

Christian Herald Editor's Easter Message Tells "I Believe The Resurrection"

by Daniel A. Poling, Editor-in-Chief, in the Christian Herald

"How do you believe in immortality?" The question was asked by a typical university man, a graduate of last June. "As I believe in love," was my reply. "Yes?" with a rising inflection. "Yes! Because I have experienced it," I answered. "But," my friend continued, "I want no sentiment, no emotion, however real to you; but reason, hard reason, reason to answer a hard question. I am not a child, my world is a world of realism." "And mine," I replied, "I believe in immortality as I believe in love, because I have experienced it. Because it is real. Because to otherwise conclude would be to me unreasonable." I cannot prove love as a man proves a problem in mathematics. I cannot put its equation on a blackboard. I never yet have found it in the bottom of a crucible, nor shaken in gently in a test tube. But it is real, more real to me than houses and streets, more real than words and laughter. And it is powerful, more powerful than death, for I love beyond the grave. I believe in love because I have experienced it; because it has held me in its arms and because, when its arms have fallen lifeless, it has yet remained. Love is the essence of immortality. I believe in immortality because neither can my reason avoid its conclusion nor my heart escape its emotion. I have never seen it with my physical eyes and yet I have seen it, have seen it as truly as I have seen love. It was a never-to-be-forgotten morning in February 1918. With an orderly I waited in the rain at the top of a communicating trench "somewhere in France." A platoon of men from a machine-gun company were coming out. They were a sorry sight, bedraggled, hungry, and utterly weary. The first lieutenant who brought up the rear stopped to inquire the way to the nearest canteen. He was sick, a fever was fairly burning him up. "Tonsillitis," he said as he leaned on a stick he had torn from the support of a "duck-board." "And trench-foot," he added. Pulling himself together he stumbled after his men.

I watched him go. It was when he had taken a few more than 80 steps—I covered the distance in just that many a little later—that a three-inch high explosive shell "let go" in the midst of that platoon, hearing it coming we had flung ourselves flat in the mud. And then at the screams of agony we had hurried over to the wounded and dead. We looked after those who still needed the little we could do for them and then we gathered together the fragments. It was there on a red highway of France that I experienced immortality. I knew that the lad with the aching throat, the lad whose sick eyes had just looked into mine, the lad with whom I had just talked, was not in what I was pick-

RIGHT NOW IS THE TIME.

The taxpayers of this progressive school district overwhelmingly voted for a long-needed expansion of Plymouth school facilities in a recent election. Much of the new building will be in the vicinity of the high school building located at Church and Main streets.

Because of the necessity of using all of the school property for building purposes there is not the slightest chance of the school district providing additional parking facilities. That, however, is NOT a school district problem. It is strictly a duty and responsibility of the municipal government.

With the high school, Central grade school, Plymouth municipal offices, the Dunning public library, and numerous churches all centered in one locality—all growing and expanding at an amazing rate, the time has arrived for IMMEDIATE action on the part of the city to provide badly needed parking space for that section of the city.

The city planning commission has been considering the opening of a large section of vacant land lying between Main street and Union street and extending from Dodge street south to the rear of the Penn theatre for a parking area.

When this location was first proposed we were not too enthused about it—and let it be explained that our reasons were personal and somewhat selfish. These reasons still lurk in our mind—but irrespective of our own interests this section is absolutely the best place in Plymouth for a suitable parking area that will not only serve the so-called "civic center" but the downtown area as well. The north end of the proposed parking area is near the schools, city hall and churches. The south end is near numerous business places, the theatres and Masonic temple where parking has become a real problem.

With the possible exception of one small garage, not a building will have to be removed. Property facing both Main street and Union street would immediately jump in value, if there could be rear entrances to these places from the proposed parking area, which necessarily would have to be a part of the project.

There should not be any additional delay in this matter. It is the one big parking area available to both the business and the civic center. It is strictly up to city officials to do something—and do it right away.

The city can no longer quibble about its right to buy parking areas and the use of parking meter funds. The state supreme court recently settled that question most emphatically in favor of municipalities. Let's do something—and do it NOW.

A GREAT LEADER IS DEAD.

The famed career of former Governor Chase S. Osborn is ended. For nearly three quarters of a century his influence for the public good was unlimited. We especially admired him. Why?

In the many years ago when serving as a city editor of a Michigan paper, Chase Osborn, then Governor, visited the city in which I was working. Following the usual practice in newspaper offices, a reporter was assigned to interview the Governor. It happened that only a cub reporter—a beginner—was available at the time.

He was assigned to the interview. With surprising frankness, the timid youngster told the Governor that he "was the first great man I have ever talked to, and I don't know what to ask you." The Governor asked him a few questions about his work and urged him to work diligently to win success.

"I'll help you," said the Governor. The chief executive of Michigan then unfolded to the reporter his decision to make a clean-up of one of Michigan's institutions—a newspaper "story" of utmost importance to the state at that time.

It did help the youngster, who later went on to win success for himself. No one worshipped former Governor Osborn more than this reporter who died a few years ago in California.

It was little things like this, coupled with the big things that he did that made Governor Osborn one of America's greatest and most famed citizens.

Michigan can always be proud of the fact that this great Wolverine state he loved so well, was his home—and here in the wilds of our beautiful northlands will lie forever his mortal remains.

ONLY THE GOOD LORD KNOWS.

Why under the sun members of the Michigan legislature are forcing a new tax upon the people of this state in the form of a sales tax on used automobiles, no one can understand. It is true that Michigan is short of funds, but we would like to know why it is necessary to tax and retax and tax again the lowest priced transportation the average person can buy—and that's a used automobile.

Under the proposed law being rushed through the legislature, every time a used car is sold by the owner, the buyer would have to pay another tax on that used car.

If John Jones sold that car today to John Doe, Doe would have to pay a sales tax on that car. If Doe sold the same car tomorrow to Mike Milligan, Mike would have to pay the state a sales tax on that same car again. A sales tax on every automobile is paid when that new car goes from the dealer to the user.

But now comes along a proposal that the buyer must pay another sales tax on that car, if he decides to sell it to his neighbor. Frequently a used car is sold a half dozen times or more before it goes to the scrap heap.

Look at what an amazing total tax would have to be paid on that car during the natural life time of the buzz-wagon if the new auto tax bill should be enacted into legislation!

It is difficult sometimes to figure out the reasoning of some of our lawmakers—and this happens to be one of those times.

Open House Here Attracts Crowds

"Overwhelming" was the adjective used by John Blyton and Robert Willoughby to describe the turn-out for their open house programs Monday evening.

Between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. more than 700 children and adults visited the Willoughby Bros. Shoe store where motion pictures, refreshments, and prizes were presented to the visitors. It was estimated that 400 visited Taylor and Blyton's for the evening's special program. Both agree the open house presented here for the first time, was a success, and both are enthusiastic about undertaking a similar show next year. In the Catholic Church Site is Changed on Palm Sunday

The location of Our Lady of Good Counsel church was officially changed to the corner of Arthur and Williams streets on Palm Sunday, April 10, when services were held for the first time in a portion of the recently completed new Catholic school building.

Prior to that time services had been held in the church edifice at the corner of Dodge and Union streets. The Rev. Fr. William Mooney reports that the north section of the school building, that section labeled as the auditorium, has been set up as the church, and will be used as such until a new church can be constructed. Plans at the present time call for the eventual erection of a new church at the corner of Penniman avenue and Arthur street.

The address of the rectory, located on Dodge street adjacent to the former church building, will not be changed at the present time, according to the Rev. Mooney. When questioned as to the future use of the former church, he replied its disposition or retention had not been decided on as yet.

Report on South America Given at Inter-Club Meeting

Approximately 120 members and guests of the Northville and Plymouth branches of the National Farm and Garden association were present at the spring luncheon held at the Hotel Mayflower on Monday afternoon.

Highlighting the afternoon's program was a talk presented by Mrs. Frederic Garrison in which she related some of her personal experiences while living in South America. Mrs. Garrison told of her first meeting with Peron, president of South America, at that time he was a corporal.

Plans for the program were made by members of the Plymouth branch with Mrs. Andrew Varga as chairman, while the luncheon and decorations were in charge of the Northville members.

Quiz #8 that should make you feel mighty proud of yourself

- There are about 30 million passenger cars registered in the United States. That is more than three-quarters of all the passenger cars in the world. Measured against our population (143,382,000) it means that in this country there is one car for every 4.7 people. Let's make it an even number—call it 1 for 5—and set it up like this:
- Comparing that figure (1 for 5) with the population per passenger car in other countries is one of many good ways to compare our standard of living with that of the rest of the world. So, see how close you can come to filling in the correct numbers in the blank spaces below:

Howard Culver is Fast Recovering

When ten year old Howard Culver was struck by a car while crossing the street in Wayne, it was feared that he would never walk again.

Since the accident, which occurred a month ago, Howard has been confined to bed and under the care of a physician.

Last Friday night he took his first step since receiving the injury and his grandmother, Mrs. H. G. Culver of Palmer street, reported to The Mail that he will be in school again in two weeks.
Howard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Culver of Wayne.

Conservation Association Elects Entire New Official Administration, President is John Reiser of Wayne

ment of Lisle Alexander from the position had announced that he too thought the time had come for someone else to assume his duties, that Joe Elliott, a long time member of the board of directors, made a brief talk in which he thought as long as some of the older officials who had done so much for the club wanted to pass the work and honors on to others, that the members present decided to set up an entirely new administration, including the board of directors.
With the exception of former President Champe, who becomes a member of the board of directors and the four hold-over members, William Hunt, Don Rank, Kenneth Reed and Wayne Smith, the Conservation club is now under an entirely new leadership.

The new vice president is Roy Crites, Russell Wynning becomes secretary, and Gar Evans the treasurer.
The newly elected members of the board, including Dr. Champe, are Estel Rowland, Charles Foreman, Ward Smoot, Lewis Humpert and Paul Fluehart of Wayne.

As an indication of the exceptional growth of the club under the leadership of Dr. Champe, Fred Rhead, president of the Conservation club's land board, reported that the organization owes a balance of only $1,800 on the 40 acre club site and clubhouse, a property now regarded as worth somewhere around $15,000. President Rhead made an appeal for the sale of more stock to members of the organization, declaring that this aid would enable the land board to lower the small balance yet to be paid.

The club by unanimous vote passed a resolution of highest commendation to retiring President Champe for the work he had done during the years that the club has been in existence. He was one of its organizers and charter members. Through the influence of the organization, exceptional progress has been made in conservation work in this thickly populated section of the state. Dr. Champe has also worked in close cooperation with the Michigan United Conservation clubs. He is this year also retiring as a director of that organization after having served the maximum period of six years. He declared, however, that his retirement from these official positions will in no way lessen his efforts in the highly important conservation work of Wayne county and Michigan.

President Reiser, in assuming his new position said, that he hoped the club would make as its first object of accomplishment the complete elimination of the debt on the clubhouse and grounds and the finishing of the clubhouse and landscaping of the grounds.

Yes, professor, it is possible to talk about tolerance without being tolerant.

Last Wednesday Miss Smith was guest of honor at a buffet supper and miscellaneous shower with Mrs. Eugene Neeman as hostess.

A personal and miscellaneous shower for the bride-elect was given on Friday evening by Virginia Elliott.

It is too much to expect an office-holder to favor the abolition of his job.

Churches Planning Reverent Observance of Easter Here

nounces that Holy Communion will be held at 8 a. m., with choral celebration and sermon beginning at 11 a. m. The choir will be present at both the 6:30 and 11 a. m. services, and will sing "Open Our Eyes" by McFarlane. A special Easter Children's service will take place at 7 p. m.

"The Resurrection of Christ as a Foundation of Christian Faith" will keynote the sermons at all three Easter morning services at St. Peter's Lutheran church. The Rev. Edgar Hoenecke, pastor, states the sunrise service will begin at 7 a. m., the early worship service at 9:30 a. m., and the Easter Communion service at 10:45. Two Easter services will be held at the First Methodist church, according to the Rev. Frederick Poole, pastor. The first will begin at 9 a. m., and the second at the regular hour, 11 a. m. Special Easter music by the choir will be presented at both services. The church school at the Methodist church will suspend its regular sessions so that the members may attend the church worship services.

Easter services at the Church of the Nazarene will begin at 11 a. m. This announcement was made by the pastor, the Rev. William O. Welton.
The First Presbyterian church has also planned two Easter morning church services. The Rev. Henry Welch tells that the time of the first service is 8 a. m., and the second is 11 a. m. For his sermon topic the Rev. Welch has chosen "The Life Everlasting."

Mass will be performed at the regular hours in Our Lady of Good Counsel church, according to the Rev. Fr. William Mooney. He lists these as 6, 8, 10 a. m. and 12 noon.
"Victory All the Way" is the topic of the sermon which the Rev. C. M. Pennell will deliver to the congregation of the Salem Federated church Sunday morning at 10:30. Following the worship hours an Easter program will be presented by the Bible school members at 11:45.

Services at the Plymouth Assembly of God will begin at 11 a. m. The pastor, the Rev. John Walasky, announces that the Junior choir will sing several selections during the service.
A short Easter program by the youthful members of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will be given Sunday at 10:30 a. m. At 11 a. m. a sermonette will be given by Elder Bruce Brown, and the life of Christ will be portrayed in projected color slides, story, and song.

The Rev. Woodrow Wooley, minister of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church, says their Easter morning program will begin with an Easter Christian Youth League breakfast at the church at 7 a. m. Church services will be held at 8 and 11 a. m., during which both choirs will sing.

Easter Message Tells "I Believe the Resurrection"

ing up. I had not talked to that! And I knew that he was somewhere.
I knew that there had been authority enough to begin his life, to carry his life from his mother's womb to that shell scarred road. Short of immortality I had just two alternatives; either Creative Authority willed to leave that personality there in the blood and muck, willed to end it or to see it end in such a sorry fashion; or that Authority which could create was unable to continue, was helpless before the event, was without resources beyond that road in front of Toul. Either conclusion was to be unreasonable. That young lieutenant either stopped where I picked up his scattered body or he went on. I know that he went on.

And I know that those whose forms I touch when only their forms remain, when to my touch there can never come again a responding pressure; those "dear dead" whom I have lost, I have but "lost awhile."
In nature nothing is ever annihilated. Forms change, patterns are altered, and I do not profess to know the form and pattern of life beyond that which we call death. I do not even attempt to anticipate the details. But to conclude that a law which operates everywhere else in life ceases to operate only in life's highest, noblest form—human personality—is unreasonable. Shall only thought and recognition and the you of you be destroyed? As winter comes, I watch the mother of my children put her flowers "to sleep" on the old New Hampshire farm. Buried deep under the leaf mould and then beneath the snow, they wait until their springtime. But always there is a springtime and always the flowers come again. Am I so less than these?

Life does go on. That which we know as life is by our own experience incomplete. Nothing gets done. Those who live the longest frequently leave the most that is unfinished. There isn't time enough to write the books, to paint the pictures. There isn't time enough to see our visions through. I tell you that either these earth-bound years are but the beginning, are but the childhood of our immortality, or there is a creation itself a colossal immortality.

Dr. A. Ray Petty, former pastor of the First Baptist church of Kansas City, only a short year ago passed into the fullness of this glorious experience of which I write. Meeting me one morning in New York City shortly after he had recovered from a major operation, he threw up his head in characteristic fashion and said, "I believe in the Resurrection!" He had experienced it!

And so across the ages soul meets soul and reason walks with the heart as the Easter dawn breaks over the world and the Voice calls from the open tomb! "I am the Resurrection and the Life."

Easter Seal Drive Far Short of Goal

for the Wayne Out County chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the sponsoring organization. Plymouth residents donated a total of $2,400. Following a compilation of donations this week, it was discovered that so far only $1,200 has been contributed during the current drive. This amount was given for crippled children's aid work by only about 600 of the 5,600 residents who received solicitation letters. Mr. Daane pointed out.

Saturday afternoon the total may go upward when school students stage a sale of paper lilies for the benefit of the local fund. The Women's club is also planning a benefit for three drives, one of which is the Easter Seal campaign.
Easter is the official conclusion of the drive, but Mr. Daane adds that local committees working on the program will accept any donations received following that time.

Persons may mail contributions to The Crippled Children's Campaign, in care of either C. H. Bennett or Russell Daane at the Daisy Manufacturing company. Both issued a plea asking persons who have not as yet sent in their contribution, to do so as soon as possible. They emphasized that much of the money is needed locally, and will be put to work locally.

In the past Plymouth has always led other cities in the out-county area in the contributions. This year, however, if the drive continues at its present pace, the city will fall far low.

A smart writer says there is plenty of horse sense in the world but the horses have it.

trustee, was one of the veterans who was captured in the early part of the war by the Japs when Manila fell and was forced to take part in the "death march" which was one of the terrifying events of the war.
Other guests at the installation besides State Commander Vandenberg were Emil Warsaw of Detroit, who is now serving as fourth district commander, and L. A. Engley, assistant department inspector.
One of the problems confronting the Veterans' organization of Plymouth is a meeting place of sufficient size to accommodate the fast growing membership.

Rocks Squad Hands Ypsi Braves Initial Dual Loss in Six Years

The Plymouth High track squad ended what was probably the longest winning streak in Southeastern Michigan track circles when they edged the Ypsilanti Braves Friday on the Island Park course. Sustaining their first dual loss in six years, the defending Class B champions came out on the short end of a 56 1/2 to 52 1/2 score.

The meet went for the most part according to form, with the Rocks picking up two unexpected seconds in the hurdles and winning by close margins in both the half-mile run and the medley relay. The latter two were the deciding factors at this meet.

Chimaging the meet was the last event of the program, the 8 1/2 yard relay. Before this race Ypsi was leading by one point. Since this relay counts five points, whoever won it would also win the meet. The crowd's attention was centered upon the purple and gold anchor man, Dave Hill, colored speedster, who would have to bear most of the burden if Ypsi was to win. However, the Rocks gained an early lead and despite the ebony-colored speedster's fast pace, the blue and white team of Irving Stewart, Dick Crocker, Paul Harding and Louis Vargha came home in front by 25 yards.

Women's Classic League Title in Three Way Tie

When all scores were tabulated at the conclusion of the bowling season for the Plymouth Recreation Ladies Classic league, the figures showed that a three way tie existed between the Box Bar, Dunning's and Graham's teams.

Previous to the final night of bowling, the Box Bar team had held the lead with 72 points. Dunning's followed with 71, and in third place was Graham's with 70. The concluding night of the season, however, saw the top place team take only two points, while Dunning's won three, and Graham's four.

The teams will bowl off sometime this week.

Kearney, Bruner Meet on April 22 In Local Ring

Plymouth sport fans will be afforded another opportunity to witness those two rivals of the wrestling profession, battling Bob Bruner and pugacious Pat Kearney, in action Saturday evening, April 23, in the Plymouth High school gymnasium.

In a previous bout between the two at the local gym, Bob Bruner stopped Kearney in a ferocious bout that stirred the fans to the height of anxiety. Referring to that encounter Kearney says, "I received a bad deal from Bruner and the referee. This time I'm out for blood." However, the fans favorite, Bruner, states, "I'm prepared for Kearney's under-handed tactics. He will not beat me."

A victory over Bruner would please Kearney to the utmost. The grapplers, two of the cleverest scientific wrestlers in the area today, will enter the ring to find their meeting rated as a toss-up. This clash should be one that will provide the sport enthusiasts of Plymouth with thrills every moment of the way.

Joe's Jottings

by Joe Miller

The first step toward athletic supremacy of Plymouth High teams was accomplished Friday at Ypsi as the Rocks track squad topped a favored Ypsi Central squad. Anytime a team can beat Ypsi it is quite an accomplishment, but Friday's win is doubly important. Besides defeating the Suburban B champs and the State Class B champs, the Moiois-men took Plymouth out of the athletic doldrums. Plymouth was in the depths of despair during basketball and football seasons, as the local teams finished in last place in the league. However, by virtue of the trackmen's victory the upper reaches of the Suburban B are forseen for Konrad Moiois's lads. The members of the league probably thank the Rocks for winning for it is now shown that the Braves can be beaten.

The victory made a prophetic out of Paul Harding, diminutive star of the Rocks aggregation. Paul said the meet would hinge on the outcome of the relay and that it did. Before the relay, the last event of the meet, the Rocks were a fraction of a point behind. Then the quartet of Irving Stewart, Paul Harding, Louis Vargha and Dick Crocker beat the Braves relay team by 25 yards. In addition to this correct prediction the Rocks' might might said he would score 11 1/4 points. Once again Paul was right on the beam.

Now that the trackmen have broken the ice, let's see if the baseball, tennis and golf squads can drop Ypsi to the bottom of the ladder.

The familiar strains of "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," the mayor's wild pitch to the governor, and the umpire's bellow of "play ball" and the 1949 baseball season will get underway next week. The national pastime is rightfully called the fan's game, for in no other sport is such excitement revealed. In no other sport does the mayor of a city and the governor of the state meet to open the season. Also in no other sport is there so much predicting of the way the teams will finish the season. Because of that last reason we will now reveal our prognostications for the coming season.

Too much batting power possessed by Boston will spell the doom for the challengers in the American League. We can't see any team overcoming the Red Sox as long as the Beantowners have Ted Williams, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doehr. In addition to these sluggers Marse Joe McCarthy will have available for mound duty such established stars as Jack Dobson, Dave Ferriss and Jack-Kramer. McCarthy was just becoming accustomed to Boston last year. With one season under his belt at Fenway Park McCarthy will lead the Sox to the American league pennant. Remember in his first year at New York the Yankees finished second. But in the second year the Yankees won the pennant and the World Series. Improved pitching will raise the Yanks to second place. If Joe Dimaggio's heel doesn't act up, the Yanks will fight the Red Sox down to the wire. Third place finishers will be the Detroit Tigers. Spring training games don't mean too much, so don't be alarmed by the Tiger's unglorious record in the South. The Bengals are bound to improve; after all they have the best pitcher in baseball in Hal Newhouser, the best third sacker in George Kell, and the best outfield in the American circuit in Hoot Evers, Johnny Groth and Vic Wertz. Cleveland's stars of last year, Lou Bourqueau, Ken Keltner and Joe Gordon are fast approaching the middle thirties. Besides that fact Cleveland's mainstays, on the most part, had their best years in their careers last season. Cleveland will finish in fourth place and then Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and Washington will finish in that order.

The National league's pennant winner will be the Pittsburgh Pirates. The time is now ripe for Pittsburgh to win. Paced by Ralph Kiner's home runs and Bob Chesnes' pitching, the Corsairs will win their first pennant since 1927. Following the Pirates will be Brooklyn, St. Louis, Boston, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

15. There will be no smoking on or near the playing field by the players. Alcohol in any form by either players or umpires will bring on indefinite suspension.

16. Suitable awards will be given the champions.

17. All games will be played under the Spaulding Official Rules Book.

18. The age eligibility rule is as follows: Any boy who reaches his 17th birthday after September 15, 1949 is also eligible to play. No boy may play if he reaches his 17th birthday before September 15, 1949. This does not mean that he may play until he is 17 for if he will reach 17 before September 15, 1949, he is ineligible for all play in this league.

19. The home team is designated on the schedule will be responsible for furnishing the game balls. The home team must furnish the umpire with one new ball and another suitable ball and have on hand enough suitable balls to complete the game. The balls may be of any make, but must be an Official baseball. The umpire is the sole judge as to the suitability of the ball. It is the responsibility of the visiting team manager to see that the game balls are returned to the home team.

20. The manager of the home team is the sole judge of the fitness of the field for play. If a game is to be postponed due to inclement weather or wet grounds, the home team manager is responsible for notifying the visiting team manager and the Director of Recreation as early as possible.

Tennis Team Opens Suburban B Season Today at Belleville

After a seven year layoff, Coach Carvel Bentley will guide his tennis squad in a league meet today. Bentley will take ten players to Belleville today to open the league schedule. The match will start at 3:30 p.m.

The Rocks will play host to Trenton Tuesday on the Riverside Park courts.

Four singles and four doubles matches will be played in league matches. To play in the singles Bentley has selected his four top players, Ed Whipple, Bruce MacGregor, Keith Ebersole and Don Gronowick.

One doubles team of Roger Kidston and Keith Bovee is set for competition. Two other doubles combinations are uncertain at press time. Herb Swanson and Ted Burk tentatively compose one squad while Jim Butt and Jim Stevens are on the other team.

In the fall of this school year the student council, governing body of Plymouth High, looked into the prospects for resuming the tennis team. Faculty members favored the plan. The next step was to acquire a coach and the former mentor of Plymouth squads, Carvel Bentley, agreed to coach the team. Then enough interest was displayed by Plymouth High boys to form a team.

Fisher Passes Pharmacy Exam With High Honors

Donald Fisher of Plymouth was among those students recently passing the Michigan state board of pharmacy examination with high marks, according to a report from Ferris Institute. Students, writing the examinations were from all four schools in Michigan offering pharmacy courses. Ferris Institute students numbered 41 of the 111 who successfully passed the test. Those making the three highest standings were also from the Big Rapids school.

Plymouth Woman's Artistic Talents Described in Recent Ford Paper

Talent of a Plymouthite was described in the March issue of the Ford News, when a story told of the achievements of Mrs. Claudia Housley in the field of art.

The article read: "I've painted for my own pleasure off and on my whole life—those were the words of Claudia Housley, who is employed in the Phoenix Section at Ypsilanti, as she described her interesting pastime recently.

Police Warn of Cigarette Law

Plymouth's Police department has been receiving frequent complaints of minors purchasing and smoking cigarettes, according to Chief Lee Sackett.

This week he issued a warning to both parents and merchants in connection with the trouble. The police chief quotes Michigan law as stating, "That it shall not be lawful for any person by himself, his clerk or agent, to sell, give or furnish any cigar, cigarette, cheroot, chewing smoking tobacco in any form whatsoever, to any minor under 17 years of age, unless upon the written order of the parent or guardian of said minor."

Concerning the latter portion of the law, the chief discourages parents from following this practice. The writing of notes often leads to abuse of the law, he pointed out.

"Like mother, like daughter, is an axiom that holds true in the Housley household. Mrs. Housley's mother was an artist, and her daughter, too, paints in her spare time.

"On March 6, Mrs. Housley marked her fifteenth year with the Company. She started at the Phoenix Plant, and in her 15 years of service has always held the same job—that of riveting frames.

As to the future, Mrs. Housley says that she hopes to find more time for painting—both for her own pleasure, and that of her many friends.

"We are certain that all of those friends hope that Mrs. Housley isn't kidding about her ambition, as this might give them an opportunity to talk her out of one or more of her colorful pictures with which to brighten up their homes."

The Arrival of Thousands of Young Evergreens to City Sure Sign of Spring

Plymouth residents are planning no small amount of beautifying and landscaping this year according to George Merryweather of the Merry-Hill nursery who is pictured above loading some of his first deliveries to local homes this spring. According to this well known nurseryman, Plymouthites will plant thousands of young trees and shrubs this spring in their never ending toil to make Plymouth a more beautiful town in which to live.

"If you want to plant evergreens, now is the time to do it," said George Merryweather this week as he hastened to make ready for the avalanche of orders for spring planting.

Stopping briefly from his duties as owner and operator of the Merry-Hill Nursery, he gave a few hints to local gardeners on procedure to follow in the selecting and planting of shrubs.

Mr. Merryweather draws his suggestions from a background which is filled with experience in the field. Not only has he been in the nursery business for 14 years, but interest in this particular line seems to be inherited. Tracing the family back, it is found that his ancestors for generations have been landscape artists.

The first suggestion Mr. Merryweather made on the planting of shrubs was to select a few varieties of plants which maintain year around interest. Secondly, he warned, don't over-plant. A few choice specimens placed correctly will give a home a more distinctive look than crowded plants.

"Recognize the dominant architectural line of your house," Mr. Merryweather stressed, "and complement it in your planting."

Pointing out how this can be accomplished he told that low houses whose lines are strongly horizontal would be complemented with plantings of spreading and horizontal character, such as Winged Euonymus, prostrate and spreading Junipers and Yews.

Tall houses on the other hand, Mr. Merryweather stated, are benefited by heavy masses of foliage at the corners to broaden the base line.

Listing another "don't," he stated, "Don't plant varieties which will grow out of scale." Elaborating on this Mr. Merry-weather said "A Douglas Fir, five feet high, may look just right when planted, but when it becomes the large tree nature intends it to be, it will be just wrong in a foundation planting."

The importance of color was also stressed. To this he added, "Any blossom is charming against a background of white clapboard or weathered stone, but scarlet Quince, for instance, would be most unpleasant against red brick."

Delving in the fundamentals of the shrubbery, Mr. Merryweather discussed treatment of the soil. "Give deep and adequate preparation to the soil when you plant, and give proper after-care in matters of watering, fertilizing and cultivating." The importance of this factor was emphasized by him as being primary in foundation plantings.

Soil backfilled against house foundations is quite often poor subsoil, and the house walls and eaves shelter plants from the full benefit of rains, he stated.

"Keep those plants thriving, Mr. Merryweather concluded, "for only healthy ones are beautiful."

Rector Finds Lent Observance Low

In the weekly survey conducted by the Kiwanis club of Plymouth, some startling results are noticeable, states the Rev. Alexander Miller, rector of St. John's Episcopal church. The survey concerns church attendance, which the club is attempting to increase during Lent.

Kiwanis rated highest among the service clubs of the city two weeks ago, with a meager 53 percent in church last Sunday, the Rev. Miller announced. Although none of the other service clubs outranked the Kiwanians, the grade school children did. They had a better showing with a percentage of 61, the Rev. Miller pointed out, but the high school fell behind with a mere 48 percent.

Our duties as members of the church are plain, stated the local rector: "To follow Christ, to worship God every Sunday in his church." In view of the plain duty of every church member, "a showing of 53 percent is deplorable," emphasized the Rev. Miller. "Even the 61 percent of the grade school children is not good. When one takes into consideration the fact that these are the high scores for the week, it becomes a matter of grave concern."

"It comes down to the question of what is central in life. Is God central, or as mammon? We owe it to ourselves, not to mention the Creator, to pay proper attention to Him in whom we live and move and have our being." It is to be hoped that in subsequent weeks the percentage of church attendance will grow and grow, until it reaches the 100 percent mark where it ought to be.

Michigan's Famed University Needs YOUR Help.

For more than one hundred years all the people of Michigan have been proud of our great University. Yes, that pride extends to the thousands and thousands who never had the opportunity to become students of this great school. But even though thousands of us never attended the University of Michigan we have benefited in numerous ways from its multitude of services to all the people.

We have been proud of its growth and service and its leadership—but now comes the distressing word that because of insufficient support the University is rapidly dropping from first rank among all the great schools of the country to a low rating. This is due entirely to the lack of proper state financial aid—and the future does not look at all bright unless something is done quickly about it.

At a recent meeting in Ann Arbor President Alexander G. Ruthven pointed out to a group of Michigan editors and citizens the problems facing the University. So well did he outline the situation that his statement is being used in full, as follows:

"This is a further report on the alarming trends apparent in the educational operations of the University of Michigan as a result of the low level of financial support now being received from the State as compared with former years and with the support of universities in other states. Additional data have now been collected both from within the University of Michigan and from other state institutions.

"These data further confirm the conclusions already reported to you, namely, that the high standing of the University of Michigan and the superior quality of its educational programs cannot be maintained much longer without a marked upturn in the level of financial support received from the State.

"The present critical situation of the University becomes strikingly apparent from even a brief survey of the changes which have occurred during the past twenty years. In the fall term of 1929, the enrollment of the University of Michigan was 9,698. The operating appropriation from the State of Michigan was $4,920,000—or an average of $507 for each student enrolled. Student fees produced an average of $130 per student. The total teaching staff was 745, or about one teacher to 13 students.

"The State appropriation of $507 per student in 1929-30 was the highest received by any major state university in the nation. This relatively high level of State support enabled the University to maintain a teaching staff and a quality of educational programs excelled by none and equalled by only a few of the stronger endowed institutions. In 1929, few would have questioned the claim of the State of Michigan that its university was the outstanding state university of the nation.

"The economic depression which struck late in 1929 brought serious troubles to the University of Michigan, as it did to other institutions and businesses in the State and the nation. The State appropriation for operations fell to a low of $3,230,000 in 1934-35. The capital building program begun under President Burton was halted while little more than half completed. Faculty salaries were cut sharply, and the appointment of many staff members was on permanent tenure was terminated. No money was available for the purchase or maintenance of teaching and research equipment. Since student enrollment had remained about constant, the inevitable result was larger classes, heavier teaching loads, and a decline in the quality of instruction and research.

"By 1939-40, the State and the nation were beginning to shake off the effects of the depression, but in this recovery the University of Michigan, along with other educational institutions in Michigan, lagged behind. In 1939-40, the fall term enrollment of the University was 12,132, or 27 per cent more than before the depression. The State appropriation, however, was only $4,475,000, nearly $500,000 less than ten years earlier, and an average of only $339 per student enrolled. Although the faculty was called upon to teach nearly 27 per cent more students than in 1929-30, it numbered only 723, or 15 per cent more than before. The result was that the ratio of teachers to students had fallen from 1:17 in 1929-30 to 1:26.5 in 1939-40. To have restored the 1929 ratio of teachers to students would have required a teaching staff of 923. That in 1939-40, the University faculty was seriously understaffed, with a shortage of about 200 men.

"The seriousness of the situation in the late thirties was accentuated by the fact that many other leading universities in the nation were able to make more rapid recovery from the effects of the depression. A number of outstanding teachers and scholars were lost to other institutions during this period.

"Reports of the University and the State officials and legislators have shown that the situation was interrupted by the advent of World War II. In 1941, near the end of the war in 1945, these efforts have been renewed and intensified. But despite generous and continued support by the Michigan Legislature and State officials, the situation has been far from satisfactory and price levels have risen so high and so fast that faculty, equipment, and other costs have fallen even further behind.

"In the fall term of 1948-49, the enrollment of Michigan again reached a new high of 14,774. The current appropriation of $4,750,000 represents a decrease of only $456 per student, or 87 per cent less than the per student level of $5,500 in 1929-30. The per student level was much lower than in 1938-39, when the State's 1929 appropriation, the figure for 1948-49 would have to be $679 per student or a total of $14,510,230. To equal the 1929 appropriation of $5,500 per student would require $12,223,650. Put in another way, the present appropriation of $456 has a purchasing power on the 1939 basis of only $278, or nearly 30 per cent less than the $369 per student actually appropriated to the University in 1939.

"By any measure which may be applied, the appropriation available to the University today buys far less goods and services for the instruction of each student than has been the case in the modern history of the University.

"Student fee income is now five times what it was twenty years ago, and the individual student pays from one and one-half to nearly three times as much as did the pre-war student. But even this great increase has not been sufficient to offset the relative decline in the State appropriation.

"If the decline in per student income of the University were merely a matter of statistics, there would not be so much cause for alarm. The alarming thing is that this decline has made its effects increasingly felt in the educational processes of the University.

"To teach the present student body of over 21,000, there is available a teaching staff of 1,187 on a full-time equivalent basis. This means that the present teacher-student ratio in the University is 1-13. To get back to the 1930 ratio of 1-17 will require the addition of 326 full-time additional teachers at a total annual cost of at least $2,000,000. Even the ratio of 1-13 would be considerably short of ideal for modern teaching methods in a university like Michigan where 50 per cent of the student body is composed of seniors and professional or graduate students.

"A survey of 289 colleges and universities made in 1945 by the North Central Association of Colleges reveals that the median teacher-student ratio was 1-12.3. Only 10 per cent of the 289 institutions studied had as many as 18.8 students per teacher, while 25 per cent of the institutions had fewer than ten students per teacher. This is the time when you'll want to hear the sweet hum of its eager power, feel the lazy comfort of its easy stride, get the springtime feel of its thrilling action.

And you can have all that—with just a little attention to some simple things to shake the winter out of its bones.

For instance—the rusty sludge that has accumulated in your radiator should be cleaned out. Transmission and rear end may be low on lubrication, and should be checked. Crankcase oil should be changed to a summer grade.

The underside of your car has taken a lot of splashing on wet roads. Some of the chassis grease has been washed out, some of it fouled with mud and grit.

Time to Spring Clean your Buick too!

So it's time to drain out the dregs of winter. Time for a little of the knowing, loving care every Buick gets at the hands of our Buick-trained men, armed with Buick-developed tools, Buick-established methods, Buick-engineered parts.

Rural Tele-news

GRANDPA OF THE CABLE TRAIN—Possibly you've seen modern tractor-drawn cable trains burying Long Distance telephone cable across the Michigan countryside. Back in 1882, two pioneer telephone men hitched a locomotive to a farmer's plow, turned a deep furrow five miles in length and "planted" an assortment of wires to determine the effect of soil conditions on them. From this early experiment came facts helpful in developing modern underground cable!

BRAIN TEASER—You can probably stump some of your friends on this one. In which case, your voice travel the longest distance to reach the person you're talking to: (a)—When you telephone your neighbor on the next farm? (b)—When you speak to somebody across the room? Answer: When you talk across the room. When you telephone your neighbor, your voice just goes an inch or so to the mouthpiece. From there on it travels as an electric current right to the listener's telephone receiver.

SUPPOSE you could reach only one other telephone. Your telephone wouldn't be worth very much to you, would it? Actually, today you can reach more telephones than ever before... doctors, vets, equipment dealers, friends, relatives. And we're still adding new telephones at record speed. This means more people you can call—more jobs your telephone can do for you.

ures high-light the glaring inadequacy of the current Michigan ratio of 1-18.

"One result of the understaffed faculty is a dangerous increase in the size of classes. By extraordinary effort the size of most freshman first-year classes has been kept down to about pre-war size. In freshman English, for example, no section is today larger than 22 students. But in the upper classes and in the graduate courses, many classes have grown to unmanageable size because of the lack of qualified faculty to teach additional sections. In Physics and Chemistry, a number of advanced and graduate classes number over 60 students, at least three times the proper number for satisfactory teaching. Class sizes in general throughout the University are on the average from 25 per cent to 100 per cent larger than in 1939-40.

"Teacher student ratios and class sizes would be even worse if it were not for the large number of teaching assistants who are now included in the teaching staff. In 1929, less than 3 per cent of the total faculty consisted of teaching assistants; in 1939, the figure had grown to nearly 10 per cent; today, teaching assistants account for over 20 per cent of the entire teaching staff. Many of these teaching assistants are excellent teachers, but they are all relatively young and inexperienced. Their use in such large proportions constitutes a distinct threat to the quality of teaching in the undergraduate units of the University.

"Paralleling the decline in the relative number of faculty men available for teaching the present large enrollments has been a decline in the quality and amount of teaching and research equipment. In 1929-30, the University spent an average of $17.09 per student on teaching equipment and materials. In 1939-40, this figure had fallen to an average of $4.59—scarcely enough to keep old equipment in repair. Today, with a price level approximately 70 per cent above 1939, the expenditure for equipment averages only $8.86 per student. The results of this 20-year neglect of equipment needs are shockingly apparent from an inspection of the equipment now being used in many of the scientific and engineering departments.

"The General Library furnishes one of the most striking examples of the losses due to insufficient funds and facilities. The University of Michigan Library is still one of the world's great research collections, but is in grave danger of losing its high place. In 1929 Michigan's Library ranked seventh among University libraries in the number of its book collections. Today it has fallen to ninth place, having been passed by both Minnesota and California. Unless current trends are changed by the provision of more funds for book purchases and more space for books, Michigan's Library seems bound to fall even farther behind. The story is strikingly evident in the number of volumes added in leading university libraries during the year 1947-48. These figures are as follows: Michigan-36,056; Harvard-151,648; California-133,576; Yale-128,083; Illinois-108,896; Columbia-62,065; Minnesota-58,904; Indiana-51,763; Chicago-50,651; Northwestern-48,312.

"Faculty salaries have also suffered despite a determined effort to devote every cent possible to this all important purpose. Since 1939 the average real income of all employed persons in the nation has increased by approximately 30 per cent. During the same period the real income of University of Michigan faculty members has decreased by over 12 per cent. Thus the University of Michigan faculty members have not only failed to share in the higher standard of living being enjoyed by other groups in the nation but they have actually suffered a sharp decline in their own standard of living. Even the salaries of public school teachers in Michigan, and in most other states, have more than kept pace with the increased costs of living. The obvious result of such a trend is to make university teaching a less attractive profession for young men choosing a career and to make other fields more attractive to teachers who have offers elsewhere.

"The danger signals in these trends are all too plain. It is not easy to measure changes in the educational performance of a University. Perhaps the best measures are the number and professional qualifications of the teaching staff, the facilities and equipment available, the level of salaries paid, and the continuing financial support accorded the institution. No one of these measures is conclusive, but when they all show signs of decline over so long a period as twenty years, the trend is unmistakable.

"The present critical position of the University of Michigan is intensified by the fact that a number of universities in other states have now surpassed Michigan in the level of financial support received from their respective states. As examples, the universities of California, Florida, Illinois and Oregon now all receive substantially more per student in their legislative appropriations than does Michigan. Judging from reports on current legislative sessions, it is likely that Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin will soon join this list.

"The cases of Illinois and California are particularly illuminating. Twenty years ago in 1929 the University of Illinois received from its legislature an appropriation averaging $384 for each of the 12,413 students enrolled; California received $389 per student. Each of these appropriations was over $100 less than the University of Michigan appropriation of $507 per student. Today the situations are completely reversed. The University of Illinois appropriation averages $829 for each of the 26,000 students enrolled; California's average is $588 for each of its nearly 44,000 students, while Michigan receives only $436 for each of its 21,370 students. In other words, over a 20-year period the Illinois and California appropriations have increased by $445 and $197 respectively, while Michigan has declined by $49.

"The results of the increased financial strength of other institutions have appeared in the numerous offers made to members of the University of Michigan staff. Within the past two years at least 23 members of the University of Michigan faculty have been offered deanships or department headships in other major institutions. The institutions making the offers include such institutions as California, Illinois, California Institute of Technology, Northwestern, Johns Hopkins, Cornell, Purdue, Stanford, Ohio State and Illinois Institute of Technology. Only two of these men now hold chairmanships at Michigan. They are all young men, and, of course, among the most promising on the staff. The loss of even half of them would be a blow from which the University would find it difficult to recover.

"For the time being, Michigan has met in large measure the challenge of competing offers to its staff. But it has not done so in terms of salaries. These men have stayed at Michigan because they want to be at Michigan and because they believe in the institution, and because they have been promised that Michigan will not be allowed to fall farther behind.

"But time is running out. Tradition, reputation and the presence of other outstanding scholars are powerful factors in holding the staff of a university. But they will not long suffice unless facilities, equipment, teaching loads and salaries can be kept at least reasonably near to the standards set by other institutions.

"Michigan's faculty still ranks among the best in the world. In the latest compilation of Men of Science, the Who's Who of the scholars of science, the proportion of Michigan's faculty receiving the star of distinction was surpassed only by California Institute of Technology, Princeton and M.I.T. But the very strength of the Michigan faculty makes it a target for other institutions seeking to strengthen their own faculties.

"Unless Michigan is given the financial support needed to compete with the best of the state universities, it could lose in a few years the scholarly strength which has taken fifty years to build. Unless the present trends of support are reversed, there is eminent danger that this is exactly what will happen. Conditions such as now prevail at the University of Michigan will be accepted on the basis of a temporary post-war emergency, but they will not long be tolerated by a strong faculty once it appears there is danger that emergency expedients may become permanent standards.

"I am making this report to you to emphasize the absolute necessity for halting and reversing the downward trend of financial support which is the cause of the University's present critical position. In so doing I want to make it clear that no criticism is intended of the State officials or legislators whose responsibility it has been to make provision for the University's support. These men have not been responsible for the depression, or the war, or the surging price level, or the tremendously increased enrollments which have made the task of adequate financial support such a large one. Neither are they responsible for Michigan's sales tax diversion which has so complicated the financial problems of the State.

"However, the fact that the current financial situation of the University and of the State can be explained does not lessen the gravity of the University's needs nor the necessity for prompt and bold action in meeting them."

GAA is Newly Organized Club

A new club, the Girls' Athletic association, has been organized for the purpose of giving every girl in grades 9-12, who is interested in participating in sports, an opportunity for a large group of girls rather than the small select group, which now constitutes Leaders' club. This does not mean that a girl must join the G.A.A. or Leaders' club in order to participate in sports after school, because every girl in high school is eligible to take part in the program whether or not she belongs to these clubs.

Each year the qualifications for club membership will be set up by the executive board. Every girl must earn at least 100 points in school sports this year to be eligible to become an active member.

The first meeting of the G.A.A. will be called and the girls will organize the club and elect officers. Thereafter, one meeting a month will be held either for business or social purposes.

Detroit Times Toured by Staff

The staff of the Pilgrim Prints and Miss Elizabeth MacDonald, adviser, toured the Detroit Times building on Cass avenue at Times Square, on the afternoon of April 7. The students left school at 11:45 and traveled to Detroit by school bus.

The tour, conducted by Richard Kline of the Times, included an inspection of the photography darkrooms, the touching-up artists' room, the reference room (formerly called the "morgue"), the editorial department, the engraving department, and the press room. Before leaving the Detroit Times Lobby, each student was given a pamphlet, "What It Takes To Make a Metropolitan Newspaper," giving a summary of how the Detroit Times is printed.

Photography club Sponsors Contest

All camera fiends now have an opportunity to reveal their abilities in the annual snapshot contest sponsored by the Photography club.

Any person in grades 9-12 is eligible to enter this contest that will close May 1. Any number of prints may be submitted in the boxes provided. They must be no larger than 5x7 inches and no color prints will be accepted, but cropping is allowed.

Any student may submit prints in the following classifications: (1)-people (babies, groups, and shots where people are the main interest), (2)-animals, (3)-still life (outdoor pictures, including buildings), (4)-school activities. Prizes will be announced at a later date.

A joint session of the Hi-Y and Y-Teen clubs was held on Thursday, April 7. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss problems concerning dating among high school students.

The members of the clubs had a chance to express their opinions on what they approved of on dates and what they considered bad manners.

Den Sutherland acted as the discussion leader and read the questions which were prepared by members of the Hi-Y and Y-Teens. Barbara Gross, sponsor for the Y-Teen and Walter Goodwin and Harry Reeves, sponsors of the blue and white chapter of the Hi-Y, considered the joint meeting a success and planned a similar one for Thursday, April 14.

Your Weekly Guide by G. Cardinal LeGros

This is the time of year when many people are subject to colds and other minor illnesses—which troubles often develop into more serious matters. It would be well for each person to consider the tendencies for physical ailments that his birth sign represents. In what follows no complete data for each sign can be given, but the general indications are reliable.

ARIES is a Fire sign ruled by Mars which always gives a great degree of emotional energy. Care should be taken to prevent passionate and emotional outbursts which may destroy the equipoise of the system. Accidents to the head are also common with Aries.

TAURUS rules the throat and lower jaw—parts of the body that should receive careful attention. The temper is a problem with Taurus too. Another thing to guard against is over-eating and drinking. Brooding, worry, and luxuriousness can exhaust his resources.

GEMINI has to watch out for restlessness, negativeness, and nervousness that can keep the system in an unnecessary and detrimental tension. The arms, hands and lungs are often vulnerable points with this over-active Air sign. Accidents and injuries can result from haste and excitement.

CANCER rules the stomach, and everyone with this Cardinal Water sign holding his Sun at birth must be careful of diet. Cancer people are great worriers too, and can keep themselves worn out through negative thinking. Distrust and the harboring of malice against others should be avoided.

LEO often overtaxes his strength through impulsiveness and a great desire to accomplish ends at all costs. Leo rules the heart and back—parts of the body that frequently show the results of over-activity and nervous and physical strain. Leo needs to slow down and be a philosopher and let the world run itself for part of the time.

VIRGO rules the intestinal tract which probably explains why people born in this Mutable Earth sign are forever dosing themselves with patent medicines and fretting over diet. Virgo progresses and becomes happy when he gets his attention away from himself and uses his great abilities for the service of others.

LIBRA rules the kidneys and should avoid sweets as much as possible. But this is the very thing the Librans love with all their hearts. But if the woman born in Libra wants to stay beautiful and preserve her youth she had better learn to leave her ice cream and cake alone. These are things that endanger her.

SCORPIO can be very destructive and tyrannical and thus build up forces that in the end destroy him. Unlike Aries—who blows his top when he gets mad—Scorpio nurses his hates in secret and injures his psychological being. This sign rules the creative forces of life and can accomplish tremendous things when self-control and forgiveness rule his life.

SAGITTARIUS is so venturesome that accidents and injuries often are his lot. Restlessness invites depletion too. People born in this "Travel" sign prosper and enjoy happiness when they use their naturally philosophic tendency and learn to slow down and stay put once in a while.

CAPRICORN can easily worry himself to death because Saturn is his ruler. He must also fight a tendency toward crystallization and inhibition. The stomach is often a source of trouble to this Cardinal Earth sign and he must watch his diet. But, most important, he should develop a little more cheer and laughter.

AQUARIUS has to guard against supersensitiveness and depression of spirits brought about through worry over the world's inability to meet with his high ideals. No one expects so much of others as Aquarius does, and this is alright providing a good dose of philosophy goes with it.

PISCES rules the feet—the vulnerable spot in this Mutable Water sign. And, as we have said before, no sign gives so much sensitiveness and sympathy as Pisces. The emotional life should be brought into harmony and adjustment so that complexes do not develop.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture it is safe to keep canned food in the can it comes in—if it is kept cool and covered. Cans and foods are sterilized in processing while a dish may have bacteria on it. A few acid foods may dissolve a little iron from the can but this is not harmful.

Guild Play Rated Thrasher Wins Highly Successful Navy Scholarship

by Peter R. Miller

"Love in a Cupboard," third presentation of the year-old Plymouth Theater Guild, was staged Friday, April 1 in the Central Grade school auditorium.

This heart-warming comedy with rollicking overtones of farce is from the facile pen of Dorothy Heyward, famed collaborator, with her husband DuBose Heyward of "Porgy." The story of "Love in a Cupboard," incidentally, involves a pair of collaborating playwrights who succeed in concocting what appears to be a hopelessly, impossible situation, only to find themselves involved in its actual counterpart.

Max Trucks, playing the part of the playwright, Bernice Law as his understanding wife; Sherry Gaffield as the other half of the playwrighting team; and Marvin Terry as her suitor, gave polished performances in the skillfully directed and well staged production.

Other credit lines should include Evelyn Lindsay in charge of properties, Robert Ingram as stage manager, Edgar Brown for programs, Adele Miller for refreshments, and Charlotte Winterhalter and Rhea Rose as usherettes.

The Guild provided a curtain-raiser with two humorous readings.

A near-capacity audience witnessed an almost letter-perfect performance of a play with more than an ordinary amount of stage business which required split-second timing, and to which the cast of four was entirely equal.

Membership in the Plymouth Theater Guild is open to anyone interested in the legitimate theater. In its first year, it has given ample demonstration of a zeal and enthusiasm that augers well for a successful future.

Babson Discusses Spiritual Resources

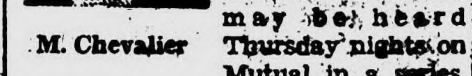

A recent newspaper headline told us that four more Christian Ministers had been sentenced to life imprisonment in Bulgaria. Some Americans are saying, "What a shame." And going about their business—and their pleasure. But are these increasing outrages of human decency sending more Americans to church or causing more Bible reading in our homes? Or, are our leisure hours continuing to be spent, week after week, only at movies, at clubs, playing bridge, games of chance, cocktail parties or at other forms of costly entertainment. I wonder what might have been accomplished by now toward world peace if all the money which has gone into these activities in the U.S. in just the past ten years had gone into education and religious work in the trouble spots of the world. When we do go to church many of us go to splendid edifices, with comfortable pews, modern heat, and other conveniences. But what drew our forebears to church? Where is the strong personal faith that kept them warm?

By LYN CONNELLY
NWNS Radio-Screen Editor

THE man with the straw hat, the man with the underslung lip, "Monsieur Pares" himself, is back. We mean, of course, Maurice Chevalier who, like his American counterpart, mammy singer Al Jolson, is still wowing them with his singing, dancing, clowning at the ripe age of 64. Chevalier may be heard Thursday nights on Mutual in a series, entitled "This Is Paris," which begins March 31. The show establishes a unique new feature in radio entertainment by presenting for the first time a regular weekly program from the French capital, prepared by American producers and featuring a passing parade of the finest artists in Europe.

M. Chevalier

In addition, intimate, informative previews of the latest Parisian styles and interviews with leading French fashion designers are a regular feature of each broadcast, which should appeal to fashion-wise American women. Claude Dauphin, talented French film star, acts as master of ceremonies and Paul Baron conducts a 30-piece orchestra in sparkling, oriental compositions and continental arrangements of American favorites. For something distinctive and different, tune in this Mutual program.

PLATTER CHATTER

Capital Peggy Lee, whose is a weird, voodoo sort of song with a terrific background by the chanteuse's hubby, Dave Barbour. Called "Stimulus," it's delightfully cannibalistic. The reverse has a romantic ballad, "White We're Young," which Peggy sings out. Kay Starr does a nice job with a new favorite, "How It Lies, How It Lies, How It Lies." The flip side has her spirited rendition of that old folk tune, "Wabash Cannonball." Betty Gay, a new Capitol star, shows great promise with her hilarious arrangement of that hillbilly number, "I Didn't Know the Gun Was Loaded." The flip has a philosophical ditty ably handled by Andy Parker's Plainmen—"I Ain't Got Nuthin' to America eats hard, drinks hard and plays hard. When it isn't working, it is apt to waste on entertainment and consume millions of dollars worth of liquor—"to forget itself; to forget its troubles." What we should be feeding is the spiritual part of man in order that real personality may develop. We speak glibly of how, in our evolution, the cold made us develop fuel and clothing, and the darkness spurred us on to discover the laws governing light. But we know all this exciting discovery and development is just as possible in the human personality. It is time to give up working only for material ends. We should start to awaken, nourish and develop the only part of us that gives our existence meaning.

This Week's Public Issue

(Editor's Note: Here are some of the pertinent facts on a public issue as prepared by the University of Michigan Department of Political Science. This material is designed to present both sides of the question to help you in your thinking on current issues. Your club or discussion group may also find this column useful.)

SHOULD RENT CONTROLS BE ABOLISHED?

Emergency controls on rents were established in 1942 because of the scarcity of rental housing during the war. The Price Control Act of that year provided for the establishment of maximum rents in "defense-rental areas," usually on the basis of the rents prevailing on April 1, 1941. Since VJ Day the controls have been removed in certain areas and, in 1947, an Act permitted landlords and tenants to enter into voluntary agreements by which rents were raised as much as 15 per cent in exchange for a long-term lease. The federal legislation authorizing rent controls expired March 31. A bill to continue rent controls for a period of 15 months has passed the House and as this is written the issue is before the Senate. The Senate bill extends the controls for 12 months and provides for two automatic increases of five per cent at six months' intervals, except where the 15 per cent increase has already been made. The Senate bill also gives state governments power to end federal controls for all or part of a state at any time. The states could either pass their own rent control acts or decontrol the state by a joint resolution of the legislature approved by the governor.

many available houses for sale but not for rent.

2. The cure for the current shortage of rental housing is to make it profitable for owners to provide it. Landlords who now refuse to rent their property would do so if they could receive an adequate return. Costs of repairs and maintenance have greatly increased in the past ten years. Landlords cannot afford to give post-war service at pre-war rates.

3. Where there are rent controls landlords prefer to rent to single persons or childless couples so as to minimize the wear and tear and the resulting depreciation costs. According to a 1945 Census Bureau report, a 20 per cent increase in the number of dwelling units occupied by single persons took place after the imposition of rent controls, and a 22 per cent increase in those occupied by two people. That, of course, meant a great decrease in the number occupied by families with children. If rent controls were removed, single and childless people would no longer monopolize whole houses and apartments and so there would be more room for families with children.

No. 1. The fundamental cause of the shortage of rental housing is not rent controls but the lack of publicly financed low-cost rental housing. Newly built property is not subject to rent controls. If the removal would make it profitable for landlords to supply rental housing of the kind most needed there should be much building of new apartment houses for rental purposes. Actually present prices make it virtually impossible to provide low-cost rental housing at a profit and thus there is not much new construction of this sort.

2. As long as the present scarcity continues, rent controls in over-crowded areas are an unfortunate necessity. While landlords are entitled to a fair return on their original investment, they should not be allowed to charge all the traffic will bear when everyone knows there is not enough housing to go around. 3. In normal times, rental housing is vacant between five and ten per cent of the time. The 1941 rents were high enough to permit landlords to make a profit in spite of these periods of vacancy. Since 1942 there has been practically no vacant rental housing. The additional income landlords have thus received should compensate for the increased costs of such repairs as the landlords have actually made in a period when they felt little need of making any in order to keep their property rented.

Incoming supplies and outgoing products of the steel industry accounted for 12 per cent of the nation's freight bill last year.
