Dr. George Timpona of Rosedale Gardens was officially appointed postmaster of this city last Saturday. Dr. Timpona, a well known Livonia resident and active Democrat for the last 23 years, will be sworn into office some day this week.

Both the new postmaster and his wife are practicing chiropractors with offices at 32013 Plymouth road. They moved to Detroit from Pittsburgh and for a while Dr. Timpona was an employee of the Detroit Lead Pipe Company.

In 1933 he graduated from the Palmer School of Chiropractic in Davenport, Iowa and returned to make his home in Livonia where he has been practicing since that time.

The Timponas have no children. They will continue to make their residence at 11027 Ingram street in Rosedale Gardens where they now live. Dr. Timpona has been vice chairman of the 17th Congressional District organization of the Democratic party and an active Kiwanian since the inception of the club in Livonia township.

School Plagued by Shortage of Room Facilities

Plymouth residents should congratulate themselves on the knowledge that new school buildings will soon be under construction to accommodate the rapidly increasing number of Plymouth children.

The opening of local elementary schools again revealed that the number of children exceeds the capacity of existing buildings. In spite of uncertainties arising out of the rapid building of homes in the city and the opening of a new parochial school, school officials were partially prepared with temporary facilities outside of the permanent buildings. However, housing for one Central Grade School section is yet to be located. Temporary accommodations have been set up in the school auditorium. In addition, excessive initial enrollment at certain levels may necessitate the securing of other outside rooms before the end of the school year should there be any appreciable growth in school enrollments.

New buildings are but one evidence of improvement in the local schools. Children of the public schools will benefit from the services of special personnel added to the staff this year.

Regular speech correction classes will be under the direction of Mrs. Patsy Ketterer who is making a survey this week and next of children having speech defects. Costs of this program are reimbursable from a special state fund established for the purpose.

Another special service will be available through Miss June Singley, dental hygienist. Miss Singley is now engaged in organizing her program which will include dental cleaning, application of sodium fluoride to pre-

Movie Projector in First Exhibit Shown by Bank

Initial display in the new exhibit corner of the Plymouth United Savings bank is a movie projector with built-in screen, amplifier and speaker which was purchased by the bank for educational purposes in schools and service groups.

Launching a series of weekly exhibits on Plymouth industry to be sponsored by the bank, this first display features Technical Service, Inc., local manufacturers of photographic, movie and tube processing equipment.

The portable projector on exhibit crams an amazing amount of versatility in its weight of 40 pounds. It shows continuously 800 feet of sound or silent, colored or plain film on a 135 square inch screen. This T.S.I. projector can also be used to show movies on a standard screen by changing a lens and placing the removable speaker near the screen.

According to R. P. Nevin, president of Technical Service, the many features designed into the new T.S.I. projector are the result of the company's pioneering

DeLoss Walker Scores Success at C of C Dinner

With tremendous enthusiasm and vigor, DeLoss Walker exploded with the force of an atom bomb Monday night when he spoke at the Chamber of Commerce banquet before a crowd of more than 200 Plymouth business and professional men.

"Plymouth must compete with other towns. Plan now to meet that competition and WIN! Do it through your Chamber of Commerce," emphasized Walker as his inspiring voice rang out through the auditorium at Our Lady of Good Counsel church. All attention was focused on dynamic DeLoss Walker as he pounded home his points on progress for Plymouth.

He pulled no punches. Walker wastes no time with the whiners who complain about the thousands of dollars that are spent in neighboring cities instead of Plymouth and would rather gripe than face reality and DO something about it.

"Nothing stands still," Walker said. "Success will be yours when you learn to adjust. All progress demands that adjustment."

Truly an economic crusader with the keenest insight, Walker advised, "The leaders, the Chamber of Commerce members, will always have the advantage in competition and successful business for leaders are always

Plymouth Firm Completes Three Million Dollar Plant

M. J. Kearins, president of Whitman-Barnes, is shown putting the finishing touches on the cement in the corner of the building last Friday. Employees of the firm took a few minutes off to watch the proceeding which marked the ending of the construction era of the plant and the beginning of a new life for one of the world's largest and most modern tool and die factories. W. B. Feiner, vice-president and works manager, was in charge of the Whitman-Barnes building program.

Governor Appoints Four New Commissioners to Rule City

Appointment of four new city commissioners was made Friday by Governor G. Mennen Williams in the capitol city. Ruling the city for the 45 day interim until a special election is called will be Dr. Luther Peck, Mrs. Nell Cherry, associated with the Plymouth Stamping company, George M. Chute, electrical engineer, and Dr. S. N. Thams.

The alternate named by the governor is Harry Mumby, of the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

Since the Citizens' League instigated the recall action, the Governor said he thought it best that he follow their recommendations for the commission.

Because it is not legally possible for a judge to be a member of the city commission, Probate Judge James Sexton's name had to be taken off of the recommended list.

At the first special meeting of the new city commission Saturday morning, George Chute was elected acting mayor for the interim period. Dr. Luther Peck, first nominated for the office, had to decline the honor.

After Harold Cheek's resignation as city manager was accepted by the new commission, Charles Garlett, city treasurer, was then appointed acting city manager. However, due to legal technicalities, Mr. Garlett could not accept the appointment. At a special meeting Monday afternoon, Albert Glassford was named acting city manager.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the announcement by each commissioner that they had no desire or intention of firing or hiring any of the city personnel during their period in office.

Expanding on these announcements, Mayor Chute, speaking for himself and the rest of the commissioners, said that since they were appointed by the Governor are not elected by the people, the new commissioners would withhold any matters governing policy until a new commission is elected by the people. Since

City Planning Group Resigns

Presented by Chairman Sidney Strong, the group tendered their resignation as a result of the recall election held September 7.

In all probability a new planning commission will not be appointed until the new commission takes office 45 days hence.

K of P Honors Frank Henderson

October 17th Set As Next Day Local Voters Visit Polls Again To Select New Commissioners

Monday, October 17 is the day that local residents will go to the polls and select at least four new members of the city commission. That is the official date set by the acting city commission for the election to fill the vacancies of the four seats on the commission now vacant because of the recall election last Wednesday.

It is the first time in the city's history that an election of this kind has ever been held. It is particularly peculiar in that regardless of the number of candidates there will be no primary.

A majority vote will elect the four candidates. However, since there are two unexpired terms that will expire in April of 1950 and two unexpired terms that will expire in April of 1951, it becomes necessary for any candidate to declare which term of office he is seeking on the ballot. Petitions must carry the names of 96 qualified electors and must be filed by the candidates no later than Tuesday, September 27.

There is also a possibility that local voters might have to select five candidates for the commission at this election, if Mrs. Whipple should also resign, as she said she would in an early campaign statement at a Citizens' League meeting if the four commissioners were recalled. She refused to answer this question when asked about it by former Commissioner Lewis Goddard at the certification meeting last Thursday evening. However, at the organization meeting of the new commission last Friday night she stated she would make a statement regarding her resigning at the next commission meeting which was held last night at the city hall. Whatever statement she made was too late for publication in this issue.

Local Men Open New Ad Agency

Glenn H. Cummings and Nat W. Hopkins have become partners in a new Detroit advertising and public relations agency under the name of Cummings & Hopkins, it was announced this week. Initial advertising accounts will include Continental Motors corp., Muskegon; Michigan Music Co., Detroit franchise holder of Muzak, and Detroit Brickote, Inc.

Both Mr. Cummings and Mr. Hopkins are well known residents of this area, the latter particularly, since he resides at 15410 Lakeside drive on the edge of town. Mr. Cummings resides on Six Mile road near the corner of Northville road. Their many Plymouth friends join with their hopes of friends and associates in Detroit in wishing them well in their new venture.

Both principals are former newspaper men who have been in advertising and public relations work for many years. Hopkins spent 16 years with Campbell-Ewald Co. before joining Continental Motors in 1941. He became Continental's first advertising manager in 1945 and resigned September 1 to enter the agency field.

Cummings has been a writer on business and financial subjects.

Olsaver Quits Appeal Board

The resignation of Dr. John Olsaver as a member of the Board of Appeals was accepted by the city clerk Friday.

The Appeal Board rules on zoning ordinances in the city. Other members of the board are Mrs. Nell Curry, Mrs. Ada Murray, Kenyon Olds and W. A. Bake.

After these resignations were read, Harold Cheek, acting in the capacity of city clerk, certified the results of the recall election held Wednesday, September 7.

When asked by Commissioner Goddard if she would abide by her statement that she would resign if the commissioners were recalled, Commissioner Ruth H. Whipple refused to discuss the question stating that the letter she wrote concerning her promised resignation should be analyzed to notice the conditions in it.

"These conditions have not been met," she said. "I feel that I have lived up to the letter as it was written and read."

Concerning Buzzard's resignation, he asked the commissioners to still feel free to ask for any advice he could give.

These resignations climaxed the fight the city has been having resulting in the recall of the four commissioners in the September 7 election.

Rotarians Hear Constitution Day Program Friday

Theme of Friday's Rotary meeting will center around Constitution Day, which falls this Saturday, September 17. John Dayton is chairman of the program.

"Foreign Exchange" was the topic of Rod Frazer, representing the Manufacturer's National Bank of Detroit, who spoke at last week's meeting. He explained the differences in monetary values throughout the world. Emphasis was placed on the fact that money produced by the United States cannot be passed out of the country until it is exchanged for other currency.

Highlights of the District Kiwanis convention held in Detroit the last week in August were given by President Clarence Moore Tuesday night at the Kiwanis meeting in the Hotel Mayflower.

Plymouth was one of Michigan's 101 clubs represented at the convention. President Moore, Ernest Henry and Ray Williams were the local club's official delegates, although some other members did attend a few of the meetings.

Brisbois, Buzzard, Latture, Cheek Present Resignations at Meeting

In an over-crowded council room Thursday evening, resignations of three city officials were accepted and one was put on file at a special commission meeting held to certify the results of Wednesday's recall election.

City Manager Harold Cheek's resignation was offered and placed on file until accepted by the new commission.

Dr. Harold J. Brisbois and Claude H. Buzzard tendered their resignations as city health commissioner and city attorney. James Latture asked to be relieved of his duties as member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

After these resignations were read, Harold Cheek, acting in the capacity of city clerk, certified the results of the recall election held Wednesday, September 7.

When asked by Commissioner Goddard if she would abide by her statement that she would resign if the commissioners were recalled, Commissioner Ruth H. Whipple refused to discuss the question stating that the letter she wrote concerning her promised resignation should be analyzed to notice the conditions in it.

"These conditions have not been met," she said. "I feel that I have lived up to the letter as it was written and read."

Concerning Buzzard's resignation, he asked the commissioners to still feel free to ask for any advice he could give.

These resignations climaxed the fight the city has been having resulting in the recall of the four commissioners in the September 7 election.

Congress Shall Make No Laws Abridging the Freedom of The Press
What I Think and Have A Right to Say
By ELTON R. EATON

FORGIVE AND FORGET.

Plymouth has just begun to emerge from one of the most unfortunate civic elections in its entire history. Maybe some good has been done and maybe not. Only time will tell. There are those who think that out of it will come a better municipal government and a more considerate administration of local affairs.

Surely there should be, think others, a much more diplomatic handling of the relationship between the city government and its citizens. Some probably think that the four recalled commissioners got what they "deserved" for supporting the decisions of the city manager. Others think that four prominent, loyal and highly respectable citizens were crucified for doing what they believed to be for the best interests of the city.

No matter what you think—no matter what your interests might be—all of these should be forgotten as quickly as possible—and we should begin to build upon a new foundation, with a complete elimination of all that has in any way been responsible for what has happened.

The promised resignation of the one commissioner who did not face recall is an absolute necessity.

The promise to resign doubtless saved her from recall action which had been advocated at the time the promise was made to resign if the other four commissioners were recalled. Unless that resignation is forthcoming, the city has gained nothing as we see it, as it will simply be a continued wrangle such as has disgraced our municipal affairs for years.

The foundation should be a commission of five NEW members, five good citizens of Plymouth who are in no way associated with any of the miserable little political cliques that have made it almost an impossibility to get responsible citizens to run for election to the commission.

Well do we recall a conversation we had some years ago with one of Plymouth's most prominent and respected citizens. It had been suggested that he become a candidate for the city commission.

His immediate response was that the writer could talk to him about anything else except Plymouth politics. "Any man is crazy to become a candidate for the city commission and run the risk of facing the smear that goes with it. No, I do not care to become a victim of half-truths and untruths," he asserted.

But that is of the past and we desire to discuss only the future—with the opportunities and the developments that lie ahead of us if we will FORGIVE AND FORGET.

A commission of FIVE new members—men and women who think more of Plymouth, its business, its industries, its civic, religious and educational possibilities than of some petty political job or ways to do some mean little thing or to "get even" with some one we don't like—a commission made up of men of vision—men and women who can look into the years ahead and who know what to do and how to build for the future.

We do not mean to say that we have not had such men on the commission in the past—as we have had—but we are talking of an entirely NEW commission faced with none of the handicaps of the past.

To our way of thinking, Plymouth is by far the best city of its size in the entire country. There are none equal to it. And a city is made up of people. The vast majority of people in Plymouth are the right kind of people and they, too, have only the good of Plymouth at heart.

As we see it, the storm has made it necessary for an entirely new foundation, a new building—and out of this edifice there MUST flow the highest type of municipal leadership Plymouth has ever had—and we cannot gain that leadership without an entirely NEW commission—and a citizenship that is willing to forgive and forget—and work like Trojans for a greater and better Plymouth.

CONGRATULATIONS FOR GOOD JUDGMENT.

We highly commend Supt. Helmer Nelson and members of the Plymouth school board for naming the proposed beautiful new grade school building in honor of former Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith. It was an honor rightly bestowed. It will serve as a constant reminder to future generations that the good deeds and the good work of an educational leader are not forgotten.

The George A. Smith Elementary School, which will soon be constructed, will be one of the most modern educational buildings in the state of Michigan.

Right now we should start plans so that the entire community can show to Mr. Smith the exceptionally high regard we all have for him. He has been a worker not only for better things in the educational world, but for the good city of Plymouth as well. When the day of dedication arrives there will be a splendid opportunity for this entire area to show to Mr. Smith our high appreciation for the good that he has done not only for the boys and girls of the community—but the city itself.

ABOUT SENATOR VANDENBERG.

It is rather distressing news that comes out of Washington telling of the fact that Senator Vandenberg must soon go to the University of Michigan hospital for what might prove to be a serious operation.

What the nature of his illness is, has not been indicated in news dispatches. Our able Senatorial leader is too badly needed in Washington in these times to be spared for long. Every good citizen of Michigan hopes that he may be quickly restored to good health so that he can continue his everlasting vigilance for the peace of America—and the world.

William G. Elliott Claims Bride in Double Ring Ceremony August 6

William George Elliott claimed Elizabeth Francis Wiseman, as his bride in a candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert Little in Dane Street Congregational church in Beverly, Massachusetts on Saturday, August 6.

The bride's mother is Mrs. Ethel B. Wiseman of Prospect street, Beverly, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elliott of Church street, Plymouth, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Palms and baskets of white gladioli and carnations decorated the church for the 7 p.m. service. Mr. Scott, the soloist, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." A double ring service was used.

Entering on the arm of her brother, Robert L. Wiseman, the bride wore a gown of white frosted organza and a three-quarter length veil held in place by an eyelet organza bonnet trimmed with orange blossoms. She wore pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

For her duties as matron of honor, Mrs. Robert I. Cahn of Rowley, Massachusetts, cousin of the bride, chose a gown of white organza over Nile green taffeta with a green sash and a horse-hair hat in the same shade. Her flowers were yellow summer chrysanthemums.

Wearing gowns styled similar to the matron of honor's were the bridesmaids, Miss Evelyn Elliott of Plymouth and Mrs. Norman Van Dine of Beverly, Massachusetts. They wore matching hats and carried bronze chrysanthemums.

Serving as best man was Robert Houghton of Plymouth, and seating the guests were William W. Wiseman of Beverly, brother of the bride, and John J. Elliott, a brother of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride donned a blue crepe gown with pink hat and gloves and a pink orchid corsage. Mrs. Elliott, the bridegroom's mother, chose a grey chiffon dress with grey feathered hat and grey gloves. Her corsage was also a pink orchid.

Following a reception at Hotel Hawthorne in Salem, the newly wed couple left on a motor trip to the Adirondacks, Canada and Michigan.

On their return they will make their home on Bridge street, in Beverly and will be at home to their friends after August 18.

vent decay, and an educational program in dental health. Cleaning and application of sodium fluoride will be carried out only with parents' consent and the payment of a small charge yet to be determined.

The program will be conducted under the supervision of the Michigan Department of Health with the local assistance of an advisory committee of parents, teachers and representation of local dentists.

Some parents visiting certain classrooms on opening day in both Central and Starkweather Elementary schools were a bit startled at the changed appearance of the rooms. Instead of the usual rigidly fixed rows of seats they saw the latest in modern, blond finish, movable school furniture arranged so that communication between pupils as well as between teacher and pupils might more easily be carried on.

The new furnishings are expected to serve two purposes, according to school officials. First, they provide an opportunity to try out three types of seating on an experimental basis which should provide guidance in selecting furniture for buildings to be constructed under the new building program. Second, they provide a changed physical setting conducive to the development of improved teaching practices.

These, according to Paul Johnson, elementary coordinator, place special emphasis on the development of initiative, self-direction, critical thinking and self-discipline through democratic classroom procedures. Governor Appoints 4 New Commissioners to Rule City

(Continued from page 1) none of the new commissioners has been given any orders nor do they have any commitments. Chute stated that any blame should be placed on each individual, not on any individual organization.

Not promising that there would be no hiring or firing of city personnel, Commissioner Whipple stated that it wasn't the intention of the commission to do so.

Another special meeting of the commission was called for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 14. The next regular meeting will be Monday, September 19.

PUBLIC LETTER BOX

To the Editor: "I appreciate this opportunity to thank all of you who worked and voted to support me in the recall referendum. I hope you will continue to maintain that active and constructive interest in our city government." Sgd. Lewis H. Goddard

To the Editor: "Now that the election is over and the majority of the residents have expressed their desires, I wish to take this opportunity to thank all of my friends for their confidence in me. It has been gratifying to have many of the members of the opposition come to me and say that their vote was in no way an expression against me, but they voted the way they did with one object in mind." However, Plymouth is an excellent city in which to live and I urge every resident to turn their efforts to unity for the good of the entire community so that we may build even a better place in which to live and raise our children." Sgd. William C. Hartmann

To the Editor: "I should like to express my deepest gratitude to hundreds of my friends and neighbors who have been so much help to me in the past four months. Mrs. Sackett and I have appreciated your efforts, and I only wish we could thank each one of you personally." Now that the election is over and the city has a new government, I sincerely hope that all disagreements and differences are ended, too. Whatever our opinions have been, I hope that now we will all be good friends and good neighbors working together for the best interests of our city." Sgd. Lee R. Sackett

IN MEMORIAM In loving memory of our dear mother, Elizabeth Gates, who passed away September 16, 1948. The month of September again is here. To us the saddest of all the year. Fehlig who passed away one year ago today, September 15. No one hears the door that opens When they pass beyond our call. Soft as dropping of the roses. One by one our loved ones fall. ### Convention Notes Told at Kiwanis Meeting Tuesday pointed out that everywhere Kiwanians are striving to build a stronger citizenship to combat socialism, and a speech by Jay D. Runkle who spoke on the profit system in the United States. Mr. Runkle is vice-president and general manager of Crowley-Milners in Detroit.

The Hon. Albert J. Engle, member of congress from the 9th district of Michigan, spoke on the subject "The Washington Run-Around."
Mr. Moore stated that when everyone left the convention, each felt proud that he was part of such an organization as Kiwanis. He feels that Kiwanis clubs throughout the nation enable men to give something to his community and his country. They provide one way to create world brotherhood.

DeLoss Walker Scores Success at C of C Dinner

ahead of the crowd. Plymouth needs a strong Chamber of Commerce. Join it! Put it over! It will work for you."
Speaking of the program to be mapped out by the Chamber, Walker told the audience, in which all service clubs of Plymouth were represented, that the ideas had to come from the business men themselves. Once formulated, the program must be kept ambitious and up-to-date. Walker advised "Change it with your changing needs. I know you can win if you all unite through Plymouth's Chamber of Commerce."
Founding the table with such power that the water glasses bounced, Walker pleaded for preservation of the American way. "No legislation or government can change the economic laws of the universe," he said as he debunked socialism and communism.

"The answer to our problems and to our desires is found in one simple thing, more and better production and at a lower cost."

Walker challenged, "Competition is going to be keen; it will be fierce, it will wipe out the weak hearts. It is a challenge to men of fortitude. A champion athlete sweats to win; he suffers pain for victory; it's fun. So, dig in. Welcome competition, for it is our best friend. Competition forces you to action, to study a problem, to learn and to grow. This year's meeting such a struggle test. Through such a struggle men build character."

With these words, DeLoss Walker climaxed a day of speaking, conferences and visiting in Plymouth, Monday morning he told a high school assembly audience that success is individual. "Take advantage of your present educational opportunities for success in later life. There is no room in the world today for an ignorant man. Get wisdom and understanding," he advised.

Walker met with the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce for a luncheon meeting to discuss various problems and decisions facing the Plymouth group.
All those who met and heard Walker throughout the day were impressed by his stimulating personality and appeal. His words were a battle cry for organized leadership. He delivered a challenge to every Plymouth man and woman.

Don't Throw Away Dollars TO SAVE PENNIES on EGG MASH

Figure it out! See for yourself how the savings you can sometimes make on price are too small to offset the extra profit you can make from Larro Egg Mash. Just one extra egg per bird every month can wipe out a difference of $1.12 per bag. Let these figures prove it to you.

A Leghorn hen eats about 40 lbs. of Larro Egg Mash a year. Therefore, 1 ton of egg mash will feed 50 laying Leghorns for 1 year. 50 hens x 1 more egg = 50 extra eggs per month. 50 extra eggs per month x 12 months = 600 extra eggs per year from 1 ton of mash. 600 eggs = 50 dozen x 45c = $22.50 more income per ton of mash.

—actually $1.12 per bag

See how you can be fooled by a saving in price? See how high quality Larro Egg Mash makes profits jump! Put your flock on Larro today—watch results!

Six Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †

Jesus and the Pharisees
Lesson for September 11: Psalms 8:12; Matthew 21:15-18; Psalms 119:1; Matthew 22:41-48; Psalms 118:22-23; Matthew 21:38-39, 42; Luke 22:43

THE LESSON text it will be observed the passage from the Psalms is first given, then the New Testament verses that show our Lord's use of the Psalms quoted. This ready use of the Psalms, while he was in controversy with the Pharisees and Sadducees, shows how the Lord's mind was stored with the language of the Scriptures. And it illustrates how the Scriptures are an aid to those who are defending their faith.

In the first instance Jesus answered the chief priests and the scribes who took offense at the children's song in the temple. In the second our Lord silenced his enemies when they had declared that Christ is the son of David. In the third instance Jesus condemned the leaders of the people who rejected him as the Messiah.

Christ is found in the Old Testament as well as the New. While we usually think of the New Testament as concerned with Jesus the Christ, let us see and appreciate the large place he has in the Old. Today's lesson emphasizes that the coming of Jesus is foreshadowed in the Psalms.

Of the several instances dealt with in the lesson, let us think of the discarded stone as becoming the head of the corner. The Lord who was rejected of his own people has found the preeminent place in the hearts of men the world around. May he be the corner stone in your own temple of life!

Scout Leaders Report Plans For Their Annual Meeting in October

Several events of note occurred at the last Sunset District executive committee meeting held at Belleville on the evening of August 31.

Present at this meeting were the following district and council officers: Ted Kuckelman, district chairman; Kenneth Swarthout, Kenneth Hulsing, W.D. Wallace, LeRoy Rafferty of the district and A.V. Newman and district executive, Frank Specht of the Detroit Area Council.

Quite indicative of the new-found life of our district's Scouting program was the report of W.D. Wallace, chairman of the advancement committee, which is in the process of organization and includes the following new members: Eugene Benson of Plymouth, James Watson of Garden City and Joseph Leiminger of Wayne.

We of the district extend a welcoming hand to our new friends and co-workers in Scouting and wish them a long tenure of Scouting life.

The nominating committee reported the names of those men advocated for office for the 1949-50 term. In addition to the names of the men selected by the nominating committee, the executive committee requested the addition of the names of Eugene Benson and Henry Hees of Plymouth, Watson of Garden City and Leiminger of Wayne to the list of nominees.

Under the title of new business, the matter of the District's annual meeting was discussed. The date of Wednesday, October 26 was decided upon, the hour will be 8 p.m. The place chosen for the affair was the Wayne County General Hospital (Eloise) auditorium. The hospital was chosen because of its centralized location and available room for a large turnout.

This is an adult affair, and with the exception of such Cub Scouts as are personally invited to take part in the general program, others are excluded in favor of the grown-ups, both registered Scouters, parents and friends of the Scouting fraternity.

Tickets for this affair will be available through your Cub

Costing but 25 cents each, we highly recommend them as well worth while for an evening's entertainment in a different sort of event from the usual. As it means a lot to your Scouts and Cubs, we urge you to join our party.

Rural Tele-news

GOOD CUSTOMERS OF YOURS—The average Michigan family eats about $500 worth of fruits, vegetables and dairy products a year. On this basis, Michigan Bell employees and their families consume about $12,000,000 worth of farm products a year, much of which is produced by Michigan farmers.

HOUSEKEEPING NOTE—Can you imagine dusting the millions of tiny parts in telephone dial switching equipment? Michigan Bell does it by blowing out the dust with compressed air. In some telephone buildings a vacuum cleaner system is used to draw the dust into filters where it is collected for disposal. Good housekeeping helps to keep telephone service operating efficiently.

EVERY MINUTE COUNTS AT HARVEST TIME
If your farm machinery breaks down, a quick Long Distance call will start spare parts on the way from your distributor or the factory. And when you're busy, telephoning is the easy way to keep in touch with friends and relatives who live at a distance. Service is friendly and courteous. And Long Distance calls cost surprisingly little.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
Our $13,300,000 postwar rural construction program means more and better rural telephone service.

Plymouth Takes First in State MRA Golf Tournament at Hilltop

With only two teams represented in the Michigan Recreation Association tournament, Plymouth won the trophy by taking first place in front of Ypsilanti. The tournament was held at Hilltop Golf course on September 10.

Plymouth won the tourney by five strokes. Tom Lock was medalist for the locals with a 75, while Jim Dixon of Ypsilanti had the same score as the medalist on the losing team.

Other teams that were supposed to show up were Willow Village and Pontiac. They both lost their fees.

The winning team members were awarded medals. They were Tom Lock, Jack Palmer, Elton McAllister, Larry Bentley and Hank Schuitz.

This was the best year that a state MRA golf tournament was held. It is hoped that more teams will be entered next year.

Shorts in Sports

Cross country, as in the case of football, does not have very many boys out this year. It appears that Plymouth High school is not very sports minded. Kon Moiso, reports that only 12 boys have come out for cross country, and hope more boys turn out for the thin clad squad.

Don Mason, who has been playing regular as a guard for the Spartans of Michigan State for the last two years, is remembered by many Plymouth sportsmen who have played against him in athletics. Mason played for Wayne in the Suburban B league a few years back. This year he is picked by many as one of the best linemen in the mid-west. Excelling not only in one sport, Don was viewed by local softball fans when playing with Wayne-Northside pharmacy as they lost to the Detroit House of Correction 1-0.

Cross Country Team Gets First Workout Monday

The cross country team, again coached by Konrad Mason, reported for their first workout on Monday.

Only 12 boys turned out. Of these, only four lettermen have returned. They include Louis Varcho, Calvin Becker, Dan Green and Dick Underwood. The boys are preparing for their first meet which will be with Ypsilanti.

Following is the season's schedule:

Allens Knocked Out in Inter-County Game 5-2

Allen Industries, who were going strong in the Inter-County league of Class B, lost their baseball game Sunday, September 11 that knocked them out of the playoffs. Clarenceville downed Allen by a score of 5-2.

They lost a game earlier in the playoffs. Clarenceville plays at Romulus Sunday afternoon. This championship game will terminate the season.

Great Americans Add New Course

With a new flying course added, the Great American Boys club are meeting in the hanger each week on Tuesday nights at 7 at Mettetal airport.

Once a month the class has a contest on take-off and landing to check their advancement from the ground course. This month's winner was 17 year old Herbert Cougar.

Any boy between the ages of 10 and 21 who is interested in the course should notify Charles J. Miller by phone 857-J3 or Robert Mettetal phone 9108.

Basketball Talk in Air Already

It's not too early for managers to begin thinking about basketball. Anyone wishing to enter basketball teams in the men's and women's inter-city league should contact Herb Woolweaver, recreation director, as soon as possible.

Teams that have already shown interest in the league for men are Whitman-Barnes, Wayne County Training school, Detroit House of Correction, and two teams from the neighboring city of Northville. In the women's league, Daisy Air Rifle, two Wayne squads and two Northville teams have inquired about the league.

Woolweaver states that he would like to see more industrial teams represented in the basketball league, such as the number in the softball leagues.

The deadline for team entries will be November 11. The season will begin about the first week of December.

This year college students will be barred from the league unless they live in the community of the team that they are playing for. The teams will be limited to men only from Northville and Plymouth.

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines

BY • ELTON R. EATON

So you are one of the many hundreds of duck hunters planning to go duck hunting when the season opens on October 7, are you? Well, remember one thing, you cannot shoot a duck before NOON on the opening day.

Waterfowl hunters who want to know when they may start shooting in the morning and when they must stop firing at night can get their answers now. Time table maps showing shooting hours for every part of the state have been made available in all district and regional offices of the conservation department.

Hunters can begin shooting ducks, geese (except Ross' geese), coots, rails and gallinules at 12:00 noon, EST., on opening day, Oct. 7. After the first day, however, the opening hours will range from 6:04 a.m. on Oct. 8 in southeastern Michigan (part of Huron, Sanilac, Lapeer, Macomb, Wayne and all St. Clair county) to 7:15 a.m. on Nov. 12 in northwestern sectors (part of Houghton, Ontonagon, Iron and Gogebic counties).

Closing hours for state hunters will vary from 5:01 p.m. on opening day in the southeast to 4:39 p.m. in the northwest on the final day of the season. The maps also show counties in which Sunday hunting bans exist and in which bear are unprotected.

Plymouth hunters may desire to write directly to the Conservation Department, State Office Building, Lansing, Michigan for the information they seek about duck hunting.

The wood duck is finally getting some relief from the housing shortage. New methods of locating nesting boxes on cedar poles set in ponds and marshes, rather than in trees along the shore, are creating reserves of wood duck. The new conservation practice was worked out by the Massachusetts Department of Conservation, which utilized funds made available by the Pittman-Robertson Federal Aid to Wildlife Restoration Act, the Fish and Wildlife Service reported.

Pennsylvania, Vermont, New Hampshire, Ohio and other states are following suit and are setting up nesting boxes on poles in the water. Boxes are sometimes made from war-surplus shipping crates and ammunition cases. The work of distribution and placement is usually done by volunteer conservationists in the winter when ice on lakes and marshes makes it possible to set up the boxes and poles. Wood shavings or other nesting material must be added.

Reports now coming in indicate that up to 90 percent of the boxes placed in certain areas last year were occupied by wood duck families. Formerly, occupancy was limited to only 16 percent of the nesting boxes—which had been placed in trees.

The wood duck was so scarce at one time that it was completely protected by law. The wood duck commonly nests in holes of mature or over age trees, and these have been heavily cropped by farmers and lumbermen, undoubtedly causing a shortage of nesting sites.

For some years, sporting clubs and state agencies tried to relieve the wood duck's housing shortage by placing nesting boxes in trees, but this was not too successful.

On and after September 23, it will not be necessary for you to throw back into the river or lake that little four or five inch perch or bluegill that was foolish enough to bite your hook.

Removal of the six-inch limit becomes effective on September 23. After that date you will not be arrested for having an undersize perch, bluegill or sunfish in your possession. The size limit, however, is not removed from bass or other large fish. The number you may catch has not been changed, so your small fish will count in the total number you may take.

Water levels dropped more than four inches last month to one of the lowest average stages in 14 years of August record, the conservation department's geological survey reports.

Measurements at 44 northern lower peninsula shallow wells showed an average ground water level of 1.66 feet which is next to the August record low of 1.35 feet set in 1936. The July average stage this year was 2.10 feet. The August water level is .66 foot lower than the 10-year August average.

'Protect Children' Theme of Police Safety Campaign

The current traffic safety campaign to protect children is the result of child traffic accident records, according to Sgt. Harry P. Kozowicz, of the Detroit post of the Michigan State police.

"The slogan, 'Watch Out For Kids', that has been selected for this month in connection with the reopening of school just about tells the whole story," Sgt. Kozowicz said.

"Last year nearly 6,500 children were killed or injured in traffic accidents in Michigan. Of these 4,500 were child pedestrians or bicyclists. This tragic toll must be reduced, and the only way is for drivers to assume the responsibility of being extra careful whenever they are in an area where there may be children.

"Children are impulsive and they also forget. They'll dash out into the street or the highway and do other dangerous things without thinking. Certainly they are violating the rules of safety, but that isn't much consolation when there's an accident.

"With the arrival of September more than a million Michigan children are again crossing the streets and highways each day on their way to and from school. It's up to the driver to protect them from harm by being alert and cautious.

"In other words, watch out for kids."

Schools, police agencies and various organizations have joined in carrying on the child safety program.

Saturday Evening Nuptials Unite Miss Schuler and Mr. Bacheldor

Before a background of palm lighted tapers in cathedral candleabra and baskets of white gladioli and baby mums, Jeanne Ellen Schuler and Ralph Bacheldor pledged their vows in an 8 p.m. ceremony Saturday, September 10. Taking place in the First Presbyterian church, the double ring rites were read by Dr. Henry J. Walch. The reception followed in the church parlors.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Schuler of Arthur street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bacheldor of South Main street.

Accompanied by Fred Nelson, church organist, the soloist, F. Earl Reh, sang "Because". "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Mr. Reh during the wedding service.

For the candlelight ceremony, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin designed with a fitted bodice pointed at the waist and a yoke of illusion with a jewel neckline. Covered buttons extended from the neck to the waist in the back, and the full skirt ended in a circular train.

A braided cloche of ivory satin secured her fingertip veil of misty illusion. Encircled in stephanotis, an orchid rested on the bride's white prayer book. Ribbon streamers in which were caught stephanotis blossoms fell from the prayer book.

To attend her as maid of honor, the bride asked Annabelle Hall of Detroit. Fashioned from balsam green satin, Miss Hall's gown featured a sweetheart neckline, bouffant skirt and bustle back. Completing the wedding ensemble of the maid of honor were short mitts in balsam green and a braided headpiece of satin in the same shade and grey tulle. Miss Hall carried a colonial bouquet of yellow baby mums.

Wearing gowns and accessories identical to the maid of honor's were the bridesmaids.

Mrs. Stewart Woodfenden of Des Moines, Iowa; Lois Earnhart of Phillipsburg, New Jersey and Natalie Reitzel of Lansing. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of yellow and rust baby mums.

The bridegroom's brother, Robert Bacheldor, acted as best man, while duties of the ushers were carried out by John Bacheldor, another brother of the bridegroom, Robert Minock, Mack Chrysler of Chatham, Ontario and Fred Hopkins.

A formal length gown in the ashes of roses shade with matching hat was chosen by Mrs. Schuler for her daughter's wedding. A corsage of bronze gladioli completed her wedding costume.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bacheldor, was attired in a beige crepe dinner gown and a green hat accented by bronze velvet flowers. Her corsage was yellow roses.

Two hundred and fifty guests registered in the guest book at the reception which followed the evening ceremony. Presiding at the register was Mrs. William Pendergrass of Detroit.

A graduate of Plymouth High school, the new Mrs. Bacheldor attended Hillsdale college and was graduated from the Business Institute in Detroit. Mr. Bacheldor will resume studies for his senior year at Michigan State college when the young couple return from their week's honeymoon to Muskegon lake, Ontario in northern Canada. For traveling the bride chose a taupe Millington suit with green accessories. Final touch was the orchid corsage she pinned to the shoulder of her suit.

After returning from their honeymoon, the newly wed couple will be at home in East Lansing.

In 1861 there were two presidents in the United States—Lincoln in the North and Jefferson Davis in the South.

Pears Combine Mineral, Vitamin Content With Delightful Flavor

Pears are another of the fruits appearing in large amounts in Plymouth markets. Their sweet juiciness makes them popular with most people, so their reasonable prices are welcomed by everyone.

Here's another case of food value matching delightful flavor, according to the Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross. Whether they're served "as is" in a salad or a dessert, they will boost the day's intake of health building minerals and vitamins.

Pears are not good keepers, so it's best to buy them in the quantities that can be used within a few days. For all purposes, other than for pickling, they should be fully ripe so the flavor will be at its peak.

They will probably be slightly green when you buy them at the market, so store them at room temperature until the flesh gives to a slight pressure of the fingers. Place them in the refrigerator to hold them at this point.

To make the most of plentiful pears, serve them in a variety of ways. They're hard to beat as salad material, and one of their best partners in this form is cheese. For a main course salad, top halves of fresh pears which have been dipped in lemon juice to prevent discoloration, with grated American cheese, adding a dash of paprika for color, if liked.

For a dessert salad, substitute a milder cheese, either cream or cottage. With either of these combinations chopped nuts, currant jelly or mint jelly is an attractive garnish. Slices of fresh pears are tempting additions to any fruit salad bowl. A fully ripe pear is a delicious dessert served with crisp crackers and cheese, but the fruit can be dressed up to top off a dinner or luncheon, too. If the dessert is cooked, choose firm pears so they will hold their shape.

BAKED PEARS
Six large, firm pears, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons chopped, candied ginger, if liked.

Wash pears and pare them, leaving whole stems on. Place in baking dish. Pour over them a syrup made by boiling sugar, water and lemon juice together for 5 minutes also the ginger, if used. Cover dish. Bake pears in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until almost tender, about 30 minutes. Remove cover. Increase heat to 450 degrees and bake another 10 minutes, or until the fruit is glazed, dipping syrup in dish over pears at frequent intervals. Serve warm or cold, with or without cream. Serves 6.

PEAR PIE
Make favorite pastry, adding 1/2 teaspoon sugar to 1 1/2 cups flour. Line 9 inch pie pan with pastry and fill with peeled and sliced, fully ripe pears. Sprinkle with 1 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cup water and a dash of cinnamon. Dot with butter. Cover with lattice work of pastry. Bake in hot oven for about 30 minutes longer or until pastry is brown and fruit is tender. Serve warm with cheese.

CANNED PEARS
Wash fully ripe, firm pears, peel, cut in halves and core. To prevent darkening, drop fruit into water containing 2 tablespoons each of salt and vinegar per gallon. Drain thoroughly. Drop into clean, hot jars, filling with fruit and syrup to within half inch of top. Adjust caps. Process in water bath at boiling temperature 20 minutes for pint or quart jars. Remove from canner and complete seal at once unless self-sealing caps are used.

PEAR CHIPS
Three and one-half pounds of sugar, 4 cups water, 2 lemons, thinly sliced, 2 ounces candied ginger, chopped, 4 pounds firm pears, peeled, cored and sliced thin.

Make a syrup of sugar and water. Add remaining ingredients and simmer for 1 hour or until fruit is clear and syrup is thickened. Pour into sterilized, hot glasses or jars and seal at once. Makes about 12 six ounce glasses.

Walnuts Used in Recipe for Ice Box Date Cookies

Ideal for luncheon desserts or in-between-meal snacks are these delicious ice box cookies made with dates and chopped walnuts.

Not only pleasing to the palate, they can be made up far in advance and baked at a time when the Plymouth homemaker wishes to serve fresh cookies but doesn't have time to stir up the batter.

DATE SWIRLS
1/2 pound pitted dates, finely chopped
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
1/4 teaspoon salt

Cook together the dates, sugar and water for about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add the nuts and salt. Cool mixture while mixing the cookie dough. Make cookie dough as follows: 2 cups sifted flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup lard, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1 egg, well beaten.

Sift together flour, salt and soda. Cream lard and sugar thoroughly; add egg. Add sifted dry ingredients. Chill the dough slightly. Roll dough into a rectangular 1/4-inch thick. Spread the date mixture over the sheet of dough, roll up like a jelly-roll, wrap in wax paper, and chill overnight. Slice 1/4-inch thick with a sharp knife, and bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield: 5 dozen cookies.

"EASY DOES IT"
BY HELEN HALE
SAVE THE LIQUID from sweet pickles if you want a delightfully different seasoning for Harvard beets in place of the water. It may also be used for deviled eggs, salads and basting meat loaf or Swiss steak.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
French Ham Sandwiches
(Serves 4-6)
2 cups ground, cooked ham
2 tablespoons creamed butter
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
8 slices white bread
1-2 tablespoons butter
1 egg
1/2 cup milk

Mix ham, creamed butter and seasonings thoroughly. Spread evenly on four slices of bread. Top with remaining slices and press together. Cut sandwiches in halves or strips, as desired. Melt butter and preheat griddle. Dip sandwiches slightly in the beaten egg and milk, and saute on each side in griddle until golden brown.

When you serve a molded salad and have only the unattractive bits and pieces leftover, melt these in the top of a double boiler and pour into small molds for a salad that will be pretty again.

Garlic cooks and burns more readily than onion, so never cook the two together. Cook onion first, then add the garlic.

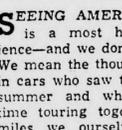

Kitchen tongs are handy to use for lifting vegetables out of their pans or kettles, without burning the fingers. Use the tongs to arrange the vegetables attractively around the meat on a platter for serving.

If you buy sliced cold meats and cheese, place pieces of waxed paper in between each slice as soon as you bring them home, before refrigerating. This makes them come apart easily without tearing meat or cheese.

Pour milk on cereal first, then dust on sugar, and you'll use a lot less of the sweetener and have less of it seep to the bottom of the bowl where it is not eaten but washed off.

Individual lamb pies are interesting on any dinner table. Brown cubes of lamb in a small amount of hot lard in a frying-pan. Add liquid and bite-sized cubes of favorite vegetables for a savory stew, then pour the combination into pastry lined tart pans. Cover with a pastry topping and bake the pies in a moderate (350 F.) oven for about one hour.

Successful Parenthood

MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

SEEING AMERICA on vacation is a most heartening experience—and we don't mean scenery. We mean the thousands of families in cars who saw their country this summer and who had a happy time touring together. In all the miles we ourselves covered we never saw one family that wasn't smiling and good natured and thrillingly interested. Not one parent raised his voice in our hearing to speak crossly to a child. Not one child whined unhappily. Despite the fatigue of driving and the uncertainties of feeding a family on the road, they all looked healthy and relaxed. And there was gratitude in their faces for the vast national parks, the good roads, the great stretches of rich land that make America.

We realized as never before that the real wealth of this richest of the earth's nations was in these amiable, appreciative, courteous, kindly people. For months these fathers had a depression hanging over their heads—and they would have none of it. Take the kids and have a good vacation, they seemed to have said, and things will pick up in the fall. Don't deny the children their childhood—and while we're about it, let's you and I, Mother, share that childhood!

And the children were really wonderful! So strong and self-reliant that they could take touring in their stride without the stomach upsets which children used to have whenever some new excitement entered their lives. Radio, movies, television, the daily papers—at 10, their minds take more things for granted than ours did at 15. And everything they see on a trip has some association with what they've read, or heard on the air, or seen on the screen. Where we did well to know a town or a county familiarly, these children know their state and a lot of other states too. This largeness of outlook is solid background for an education—and it'll have that too. Moreover, a lot of the youngsters we talked with were looking forward to the opening of school!

Another promising element in the opportunity these children have to build happy, healthful lives is the school lunch program. Among my acquaintances of the trip was the manager of a school cafeteria, and when she described the quantities of good, wholesome food which is provided for the noonday meal I was amazed. Whether the child pays a nominal sum or is fed free, the food is sufficient to give a solid nutritional base to the daily diet that is insurance against undernourishment. Even families without the means or the knowledge to complete this well-balanced daily fare with good home meals should find their children in better health because of the school lunch adequacy.

Perhaps if we looked around us lovingly a little more when we are at home it wouldn't take a vacation trip to make us glow with pride over American families!

Fall Months Call For Spareribs

Spareribs answer the call for satisfying food on days when shades of fall begin to appear. This rich, flavorful meat may be either roasted or braised for serving in a variety of tempting ways.

To start the season right roast spareribs with a good bread and sage stuffing, suggests Reba Staggs, home economist. The stuffing is spread on one section of ribs, then topped with another section. The stuffed ribs go on a rack in an open roasting pan and are cooked at a moderate temperature (350° F.) for 1 1/2 hours or until tender. For serving, the sections are cut into individual ribs.

A corn bread mixture or a fruited combination of pineapple slices, prunes, quartered apples sprinkled with brown sugar present flavorsome stuffing changes.

Barbecued ribs equally fit the fall menu. The ribs are browned in a small amount of hot lard as in the usual braising procedure. A tangy barbecue sauce is added, the pan tightly covered and the ribs allowed to cook slowly for about 1 1/2 hours. Fruit juice may be substituted for the barbecue sauce.

For an interesting edible centerpiece pour corn bread batter into a greased ring mold. When baked, fill the ring with creamed ham and serve immediately.

Looking for Quick Meal Ideas? Serve Hot Ready-to-Eat Meats

Quick and toothsome hot main dishes are busy Plymouth homemaker's delight and many of today's simplest dishes wisely take advantage of the numerous ready-to-serve meats. They are not only grand when served alone, but give spiciness and flavor when added to other dishes.

Versatile cold cuts respond to various types of preparation. Half inch slices of veal loaf, liver sausage or any of the other cuts may be dotted with butter or margarine, placed in a frying-pan, slowly browned on both sides and served immediately. Tomato halves heated along with the meat make an attractive platter accompaniment.

For slices of ready-to-serve meats may be browned first in a small amount of lard or drippings, a barbecue sauce added and the combination thoroughly heated.

For additional zest, julienne strips of salami or minced ham are added to scalloped potatoes, or the meat may be formed into layers alternating with the potato slices. Baked potatoes are extra tempting when meat stuffed. Split and scoop out the potato. Mash the potato with diced pimiento loaf or liver loaf, season and moisten with cream. Refill the shell and place the potatoes in the broiler to lightly brown.

Bite-sized squares of mildly seasoned corvetail or the heavily smoked thuringer lend increased interest to an gratin green beans or to seasoned noodles. For a different breakfast treat, chopped salami is combined with scrambled eggs.

Hot sandwich preparation is also a simple matter with ready-to-serve meats. For one combination, slices of bread are covered with American or Swiss cheese, topped with liver sausage and brushed with melted butter or margarine. More cheese covers the meat and the open sandwich is placed on the broiler rack about two inches from the heat to cook until the cheese is melted over the spicy sausage.

The Plymouth High school band was one of the 60 bands representing every section of Michigan which played in a musical program throughout the Centennial Michigan State fair, September 2 through 11.

The Plymouth band, directed by Paul T. Wagner, presented a half-hour concert in the music shell on Saturday, September 10.

The members of the band were guests of the general manager James D. Friel and the fair's board of managers at many of the other attractions of the fair.

New Teachers Join Faculty at Plymouth High

Three new teachers have joined the high school faculty bringing the total to 51 teachers and instructors. This number includes Mr. A. J. Alford, junior high principal and Mr. C. E. Pierce, senior high principal.

Heading the list of new teachers is Mrs. Esther B. Ham, who will take over the library in the place of Ann Dalida. Mrs. Ham is a graduate of the University of Michigan and has been a librarian at the library there and the University High School in Ann Arbor.

Although she is not new to most of the teachers and students, Mrs. Elaine Moran also is on this list. During the war she was a junior high teacher at Plymouth. Last year she was a home economics substitute. Mrs. Moran is a Wayne University graduate of 1942.

Completing the trio is Hilton Ponto who has taken over as head football coach. Coach Ponto is a graduate of the University of Michigan and has formerly been an instructor at Manistique, Michigan.

First Dance of Year Given by Student Council

On Friday, September 9, the Student Council presented the first dance of the 1949-50 school term. This year's annual mixer was dubbed the "Hayloft Hop" and took place in the high school gym from 8 to 1 p.m. Students in grades nine through twelve were invited and admission per student was thirty cents.

Mr. Joe Scheel's orchestra furnished the music for both round and square dancing.

Committee chairman were: music, Margaret Saxton; refreshments, David Green; tickets, Roger Kidston; chaperons, Ronald Witt; decorations, David Reitzel; publicity, Mary Vincent. To Don Sutherland, mayor, fell the responsibilities of general chairman.

Launch Activities in PHS Clubs

Students of P. H. S. are finding themselves back at the old grind, now that the noise and excitement of starting a new school year is over.

But the plans and ambitions of many of the girls' clubs give a brighter view of the coming year. Leaders' club held a regular meeting Tuesday, September 13, in which the annual Y-Teen and Leaders' Club week-end is one of the club's big projects for the year. October 1 has been set as the date.

The Girls' Athletic association, which was newly organized last year, will hold a meeting in the near future to reorganize their club officers and discuss plans for the coming year. A few of the activities to be discussed are hikes and picnic suppers, which proved to be successful last year. With the great enthusiasm shown by the girls, this year will be just as successful and perhaps more.

"Home Economics Student Club Organization", the real name of the Hesco club, held its first meeting of the new semester on Monday, September 12.

The club, which is affiliated with the state and national group, is looking forward to the annual get-together of the home economic students in this area.

The regional meeting to be held at Ypsilanti in October, will provide opportunity to let the students get acquainted and to discuss their mutual problems.

The club also hopes to carry on some of the activities they had last year which included style shows and bake good sales.

Earliest New England homes were built of thick planks instead of logs as is generally believed.

Trophy Case Takes Place of Lincoln Statue

"Where is Lincoln?", many students asked when they entered the front doors of the high school and the familiar statue of Abraham Lincoln was not seen in its customary place between the two front stairs.

The answer? The "forty-niners" presented the school with a new trophy case which now occupies the space vacated by Lincoln who is now in the library. The new show case contains all the trophies won last year in athletic contests.

Suggestions in Marriage

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED in marriage, whether you are already married, or whether you hope to be, here's something for you.

May I digress right here to relate an incident that occurred when I one day visited the Sailors' Snug Harbor, Staten Island, New York.

Sitting in the chapel I noticed an old fellow around 80, intent on a certain portion of the prayer book. Interested to know what was so closely holding the attention of this man at the back end of life, I peeked over his shoulder. He was reading the marriage lines.

But back to suggestions that cannot but benefit you:

1—Never criticize your married partner before others, either your friends, your children or other members of the family. Don't criticize at all, merely suggest. It will be more effective. As to your children, it will be a very short while before they can make up their minds for themselves about their parents.

- 2—Don't interrupt when the other is telling a story. He or she is entitled to attention for the time being. You can get your two cents' worth in later.
- 3—Do some little thing every day that will please your partner. Remember that a husband can't prepare his favorite dishes; that a wife can't do those mending chores around the house as well as you can.
- 4—Remember that a wife is entitled to share the earnings of her husband; that she should spend his earnings to the advantage of both. Failure in these two things results in marriage failure.
- 5—Enjoy your pleasures together and let the other partner know that you are happier because of her or his presence.
- 6—If tempted to note the imperfections of the other, list mentally instead the qualities and characteristics you admire. They will outweigh double the imperfections.
- 7—Let your partner know that he or she is still the most desirable partner on earth. Divorces cost money and are followed by a trail of ills. If you don't learn how, to lead a happy married life this time, you'll have to learn on the next marriage.

High Enrollment Expected at MSC

Michigan State college will open its 95th year Monday, September 19, when more than 4,000 freshmen and transfer students are expected to begin "orientation week" on the Spartan campus.

Registration for the fall quarter will be held September 20-23, and classes will open September 26.

Enrollment is expected to at least equal that of last year, when MSC recorded an all-time high of 16,000 students, according to Registrar Robert S. Linton.

Facilities at Michigan State college have been improved with completion of a number of buildings this summer, but on-campus housing accommodations remain "critical" except for single men students, college officials disclosed.

The new natural science building, one of the largest of its type in the nation, and its neighbor the physics and mathematics building, have added nearly 25 per cent to the classroom, office and laboratory facilities of the campus. At capacity the natural science building will accommodate about 3,000 students and the physics and mathematics building 1,250.

Michigan State college students will also find a completely revised and modernized Student Union at their disposal. Construction on the Union during the past year included addition of a new south wing and renovation of the older sections, all done on a self-liquidating basis at no expense to the public.

Completion of the west wing of Shaw hall in time for fall classes will provide accommodations for an additional 575 men, greatly easing a shortage which has existed in men's housing since the war, Housing Director Starr H. Keesler said.

Friends should not be chosen to flatter. The quality we should prize is that rectitude which will shrink from no truth.

Cpl. Christensen Visits Istanbul With Marines

For his first visit to the Moslem world on a cruise of the Mediterranean area Cpl. James G. Christensen, son of Mr. Ernest E. Christensen of 8595 Northern avenue, Plymouth, passed through the Dardanelles into the Marmara Sea to visit Istanbul, Turkey.

He is presently serving with the Eighth Marines (Reinf.) which has been acting as the Sixth Task Fleet stationed in the Mediterranean since May 15.

While in Istanbul, formerly known as Constantinople, he will have the opportunity to visit the famous Blue Mosque and the picturesque old Egyptian Bazaar. In addition he will be able to visit the archeological museum which has examples of the handwork of the occupants of old Istanbul, including the sarcophagus of Alexander the Great.

He has already visited many of the Mediterranean ports of Italy, France and Greece, as well as Gibraltar and Crete. Following his visit to Istanbul, he will return to Greece enroute to Italy.

Trees Number High in State

Michigan farmers and private landowners reforested nearly 10,000 acres of land in 1948 to lead all lake states by a wide margin and rank fifth in the United States. Dr. Paul A. Herbert, head of the forestry department at Michigan State college, says only four southern states outplanted Michigan.

"This record explains in part why there has been a shortage of reforestation stock available in Michigan. The enthusiasm of our citizens to plant trees has outstripped the capacity of our nurseries," Herbert commented.

He reports that this fall and next spring, approximately 14 million trees are available to planters from nurseries of the Michigan Department of Conservation and of Michigan State college. He doubts, however, that even this big supply will fill the demand, and urges farmers to obtain price lists and place orders as soon as possible.

BABSON Discusses England

The American-English conference now going on has tremendous possibilities for good. Surely it is a one-way street and cannot do any harm. It can affect every reader of this column.

England's Argument For Help Frankly, the Englishmen want to give them more dollars. The financial interests here in New York look upon Bevin, Attlee and Cripps as pure Socialists. These New York bankers say "Why should we Americans use good U. S. dollars to make Socialism a success?" Hence, they are trying to get the English government to promise to give up Socialism in return for U. S.

Going from the sublime to the ridiculous, Wade Ray has a cute waxing in the "Hilo Schottische" backed by "Forty Years Ago" . . . For versatility and still within the realm of good music, there's Gordon MacRae's "Body and Soul" with "A Kiss in the Dark" on the flipover . . . Gordon has a wonderful combo too in his haunting arrangement of that new English favorite, "The Wedding of Lillie Marlene," with "24 Hours of Sunshine" on the reverse.

Still on Capitol, the new "Through a Long and Sleepless Night" is given a warm, if not sensational, run-through by Peggy Lee . . . Her own composition, "Neon Signs" is the coupling.

dollars,—or at least not push it further. But here is the answer of Bevin, Attlee and Cripps: "At the present time the world is divided into two great and powerful groups,—the Democracies which stand for Free Enterprise, and the Russians who stand for Communism. Unless some middle ground of compromise can be developed, both groups are headed for a World War III which will destroy civilization. We believe England is trying to work out such a compromise,—a safe bridge between America and Russia. It is worth billions of dollars to the United States to help us do this." This is England's argument and I'm inclined to believe it will appeal to President Truman.

Questions Being Discussed Many questions are being discussed. Chief of these is the devaluation of the pound which would make it easier for the English to sell their goods without increasing the efficiency of their labor and machinery. This would be only postponing the final day of reckoning because England would not now need to debase her currency if her production, management and labor would wake up and become efficient.

Among other things are: Fixing a new and guaranteed rate of money exchange for all Western nations, the powers of the World Bank, President Truman's Point 4, our American Tariff, the so-called Block Balances, the continuation of Lend-Lease, etc. All these, however, are more temporary palliatives to relieve the patient (England) of pain. They are like giving aspirin and an electric pad to someone who needs a surgical operation.

Sportsmen May Get Permits For Training Dogs

Sportsmen who want a place to train their hunting dogs on game now may apply to the conservation department for a permit for a dog training area. Number of areas is limited by law, but applicants filing with the department's field administration division by the Nov. 1 deadline will get equal consideration.

Regulations provide that applicants, a club or group of at least 10 citizens, must own or have legal control over the land set aside for the purpose. Training areas may cover not less than 80 but not more than 240 acres. Areas may not be used for hunting.

The areas are a solution to hunters' problem of teaching a pup how to smell out pheasants, for example, when statewide law for the protection of game prevent his getting within sniffing distance of a pheasant elsewhere from April 15 to July 15. All protected animals and birds captured by dogs being trained must be immediately released if unharmed; if injured, they must be turned over to the local conservation officer within 24 hours.

The conservation department will supply signs to designate boundary lines of each dog training area.

Nursing Course Opens to WACs

A 48-week course in practical nursing for WAC enlisted women currently assigned to the Army Medical department was announced today by Major General R. W. Bliss, the Surgeon General of the Army. The course will be conducted at Walter Reed General Hospital, Army Medical Center, Washington, D. C., from October 17, 1949 to September 29, 1950.

The purpose of the course is to train selected enlisted women in practical nursing duties, skills and knowledges. Upon completion of the course, the WAC enlisted women will be eligible for State Practical Nurse licensure in accordance with the standards of the National Association for Practical Nurse Education, and will be qualified for assignment to duty as medical technicians.

10 or 20 More Years of Prosperity Such a program might temporarily hurt a few U. S. manufacturers whom the government could for a while subsidize. Labor might fight it for fear of unemployment; but its ultimate results could mean a higher standard of living and better security for every reader of this column, the people of the United States as well as the people of foreign lands. The United States cannot long continue to "live the life of Riley" while the rest of the world is starving. The sooner we realize this the better for all concerned including ourselves.

I am sure that President Truman is anxious to put over such a program. If the Republicans would heartily join therein, employment and profits would again increase and the entire business situation would definitely improve. I can even envisage a great boom in the stock market and another 5 or 10 years of prosperity. Such a program must, however, get off "on the right foot." Republicans must not cry "wolf, wolf" and scare people into believing that it is a mistake to pray: "Thy Kingdom come on earth." This would not be a case of trying to "get something for nothing" but rather of GETTING SOMETHING FOR SOMETHING.

Russia has no trade barriers between its different countries. In order for the Democracies to hold their own, they must reduce tariff barriers, have an international dollar and perhaps a single postage stamp for trading among themselves. In effect, this would mean extending England's present preferential trading system (which now applies to the members of the British Commonwealth) to other Democracies such as the U. S., France, Holland, Belgium, Ireland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and perhaps Greece and Turkey.

Charge Man With Window Peeping

An alleged window peeper will be brought before Judge Nandino Perlongo at 10 a. m. on September 19 for trial before a six man jury.

Charged with window peeping, the man was caught in the act by two Plymouth men last Thursday night. He stood mute when brought before Judge Perlongo. The case was originally slated for last Monday.

Brighton Mayor in Running For Governor's Post

Mayor Thomas Leith of Brighton, extensive farm and commercial land-owner, builder, ex-college instructor and athletic director, announced his candidacy on the Republican ticket for election to the office of governor. The announcement was made at a dinner of Livingston county supervisors of which the mayor is a member.

Leith, 61, is the fifth child of the late Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Bishop Leith, who was pastor of Presbyterian churches in Detroit and Plymouth.

In commenting on his platform, Leith highlighted a plank which provides for balance in the state budget, prompt payment of state debts, creation of treasury surplus and taking the general fund out of the "grab-bag" class.
