

AN OUTSTANDING PUBLIC SERVICE.

To those who made possible the television of the senate crime investigation hearings in New York, Detroit and elsewhere, the public owes an everlasting thank you.

For the first time since the advent of big crime, which operates hand-in-hand with dirty politics and crooked public officials, the public has had an opportunity to see and hear the low-down characters and criminals who have grown rich and defiant because of the failure and crookedness of law enforcing officers to do their duty.

The snarling defiance of many of the witnesses brought before the senate committee who refused to answer questions because of so-called "constitutional rights" is not only an insult to every member of congress, but to every decent citizen in this land.

By their refusal to answer questions and their defiance, they immediately created, in my own mind at least, the belief that they were just ordinary law breaking thugs and crooks, and should be slapped in jail.

Television has given to the public a tremendously important service and as we see it, the days to come are going to be tough ones for both crooked, careless public officials as well as the big shot racketeers.

SAFEGUARDING PLYMOUTH'S WATER SUPPLY.

It seems odd that a city of some seven or eight thousand people must go into court to protect the purity and sufficiency of its water supply—but that's just what has been necessary.

It should not take any court long to decide the case, however—and decide it FOR THE PEOPLE. Plymouth bought its water farm years and years ago. It has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in developing it in order to supply the needs of the city and the surrounding territory.

Then along comes some gravel outfit—one of those outfits that despoils the face of the earth in its operations. It began digging gravel just a few hundred feet from the Plymouth water farm, even though Northville township has a zoning ordinance which says the land where the gravel is being removed shall be used for other purposes and its natural beauty shall not be destroyed. Plymouth city officials rightly contend that the digging of vast holes in the ground exposing the underground water supply to contamination and possibly endangering the water flowage seriously threatens this city's water supply.

We don't know what the arguments are on the other side but when it comes to protecting the water supply of nearly ten thousand people — well it shouldn't take very long to decide that question. As we see it the question is a simple one—are the profits of some gravel digging outfit paramount to the welfare and health of some ten thousand or more people whose water supply depends upon the city of Plymouth.

WHERE THE TROUBLE LIES.

We said it in the beginning and we say it again that the present method of distributing state aid to school districts and other local units of government is NOT the right way to provide state aid to local governmental units.

We said, too, that if the method we are now using was adopted the state would be forced to collect MORE taxes to keep from facing financial ruin.

We said then, and we say again, that MICHIGAN RIGHT NOW collects all the tax dollars needed to operate the state and provide aid to local units of government.

The basis of our troubled state tax system lies entirely in the haphazard constitutional amendments that the people have adopted both in connection with the gas and weight tax and the distribution of the sales tax for aid to local governments.

Until these amendments are taken out of the constitution, Michigan will continue to wallow around in a tax and financial mess that makes possible just such a thing as has been revealed in the Litchfield school district. But this is a mere nothing compared to the bigger sins of such a forced distribution of state aid funds as we now work under.

Can the situation be remedied? We doubt it—at least not until the people can no longer bear the tax burden that is mounting by leaps and bounds.

FOOLING THE PUBLIC.

Guy L. Jenkins, chief of the Lansing staff of Michigan's Booth newspapers and one of the most observing newspaper writers ever to serve in Lansing, in a recent article published in the Booth newspapers, points out how Gov. Soapy Williams is trying to fool the people of Michigan about our tax problem.

Not only does he put the tag on Williams for doing a lot of high-type political faking, but he hides Republican members of the legislature for their failure to expose the Governor's tax racket schemes.

There is so much of merit as well as information in what Mr. Jenkins says that we are reprinting his tax article in full, so that you, too, may have the privilege of reading his exposure of the Governor's tax-faking program. It follows:

New taxes to balance the budget and retire the deficit, estimated at $31,000,000 as of June 30, may blow the Republican Legislature right through the Capitol dome.

There are many versions of what the state should do to meet its responsibilities.

An intensive inquiry among legislators, Gov. G. Mennen Williams or any of his kitchen cabinet will fail to discover any one with the courage to come out for a cut in taxes.

This session to date seems to be the annual grab bag party put on at the expense of the inarticulate Mr. John Q. Public.

Mr. Public is in for another kicking around because he is not represented in the Legislature.

Gov. Williams has set his heart on levying a corporation income tax. His friends say he will consider his administration a failure unless he reaches that objective.

The governor takes a hostile attitude towards everything anyone else has suggested. It's either or else in his book.

He calls the Higgins bill to levy a three per cent tax on a transfer of used car titles just another consumers' tax. He will veto the bill if it ever reaches his desk.

Rather than tax isolated sales which may be two per cent of the total, he is a devotee of the tax evasion racket that has been practiced by the used car dealer who jumps titles.

It is very obvious that someone is getting rich out of the racket. According to Williams' own figures, the sales of used cars last year produced $5,000,000.

Assuming that for once the governor has been furnished correct information, the story is a sad one.

The records of the secretary of state disclose that last year there were 784,797 used cars sold in Michigan. On the basis of Williams' figures, that means the sales tax averaged less than $7 a car.

Anyone in his right mind knows that the average price of used cars is far in excess of $250 but still the governor hides behind his straw man of more consumers' taxes. He looks down his nose at anyone determined to collect what belongs to the state.

Williams at every opportunity screams for corporation income taxes but to date he suggests no relief in lieu of the new levy.

Michigan today is great because of industry, agriculture and mines. Taxes can drive industry from Michigan.

Some legislators think Williams wants to get at the big fellows and protect the little fellow.

Of course there are many little fellows because of the big ones. Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing, etc., are what they are because of big business.

Flint, for example, has the largest General Motors payroll in the country.

The governor and his henchmen point out that many states tax corporation income but, true to the political type, they never give one the whole story.

Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, California, Indiana and Illinois are considered comparable to Michigan industrially.

Michigan levies a corporation privilege tax which last year produced $11,000,000. The measure was originally enacted during the administration of Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck to finance a huge building program. Industry had the promise the law would be repealed when the building program was completed.

Judge Sick Water Suit Hangs Fire

The fate of Plymouth's water supply remains in doubt, the lawsuit between Northville township and the Northville Sand and Gravel company scheduled to be tried Tuesday, March 20, having been postponed to late this week or early next week.

Circuit Judge Vincent J. Brennan, who was to have heard the case, is reported to be ill. The lawsuit was brought against Northville township by the Gravel company to break an injunction forbidding them to perform gravel operations on their land lying adjacent to Plymouth's water supply.

Plymouth City Attorney Harry Devo has filed a petition to intervene, fearing that sand and gravel operations may endanger Plymouth's million dollar water investment.

Residents On Arthur Desire Less Traffic

At a public spirited hearing of Arthur street residents at the City Commission meeting last Monday evening, DPW truck drivers were asked to please patronize other streets when they are driving to and from the City Hall.

The Arthur street home-owners, who seemed to have a majority of not 100 percent attendance of residents, had presented waivers for the blacktopping and construction of curb and gutter of Arthur street between Blanche and Junction.

The residents, in requesting City Engineer Besse to re-route the DPW drivers, were concerned about the wear and tear on their streets by the heavy trucks. All of the residents approved the paving and the assessment.

Buys Interest in Service Station

Bill Norman is the new partner of Bob Burley in Sinclair service station located on the corner of Wing and S. Main street. He purchased the interest formerly owned by William Morgan, who had been in the business with Burley for the last two years.

The new partners are calling their business The Norman-Burley Service. In addition to their line of Sinclair products, accessories and service, the two local men offer sportsmen of Plymouth a line of fishing, camping, and hunting supplies.

Norman was a 1939 graduate of Plymouth high school, saw military service with the U. S. Coast Guard during World War II, and is now an active member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Plymouth Post No. 6695.

Also employed at the station is Bob "Gabby" Gow who recently graduated from the local schools.

Commission View Fund for Library

The establishment of a library fund was proposed by City Manager Glassford at the City Commission meeting last Monday evening.

A permanent fund could be set up, Mr. Glassford stated, by selling the back end of the library property for parking lots at a sum of $1,500. The funds could be then expressly designated for the purposes of the Plymouth library.

A resolution on the library fund will be prepared for the next Commission meeting.

High School Band Wins First Honors in Contest

For the second straight year, the Plymouth High school band, under the direction of Paul Wagner, took first honors in the district band contest on March 17 at Pease Auditorium at Michigan State Normal college.

There were 17 other bands in the competition. The Plymouth High school band's victory qualifies it to enter the state contest, which will be held April 21 in Hill auditorium at Ann Arbor.

Plymouth's band took three first honors in concert playing and one in sight reading.

The Judges of the contest were Orlean Dalley of the University of Michigan; Merle Isaac, superintendent of music instruction at Chicago Public schools; H. E. Nutt, of Vandercook school in Chicago; Jack Lee, assistant director of the University of Michigan band.

Easter Bestows Its Blessings and Beauty

by Henry J. Walch, D.D.

There is a poem by Matthew Arnold which tells of his encounter with a preacher on a hot August day in the slums of East London. Knowing the conditions of the place, Arnold asked,

"Ill and o'er worked, how fare you in this scene?"
"Bravely!" said he; "for I of late have been much cheered by thoughts of Christ, the living bread."

And the poet goes on to say,
"O human soul! so long as thou canst so
Set up a mark of everlasting light,
Above the howling senses' ebb and flow,
To cheer thee, and to right thee if thou roam—
Not with lost toil thou labourest through the night!"

Each year, at Easter time, coincident with the break-up of winter's ice and cold, we remember the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ. In a world which seems to grow progressively darker with the passing of the years, man's spirit grows weary and his heart becomes heavy. Looking at the world we live in, at home and abroad, there is not much comfort in the thought of man. What we see of some men lately is quite apt to make us more fond of dogs. If the level of man's vision stopped with his eyes, he could well despair.

But like the first breath of early spring, the first flush of the sky at dawn, comes ever to the heart and mind and soul of man the vision of Christ, the triumphant risen Christ, breaking the bounds of darkness, of night, of all the deaths which evil men would put upon the life of man. And He walks from the tomb again, the living form, the living Christ, and He speaks to those who love Him, even as He spoke of old in the days of His risen flesh. So that in the midst of the howling wilderness which is the creation of man's evil will, there comes the thrilling remembrance of One who eternally assures us that evil can never conquer good, nor darkness light nor death conquer life. In the midst of the slums of man's evil world, those who have faith in the living Christ may look up and say, "I am much cheered by the thought of Christ". Those who have no faith in Him will still see no meaning in life; the tomb will still be sealed, and they will go their way this Easter, as the beast goes his way,—it will be just another day in the wilderness.

Plymouth Residents Present Their Reactions to Crime Investigation

"What do you think of the Kefauver committee's crime investigation hearings in New York?"

This is the question that Plymouth citizens were asked by a Plymouth Mail reporter last week.

The TV program of the Senate's committee hearings were obviously the most popular show on the television air-waves. Plymouth residents related that frequently they dashed from work or refrained from going shopping, so that they wouldn't miss important disclosures in the hearings.

Following are the reactions of Plymouthites who were interviewed.

The Reverend Melbourne Johnson of the Methodist church said:

"I heartily approve of the Kefauver crime investigation committee in New York. I think such an inquiry was long over due. We can only have moral reaction to unsavory things when people know about it. Only the truth can make you free."

Dean Saxton of Saxton's Farm Supply said: "I think it's some thing we needed in this country for a long time. However, the results of the crime investigation will probably take time."

Mrs. Andrew Vargha of Gold Arbor road said: "It's high time we were investigating crime in this country. The investigation is the most interesting thing on TV, because it's so pertinent."

City Manager Glassford said: "It will be interesting to see what laws the Kefauver committee will recommend to the U. S. Congress which would eliminate the evils that exist today."

George Smith, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce in Plymouth, said: "There seems to be a need for breaking control between organized vice and government officials. I do not believe in making a three-ring circus out of an investigation by putting it on television."

Plymouth Area Being Canvassed For Annual Red Cross Fund Drive

Red Cross workers are now canvassing Plymouth homes in their 1951 drive for funds. The needs of the services of the American Red Cross are greater than ever this year and requires the help of everyone.

The local chapter of the Red Cross offers many services to members of the armed forces, veterans, and sick and needy persons. Their home service program investigates and recommends furloughs to service men whose families are in need. Loans are available to servicemen stranded in Plymouth.

Their Blood Program maintains a blood bank which is available free of charge. They ask replacement if possible, by friends or relatives of the recipient.

Corporal Allen Leslie

Wounded in Leg in Korea

Corporal Allen Leslie, the son of Mrs. Elsie Leslie of 234 W. Ann Arbor trail, was wounded in action in Korea.

Corporal Leslie was shot through the leg and is at present confined in a hospital in Japan.

Mrs. Leslie, who received a letter from her son last Friday, said that he is recovering and will be all right.

Valter Poole Will Speak at Annual Dinner

Dr. Valter Poole, assistant conductor of the Detroit Symphony, conductor and commentator of the Children's Concerts in Detroit, and frequent guest conductor on national music programs will be the guest speaker at the Plymouth Symphony Society's annual dinner on Wednesday, March 28.

The dinner will be held in the Crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower at 6:45 p.m.

Dr. Poole has conducted many regular Sunday evening broadcasts of the orchestra, and he has been on radio each Tuesday night (Continued on page 8)

Furnace Causes Burning of Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Green on 6121 Lotz road in Canton township was destroyed by fire, except for a back wing, when their furnace exploded last Thursday afternoon.

The fire spread instantly through the registers and walls and the house went quickly up into flames.

Although the three fire departments of Plymouth, Ypsilanti, and Canton Township fought the flames, it was impossible to save the home because of the tenacity of the fire. Over 30,000 gallons of water were used to fight the blaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and their family of five children lost everything.

April 2 Election Nears For Plymouth's Voters

A reminder to Plymouth voters is that the Spring election is coming up.

Voters will go to the polls on Monday, April 2, to elect three City Commissioners, a representative to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, a city constable, state officers, and to vote on the proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

Balloting for state offices includes two justices for the Supreme Court, two regents of the University of Michigan, a superintendent of public instruction, member of state Board of Education, and two members of the state Board of Agriculture.

Plymouth voters will also help to elect a Wayne County auditor.

Running for City Commission are incumbent Henry Fisher, George Bauer, Eugene Benson, Ernest Henry, Howard Sharpley, and Clifton Tillotson.

The post of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors will be sought by incumbent Mrs. Eleanor Hammon, A. E. Hammond, who is a city commissioner, will run unopposed.

Although no petitions have been filed for the city constable position, Plymouth voters may write in a candidate's name.

In the Wayne County auditor race, Democrat Jacob P. Sumneracki will be faced by Republican Albert E. Fry.

Brief sketches of information follows to acquaint Plymouth voters with the candidates for the City Commission.

Running for re-election on the Commission, Mr. Fisher was president of the village of Plymouth.

W. V. Clarke Gets 10 Year Award

William V. Clarke, operator of the Plymouth, Michigan Culligan Soft Water Service, was presented a 10-year service award at a company meeting in Chicago, Wednesday, March 21.

The awards, traditional in the industry, salute the pioneers who have made contributions in water conditioning.

Harold F. Werhane, president of the Culligan Zoolite Company, presented the award in recognition of completion of 10 years of operation here.

The local firm provides completely soft water and other water treatment services, including chlorination, filtration, rust removal, and taste and odor control.

Builder Waits On NPA Order

Workers have begun removing equipment and storage tanks from the site of Herbert Swanson's service station on the corner of West Ann Arbor trail and Forest avenue.

Mr. Swanson has sold the property to John Melczek, of Dearborn, who is planning on building a one story, three unit building on the property if he can secure permission to build.

This permission must come from the National Production Authority whose job it is to limit new building in order to conserve building supplies, especially steel, for defense work.

The City Commission, by a three to one vote, has given Mr. Melczek permission to apply to the agency.

Swanson now is operating his Gulf station and Firestone store at his new location, 609 S. Main.

Three Residents Win Bag Weight Contest

The three Plymouth residents who won the recent Kroger's Gold Metal Flour Jumbo Bag-weight guessing contest are Nardine Bolen, Marian Rich, and Mrs. Harold Gilbert.

The winners, who guessed the bag's weight at 181 pounds and 6 ounces, were not far off, for the bag's actual weight was 181 pounds and 6 and 3/4 ounces.

Mrs. Day Injured in Train Crack-up

Rohruff-Fallot Wedding Rites Held In Salem Federated Church

Saturday evening, March 17, Anthony Rohruff gave his daughter, Irene Doris in marriage to Henry Duane Fallot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fallot of North Territorial road and Tampa, Florida.

For the double ring ceremony, solemnized at 8:00 p.m. in the Federated church in Salem by the Rev. C. M. Pennell of South Leon, pastor of the Salem Federated church, the bride was attired in a gown of white satin with a wide berth of lace.

A train of tiny seed pearls se-and Harold Fallot, brother of the groom, seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rohruff chose a blue dress with blue accessories and wore a white carnation corsage.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Fallot was attired in pale green and also wore a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fallot who came from Tampa, Florida, for their son's wedding, returned there immediately following the wedding.

A reception followed the wedding in the church dining room for about 75 guests, with Mrs. Howard Stillwell pouring. Evelyn Westerfield cut the cake assisted by Carol VanAken and Lorraine Jandrian served.

IF IT CAN BE DONE, THEN IT SHOULD BE DONE.

Recently there was issued a brief summary of the work of the newly created Mackinac Bridge Authority in which its members stated emphatically and after careful study, that the Straits of Mackinac could be bridged, that it would be safe from the elements and that it could be financed within reason.

We know several members of the Authority, one being Editor George Osborn of The Sault Ste. Marie News. We know that if Editor Osborn thought the bridge could not be built, it would be one of the first to say so, even though the interests of his part of the state might thereby be jeopardized.

Basing our judgment upon the report of the Authority as well as knowing very much about the necessity of the bridge, we say if it can be done, let's BUILD IT NOW.

We are sure the readers of The Plymouth Mail will be interested in the summary issued by the Bridge Authority — and because of the wide public importance, it is published in full, as follows:

The answer to a question that has puzzled Michigan citizens for more than a half century will be forthcoming within the next week or two. That question is:

Can Michigan's two peninsulas be safely and economically joined together?

Through the years several commissions and authorities have never been able to produce a solution that satisfied either the legislature or the people.

On the one side there are tens of thousands of citizens who sense the need for a connecting link and encourage their leaders to argue loud and long for its construction. On the other hand there are scores of individuals who maintain the impossibility of such a structure and consequently are against it.

Plagued by both sides the Legislature last year did the only sensible thing it could do. It established an authority with specific directions to retain the three best long span bridge engineers in the world to study and report on "whether a bridge can be safely and feasibly constructed across the Straits of Mackinac and the probable cost thereof." (This was the idea of Representative A. D. Decker, now a state senator.)

The Legislature further stipulated that the engineers were to be recommended by the Dean of the University of Michigan School of Engineering, and that those selected would not be eligible to participate in the design of the bridge should they find it feasible, and should the Legislature act on their recommendations.

Very shortly now the Legislature will have the Authority's preliminary report. Some very basic questions will be answered in this report. Consider first the question of physical possibility, a question that has passed over the lips of perhaps everybody who has given any thought to a connecting link at the Straits: Is it really possible to build a bridge across that vast expanse of water?

Yes, absolutely yes! says the engineer with professional assurance that with sufficient funds and materials he can design to overcome all the obstacles and forces of nature. But that's not the answer to Mackinac as will be pointed out below. It simply answers the purely physical aspect of the problem.

What about wind ice and the rest of nature's forces that are seldom mild at the Straits of Mackinac? They will be taken into account in recommending the design. In other words designs will be drawn to withstand all the known forces of nature and with a considerable margin of strength added for safety.

What about the geology? The surface of the Straits below the water? Some experts have insisted that it was cavernous, others that it was soft and would not support bridge piers, and still others that the foundations would slide out from under the piers.

All these experts have been interviewed to find out exactly what they did say and what they did mean. Furthermore, engineering geologists whose entire professional careers have been devoted to problems of this type have been consulted. They made studies, took samples, asked questions and made tests. Their decisions and recommendations will be in the report.

All these factors influence design, the length of span, the height of towers, depth of piers, their dimensions above and below the water, the width of roadways, the height of side trusses and a hundred and one other questions of a more technical nature, but each one calling for an answer that is of equal importance to the final design and ultimate construction.

And above all these questions looms an even greater problem. It can be summed up in the word: Finances.

As was pointed out, the engineers given plenty of everything are clever enough to build a bridge. Of that there is no doubt. The important thing is to build a bridge that will be economically sound. This problem is not unique to the Straits of Mackinac. Bridges and toll roads have been built all over the world but most of them were preceded by studies which provided the answer to the jackpot question: will the structure be economically sound?

Of course the phrase "economically sound" can have as many definitions as there are persons discussing it. What may be economically sound to a trucker who pays the cost of keeping a piece of expensive equipment and a driver waiting several hours to get across the Straits on a ferry may not be economically sound to the tourist who has all the time in the world to dawdle in Michigan's great vacation land.

Perhaps a definition of economically sound for purpose of discussing the Authority's report is a cost that will require a charge for crossing that will not be so high as to discourage traffic from using the bridge, but will instead act as an attraction for increasing numbers of persons to use the bridge so that within a reasonable time the tolls will be sufficient to pay for the structure.

Other considerations may be brought into the picture, such as what it is costing the people now to cross the Straits, the advantages of the structure, the willingness of the people to pay more for better service, its value to the nation's defense and such matters. All these will be taken into consideration.

Actually, the personnel of the bridge Authority is not qualified to obtain the preceding information any more than it could come up with the engineering recommendations without expert advice. Consequently, it was necessary to retain a firm of traffic analysts. The business of this organization is doing precisely what it did for the Authority: investigating and analyzing the traffic at the Straits of Mackinac to determine whether or not a bridge would be a good investment for any bankers who might be tempted to put some hard cash into financing the project. The firm making this traffic analysis, Coverdale and Colpitts of New York, have a sound reputation in financial circles of recommending only those projects which are economically sound, or six months they have been conducting an independent study of traffic at the Straits of Mackinac. They are interested not only in past and present figures, but they must go out on the limb and predict what the future will produce. So far the bankers have been willing to rely on their advice. They have established a reputation for being right.

Perhaps of less difficulty under the caption of finances are the questions of the cost of the structure, cost of maintaining it, cost of interest on money borrowed to build it, cost of paying off the loan or bonds covering it. These questions will all be answered in the report. Of course another section will be devoted to, as was mentioned probable income from toll charges, other possible sources of revenue, such as assistance from the Federal Government, road revenues which now go to support the ferry service, general appropriations and such.

Guild Stages "Blithe Spirit" In 3 Day Stand

Curtain going up! On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings at 8:15 p.m. in the Plymouth High school auditorium "Blithe Spirit" will be ready for Plymouth theatre-goers.

The improbable, sophisticated comedy by the English playwright Noel Coward, is being produced by the Plymouth Theatre Guild and Kiwanis club.

For the past three months, the cast and the backstage crew have been working on the production.

Tickets can be obtained from members of the Kiwanis club and at Davis & Lents.

The proceeds of the play will be used for the Kiwanis club's Girl Scout Cabin fund. The Kiwanians have built a modern cabin which faces Riverside Park.

Local girl scouts use the cabin for camping and outings and the funds will further the building program.

Directed by Lyton Ball, the cast includes Mrs. Lydia Argo, Mrs. John Gaffield, Stanley Lawler, Mrs. Patricia Ball, C. Veach Sparks, Mrs. Betty Mende, and Miss Dorothy Dudick.

The scenery was designed by Miss Marie Post, who also acts as stage manager. The construction of the scenery was done by the Kiwanians.

Properties were gathered by Mrs. Audrienne Gates, Mrs. Elsie Kuisel, Mrs. Doris Lewis, Lydia Woellmer, and Warren Worth.

The makeup staff consists of Florence Pantoni, Mrs. Doris Lewis, and Mrs. Gladys Eschels. Robert E. Ingram is in charge of lighting.

The prompters are Mrs. Adele Miller and Mrs. Mabel Dicks. Mrs. Betty Jacobus handled costumes. John B. Gaffield did the photography.

St. Michael's Schedule Old Fashioned Dance

An old time dance will be held by St. Michael's Alter Society Saturday, March 31, from 9 p.m. to 12:00 at St. Michael's Hall, Plymouth at Hubbard, between Merriman and Farmington roads.

Commission Appoints Marquis to Trial Board

Norman Marquis, owner of the Marquis restaurant, was appointed to the Trial Board by the City Commission Monday evening. Mr. Marquis stepped into the post vacated by Russell Dettling who resigned.

Mr. Marquis will represent small business on the three man board. Other members represent organized labor and a representative-at-large.

While the skunk, hare and the porcupine are not exactly mental giants, and are about the size of a possum, their brains are much larger than the possum.

Hamtramck Beats Birds in Inter-City Tourney

The Red Birds were defeated by Hamtramck Monday evening by 47 to 27 in the MRA Recreation Inter-City Tournament at Highland Park. The Red Birds represented the "D" League.

Daisy Launches National Campaign in Conjunction With New N.R.A. Program

For the first time in its 60 years of existence members of the Daisy Manufacturing Company's sales staff attended a Toy Fair in New York city and talked program rather than product to their thousands of customers all over the world.

Production schedules unsettled because of war conditions and gun allotments now effective to their distributors made the usual selling methods of the company futile at the 1951 fair.

However for the first time in the history of the company Daisy salesmen were loaded with a new kind of ammunition which they broadcast far and wide with a zest far more enthusiastic than had been noted in the Metropolitan BB headquarters in many years.

Through cooperation with famous National Rifle Association in its junior section which now includes air rifle shooting, Daisy officials see for the first time the realization of a dream in which they can solidly present the American Boy and his family with a well rounded introduction to the use of and handling of small arms.

Heretofore there has been no well founded national association or organization to take the responsibility in their hands of introducing the youth of the country to arm with air rifles and though Daisy's products are toys they become the first step a young American takes when he learns to shoot.

Attempting to keep up with the demand for their products has been almost a full time job for the company over a great period of years but officials have long felt the need of some well organized program on a national scale that would solve this difficult problem for them and for parents as well. Shooting is the only sport that has a good information service. Through the N.R.A. sportsmen find an organization ready to make rules, conduct matches, keep records and ban undesirable competitors. But this service has become almost identical to the other services of the N.R.A. By far the greater part of the effort of the Association's 100 odd employees is devoted to telling shooters and hunters what they want to know.

The Association was founded in 1870. For nearly fifty years it was devoted to holding long range rifle matches. It had no home, no publication and little influence. In 1918 it had 2,000 members. Today it has 273,000 members, publishes The American Rifleman, a monthly magazine and supports an imposing headquarters in Washington D.C. where it has a large growing library and museum.

The membership is singularly unisex on two fundamental propositions. The first is that legislators who want to restrict the use of guns are enemies of the American way of life, whether through ignorance or a communist plot. The second is that guns are the most rewarding implements of sport so far devised by men and the only security of a free nation.

Through the efforts of the Association there are now 3,000 rifle clubs in its membership. There are clubs in high schools and colleges and junior clubs in summer camps and it is this feature of the national program which is of unusual interest to Daisy since they expect to fund the promotion of group organizations throughout America where youth may be properly instructed and trained in the use of their guns under adult supervision that will give the full cooperation of the N.R.A.

Daisy officials know that the program is a big one, but they intend to give it their full weight in the years ahead in the hopes that for the first time the boys of America and the American publican can find ways and help in filling the desire to own a gun and have competent instruction at hand for the early days of its usage.

Every boy wants an air rifle and for many years Daisy has made it easy for him to secure one. However as Daisys were sold throughout the world much thought has been given here at the company offices as to what method could be employed to place in the package that went from the store all of the shooting instructions, safety measures and care of its product. For the first time Daisy officials feel they have, that medium and today it is given top priority and will be extra ammunition to be fired by Daisy throughout the world in the many months ahead.

Drinking your apple a day is no trick at all with the newest quick-frozen concentrate. Perfected by federal chemists, it's a clear and sparkling bracer with the full flavor of fresh apples and as easy to mix as frozen orange juice. It should be in ice bins everywhere, soon.

Elks Knock Out Wayne Team

The Plymouth "E" league proved much too strong for the visitors from Wayne as they were knocked out in both games played. On March 12 the Elks, "E" league winners from Plymouth, defeated the Wayne "B" team which was Wayne's second best team and downed Wayne squad by the biggest score of the year.

NOT SO FLATTERING... Actress Liz Taylor accepts "Roscoe" from group of Harvard Lampoon editors designating her "best successful actress of 1950."

The Elks 1-4-20 point lead in the first quarter and were never pressed. Four players on the champion Elks scored over 10 points. Robinson led the assault with 13 counters with Huelber collecting 12. Olson 10 and Kisabeth 10. These four boys collected 45 of their team's 61 points.

In the second Tri-City play-off game, the second place Wolverines of the Plymouth league edged out Wayne's best team 25-21. All the players of the Wolverines broke into the scoring column with Xmas and Rucker leading them with six points each.

With both Plymouth teams winning, they moved into the final game on March 14. The Elks again showed their superiority over the Wolverines as they downed the Wayne County Training school squad 25-12 to cop the Tri-City Crown. Groves led the victors with seven points, followed by Kisabeth and Huelber who had six.

HERO... Michael Barry, New York, acts the hero as he is admired by his brother, Jimmy, whom he fished out of the Bronx river. "Think nothing of it, kid!" he says.

Vernie Pierson Buried in Kansas

Mr. Vernie Pierson, 43229 Shearer drive, died Friday at Sessions hospital. Services were held at Oswego, Kansas, at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 20. Arrangements were by the Sonderogger Funeral home.

Mr. Pierson is survived by four daughters: Mrs. Alice Wall, of Plymouth; Mrs. Nadine Bolen, Mrs. George Couch, of Oswego, Kansas; and Mrs. Betha Montgomery, of Plymouth, and two sons: Alfred Earl, of Plymouth, and Richard, of Parsons, Kansas. There are ten grandchildren.

Mr. Pierson was a member of the Oddfellows.

In St. Louis, Roy A. Nickens was charged with having answered "No" to the "Have you ever been arrested?" Query on a post office job-application form although, according to police records, he had been arrested 57 times.

Former Resident Dies in Florida

A former resident in the vicinity, Ralph Altenburg, died March 19 at Bay Pines Florida Veteran's hospital at the age of 56.

Mr. Altenburg, who had lived in Livonia for 13 years, moved to St. Petersburg, Florida last fall. He was employed at the Mayburg Sanatorium for 23 years. A former World War I veteran, Mr. Altenburg belonged to Veterans of Foreign Wars in Wayne.

Survivors include: Edna, his wife; six step children, two brothers, Ray and Alvin; and a sister, Esther Weathers of Butte, Montana.

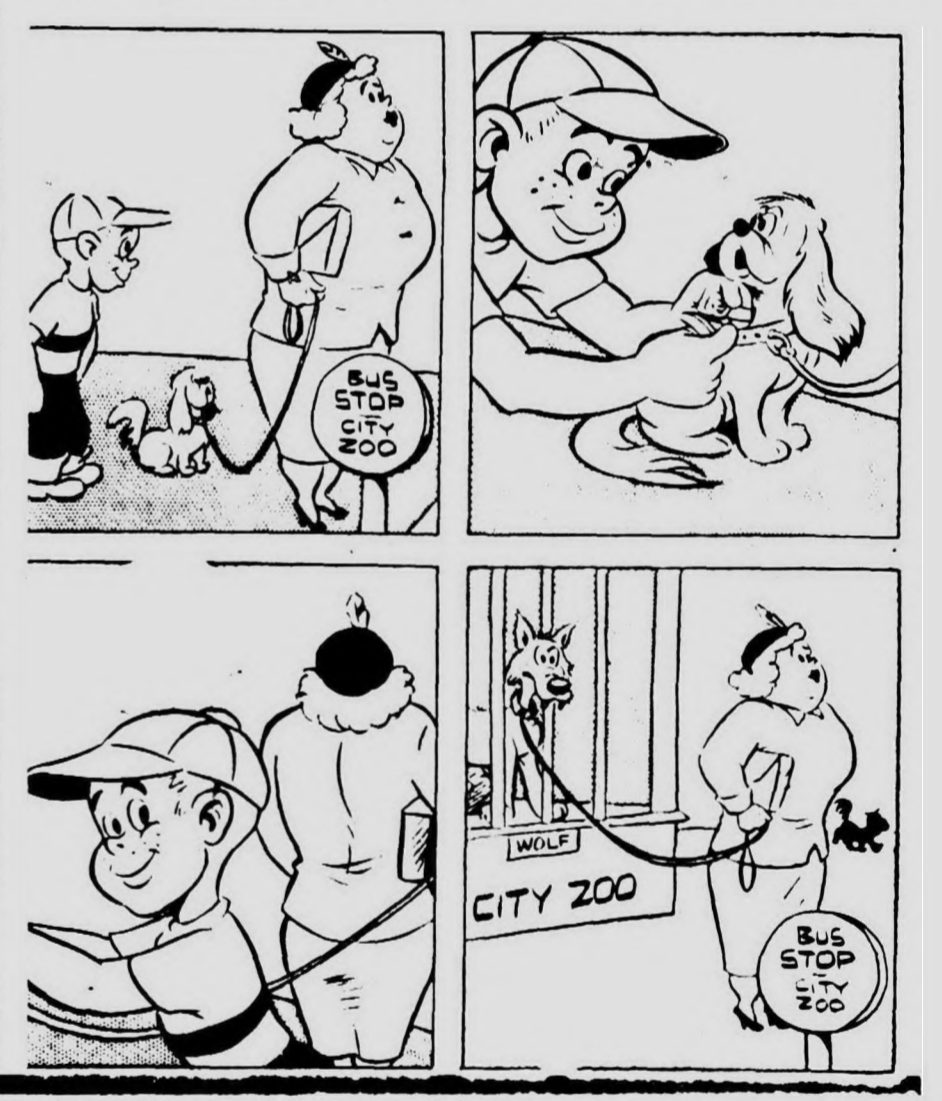

Funeral services will be held at the R. J. Casterline Funeral home in Northville, Saturday, March 24, at 2 p.m. Burial will take place at Cadillac Memorial cemetery.

Our Men in Service

A news report in Stars and Stripes states that Sgt. Harry Donohue, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Donohue of 663 Kellogg Street, was one of the members of a patrol of the 7th Division which turned a Red ambush into a grenade-tossers field day recently in Korea.

Sgt. Donohue killed a Red at five-foot range. After the patrol killed 25 Communists, they withdrew before the enemy could move into a better position. The GI's escaped the ambush with only one casualty.

ONE A PENNY, TWO A PENNY—

These spicy, sugar-coated hot cross buns have been associated with religious customs since 1,000 B. C., according to the American Bakers Association. Originally offered to the gods of the early civilizations, the buns were adapted by Christians and eaten on the Lenten holiday of Good Friday. Today, the hot cross buns have lost their religious significance, but are still eaten during the entire Lenten period.

Homes--Ready To Be Occupied --For The Birds

The bird population of Plymouth will no doubt be the best housed birds in the state this Spring. For displayed in the window of Huston's Hardware store are bird houses that have been built by Mrs. Beatrice Besse's shop classes of seventh and eighth graders of Junior High school. Plymouth's feathered friends are probably making plans already for the castles, English cottages, pioneer cabin, standard shelters, flower pot house, tree trunk abode, clock cabin, the plastic terra-cotta number, and bird feeders that are displayed. The seventh grade builders include Gerald Gayde, Martin Coumo, Thomas Ferguson, Richard Yorch, Harold Walton, Thomas Preston, Robert Renwick, Dale Wilkins, Jerry Steele, Allen Woodworth, David Tillotson, and Donald Dobson. The constructors in the eighth grade include Henry Bangs, Stanley Fann, George Lee, Jimmie Thorpe, Ronald Trihan, Charles Simpson, David Bowen, Jesse Daniel, and William Klingbeil.

Crime Hearings Thrill Wives - and Hurt Business

Not dozens or hundreds—but thousands of Plymouth housewives—and men, too—have spent recent days gazing into television sets to watch and hear the startling admissions, evasions and double-talk of witnesses appearing before the senate crime investigating committee hearings in New York city. If Mrs. So-and-So doesn't happen to have a television set in her own home, neighbors invited her over to their house so that she might witness probably the most spectacular political scandal hearing ever held in this or any other country. Not only has nearly every housewife in and around Plymouth been neglecting the housework in order to witness the televised hearings, but the man of the house, too, has been doing his bit of cavorting. Every business place in Plymouth, and offices, where there is a television set, have had them on since the hearings started in New York. Like in every other city, the hearings have had a direct effect on business, causing a decline in sales. The general comment has been "It is about time we did something to end this rotten mess," to which everyone seemingly agrees.

Auto Accidents Decrease in City

Plymouth's traffic accidents for 1950 were 22 below the total for the previous year. The year's total was 125 as compared to 147 for 1949. Strangely enough neither speed nor alcohol were responsible for a large share of the accidents. Of the 231 vehicles involved, 178 were standing still or traveling less than 30 miles per hour. Only eight drivers were shown to be under the influence of alcohol. South Main street, with 31 accidents, seemed to be the most dangerous thoroughfare. North Main was second with 21, and Ann Arbor trail third with 18. Drivers in the age group 20 to 24 were involved in the most accidents—54—while those in the over 65 group were involved in but five. The lower age groups in general had fewer accidents than the older. The superiority of men over women as drivers does not seem to hold true in Plymouth. Of the 231 drivers involved in accidents, 195 were men. Almost two thirds of the accidents occurred in the business or shopping district and almost half occurred in the daylight hours between eleven and six. With one person killed and twenty-four injured, Plymouth's traffic accident rate is considerably under average for cities of comparable size.

WHAT I THINK AND HAVE A RIGHT TO SAY

(Continued from page 1) True to the proverbial slogan, of "once on our books, never off," the tax is still being collected and ways and means are being studied to increase the tax. Industry also pays a personal property tax on a 100 per cent valuation along with a real property tax which last year averaged more than $30 a thousand of valuation. In Detroit alone the personal property tax on business exceeded $20,000,000 last year. In Ohio, industry pays a personal property tax, but by law the assessment is not to exceed 50 per cent of value. Ohio has no corporation income tax but corporations, as in Michigan, pay a levy of one-tenth of one per cent on capital, surplus and undivided profits. Pennsylvania collects a four per cent corporation income tax. Corporations pay no personal property taxes in the Keystone State. New York levies no personal property taxes on industry but does collect a 5 1/2 per cent corporation income tax. There is a four per cent levy on corporation income in California and personal property taxes with a ceiling of 50 per cent of value fixed by law. Indiana limits the personal property levy to 50 per cent of value. It has no other corporation taxes. Illinois' corporations pay a personal property tax the same as in Michigan, and a one-fifth of one per cent levy on a corporation's capital and surplus. Agriculture always has been the favorite son of the Michigan Legislature. It has reached a point where the Legislature is almost willing to make a public apology if any taxes are levied on the farmer. The iron mines have had some favors and it has worked out to the advantage of the mine operators and those who live in the Upper Peninsula. With a few exceptions, Michigan's iron mines are the shaft type. It costs much more to produce a ton of ore from a shaft mine than it does in open-pit mines. Had the Michigan Legislature followed the tax pattern of Minnesota, there probably would not be a shaft mine operating in the Upper Peninsula today. Minnesota's iron mines are open pit. The Minnesota tax structure plus the higher costs of shaft mining would have priced Michigan's ore out of the market.

FAITHFUL CANINE . . . Not even two broken legs kept Gobo, black cocker spaniel, from guarding body of Daniel Holton, Jr., his master, after the man was killed when his car plunged into a ravine in Carbon Canyon, Calif.

Hold Last Rites for Mrs. Hoover

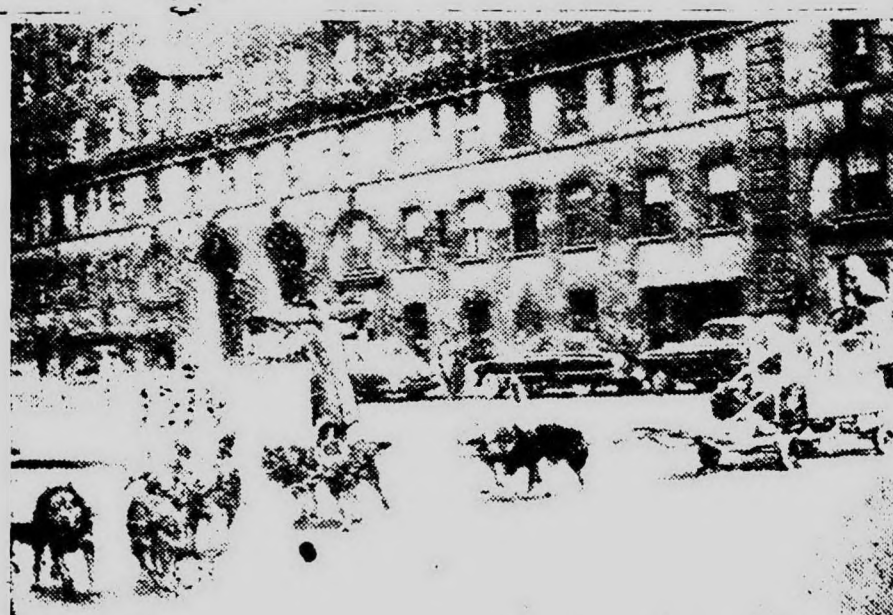

Mrs. Margaret Hoover, mother of Mrs. S. B. Thoms of 475 Jenner street, with whom she has made her home, became seriously ill on Wednesday, March 14. Efforts were made to revive Mrs. Hoover by the Plymouth Fire department enroute to St. Joseph's hospital at Ann Arbor by the use of their resuscitating equipment. Death was pronounced upon arrival at St. Joseph's hospital. She was 87 years of age. Her husband, William E. Hoover, preceded her in death. Surviving are her three daughters, Mrs. S. N. Thoms of Plymouth, Mrs. Dale W. Kaufmann of Buffalo, New York, and Mrs. Robert Ferguson of South Charleston, West Virginia, and her brother, John Duckles of Norman, Oklahoma. Also surviving are nine grand-children. Mrs. Hoover was brought to the Schrader Funeral home and later taken to Piqua, Ohio, her former home, where funeral services were held Saturday, March 17, at 2 p.m. Interment was made in Forest Lawn cemetery, Piqua, Ohio.

Big News for Pan Cake Fans! Maple Syrup Crop Record Breaker

Happy days are here again! No—not for ex-Mayor O'Dwyer and some of the other star witnesses who appeared before that senate committee investigating high crimes.

But happy days are here for the hundreds and hundreds of Plymouthites who like omelettes soaked with good old Michigan maple syrup.

Michigan's maple sugar crop this year is the largest in many, many years. And it is not high priced, either.

The authority for this good report is none other than Ezra Rountree, who, not so many years ago, was one of the best known sugar bush operators in this part of the state.

Even though he is not operating a sugar bush at present he keeps in close touch with many who are still in the business.

They have advised him that not in years has there been such a big flow of maple sap as there has been this year. Not only has the season been a favorable one for sap production, but it has been a long one—and that is why the sugar bush operators are getting more gallons of maple syrup this year than they have in a dozen years or more.

The average price seems to be around $6 a gallon if bought from the producer. Under Michigan laws a gallon of maple syrup must weigh not less than eleven pounds—so here is one popular and staple food item that the price is down from what it was a year ago—when the average price was around $7 a gallon.

In Syracuse, N. Y., the city council pondered a departmental head's memorandum on the city administration's budgetary problems: "The decrease in departmental showing a decrease is increased by the amount of wage increases and the increase in departments showing an increase is reduced by the amount of wage increases."

outh in 1927-28. He was a member of the village council for 10 years. Mr. Fisher was a Wayne County supervisor for two years.

Mr. Bauer is manager of the Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering Laboratories at Nash-Kelvinator corporation. A graduate from Michigan State with a doctorate in physical chemistry, Mr. Bauer serves on the official board of the Methodist church.

An assistant chief switchman for the Michigan Bell Telephone company, Mr. Benson is active in the National Guard and has acted as a Battery Commander for five years. Mr. Benson is assistant district commander of the Northwest district of Boy Scouts.

Plymouth's superintendent of mails Ernest Henry holds the treasurer's post in the Kiwanis club and Plymouth Historical society. At present the chairman of the Red Cross fund drive in Plymouth, Mr. Henry is also active in Boy Scout work.

Mr. Shapley is a sales supervisor in the Continental Baking company. He formerly owned the Wilson Dairy store.

A member of the Plymouth Civil Defense council, Mr. Tillotson is a repairman for the Wall Wire Products company.

The first of the proposed amendments to the State Constitution deals with a change in the sessions of the legislature. The amendment provides for an annual regular session instead of the present semi-annual sessions.

The second amendment if passed would give survivors of persons killed in military service who have died between June 27, 1950 and the termination of the national emergency with a bonus of $500.

In the last amendment, voters will decide whether Supreme Court justices will have their salaries increased.

The proposal provides for an increase in salary after an election or appointment, so that all justices serving concurrently may receive the same salaries.

Mr. John Morrow of W. Ann Arbor Trail, said: "I only hope that it will go farther, other than just another investigation."

Mr. A. E. Van Ornum of S. Main street said: "It's too bad that these people are getting away with murder. It seems that the courts can't cope with these criminals."

James Houk of Fisher's Shoe Store said: "The crime investigation may be a start, but it's too bad the government hasn't exposed these criminals and put them behind bars long before this. I'm with the Kefauver committee 100 per cent."

Mr. Kenneth Hulsing of Church street, said: "The TV programs on the Kefauver investigation are utterly fascinating. I only hope it awakened some moral responsibility among the people who hold public offices and also in the people who elect them. We know that of course there are a lot of honest men in the government, but the crime investigation has disclosed that criminals do hold key posts in state and federal government."

Edward Potthoff, city assessor and deputy city clerk, says: "He hopes that the investigation actually produces results because it could do so much good. He feels however that the public is somewhat skeptical of all recent investigations but that perhaps this will show some startling results which seem badly needed."

St. Gerret says: "He feels the investigation is a wonderful thing but that it actually is long overdue and he hopes some real good will come from it."

A. K. Brockelhurst stated it should wake people up as to the kind of people we are putting in public office today. He feels the investigation will wake people up at any rate and he hopes that it will.

Bert Wisne, manager of Better Home Appliances said: "People are awakening to the actual conditions. As for the benefits of the investigation as we saw in Detroit, the Briggs Manufacturing company instituted their own internal reforms resulted from the investigation."

Urban Holland, manager of Grand Jewelers said: "The investigation will only be good if the individual citizen realizes his responsibility. What value will come out of the investigation if players keep on throwing their $50 or $100 on the weekly numbers rackets? We must put teeth into a Federal law to combat this evil."

George Jackson of the Ego Jackson Wallpaper and Paint company said: "Televising these committee hearings is the most forward step ever taken by any communications device in America. This should continue by televising other government committee hearings, for it would provide the interest to what the citizen's healthy concern with government affairs."

I. E. Kades said: "For too long a time 'influential' people have escaped income tax payments. I'll bet if the government could have collected all the money actually owed to it, we could have balanced the budget. Now the hearings are getting close to Washington. It has become a 'hot potato' some congressmen would like to see it dropped — heads should roll."

Wendell Lent of Davis and Lent Men's Wear said: "The crime investigation is a good thing if it is continued. The results will be noticed eight to ten years from now. Investigations scare the 'little crooks' who want to save their skins, whereas the 'top men' who are too solidly entrenched continue to defy the committee. These criminals must be blasted out by more forceful legal action if the current situation is to be eradicated."

Old Man Winter Takes His Final Fling in Spring

Spring came into Plymouth on skids yesterday, which was the first day of the Spring season.

If we hadn't looked at our calendar we would never have known that Spring arrived, for Plymouth and the vicinity was covered with over five inches of sleet and snow.

Roads were again icy and treacherous as during the past winter months. Plymouth drivers found driving extremely bad after the surprise snow storm Monday.

Robins and other birds, who flew home to soon from their winter quarters in the South, appeared to regret their early trip.

The brief premiere of Spring in the beginning of March, when the thermometer plunged to highs of 60 and 68 degrees, promised an early Spring.

Buds burst in the trees and bulbs were encouraged to peek up out of the earth, but that old man Winter wasn't going to be put off so easily.

Although the streets and the house tops are now dry, the windings of all the dress shops in Plymouth are displaying Easter finery with all the trimmings.

Other more cheerful notes on the scene are the bright flowers, Spring hats, and colorful ensembles that are being worn by Plymouth ladies, who remain undaunted by Winter's last fling.

Plymouth Residents Present Their Reactions to Crime Investigation

NEWBURG METHODIST CHURCH, 9514 Newburg Road, Phone 761-J. G. M. and H. Jones, pastor.

"The Churches of Christ Salute You" Rom. 16:16

The subject this week is "The Unity of God's People." In John 17:21, Christ prayed, "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on Me through their word: That they all may be one; as thou Father, art in Me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in Us." Thus, Christ desired the same oneness or unity to exist between His followers as existed between God and Himself. In Cor. 1:10-12, Paul sternly rebukes the Corinthians for calling themselves after different men and exhorts them not to be divided thus but to "all speak the same thing, and that there be no division among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment." From this we see that even the wearing of different names religiously, constitutes a division in God's Church.

Which is said and done today to bring about unity in the Religious World, however, the unity for which Christ prayed and which Paul commended cannot be attained, until and unless the proper and scriptural basis for unity is clearly seen and followed. We cannot compromise with God's word and expect Him to be satisfied with any unity that results from this. We, of the Church of Christ, believe the only acceptable and workable basis for real unity (the oneness for which Christ prayed), is to seek where the Bible speaks that is, to believe, teach and practice all that we are commanded of God in His word, and to remain silent where the Bible has not spoken. It is the injection of opinions, and practices not commanded or authorized by God's word which have caused division. It is obvious that such practices are neither necessary nor acceptable in God's sight since He "has given us all things that pertain unto life and godliness" (2 Pet. 1:3) and tells us in 2 Tim. 3:16-17 that this inspired scriptures will "thoroughly furnish us unto all good work." See also, Gal. 1:6-9, 2 John 9, Rev. 22:18-19, Prov. 30:5-6, Duet 4:2: 12:32. From these verses we see that such a basis for unity is not only in accord with, but also commanded by God's Word.

In Heb. 1:1 we are told that in this age God speaks to us through His Son, who has all authority in heaven and on earth. (Math. 28:18). If Christ truly has all authority as He so claims, that leaves no authority for you or me or anyone else on earth to create or bind any religious command, doctrine or opinion on anyone. Let us therefore accept His word as an all-sufficient guide in religious matters, study it diligently (2 Tim. 2:15) and by it prove (test) all religious doctrines and teachings before accepting them. (1 Thess. 5:21). If this basis for unity is followed, that "oneness" for which Christ prayed will be brought about. A fervent study and application of God's word cannot bring about division since "God is not the author of confusion (such as we have in the religious world today), but of peace. (1 Cor. 14:33) God has given us His word—"a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our path" (Ps. 119:105) Let us not be guilty of walking in the darkness of man's opinions, but rather in the full sunlight of God's divine word.

Elect Officers For Cooper PTA

The interest shown by the turnout at the Cooper PTA meeting March 12 was encouraging to the program committee. After the movie on "Human Beginnings" was shown, there was much discussion, which was led by Mrs. Martin, Wayne County health educator. It was expressed that a more extensive program be carried through next year.

The election of next year's officers was held during the business meeting. The results are as follows: president, John Mills; first vice president, Mrs. Emma Pines; second vice president, Mrs. Ruth Cox; secretary, Mrs. Frances Gaffney; treasurer, Marshall Nannie.

Miss Shale, Wayne County school nurse gave a talk on health and summer round-up to remind the parents of pre-school children to give their children vaccinations, health examinations, and to prepare their tots for school.

Members were given the opportunity to make donations to the Apron Bar. The proceeds help meet the expenses for the Teachers Tea which will be held in May. The meeting closed with refreshments served by the hostesses Mrs. H. Nielson, Mrs. E. Jones, and Mrs. R. Ventura.

Grange Cleanings

Be sure to come to Grange special meeting tonight. Potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. Some of the State Deputy Grange officers will be present to give us a "school of instruction." It is imperative that every officer be present if possible. Come and see how the work is done.

K of C Members Slate Meeting Monday Night

An open house meeting of new and old members of the Knights of Columbus will be held Monday night, March 26 at 8 o'clock at the K of C hall, corner of Union and Dodge streets.

The Reverend C. T. Corbett of Kankakee, Illinois, is a minister of unusual gifts and preaching ability in the Church of the Nazarene. For twenty-six years his ministry has been highly used of the Lord in winning Souls.

In his evangelistic work he has worked in all the forty-eight states, four provinces of Canada, and three states of Mexico. Also for nine years he was district superintendent of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Samuel Mackety has prepared herself for her chosen work by attending Bible school at Cincinnati, Ohio and as a pastor's wife among the Indians. By birth she is a Chippewa Indian. During the campaign she will be singing some in her native tongue. Mrs. Mackety will have full charge of the music, directing the congregation and bringing special numbers.

With Our Boys in The Armed Forces

Brief items of interest about your sons or husbands in the services are welcomed in this column providing the information does not conflict with press security policies.

Norman James Rutherford enlisted in the Air Force and left Monday, March 12, for Selfridge Field where he will be stationed. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rutherford of Hartsough street. He was discharged from the Navy last May after serving one year with the 104th Division of Sea-Bees and was one of the inactive Naval Reserve list. He was married last November to the former Marilyn Strautz and they resided on Oakview street.

Plymouth boys who became inductees recently are Louis P. Perkins, Arthur R. Bartell, Lewis W. Mittell, Gerald T. Kump, James E. Ayres, Leo Charles Klein, Joseph A. Cicirelli, Jr., Joe C. Joyner, Lowell J. Nowland, Vito A. Sambone, John L. Gilbert, Louis Muntyan, and Clarence D. Rogers.

William Agosta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Agosta of Ann street; Thomas Hitzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hitzel of Northville road; and Richard Aden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aden of Burroughs avenue, left Tuesday evening, March 13 for Lackland Air base, San Antonio, Texas.

Marine Corporal Charles Ketcherside visited briefly in Plymouth Saturday. He returned to Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, Saturday evening, taking his wife and baby daughter with him. Mrs. Ketcherside, formerly Barbara Van Dyke, intends to live near the camp for a few weeks.

Pfc. Donald Hayes is spending a fourteen day furlough in Plymouth with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes and in Kalamazoo on the campus of Western Michigan college, where he graduated last June. Pfc. Hayes is now stationed at Ft. Meade, Washington, D. C. where he is a member of the 2nd Regiment.

Private First Class Herman E. Parmenter, son of Mrs. Viola G. Parmenter, 674 Maple street, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's badge in Korea while serving as an Infantryman with the 8th Cavalry regiment.

This badge, which is only awarded frontline combat infantrymen, distinguishes the active fighting man from the rear area and service troops in a combat zone. A soldier must be a member of an infantry regiment to be eligible to receive it.

The badge itself consists of a miniature replica of a regulation military flint lock rifle on a rectangular, blue background superimposed over a wreath. It is worn by the soldier over his left breast pocket above his campaign ribbons.

The Plymouth Mail Main Street Plymouth, Michigan Dear Mr. Eaton:

Received my third issue of the Plymouth Mail just the other day and I am really pleased to be able to tell the fellows here that I at one time wrote the sports section of such a fine newspaper.

Luke Field here is a fine layout but it needs a lot of repairs before our squadron can begin functioning correctly. Luke has been closed ever since 1948. Our job here is to train cadets for jet aircraft. This is their final step towards receiving their wings, if they train for jets, although at a later date we anticipate an also

EASTER BREAKFAST SPECIAL
By Marguerite Mickelson

Eye appeal and food value make this dish of creole scrambled eggs in bread baskets a something "different" for that special Easter brunch or breakfast. The eggs are high in protein value, and bacon or ham bits are added for increased food interest.

CREOLE SCRAMBLED EGGS

- 6 eggs, unbeater
 - 1/4 cup cream
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - dash pepper
 - 1/2 teaspoon onion juice
 - 1/2 cup chopped, cooked bacon
 - 2 tablespoons finely chopped pimento or green pepper
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- Break eggs into a mixing bowl; add cream, salt, pepper, onion juice, bacon and pimento. Beat slightly. Melt butter in a skillet over low heat. Pour egg mixture into a skillet and cook slowly without stirring until eggs are partially cooked. Then stir with fork, loosening sides and scraping bottom of pan so liquid portion can pour down. Continue cooking until eggs are done to firmness desired. Spoon egg mixture into Bread Baskets.
- Yield: 6 servings

BREAD BASKETS

- 1 large loaf enriched bread, unsliced
 - 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
- Trim crusts from bread. Cut bread into blocks 2"x3"x2". With sharp knife, cut centers from blocks of bread to fashion baskets. Brush baskets with butter. Place on a cookie sheet and toast under a preheated broiler (400° F.) to a light, golden brown. Serve with creamed foods.
- Note: Toast the leftover bread trimmings and use for bread crumbs.
- Yield: 6 Bread Baskets.

On Monday Mr. Max Hillmer visited his mother, Mary K. Hillmer, who is ill.

Relatives from Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shepard helped Joan Kay Shepard of Northville celebrate her fourth birthday on March 14.

Ted Thrasher, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thrasher, is home for the week from Ohio State University.

Mrs. Deborah Welton and daughter, Deborah, who have been visiting the William Welton family of Plymouth, recently returned to their home in Gary, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Klink, Mrs. Rex Dye and Judy Lee Dye were in Adrian and Jackson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Toby of Lincoln Park were Sunday evening callers on Mr. and Mrs. Karl Drees at their home on Boston Post road.

Mrs. Andrew Powers of Joy road attended funeral services of her cousin, Mrs. Madeline Walsh in Sarnia, Ontario last Thursday.

Dr. David Arigan, who spent a 15 day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Arigan of Cold Arbor road, recently returned to the Air Force base at Great Falls, Montana.

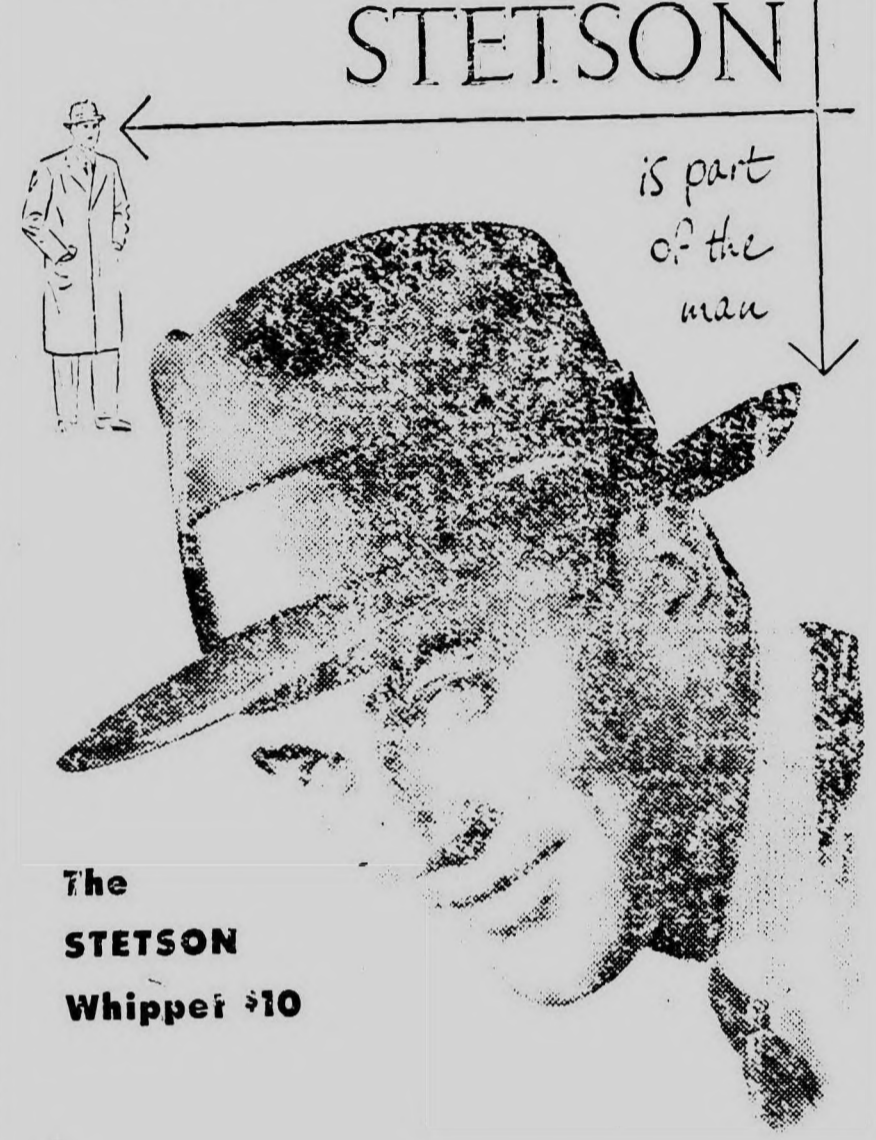

Mrs. Harold Kellogg and husband, Kathy, will be in Grand Rapids for the Easter holidays.

William Latture came home from Michigan State college Tuesday for a short vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Latture of Harding street, 501, who return to East Lansing Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Balfour and family were in Windsor Saturday, visiting relatives.

Better Eating by Jean Allen

EASY APRICOT DESSERT

Here combined in a good-to-eat dessert are apricots rich in Vitamin A and the new enriched white rice.

Apricot Rice Pudding

- 12 canned apricot halves
- 1/2 cup enriched rice
- 5 eggs, separated
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups milk
- 2 teaspoons butter
- 6 tablespoons sugar

Drain apricots. Wash rice and cook in boiling water for 5 minutes. Drain and rinse in cold water. Beat egg yolks until light, add sugar, salt and flavoring, beating until smooth.

Squid milk, add butter to milk and slowly add mixture to egg yolks, stirring constantly. Fold in rice. Bake in well greased casserole in moderately slow oven (325° F.) 40 minutes.

Stir mixture several times during baking. Beat egg whites until stiff, adding sugar gradually; beat until blended.

When rice mixture is almost set, cover with meringue, top with apricot halves.

Drop teaspoonful meringue in center of each apricot half. Return to oven and bake until meringue is golden brown, about 15 minutes.

Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Look for enriched white rice when you buy because the valuable Vitamin B1 (thiamin) has been replaced in it.

Appoint Area Boy as State Scribe Buy Building on Forest Avenue

Richard Huebler, master counselor of Plymouth's chapter order of the DeMolay, has been appointed to the office of State Scribe of Michigan's order of the DeMolay.

On Saturday, March 17, Richard, accompanied by his wife, Charles D. Huebler, attended an initiation and installation of officers of architect chapter order of the DeMolay in Dearborn.

At this meeting the state officers exemplified the degrees. Richard filled the station of Junior Steward and Inquisition during the initiation ceremony in the afternoon and assumed his own station as scribe during the installation ceremony in the evening.

Richard has become familiar with the work, as he has substituted another station at other meetings in Flint. He filled the station of Senior Steward, and in Lansing in February he assumed the office of Junior Beacon.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huebler and daughter, Dawn, and son, Richard, and Shirley Phillips attended a community service at the Kirk-In-The-Hills and carillon program in the afternoon.

Later they went to Pontiac to the Masonic Temple for the Legion of Honor Degrees, which were bestowed on Ralph Dawson of Detroit and the Honorary Legion of Honor Degree was conferred on Grand Master Dr. Morgan J. Snod.

Birds Win "D" League Second Straight Time

The "D" league ended on March 10 as the Red Birds defeated the Austin Taxi squad 47-33 to win the "D" league playoffs. The Red Birds led all the way behind the scoring of Taylor and Miller who each collected 15 counters. Bloomhoff led the losers with 19 points to keep them in the game.

This makes the second straight year that the Wayne County Training school team has topped the "D" league.

Powered for thrills - Priced for thrift!

HERE, packed in 3,615 nimble pounds and 204.8 inches of over-all length, is the car marvel of '51. In the few short weeks since it started to roll off the assembly lines, it has written a bright new page in automotive history for the low-priced field.

What Buick engineers have done is come up with a brand-new high-style body—new in every contour and dimension.

They've designed a brand-new, weight-saving frame, exclusively for this SPECIAL.

Then they've added the power-packed F-263 Fireball engine—which was new in the 1950 SUPER—and just wait till you see what that does for this nimble performer.

There's a power-to-weight ratio that spells thrill and thrift in operation—at a first cost that's just a breath away from the lowest price level.

We'd like you to see and drive this newest Buick marvel—find out for yourself what a honey it is to handle, and what a cinch it is to buy. Why not drop in and see us the very first chance you get?

No other car provides all this:

- DYNAFLOW DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car
- FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night
- TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride, improves driving control
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs
- DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
- SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times of brake drum
- DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models
- Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, Step-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

Miss Doris Baker Becomes Bride of William Coyle

White gladioluses and larkspur and candlelight set the scene for the marriage of Miss Doris Marie Baker to William Donald Coyle of Detroit.

The marriage was held at 8 p.m. Friday, March 16, in Plymouth's First Presbyterian church with the Reverend Henry Walch officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Baker of Brownell street, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Coyle of Webb avenue in Detroit.

For her marriage, the bride chose a gown with a nylon skirt, satin bodice, a lace top and a peplum. Mrs. Coyle wore a finger tip lace veil and carried a white Bible covered with white roses. Miss Donna Hunt of Plymouth acted as the bride's maid of honor and she wore a light green tulle formal and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Miss Jean Stone of Plymouth, who was the bridesmaid, wore a yellow net formal and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

The flower girl was Bonnie Hunt, sister of Donna Hunt, and she was dressed in a light green organdie formal and she carried a basket of rose petals.

Larry McCullum, nephew of the bride, acted as ring bearer, and he carried the ring on a satin pillow.

Mr. Coyle chose as his best man Robert Kennedy. The ushers were Peter Jones and Leon Sivil, both of Detroit.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Baker, wore a black dress with a yellow vest and a corsage of yellow carnations.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Coyle, was clad in a navy blue suit with a corsage of yellow carnations.

A reception for 125 guests from Detroit, Ann Arbor, South Lyons, Garden City, and Plymouth was held in the church dining parlor.

The bride chose a light green gabardine suit with matching hat, shoes, and purse for her going away costume. The couple went to Chicago for their wedding trip.

The bride was a graduate of Plymouth High and belonged to the Order of Rainbow Girls.

William Coyle graduated from Northwestern High and is a World War II veteran of the Coast Guard.

The couple will live with the bride's parents until their new home in Plymouth is completed.

Roast leg of lamb for Easter dinner is an old tradition in many homes.
 And rightly so, as this festive meat girdled with marshmallow bonnies and joined with the spring season's foods, always makes a proud appearance on the table.
 When purchasing a frenched lamb roast have your meat dealer leave the paper-like covering, the fell, on the leg. This covering works for you in two ways. The fell helps to keep the meat moist within the roast and also to retain the shape of the leg during cooking.
 For best results, a leg of lamb is roasted in the following manner. Place it skin side down in an open roasting pan. Use a rack to keep the meat up off the bottom of the pan.

 Insert a meat thermometer into the thickest section of the cut (not in fat or on bone) so you will know when the roast is done. The thermometer will register 175 F.-180 F. This takes from 30 to 35 minutes per pound in the recommended 300 F. oven.
 In addition to correct cooking of the roast, allowing the meat to "set" for 30 minutes after cooking makes carving easy.
 The frenched leg of lamb is carved much the same as a roast ham.

Place the leg on the platter so that the shank bone is to the carver's right and the fatty section away from him. Slice two to three lengthwise slices from the top side (next to carver), then turn the roast so that it rests on the cut surface and the shank bone points up.
 Steadying the roast with the fork, start cutting from the shank end, slicing down to the leg bone. Make parallel slices, 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick, then run the knife along the leg bone to loosen the slices.

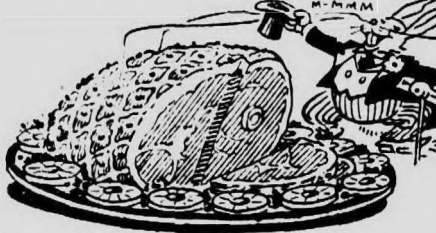

If you have any local news items, club news or any social news, call 1755.

THERE'S HAM FOR EASTER

The tantalizing aroma of ham broiling in the oven means an Easter Sunday treat. The tender cured hams found in stores nowadays are ready to serve with little effort.

To Bake Ham
 Prepare the ham for baking by wiping with a damp cloth. Place the fat side up on a rack in a roasting pan. Insert the meat thermometer if you have one, but it will tell you exactly when the ham is ready to serve.

Marshmallow bunnies (faces designed with vegetable coloring) surround this frenched leg of lamb, a favorite for the Easter dinner table.

 Do not add water and do not cover. The melting fat is self-basting. Set the oven control for 325 F.—a moderately slow temperature.
 Allow 15 minutes per pound for a large ham and 20 minutes per pound for a small ham or half ham.

Honey Glaze
 About one-half hour before the ham is done remove the skin and score the fat diagonally. Cover with a honey glaze made by combining 1/2 cup honey and 1/2 cup bread crumbs. Stick with whole cloves. When the thermometer reads 150° F. remove from the oven and slice.

Tropical Sweet Potatoes
 8 slices canned pineapple
 1 No. 2 can sweet potatoes
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 tablespoon brown sugar
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 2 eggs, separated
 8 marshmallows

Drain pineapple. Mash sweet potatoes; mix with seasonings, brown sugar and melted butter. Add beaten egg yolks. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.
 Place 2 additional tablespoons melted butter and 1 tablespoon brown sugar in baking pan. Add pineapple. Arrange mound of sweet potatoes on each slice of pineapple. Top with a marshmallow.
 Bake, basting occasionally with the sugar and butter mixture, in a moderately hot oven (375° F.) 25 to 35 minutes.
 Yield: 8 servings.

Plan Colorful Breakfast For Easter Morning

Greet the family on Easter morn with a tempting, colorful breakfast.

Serve on your gayest luncheon cloth and pottery to bring an initial touch of spring to the breakfast table.

For the occasion you may want to choose thick slices of smoky Canadian-style bacon.

Top the panbroiled slices with scrambled eggs for an attractive, and equally as flavorful, serving. Arrange them on a platter and garnish with parsley or chives.

Hot cross buns will naturally be a part of the menu. Serve with honey butter.

To start the breakfast, consider hot spiced apple juice. It's an appropriate choice with Canadian-style bacon.

Or on this day you may want to choose grapefruit halves. Dot them with butter, then sprinkle with brown sugar and broil. Center each with a maraschino cherry just before taking them to the table.

Still another suggestion for Easter morning is ham with cream gravy over grits. This has become practically a tradition in some homes.

Hot cakes served with sausage links is another choice, or bring your waffle baker to the table and serve the waffles with plenty of sausage links or bacon strips or bacon curls.

For the latter, cut bacon in half strips, roll, then fasten with wooden picks, and slowly pan-broil.

Tree Trunk Girdling Produces Earlier Northern Spy Apple Crop

Northern Spy apple trees don't usually bear fruit until they are 12 to 18 years old. However, in tests conducted by the Michigan State College Agricultural Experiment Station, trees were made to produce sizable crops when only 9 years old. The tree trunks were girdled by removing a strip of bark one-eighth-inch wide, 12 inches above ground level. The cut was made to the depth of the wood, completely encircling the trunk. The girdling wounds were then coated with grafting compound. Trees girdled in late May of their eighth year produced fruit the ninth year. While subsequent girdling did not produce as great yields, girdled trees were far ahead of ungirdled trees by the time the latter began to produce fruit. Full information about girdling to produce apple crops more efficiently can be obtained by calling or writing your County Agricultural Agent.

Power augers increase efficiency...
 Digging a hole for a telephone pole used to take a long time. Today Michigan Bell does this job more quickly and more efficiently with power-driven augers which can dig a pole hole in a couple of minutes. Call Honor Roll Unsatisfactory

The present honor roll system has been expressed by several PHS students as unsatisfactory. Recently discussed at Student Council meetings, the problem is now brought to the attention of the Pilgrim Prints Staff.

Most complaints are directed at the unfairness of the system. For instance, a student taking trade studies only, or a senior taking only one easy course may get all "A's" and "B's" and be placed on the published honor roll.

Yet a student taking a college preparatory course of five or six hard subjects, and making all "B's" or better, except one which is a "C," is kept off the honor roll. Many students think this entirely unfair.

Three corrective suggestions have been made so far: (1) that an average of the student's marks be taken, and those with "B's" or better averages put on the honor roll; (2) that a student must take at least three subjects before being eligible for the honor roll, and the number of subjects taken listed with the student's name; and (3) that the honor roll system be abolished.

A poll has been planned to find out the students' opinions of this plan.

High School Students Attend Council Convo

Doris Honey, Betty Salmon, and advisor Irene Walldorf attended the 6-B League Student Council representative assembly which was held at Belleville High school, Monday, February 26, with five schools represented.

The purpose of this meeting was to decide on possible topics for discussion at the Regional Student Council meeting to be held at Plymouth, April 4.

Miss Walldorf explained the purpose and procedure of the regional meeting to council members.

Houghton Offers Scholarships

This year a scholarship is being offered to Plymouth high school graduates from the Mining and Technology college at Houghton, Michigan.

Boys, who are interested in continuing their education immediately after finishing high school this June, are trying for this scholarship.

Young men may be permitted to remain in college for a year, and if they do well, they may continue until they receive their degrees and commissions by enrolling in either the Engineering, ROTC, or the Air ROTC.

When enrolling, the senior boys must sign an agreement to serve for two years in the armed services after receiving four years of college training.

After graduation, they are given a second lieutenant rating in the service.

Other information on this or different scholarships may be obtained in the Guidance Department at Plymouth High school.

Collegiates Win School Offices

Representing their dormitories, four Plymouth High school graduates were elected to the Associated Women Students' board at Michigan State college.

Wilma Latture is on the judiciary board, which makes rules for dormitories, while Mary Vincent, Pat Pine, and Margaret Saxton are on the activity board, handling the dormitory activities.

Roger Kidston, now a freshman at the University of Michigan, has recently qualified for a scholarship in the Marines which enables him to finish his college education without further expense to him. Out of four hundred that took the test, Roger was one of ten to pass it.

Joe Miller, a sophomore at the University of Michigan, was recently appointed night sports editor of the Michigan Daily, a student publication.

Student Council Hosts Regional

Members of Plymouth's Student Council will be hosts at a Regional Student Council meeting to the 6-B league on April 4 from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Ten members from each council of the five schools, Trenton, Bentley, Allen Park, Belleville, and Plymouth, will be present at the conference.

At this time the following questions will be used for discussion: 1- What can Student Council do to arouse school spirit? 2- How can the Council raise funds for needed expenditures? 3- How can a further interest be developed in Student Council by members of the student body? 4- How much power does the Council possess? 5- What is the procedure used for campaign and inaugural assemblies?

In charge of committees for the meeting are: refreshments, Stewart Oldford; entertainment, Sally Morgan; program, Kay Dobbs; registration, Joyce Nagel; clean up, Tom Guthrie; speaker, Anne Vincent.

The fire department has had several calls since last report. On March 11, they visited Wm. Cook's house on Kelllogg street, to put out a small roof fire. On the evening of March 12, the roof of Joe Tessman's house on Harvey street, caught fire and it was necessary to apply seventy-five gallons of chemicals to subdue the flames. About five hundred dollars damage was done.

Cadillac

Its Great Name is Free!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

If there were some way to strip a Cadillac of every identifying emblem it possesses, and judge it solely by the way it rides and handles and performs—it would still be quickly recognizable as the "Standard of the World."

But think what a Cadillac brings you in addition to the solid value of its engineering and performance and comfort and handling ease—the wonderful Cadillac name!

Perhaps in all the world, there is no inanimate object which speaks so eloquently as the Cadillac shield. It talks of background, of progress, and of faultless workmanship.

It proclaims a promise of years and years of the utmost motoring satisfaction. It speaks of its owner, and identifies him as a man of accomplishment and discrimination.

In fact, there is nothing good and wonderful a motor car can bring that isn't promised or implied by the beautiful Cadillac shield. And it speaks a universal language, which is understood and appreciated the wide world over.

And remember, you pay no extra penalty for the pride and pleasure of having this great and distinguished name. They come as a "special dividend" with every Cadillac car.

We deeply regret that we are unable to deliver new Cadillac cars without some delay. But the demand for the car is unprecedented—and much of the company's energies and materials are now being devoted to the needs of national security. Once the car is delivered into your hands, however, we know you'll agree that—patience never brought a richer reward.

Roger Babson Says --

Babson Discusses Cooperation Between Business and Colleges

Babson Park, Florida, March 22. Closest cooperation between business and education may save our private institutions of higher learning and, at the same time, bring about increased profits for business. Education and business, working hand in hand, can also make themselves of greater value to the country in this national emergency.

Business Needs the College

One of the soundest ways to preserve private enterprise is to give financial aid to young and needy potential business executives studying in colleges which are especially appreciative of American business and sympathetic to its problems. Most professional colleges of business have this point of view. Young men thereby educated are of especial value to business. They not only learn specialized techniques, but they also acquire a sound philosophy of American business. Business needs such young men.

Business also needs the brains and research facilities of the colleges. Many small and medium-sized companies cannot hope, by themselves, to keep pace with the research of big business; but by pooling their efforts with the colleges, their usefulness and profits can be increased. Business provides the funds; the colleges provide the research laboratories.

The College Needs Business

In these times of partial mobilization and declining enrollment, the college needs business.

3 Madonna Women Win Recognition

Three Madonna seniors have been named to "Who's Who among students in American Universities and colleges," announced Pettus Randall, editor.

Misses Gertrude Bonk, Joan Kaminski and Therese Szalasiewicz were nominated for the honor by a faculty-student committee on the basis of scholarship, cooperation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship and service to the school and promise of future usefulness.

A sociology major, Miss Bonk, has been editor of the college newspaper, the Madonna Herald for the past two years and has held the offices of vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the Student Association of Madonna college.

Miss Kaminski, an art major, has been active in student government having held the office of Student Association president for three years. She was also senior delegate to the National Federation of Catholic College Students and at present is also recording secretary of the Detroit regional unit.

Also a sociology major, Miss Szalasiewicz is president of the senior class and a past president of the Student Association.

"Who's Who among students in American universities and colleges" will award each member a certificate of recognition to be presented on the campus during the annual Honors Convocation.

An adjunct to the international honor program is the placement service conducted for the benefit of the graduates.

The directory published annually since 1934, is composed of distinguished students selected from over 600 colleges and universities throughout America.

ments, the college needs the help of business. Education is the bulwark of democracy. If America is to win the battle of ideologies, it will be by brains—not by brawn. The survival of private enterprise is, therefore, closely tied to the survival of our educational institutions. To survive, our colleges greatly need the financial support of business, which should feel obligated to help keep our system of higher education strong.

Colleges today are in a precarious position. They are victims of a war-time economy. With decreased income from tuitions and inflated costs of operation, plus being buildings-and-land poor, with income from endowments inadequate, colleges are having rough going. Some are already operating in the red. Many more will lose money next year. A cooperative venture between business and education is, therefore, an intelligent solution to many of the problems of both groups.

Ways of Cooperation

Many colleges are already doing a vast amount of technical research for Government and Business; Boston University in optics; Georgia Tech in Aeronautical Engineering; University of California in goods; University of Wisconsin in Naval Research; Stamford in radio; Michigan State in fuel; Massachusetts Institute of Technology in manufacturing; Babson Institute in marketing.—to mention a very few.

Other possible areas of cooperation are workshop seminars for top management. These custom-built courses of short duration to meet specific industry and company problems in consumer research, marketing, advertising, product development, taxes, etc. Refresher group conferences for foremen, sales managers, bankers, and accountants can do much to keep both business and education on their toes.

Financial Engineering

Yale University has pointed the way in research in labor relations with its Labor-Management Center. Whole new areas are practically unexplored,—such as atomic warfare, business decentralization and traffic problems. Other areas are job evaluation, job satisfaction, corporation conduct, public relations, organizational communication, corporate finance and statistics.

The subject of taxes alone offers rich possibilities for business-collegiate cooperation. Taxes have become far greater than a legal question. We have in the U.S.A. one of the strongest potential working teams any country has ever known: the research facilities of education and the wealth facilities of business. In harness together they can become invaluable helpmates. Now is the time to build our team and keep our country strong.

Fortify yourself with contentment, for this is an impregnable fortress. —Epictetus
