WHERE ARE WE HEADED FOR?

It was with a considerable degree of alarm when we read in a recent issue of The United States News and World Report the following paragraphs taken from the publication's "Newsgram" page:

"In U. S., signs grow that Government may become a gigantic racket.

"Taxes are kited for ordinary people, fixed for insiders. Loans go to those with right political connections. Contracts can be had by those who get the 'right' official to place a telephone call. Run-around is reserved for the outside business man who hasn't his well-connected politician.

"Crackdown comes for the little guy who runs afoul of a law. A fix is not unknown for the other little guy, or big one, who's 'right' politically.

"Party wheel horses decide whose taxes are audited, whose not.

"It's the 'city hall' technique: favors for friends, penalties for those who resist or squawk. There's the free coal for the poor, Christmas baskets, help in getting tickets fixed, taking care of the 'boys' in trouble.

"Only now it's the nation, not a city hall, involved.

"Billions, not millions, are there to pass around. Relief checks, many kinds of subsidies can take the place of Christmas baskets. Taxes, fixed, are big stuff compared with traffic tickets. Contracts come in billions.

"Fortunes, apparently, are there to be made for the 'right' people.

"Politicians, brought up in the city halls, often have moved up. All through national Government they've landed in key spots. It's something new."

Pray tell, who is there that can honestly say a respectable word for those who are now directing the administration of our public affairs in Washington?

And who is there who ever believed that our REPUBLIC could sink so low in its political leadership?

How unfortunate it is that we must endure it for more than a year before we have a chance to bring about a change.

THE TRUE PLYMOUTH SPIRIT.

A few evenings ago in the Plymouth Masonic Temple the members of the Knights of Columbus organization of this city acted as hosts at a "friendship" banquet honoring members of the Plymouth Rock Masonic Lodge. It was a "return" courtesy extended to the Knights last year by the Masons of Plymouth.

To us, that represents the true Plymouth spirit. It is the sort of an event that creates good will, good neighbors and GOOD MEN.

It is rather an interesting coincidence that just a few days ago we read an article taken from the Dallas, Texas, Morning News, under the heading "A Methodist Rosary."

The sentiment of it corresponds so well with the same spirit that prevailed at the banquet in the Plymouth Masonic Temple that we believe it worthy of publication in full. It follows:

Grayning Methodist George S. Peabody stepped from his Texas Bank building law office down the hall to his friend, grayning Catholic Charles E. Kain. Said Methodist Peabody to Catholic Kain, "I want to show you my rosary."

Kain's face broke into a smile. "I want to see a Methodist rosary." He took the string of brown beads with a brown cross. His smile widened. He wasn't up on rosaries, he said, but he had seen nothing like this one before.

It wasn't the usual plastic or glass, but wood, probably brier. The beads had been deeply carved. Close study showed that in the center of each octagonal, quarter-inch bead face was a slightly raised circle, or cone, made by cutting down the wood around it. Two lower circles were around the cone, all doubtlessly done laboriously but beautifully with a hand-made bit. The triple circles also were on the cross, and the whole was strung on a chain of silver wire twisted into seeming links. "Where on earth did you get this unusual rosary?" asked Kain.

It was a story that went back 55 years. George Peabody was barefooted and lived in Sanford, Fla., with his father and mother and 11 brothers and sisters. His father, Major E. W. Peabody, was traveling correspondent for the Jacksonville Times-Union. His mother was a short, plump woman of Scotch-Irish descent.

Mrs. Peabody was a staunch camp-meeting Methodist, active in charity in the railroad town of 1,500 people. Daily, she sent a tureen of soup to some needy family. One day, George told how his sturdy mother took her barefooted son down near the railroad shops and turned in at a laborer's house. A young woman, dark and Spanish, came to the door.

"I understand your mother has malaria," said Mrs. Peabody. "I have brought her some broth. It is strength-giving."

The young woman's face shone. "Gracias, mil gracias," she said. "Will you come in?"

The barefooted boy saw a barren house. He saw a washstand with a white pitcher in a white bowl. He saw also an iron bed, and in it a slight figure with a dazed, wrinkled face and silvering dark hair. The young woman chattered in Spanish. The wrinkled face smiled faintly and mumbled broken thanks.

When they came away, George thought about the poverty, the empty house, and the destitution of a $2, 12-hour-a-day laborer and his poor family.

The next day George was sent back with another tureen to the home of the Spanish family. George recalls that he must have gone there daily for the next six weeks, sometimes twice a day, with medicines as well. His mother missed few days making a visit there herself. She didn't trust others when it came to illness. She had brought so many children through sickness, she felt she knew how. She was so energetic, too, and everyone was glad to have her aid.

In time the slight, wrinkled Spanish woman was up. She tried to thank Mrs. Peabody, mingling broken English and Spanish. So much she wanted to do something for the great lady. But so poor she was. She would give what she held dearest, her finest possession, her rosary.

Boysish George saw before him two holy women: one who sought out the sick and poor, and one who in return gave her all. He saw his Methodist mother accept the Catholic rosary in the spirit it was given. At home he saw his mother put it with the family heirlooms. She treated it with reverence. She would not allow children to handle it. It was not a toy, she said. And she took it out only on a request for the story of the woman who gave her all.

Later the Spanish people disappeared. George grew up, went to the University of Georgia, then to New Orleans, and married. In time, a black-haired son, Edward Smith Peabody, was born.

The 1st World War brought terrible things to George Peabody. First, he and his wife parted. With her went the two-and-a-half-year-old son. Peabody came to Texas in the YMCA service.

Later his mother died. The rosary went then to George Peabody. His brothers and sisters, winding up the estate, thought he was closest to it. Peabody, who had become a Mason, welcomed it. It brought to mind two fine women, an almost holy scene. From time to time he pondered about the rosary's history. He pictured a Basque shepherd tending his flock. He would be a man with time on his hands and piety in his heart. As he tended his flock, this shepherd had worked with three nails in a block of wood against octagons of the hard brier root, all for his Blessed Lady. Peabody wondered from time to time about what had become of his lost son, Edward Smith Peabody. He was gone without a trace.

This is the story Peabody told Kain. Kain called the Dallas News. At the instance of the News, Dallas Catholic Auxiliary Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr looked at the rosary. It was ancient, he said, at least a century old, possibly more. It was of Latin origin, Spanish, Italian or Mexican. It showed much use. In one spot the chain had worn apart or been pulled apart. In restringing, one decade had gained a bead. The rosary was a rare work of art.

After the story on the rosary was printed, a long-distance telephone call to Peabody came from New Orleans. A voice asked if Edward Smith Peabody would be welcomed if he visited a father he had always been told was dead. Why, of course!

On Aug. 31, a gray-haired father and black-haired son were reunited after 32 years. The father got, also, a vivacious daughter-in-law (dark hair and blue eyes) of French descent, and two grandchildren.

The next Friday the Dallas lawyer asked what the New Orleans Peabodys would have for dinner. Ham, roast beef or fish? Fish, said the son. He allowed his wife into the Catholic Church. And so the rosary, carved possibly centuries ago and given by that poor Catholic woman to a Methodist Dorcas who went about doing good, came to a Mason, and went back to his Catholic son.

Plymouth Deer Hunters Already Leaving For Michigan's Northlands

Although the 1951 Michigan deer season does not open until 7 o'clock next week Thursday morning, November 15, scores and scores of Plymouth's enthusiastic deer hunters have already left for their favorite hunting areas in northern Michigan.

Plymouth and vicinity usually sends between 400 and 500 deer hunters into the "north woods," as Michigan's deer hunting lands were formerly called. It is expected that there will be considerably more than 500 this year because of the mess created in the meat situation by Washington muddlers.

One average size deer will dress out from 80 to 125 pounds—and that under phony Fair Deal prices represents something like $80 or $125 in actual cash. Neither the state's Fair Dealers or the Washington Phony Dealers, strange as it may seem, have so far imposed a tax upon the venison one might bring out of the woods.

Because of the blizzards that have been sweeping the Upper Peninsula during the past week or so some Plymouth deer hunters who have always gone across the Straits to hunt, have been thinking about confining their hunting to the Lower Peninsula this year. As a result, it is expected that there will be much more of a concentration of hunters up in the northern central part of the state than in many years.

Little Chance For British to Get Iran Oil Again

Members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday were given first hand information pertaining to the Iran oil question by a former resident of Iran who is now a student at the University of Michigan. What the speaker had to say about the English treatment of Iran in the oil dispute was not a glowing tribute to English statesmanship.

George Hartrick, manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone office in Plymouth, chairman of the program, presented as the speaker George Petrossian, who was born in Armenia but lived for many years in Iran.

Petrossian declared that the day of English "milking" of Iran is gone forever.

He declared that the whole affair has been a series of mistakes on the part of the English government and that now the point has been reached where the prospects of any settlement between Iran and England are gone.

"There has been discrimination by the English against the people of Iran. They would not hire them to do what work they might be able to perform and the Iranian government had no way of knowing how much oil was taken out of Iran by the English and not paid for," he said.

Blizzard Sweeps City; New Record For Cold

Plymouth, like the rest of Michigan, is still digging out from one of the severest four day blizzards that ever hit this state in November. Although city workmen spent nearly all of Tuesday night and Wednesday forenoon operating snow removal equipment, many big snow banks still remain about the streets.

When the snowstorm broke early Tuesday following three days of the coldest November weather ever experienced in this locality, it came so fast that hundreds of automobiles became stalled on the streets and highways. Many school children remained in the city with friends, unable to get to their homes in the rural sections. Plymouth residents who had been in Detroit for the day were from three to five hours in driving home.

Snow turning to rain early Wednesday only added to the serious traffic hazard.

Some Plymouth thermometers gave readings of 12 above last Saturday morning. Others were reported as averaging from 12 to 16 above. The official record in Detroit for Saturday was 16 above zero, the coldest November 3rd ever recorded in that city.

Coupled with the intense cold, snow fell late last Friday covering the ground and in some places making the paving exceedingly slippery.

State police reported some 350 traffic accidents in this part of Michigan as due to the slippery condition of the pavings.

It was below freezing in Plymouth all day Saturday and Sunday. The Upper Peninsula reported a snowfall of more than 17 inches in most places, with roads blocked last Saturday, with some not open until Sunday.

The Schrader thermometer on Main street stood at 16 above zero early Saturday forenoon. It did not go above freezing all day. Monday morning it registered only 14 above.

The freeze caught a number of Plymouth hunters up in the northern part of the state and on Saginaw bay. Duck hunters found it too cold to be out on the bay for any length of time.

Plymouth lovers of winter sunshine began making plans to leave for the south. Some others, reading the long-distance weather predictions of a very cold November, had left before the cold wave struck.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. West decided by Sunday night that they "had had enough" and left early Monday morning for their winter "summerland" place near Englewood, Florida. The Wests have for many years spent the winter months in a beautiful pine grove near Englewood, and near where the fishing is always "mighty" good.

Dayton Bunn, the former Ford dealer of Northville and Mrs. Bunn, should have arrived in St. Petersburg, Florida, the "Sunshine City" on the day that the cold wave struck this part of the state. They left early last week and should have been in Florida by Friday.

Another Northville couple, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith, left a few days ago for their winter home in Fort Lauderdale.

In letters received last week from Mrs. Maude Schrader and her daughter Evelyn now at their winter home in West Palm Beach, they said the weather there had been "unusually" warm for this time of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rodman who left for the south when the first forecast was made of an exceptionally cold November, have already arrived at Mount Dora, Florida and as a result of their early move have escaped all the cold weather.

Capacity Crowd at Friendship Dinner Monday

A capacity crowd filled the Masonic temple Monday night on the event of the second annual Knights of Columbus and Masonic Lodge fellowship dinner. Under the direction of K of C members Ted Gronowick, Charles E. Nelson and Henry Lorenz the meeting was a most successful one.

The program started with a family style turkey dinner served by the ladies of the Eastern Star and this was followed by several excellent variety musical acts. Main speaker for the affair was Detroit attorney Ernest F. Rossi who praised local members of both orders for their efforts to unite in friendship meetings.

"Living in a small town such as Plymouth it shows the true American spirit when two orders such as Knights of Columbus and the Masonic Lodge can meet under one roof and exchange ideas and friendships in gatherings such as this," stated the speaker.

New Phone Books Are Distributed

A new feature appears in the Plymouth telephone directory just distributed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

George P. Hartrick, manager here for the company, said the first page of the new directory—the one which customarily lists "emergency numbers"—has been revamped so that subscribers can now literally become custodians of their own safety.

Spaces have been provided on the top of the page for each subscriber to fill in the telephone numbers of the police and fire departments serving his own community.

Plymouth Co-op Nursery Opens

The Plymouth Cooperative Nursery had a successful opening day Monday, November 5, in the primary rooms of the First Methodist church of Plymouth. In preparation for this first day, the mothers had worked together on purchasing equipment, gathering information about methods, and planning the organization of the nursery. These pre-opening tasks were not only enjoyable but also helpful because of the fine group spirit which was created.

One of the most important decisions made by the group was the selection of the teacher. It was most fortunate that the nursery was able to obtain Mrs. Jane Bowser. Mrs. Bowser has had 20 years of experience in the preschool field, including the position of pre-school director at Stark school in Livonia. She holds a life-time teaching certificate in Michigan and Pennsylvania. Recently, she took a refresher course in pre-school education at Merrill-Palmer Institute.

The mothers and children who are already participating in the nursery are as follows: Mrs. John A. Wilson and son John Jr.; Mrs. Clifford Lightstone and daughter, Vicki Lynn; Mrs. Victor Gray and son, George; Mrs. (Continued on Page 7)

Daisy Company Gets Letter of Thanks from Imaginary 'Targette'

Little did officials of the Daisy Manufacturing Company think when they offered one of their prizes Daisy Targettes as a prize for some participant in the Halloween parade which made such a hit in Plymouth recently that they would receive through Uncle Sam's mail a letter of "thank you" from the "Targette" itself.
Either the father or mother of the boy who won the prize, a day or so ago by imaginary transformation, became the "Daisy Targette" and as such wrote this interesting letter to the Daisy officials:
"Dearest Folks:
This will probably be the last time you shall hear from me as I expect my future shall be so full and so busy I shall be unable to write again.
"However, I feel as tho you should know how I spent my first Halloween away from "home" as I am very proud of my accomplishments in one short evening.

Deer Hunters Can Test Out Rifles

If you would like to try out your deer rifle before starting north in the next few days, officials of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association say that the rifle range out at the clubhouse grounds on Joy road will be open for use all day Sunday.
The club during the past year has developed as good a rifle range as there is in Michigan. There is no danger of any one getting hurt in "wild" shots, and it is an easy matter for one to find out just how satisfactory a rifle is shooting.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Think Constructively

ONCE I TALKED with the son of General Ike Eisenhower, who, you don't need to be told, is one of the ablest and one of the most popular men in the world today.

Young Eisenhower looked thoughtful for a moment, then said, "Well, I'm sure Dad never wastes time thinking about people who don't like him; you see, he always thinks constructively."

Here's a quotation from Elbert Hubbard, that philosopher who during the early part of this century gave us those helpful and immortal essays called Little Journeys.

"Do not fear being misunderstood and do not waste a minute thinking about your enemies. Try to fix firmly in your mind what you want to do; then without veering, move straight toward your goal. Keep your mind on the great and splendid things, and as the days go gliding by, you will find yourself unconsciously seizing upon the opportunities that are required for the fulfillment of your desire. Thought is supreme. Preserve a right mental attitude—the attitude of courage, frankness and good cheer. To think rightly is to create. All things come through desire and every sincere prayer is answered. We become like that on which our hearts are fixed. Carry your chin in and the crown of your head high."

It would be a good idea to clip these words of Elbert Hubbard and place them in your billfold. Before you wear out this slip of paper from taking it out to read it, type them on a card for future reference.

Club to Observe Optimist Week

Next week is Optimist Week. It marks the climax of year-long activities of this international men's service organization throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba and Puerto Rico—some 40,000 members in the 751 clubs.

Optimist Week also marks the start of another year by this organization which is known as the "Friend of the Boy"—to live by a creed Optimists hold dear and to stand up for free democratic institutions.

The local Optimist club of Plymouth will observe next week in a variety of ways. Posters will be displayed on the bumpers of automobiles. A group meeting with the Northville Optimists club is planned for next Wednesday at Northville when the District officers will be present.

In reviewing the short history of the local club and the many projects they have successfully carried out in Plymouth, one finds some interesting activity. Each year the Optimist sponsor the "Fish Rodeo" for boys and girls of this area. The local club inaugurated the Saturday night dances for young people at the Masonic Temple.

Each year a group of underprivileged children are treated to a ball game at Detroit. A boys' basketball team is sponsored each winter by the club. Popcorn for the Halloween party was given to the children of Plymouth by the Optimist club.

The big project now in the embryo stage is a playground for the youth of our city.

At Christmas time a party is staged for underprivileged children.

The local members go about their work with the youth of our city with a spirit of companionship and a willingness to live up to their slogan "A Friend of the Boy."

Next week you will be seeing programs on the radio, television and reading about the work of Optimist in all the newspapers.

The Plymouth community is very fortunate in having an organization such as the Optimist club that takes an interest in youth. Your favorite barbecue sauce joins with miniature meat balls for an easy serving. Form ground beef, seasoned with onion, into small balls, then brown thoroughly. To the frying-pan add barbecue sauce, cover and cook for 45 minutes.

Look Ahead 10 Years! (WHEN YOU'RE CHOOSING AUTOMATIC OIL HEAT)

TIMKEN Silent Automatic OIL HEAT WALL-FLAME METHOD

It pays to get the best! Most people know that. But some, when they come to choosing the heating system that must serve them for years, hesitate about Timken Silent Automatic—for one reason. It costs a little more. To those people we say, look ahead ten years. The amount of fuel oil and electricity your Timken Silent Automatic Wall-Flame Oil Burner will use over that time will probably be 25% less than an ordinary gun-type burner will use. Maintenance costs will be much lower, too, because the only moving part in the entire burner is the self-lubricating mono-rotor. All this, plus the proud knowledge that you have the best in advance-designed heating equipment, puts you far ahead of the shortsighted man who accepts less than a Timken Silent Automatic. Phone today! We'll be glad to arrange easy terms—10% down, 36 months to pay, if desired—on the Timken Silent Automatic unit that's right for your home. You couldn't make a better buy! THE STARS By LYN CONNELLY DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, Jr., reported set to star in a new series called "The Silent Man," on NBC radio. . . And that wonderfully zany team, Martin and Lewis, will be heard in a situation comedy series on the same network, in addition to their TV and movie chores. . . Kate Smith is right up there with Arthur Godfrey as top commercial personalities in broadcasting, according to a trade paper. . . Miss Smith is said to bring about $12,000,000 yearly into the NBC coffers, an amount which is approximately what Godfrey is reported pulling in for CBS. . . In case anyone is interested, Orson Welles reports he may return to this country next year and tour with his magic act. . . It's safe to say it won't be half as interesting without Rita Hayworth. Sig Sakowitz, sports editor and writer of one of the best, informative gossip columns in the Chicago-Land area, has written a cute little number entitled "On My Mind," which is catching on fast and should class with such songs as "My Heart Cries For You," "Cold, Cold Heart" and "Slipping Around". . . On a Job label, Ray Pearl has a terrific orchestration of it and Lois Costello does the singing. . . Give it a twirl. . . In addition to his writing prowess, Sig also owns his own club lounge and is on every important committee of many civic organizations. . . All this, and only 28!

The oil corporations of England taking oil out of Iran are really the English government, as the government is the main stockholder of the oil corporation. Iran insists upon one hundred percent control of its own property and a just share in the oil that is pumped from under its lands. Iran insists upon equal justice and I do not think that Mr. Churchill can pull the right rabbit out of the hat this time. Iran fears Stalin and the Communist party in that country has gone underground. The Iranian people will never go against the monarchy that runs its government, and there will be no opportunity for the British to buy out their opposition this time," he added.

Following the meeting, he was asked numerous questions by Romanians who wanted to know more of the inside operations of the English in Iran.

Dr. Harold Sparling of Northville, who spent more than three years in Tehran, the capital city of Iran, during World War II and in his capacity as a high medical official in the United States army, served as the "health officer" not only of Tehran but most of the country of Iran, while in Plymouth Monday, declared that there was not the slightest question but what there was some justice in the action of the Iran government.

But whether more income from the oil to Iran will do the country any good, is another question, states Dr. Sparling.

"The people of Iran live worse than do animals. In fact animals wouldn't live in the filth that they do," he said. "They are not only filthy but diseased as well. The average woman will give birth to 23 or 30 children during her lifetime, but only one or two of them reach maturity," he said.

"There are no public schools in Tehran, a city of more than a million residents. There are no sewers and the people wash and drink out of the ditches that run through the city.

"The ruling classes get the income from the oil resources of the country. They set up their own government. From my three years of observation in Tehran, I see little chance of doing much which will immediately benefit the people of Iran. It is one of the hottest, most degenerate and filthiest countries in the entire world."

page for the service wanted, and then dialing the wrong number," Hartwick said.

"If everybody does his part in listing his own five number on the top of that page, there'll be fewer lives endangered, and less property lost," Hartwick said, in an appeal to users to reduce the number of mistakes made in reporting the outbreak of fire.

The manager emphasized Michigan Bell's desire to assist fire departments in combating "very real and human mistakes when disaster strikes and panicky calls for help must be made under considerable stress."

"We hope this is a partial solution to the problem, and of real assistance when it's needed most," he said.

The book also lists the numbers of the neighboring communities of Ann Arbor, Livonia, Northville, South Lyon, Wayne, and Ypsilanti.

This year the new directory is making its bow in a buff cover, changing over from the grey color of last year. Over 8,000 copies will be used during the ensuing year.

HS Open House Wednesday Night

Teachers will have a meeting on Monday. In the evening an athletic pot-luck has been scheduled in honor of the football, cross-country and cheer leading squads. This is being staged by the members of the squads.

The big Open House will come Wednesday evening. There will be no school that afternoon to allow for preparation of classrooms for the evening meeting with the parents and students. The parents will find this a wonderful opportunity to meet the teachers, to look over the classroom facilities, to find out just what the conditions of our school system are, and what improvements should be made.

Refreshments will be served on each floor. The teaching staff and the administrators extend an invitation to each one of you to attend this Open House next Wednesday evening.

On Thursday there will be a Fall Sports Honor Assembly sponsored by the Varsity club, where letters will be awarded to the boys who earned them in football and cross-country. The Senior Play will be staged Thursday and Friday evenings to climax the eventful week.

Students are urged to bring their parents to the Open House Wednesday evening, and it is hoped by the educators of our school system that all parents, who have an interest in their children, and their schools, will attend.

Here's an extra-quick caperole—the meat coming from your "canned" shelf. Place a layer of sweet potato (boiled, peeled and halved lengthwise) in the bottom of a greased baking dish. Cover with applesauce, then a layer of sliced luncheon loaf. Repeat the layers and bake in a 350 F. oven for 20 minutes.

Missionary Film to be Shown at Calvary Baptist

"Regions Beyond" is a new Missionary sound motion picture in natural color filmed in the Congo. This picture is to be shown at Calvary Baptist church Sunday, November 11 at 7:30 p.m.

This is the story of Jim and Mary, divine harvesters who take the gospel message deep into jungle and spiritual hinterland. Pagan minds plot their destruction. Heartache and sorrow and death furrow their paths. But they press on, and the strength of their courage becomes the measure of their success.

Malaria fever, scourge of the inner jungle, sweeps upon the village where they work. But Mary's medical skill stands and triumphs against the disease, thereby winning the favor of the chief and his people.

But then the fever strikes their infant daughter, and Mary reveals that she used all of the medicine on the people. None remains for their daughter. Thus the story pulsates to a conclusion which conveys one of the dynamic appeals for spiritual action ever visualized.

During production work in Africa, the native Christian, who plays the role of the witch doctor in the film, made a prediction. He said with great enthusiasm: "When white people across the ocean see this picture, the work of God will walk!"

And when you have seen "Regions Beyond," you will share his enthusiasm.

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

The basketball team is still having a difficult time finding a place and time to practice. For the past several years the high school team has been shifted around from one place to another because of a too ambitious athletic program for the facilities available. It seems the girls have the gymnasium a couple nights a week after school for the volleyball and basketball tournaments, and the basketball team has to get in a practice wherever they can. In the evening there is play practice or something else scheduled.

It seems to me basketball should come first and everything else secondly. If we expect to have a team they should have a regular place to practice. Volleyball could be played in the junior high school gym it seems and if space isn't available it should be confined to regular gym classes. Most schools wouldn't put up with a situation such as exists here.

Pressure is put on for a team to win as many games as possible—in some places it even means a coach's job. Yes, a basketball team should have a regular place to practice and that should be after school each day. Anyone who wants to use the gym should be the ones who have to shift around.

For years our teams have gone out to DeHoCo, WCTS and anywhere they could get a little practice—nights, afternoons or whenever they could. That isn't right!

I know there is a lot of value in a good girls intramural program and play practices, but again I say if facilities aren't available for such things they should be held where possible and the basketball team should be given first chance at the gym.

Of course the new gymnasium will eliminate some of these bad conditions unless the gym is used by all community agencies who want to stage anything. It is hoped that nothing will interrupt these boys from a regular practice when they get this beautiful new gym.

Congratulations to John Balogh for his sterling performance in the state cross-country meet last Saturday. John was nosed out of first place by an eyelash. The boy who beat him had to set a new record in class "B" to do it. John is only a junior and will be back next year and may win this cherished crown then.

Next week is Optimist Week throughout the nation. The Optimist club is a friend of the boy. The local club has sponsored many events for the youth of our city. They are to be commended for the interest shown in our young people.

Spartans Upset Jets - Tie for 1st

In the big game of the season last week the Bird Spartans handed the highly-touted Starkweather Jets their first defeat of the year by a score of 2 to 0. This win for the Spartans over their arch rivals vaulted them into a tie for the lead with the Jets. The season ends this week and it looks like these two teams will tie for first place unless an upset occurs.

This was a well-played game with neither team able to score until a break gave the Spartans two points and the ball game late in the fourth quarter. The Jets were back on their own 15 yard line when a pitchout from Salasky to Barraco went astray with Barraco fumbling and the ball rolled across the goal line. Wallasky recovered for the Spartans for a safety and two points.

One other contest was played last week—the Jr. Spartans from Bird defeated the Smith Rockets 13 to 6 and went into a tie with the Catholic Tigers for third place. Turckett scored all the points for Bird when he crossed the Rockets goal line twice and scored one extra point.

Going into the final week the teams line up like this:

W	L
Bird Spartans	5 1
Starkweather Jets	5 1
Jr. Bird Spartans	2 4
Catholic Tigers	2 4
Smith Rockets	1 5

Plymouth Frosh Lose to Trenton

In a game played under very abnormal conditions, the Plymouth Frosh football team lost to the Trenton Frosh last Friday night under the lights of the local athletic field to the tune of a 13 to 0 count. Plymouth had defeated Trenton earlier in the season by the lopsided score of 34 to 0 over at Trenton. This Trenton team was made up of some men who did not play in the first game and it is assumed they are freshmen players who played on the Varsity Reserve squad.

The game was played under miserable conditions in a snow-storm and bitter cold, but about 150 worthy fans braved the elements to root for the frosh.

Trenton led 6 to 0 at the half as a result of a pass play which covered 45 yards. In the third quarter one of the Trojan backs ran 70 yards from scrimmage for the final points.

The frosh took advantage of an open date in the varsity schedule to play this game at night.

BB Practice for Hoopsters Starts

Basketball practice began for fifty some hopefuls this week. Coach John Sandmann will have to develop a new quintet for this year's play as all the regulars of last year's very good team graduated.

The new gymnasium won't be ready until the second semester so the games played during the first semester will have to be in the old gym.

As they have the past few years the boys are finding it difficult to find a place to practice because so many others want to use the gym after school and evenings.

A few more boys will come out next week after the football season closes tomorrow night. This large squad will be cut to a workable unit by the end of the next week states Coach Sandmann—that is if they can find a place to practice.

The first game of the season will be on November 30 with Farmington as the opposition. This game will be played at Farmington.

Final Grid Game Tomorrow Night at Garden City

The Plymouth Rocks 1951 football season will come to a close tomorrow night when they journey over to meet Garden City. The game will be played at Inkster's field on Middlebelt just south of Michigan.

Garden City has a better than average team this year and have only dropped one game—that to a good Inkster team by a score of 12 to 0. Inkster has a championship team and last Friday defeated the 6-B league champion, Redford Union, by a score of 19 to 0.

This is the first year that Garden City has had a 12 grade high school and their boys have been playing together for three or four years. It will be a tough game and a fitting climax to a good football season for the high school team.

Coach Charley Ketterer plans on some changes in his starting lineup for this game. Don't be surprised if you see Dave Finney start at left halfback, Jerry Vetose at guard and Ronald Johnson at quarterback.

Social items can be phoned to 1600.

Balogh Second in State X Country

Running over a snowy wet course in a freezing temperature at Ypsilanti, the Plymouth High cross-country meet last Saturday, John Balogh the Rock's stellar distance man met defeat for the first time this year even though he ran the fastest time in his career. He was nipped at the tape by Bill Pyle of Alma, who set a new state record for class "B" schools when he ran the two-mile course in 10:52.4. Balogh's time was identical to Pyle's, but Pyle got credit for the record as his final lunge enabled him to breast the tape four inches ahead of Balogh.

The rest of the Plymouth squad finished as follows: Ed Grosjan 3rd, Leonard Furguson 5th, Jim Blanton 7th and Marvin Green 8th.

Alma won the class "B" team, championship. Niles was second and Mt. Pleasant and Otsego tied for third and fourth. Walked Lake came in 5th and Trenton ahead of Plymouth in 8th place.

It was so cold that many of the contestants wore gloves, sweaters, caps, and some wore sweat suits. This concluded the season for Coach Konrad Moiso's thinclads.

Grange Cleanings

Those members who were not at the Grange meeting last Thursday night missed a good program. Mr. Elliott's pictures were fine. Some of them gave us a very good idea of the ruin and devastation in London and other places from the bombing during the war.

The talk by Harold Shirey was very interesting and as the pictures and the talk tied in together we felt that we had learned quite a lot about Scotland.

We feel that Plymouth Grange has something to be proud of in the fact that Mrs. Clara Huebler's braided rug was awarded second prize at the State Grange at Cadillac.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Smith of Bakersfield, California, were Sunday guests at the E. C. Vealey home.

By Carl Peterson

In a recent speech to a group of high school students former Pres. Herbert Hoover advised the young folks "to be leaders, not leapers." This seems like mighty good advice right around Thanksgiving time. Sure, we all have troubles in this troubled world... but we should be thankful we're living in America. And the reason we can be thankful is that the Americans who came before us had the gumption to make a great country out of a wilderness. They relied on their own minds and efforts. They didn't lean, and they didn't expect something for nothing. Nobody's more interested in you than you are.

The cops in Omaha voted to change the color of their official ties from black to "powder blue." Sounds as though they're sticking their necks out.

We're not sticking our necks out when we say that our prescription service is guaranteed. The health and welfare of your family is important to us. And when you bring us your prescriptions you can be sure of prompt, efficient attention... at PETERSON DRUG, 340 W. Van A for Trail, Phone: 2060.

day evening to Mr. and Mrs. John Root, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Swegles and Mr. and Mrs. E. Vealey. Supper was served about 11 o'clock followed by Euchre and Canasta. A pleasant evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacey and Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk will be the hosts to the Lily club on November 12. Members bring sandwiches or cake and your card table. Also bring a guest or two.

Nominate Class President For Student Honor

Miss Geraldine Kowalski, a Maltona college senior, has been selected as this year's nominee for the publication known as "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." This is an official annual directory of distinguished students attending institutions of higher learning in the country.

Recognition by this publication means that a student has shown high qualities of scholarship, and cooperation in educational and extra-curricular activities, general citizenship and a promise of future usefulness.

Miss Kowalski at present holds the office of senior class president. In her freshman and junior years, respectively, she was the secretary and prefect of the Sodality, a religious organization on the campus. Her co-curricular interests led her into the Library Club and the International Relations Club.

Geraldine is an English major, but plans on becoming a kindergarten teacher. She loves work with the little ones and has already engaged in educational activity on this level in the past summer at the Guardian Angel Home, an orphanage in Detroit, and at the Pulaski school in Hamtramck.

As a member of the "Who's Who" organization, Miss Kowalski will receive a certificate of recognition and will be listed in the Index under the college for which she was nominated. She will also be eligible for the Student Placement Service provided by the organization if she should need assistance in making employment contacts.

Geraldine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kowalski, reside at 3539 Kanter, Detroit.

In St. Louis, Circuit Judge Harry F. Russell blamed local lawyers for the disappearance of 75 to 100 expensive law books from the court library.

Auto Parts Hard to Get- Plymouth
Repair Men Urge Careful Driving

So you are one of those "crazy" Plymouth automobile drivers, are you, that now and then drive your car up and down the business streets of Plymouth like a nut out of a nut house? Better stop it, if you have any desire to continue to drive an automobile that looks like an automobile. No— it is not because of any "drive" on the part of the police that this warning is being issued. It's because if you possess an automobile that is not a 1951 model, and if you hit some other car and do damage to your own car and the other fellow's car, you are pretty sure to be out of luck when you go to a repair shop and try to get a new part for your car. Plymouth auto repair shops report that it is growing increasingly more difficult to get parts for replacements. A local resident a few weeks ago bought a "good" used car. He discovered in a few days that the front seat had been broken down in such a way that it could not be repaired. So he began looking around in an effort to find a new front seat for a 1950 model car of popular make. He's still looking. Bumpers, fenders and nearly all other parts are getting so scarce that one had better be exceedingly careful. Ernest Allison, pioneer Chevrolet dealer, stated the other day that sometimes just a little part that is necessary in order to com-

If mildew stain won't come out by washing and drying in the sun, it may be bleached out by moistening with lemon juice and salt, then spreading in the sun. Use this treatment with care on colored clothes. Michigan State college home economists advise.

plete a repair job, will be impossible to find for days or weeks. As a result the owner of the car will be out of the use of a car for a long period. Every other dealer in the city has the same story. So if you have any desire to have automobile transportation, every automobile dealer in Plymouth urges you to be especially careful in your driving and to watch out for that "crazy" loon who has not the slightest respect for the rights of the other automobile driver or his own neck. Homemaking specialists suggest adding a short piece of link chain to one end of a clothes line. Then the slack can easily be taken up by hooking a link further back on the chain.

It has a Way with Women
SOMETIMES we think that too little attention is given to the fair sex in automobile advertising. After all, it's the woman of the house who has to do most of the shopping, which involves getting into tight places at the curb. And it's surprising what tight spots a Buick can fit into at a turn of the wheel. It's the woman who likes complete freedom from things that it takes an engineer to operate—and a complete and utter freedom from mechanical complications is what makes Dynaflo Drive* such a joy. It's the woman who has an eye for style and fine fabrics—and a nose for economy. On both counts, a Buick is tops. But we suspect something else. We suspect that a woman gets just as great a lift as a man from commanding this great-powered and trigger-quick bundle of vitality to bow to her will. Here's a car to win any woman's heart — by its level-gaited stride — its willing response to her hand on the wheel—its smart style and its smart performance — its spaciousness and comfort — and its thrift. How about taking time off, some afternoon soon, to boss around a Buick? It's a date that's bound to thrill you.
Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Buick Wildcat, optional on other Buick models.

at Junior and Senior High School
next week! Wednesday, Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Plymouth Jr. & Sr. High school — in celebration of American Education Week—is having Open House next week, and you shouldn't miss it. You'll find it a wonderful opportunity to meet your child's teachers, to look over classroom facilities, to find out just what the condition of our school system is, and what improvements are being made.

Of course, you can't learn all you want to know about our schools in one evening. Today, our whole educational system needs the continuing interest and help of every thinking citizen—parent or non-parent.

You yourself, for instance—do you know whether we have enough qualified teachers in our schools . . . whether our children's books are up-to-date . . . whether we have adequate school equipment and classroom space? If you don't, shouldn't you find out?

We can't give our children a first-rate education if our schools are handicapped with serious shortages. And we can't afford to entrust our nation's future to a generation of half-educated adults.

That's why it's so important for you—for us all—to join with local groups and take an active part in helping to improve our schools.

Please accept our invitation to visit Plymouth Junior and Senior High Schools the evening of November 14 at 7:30 to 10:00 p.m.

Classes Tour Plants, Stores

Students in the Journalism class are looking forward to the tour through the Detroit Times. Plans are to leave at 8:30 o'clock on November 21, and return in time for afternoon classes.

At the same time another group will be going to Detroit for a musical program.

The Commercial Club sponsored by Mr. Edgar Brown invited Miss Freda Olsen's advanced stenography class to take a tour with them of Burroughs Adding Machine Company, Thursday, November 1.

The group went through the office to see how a big factory does its bookkeeping and filing of papers. Then they toured the factory part of the building to see how the delicate parts that go into an adding machine are made.

Through the courtesy of Burroughs, lunch was served to the entire group.

Third hour Home Economics class 2b visited two local stores, Dunning's and Taylor and Blyton's, on Thursday, October 25. Materials were shown to the class and information was given concerning the type of garment that could be made, the texture of the material, and the cost.

Materials such as wool jersey, pique, wool plaid, corduroy, tafeta, rayon gabardine, botany wool, Indian head, and batiste were shown to the girls.

Monday when the class met the girls discussed the information gathered and the kinds of materials they saw.

Students Hold Open House

Sunday formally opens another National Education Week. A busy, full week is being planned for students, teachers and parents of Plymouth schools, in an attempt to acquaint them with the teaching and supervisory methods being used in the school systems today.

Betty Salmon, mayor, will serve in the capacity of superintendent of schools with Bob Keeney as Business Manager, on Monday when the school will be run completely by the students. Beverly Ross and Dave Travis will act as principals of the junior and senior highs. In the guidance office will be Brenda Covell and Jim Brinks, while student-teachers will be chosen by their classes for each hour that day.

Wednesday, November 14, students are to be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. to allow time for preparation for parent's night when an "open house" will be held from 7 to 10, for all parents and friends, who are interested in what the young people are doing everyday from 8:30 to 3:30.

An information desk, operated by the student council, will be on each floor for parents' convenience in locating the teachers with whom they wish to speak. Refreshments will be served by the home economic department.

PHS Band Begins Concert Season

The PHS band, under direction of Mr. Lawrence Livingston, performed its last half time show on Friday, October 25. The concert season began on Tuesday, October 30. The first concert will be presented on Wednesday, December 5.

Witches, ghosts, goblins, and other strange creatures marched on the streets of Plymouth as the Plymouth elementary schools gave their annual Halloween parade Wednesday, October 31 at 1 p.m.

On October 31, the band divided in half with one half going to Smith Elementary school and the other half to Bird Elementary school, to lead the grade school children in a costume parade. The Starkweather school children were led by their Drum and Bugle corps.

Refreshments were served after the parades at the schools.

Cast Announced For Senior Play

"Meet Corliss Archer" is the title of this year's senior play to be held on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, November 15 and 16. The play, written by F. Hugh Herbert, will be directed by Miss Louise Spence.

Carol Van Aken will fill the starring role as Corliss. Supporting her will be Lynn Olson as Dexter with his famous cry of "Holy Cow"; Gary Hees and Jean Tetzloff as Corliss' often dumb-founded parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archer; Lee King and Shirley Pine as Mr. and Mrs. Franklin, Dexter's parents; Iva Lou Kahrl as Mildred, who would enjoy taking Dexter from Corliss; Richard Hines as a pleasant doctor; Gwen Phillips as an attractive nurse; Gladys Witt as a housemaid with a queer sense of humor; and Betty Salmon as snooty Cousin Agnes who doesn't just jump to conclusions, she practically polevaults.

Joyce Houghton is the general chairman of the play. Under her direction the committees are beginning their work for the annual affair. Following are the chairmen and their committees: Beth Douglas, program; Harold Bond, staging; Rod Willard, properties; Norma Van Dyke, tickets; Shirley Pine, publicity; and Beverly Ross, make-up.

A preview of what's in store for those who attend this year will be a visit from a noisy and disagreeable cousin, the separation of two young people deeply fond of each other, and climaxed with an attack of appendicitis.

Babson Discusses Your Age
Boston Park, Mass., Nov. 9. In 1850 there were 11 workers under 65 years of age for every person over 65 years old. Gradually the number of workers over 65 has increased until in 1951 there are only five working adults under 65 for every adult over 65. Projecting this trend to 1960 we find there will be only about three working adults for every older. If we project to 2000 A.D., which is only 50 years hence, fantastic conclusions are indicated. The time can come when the idle retired population will be greater than the young and middle-aged workers who must pay the taxes to support them.

Local Educators Attend School on Conservation

"Conservation is everybody's business" was the theme of the conference when 32 teachers and board members, along with nine guests, joined a group of teachers from Saginaw for a weekend session at the Higgins Lake State Conservation Training School, November 2-4.

Classroom lectures, question and answer periods, a field trip, recreation, good food, and a little sleep filled the program for the two-day meeting.

Miss Helen Martin, geology expert from the State Conservation Department, opened the Saturday program with a lecture entitled Minerals and their Relation to Industry. After a question and answer period, G. S. McIntire, chief of the Forestry Division, continued the program under the topic, Forest Management, Wildlife and Recreation as Related to People was the subject discussed by R. A. McMullen, chief of the Houghton Lake Experiment Station and D. Y. McBeath, regional game supervisor, with E. M. Ray as moderator.

A 35-mile field trip made by automobile filled the afternoon program. Stops were made at a spruce and pine planting, at an abandoned ranch which had been a government grant to a civil war veteran and had reverted to the state because the land was not suitable for general agriculture, a Dow Chemical Company Separation plant where a by-product of petroleum is removed, a grouse management area, Dead Stream Swamp, and a deer refuge and feeding spot in the Grass Lake Wild Land Area.

School Camping was the topic for discussion on Sunday morning with Bob McAlpin, Conservation Area Supervisor of Jackson, acting as leader. Following this Miss Shirley Brehm, education division of the Conservation Department, led a discussion on the teaching of conservation with the materials and methods involved.

An evaluation and summary of the work accomplished led by E. B. Ray concluded the two-day program.

Attending from Plymouth were: Kenneth L. Hulsing and Warren L. Smith, board members; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Isbister, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rank, Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Tanager, Ruth Eriksson, Mrs. William Arscott, Mr. and Mrs. John Blossom, Kathryn Bock, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Mackie, Dorothy MacKenzie, Athol Packer, Lois Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Read, Bertha Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Bell, Grace Jarvis, Helen Farrant, Anne Welch, Ruth Butts, Gertrude Fiegel, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fountain and Esther E. Ham.

Others were: Ingeborg Lundin, Elizabeth McDonald, Sarah Lickly, Virginia Olmstead, Freda Olsen, Charles Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Rogers, Louise Spence, and Irene Waldorf.
