Vol. 64, No. 15 CLASSIFIED ADS - PAGES 4-5-6 Plymouth, Michigan Thursday, December 6, 1951 Three Sections, 24 Pages $2.00 Per Year In Advance

A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

Glad to note that there has been organized in the Plymouth school district a School-Community Group where representatives of the various school organizations of the city, school officials and faculty members can meet and discuss problems of vital interest to the welfare of the boys and girls attending the public schools.

While the Parent-Teacher groups of various school units of the city have done commendable work, it is believed that the creation of an agency which will be able to discuss and decide general problems of benefit to all the schools will add much to the success of the work that is already being carried on.

There is one thing we should never forget—anything which will help our school boys and girls is our first and most important responsibility.

Plymouth has always had a good school system. Anything which will benefit it should have our unlimited support. We wish for this new organization the greatest of success in its broadened field of activities.

WHAT A PROMINENT CHURCH LEADER THINKS.

Not so long ago the writer was talking with one of Michigan's prominent church leaders. It was two or three days after that insipid speech Harry Truman made to a group of New Deal women politicians at a meeting in Washington. Said this thoughtful leader:

"If the people of these United States have sunk to such a level that the speech made by Mr. Truman appeals to them, then we have degraded to such an extent that there is no hope for the future of these United States."

From comment we have heard up and down the streets of Plymouth, we are inclined to believe that most residents of this city feel just as does this well known church leader.

WE ARE CLEANING THEM UP.

Read the other day where Marshall plan dollars are being used to build hundreds of public bath houses in Egypt, where people have never believed in taking baths since the days of Moses. That was interesting news.

The next day we read some more news of a similar nature. Marshall plan money was also used to pay for a junket of Englishmen to this country who wanted to find out why the finish of American made automobiles shines brighter than does the finish on automobiles made in England.

Yes sir, Mr. Taxpayer, this is all very interesting, even though the dollars being used for building public bath houses in Egypt and for paying junket trips to America by Englishmen comes out of OUR tax dollars.

WHAT CAN ONE BELIEVE THESE DAYS.

Remember back some three years ago or thereabout that oft repeated newspaper story about Soapy Williams, then a candidate for Governor, having had to mortgage his little home to help pay his campaign expenses?

Remember that second hand jeep he used in running here, there and everywhere about the state impressing folks with the fallacy that here was truly a poor man, but mighty ambitious, who wanted to be Governor so badly that he mortgaged his domicile to get the cash to give the folks an opportunity to see his bow tie and his silly-cat grin?

Well he fooled 'em a plenty. They voted for him once, and a year ago then voted for him again.

Now the truth comes out. That "poor" but ambitious candidate wasn't a poor struggling fellow he led voters to believe that he was.

In fact, according to that very reliable newspaper writer, Hub George of The Free Press, Williams was then and he is now a near millionaire, maybe a millionaire in full blossom.

Governor Williams admitted to Mr. George that way back eleven years ago he had such vast holdings in the multi-million dollar Mennen Company of Newark, New Jersey, that he was even elected a vice president of the corporation.

But he "aint" vice-president now, says Governor Williams. He "aint" because it might not be good politics in these times to let the poor common men and women of Michigan know that he was a dividend receiving executive of a corporation worth millions of dollars.

Well the voters fell for it once, they fell for it twice. What will be the next piece of election bunk they will fall for? We would like to know.

THE SPIRIT OF KIWANIS.

To our way of thinking the modern so-called luncheon or service club is one of the greatest forces for good that exists in these troublesome days. This includes all of them, Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange, Lions — and all the others. They are constantly on the search for something to do that is for the good of communities in which they exist.

They are highly patriotic organizations, and believe in America as firmly as they do in Holy Script. And they are not adverse to taking the initiative in matters politic when they deem it necessary.

The other day while in Battle Creek, the secretary of the energetic Kiwanis club of that city gave me a copy of a recent issue of the Kiwanis Magazine which contained one of the best editorials I've read in a long time. The Kiwanis secretary of Battle Creek was for years one of the well known business men of that city and since retirement has devoted much of his time to Kiwanis affairs. He thought it might be a good idea if the editorial was reprinted in The Plymouth Mail. After reading it over, we agreed with him.

Under the heading "Can Kiwanians Get Mad—And Stay Mad?" appeared the following comment, well worthy of your consideration:

These are times that cry out for nation-wide public indignation at the low state of morals in public office.

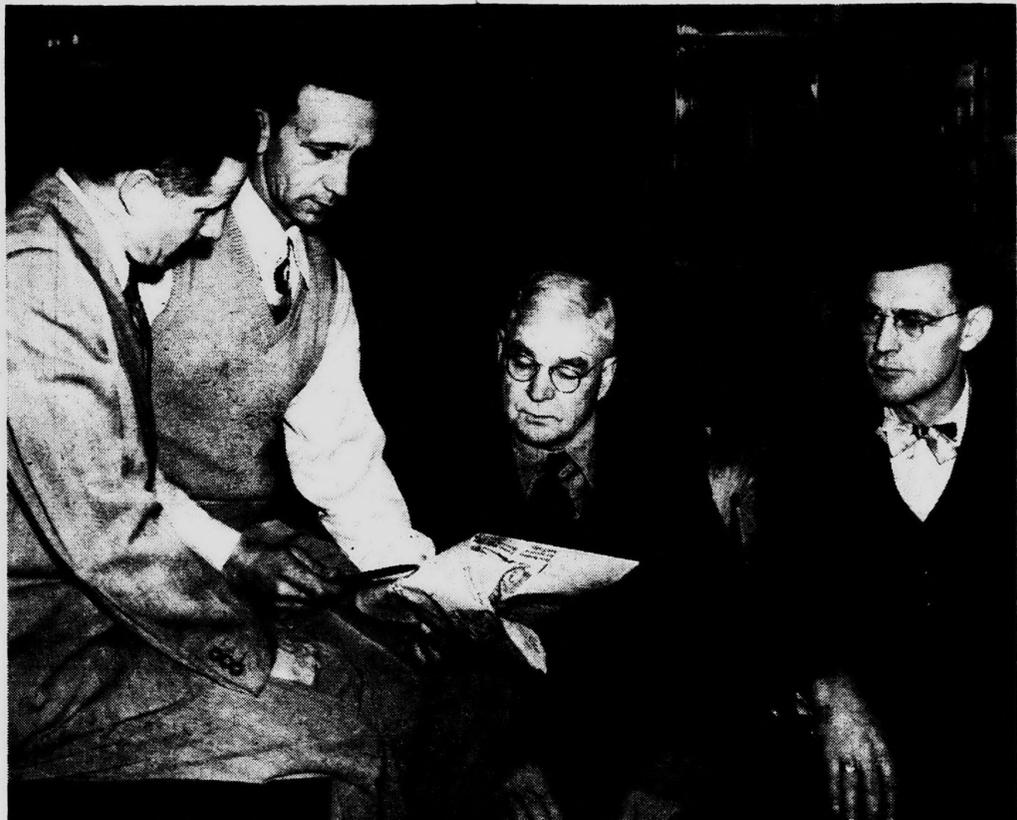

What is needed is a new organization called PUBLIC INDIGNATION, INC., and every Kiwanian should be a charter member.

Holders of high public office and their political appointees have interpreted the 1948 election, when only half the people voted, as a national indifference to venality among elected officials.

Thus we are subjected to the nauseating spectacle of deep freezes and mink coats and influence peddlers and political jugglers.

Thus we see administration officials ridiculing and obstructing Congressional committees who bring the Hisses and other Communists to trial, who expose the slimy trial of RFC loans, who unearth the underworld connections of Costellos and other racketeers and dope merchants with law enforcement agencies.

There are signs here and there that the people are disturbed. A Senatorial committee, over bitter opposition, seeks to set up a code of conduct for public officials. Herbert Hoover, a wise and incorruptible elder statesman, catches the ear of the nation with a timely

"NO KIDDIE WITHOUT A CHRISTMAS," and as far as Plymouth is concerned, if these four well known local men have anything to do about it, there will be no kiddie here without a Christmas. Officers of the local Goodfellows organization, pictured, making plans for the annual Goodfellow paper sale which will take place here on Saturday, December 15th. Goodfellows have set their goal at $1,600 this year to care for the demands of Plymouth's needy families of which, according to early reports, there are more than have been listed here in recent years. Left to right are: Edwin Campbell, Goodfellow treasurer; John Lietz, president; Ernest Rossow, vice president, and Fred Hadley, secretary.

Sheldon Road to be Surfaced

Sheldon road from Penniman avenue to Ann Arbor trail will be surfaced with a bituminous penetration, blacktop, as soon as weather permits in the spring. Sidewalk on the city side of Sheldon between Ann Arbor trail and Penniman will be laid at the same time. This will be a bituminous sidewalk.

The city commission made the decision after a hearing held in the commission chambers, Monday, December 3. The county which is putting in the road will pay for one half of the cost of the penetration and for all of the cost of the gravel fill. The original county plan was for gravel, but the residents of the area requested the blacktop, and the county has agreed to put it in at a cost of $15,000 per mile.

The half of the road not paid for by the county will be divided between the city and the property owners whose property faces on the penetration. The sidewalk costs will be paid for by the property owners at a rate of $1.00 per linear foot.

Revival Service Closes Sunday

The concluding services of a two week Revival Meeting will be held in Calvary Baptist church this Sunday.

Evangelist "Bill" Piper of Greenville, South Carolina, has been bringing helpful and inspiring messages each evening.

Steve Taylor of Los Angeles, California, song leader, soloist, and trumpeter has been in charge of the musical program which has added much to the campaign.

Jack Walker, an accomplished pianist and organist, of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, has assisted in the musical program each evening. His special numbers on the piano and organ has been greatly appreciated.

This evangelistic party will conduct services each evening this week through Sunday.

At the closing service Sunday evening, Evangelistic Piper will preach on the subject "Heaven, the Home of the Redeemed."

Mr. Taylor, assisted by the choir will sing, "The Holy City." The public is invited to enjoy these services.

Rush For Licenses Breaks All Records at Local Office

"It is the biggest first day rush we have ever had since taking over the automobile license business years ago" stated Frank Rambo yesterday when asked about the demand for new 1952 automobile license plates.

Mr. Rambo who has been in charge of the office for years, even way back during the time when he ran the branch secretary of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce office, states that he cannot understand where all the people are coming from.

The branch office was opened at the usual time last Saturday morning, December 1. Even though it had been announced that auto license plates in Detroit would not go on sale until December 3 and many people thought that the Plymouth office might not issue plates until Monday, it seemed to make no difference.

Mr. Rambo explained that it has been his practice for years to keep the Plymouth office open Saturday forenoons, and Saturday happened to be the first day of December when new license plates could be issued.

"As long as we always keep the office open Saturday forenoons we saw no reason why the license plates should not go on sale at the usual time" he said. The large numbers of patrons of the office thought the same thing and they were highly pleased with the service of the secretary of state's office when they discovered that it would not be necessary to return some other day.

Mr. Rambo states that the tremendously rapid growth of this area is without question the reason for the big demand for license plates in this city.

"We are becoming a good sized city so much faster than we realize that it surprises even the most enthusiastic Plymouth booster" he added.

Christmas Seal Sale Under Way

"The 1951 Christmas Seal Sale of the double-barred cross is underway and this year's Seal features one of the world's most familiar symbols, Santa Claus," Mrs. Wayne Smit, Plymouth, Seal Sale Chairman pointed out. "Your Christmas Seal dollar

Mailing Increase to Raise Out of Town Subscription Rates

Increased mailing rates, effective January 1st, will make it necessary to increase Plymouth Mail out of town subscription rates on that date. City and rural residents and any having Plymouth postal addresses or anyone buying their papers in stores will not be affected by the increase.

Every effort is being made by The Mail to keep the cost of the paper to subscribers at its present rate which has been in existence for nearly 20 years. New second class mailing rates however, which will become effective on January first, have necessitated the increase to cover mailing costs of the paper. Foreign rates will also be increased in proportion to additional costs in mailing.

Papers carrying a Plymouth address will remain at $2.00 per year. Those with out of town addresses will be $3.00 per year after January 1st.

Register-Insure Parcels: Timpona

Dr. George Timpona, Plymouth Postmaster, requests that packages mailed during the Christmas season be either registered or insured. This request is made because the large volume of mail being handled at this time increases the possibility of losing packages.

Small packages should be sent registered first class mail, he continued. The cost is very little over the rate for parcel post insured packages.

The post office will be open until 8 p.m. until Christmas.

Petition Denied

Petition from Gerald Prince to the city commission for a hearing on his suspension from the police department two years ago was denied by the commission. The petition was denied on the grounds that too much time had elapsed since the time of the incident.

Annual Greens Sale Scheduled

Plymouth Garden club will hold its annual Greens sale on Friday, December 14 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the West Brothers store on Forest avenue. The profits from the sale go to the club's Scholarship Fund.

Wreaths, garlands, swags, center-pieces, and corsages will be individually created by members of the Garden club. Mistletoe, holly, and loose greens will also be sold.

Featured will be a candle booth where every type candle may be purchased from the low hawser through the taller rope variety. Specialty numbers such as Madonnas, Santas, crystalite tapers and novelty containers may be purchased.

Home made bread, rolls, coffee cakes, and cookies will also be sold.

General chairman of the sale is Mrs. Cass Kershaw. Members of her committee are Mrs. Leo Crane, Mrs. A. L. Lantz, Mrs. Roy Leemon, Mrs. Roy Lindsay, Mrs. James McIntosh, Mrs. George Merryweather, Mrs. Edwin Schrader, Mrs. Sidney Strong, Mrs. Andrew Vargha, Mrs. O. M. Valliquette, and Mrs. Paul Widman.

Advance orders may be placed by calling any member of the committee.

Frank Passage Rites Held Today

The many friends of Frank Passage were saddened to learn of his death Tuesday afternoon, December 4. Mr. Passage, who was 92 years of age at the time of his death, was one of the oldest, if not the oldest, resident of Plymouth. He has been a life-long resident of this city and his familiar figure will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Mail is Again Named Among Best

For the fifth consecutive year The Plymouth Mail has again been selected among the five best of the larger weekly newspapers in Michigan. Chosen by a group of Michigan newspaper men appointed by the Michigan Press Association to select the five best papers in each division. The Mail is one of two papers to have been named consecutively each year, as outstanding in the general excellence contest sponsored by the state association.

In addition to The Mail other papers named this year were the Alma Record-Journal, The Iron River Reporter, The Rochester Clarion and the Caro, Tuscola County Advertiser. Last year's group included the St. Johns Republican, the Birmingham Eccentric and the Petoskey, Northern Michigan Review along with the Mail.

Santa to Come to Kellogg Park

The newly reorganized Junior Chamber of Commerce, with the support and cooperation of the retail merchants and businessmen of Plymouth, are sponsoring a Kiddies Christmas party on Saturday, December 15, from 2:30 to 6 p.m. at Kellogg park.

President Jay Rucker says Santa Claus will be there in person to listen to the tiny tots wishes for Christmas after which he will present a bag filled with candies, peanuts, fruit and other goodies to all who visit him.

Marvin Terry is chairman of the Christmas committee and he will be assisted by Marvin Partridge, Ralph Pocklington and Robert Barbour.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce plan on reviving this annual event each Christmas season.

Christmas Season Opens Tomorrow

The Christmas season will be officially opened tomorrow in Plymouth states James Houk of the Chamber of Commerce. A large searchlight will scan the skies over the city announcing the evening store hours for Christmas shoppers—the local stores will remain open until 9 p.m. each night until Christmas Eve when they will close at 6 p.m. states Ralph Rostow, who is chairman of the merchants committee.

Santa Claus will make his first street appearance at 7:30 p.m. Monday, December 10, when astride a large white horse he will lead the Plymouth high school band from the high school to Kellogg park. The band, under the direction of Lawrence Livingston, will play several numbers in the park, and the girl's chorus, under the direction of Fred Nelson, will sing a few Christmas carols.

The stores this year feature several new Christmas articles and the Chamber of Commerce advises everyone to do their Christmas shopping early when they will have a better selection from which to buy.

The Chamber of Commerce announces through its Christmas decorations chairman, Bert Giles, that the city has completed the street decorations and lighting for the Christmas season. The large lighted bells have been placed at intersections and ten

Goodfellows Get Ready for Annual Local Paper Sale

Plymouth's Goodfellows are about ready for their annual paper sale which is scheduled here this year on Saturday, December 15. Under the direction of president John Lietz the organization hopes to raise $1,600 for local charitable purposes at Christmas time and from past experiences there is little doubt about them reaching their goal.

According to president Lietz there are already a number of deserving cases on the Goodfellow list and local residents are urged to report any family that needs aid at the holiday time now so that careful investigation may be made before Christmas deliveries start.

In addition to complete Christmas dinners the Goodfellows also distribute clothing, toys and other necessary articles to bring warmth and comfort to Plymouth's needy.

The paper sale will open with the traditional breakfast at Starkweather school on Saturday morning followed by a parade down Main street where the actual sale will be undertaken. WHEN YOU'RE entertaining, make your salads the menu because they can look glorious while being easy to prepare. Whole canned fruits placed in lettuce cups, then alternated with fresh fruits in season can be conversation pieces. The Man Who Likes Others

I WALKED DOWN the street with a friend one day when I had not had the experiences that the intervening years have brought. We chanced to meet a mutual acquaintance and stopped for a few words with him. During our brief meeting this third man made a couple of cynical remarks. As we went on our way I said, "I don't like that man."

"Don't you?" answered my companion. "Well, do you?" I asked. "You heard his embittered remarks?"

"Yes, but I don't know what engendered them. I don't like that side of his nature, but we all have more than one side."

Soon my friend and I parted. I haven't seen him in years. But he is always with me for those remarks of his will live in my memory as long as I live, and I have found that you can, and will, like most people you permit yourself to like.

I recently read an article in Your Life magazine telling of Henry Ford having been asked once "Who is your best friend?"

Ford thought for a moment, then took out his pencil and wrote in large letters on the tablecloth. "He is your best friend who brings out of you the best that is in you." Like people, help people—and you will uncover the qualities in them that no one suspected they possessed, that perhaps they did not possess before.

Popular people are those who take time to be human and who have developed their ability to like other people as human beings. The man who likes other people doesn't have to worry about being liked.

Detroit Honors Former Coach

A former Plymouth High School coach was recently honored by being named "Coach of the Year" by his fellow coaches in the Detroit City league.

Kenneth Matheson was the former local coach thus honored. "Beef" as he is known to all his former athletes and friends, coached at Plymouth for ten years before he moved to the Detroit system in 1937. For a number of years he coached at Western High in Detroit, but in 1950 he was transferred over to South-eastern High. His Jungaleer team was a power in the league race this season after floundering near the bottom for several seasons.

"Beef" coached all sports while at Plymouth and his teams won respect from all opponents. At that time the league was composed of Ypsilanti, Wayne, Plymouth, Ecorse, Dearborn and River Rouge.

His attributes as a coach are best described by one of his former star athletes, Orlan Egloff, who says "Beef" was more than a coach—he was a builder of good moral character. Orlan further states that he was well-liked by all his players and as a result they would do anything they could for him.

A year ago this month about 35 of his former players and a few of his many friends gave a stag dinner in his honor at Bob Champe's home. The former coach brought along his scrapbooks of his days as athletic coach here, and the group had a good time reminiscing of the fond old times.

Mr. Matheson has a son playing football on the defensive unit for the University of Michigan. He is a junior and earned his "M" this year.

Elks Meet Tonight

Chester Brown, chairman of the American Legion, 17th district Un-American Activities committee spoke at the regular meeting of the Plymouth Lions club, recently.

His subject was "Inflation-Subversive activity—and the threat of Red Sabotage." Following the speech the lions repeated the pledge to do their part toward national safety.

Regular meeting of the organization will be tonight, Thursday, in the Mayflower hotel. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Catholic Women Convene Here

The Southwestern Deanery of Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women met at Our Lady of Good Council hall in Plymouth Sunday, December 2, at 2:30 p.m. Over 150 women from Monroe, Lenawee, Washtenaw and part of Wayne counties were present.

The guest speaker of the afternoon was Monsignor Edward J. Hickey, pastor of St. Mary's Church in Redford. Others appearing on the program were Monsignor G. Warren Reek of the St. Thomas church in Ann Arbor, Reverend Edward F. O'Grady of St. Mary's in Adrian and Reverend William P. Moore, the local pastor.

Reverend Phillip R. Lareviere, pastor of St. Joseph's church in Ypsilanti, gave the Benediction of the Most Sacred Sacrament following the meeting.

Mrs. Kay Willis of Northville is president of the Deanery.

Gwynn A. Price, President of Westinghouse Electric Corporation says: "The chief trouble with our American capitalism is that there just aren't enough Americans who really believe in it. If we want to get anywhere in the next few years, we had better make more capitalists. The job of creating capitalists, I believe, is one of the most important jobs that American business management faces today."

Police Chase Ends in Plymouth

A 17-mile police chase from Schoolcraft and Southfield in Detroit ended when Ronald Manke, 21, of 11732 Glastonbury, Detroit crashed his car trying to make the turn on Joy road off from Main street at the edge of Plymouth early Monday morning.

Young Manke broke a traffic violation in Detroit and the Detroit police began the chase. Livonia, the State Police, the Wayne County Patrol and the Plymouth police were alerted and around 20 police cars were in the chase when the crash occurred.

The driver of the speeding car sped through traffic lights on Main street in Plymouth at speeds up to 90 miles an hour. Detroit police are quoted as saying Manke had been drinking.

The car was demolished when it struck a tree while trying to make the turn on Joy road. Manke was injured in the wreck, and is under arrest.

Home sewing is one way to assemble many inexpensive gifts for Christmas. Dresses, smocks, sport shirts and aprons are popular but that isn't the end of the list by any means. Why not an ironing board cover? Or a gardening apron with huge pockets? Or a few pot holders which will protect the hands—not the thin, delicate ones which are more decorative than useful.

UNEXCITED . . . Ned Garver, pitcher who won 20 games for Browns last season, wonders where he'll be hurling next year. There are rumors that he will go to either the Yanks, Tigers or Indians.

Limited amounts of leftover beef, pork or ham are the perfect filling for little fried pies. Grind the cooked meat and combine it with gravy or a white sauce to make a stiff paste. In the meantime prepare biscuit dough and roll to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut the dough in rounds. Top half the rounds with one teaspoon of the meat mixture. Cover with remaining rounds pressing the edges together firmly. Fry the pies in deep lard (375° F) for 3 or 4 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce if you like.

Betty Pruett Hurt in Auto Accident

Two persons were injured early Sunday morning in an accident on the corner of North Territorial and Ridge roads.

One of those injured was Betty Pruett, 18, of 284 South Union street. The other was James Blackwell, 45, of 818 North River street, Ypsilanti. The injured were taken to Wayne County General hospital. Both have been released. Reports describe the injuries as painful but not serious.

According to Sheriff department reports, the accident occurred when Everett Stamper, 30, of 4388 Grand River, Novi struck the car driven by Joel Hughey, 31, in the rear. Both cars were proceeding east on North Territorial. Mr. Hughey who was driving at a speed of about 20 miles an hour applied his brakes suddenly and was hit by the former who was approaching at about 40 miles an hour. Both of the injured were passengers in Mr. Hughey's car. He resides at 6980 Birchdale, Romulus.

130 Tickets Issued During November

Plymouth Police department issued 130 traffic tickets during the month of November, 1951. This is an increase of 72 over the number issued in November, 1950. As of December 1, the department has issued 991 tickets, an increase of 269 over the same period last year.

Police believe that this increase could be due to a number of things. One of the most important factors is the employing of a woman on the switchboard and a new man on the force. This puts two additional men on the road. This change has taken place within the past few months.

Of the 130 tickets, 90 were issued for overtime parking. A year ago during the month of November, 25 were issued. The number of tickets issued for speeding is two more than last year and 16 less than October 1951. This decrease is probably due to the fact that drivers in Plymouth are realizing that the Police department will ticket speeders.

The new truck speed law slowed down the trucks considerably according to Chief Carl Greenlee. In August, the department issued 54 tickets, in September, 76, and in October 200. The increase in the number of tickets is indicative of the fact that the police are keeping their word when they said that they would crack down on violators of the law within the city of Plymouth.

Municipal League to Study City Wage Scale

Plymouth City Commission voted Monday to call in the Municipal League to establish a wage scale for city employees based upon a personnel classification made by the league. This action was a result of the request of the Police and Fire departments for a ten percent wage boost.

City Manager, A. F. Glassford, said that if these departments were granted a raise, the other departments would ask for one too. The commission felt that it would be best to have the league classify and set up a scale which could be used for future raises as well.

Questionnaires will be sent to the city employees by the league, after the employees answer the questionnaires, they will be returned to the league for study. Representatives of the league will come to Plymouth and interview a percentage of the employees. Also studied will be the wages paid by other cities in the area and by the local businesses.

Following the study of the above information, the league will send a report to the city manager stating their suggested wage schedule and classification of employees. The city may or may not accept the plan.

If the plan is accepted, each employee will be informed of his wage scale. Any complaints by employees will be referred to an appeal board of league members.

The cost to the city for this service will be approximately $550. For six months after the original survey, the Municipal League will furnish free service. After this time, the fee is $7.00 per employee for six months.

It isn't so much a matter of what the world is coming to as when.

THE PARENT'S STAKE IN TEEN-AGE DRIVING SAFETY
By Marguerite Mickelsen

Hot-rod cars in the hands of teen-age drivers, however fearsome they may seem in the news, are a small part of the safety problem, experts say.

More disturbing to these men, concerned with driving safety, are ordinary, likable teen-agers, youngsters like your own, who, usually through no fault of theirs, turn up in the greater part of the accident statistics.

That's why driver-training programs to reduce these hazards are under way throughout the nation, particularly in our high schools. You can actually see results from the work schools are doing in teaching safety, by watching the accident statistics go down as these school programs increase.

Traffic safety rules are taught in elementary schools. More and more high schools are adding driver-training courses. Students in them get actual "behind-the-wheel" experience in cars contributed by new car dealers, as well as classroom training in safety rules.

"But the parent has an extra responsibility when he lets his son or daughter take the family car," one official of the National Automobile Dealers Association says, "It involves being sure that the car is in top mechanical condition."

Accidents can often be traced to neglect . . . faulty brakes, a burnt-out light, motor failure, cracked windshields that hamper vision, poor wheel alignment, and the like.

"These are not faults of the automobile itself," says another top safety expert. "Cars are not built with such flaws in them. They must be watched for and corrected as a car grows older."

More than half the nation's automobiles, you may be surprised to know, are 10 years old, on the average. That means, according to safety men deeply concerned with the problem, that the chances of accidents caused by mechanical neglect grow greater every year.

Be sure, when you let your youngster drive the family car, that school safety training will have its chance to work. Your new car dealer's service men, who know your make of car best, can keep it in safe-driving condition.

You owe it to your children and your community—and your own peace of mind—to be sure that your car is kept in safe-driving condition.

speech on honor in public office. TIME magazine gives wide currency to a Cleveland Press editorial entitled "Can't We Tell Right from Wrong?" and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat stirs the conscience of its readers with an editorial, "Low Estate of Public Morals."

Yet unremoved and unrebutted are those who have debased the moral fabric of our nation. Where lies the blame? With us, the People. We make the government. With our votes, or our failure to vote, we elect the public officials. A repetition in 1952 of the 1948 election when only fifty per cent voted may well seal the fate of the American Republic.

Can Kiwanians get mad—and stay mad? Or have we, who claim to be community leaders, lost, as so large a segment of the people seems to have lost, the capacity for a sustained sense of outrage at the base and shoddy in public service? The 4th Objective of Kiwanis International for the current year is: Promote economy, efficiency and integrity in government at all levels.

Did you get that? — INTEGRITY! This is the official policy of Kiwanis International. Newspapers and others have a right to ask, as did the Chicago Tribune recently, do we mean what we say—are we willing to back up high-sounding principles with ACTION.

Few organizations in America have the seasoned leadership, the established facilities, the public prestige to implement a program of public indignation as does Kiwanis International.

To date, the editorials and speeches and sermons condemning the low state of public morals have been simply unorganized protest against a condition that cries out for remedy. The time is ripe for some organization of decency to crystallize the protest, and who better than Kiwanis.

Let every Kiwanis club pass a resolution with teeth in it, and send a copy to the White House, to its Congressional representatives, to the governor of its state and the mayor of its city, and see that it is publicized.

Let every club schedule soon a program in which a competent speaker explores the low state of morals in public office and the causes and remedies.

Let every club develop among its own membership able speakers who will appear before other community groups to arouse the indignation of the community.

Let every club make it a major objective for the next twelve months to keep alive this public indignation.

Kiwanis has the power and the influence to mold a public opinion that could sweep the country and develop an indignation that would force the removal of the base and unfit.

There never was a clearer mandate for Kiwanis International to use its great influence to enforce its historic ideals of good citizenship.

Can Kiwanians get mad—and stay mad?

School J-Hop is Huge Success

Approximately 150 couples attended the J-Hop at the high school last Saturday evening. Those present enjoyed one of the best J-Hop dances in recent years.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated with various paintings depicting a street scene on the French Riviera. Couples entered the gymnasium by going over a bridge underneath which many goldfish were swimming in the clear water.

The Tecumseh Chieftains, a 15-piece orchestra, provided the music for the dancers.

Many house parties followed the dance which closed at midnight.

Why Some "Winter Birds" Have Arrived in Plymouth Ahead of Time

Plymouth bird lovers who maintain winter feeding stations about their homes will be interested in the report of observations of Prof. George E. Sutton, associate professor of zoology at the University of Michigan pertaining to the early arrivals this fall of birds that do not usually reach this area from the north until later in the season.

He states that of particular interest to operators of feeding stations and to bird watchers this fall has been the arrival, probably due to food shortage in the north, of the evening grosbeak, a large finch. The colorful yellow, black and white bird can be tempted by box elder seeds.

Also in evidence in Michigan is another Northern finch, the rare Pine grosbeak, Professor Sutton says. Several small flocks have been reported recently in various places in the Lower Peninsula. The bird is about the size of a robin, rose-red all over except for wings and tail which are black with white edges. The female is grey with rose on crown and lower back. The bird, which is remarkably tame, especially likes the red haw (hawthorne berry), snowberries, or any winter fruit seeds.

Since the acorn crop is good this year, certain woodpeckers that ordinarily do not winter here, among them the red-headed woodpecker, may counted on to stay for the winter. Downy and hairy woodpeckers are always attracted by suet tacked up on a tree trunk or put in a wire containers to keep squirrels from carrying it away.

Pecan bits, now on the market, are especially popular with many birds, as are sunflower seeds. These latter will have a special appeal to the birds if they are left in the flower-head, which may be tacked up in a conspicuous spot in your garden.

But remember, the University ornithologist warns, when you put out special food supplies of suet and seed, you are creating an artificial situation and in fairness to the birds you should continue the practice through the winter. Birds will come to rely on obtaining their daily rations from your feeding station, and some of them may fly considerable distances to get the food you put out.

Absence of food at critical periods, such as the duration of an ice storm, when the birds are unable to produce food through the ice, may have severe consequences. Since birds have a very high rate of metabolism, their reserve of energy is quickly spent, and they freeze to death easily if undernourished.

For a short winter just sign a note this fall payable next spring. —Kroehler News.

Turkey will be a better flavor and certainly it will have a better texture if it is roasted at a temperature of not more than 275 degrees. Experienced homemakers know that is a very moderate heat. But that's the secret of the juicy, delicious turkey, say home economists at Michigan State college.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH
Harvey & Maple Sts. Rev. David T. Davies, Rector. 861 Williams street; Phone 2308. Mr. Harper Stephens, Choir Director. Mrs. Roland Bonamico, Organist. Second Sunday in Advent; December 7. The theme for this Sunday is the Holy Scriptures, hence it has come to be known as Bible Sunday. The importance of the Bible is universally recognized but nevertheless it is neglected Book by a large segment of our people. Of all the books that are published, the Bible stands apart as the most important and helpful book that has ever been published. Of course, it should be said that it is not a Book in the same sense that we think of any other book; rather, it is a library of books, 66 in all, that have been written under the inspiration of God. And if you want to live a full and satisfying life, you need guidance. In the daily news and periodicals, over the radio and television, on motion pictures screens, in thousands of books, in schools and colleges, and in intimate discussions with friends, you are being bombarded with facts. But there are so many conflicting opinions, especially concerning the things that are most important. Man today possesses such a variety of knowledge, and yet is so uncertain as to what this knowledge means, and how to use it in directing his actions toward a better life. There are so many questions that remain unanswered. Whence do I come? Why am I here? Where am I going? What is my place in the total scheme of things? How am I to find the good life? These are inescapable questions and you must give some answers to them. In fact, you must have true answers to these questions if you are to use wisely all the other knowledge that comes to you. And yet, search as you will through the fund of human knowledge, you will not find satisfactory answers. The Christian faith claims to meet this very need. It claims that only God can give you the answers you need to hear. God made you in such a way that you cannot find your true life except in fellowship with Him. You cannot be truly alive except until His spirit is alive in you. You cannot be at peace within yourself until you have made peace with Him. You cannot know the truth until you know God who alone is truth. What you need therefore is not just to be given the answers to your questions but to be taken into fellowship with God Himself. But what has this to do with your reading of the Bible? First, the Church says that in Jesus Christ, in His life, death and resurrection, God opens to you the only perfect way into fellowship with Himself. But it also says that you must read the story of Jesus Christ against the background of the Old Testament if you are to understand it aright. The word which God speaks to you comes through both the Old and New Testaments. In both of them God is revealing Himself to men and establishing fellowship with them. Here, then, is where you must search diligently, if you are to find the knowledge and guidance which are more important than all else in life. Sunday Services, 8:00 a.m. Holy Communion; 9:30 a.m. Family Service and classes for all ages. Adult Class lead by the Rector; 11:00 a.m. Morning Service and Sermon. Subject: "The Bible and Daily Living." Coffee Hour and good fellowship following the service. Be sure that you worship God on the Lord's Day. If you have no church affiliation, you are invited to worship with us. This is a friendly, democratic church.

More Religious Observance Of Christmas Is Advocated

NEW YORK—A campaign for a more religious observance of Christmas has been launched by the joint department of evangelism of the National Council of Churches. Spearheading the drive is Dr. Jesse M. Bader, the department's executive director. Dr. Bader said that as one aspect of the campaign the department is intensifying efforts made last year to increase the demand for Christmas cards with a religious theme.

He said letters have been sent to 2,000 ministerial associations and 900 councils of churches suggesting that these groups do everything possible to get pastors to urge their parishioners to purchase and send greeting cards which bear a definite Christmas message.

The letters also called upon the church councils and ministerial bodies to encourage the presentation of more Christmas pageants in the churches. They urged the organization of groups of Christmas carollers to sing in old people's homes, orphanages, jails, department stores and factories.

More Christmas Eve services in churches across the country are also being urged by the department. Dr. Bader said he expected a record number of Christmas Eve services this year.

The National Council department had asked the ministerial associations and church councils to do everything possible to persuade local merchants not to begin their Christmas sales and advertising until after Thanksgiving.

"When such sales and publicity begin ahead of that time," Dr. Bader said, "the impression given is that Christmas is being over-commercialized."

As part of its campaign, the evangelism department has called upon people "because of the world's need to think of others as never before in their giving." It reminded them of the displaced persons, the world's hungry and underprivileged, the sufferers of war.

"Our whole purpose," Dr. Bader said, "is to put Him Whose birthday we celebrate in the center of Christmas."

Dr. Bader said that many replies had been received to the department's appeal.

"All are agreeable," he said, "and all are doing what they can to help in a more Christian celebration of Christmas."

Congratulations to Capt. Dave Travis and Capt. elect Ron Nyhus of the high school football team for being named to positions on the 1951 all-league football team. Both boys played a bangup game every time they went out on the field. The fans will miss the driving rushes of Dave next year, but Ron will be back jarring the opposing backs with hard tackles and should be even better than he was this year.

It looks like the longest rivalry for the high school football team will end after next season. Wayne will be off the local schedule for the first time since 1896—55 years of uninterrupted play. The rocks will play Wayne next fall, but in 1953 Garden City will replace the Zebras on our schedule. When its time for another football season to roll around I'll have all the wins, losses, ties, etc.

of this long and colorful rivalry. The Wayne high school enrollment has increased to such an extent that they are in class "A" now. This past fall saw that Wayne could hold their own against the best teams in the state in the top class. According to the Free Press rating system Wayne ended up as the 8th best class "A" team in the state this year.

I have heard from a number of boys in the service since I began writing this column and am very grateful for their letters. I try to answer each one. We like to know the whereabouts of all our former students for publication in the Boys in the Service column. Write and tell us your location, what you are doing, your address and when you entered the service and I'll see that the information gets in the paper.

The Rock basketball team lost their first cage game of the season last Friday to Farmington. The inexperienced boys didn't show too much in their first outing, but as the season goes along this team will show much improvement. They may not win the league title, but I'll wager that they don't end up in the cellar either, and the fans will be treated to some nifty basketball before the season is over. It takes time to build a whole new team.

Right now it looks as though Trenton and Redford Union will fight it out for the title. They both won handily over strong opposition last weekend—Redford Union defeated Ecorse and Trenton disposed of Monroe.

Nyhus and Travis Make All-League

Two of the Plymouth High School football players were honored by being named to the 6-B Suburban all-league team this year. Captain Dave Travis and Captain-elect Ron Nyhus were the two Rock gridders honored. Dave being named to a halfback spot while Ron was placed at tackle.

Both of these boys were main cogs in Coach Charles Ketterer's eleven the past fall. Dave was one of the hardest running backs in the league and averaged over 5 yards every time he lugged the pigskin. Ron excelled at tackle on offense and was a line backer on defense.

Dave was named to the backfield along with such stars as Lowe of Trenton, Logsdon of Allen Park and Porter of Redford Union.

The champion Redford Union Panthers led the league in placing men on the 1951 team when three of them were named. Plymouth, Trenton, Belleville, and Allen Park each placed two players on the team—Bentley was the only team that failed to place a man in the select group.

The entire 1951 all-league team is as follows:

Dubisky, E.	Belleville
Ainsworth, E.	Redford Union
Nyhus, T.	Plymouth
Gonica, T.	Trenton
Klinker, G.	Allen Park
Pollakowski, G.	Belleville
Bond, C.	Redford Union
Porter, B.	Redford Union
Logsdon, B.	Allen Park
Lowe, B.	Trenton
Travis, B.	Plymouth

In Tulsa, 26-year-old Richard Whitelaw, hauled into court on a charge of public intoxication, explained what it was that drove him to drink: "My doctor told me if I drank whisky it would kill me. So I bought a bottle and went out to prove that he was all wet. But the way I feel, he was half right."

CUPID IN THE MAJORS . . . To remain near his fiancée, Bob "Sugar" Cain, Tiger pitcher, took a job selling pre-season tickets with the Cleveland Indians. She is Judy Stevens, a Cleveland flower shop operator.

Reserves Trounce Farmington 38-15

The high school reserve basketball team played the preliminary game to the varsity game at Farmington last Friday night and more than doubled the score on their opponent when they won by a score of 38 to 15.

Coach Charles Ketterer's boys went to work right away and built up a comfortable lead of 25 to 10 by intermission time. Farmington was completely outclassed.

Jerry Kelly was the big gun in the Rock attack as he collected a total of 16 points on 6 baskets and 4 free throws—more than the entire Falcon team made. Tyler Caplin pumped in 11 points. Casey Cavell 6, Ron Cole 4 and Herbert Olson 1. Gordie Champin, Pat Robinson, Barrie Lightfoot, Leonard Furguson, Bob Angevine, Charles Wyse and Ferris Mills also saw action in this lopsided win.

The young Rocks made 10 out of 24 free throws, while Farmington were successful on only 3 out of 12 attempts.

CLASS NEWS

The Recreation department is starting a new class on January 11 in rug hooking which should be of great interest to many women. Mrs. Frank Wilson, who is now residing in Plymouth, has taught several classes in Ann Arbor and Saline. The class will be limited in number so call 2075 now if you wish to enroll.

Women's Basketball—The women's Inter-City basketball league which was to have started this month has been discontinued for this year because of lack of teams from other cities. There must be at least four teams from other cities in order to have a league.

Men's Basketball—Goff's Cleaners, Daisy Mfg. Co., United Savings Bank, Tait's Cleaners, DeHoCo and LaFontaine Erection Co. have entered the men's basketball league. Three games will be played tonight, two at DeHoCo and one in Redford Twp. gym on Beech road near Plymouth road. Any young men who would like to play on a team may call the recreation office—2075.

Women's Swimming—The next swimming class will start on January 9 at 8:30 p.m. at the Wayne County Training school. There are very few vacancies left so call 2075 if you wish to enroll.

Girl's Bowling—On Wednesday, December 12, at 4 p.m. three teams of high school girls from Ypsilanti will compete against three teams from Plymouth at the Parkview bowling alleys. The girls are looking forward to it with a great deal of enthusiasm.

Two Hi-Y Boys Attend State Meet

Two local high school Hi-Y boys, Neal Bowyer and Thomas Guthrie, attended the Hi-Y State Legislative session at Lansing last weekend as representatives of the local Hi-Y group. These representatives came from all over the state.

Bills of interest were prepared in advance and these were acted upon at regular legislative sessions. Mr. Chase, clerk of the House of Representatives, guided the young lawmakers in parliamentary procedure.

The Plymouth members were part of the Senate. Much valuable experience was gained in making laws and learning the process of legislation.

Saturday they debated and acted on all bills and in the evening attended a banquet.

Harry Reeves, Hi-Y sponsor, accompanied the boys to Lansing.

A Gallup Poll discovered that few people in the U. S. believe the platform promises of political parties. Still, the candidates have to have something to stand on and for . . . which makes a platform as necessary as strings on a harp. The office seekers can't just stand up in front of folks and ask for votes just because somebody's got to be elected. That would be as embarrassing as jumping from a plane without a parachute. It would be a let-down all around. On the other hand, we're not as simple as we may look. We'll listen to the speeches, but the chances are we'll have a few mental reservations.

Farmington Wins Over Rocks 34-19

The high school basketball quintet opened the winter season last Friday evening by bowing to the Falcons from Farmington, on the latter's court, by a count of 34 to 19.

Coach John Sandmann tried a number of combinations, but none seemed to click into a smooth working outfit.

The Rocks kept pace with the Falcons for the first half as they were only behind 16 to 12 at intermission time. After the half the locals were outscored 10 to 3 in the third quarter and 8 to 4 in the final quarter.

Dave Finney, Bob Keeney, Al Williams, Bud Lanphear and Russell Brown started for Plymouth, but a total of 14 players got into the game. Bud Lanphear was the only player who went the distance.

Dave Finney was high point man with 8 points; Lanphear collected 6 points.

Dyden was high for Farmington with 14 points.

The Rocks made good on 5 out of 14 free throws, the Falcons made 6 out of 11 attempts.

Point-makers were Finney 8, Lanphear 6, Bloomhuff 2, Williams 1, Daggett 1, Bogenschutz 1, Straub, Keeney, Travis, Brown, Kisebeth and Johnson also played.

Tuesday night the local cagers played Northville on our court, but the game was too late to make this edition.

College Students Collect Clothing
In keeping with the true Christmas spirit of sharing with others, Madonna College students have begun several collection drives on the campus.
A clothing drive was initiated following a request received recently from a needy family in Kentucky. Response from students was so generous that it will be possible to distribute many articles of clothing to others besides the family who originally asked for help.
Students are also bringing in canned goods which will be used in preparing Christmas baskets for needy families in the vicinity. Such a drive is held yearly at the College at Thanksgiving or Christmas time.
A book drive has also begun to be sent periodically to the two Detroit schools for Negro children conducted by the Felician Sisters.
These three drives are being sponsored by various committees of Our Lady's Sodality, a religious organization on the campus. The Sodality aims at developing in its members a spirit of true charity towards others through the various charitable projects which it promotes annually.
A fourth drive for a layette to be given as a Christmas gift to a needy expectant mother is being sponsored by the Social Service Commission of the College. This also is an annual affair.

Symphony Notes
By Grace VonBergen
The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra was really in top form when it repeated the Nov. 25 concert at Redford Union High School in Redford Township last Sunday. The music surpassed the previous concert by far, and Nestor Sibbold, the baritone soloist again for this occasion, really received an overwhelming ovation. The size of the stage and auditorium provide better acoustics and less restraint on the musicians, it appears. Many of the listeners claimed it to be the best concert to date.
Dr. Henry J. Walsh spoke during the intermission period. There were a few Plymouth residents in the audience including Mrs. Lila Humphries, president of the Plymouth Symphony Society and Hanna Strasen, former president.
The next important concert date to loom on the calendar is December 16 when the annual presentation of The Messiah will again be directed by Fred Nelson, the associate conductor, accompanied by the orchestra. This date really should be a MUST for the Plymouth residents to usher in the true Yuletide spirit. To immerse one's soul in this great oratorio is like learning to appreciate the Bible. The more one reads and hears, the more precious is the message conveyed.
On rare occasions the divine afflatus rips the soul and mind of man, then he is impelled to pour out whatever artistic impulse he is experiencing and in present day slang, "in nothing flat." That term seems apropos when considering how Handel's "Messiah" came into being.
It is interesting to learn of the "ups and downs" of Handel's world, how he mentally battled with the decision of whether or not to become a musician, the fluctuation of music trends during his life, and the recorded fact that once he became engaged in oratorio composition his popularity was regained and fortune smiled upon him. The work of Handel bespoke his broadening study of style for presentation of the human voice. One can readily sympathize with the problems he confronted and his final masterful victory over all the obstacles which had beset him in his musical ascension.
But to get back to Plymouth times, it was interesting to hear one L. A. Sorg of Detroit, an ardent symphony supporter report that preceding the Nov. 25 Plymouth Symphony concert, how he took a leisurely jaunt into Plymouth's business section and how he enquired of persons at the hotel and drug stores open for the usual Sunday trade, whether or not any form of entertainment was available in the town.
Mr. Sorg said it was very evident that concerts of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra were not creating the all important impression on the community mind in general, while at the High School, musicians were assembling from miles' around to perform a labor of love in symphonic music equal in stature to that of any amateur group in the country.
Had the office of the Plymouth Mail or Norma Cassidy's shop been open, Mr. Sorg might very quickly have been enlightened. Anyway, "L. A." as he is affectionately known, had some inexpensive fun by informing those persons who gave him a negative reply.
In Newport News, Va., Railway Owner W. C. King Jr. took on a partner, Jeff L. Robins, heralded the event in the local Daily Press: "You will receive the same lousy service . . . probably even higher prices, and the only real difference is that Jeff shares in the profits, if any, or has to make up part of the losses."

Hints For Plymouth Homemakers

Variations Keep Family Interested in Staff of Life

Bread, the most important staple food of people the world over, is also one of the least expensive and is obtainable in a variety of forms.

Most white bread is enriched with the vitamins niacin, riboflavin and thiamine, and the mineral iron to give added nutrition. Always look for the label "enriched" on the loaf for greatest food value in white bread. For those who still make bread and rolls at home, enriched flour should be used to insure the family of a goodly supply of these vitamins and iron.

Brown or whole wheat bread may or may not contain all the elements of enriched white bread. Some varieties are enriched and are so marked on the label.

To keep bread, rolls and other cereal foods made from flour, such as cakes or doughnuts, fresh and free from mold as long as possible, store them in a well-ventilated box or drawer. Or, wrap them in wax paper and store them in the refrigerator. Storing in the refrigerator will help to prevent molding, but it does dry out the crust more quickly than storage in a breadbox.

To store a loaf of bread that has been cut, save the end slice and put it against the cut surface of the remainder of the loaf to keep it from drying out. Then wrap the loaf and store it in the refrigerator.

RICH, DARK, AND SPICY

Gather around the kitchen table! Preparing the fruit and nuts for the traditional holiday fruit cake can be a family fun affair.

These rich cakes should be made several weeks before they are served.

Dark Fruit Cake

- 1/4 pound citron
- 1/2 pound pitted dates
- 1/2 pound pressed figs
- 1/2 pound currants
- 1 pound seeded raisins
- 1/2 pound blanched almonds
- 1/2 pound English walnuts
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar
- 5 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1/2 cup pineapple or grapefruit juice

1/4 cup blackberry preserves

- 1 tablespoon melted chocolate

Cut fruits and nuts into medium-sized pieces and mix with one-half cup of the flour. Cream butter or margarine with sugar and add eggs. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with fruit juice and preserves. Add fruit mixture and melted chocolate. Mix well. Pour into greased, paper lined loaf pans. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for two and one-half to three hours.

Yield: About five pounds. After the cakes have cooled, pour one-fourth cup grapefruit juice over the cake and store in an airtight container.

Hard sauce on thick slices of fruit cake makes a special holiday dessert.

Hard Sauce

- 1/4 pound butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
- 1 to 1 1/2 tablespoons cream
- 1/2 tablespoons flavoring

Cream butter or margarine and gradually blend in sugar. Stir in cream and flavoring and beat until smooth.

Follow-Up Meals From Pork Roast

Let leftover meat from a pork roast become important servings. With a variety list for dishes at your finger tips, you'll raise their classification from "just leftovers" to "planned leftovers."

For one dish, cut the pork into cubes or grind and add to scalloped potatoes, suggests home economist Reba Staggs. You'll find this a most interesting main dish that takes little preparation.

At another time, combine pork cubes with cooked noodles. Place in a baking dish and pour a cheese sauce over this mixture. Sprinkle the top with bread crumbs and heat in a moderate oven for 30 to 45 minutes.

Pork cubes blend just right with rice and tomatoes, too. Combine these three and season with a bit of onion and green pepper. Cook until the rice is tender. Butter pudding is often baked with sausage links. Make a change, prepare butter pudding with tiny cubes of cooked pork for a mealtime surprise.

Roasting Know-how

1. Season with salt and pepper.
2. Place meat fat side up on rack in open roasting pan.
3. Insert meat thermometer.
4. Do not add water. Do not cover. Do not baste.
5. Roast in slow oven—300 F. to 350 F.
6. Roast to desired degree of doneness.

Meat Cuts For Roasting
BEEF: Standing Ribs, Rolled Ribs, Rump, (high quality), Loaf, VEAL: Leg, Loin, Rack, Shoulder (bone in), Cushion Style Shoulder, Bone and Rolled Shoulder, Loaf.
PORK: Center Cut Loin, Blade Loin, Sirloin (bone in) or Boneless Sirloin, Boston Butt, Fresh or Smoked Shoulder Butt, Spareribs, Pork Leg, Ham Loaf.
LAMB: Leg, Shoulder (bone in), Cushion Style Shoulder, Boned and Rolled Shoulder, Loaf.

Special Points on Roasting

1. All large tender cuts of meat should be roasted at constant low oven temperatures—beef, veal, smoked pork and lamb at 300 F., fresh pork 350 F.
2. Beef may be roasted to the rare, medium or well-done stage; lamb is cooked medium or well done; and pork and veal always well done.
3. Boned and rolled roasts require about 10 minutes per pound more cooking time than roasts bone-in.

Caring the Standing Rib Roast of Beef

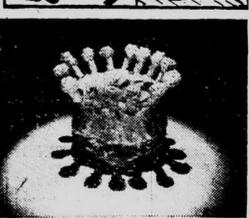

Place roast with smallest cut surface up, rib side to your left. Insert fork firmly between two top ribs and slice across grain toward ribs.

Release each slice by cutting close along rib.

After each slice, lift it on blade of knife to side of platter.

Make enough slices for all at table before transferring servings to individual plates.

It's not too early to be thinking about Christmas ornaments, and doing something about them now will make your Christmas brighter and your bank account heavier. Don't wait until the night before Christmas. Look the ornaments over now, and see what needs replacing. You will probably find that a lot of them can be brightened up while you still have time, and you won't have to do so much last-minute buying. Whip up a good suds of a mild soap or detergent. Then, using a sponge, wipe dust and grime from artificial holly, poinsettias, etc. Swish tinsel through the suds for brightening. Then you'll be ready for Santa.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Pork crown roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. Rib sections of two pork loins from which backbone has been removed and which are frenched (meat stripped from ends of rib bones) are formed in shape of a crown.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. By roasting. The crown is roasted with ribs down for 1 hour in a 350° F. oven. At the end of this time, it is turned and filled with stuffing, if desired, then roasting completed. Allow 35 to 40 minutes per pound for roasting.

WEIGHT WATCHER'S DELIGHT—LOW CALORIE DESSERT

For a simple-to-make dessert that is low in calories and cost, try applesauce whip made with economical and nutritious nonfat dry milk. Weight watchers can enjoy this dessert without a twinge of conscience for the approximate caloric value of one serving is 65 calories.

Nonfat dry milk, which is milk with only the fat and water removed, is extremely nutritious for it is an excellent source of these important milk nutrients—protein, calcium, riboflavin and lactose. It is a great help to the family food budget, too, for it is a most economical product. A one-pound package, available at the grocer's will make five quarts of nonfat milk at only about eight cents a quart. Nonfat dry milk can be used in cooking, baking, drinking, with cereals and it will even whip. Here's our Applesauce Whip recipe:

APPLESAUCE WHIP

- 2 cups unsweetened or lightly sweetened applesauce
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 1/2 cup water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk

Combine applesauce, cinnamon and nutmeg. Pour water, lemon juice and vanilla in deep 1-quart bowl. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk over water. Beat with rotary beater or electric beater until stiff, about 10 minutes. Fold whipped nonfat dry milk into applesauce. Chill in refrigerator 1/2 hour. Serve. Makes six 3/4-cup servings.

Clean curtains go with the look of the holiday hospitality. Now is the time to make your curtains worthy of your wreaths.

View Showing New Addition to Rosedale Church

The recently completed wing contains five classrooms, the Pastor's study and an enlarged dining room and kitchen at Rosedale Presbyterian Church.

On Sunday evening, December 9, the new addition to the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church will be dedicated. The expansion includes five new classrooms for the church school, the Pastor's study, and an enlarged dining room and kitchen.

It is anticipated that the 1952 budget will be completely pledged before the dedication service. In order to put the new program into operation, to meet the payments on the mortgage, and to maintain the benevolences of the church effectively, a budget of $22,000 has been proposed by the Board of Trustees. This includes approximately $1,000 for the Youth budget, which is pledged by the church school.

Sunday, December 2, approximately 50 volunteers, under the direction of Arthur H. Hays, will visit the homes of the church in the Annual Every Member Canvass. Mrs. Fred Weinert is assistant director of the canvass, with the following people as captains: Robert Fleak, Jack Ruland, James Valance, Richard Duncan, and Otto Hanson.

Pastor of the local church is Reverend J. Woodrow Wooley, and Mrs. E. C. Whittington is Superintendent of the church school.

Goes to Germany to Visit Husband

It will be quite a Christmas for Sgt. First Class Martin Kreger over in Germany this year. The local lad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kreger of Grey avenue of Plymouth, will be reunited with his wife Arlene for the holiday period, the latter leaving this country this week to visit him in Germany.

This is the third Christmas Sgt. Kreger has been away from home in Plymouth and it will mark the second time his wife has gone to visit him during the holidays. Last year they were in the state of Washington.

Mrs. Kreger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagenschutz who reside at 1055 Carol street, Plymouth. She sails from New York on Friday of this week and expects to be in Heidelberg about two weeks hence returning to this country about the first of June. Sgt. Identify The Boy in This Picture And Win a Most Popular Prize

Whose Little Boy?

The "picture" editor of The Plymouth Mail would like to know if you know whose little boy is shown in the above picture. The editor is sure lots and lots of folks in Plymouth must know him, because he has been around here for more than three times the number of toes and fingers you possess.

The hat this little boy was wearing was in perfect style back — well, we can't tell you the exact year because that might be of too much help to you in deciding just who he is. His pose is a natural one, too. It indicates that he was as thoughtful as a little boy in Plymouth as he is now.

For the first letter that comes to "The Picture Editor" of The Plymouth Mail that correctly identifies the youngster, that popular prize offered during the years of these contests, a package of blackjack gum, will be awarded.

Garden Club Members to Bring Gifts to Meeting

Prizes will be awarded to the two most attractively wrapped Christmas gifts brought to the December meeting of the Plymouth branch of the National Farm and Garden club.

The meeting will be December 10 at the home of Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum of Maple street at 2 p.m. Gifts should be humorous and cost not more than 25c. Later in the afternoon, the gifts will be drawn by number.

Colored slides of Garden club members own gardens will be shown during the meeting. Mrs. Andrew Vargha is tea chairman for the afternoon.

Candle-making hobbies have solved Christmas gift problems for some families. The great delight is to be able to present the candle as it burns. If it is pincented, its arrival at the door on a dark night is a memory.

Trapping Season For 1951 Opens

The 1951 trapping season for southern Michigan opened last Saturday noon at 12 o'clock, with one Plymouth trapper's eyes glued to his watch as he observed the second hands racing to the hour of noon.

Would you believe that Michael Lazor, who retired a number of years ago from years of service at the Detroit House of Correction and now employed with the Olds auto agency, is an old experienced trapper?

Well he is, and he is the fellow who sat on the side of a creek some eight or nine miles west of Plymouth waiting for the minute to arrive when he could start setting out his string of traps.

"I've been trapping for years. It's my one big hobby. You would be surprised, too, to know how many fur bearing animals one can find about here," said Mike as he returned from a trip along his trap lines Monday.

"Farmers are glad to cooperate with you if you ask their permission to put traps on their farms. But our greatest trouble is with the fellow who doesn't set out any traps and goes up and down the streams taking catches out of your traps," he added.

Even though much of his catch is stolen during the one month the trapping season is open in this part of the state, Mike says he not only gets a lot of enjoyment out of it, but makes a little pocket money as well. He generally sells his pelts in Detroit.

November 12, 1950 — My pastor spoke this morning on "Christian Stewardship." The gist of the sermon was—"Receive, Give, Live—Withhold, Stagnate, Die."

Plymouth Has Been Enjoying Just Fall Weather - Winter Here Dec. 22

So you really think that winter really arrived in Plymouth four or five weeks ago, do you—the early November days when snow was blowing so badly you could barely see across the streets and when you were skidding around on ice in your automobile?

That near zero weather prevailing in and around Plymouth and the rest of Michigan for more than a week, didn't have a thing to do with winter after all. That was merely fall.

Old Man Winter is not due to make his official arrival in Plymouth until 11:01 a.m. Saturday, December 22.

The schedule for winter, as announced by Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, makes Dec. 22 our shortest day since the sun will have reached its lowest point in the southern sky and will begin its trip northward.

While it is winter in the northern hemisphere, it's the start of the summer season in the southern hemisphere. Professor Losh explains that the earth's north pole is now tipped away from the sun while the south pole is tipped 23½ degrees toward the sun, thus accounting for the different seasons at opposite ends of the pole.

However, before you get to envying those living in the southern hemisphere too much, Professor Losh wishes to remind you that our winter tends to be a little milder than the kind served up in the South American region at the time when our summer season holds sway.

"The northern inhabitants benefit from the fact that at this time of year the earth is about one and one-half million miles closer to the sun than average," Professor Losh says. "Also at this time of year the earth is moving a little faster in its orbit thus tending to shorten our winter season. The interval from the time the sun passes the equator heading north in March to the September equinox when the sun is heading south is about six days longer than the time from the September to the March equinox."

If the earth didn't tip on its poles as it revolves around the sun, our winter seasons would be turned into the hottest part of the year, she points out. Imagine the heat waves that might come on Friday, Jan. 4, at about 4 p.m. when the earth will be closest to the sun.

Instead we'll be having some of those crisp winter evenings when the stars seem to be just a few miles away. Professor Losh urges you to bundle up and take a good look at the beauty in the skies on these nights. Jupiter will be the bright object in the southern evening sky and if the Christmas festivities keep you up real late you can get a look at three more planets—Mars, Saturn and Venus.

At the start of the month, the reddish Mars will be rising over the east point about 3 a.m. followed closely by the yellowish Saturn and then in about an hour by the brilliant Venus. Mars, which is moving eastward, will pass Saturn on the morning of Dec. 19 at a distance not much greater than the diameter of the moon. Then the order of appearance early each morning will be Saturn, Mars and Venus.

And, of course, December means the exciting constellation of Orion will be rising early each evening almost directly in the east. The three bright stars in a line which mark the best of the mighty Orion, the Giant Hunter, make it easy to find. The three "belt" stars are enclosed in a four-sided figure with a giant red star, Betelgeuse, in the upper left-hand corner. The light from Betelgeuse, which you now see, left that star in the year 1650. If this giant star were as near to us as the sun, the light from it would be 2,900 times brighter.

With Orion a point of interest in the cash each night, the western sky will be offering its usual December attraction, the Northern Cross, with the long bar of the cross standing upright as a fitting symbol of Christmas, Professor Losh says.

Library Club Presents Talent Show: Box Social

"What am I bid for this beautiful box?" Roy Rew, auctioneer for the Plymouth Library club sponsored Box Social, repeated many times on the evening of November 28.

Following the auction of the boxes, those present were entertained by a talent show, given in the form of a Television program. Mistress of ceremonies, Janice Yeoman, introduced the participants as follows: Carol Stratton; tap, Girls' trio rendering "It's Only a Paper Moon," Marcia Woodworth, tap; Judy Lockhart, "If" and "Casey at the Bat," Mary Lou Hartwick, "Because" and "Donkey Serenade"; Marcia Woodworth, ballet; members of the Library club skit.

Grange Gleanings

Of course you are coming to the pot-luck supper tonight at Grange hall about 6:30.

The new officers will really be installed this time and we owe it to them to be present to show them that we will stand back of them.

Those who did not attend the Spicer Golden wedding missed a beautiful and joyous occasion. It is indeed heart warming in these turbulent times of selfishness, jealousy and strife, to know that there are still those who merit the honor, affection and esteem in which they are held by their friends, neighbors and associates. The many beautiful gifts and the great number of gorgeous flowers gave evidence of this fact.

A highlight of the occasion was the presence of the State Master and his wife also four other State officers.

Seniors Discuss Trip Destination

A choice of two trips was announced for the annual Senior trip at the class meeting of the PHS Seniors on Tuesday, November 27.

Trip one, a boat trip to Saulte Ste. Marie, Lake Superior, and Mackinac will cost $40.95. A landing on Mackinac Island and the exploration of it are the high points of the trip. During the trip deck-sports, variety shows, dancing and square dancing will entertain the group.

Trip two, a train trip to Washington, D. C., is available in three price classes. A: $43.95; B Economy: $45.65; and B De Luxe: $48.30. B De Luxe includes tips for handling baggage, pillow both ways, a group picture in Washington, and other features which are not included or only partly included in A and B Economy.

The trip highlights are sight-seeing to the Capitol Building, where the group picture is taken, Congressional Library and the Supreme Court. Tours will be made to Arlington, Alexandria, Mount Vernon, National Museums, both the old and the new ones, and to Washington Monument on the next day.

From all indications, student participation in this year's trip will be very great. A decision where the trip will go was not made yet, but will be decided by a majority of the Seniors.

The second "Senior Mixer" was Thursday, November 29, at 7:30 p.m. Miss Augusta Harris, recreation director of Michigan State Normal college, was mistress of ceremonies. She brought several students from her classes to teach different types of dancing.

The seniors filled out blanks for the annual on Tuesday, November 27. Each senior was asked to list his name, nickname, favorite song, pet peeve, and his activities.

Team 1 Wins Tournament

With the volleyball tournament ending Friday, November 30, Joanne Forshee's team 1, Carol Rakowski's team 2, and Thelma Trombley's team 8 are tied for first place. Gayle Lietz's team 3, Beverly Buchanan's team 4, and Kay Herriman's team are tied for second. Mary Ellen Sparks team 5 is in third place, with Jackie Pomeroy's team 6 in fourth place. Ann Morrow's team 9 is in fifth place.

Hesco Names Chairmen For Dance, January 11

Charlotte West was chosen general chairman of the dance to be sponsored by the Hesco Club on January 11. Other committee chairmen are: Pearl Kemnitz, tickets; Shirley Augenbaugh, refreshments; Marilyn Myers, decorations; and Joan Redd, publicity.

To commemorate Thanksgiving the Hesco Club of PHS had a poem read "The Coming of the Pilgrim Fathers."

A Christmas program is being planned by some of the girls in the club. Some of the ideas for the program are to have a skit, song and poem. Plans are not definite yet.

The basketball pencils arrived and the members are selling them.

Classes Debate; Make Posters

Miss Louise Spence's first hour English class is having a series of formal debates. The program is being used to show the students the rules of running such debates, and at the same time improve their knowledge of world events.

These debates will take place on each Friday and are on such subjects as "Should College Sports be De-emphasized," and "Should the Atom Bomb be used in the Korean War."

These debates are conducted in the same way that the regular high school and college teams run theirs. There are two students on each team, four taking part in the debate two on the affirmative of each proposition and two on the negative. The class will choose the winner of each debate.

Commercial art students are doing several posters for different activities. For American Education Week they did posters for the cafeteria, urging the students to eat in the school cafeteria and telling the menu for the weeks to come; also they have just finished working on the poster for the Box Social. These posters were posted in different stores in the city.

Arrowheads on Display in High School Library

Do you have a hobby? If you have and would like to display it, the Plymouth High school library would be glad to set it up for display. Bill Bloxom, an eleventh grader, has a hobby of old arrow heads. It consists of a stone hatchet head, a stone knife, a hide scraper, several arrow heads for large and semi large game, several for small game, very small game, and bird points. There is also a small arrow head that is flattened and used just to stun the game for capture. A steel hatchet head and a cup made from a small nut completes the collection.

Chorus Attends Detroit Concert

A trip to the Masonic Temple in Detroit to hear a concert by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra was taken by 28 girls of Mr. Fred Nelson's Junior Chorus, Wednesday, November 12, 1951. The group, accompanied by Mr. Nelson, left school at 8:30 a.m. and returned at 12:30 p.m.

The concert was one of a series which is being presented as a public service by the school system of Detroit, and which is being broadcast over the radio. Many school children from in and around Detroit have the opportunity to see and hear each concert.

Conducting the Detroit Orchestra was Mr. Valter Poole and some of the selections that were played were "The Blue Danube Waltz" by Strauss, "The Flight of the Bumble Bee" by Rimsky-Korsakoff, and "Omphale's Spinning Wheel" by Saint-Saens.

Decorate Auditorium For Christmas Concert

Decorations for the coming Christmas concert are underway. Chairman Marilyn Cash and her committee consisting of Shirley Zimmerman, Beverly Buchanan, Sue Roath, Mary Lou Truesdell, and Ella Plant, have decided on having three colored church windows with the picture of Mary on the middle one made from pieces of colored cellophane. This will be placed in the middle of the back wall on the stage and two decorated Christmas trees will be on each side of the front of the stage.

"All this will lighting effects will be a grand job" was the opinion of the majority when this was discussed in the Girls' Glee club.

Arrowheads on Display in High School Library

Do you have a hobby? If you have and would like to display it, the Plymouth High school library would be glad to set it up for display.

Bill Bloxom, an eleventh grader, has a hobby of old arrow heads. It consists of a stone hatchet head, a stone knife, a hide scraper, several arrow heads for large and semi large game, several for small game, very small game, and bird points. There is also a small arrow head that is flattened and used just to stun the game for capture. A steel hatchet head and a cup made from a small nut completes the collection.

Y-Teens Receive Letter From Care

The Y-Teens blue chapter was proud to receive the letter of "Thanks" from Care, which follows:

"We are pleased to enclose the official Care acknowledgement for your contribution to the Care for Korea program.

"As you know, because of the military situation, there are many difficult problems involved in executing a relief job in a war area. Therefore, we have made arrangements for distribution of Care packages through the U.S. Army public health and welfare section, a part of the unified United Nations command.

"For that reason, we have not been able to include in your order that exact specification you furnished as to recipient. However, you may be sure that your gift will reach some very needy person among the many thousands of the homeless, the widowed, and the orphaned in Korea. We believe that the intent of your gift will thus be completely fulfilled and have therefore forwarded your order over seas.

"After distribution is made you will, of course, receive a receipt stating as to the distribution.

"May we again thank you for your assistance."

Many of the other clubs of Plymouth High school are sending money for Care packages.

Roger Babson Says---

Discusses Pension Systems Babson Park, Mass., Dec. 6

A new and very important development is taking place in the investment and labor world in connection with employees' Pension Systems. It is of utmost importance to every employer and every reader of this column. Pension Systems may greatly improve labor relations, or can result in colossal trouble. At the present time they are not controlled by legislation and usually unsupervised by the corporations and wage-workers enjoying them.

What is a Pension Plan? There are various forms of Pension Plans and all should be

"custom made" for each different corporation. Usually they provide for compulsory retirement at 65 years of age and optional retirement after 30 years of employment. Each wage-worker receives a pension based upon his salary and number of years of service, less his Social Security Pension. A full pension usually averages about $150 a month for wage-workers, and up to $600 a month for executives.

For a new corporation without any back obligations, this is a very simple matter. Even for old corporations it is simple to care for new employees and to make current appropriations for old employees. But, when it comes to providing the money to take care of the back years of old employees, this requires heavy appropriations. To encourage corporations to adopt these Pension Systems, the Government allows (if definite rules are followed) the corporation to charge all such appropriations to EXPENSE. This means that Uncle Sam will pay about one-half of the bill. The corporation also can have the Trustee purchase some of its own stocks, which may be very advantageous to all concerned.

Method of Operation

The usual method of operation is to have a Committee appointed, one member representing the stockholders, one member representing the wage-workers, and one member representing the executives. This Committee selects a lawyer to draw up the proposed Pension Plan, an Actuary to determine the annual payments (unless an insurance company is used), and a Bank to receive the funds for investment. If the Committee is wise, before any plan is adopted, it will first employ some impartial statistical organization to give independent advice in the interest of all parties.

Some Pension Plans are "contributory", in which case the wage-workers make a contribution, but in most cases the entire burden is carried by the corporation. After the above steps have been consummated, the work consists of an actuarial study each year to determine how much should be paid to the Bank and HOW THE BANK INVESTS THE MONEY. The payments to retiring employees are made by the Bank.

Where Is the Dynamite?

The work of the Trust Departments of Banks has heretofore been limited largely to handling Family Trust Funds, serving as Executors of Wills, and operating Agency Accounts. In these cases only a few beneficiaries are involved. If the Bank then makes a mistake, only two or three children may be affected. When, however, a Bank is investing this money for 1,000 wage-workers, whose families are depending almost solely thereon in their old age, the situation is very different. All parties involved are sitting on a keg of dynamite! Hence, the greatest care should be taken.

Some Banks want to invest all the money in Government Bonds, forgetting this policy was followed by the big banks of Germany where these Pension Plans started. As a result, the money was entirely wiped out with a total loss to everybody. Other Banks want to buy stocks now selling at an average of $270, forgetting that these stocks sold at only $42 in 1932 and may again. Other Banks want to buy only corporation bonds, ignoring the continual decline in the value of the Dollar as do the Life Insurance Companies. Finally, there are Banks which follow all three policies under the "shotgun" theory. The correct procedure is for the Committee, after employing outside independent advice, to consult with the Bank about the policy, AND INFORM THE WAGE-WORKERS QUARTERLY THEREON. This cannot be done by using an insurance company.

Glenn Smith's Story of Why He Didn't Get His Deer This Year

Glenn Smith is back in good old Plymouth from his summer home up on Pettibone lake—and without a deer.

It seems that all of his careful planning as to ways he had made to get "that big buck" just didn't work out.

Hunter Smith had found the proper deer trail. He had erected his blind in the right place and the prevailing winds were all good.

There was one thing he failed to take into consideration, however, and that was other hunters. Apparently some of these big game hunters from Grand Rapids, Chicago and elsewhere had observed the careful plans that Hunter Smith had made, so they too set up blinds at his elbow.

"It wouldn't have been so bad if one fellow who apparently had the whooping cough had stayed home and if the other hunter on the other side of the trail had forgotten the words of that old song 'She Didn't Know The Gun Was Loaded.' That fellow with the whooping cough whooped it during the entire deer season and if there had been any deer around, it surely would have ducked to the tall timbers when it heard the melody tones of that 'Didn't Know' song," said Hunter Smith.

"After I deserted my blind and started to tramp the woods, I did hit upon the trail of a deer that I had shot at earlier in the season," continued Hunter Smith. "I had tramped through the woods on that trail mile after mile, some six or seven hours, I guess. Then what do you think? Some other guy had picked up the trail right back of the deer. And that's the end of my deer hunting story for this year."

In Cheyenne, Wyo., Dan Rees, elected county commissioner after a campaign in which he promised to be "reasonably honest," gave fair warning to the electorate in a newspaper ad: "All promises made in the heat of the campaign are hereby retracted; they are null and void and of no further value."

County P.T.A. to Meet

Program chairman for the evening is Mrs. Ada Watson, Wayne County Supervising teacher.
