As many as 1,800 highly polished shelves may be packed in a crate. Thara Robinson packs them between paper interlayers to protect the highly polished trim from damage during shipment.

Everyone in this vicinity knows of Wall Wire Products company, located on General drive on the outskirts of Plymouth, and if questioned, would probably reply that they manufactured welded wire products. But what many do not know is that the very shelf in their refrigerator may have been fabricated in this factory.

This company, since their incorporation in July 1939, has been manufacturing refrigerator shelves made from stainless steel, a non-corrosive metal. The story of this industry is told under the title of "Corrosion Gets the Cold Shoulder" in the May issue of Steelways, a national trade magazine.

The article states that the number one problem the refrigeration industry faced in the change from the ice cooled refrigerator to the present day electric model, was corrosion. The previously used, hot, tin-dipped steel wire was not considered adequate to withstand the conditions of the new electric refrigerator, with its lower temperature and higher humidity. Stainless steel had always been desired for the shelves, not only because of its non-corroding and rust proof properties, but because of its luster which adds beauty to the interior of the refrigerator. Thus, when in 1939 methods were developed for its fabrication, making possible production manufacturing, an important new industry was underway, of which Wall Wire is today a part.

Procedure followed at Wall Wire in the making of these shelves has been described by E. L. Malone, who serves with Ross Heilman and Earl Russell, as vice presidents.

"The story begins," he says, "with coils of wire received from the steel mills. These are taken to the straightening machines where the wire is straightened and cut to length. The frame wire is then bent in such a way as to make it ready for welding to a front trim or to make a continuous four sided frame."

"Then the usual procedure is to place a frame, front trim, cross wires, slide channel or other parts, into a jig; and with a series of welds to weld the separate parts into a unit shelf."

"Stainless steel readily lends itself to the cold working required when straightening and bending, and welds with excellent results if

HIGHWAY SAFETY.

For years it has been our belief that Michigan should adopt the road building policy that the Wayne County Road Commission started to inaugurate years ago when Schoolcraft road was constructed. This is a divided highway, with east-bound traffic on the south side of a parkway section and westbound on the north side. Except at intersections, there has never been an accident reported on this highway.

Now comes an interesting report from the Michigan Good Roads Foundation which says that a recent study of more than 22,000 accidents on rural highways in Michigan shows clearly that divided lane roads are four times safer to drive than four-lane undivided highways and three-times safer than three-lane undivided highways.

The divided highway has an even more clear-cut advantage over other multi-lane roadways; it almost completely eliminates head-on collisions, the most deadly kind of accidents, according to the report.

The rate for these killer crashes on divided highways in Michigan is one-thirteenth and one-fourteenth respectively of the rates on three and four-lane undivided highways. The reason for the marked difference is of course that vehicles coming from opposite directions are physically separated except at intersections. Head-on collisions are virtually "designed out" of the road.

Standards for Michigan highways recommended by the Federation's Highway Study Committee call for the replacement of inadequate two-lane roads with four-lane divided roads. The reason for eliminating the extension of the two lanes to three- and four-lane roads is that the extra cost is moderate in comparison to the additional safety and capacity which the divided roadway provides.

Findings in Michigan as to the relative accident-producing characteristics of divided and undivided multi-lane highways are borne out by reported experience in other states. Accident records for a New Jersey trunkline which was converted from a four-lane undivided to a four-lane divided show, for example, that the change in roadway type resulted in a 40 percent reduction in total accidents and an 83 percent reduction in fatal accidents.

Work Will Begin Soon on Addition to Baptist Church

Work is expected to begin within a month on an addition to the First Baptist church. Approval of the plans was granted by the church board at the recent annual meeting, James Houk building committee chairman reveals.

The new addition will adjoin the church at the south side, and will be used for Sunday school rooms. Upon completion it will range two stories in height, and measure 65 by 16 feet.

Cinderblock with a brick veneer facing will cover the addition, Houk reports, matching the present exterior of the church. Cost has been estimated at $9,000. The chairman stated that it is hoped construction work can be completed during the summer months.

A building fund has already been set up, Houk announces, and contributions have been received.

Following the approval by the board, the congregation put their stamp on approval on the plans. Members of the building committee in addition to the chairman are Clarence Lidgard and Harold Compton.

Total for Cancer Drive Believed to Reach $3,100

Judging from contributions already turned in to Mrs. Austin Stecker, chairman of the Plymouth Cancer Fund drive, the final total for this vicinity may possibly reach $3,100.

The chairman and Mrs. Frazer Carmichael, vice chairman, expressed their gratification this week of response to the drive, which is already above last year's total of $2,601.79.

In a breakdown of contributions, Mrs. Stecker reported that Miss Verne Rowley, who handled solicitations of clubs and organizations, turned in a total of $110. In the survey made of the business district, Loren Goodale turned in $98; Marvin Terry, $67; Wendell Lent, $28; Robert Beyer, $115; Ross Berry and Norman Atchinson, $184.50.

Mrs. Hazel Jetter, chairman of precinct one in the city, received $257.55 from volunteers in that district; Mrs. Ivah Bentley, pre-

Commission Acts on Vacant Post

Appointment of an interim recreation director will be made by the city recreation commission until a permanent director can be obtained.

This decision was made at the Tuesday evening, June 1, meeting of the commissioners.

Since applications are slow in coming in, the commissioners decided against making a hurried decision on a permanent director. It is expected that the position will be temporarily filled shortly. An open interview session will be held by the commissioners next Tuesday evening, June 8.

Miller Works on Race Track Plans

Peter R. Miller

One of the three men serving on the State Racing commission, the body which has for the past year been making plans for the new race track to be constructed in Livonia township, is Peter R. Miller of Plymouth, secretary of the commission.

Mr. Miller was appointed to the post a year ago last month. He now works with the commissioner

Parade, Program Honor Memorial Day

Main street was the route taken by approximately 250 veterans, members of service organizations, and the school band last Monday, May 31, for the Memorial Day parade.

The parade began at 10:15 a.m. from North Main and Mill streets, following a special service by the Navy Mothers club in Riverside park. Upon reaching Kellogg park the program of the day ensued, witnessed by between 300 and 400 residents of the city.

Speaker of the morning was the Rev. Henry McKenzie from Saline, Michigan, who chose a topic appropriate to the day. Kenneth Gust was master of ceremonies, and the Rev. Alexander Miller of St. John's Episcopal church delivered the invocation. The plaque on Plymouth Rock was honored by members of the

Coaster Derby Meeting Will Be Held Tuesday in City Hall

Boys between the ages of 12 and 15 who are interested in building racers and competing in this year's Plymouth Coaster derby, are asked to meet Tuesday, June 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall. As in past years, the derby is being sponsored by the Junior of Commerce. Co-chairmen are Marvin Partridge and Wayne Marzolf.

Director Reveals Further Awards

Announcement of additional music scholarships awarded to high school students, to help defray expenses at summer music camps, has been made by Paul Wagner, director.

Dorothy Mae Zander, oboe student, was awarded the scholarship made possible by Dr. H. J. Brisbois. She will attend the Baldwin-Wallace Band clinic held at Berea, Ohio, from June 27 to July 6.

Wagner reported that the scholarship granted Marilyn Walsh, clarinetist, who will also attend the clinic, was presented by the Morrow Uniform company.

David Green, trumpet student, and Wesley Potts, trombonist, were granted part scholarships made available by the Conn Instrument company of Detroit. The latter students will attend Interlochen music camp from July 19 to August 1.

Ex-Service Men's Club

The program further included the repeating of the Gettysburg Address by Ronald Witt, and laying of wreaths on the memorial by commanders of the veterans' posts. Members of the high school band followed with the playing of the Star Spangled Banner. Volleys by the firing squad and the benediction delivered by the Rev. Benjamin Eicher, concluded the program.

Cleaning of Water Mains is Started

Flushing of water hydrants throughout the city began this week and will continue throughout the summer months on Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, City Manager Harold Cheek reports.

He explained it is necessary to repeat the process yearly to remove sediment and rust scale from the water mains. To avoid getting rust on the laundry, work will not be carried on either Mondays or Tuesdays.

The city manager pointed out that the city does not have any iron removal equipment, nor will it be included in the water works improvements.

Scout Day Camp Leaders Needed

Some Plymouth Girl Scouts may be denied the opportunity of going to Day Camp this year, unless adults volunteer to act as unit leaders.

It has been revealed that two adults are needed for every unit of eight girls, and only as many Scouts will be accepted as there are adults to supervise them. The first to register will be the ones accepted.

The camp will be held from June 20 to June 27, and will be staged from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Anyone interested in volunteering is asked to call Mrs. Arthur Donnelly, telephone 583.

Programs during the Day Camp session will include hiking, outdoor cooking, games, singing and fishing. This year an Indian camp is planned, with a big pow-wow slated for around a bonfire on the final evening.

Members of the Day Camp committee urge women in this city to volunteer to act as unit leaders, because, as they pointed out, it may mean the difference between some of the Scouts being able, and not being able, to attend the camp.

Commencement Underwent Change 50 Years Ago - Graduates Recall

Norman Miller

When this year's graduates march forth on the night of June 17 to receive their diplomas, they will be repeating the scene enacted 50 years ago to the day by Norman Miller and Willard Pooler. The two, who were the only graduating seniors in 1898, are still residing in the vicinity of Plymouth.

The classmates, while reminiscing, recall that the turning point in Plymouth graduation exercises was executed that year. To that time graduates had borne all expenses of the ceremony, including the printing of diplomas and renting of the hall. It would total, Mr. Miller reports, approximately $15 each.

Not wanting to incur this expense, they tried to find some way of dispensing with the exercises, but the answer was "no". Both were required to write and deliver an oration at graduation, which was then considered just as important as all their school work.

Being stopped in one direction, the two youths then turned in another. Although nothing had heretofore been done to remedy the situation of seniors paying their own expenses, they were convinced something should be attempted in that direction. The graduates next went to see L. C. Hough, then a member of the school board, to request that the board take over the expense of the exercise. Mr. Hough's answer was "no", stating it would set a bad example and precedent.

This denial failed to daunt the two. They next appealed to Miles F. Gray, then publisher of The Plymouth Mail. He in turn asked them for a list of their expenses, and he took it upon himself to do what he could about changing the setup. Mr. Gray met complete success, and since that time no senior has paid his own graduation expenses. The school board has assumed all costs.

The opera house, now the city hall, was the scene of graduating exercises that year. It was filled with friends and relatives coming to witness the awarding of diplomas.

Plymouth Class of '13 Plans Reunion

All former members of the class of 1913 of Plymouth High school, even though not graduates, and all members of classes near 1913 are invited to attend the 35th class reunion dinner Friday, June 18, at 7 p.m. at the Hotel Mayflower.

All reservations must be in by Wednesday, June 16. Self addressed stamped envelopes should be sent to Rose Hillmer Holstein, 157 Rose street, for tickets. The price of the dinner is two dollars.

There will also be a pot luck picnic on Saturday, June 19, at 1 p.m., at the old picnic ground.

Operations Will Begin Shortly in New Steel Fabricating Plant

Within approximately two weeks time, operations will begin in the Steel Fabricating plant now being erected by William Gapen on Ann Arbor road, east of Lilley road.

Here Mr. Gapen will supervise the manufacture of storage tanks made to order. He explained that the large sized tanks will chiefly be handled by the firm, those measuring from 500 to 1500 gallon size.

The portion of the building to be finished shortly will measure 40 feet square. Tank manufacturing will begin upon its completion but building will continue until about September when the building will reach its planned size, that of 180 feet long, by 40 feet wide. The entire structure will be of copper bearing steel with asbestos coating, and the total cost is expected to touch the $20,000 mark.

Mr. Gapen previously owned a similar concern which was located on Northville road at Phoenix Lake from 1929 to 1943. The plant was moved in 1945 to Scottville where he has been until the present time. All his equipment will now be moved into the new Plymouth plant.

The owner, who is doing most of the actual work himself on the structure, reports that he expects approximately 20 tanks will ultimately be manufactured a day.

White Confesses Three Plymouth Incidents to Police

Confession of two attempted attacks, in addition an unsuccessful try at entering a home in Plymouth, has been made by Robert White, a report from the Plymouth police department reveals.

White, 23, was arrested last week Tuesday, May 24, clearing up a number of cases of criminal attack, attempted attacks on girls and women, and a series of burglaries in this vicinity.

The self confessed rapist-burglar has terrorized residents of this vicinity for the past three months. He admitted attack of a 15 year old baby sitter in a Rosedale Gardens home in March.

Loot valued at several thousand dollars, was recovered in his home. Included was a diamond ring taken from a home on Ball street and a radio from a trailer located at U. S. 12 and South Main street.

"White has detailed 18 burglaries and admits there are many more he cannot recall," said Sheriff Edward Behrendt.

Chief Lee Sackett Issues Warnings

School doors will soon be closing, and carefree days will lie ahead for children. However, Chief of Police Lee Sackett points out, happy days can quickly turn to sad days for the families and friends of careless children.

Many in Plymouth, he stated, are owners of bicycles which many hours will be spent in riding when school closes. With this in mind Chief Sackett asks cooperation from the motorists and parents of bike riders in making this an accident free summer.

He hopes that all bike riders will follow the following rules for safe operation of bicycles:

1. Riders should sit on the regular seat on the bike.
2. Riders should not carry any extra passengers.
3. Riders should not carry packages that will prevent both hands being on the handle bars.
4. Riders should not ride more

Postmaster is Reported Better

The many Plymouth friends of Postmaster Harry Irwin will be pleased to know that he is continuing to steadily improve from his recent serious illness. While it will be two or three weeks before he will be sufficiently recovered to leave the Veteran's hospital at Dearborn where he is a patient, attending physicians are sure that he will soon be able to return to his home in this city. They say, however, it will be a number of weeks before he will be able to resume his duties at the postoffice.

"Sixteen Years Before the Mike" has been chosen by Myrtle Labbitt as the topic on which she will report to the Plymouth Rotarians and their wives following this evening's, Friday, dinner at the Hotel Mayflower.

the proper equipment and care are exercised." In connection with the latter process, the magazine article reports that in the industry's beginning, relatively little was known about welding stainless steel wire. After extensive experimentation it was found that "application of electronic controls to welding machines, giving split-second control over pressures and time cycles, enabled the manufacturers to solve their problem and fabricate units of permanent strength."

"Though the description of the manufacturing processes oversimplifies shelf building," Mr. Malone says, "it should be remembered that the modern refrigerator shelf is quite a complicated item. A single shelf may require as many as 90 separate manufacturing operations. There often are press welded stamped parts such as stops and hooks, integrated into the shelf. Front trim of stainless steel is a rolled product made in a specialty shop with specially built rolls which form and groove such trim. Channels are similarly rolled. There are many cutting, forming, and drilling operations to be performed on parts before they can be welded into the final assembly which comprises a refrigerator shelf."

"After the shelf has been made and cross wires trimmed to exact length, individual inspection is made of every weld, and all sharp edges are removed by filing, grinding and buffing. Each shelf is placed in a test fixture which approximates actual installation conditions as a final check prior to the finishing operation."

"In finishing an electrolytic brightening process is used. This is the reverse of the conventional plating process. In plating, the shelf is the cathode and metal is deposited thereon. In electro-polishing, the shelf is made the anode in a hot acid bath through which is passed a heavy current at low voltage, and metal is preferentially removed from the high spots leaving the steel smooth and bright."

"Electropolishing gives stainless steel refrigerator shelves a permanently bright, very pleasing-to-look-at appearance. In the event an extra-bright high-mirror-polish is called for on a front trim of a shelf, a light buffing operation will produce this result on an electrolytically polished shelf. This finish brings out all the inherent beauty of stainless steel."

"Wrapping, packaging and shipping complete the manufacturing process."

The market for the refrigerator shelf has jumped in value from $500,000 in 1932 to a current $15,000,000 and is still rising. Steelways magazine reports. Last year the 12 companies in the field are reported to have used over 5,000,000 pounds of stainless steel wire alone. The magazine goes on to tell that "on the floor of the Wall Wire Products company, there are often as many as 60,000 of these shelves at any one time. We need about that quantity in process at one time to maintain good deliveries and use the best manufacturing methods," said the works manager. There are probably more than 50 different sizes and types on the floor right now, enough to cover almost any refrigerator made on the market today."

In discussing the story, which appeared in Steelways magazine, with Mr. Malone, Mr. Heilman and Mr. Russell, it was pointed out that the excellent cooperation of Wall Wire employees had helped to bring the company this national recognition. "The fact," stated Mr. Heilman, "that the company leads the field in this type of manufacturing is due mainly to the efforts of our employees as a whole and it has been through their efforts that we were able to undertake this type of manufacturing."

The Plymouth Mail is indebted to Steelways magazine for the use of the pictures which appear with this story and would like to mention that most of the employees of Wall Wire pictured here, have been with the company since its inception.

Commencement Underwent Change 50 Years Ago Grads. Recall

plomas and hear the youths deliver their orations. The program used, revealing that this was the 17th annual graduating ceremony, reads that Mr. Miller delivered an oration on "International Arbitration". Mr. Pooler chose as his topic, "Liberty and Independence".

That was also the year, Mr. Miller reminisces, that music was first introduced into the schools. The instructor, he remembers, was Miss Edna Dunning. The entire chorus, male quartet and ladies chorus were included on that evening's program.

Commenting on that year's two-member class, Mr. Miller states that it was unusually small. When they were in ninth grade, he recalls, he and Mr. Pooler had 40 classmates. The greatest number dropped out the following year, and one by one after that time for varied list of reasons.

When a student, Mr. Pooler had to journey six miles to the school house, usually traveling in a horse and cart. Mr. Miller, who lived about three and a half miles away, used horseback as his mode of transportation.

Upon reaching the school house, all students in the ninth through the 12th grade assembled in one room, which was under the supervision of the principal at that time, E. H. Ryder. Of the seven teachers in the school system, three of them instructed members of the senior class.

Schooling has changed in many ways since that time, and today's graduates' memories will differ from those who received their diplomas in 1898. In another 50 years, however, maybe the ceremony of graduation and educational setup will seem just as quaint to the generation then in high school.

As unusual as it may seem, that only two members of that class 50 years ago are still residents of Plymouth, it is even more interesting to know that the two live within two or three miles of each other where they operate very successful farms. Mr. Miller, in addition to farming, has served the township a number of years as township clerk.

Recruiting Office

Major Alfred H. Reinbothe, Coast Artillery Corps, has been appointed commanding officer of the Michigan Recruiting district by Lt. General Walton H. Walker, commanding general of the 12th Airborne Division, it was announced today by M/Sgt. Walter Kolbe, local recruiting officer.

Major Reinbothe has been closely associated with the military service for over 27 years. He first joined the 245th Coast Artillery of the New York National Guard in 1921 and in the ensuing years worked his way up through the ranks of the National Guard and the Army of the United States to his present grade. During the past war most of his time was spent in the cold and frozen northland.

Shortly after the outbreak of hostilities he was sent to Iceland with the 25th Coast Artillery and became executive officer of that unit with headquarters in Reykjavik. During his tour of duty in Iceland, Major Reinbothe worked hand in hand with the British Royal Navy in preparing the defense of that strategic outlying post. In addition, he also helped in mapping out military and naval operations which were to be used in the event the island should be attacked.

Returning to the United States in July 1943, Major Reinbothe then went to the Coast Artillery School at Camp Davis, North Carolina. Upon completion of his period of training, and after a short tour of duty in the United States, Major Reinbothe was assigned to Nome, Alaska, where he became executive officer over all U. S. Troops stationed in that theater.

Major Reinbothe returned to the United States for the second time on January 3, 1948, and after a two month leave in Mexico, was assigned to the Michigan Recruiting district on March 14 as Field Operations Officer for the entire District.

Plymouth chapter will hold a box social Tuesday, June 8, at 8 p.m. in the dining room of the Masonic Temple. There will be entertainment and square dancing. All members and their friends are invited to attend. The ladies are asked to bring a box lunch for two in a gaily decorated box, and the men are asked to bring a good appetite and be prepared to vie for the box of their choosing. The proceeds of this party will go to the Grand chapter project for the aged members of Michigan chapters.

June 6 will be the annual Villa Day when all members are invited to go to the Eastern Star Villa at Adrian and see the work being done for the children there. We understand that their library is sadly in need of new books, so if anyone has a book or books that the children would find entertaining or educational, please take them, or send them to the Villa.

There will be a practice for the officers Sunday, June 13, at 3 p.m. sharp, in the Chapter rooms of the Masonic Temple. It is important that all officers be present.

Garden Groups Plan Programs

Invitations have been extended members of the Plymouth branch of the National Farm and Garden association to attend affairs planned by two out-of-town garden organizations, Mrs. Carl Shear, president, reported this week. The Farmington Garden club has invited the local organization to the guest day tea where they will have an opportunity to meet Mrs. Hazel P. Dunlop of the J. L. Hudson company. It will be held in the Farmington town hall Monday, June 7, at 1 p.m.

A second invitation has been forwarded by the Detroit Garden Center to attend the garden pilgrimage of over 50 gardens in Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, Palmer Woods, in addition to other places that will also be opened. The dates of showing have been set at June 8 through June 13. The gardens will be open daily from 2 to 8 p.m., rain or shine. Daily Detroit papers will announce all necessary information as to location and exact dates next week. Tickets may be obtained at the Jack and Judy Shop on Penniman, Mrs. Shear announces. Anyone desiring additional information may contact the president or Mrs. Ruth Von-Stein.

Final selection of 320 out of 800 Navy and Marine Corps enlisted men is under way to determine who will receive Secretary of the Navy appointments to Annapolis next fall.

Plymouth Girl Takes Part in Dance Program

Wednesday evening Lois Vetal of Plymouth, a student at Michigan State Normal college of Ypsilanti, took part in the dance recital presented by the dance club and some of the dance classes.

It took place in the Amphitheater behind the Rackam building on the campus. The program was entitled "So This is America" and included folk dances, modern, ballet, and character.

Will Organize Historical Group

Next Tuesday afternoon, June 8, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon a meeting has been called to be held in the Plymouth Library by residents of Plymouth for the purpose of organizing a historical society for this locality.

Present will be Dr. Lewis Beeson, secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission, for the purpose of advising proper steps to be taken in the formation of such a group.

Plymouth, and this entire locality, is rich in early Michigan history, a surprising number of people living here now being sons and daughters or grandchildren of many of the early settlers.

Any one interested in such an organization is welcome to attend the meeting.

Supervisor Back From Hospital

The host of friends of Supervisor Charles H. Rathburn, Jr., will be glad to know that he has entirely recovered from the recent operation he underwent at St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor. He has returned to his home on Haggerty highway and is already able to carry on his duties as supervisor. Mr. Rathburn has for a number of years been a member of important ways and means committee of the Wayne county board of supervisors.

Six From Here to Attend Boys State

Wolverine Boys State at Michigan State college in East Lansing will be the destination of six Plymouth boys on June 17. The project, which will include probably 600 boys from over the entire state, will ensue until June 25.

Dr. E. L. Carney, chairman of the Myron H. Beals, American Legion post youth organization, has revealed the names of local boys who will represent Plymouth at the week-long session.

They are: Keith Keeth, sponsored by the Passage-Gayde post; David Jolliffe, by the Rotary club; Lawrence Detting, VFW; John Wiltse, Rotary club; Keith Miller, Lions club; and Ted Thrasher, Hi-12 club. Alternates are: David Mossman, Richard Wylie, and Jack Scheel.

Dr. Carney, who is also chairman of the Youth service committee of the Rotary club, sponsor of two delegates, reports that service organizations have taken it upon themselves to pay the necessary fees.

The delegates were chosen from a list of 16 boys, named by school authorities on the basis of outstanding achievement and ability. Sons of Legionnaires were given top preference, and the remainder were chosen by a drawing. The boys have to be 15 years of age, and not over 18. They are all juniors in high school.

At Boys State a model state government will be set up by the boys and executed by them, Dr. Carney states.

"There is a great deal of satisfaction in growing old," says a philosopher. Well, maybe so, but there isn't much future in it.

Warning to motorists: Watch the tyke on a bike! About 630 persons were killed and 21,000 injured on bicycles in 1947, reports the Accident Prevention Department, Association of Casualty and Surety Companies. Most of them were children, of course. Since many youthful cyclists have not yet learned the prudent lessons of safety, it's up to adult automobile drivers to watch out for them. Drive at a safe speed at all times and keep your car brakes in top working condition, warns the Department.

Plymouth Wins 10 1/2 Points at Meet

In the Class B State Championship meet, which was held last Saturday in Lansing, Plymouth placed eighth out of sixty-five schools. Ypsilanti Central who won this meet was the only school that defeated Plymouth in a dual meet. Plymouth was second to Ypsi in the league and regional meets. This has been one of the best years the Plymouth Track team has had for a long time. Jim Wagenschutz got a gold medal for first place in the pole vault. He tied for this place at a height of 11 ft. 5 1/2 inches. George Buddy ran third in the 880 rd. run with a time of 2:04.5. This time broke the school record of 2:04.5 which he set himself last year. Dave Heinzman tied for fourth place in the high jump at 5 ft. 8 in. Terris tied for sixth place in this event at 5 ft. 6 in.

DeHoCo Farmers Set Out Tomatoes

Farmers Blake Gillis and Edward Gardiner of the Detroit House of Correction are about the happiest two gentlemen in this part of the country today. They are deriving their pleasure from the fact that on the day after Memorial Day they had completed their job of planting the biggest tomato field in this area. Every year the DeHoCo farm plants 24 acres of tomatoes and that means slightly over 35,000 tomato plants. The immense job of actually planting the plants started a week ago Tuesday and in five days time the two farmers had their field all planted. Of course these two gentlemen are not bothered with the help shortage like most other farmers and when a few more hands were needed another gate was opened and twenty more people went to work. Never-the-less, the planting operation was a tremendous one and a quick survey on Tuesday afternoon of this week revealed only one dead plant in the entire 35,000. Even though 35,000 plants seemed like a lot, your reporter was even more surprised to learn that the same number of plants last year netted 55,000 gallons of canned tomatoes which were processed in the DeHoCo canning plant.

Yes, there will be some new tractors this year. We don't know just how many, but we are sure there won't be enough for everybody. That's why we're suggesting that you give us a list of the parts you need for your old tractor, just in case you're not able to buy a new one. You can't lose, you know... any money you spend for parts will boost your trade-in value.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Let Foods Complement Each Other (See Recipes Below)

FEW EVENTS WILL MATCH the pleasure that a real birthday party can give to your youngsters. The gaiety imparted by a few favors, crepe paper decorations, a house full of little friends and a cake all his own, these are the things a child will remember so pleasantly for a long time.

Birthday party menus depend mainly upon the age of the children. Very simple food is the order of the day for children of three or four; and for children of five or six, the food is only slightly more elaborate. Children from 8 to 10 and older may have things such as lamb chops or hamburgers for the main dish, but it's still important to plan to serve only familiar foods for little guests.

Ice cream and cake are essentials at a birthday party no matter what the age group. For the younger children, however, serve only plain ice cream such as vanilla, and a very simple, not too rich cake, so there will be no digestive upsets.

THE MENUS AND RECIPES I've planned will give you a clue as to the best way to plan these particular party foods.

Birthday Party Menu (For Youngsters 3 to 4)
Cream of Tomato Soup or
Goldenrod Eggs
Carrot Sticks or Curls
Feasant Butter-Jelly Sandwiches
Vanilla Ice Cream Sponge Cake with Milk Orange Icing

Goldenrod eggs are a nutritious dish whether the party is for lunch or dinner time. Eggs prepared this way are just a bit more purified than creamed eggs.

Goldenrod Eggs (Serves 6 to 8)
2 tablespoons butter or substitute
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
6 hard-cooked eggs
Parsley
6 toast wedges

Melt the butter, blend in flour, then add milk slowly and stir in seasonings. Cook until thickened. Cut whites of eggs into tiny slivers and add to the white sauce. Pour creamed mixture over toast wedges and top with hard-cooked yolks pressed through a sieve. Garnish with parsley.

The sandwiches may be omitted when the eggs are served, but if desired, they may be made into "fingers" and also served. If the soup is served, they may be placed on the plate along with it.

A cake that will do the job nicely for the younger-generation is this one made with hot milk, eggs and only a little shortening. It may be frosted prettily with a confectioners' icing, moistened with orange juice and flavored with grated orange rind. Flute it through a pastry roseette tube and don't forget to write happy birthday across it and use candles.

Hot Milk Sponge Cake
4 egg yolks
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup boiling milk or water
1 1/2 cups cake flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon lemon extract
4 stiffly beaten egg whites
Beat egg yolks until very thick; add sugar gradually and continue beating. Add milk; mix well and add sifted dry ingredients. Mix until smooth and add extract. Fold in egg whites. Bake in an ungreased cake pan in a slow (325 degree) oven for one hour. Invert pan to cool, then frost.

Birthday Party Menu (For Children 5 to 6)
Creamed Chicken in Toast Cups
Green Peas Carrot Slices
Ice Cream and Birthday Cake
Beverage

You may use the recipe for creamed eggs, and use chicken. The green peas may be mixed with the chicken or served separately. The carrot slices may be raw or cooked and served with the peas. Use the same cake as suggested for the first menu.

Birthday Party Menu (For Children over 7)
Lamb Chops on Toast or Hamburgers on Broiled Tomato Slices
Potatoes Au Gratin Green Beans
Ice Cream with Sauce or Crushed Fresh Berries
Birthday Cake
Milk

If you serve lamb chops, it's a good idea to have them boned when you give them to the younger children. They're more healthful, too, if they're broiled.

Here's a tasty recipe for hamburgers, if you decide on them for the party:

Broiled Hamburgers (Serves 6)
1 pound ground round or chuck
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon minced onion
1/4 cup fine bread crumbs
1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon pepper
8 slices bread
8 slices fresh tomato

Combine all ingredients except sliced bread and tomatoes. Spread on slices of bread. Broil for eight minutes at moderate heat, then top with tomatoes which have been broiled at the same time. Serve at once.

Magic Chocolate Frosting
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 1/3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
1 tablespoon water
Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened, condensed milk, then stir over boiling water five minutes until the mixture thickens. Add water. Cool. Spread on cold cake. This recipe makes enough frosting for the top and sides of two (nine-inch) layers.

Anderson - Fegan Exchange Vows At Church Rites

The marriage of Vivien L. Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson of Main street and E. Patrick Fegan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fegan of Newburg road took place Saturday morning, May 29, at St. Michael's church in Rosedale Gardens.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white marquisette. Her veil of illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. A bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley completed her costume.

Miss Anderson's attendants were, her sister, Neva Anderson, maid of honor, the bridesmaids, Margie Fegan, sister of the bridegroom and a niece, Leona Deeg. Their gowns were fashioned alike of silk marquisette in pink, aqua and yellow. They carried pink carnations.

James Ellis of Benton Harbor assisted the bridegroom as best man and seating the guests were his brother, Jack Fegan and Edward Sommerman.

Mrs. Anderson chose a dress of rose crepe with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations, for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Fegan was gowned in black and white crepe with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A wedding breakfast was held at the Pen Mar restaurant and in the evening a reception took place at the home of the bride's parents.

For traveling, Mrs. Fegan chose a suit of light blue gabardine and navy accessories.

Following a short wedding trip to Rudyard, Mr. and Mrs. Fegan will live on Grace road.

Engagement Announced

Mary Ruth Levy

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Levy of Canandaigua, New York, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ruth, to Paul Harsha, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harsha of Rosedale Gardens.

Miss Levy is a senior at the University of Michigan, and Mr. Harsha is a graduate of the same University and a member of the Staff of the Port Huron Times-Herald. The wedding is scheduled for late summer.

Auxiliary Plans June Meeting

A review of Cleveland Armory's "Proper Bostonians" will be presented by Miss Edna Allen at the June meeting of the Presbyterian Women's auxiliary next Wednesday, June 9, at 2 p.m. This meeting, which will be the final one until next September, will take place in the church parlors.

Mrs. Richard Owens, president, will preside over the business meeting, and Mrs. Frank Burrows will supervise the devotional. Mrs. Dow Swope is chairman in charge of the day's program, and Mrs. Vaughan Smith is tea chairman. Music will be directed by Mrs. M. J. O'Conner.

Ad-Libbing.....

with "Liz" by Elizabeth Corry

The war is on... the battle between us and the insects. Who will get who first? If you take advantage of one of the super specials being offered this week and next at Jones Standard Service station (across from the Mayflower Hotel) you can take a quick offensive. There you'll find D.D.T. bombs, formerly costing $2.95, now priced at $1.89. The second big special is for your cars' benefit... Carnu with dusting mitt, slashed from $1.08 to 69 cents. Jim Jones also told me that Mr. and Mrs. Judge Davis of 1014 North Millie won the free lubrication this week.

Don't let summer weather fool you... it's not here to stay. If summer comes, can winter be far behind... quote I to completely garble a phrase. Don't give those furs and woolen garments away to the moths for their dinner, for you'll be needing them again. Why not call Herald Tri Cleaners, (110) and have your clothes picked up, and properly moth proofed and stored. Once they are treated with Berlou... the moths are guaranteed to stay away for 10 years... and cleaning won't destroy its effect either.

Life gets easier all the time. Now when you decide on the spur of the moment to go on a picnic... all you have to do is pack the family in the car... navigate into McAllister Brothers new annex on Northville road and pick up your picnic supplies without even getting out of the car. Just drive in and give your order. You can get soft drinks and beer in the drive-in too. These McAllister brothers really had a good idea when they made this service available. Why not drive in soon... and see if you don't agree.

Sundays during the beautiful summer weather are made for taking life easy and relaxing... so why let the weekend dinner planning and preparing get you down? Not when you can enjoy a leisurely meal in the Mayflower Hotel's Coffee Shop. Mr. Lofy has planned special menus for the hot weather... and a varied selection of foods. And it's so nice and cool and pleasant in the Coffee Shop. If you have guests, take them there for dinner too... you can always be sure of excellent food. (The service is prompt in the Coffee Shop... none of that long, irritating waiting.)

Mrs. William Ray Upton

Jean Rice Crandell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Logan Crandell, became the bride of William Ray Upton in ceremonies which took place Saturday afternoon, May 22. Mr. Upton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ray Upton. The service was held in the First Presbyterian church, officiated by the Reverend Henry J. Walch.

Anne Huebler Wed At Friday Church Service

At a double ring ceremony, Friday evening, Anne Elizabeth Huebler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Huebler of Northville road, and Kenneth Johnson of Walled Lake, son of Mrs. Nina Johnson of Kalkaska, exchanged their marriage vows at the Presbyterian church. The Reverend Woolley of Rosedale Gardens performed the service before an altar decorated with vases of white flowers and candelabra.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Organ selections were played by Mrs. Bessie Toles of Ypsilanti. The bride chose a street length white dress trimmed with white embroidery and white hat. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds. Joan and Dawn Huebler, nieces of the bride, were the bridesmaids. They wore matching dresses of pink and blue linen. Assisting his brother as best man was Charles D. Huebler.

Mrs. Huebler, mother of the bride, was gowned in black and white print with a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church dining room for about 90 guests, from Flint, Saginaw, Holly, Toledo, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left for a short trip north to visit the bridegroom's mother who was unable to be present at the wedding. They will make their home with the bride's parents.

The U. S. Navy recruiting station, New York, led the nation with the highest total of new Navy recruits during the first quarter of 1948, with 5,062 enlistees. This figure was actually only 57.7 percent of New York's assigned quota of 8,771.

Plymouth Girl Becomes Bride On Saturday

Joyce Talmage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Talmage of Bradner road, and John Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Stark of Northville were united in marriage on Saturday evening at the Methodist church in Northville. The candlelight ceremony took place before an altar banked with bouquets of white gladioli, stock and snapdragons, palms and candelabra. The Rev. William Hughes officiated at the double ring service.

Organ selections were rendered by Mrs. Richard Somers and Milan George sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her white slipper satin wedding dress was fashioned on simple lines with a peplum and was of her own design. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls and edged in file lace embroidered with clusters of wedding bells. She wore matching gauntlets of file lace. Her colonial bouquet was made of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Robbie Baskins was maid-of-honor and gowned in pale yellow. She carried a colonial style bouquet of yellow snapdragons, roses and daisies, accented with blue iris. Pale blue was worn by Donna Jerore of Farmington, who served as bridesmaid. Her colonial bouquet was composed of yellow roses, snapdragons and daisies. Each attendant wore a half crown of net flowers forming a large bow.

The bridegroom was attended by Robert Hosback as best man and Al Heatley, Dave Pottinger and Arthur Talmage seated the guests. Mrs. Talmage chose a navy blue and pink print with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Stark wore a black and white print dress with pink accessories. Each mother wore a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was given in the church house. Mrs. Emmet Gibb of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Charles Mummery of Northville assisted at the tea table.

The couple left for a trip through northern Michigan and upon their return they will make their home temporarily with the bridegroom's parents.

Guests were present from Salline, Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Flint, Wayne and Northville.

HI-Y CLUB HOLDS LAST MEETING OF THE YEAR

The Hi-Y club held its last meeting of the year on Thursday, April 28. Even though a few more weeks of school are left in this semester the club decided to end the year on that date since exams are scheduled to start soon.

During the year '48-'49 the club has sponsored many events, some of which are: two hayrides, a dance, picnic, and several noon meetings with the Y-Teens during which time some interesting discussions were held and a movie shown. The club has also been swimming at the YMCA in Ann Arbor during the last few weeks.

Next year's officers are Don Sutherland, president; Dick McKinley, vice-president; Jerry Walsh secretary; Dave Jolliffe, treasurer; and Russ Maxwell, sergeant at arms.

The evil effects of overeating are also considered by insurance actuaries. The overweight person has a progressively worse mortality likelihood as he grows older, whereas the underweight person shows a progressively lower mortality rate with increased age. In their teens and early twenties the average for the underweight is somewhat lower because of the possibility of tuberculosis, but thereafter the underweight generally outlives the overweight.

Ventilation of Poultry Houses Easily Solved

Problems of ventilation in poultry houses are easily solved by the system advocated by A. J. Bell, agricultural engineer at Michigan State college. He says that the day of the long narrow poultry house is gone and a more nearly square house has taken its place.

Both the MSC poultry and agricultural engineering departments believe that the straw loft house is economical and easy to manage. To operate it at highest efficiency, the walls should be insulated and have at least three feet of straw in the attic. A louver is placed in each gable end. In operation, the fresh air can enter, usually through the windows and drop down around the birds where it picks up heat and moisture. It then rises to the ceiling and on up to the attic. The straw absorbs some of the moisture and the rest stays in the air until it leaves through the ventilating louvers. These louvers must be large—at least six square feet for every 100 birds.

Dust will gather in the straw but this shows that the straw loft is working correctly. This dust can be washed out with a hose during hot weather when the birds are out of the house. Bell reports houses with straw 18 years old and still in good condition.

Straw in the loft, insulation in the walls and deep litter just about insure a dry house, he concludes.

Buoyant answer to Back Road and Boulevard

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

REMEMBER that rough patch of road up yonder where the ruts and ridges make a washboard seem smooth?

Recall the tremor brought on by the drum and hum of road noise and tremor even over smooth concrete highways?

Well, clock away the miles in this stunningly styled Buick — and meet up with the sweetest answer to such matters this side of cloud cruising.

"It's a ride that's soft and smooth as velvet," folks tell us. And we tell them it comes from a host of things.

It comes from the ample road-weight of a two-ton car built low and wide — and so beautifully balanced it handles light as a baton. It comes from the leveling buoyancy of Buick's all-coil springing which puts a pillow of deeply coiled steel at each wheel to soak up the bumps and ripples.

It comes from the softness of bigger, lower-pressure tires that cushion away road tremors and roughness — from the sure-footed, swerve-free steadiness of Buick's extra wide Safety-Ride rims, widest in the industry.

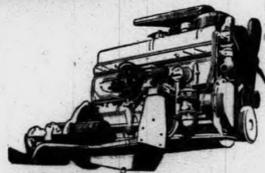

And it comes in special measure from a brand-new engineering gem we call Vibra-Shielding which banishes vibration build-up.

Here for the first time you're freed from the motoring fatigue brought on by tiny tremors piling up into bigger ones. Here your miles are made moss-smooth and quiet — long journeys become mere jaunts.

So why delay knowing the most buoyant answer to any road you ever traveled?

Come visit us now. Know at first hand the distinctive styling, the flashing action, the velvety ride over highway and byway that are Buick's and Buick's alone.

Then follow your heart's desire and get your order in promptly. We'll take it in proper sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.

REASON FOR THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE

Placed with scientific exactness, 3 fat cushions of special composition cradle the engine so as to control its vibration frequency. Engine vibration is thus kept "out of tune" with those that might come from other parts of the car. The result is to shield car occupants against firing pistons, cut road noise, make engine sensation almost imperceptible and motoring practically fatigue-free.

BUICK alone has all these features

- * DYNAFLOW DRIVE (Optional, Roadmaster Series)

Nutrition Aids

from the American Red Cross Nutrition Service

Home gardeners in Plymouth are already beginning to harvest the first of their green onion crop. If it's successful the chances are there will be more onions to use than was expected.

Of course some of them can be left in the ground to mature and store away for later use but the pungent vegetable is at its best flavor when young and tender. The Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross suggests that homemakers are missing a good bet if they don't serve them as a cooked vegetable.

Prepare the green onions for cooking by trimming off the roots and part of the pot—leave on two inches at least, or even more. Keep them shapely by tying loosely in bunches and placing in a bowl of boiling salted water. Have the water cover only the white part so the tops won't get mushy before the white is tender.

It takes from eight to 15 minutes to cook the onions tender, depending on their maturity. They will have a prettier color, a better flavor and texture and more food value if the cooking time is kept as short as possible. Serve the green onions on toast with hot cream or cream sauce poured over them. To make them richer, top with cheese sauce instead and slip under the broiler for a few minutes to brown before serving. Or, for special treat try one of the recipes below.

French Fried Green Onions
Eighteen to 24 green onions, depending on size, 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, 3/4 cup pastry flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Cook onions in boiling, salted water until almost tender. Drain well and let dry on paper towel. Make a batter of the other ingredients, beating with an egg beater until smooth. Dip onions in batter and drop in hot fat, deep enough to cover them. Fry at 375 degrees F. for 4 to 6 minutes or until golden brown. Drain on unglazed paper and serve hot. Serves 6.

Green Onions a La King
Twenty-four green onions, 3/4 cup mushrooms, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 pimiento, diced, 1 1/2 tablespoons chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste. Trim roots and part of green top from green onions and cook in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Wash and dice mushrooms and cook in 2 tablespoons of the fat for 5 minutes. Make a white sauce of the remaining fat, flour and milk. When thickened combine with mushrooms, pimiento, parsley and salt and pepper to taste. Heat thoroughly and pour over the hot onions which have been arranged on slices of hot buttered toast. Makes 6 servings.

It's no fun to be a statistic, if you're on the nation's staggering annual accident records, warns the Accident Prevention Department, Association of Casualty and Surety Companies. Accidents last year killed over 100,000 persons and injured ten and a half million. The death toll was up 2 per cent from 1946. Be careful, be safe, reminded the Department.

What we truly and earnestly aspire to be, that in some sense we are. The mere aspiration, by changing the frame of the mind, for the moment realizes itself. —Anna Jameson

Grass is Good Soil Conservation Tool

One of the greatest uses for grass is in erosion control. R. G. Hill, extension soil conservationist at Michigan State college, points out that when land is abandoned, nature generally soon covers it with a protective green covering.

Grass, including legumes, is an effective tool for reducing wind and water erosion. Crops such as rye or rye grass and sweet clover may be used as a cover crop in cultivated fields. They will aid in reducing erosion, may be plowed under as a green manure crop, or possibly as early spring pasture. Cover crop as an erosion control measure in orchards are effectively used by a majority of growers.

Grass mixtures are also being used effectively in establishing sod waterways. Such waterways, undisturbed by cultivation, slow down the speed of water and give added protection to the waterway with roots and top growth. This method of "walking" water off the land will save many fields from severe gullying. After water is controlled on a watershed, old gullies may be worked up, leveled, fertilized and reseeded.

Land too steep for cultivated crops without severe soil losses may bring a return to the operator or by properly growing and harvesting a good legume. Strip cropping rotations, whether for wind or water erosion control, usually include a year or more of a high quality grass or legume.

Hill advises farmers who are interested in establishing grass and legumes for conservation purposes to visit the Grass Day program planned for their area during June. These programs sponsored by the Michigan State college cooperative extension service with soil conservation and other agencies cooperative will feature latest information on grass and legumes.

U. S. Navy recruiting stations in San Francisco and Los Angeles placed first and eighth respectively in nationwide percentages of quotas enlisted during the first quarter of 1948. San Francisco's 141.7 percent of quota was 8 percent better than its nearest challenger, while Los Angeles was not far behind with 115.4 percent of quota.

High Yearly Fire Toll Caused by Lightning

Lightning is nature's artillery. That's the way Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college, describes the danger of lightning which causes 37 percent of all farm fires.

Each year lightning destroys approximately $20,000,000 worth of farm property in the United States. It takes the lives of 500 people and injures 1300 others, according to National Safety Council records.

A building adequately equipped with lightning rods offers the best protection, Roth points out. If you are working in a field and do not have time to seek the protection of a rodged building, lie down in a low spot in the field, away from wire fences, trees, livestock and machinery. Avoid seeking shelter under trees, particularly lone trees.

(Contributed) The survey of the Canadian waterfowl breeding grounds which the Fish and Wildlife Service makes each year is now in progress under the leadership of Robert H. Smith, Mississippi Flyway biologist, Albert M. Day, Service director announced recently.

Mr. Day stated that the survey this year will be carried on in close cooperation with Canadian waterfowl officials and that survey crews would include representatives of both Dominion and Provincial Governments in addition to biologists of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The field crews are using airplanes, automobiles, and boats to cover each of the Prairie Provinces. Supplementing the airplane observations, ground crews cover prescribed routes, following those of previous years, to determine the relative population trends.

Early reports received by Service officials in Washington from Mr. Smith and his field crews indicate that the surveys are going nicely despite the conditions of the roads due to floods. According to Smith, "There is more water in the country than I have ever seen before."

The Service conducts this survey annually of the principal Canadian waterfowl areas to obtain accurate information on the waterfowl populations, surface water conditions, breeding pairs, broods produced, mortality, and climatic conditions as a basis for preparing the annual waterfowl hunting regulations. Although the regulations which the Service recommends are based on year-round scientific investigations, the surveys made during the spring and summer are of vital importance because conditions on the breeding grounds during those months will determine the size of the crop and the success of the breeding birds that go north.

During the 1947 nesting season, 14 Service observers made 32,000 miles of aerial surveys and 28,000 miles of surface surveys and actual transects.

Kids who have always wanted to dig caves, build shacks, chop trees and make bonfires and have never been allowed to do these things have found a champion in Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the conservation department's parks division.

Elmer has set aside "rumpus ranges" in 28 state parks where the youngsters may remake the local landscape, with a supervisor on hand to see that the tunnel and bridge building is done safely, and that the tree-chopping is confined to the areas where the youthful ingenuity will rule.

Officially these play places, where all the ordinary confining restrictions are lifted, will be called "project areas". Youngsters are advised to gang together in groups to decide what their "project" is to be—a totem pole, for instance. They get a permit for the project, are shown to one unrestricted area, and are turned loose (though still under the watchful eye of their leader) to create that project according to their own fancy.

"We want to give youngsters an outlet for their bursting energy and help them develop certain simple but essential outdoor skill," says Elmer. "In the main part of the parks, children are subject to all sorts of 'don'ts' designed to protect areas against damage and unauthorized use. But by providing places where children under supervision may follow their natural inclination to have wholesome fun in the woods, we are also providing them with an opportunity to do something constructive."

At Sleeper state park, where the idea was tried for the first time last year, a council ring with a stone fireplace and hewn log seats was built entirely by groups of Huron county school children. Other constructive projects the youngsters may work on if they wish are brushing out of foot trails and the setting up of logs on which park visitors will be invited to do their carving of initials. The carving logs have proved so popular and so valuable in diverting jackknives from living trees and signs that they are to be established in all state parks. Elmer believes such constructive projects will have as great an appeal as fire building, for instance, but learning proper fire building is considered valuable too.

State parks that will have youngsters' project areas this season are: Wells, Gogebic Lake, Porcupine Mountains, Fort Wilkins and Tahquamenon Falls in the upper peninsula; Burt Lake, Higgins Lake, Hoef, Hartwick Pines, Interlochen, Ludington, Muskegon and Wilderness in northern lower Michigan; and Bald Mountain, Brighton, Highland, Holly, Island Lake, Ortonville, Pickney, Pontiac Lake, Proud Lake, Rochester-Utica, Waterloo and Yankee Springs state recreation areas, and Sleeper, Warren Dunes and Hayes state parks in southern Michigan.

The wild horses of High island are still roaming their exclusive little wilderness range, sleek and in excellent condition. L. A. Davern, of the conservation department's game division and district game manager Otto Failing spotted the four of them on a routine airplane flight to observe more ordinary forms of Wildlife.

So wild they are seldom seen, the horses, at the approach of the department plane, bolted from the clearing where they had been feeding into the brush and out of sight. Flowing manes, long tails enhance their wild look.

In the summer of 1945, when Cash Wanser and Ben Jenkins of the department's game division were mapping the two-mile-wide, three-mile-long island, they thought one night their tent was going to be trampled by strange beasts rushing past. They found hoof prints, but finished their mapping without ever seeing the animals.

Game men believe that in winter the horses may paw away snow to reach the grass, and browse on shrubs and trees. The island has had no human inhabitants since the horses were abandoned there about nine years ago by their owner, who now lives on nearby Beaver island. None of the four has perished. Since none is a stallion, there has been no increase.

Adjustment of waterfowl hunting seasons to Michigan's peculiar geography and the climatic differences between northern and southern peninsulas is the major regulation change the conservation department's game division is preparing to recommend for consideration by the federal Fish and Wildlife service this season.

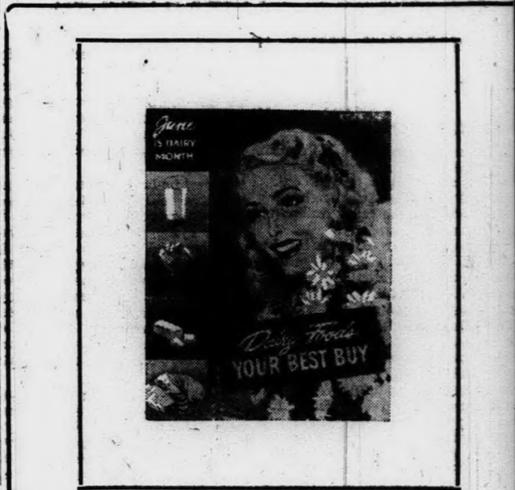

Opening of the waterfowl season in northern Michigan on October 1, the first day for hunting grouse and rabbits, and in southern Michigan on October 15, the first day for hunting pheasants, rabbits and squirrels, would split opening day gun pressure between fields and marshes, saving birds and improving the sport in both places, game men say.

Such a staggered season also would match the actual waterfowl fall migration schedule better, they believe. Last fall's 30-day season closed just before the peak of the late flights passed over the southern counties, yet to have delayed the entire season two weeks would have made it equally off-schedule for duck hunters in the upper peninsula, where freeze-ups come early.

Can you spare $6,700,000,000, brother? It'd take a lot of cups of coffee to stack up to the annual cost of accident in the U. S. says the Accident Prevention Department, Association of Casualty and Surety Companies. But that six-billion-plus was the bill for accidents in the country in 1947. Over 100,000 lives were needlessly lost and 10,500,000 persons were injured—all because of carelessness. We can't afford the cost, we can't spare the lives. Be careful!

The receipts, from all sources, of the United States Government for the fiscal year 1799-1800 were $5,717,000. — Kansas City Labor Bulletin.

Piano Students Present Recital

An informal piano recital by students of Evelyn Woods was held at the teacher's home Thursday evening, May 27.
 Included on the program were several ensemble works, performed entirely by the students themselves. The first movement of Mozart's Concerto in F was played by Harriet Lefler, and accompanied by Jack Hubler at the second piano.
 Two-piano numbers were presented by Art Carlson and George Miller, and Virginia Elliott and Jack Hubler. Pianists rendering duets were Virginia Elliott and Jack Hubler, Sally Williams and Lynn Fritz, and Sally Truesdell and Ellen Daane. All students presented solos.
 Families and friends of the students attended the recital. Refreshments were served following the musical program.

Racing Commissioner Gives Facts About Proposed Plant

LOCATION: Approximately 230 acres south of Plymouth Road at the junction of Middlebelt, with an additional 80 north of Plymouth running back to the Pere Marquette Railroad.
 1 1/4 miles from City Hall, Detroit, and readily accessible from all sections of the city by a choice of wide highways. Offers ready access from neighboring communities.
RACING STRIP: 1-mile oval with 14-inch sub-base of sand and loam and top cushion of screened loam facing Middlebelt Road.
 Width of backstretch 90-feet—Width of turns and home-stretch 100 feet—Drainage to provide a fast drying surface.

Wide area between rows will permit comfortable passageway without disturbance to seated patrons. A terrace restaurant to the rear will provide an unobstructed view of the paddock and walking ring. Stewards will be stationed well above the track levels, assuring an unobstructed view of runs at all times. Camera tower atop the placing judges stand will have ground glass panel on which picture can be projected for judges information.
 Wide ramps will be employed wherever feasible to contribute to the convenience and comfort of patrons. Sufficient water fountains will be installed to supply chilled water on warm afternoons.
CLUB HOUSE: A five-story Club House with adequate outdoor dining terraces from which every part of the running strip may be viewed will enable club house patrons to relax and observe the races. Drinking and walking terraces to the rear of the club house will afford a ready view of paddock and walking ring, as well as stable area activity, a short distance away. Two tiers of beautiful parterre boxes will top the club house, each box a private club for the holder, furnishing the utmost in race track comfort and luxury. Elevator service will be provided for the convenience of Club House patrons. This modern, beautiful club house will provide accommodations for 2,000, with parterre boxes seating an additional 750.

STABLES: The stable area will provide some 1400 stalls for the stabling of thoroughbreds. Barns stabling approximately 50-horses will not be located nearer than 100-feet to each other. Space between the barns will be landscaped with grass, gravel walks, and trees planted to provide a maximum of shade. Dormitories, generally, will offer 6- two-men rooms to a building. Every barn will provide hot and cold running water, showers, baths, and toilet facilities. A recreational center will offer game rooms, television, radio, and weekly motion picture programmes to contribute to the welfare and leisure hours of the stable area population. A modern cafeteria and spotless kitchen will cater to the "inner man." Here will be quartered the track's own important fire protection department with modern motorized equipment. The objective of the Thoroughbred Turf Club is to make its facilities for horses and horsemen adequately reflect its own interest in their welfare.
PARKING: Parking facilities will provide generous space and every convenience. Space for approximately 7500 cars will be immediately adjacent to the track. Covered walkways from every section of the parking area will offer protection from sun and showers to the patron from the time he leaves his car until he arrives at his seat. Towing and repair service will be available at no cost to the patron. Space is available to provide for another 7,000 cars if that becomes necessary or advisable. Bus patrons will leave their buses under cover immediately adjacent to the grand stand entrance.
LANDSCAPING: No expense will be spared to make Detroit's new track a show place. A park area with pool and fountain will grace the grand stand entrance. Generous grass and garden strips are planned for track borders and entrances. An infield lake will offer sanctuary to wild geese, swans and other water fowl.

Remodel Farmhouse and Save Cash Outlay

When you build or remodel your farmhouse — and it seems that nearly everyone is these days — do you know how to keep your cash outlay as low as possible? Three very important suggestions for reducing cash outlay are offered by Olevia Meyer, extension specialist in home management at Michigan State college.
 First, and highly important, is that you have a complete plan for the whole improvement even though some things will have to be postponed over a period of years. This will prevent costly adjustments later. Second, confine present improvements to those most urgently needed to safeguard health and provide for comfort and welfare. Third, find ways to do or buy things at less than the usual cash outlay. Farm families are fortunate in being able to make some improvements at little or no cash outlay.
 Here are some suggestions from Miss Meyer for making these savings. Use building materials ordinarily kept in dealers' stock; use ready-made parts, such as doors, windows, and millwork. Choose common grades rather than top grades of such items as framing, sheathing, flooring, and brick. Materials produced locally often cost less than those shipped in.

BABSON

Babson Discusses Land Values
Babson Park, Mass. June 4. The Agriculture Department in Washington is putting out warnings as to the high prices of farm land. Their agents are advising against the purchase of more property at present prices. Readers are also disturbed by the chart which appeared on page 79 of Time Magazine for May 3 of this year.

What Are the Facts
The facts are that these big increases in land values are not the same in different sections of the country. Probably the farm values fairly near large cities are abnormally high. They are selling not on their value as producing farms, but rather on their speculative value for sub-divisions, etc. This also applies to pasture land near small cities. There seems to be an abnormal demand for "bottom land" which in many cases is selling far above a sensible price.

The special concern of the Agriculture Department, however, is in connection with land being bought on mortgage. They are very much opposed, at the present time, for farmers to buy land for which they cannot pay cash, believing that sooner or later a crash is coming, due to an inevitable decline in farm prices. Of course, the ultimate value of a farm is whether or not it can raise crops which will pay a fair rate of interest on the land after all expenses, and this of course depends upon the price received, as well as the wages and other expenses which must be paid.

City and Town Property
The Federal Reserve Bank in Washington is especially disturbed at the continuous climb in mortgage loans on city and town property. This is probably due in part to the activity of the Federal Loan and Savings Banks in soliciting mortgages. Certainly this should be curbed at the present time. It is wrong for mortgage loans on real estate to be climbing during a period in which business loans are dropping off steadily and are being reduced.

These Federal Loan and Savings Banks must be careful not to be part of a vicious circle whereby some day the property, upon which they are now loaning and which loans are in part guaranteed by the Government, will come back into the Government's hands. If the Government then adopts a policy of selling these houses at auction, the houses for which the veteran now pays $10,000 will be selling in the open market for $5,000 or even less. It is entirely possible that what happened to city and small real estate in the 30's, could easily repeat in the 50's.

Reasons for Being Cautious
There are four definite reasons which people should carefully consider before further bidding up prices for any kind of real estate. These reasons are as follows:

- (1) The upward trend in mortgage indebtedness, which in some localities is reaching a dangerous point.
- (2) Threats of surplus farm products and even certain manufactured goods due to the present higher level of production.
- (3) The recent downward trend in the buying power both of farmers due to lower prices of farm products and of the industrial population due to the increased cost of living.
- (4) The fact that a large proportion of the money now being sent to Europe will be used to aid Europe to produce more farm products and manufactured goods in order to be independent of us.

How to Invest
Use your earnings first to pay up your mortgages and other debts. Then put your buildings and machinery into good shape so you can go through the next depression without any maintenance costs. After this, give your wife a break by buying her a modern kitchen and bathroom. She was patient and thrifty for you during the hard times; she now is getting older and cannot do so much. Be liberal with your church and give your children a useful education in agriculture, mechanics or business. Above all, have a good savings bank account or a safe deposit box of U. S. Government "E" bonds. Don't keep these in your house.

until Sunday, when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leonard, also of Detroit, motored to the Gayde home and spent the day, and she returned to her home with them. In the second grade the following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during this month: Melvin Blunk, Alice Lee, Russell Micol, Alice Postiff, Wilhelme Rocker, Billy Ray, Dorothy Wnuk.

It begins to look as if Plymouth road would be annexed to the city in the near future from the looks of the big signs just erected. The W.C.T.U. met at the home of Mrs. Luther Peck, last week, Thursday afternoon. After the business meeting, which was called to order by the new president, Mrs. Vealey, a delightful program was enjoyed.

The American Legion of Northville has decided to organize a drum and bugle corps. Born, Thursday, May 24, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Micol of South Main street, a daughter, Katherine Jene.

Virginia Giles of Ypsilanti was a guest of Rhea Peck last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hills and baby, Harold, spent Sunday with relatives in Wayne.

Mrs. C. H. Buzzard and daughter, Margaret, spent the weekend with the former's sister in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lombard and daughter, Dorothea, were in Farmington Wednesday, visiting Mrs. Lombard's mother, Mrs. A. L. Travis.

Cass Sheffield Hough, who is attending school at Ann Arbor, spent the weekend with his parents here. On Tuesday evening he came again, bringing with him as his guest his college roommate, Leland Anderson, of Oklahama City, to spend Decoration Day.

Mr. and Mrs. James Honey and Junior and Mrs. H. S. Hills and Vivian motored to Brown City, Tuesday, to spend Decoration Day. Mrs. Honey and Junior will stop at Deckerville to remain a week with relatives. Mr. Honey and mother and Vivian returned Wednesday evening.

"The Womanless Double Wedding," written by Miss Nettie H. Pelham, and so successfully staged in Plymouth, April 4, by Harry Green, was also staged in Northville, May 23, by Mr. Green with equal success. The opera house was crowded to its utmost capacity and many Plymouth people were present.

Elmer Reddeman, cashier at the P. M. dept here, returned home Sunday from a two months' visit in Phoenix, Arizona. On the way home, he stopped at Grand Canyon, Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak and the petrified forest.
