Parking Areas Voting Machines Take up Agenda

Voting machines and parking lots were issues discussed by the City Commission at their last meeting Tuesday, February 20.

The commissioners passed a resolution advising the Wayne County Board of Supervisors that they would be interested in purchasing six voting machines on a 10-year contractual basis.

The machine would cost $8,400, but the installation of voting machines would save $906 a year. The installation of voting machines would assure an accurate count and speedy reporting of results.

Spoiled ballots, handling of ballots by voters and redistricting would all be avoided.

The commissioners also agreed to continue offering to purchase the land bounded by Dodge, Union, Penniman, and Main streets for a municipal parking lot. The proposed parking lot would take care of 150 cars.

Approval from the commission was given to the merchant's committee to retain the counsel of Mr. Burton Johnson for the parking area negotiations.

The commission also approved the remodeling of the main plan of Plymouth, so that alleys may be used for parking in the block bounded by S. Main and Deer streets.

Picture Album From Korea Reaches Owner

From South Korea, to Plymouth, and finally to Brighton, a lettered and torn photo album reached its owner with the help of Harold Enterline, owner of the Enterline Photo Service.

The album, made by the Enterline Photo Service, was lost by Herbert Bowles, a serviceman in Korea. Snapshots of Rowlett's wife and two children were clipped into the pocket-size album.

A considerate GI, Cpt. Robert L. Hyatt, found the album and sent it to Enterline, asking that he find the owner.

When Enterline received the pictures, he promptly gave the album to the servicemen who showed it to the druggists in nearby cities. Enterline explained that his service does not have actual contact with individual customers, who send pictures developed and enlarged.

The pictures could only have reached the owner if one of the druggists recognized the pictures. After contacting druggists in Milford, Howell, and other cities in Michigan, the owner, Mrs. Ransom Rowlette, of Brighton, was found.

Members of the women's auxiliary of the American Legion, which also served the druggists, were Mrs. Joseph Elmer, Mrs. Charles Thompson, and Mrs. Robert Stewart.

Appoint Bowles to New Labor Post

Plymouth residents were pleased to learn last Thursday that Plymouthite, George E. Bowles, was appointed director of the State Labor Mediation Board's Detroit office by Governor Williams.

Bowles was appointed to the board last January 3. During World War II, he served on the National Labor Relations Board and the War Labor Board.

In addition to his law practice in Detroit, Bowles is the permanent arbitrator of the Baldwin Rubber company in Pontiac. He has arbitrated a number of disputes in the Detroit and Plymouth areas.

Bowles and Joseph J. Bruchsch, who has been named executive secretary of the board, are taking the places of Republicans Philip Weiss and Carlisle A. Gray.

Bowles told a Plymouth reporter that the arrangements were mutually and happily arrived at and that any changes would be made by routine.

"This does not mean that there will be changes in the board's operation," the new administrative head said.

A Plymouth resident since 1927, Mr. Bowles lives at 884 Palmer street with his wife and three children.

Leaders Express Urgency of Defense.....

The importance of the Civilian Defense program was voiced by three key men in the civilian defense effort at the George Washington banquet last Thursday night.

The combined efforts of Brig. General Clyde Dougherty, Russell Daane, Plymouth's Civilian Defense Director, and Peter McGilvery, industrial and community coordinator, gave a thorough account of emergency measures.

General Dougherty, Civilian Defense Director of Wayne County and the vicinity, said, "I would like to impress everyone in Plymouth with the urgency and how absolutely essential it is for Detroit that the outlying communities are organized and ready for any emergency."

General Dougherty, who was scheduled as the main speaker, could not stay very long at the banquet, because he was slated to speak in Wyandotte on civilian defense.

"It will be you, the people of Plymouth, and the people in nearby communities, who will determine if Detroit will survive if there should be an atom bomb raid," the general declared.

"We don't expect an attack today or tomorrow, but we can't say we will never be attacked. If we are bombed, we will need all the resources, preparations, and the personnel we can muster," General Dougherty stated.

The stocky and ruddy complexioned general concluded in his strong, booming voice that "It is vital for everyone in the community to mobilize for the emergency period."

Another key man in the civilian defense of Wayne County and the vicinity, Peter McGilvery, discussed the overall picture of civilian defense in the country and the attitudes of the public toward mobilization.

"The public believes that we are living in critical times, when the president has declared that a state of national emergency exists and when an army of over four million men has been mobilized. The fact that the national defense program has been speeded up makes a possible war very real," McGilvery stated.

Builders Make Progress On New Addition

Building going up! Three weeks ahead of schedule, the structural steel foundations in the new addition to the Plymouth High school will go up today.

In spite of the cold weather, the construction crew of the Ward W. Ross, Inc., have plugged along steadily, making progress.

The sudden break in the weather and the Spring thaw has speeded up construction, so that three quarters of the foundations have been completed.

Fred Coverdill, superintendent of construction, reports that the entire section of the gym has been finished.

The pool has been dug and at present the men are working on the circular band room.

"Fortunately," said Coverdill, "the construction company had acquired all the scarce materials before the government slapped controls upon them."

Progress will not be held up due to shortage of materials. The firm has 80 percent of the structural steel, all of the electrical materials, plumbing, wiring and heating equipment, steel sashes, aluminum sills, and glass block.

The chrome plate finished hardware and concealed door closers have been banned by the U. S. government. Steel and aluminum sashes will be banned on April 1. But the Ross company has all of these materials on hand.

Construction on the Bird Elementary school has also progressed, reports Coverdill. The painting work is completed in the latter part of March.

The Ward W. Ross construction company built the George A. Smith Elementary school and is constructing the Bird school, and the addition to Plymouth High.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Orndorf were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith of Williams street on Sunday evening.

Mail Residents '51 Easter Seals

Easter seals for the 1951 fund drive of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults have been mailed to Plymouth residents. If some residents are not on the mailing list, the society would appreciate it if they would send in their contributions.

The Easter seal drive will continue until Easter.

Crippled children and crippled children not eligible for aid under the Crippled or Afflicted Act are aided by the Society.

The many activities of the society include supplying bus transportation and typewriters, providing Christmas parties for crippled children, speech therapy, maintenance of an occupational therapist for the children in the Convalescent Home at Farmington, maintenance of bedside teachers at the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium, and in the polo ward of Herman Kieler hospital during school vacation.

Daane Reports on Progress Made In Plymouth's Civilian Defense

Russell Daane, Plymouth Civilian Defense Director, Police Chief Greenlee, and City Manager Glassford, visited the state Civilian Defense meeting in Lansing last Wednesday. Approximately 1,000 Civilian Defense directors and key personnel were present.

Daane reports that Plymouth is in step with the rest of Michigan with preparations for Civilian Defense.

"The first mock atom bomb raid," said Daane, will be held in Detroit and Sault Ste. Marie on April 16." Plymouth and other communities have been asked to cooperate in the theoretical dropping of two bombs on the industrial city. The raid will be a daytime operation," said Daane.

Although several of the preparations for civilian defense are still in the planning stage, some plans have been organized.

Daane gave a complete picture of Plymouth's Civilian Defense at a Washington Day banquet for the Salvation Army's War Industries War Chest last Thursday.

A considerable number of Plymouth men have volunteered to serve as auxiliary police and firemen. Daane said, however, that many more men are still needed.

"Plymouth citizens are also greatly needed for the ranks of air raid wardens and block wardens," Daane reports. Volunteers for the auxiliary police, firemen, air raid wardens, and block wardens should come to the police desk at the City Hall.

"The first air raid situation is on the other hand very good," states Daane. Dr. Ray Barber, City Health officer, as the first aid chairman, has organized first aid units at four locations.

A class in first aid has been completed and another one is being organized, Daane reports. The need for knowledge of first aid in case of emergencies is urgent.

If an atom bomb strikes, anyone who can administer aid to the injured will be desperately needed. Who knows, you may save the life of a loved one?

Plymouth residents may sign up for the Red Cross fund drive, by calling Mrs. H. R. Penhale at 252-W.

A survey has been made of facilities available for mass housing and shelter of evacuees, the Civilian Defense Director added. James Houk, disaster chairman of the Red Cross, told the Plymouth Mail that the survey shows churches, the Hotel Mayflower, schools, and all public buildings can be used.

Unfortunately, the house-to-house canvass of Plymouth homes to discover how many evacuees could be given shelter has been a disappointment. "I'm sorry to say that we got a very poor response from Plymouth residents," Daane said.

"More than 50 percent of the people refused to give any information. Canvassers were told by Plymouth citizens that when an emergency occurs, they would then open their doors. Then it will be too late," declared Daane.

Daane stressed to the guests at the banquet that the Civilian Defense canvassers were not looking for housing for industrial workers. "We are only looking for shelter for evacuees of bombed areas," he said.

The Red Cross chairman of the canvassing committee is Mrs. Mowry Arnold. Women's service clubs are conducting the survey.

Daane also reports that if transportation and equipment is needed during an emergency, the Civilian Defense committee will know where to find it. A file of bulldozers, tractors, and trucks has been organized.

The Civilian Defense Director stated that when the American Red Cross Bank unit came to Plymouth, the project was an immense success. The blood typing program, which will start soon in Detroit, is expected to be carried out in Plymouth at that time.

Placards, which will soon be distributed to Plymouth homes by the Boy Scouts, will advise residents what to do in an atom bomb raid, Daane informed banquet guests.

The black and red cards are 8 1/2 by 10 inches and Plymouth residents can expect them in ten days, said Daane. Daane advised that the cards be posted on the walls and that Plymouth citizens familiarize themselves with the steps for survival.

Other preparations include an auxiliary generator, which will supply power for the city hall and keep the power radio in operation in case of an emergency. The fire department's siren can be adapted to give an alarm in an atom bomb attack.

Congress Shall Make No Laws Abridging the Freedom of The Press

What I Think and Have A Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

A STATE INCOME TAX.

Newspaper reports say that there are some members of the present legislature discussing the advisability of imposing a state income tax upon the people of Michigan.

There isn't much question about the state's serious financial plight—due entirely to the voters of good old Michigan who have voted at various times for a diversion of various tax moneys from the state government to local governmental units.

This has left the state "holding the bag" so to speak. Something, sometime and in some way, will have to be done to remedy the situation—and as we see it, it will come through a complete revision of all tax laws. But that day is not near.

And we do not predict that the legislature will enact any sort of an income tax for this state.

It will not be done because the writers of our present state constitution were wise enough to write into it a provision that makes it necessary for any income tax ever imposed upon the people of Michigan to provide additional state revenues, the income tax must be "uniform"—that is every person will be taxed exactly at the same rate.

There can be no favorites, no classes, no group can have any advantage over any one else—all must pay exactly the same rate of tax.

That's a pretty fair method of taxation and as a result you can bet your last dollar that such a tax will never be imposed in Michigan.

OUR GREATEST DANGER.

As we see it the greatest threat to American success in the WAR into which we have been plunged by our bungling blunderers in Washington is not so much in the hands of our armed forces as it is in the hands of the penny-ante politicians who are now running our government.

Newspapers did not give as much prominence to the recent resignation and statement made by Vice Admiral John H. Hoover as to why he was resigning as enforcement chief of the price and wage organization of the government as it was entitled to receive.

He issued the following brief statement:

"It is true that I have resigned as price control enforcement officer of the ESA. It is also true that I believe politics has no place in an organization affecting every American home."

The admiral refused to elaborate on his statement.

A reporter asked an official of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) for comment on a story in the Washington Daily News. This story, prepared by the Washington staff of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, said the Economic Stabilization Agency is being built into a nation-wide Democratic machine.

It said the Democratic National committee is in charge and is passing on candidates for every job paying $4,000 a year and up.

Of course the assertion was denied. But there has been not a single fact brought forth to discredit the assertion made by the retired World War II Admiral that politics has no place in the administration of any government agency which affects EVERY American home. It is the recent Washington brand of politics that we fear more than we do the unprepared plight of our country.

Lisle H. Alexander of N. Mill street left Sunday for Washington, D.C. on official American Legion business. He will return home on Friday.

Turkey Growers Attend Dinner Given by Kasco Mills Company

More than 75 turkey growers from the vicinity attended a turkey dinner Monday evening and heard poultry and agricultural specialists give advice on how to grow bigger and better turkeys.

The annual dinner was sponsored by the Kasco Feed company. Speakers at the banquet included William Aho, poultry specialist at Michigan State college; Ralph Bebesheimer, Wayne County agricultural agent; Ralph Dower, Kasco Mills poultry specialist; and Edward Goldner, representative of the Kasco Feed company.

W. B. Hanson, representative of Kasco Mills, gave the welcoming address and introduced the speakers.

Michigan State poultry specialist William Aho told the turkey growers that the turkey business is big business. He cited the fact that in the United States

McGillivrey drew attention to the fact that during World Wars I and II, Germany had lost the war in spite of her military and industrial strength because she was outnumbered 5 to 1.

"It war broke out today the United States would be in the same unfavorable position," McGillivrey said. "If we are going to win the next war we must double and triple our effort of the last two wars."

McGillivrey said that the possibility of Plymouth being bombed was remote. If it happened it would be caused by a near miss. "But if the United States wants to win the next war, the cities must be put back into shape if they are bombed. Americans must pick themselves off the streets, and as the courageous British had done in the last war, they must go back to work," the operation's coordinator stated.

After McGillivrey's analysis of national civilian defense, Plymouth's Civilian Defense director Russell Danne reported on the progress of Plymouth's effort for mobilization. The account of Danne's address is reported in another news story in this paper.

The George Washington Day's banquet was well attended by Plymouth citizens. The proceeds of the dinner and donations amounting to $187 were given by Joseph Phibbs to Captain Roberts of the Salvation Army.

The funds will be used to supply every inductee from Plymouth and Livonia with duffle bags filled with pills. Announce Marriage of Mr. and Mrs. James Ward

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kinske, of Joy road, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Mary Lou, to James E. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ward of Pacific avenue.

In Denver, Pin factor Everett B. Gardner returned a 200-lb. plover statue he found on a gold-hunting expedition to the Keifer Plumbing Co., which had reported it stolen, collected a $50 reward.

44,773,000 turkeys are grown, which represents an investment of $250,000,000.

In Michigan, the turkey growers raise 1,085,000 turkeys, which comes to an investment of seven million dollars, Aho said.

Although turkey growers do have competition from the West, Aho stated that if Michigan turkey growers continue to do the good job of raising and processing turkeys that they have done — they will have no trouble.

Aho advised the turkey growers to develop their local retail trade and the gift order turkey business. "If you produce quality turkeys your customers will come back for more," Aho declared.

The poultry specialist pointed out that a turkey lost at the age of 22 or 24 weeks was a greater loss to the farmer than a poult killed a few weeks after its birth.

Aho then suggested to the turkey growers that losses in birds might be prevented if the farmers observed the following precautions: get disease free poult, buy poult yourself instead of getting them through the mail, feed birds early, and do not overcrowd them.

The poultry expert continued by saying that early roosting, and an abundance of equipment would prevent cannibalism among the turkeys. He also suggested that the turkey growers not switch the equipment abruptly, but make changes gradually.

Turkey growers were told they could achieve more favorable results in raising birds, if the mash contained oats and a high protein level.

Aho also pointed out to the farmers, that the emergency period would take workers out of farm work into defense industry, and that turkey growers could cut down on labor if they worked out a system of feeding and caring for the birds.

Other advice on the care of turkeys was given by Ralph Dower, Kasco Mills poultry expert. He cautioned the turkey growers on sanitation, housing, and the care of birds. He also pointed out that the quality of the turkey depends on its food.

Wayne County Agricultural Agent Ralph Bebesheimer offered to help the turkey growers with any of their problems in raising turkeys.

Edward Goldner, representative of the Kasco Feed company, warned the turkey growers that turkey feed and the supply of poult from the hatcheries would become scarce during the emergency period.

Guests at the dinner included Plymouth area residents Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hersh and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gottschalk. Mr. and Mrs. Hersh have been raising turkeys for fifty years.

Ecneics Receive League Trophy

The final "D" league games were played on Thursday, February 22 to end one of the most interesting leagues in Plymouth. Three teams made the play-offs: Ecneics, Red Birds, and Austin Taxi. These final games were also very important, as they decided who would be in the play-offs and the league winner.

In the final game for the Ecneics, they met the Red Birds who were in a tie for first place with the Ecneics. The game was close all the way, with the Plymouth High school science club coming out on top 46-41 to cop the league trophy.

Max Lane was the main person responsible for the Ecneics grand slam win as he dumped in 21 points to pace his team to a much wanted victory. The Red Birds were the 1949-50 "D" league champs.

Rocks, Ypsi Tie For Second Spot

The Plymouth Rocks ended their basketball schedule Friday with a 47-40 victory over Wayne to place the Rocks in a second place tie with the Ypsi Braves. Trenton came through in fine style to capture the top spot with an 8-2 record. The Plymouth squad's 7-3 record was the same as Ypsi's. The first half of the game was very close, as the first quarter saw Wayne's leading 11-10 and a 20-20 deadlock at halftime. The Rocks came back in the third quarter and scored 16 points to Wayne's 10 to take a six point lead. Ten of Plymouth's points were made by Captain Wally Dzurus who dropped four baskets in less than four minutes. The Rocks increased their lead by one more point in the last period to win the first league game in a month. Wally Dzurus again paced the Rocks scoring attack with 13 counters. Wally has now hit for 200 points this season with the tournament games still left. In the drawing for the tournament to be held at Bentley Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 1, 2, and 3, the Rocks will meet the Redford Union Panthers at 9:00 p.m. Thursday.

Elks go on Winning Way Beat Wolverines 20-10

The "F" league winners, the Elks, started out very good in the play-offs, as they defeated the second place Wolverines 20-10. In regular league play, the Elks had been defeated only once and this was by the Wolverines. Herb Olson led the victors with six points while Rucker collected the same for the Wolverines.

House hunting? Read the classified ad section for where to find a house or apartment.

Well, this is good news for all married couples and for young folks who are tossing a coin on the question of mulling a blushing "I do" in front of the preacher. A national survey shows that married people have fewer headaches (the kind that make your head feel like a busy cement mixer) than single people. This will be sad news to cartoonists and radio gag writers, but it should help the June aisle traffic. Educated folks get more headaches than the less educated and housewives suffer more than salesmen. That sounds logical. Farmers are reported to have the fewest.

You told us you liked our nice selection of Valentines and now we want to tell you to come in and see just as good if not a better array of Easter Cards. They're on display.

We've spent a lot of time building our business to serve you right. That's why you'll find our stocks of drugs, sundries, toiletries, candies, etc. . . . complete. And that's why you'll always get friendly, personal attention when you drop in to see us at PETERSON DRUG, 840 W. Ann Arbor Trail. Phone: 2080.

The Bob Hopes have it!

Bob Hope Starring in 'THE LEMON DROP KID' a Paramount Picture

Like all clever wives, Mrs. Hope 'holds her star' by feeding him the things he likes. 'When it comes to eating,' she says, 'Bob isn't any different from most men. He knows what he wants, and he wants it to be good. And I've found a way to make everything good. That's to cook with an Electric Range. There's no guesswork that way, and meals always come out just right. The Electric Range is my 'dish' for cooking!'

Whatever dish you cook, your own Electric Range will do it fast, thrifflily, cleanly, without waste. Besides, everyone can afford the modern Electric Range. In fact, it's so saving of time, trouble and money that you really can't afford to be without it!

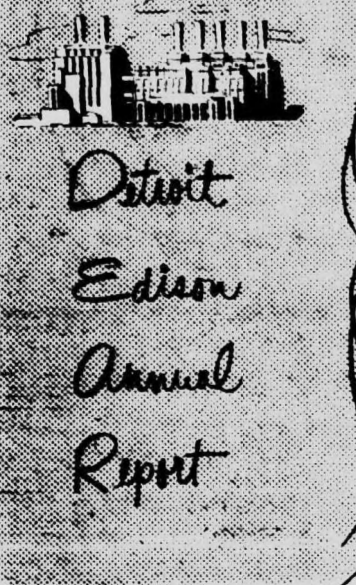

Bob Hope's Favorite CANADIAN CHEESE SOUP

- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine 1 tablespoon paprika 1/2 teaspoon pepper 2 cups milk 2 cans condensed consommé 2 cups grated sharp cheddar cheese 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce Dash tabasco 1/4 cup minced pimientos

Melt butter or margarine; blend in flour, paprika and pepper. Add milk; cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add consommé, just as it comes from the can. Add cheese; stir until melted. Add remaining ingredients, salting to taste. Serve at once. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Try Dry Beans During Lent To Alternate With Meat

Homemakers with an eye for food economy and variety during the Lenten season will find dry beans one of the best meat alternates, according to Mary Maxwell, agricultural economist, department food specialist at Michigan State College.

Butter yet, she says, it would be a wise move to serve beans two or three times a week the year around—whether you use them as meat alternates or merely because the family is fond of the many bean dish possibilities.

And few would challenge the claim that dry beans are a "best buy" in both food value and cost in these days of high priced eating, the food economist believes.

Considered an excellent food by nutritionists, beans contain generous supplies of carbohydrate, protein and minerals such as iron, calcium and phosphorus.

They are higher in protein than any other vegetable, and contain about twice as much protein as the cereal grains on a weight basis. Beans also supply several of the B vitamins as well as vitamins A and E.

Although beans in the dry form are the economy leaders, they're an economical food in the various canned or processed forms too.

Here's something to remember to avoid disappointments in dry bean cookery, suggests Miss Maxwell. They require long and slow cooking at low temperature, after an overnight soaking.

Many homemakers have been discouraged in cooking beans because they try to boil or bake them too fast, ending up with tough, hard pellets instead of a tender tasty dish.

Consumers can look forward to a good supply of beans, reasonably priced in comparison to other foods, throughout the year. And if its navy beans you like, you'll likely be buying a Michigan grown product. Normally about 90 percent of the nation's navy or white pea bean crop is grown in this state.

Michigan growers also produce large supplies of the other bean varieties such as red kidney, cranberry and yellow eye beans. The total bean harvest this past year was more than 3½ million hundred pound bags.

That's a little more than 5 pounds for every person if Michigan people ate them all—not enough by far to meet our dry bean needs from those Michigan grown.

Except during World Wars I and II, we have used between 7 and 9½ pounds of dry beans per person annually in the United States. The record year was the war year 1942 when the relative scarcity of meats boosted our per capita consumption of beans to over 11 pounds per person.

"EGGS" SPECIAL

When the snow is heavy on the roof tobs the aroma of vegetables and corned beef simmering on the stove is a pleasant one.

- One Kettle Dinner
- 3 pounds corned beef
  - 4 medium carrots
  - 6 turnips
  - 6 whole medium onions
  - 4 potatoes, quartered
  - 1 head cabbage
  - 1½ teaspoon pepper

Wash meat, cover with cold water, bring to boiling point and drain. Cover with boiling water, cover tightly and simmer three hours or until tender and most of the water has evaporated. One hour before serving add the carrots, turnips and onions.

Continue cooking fifteen minutes, then add potatoes and cabbage cut in wedges. Sprinkle with pepper. Cover and cook until potatoes are done.

Serve the meat on a large platter surrounded with vegetables. Sprinkle with paprika. Corn muffins or rye bread and coffee complete the meal.

Yield: 6 servings.

Thirty Minute Dinner

Corned beef hash in the can makes a short cut to a zippy dish. Combine one sixteen ounce can of hash with two cups of drained canned tomatoes and place in a greased baking dish.

Top the mixture with one fourth cup grated cheddar cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. This amount will serve four.

Head lettuce salad and hard rolls go well with corned beef hash in tomatoes. And, of course, don't forget the coffee.

Bright Spot During Dark Months

Snow and cold weather may be the outlook for the next few months, but even the snow man takes heart when he looks southward and sees the beauty of sunny Florida citrus fruits now available. This year's crop is an excellent one, and there are plenty of oranges, grapefruit and tangerines to more than insure a daily quota of flavorful Vitamin C for every member of the family. First, there should always be a morning glass of orange juice or a half grapefruit. Grapefruit halves are good for first or last course at luncheon or dinner, and by varying the toppings, they can be served often without monotony. Oranges, grapefruit and tangerines, the little kid-glove fruit, can be used in salads, fruit cups, and to lend new flavor to vegetables, meats and fish.

Offer Novel Sandwich Mix

Hearty meat sandwiches complement soup on any winter's day.

For instance, bacon and prune sandwiches are outstanding with vegetable soup. Prepare the sandwich spread by adding crisp bacon bits to chopped prunes, moisten with mayonnaise.

Frankfurter sandwiches are excellent with both lima and navy bean soup. To make these, put frankfurters through a food chopper.

Franks are ready-cooked so further heating is not necessary. Combine the ground meat with chopped sweet pickle and moisten with mayonnaise.

Another favorite, peanut butter and crisp chopped bacon, teams especially well with cream of celery soup.

To go with split pea soup combine bits of dried beef with whipped cream cheese.

And when serving potato soup turn to plump bacon and tomato combinations.

*1500 towns
the trucks
remember!*

Not so long ago the "town the rails forgot" was in a sorry state. Its link with commerce was weak indeed.

Now, 1500 Michigan communities are served solely by motor carrier. Many of them are centers of industrial and agricultural production. They enjoy advantages offered only by motor carrier: frequent, flexible service... door-to-door deliver... quick service from shipper to consignee.

Many of these towns benefit, too, through tourist and commercial traffic brought to their doors on superb highways made possible by weight and fuel taxes paid by motor carriers. Last year, commercial vehicles paid a total of $30,000,000 in weight, fuel, and other special taxes... 2 1/2 times the state's bill for maintaining and repairing trunk lines in the state.

Down South With the Ducks and Black Birds
 (And Plymouth Sun Worshipers)

The northern migration of sun worshippers, blackbirds and ducks is under way. Seldom does one see a blackbird anywhere along Florida trail roads these days—and most of the ducks seem to have left for northern places. There are some that never leave the warm waters of the swamplands, rivers and lakes—just as there are ducks that spend the entire winter in Michigan. But they are not plentiful.

Tourist travel in spite of reports now and then of icy roads and floods, is northbound—and Florida doesn't seem to be too happy over the closing tourist season. Some say it has been good—but others are not so sure about it. Maybe if Michigan has a warm summer, our northern resort keepers will make up for what they lost last year. It is pretty definite that the vast majority of Florida visitors this winter have been so-called "short-termers" they came to get away from the severe weather of the north just for ten days, or two or three weeks—as some of them said—"just to get away from it all for a few days."

Had a very pleasant visit the other day with Sister Patricia Ann, an instructor in the beautiful St. Patrick's cathedral high school in Miami Beach. She is a sister of Norman Marquis of Plymouth. A most attractive looking young lady, she is instructor of science and mathematics in St. Patrick's school. Sister Patricia Ann was a Plymouth visitor last summer on the first vacation trip she had had in three years. Her mother is now living in Detroit, having moved from Plymouth to the neighboring city during the last year.

Don't let Drew Pearson and his articles of hate and political deception published in the Detroit Free Press fool you one bit about Taft. We went down the other night to one of the largest motion picture theatres in Miami. During the showing of a number of news reels, there was shown a few views of the Republican Lincoln day dinner in Washington. The pictures of a number of noted public leaders at the banquet were also flashed on the screen. When the picture of Senator Robert Taft of Ohio was shown, the vast crowd in the theatre broke into a cheer that would cause one to think he was present at some enthusiastic political convention.

Have for years been a sort of motion picture fan, but never before do I ever recall such spontaneous applause for any person when his picture was thrown on the screen.

But it doesn't appear that Drew Pearson is going to be able to get away with his trash much longer. Westbrook Pegler and Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin are doing a pretty good job in discrediting his bunk that so many people have swallowed in past years. Even Publisher John Knight who publishes the Free Press took a recent crack at Pearson, branding him a "typewriter traitor," a mild term for one who has spilled so much biased information to the public.

Recently more than 300 Rotarians of Florida and northern states had the unusual opportunity of hearing an address by Arthur Laguerre, of Quebec, Canada who is this year serving as Rotary International president. What President Laguerre said was a delight to one of the biggest Rotary audiences ever gathered in Miami Beach and his tribute to Canada's nearest neighbor was cheered loudly by Rotarians who all too infrequently cheer when they should cheer.

It was by the merest chance that we happened to be seated at a table made up very largely of Canadian visitors. With George Henderson, of the Wallaceburg, Ontario club, was Miss Emma Cooper of London, Ontario, Mrs. Helen Cooper of Windsor and Mrs. Frank Temple of Grosse Pointe, Michigan.

When the Wallaceburg club was given its charter not too many years ago a number of Rotarians from Plymouth went over the river to attend the charter presentation ceremonies.

Miss Emma Cooper is a retired London school teacher. She taught in the same school and in the same room for 35 years. Mr. Henderson is a well known farmer and business man of Wallaceburg, being located at 413 Gillard street. He is really a most enthusiastic Rotarian—as most Rotarians on the other side of the border are.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Discusses "Barn Yard" Economics

Babson Park, Fla., March 2. We must start with the dictionary explanation of INFLATION. It is the name for a rise in prices due to demand exceeding production. Please keep this definition in mind as we follow through why a war causes prices to rise.

What About Taxes?

We complain about federal taxes; but even these have a cheerful side. As 90 per cent of all such taxes are dependent upon profits—either on business profits or personal income from dividends, etc. In other words, unless the Government allows us profits, the Government would go broke. Hence, we can absolutely depend upon good profits during war times.

Next you ask: "But what will prevent the Government from raising these taxes to a much higher percentage of profits?" The answer is that when taxes increase above a certain point, the Law of Diminishing Returns begins to work. If management is not allowed to increase wages and prices to offset any further tax increase, then production falls off and costs increase under our present "mass-production" system. Then more money must be raised by more taxes and the Government starts to "kill the goose which lay the golden eggs." When this occurs, taxes are raised no more. The Government then

Raising An Army

The next financial curse of war comes from pulling five million men and women of the best producers away from normal industry—putting half in training camps and half in factories making war supplies. This not only reduces the production of civilian supplies, but these people must be housed, clothed, and fed, by being paid real money. If you will refer now to our definition of inflation, you will see that this shift of employment will further reduce the supply of consumer goods without reducing purchasing power. This makes for still further price increases.

Then you ask: "Why not put a lid on wages and prices?" The answer is that a lid on wages results in decreased production per dollar of wages. Thus, little is gained thereby. A lid on prices, on the other hand, develops "black markets," with resultant graft, inefficiency, and dishonesty. From these "black market" operators, the Government gets no taxes. Although such "ceilings" are popular politically, they are no real solution to the problem. Higher prices are inevitable.

Deficit Financing Coming

All these schemes lead finally to deficit or phony financing which means a further decline in production per hour and a further increase in purchasing power. This is just the reverse of what honest financing requires. Those in the war plants, although making only war goods, must be paid market wages. At this point, after all the "quack cures" have been tried and failed, the value of the dollar begins to decline. If we are forced into

Fisher's Display Newspaper of 1800

Plymouth residents who pass by Fisher's Shoe Store on Main street will see in the window a faded copy of the Ulster County Gazette published on December 4, 1800. The copy of the Gazette is owned by Lee Fisher and was printed in Kingston, Ulster County in New York. The front page of the four column newspaper was devoted to an account of George Washington's death and funeral. Just a few items from the paper included an advertisement for the sale of a half of a saw mill and one stout, active, healthy Negro wench.

Farmers Tour Florida on MSC Conducted Trip

Two prominent Plymouth families were among a group of farmers which recently toured Florida to inspect fruit and vegetable farms in the vacation state. The tour was arranged and managed by Michigan State College and had on its itinerary all of the better farms and ranches in the state.

Leaving from Plymouth were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and their two sons, David and Everett who joined Mr. and Mrs. A. R. West in Florida for the visitation. According to Mr. Smith, he and Mr. West agreed it was one of the most beneficial trips they had ever taken and both were high in their praise of the methods used by Florida farmers. One interesting procedure they watched was the colored help on onion farms pulling onions and tying them in bunches. As the colored people completed 100 bunches they were paid a $1.00 bill on the spot which was a new departure in paying farm help and was most interesting to the two Plymouth farmers.

In Houston, Louis E. Northcutt caught a burglar at work in his cafe at 2 a.m., called the police with a coin he borrowed from the burglar.

In Yonkers, N. Y., the burglar who broke into David Stein's home passed up silverware and jewelry, carried off a loin of pork, 2 lbs. of chopped beef, a 3-lb. sirloin/steak.
