Business Leaders Carry on Solicitation for Chamber of Commerce...

If one of these gentlemen hasn't visited you yet he will in the very near future, seeking your membership in Plymouth's revitalized Chamber of Commerce. The drive which is now under way will end on March 30 when the organization will hold its quarterly report dinner at the Hotel Mayflower. Results have been most encouraging to members of the membership committee pictured above, left to right, Chamber Secretary George A. Smith, Carl G. Shear, Chamber President Ray Williams, William Wood, Walter Rensel, drive chairman, Elmer Zuckerman, Dr. R. Ray Barber, Paul Wiedman, Robert Beyer and Frank Allison.

City Commissioners Express Views on Charter Changes

At the April 3 election, voters will find on the ballots six proposed amendments to the charter of the city. These proposals were placed there through petition by the Citizens' League. Whether or not the charter changes are advisable is to be decided by the voter. In order to give the voters an idea of how the present city commissioners, who are working under the present charter, feel about the amendments, each commissioner was asked to give a statement giving his or her opinion of the changes to the Plymouth Mail. Commissioner Cass Hough, who is now filling the unexpired term and will run for election on April 3, presented the following report: "Plymouth's Charter was last reviewed and revised by a charter commission in 1932. Many changes in governmental practices, as well as changes in the city itself have occurred in these past 18 years. It is only reasonable to assume that the Charter must be kept up to date if we are to have continuing progressive government. "True, four years ago, mainly at the behest of a City Manager since resigned, some charter amendments were voted. In the main, the amendments voted then have proven to be unsuited to real democratic government. Some of the amendments proposed on the April, 1950 ballot rescind or change materially the almost autocratic powers given the City Manager by the 1946 amendments. Specifically: Proposal No. 1. This proposed change will add the Superintendent of Public Works to the list of Administrative officers of the City. At the same time, these administrative officers are appointed by the Mayor, and not by the City Manager as now called for. Equally important in this proposal is the requirement that monthly reports of department heads are to be made in duplicate, with one copy going direct to the City Commission. Under the present provision, only the City Manager gets reports from department heads, which plan most effectively "gags" a department head if the City Manager so desires. Proposal No. 2. Under the present plan, the City Manager is automatically the City Clerk. This imposes a large volume of detailed clerical work on the manager, which clerical work can just as well be done by another. By separating the functions of Manager and Clerk the city cannot be without a Clerk, when temporarily without a Manager (as was the case for a short time last fall). This proposal makes for much better administration of city affairs. Proposal No. 3. This proposal if carried will make for more democratic government in Plymouth, in that the power to hire and fire now resting in the manager's hands is considerably limited; in conjunction with Proposal No. 4, setting up a Trial Board, these two Proposals guarantee that every employee of the city, regardless of position, is guaranteed fair treatment in the matter of hiring and firing. Proposal No. 4. A Trial Board, composed of three citizens of Plymouth who are not employees of the city is set up under this proposal. This Trial Board will pass upon suspensions or firings of city employees, after hearing all the facts in the case. Thus the (Continued on page 8)

WHY A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Why should a village or city have a Chamber of Commerce—an organization composed of residents of the locality who are anxious to see the area they call home, a better and more prosperous place in which to live?

Can't some one else do these things? Can't the local public officials take on the work of a Chamber of Commerce? Can't some luncheon club serve the purpose?

Maybe—but experience has proven that it takes an organization of enthusiastic citizens, of professional and business men to properly guide the destinies and prosperity of a community.

Any one can become a member of a Chamber of Commerce—the only requirement being that he must be a loyal, law-abiding citizen of the locality, interested in its development and growth. All other organizations have restrictions as to membership—but not so a Chamber of Commerce. You can belong if you desire to become a member and work for the good of the place you call home.

Plymouth over a long period of years has maintained some sort of an organization devoted to the betterment and growth of the community. This organization has at times had other names than that of a Chamber of Commerce—but its purpose has always been the same. It sought to build up a bigger and better city.

Looking back over the years one can find that EVERY worthwhile effort that has been put forth in this city to build it up and improve it has either been sponsored or strongly favored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

For various reasons Plymouth is right now in greater need of a strong Chamber of Commerce than ever before.

While it has a fair membership, it needs a membership of hundreds—a membership composed of citizens who fully realize the importance of the many problems now confronting this area—of the opportunities that are waiting for us to grasp.

We should keep in mind the fact that ANY good citizen, whether living within the city or outside, can belong to the Chamber of Commerce. Naturally a Plymouth Chamber of Commerce member should have an interest in the progress and development of the Plymouth area.

And to meet the problems we face and to do the things that will help us all, Plymouth needs a strong Chamber of Commerce, one of the best in these United States.

This comment has been inspired by my recent observations of the highly successful work of Chambers of Commerce organizations in various southern Florida cities. If it had not been for the work of these organizations, most of southern Florida would still be a land of barren waste, its seashores a strip of sand laden with refuse from the sea instead of the beautiful beaches they now are. To the various Florida Chambers of Commerce can give almost complete credit for the development of the beauties and progress of the vast Florida area, now one of the country's most stable as well as popular resort areas.

Plymouth's problems are somewhat different than their problems down south—but they can be solved in the same way—through a Chamber of Commerce organization that has 100 percent support of our citizenship.

WE HOPE THEY STICK TO IT.

From time to time we have read during recent weeks that the Republican members of the Michigan state legislature plan to defeat any move the Democratic governor of the state may make to force higher taxes on the people of the state.

We hope they stick to it and that they will not only defeat any new tax bill but that they will make a diligent effort to cut the expenses of the state government.

How under the sun can any one explain the fact that Michigan's number of job holders has jumped to a total of more than 25,000.

During just one year of the Williams administration the total of the state payroll has increased more than $15,000,000. The grand total paid last year to state job holders exceeded $71,324,000.

How can any public official account for such an increase in public expenditures for job holders to such an extent as these figures indicate?

Some members of the legislature have suggested that at least 5,000 job holders can be cut from the state payrolls and no one would know the difference from the standpoint of decreased public efficiency. It is our opinion that the total could be cut to a far greater extent and no one would know the difference, except the taxpayers. At any rate it is worth trying so we might see just what may happen.

WHY THE STATE KEEPS GOING IN THE RED.

There are lots of reasons why the state keeps going deeper in the "red" financially.

Governor "Soapy" Williams said he was going to cut expenses. They all say it. Some try and others don't. But it seems that no one even cares any longer.

Presume you read about one of the newest ways that Soapy's boys have expanded in order to get more of your tax dollars.

For years it has been the practice of the state to maintain some cars for the use of state employees and to pay for mileage where privately owned cars are used for state business. "Soapy's" boys certainly know how to burn up tires and gas. Lansing reports show that there are 518 cars in the state "pool"—meaning state cars used by gadding office holders.

These cars, valued at about half a million of your dollars, were driven last year a total of 8,452,922 miles, an increase over the previous year of 45 per cent. Auditor General Aten declared better supervision by the transport division and various department heads could have cut the mileage substantially.

Aten also reported that mileage payments for use of privately owned cars on State business did not increase in proportion to the increase in use of State-owned cars.

He found that 179 employees collected at the rate of 6 cents a mile for driving their own cars, 1,750 to 2,400 miles a month. A sliding scale of payment, such as is used by a large Detroit utility, would have saved the State $42,960 a year.

Noting that some employees apparently drive State cars chiefly between their homes and the office, Aten recommended a rental charge for "personal mileage."

The division claimed an operating profit of $6,465, computed by charging the various departments 4 cents a mile for the use of cars. Aten said the actual cost was 5 cents a mile if proper charges, such as depreciation and interest, were included. At that rate, he said, the division lost $57,000.

Although gasoline is available at wholesale at the State garage, the auditors found that in one month 6,600 gallons were brought for pool cars at a public garage only two blocks away.

The difference in price was $750.

DOWN IN NEW YORK.

It was with considerable interest that we read the other day where the new Manual for the New York police department which has just been issued for the present year, instructs members of the department to cooperate with accredited representatives of newspapers in helping them to get correct facts about police news. The higher ups regard an accurate presentation of news as far more beneficial to the department than news reports which may not be accurate because of incomplete information.

U of M Director Conducts High School Program

Maynard Klein, director of the University of Michigan choir, will appear as guest conductor of the Plymouth High school choir in a concert of choral music tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The public is invited.

Klein has a nation-wide reputation as an outstanding authority in the field of choral music. A graduate of Michigan State Normal college, he taught at Tulane university before coming to the University of Michigan in 1948, as associate professor of choral music.

He was director of choirs at Interlochen, Michigan, for six summers and was guest choral conductor at Northwestern university and the University of Missouri in 1947. Klein has also conducted music festivals in several states.

The audience, and especially the members of the high school choir, have a rare treat in store for them, as Klein is at his best when directing young people. He has the ability to make the performance of good music an altogether enjoyable experience.

The remainder of the program will include numbers by the Junior chorus, Girls Glee club, Boys Glee club, the Twin Trios, and a duet by Barbara Johnson and Ron Davis. The program is under the direction of Fred C. Nelson, vocal music instructor at Plymouth High school.

Kendall Appears at Detroit Club

Fred Kendall, winner of the Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout show last week, began a week's engagement Monday at the Bowery in Detroit. Kendall returned from New York last Saturday.

He appeared in the main ball room of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel last Friday night for a show, and he sang on the Godfrey morning broadcast three days. He has now returned to his daily program on station WJR in Detroit. Since winning the talent scout show, Kendall has had a number of offers for shows and other bookings but his future plans are still tentative.

450 Attend Dunning Show At High School

Over 450 people attended the style show at Plymouth High school Tuesday night sponsored by the Bates Manufacturing company and Dunning's department store.

Thirteen neighboring high schools were represented by about 255 students. The show was planned by the Hescos, home economics club at the high school.

Spring styles made of Bates fabric and furnished by Dunning's were shown. A tea served by the club members followed the showing.

Sewers, Mains Needed on Forest

Estimates of the cost of a water main and sewer for the east side of Forest avenue will be made by City Engineer Stan Besse, following the city commission meeting Monday night.

Paving on Forest avenue will begin in April. Police Chief Lee Sackett asked the commission if any water or sewer facilities were installed for the east side of the street, and it was learned that no installation had been made. If the chief had not brought the matter up, apparently paving plans would have gone ahead before sufficient water and sewer work had been done.

Besse will present his report on the cost of the best means of installation at the special meeting of the commission Monday, March 27.

Eight Churches Take Part in Holy Week Services

The Plymouth Ministerial association has arranged a series of noon-day devotional services during Holy Week, April 3 to 7, featuring outstanding visiting speakers.

Daily services will be held at 12:10 p.m. in the Penn theater. Music will be under the direction of the Rev. Henry Walch of the First Presbyterian church. Eight churches of the community are participating.

Other Holy Week services are being held by some of the participating churches. For time and place of these services consult the church page of this issue.

Toy Manufacturers Are Optimistic About Future

"Most manufacturers in the toy and associated lines are optimistic about business for the rest of the year," says Robert Wesley of the Daisy Manufacturing company. Returning this weekend from the annual Toy Fair in New York City Daisy officials came into contact with distributors and manufacturers from all over the United States and they were impressed with the fact that nearly all were pretty well satisfied with what the future was going to hold in 1950.

Wesley is sales and advertising director of the Daisy company and he was accompanied home to Plymouth by Daisy's new sales manager, Floyd Brandon. Brandon was the former manager of Daisy's New York office which position is now filled by James Harrison, who was formerly with the Monroe Calculating company.

Just moved to the Fair the company moved their offices at 200 Fifth avenue to larger quarters on the 11th floor where they will have considerable more area to display their products. They share suites 1506, 1508 and 1560 with All Metal Products company of Wyandotte in the building. Miss Mary Hammond remains as office manager in the new location.

According to Wesley buyers this year were far more selective in making their purchases and all insisted on securing good merchandise for their money. He stated he felt that all of the old established business firms felt that things were just returning to normal and that there was an end to wild buying at least in their lines.

"Optimism for the future was very evident. The larger, older concerns realized that the days when a selling job had to be done had returned and that buyers were much more cautious when they invested thousands of dollars in merchandise today," said Mr. Wesley.

Food Show Set For April 12th

Members of the St. John's Episcopal church league are planning on holding a food freezing and cooking demonstration on Wednesday, April 12. The demonstration will be conducted by the Frigidaire company under the sponsorship of the Wimsatt Appliance store of Plymouth.

The demonstration will be held in the afternoon in the Penniman Allen theater and all local women are invited to attend. Frigidaire demonstrators will demonstrate the preparing of foods from the freezer to the oven, something new in the line of cooking shows.

Tickets for the show are available from any member of the league or at the Wimsatt store.

These Three Responsible for Musical First for City

Playing the score of his "Grand Festival Overture", Professor Albert Hoels of Ann Arbor makes preparations for the original presentation of his composition in a world premiere in Plymouth Sunday, April 2. Observing the music is Plymouth Symphony director Paul Wagner, whose orchestra will play the composition, and on the right is Jerry Engel of Plymouth who was responsible for the professor bringing his music to Plymouth for this unusual musical treat.

Red Cross Fund Hits Half-Way Mark in Drive

The halfway mark has been reached in the Plymouth Red Cross fund drive, according to Ernie Henry, local drive chairman. Nine days remain before the close of the campaign.

Loren Goodale, chairman of industrial soliciting, reports that all local industries are cooperating in promoting the fund raising activity and results thus far are good. Steady returns are coming in from the house to house canvass committee, headed by Mrs. Van T. Dudley.

Anyone who has not yet been contacted may send their contributions to any sectional chairman or directly to Ray Williams, treasurer. Sectional chairman for the areas include Mrs. Philip Theobald, Mrs. L. P. McGuire, Mrs. Ragnar Blomberg, Mrs. Frank Walsh, Mrs. Geraldine Jacobs, Mrs. Doris Herrick and Mrs. Beverly Smith.

Solicitation in the North Side business area is headed by Mrs. Jane Melowe, and for the downtown area, Mrs. A. L. Lantz, Mrs. O. M. Valliquette, Mrs. James Herasher and Mrs. Robert Simmons. All contributions sent by mail will be acknowledged and the donor will receive a receipt, a membership sticker and a button.

Membership stickers designating a contribution should be prominently displayed in windows, especially by merchants. This serves as a reminder to all who have not yet donated to the fund.

Contributions to the Red Cross aid in the organization's work locally. Several families in the area have been assisted by the Red Cross in reaching members of the family whose whereabouts were unknown. The Red Cross mobile unit has taken people to the hospital when other transportation was not available. Funds were also given to boys who were stranded and wanted to return home.

The model home at 382 Adams street will be open for public inspection March 25 to April 1 from 2 to 8 p.m. The home was constructed by William Fehlig, builder.

The house is built in contemporary style and has two bedrooms, a combination living and dining room, and a kitchen with connecting laundry. The plumbing system and fixtures were installed by Ovid Deace. Electrical wiring and fixtures were put in by Hubbs and Gilles. The Eger-Jackson company furnished the plastic wall tile, Kentile and linoleum.

Major electrical appliances in the home are from D. Galin and Son. The kitchen ventilator was installed by the Ward Manufacturing company, and the automatic oil heat was put in by the Otwell Heating and Supply company.

The lumber, plywood and the building materials for the home were furnished by the Plymouth Lumber and Coal company. The painting and exterior decorations were done by Edwin Brown.

Enumerators were required to pass a civil service examination in order to qualify and all who have been selected for this area will be notified before the beginning of the training class.

Debaters to Meet Albion in Finals

Opponents of the Plymouth debate team for the state championship will be the team from Albion High school. Albion defeated Hazel Park debaters March 17 by a 2 to 1 decision in the semi-final contest.

The Plymouth debaters, Ronald Witt and Roger Kidston, won over Hamtramck's team March 9 by a 3 to 0 decision in the semi-finals held here in Plymouth. The two finalists teams will meet on April 28 at the Schoolmasters convention in Ann Arbor. Albion was in the semi-finals last year.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held April 5 at 8 p.m. Members are urged to attend as club officers for the coming year will be elected.

At the last meeting members expressed a vote of thanks to all the merchants of Plymouth and the area for their contributions to the success of the club's recent "Millionaires Party."

An acute peach tree shortage is impending for the fall of 1950, according to Maurice Woodworth, local representative of the Stark Nurseries. The shortage is due to the failure of peach seed germination throughout the nation last spring.

Fire Burns Rear Seat of Auto

When the Plymouth Mail sports reporter, Al Larson, took time off from basketball games to attend a high school dance last Friday night, news followed his tracks—right up to his car, parked in the school parking area.

A fire broke out in the rear seat of his car, causing, according to Larson, about $90 worth of damage. The fire was probably started by a burning cigarette tossed by a passer-by into the open window of the car.

If you have a social item or any other local news, phone 1755.

Kiwanians Hear U of D Athletes

Over 125 Kiwanians and their sons attended the club's annual Father and Son night last Tuesday to hear Lloyd Brazil, University of Detroit athletic director. Earl Demel was program chairman.

Brazil told of the work of the university's champion basketball team, and brought with him as speakers Norm Swanson, captain of the team and high point man on his team and second high scorer in the Missouri Valley conference; Anthony Nader, former U. of D. All-American, and Brendan MacNamara, the team captain-elect for next year.

Other guests at the meeting were the cast, with their husbands and wives of "John Loves Mary." Mike Huber announced that about $1,200 was received from the Kiwanis Girl Scout cabin from proceeds of the play.

It is estimated there are 200,000,000 people in North America.

Organize Lapeer Parents Group

A group composed of parents of children in the Lapeer State Home and Training school has recently been formed and is known as the Lapeer Parents association.

The purpose of the organization is to raise funds by various projects to purchase educational equipment for the institution. Although the group is new, some money has already been raised and used for this purpose.

Meetings are held the first Wednesday of every month in the Cadillac Square building. Anyone interested should call Mrs. Dorothy Bache at 2187-J.

William E. Muir retired after thirty five year's service on the Long Island Railroad and announced he was starting his third career at 65—that of real estate salesman in Florida. He had worked 14 years as a stone cutter before taking up railroading.

Father Mooney Rotary Speaker

Members of the Rotary club heard Father William P. Mooney of Our Lady of Good Counsel church in a St. Patrick's Day program last Friday. Father Mooney told of the historical background of the great Irish saint and traced the influence of St. Patrick through the years on the Irish people throughout the world. He was introduced to the club by the Rev. Henry Walch and he afforded members in attendance a most interesting and humorous half hour. Father Mooney, an accomplished pianist, also accompanied the Rotarians at the piano while they sang several Irish songs. Read the classified pages.

Symphony Plays Work Written by Local Composer

The world premiere of the "Grand Festival Overture" by Albert Hoel will be played by the Plymouth Symphony at the concert April 2 at 4 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Professor Hoel will direct the overture. This will be the first time any of his works have been played in this country. Hoel is at present an organist and choir-master of St. Thomas church in Ann Arbor. Thomas Wagner, symphony conductor, first met Professor Hoel through Jerry Engle of Plymouth who was doing construction work in Ann Arbor. Wagner then made arrangements with the composer for this premiere performance.

Hoel was born in Munich in 1899. He received his early musical training from his father, Joseph Hoel. His father was concert master for the state opera and a violinist, receiving recognition for his chamber music string quartet. Hoel later studied composition with Max Reger, Richard Strauss and Clemens Krauss. He at one time played the viola with the Munich state opera orchestra. He has composed many numbers for string quartets, piano, and all string instruments. His Sonata for Viola has been played by Paul Doctor, well known violinist. The overture that will be played Sunday is an introductory piece to a celebration or anniversary.

Local Skaters Perform in Show

Plymouth skaters did much of the scene stealing at the annual rollover, "Howdy Mr. Rollers of 1950," given last Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Riverside Arena.

Joan and Dean Busch of Plymouth, national amateur champions, did a number entitled "Slaughter on 10th Avenue," performing difficult roller skating feats in a New York setting.

Little nine year old Judy Laury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Laury of Ann Arbor trail, skated with the poise and grace of a mature skater. She was featured in a number called "Dollmaker's Dream."

Other youngsters from Plymouth in the cast were Phyllis French and Kay Gorton, who appeared as flowers in the "Coming of Spring" act. George Eads, James Rollins, Barbara LaMay, Bob Kennedy, Marcia Woodworth, Sally Sowle and Barbara Dayne were other local skaters who performed in group numbers. The show was produced by the Riverside Figure and Dance club.

The whole proposal is in keeping with fair, democratic administration of the city's affairs insofar as its employees are concerned.

Proposal No. 5. Under our Charter the City Manager is also the City Purchasing Agent. Under the present provisions of the Charter, the City Manager must call for bids on any purchases amounting to $300 or more. The new proposal raises this figure from $300, to $500. With most goods and services costing roughly double prewar figures, this change only gives the City Manager roughly the same financial authority as he has had since the Charter was written. Without the authority given in the new Proposal, there are bound to be times when the city's hands are tied so completely as to make it almost impossible to accomplish something when it should be accomplished.

Proposal No. 6. At the present time, Plymouth's representative on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors is appointed by the Mayor. It has been so ever since our Charter was written. The work of the city's representative on the Board of Supervisors is of extreme importance to Plymouth—in fact the position is certainly of equal importance as that of a City Commissioner.

Proposal No. 6 would make this position an ELECTIVE one, thereby giving ALL citizens of Plymouth an opportunity to say just whom they want to represent Plymouth in this very important job. By so doing, this representative is directly re-

City Commissioners Express Views on Charter Changes

Commissioner Hammond, up for re-election this April, states that "all of them should be passed, since they have had serious consideration and study. They will take away the unlimited powers of the City Manager."

Floyd Tibbitts, commissioner also up for re-election, stated that he felt the proposed amendments should all be passed and would be a good step in city government.

Commissioner Fisher declined to give a public statement, saying that he felt the voter should decide what is best. When asked if he thought the views of a commissioner would aid the voter in his decision, Commissioner Fisher stated that he felt the voter should not be influenced by the opinion of a commissioner.

Mayor Richwine also declined to give a public statement at this time. The Mayor will be a guest of the Kiwanis club March 28, at which time he will express his views. The Mayor added that he would be glad to answer any inquiries of the voter regarding the proposed amendments.

City Attorney Harry Deyo refused to give an opinion of the charter changes because he is in "a neutral position." He stated that the proposed amendments were legal and had gone through the proper procedure for being placed on the ballot.

Sponsor Review to Benefit Guild

The best seller, Peaceable Kingdom, a Literary guild selection, will be reviewed tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in St. John's Episcopal church hall by Mrs. Chas. Dengler, prominent reviewer.

The review is sponsored by the Women's auxiliary for the benefit of the Altar Guild. The public is invited to attend. For reservations call Mrs. Albert Dayton at 1917-W. Mrs. Earl Myers is general chairman and members of St. Margaret's Guild will serve as ushers.

Following the review, tea will be served by St. John's League, with Mrs. Richard Emrich of Detroit, wife of the presiding bishop of the diocese, at the tea table. Music will be furnished by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Williams and Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Whitehead.

All members of the committee on reservations are requested to contact the chairman of reservations, Mrs. Thomas Matthews, by 6 p.m. today. Mrs. Dean F. Saxton is chairman of publicity for the review.

The book, Peaceable Kingdom, is the story of Salt Lake City in the nineties, at the time when the U. S. government began to enforce the ban on polygamy. The background of the time offers unusual opportunity for skillful presentation and incidents which lend themselves to dramatic entertainment.

Falcons Down Hamtramck 30-26 as Red Birds Lose to Dearborn

After falling far behind in the first half, the Wayne County Training school Falcons of the Class E league came through with a 30-26 victory over Hamtramck in the tournament held at Hamtramck on Wednesday, March 15.

Hamtramck look destined for a sure victory as they racked up 12 points in the initial period to the Falcons four. Hamtramck then took a 20-6 lead at half time.

After a short briefing by Coach Clare Ebersole during halftime the Training school came back to outscore their opponents 24-6 in the last half.

The Falcons rolled up 13 points in the third period while they shut out Hamtramck. Seventeen points were scored on the losers before they could sink a single basket. In the final quarter the Falcons dropped in 11 counters to Hamtramck's six.

Taylor, who had missed shot after shot in the first half, lightened up a little bit in the second half as he took scoring honors with 14 points. Huber pushed 10 counters through the hoop.

The Red Birds from the Training school, representing the Class D league fell at the hands of Dearborn 37-22 in the tourney held at Laskey fieldhouse in Hamtramck the same evening.

This was the most points scored on the Red Birds all season and it broke their 13 game victory streak. The locals had to look up to Dearborn as they played a team of extreme height.

Daisy Defeats Twin Pines 31-21 to Take Inter-City Championship

Last Monday night the Daisy girls took their third win from Twin Pines by defeating them 31-21 in the final game of the playoffs at the Wayne County Training school.

Daisy won a 36-32 decision over Twin Pines on March 9 at Willow Village but was forced to forfeit the game, thereby giving them the right to represent Plymouth in the State International tournament being held at Highland Park March 24, 25 and 26. Also for taking the forfeit game Twin Pines was awarded individual trophies declaring them the Plymouth city champs.

The Daisy girls, by winning this last contest, emerged as the Girls' Inter-City champs and will have possession of the league traveling trophy for the first year.

The following are the scores of the four games played by Daisy and Twin Pines:

March 9	36	forfeit 32
March 16	39	33

Shorts in Sports

by Al Larson

With spring training well underway and the opening of the Grapefruit League in the Major league camps, the Detroit Tigers still look to be the top favorites for the pennant in the American league along with the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox.

The Bengals have just about everything they need to cop the pennant and then take the World Series for an extra added attraction. Red Rolfe, Tiger manager, is taking good advantage of the spring training as he prepares his men for the oncoming campaign.

With an outfield composed of Hoot Evers, Johnny Groth, Vic Wertz, Charlie Keller, Pat Mullin and the impressive rookie, Paul Lerchren, the Tigers have one of the best outer gardener combinations in the junior circuit.

Every outfielder, with the exception of Lerchren, is capable of hitting .300 or more. For the past two seasons Evers has belted the horsehide at a .300 clip and possibly he will better his previous marks this season. Johnny Groth, who did not play the last few weeks of the 1949 season, ended up with a .294 batting average. Groth had just started to smack the ball when he was injured.

Vic Wertz enjoyed his best season in the major leagues so far when he finished the season with an average over the .300 mark last year, hit 20 home runs and led the Detroiters in runs batted in. Wertz finished a close third to Vern Stephens and Ted Williams, both of Boston, in total runs batted in.

Charlie Keller, who was given his outright release by the New York Yankees and then signed a Tiger contract, is expected to have a fine comeback this season. Keller is working hard and trying to capture a berth as a regular outfielder.

Pat Mullin and Paul Lerchren most likely will stick around as replacements for the first four mentioned and act as pinch hitters.

In the Detroit infield we find another swell combination of ball players with George Kell leading the list. Jerry Priddy, Johnny Lipon and Dick Kryhoski will most likely round out the four infielders.

George Kell with a batting average of .342 led the American league in batting last year, edging out Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox by a few fractions of a point. Kell has been rated as the best third baseman in the majors at the present time.

Jerry Priddy, who was obtained from St. Louis for Lou Kretlow, is expected to fill the vacancy left by Charlie Gehringer before the war years of 1941-45. Johnny Lipon was Detroit's regular shortstop in 1949 and is probably going to start the season at that position.

The Bengals front office deserves credit once again for an asserted trade in which the Tigers latched on to Dick Kryhoski for one of Detroit's biggest headaches, Dick Wakefield. Wakefield is now with the New York Yankees and at last count he was batting an even .100 in the pitrus loop whereas Kryhoski is smacking the ball at a .346 clip.

Don Kolloway, who has played every position in the infield, will stick around as utility material and a pinch hitter. Kolloway slugged the ball at a .295 average last season. Kolloway states that Kryhoski will have a hard time beating him out for the first base in the Bengal infield.

The Tiger's pitching staff also seems to be one of the best in the majors, as they boast five starters and a list of able bull pen hurlers. The five starters include Hal Newhouser, Art Houtteman, Virgil Trucks, Fred Hutchinson and Ted Gray.

All but Gray won 15 games or more last season and because of injuries, a bad slump or other mishaps they missed the 20 game mark. Newhouser and Trucks suffered bad slumps during the latter part of July while Hutchinson had a hard time getting started. Houtteman did not pitch his first game until six weeks after the season had started because of an injury he suffered in Florida. All four of these pitchers should win 20 games or more in the oncoming campaign.

The Briggs relief hurlers include Paul Calver, Paul "Dizzy" Trout, Hal White and possibly Saul Rogovin, Marv Grissom or Marlin Stuart. Ray Herbert, a home grown boy, shows that he wants to stay with the Tigers as he has proved himself in spring training.

Coming down to the catchers we find Aaron Robinson topping the list followed by Bob Swift and Frank House. Robinson was the Tiger regular back stop last season along with Swift. House is the $70,000 bonus rookie that the Tigers have to keep with them this season although he has had only one year of seasoning in the minor leagues.

Last but not least Detroit has a fine coaching staff headed by one of the best managers in the league. Red Rolfe has a coaching list headed by Dick Bartell, field coach; Ted Lyons, pitching instructor and Rick Ferrell, who tends to the catchers.

Badminton Club to Enter Tourney

After meeting at the Wayne County Training school for the past three months, the Plymouth Badminton club will enter the state open badminton tournament to be held at the Laskey Recreation Center in Hamtramck starting April 1.

The club will enter in five events which include the women's singles, men's singles, women's doubles, men's doubles and the mixed doubles.

The tournament is open to any resident of the state of Michigan and suitable awards will be given to the winners and the runners-up in all events. There will be an entry fee of 50 cents per person per event. The players are to supply their own rackets and birds. Championship birds will be on sale at the gym.

The local club meets every Monday evening at the Training school and just about every meeting there has been approximately 20 enthusiastic badminton players present.

Tail Bow to Highland Park

Coming through only in the even quarters Tait's Cleaners lost out in the Detroit Inter-City playoffs to Highland Park 52-49 on March 14.

Tait's fell behind in the initial period as Highland Park paced their way to a 17-7 lead. In the second stanza Tait's came to life, scoring 23 points to their opponents 12, taking a halftime margin of 30-29.

The local squad fell apart in the third quarter as they scored nary a field goal and only two free throws as Highland Park dropped in 11 points to overtake Tait's lead and go ahead 40-32 at the end of the third period.

Hope of emerging victorious ended when Jerry Allen went out on fouls in the last stanza, but the local quintet still tried to turn the tide of the game. In the final quarter Plymouth outscored them 17-12.

Dewayne Becker was high for Tait's with 17 points while Mac Pierce was next with 10. Bill Stout had seven, as Dave McIntosh, Jerry Allen and Ron Micolc each netted five.

Art Class Temporarily Discontinues Meetings

The Plymouth Recreation art class, under the supervision of Harold Stein, will discontinue classes in the high school for the present because of the small enrollment.

Only six people have shown interest and some of these will continue to receive instructions in their homes. However, should the interest in this work perk up in the next three or four weeks, so that enrollment would be at least 10 or more—a new class would be formed. If interested call Stein at 1118-W or Herb Woolweaver at 93.

Daisy Avenges Twin Pines 39-33

Avenging a forfeit loss to Twin Pines, Daisy Air Rifle downed the girls from the dairy-39-33 in the Girls' Inter-City league at Ypsilanti last Thursday.

Gloria Fellows, who has been the big gun for Daisy all year was held scoreless by a tight Twin Pines defense but the victors came through with another all-around top notch player as Jean Siterlet, captain of the team, racked up 23 points. Siterlet had a dead eye Thursday night as she popped the ball in from all angles.

Joan McGough netted 10 for Daisy while Dolly Bouterse looped in six. Eleanor Wilkins led the losers with 18 while Lois Eby dropped in 12.

This was one of the last of the girls' playoffs which will decide the Gurney champ. Twin Pines won the league championship by winning a forfeit victory from Daisy on March 9. The two teams had originally tied at the end of the regular season of play.

Twin Pines knocked Willow Village from the playoffs Monday, March 13 winning 42-35 on the local quintet's home court.

Willow Village led all the way through the contest, taking a 9-8 lead at the end of the initial period, 30-22 margin at halftime but they slowed up in the last half as Twin Pines outscored them 7-2 in the third quarter and 13-3 in the final stanza, emerging victorious 42-35.

Eleanor Wilkins took scoring honors for the evening, hooping in 21 points for Twin Pines while Lois Eby threw in 14 counters and Connie Pascoe six. Donnelly and Hamerstrum led Willow Village with 16 and 12 points respectively.

First National Downs River Rouge in Initial MRA Tournament Game

Playing the first game of the M.R.A. State basketball tournament at the Wayne County Training school Monday night, First National Bank, who captured the local men's league championship, downed River Rouge in a hotly contested encounter, 61-55.

River Rouge, represented by the team of Tommy Burns, got off to a fine start as they scored first and looked as if they would emerge victorious, but Bill Perkins and Charlie Fortner of First National proved differently.

After taking a two point lead at the end of the initial period, 18-16, River Rouge fell behind in the second quarter as the local quintet outscored them 15-10, taking a 31-28 lead at halftime.

First National gained their margin of victory in the third stanza as they netted 22 points to River Rouge's 16. Things got rough in the third quarter and Don Huebler, First National coach, left the game on fouls. Reinard Heinagar, Huebler and Fortner did most of the scoring for the locals in the third period, netting 18 of the teams 22 points.

River Rouge fought back in the final quarter but could not take the lead as Fortner, along with the rest of the bank boys, kept good control of the ball.

Charlie Fortner, as well as being the outstanding ball player on the floor, took scoring honors with 17 points. ## "Crucifixion" to be Given by Choir

The choir of St. John's Episcopal church, Harvey and Maple streets, will present John Stainier's "The Crucifixion" on Palm Sunday evening, April 2, at 8 p.m. in the church.

"The Crucifixion" is described as "a meditation on the sacred passion of the Redeemer." It is written for two solo voices, and in this performance will have Ross Whitehead of Northville as the bass soloist and Ernest Williams of Plymouth as tenor. The choir, somewhat augmented for the occasion, will be under the direction of George Alexander Miller, and the organist is Miss Harriett Wilson.

The best-known of the cantatas for the passion season, and certainly one of the best loved. St. John's choir, while small, is a capable organization, and the performance will without question be most worthwhile. The public is cordially invited to attend this performance on Palm Sunday.

Beverly Patrick Exchanges Vows With Thomas Kettle

Wedding music was presented by soloist, Elaine Shaw of Detroit. She sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

A white trellis decorated with pink roses formed the setting for the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Clarence Patrick of Camden road, the bride chose a wedding gown fashioned from white satin and net. The fitted satin bodice was detailed by a net yoke and round neckline embroidered in seed pearls. The full net skirt ended in a train. The bride's veil of fingertip length, was secured in place by a tiara of seed pearls and lace. Gardenias topped the white Bible which she carried.

Ella Mae Patrick attended her sister as maid of honor. Her gown of yellow taffeta was complimented by the bouquet of pink carnations which she carried. A shoulder length veil of yellow net was fastened to a coronet of yellow flowers for the maid of honor's headpiece.

The bridegroom's sister, Betty, selected a blue taffeta gown for her duties as bridesmaid. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and wore a coronet of blue flowers and a blue net veil.

Raymond Case acted as best man while the guests were seated by Albert Shaw of Detroit.

The bride's mother greeted the guests at the reception in the church parlor, wearing a navy blue dress with navy blue and pink accessories. Pink carnations were in her corsage. Mrs. Kettle, the bridegroom's mother, wore a blue dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dole Thompson of Ludington. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maas of Detroit, are parents of the bridegroom.

Marriage rites were read by the Rev. Theodore Sauer before an altar decorated with baskets of flowers and palms.

For the ceremony the bride chose a parasol pink gabardine suit with matching hat and accessories. Her flowers were orchids.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Raymond Coon, chose an aqua gabardine suit with beige hat and accessories. Bronze cimbidiums were in her corsage.

Raymond Coon attended the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Fred Millard and Russell Maas.

One hundred guests were received in Newburg hall at the reception which followed the wedding. Lois Meier and Beth Weitzel were asked to pour, and Katherine Wagenschutz presided at the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Thompson chose a navy blue dress trimmed in pink. Mrs. Maas donned a grey suit with navy accessories. Pink camellia corsages were worn by both mothers.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Good Breakfast Needed to Prevent Late-Day Letdown

Want to feel like getting all dressed up to go out for an evening of fun after your day's work? Then start the day with a good breakfast.

For a number of years now Plymouth meal planners have been hearing of how important it is to give their families an adequate breakfast to prevent a mid-morning slump. Now there's evidence that the good effects last late into the day, even though lunch may be light.

Over a period of two years scientists in the bureau of human nutrition and home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture studied the effects of eight different kinds of breakfasts on nine people. It was found that combinations featuring top-notch protein rich foods such as eggs and milk did more for the eaters' feeling of well-being than those which were poor in protein, even though high in calories. Not only did the people feel better but they tired less readily and their blood sugar level remained higher. This is clear indication that the effects were not psychological.

Other work done recently has shown that when some of the protein needed for building tissue and blood is eaten at breakfast instead of being concentrated in the other two meals of the day, it can do its work more efficiently. Wise menu makers will plan the morning meal with this information in mind.

Once people have formed the habit of eating a generous breakfast, it's no problem to feed them adequately. It's the person who is a slow starter or the one who likes to stay in bed until it's necessary to run for the bus to get to work or school on time whose meal is difficult.

For these folks setting the alarm a few minutes early is the first step in getting them properly fed. The second is to plan a meal that's light and tempting yet one which carries all the food needed to start them off right.

Here are a few suggestions for this kind of meal. By adding a high-protein food to another it's possible to boost the food value without adding much bulk.

Fruit, whole grain or enriched cereal or bread stuff or both, plus a beverage preferably one made with milk, is a good starter toward an adequate breakfast. If enough milk is used, at least a full half pint, and a little extra protein is added the combination gets a top rating.

You can get extra milk into the meal easily for non-milk drinkers by serving cereal cooked in milk instead of in water. Another way of turning the trick is to add dried milk, either the whole dried milk or the dried milk solids, to cereal cooked as usual.

Women who make muffins or other hot breads for breakfast can boost the milk quota by adding a couple of spoonfuls of the same powder to the dry ingredients. The texture and flavor will be as good or better than when they're made as usual and the food value much higher.

An egg would be an excellent addition to the breakfast combination suggested above, substituting at least occasionally for the cereal. As a quickie, beat the whole egg in a glass until it's thoroughly mixed and foamy, then fill the glass with well chilled fruit juice. It's delicious in flavor and tucks plenty of extra nourishment into breakfast.

Sausage, bacon and ham are all tempting breakfast meats. To save time in the morning they can be cooked the night before, broken into small pieces, then added to the muffin or waffle mixture which might be scheduled for breakfast. Fat from these meats make excellent shortening for the hot breads and adds to their pleasing flavor.

WHITE SAUCE VARIETY

Here are simple tricks for adding variety to your white sauce. For mustard sauce, especially grand with chopped cooked ham, add two tablespoons prepared mustard to medium white sauce. For cream sauce, substitute light cream for milk. For pimiento sauce, simply add half cup finely chopped pimiento to the white sauce.

It's Check-up Time This Spring in Suits, Coats and Dresses

No doubt about it—checks are the thing this spring! From the smallest pin checks to the large bold ones, they are featured this season in suits, coats and dresses.

Navy and white checks appear to be the favorites, but other colors such as red, caramel, tangerine, green, brown, grey and black are also popular.

The crisp shirtwaist dress is making a triumphant return this spring. Many are in checks, but the traditional spring prints are also cut to the shirtwaist pattern. A variation in the classic shirtwaist dress is noted by the full long sleeves and bloused tops.

Shoes, bags and belts are prominent in shiny patent leather, sharing fashion honors with calf accessories. Navy blue calf spectator pumps with medium heels are very smart this season with suits. An innovation this year comes in the form of a new plastic for accessories that looks a bit like the genuine patent, and wears just as well.

Other spring fashion ideas picked up by Plymouth window shoppers include the crisp white pique collar and cuffs on dresses and suits, small straw hats in bon colors, multi-pleated skirts, short topers in pastels, raincoats nice enough for sunny days, and the wide print circle skirts.

Pork Should be Well Cooked

"Cook all pork and pork products until they are thoroughly done," the Michigan Department of Health warned today in reporting the death of a Michigan woman and serious illness of several others from trichinosis.

Trichinosis is an illness caused in humans by tiny parasites which may infest the meat of any meat eating animal. The parasites enter the body in undercooked meat, usually pork, and then form cysts in the muscles and other parts of the body. The illness is painful, and may be fatal.

Thorough cooking of pork and pork products destroys the parasite. Roast pork and roast pork liver should be cooked at no less than 350 degrees until it is well done—usually about a half hour per pound is required for large roasts. Internal temperature of the roasts should be at least 185 degrees, the Department said.

Do not eat cured ham until it has been thoroughly cooked. Make sure that sausage, ham, pork chops, pork steak, pork liver or any meat dish such as loaves, patties or chop suey which contain pork products are cooked until the pork is completely done, it added.

The parasites which cause trichinosis are too small to be seen with the unaided eye. Don't rely on government inspected meat for protection against them. Government inspection does not include search for these minute organisms.

If you eat in restaurants, do not accept pork chops, pork steak, sausage of roast pork which are not thoroughly done even in the thickest parts. Any undercooked pinkish pork is potentially dangerous, the Department warned.

Pork is a good food, an excel-

EASY DOES IT

WHEN BAKING PIES and cakes at the same time, scatter them so oven heat will circulate freely, thus speeding baking time and reducing the amount of heat necessary.

When cooking on top of the stove, use pans made with straight sides as they utilize heat more efficiently than those with rounded or bulging sides.

Dull-finish baking pans and casseroles are more efficient to use in the oven than the shiny ones. Polished surfaces, as found on shiny pans, reflect heat, thus wasting it. When you are baking, avoid peeking into the oven "to see how things are coming along." Every time you open the door, you'll let heat escape.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Frozen Fruit Salad (Serves 4-6)

- 2 cups orange sections
- 1/2 cup white corn syrup
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 2 egg yolks, beaten
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Place syrup in double boiler, add flour gradually, stirring to blend. Cook for 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Gradually add lemon juice and beaten egg yolks and cook for five minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from range, cool and add orange sections. Fold in whipped cream and place in freezing tray of refrigerator. Freeze until firm. Slice or cut into squares and serve on salad greens.

Clean ovens are efficient ones. When food-spills, cover with soap, let dry and then scrape off. Wash with soap and water and steel wool, if necessary.

Broiled foods give variety to the menu and provide nourishing food values. Plan to broil potatoes, fruit and meat at the same time for the sake of economy.

Cast iron burners are best cleaned with soap, water and an abrasive. Be certain they are thoroughly rinsed and dried so they will not rust.

Ranges with porcelain enameled surfaces should be allowed to cool before cleaning so they will not crack or craze.

SPRING TONIC

Let rhubarb give your winter-time meals a flavor lift. Forced rhubarb is on the market well ahead of the spring season and will prove a real spring tonic for everyday menus. Michigan produces quantities of this crop.

OMELET TIPS

Eggs are on the plentiful list and can help your food budget these days. You can serve omelets in a variety of ways and can dress them up with sauces. To make a flat omelet, blend all the ingredients together. For a fluffy one, beat the yolks and whites separately. Eggs will whip more quickly to a greater volume if they are at room temperature.

JELLIED RICE GARNISH

When serving a veal or pork roast, these rice mounds make an attractive addition to the meat platter. Place a spoonful of jelly in the bottom of greased baking cups. Fill with hot cooked rice and let them stand for a few minutes. Unmold directly on the meat platter.

Perfect source of Vitamin B-1, and perfectly safe when it is cooked properly, the Department emphasized.

Stretch Meat Budget With Economical Main Dishes

You can make a little meat into a hearty meal with the aid of an ingenious recipe. Left-over meat, sausage and dried beef may be used to advantage in preparing a good, yet inexpensive, main dish. Here are a few recipes fit for the economical meat budget.

MEAT AND VEGETABLE PIE

Melt two tablespoons of butter. Add, blending well, two tablespoons flour. Cook until bubbling. Add 1 medium size can of vegetable soup. Cook, stirring until thickened. Add two cups diced cooked beef, pork or veal. Pour into large casserole or individual ones. Cover with rich biscuit dough cut into small biscuits, or circle of mashed potatoes, fluted with fork. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes, or until brown. Serves four.

CREAMED DRIED BEEF AND PEAS

4 to 6 ounces dried beef
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
3 tablespoons enriched flour
2 cups milk
2 cups cooked or canned peas
Dash of pepper
Biscuits or toast

Melt fat in frying-pan and cook dried beef until crisp. Add flour and blend; stir in milk slowly. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add peas and heat thoroughly. Serve on biscuits or on toasted bread. 6 to 8 servings.

BEEF ON THE HALF SHELL

- 1 1/2 cups cooked beef
- 2 bouillon cubes
- 2 cups boiling water
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 3-oz. can mushrooms
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 Dash cayenne
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 slice bread crumbled

Start your oven at 400° F. or moderately hot. Cut beef in small chunks; dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water. Melt butter or margarine in skillet, take off stove and stir in flour until smooth. Then stir in bouillon and cook until smooth and bubbly, stirring constantly.

Take off stove and add all other ingredients, except bread. Pour into oiled casserole (medium size) or shells. Mix up bread crumbs with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle over the top. Bake 15 minutes. Plenty for 4.

HEARTY SAUSAGE TRIANGLES

- 5 medium potatoes
- Few sprigs parsley
- 3 knackwursts or 1/2 lb. bologna
- 1 small onion
- 3 eggs
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- Dry bread crumbs
- 4 tablespoons shortening, butter or margarine

Boil up your potatoes and then peel. Next, chop up the parsley nice and fine. Put potatoes, knackwurst (or bologna) and onion through the food chopper, using the medium blade. Then mix in the eggs, parsley, salt and pepper. Mix together very well, then shape into triangles or rolls. Roll in the dry bread crumbs. Heat your fat (shortening, butter or margarine) in a heavy pan, then fry the sausage mixture until nicely browned all over. This makes 6 big triangles or rolls that are simply wonderful.

Here, There, Everywhere With The Plymouth Mail's Roving Wolverine

There has been considerable comment pertaining to recent assertions made in this column about excessive rates charged for accommodations to people who have saved a few extra dollars to spend a vacation automobile trip to various parts of the country.

Nearly all of the comment, most of it in letters, has been good. Even some of the resort owners agree that the excessive rates charged in both Florida and northern Michigan have done much to hurt certain localities.

Florida learned the lesson well two or three years ago. The Florida localities that went out to trim the tourists haven't done so well since.

Up in northern Michigan certain resort areas that charged reasonable rates, did a land-office business last year and they will repeat this year.

There is one summer resort area in the Upper Peninsula that especially enjoyed a most thriving business last summer and inquiries show that they are sure to have another good summer—all because they do not believe in gypping people who are enjoying a brief vacation period in the north.

We have reference to resort owners operating along Whitefish Bay, some 30 or 40 miles west of Sault Ste. Marie. It was soon after the war when they all agreed that they would see to it that vacation visitors were not held up and that their rates would be held as low as consistently possible.

As any one knows, the shores surrounding Whitefish Bay are almost the most beautiful in Michigan. The summers are always delightfully cool, as breezes generally blow across Lake Superior sweeping this entire district. Resorts located miles inland even benefit from the cooling Lake Superior breezes.

Not only are the days and nights delightfully pleasant during the summer months, but there is always good fishing and swimming in the Bay. Another good feature is the fact that the Bay because of its unusual location is protected waters in which to fish, unless there should be a strong wind directly out of the north. But wind from that direction seldom prevails in the summer time.

Maybe our harping about unreasonable tourist rates will make it possible for people who scrimp all winter to save a few dollars for a summer vacation trip, to take a vacation in northern Michigan without the necessity of mortgaging their house and lot or their automobile to do so.

About the busiest person in the world when on a vacation trip is Ed Gardiner, deputy warden of the Detroit House of Correction. No, he doesn't do any driving. It's Mrs. Gardiner who looks after the maintenance and operation of the automobile from the time they leave Plymouth until they return home—no matter how long the trip or where they go.

Recently on a vacation trip to Florida and Cuba, Ed kept busy not only seeing the sights along the way but checking the license plates on cars they met on the road. When he left Florida to start back north, his list showed that he had checked license plates on cars from every state in the Union except Utah and Nevada. He had also checked plates on cars from three foreign countries.

Not only does he keep occupied while zipping along the highways, but in Cuba who else but the genial past president of the Plymouth Rotary club, would run into a mild word "revolution" at a Rotary meeting in Havana but Mr. Gardiner.

Cubans are excellent people, exceptionally polite and attempt to adhere religiously to proper rules of social and business conduct at all times.

That's why the gentlemanly Chief of Police of Havana didn't like a speech being made at the Havana Rotary club meeting attended by Mr. Gardiner. It seems that the Provincial Governor was somewhat critical in his remarks about the Havana police not being good examples for the public when it came to proper observance of traffic regulations.

The Police chief stormed out of the meeting and refused to return until proper apologies had been made. When the Havana Rotarians left, troubled waters were calm and Mr. Gardiner is sure that traffic conditions in Havana will be improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner not only visited Havana but they made a plane trip to an interior city of Cuba located some 300 miles east of Havana. On the return flight, they ran into one of those tropical rainstorms.

"I do not care to experience another such a flight," said Mr. Gardiner—and Mrs. Gardiner agreed.

Upon their return to Miami, they were met at the airport by a representative of a radio station, who briefly interviewed them about their Cuban trip. Their remarks were broadcast a few days after they had left for the north. We listened to the broadcast—both Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner speaking well—and nicely of Cuba.

Some 40 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, there is a trail road which turns northward up into the "brush" country. Some few miles along this road, there is a little lake and on one side of the lake there is an out-cropping of some jasper rock.

The next time you miss Dr. Ace Williams from Plymouth and if you want to find him, just follow these directions, and there you will locate Dr. Ace Williams digging with his little mining pick-axe for choice bits of nicely colored jasper rock. In another chapter to appear in subsequent issues the story will be told about his purpose for gathering this rock.

Michigan not only has the greatest number of state parks of any commonwealth in the Union, but it also possesses the largest. When the Michigan legislature created the Porcupine Mountains State Park in Ontonagon county up near Lake Superior it also made into a park area the highest mountain range between the Appalachians and Rocky mountain ranges.

While Douglas lake up in the northern tip of the Lower Peninsula is barely four miles north of the northern end of Burt lake, its surface is something like a hundred feet higher than that of Burt lake. Some say this fact accounts for the large number of flowing wells that can be found in the Burt lake area.

Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States of America, was the engineer in charge of the construction of a lighthouse that still stands in Michigan. It is located near Alpena and to this date is in an excellent state of preservation. Davis before the Civil war was associated with the United States war department. In 1841 he was sent to Michigan to supervise the construction of the Alpena lighthouse and those who have visited it in recent years declare that its construction is of the highest type.

Huron Bay is a body of water that opens into Lake Superior and not Lake Huron, as many suppose. It is located east of L'Anse in the Upper Peninsula, and one of the most beautiful drives in Michigan can be found along the shore of Huron Bay.

In the early days of Michigan settlement, there is plenty of evidence to indicate that wild turkeys thrived especially well in the southern part of the state. But heavy settlement terminated their existence in Michigan in the very early days of statehood.

But Michigan will be interested in a federal effort that is going to be made to restore wild turkey production in certain parts of the country. In fact with the development of the extensive Waterloo State Recreational project west of Plymouth, there is no reason why an effort should not be made to see if wild turkeys might not thrive in that vast area.

Albert M. Day director of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior recently discussed this interesting undertaking of his department.

While 13 states have used Federal funds provided by the Pittman-Robertson Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Act for wild turkey re-establishment projects—with a total of 6,168 turkeys transplanted in 10 years—Mr. Day cites Colorado as a good example of successful management practice. Colorado, which had not had an open season on turkeys since 1899, had a three-day season last October—permitting a bag of one per hunter. Reports on this open season indicated that 20 percent of the hunters got their turkey, as compared to the national average of about 16 percent for hunters of these prized fowl.

Since 1943, when Colorado began extensive trapping and transplanting of wild turkeys with the aid of Pittman-Robertson funds, the populations of these birds in the state have risen from 6,000 to 18,000.

The large Merriam's, or "mountain," turkeys native to Colorado were once very abundant, but excessive hunting and the destruction of habitat by man threatened their existence. In common with many other states, principally in the South, Colorado began in the late 1930s and early 1940s to build up its turkey populations.

Colorado's management program consisted of three main elements; the trapping of predatory animals like coyotes and bobcats off of ranges where turkeys were to be introduced, live-trapping and transplanting of wild birds to the new ranges, and the maintenance of a supply of wild turkeys on the Devil Creek ranch for re-stocking purposes. This state-owned, 600-acre, natural turkey range was acquired and developed with Pittman-Robertson funds to preserve the large portion of the once-declining turkey population in Colorado.

The turkey is a wide-ranging bird—requiring abundant food supplies (acorns, seeds, berries and insects) to maintain its great weight, and sufficient cover and protection from predators and man to breed and survive. These specialized requirements limit the number of areas in which turkeys may be introduced. In Colorado, wild-trapped stock was introduced chiefly in inaccessible canyons where the requirements of food and cover were met. Wild turkeys once ranged from Ontario (along the northern shore of Lake Erie) to Mexico, and from Maine and the Southern states through the mid-west to Arizona.

Michigan's Conservation department seemingly does all it can to be of aid to Michigan residents, even the hard working baitman.

Bait dealers and others who want to produce bait minnows can get a supply of chub and sucker fry from the conservation department.

Bait shortages the last few years has caused the department's fish division to provide fry for minnow-raising ponds.

Prices continue at last year's rate of $2.50 a thousand for chub fry and $1.50 a thousand for sucker fry. Stock must be ordered on special blanks which can be secured by writing to the fisheries supervisor, department of conservation, Plainwell.

According to a statement made recently by officials of the Michigan Conservation department, foresters are approaching the halfway mark in their survey of state-owned forest lands which started two years ago.

Survey, which now is 42 percent complete, will provide information on present and future sale and planting possibilities, as well as amount of cedar browse available to deer.

Recommendations on some 39,000 descriptions covering over 1,500,000 acres in upper and northern lower peninsulas have been made by 25 district foresters. By the time the program is completed, expected within the next 12 months, foresters will have examined the entire 3,500,000 acres of state-owned forest land.

Old time residents are finding it difficult to recall who it was that built the old Voorhies residence that was recently removed to make room for the new Harry Lush theater to be built on Penniman just east of Main street.

Whoever it was that built the house back in the old days before the Civil War, didn't think it was necessary to remove a stump nearly five feet in diameter that was uncovered the other day when Russell Powell's big steam shovel lifted it out of the earth.

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

"Smiling Through"

THIS STORY IS ABOUT a sleek girl for whom the doctor prescribed work. Yes, she was thinking too much about herself and was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. More and more, doctors are coming to doctoring the mind as well as—and often instead of—the body.

This girl is named Joan Morytko, and she lives in Waterbury, Conn. She had not worked for nearly a year when her doctor diagnosed her case and gave her the above advice. She looked upon herself as too sick to go to work, and this made the doctor seem a hard-hearted sort of a guy, or it would have had her not also seemed to have her real interest at heart. So she got a job and it wasn't long before she actually felt better, as the doctor had said she would.

Carnegie

After working six months, she found a note in her pay envelope one day saying that due to government cancellations of orders, she was being laid off. She knew this was not the true reason for her discharge, for she worked in the sample department, and she knew what orders came in.

She decided to have a talk with the boss and find out the real reason for them laying her off. He looked at her closely, and kindly, then said, "Well, Joan, I'll tell you; you never smile. We like to have happy people around here for when one employee is unhappy, or disgruntled the other employees are affected. An unhappy worker, is sure to mean poor work in the long run. And we can't afford it."

Maybe that explanation didn't come as a big surprise. Joan had never thought of her unhappiness affecting anyone but herself. But she could readily see that it might, now that she analyzed her situation. So she got to work to learn the way out of the dense woods in which she found herself.

One of the first things she ran across at the library was an article on smiling, the effect it had on others, as well as on the one who did the smiling. She began smiling at those she met. She liked the responses she got. She says never again will she lose out because she doesn't look at the happy side of life, and smile her way through.

Roger Babson Says...

Babson Discusses Chocolate-Sealed Fish

During the 27 years I have been writing this weekly column which now appears in over 400 newspapers, this is the first time I have taken the space to defend my actions. My Chocolate-Sealed Fish, however, has been so razzed by newspapers, cartoonists, etc. that I must rise to its defense!

Gloucester Experiments

I was born in Gloucester, Massachusetts, the largest fishing port of the world. I have since always spent my summers there. Hence, I have seen much of the fishing industry,—its development and changes. Just now it is in the "quick-freezing" era, when you buy frozen fillets which are good tasting and healthful fish.

These fillets, however, are only the flesh sides of a fish. They contain no calcium from the bones; no vitamins from the liver; nor certain other valuable products which are now ground up for chicken feed. Any biologist will tell you that chickens are now better fed than humans! The chickens get 65% of the fish; including all the minerals and vitamins.

Our Ancestry
Some of the people of this country may have started from monkeys; but surely the best of us originally came from great fishes which had backbones like ours. Some of these fishes had the initiative to crawl up on the land. They became lizards and these gradually developed into animals. Hence, today, we can get from fish nearly all we need in order to live—provided we eat the whole fish.

Last summer I experimented with grinding up and cooking the whole fish,—flesh, bones, skin, liver and all with the help of my friend Captain Frank Favalora. I gave some dinner parties having soup, jellied salads, fish balls and lobster (ground up with the shell) for the main courses with sea vegetables—followed by a delightful dessert made from sea moss which I picked up off Little Good Harbor beach. The repeat had two outs: one a slightly unpleasant odor, and two a somewhat bitter taste.

My Experiments
Various experiments were tried to eliminate these two handicaps. My Japanese chef eliminated the odor with a few drops of oil of orange; but we could not get rid of the bitter taste. This bitterness was probably caused by the fresh liver which was one of the best of the ingredients. So I gave up until coming to Florida this winter.

While in Florida I met Mr. Pricken who has a modern canning factory in Lakeland. He coats orange peel with chocolate; it is delicious. A thought occurred to me and I took over to him some ground cooked whole fish to run through his chocolate-sealing machine,—including the cooler. The result to my taste was very good,—no odor and no bitterness. But according to the newspapers not even the cats of Lakeland would come near the factory for days!

Chocolate A Preservative
But the above is not the whole story. In addition to killing the odor and bitterness, of the whole fish, the chocolate also sealed this cooked ground whole fish. The chocolate sealing acts as a preservative for the fish as it does for the cream in chocolate covered candy. The fish so sealed and unfrozen kept fresh for some weeks in our refrigerator.

Well, the above is my story. Surely my chocolate-sealed fish has no friends at present; but I close the sad story with this forecast:—Someday every family for health's sake—will be eating ground whole fish chocolate sealed. Whether it will be eaten as a main dish or as a dessert, I leave to the imagination of my patient readers.

Stein Collection Displayed at Bank This Week .....

Ted Box shows some of the steins in his collection that are on display this week in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank. Box has been collecting steins for the past 15 years and has about 60 in all. The hobby display is the second in a series that the bank will put on exhibit. Anyone having a hobby suitable for display should contact the bank or the Plymouth Mail.

Reminiscent of an old German Rathskeller is the collection of steins decorating the restaurant and bar of Ted Box on Main street. But the Rathskeller effect has been transplanted temporarily while Box exhibits his steins this week in the second hobby display in the lobby of the Plymouth United Savings bank. Box has approximately 60 steins and no two are alike in pattern. He began his hobby about 15 years ago and has now collected many unusual steins. Two are from the August Busch, of Aduesser-Busch brewers, collection. Of these one bears the likeness of the Crown Prince of Germany and the other of Bismarck. Some of his steins which have a porcelain lining and a distinctive design were made by the most prominent manufacturers of steins. These steins bear the trade mark of Humphrey-Palmer, Mettlech's and Mussell Schuls. The steins vary in size, the smallest being 2 inches high, and the largest, 20 inches. This is the first time Box has ever exhibited his collection.

Scenery will be supervised by Miss Post, art teacher, and Mrs. William Petchauer will be the musical director. Mrs. J. F. Belobraydic will supervise costuming.

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

A BATTERED, election campaign hat has become a symbol of good luck for Broderick Crawford... He first wore the sentimental felt for his dynamic role as "Willie Stark" in Columbia's "All the King's Men"... Unless the role called for a uniform, he has worn it in a number of unreleased pictures since, and he says he will do the same for his big role in "Born Yesterday"... He also wears it constantly off the screen as well as on... And why not, when it brings him good luck? Now that Ray Milland has finished work with Ross-Hind Russell in "A Woman of Distinction," he will take his first vacation in a year.

Milton Berle's ex-wife, Joyce Matthews, has been signed by CBS-TV for a once-weekly half-hour show... And her first guest will be—of course!—Milton Berle... This could only happen in show business where everybody is just one big happy family... After cancelling the contract of Martin and Lewis and moaning of the tremendous loss they took on the team, NBC has re-signed them, this time for a venture in television... The radio routine with the comedians did not pan out so well.

HERE AND THERE
Unknown to the audience, Mrs. Bess Truman slipped quietly into ABC's Vanderbilt Theatre to hear daughter Margaret when she appeared as guest artist on the "Carnegie Hall" radio series... Margaret has been signed for several more appearances on that program... Despite the CBS huddles, Phil Harris has decided to remain with NBC... Trade circles predict that Fred Allen is definitely through with regular weekly broadcasts... The consensus is that when he returns to the networks next season it will be on television only, with possible occasional guest shots on radio. Walter O'Keefe, in collaboration with his organist Irv Orion, has written two new songs.

Just below the mouth of the Detroit river, where it joins Lake Erie, rests the steamer "Clarion" with the strangest of sunken cargoes: locomotives.
