for 12 years an employee at Blunk and Thatcher, has announced the organization of a partnership with John W. Parkes, of Ann Arbor, to do business at the DeLuxe Window Shade Company.

Headquarters of the new firm will be at 206 South Fourth avenue, Ann Arbor, but Mr. Blunk will continue to reside in Plymouth to provide service for his many friends here.

Mr. Blunk said his company will offer complete window shade service. They will give free estimates for making shades to order or furnishing a home or business establishment with Venetian blinds in either wood, steel or aluminum.

In addition, the DeLuxe Window Shade Company will offer such services as cleaning and reversing shades, refinishing, cleaning and repairing all types of Venetian blinds.

Plymouthites desiring service from Mr. Blunk can call him at Plymouth 1089-W. The firm's phone number at Ann Arbor is 8776.

Mr. Blunk is completely experienced in all phases of the service his partnership will offer. His host of Plymouth friends wish him continued success in this new venture.

New City Manager Assumes Duties Minus Secretary

Plymouth's new city manager, Harold R. Cheek, of Chicago, began his duties Monday unassisted. His regular secretary-receptionist was unable to be present.

Late last week she was stricken suddenly and had to be hospitalized. It's not too serious and she'll be back before long. But, Mr. Cheek had to come on his new job without the very valuable aid of a receptionist.

Being a Navy man—he was honorably discharged last April as a lieutenant, senior grade—he was able to meet the situation without faltering.

Mr. Cheek, long identified with municipal management, is easy to meet. He makes one feel comfortable.

Harold R. Cheek

able and possesses an air of extreme friendliness.

He appears to know what he wants but has no ideas of being drastic in reaching an ultimate end. It is apparent that Mr. Cheek wishes to proceed slowly in an effort to thoroughly familiarize himself with the local situation.

Monday was a double order for him. His initial meeting with the City Commission, which unanimously selected him from a field of nine applicants, took place Monday night.

Sheldon Road To Be Blacktopped Yet This Summer

Through the untiring efforts of Supervisor Carl G. Shear, former Plymouth mayor, the blacktopping of Sheldon Road from the Pere Marquette tracks south to Ann Arbor Trail has been assured. The job will be completed yet this summer.

Leroy Smith, a member of the Wayne County Road Commission, guaranteed the completion of the project this week in a conversation with Supervisor Shear. This is a project that has long been a controversial issue in Plymouth. Supervisor Shear deserves considerable credit for his efforts to bring the matter to a successful conclusion.

Retired Plymouth Minister Dies; Funeral Today

Funeral will held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, today, in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Northville, for the Rev. Charles Strasen who died Sunday at his home here at 219 South Harvey street.

The Rev. E. E. Roosow of Northville, and the Rev. C. A. Brauer, of Ann Arbor, will officiate. Interment is to be in Riverside Cemetery, Plymouth.

The body will lie in state at the Northville church from 10 a.m. Wednesday, today, until time for the services.

Mr. Strasen, a retired Lutheran pastor, had been ill for a long time. He is survived by his wife, Christine; four sons, Theodore, of Detroit; George and Martin, of Plymouth; and Alfred, of Northville; four daughters, Esther, of Detroit; Cordula and Mrs. Edward Dews and Mrs. Hanna Fleming, all of Plymouth; a brother, the Rev. Henry Strasen, of St. Paul, Minn., and six grandchildren.

Methodists Give Pastor Farewell

Some two hundred members of the Methodist church were in attendance at a farewell party honoring Rev. and Mrs. T. Leonard Sanders last Wednesday evening in the Methodist church parlors. The program, arranged under the direction of Mrs. Edna O'Conner, consisted mainly of tributes given by the following people: Roy Clark, Rev. Sanborn, George Burr, Mrs. Sidney Patton, Mr. Horace Thatcher, Doris Oldenburg, Mr. Thomas Bateman, Rev. Henry Walch, who represented the various organizations in the Methodist church and other local churches.

A musical program of several piano solos by Mrs. O'Conner, a duet by Virginia Fisher and Ruth Campbell, two solos and an encore by Ardis Curtis, a piano solo and encore by Mrs. Inez Lock, was also presented.

Rev. and Mrs. Sanders were presented with a Westinghouse Roaster in appreciation for the work they have done in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Munroe and children returned home Saturday after a two week's vacation at Mullett Lake. Mr. Munroe joined his wife and children for the last week.

Shoe Outlook Very Indefinite

James Hauk, a partner in the Fisher Shoe Store here, spent last week Monday and Tuesday in St. Louis, Mo., on a special purchasing trip.

Jim reports that the outlook for shoes of all types and other footwear is far from reassuring. He says the fall styles offer very little selection and persons who believed the shoe supplies were going to be plentiful this fall are to be bitterly disappointed.

The market, Jim said, is in a very serious condition. It is worse, according to him, than at any time during the war-wrought rationing program. As a dealer, Jim is very pessimistic about the future of shoes. He thinks both quantity and quality will be lacking for some time to come.

His two-day trip to the Missouri city left him feeling very glum as far as business is concerned. He also was glad to get back home where it was cool in comparison to the temperatures experienced in St. Louis, Jim reported.

Aid Sought For Plymouth Family Living In Tent

Roy Jewell reports that the unfortunate family on Sheldon Road near Ford Road, whose tent-home was inundated two weeks ago during the two-day rainstorm, still is badly in need of assistance.

What is left of their tent leaks badly. In Sunday's storm they were soaked again. What is needed now is a new tent, bedding and some mattresses. The clothing situation is not bad at present but when cold weather arrives it will be acute.

Mr. Jewell asks that cash or other donations be left at The Mail. Winter clothing can be left here he said and he will be responsible for picking it up and storing it until cold weather comes.

The family has eight members. The children range in age from 14 to two years. The father (actually the children's stepfather) is working in Plymouth at a manufacturing concern and buying the farm land they are living on by monthly payments.

They definitely are in need. Let's help our own unfortunate people as well as those in Europe and other countries abroad. Leave your donations at The Mail or with Roy Jewell.

Member-Guests Golf Meet Held Sunday At Hilltop

Hilltop Golf Club Sunday was the scene of a bang-up member-guest best ball tournament and other golfing events that attracted a large field of contestants and an equally large gallery.

Jack Beckman and his guest, Tommy Sheehan, of Detroit, enjoyed a virtual field day as they romped over the course for a 68 for 18 holes—six below par—to win the best ball event hands down.

Second place went to Mr. Beckman and another of his guests, Gene Milburn, of Detroit, who carded an even 70 for the 18 holes for another under par score.

Three Plymouth twosomes each turned in a 71 to produce a three-way tie for third place in the best ball event. They included Jack Marsh and John Palmer, George Todd and Rockwell Smith, and Tom Lock and Russell Egloff.

Mr. Beckman's guest, Tommy Sheehan, also was awarded the medal for top individual score of the day. He carded a 69-five under par-over the 18 holes.

The driving contest was won hands down by Plymouth's Rockwell "Superman" Smith. He very casually stepped to the tee and drove one 296 yards. His gargantuan smash outclassed the other contestants in the event. The closest ball to his still was 50 yards behind.

Harry Taylor, of Detroit, won the hole-in-one event. His effort put him within 35 inches of the pin to give him an easy victory.

Softball League Lists Schedules

Games in the Plymouth Industrial Twilight Softball League next week include Cavalcade vs Oldsmobile City Service, North diamond, and DeHoCo vs Daisy Air Rifles, House of Correction Grounds, Monday night, July 8; Wall Wire vs VFW, North diamond, and DeHoCo vs Merchants, House of Correction Grounds, Tuesday night, July 9; Wall Wire vs Daisy Air Rifles, North diamond, and Merchants vs Atchison Gulf, Track diamond, Wednesday night, July 10; and VFW vs Oldsmobile City Service, North diamond, Thursday night, July 11.

The Misses Shirley Hosmer and Betty Lowman of Harrod, Ohio, were recent week-end guests of Arthur E. Robinson and Noel L. Hoover.

City Playgrounds Popular Even in Rainy Weather

To quiet certain people whose small minds already have caused them to question the value of a supervised recreation program in Plymouth, The Mail takes pleasure in reporting the following from Virgil C. Knowles, Plymouth recreation director:

"In spite of bad weather a week ago which caused several of the industrial league games to be called off and made it necessary for Playground activities to be carried on inside, attendance at all three playgrounds for the week was well over a thousand."

Mr. Knowles is proud to issue such a report. He also points out that there are facilities for taking care of many times that number. He hopes that as the summer continues more and more families will send their children to the playground and give them the opportunity to have fun in safety.

Unemployment Aid Requests Drop Sharply

With the return last week of all Ford workers to their jobs in this vicinity the unemployment benefits paid out by the Plymouth office of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission dropped from 694 to 458.

According to Grace H. Miller, chief claims examiner at the Plymouth MUCC office, 585 West Ann Arbor Trail, 458 unemployed persons in and around Plymouth received compensation during the week ending June 22.

Her records show that for the previous week similar benefits were paid 649 unemployed individuals. This shows how much continued operation of the Ford industries in this area mean to Plymouth and surrounding townships.

Of the 458 who received benefits last week, 187 were veterans receiving readjustment allowances. The remaining 271 industrial claimants included 80 women.

Initial claims last week totaled 129, a decrease of 55 over the previous week. Of this number, 22 were veterans and 45 were women.

Plymouth Golfer Gets Ace Out at Hilltop

Another page in Plymouth golfing history was made Sunday, June 30, at Hilltop Golf Club when Russell Egloff, of Gold Arbor road, sunk his tee shot on the 130-yard No. 4 hole. The hole-in-one is Egloff's first and the only one in three years out at Hilltop.

Tom Lock and Barney Stadtmiller were with Egloff when he got his ace and Joseph Ribar and "Sod" Shaffer were on the green and saw it roll into the cup. The feat was accomplished with a nine-iron.

Egloff had a 79 for his 18-hole circuit.

Hundreds Of Homes Needed, 10 Permits Issued

While Plymouth is desperately in need of not less than 200 new homes immediately, only ten permits have been issued for residential construction since the government ban went into effect on March 26, a ban on construction of all kinds except homes for veterans.

While only ten permits have been issued, city officials do not know whether construction has been started on any of these houses.

A few days ago a government official from the Detroit region office was in Plymouth checking over the building permits issued here in an effort to find out whether there is any "cheating" going on in this city in the building game.

During the past three or four years there has been an average of between 50 and 100 new houses erected each year, but these have in no way taken care of the demands in this city for homes for both veterans and other citizens.

City officials have not been advised as to how far the government has carried its investigation in this city. Apparently an effort is being made to find out if home building permits have been issued to any one who is not entitled to them.

"It is up to the person seeking a permit to battle it out with the government for permission to buy necessary supplies," says a city official.

Fire Problem All Solved Says Manager

All is well that ends well. Apparently that to the recent misunderstanding between Plymouth's volunteer firemen and the Fire Study Commission and you have a true picture of the current situation.

Nobody is going to quit or strike, tempers have cooled and through the untiring efforts of Clarence H. Elliott, tranquility once more reigns in Plymouth's municipal sphere.

With an eye to Plymouth's welfare and that of his successor, Harold R. Cheek, Mr. Elliott successfully strove to settle the matter before his term expired.

"It would have been unfair to Mr. Cheek," Mr. Elliott said, "for him to have taken office here with a situation like that prevailing."

"It was something that occurred during my tenure and I was determined that I would find a solution. I never have been one to leave troubles for anyone else."

Mr. Elliott scored "the unthinking, rabble-rousing person or persons who called Detroit news papers and supplied them with (Continued on page 6)

Our Nation's
170th
Birthday...

We've a right to celebrate this year. A right to really make this Independence Day a wonderful occasion. For it is the 170th Anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence... it is our first peacetime Fourth in many long years. For the volley of shots heard at Valley Forge and Bunker Hill following the declaration of our independence again echoed in powder blasts over Anzio and Normandy, Okinawa and Hiroshima in the preservation of that freedom. Through 170 years, America has led the world in freedom and happiness; today she stands the leader among men, among nations working toward an everlasting peace. As our forebearers and our sons gave their lives for blessed freedom and independence, we again renew our pledge of allegiance to America with "our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Plymouth Nines List Schedules

Plymouth's entries in the Michigan Inter-County Class A Baseball league will oppose each other at 3 p.m. Sunday in Riverside Park. This should be a stellar attraction and draw spectators accordingly. It is the second time this season that both Cloverdale and Passage-Gayde nines have met on the home diamond.

Next Thursday, the Fourth of July, Cloverdale will entertain the Garden City club at 3 p.m. in Riverside Park. Passage-Gayde nine will travel that day. They will meet the Lindeman Service club at Inkster Park in a holiday special.

On Sunday, July 7, Cloverdale again will play at home. The milk and cream baseballers will be opposed by VFW Post 2706 of Pontiac at Riverside Park. The game starts at 3 p.m. Passage-Gayde will be on the road again, playing Northville at Cass Benton Park.

Home Demonstration Agent Gives Advice On Canning This Year

Pressure saucapans, small editions of pressure cookers, are not all recommended for use in canning. Directions which come with the saucapans should be followed closely, says Emma DuBord, home demonstration agent for Wayne County. New canning bulletins recommend 10 pounds pressure, exactly, for meat, fish, poultry and non-acid vegetables. If the saucapan is one which indicates in figures, the exact pressure reached, canning will be successful. Accurate pressure and timing are necessary for successful canning. Even pressure cooker gauges are sometimes off several pounds, causing spoilage of products. Gauge testing clinics held recently show that one-fourth to one-third of the gauges are off from two to four pounds, says Miss DuBord. Sometimes a new cooker, used only a few times will not register correctly. The cooker should be opened within two minutes of the time the indicator is back to zero or the spring in the gauge may be affected.

Men give counsel; but they give not the wisdom to profit by it. To ask wisdom of God, is the beginning of wisdom.—Mary Baker Eddy

false information about the whole affair."

Because Detroit papers were grossly misinformed, Mr. Elliott charged, Plymouth received nation-wide publicity of the worst type.

Everything was settled to the satisfaction of all concerned last week following a meeting of fire department representatives with Mayor Robert Lidgard and Mr.
Elliott.

Mr. Elliott pointed out that both the fire department constitution and by-laws and the recommendation of the Fire Study Commission were in violation of the Plymouth City Charter and manager form of city government.

He said that if the city manager form of government in Plymouth was to endure, the fire department would have to write a new constitution and by-laws and operate as all other city departments.

Mr. Elliott was informed that the portion of the Fire Study Commission report to which the Firemen objected was the phrase:
"It is our (Fire Study Commission) opinion that the powers of hiring and firing, regulation of working hours, administration, etc., should be solely in the hands of the Chief of the Fire Department."

Mr. Elliott agreed with the firemen that such a recommendation was entirely in opposition to the present form of municipal government in Plymouth and entirely contradicted the commission's (Fire Study) first opinion contained in their written report to the City Commission.

For the fire, or any other city department, to be placed solely under the jurisdiction of its chief, or head, would be like making private industrial plant foremen the full and final authority in their respective departments, Mr.
Elliott contended.

He pointed out that in the city manager form of government the heads of all city departments are responsible to the City Commission THROUGH the City Manager for the operation of their departments.

In short, the city manager is in reality the personnel chief of the municipality. His is the final word for hiring or removing municipal employees, subject to review by the city commission.

Department heads can recommend discharge of their men to the city manager and suggest the hiring of new men but in no sense are they to be the sole authority for such action.

Thus Mr. Elliott felt the firemen had a point in raising their strenuous objections to the Fire Study Commission's recommendation.

But, he also called the firemen's attention to the fact that their present constitution and by-laws did not conform to Plymouth's charter nor their form of government.

The firemen were assured that hiring or firing, working hours and other administrative duties would not rest SOLELY with their chief. Their security still would be sustained.

They in turn agreed to adopt a new constitution and by-laws that would conform to the city manager type of government.

be satisfied that they had made a wise choice and reported they were favorably impressed by Mr.
Cheek.

Prior to assuming office Monday morning, he had been in Plymouth meeting the heads of the various municipal departments and other city officials.

Mr. Cheek is 34 years of age, married and a father. When suitable accommodations are located,
he plans to move his family here.

In 1936, Mr. Cheek began his municipal managerial career with an appointment as assistant manager and director of finance at Westerville, Ohio. Three years later he was called to Big Stone Gap, Va., to serve as city manager. He remained there until 1943 when he accepted a commission in the Navy.

Prior to going on active duty in the Navy, Mr. Cheek served as assistant director of the Municipal Finance Officers Association. He returned to that post last March upon being placed on terminal leave.

While serving the association in that capacity, Mr. Cheek counseled many city officials on bond issues, public utility financing and the operation of council-manager form of municipal government such as Plymouth has.

Mr. Cheek also wrote several articles on these and kindred matters and served as editor of Municipal Finance, official publication of the association.

NO COMPETITION?...
THERE'S PLENTY OF IT

More than any other private business, the utility is in direct and continuous competition with the theories and, in some sections of the United States, with the works of those who would turn private business into government business.

The Detroit Edison Company competes for your business in your home, because there is nothing which compels the use of electricity exclusively in the operation of many household appliances.

Industries are free to build plants for the manufacture of their own electric power, and a few have done so.

Because of the existence of real competition, The Detroit Edison Company is required to produce so efficiently that the industrialist cannot afford to generate his own power.

Detroit Edison is required to serve the home so well that its occupants will PREFER electricity.

Beyond all this is the ever-present fact that our customers—you, the householder, the farmer, the merchant and the manufacturer—expect nothing less than the BEST from The Detroit Edison Company. We are in constant competition with that standard of price, dependability and service which you fix for us—with your idea of what Detroit Edison should be.

Upon our ability to meet that competition depends our right to survive and prosper.

Direct competition by another electric company is eliminated by law as a matter of public policy. That policy permits exercise of the economies of mass purchases and mass production without wasteful duplications. The safeguards of public regulation are combined with the enterprise and efficiency of private management.

The objective and the result—extraordinary service at reasonable cost.

The Girl Scout meeting at Mrs. Burton Rich's home Monday evening was attended by only three of the girls. Toasted peanut butter sandwiches were a very good substitute for the elusive hot dogs, although a bit more difficult to hold on a stick. The girls are planning an overnight camp-out for their last meeting in July. They are trying to locate a fair sized tent to use. The next meeting will be July 8 at seven o'clock.

Donkey Game
Huge Success

Threatening weather conditions kept the crowd down to about 700, but otherwise the donkey baseball game Thursday night at Central High school field was a howling success. It was sponsored by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce. Proceeds go to the Plymouth District Veterans Memorial Foundation.

Although the crowd was smaller than in previous years, the financial success of the venture is assured, the sponsors tell us. One thing is certain, everybody — players and spectators alike — had a whale of a time.

Even the donkeys laughed at the feeble attempts of their riders to stay on board. Some riders were determined, but their mounts soon convinced them of Plymouth Wild Lifers and farmers who have been hoping the increase in the number of foxes in Michigan had about run its course will find no comfort in the report of D. F. Switzenburg, conservation department investigator, that no general statewide decline is yet evident.

Half of the more than a thousand sportsmen, farmers, fox hunters and trappers, amateur naturalists and conservation officers questioned believe there are more foxes than there were a year ago; only 16 percent think there are fewer. Only one of 33 observers in the northern peninsula reported fewer foxes than a year ago, and in the southern peninsula only the southwestern and north central counties reported decreases.

Litters dug out are averaging six pups to the den, though one count of 14 was verified, near Coldwater.

Farmers' complaints of fox damage are being received at about the same rate as a year ago. Interest in foxes is especially high in the Thumb, where they have invaded the farming country in numbers for the first time since reliable records have been kept. The 1945 fox kill, computed at 52,000, including 28,300 taken by hunting and 23,700 trapped is 55 percent above the kill the year before.

Camping space is in such demand this season that state park superintendents have no alternative but to enforce the time limit on each camper's stay, according to the conservation department's parks and recreation division.

Camper are allowed 15 days' stay on a campsite, then must remain out of the park 24 hours before they can get another, in order to give new arrivals a chance. Campers who wish to remain past the allowable time for each party are being urged to visit other state parks in the same area where equal facilities may be having less use because they are not so well known.

One camper who "had to be shown" that the long-standing authority to enforce the time limit is now operating paid a $5 fine for overstaying his camping permit time at Grand Haven state park.

Familiar landmarks of Mackinac Straits region have a significance the thousands of tourists who see them each year never suspect, three geologists report in a new study just published by the conservation department's geological survey.

Castle Rock near St. Ignace and Sugarloaf and Arch rocks on Mackinac Island are among the huge rough stone masses that have kept the secret of their formation for centuries. Probing for the secret unearthed some facts important to oil men, quarrymen and builders of piers and bridges at the straits.

The geologists—Drs. Kenneth K. Landes, George M. Ehlers and George M. Stanley of the University of Michigan—have traced the story of the "breccia", as the rock in the landmarks is called, from long before the time of the continental glaciers. In those days an eastward flowing river cut a deep valley where the straits are now, and salt beds (still 1,200 feet thick as close as Alpena) were leached out. Overlying rock crumbled and dropped into the cavity left by the dissolved salt, percolating waters later cemented this jumbled rock, and it became so hardened it withstood later erosion better than the rock around it. Today it stands above the surface in scenic curiosities.

With regard to oil, the geologists observe that, "Obviously the area has not been adequately explored," and add, "By scientific prospecting with core drill and seismograph throughout northern Michigan—north of Roscommon—more oil pools might be discovered."

Copies of the 200-page study, "Geology of the Mackinac Straits Region," are available at the conservation department's geological survey.

Most of Michigan's thousand fish bait dealers, who do a million dollar annual business, have approved the conservation department's project to raise bait minnows as a demonstration to determine whether private concerns could do the same successfully.

G. N. Washburn of the department's fisheries institute here who canvassed the dealers says most of them report they are not always able to obtain an adequate supply of minnows, and would like to buy surplus minnows produced by the department in its experiments at fish hatcheries. Species preferred by the bait dealers are chubs, suckers, and shiners, in that order, with some demand also for mudminnows, dace, mud and blunt-nosed minnows.

The wartime shortage of bait minnows is continuing in some northern resort areas where few streams are open to minnow netting. Inquiries directed to the department about raising minnows, including many from veterans, have been abundant this spring. Where 901 dealers were licensed in 1945, already this season, 1,265 retail and 74 wholesale bait dealers' licenses have been issued.

Square Dancing
Classes Planned

Square dancing is coming back. It's a family-participation recreation that is proving more popular each week. Even the bonafide Plymouth five hounds admit they would like to know more about the art of "four hands around."

With that in mind, Virgil C. Knowles, Plymouth recreation director, has arranged for weekly instruction periods in square dancing at Central High school gymnasium starting at 7 p.m. next Monday.

For twenty-five cents per night anyone can learn how to correctly participate in square dances. Mr. and Mrs. Scott Colburn, of Ann Arbor, formerly with the Ford dancers, have been secured to act as instructors. The music will be provided by records.

Each Monday starting July 1 the high school gymnasium will ring with the familiar square dance rhythms and calls as the community, both young and old, learn the correct method of square dancing. Intermediate groups are scheduled for 7 p.m. and senior high school groups will be accommodated at 8:15 p.m.

We're Sorry

There'll Be Less Cake
But No More Bread

The government has just reduced our sugar allotment for the three months starting July 1st to 60% of the amount of sugar which we used in the same period of 1941. This is going to mean that we will be able to make less of the baked goods you like—because we are not magicians and we need ingredients to make palatable baked goods.

Statements made by government officials that the cut in our sugar allotment would increase our bread production are incorrect. Government officials have been informed and they know that bakers cannot make bread out of the flour they use for cakes and pastries. The statement was apparently made in order to place the blame for a shortage of bread upon the bakers, rather than upon the short-sighted and stupid policies which the government has been following. Right now it is almost impossible for us to get bread flour as a result of these policies. How, then, can we produce more bread? And with our sugar allotment cut, we must curtail our production of other types of baked goods.

If you believe—as we do—that starving people abroad should be fed but that none of the wheat and flour purchased by the government should be used for other purposes until the food requirements of our own people have been taken care of, won't you write to your Congressman and Senators and tell them so?

Babson

Babson Discusses Inventions And Unemployment

Babson Park, Mass., July 5.—As we look over the centuries we find that almost everything we enjoy today stems from the contributions of religion and /or science. Our standard of living, moreover, should refute the age-old argument that new inventions increase unemployment. Each invention may at first cause an interruption in employment. Yet, eventually it becomes necessary to hire more workers to take care of the increased business which the new machine creates, otherwise we would be living in caves.

Just a few illustrations; The development of new and improved machines for digging, loading and trucking has made many projects possible which otherwise would never have been attempted. The open pit mines are one such project. Some of these are about three miles wide and close to half a mile deep. Bulldozers and power shovels are continually gouging deeper in the earth and loading the ore into huge trucks. All such pits would have been impossible before modern excavators had been invented, even though these great excavators appear to throw many men out of work.

New Uses For Radar Airplanes

Radar continues to supply employment for thousands even though it was supposed to be only for war use. It is now being used for many peacetime projects. It makes possible full-speed ocean travel in pitch blackness in only sketchily charted waters. It gives our ships the ability to detect and range other ships without even coming within visual distance. It gives eyes to mariners so that they can pierce, camouflage or accurately locate other ships or obstacles. It judges the altitude of a plane flying even as high as twenty thousand feet to within one hundred feet of the true distance. Hence, in peacetime, radar will be installed in ships and planes to enable navigation in fogbound waters and to make possible "all-weather" flying. This will increase employment in many ways.

The airplane in World War II was indispensable. The design, manufacture and continuous operation of airplanes call for large-scale employment in an industry which only a few years ago was non-existent. Already the helicopter is recognized as a revolutionary addition to the plane industry. The post office department plans to use helicopter to transport mail between suburban areas and large city airports so as to guarantee twelve-hour service between any two cities in the country.

Many New Uses For Plastics

The plastics industry is one of the newer chemical inventions. Although it may usurp some business from other industry, through a better or less expensive product, there are many altogether new uses for plastics which do not eliminate any former products. Hence, the plastics industries will continue to expand and use increased man power. There is little danger of the wane of the plastics industry due to depletion of raw materials. Each day some new source, such as soy beans, corn husks, coal air and water, oil and milk, is discovered.

Some of the plastics newer uses are piped lighting, windowpanes which filter harmful rays of the sun, and nearly perfect artificial eyes which actually fit the eye socket. Great possibilities await plastics in the refrigeration field where materials must withstand extreme changes of moisture and temperature. Lightweight and non-magnetic qualities make plastics especially adaptable for aircraft instruments. Low pressure laminating and pulp-form molding is being used for radio cabinets, auto trailers, boat hulls, furniture and low-cost housing.

CONCLUSION

Thus, from the new inventions spring new industries which continue to increase employment. They bring to each of us a better and cheaper product which is more pleasing to the eye and eases our daily tasks. These new industries employ hundreds of thousands of workers and are indirectly responsible for the employment of further thousands. Does it now appear, as if new inventions are injurious to increased employment? Rather, it strikes me they are an asset.
